THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 77 | QUINCY, MASS., THURSDAY EVENING, APRIL 1, 1915 | PRICE 2 CENTS

GIVEN RECEPTION ON SILVER ANNIVERSARY

Rev. and Mrs. T. W. Davison Married Twenty Five Years

One of the largest social events of the season in Atlantic took place last evening when the many friends of Rev. and Mrs. T. W. Davison of the Memorial church tendered them a reception in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Davison received their friends in front of a bower of potted plants. They were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. John La Tour and Mr. and Mrs. David Hamilton. The ushers were the Messrs. Charles Hall, Harry Read, Spencer Apollonio, Percy Hall, Edwin French and William Buckley.

After the reception a short program under the direction of Mrs. A. H. Hall was given.

The program was as follows:

Solo Adoration by Telma
At Dawning by Cadman
by Miss Jordine E. Davison Cornet Solo Oh Promise Me
by DeKoven
The Rosary Nevin
by Miss Edith Abbott
Solo—In the Garden of My Heart Ball
A Perfect Day Bond
by Mr. James Butler
Chorus Selection
Forget-me-not Gavotte
Musical Monologue
That Old Sweetheart of Mine
My Rival Kipling
by Mr. William Norton Stetson

Harry Read then escorted Mr. Davison to the front of the church and Charles Hall escorted Mrs. Davison to the front of the church where Mr. Read said in part:

"Mr. and Mrs. Davison—remembering the words of "That Old Sweetheart of Mine," I am sure it must have taken you back twenty-five years or more and appealed to you as to every happily married couple. You have stood in line and been congratulated by your friends. But let us now congratulate ourselves that we have in our midst a Mr. and Mrs. Davison, congratulate ourselves, if you please, that in our pastor we have a live wire ably assisted by his good wife. A live wire who is interested in all things that help to make Atlantic a safe, sane and healthy place in which to reside.

Congratulate ourselves, if you please, for this beautiful church in which we worship. It is owing to his hard efforts that we have it here. It is due to their hard efforts and to be dedicated to them both.

"I am delegated by a committee of your friends and neighbors to present you with this purse. May we all live to congratulate you on your fiftieth anniversary as well as your twenty-fifth."

In response, Mr. Davison said, "There are times when it is difficult to express one's feelings. I appreciate very much all that you have said but there is nobody in this community who more than myself feels the inefficiency and unworthiness, not only of your kind words at present but of the kind words that have been spoken in the last six or seven years. I realize also that what has been accomplished has been brought about by the co-operation of the people of Atlantic, for no man is as helpless as a minister alone, and when difficult questions have come up there has always been the utmost encouragement to go ahead

"I ought to say as you have said that Mrs. Davison has been the greatest encouragement for the last twenty-five years. Dr. Emrich told us some time ago about an old couple who had been married twenty-five years and at their anniversary the wife said that in all their twenty-five years of married life the husband had never said an unkind word. Dr. Emrich said she showed she had a good forgettery.

(Continued on Page Six.)

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Fair weather with somewhat higher temperature Friday.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	5.26
Sun sets	6.11
Length of day	12.42
Moon rises	9.52
High water, A. M.	12.30
High water, P. M.	1.00
Days increase 3 hrs.	39 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	56 degrees
Apr. 1, 1914,	59 degrees
Apr. 1, 1913,	50 degrees

Noon Maximum 18 years—86
Noon Minimum 18 years—30

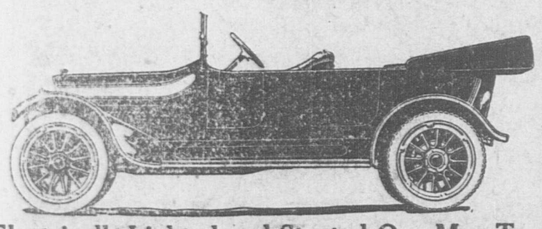

Notice of Dissolution of Partnership.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership existing between W. H. Sturgis and O. N. McKim has been dissolved. The business to be carried on by O. N. McKim.

O. N. McKIM,
W. H. STURGIS

Quincy, March 30, 1915 3t

THE 1915 REO IS HERE

Electrically Lighted and Started, One Man Top Increased Wheel Base, 34x4 Tires, Crown Fender, Improved Upholstering, Increased Power.

	F.O.B. Factory		F.O.B. Factory
4 cyl. -	$1050	2 ton Truck	$1650
6 cyl. - - -	$1385	Light Delivery 1500 lbs.	$1075
4 cyl. Runabout	$1000	Light Delivery Chassis	$1000
4 cyl. Coupe	$1575

Reo the Fifth - - the Incomparable Four is on Display at our Garage. Call and see This Car.

Ask for Demonstration

CENTRAL GARAGE and SUPPLY CO.
Corner Washington and Pond Sts.
QUINCY

Tel. 1035 W C. W. Hodgkinson, Prop.

16-1mo.

RUNAWAY HORSE THROWS DRIVER

Little Left of Wagon After Wild Dash

Maurice Gordon, 39, of Walnut street Atlantic, a wholesale milk dealer, suffered a fractured nose, and numerous bruises and contusions in a runaway Wednesday evening.

Gordon was driving to Boston when a handsome green horse hitched to a light wagon became unmanageable on Walnut street and ran at a rapid speed to Hancock street, towards Quincy centre. In avoiding a car opposite Lunt street, the horse hit the fence at the railroad meadow. Gordon was thrown out and the team was wrecked.

Witnesses ran to his assistance and found him in a semi-conscious condition. Others chased the animal down Hancock street. Near Barry's corner the front wheels, all that was left of the wagon, struck a team and were left behind when the harness snapped.

Near Billings road a young man, drove his team across the path of the runaway and another ran to the street, waving his newspaper. The animal stopped and was turned over to patrolman Crooker.

INQUEST ON CHILD'S DEATH

Judge Avery Seeks to Fix Blame For Auto Accident

Judge Avery conducted an inquest at the district court this morning to determine the cause of the death of five year old Elmer Marble of Main street, South Weymouth, who died at the Massachusetts General Hospital Sunday evening from injuries received when struck by the auto of Arthur J. McGilvray the local pharmacist, at South Weymouth.

Those who testified were Charles F. Marble and Mary H. Marble parents of the deceased, Dr. Karle H. Granger, Angela Bonney, the little girl who was out walking with the boy when he met with his accident, and Arthur J. McGilvray, who was operating the car.

MRS. PRUDENCE STOKES.

Mrs. Prudence Stokes, wife of Gilbert Stokes of Fayette street, died Wednesday in her 70th year after a long illness. She has been a resident of Wollaston for many years. Her funeral will take place Sunday afternoon at the Wollaston M. E. church. The body will be taken to Manchester N. H. for burial.

☞ Geo. W. Jones mens furnishing store has taken the exclusive agency in Quincy for the Dorothy Dodd Shoe. The firm's spring stock of Ralston and Emerson shoes for men has just arrived and put on display in addition to new neckwear, shirts, and hats. The windows have been dressed for Easter Week, the stock is all new and depicts the latest styles and fashions.

☞ PRATT'S BREAD made of the best flour by the best bakers. Your grocer.

QUINCY SAVINGS BANK

The Annual Meeting of the members of the Quincy Savings Corporation, for the election of Trustees, and any other business that may legally come before them, will be held on

TUESDAY, APRIL 13, 1915,

at 4.30 o'clock P. M., at the Banking Rooms, 1274 Hancock street, Quincy, Mass.

GEORGE E. ADAMS, Clerk.
3t April 1-5-12

NOTICE

The Board of Park Commissioners will hold a meeting in the Council Chamber, City Hall, Wednesday, April 7th, at 7.30 P. M. to issue permits for the several Playgrounds. Managers of athletic organizations desiring permits are requested to attend.

IRA M. WHITTEMORE, Secretary
March 30-6t

HARD WORK TO SPEND REVENUE

Orleans Flooded With Many Rich Tax Dodgers on April 1.

MILLIONAIRES PARADISE

It was not noticed this morning that any of the flags on the public buildings of the city were at half mast today, although the city has lost one of its most prominent citizens. Fortunately however the loss is not through death, but through dissatisfaction with the way in which he was used by the Board of Assessors last year.

The citizen in question is ex-Mayor Charles M. Bryant, who has made good his threat of a year ago, when the postman brought him a letter containing his tax bill, that it would be his last year as a resident of Quincy. He is now a resident of that millionaire's paradise, the town of Orleans on Cape Cod. In accordance with the usual custom ex-Mayor Bryant notified Chairman Dyer of the Orleans board of selectmen that he would become a resident of Orleans and this morning found him with Mrs. Bryant domiciled in the town.

The Boston Post this morning has the following interesting article on Orleans "The Paradise of Tax Dodgers:"

The absurdities of the present Massachusetts tax system will be emphasized stronger than ever tomorrow when the flourishing town of Orleans down on the knuckle of Cape Cod's finger, will hold its annual April tax registration festival.

The little town of 1077 population, with its 20 miles of ballroom streets and its $3 tax rate, was the gathering place today of wealthy men and women from other cities and towns of the State, who, tired of paying rates ranging from $18 to $26 per thousand are coming to the town hall to register themselves as bona fide residents of Orleans.

Automobiles are sliding quietly into the town and tomorrow the influx will reach its climax, when the local selectmen hold an all-day session to receive them.

All kinds of ingenious methods are being used to cover the domicile clause regarding one's permanent residence.

Under the Orleans interpretation of this law a person to be a resident must either lease or own property in the town and live there on April 1.

According to the townspeople local homes have been leased to outside parties, who on April 1 take possessmast, although the city has lost sion while the original inmates take a trip elsewhere on the Cape to visit friends. There is one case at the Nauset Inn where a man and his wife have leased a "part of the hotel."

The natives tell of one man with a summer home who leases it to one of his relatives for six months, thereby making both parties and their fam-

(Continued on Page Three.)

VIOLATION OF QUARANTINE

Board of Health Uncovers Flagrant Offence

A flagrant violation of the new quarantine regulations was uncovered Wednesday night by Dr Harold E. Diehl of the Board of Health and as a result the first close quarantine of premises went into effect immediately

Dr. Diehl, accompanied by a patrolman, visited a family ordered to comply with the regulations and found the father in the room with the patient An investigation showed that he had regularly visited the patient and had also worked daily, in violation of the new regulations

Dr. Diehl ordered an entire quarantine of the premises and further action is pending.

NOW SQUANTUM WANTS LIBRARY

Report Says Residents Are to Ask Carnegie

It is reported that the residents of Squantum have started a movement to get Andrew Carnegie to give one of his public libraries to that section of the city.

BOY TRAMPS HAVE GONE

James Clark of Fall River and William Field of Taunton, two of the quartette of runaway boys taken into custody by Patrolman McNamara Sunday night while they slept at the North Quincy club, are no longer here.

Clark, who was a quick change artist and singer, was taken in charge of by the Fall River police. Field called "Moonface," by his companions, was placed in charge of his father and if he is a good boy he will not have to go to the Lyman school.

The boys were bound for Albany and before coming to Quincy they spent a day in Boston. There they lost another boy called "Beakey." Clark sang several selections at police headquarters.

PRAISES MR. SAVILLE.

Canton Paper Comments on "Arrival of Kitty."

The Canton Journal comments upon the recent presentation in Canton by the Quincy Y. P. R. U. of "The Arrival of Kitty." This play was given in the local First Parish chapel several weeks ago. The Journal says:

"All acted their parts in a manner reflecting great credit upon the coach Mrs. A. I. Davis. It is difficult to single out any one person for particular mention, but praise must be given to Mr. Bruce Saville for the successful manner in which he carried out the masquerade as Kitty."

ATTENTION — OF — TAX PAYERS

Bring in a list of your property, both real and personal, as requested by notices posted throughout the city.

Blanks for this purpose may be obtained upon application at the Assessors' office, Room 7, City Hall. All questions in said blanks should be answered and sworn to before one of the Assessors, or the clerk of the Board, and should be on file in the Assessors' office on, or before, May 15, 1915.

Justices of the Peace cannot administer such oath; and a Notary Public may do so only in case of non-resident tax payers.

The filing of the list requested within the time, and in the manner stated, is the only means whereby you can save all your rights, if your property is overvalued by the Assessors.

Board of Assessors, Quincy, Mass.
JOHN J. O'HARA, Chairman

April 1-6t-1-8-15-22-29—May 6

EQUAL SUFFRAGISTS HOLD BIG MEETING

Mrs. Susan W. FitzGerald Principal Speaker at Rally

The Women's Political Equality league carried their fight for the ballot into Quincy Wednesday night with a meeting in Colonial hall and leading equal suffragists were speakers. The attendance was good.

Mrs. Susan W. FitzGerald, Rev. William Lord of Dover, formerly of Wollaston, and Miss Edith Randall of this city, were the speakers. Rupert F. Claflin presided. The ushers were the Misses Marie Bass, Elizabeth Atwood, Gertrude Shaw, Carlena Walker, Damaris Ring and Miriam Marsh. The colors of the movement, green white and yellow, were very much in evidence.

The literature table at the entrance and the registration booth was in charge of Miss Mary Carson, executive secretary of the league. Exceptionally good baking powder, (at least it was so stated,) pencils, perfumed soap, and pamphlets were sold for the cause.

MRS. SUSAN W. FITZGERALD.

Mrs. FitzGerald's one hour speech was one of the most interesting ever delivered here and she was frequently interrupted by applause by the audience which included leading local socialists, several antis, many working girls, men and women of all ages.

Mrs. FitzGerald said a passage of the referendum extending suffrage to women means their freedom and the culmination of 50 years efforts.

"Women," she said, "are in the same position toward government as men except that they have no opportunity to help in making up the government. Suffrage will be the putting into practice of the fundamental principles of the government. Because woman is governed she asks her right to consent to the governed and the opportunity of choosing those who make her laws."

Mrs. FitzGerald explained the extension of the franchise throughout the country until the property qualification remains only in Rhode Island today where a man, in order to vote, has to pay taxes on $200 worth of property. She said the country had become a half democracy and asked as a matter of justice that no further discrimination against women be allowed to exist. Men, need the assistance of women in certain features of government.

Politics, in her opinion is only the public business and concerns the women of the nation as well as the men and more so today than ever before because life is lived in communities. Individual families have lost their independence because of the proximity of other families and on that account government has adopted restrictions which extend to the very kitchen of the home, health of children, and such regulations are essential to the health of the community.

Government almost dictates housekeeping and the speaker pointed out how many branches of inspection of foods, dwellings, and other things are maintained by the government.

Children today, according to Mrs. FitzGerald, lose in a great measure the sight of home, while at school and at play, and their moral life depends on their environment. Women should have a right to dictate what will aid in improving that invironment.

In answer to a question as to whether or not the suffrage movement favors prohibition she said the vote will be extended to every woman and she would excercise it as she wished but that since women suffered most through alcoholic excesses of men they would probably have strong opinions on regulating it.

The belief in the ignorance of the value of the vote in her opinion exists simply because there is a lack of mutual understanding and she met the argument that women do not want the vote with the statement that they now have no choice.

Rev. Mr. Lord said his father was a Presbyterian minister, more minister than Presbyterian, and was an abolitionist. He said his sister attended the first women's college in the country, to the horror of the neighbors.

He said it had been considered an abuse of nature for women to have the ballot and be injected into "dirty politics" but he contended politics were dirty because women had no hand in it.

He claimed the liquor interests and not the antis had defeated suffrage

(Continued on Page Two.)

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.

Dandy bungalow in E. Braintree for sale: small pay't., bal. as rent: see this at once.

Houses
H. F. McIntire
Greenleaf Blk
Tel. Quincy
1665-W.

Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.

tf-1 yr.

Flowers for Easter

Come and See Our Easter Display of Plants.

Lilies, Azaleas, Rose Bushes, Spirea Genistas, Hydrangeas, Cyclamen, Primroses, Violets and Potted Bulbs of all kinds

Cut flowers at reasonable prices

City Flower Store
QUINCY SQUARE

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

BISMARK AND WILLIAM II.

One hundred years ago today there was born on his father's estate in Prussian Saxony Otto Eduard Leopold Bismark-Schonhausen, who in later years with good right came to be known as the Iron "Chancellor," generally acknowledged to have been one of the greatest of modern statesmen. The unification of Germany was his great task, a task accomplished by a liberal expenditure of blood and iron.

When the present "War Lord" succeeded his father as king of Prussia and German Emperor he chafed under the iron hand of his stern old chancellor and on March 18, 1890, the man who built the foundations of the modern German empire resigned his post leaving completion of the work to the young ruler. Whether or not we chance to place upon the Kaiser the blame for the great curse now devastating Europe we must acknowledge that he acquitted himself well of the task which Bismark began. From unpromising material Bismark and Wiliam II have builded a mighty nation, one of the great powers of the world. Whatever censure may be directed at these men it should not be forgotten that they accomplished a Herculean task.

DEATH OF A ROTHSCHILD.

Nathan Mayer Rothschild, first Baron Rothschild, head of the British branch of the most powerful banking family in the history of the world, is dead at his London residence. Under ordinary conditions the passing of so great a financial figure would create a great stir in the world but today events of such importance occupy the minds of men that the death of even a great banker is soon forgotten.

There have been times when the Rothschild family could have thrown an influence and pressure so great upon the side of peace that the warring elements would have to give way. It is fairly generally acknowledged that the refusal of the Rothschilds and a few of other great banking families to lend more funds to Russia was the most important factor in ending the Russo-Japanese war.

But the roots of the great war go down too deep to be dug up by any financial spade. Baron Rothschild's death will produce no effect upon the greatest war in history and his passing will mean little save to his wide circle of friends and of the many who shared his kindness and benevolence.

Not enough rain has fallen since Feb. 25 to be recorded. There has been a few drops now and then during this period but not sufficient to lay the dust, especially in Quincy, which has too liberal a supply.

NEWSBOYS COMPLAINT

The following conversation was overheard by Louis F. LaRose in Quincy Square on Tuesday afternion, March 30th.

"Say' Jimmie, did you see what the City Council done last night? No, What wuz it, Carl? Why, the crazy guys has gone and thrown down the 4th of July money which they voted last week. Theys' a great bunch, aint they? Well, you can never tell what those fellers will do, for me, I tink they ought to have the same stuff this year. Last year I went down to the parade in the morning and in the afternoon I saw a dandy ball game at Ward 3 playgrounds and in the night me and my father and mother and sister went down to see the fireworks, Gee' they was great. Well, I suppose this year we will have to buy shootin-crackers and torpedoes and somebody will sure get hurt for you know how it is and what there's got nothin' special to do."

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter s Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

TO HOLD FIRST OUTSIDE DEBATE

Q. H. S. Team to Meet Weymouth High Boys

The first outside debates ever held by the Quincy High school will take place next Wednesday evening in the High school hall. Quincy is going to debate with the debating team of Weymouth High school, which has one of the best teams south of Boston, having debated against Milton, Brockton, Rockland, etc. The debate is on the question: "Resolved that the Philippine Islands should be given their independence."

The Quincy boys who are on the team are from the debating club which has been booming debating for the last two years: William McMahon, Albert MacDonald, Robert Foy and Herbert Smith. These boys have had considerable practice and are working hard to win the first debate for Quincy. Herbert Smith is to give the rebuttal. No admission is to be charged at this event as the officials want the school to become acquainted with debating before they charge admission.

PLAN FOR MORE EXTENSIVE CLUB

The men's class of the Water street Presbyterian church held a meeting in the vestry of the church Wednesday evening. The object of the meeting was to formulate plans for an enlarged class, or men's club, which shall include all of the male members of the church. There was a good attendance.

The pastor, Rev. Clarence Campbell addressed them briefly on the good results which would follow the formation of such an organization. There was an informal discussion of the matter and a committee was appointed to formulate plans for the organization which will make its report at a meeting to be held next Sunday morning after church services. Rev. A. B. McLeod of Canada, who is visiting in Quincy at the present time, addressed the men. It was the first opportunity that the men's class has had of meeting the new pastor in a social manner and the evening was one of extreme pleasure to all.

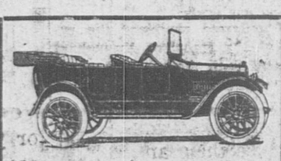

CONFERS ROYAL ARCH DEGREE

A union degree staff of members of the Loyal Orange lodges of Somerville Charlestown, Arlington, Cambridge and Malden conferred the Royal Arch Purple degree on many members of Bay View lodge in Wilson hall Wednesday evening.

District Master W. E. Selic of Charlestown presided during the ceremonies which were carried out under the direction of Drill Master Stephen Ray of Somerville. M. Blondin of Somerville was deputy master. Thomas Lowery of Cambridge was director of ceremonies and W. Johnson of Arlington was master of ceremonies.

Master M. McKenzie of the lodge presided at the regular meeting and at the entertainment which followed.

Refreshments were served. The meeting was attended by the largest percentage of members in 20 years.

JACKSON
Model 46
THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL. SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER
"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"
Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT
$1375
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

FORM LAW CLUB AT HIGH SCHOOL

A Law club has been formed by Harry French at the local High school Mr. French teaches this subject and knows all the fine points so a club has been formed. No officers have been elected as yet, but a large number of the law students attended the opening meeting and promised their support. The officers will probably be elected within a few days. Mock trials will be held, petty cases tried and all the different court proceedings gone through.

LARGE NUMBER AT MASQUE BALL

A large number attended the masque ball of the Norwegian society in Electa hall Wednesday evening. The party continued until 1.30 and music was by Johnsen's orchestra.

The prizes were awarded to Miss Lena Anderson, C. A. Fratus, who was dressed in woman's costume, Miss Edith M. Kolstad who wore a dress suit and silk hat and Fred Bredesen. The judges were Edgar Solberg, O. M. Jansen and A. E. Anderson.

Refreshments were served by the ball committee consisting of Oscar Anderson, Andrew Jakobsen, Henry Johnson, Oscar Holstad, Paul Hodtedt.

EQUAL SUFFRAGISTS

(Continued from Page One.)

where it has been defeated and if Massachusetts votes against equal suffrage it will be because of the liquor interests and not because of the antis.

"Equal suffrage," he said, "will make every white slaver tremble with fear of the mother who wields the ballot and has a say in making the laws."

He said the suffrage movement was controlled large ly by environment and that many who enjoy the social privileges because of wealth are in the fore ranks of the antis and have drawn others into it against their will.

Lincoln said no man has a right to rule another person without the consent of that person and woman is a person and being governed without her consent. The good government of the state is in the hands of the women and in a moral crisis the women can be depended upon to take the proper course.

He spoke of the firm advance of suffrage in the west and pointed out what he claimed to be legitimate instances of where women had prevailed and corrected abuses. He mentioned Seattle, Wash., and other places and spoke of the attempt of the antis and financial interests to rid Denver of Judge Lindsay and his juvenile court, three of the leaders being under indictment for conspiracy now

Miss Randall spoke of the efforts the local organization were making in behalf of the cause and mentioned a few of the questions asked by antis and undecided voters.

Mr. Claflin in opening the meeting spoke of the tremendous strides made by women since the passage of the old English law, stating the size of the stick with which a man might beat his wife and said that the days of the unconscious insolence of the man in the home had passed.

TENT OBSERVES ANNIVERSARY

Patriotic Societies Are Well Represented

The members of the allied patriotic societies of Quincy gathered in G. A. R. hall Wednesday evening to observe the second anniversary of the institution of Rebecca Wiswell tent, Daughters of Veterans.

Among those present were Past Commander Francis P. Loud of Paul Revere post, G. A. R., Mrs. M. Brown, junior vice commander of the Woman's Relief Corps, Mrs. Emma Stoddard of the Sons of Veterans auxiliary, William French, commander of Col. Abner B. Packard camp, Sons of Veterans.

President Mrs. Annie M. Grignon presided and the program included speeches of congratulations by the visitors recitations and solos by George L. Phillips, past commander of the local post, songs by Mrs. Exelis Nason and Miss Helen Arthurs and five year old Ruth McCurdy.

A collation was served. The committee comprised Mrs. Mae Berry, Mrs. Lydia Beaulieu, Mrs. Exelis Nason, Miss Francis Grignon, Mrs Laura Connell.

The tent was organized as an auxiliary to Paul Revere post, G A. R. and was named in memory of Rebecca Wiswell, Civil War Nurse. It is in a flourishing condition.

GALEN IS NO TAX DODGER

Dr. Bowditch Loyal Citizen of Quincy

Dr. Galen Vinton Bowditch, 78 years old and still one of the most vigorous press messengers of the old school, has retained his legal residence in Quincy and barring misfortune will vote the straight Democratic ticket next fall for the 57th year. Mr. Bowditch followed his custom of many years standing of spending the night of March 31 in the historic Hancock house.

"Doc" the greater part of the year lives with his sister in Boston but he takes good care to be in Quincy before, an and after the date necessary to maintain his claim to be a citizen of Quincy.

WEEKLY WHIST.

Samuel T. MacQuarrie captured the highest score at the weekly whist tournament of the Granite City club Wednesday evening and Hazen E. Ricker the second prize. A lunch was served after the tournament. The annual meeting of the club will be held Saturday evening, April 10.

GRASS FIRE.

The alarm from Box 39 at 4.50 Wednesday afternoon was for a grass fire near Patch's ice houses on Penn street. The auto chemical had been dispatched to the fire on a still alarm but had hardly left the station when the alarm sounded.

THE IRON CHANCELLOR.

(From "The Independent.")
(1915.)

Above the grave where Bismark sleeps
The ravens screeched with strange alarms.
The Saxon forest in its deeps
Shook with the distant clash of arms.
The Iron Chancellor stirred. "'Tis war!
Give me my sword to lay them low
Who touch my work. Unban the door
I passed an hundred years ago."
The angel guardian of the tomb,
Spake of the law that binds all clay,
That neither rose nor oak may bloom
Betwixt the night and judgment day
"For no man twice may pass this gate,"
He said. But Bismark flashed his eyes:
"Nay, at the trumpet call of fate,
Like Barbarossa, I shall rise.
"In sight of all God's Seraphim
I'll place this helmet on my brow.
For lo! We Germans fear but Him,
And He, I know, is with us now."
The dead man stood up in his might,
The startled angel said no word.
Through endless spheres of day and night,
God in His Seventh Heaven heard.
And answered thus: "Shall man forget
My laws? They were not lightly made.
Nor writ for thee to break. And yet
I love thee. Thou art not afraid.
"Bismark, from now till tomorrow's sun
Walk as a wraith amid the strife,
And if thou find thy work undone
Come back, and I shall give thee —life."
With grim salute the spectre strode
Out of the dark into the dawn.
From Hamburg to the Caspian road
He saw a wall of iron drawn.
He saw young men go forth to die,
Singing the martial songs of yore,
Boldly athwart the Flemish sky
He marked the German airman soar.
A thousand spears in battle line
Had pierced the wayward heart of France,
But still above the German Rhine
The Walkyrs held their august dance.
He saw the sliding submarine
Wrest the green trident from the hold
Of her whose craven tradesmen lean
On yellow men and yellow gold.
In labyrinths of blood and sand
He watched ten Russian legions drown.
Unseen he shook the doughty hand
Of Hindenburg near Warsaw town.
The living felt his presence when
Paternal, blessing he drew nigh,
And all the dead and dying men
Saluted him as he passed by.
But he rode back in silent thought,
And from his great heart burst a sigh
Of thanks. "The Master Craftsman wrought
This mighty edifice, not I.
"No hostile hoof shall ever fall
Upon my country's sacred sod;
Though seven whirlwinds lash its wall,
It stands erect, a rock of God.
"I shall return unto my bed,
Nor ask of life a second lease.
My spirit lives, though I be dead,
My aching bones may rest in peace"
Up to his chin he drew the shroud,
To wait God's judgment patiently,
While high above a blood-red cloud
To eagles screamed of victory.
—George Sylvester Viereck

Note—April 1 is the 100th anniversary of Bismark's birth.

UNION SERVICE.

The union service of the Wollaston Congregational Baptist and Methodist churches Wednesday evening was held at the Baptist church with Rev. Dr. Isaiah W. Sneath of the Congregational church in charge. There was a short talk on the significance of Easter by Dr. Sneath after which the meeting was open for a social session. This evening the service will be held at the Congregational church and Rev. George M. Bailey will be in charge. Friday evening each of the pastors will hold services in their own church.

PRATT'S BREAD sales have increased because it satisfies. Your grocer.

NOTICE

Saturday's Ledger will contain the programs of the Easter music in the churches of the city. Musical directors organists and those having the music in charge are requested to forward the programs of their churches to the Daily Ledger not later than Friday noon 31-2t

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton Director
Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE 31-tf

MRS. D. P. TAYLOR
1291 Hancock Street
Wishes to announce that she is ready with her display of Spring Millinery.
WE HAVE THE GOODS--We have the Quality
We have the Lowest Possible Prices.
March 31-2t

SPRING CLEANING
Right now is the time to start the most important of all Spring Cleaning. You put your home in good condition, because it needs it. How much more essential that the body be put in good condition. We have just what you need and what will do the work.
HEARN'S RECONSTRUCTIVE TONIC
75c per Bottle
CHAS. C. HEARN, City Square Druggist
1-3t.

Exclusive Agency
Dorothy Dodd
SMART SHOES FOR WOMEN
Famous for Style and Comfort
The best fitting, best wearing, most popular shoes today
You are cordially invited to call and inspect the new Spring Models.
JONES Just around the Corner
1 Granite St., - Quincy

NORTH WEYMOUTH

Mrs. Foss is at the Gould home during the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Gould at Buenos Aires, South America.

W. K. Jackman formerly of Quincy is the new occupant of the George Hunt estate on North street.

Stewart Jordan and family, lately of Providence are to return to their home on Bartlett road, at present occupied by Frederick Hilton and family.

Mrs. Ida Keene S. V. P. of W. R. C. No. 102 had charge of "red letter day" Tuesday owing to the ill health of president Mrs. Annie Jordan.

Mrs. Charles Abbott was the guest this week of Mrs. Edward Pratt of Middle street.

Christopher Bailey entertained several friends Wednesday evening, a magic lantern show being the chief attraction. Games were played and refreshments served. The guests were Elwood Sargent, Arthur Moe, Irving Keene, Hazel Smith, Clifford Smith.

Mrs. B. J. Lang and daughter Clara have opened their summer residence on Bay View street.

Phyllis the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Keene is ill with a bronchial affection.

The annual meeting of the North Weymouth Cemetery association was held Tuesday evening in Russell H. Whiting's office. Reports for the past year were submitted by the president, secretary, treasurer and trustees, and the following officers elected for the ensuing year; president—John W. Cushing: vice president—Will H. Pratt; secretary—Frank H. Torrey; treasurer—Russell H. Whiting; trustees—John H. Tower. W. O. Collyer and Russell G. Hunt

Combination One responded to a phone call Tuesday afternoon for a grass fire on Randall avenue, East Weymouth, being ordered by the fire chief to cover that section in the absence of Pump Two which had answered a bell alarm from Box 37 at the Landing. Although three miles distant the apparatus made the run and extinguished the fire in ten minutes. Later in the day another phone call came from Sherwood road at the Bluffs, for a grass fire, slight damage. Another brush fire was extinguished near Craig Cliff the estate of Rev. William Hyde on Commercial street, the Heights.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology
COMBINED MUSICAL CLUBS
CONCERT
April 13 at 8 p.m.
Alpha Hall, -- Quincy
Benefit of
SIMMONS COLLEGE
Tickets -- 50 cents
1,3,7,9,1-

Coal Prices Reduced

STOVE	$7.25
EGG	$7.25
NUT	$7.50
FURNACE	$6.50
PEA	$5.50
LEHIGH EGG	$7.50
LEHIGH STOVE	$7.50
SHAMOKIN STOVE	$7.50
FRANKLIN STOVE	$8.50

Coal carried in baskets 25 cents per ton.
Bituminous Coal for Steam Use
We recommend Nut size for stove and range
Stove size for small furnaces and heaters
Egg size for large furnaces and heaters.
We advise placing your orders now as prices usually advance about July 1st.
Coal delivered in Quincy, Wollaston, Atlantic, and Norfolk Downs.
Frost Coal Co.
488 Neponset Ave., Neponset
TEL. 1500 DORCHESTER
2t-1-3

Furniture Storage Warehouse
Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.
Rates $2---$3---$4 per month
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.
Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26--tu.-th.s.-tf

THE EDUCATIONAL FIELD

THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
HIGH SCHOOL PUBLIC SCHOOLS
WOODWARD INSTITUTE PAROCHIAL SCHOOL

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES.

People interested in missionary work and other religious questions will be glad to know that the library has among its additions some books pertaining to these subjects. Two of these are accounts of missionary work, one in Central Africa and the other in the Canadian Northwest. The first is "Thinking Black: twenty-two Years Without a Break in the Long Grass of Central Africa," by Daniel Crawford.. This book is very interesting and well illustrated. Mr. Crawford once lectured in Boston about his experiences with the black men of Africa.

The second is "Father Lacombe, the Black-Robe Voyageur," by Katherine Hughes. This is the story of a "quaint and lovable" priest, who for many years devoted his life and labors to the Indians of Canada. Both books are well worth reading for the vivid pictures of the countries and the conditions of the peoples among whom the missionaries worked, as well as for their value in the religious field.

Another book, also of biographical nature, is "My father, Personal and Spiritual Reminiscences," by Estell W Stead. This is the life of William T. Stead as told by his daughter. In it she but lightly touches upon his public activities, giving instead his experiences as a spiritualist.

A book which brings before us a much simpler view of religious matters is "With the Russian Peasants to Jerusalem," by Stephen Graham. Disguising himself as one of the peasants the author went on the journey with them, and in his book he has succeeded in describing with sympathy the enthusiasm and religious spirit of these peasants.

A more practical book for those who are not only interested in religious affairs, but who also are striving to cope with the problems of church and social work is "Making Religion Efficient." This book, edited by Clarence A. Barbour, is "designed both to preserve the history and to conserve the message of the "Men and Religion Forward Movement." It takes up in a systematic way some of the most vital problems. Among these are: Work with boys, Men's clubs, Bible study, Missions, and Social service work. It has very good bibliographies, and as a book which may well be used as a "handbook for the use of pastors and Christian workers."

As has been so well said by some one, "the Library is not a propaganda for any faith or belief. It is a laboratory in which anyone may work out his own solution of any question."

HALF MILL TAX BILL.

At the hearing on the Half Mill Tax Bill before the Ways and Means Committee at the state house Wednesday, Quincy was represented by the superintendent of schools and by Ex-Mayor Stone. Representative Sandberg also appeared at the hearing and was recorded in favor of the bill. This bill was reported favorably by the committee on education but will apparently have a stormy time with the ways and means committee, made up as that committee is of members who in the main represent communities that would lose in a financial way by the passage of such a bill.

By the passage of the bill, Quincy would profit annually to the extent of about $6000. Its gain, however, would not begin to approximate the gain of many other cities like Somerville, Brockton, Everett, Chelsea and so on, as those cities are worse off than Quincy so far as number of children compared with tax valuation is concerned. There is food for thought here for those who feel like groaning at the local tax burden for education.

WANT SKILLED JANITORS.

The action of the School Committee in voting to insist on firemen's licenses hereafter from all persons engaged as janitors was dictated by economy. All school boilers are so equipped with safety appliances that the state law does not require any license. The committee feels however that new janitors must understand the care of fires and use of fuel and for that reason will hereafter employ only persons of some previous experience.

HOUGHS NECK.

The recommendation by the School Committee of the purchase of additional land adjacent to the present school building at Houghs Neck has a two-fold purpose. It would provide an adequate playground in that section of the city which is at present not provided for and it would in addition be amply large enough for the erection of another building in the future, which judging by the present rate of growth cannot be far off. Two buildings could then be attended to by a single janitor and have a single heating plant.

EVENING INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

To counter balance the city expenditures for its evening trade classes, it will receive from surrounding towns about $300 in tuition fees and of the remaining cost, one half will be paid by the state. The out of town attendance was greater this year than in any previous year.

Q. H. S. STENOGRAPHERS.

The High school is now prepared to furnish student stenographers of ability for either afternoon or for Saturday work to any one needing extra help or it can take care of a considerable amount of typewriting in the way of special jobs This is not so much for the purpose of giving pupils an opportunity to make money as it is to furnish live, business experience.

TO GIVE PLAY.

The Quincy Elementary Teachers association will hold its regular meeting, Thursday evening, April 8. in Coddington School hall. A play entitled, "The Lover's Stratagem" will be given in six scenes under the direction of Miss Mabel Lovejoy with the following members of the association in the cast:—Miss Alice Munster, Miss Ruth Kemp, Miss Etta De Avellar, Miss Elizabeth Powers, Miss Olive Moody, Miss Mabel Lovejoy. The White Trio will furnish instrumental music. During the evening candy will be on sale.

The Charity-Offering envelopes, distributed at the last meeting, will be collected, and the disposition of the amount decided upon.

Members are allowed guest privilege for this meeting.

PLANS FOR OUTING.

Mayor Campbell has begun to plan for the annual childrens outing that is given every year by the Automobile Dealers association. Although many Quincy children have been included in the outing in years past he says that even more will be accommodated this year.

REPAIRING STREET

Commissioner Brown is doing a lot of patch repair work in city square. The holes which have been worn in the street during the winter months are being filled with macadam.

A Popular Walk-Over Style

This receding toe model has been in such demand that we haven't been able to keep the size-range complete at all times—but this week has brought another complete assortment, and your size is here now.

There's an abundance of good style in this conservative model, medium long vamp with stitched tip, invisible eyelets, firm shank supported by a medium height heel.

The price is reasonable too, only

$4.00 to $4.50

GRANITE SHOE STORE
Your Shoe Store

MANHATTAN VS GRANITE A. C.

Former Win First Match In Series

Enthusiasm ran high on Wednesday evening at the first bowling match of a series being rolled between the Manhattan Social club and the Granite A. C. The series are being rolled at the St. Mary's alleys. The Manhattans were winners in two strings but lost the third string and also the total. Dick Knight of the winners secured high string of 102 and Benny Saville of the same team had the high three string total of 272. There were over 100 rooters at the match and they crowded around the bowlers making it difficult for them to roll their best. The second match will be rolled next Tuesday evening.

The score:

GRANITES.
Saville	89	89	94	272
Hagerty	82	85	82	249
Murphy	72	72	70	214
Joyce	88	75	70	233
Knight	72	86	102	260
	403	407	418	1228
MANHATTAN.
Devers	78	84	85	247
Fitzgerald	67	77	75	219
Buckley	84	83	89	256
McGrath	69	82	83	234
Donavon	80	87	89	256
	378	413	421	1212

SEWING CLUB PLAYS WHIST

The Unity Sewing club met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. George Nelson on Dorchester avenue. The club enjoyed the evening by playing whist at which prizes were awarded to Mrs. Michael Connors and the consolation to Mrs. Charles Millard. The balance of the evening was enjoyed playing nursery games. Miss Marion Duffy entertained with several selections and Miss Celia Connors presided at the piano. Refreshments were served. Among those present were the Misses Lou Connors, Grace Brownrigg, Mary Connors, Marion Duffy, Celia Conners, Mary Irwin, Mrs. Michael Connors, Mrs. Charles Millard, Mrs. Philip Garity, Mrs. Leo Hurley and Mrs. William Westland.

HAVING REVOLVER PROVES EXPENSIVE

James Maloof of Boston paid a fine of $50 in the District court this morning for having a revolver in his possession at Braintree. Maloof was arrested by Patrolman John Shay while being questioned about an argument in a Braintree factory.

MR. JOHNSON IMPROVES.

Robert T. Johnson of Maple street, who has been ill since his return from Panama three weeks ago, took his first walk out of doors yesterday.

PLANT YOUR SEEDS NOW

We have a complete assortment of Flower Seeds also a large variety of Vegetable Seeds.

GARDEN TOOLS of every description

SPRAYERS For Fruit and Shade Trees.

EVERYTHING FOR THE GARDEN

NATHAN AMES
5 Granite St.,
USE CARBORUNDUM SHARPENING STONES

ORGANIZATION MEETING HELD

The first meeting to take steps to form a Parents-Teachers association at the Montclair school was held at the school Wednesday evening and was attended by upwards of seventy of the parents and teachers of the school. Andrew Johnson, the master of the school, presided and outlined the objects of an association and the benefits that the school would derive from such an association.

The only business transacted was the appointment of a committee to draw up a constitution and to nominate officers. The committee will make its report at the next meeting, the date for which has not as yet been set. A social hour followed the meeting.

TO BUILD EIGHT COTTAGE HOUSES

A. F. Ahlstrom Will Develop Huntley Road

The build now movement in Quincy as advocated in the Ledger some weeks ago is bearing fruit. tI is a fact well known to the Ledger that there are several booms in the real estate line that are nearing consummation but the plans have not as yet reached the stage at which they can be made public.

There was one important change in realty this morning however which will result in the immediate erection of eight houses of the cottage design which are in such demand in city square.

The transfer which was consumated this morning through the office of Elmer E. Ricker transferred eight house lots on the undeveloped property on Huntley road to A. F. Ahlstrom a well known resident.

The property is in one of the most desirable sections of the city, being centrally located within a very few minutes walk of the post office depot and city hall. When the property was opened two years ago a well built street was laid out from Hancock street through the entire length of the property and a granolithic sidewalk has been built on the northerly side for quite a distance. There are several modern houses now located on the street, and those of Mr. Ahlstrom will be located at the lower end, near Woodward avenue.

HOLTEEN—PETERSON.

George A. Holteen of 24 Gothland street, Quincy, a foreman of submarine construction at Montreal, took Miss Hannah M. Peterson of Beverly as his bride Wednesday evening.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Leander Hokenson at the home of the brides aunt, Mrs. C. Pierson at 121 Glendale road The maid of honor was Miss Lillian Peterson of Beverly, a cousin and the bridesmaid was Miss Catherine Holteen of Quincy, a sister of the groom. The grooms attendants were Eric Wallin of Quincy and Clarence Johnson of Brockton.

The bride was dressed in white chiffon over messaline. She wore a veil and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and roses

A reception followed the ceremony. The couple will spend their honeymoon on their way to Montreal.

HARDWICK ON COMMITTEE.

The officers and committee of the senior class of Harvard college have voted against the insurance method of raising the $100,000 presented to the college by each class on its twenty-fifth anniversary.

Instead of this method the class has plans under consideration by which the fund can be raised by subscription. Huntington R. ("Tack") Hardwick of this city was a member of the committee.

SERVICES FOR MR. DIXON.

The funeral of Graham Dixon who died Sunday at the home of his son, Albion I. Dixon of 80 Goddard street after a long illness, was held Wednesday afternoon from the Trinity Congregational church at Neponset. The services were attended by a delegation from Neponset lodge of Odd Fellows of which he had been a member for many years. The burial was at Cedar Grove cemetery.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

HARD WORK

(Continued from Page One.)

ilies legal residents of the town. Some of the residents are never seen in Orleans other than on April Fool's Day.

Others live in rundown property for a night or two just to get by. Thus it is that ever since Sidney W. Winslow, president of the United Shoe Machinery Company, came to make his residence at Orleans about five years ago, which resulted in a reduction in the tax rate from $15 to $3 with one swoop, the town has been rolling in wealth.

In fact the town is so wealthy that it is necessary to have two town meetings a year in order to find ways to spend its wealth.

Money has buzzed so constantly into the town treasury that the authorities at one time called upon the tax commissioner of the State to ask him, "How on earth are we going to be able to declare a tax rate?"

However, today George C. Dyer, chairman of the Selectmen, says that he will be able to spend the money as fast as it comes and he hopes it will keep coming in. The population of Orleans today is 1077.

While the town of Harwich, a neighboring town of Orleans, is staggering under a $19 tax rate, and voting down appropriations for roads, Orleans already has 20 miles of tar oil roads out of a possible 33 miles.

The whole story is told in the following few figures: In 1910, the year before the wealthy people began to come to town, the total property assessed was $683,995. Last year there was an assessment on $3,835,589, and more people are heading towards Orleans.

In 1910 the revenue of the town was $11,982, as against $37,108, today. "Why, one or two of the rich fellows pay into the town today a sum that amounted to our whole tax income a few years ago," said Road Surveyor Roland Mayo yesterday.

In fact Charles G. Rice, the trustee for Mary C. Briggs, contestant of her fathers will in the famous Cabot will case, and Sidney W. Winslow pay to the town over half the town's total tax revenue.

Mr. Winslow is assessed on $770,330 worth of property. Augustus Hemmenway, Morris G. and John C. G trustees for Mrs. Briggs are assessed on a personal tax of $500,000.

Charles G. Rice is assessed on $123,748 direct personal tax and as trustee for the estate of his father, N. W. Rice, on $640,300. His sister, Annie P. Rice is assessed on $93,000 and his mother on $25,000.

Just to show the bed of clover the town of Orleans lies in it is interesting to note that apart from the direct taxation a small fortune goes to the town from the state from the corporation tax. This corporation tax is figured on a basis of the average tax rate of Massachusetts, which amounts to $18.09, and when it is paid into the State it is credited to the town in which the shareholders of corporation stock live. Last year Orleans received $25,571.33 from this tax.

This sum can be counted on, apart from the $3 rate of the town on real estate and personal property.

Thus it isn't strange that Orleans paid off its whole town debt last year. It isn't strange that she hasn't a poorhouse in town and it isn't strange that a brand new steam roller came to stay in the town on Monday. The townspeople are strong for the wealthy people coming to town.

"If the Legislature only leaves the tax laws alone we will have the finest town in the United States," said one of the prominent women in the town today.

"We want all the people with money we can get," said Tom Paine, the local junk man. "The people are persecuted with exorbitant tax rates in other towns, and why should they not come to us for succor when we have $3 rate?"

Arriving in Orleans on the train, the visitor finds a typical Cape town, with old, one-story stores and a main street deserted after 8 o'clock at night. The lingering touch of years gone by still hangs over the place. Old glass case lamps on poles—the kerosene kind—appear here and there along the main street. There are no sidewalks—just a grass path on one side of the road.

However, the road is as smooth as a billiard table. It is on the roads that the town of Orleans has spent thousands. According to Chairman Dyer yesterday, nearly $20,000 will be put into roads during the coming year. Good roads, above everything else, are the hobby in Orleans.

But the selectmen have other plans besides.

Sidewalks are going to be started right away. They want a new town hall and a fine high school, and then will come a new lighting system.

It would look as if every wish of Orleans will come true the way the money pours in. And there is more coming, for along with other mail yesterday Chairman Dyer had 28 letters on his desk from people who notified him that they were coming to Orleans April 1 to make their permanent home.

The town meeting of February, 1915 resulted in $31,425 in appropriations being made. However that was only a mere preface to the big special town meeting which will be held in May to find some way to spend the remaining money on hand. According to the authorities this latter sum will be over $40,000 this year.

Last year the town wanted to give a hundred dollars to the town baseball team, but the attorney-general's office declared it illegal and the $100 couldn't be gotten rid of in that way.

When in doubt, money goes into the roads.

The town of Orleans isn't what could be called exactly a farming community, inasmuch as there are only three sheep, 15 swine and 140 cows among the population of 1077 people.

Its vital statistics as registered for 1914 show 16 births, 8 marriages and 19 deaths.

Taxes are paid on about 75 automobiles.

The townspeople divide the town up as follows: Orleans, South Orleans, East Orleans, Naumet, Rock Harbor and Skaket. Considerable building is going on at South and East Orleans on the water front at the present time This is particularly true at South Orleans, where, overlooking Pleasant Bay, Sidney W. Winslow is building two $20,000 houses for his two married daughters.

Tomorrow Chairman George E. Dyer, Arthur F. Smith and William H. Howes, the Selectmen and town clerk collector and Treasurer Joseph H. Cummings are going to be on the job all day, and the more the merrier, they say.

It is a good 20 to 1 shot that after April 1 some of the residents of the town of Orleans will go away on a long visit leaving behind a group of able selectmen and the natives to wrestle with the problem of problems—"How to spend Money."

PIANO FALLS ON PACKARD BOY

James E. Packard of Granite street, Braintree, was not as seriously injured when a piano fell on him at the Y. M. C. A. recently as at first reported. An examination has showed his ankle was not fractured but strained. He also received several slight bruises.

Just what caused the piano to topple over on the boy has not been determined but it is thought that in trying to move it, the piano became unbalanced and fell forward, pinning the boy's leg underneath.

Packard is one of the employed boys class and lives with George W. Wentworth, his guardian. The boy is very popular with the other members and several are considering a benefit for him.

RECEIVE CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Perkins (Vesta L. Pawsey) of Allston are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son March 20th.

☞ The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

MUSIC HALL
Wednesday, Apr. 7, 1915
8 P. M.
Y. M. C. A. Dramatics
Personal Direction
ERASTUS OSGOOD
Music by
Wollaston Cadet Band Orchestra
Reserved Seats
50, 35 and 25 cents
April 1-6t

.....Your Easter Suit is Here.....
BIG ASSORTMENT AND BIG VALUES

A large stock of beautiful suits here. Everything new and up to the minute in style. Each model splendidly tailored, made of good quality material, Serge, Poplin, Gabardine, black and white Shepherd plaids, in all shades including navy, blue, brown, green, putty and remember we carry in stock all sizes to suit every figure. We guarantee better values than elsewhere in this city and in metropolitan centers. Prices

$9.98 $14.98 $17.98

A BEAUTIFUL SHOWING OF Easter Millinery

No description can do justice to the wonderful display that awaits you here. Its only when you see them and try them on that you appreciate the beauty and becomingness, every one can find a pleasing style here. Make your selections today and tomorrow. Our prices are moderate, even far more moderate than big city prices

98c $2.98 $4.98

A LARGE SHOWING OF
New Easter Skirts

We would like you all to come and see for yourself the splendid showing of these exquisite skirts, then you will appreciate the modernness and distinction. Every skirt has a note of individuality and distinction, no matter what your style calls for—we have it. Prices are very low

$1.98 $2.98

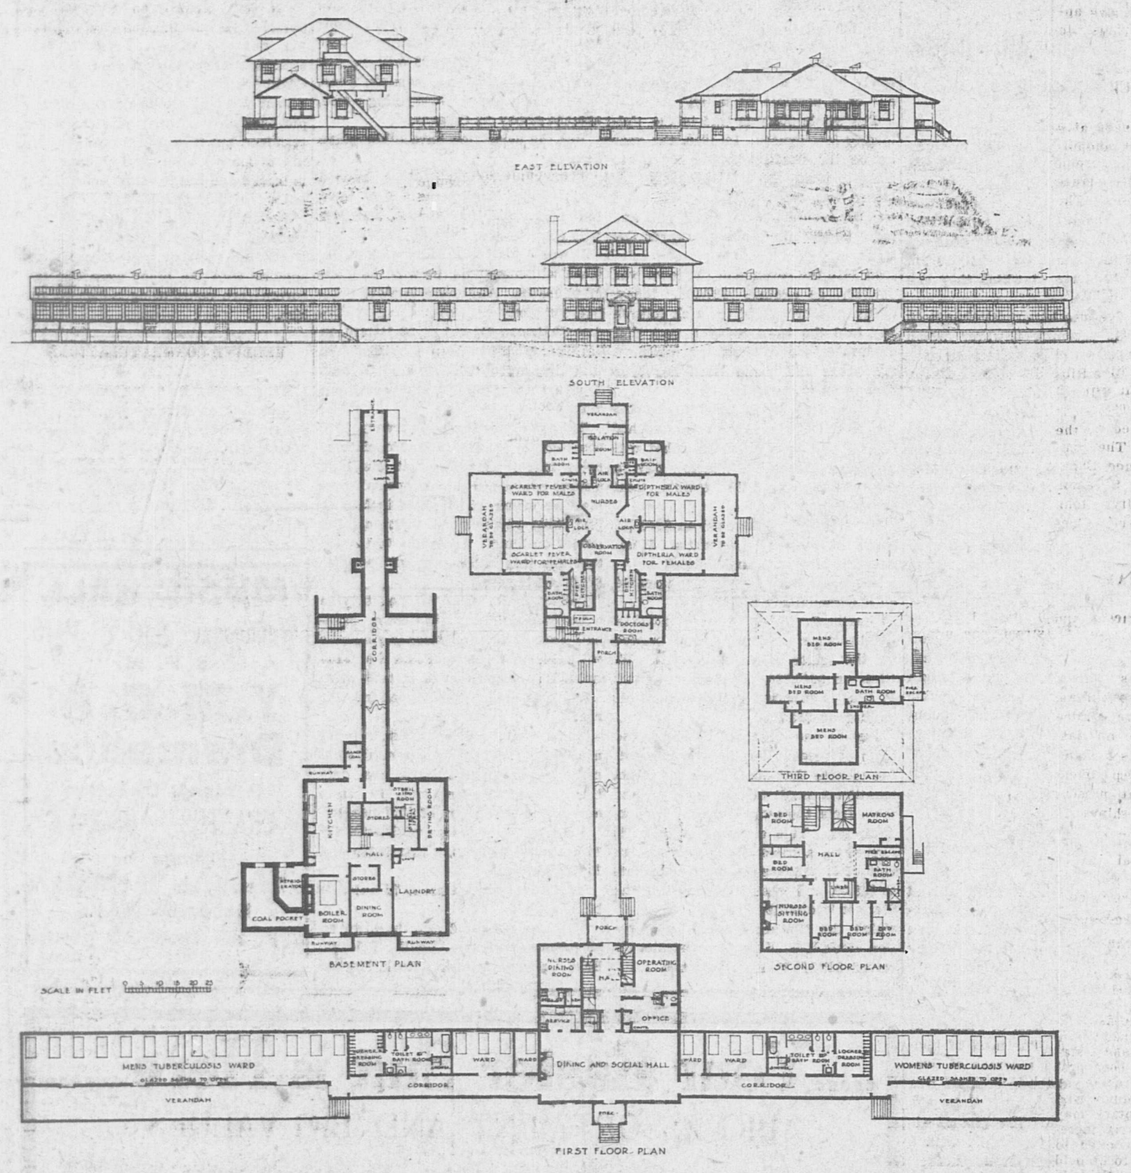

Alterations Free
MILLINERY AND SUITS
J. Szathmary, 1447 Hancock Street

Order of State That Quincy Must Construct Tuberculosis Hospital Revives Interest In Old Plan

Interest has been revived throughout the city in the contagious hospital which must be constructed here without delay.

The only plans at present available are those made by Albert H. Wright, incorporate suggestions of Dr. Fred E. Jones, a member of the Board of Health during the administration of Mayor Stone, who devoted many hours to planning for the requirements in an institution of this kind.

On Nov. 18. 1913, when the city was called before the recess committee of the Legislature to explain why it had not complied with the law causing the erection of this hospital, Dr. Jones explained the plan in detail.

There was some objection on the part of the State Board of Health but it was quickly overruled and since then there seems to be a strong sentiment in favor of the plans.

SITE DONATED.

Henry M. Faxon has announced his willingness to give the site for the proposed hospital and the 1913 Board after an extensive study of the situation chose a site in Faxon Park. overlooking a great part of Quincy and Braintree of easy access to car lines, but still not within the residential district.

THE BUILDING.

The proposed hospital consists of a central administration building with a ward on either side, one for male tuberculosis cases, the other for female tuberculosis cases and covered runway leading back from the administration building to the contagious wards which are combined in a separate building. Owing to the danger of fire from boilers, the kitchen and laundry in the Administration building. the basement walls and ceiling are to be fireproof and the ends of the wards adjoining the administration building are to be fireproof walls.

The basement contains the main kitchen, where is cooked the food for the entire hospital. The food is boisted on a dumb waiter to the various wards or dining rooms and the remaining food in their incontaminated receptacles is returned to the main kitchen. A truck is used to carry this food through the covered runway to the contagious wards where it is sent up on dumb waiters to the wards in the same manner. The kitchen receptacles cannot in this manner be infected. Each ward or dining room has its own dishes, linen, etc.

INFECTED MATERIAL.

Infected material which is to be used again is carried to the sterilizing room in sealed bags either by truck from the contagious wards or by a chute from the floor above for material from the tuberculosis wards. It is then placed in the sterilizer being taken out from the other end of the sterilizer which is an aseptic room, separated from the septic room where the infected material was placed in the sterilizer, by a solid brick wall. From the aseptic room after a sterilization it is taken to the adjoining laundry and washed. Chutes for uninfected material enter the laundry from the floor above. A dining room is shown in the basement for the hospital help, their food being carried on trays from the kitchen. Two large storerooms, one for food supplies and one for hospital furniture, etc., with a large refrigerator room and coal pockets, complete the basement plan.

The first floor of the administration building contains a large dining and social hall, which with a portable stage and piano will prove an attractive feature of this hospital. A small operating room and office which will be used as a dispensary and laboratory as well, is here located. The nurses dining room is also on this floor and is by its own service room and location absolutely safe-guarded from infection.

The second floor of the Administration building is reserved entirely for the nurses and female help of the hospital and is equipped with a well located living room and baths, as well as a large room for matron or head nurse. This floor shows sleeping accommodation for seven.

The top floors is reached by a separate stairway from the lower floor and contains rooms and bath for the male service of the institution. Large fire escapes are provided for each of the two upper floors.

TUBERCULOSIS WARDS.

The tuberculosis wards are placed as near the administration building as is possible to save steps for nurses and patients. Each section is a separate unit in itself, composed of a large ward which is over two-thirds glass on the southerly side with small glass windows on its northerly side and which contains ample heating facilities so that it may be comfortable in winter, particularly in the early morning. The peculiar type of windows and doors used will practically entirely open the south side and the small northerly windows will be open in summer and double sashed in winter. As the percentage of reported tuberculosis cases is practically three males and two females, the size of these wards is made accordingly. Each section contains a locker and dressing room where each patient keeps his clothing Adjoining this is the toilet and bath room. complete even to tooth washing bowls and shower baths. These two rooms are placed next to the large ward to make them as convenient as possible and being on the ward floor instead of in the basement they are much more attractive and serve their purpose better.

Between the bathroom and the administration building is a ward for advanced cases, which is heated and will be kept at a more equable temperature for these cases and next to this ward is a one bed room for an isolation room or for dying cases.

ITS LABORATORY EQUIPMENT.

The scheme back of this plan entails the employment of a resident physician. who as well as caring for the cases in this hospital. will do such laboratory work for the physicians of Quincy, free of charge, as will enable them to obtain. quickly and easily, reports or cultures, of all kinds taken from their cases of contagious diseases and will entail also a visit from this physician upon every case of contagious disease which may arise in the city as well as subsequent visits from the nurses of the hospital. who trained in his particular work, will, at least by teaching hygienic and preventive measures in the household, be a most valuable aid in stopping the spread of our contagious diseases and as well give to the sick cases their better opportunity for a successful recovery

CONTAGIOUS BUILDING.

The contagious building is unique in that scarlet fever. diphtheria and possibly other contagious diseases are cared for on the same floor of a building and five wards can be supervised by one nurse. This is accomplished by having a glassed wall room in the center of the building, from which an unobstructed view can be had by the nurse in charge of every patient in the contagious wards. As the average monthly number of reported scarlet fever and diphtheria cases is less than eight per month and as less than 50 per cent. of these can be reasonably expected to enter our hospital for treatment we should theoretically receive for care about two cases of scarlet fever and two cases of diphtheria per month for treatment from our city. This normal monthly average is deceptive however because these two diseases are prevalent usually only in winter and spring. Arrangements in the contagious wards are therefor made for six beds for each of these two diseases. three in each male and three in each female ward and as most of these cases are children, each ward can easily contain six cribs in an epidemic.

The verandas are large and are built so that in an epidemic they may be glassed in and used as wards without disturbing the administrative features. The nurses enter the wards through what may be called air locks which are located between the glass observation room and the wards, through double glass sashed doors which tightly close. A current of air is carried from an air inlet below up through each air lock and out through the roof, and each air lock contains a wash bowl and a place for gown and slippers, so that contagion may not be carried from one ward to another. This is a decidedly economical feature as one nurse can be used during much of the day and one at night instead of one nurse by day and one nurse at night by each of the wards, and as it may happen that we may have but one case in each side it would be ludicrous to require four nurses for their care.

The contagious wards are well lighted and well equipped with diet kitchens. baths and locker space, have large verandas with convenient and ample exits for wheeling cases on to verandas or to remove them immediately in case of fire. Clothes chutes and dumb waiters are conveniently located. A doctor's room with proper toilet and lockers is also provided. Patients coming to the hospital enter from the covered way and if not ambulant are wheeled by truck to their proper bed.

The site offered by Mr. Faxon may not be acceptable because a recent law makes it compulsory for the city to commence the erection of a dispensary by July 1st of this year and there is a sentiment throughout the community that such a branch should be close to the City Hospital and still be part of a contagious hospital.

A representative of the state department is in the city making a study of the tuberculosis situation and dispensary needs in conjunction with the local Board of Health. Quincy now has an average of one tubercular case to every 1000 inhabitants.

Prescott Apartments

For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service. Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING
WALL PAPER FOR SALE
KUSTAA RASANEN
121 Copeland St., West Quincy
Tel. Con. 194f

SON IS BORN.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Leet of 86 Safford street, Wollaston are the parents of a son born, Wednesday at St. Elizabeth's hospital, Brighton.

GIVEN JOHNSON'S BEAT.

Patrolman Daniel Ford has been assigned to the Fore River beat day times, to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Edward Johnson to a sergeancy. Patrolman Ford was recently transferred from Adams street to South Quincy. Patrolman Farrell will take the beat until further notice.

IT'S SURPRISING

That So Many Quincy People Fail To Recognize Kidney Weakness.

Are you a bad back victim
Suffer twinges; headaches, dizzy spells
Go to bed tired—get up tired
It's surprising how few suspect the kidneys.
It's surprising how few know what to do.
Kidney trouble needs kidney treatment.
Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only.
Have convinced Quincy people of their merit.
Here's a Quincy case; Quincy testimony.
Kidney sufferers hereabouts should read it.
Mrs. M. A. Jacobs, 499 Washington street, Quincy, says: "I was greatly annoyed by too frequent action of my kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills corrected this weakness and made me feel better and stronger in every way."
Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Jacobs had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

GOLD DUST

—how it actually works for you

Gold Dust actually works. It gets into corners and crevices where fingers and washcloths can't reach. It permeates and dissolves dirt, grease and grime everywhere and it cleans and brightens everything.

Gold Dust does all this—does this actual work—because it is made for that purpose.

* * *

Millions of women all over the country use Gold Dust three times a day in washing dishes. They use it for scrubbing floors, washing windows, etc.

But they do not realize all the uses of Gold Dust. Gold Dust is the only washing and cleaning powder needed in any home.

Gold Dust cleans metal work, nickel, enameled ware, etc., without scratching or marring the surface—leaving it sanitarily clean, bright and new-looking.

The use of Gold Dust is an economy. There can be no waste when you use the exact small quantity required for each specific purpose. It is at once taken up by hot or cold water, forming the perfect cleansing solution.

* * *

The active principle of Gold Dust is a valuable antiseptic cleansing agent.

Use Gold Dust not only for washing dishes, but for washing bathtubs and bathroom fixtures, cleaning oil mops, cleaning and freshening linoleum and oilcloth, cleaning and brightening pots, pans and cooking utensils, giving luster to glassware — for every cleaning and brightening purpose.

Gold Dust is as inexpensive as it is indispensable.

5c and larger packages sold everywhere

THE N.K. FAIRBANK COMPANY
MAKERS

"Let the GOLD DUST TWINS do your work"

WAS LOCAL TEACHER.

Miss Charlotte J. Nash Marries Monson Man.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Squier, nee Nash, are settled in their new home in Monson.

Miss Charlotte J. Nash was a teacher in the Wollaston school and also in the Sunday school of Bethany church. They were married Saturday afternoon by Rev. B. A. Willmott of Bethany church at the parsonage.

Mr. Squier is in the coal, lumber and grain business in Monson.. After the ceremony the couple went to Boston and the following day motored to their home in Monson.

DELL HIGH MAN.

James Dell with a total of 320 was high in the rolloffs at Wardwell's Wednesday night. The rolloff will probably be held downstairs next week on account of the large number who say they will enter. A change in prizes has been made. The strings:

J. Dell 320, J. Cox 292, J. Ellison 285, A. Icenhower 224. The cigars for high single went to J. Hamilton.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
944-946 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK
QUINCY.

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

BE WISE
FOOL THE FLIES
HAVE YOUR SCREENS RE-COVERED NOW
TELEPHONE OR WRITE
HOLMES & HALL
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1806 W

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Catherine Golden late of Quincy in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Timothy J. Golden of said Quincy or to some other suitable person. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Dedham in said County of Norfolk, on the seventh day of April A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing postpaid or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this seventeenth day of March in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Mar 18-25 April 1

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-laws, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of John W. Wentworth late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Michael T. Sullivan of said Quincy who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving surety on his official bond; You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Dedham in said County of Norfolk, on the seventh day of April A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing postpaid or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this seventeenth day of March in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Mar 18-25 April 1

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

TIRES
Of Every Description

BUY A KELLY SPRINGFIELD TIRE
You will have the Best tire made.

BUY A LEE PUNCTURE-PROOF TIRE
You can ride without fear of punctures or blow-outs

BUY AN AMONDSQUEEGEE TREAD TIRE and you get something more in service, than what you pay for.

BUY THEM HERE

You get Service, Saving and Satisfaction, all the time.

We also carry Goodrich, Goodyear, Fisk, Firestone and other makes of automobile tires.

WE are one of the largest Automobile Accessory dealers in Norfolk county.

Bring your Tires and Tubes Here, and have them Vulcanized right.

F. W. BENT

1056-1058 HANCOCK ST., QUINCY Tel. 531-M

31-2t.

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE

Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit

WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS

Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.

Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys

1506--1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block

Jan. 26-tu.-th.-s.-tf

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT

Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.

IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.

Be Sure My Name is on The Band

Yours, JOHNSON

Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

State House News

In Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts, the fight is being waged for the salvation of the Boston & Maine. But those who would save it are divided in their opinions. Meanwhile the situation grows more and more complicated. Sentiment appears to be growing on Beacon Hill that the simplest and most satisfactory way out of the mess would be receivership.

Governor Walsh is devoting almost his entire time to the problem, and is much worried. The people are just beginning to wake up to the fact that the problem vitally concerns them and their pocket-books.

Great interest is being expressed on the Hill in the intimation by the Public Service Commissioner MacLeod that the Boston Elevated would soon seek legislative authority to increase its fares to six cents.

Ex-Governor Foss is noted as a political weather-vane. He usually manages to climb onto the band-wagon of a popular cause and get a good seat for himself just before the cause becomes popular. Therefore, his espousal of the cause of National Prohibition is causing many forebodings in the ranks of the liquor politicians.

Mayor Curley's scheme to get the city of Boston out of debt by a system of paying current expenses out of current funds, is to be put over for a year in order that the mayor may wage a campaign of education, directed primarily against the finance commission.

The fact that the plan is supported by John A. Sullivan, the commission's former chairman and idol, doesn't seem to cut any ice with the present body.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

Loam for Sale

$1.75

per Two-Horse Load of 40 cubic ft.

APPLY

D. F. CROWLEY

Adams Street Tel. 720 Quincy

EXCELLENT HOME AND INVESTMENT

2 Family House, 13 Rooms, Large Attic, every modern improvement, Oak Floors, Combination Lighting Fixtures, connected with the sewer, about 8,500 square feet of land, plenty of room for garden. Built about 3 years ago. PRICE RIGHT, NAME OFFER.

TERMS CAN BE ARRANGED

W. T. DONOVAN

Room 4 Adams Bldg., Quincy

ASSESSORS ARE ON FIELD WORK

Will First Devote Attention To Ward One

The assessors have a fine day in which to begin their field work and it was not long after 8 o'clock this morning before books and card indexes in hand the board started out. The members of the board this year John J. O'Hara, who last year was the tax collector of the city, Wellington W. Mitchell, who has served on the board for several years but who was removed last year by Mayor Miller, and Charles R. Sherman, the one year man appointed by Mayor Miller last year and reappointed by Mayor Campbell this year.

For years it has been the custom of the assessors to start the field work in one of the outlying wards, leaving Ward One, the centre ward, until the last. It has been found however that in many ways this is not the best plan Often when the board start out in the morning it is pleasant but a few hours later a shower comes along, obliging them to discontinue work. Then they return to city hall only to have the weather clear again in a few hours but too late to allow them to return to the outlying district. As showers are more likely in the early part of April the board this year decided to make its start in Ward One. Then if they are overtaken by rain they can readily return to city hall and do office work and if later the weather clears they can readily get back to their work.

For this reason the assessors are at work in Ward One today and citizens are hoping for kinder treatment than last year.

The assistant assessors also started out bright and early this morning assessing pools, automobiles, etc. The men who are doing this work are:

Ward One, Francis M. Curtis.
Ward Two, Joseph Moriarty.
Ward Three, Leo J. McMaster.
Ward Four, Louis K. Badger.
Ward 5, Robert Comins.
Ward Six, Percy A. Hall.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR EASTER BALL

Quincy council, Knights of Columbus, has completed plans for its annual Easter Monday ball in Music hall. The final arrangements were made at a meeting of the ball committee after a council meeting Wednesday meeting.

The affair promises to surpass in brilliance all the past successes of the organization and unusual interest is being taken by the members as a personal tribute to Peter M. Sullivan, a well known newspaper man and the youngest grand knight the council has ever had.

Among the invited guests who will attend will be Mayor Campbell, State Deputy Louis V. Watson and State Secretary Daniel J. Gallagher of the Knights of Columbus, Fr. Michael J. Owens, of St. John's parish, chaplain of the council, the Catholic clergy of Quincy, Congressman Richard Olney, 2d, Grand Knight James V. Garey and Deputy Grand Knight John J. King of Ave Maria council, Grand Knight Joseph V. Cuffe of Braintree council, Grand Knight Edward Butler of Weymouth council and Mrs. William P. Reardon, president of the Quincy Catholic club.

The committee is headed by Deputy Grand Knight Michael P. Barrett. Strachan's orchestra will furnish the music of the evening.

The committee includes Past Grand Knights Edward D. Barrett, Michael J. Walsh, Michael T. Sullivan and Richard A. Cole, Dennis F. Sweeney, George W. Berry, Alfred J. LaCroix, James J. Powers, Charles Haggerty, Frank Ferguson, Alexander Thompson, William Hogan, William McGunigle, Philip Guinan, James Sullivan, Andrew and Frank Driscoll, Thomas Griffin.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.

will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.

OFFICE AT

96 WASHINGTON ST.

QUINCY

Tel. 618

LECTURE FOR CENSUS TAKERS

A. M. Richardson of South Weymouth, the district inspector for Quincy, Weymouth and Braintree for the State Census held a meeting of the enumerators this morning in the council chamber.

Mr. Richardson gave them an interesting talk on the manner of taking the census and the hardships they would have to overcome and of some of the clever ways to get the desired information. The date of starting the work is as yet undecided and it will take two days after the Supreme Court hands down its decision before the work can be started. If the decision does not come before the latter part of next week the work will probably be delayed until May 1st as there will not be time to complete it in April.

At the conference this morning there were 22 from Quincy, six from Weymouth and four from Braintree. If the Supreme Court rules that the census will be taken May 1st the enumerators will have to receive another instruction just previous to starting work.

PREPARE FOR DANCE.

Final preparations were made at a meeting of the entertainment committee Wednesday evening to take care of the largest crowd ever in attendance at a dance held in St. Mary's hall. The committee on the Easter Monday dance of the St. Mary's C. T. & M. B. society has worked incessantly and the only thing now needed to make the affair a great success is good weather. William Wilson's five piece orchestra will furnish music from eight to one and several specialties are on the bill including the Blue Ribbon Girl, the finder of whom will receive a valuable prize. The hall has been beautifully decorated for the occasion by the committee. The committee in charge is Lawrence Donavon, Joseph Garity, John Sheahan, Edward Joyce, Leo Garity, John Welsh, John Flaherty, Roderick Connelly.

TO MARRY NAVY MAN.

Engagement of Miss Matheson and William Cluney.

The engagement of Miss Marion Matheson of Quincy Point to William Cluney a petty officer in the United States navy was announced on last Saturday. Miss Matheson is a popular employee at Remick's Department store and Mr. Cluney is at, present stationed at the Fore River shipyard.

Charles P. Slade, principal of the High school at Naugatuck, Ct., and Mrs. Slade, are visiting in Dorchester.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Laura Bryant, late of Quincy in said County deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Linda A Lincoln of said Quincy who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her the executrix therein named. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the fourteenth day of April A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this thirtieth day of March in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCoole, Register.

3t 1-5-12

Arthur B. Foster

CARPENTER and BUILDER

14 Bay View St., Quincy Point

Telephone Connection 31-1mi

M. T. SULLIVAN

Real Estate Insurance

Auctioneer Care of Property

Justice of the Peace

Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

HERBERT A. HAYDEN

78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point

PIANO TUNER

Office at C. F. PETTENCILL'S

Tel. 1827-W Quincy

KEEP POSTED ON THE PEOPLE'S WANTS — CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING — WHY WORRY LET THESE ADS LIFT YOUR BURDEN

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

RENT REDUCED—Half house at 31 Bigelow street in first class condition; good neighborhood and convenient to everything. Bath, laundry, furnace coal range, shades, screens, gas etc. Apply at 33 Bigelow street. 1-tf

TO LET—At 33 Bigelow street, Quincy, a desirable house of eight rooms with improvements. Ready for occupancy about April 15. Apply on premises. 1-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 5 rooms and bath. Rent $16.00. Lower flat of 5 rooms with improvements. Rent $14. Near station and cars. Apply at 59 Hall Place, West Quincy. 31-6t

TO LET—New flats, Quincy Point, four rooms and kitchenette, hot and cold water, set range, gas, separate cellars, low rent, Germain avenue, cor. Washington street. Small families only. Good neighborhood. E. R. Stone, 12 Avon Way. Ready April 1st. 31-6t

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house, 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2, Quincy or 110 South street, Boston, Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET— Two or three fine front rooms, furnished, everything needed for light housekeeping. Gas range separate bath. Good neighborhood, near centre. Write J. J. Ledger Office. 29-6t

TO LET—Upper and lower flats 91 and 93 Revere road 4 and 6 rooms and bath. To small families, $20 and $18. Fred M. Torrey, 25 Spear St., Tel. 202-1 Quincy. 27-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET — To small family of adults several very desirable centrally located new tenements $22 and up, also stable $10 per month; store $10 per month. Apply to C. H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. Tel. 174-2 Quincy. 20-12t

TO LET—Upper flat of 5 rooms, one attic room and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. 97 Goddard street, near Quincy Adams Station. 15-tf.

TO LET—Tenement of three rooms $7.50 per month. Good place for hens. James Moorhead, 28 Curtis street. Tel. 599-1. 15-tf.

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 168 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Merrymount Road, near High School. Upper tenement 7 rooms Bath Gas and Electricity. All improvements. Apply A. W. Parker, 87 Merrymount road, Tel. Quincy 258-1. 4-1mo.

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

Russell Park

House 7 rooms and bath. Cemented cellar, large attic, furnace, coal and gas ranges, electric lights, open fireplace. All improvements, sunny and very attractive, fine residential street. Immediate possession. For key apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 18-tf

TO LET

TO LET—At 100 Upland road, furnished rooms in private family. Apply 100 Upland road. 1-3t

TO LET—Upper flat, 7 rooms, all conveniences, 112 Upland road. Apply on the premises or 20 Adams Building. 31-tf

TO LET—House of 7 rooms and bath on Russell Park. All improvements and very attractive. Immediate possession. For further details enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 4 rooms and bath in two-family house in Quincy Centre. Just right for a couple desiring a cozy sunny home with every convenience. Electric lights, furnace, gas stove, etc. Ready for occupancy. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—With private family, centrally located, a room suitable for one person, modern conveniences, and rent reasonable. Write Ledger L. M. B., or call Quincy 1796W. 30-6t

TO LET—Two front rooms, furnished, suitable for two gentlemen. Separate bath, good neighborhood, near the centre. Write W. W. Ledger Office. 29-6t

TO LET—Tenement of seven rooms and bath all improvements at 28 Berkley street. Twelve minutes walk from Fore River and ten minutes walk from Quincy Depot. Apply P. J. Curry 94 Federal avenue or telephone Quincy 1075-M. 26-6t

TO LET—Quincy centre, 18 Faxon avenue, modern suite, 6 rooms and bath. Every improvement. Three minutes from R. R. station. Telephone 414-M. Weymouth. 25-tf

TO LET—One or two tenements. Can have 12 or only 6 rooms. Rent for 6 $18.75 C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road, Quincy. 24-tf

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements. 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 13-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Twin 7 H. P. Indian Motorcycle in first class running order. Price $75.00 Can be seen at Thomas Nelson's, 20 Granite street, Quincy. 1-3t

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

MILTON—For sale in this ideal town. New two-family cement houses, every improvement, electric lights, large piazzas, choice of two. Three minutes walk from the East Milton Depot. Will sell one of these at bargain price. Easy terms if desired. Write call or telephone. John J. Gallagher. Cor. Church and Adams street, East Milton. 27-6t

FOR SALE—Fresh Wollaston eggs. Telephone Quincy 1379-W. 26-6t

FOR SALE—400 loads of dark heavy loam cheap located at Dysart street. Apply to J. Coughlin of Coughlin & Donovan, 1475 Hancock street. 24-12t

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E. R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-tf. L P.

MISCELLANEOUS

MRS C. F. WRISLEY 22 School St. can accommodate two gentlemen with board and rooms. All home comforts and refinement. Seven minutes walk to station, one minute to Fore River cars. Tel. Quincy 368-W. 15-tf.

FURNITURE and PIANO moving, packing and storage. Wm. D. King, 106 Centre street. Tel. 21003. 8-1mo.

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

FOUND

FOUND— Boat, March 23, 1915. Owner can have same by paying charges and proving property. C. C. Foster, 18 Bay View street, Quincy. 30-3t

WANTED

WANTED— Experienced stitchers on power machines, work on silk, waists, plenty of work and good pay, those that have worked on sewing machines by power are wanted. Apply 192 Granite street, Quincy. George G. Bean. 30-3t eod

WANTED— Cooks, general, two 2nd and chamber maids, mothers helpers; also canvasser. Good wages, first class families. Oldest Employment Office in city. L. M. Flynn, 22 Maple street. Next Post Office. Phone 2235-W. 31-3t

WANTED — Experienced young women as waitresses. Apply at Thompson's Cafe, Quincy Square, Quincy, Mass. 30-6t

WANTED—Kitchen women. Apply at Yule's Hotel, Quincy Point. 80-3t

PROOFREADER. A young Woman experienced in proofreading is wanted at the Ledger Office. If not experienced but well educated and possessing natural ability application will be considered. Address letter to Miss Prescott, Ledger Office, Quincy. 24-tf

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

TO LET

Large Room 30 x 36

Second Floor

Savings Bank Building

Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes

Quincy Savings Bank

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.

Nov

TO LET

After April 1, Store or Stores No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.

Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.

22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.

Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up

Offices and Desk Room.

City Square Office, Hancock Bld.

Small front office.

Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.

City Square Store House or Shop —ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

City Square Club Room or Hall —28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)

Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.

Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS

Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.

Colonial Hall—Hancock Building —City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.

Ask for Mr. Kribs.)

Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

CARPENTER AND BUILDER

PLANS EXECUTED

Established 1891 in Quincy

All Work Given Prompt Attention

W. R. LOFGREN

19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall

Tel. Quincy 398-3

KINCAIDE THEATRE

Final Episode

EXPLOITS OF ELAINE

And the Clutching Hand

The mystery of the plot is solved in this episode

A Wonderful 4 Reel Paramount Photo-Play "It's No Laughing Matter"

Vaudeville — Retti Murri, a noted character songster

Walter Hale with his company of Musical Artists—"All Live Wires"

Williams & Woodbury Comedians that make you Laugh

Thurs. Fri. & Sat. — Daily at 2.30 P. M. 10 & 15c. Evenings at 6—10-15-25c

Coming Monday --- Thrilling Photo-Play --- "The Morals of Marcus"

EASTER OPENING

OF THE

NORFOLK CLOTHING COMPANY

A Full Line of Ladies', Men's, Youth's and Boys' Suits. Also a Large Stock of Men's Furnishings

CASH OR CREDIT. Open Evenings.

1479 Hancock Street

31-3t

GLEE CLUB TO ENTERTAIN.

The Wollaston Glee club will entertain the members of the Adams Parents-Teachers association at the School hall Tuesday evening. Mrs. Velma Bailey Hicks will be the reader and Mrs. James S. Moore will be the vocal soloist. The proceeds will be devoted to the decoration fund.

The Loyal Ladies of Clan MacGregor No. 1, are to hold a costume party at Music hall Monday evening, April 19.

"Why worry John, your credit is good at

KINCAIDE'S

Whether you want a few new things to brighten up your home, or a complete housekeeping outfit, this good store stands ready to supply them. And you certainly can do better here than elsewhere. Just come and see. Look over our four spacious floors filled with stylish new goods of guaranteed quality. Note our low suburban prices. Get our plan of easy payments, without interest.

See these Complete Outfits of Guaranteed Quality

Kincaide's "SPECIAL" 3-Room Outfit	Kincaide's "DE LUXE" 4-Room Outfit	Kincaide's "SUPERB" 4-Room Outfit	Kincaide's "SUPREME" 4-Room Outfit
$150.	$198.	$245.	$295.

Lower Priced Outfits for those who desire. Better outfits $350 to $1000

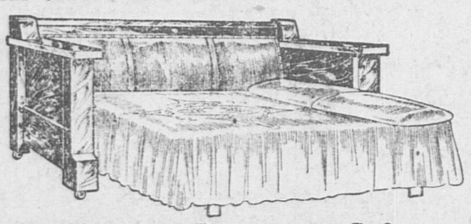

BUY NOW - - Special Values this Week - - BUY NOW

Regular $12 Golden Oak Dresser

New style nearly like picture above. Well made and nicely finished, 3 large roomy drawers, large mirror

$7.98

$35 New Davenport Sofa

Heavy Fumed Oak Frame upholstered in a beautiful brown Chase Leather. Opens easily to make delightful bed with spring and mattress complete $27

Regular $27.50 Quartered Oak Dining Tables

Heavy plank top best quarter sawed oak, large pedestal, 44 inch top, 6ft. ext., heavy claw feet $18.75

Regular $25 Guaranteed BRASS BED

2 inch continuous posts, large knobs, 5 fillers, bright finish full size, guaranteed lacquer $16.98

Hundreds of other unusually Good Values beckon you here.

Kincaide Furniture Store

ENTIRE BUILDING 1495 HANCOCK ST., QUINCY

BRIEFS

The Quincy Yacht club will open its season on Saturday, April 17.

The three day fair of Viking circle will begin Thursday, April 29.

There will be a meeting of the Quincy Day Nursery association next Monday.

The Y. M. C. A. play "A Family Affair" will be given in Music hall next Wednesday evening.

John Enright, formerly of Quincy, and now of the Panama canal zone, is visiting here.

Tomorrow is Good Friday and the public schools of the city will be closed all day.

The fourth annual dance of the Harmony club will be held in St. Mary's hall on Wednesday evening, May 5.

Charles H. Everett of Bigelow street will entertain the cast of the Mikado recently presented under the auspices of the Quincy Woman's club at his home Monday evening.

The board of governors of the Quincy Tennis club have admitted 15 to membership and the tournament committee is preparing the season schedule.

John Prouty's mother and brother who have been his guests for several months at his home on Edgemere road leave today for their summer home in Scituate.

Dr. A. N. Abbott of South Boston, will address the members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Laura Tirrell, 49 Upland road.

Dr. Harold E. Diehl, chairman of the Board of Health attended the meeting of the State Anti-Tuberculosis Association at Boston this morning. The local situation was discussed only in connection with the situation throughout the state.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Kincaide Theatre
R. E. Foy & Co.
Nathan Ames
Kincaide Furniture Store
Attention of Tax Payers
Y. M. C. A. Dramatics
Granite Shoe Store
J. Szathmary
Lelyveld, the Shoe Man
Frost Coal Co.
Charles C. Hearn
H. F. McIntire

BIRTHS

LEET—In Brighton, March 31, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Leet of 86 Safford street, Wollaston.

PERKINS—In Allston, March 30, a son to Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Perkins, formerly of this city.

DEATHS

ARNOLD—In Quincy, March 30th, Miss Elizabeth V. Arnold in her 54th year.
Funeral services at home of her brother, Danford W. Arnold, 67 Arnold street, Friday, April 2, at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. Mar. 30 Apr. 1

STOKES—In Quincy, March 31, Prudent, wife of Gilbert Stokes of Fayette street, aged 70 years.

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service

1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

MEN'S CANDLE PIN TOURNAMENT

Friday evening, March 26 in the men's candle pin tournament at the Cochato club team six won everything with ease. They made 8 points team one took the balance of four points. Hobart, Chapin and Abercrombie were absent. The scores were as follows:

TEAM ONE
Woodsum	82	91	93	266
G. A. Arnold	87	89	70	246
Ferguson	97	78	84	259
Avery	78	70	73	221
Hobart	65	65	65	195
	409	393	385	1187
TEAM TWO.
J. E. Arnold	79	80	87	246
Stoddard	105	81	76	262
Adrian	77	80	79	236
Chapin	71	71	71	213
Abercrombie	65	65	65	195
	397	377	378	1152
TEAM SIX
Olin	93	94	113	300
South	82	76	75	233
Davy	81	91	77	249
Craig	75	78	94	247
Holt	88	85	72	245
	419	424	431	1274

Tuesday evening teams one, two and five endeavored to smash the pins. W. H. Pratt made the best single and total. Team five captured 7 1-2 points, team one 3 1-2, team two 1. The scores:

TEAM ONE
Woodsum	106	80	84	270
G. A. Arnold	78	97	73	248
Ferguson	84	80	84	248
Avery	84	86	83	253
Hobart	60	75	73	208
	412	418	397	1227
TEAM TWO
J. E. Arnold	103	84	83	270
Stoddard	86	75	88	249
Adrian	81	77	86	244
Chapin	71	71	71	213
Abercrombie	78	89	65	232
	419	396	393	1208
TEAM FIVE
Macomber	91	73	91	255
Pratt	110	87	100	297
Stevens	77	100	90	267
Prescott	75	77	77	229
Sampson	77	81	68	226
	430	418	426	1274

PREPARE L-4 FOR LAUNCHING

The officials of the Electric Boat Co. are directing preparations for the completion of the launching of the U. S. Submarine L-4 which caught on the ways Wednesday after it had gone a boat length.

The second attempt to launch the boat this morning failed after it had gone another boat length.

A series of heavy jacks are being used in lifting the boat which weighs about 600 tons and after a reasonable height is reached the ways will again be smeared with grease.

The difficult part of the operation will come in resetting the submarine on the ways. When that is done the hawsers and chains holding her back will be released and she will slide off the rest of the distance to the water.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

"Lamson & Hubbard" Hats

Men of discrimination go to the store that sells them. They go there for style—they go there for value—they go there for satisfaction

Look for the store that displays the Lamson & Hubbard Sign

JONES JUST AROUND THE CORNER 1 GRANITE ST., QUINCY

GIVEN RECEPTION

(Continued from Page One.)

"I believe I can look forward to accomplishments in Atlantic which will work for the good of the community. We are blest with the beauty of the ocean, which we all love and the quietness of the village life, but still in touch with the hustle of the city.

"I look forward to the next twenty-five years in Atlantic to celebrate our golden wedding and we will see in that time what will be accomplished. I am just beginning to feel at home.

"I thank you all most heartily for this wallet and I want you all to come help me spend it."

Dr. Sneath of Wollaston who had just arrived came forward and congratulated Mr. and Mrs. Davison and spoke a few words of appreciation of Mr. Davison as a friend.

Mr. Read then invited the gathering to the vestry where ice cream, cake and coffee were served by Mrs. Geo. Height, Mrs. Spencer Apollonio, Mrs. William Davy, Mrs. L. D. T. Gurney, Mrs. Sarah Butler and Mrs. Harry Read.

The vestry of the church was handsomely decorated with lavender and purple wisteria.

Mrs. Davison was the recipient of many large and beautiful bouquets of flowers and an anniversary cake which was made by Mrs. I. S. Smith.

WILL SUCCEED REV. HILLMAN

Rev. A. E. Hillman, who preaches his farewell sermon at St. Pauls Swedish Methodist Episcopal church, will be succeeded by Rev. Newton Lundstrom of Jersey City, N. J. It is expected that the Rev. Mr. Lundstrom will assume his new charge in Quincy the Sunday following Easter.

ENTERTAIN AT BRIDGE.

Mrs. W. T. Davis of Edgemere road entertained her neighbors Wednesday evening. Auction bridge was played, the highest scorers being Mrs. S. T. MacQuarrie, and John R. Prouty.

FOR THAT EASTER DINNER

welcoming in the glad spring time, and bidding good-bye to winter we would like to supply your groceries. We need no introduction to most people in this town, but we want to bring to your special attention at this season the well kept line of groceries we carry. The prices are just as satisfactory as the goods.

FRIDAY SPECIALS

25 lb. bag Fine Granulated Sugar $1.50

Fresh Baked Uneedas 3 pkgs. 11c

OUR SERVICE AT YOUR SERVICE

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980

FOY'S 2 STORES

WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

LA FRANCE SHOE for WOMEN

LA FRANCE SHOP

Showing You the Latest Easter Styles

LA FRANCE SHOE for WOMEN

American women have always been the best shod.

La France has helped to bring about this situation

Shoes are only a small part of your attire, but their appearance has much to do with the effect of your whole costume. The minute you slip your foot into one of our shoes you will be pleased.

Put our shoes to the test today. We are showing an exceptionally interesting display of spring footwear—trimness and neatness are their chief distinctions.

La France Boots, Oxfords and Pumps, $3.50 and $4.00

See our Shoe display in show window.

GRANITE SHOE STORE, QUINCY'S BIG SHOE STORE

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 78 | QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 2, 1915 | PRICE 2 CENTS

NEW SECRETARY OF QUINCY Y. M. C. A.

Robert S. Gaskell of Johnstown, N. Y., Accepts Appointment

Robert S. Gaskell, secretary of the Johnstown Y. M. C. A. of Johnstown, N. Y., has been appointed secretary of the Quincy Y. M. C. A. The call was extended to Mr. Gaskell several months ago and his acceptance was received Thursday. Mr. Gaskell is 29 years old and is married.

He will succeed A. F. Bromley, who recently resigned after three years continuous and successful service. His service will begin May 1.

The news of the acceptance of the appointment by Mr. Gaskell was received with regret in Johnstown, N. Y. and prominent men of that place who have been associated with him in his endeavors in the field have forwarded endorsements and testimonials of his work to Quincy. The resolutions of the Board of Directors, on his appointment spoke highly of his executive ability.

The following sketch of Mr. Gaskell was received from H. B. Northrop, president of the Johnstown Y. M. C. A. and Fred W. Warren, its vice president.

Robert Steere Gaskell, the retiring secretary of the Johnstown Y. M. C. A. and secretary-elect of the Quincy Y. M. C. A., came to Johnstown four years ago in May, 1911. He is twenty-nine years of age and a graduate of Colgate Academy and Denison University in the class of 1905. For three years after leaving college he was in school work in Pennsylvania and New York and after being a summer agent of the American Express Co. in 1908, he was for three years the general secretary of the Norwich, N. Y., Y. M. C. A. At that time it had about been decided to close the Norwich association, but the three years administration of Mr. Gaskell put it on a solid and successful basis and left in the community a strong feeling of support.

The following are some of the work and improvements which are the result of Mr. Gaskell's administration at the Johnstown association. The membership stands at 400 instead of 300, it having been 500 during his second year, but the extended strike and general business depression have delayed a large number of renewals. One of the finest swimming pools has been secured; two new bowling alleys a new gymnasium; three new big, airy locker rooms; a new shower room; a new men's lobby forty feet square; and the turning of the old men's department into a boys' department with a separate reading room, lobby, office and two game rooms. These improvements were conceived, instigated and carried to a successful conclusion together with raising of over $13,000.00 by him and would not have been possible except through his untiring efforts.

The bible classes have been made a special feature of the work and the attendance quadrupled; the gym attendance has doubled and the number of men using the building has tripled. A highly successful Boys' Department has been built up, a secretary employed on full time and a social secretary also employed on full time. The association has become the bowling center of the city; the boys' department is crowded. Two successful promotion periods have been carried on through the State Religious Work Secretary and seventy-three members made a public profession of Christ during the Hart and Magann meetings.

The support of a large number of disinterested business and professional men has been won and, in leaving Mr. Gaskell has established the financial work of the association as his last work by securing the largest number, by far of annual subscriptions that the Y. M. C. A. has ever had, this including eleven one hundred dollar pledges. He has maintained association principles against great odds, not giving quarter to anything wrong. Many difficult problems, peculiar to the local work, have confronted him and in many instances he has worked them out alone.

In 1906, Mr. Gaskell took for his life companion Eleanor Marsh of Norwich, a lady of charming personality

(Continued on Page Five.)

JACKSON
Model 46
THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER
"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"
Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT
$1375
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity.
Fair Saturday with moderate westerly winds.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	5 25
Sun sets	6 12
Length of day	12.47
Moon rises	11.11
High water, A. M.	1.15
High water, P. M.	1.4
Days increase	3 hrs. 41 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	58 degrees
Apr. 2, 1914,	56 degrees
Apr. 2, 1913,	55 degrees

Noon Maximum 18 years—86
Noon Minimum 18 years—30

NEW RULES UPON KEEPING GASOLINE

Persons Having More Than 10 Gallons To Apply to Council

REQUIRE PERMIT ANYWAY

The new rules of the fire hazard commission in regard to gasoline issued today are of interest to all owners of automobiles. In brief the new rules provide that a person may keep gasoline up to the amount of one gallon in the house for domestic purposes, provided that it is in a separate tight can. Automobile owners may keep gasoline up to the amount of 10 gallons, which will include that in their cars, by permission of the chief of the fire department. To keep over 10 gallons, including the amount in the cars, the city council must be applied to for a permit and a public hearing held. The city council may then pass an order granting the permit subject to the approval of the chief of the fire department. All licenses, however, are issued by the city clerk, thus adding another duty to this office.

VANDALISM IN PUBLIC LIBRARY

The trustees of the Thomas Crane Public Library have determined to put a stop to the mutilation of library books and periodicals by vandals. In common with public libraries all over the state the local institution has suffered considerable loss by the mutilation of books and pamphlets by the cutting out of illustrations.

In order to show to what extent these book vandals have been at work the trustees have placed on the bulletin board, samples of the mutilations The mutilating of public library books it is perhaps not generally known, is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than $5 or more than $50 for each offense or by imprisonment for not more than six months.

The trustees of the library are determined to put a stop to the practice and have voted to bring into court any persons discovered mutilating books or pamphlets.

WORK ON BLOCK TO BEGIN SOON

Deeds were passed Thursday transferring to a syndicate headed by Mr. Norris of Boston the property near the Wollaston depot off Beale street of which mention was made in a recent issue of this paper. Plans for the development of this property have already been made and it is expected that work will be commenced in the very near future. The plans call for the erection of a business block to contain about twenty stores, the most of which have already been engaged.

MISS HARDWICK IS MARRIED

Weds Lyman W. Morrison of Braintree

At the home of Mrs. Henry E. Hardwick, 104 Revere road was solemnized this morning at half past nine the marriage of her only daughter, Minnie Rideout Hardwick and Lyman Howard Morrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman W. Morrison of 504 Elm street, Braintree.

Only the immediate families were present at the ceremony. The officiating clergymen were Rev. Edward Norton, pastor emeritus of Bethany church, who married the parents of the bride and Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson of the First Parish church where the family are attendants. Charles H. Hardwick, eldest brother of the bride, gave her in marriage.

Potted plants and cut flowers were used profusely in the rooms and a large bunch of daybreak pinks ornamented the dining table about which the party gathered for a wedding breakfast following the informal reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrison left for an extended trip and on their return will make their home on Harvard street, Dorchester.

The bride will be missed by many friends in Quincy where she has always resided and been active in social affairs. She has given of her talent freely possessing a pleasing soprano voice; has taken part in dramatics and entertainments of the First Parish church and other organizations. She is a graduate of Woodward Institute. Mr. Morrison is employed by a Boston bank.

ATTEND CONFERENCE.

Miss Marian Jackson, school nurse Miss Jenny Purchase of the Associated Charities, Mrs. Wilson Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Hunting were among those who attended the meetings of the Conference on tuberculosis at 3 Joy street, Boston, Thursday. The one thing which was made very plain at all the meeting was that the law requiring cities and towns to build dispensaries as well as hospitals for the treatment of this disease is to be enforced by the State.

Many cities and towns have been reminded in this matter and few comparatively have complied with the law.

MATINEE WHIST.

The Quincy Riverside club held a matinee whist at the clubhouse Thursday with Mrs. Roseline Wardwell as chairman. Those having the highest scores were: Mrs. Mary Jones Mrs. William Westland, Mrs. B. Magnus , Mrs. T. Berman, Mrs. George Sprague, Mrs. David Phelan, Mrs. J. McDonald.

Cake and candy were on sale.

On April 7, the club will hold a German whist party with Mrs Mary Spooner and Mrs. Mary Sprague in charge.

EASTER GIFT.

The C. H. club of Wollaston has forwarded to the overseer of the poor a number of packages of candy and jellies for the women of the Quincy Home as an Easter gift.

MAYOR SIGNS.

The Mayor affixed his signature this morning to the annual appropriation order.

Oliver F. Ferguson of 144 Glendale road and George S. Partridge of 74 Kemper street were fined $5 each in the Dorchester court Wednesday for violation of the automobile law.

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.

Dandy bungalow in E. Braintree for sale: small pay't., bal. as rent: see this at once.

Houses
H. F. McIntire
Greenleaf Bl'k
Tel. Quincy 1665-W.

Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.

1-1 yr.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS DROWNING OF UNKNOWN MAN IN CREEK

Police Arrive Too Late to Save Man Seen Floundering in Water Short Time Before

An unknown man was drowned in Quincy Bay, off Adams shore this morning. Whether the deed was premeditated or not remains a mystery.

The man was first seen by Olaf P. Lindberg of Elm street who saw him floundering some distance from the shore and spitting water from his mouth. Lindberg shouted for him to come ashore since he was in danger of drowning and when he did not heed the warning started off to find a boat.

Lindberg then notified police headquarters and while the police were arriving he secured a boat. The boat was waterlogged and Patrolmen Cahill and McNamara put to sea only after tieing a rope to the boat which was held by those on shore.

The body was recovered 80 feet from the shore and was removed to the Hall morgue after being viewed by Medical Examiner Jones.

The man, according to Medical Examiner Jones, was apparently suffering from some mental disturbance. He was dressed in peculiar manner and wore a blue serge suit over a gray flannel shirt and khaki trousers as though an attempt had been made to disguise himself. A necktie took the place of a belt. His shoes and stockings had been removed and both were on the shore.

There were no marks of identification on the clothing other than the letter "E," stamped on the inside pocket of the coat. He was 5 feet 4 tall and his head covering was missing.

Patrolman McNamara said the dead man looked like a person seen on Madison avenue, Atlantic, at three o'clock this morning who acted in a suspicious manner and ran away so fast when approached he was unable to over take him.

It is the belief in some quarters that the man had been kept under restraint in a home or institution and had made an escape during the night.

ENTERTAINMENT AFTER MEETING

An entertainment followed the regular meeting of the Geo. L. Gill Rebekah lodge in Odd Fellows hall Thursday evening. The program included moving pictures, selections by Kennedy's orchestra, vocal solos by Miss E. Carpenter, cornet solos by Mr. Esson, and vocal solos by James Edward Murphy.

The pictures were given under the direction of Alexander Cowe of South Quincy, one of the representatives of the Pathescope Co. The affair was under the direction of Mrs. Kate Irwin, chairman of the ward five and six entertainment committee of the organization.

Ice cream and cake was served after the entertainment.

SAILS FOR ROTTERDAM.

Capt. M. J. Hewson of the Caroline, brother of Thomas C. Hewson of Newcomb place, sailed Thursday from Newport News for Rotterdam, with a cargo of cotton. The consignee is unknown. Captain Hewson was in the best of spirits when he sailed and said he did not expect anything but rough weather during the passage.

You need the Ledger every day.

CENSUS WILL BEGIN AT ONCE

Thursday the supreme court transmitted to the legislature an opinion that the director of the census was wholly within his rights in taking the census April 1 if he so desired, and that there was nothing unconstitutional in the proceedings. Therefore the taking of the census will be started immediately instead of waiting until May 1. Most of the census data has been distributed among the enumerators so that work will proceed with the loss of more than a day or two.

MAKE LONG RUN FOR FALSE ALARM

As if the fire department had not had enough runs during the past month some idiotic persons gave the department a useless run this noon when a false alarm was sounded from Box 81 at Squantum, the box at the longest distance from the central station. The alarm sounded at 12.20 and as soon as the chief arrived the re-call was sounded. People residing near the box told the chief that they had seen two men, strangers, in the vicinity of the box just before it has sounded and that they had immediately run away. A search was instituted for the men but they could not be found.

D. E. WADSWORTH & CO.

To have a becoming suit for Easter—means only to make your selection

...At Wadsworth's...

Many New Styles in Correct Cloth Coats

The Separate Skirt is more popular than ever

The Easter Coat FOR THE Little Girl

Can be very pretty without being Expensive

Many new pretty styles in Easter Dresses for the little girl.

THE SHIRTWAIST STORE

KINCAIDE THEATRE

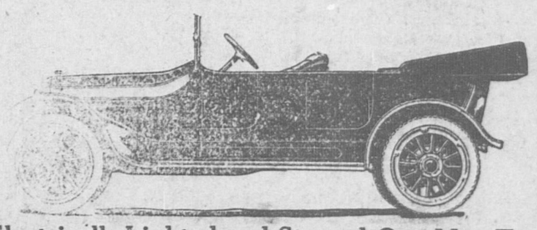

Final Episode
EXPLOITS OF ELAINE
And the Clutching Hand
The mystery of the plot is solved in this episode

A Wonderful 4 Reel Paramount Photo-Play "It's No Laughing Matter"
Vaudeville — Retti Murri, a noted character songster
Walter Hale with his company of Musical Artists—"All Live Wires."
Williams & Woodbury Comedians that make you Laugh
Thurs. Fri. & Sat.—Daily at 2.30 P. M. 10 & 15c. Evenings at 8—10-15-25c

Coming Monday --- Thrilling Photo-Play --- "The Morals of Marcus"

MUSIC HALL
Wednesday, Apr. 7, 1915
8 P. M.
Y. M. C. A.
Dramatics
Personal Direction
ERASTUS OSGOOD
Music by
Wollaston Cadet Band Orchestra
Reserved Seats
50, 35 and 25 cents
April 1-6t

THE 1915 REO IS HERE

Electrically Lighted and Started, One Man Top
Increased Wheel Base, 34x4 Tires, Crown Fender, Improved Upholstering, Increased Power.

F.O.B. Factory		F.O.B. Factory
4 cyl.	$1050	2 ton Truck	$1650
6 cyl.	$1385	Light Delivery 1500 lbs.	$1075
4 cyl. Runabout	$1000	Light Delivery Chassis	$1000
4 cyl. Coupe	$1575

Reo the Fifth - - the Incomparable Four is on Display at our Garage. Call and see This Car.
Ask for Demonstration

CENTRAL GARAGE and SUPPLY CO.
Corner Washington and Pond Sts.
QUINCY
Tel. 1035 W — C. W. Hodgkinson, Prop.

16-1mo.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

CONTENTS OF A BAG

The American Embassy in London has received a despatch bag, the contents of which are probably more remarkable, more curious and certainly more pitiful than any documents ever transmitted from Europe to the American people. Through the same channel, since the War of Independence, there have come and gone countless communications which made for peace or war among the nations of the world These are now musty state papers, only dragged from obscurity by the politician of the controversialist. The papers in the bag which Ambassador Page has just received from the American Legation at Brussels will live and breathe and have their effect so long as the spirit of humanity sways the progress of civilization.

This bag from Minister Whitlock in Brussels was chock-a-block, not with diplomatic documents, not with protests against outrage, not with dissertations upon neutrality, but with letters from thousands of little children, thanking the American people for keeping them alive.

On postcards, many of them being photos of King Albert, all of them decorated with tiny rosettes, composed of miniature stars and stripes, intertwined with the Belgian colors, infant hands have scrawled such messages as these:

"Je prie Jesus pour vous."

"Mamma no longer cries since we have the good bread."

"Vive la bonne Amerique."

"I send you a big kiss."

"Merci—pour papa, pour Maman, et pour moi."

"Merci, Merci!"

Every letter is addressed to the Chairman of the American Commission for relief in Belgium. All the children and the grown-up people realize that but for them they would have died. A schoolboy writes:

"Little as well as big at the school of the Brothers of Flenu we were all proud and anxious to show our mothers the beautiful rubbers and clothes that the Americans sent us. Now we cry all together 'Vive L'Amerique'—and we pray for you."

Did any Ambassador of any country ever receive such a despatch bag as this?

VANDALISM IN LIBRARY.

The above heading in a newspaper article some weeks since on the report of the Boston Public Library we regret to say is equally applicable to our own Library here in Quincy.

Efforts have been made all winter to find out who is the "selfish vandal" or vandals, who, without regard to the rights of others, the public, and the library, have been mutilating periodicals by cutting out with a sharp knife illustrations to which they take a fancy or which they can use, or ruthlessly tearing out whole pages. Both the art magazines and such others as the "Automobile," "Illustrated London News," and the "American Magazine" have suffered in this way.

It is an unnecessary expense that the Library is put to to replace these for binding or use, as it needs all its funds available, even then insufficient to satisfy the demands upon it, for first purchase, besides the loss to other readers who should enjoy these It is perhaps not generally known that the offence is punishable, according to the Massachusetts statutes, "by a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $50, or by imprisonment for not more than 6 months," which notice is posted in the library.

By a vote of the trustees such offenders if discovered will be punished to the full extent of the law.

SERVICES FOR MRS. STONE.

The funeral of Mary, widow of Charles H. Stone took place Thursday afternoon from the home of Mrs. Franklin P. Bennett, 150 Beale street. Services were conducted by Rev. George M. Bailey and the body was taken to the old North cemetery in Weymouth for burial.

DOROTHY WILLIAMS.

Dorothy, the 15 months old daughter of fireman and Mrs. Richard Williams, passed away at their home on Cross street this morning after a short illness. The parents, well known and most popular young married couples of the city, have the sympathy of the entire community. The father is attached to the central fire station and is chauffeur of the auto chemical. The mother, before marriage was Georgianna McLean.

NO LAUNCHING.

No attempt will be made today to complete the launching of the United States submarine L-4 which caught on the ways twice since its christening. Workmen are engaged in giving the ways another coat of grease and an effort will be made to send her into her element Saturday.

HOLD SERVICES FOR MR. NICOL

The funeral of Charles G. Nicol, for many years a member of the police department, but for the past few years assistant superintendent of Mt. Wollaston cemetery was held Thursday afternoon from his late home on Dysart street. The services were conducted by the Chief Robert Cantley and Chaplain John Bissett of Clan MacGregor. The burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery, the bearers being John Muir, Alfred O. Diack, John A. Clark, Thomas Johnston, William Prout and James Birnie.

There was a profusion of beautiful flowers which included the following:

Pillow, marked "Husband."
Wreath, marked "Father"
Spray of Calla Lilies, from Mr. and Mrs. James Nicol
Spray roses, Capt. and Mrs. D. R. McKay
Wreath, Franklin Associates
Pillow, Elizabeth Grassick
Standing Anchor, Mr. and Mrs. Denton and family.
Standing wreath, Employees Kincaide's theatre
Spray, Mr. and Mrs. Donovan
Wreath, Mr. and Mrs. William Prout
Spray, Mr. and Mrs. Olson
Spray, Arthur B. Hultman
Standing wreath, John F. and W. J. Walsh
Spray, Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Cudworth
Spray, Miss Mildred Tyler
Wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Williams, Jr.
Spray, Mrs. J. Kennedy, Mrs. W. H. Smith, Mrs. C. Barnicoat and Mrs. C. Peterson
Spray, John E. Derringer
Spray, Mrs. J. McAnarney
St. Andrews Cross, Clan MacGregor, O. S. C.
Wreath , Mrs. DeForest, Mrs. Kain, Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. Cryan, Mrs. Granberg, Mrs. Goodhue, Mrs. Myatt and Mrs. Swanson
Spray carnations, Waldo Fay.

Mr. Nicol leaves a widow and four children, Walter S., Sylvester J., Isabella and Irene.

BRIEFS

Mrs. J. W. Hayden is seriously ill at her home on Gay street.

Mrs. Beatrice Porterfield has been confined at her home with illness.

Harry Heffernan is confined to his home on Elm place with an attack of double pneumonia.

James S. Whyte is the soloist at the Quincy Point church musicale this evening.

A large delegation of Maple lodge K. & L. of H. will attend the last annual visitation this evening of Unity lodge, 720 Washington street, Boston. The party plans to leave Quincy on the seven o'clock train.

George Monk, the well known violinist, has accepted a position in the orchestra of the Tremont theatre during unlimited engagement of the "Birth of the Nation." Mr. Monk for many years was a member of the orchestra at the Boston theatre.

Carl and Raymond Fowler of Phillips street and James S. Whyte of Standish avenue were three of a quartet which sang at Ford hall, Boston Sunday evening. Mr. Whyte sang the Irish melodies. Madame Beale Morey was the accompanist.

EVERYTHING FOR THE GARDEN

LAWN SEED FERTILIZER
BEANS GREEN PODDED WAX PODDED
CORN EARLY and LATE YELLOW and WHITE

We could mention scores of different vegetable seeds. A large stock indeed.
Do not fail to pay us a visit this week.

We have
ALL KINDS OF GARDEN TOOLS

NATHAN AMES
5 Granite St.,
USE CARBORUNDUM SHARPENING STONES

CALL ON LELYVELD The SHOEMAN
FOR YOUR EASTER FOOTWEAR
3 MAPLE STREET, "The Little Store with the Big Stock." QUINCY

LADIES' GRAY GAITER TOP BOOT $1.98
LADIES' PUMPS Colonial Style $1.79
MEN'S DRESS BOOTS $2.39
MEN'S TAN BAL. GRAY TOP $3.19

PATENT CLOTH TOPS FOR EASTER
5 to 8 $1.19
8½ - 11 1.29
11½ - 2 1.55
2½ - 6 1.98

SILK HOSIERY 19 cents

These are some of the many styles

BOYS SCHOOL SHOES 95c

Ask For LEGAL STAMPS

GUNMETAL BUTTON BOOTS
5 to 8 .95
8½ - 11 1.09
11½ - 2 1.29
2½ - 6 1.45

PLENTY OF FRUIT IN LOCAL STORES

A Trip Among Retailers Is Just as Good As Spring Tonic

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW

Some people always take medicine in the spring of the year to stimulate the appetite. The old fashioned remedy was sulphur and molasses. Here is something even better than all the medicine which the druggist can put up. Just take a walk about the city and visit the local markets and when your journey is concluded if you are not hungry the only remedy is to seek a physician. Anyone who can walk through the markets and not have his mouth water to taste some of the dainties must certainly be sadly in need of an M. D.

The markets in Quincy today are teeming with good things to eat luscious looking strawberries, selling from 40 to 50 cents a box, two large bunches of asparagus which last week was selling for 40 and 50 cents a bunch but which today can be bought for 30 cents.

Then there are Southern string beans, hot house tomatoes and, if one is financially strong, there are green peas at only $3 a peck. Then there are rhubarb, dandelion greens, radishes and an abundance of other green vegetables.

In every store one will find great quantities of eggs, and it seems as if eggs were never more plentiful or reasonable than today, even if there is an unusual Easter demand for them. Western, or cold storage eggs can be had for 23 cents, but if one wants strictly fresh eggs laid by Quincy biddies they can be had in any quantity for 30 cents a dozen.

It is said that lobsters have not been as cheap for years as at the present time yet they still are higher than most people can afford.

Meat prices show practically no change. The only thing noted is that hams of the Easter variety are a little easier for they are selling this week at 17 cents, a drop of from two or three cents from a week ago. The prices of sea food also remains about the same and there is fish of great variety to be bought.

The price of flour remains the same as a week ago when it dropped ten cents a bag. Speaking of flour much has been heard during the past few months about substitutes for flour. Necessity is the mother of invention and in this respect there comes a story from Germany, where it is reported that straw is being used by human beings in the form of bread. It is said to have the flavor of rye bread and to be most nutritious, but most people in America will be perfectly willing to let the Germans have the straw of which to make their bread.

Canned goods are unusually cheap at the present time for the European war seems to have paralyzed the canning industry. There is good reason to doubt whether a shipment of canned goods started on its way across the big pond will ever reach its destination.

The United Fruit Co., which yearly ship quantites of bananas from Southern ports are reported to have said that bananas unless uncommonly ripe, should be cooked. Excellent when ripened on the vines they are very indigestible if eaten unripe, unless the fruit has been baked or fried. Then they rank in the same class as yams, potatoes and cereals.

To bake bananas, select good sized ripe ones, peel and split them lengthwse and place in a shallow baking dish. Sprinkle with sugar, lemon juice and butter, add two tablespoonfuls of water and bake till the fruit is brown on top, basting often. Serve in the baking dish.

They may also be broiled and baked in the skin. It is the fuzz between the fruit proper and the skin that is injurious.

TOTAL OF 208 FIRES IN MARCH

The month of March was a record breaker in the number of fire alarms and the members of the permanent force have certainly earned their salary.

The total number of calls to which the department responded was 208, bell and still alarms. This means an average of six and two thirds every day in the month. Of course a larger part of these fires have been grass, brush and woods fires but some of them have given the firemen quite a task to extinguish.

Of the total number of alarms 30 were bell and 178 still or telephone. The largest fire of the month was that in the Dr. Welch block, although there was a bad fire on North street when a house was gutted and the occupants had a narrow escape from suffocation.

During the month of January there were 11 bell and 11 telephone alarms in February, 9 bell and 9 telephone alarms.

LAST UNION SERVICE.

The last of the series of union Easter Holy Week services of the Wollaston Congregational, Baptist and Methodist churches was held Thursday evening at the Congregational church. The meeting was in charge of Rev. George M. Bailey of the Baptist church who gave a talk on Easter. A social service followed the talk. This evening each of the churches will hold Good Friday services, which will be conducted by the pastors of the respective churches.

EASTER OPENING
OF THE
NORFOLK CLOTHING COMPANY
A Full Line of Ladies', Men's, Youth's and Boys' Suits. Also a Large Stock of Men's Furnishings
CASH OR CREDIT. Open Evenings.
1479 Hancock Street
31-3t

"MIND YOUR OWN BUSINESS" SAYS OLD COIN

Mr. Thomas Makes Valuable Find in Hersey House

Several antiques have been found in the old Hersey house on Hancock street, which is being razed to make room for the new block to be erected by Henry M. Faxon.

The most valuable is a copper coin dated 1787, found by William Thomas Thursday. The coin on the obverse side has a sun dial, a sun with the rays extending on all sides and an inscription "Fugio, 1787." On the reverse there is another inscription—"Mind your own business," set in a circle a quarter of an inch in diameter and surrounded by 13 interlocked circles of the same size. The size is that of a half a dollar.

The coin gives no indication of whether it was a state or government issue and Mr. Thomas will have it examined by experts. It will then be added to the fine collection, started when he uncovered a box of coins while razing the historic Malakoff house on Water street some years ago.

A pair of gold cuff links, of odd design, and in fine condition have been found by Harry Loud, under whose direction the buildings are being razed and the land excavated. The gold is somewhat dulled but is apparently solid. The links bear the emblem of the Masons. Mr. Loud also found a copper cent dated 1823.

HEAR LECTURE ON IRELAND

Its a long way to Tipperary, but a Wollaston audience was taken there at a lecture on "Ireland" delivered Wednesday evening by William J. Colby at the Park and Downs church. Several views within the confines of this now famous spot were shown among the scores of pictures cast on the screen. All the natural beauty of the Emerald Isle was brought out in the pictures and many places of interest were shown. Dublin, Cork and many other Irish cities and towns came in for their share of attention.

Between the two parts of the lecture "Come Back to Erin" was effectively sung by Frank Dunham.

WHITON TO SPEAK.

Joseph L. Whiton, president of the City Council, will address the Makaria Fraternity Sunday on the regular noon day meeting of the class in the fraternity rooms in Bethany church. Members and friends are invited.

DELEGATE OF POSTMEN.

John J. Cunniff, a carrier of the Quincy Post Office, leaves Sunday for New York, to attend the banquet tendered to Congressman Reilly of Connecticut, the father of the eight hour postal bill. Mr. Cunniff will represent the Quincy organization.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

SPRING CLEANING

Right now is the time to start the most important of all Spring Cleaning. You put your home in good condition, because it needs it. How much more essential that the body be put in good condition. We have just what you need and what will do the work.

HEARN'S RECONSTRUCTIVE TONIC
75c per Bottle
CHAS. C. HEARN, City Square Druggist
1-3t.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The Saturday morning meeting for the boys held at nine o'clock should be well attended this week as stereopticon pictures and illustrated songs will be shown. H. W. Gibson with his talk "Some Boys I Have Met" was much enjoyed at the meeting last week and the large number who were out will not soon forget Mr. Gibson or his talk.

Only a few days remain before the long talked of Y. M. C. A. play, "A Family Affair," will be presented at Music hall, Wednesday evening, April 7th, is the date and with Erastus Osgood and William Walker in a sketch and the Wollaston Cadet Band Orchestra playing during the evening the house is sure to be crowded.

The Annual Gym Exhibition which is to be given April 23d is making the members of the Junior and Cadet classes work hard these days in getting ready for it. Much interest is being taken in this by the boys as they are anxious to make this year the best ever.

State Boys Day which was observed by the Boys' Divisions of most of the associations throughout Massachusetts and Rhode Island on March 13th will be observed by the Quincy Association Boys Division on April 24th. The local association was unable to observe the day when the other Associations did but feel there are many in the city who would like to assist in the expense of work among boys in the local association as well as having a part to helping in the state national and foreign work.

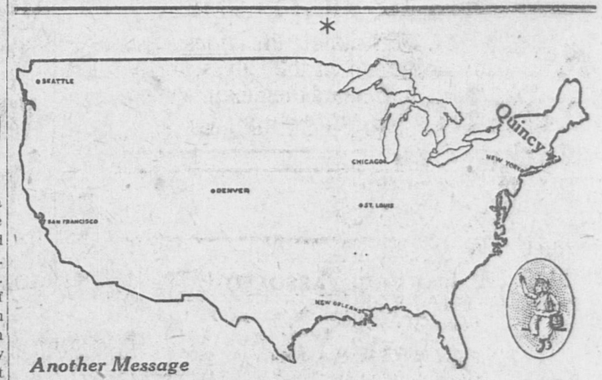

A call has gone out to the fellows who are interested in a Y. M. C. A. base ball team this year and with the valuable material which there is to pick from a good team should be organized in the near future.

The Bible Study Classes in the Boys Division will meet as usual this afternoon and Sunday and with the examination but a short ways off it is expected a full attendance will be had.

Many of the boys took advantage of the holiday today and went to see the Passion Play shown at the Tremont Temple, in Boston.

HOSPITAL GRADUATE.

Miss Rachael A. Munroe of Quincy, was one of the class of 34 young women graduates of the Massachusetts Homoeopathic Hospital to receive the hospital pin and diploma at the graduation exercises Wednesday evening.

Another Message To the Business Men of Quincy

Business fights shy of dead towns. A sure sign of a dead one is the lack of local pride. People who live in a live, prosperous town show it. Their stores are attractive, their streets clean, their homes are well painted.

Nothing shows a lack of pride, a lack of prosperity, like paint-hungry buildings. Let's paint up. As the most durable and economical paint, we recommend

Beyer-Bauman White Lead
(Dutch Boy Painter Trade Mark)

and pure linseed oil, mixed right on the job, to suit the job. Have your painter tint it any color you wish.

We carry all other paint necessaries also. Consult us on that job of painting you have in mind. Today's the day.

WILLIAM WESTLAND

The Sunnyside Dairy.

Pure Milk and Cream delivered at your door in clean, shiny bottles. Recommended by the leading physicians of Quincy, Braintree and Weymouth. We solicit your trade. Order by telephone Wey. 103 W or write F. T. JONES, P. O. Box 14, Weymouth.

Cattle and Barn inspected by Dr. Abele of Quincy.

March 5-eod-1m

News of Interest to Granite Manufacturers and Workers

Business during the past week has put on the usual spring appearance and the sheds are assuming their usual rush appearance for the month of April. During the past week several stock jobs have been sold to retailers who make a specialty of calling on the various yards early in the spring and buying up what work they have cut during the winter months. Several large memorials have been shipped from the city this past week. Several men who have been unemployed during winter months have been placed during the past week. It is expected that this month will be a banner April for the amount of work shipped during the first two days shows a decided increase over previous months.

NEW DERRICKS.

Several new derricks are to be erected in this city in the course of the next few weeks. The H. Gerrior Company have erected their new derrick at their new plant on the corner of Garfield and Quarry Street. Work will probably be started in the near future to raise the new 110 ft. derrick at the Granite Railway Company quarry. The derrick has been rigged for the past month waiting for the good weather but business at the quarry is so rushed at the present time the work of raising the derrick will be delayed until the busy season lets up a little. J. S. Swingle, "The Extra Dark Man" in a recent pamphlet issued to the trade stated that he plans to erect a new sixty ton derrick at his quarry to take care of his ever increasing business.

NEW AGENT BEGINS DUTIES.

Nicholas Williams, the new business agent of the Granite Cutters' Union, took up his duties Thursday. Mr. Williams is well known among the cutters having served as president of the union. Mr. Williams is a long time resident of West Quincy and has been employed the past few years by the Lavers Granite Company. He has the best wishes of his many friends in his new field of labor.

LARGE PILES OF PAVING.

The paving cutters who have large piles of paving around the quarry are anxiously waiting the work of constructing new roads to start. Now that the frost has left the ground the work will probably be started immediately. Several streets will be paved in Quincy among them being a part of Hancock street. During the past winter granite cutters out of employment have cut paving and as a result there are thousands of paving now in the city.

Many fine memorials are erected in the show yard of the Aberdeen Granite Company on Arthur street. The various kinds of granite make a very pretty contrast. The yard is in charge of Joseph Walker who is one of the pioneer manufacturers of the city. He is ably assisted by his son James.

Several men have been put to work lately at the yard of H. C. Smalley & Company. The yard is located on Penn street and has spur track facilities for shipping their work.

FORGET AGREEMENT.

The granite men of the Plains who were so anxious to have Roberts street accepted by the city a few years ago seem to have forgotten what they promised to do as their share in the work. It is to be hoped that after the busy season is over they will start a clean up week and get this street filled so that it can be opened before the winter sets in.

Several soldiers monuments and mausoleums are being figured on by the manufacturers of this city and it is likely the next few weeks will show that some of the local men have received some contracts.

The manufacturers throughout the city have repaired their air tanks and some have had to install new ones as a result of a recent visit of the state inspector to the various yards. Christie & Co. are waiting the arrival of a new tank before they can start using their recently installed motor and compressor.

MRS. E. V. ARNOLD.

Funeral Services Held At Home of Sister.

The funeral of Elizabeth Veazie Arnold, sister of Danford Arnold took place this afternoon from his home on Arnold street. Services were conducted by Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson of the First Parish church and burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

COAL DROPS ABOUT 75 CENTS A TON

In Accordance With Usual Spring Custom Prices Are Decidedly Lower

LOW PRICES UNTIL JULY 1

Now is the time to fill the coal bins with next winter's supply, for in accordance with the usual custom all grades of coal took a decided drop Thursday, to what is known as the spring prices, which will prevail until about July. 1.

According to the prices given out by the local dealers this morning the drop is practically 75 cents a ton. The present prices of the various kinds of coal are given below in comparison with the prices that have been prevailing for the past few months. It should be kept in mind, however, that the prices quoted are cash prices.

Kind	Now	Was
White ash stove	$7.25	$8.00
White ash nut	7.50	8.25
White ash egg	7.25	7.75
White ash broken	6.50	7.25
Pea coal	5.50	6.00
Franklin stove	8.50	9.25
Red ash stove	7.75	8.50
Red ash nut	7.75	8.50
Shamokin stove	7.50	8.25

DISPOSES OF SEVEN OAKS CASE

Judge Avery disposed of the Seven Oaks Motor Inn case this morning by imposing a fine of $50 on Alfred W. Mitchell, charged with maintaining a liquor nuisance and ordering the vacating of the premises by the defendant. Mitchell was placed on probation.

The hearing was enlivened by the testimony of three girls who gave their names as Miss Reed, Miss Morse and Miss Hanson, who testified that liquor found in the premises during a recent raid was their property. Miss Reed, apparently 17 years of age, said she brought the wine she claimed from Boston, and the others said they received theirs by express.

Counsel for the defendant in closing argued that Mitchell was an employee and the "goat" and should not be held responsible for what went on at the inn. Judge Avery held that Mitchell was in charge and therefore responsible for whatever liquor might be delivered there.

Braintree and Quincy officers who make up the raiding party testified. Mitchell was placed on probation until Sept. 30, the sentence being suspended until that time.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—baked by experts in a light, well-ventilated building. All grocers.

REFUSES LOWER RATES

Electric Light Co. Will Maintain Present Prices.

As a result of the conference Thursday night between the Board of Trade committee on Gas and Electric Lights with the Quincy Electric Light & Power Co. the Gas and Electric Light Commissioners may be appealed to for a reduction in rates in Quincy. The Electric Light Co. told the committee that it felt it was doing all it could for the community in the way of equitable rates for electricity.

Those present at the conference were Chairman LaBrecque of the Board of Trade committee, Mayor Campbell, President Fegan of the Board of Trade and Mr. Gallagher of the committee while President Henry M. Faxon, Messrs Cashman, Morrison and Fenno of the Board of Directors represented the Electric Light Co.

Mr. Faxon then said that the policy of the company was not to reduce the rates until the service had been developed to its highest efficiency, and all waste of power had been eliminated and that better service and a higher rate of efficiency would offset a decrease in price.

The committee will report to the Board.

You'll Have to Hand It to Us

THE "NO NAME" HAT

We've got the best hats made. You want the latest for Easter, and you are sure to get only what is correct here. No old hats to work off. This is Quincy's best Hat Store. We've got all shades and all styles at prices within reach of everybody's pocketbook

THE "NO NAME" HAT

$3.00 $2.50 $2.00 $1.50

Large Assortment and Great Values in

Men's Neckwear for Easter

Good Things This Week

If it hadn't been for our recent calamity these prices wouldn't go. We've positively got the handsomest line of neckwear you ever want to see. New Goods, Low Prices

75c Value. Now 48c 35c Value. Now 21c
50c Value. Now 35c 25c Value. Now 15c

New Fibre Silk Hose, Strong and Durable 25c

REMICK'S, The Wide-Awake Store, Music Hall Block

Something New for Easter Time

COME AND SEE OUR MILLINERY DISPLAY

We are showing a line of Easter Hats that would do justice to a Fifth Avenue Store. This is the time when a woman wants to look her prettiest. This is the time when we're at our best, too. When every style that the best fashion centers is included in our store. Simply scores of them all ready for your choosing. Simple designs or effectively trimmed with the latest novelties. Hats here for the High School Girl, for the child who wants to look neat Sunday and for the woman who wants distinction as well as individuality. Prices are extremely moderate, too.

98c $2.98 $4.98

OSTRICH PLUMES

Without doubt the finest array of Ostrich Plumes in the City. You'll have to see to appreciate their exquisite beauty.

Price $1.69 worth $5

BIG SHOWING OF Skirts

We would like you to come and see these beautiful Skirts. Not until then will you appreciate the modernness and distinctiveness. Every Skirt has an individual note of originality. For you who want something different and distinctive we heartily recommend these skirts. Come to this store before Easter and then you will see why we are proud of our neat showing. You can't afford to miss this showing. Our prices are much lower than Metropolitan prices and our assortment is just as large.

$1.98 $2.98

Far Bigger Assortments Here and Better Values

Get Your Easter Suit Here

A large stock of beautiful Suits here. Every one new and up-to-the minute in style. Each model splendidly tailored, made of good quality material, including Serge, Poplin, Gabardine, Black and White Shepherd plaids. All the leading shades and colors, such as Belgium blue, navy, green, putty. Remember we carry in stock all sizes to suit any figure. We believe we have a line that can't help but satisfy you. We have better values than elsewhere in this city and in Metropolitan centers. Prices

$9.98 $14.98 $17.98

Alterations Free

J. SZATHMARY 1447 Hancock St.

J. SZATHMARY Tailors and Milliners

GREETINGS

A Joyous Easter to you is the sincere and earnest wish of the proprietors of

The HIGH QUALITY MARKET COUGHLIN & DONOVAN

HAMS FOR EASTER
SWIFTS PREMIUM
18 to 20 lb Average HAMS 18c lb
10 to 12 lb Average 18c lb
CENTER SLICES 25-28c lb
DOLD SUGAR CURED SKIN BACKS
10 to 12 lbs 17c 18 to 20 lbs 15c

EGGS
Strictly Fresh 25-28c doz
Plymouth Rock 30c doz
Quincy Eggs 35c doz
Not over two days old

VEGETABLES
SPINACH LETTUCE CUCUMBERS CELERY
ASPARAGUS 25c bunch
HUBBARD SQUASH 12½c lb
POTATOES $1.20 bag Guaranteed

GROCERY DEPARTMENT
Blue Label Ketchup reg 25c val 17c
HEINZ Ketchup, Spaghetti, Baked Beans or Kidney Beans 15c
Heinz stands for quality

VEAL FOR EASTER
CHOICE MILK FED
LEGS 22c lb
CHOPS 25-33c lb
FORES 16c lb CUTLETS
NATIVE CHICKEN 28c lb
FRESH KILLED FOWL .25 lb
ROAST BEEF ROAST PORK
SWIFTS SPRING LAMB
GENUINE
AT ATTRACTIVE PRICES. QUALITY THE HIGHEST. PRICES THE LOWEST FOR BEST QUALITY.

FRUITS
Cal Navel Oranges, Sunkist 29c
Floridas .22 & .25
Very large and sweet as honey
Sunkist Lemons reg 20c value 17c doz
LARGE GRAPE FRUIT 4 for 25c
MEDIUM GRAPE FRUIT 5 for 25c

SHREDDED WHEAT 10c pkg
CREAM OF WHEAT 12½c pkg
GRAPE NUTS 12 1-2c pkg
ROSE MILK 10c can
GOLD CROSS EVAPORATED MILK, 3 FOR 25c

Coughlin & Donovan
1475 Hancock St.
Tel. 656 W. Free Deliver

Flowers for Easter

Come and See Our Easter Display of Plants.

Lilies, Azaleas, Rose Bushes, Spirea Genistas Hydrangeas, Cyclamen, Primroses, Violets and Potted Bulbs of all kinds

Cut flowers at reasonable prices

City Flower Store
QUINCY SQUARE

Quincy E. E. GRAY CO. Wollaston
Two Stores
Tel. 327 M Quincy Reliable Groceries Tel. 1586 M-Quincy

Finest Creamery Butter ..... lb. 30c
Pure Lard (Silver Leaf) ..... 2 lbs. for 25c
Fine Old Sharp Cheese ..... lb. 22c
Finest Mocha & Java Coffee ..... lb. 30c
Eggs for Easter Strictly Fresh ..... doz. 23c
Squires Best Smoked Shoulder ..... lb 12 1-2c

Exclusive Agency
Dorothy Dodd

SMART SHOES FOR WOMEN

Famous for Style and Comfort

The best fitting, best wearing, most popular shoes today

You are cordially invited to call and inspect the new Spring Models.

JONES Just around the Corner 1 Granite St., Quincy

WANT NO ALL STAR TEAMS

The Atlantic Coast Bowling association has reserved the right to refuse the entry of any team and expects to use this privilege in preventing especially constructed all-star teams from competing in the tournament Apr. 29 to May 15.

This rule is probably aimed directly at Paul Poehler, who it is understood has been organizing an all-star combination which would include Harry Cole, "Red" Millar, Archie Walsh and himself, one of the strongest quintettes available in small ball rolling on the Eastern seaboard.

The association is determined that no five-man team shall be entered which would generally be considered as having an odds-on chance of landing first prize. The association believes all-star combinations are a bad feature because they scare away other combinations.

This rolling will probably result in the five men rolling with the teams they have been members of the past winter. Poehler has recently withdrawn from the Chauncy team of the Boston City League but will undoubtedly rejoin them.

The announcement may tend to increase the number of entries, and the association hopes to have a record number of competitors. There is no objection to any all-star combination for special matches, but such teams must arrange for special matches themselves. It must be understood that while the association reserves the right to refuse the entry of certain combinations which might be formed, this does not imply that entries will be rejected of most of the present team combinations which are considered strong.

CONDRICK AND CURTIN WIN

Condrick and Curtin beat Larson and Markham in a special tandem at the Wardwell alleys Thursday night by a substantial score. Curtin with 115 was high. The score:

H. Condrick	97	84	87	97	81
	80	78	92	81	94	—871
D. Curtin	98	92	101	96	91
	98	115	104	86	69	—950
Larson	80	97	90	88	101
	94	90	94	102	90	—926
Markham	93	74	83	105	82
	77	88	73	83	83	—841

DAVIS CLASS ARE VICTORS

The Davis class quintette rolled a special match with the Cunningham gym contingent at the Wardwell alleys and beat them in pinfall and each team single. Bergfors was high man of the evening, his 289 being one better than Niel, who also got high single, 104. The summary:

CUNNINGHAM GYM.

Clarke	80	76	89	245
Jardine	73	92	101	266
Carder	83	78	93	254
Bishop	71	93	82	246
Smith	85	84	94	263
	393	423	459	1275

DAVIS LASS

Hobart	85	88	89	262
Niel	94	90	104	288
Harling	79	70	75	224
Duff	96	94	97	287
Bergfors	94	100	95	289
	448	442	460	1350

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

Arthur B. Foster
CARPENTER and BUILDER
14 Bay View St., Quincy Point
Telephone Connection
31-1m

Quincy Piano-forte School
Hackelton Bracket
Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
31-tf

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

AMUSEMENTS

BOSTON THEATRE.

The long absence of grand opera from Boston amusements has created a keen interest in the coming short season of grand opera in English to be given at the Boston Theatre beginning Monday night, under the direction of Milton and Sargent Aborn. This interest is not confined to Boston, for beside the large advance sale of seats at the box office, many mail orders have been received from cities throughout New England.

Messrs. Aborn were managers of the Century Opera Company, which has achieved the highest repute of any popular grand opera company ever organized in America, and since the closing of that institution they have been able to secure its most prominent members for their Boston season. The casts of the first week will include Estelle Wentworth and Vivian Kingston, sopranos, Mildred Rogers and Marie Louise Biggers, contraltos Morgan Kingston, Leonid Samoloff and Henry Taylor, tenors, John Graham and Thomas Chalmers, baritones, George Shields and Alfred Kaufman, bassos, Beatrice Morton, soprano, Philip Fein, buffo, Frederick Chapman, baritone, Josef Pasternack, conductor, and others.

Estelle Wentworth Aborn English Grand Opera Company Boston Theatre

Verdi's "Aida" will be given for four performances during the first half of the opening week, including Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights and the Wednesday matinee. For the latter half of the first week the same number of performances of Puccini's "Madam Butterfly" have been scheduled, including Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights with a matinee on Saturday.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE.

One of the most welcome attractions that could possibly be seen at the Hollis Street Theatre has been booked there for Easter Monday, April 5, and from all over New England lovers of sparkling musical comedy will flock to Boston to see "The Little Cafe" which is so well remembered for the distinct triumph which it created a year ago. Boston was the second city in this country to have an opportunity to see this production, for it came here directly from its long run in New York City and the success which it created is well remembered hereabouts. For weeks it tested the capacity of the theatre and the engagement had to be cut short at the height of its popularity on account of the bookings which had been made in other places. It was the universal verdict that the book was by all odds the brightest ever prepared for the American stage by C. M. S. McClellan, and the melodies by Ivan Caryll were so tuneful that they were sung and whistled everywhere. In fact, "The Little Cafe" went far ahead of "The Pink Lady" and "Oh, Oh, Delphine!" the earlier works by the same authors and established itself in a field distinctively its own. It gave a spectacular bit of the life in the gayest part of Paris and the picture of a waiter in a cafe who could appear as a millionaire after his own shop that closed from so whimsical that it kept everybody in roars of merriment. Since its departure from the local stage "The Little Cafe" duplicated its Boston triumph everywhere. Now it will return again and will be represented under ideal circumstances. The cast includes all those who were the original favorites and the newcomers have been chosen to strengthen the ensemble.

THE SMILING SIX IN THE LITTLE CAFE AT THE HOLLIS ST. THEATRE.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

Monday all records for runs were broken by the Craig Players in the history of the Castle Square Theatre when "Common Clay," the Harvard prize play by Cleves Kinkead, which began its remarkable run on Jan. 8, commenced its twelfth week. Never before, moreover, has a stock company in this country every played a piece twice a day for so long a time. So there is a second record to the credit of John Craig and Mary Young. From the night of its opening an extraordinary interest in "Common Clay" has been evinced. About 223,000 people from Boston, Massachusetts, and other states in New England have visited the Castle Square Theatre, most of them upon the recommendation of their friends.

Old patrons of the theatre will be glad to learn that John Craig does not intend to give up the Castle Square just because he has a new theatre. He will use the new Craig Theatre for the Harvard prize plays and for special attractions and keep his stock running on at the old place.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE.

Gertrude Hoffmann, the most versatile artiste on the American stage, comes to B. F. Keith's Theatre the week of April 5th for a positively limited engagement of one week only in her new, 1915 edition of Gertrude Hoffmann's New Revue Miss Hoffmann is surrounded by a great company of fifty singers, dancers, pantomimists, comedians, acrobats, and the famous Hoffmann Bouquet of Beauties, as well as her great troupe of Arab acrobats The New 1915 edition of the Revue is in twelve scenes, with many new features, as well as "Zobedie's Dream," "The Blue Danube," and "Pierrot at the Moulin Rouge." Miss Hoffmann will present her great galaxy of imitations and caricatures of theatrical celebrities, including Anna Held, Ethel Barrymore, George M. Cohan, Isadora Duncan, Harry Lauder, and other equally famous artists. Miss Hoffmann and her New Revue are the greatest attraction in vaudeville today The Revue runs over an hour, and is a veritable vaudeville show, musical comedy pantomime, spectacle and dance carnival all rolled into one Surrounding Miss Hoffmann will be a great vaudeville bill

MAJESTIC THEATRE

Maeterlinck's wonderful fairy play, "The Blue Bird," comes to the Majestic Theatre next Monday, April 5th, for a special farewell engagement of two weeks, after a third triumphal tour of the entire country. The prices will be 25 cents to $1.50, instead of the usual $2 scale, and there will be matinees on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday.

This gorgeously beautiful spectacle of fairyland, which ran for 268 days at the New Theatre, and which has never had a No. 2 company, is a wonderful drama, which portrays a quest of happiness, the heart's desire. The curtain rises on a small brother and sister, Tyltyl and Mytyl, who are asleep in their beds in a wood-cutters cabin. They are awakened by the fairy Berylune, who bids them start on the quest of the Blue Bird, the symbol of happiness. She intrusts Tyltyl with a marvelous green cap with a magic diamond, the mere turning of which allows them to see the hitherto unseen.

The adventures of these children through beautiful lands and regions of despair are made the basis of a series of gorgeous spectacles which cost the directors of the New Theatre, New York, $150,000. Lovely music from the works of Debussy, Massenet and Bizet enhances the charm, and there are many group dances by large numbers of young girls.

"The Blue-Bird" is the child's delight, the grown-ups' intellectual pleasure. Its fairy music, its wit and philosophy, its simplicity and charm have reached the hearts of all. It is a mirror of the world and of the stage drama, spectacle, allegory, music, dances, fun and illusion all in one.

SHUBERT THEATRE.

"Tonight's the Night," presented by the London Gaiety Company the most famous musical comedy organization in the world, and fresh from an unusually successful run at the Shubert Theatre, New York, comes to the Shubert Theatre in this city next Monday night for a limited engagement. Boston will be the only city except New York to see this organization this season.

Local theatre-goers have never before had an opportunity of seeing the London Gaiety Company in a typical London Gaiety musical comedy without going to the world metropolis for that purpose. Only the depressed theatrical conditions prevailing in London rendered possible the presentation of this piece in this country by this world famous company of entertainers.

The daintiness, delicate charm and essential politeness which always characterize Gaiety productions and which has never been successfully reproduced in American presentations of Gaiety pieces, it is promised, will be in evidence in this production.

WILBUR THEATRE.

Easter Monday will usher in the fifteenth week of "A Pair of Sixes" at the Wilbur Theatre, and it is quite probable that this remarkable success will not be permitted to leave Boston until every man, woman and child in the Hub City has enjoyed it. While many theatrical attractions throughout the country are complaining of poor attendance, "A Pair of Sixes" is breaking all records in Boston. There has never been a farce presented in New England that contained as much wholesome laughter, as many witty situations or as much joyous merriment as are to be found in "A Pair of Sixes." For nearly four months this play has been the one bright spot among Boston theatrical attractions, drawing crowded houses to each of its performances.

So much has already been said and written regarding the many qualities of this jolly farce that nothing new can be added. Ask any person in Boston about this play, and the answer is sure to be "the best I ever saw."

"Lamson & Hubbard" Hats
Men of discrimination go to the store that sells them. They go there for style—they go there for value—they go there for satisfaction
Look for the store that displays the Lamson & Hubbard Sign.
JONES JUST AROUND THE CORNER 1 GRANITE ST., QUINCY

BE WISE
FOOL THE FLIES
HAVE YOUR SCREENS
RE-COVERED NOW
TELEPHONE OR WRITE
HOLMES & HALL
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

BOY ARRESTED IN H. S. CLASS

"Bunch" Arthur Faces Kidnapping Charge

"Bunch" Arthur, the high school boy who was in the police court the other day charged with a technical violation of the fire hazard regulations was arrested in class room in the High school Thursday afternoon on the more serious charge of kidnapping one of the girls of the freshman class.

The arrest was made by Sheriff Edward Gibson and created great excitement among the other members of the class.

The young man was immediately arraigned before the High school police court and was held in $5,000 cash bail for the Superior court. The defendant drew the money out of his pocket and deposited cash bail without a quiver.

"Bunch" was the first victim of the newly organized Law club. The club was brought into being by the desire of the members of H. W. French's commercial law class which was concluded. The regular course, to gain some acquaintance with criminal proceedings.

The class will meet outside of regular school hours and hold mock trials, lectures, etc.

The first trial will be held Monday afternoon, "Bunch" being the defendant. Judge Carlson of the High school superior court will preside. Sheriff Gibson will serve as court officer. Miss Rosalie Du Temple will be court stenographer, Miss Jennie Kerner will act as district attorney. The defendant will be represented by Joseph Kelly and Effie Waddell.

HOT ASHES CAUSE FIRE

Hot ashes placed in a barrel on the top floor of entrance A of the Adams building started a small fire this morning which did little damage. The barrel was in the apartments occupied by Robert Souden. The fire had been extinguished before the department, which had been summoned on a still alarm, reached the scene. The fire came down through the floor into the appartment of Mrs. Lennon and the plastering was damaged somewhat.

AT THE THEATRE

The final episode of "The Exploits of Elaine" was shown at Kincaide's Thursday. The plot is solved: The Clutching Hand is revealed. Kennedy catches him in his office, the slippery crook escapes him by way of sliding doors ,then Kennedy follows him to a new hiding place and the final reckoning takes place, but the Clutching Hand is not dead as Kennedy thinks he is, and some more of these interesting adventures are to follow later.

"Its No Laughing Matter" a four reel Paramount Photo Play is part comedy and part serious. A benevolent old man takes more time to write poems than he devotes to his postoffice duties, his wife and his store, but he is a general favorite with all the country people, helping the sick, cheering the blue and being generally useful. Graft finally takes him from the postoffice and the miser who gets the postoffice job forecloses a mortgage on his predecessor, whose daughter comes to his rescue by selling his "worthless" poems, and all turns out right for the old man.

Alex Bisson, a contortionist is the first act of the vaudeville and he was well received. Walter Hale with four young ladies are accomplished musicians with the banjos and a harp. Williams & Woodbury in a mixed up sketch, which finally comes out ahead received a good hand Thursday. Retti Murri sings several songs.

Brice Andrews is recovering from a slight attack of the measles at his home on Euclid avenue.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

NOTICE

The Board of Park Commissioners will hold a meeting in the Council Chamber, City Hall, Wednesday, April 7th, at 7.30 P. M. to issue permits for the several Playgrounds. Managers of athletic organizations desiring permits are requested to attend.
IRA M. WHITTEMORE, Secretary
March 30-6t

TIRES
Of Every Description

BUY A KELLY SPRINGFIELD TIRE
You will have the Best tire made.
BUY A LEE PUNCTURE-PROOF TIRE
You can ride without fear of punctures or blow-outs
BUY AD!AMOND SQUEEGEE TREAD TIRE and you get something more in service, than what you pay for.
BUY THEM HERE
You get Service, Saving and Satisfaction, all the time.
We also carry Goodrich, Goodyear, Fisk, Firestone and other makes of automobile tires.
WE are one of the largest Automobile Accessory dealers in Norfolk county.
Bring your Tires and Tubes Here, and have them Vulcanized right.
F. W. BENT
1056-1058 HANCOCK ST., QUINCY Tel. 501-M

Protection in Fencing
If you need fencing, wire stretchers or fencing pliers you will find a large variety in our assortment. Now is the time toput your fencing in order, and this is the place to go for assistance.
Whether you are making poultry a business or not, you will probably need an abundance of netting. Right here, we wish to state that we carry the very best grade and in various widths, which we can furnish at extremely low prices.
Come in and look Our Stock over.
L. Grossman & Sons 37 FEDERAL AVE.
Near Quincy Adams Depot Tel. 979-R

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed, given by Walter Webb of Boston, in the County of Suffolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts to Jennie E. Hubbell of said Boston, dated April 8th, 1909, recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 1107 page 83, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described on Saturday, April 24th, 1915, at two-thirty o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described substantially as follows:—"A certain parcel of land together with the buildings thereon, situated on Sagamore Street in Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, in the part of said Quincy called Atlantic, and being shown as lot No. 3 on a 'plan of lots at Atlantic, City of Quincy, Mass., Dec. 24, 1908 by Frederick E. Tupper, Civil Engineer,' and bounded and described as follows:—Northerly by land now or formerly of M. M. Milis, thirty-eight and fifty-four one-hundredths (38 54-100) feet; Easterly by lot No. 2 on said plan about one hundred fifty-one (151) feet; Southerly by said Sagamore Street, thirty-eight and five tenths (38 5-10) feet; and Westerly by lot No 4 on said plan about one hundred fifty-three and five tenths (153 5-10) feet; containing about 5840 square feet of land and being a portion of the premises conveyed to said Walter Webb by Henry B. Blackwell by deed dated Sept. 1, 1908 and recorded with Norfolk Registry of Deeds, Book 1089, Page 271."

Said premises will be sold subject to any and all unpaid taxes, tax-titles, assessment, betterments, or other municipal liens if any there are.

Five hundred dollars will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale, other terms will be made known at the time and place of sale.

Moses Shapiro, Assignee and present holder of said mortgage.
Boston, Mass., April 1, 1915. G. A. Holzman, 27 State Street, Boston, Attorney for Moses Shapiro.
3t April 2-9-16

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

Prescott Apartments

For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service. Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING
WALL PAPER FOR SALE
KUSTAA RASANEN
121 Copsland St., West Quincy
Tel. Con. 19-tf

NO. 5324.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

LAND COURT.

To Arthur P. Benson of Dedham, in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth; William Edwards of Quincy, in said County of Norfolk; and to all whom it may concern

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Charles E. Baker of Melrose, in the County of Middlesex, and said Commonwealth, to register and confirm his title in the following described land

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situate in said Quincy, being lot 13 on a plan made by H. F. Whitman, dated July 1894, recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Libro 740, Folio 399, bounded and described as follows:—

Beginning at the northerly corner of the land hereinafter described at a point on the southwesterly side of a private way thirty (30) feet wide, shown on said plan, said bound being distant two hundred sixteen and 4-10 (216.4) feet southeasterly from the southeasterly line of another private way thirty (30) feet wide, which extends to Bicknell Street; thence running in a southwesterly direction along the line of lot numbered twelve (12) on said plan forty-five (45) feet to lot numbered fourteen (14) on said plan: thence turning and running in a southeasterly direction along the line of lot numbered fourteen (14) on said plan, seventy-nine and 32-100 (79.32) feet; thence turning and running in a northeasterly direction forty-five and 21-100 (45.21) feet to the southwesterly line of said first mentioned private way; thence turning and running along said southwesterly line of said first mentioned private way northwesterly seventy-five (75) feet to lot numbered twelve (12) on said plan, being the point of beginning. Containing 3472 square feet of land.

Petitioner claims as appurtenant to the above described land rights or easements as follows:——Right of free passage on foot, with vehicles and otherwise, over and along a thirty (30) foot private way, shown on said plan and first mentioned in the above description to the second mentioned private way referred to in said description, which extends to Bicknell street; also such other rights of way, if any, as it may appear from an investigation that said petitioner is entitled to

The above described land is shown on a plan filed in Land Court case No. 1740, numbered 1740, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

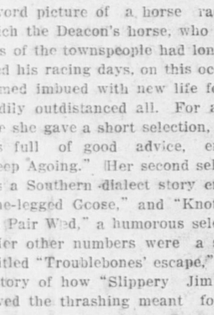

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the twentieth day of April A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-fifth day of March in the year nineteen hundred and fifteen.

Attest with Seal of said Court.
CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.
(Seal.)
3t Mar. 26 April 2-9

EDWARD J. FEGAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK
QUINCY.

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

CONSULT ME

I can tell you your Past, Present and Future, advise you in your Business, tell you who are your friends, and help you recover lost articles. Private Readings Daily $1.00. Circle Readings Tuesday 3.00 and 8.00 P. M.. Developing Class Thursday 8.00 P. M.

Mrs. S. V. Odiorne
8 Mechanic St. off Revere Road
Tel. 1923 M or 327 M

RURAL LODGE HOLDS SOCIAL

To Wor. H. Everett Crane of Rural Masonic lodge is due the credit for a most enjoyable entertainment given in the Masonic apartments Thursday evening at the close of the regular business session. The business session was held at 6.30 at which time the Fellowcraft degree was exemplified. At 8 o'clock the lodge room was thrown open for the entertainment which was attended by nearly three hundred brethren, who not only included brothers of Rural lodge but a large number of visitors, including Wor. Carroll E. Bates of Wollaston lodge.

The program for the entertainment was furnished by the Beethoven male quartette with Grace Sandborn Cole, reader, and it was a most enjoyable evening's entertainment. Particularly enjoyable were the readings of Miss Cole who was down for several numbers. Her first selection was "The Deacon's New Year," the scene being laid in a small Vermont town. It was a word picture of a horse race in which the Deacon's horse, who in the eyes of the townspeople had long outlived his racing days, on this occasion seemed imbued with new life for he readily outdistanced all. For an encore she gave a short selection, which was full of good advice, entitled "Keep Agoing." Her second selection was a Southern dialect story entitled "One-legged Goose," and "Knot Tied and Pair Wed," a humorous selection.

Her other numbers were a sketch entitled "Troublebones' escape," being a story of how "Slippery Jim" received the thrashing meant for the hero. A humorous selection, "The Lady and the Tad in a Street Car." Her last selection was "A Dutchman's version of Barbara Freitchie" closing with an imitation of a dog barking five miles away, given only on April 1.

The Beethoven quartette is almost too well known to need any comment. Suffice to say that it sustained the well earned reputation. The quartette opened with "Gallant Comrades." Other selections included "Tom the Piper's Son" in which the tenor gave an imitation of a Scotch bagpipe, which convulsed the audience with laughter. "His Name was Alexander," "Old Black Mammy," "Who built the Ark," "Annie Laurie" and "A Perfect Day," closing with a Holy week hymn "The Long Day Closes."

At the conclusion of the entertainment, which was given in the lodge room, the brethren adjourned to the recreation room where there was chorus singing by the brothers for an hour, the home collection of familiar songs being used, with Elmer E. Rickker at the piano.

SKANDIA LODGE HOLDS MEETING

Skandia lodge, Vasa Orden, met in Protection hall Thursday evening. Two candidates were initiated to membership and two applications were received.

The committee in charge of the formation of a choral society reported considerable progress had been made and that rehearsals would commence within a short time.

SLIGHT FIRE.

The alarm from Box 175 at 10.02 this morning was for a slight fire in an out building on Quincy avenue, near the point where the Fore River railroad track crosses the street. The fire started from a grass fire in the vicinity. The damage was slight.

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.
will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.
OFFICE AT
96 WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY
Tel. 618

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

Loam for Sale
$1.75
per Two-Horse Load of 40 cubic ft.
APPLY
D. F. CROWLEY
Adams Street Tel. 720 Quincy

EXCELLENT HOME AND INVESTMENT
2 Family House, 13 Rooms, Large Attic, every modern improvement, Oak Floors, Combination Lighting Fixtures, connected with the sewer, about 8,500 square feet of land, plenty of room for garden. Built about 3 years ago. PRICE RIGHT, NAME OFFER.
TERMS CAN BE ARRANGED
W. T. DONOVAN
Room 4 Adams Bldg., Quincy

DECREASE CITY DEBT BY $68,000

City Auditor Submits Report For First 3 Months of Year

DEBT IS $2,042,535

The report of the city auditor for the first three months of the year show that the receipts for water, taxes, sewer assessments and sewer connections to have been as follows:

TAXES.
1915	$137,564.20
1914	132,370.20
1913	143,468.66
WATER
1915	$55,735.21
1914	46,815.04
1913	46,350.94
SEWER ASSESSMENTS
1915	$2,766.18
1914	4,423.77
1913	3,708.81
SEWER CONNECTIONS.
1915	$1,643.79
1914	2,747.65
1913	1,674.05

The debt statement on April 1, is given as follows.

1912 Net Valuation	$34,822,530
1913 Net Valuation	36,596,046
1914 Net Valuation	40,668,240
	$112,086,816
3 years average $37,362,272
2 1-2 per cent	$934,056.80
Debt January 1st	593,735.64
	$340,321.16
Bond matured April 1st	33,400.00
	$373,721.16
Bond issued to date	9,700.00
Borrowing margin April 1st	364,021.16

The total city debt Jan. 1, amounted to $2,110,535.64 of which $593,735.64 is municipal debt, $18,000 playground debt; $63,800 street improvement debt; $628,500 sewer debt; $686,500 water debt and $120,000 refunding debt.

Up to the present time this year municipal loans amounting to $9,700 have been issued and the debt paid amounted to $77,700, leaving the net debt $2,042,535.64, a decrease of $68,000.

OLD FRIENDS MEET IN EGYPT

Dr. "Honey" Curtis Entertains Quincy Boy

Jesse F. Curtis of Upland road, received an interesting letter Thursday from his son, Dr. Harold Curtis, who is located in Cairo, and who recently visited his parents here.

The letter stated that the doctor was in the corridor of a hotel in Alexandria, with no thoughts of seeing anyone from home, 5000 miles away, when a man in the uniform of a United States sailor passed. The sailor stopped, looked at him a minute and then cried "Why hello! 'Honey' Curtis."

The sailor proved to be George Forsyth, a Quincy boy who is now a ship's carpenter on the U. S. S. North Carolina, which is stationed at the present time off Alexandria.

What made the meeting even more pleasant was the fact that both were former members at the same time of the Makaria Fraternity of the Bethany church. Mr. Forsyth enjoyed the rest of the day as the guest of Dr. Curtis, who with Albion Bonney, also of Quincy, conducts a dentistry office in Cairo.

Hugh Jones of Newcomb place, night man at the city stables, has been ill at his home with la grippe the past five weeks.

PRATT'S BREAD is always in favor because delicious in flavor. Your grocer.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENCILL'S
Tel. 1827-W Quincy

ELKS ROLL FOR PRIZE

The special rolloff for members of the Elks bowling league for a charm offered by Capt Wardell was won by Hanson, Thursday night with a total of 296. He was hard pressed by several of the others. John Hildebrand was low man. Hansons strings were 114, 93, 89. The strings:

Hoy	89	109	88	286
Joyce	78	102	92	272
Larkin	80	122	88	290
Coyle	80	76	88	244
Desmond	74	93	77	244
Hanson	114	93	89	296
Ross	90	73	97	260
Brown	84	86	84	254
Mat Sweeney	72	69	81	222
Ed Sweeney	81	96	75	252
Reveney	82	75	61	218
Dr. Murphy	79	103	81	263
Hildebrand	60	77	65	202

CHARLIE BRYANT IS BACK AGAIN

Ex-Mayor Charles M. Bryant, went down to Orleans Thursday, shook hands with the selectmen, to show them that he was there, then came back to Quincy again. Now he is a legal resident of a small cape town, and his active political days, as far as Quincy is concerned, are over, until such time as he shall again claim the City of Presidents as his residence. Although he has ceased to become a legal resident of Quincy he has by no means lost interest in this city, and he intends, as in years past, to keep in close touch with local affairs.

According to reports from Orleans, Thursday closed with close to a million and a half dollars added to its valuation. More than twenty-five new legal residents were welcomed by the selectmen Thursday and the town will retain its $3 tax rate for another year at least, unless the legislature shall enact a new tax law.

According to the statement issued by the selectmen it will be May 15, before the exact valuation is known, as the residents have until that time to file returns of real and personal estate. It is expected that the valuation will more than exceed $5,000,000. Four years ago it was $683,995. Roughly speaking the wealth per capita will be more than $5,000 for each man, woman and child.

NEW SECRETARY

(Continued from Page One.)

who has proved herself a constant and effectual helper and sympathizer in his work. Both Mr. and Mrs. Gaskell have been active in their church and Bible School, Mrs. Gaskell being a teacher in the junior department and Mr. Gaskell of class 8 which he build up from five to thirty. Mrs. Gaskell is a member of Our-Day-Out Club and the Students' Club.

Ranking high in the social, business and religious circles of the city, Mr. Gaskell has won the respect and esteem of the entire community by his upright Christian living. The work of the association has been literally reorganized and put upon business principles. Young men have been developed and led to feel and accept responsibility in the different departments in their Association, a power not possessed by all association workers. We are positive that the community will feel his loss.

HOLD SERVICES.

Services of Good Friday were held at eight o'clock this morning. The mass was preceded by a procession of over 200 boys and girls of the Sunday School and the Blessed Sacrament was carried by Rev. Father Duffy from the Repository through the church and back to the main altar, where the mass of the Presanctified was celebrated. The girls in the procession were dressed in white dresses and wore white wreaths and the boys all wore white biouses. Tonight there will be Stations of the Cross Sermon and on the Death of Christ. This afternoon at three o'clock Stations of the Cross will be held for the children.

POSTPONE MATCH.

Owing to the illness of Connell, the Weymouth star bowler, the match between McPherson & Welsh of the St. Mary's and Connell and Smith which was to have been rolled at the St. Mary's alleys was postponed and will be rolled next Thursday evening.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

RENT REDUCED—Half house at 31 Bigelow street in first class condition; good neighborhood and convenient to everything. Bath, laundry, furnace coal range, shades, screens, gas etc. Apply at 33 Bigelow street. 1-tf

TO LET—At 33 Bigelow street, Quincy, a desirable house of eight rooms with improvements. Ready for occupancy about April 15. Apply on premises. 1-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 5 rooms and bath. Rent $16.00. Lower flat of 5 rooms with improvements. Rent $14. Near station and cars. Apply at 59 Hall Place, West Quincy. 31-6t

TO LET—New flats, Quincy Point, four rooms and kitchenette, hot and cold water, set range, gas, separate cellars, low rent, Germain avenue, cor. Washington street. Small families only. Good neighborhood. E. R. Stone, 12 Avon Way. Ready April 1st. 31-6t

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house, 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2, Quincy or 110 South street, Boston. Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET— Two or three fine front rooms, furnished, everything needed for light housekeeping. Gas range separate bath. Good neighborhood, near centre. Write J. J. Ledger Office. 29-6t

TO LET—Upper and lower flats 91 and 93 Revere road 4 and 6 rooms and bath. To small families, $20 and $18. Fred M. Torrey, 25 Spear St., Tel. 202-1 Quincy. 27-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET — To small family of adults several very desirable centrally located new tenements $22 and up, also stable $10 per month; store $10 per month. Apply to C. H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. Tel. 174-2 Quincy. 20-12t

TO LET—Upper flat of 5 rooms, one attic room and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. 97 Goddard street, near Quincy Adams Station. 15-tf.

TO LET—Tenement of three rooms $7.50 per month. Good place for hens. James Moorhead, 28 Curtis street. Tel. 599-1. 15-tf.

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Merrymount Road, near High School. Upper tenement 7 rooms Bath Gas and Electricity. All improvements. Apply A. W. Parker 87 Merrymount road. Tel. Quincy 253-1. 4-1mo.

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Granton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

Russell Park

House 7 rooms and bath. Cemented cellar, large attic, furnace, coal and gas ranges, electric lights, open fireplace. All improvements, sunny and very attractive, fine residential street. Immediate possession. For key apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 18-tf

TO LET

TO LET—5 rooms and bath, furnace, gas and electric lights. Also small furnished suites for housekeeping. 5 minutes walk from the square. Address Miss Spear, 118 Granite street 2-3t

TO LET—Half house of six rooms and large laundry to adult family, conveniences, large garden. Rent $20. Apply to George H. Newcomb, 21 Adams Bldg. or M. M. Newcomb, 39 Gay street or phone 1990 Quincy. 2-tf

TO LET—In Atlantic, apartment of five rooms and bath, all improvements. Separate entrance. Central. Rent moderate. Apply Geo. C. Stenzel & Co., Sagamore Block, Atlantic. 3t 26-30 April 2

TO LET—At 100 Upland road, furnished rooms in private family. Apply 100 Upland road. 1-3t

TO LET—Upper flat, 7 rooms, all conveniences, 112 Upland road. Apply on the premises or 20 Adams Building. 31-tf

TO LET—House of 7 rooms and bath on Russell Park. All improvements and very attractive. Immediate possession. For further details enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 4 rooms and bath in two-family house in Quincy Centre. Just right for a couple desiring a cozy sunny home with every convenience. Electric lights, furnace, gas stove, etc. Ready for occupancy. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—With private family, centrally located, a room suitable for one person, modern conveniences, and rent reasonable. Write Ledger L. M. B., or call Quincy 1796W. 30-6t

TO LET—Two front rooms, furnished, suitable for two gentlemen. Separate bath, good neighborhood, near the centre. Write W. W. Ledger Office. 29-6t

TO LET—Quincy centre, 18 Faxon avenue, modern suite, 6 rooms and bath. Every improvement. Three minutes from R. R. station. Telephone 414-M. Weymouth. 25-tf

TO LET—One or two tenements. Can have 12 or only 6 rooms. Rent for 6 $18.75 C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road, Quincy. 24-tf

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements. 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 13-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Twin 7 H. P. Indian Motorcycle in first class running order. Price $75.00 Can be seen at Thomas Nelson's, 20 Granite street, Quincy. 1-2t

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

MILTON—For sale in this ideal town. New two-family cement houses, every improvement, electric lights, large piazzas, choice of two. Three minutes walk from the East Milton Depot. Will sell one of these at bargain price. Easy terms if desired. Write call or telephone. John J. Gallagher. Cor. Church and Adams street, East Milton. 27-6t

FOR SALE—400 loads of dark heavy loam cheap located at Dysart street. Apply to J. Coughlin of Coughlin & Donovan, 1475 Hancock street. 24-12t

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E. R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-tf. L. P.

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and PIANO moving, packing and storage. Wm. D. King, 106 Centre street. Tel. 21003. 8-1mo.

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

WANTED

WANTED—Room and board with refined family for couple with 3 year old child, Quincy or Quincy Point. Particulars by letter. Patton Bakers Yacht Basin, Quincy Point. 2-1t

WANTED— Cooks, general, two 2nd and chamber maids, mothers helpers; also canvasser. Good wages, first class families. Oldest Employment Office in city. L. M. Flynn, 22 Maple street. Next Post Office. Phone 2235-W. 31-3t

WANTED — Experienced young women as waitresses. Apply at Thompson's Cafe, Quincy Square, Quincy, Mass. 30-6t

PROOFREADER. A young Woman experienced in proofreading is wanted at the Ledger Office. If not experienced but well educated and possessing natural ability application will be considered. Address letter to Miss Prescott, Ledger Office, Quincy. 24-tf

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

TO LET
Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN. Treas.
Nov

TO LET
After April 1, Store or Stores No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.
Shop or Factory—21 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop
—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall
—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.
GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.
HALLS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 312—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.
Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for R.E. Kriss.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

CARPENTER AND BUILDER
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
All Work Given Prompt Attention
W. R. LOFGREN
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 388-3

Easter Greetings

At this time we are pleased to announce that our stock of Easter Hams is complete and consists of all the Best Brands in the Market such as Star, Premiums, Arlington, Westenphal, Squires, etc.

We have been preparing for this sale for three weeks. Our goods have been ordered and selections have been made for this special sale and we will absolutely guarantee the quality and fine flavor of these goods. Some of them are Corn Cob Smoked, adding a delicious nutty flavor to the Ham, all are sugar cured and cut from young, tender, juicy Corn Fed Pigs. Our prices will please you. We have some Hams as low as 15 cents per lb.

We shall also have 1000 slices of specially selected fine grain Steak Hams, some with the fat edge and some all lean, but all very sweet and tender.

And our usual Bargains in Beef, Lamb, Pork, Fresh Shoulders, Chicken, Fowl, etc., at the Lowest Prices in Quincy and vicinity.

Also Dandelions, Celery, Lettuce, Spinach, Sweet Potatoes, Grape Fruit and Oranges.

Quincy Public Market

1514 Hancock St. Kincaides Block

Legal Stamps. Free Delivery.

Phone orders given prompt attention—1434-J

Kewpie Ties-- FASHIONS LATEST MODELS

In Drab and Sand Tops. Dainty and New

Priced $1.75 to $4.00

EXCEPTIONAL VALUE IN EVERY ONE

Military Button and Lace --BOOTS--

Smart Models. Fabric Tops in all colors

Priced $2.50 to $4.00

PRICED MUCH HIGHER ELSEWHERE

GRANITE SHOE STORE,

"A Big City Stock at Less than Big City Prices."

BROWN & CROWELL

BROWN & CROWELL

GROCERIES — MEATS — DRY GOODS

ALL IN ONE BIG STORE A LITTLE OUT OF THE WAY — BUT — IT PAYS TO WALK

FOR SATURDAY

WE OFFER

MARKET · DEPARTMENT — GROCERY

SMALL HAMS (From 9 lbs. up) 16 c lb

OLD DUTCH CLEANSER 3 cans for 25c

1 BOTTLE VICTOR SYRUP Reg. 15c Size
1 PKG. AUNT JEMIMA'S PANCAKE FLOUR Reg 10c Size } 19c

DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT

(FOR EASTER)

A FULL LINE OF LADIES' GLOVES

WAISTS and NECKWEAR All

New Goods. A Number of Other New Novelties which Will Interest You.

BROWN & CROWELL Tel. 78

DOBLE'S CORNER, SO. QUINCY

BROWN & CROWELL

NEW NEPONSET RIVER BRIDGE LOOKS DUBIOUS

Plymouth County Objects to Its Small Assessment

The hitherto rosy prospects for a new bridge over the Neponset river between Boston and Quincy have been considerably clouded by opposition on the part of Plymouth county to paying five per cent. of the cost. Quincy legislators have been attempting for several years to secure legislation that will permit the building of a new Neponset bridge and every year some particular class of remonstrants contrive to clog the machinery.

The bill as drafted this year provides for a total expenditure of $350,000. The city of Quincy will be called upon to pay 15 per cent. of the cost, or $52,000; Boston's proposed share is 20 per cent., or $70,000; the county of Norfolk will be asked to pay 5 per cent, or $17,500; the Bay State Street Railway Company's proposed assessment is $35,000; the Metropolitan district will be asked to pay 42 1-2 per cent. or $148,750, and the small balance of $8,750 to be paid by Plymouth county promises to be the small but effective stumbling block to the proposition this year.

Representative Charles Ericson appeared before the senate committee on ways and means Thursday morning and severely censured the attitude of the remonstrants from Plymouth, among whom were the three county commissioners, Thomas, Howard and Boynton, Senator Ezra Clark and several Brockton representatives for what he characterized as a "short-sighted and selfish stand." Mr. Ericson pointed out the benefits that would accrue to Plymouth county, and especially the towns of Hull, Cohasset and Scituate, by the proposed construction and said that Plymouth county would really receive more benefits than Norfolk county, although Norfolk county is willingly accepting its share of five per cent.

The bill has already received the endorsement of the committee on roads and bridges, and the house committee on counties. The senate committee on ways and means held a hearing on it Thursday morning but little was accomplished. The hearing was not closed and Senator Bates, Assistant Corporation Counsel Devlin of Boston, and the attorney for the Metropolitan Park Commission are going to confer and offer a redraft. It is not contemplated that the apportionment of the expense will be changed, however.

Senator Sanford Bates of Boston, who introduced the bill this year, appeared in its defense and stated that a majority of the interested parties had agreed to their share of the proposed apportionment. The city of Boston, the city of Quincy, the county of Norfolk, the Bay State Street Railway Company, be placed on record as favoring the proposition. The bill, as now drafted provides that the new bridge shall be located near the present Neponset bridge.

Senator Bates, in explanation of the decision to ask Plymouth county to bear a small proportion of the expense, said that the town of Hull would receive large benefits on account for increased facilities for automobilists from Boston to Nantasket. He also said that tourists from Boston would pass over the bridge into Plymouth county and would spend large quantities of money in the towns and cities of Plymouth. He said that practically everyone going to the Brockton Fair from Boston would pass over the bridge. The reason the Neponset Bridge route is not more frequently taken at present, he said, is because the bridge is unsightly and unsafe.

His arguments failed to impress the county commissioners of Plymouth, however. Commissioner Thomas was the first to be heard in opposition. He stated that he did not object to the building of a bridge over the Neponset river if public necessity and convenience demanded it, but he gave the opinion that the present bridge is good enough and is perfectly safe. He also objected to the present bill on account of the amount suggested for the proposed construction. He declared that $350,000 is too much. The other county commissioners argued in about the same strain.

Senator Bates, Representative Ericson, and Attorney Devlin attacked their attitude bitterly and urged the committee to take a broad view of the matter and not obstruct this much needed public improvement.

The hearing will be reopened, after the new draft of the bill is prepared. The question of who shall maintain the bridge has not yet been definitely decided.

The George L. Gill Associates entertained many firends at a matinee whist in Odd Fellows hall Thursday. The winners were Mrs. William Westland, F. C. Yeager, G. A. Irwin, T. Connor, Mrs. George R Dobson, Mrs. Emma Newcomb, Mrs. J. McDonald.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

FOR THAT EASTER DINNER

welcoming in the glad spring time, and bidding good-bye to winter we would like to supply your groceries. We need no introduction to most people in this town, but we want to bring to your special attention at this season the well kept line of groceries we carry. The prices are just as satisfactory as the goods.

EASTER HAMS

Armour's Famed Star Brand light salted, mild cured, sizes from 9 to 18 lbs. - - 17c. lb.

FRESH EGGS

Fancy Western, 23 and 25c doz.
New Laid, Nearby, 30c doz., 3½ doz. $1.00
Swift's Bacon, strip - - - - - 18c lb.
California Asparagus, large bunch - - 37c
Sweet Navel Oranges - - - - 23c doz.
Large Juicy Grape Fruit - - - 4 for 25c
Jello, 8 different flavors - - - 3 Pkgs. 25c
Welch Grape Juice, pints - - - 23c bottle
Snider's Chili Sauce, pints - - - 19c "
Van Camps Baked Beans, large can - - - 17c
National Biscuit Co. Graham Crackers, 3 Pkgs 25c
Carnation Milk, large can - - 3 cans 25c

OUR SERVICE AT YOUR SERVICE

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980 — FOY'S 2 STORES — WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

FINAL MEETING.

The final meeting of the present executive board of the Young Women's club will take place at the home of President Miss Minnie Packard on Saturday evening.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

TO LET—Large front room, sunny, airy, with heat, electric lights, bath and all home comforts. Suitable for one or two gentlemen. Three minutes walk from City Square. 34 Chestnut street, corner Foster street. House formerly occupied by Dr. Davis 2-3t

TO LET—Furnished room, $3.00 a week to two young men or 2.50 a single man. A very pleasant room facing Edison Park on Massachusetts avenue. Apply 44 Massachusetts avenue. 2-3t

MARRIAGES

MORRISON—HARDWICK —In this city, April 2, Lyman Howard Morrison and Miss Minnie Rideout Hardwick.

HOLTEEN—PETERSON—In Quincy, March 31, by Rev. Leander Hokenson, George A. Holteen of Montreal and Hannah M. Peterson of Beverly

DEATHS

STOKES—In Quincy, March 31, Prudence H., wife of Gilman M. Stokes, 70 years. Funeral services at the Methodist Episcopal church, Beale street, Wollaston, Sunday at 3 o'clock. 2-2t

WILLIAMS—In West Quincy, April 2, Dorothy, the 15 months old baby of fireman and Mrs. Richard Williams of Cross street.

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service

1437 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

Easter Is Here

And this wide-awake store is ready with the smartest styles, finest qualities and greater values in everything men need to wear

Easter time, or any time the man that comes here for his clothes has all the best productions of America's best makers to pick from—the widest variety of good ideas, fine fabrics and correct style in this community. This is true not only of suits but everything else, in the great store.

Beautiful Patterns and Slim and Trim Lines Characterize The KUPPENHEIMER SPRING SUITS

$18 to $27

These New Spring suits will not only uphold, but increase the prestige which Remicks have already achieved in Quincy

Extreme Values In Low Priced Suits

Here's a large stock and wider variety of suits at $10 than we've ever shown before. These fabrics are all wool and the patterns are very handsome. Every suit carries our unconditional guarantee

$10.00

Here's Top-Notch style and quality at a price within every man's reach. Blue Serges and mixtures are included. Made up in both men's and young men's models which we show at $15.00

REMICKS The Wide-Awake Store MUSIC HALL BLOCK

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 79 QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY EVENING, APRIL 3, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

HEAR PETITIONERS AT PUBLIC HEARING

Council Committee Consider Needs of School District

One of the arguments brought out at the public hearing in the council chamber Friday evening by the committee on public buildings on the petition for additional accommodations for the Massachusetts Fields school, was that there was one family living in the district in which there were five children of the grammar school age and these children were attending four different school buildings. One attended the Wollaston school, one the Massachusetts Fields, one the Montclair and two the Quincy school.

The hearing was on the petition of the residents of the Massachusetts Fields school district that additional rooms be provided and it was attended by sixty citizens of the Wollaston Park and Norfolk Downs district. Councilman McDonald opening the hearing said that he was in sympathy with the movement, that the conditions were such at the building at the present time that some remedy should be provided immediately.

Ex-Councilman Herbert J. Polk urged that the building be enlarged by the addition of four rooms and an assembly hall which would provide thirteen school rooms. He stated that there were now 441 pupils enrolled at the school and in addition to this there were 100 children who should go to the Massachusetts Fields school who were attending the Wollaston school, 25 attending the Montclair school and 15 at the Quincy school. The time had come for two buildings in that district. He was not opposed to a building at Norfolk Downs but felt that the needs of the Wollaston Park district should be attended to immediately.

In conclusion he stated that if all the children that belonged in the Massachusetts Fields district were brought back there would be 590 pupils. The corridors and cloak rooms at the building were now being used as recitation rooms.

S. J. Ripley said that his best judgment was that the proposed addition would take care of the district for the next three years. He believed that the district should have a school building that was up to the standard If a new school was built at Norfolk Downs the school line would be such that some pupils would be obliged to pass right by the Massachusetts Fields school in order to attend the new building.

Lewis Fleshman told of a family of five children living on Hancock street who had children in four different schools. He further contended that it was not right when the master wanted to correct a pupil to have to take him or her into the corridor, in sight of the other pupils, instead of in his office, which was now impossible as it was being used as a recitation room.

Mr. Barbour said the logical thing to do was to build an addition to the school building. Douglas M. Wetmore said that the present school building was the logical centre of the district and that it should be enlarged. He believed that the enlargement as proposed would take care of the wants for five years.

At this point Chairman Griffin of the committee asked if there were any present opposed to the plan of enlarging, and contrary to expectations there was considerable opposition.

Mr. Dunmore started the ball rolling by giving some figures as to the school population. He said that the thirteen rooms as proposed, with 40 pupils to the room, would take care of 520 pupils, while according to the statements made there were at least 567 pupils who should go to the school The Norfolk Downs association had made an actual count of the school children in the district from Vassall street on the south, the railroad on the west, Hollis avenue on the north and there were 351 pupils of grammar school age. He was opposed to expending $50,000 for an addititon to an old building believing that a new building should be erected in the Norfolk Downs district.

A. S. Robinson also opposed the addition. He had been a resident of the Norfolk Downs district for twenty years. He opposed a four room addition contending it was not good economy.

Charles J. Axburg had seven children attending school. He opposed an addition. It could not be finished before school opened in the fall and it would make matters bad to have work in progress during school session. He favored a new building at Norfolk Downs.

Mr. Slater said he had four children attending the Massachusetts Fields school. He also favored a new building at Norfolk Downs.

R. R. Cole and John A. L Ross also spoke in opposition to the proposed addition and in favor of a new building

It was then suggested that the chairman ask all those in favor of the addition and those in opposition to the addition to rise which was done. The result of the vote was that of those present 10 stood as being in favor of the addition and 30 in opposition.

The hearing then closed and the committee went into executive session to consider the matter.

The entertainment committee of St. Mary's C. T. A & M R society will hold a special meeting Sunday morning in the hall to make final preparations for the Easter Monday dance

MUSIC HALL
Wednesday, Apr. 7, 1915
8 P. M.
Y. M. C. A.
Dramatics
Personal Direction
ERASTUS OSGOOD
Music by
Wollaston Cadet Band Orchestra
Reserved Seats
50, 35 and 25 cents
April 1-6t

Flowers for Easter
Come and See Our Easter Display of Plants.
Lilies, Azaleas, Rose Bushes, Spirea Genistas, Hydrangeas, Cyclamen, Primroses, Violets and Potted Bulbs of all kinds
Cut flowers at reasonable prices
City Flower Store
QUINCY SQUARE

SIMMONS GIRLS TO HOLD CONCERT

Simmons college graduates and students who live in this city are looking forward to the concert to be given on the evening of April 13th in Alpha hall by the Combined Musical clubs of M. I. T.

The concert is designed to raise money for a one hundred thousand dollar fund to be applied to the construction of new dormitories at Simmons. The need of the new buildings is said to be urgent as less than half of the students who come from a distance can now be accommodated in the college dormitories.

The former students and graduates of Simmons who are on the committee are Misses Alice G. Higgins, formerly of Atlantic, Eleanor Nelson and Helen Horton of Atlantic, Elizabeth Douglas, a teacher at the Quincy High school, Beulah C. Hatch, Miriam Smith and Gertrude F. Baker of Wollaston and Mrs. Wallace Brown.

The ushers will be the following young women, all students at the college: Misses Martha D. Ring, Gertrude A. Shaw, Edna Conway, Esther Beckford, Alice Parker, Isabel Walker, Ednah Rhodes, Olive Barnicoat, all of Quincy and Lucy Beck of Braintree.

HOME AFTER OPERATION

Mrs. D. J. Seward McCurdy of Dysart street is at home after a successful operation at the Carney hospital. Mrs. McCurdy has been a sufferer from rheumatism for the past twelve years, rendering her absolutely helpless for over five years of this time. Little hope of her recovery was entertained. Six months ago her physician advised treatment at the Carney hospital and through treatment by the Orthopedic department she now enjoys walking about with little exertion.

BEGIN TAKING CENSUS MONDAY

The census enumerators will start their work taking the Decennial census of 1915 Monday morning. The enumerators received their commissions and maps of the districts from Mr. Gettemy, the director, on Friday. They expect the balance of their paraphernalia to come by express today. A. F. Richardson, the district inspector for Quincy, Weymouth and Braintree, has called a conference of the enumerators to be held at Quincy city hall Monday at five o'clock. He wants each enumerator to bring in his days work to him so that he can see that he has started the work right.

PLEASANT STORY HOUR.

Another of the library's series of story hour in the children's room was given this morning in her usual charming manner by Miss Ella Packard. The little group made such a winsome picture leaning forward, resting on elbows, eyes intent on the story teller. Fairy stories, insect life and stories about the trees from the books on Miss Weston's desk were the subjects to the listeners from the third and fourth grades from three schools.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Saturday rain. Sunday clearing.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

un rises	5.23
Sun sets	6.13
Length of day	12.50
Moon rises	12.00
High water, A. M.	2.00
High water, P. M.	2.45
Days increase	3 hrs. 44 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	58 degrees
Apr. 3, 1914,	45 degrees
Apr. 3, 1913,	48 degrees

Noon Maximum 18 years—86
Noon Minimum 18 years—30

PISTOL PRACTICE TO BE RESUMED

Capt. McKay Will Issue Order Within Very Few Days

HAD BEEN DISCONTINUED

Pistol practice for the police, discontinued after the administration of Mayor Bryant, is to be resumed and Capt. McKay is preparing to make this announcement at roll call in the immediate future.

Dr. Fred E. Jones, surgeon major of the 5 th Regt. M. V. M., has offered his services as instructor and is picking a range where the practice can be conducted

The practice will be for the purpose of familiarizing the patrolman with small arms so they can face any situation which may arise with some degree of confidence. The presence of gun men and yeggs in surrounding cities and towns has prompted Capt. McKay to take this step.

Sergt. Edward Johnson, recently elevated from a patrolman by Mayor Campbell, is the holder of the medal for accuracy offered by Mayor Bryant. Sergt. Johnson has had a military training. Patrolman Nils Dahlberg has also seen army service.

Most of the men carry the 38 calibre cold automatic pistol. There are a few revolvers in use however.

WILL OBSERVE LEE'S SURRENDER

The fiftieth anniversary of the surrender of Gen. Robert E. Lee falls on April 9, and on that date Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R., will keep open house At sunrise a salute will be fired by the firing squad of the post. At 2 o'clock public exercises will be held at G. A. R, hall under the direction of Patriotic Instructor George L. Phillips, to which the public is cordially invited.

This announcement brings back to the old boys of the Grand Army the rejoicing of that memorable day, when enthusiastic yell after yell from thousands of throats filled the air. New life was instilled into the souls of all and a united throb of mutual sympathy and thankfulness stirred the many thousands wearing the blue and the gray.

Old veterans wept upon the shoulders of their comrades and the lofty peaks of the distant range of hills re-echoed the loud acclammations of joy borne upward to the God of the universe in one continuous Hosanna over the return of the long looked for dawn of peace.

All animosity between the troops seemed to have been forgotten and the men who had so often faced death in attendance with its countless miseries engulfed all memory of the past in the consoling truths of the present. The war was over and peace would emile upon the sorely afflicted land.

Let the mantle of charity and forgetfulness cover from our view the trials of the past, as we press onward to a better and more enlightened future, surrounded by natural advantages which no other age can boast. Such is the attitude of the Grand Army of the Republic toward their one time enemies.

ADAMS SHORE
3 FINE LOTS ABOUT 200 FEET FROM BEACH
WILL SELL
ONE OR ALL AT A BARGAIN
IF SOLD AT ONCE
DAVID BAER
40 COURT ST., BOSTON
TEL. FORT HILL 980
3 5-2t.

"FITZ" WILL BE CHIEF SPEAKER

Wollaston Yacht Club to Hold Smoker

The opening smoker of the Wollaston Yacht club will be held this evening. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock to be followed by an entertainment which it is expected will include a talk by John F. Fitzgerald, ex-mayor of Boston, on "New England and Her Activities."

The membership limit of the club is 250 and it orders to bring the club up to the limit, 46 members must be added. During the past few weeks there has been a contest between two teams to see which will obtain the most members. Commodore Taylor is the captain of one of the teams and Vice Commodore Lathrop of the other. The result of the contest will probably be announced tonight. The members of the team which loses are to act as waiters at tonights meeting.

WINTER SEEMS TO BE COMING

Somebody said that winter had gone and spring was here. Instead of the mild and balmy weather which so many hoped was at hand we of Quincy experienced this morning another example of the freakish weather that New England can hand out. The past two days have been mild and pleasant and everybody has been looking forward to the annual Easter parade on Sunday morning.

Then presto, the wind changes and instead of mild and balmy weather this morning the air was cold, raw and dismal foretelling the approach of a storm. Few however expected that the storm would be snow. It began to snow about 10.30. Snow of the fine damp kind which with the cold cutting winds made it particularly disagreeable to be out. There is one ray of hope for "Old Prob" says clearing and pleasant weather on Sunday.

DAVIS CLASS ENTERTAINMENT

The Davis class of the Calvary Baptist church held an entertainment in the vestry Friday evening which was attended by 150 persons, most of them guests of the members. The affair was in charge of Alfred Beaulieu and a committee.

The program closed with stereopticon views on the Life of Christ, and opened with an organ recital by Mrs. Mabel Savage a hymn by those present and prayer by Rev. Charles C. Tilley, pastor.

There were solos during the evening by William Bullock, readings by Miss Curtis, cornet solos by Mrs. Pletsch, violin selections by Miss Walker, readings by Dorothy Turtrel. Refreshment were served at the close.

CHILDREN HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

A two horse ice team owned by the Eaton Ice Company and driven by Benjamin Ladd of Cross street was frightened Friday afternoon at 2.30 while standing in front of Palisi's Fruit store on Copeland street and ran up on to the sidewalk within six inches of the large plate glass windows of the store.

The horses turned the corner close to the entrance of the store and ripped part of the corner off the building. They were stopped on Cross street by Richard Williams, the fireman. Several children had a narrow escape from being run down. The team was a small ice team.

At the Good Friday services in St. Mary's church the Tenebrae was sung by a quartette of male voices and Rev Father McCoy the pastor gave an impressive sermon on "The Judgment Day."

EASTER OBSERVANCE IN QUINCY CHURCHES

Will Be Elaborate Musical Programs Throughout City

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL
10.30 A. M.
Prelude Meditation Gounod
Anthem, Why Seek Ye the Living Among the Dead Schnecker
Response, Alleluia, Alleluia, Clough-Leighter
Junior Choir in balcony
Offertory, Andante Cantabile Tschal Kowsky
Violin and Organ
Anthem, In the Early Morning Shelley
Violin Obligato
7.30 P. M.
Prelude, Lento Walenn
Processional Sleeper, Awake Jeffrey
Anthem O King Immortal Brackett
Response, Melodie Religieuse Wagner
Violin and Organ
Offertory, O Day of Love Eternal Bartlett
Postlude, Easter Whittier

The morning and evening choruses will be assisted by Mrs. Emma S. Moore, soprano; Mrs. Gertrude B. Worster, alto; Eugene Murphy, tenor; Albert L. Hayden, bass; Edith Roubound, violinist and Agnes B. Ruggles at the organ.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

Masses will be at 6, 8, 9, 10.30 A. M. The mass at 10.30 will be a solemn high at which Turner's Mass of the Good Shepherd will be sung. The program will be:
Prelude Grand Chorus Guilmant
F. Wrigley
Vida Aquam Gounod
Chorus
Proper of the Mass Tozer
Quartette—Miss Eva Rice, Miss Mary Lyons, Adolph Restelli and Marcus E. Mahan
Regina Coeli Offertory Hammerel
Arthur D. Holmes
Recessional Lemaigre
John Mahon
The Vespers will be at four o'clock. The program:
Processional Tombell's Festival March
Antiphones Freitag
Quartette
Psalms Gregorian
Haec Dies Gounod
Miss Eva Rice
Magnificat Mozart
Chorus
Regina Coeli Wiegand
Arthur D. Holmes
O Salutaris Stearns
Adolph Restelli
Tantum Ergo Lambillotte
Laudate Dominum Stearns
Chorus
Postlude Calken
John Mahon, organist and director

ST. MARY'S CHURCH

HIGH MASS—10.30 A. M.

Vidi Aquam	C. Gounod
Kyrie	C. Gounod
Gloria	C. Gounod
Credo	C. Gounod
Offertory Haec Dies	V. Hammerel
Sanctus	C Gounod
Benedictus	C. Gounod
Angus Die	C. Gounod
(The Redemption) Unfold Ye Portals	C. Gounod

Solemn Vespers and Benediction at 7.30.
Processional, Hymn to Holy Cross Cardinal O'Connell

Dixit Dominus	B. Mettenleiter
Confitebor	B. Mettenleiter
Beatus Vir	B. Mettenleiter
Laudate Pueri	B. Mettenleiter
In Exitu	B. Mettenleiter
Haec Dies	V. Hammerel
Magnificat Twelfth Mass	W. A. Mozart
Veni Creator	V. Cirillo
Regina Coeli	R. Werner
O' Salutaris	Cardinal O'Connell
Tantum Ergo	L. F. Rossi
Laudate Dominum	Plain Chant

The sermon will be preached by the Rev. Joseph A. Murphy, professor of Sacred Scripture of St. John's Seminary, Brighton.

The regular St. Mary's choir will have a grand chorus of 50 voices with Joseph A. Morissette as director and as soloists: Miss Celina Beliveau, soprano, Mrs. Mable Fennessey, alto; Mr. Peter Morissette, tenor; Mr. Joseph Daley, bass; Mrs. F. Reardon, organist.

SACRED HEART.

A solemn high mass will bring to a close, the services on Easter Sunday at the Sacred Heart church, Atlantic, and in the afternoon at four o'clock, there will be a solemn high vesper service. At the solemn high mass, the choir will sing Blaisdell's mass, under the direction of William Biganess with Miss Mae Stevens organist. During the mass, solos will be sung by Mr. William Biganess and Miss Catherine Dolan, with the regular choir assisting.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

The services at the First Presbyterian church promise to be very interesting. The splendid chorus under the direction of the efficient organist, Mr. Preston, has spared no effort to prepare for the festal occasion of Easter. The young people have assumed the obligation of decoration and the pulpit will be a solid bank of Easter lilies. The pastor will take for his theme at the morning service "The Challenge of Easter," and the evening service "Something God Cannot Do." The musical part of the services is as follows:
Lift Up Your Heads Adams
Mrs. Bates and chorus
I Know That My Redeemer Liveth from The Messiah
Miss Miller
Spirit of God Neidlinger
Everett Clark
But Thou Didst Not Leave His Soul In Hell from The Messiah; solo by Harry Anderson
I Know That My Redeemer Liveth
Choir
Hosanna In The Highest Holton
Choir

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN

Easter Vesper Service 4.30 o'clock
Organ Prelude
Introductory Service
Chant "The Lord's Prayer"
Poem
Anthem
Responsive Reading from the Psalms
Chant "Now unto the King eternal"
Anthem
Scripture Reading
Prayer
Choir Response
Congregational Hymn
The Offering and Prayer of Consecration
Anthem
Sermon
Congregational Hymn

(Continued on Page Three.)

Massachusetts Institute of Technology
COMBINED MUSICAL CLUBS
CONCERT
April 13 at 8 p.m.
Alpha Hall, -- Quincy
Benefit of
SIMMONS COLLEGE
Tickets -- 50 cents
3, 7, 9, 12

EASTER OPENING
OF THE
NORFOLK CLOTHING COMPANY
A Full Line of Ladies', Men's, Youth's and Boys' Suits. Also a Large Stock of Men's Furnishings
CASH OR CREDIT. Open Evenings.
1479 Hancock Street
31-3t

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

NOT THE FACTS.

We urge our readers to peruse the letter in today's issue contributed by Clifford P. Smith of Boston, a prominent Christian Scientist. The letter was called forth by an editorial in this column on March 23, commenting upon a Christian Science Monitor editorial on "The Medical Goliath," a few days previous.

Mr. Smith's letter is well written and entertaining, but it seems to us hardly to meet the point. In his letter he says:

"You must admit, however, if you have frequently read the Christian Science Monitor, that it has not always spoken with entire disrespect for the achievements of those who have endeavored to develop and apply the practice of medicine and surgery. It has never aimed to do so. Indeed, the editorial in the Monitor which incurred your disapproval was not designed to be an attack on medicine or the medical profession."

Against this statement we simply set down this sentence from the Monitor editorial, the statement to which we took exception and which we made the basis of our editorial comment: "The world looks back on a past in which allopathy has for centuries had a clear field, and it does not see any decrease in sickness or disease."

If that is not speaking with "entire disrespect for the achievements of those who have endeavored to develop and apply the practice of medicine and surgery" what is it?

Neither this editorial nor that of March 23 is intended as an attack upon Christian Science. They are intended to call attention to the wicked absurdity of the mis-statement of facts in the Monitor editorial.

THE STATE CENSUS.

The taking of the state census will be given on next Monday morning inasmuch as the national census is taken every ten years the query has been raised as to the necessity of taking a state census every decade likewise. Upon this question Charles F. Gettemy, director of the state census, has the following to say:

"With the Federal Government spending so many millions for the taking of censuses of such wide scope at stated intervals, the question is not infrequently asked as to why it should be necessary or desirable for an individual state to take censuses of its own independently of the federal enumerations, as is done by about a dozen states of the Union, including Massachusetts. This question may be best answered by the statement that state censuses, in probably every case, are taken for a reason analogous to that which governs the United States in the exercise of this function, namely, for a political purpose; in other words, the United States Census of Population is taken primarily, as already explained, for the purpose of ascertaining a basis for representation in Congress, and the several states which have provided for censuses of their own have done so in order to determine a basis for representation in their legislatures, these states not being content, for various reasons, to accept for their own purposes the population figures as determined by the United States censuses The more progressive states, like Massachusetts, have also undoubtedly been influenced by the conviction that a census taken only at ten-year intervals does not afford sufficiently contemporaneous and prompt information to serve the requirements of the times for up-to-date and accurate statistical data But with our state census supplementing that of the United States, we have the benefit of a complete population census each five years.

There can certainly be no question of the value of the census and we trust that the citizens of Quincy will co-operate with the director and his staff of enumerators so that the census may be taken as economically and as expeditiously as possible.

Anyone who saw the horses of the Wollaston apparatus when they arrived at Squantum Friday noon in responding to the false alarm from Box 81 would never doubt the wisdom of doing away with the horse drawn apparatus and substituting motorized apparatus. It was a long run for the horses and they were nearly worn out when the apparatus arrived on the scene.

FIFTY THOUSAND FORSAKE DRINK

People of High and Low Degree Follow Example of King

WOMEN MOUNT WATER WAGON

Government Had Recently Considered Barring Them From Public Houses —Brewers Alarmed Over Grey's Suggestion That All Saloons Be Closed or Taken by Government

London, April 3.—Temperance leaders estimate that at least 50,000 persons, ranging in station from the lowliest of laborers to members of the peerage, have foresworn the use of alcoholic beverages during the remainder of the war as a result of King George's letter promising to bar intoxicants from the royal palaces.

Cabinet ministers, judges, diplomats, lawyers and other men high in public life were quick to follow the lead set by the king and War Secretary Kitchener, who issued an order barring all alcoholic drinks from his household.

The profits of the public house keepers have already begun to shrink, and it will not be long, it is figured, until they will be losing $500,000 a day.

The "water wagon" ranks are getting more recruits than the war office. Not only men, but women, are "swearing off," although the recent protests against hard drinking were based on the ground that intoxication was hampering the output of the arsenals and ammunition factories.

However, the enthusiasm of the women for the "water wagon" is in line with the government's new policy to stamp out the liquor traffic entirely if possible.

Not long ago the government was considering the advisability of closing public houses to women because of the increase of drunkenness among the families of soldiers who were at the front. Strong protests were made by the suffragettes and the question was held in abeyance temporarily.

The latest developments in the prohibition movement include a letter by Earl Grey to The Times, urging the seizure of saloons.

The cabinet has also followed the king's example in offering to put a ban on liquor in his own household "if it is thought necessary."

Earl Brassey, Baron Cowdray, Baron Sydenham, Sir Charles W. Macara and the heads of many big manufacturing firms also stand ready to make personal abstinence pledges.

Grey would have the government take over all licensed houses in specified districts, just as it has already taken over railways and factories.

By Grey's plan the license holders would be fairly compensated. The saloons would be closed altogether or administered on reformed principles.

Grey's suggestion, following closely on the heels of King George's offer, and Earl Kitchener's and Lloyd-George's outspoken advocacy of temperance, have caused real alarm among the brewers of England.

HOLDUP MAN OUTWITTED

Flees In a Hurry When Girl Makes Use of Burglar Alarm

Boston, April 3.—An armed robber entered the office of the Franklin Supply company, on the second floor of 863 Washington street, pointed a revolver at Miss Florence Lawlor, the bookkeeper, who was alone in the office, and ordered her to throw up her hands.

Miss Lawlor, however, walked to the rear and threw a switch that operates an electric alarm gong in the hall. The man ran. The girl is 20 years old and frail. In a big safe were diamonds, cash and jewelry worth several hundred dollars.

Though all the tenants on that floor knew of the bell and its purpose, all forgot when at rang except a dentist. He ran to the jewelry company's office immediately, but the robber had disappeared.

EXPECTS TO WIN QUICKLY

Johnson Confident of Result of His Fight With Willard

Havana, April 3.—Jack Johnson thinks he will win from Jess Willard Monday and that he will win quickly.

Johnson feels so sure of it he has ceased working at all. In a private interview with two newspapers friends Johnson made it plain that there is no doubt in his mind that he would be returned the winner.

"Joke" Which Will Prove Fatal

Buffalo, April 3.—Harry Zahrich, 21, is dying as the result of an April fool prank played on him by fellow-workmen. Compressed air was injected into Zahrich's body until his internal organs were badly distended and torn.

Frost Kills Strawberry Crop

Washington, April 3.—An agriculture department bulletin tells of the destruction of three-fourth of the Louisiana strawberry crop by frost, adding that a new crop is being set.

Washington Brewers on Strike

Washington, April 3.—Three hundred employes of Washington's five breweries are on strike. They demand that lay-offs in dull seasons be made in rotation.

BRIEFS

The children's Easter festival service at Christ church will be held Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Davis of Ocean street have taken rooms at 155 Atlantic street for the season.

Rev. F. E. Emrich, D. D. of Boston gave a very scholarly address on the Christ of humanity in Memorial Congregational church Monday evening.

The annual meeting of the corporation of the First United Presbyterian church is to be held Thursday evening at half past seven.

Whatsoever Circle of King's Daughters meets Monday evening at quarter of eight with Mrs. Hattie Gurney of 340 Beale street.

St. Chrysostom's Woman's Guild holds an all day sewing meeting Wednesday beginning at ten o'clock. A salad luncheon will be served.

James S. Whyte of Standish avenue is to be the soloist at Pilgrim Congregational church North Weymouth Easter Sunday morning.

Miss Angela C. McCarthy is to be the soloist at the Sunday afternoon service at the First Universalist church and will sing "He is Risen" by Sullivan.

The monthly meeting of Adams Chapter Daughters of the Revolution is to be held Monday afternoon at the birthplace of President John Adams, council at two o'clock and regular meeting at half past two.

Mrs. David L. Jewell of Grand View avenue gave a mission talk before the members of the St. Chrysostoms branch of the Girls Friendly society Tuesday, subject "Pioneer women in the Missionary field," Mrs. Jewell is an honorary associate of the society.

Rev. A. E. Hillman is to preach his farewell sermon Sunday at St. Pauls Swedish M. E. church Sunday evening the church chorus is to render the cantata "A morning in the Orient" and there will be special Easter music at the morning service by the choir.

One of the most enjoyable programs of the season was the entertainment Tuesday evening at the Atlantic M. E. vestry. Dr. Wright of Cambridge and the Misses Pollard of the New England Conservatory of Music were the entertainers. The sale, supper and entertainment netted about $50.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S GUILD.

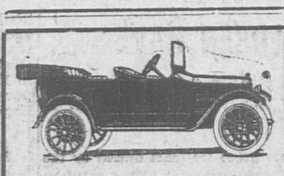

At the sewing meeting Wednesday of the Woman's Guild of St. Chrysostoms members listened to the fifth and last reading by Mrs. Frederick H. Steenstra of "The social aspects of foreign missions" by Dr. Faunce president of Brown University. Mrs. Steenstra has made these readings intensely interesting, giving a clear definition of what we are trying to do; the relation of the individual to society; types of social order in the East and West, and the projection of the West into the East; social achievements of Missionaries; enlarging function of the Missionary, great founders and their ideals, and the great interchange of the East and West were the points brought out.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING.

A regular meeting of the city council will be held Monday evening at which time reports on important matters will be received from several of the committees. As a number of the members are desirous of attending the Easter Monday night ball of Quincy council, Knights of Columbus, it is not expected that the meeting will be a long one, although debate is likely on some of the reports.

LIBRARY CLOSED.

Tomorrow being Easter Sunday the reading room of the Thomas Crane Public Library will not be open.

JACKSON
Model 46
THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL SILENT AND SPEEDY, NO WONDER
"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"
Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT
$1375
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

ATTITUDE OF ANTI SUFFRAGISTS

The anti-suffragists of Quincy are of the opinion that their cause is well set forth by Judge W. H. Snell of Tacoma, Washington, at present in Boston. Judge Snell in a recent issue, reported in the Boston Post, made the following comment:

"I favored woman suffrage in Washington and voted for it. But, in common with thousands of others who looked at the question as an abstract proposition, and hoped for the best, I am so greatly disappointed at the way it has worked out that I would today welcome an opportunity to vote for its withdrawal; and I believe if it were resubmitted to the people of Washington, and every man and women of voting age were compelled to vote upon it, woman suffrage would be defeated by an overwhelming majority.

"Many of us were led to support woman suffrage in Washington by the familiar argument that it would tend to purify politics and make for better government, But, after four years of experience we are forced to conclude that it has done nothing. On the contrary, it has simply added to the numbers of those who can be used in the interest of corrupt politics. and has resulted in a hodge-podge of ill-digested, sentimental, socialistic legislation, which is a menace to the welfare of the state.

"The suffragist theory is that women are as much entitled to the ballot as men, but however this may be considered in the abstract, I am now convinced that we should have done much better for the State of Washington if, instead of extending the franchise to women, we had adopted a more restrictive franchise for men.

"It is unquestionably true that many men have the privilege of the franchise who are clearly unfit to exercise it. This, however, as we have learned to our cost in Washington, is no reason for extending the suffrage to women. When we gave women the vote we enfranchised the wife and daughter who were no more fit to cast the ballot than the unfit husband and father from whom the ballot should have been taken away. In other words we simply added one wrong to another and called it a right.

"In Washington we have found that the same motives which control men in their exercise of the franchise also control women. Women are hired to do political work at so much per day, just as men are hired, except that women work cheaper. Women are actuated in their use of the ballot by the same selfish motives as men. and they look forward to securing political 'plums' for themselves or relatives in return for their political influence, just as men do—and they get their reward. too.

"Our experience with woman suffrage in Washington is that women divide on public questions just as men divide, and when I say public questions I mean to include moral questions. And they are at least as inconsistent and vaciliating in their judgments as men.

"And just as in the case of men, here is an element among the women of Washington who do make a business of politics. And by business I mean mercenary and selfish business. They form political organizations, pass resolutions and present petitions for legislation, presuming to represent the women of the State, when as a matter of fact they are only a few busybodies who represent but a small faction of the women of the state."

SERVICES ON GOOD FRIDAY

The Catholics of the city thronged the churches on Good Friday evening for prayer and Adoration of the Cross. Sermons were given by the pastors of the three churches. In the afternoon there was Stations of the Cross.

This morning there was a lighting of the new fire, blessing of the waters, lighting of the Paschal candle at the mass. The attendance was large.

Masses on Easter Sunday will be observed at the regular time and the musical portion of the high masses will be sung by an augmented choir.

Fr. Owens, in preaching to 1200 at St. Johns church on Good Friday night said the crucifixion was the most tragic happening in history and was the triumph of the love of Christ for the human race. He spoke reverently and feelingly of the late pastor, Fr. John J. Coan, who preached the sermon on Good Friday night last year, and asked all to remember they had a soul to save through prayer and well living, and, "If there be strife and dissension, pray that it may cease for the Lord has said "thou shalt love they neighbor as thyself."

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

Editor of the Ledger:

Although the word "blasphemous" has been used before in support of strongly felt but ill-considered reasons for disapproval, your editorial of last week headed "A Blasphemous Slur" must have put this epithet into a new setting. Properly used to mean "intentional indignity offered to God or sacred things," the word "blasphemy" has been, of course, loosely used before your editorial appeared. But never until now has anyone become so thoroughly imbued with a reverential belief in material medicine as to utter the word "blasphemous" in its behalf. From now on, evidently, one must count the medical system among the "sacred things" of which it is blasphemous to speak without due respect.

You must admit, however, if you have frequently read the Christian Science Monitor, that it has not always spoken with entire disrespect for the achievements of those who have endeavored to develop and apply the practice of medicine and surgery. It has never aimed to do so. Indeed, the editorial in the Monitor which incurred your disapproval was not designed to be an attack on medicine or the medical profession. The editorial which you regarded as blasphemous was simply designed to be a protest against what some doctors are doing in the name of the American Medical association—a protest against a monopoly which is not desired by many of the most representative members of the medical profession—and to be a defense of human rights.

Whether The Christian Science Monitor would strike a just or generous balance between the two sides of the account, if it should review and estimate what the medical profession has done, or has been unable to do, for the promotion of health, cannot be determined from the editorial which you have so violently condemned; for it did not undertake to do this. It is fairly certain, however, that not even the official organ of the American Medical Association would contend that the score of items which you have named would fairly present the balance between achievement and failure. Indeed, the largest item in your account—the building of the Panama canal—can be credited to medical science only by ignoring the difference between a medicinal doctor and a sanitary engineer. Medicine doubtless did a considerable work at Panama; so did nursing; and so did Christian Science.

The point and gist of what The Christian Science Monitor said about the insufficiency of medicine to cope with disease was this: medicine is not safe and certain enough to be a natural monopoly; if it were, it would not need to be imposed on the public by statutes; and since it is not safe and certain enough to get a monopoly by the natural law of demand and supply, an artificial monopoly for material medicine in the field of health would be a monstrous violation of human rights. Other considerations could be added by way of emphasis, not the least among which is the fact that the practice of Christian Science is the practice of religion, involving as Mrs. Eddy has said on page 152 of Miscellany, "spiritual understanding, spiritual worship, spiritual power."

In Massachusetts in 1915, for the first time in many years, the State Board of Registration in Medicine has not proposed a law against the practice of Christian Science. For this respite or cessation, Christian Scientists are thankful, and they are disposed to be appreciative of what seems to be a more considerate attitude on the part of the medical board. In New Hampshire a bill for such a law proposed by the New Hampshire Medical society has just been amended after a sharp contest, so as to protect the practice of Christian Science. In this contest before a legislative committee composed in major part of doctors, the pressure of public opinion in favor of justice for Christian Science was augmented by the tolerant views which were expressed to their fellows by certain members of the medical profession. In Minnesota, in Iowa, and in other states bills designed to hinder or forbid the practice of Christian Science have been successfully contested during the present year; and though none of these bills came from a non-competitive quarter, in most cases they were also opposed, at least privately, by a substantial minority of the medical profession.

This wider view was expressed last week in the Chicago Tribune, by Dr. W. A. Evans, the well-known writer of syndicated articles on health, and health commissioner of the City of Chicago. The letter and his comment were as follows:

"O. writes: 'I took morphine for several years . . . times as much as three grains a day. I tried with all my power to break the habit. I became interested in Christian Science, and through it I was completely cured. I have not used the drug for two years.'

"Reply: To cure the people who need it will require the help of every one who can help. Christian Science can help, as can cures, sanitariums, hospitals and private physicians Good luck to you and all others who are helping!"

Yours truly,

Clifford P. Smith
Boston

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

Now Necessary

A chick's first meal and every meal for three weeks should always be

Pratts Baby Chick Food
25c, 50c and $1.00

Then you know you have given it what's best for it and there is no danger of loss from indigestion or bowel trouble.

Pratts Powdered Lice Killer is easy to apply and sure death to vermin. 25c and 50c.

Refuse substitutes; insist on Pratts.

Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Back

Get Pratts 160-page Poultry Book

A. J. RICHARDS & SON
C. W. & G. W. NIGHTINGALE
NATHAN AMES
E. H. DOBLE & CO.
And Grain Dealers and General Stores everywhere 6639

Goal Prices Reduced

STOVE	$7.25
EGG	$7.25
NUT	$7.50
FURNACE	$6.50
PEA	$5.50
LEHIGH EGG	$7.50
LEHIGH STOVE	$7.50
SHAMOKIN STOVE	$7.50
FRANKLIN STOVE	$8.50

Coal carried in baskets 25 cents per ton.
Bituminous Coal for Steam Use
We recommend Nut size for stove and range
Stove size for small furnaces and heaters
Egg size for large furnaces and heaters.
We advise placing your orders now as prices usually advance about July 1st.
Coal delivered in Quincy, Wollaston, Atlantic, and Norfolk Downs.

Frost Coal Co.
488 Neponset Ave., Neponset
TEL. 1500 DORCHESTER
April 3 Wed. & Sat. until July 1

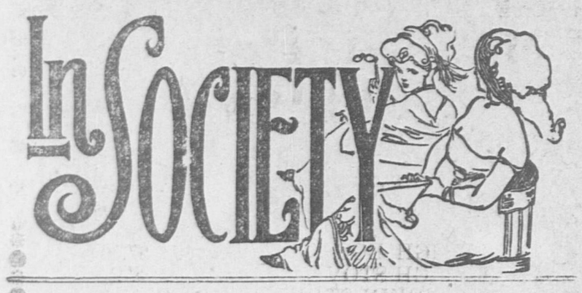

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ters Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TERS DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

TIRES
Of Every Description

BUY A KELLY SPRINGFIELD TIRE
You will have the Best tire made.
BUY A LEE PUNCTURE-PROOF TIRE
You can ride without fear of punctures or blow-outs
BUY A DIAMOND SQUEEGEE TREAD TIRE and you get something more in service, than what you pay for.
BUY THEM HERE
You get Service, Saving and Satisfaction, all the time.
We also carry Goodrich, Goodyear, Fisk, Firestone and other makes of automobile tires.
WE are one of the largest Automobile Accessory dealers in Norfolk county.
Bring your Tires and Tubes Here, and have them Vulcanized right
F. W. BENT
1056-1058 HANCOCK ST., QUINCY TEL. 501-M

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE
Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit
WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS
Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.
Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys
1506--1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block
Jan. 26-tu.-th.-s.-tf

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin C. Leonard announce the engagement of their daughter Vera Maude to William J. Beach all of Quincy.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. John O. Hall, Jr., of Yarmouth, Maine are spending the Easter season in Quincy at the home of her mother Mrs. H. E. C. Burns of 113 Granite street.

* * *

Miss Marion Nelson of New York is visiting her aunt Miss Kate Nelson on Prescott street.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Howard Morrison nee Minnie Rideout Hardwick who were married Friday at the home of the bride on Revere road are enjoying an extended wedding trip. On their return they are to reside at 22 Harvard street Dorchester where they will receive their friends on Wednesdays after the first of June.

* * *

Miss Esther Dasha of Adams street has been the guest for a few days this week of Miss Cornelia Skinner who is spending a week in Boston with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Otis Skinner. Miss Dasha and Miss Skinner were classmates last year at a preparatory school in Bryn, Mawr, Pennsylvania.

* * *

Mrs. Herbert T. Drake of Goffe street, Presidents hill is to open her home Tuesday afternoon April 6 for an anti-suffrage meeting.

* * *

Master William Whittem Jenness has sent out invitations for a dancing party at Hancock hall for Saturday afternoon April the tenth, from half past two until half past five o'clock. His mother Mrs. William Whittem Jenness and Mrs. Nathaniel Stevens Hunting will receive with him.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Ripley of Springfield, who have been visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Howe of Butler road, returned to their home today. Despite the threatening weather they made the trip by automobile, being accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Howe, who go for over Sunday. The Ripleys have been here since Christmas.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Sheppard of Edgemere road are the parents of a baby boy born Friday in Elizabeth, N. J., where Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard have been for some weeks. They are staying at the home of Mrs. Sheppard's mother. The many friends of the young people in this city will be sorry to learn that Mrs. Sheppard is seriously ill.

* * *

Mrs. Alf Swensen of Oakland avenue entertained at luncheon Wednesday, her guests being Mrs. Charles C. Dailey, Mrs. Earl Thomas and Mrs. Theodore T. Penley.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Welsh of Hancock street Atlantic celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary this week.

* * *

Charles Wilmore, Jr., of Billings street entertained his friends on the occasion of his eighth birthday. Mrs. Wilmore was assisted in serving the refreshments by Mrs. William Cox and Mrs. Mason. Those present were George Churchill, Leon Dennison, Charles Deans, Edward Pease, William Halward, Hargrave Heap, Harold Gurney, Charles Wilmore, Muriel Cox, Althea, Lois and Ruth Wilmore.

Miss Edith H. Fox of 74 Butler road is home from East Orange, New Jersey, for the spring vacation.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Sayward of Winthrop avenue announce the engagement of their daughter Dorothy to Worthington C. Kennedy of Hardwick, Mass.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace Brown, nee Gertrude T. Jones who were recently married, are now at home to their friends at 74 Winthrop avenue Wollaston.

* * *

Helen Allen Hunt, mezzo-contralto, soloist at the First Church of Christ Scientist, Boston, is to give a song recital in Quincy at Alpha hall on Sunday, April 25th. Mrs. Hunt will be assisted by Harris S. Shaw, the Boston pianist, and a violinist.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice P. Spillane have returned to their home on Elm street. Since October they have been at Saranac Lake in the Adirondacks.

* * *

Misses Ada and Cora Harding of Botolph street visited their sister Mrs. Coyle Allen of Worcester over Sunday.

* * *

Mrs. Ibrahim Morrison has returned to Marshfield Hills from a two weeks visit to friends in Boston and Cambridge.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Pratt (Fay Hitchcock) formerly of Quincy are at their Marshfield home for the summer after their usual season at Pinehurst, N. C.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Morrison of Middle street, Braintree nee Gallagher are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter on Friday. They have one other child, a girl.

GUESTS OF MANAGER.

Over 100 members of Mt. Wollaston lodge I. O. O. F. were the guests of Capt. Wardwell at the Kincaide theatre Friday evening. Several of the performers made it especially entertaining, making localities the butts of their jokes and parodies.

SPECIAL SERVICE.

A special meditative service consisting of an hour of silent meditation and a program of sacred music was held at the Washington Street Congregational church Friday night. The musical portion of the service included organ selections by Irving Hayden violin selections by David Scheckner, vocal solos by James S. Wight and singing by the carol and adult choir.

TO HOLD AUCTION.

Will Dispose of Confiscated Pool Room Furniture.

Within three weeks the paraphernalia seized by the police in three recent raids of pool rooms will be sold at auction at the police headquarters by Deputy Sheriff Field.

The goods were taken during the raids of the pool rooms of Carl Lehto of Copeland street, Victor Ruuska of Water street and Hassan Ali of Winter street and were declared confiscated in the district court this morning.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

CLARA MORRISON
Pianist and Teacher
Leschetizky Method
CATHERINE MORRISON
Mandolin and Guitar
50 Hamilton Street, Wollaston
Tel. Quincy 1318-W. Sept 30-w.s.-1y

Quincy Pianoforte School
Grace Hackelton Pratchett
Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
31-tf

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

Pratt's Vienna Bread
Baked expressly for those who appreciate the best. Always uniform in quality and quantity.
YOUR GROCER

DR. G. F. S. PEARCE
DENTIST
327 Newport Avenue, Wollaston
Mondays -- Wednesdays -- Fridays
8 to 12 — 1 to 5
EVENINGS
Boston Office 194 Boylston Street
June 24-ly-w. s.

EASTER OBSERVANCE

(Continued from Page One.)

Benediction
Choral Response
Organ Postlude
Music by the Schumann Male Quartet

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL

Music for Easter Sunday morning at the Wollaston Congregational church will be as follows:

Organ Prelude Sonata in C Minor Guilmant
Anthem He is Risen Manney
Violin solo Adaigo Pathetaique Godard
Anthem Where hast thou laid Him Clough-Leighter
Soprano solo My Redeemer Liveth Manny
Duet violin and flute Angels Serenade Danza
Organ Postlude Hosannah Wachs

ST. PAUL'S SWEDISH M. E.

At seven o'clock the Easter cantata "A morning in the Orient is to be given by the choir with the following program:

Introduction, descriptive
Opening Chorus
It is finished Chorus
Silver Starlight Crowns Thy Tomb Solo, Duet and Chorus
Sentries in the Silent Garden Solo and Chorus
Angels' Chorus
Female voices in two parts
The Victory of the Cross is Won Chorus
Mary's Song Mrs. Selma Johnson
What Hath He Done? Chorus
Closing Chorus

SWEDISH CONGREGATIONAL

At the Swedish Mission Congregational church Sunday the services will be a s follows:

9.30 Sunday school
10.45 Easter service, pastor's message: "The message of the Easter Morn." There will be singing by mixed chorus and male choir.
5.45, there will be Communion.
7.00 Easter program will be given as follows:
Singing, congregation
Invocation C. Satterlund
Our King is risen Mixed Chorus
Jesus lover Children's Choir
The Lord is risen Hallelujah Sunday School
Easter hymn Male choir
Address by the pastor, "Certainty of resurrection of Christ"
Risen with Christ Mixed Chorus
Utan for den tomma graven Children's Choir
Jesus lever och vi skola leva Sunday school
Offering
Song Male Choir
Selected reading
Pasktoner Mixed Chorus
Song Congregation
Benediction

WOLLASTON BAPTIST.

Morning Service.
Organ Prelude Easter Morning Malling
Anthem Holy Holy Holy
Lord's Prayer Responsive Reading
Anthem Gloria
Hymn Christ is Risen Sullivan
Scripture Lesson
Prayer and Response
Anthem As it began to dawn Buck
Offertory Elevation Dunham
Hymn Christ the Lord is risen today Mozart
Easter Sermon by the Pastor, subject "Convincing Proofs of the Resurrection"
Carol Alleluia, Christ is risen Nevin
Benediction
Postlude Resurrection Morn Johnston
Celebration of the Lord's Supper
Evening Service
Organ Prelude Alleluia Rockwell
Hymn The Day of Resurrection Smart
Scripture Reading
Solo Hosanna Granier
Miss Ruth L. Hardy
Prayer
Anthem Hail Him Lord and Leader Nevin
Offertory Nuptial Song Faulkes
Hymn Jesus Christ is risen today
Easter Sermon by Pastor, subject "Inspiring Lessons from the Resurrection."
Hymn Our Lord is risen from the dead Hatton
Benediction
Postlude Hosanna Wachs

WOLLASTON M. E. CHURCH

Director, W. A. Sleeper
Organist, Frank Sleeper
10.45 A. M. Service
Voluntary Die Antwort (Wolstenholme)
Anthem Ye Bells of Easter Day Dressler
Chorus Choir
Quartet Christ is Risen From the Dead Roberts
Solo I Know that My Redeemer Liveth From Handel's Messiah
Miss M. L. Holbrook
Anthem Awake Thou That Sleepest Spence
Chorus Choir
Postlude Hallelujah Chorus From The Messiah

During the morning service several will be received upon probation. The pastor's theme will be: "The New Dawn."

6 P. M. Service

The evening service will consist of Easter exercises by the Sunday school entitled: "The Living Christ for Every Life and All of Life" and the following special music:
Voluntary Evensong Johnston
Anthem Shout Ye High Heavens Chadwick
Chorus Choir
Offertory March of the Magi Kinga Dubois
Anthem Awake Up My Glory Barnby
Chorus Choir
Postlude Priest's March from Athalia Mendelssohn

The programme will close with distribution of plants to Sunday school children. Everybody welcome.

Charming Easter Millinery

In an Endless Variety of Beautiful Shapes and Colors

Our trimmed hats are wonders, depiciting the latest styles from fashion centers. They are indeed hats of distinction. Nowhere in Quincy will you find such a beautiful array. Prices $2.98 and $4.98

STUNNING EASTER SUITS

Specially Priced for Today

A large stock of beautiful suits here. Every one new and up to the minute in style and fashion. Every model splendidly tailored, made of good quality material. We have far better values than elsewhere in this city.

$9.98 $14.98 $17.98

Alterations Free

BIG VALUES IN SKIRTS.
For you who want something different and distinctive, we heartily recommend these skirts
Price $1.98 $2.98

OSTRICH PLUMES
Without doubt the finest array of ostrich plumes in the city.
Price $1.69 worth $5.00

J. Szathmary
1447 Hancock St.

SWEDISH LUTHERAN.

Easter services will be held Sunday at 10.30 A. M. at the Swedish Lutheran church with the following program:

Easter Anthem
Liturgy
Song: Death, Where is thy Sting? Stainer
Choir
Sermon by Pastor Hokenson, "Easter Joy."
Song: Awake and Sing Hall-Stephens
Choir
Offertory

In the evening at 7.30 a good program will be given by the Sunday school and choir.

UNITED PRESBYTERIAN

Morning Service
Organ Melody in F Movitz Moszkowski
Psalm 24 "St. George's Edinburgh" Choir
Psalm 68 Congregation
Anthem Christ is Risen! Frederick Abbott
Psalm 67 Congregation
Chorus men's voices Heaven's Easter Song Ira B. Wilson
Psalm 23 Congregation
Anthem Now is Christ Risen E. K. Heyser
Choir
Organ Triumphal March Paul Wachs

Evening Service

Organ Impromptu Offertory E. Kryzanowski
Psalm 8 Psalter 22
Psalm 24 St. George's Edinburgh Choir
Anthem Christ is Risen! Frederick Abbott
Choir
Psalm 98 Psalter 308
Chorus Men's voices Heavens Easter Song Ira B. Wilson
Psalm 72 Psalter 238
Organ March William Hill

Mrs. Duncan MacKellar the organist will preside at the organ at both services.

CHRIST CHURCH.

Organ Prelude Alleluia (from the Sonate Pascale) Lemmeus
"Christ, our Passover" Mornington
Te Deum, Hadley in A. Jubilate Angelican Chant
Anthem "As it began to dawn" A. H. Ryder
Kyre eleison
Gloria Tibi, Sursum Corda and Sanctus. Eyre in E flat
Gloria in excelsis, Old Chant, together with Easter hymns
Organ Postlude
March Solemnelle Lemare

Evening Service 7.30.

Organ Prelude Alleluia (from the Sonate Pascale) Lemmeus
Choral responses
Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis
Steane in G
Anthem "The Strife is O'er" Steane together with Easter hymns
Organ Postlude
Marche Solemnelle Lemare

Choir of boys and men, Arthur H Ryder, organist and choirmaster

ST. CHRYSOSTOMS.

Easter day there will be morning prayer and communion service at 10.30 A. M. The order of service:

Processional, Alleluia! Alleluia!
Proper Chant, Christ our Passover
Gloria Patri Monk
Te Deum in G, John E. West
Jubilate Monk
Introit, "Christ the Lord is Risen Today"
Kyrie Eleison Monk
Gloria Tibi Monk
Hymn, "Jesus Christ is Risen Today"
Offertory, "Break forth into Joy" Simper
Sursum Corda Monk
Sanctus Monk
Communion Hymn "Angels Roll the Rock Away"
Gloria Excelsis Old Chant
Nunc Dimittis Gregorian
Recessional "Rejoice the Lord is King" Parker

The Sunday school will meet in the church at four o'clock for a carol service, omitting the regular noon session. The Lenten mite boxes will be returned at this service. Parents and friends will be welcome at this service.

Evening prayer at 7.30
Processional "Alleluia! Alleluia"
Gloria Patria Monk
Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis in A Sir John Stainer
Anthem "Jesus Christ is Risen" Gaul
Hymn "Come Ye Faithful Raise the Strain"
Offertory, "Break forth into Joy" Simper
Response "Lighten our Darkness" Tuckerman
Recessional "Rejoice the Lord is King" H. W. Park

Full vested choir of 24 voices under direction of H. Y. Follett.

Mrs. Jeannie M. Follett, soprano; Miss Carolyn Lewis, contralto, Miss Louise Rose, Organist.

In addition the following former members of the choir of Christ church will sing: William Carter, Parker Souther, Charles Vanner and John McLeod.

START
Planting Your Seeds Now
We have every kind of seed imaginable.
Direct from Americas Best Seed Makers.
GARDEN TOOLS
RAKES, HOES, FORKS, Etc.
NATHAN AMES
5 Granite St.,
USE CARBORUNDUM SHARPENING STONES

VISITING PARENTS.

"Link" Elcock, the former captain of the Quincy High baseball team, is visiting his parents on Copeland street for a few weeks before the season starts. "Link" played second base for the Newburg, N. Y., team but that league will not open this year and he expects to play with Manchester. He reports at the playground every day and is in the pink of condition. During the winter months he has kept in condition by working as an inspector on the government gypsy moth work.

CHALLENGE UNANSWERED.

Div. 22 A. O. H. has received no answer to its challenge to the Red Men for a ball game for April 19th. Manager McTiernan wants a game for this date with any other local team. He has his men out on the Ward Four Playground every evening and he expects to put on a team which will clean up all local teams.

HOLDS LAST MEETING.

The Wollaston Woman's Club which closed its bowling schedule at the Wardwell alleys several weeks ago and has been meeting there weekly since held its last session Friday afternoon. On Monday night the members will be the special guests of Capt Wardwell at the Kincaide theatre. They plan to add two teams to the four already organized at the opening of next season and the tournament committee will probably vote to offer several special prizes for unusual performances.

TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS.

Following are the subscribers connected with the Quincy Exchange for the week ending March 31.

1005 W—R. S. Smith, 82 Fayette St.
1154 R—Eugene P. LaBrecque, 1035 Sea street.
1862 M—James H. Landers, Gladstone street.
215 W—James H. Carle, 9 Landers st.
1152 M—Arthur L. Waugh, 11 Landers street.
1402 W—Harry G. Studley, Billings rd.
1324 R—William E. White, 25 Ellington road.
1523 M—S. B. Jackson, 190 Atlantic st.
1805 W—Helen Macan, 99 Copeland st.
226 W—Charles W. Moreton, 32 Euclid avenue.
816 W—Emma B. Biganess, 78 Goddard street.
98—John Jepson, 127 Bay Side Rd.
536—Samuel H. Littlefield, Ocean st.
650—Baron F. von Scholley, Green st.
1033 M—H. A. Ham, 126 Winthrop ave.
2062 M—Mrs. C. E. Overall, 237 South Central avenue.

YOUR EASTER CANDY
IS HERE ready for you. A fresh beautiful box of candy will brighten up your Sunday afternoon.
WE HAVE a large supply direct from America's leading candy makers. Give us a call From 25c to $1.25 a Box.
SATURDAY CANDY
29c lb.
CHAS. C. HEARN
City Square Druggist

Furniture Storage Warehouse
Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.
Rates $2---$3---$4 per month
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.
Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 28--tu.-th.s.-tf

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

FIRST TIME IN SIX YEARS

High School Team Has New Uniforms

The managers of athletics at Quincy High school have ordered 13 new suits for the base ball team for the first time in six years. The order was placed because the old ones are passe.

The uniforms will be grey, with a blue stripe. The cap will be of the same color and will have a blue visor. Blue stockings will complete the outfit.

The regular squad will include 25 men. There are 30 at present subject to call but a final cut is due. Practice is being held daily.

SPORTING COMMENT

The contestants in the B. A. A. marathon on Patriots day may have attendants during the contest, the Amateur Athletic Board declining to accept the ruling of the International Federal law prohibiting marathoners from "receiving coaching assistance or refreshments of any description during the running of the race, under penalty of disqualification." At the meeting many said the Marathon rule was inhuman and against amateur principle. The new rule allows a bicycle attendance but the refreshments must be the variety that will do no injury.

Coach Sexton of the base ball squad at Harvard has made another cut. "Tack" Hardwick remains and is practically assured of a fielders berth.

The McGregors and McPhails split in the Clan league matches Friday night. The score:

McPhail	530	458	487	1475
McGregor	501	472	489	1462

At the Universalist church on Sunday, the pastor's subject will be "The Heaven We Hope For." Miss Angela McCarthy will sing "He is Risen" by Sullivan.

Arthur B. Foster
CARPENTER and BUILDER
14 Bay View St, Quincy Point
Telephone Connection
31-1m

NOTICE

The Board of Park Commissioners will hold a meeting in the Council Chamber, City Hall, Wednesday, April 7th, at 7.30 P. M. to issue permits for the several Playgrounds. Managers of athletic organizations desiring permits are requested to attend.
IRA M. WHITTEMORE, Secretary
March 30-6t

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.
will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.
OFFICE AT
96 WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY
Tel. 618

B. B. TEAM GETS GOOD WORKOUT

Quincy High Boys Have Some Real Practice

The Quincy High school base ball candidates put up their most effective practice, since the season opened, at Merrymount Park, Thursday afternoon. Six of the 24 men were battery aspirants. The workout was under the directions of Messrs. Mansur and French of the faculty.

The battery development has been unusual this season and further ahead than at this time last year. Friday, the boys were all allowed to uncork speed and a factor in the performance was the exceptional control of the Pitchers. O'Connor, Horlses, and Smith worked in a seven innings game. Hulteen, who has shown much promise, is suffering from a split finger.

Of the eight candidates for outfield positions Rearden and Di Senso are the only ones who seem assured of a place. Smith and Hamlin are both being worked out in the outfield as well as the box.

With Capt. Larkin at short, showing the best form in his career, and seconded by "Blinker" Desmond, Pfaffman, and "Bunch" Arthur at first, Dorley at second and Bryan at third the infield shows strength and speed.

It was with the deepest regret that the student body learned of the withdrawal of Henry Ford, who not only combines all qualifications necessary to fast third sack work but has a courage which pulls him in front of any cannonball headed his direction. Ford, it can positively be stated will not play early base ball and probably none at all.

Although the unmentioned candidates are not as classy as those pointed out some of them give indications of development which may pull them into first team play at midseason.

GIRLS PRACTICE FOR BIG GAME

Young Women's Club Has Interesting Schedule

The biennial election of officers of the Quincy Young Women's club, will take place Wednesday evening.

A special program has been planned for the entertainment of the officers whose terms will have expired and who are not candidates for reelection. Miss Lydia Djerf, in charge of the committee, has arranged for a short play the cast of which will include the Misses Sadie Berman, Sadie Abrams, I. Jacobson, and others. The entertainment will proceed the election.

The much heralded indoor meet of the club will take place Thursday evening. There will be some spirited competition. Exhibition dancing will be given by the Misses O'Toole. A basket ball game between the Atlantic and Wollaston teams will be the event of the evening. The Atlantic team will include the Misses Harriet Waterhouse, Marquerite Hill, Helena and Eulalie O'Toole and Mildred Bean. The Wollaston septette will include the Misses Ruth Bass, Minnie Packard, Elsie Whitehead, Annie Lowe and Edith Mullen. The teams are practicing regularly and this afternoon both were at the Recreation House gym in Adams Academy.

WITHDRAWS APPEAL

Adolpho Augustino, who is completing a six months sentence for a statutory offence and who appealed from a six months sentence for a similar offense at Braintree came into court this morning and withdrew his appeal. Augustino was arrested by Inspector Goodhue on suspicion and within a few hours was identified as the man the police sought. He admitted the Quincy offense, the police say, but denied he had ever been in Braintree.

COLLECTORS WILL MAKE REPORTS

A meeting of the G. A. R. Relief association will be held this evening at City hall. At this meeting the various collectors are expected to make reports.

Cookery Points

German Cheese Cakes.

Here are some recipes for the dainties known as cheese cakes which will be found delicious. Try some for the Easter day menu.

Cheese cake—it would be more appropriate to speak of it as cheese pie—is made from ordinary short pie crust filled with a custard mixture made from eggs, sugar, pot cheese and various flavorings. The cheese can be made at home from sour milk or bought by the pound in the delicatessen shops or bought in prepared cakes of different sizes. If one desires to make curd quickly, hot water may be poured into clabbered milk and the curd will separate. But the water must not be too hot. Here is one recipe:

Rub together until smooth one pound of cottage or pot cheese and a cup of sugar. Add three beaten eggs, a tablespoonful of melted butter, half a cupful of cream or rich milk, the juice and rind of a lemon and a teasoonful of cinnamon. Beat all until the mixture has a smooth, creamy consistency. Then pour into a deep pie tin which has been lined with pastry and bake in a quick oven for forty-five minutes. This can be covered with a meringue made from the whites of three eggs and two tablespoonfuls of sugar. The meringue should be browned in a slow oven. It should not be put on to the "cake" until this has been let to partly cool after being taken from the oven.

Some cooks bake the pastry for cheese cake before putting in the custard, laying it over the outside of the pan and cooking with the bottom of the pan uppermost. They prick the crust with a fork so that it will not blister and, after pouring in the custard part, set the crust back into the oven just long enough for the eggs to set. Some German cooks use an egg pastry in their cheese cakes, but at this season, when eggs are so high priced, most of our American housewives will prefer to use the ordinary short pie crust. Here is a good recipe:

Allow three level tablespoonfuls of shortening to every cupful of flour or an extra tablespoonful if a very short crust is desired. Also allow four level teaspoonfuls of salt and half a level teaspoonful of baking powder to each cupful of flour. Work the shortening into the flour with the finger tips or with a knife or spatula until you have a mixture resembling soft breadcrumbs.

Mix to a stiff paste, using as little cold water as possible, first making a "well" in the center of the flour. Mix only long enough to take up all the dry flour. Toss the ball of dough out on a lightly floured board, letting it get a thin film. Do not press so hard that the pastry sticks to the board, as sticking spoils the texture.

Cream pastry can be used with cheese cakes. Make as above, only use one to one and one-half tablespoonfuls of shortening and use cream in place of water in mixing. If very thick cream is used the shortening may be omitted altogether, the salt and baking powder being mixed with the flour Pastry made from thick cream is a very quick and usually very digestible form of pastry.

Gluten Bread.

Pour a pint of boiling water into a pint of milk. Add a teaspoonful of butter and a teaspoonful of salt. Let stand until lukewarm; then add a well beaten egg, a quarter of a yeast cake dissolved and enough gluten to make a soft batter. Cover and stand in a warm place to rise; then add enough gluten to make a soft dough and knead it well. Form it into four loaves and let rise again. Bake for one hour.

Gluten bread requires less yeast and less time to rise than ordinary bread.

Colors and Flavors.

Certain flavorings seem to fit certain colors. No good cook would think of flavoring yellow cake, bonbon or dessert with pistachio, almond or rose or a pink dessert with lemon, pistachio or orange. Rose extract is always reserved for sweets of pink or white tint, almond for white, orange for yellow, lemon for white or green and pistachio, of course, for green. A discord is noted between color and flavor in a pink dessert flavored with pistachio or a green dessert flavored with rose, no matter how "good" it may taste.

New Idea For Doughnuts.

When frying doughnuts have a dish of boiling water beside the hot fat. As you remove the doughnuts from the frying kettle dip hastily into the boiling water. This removes all grease and renders them more healthful than they would otherwise be.

There is another point not to be despised when lard is so expensive as it unfortunately is at present. After the doughnuts are done the grease may be skimmed from the top and used again. One will be surprised to see the amount of fat that will rise.

Bran Gems.

One egg, one cupful of flour, two cupfuls bran, one teaspoonful salt, three tablespoonfuls of molasses, one tablespoonful of shortening, one teaspoonful of soda, buttermilk to make a stiff batter. Raisins may be added if desired. Bake twenty-five minutes.

HOW TO SAVE GAS

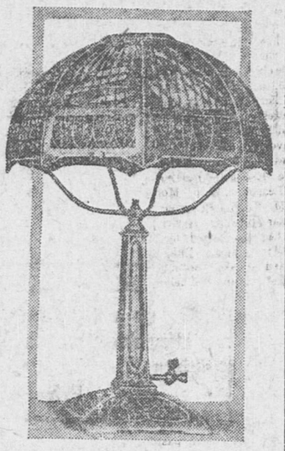

Hard Times Hints For the Frugal Housewife.

WAYS OF MANAGING RANGES.

Skillful Use of the Oven an Important Factor In Economizing on Fuel—Illuminating With a Single Drop Light.

One of the advisable ways of economizing in hard times is in light and fuel. When gas is used most women are extravagant. A little common sense and forethought would do much in reducing the gas bill.

In managing the range for cooking there are many ways of saving. When space is small a three burner gas plate will do a great deal of cooking if in addition one has a portable oven and a steam cooker. The oven set over one of the burners and heated thoroughly will do the work of any other oven. Light gas only when you are ready to use it. Turn it out the moment you have finished. Matches are cheaper than gas. For stewing turn the burner as low as it will go and stay lighted.

CONVENIENT FOR ILLUMINATING.

In planning a dinner select vegetables that may be cooked in the oven and meat that may be broiled, or vice versa. Or make your dinner of food that may be cooked in the steam cooker over a single burner. Use the simmering burner for soup and cereals after first bringing the articles to the boiling point. On baking day plan for roast chicken or fricandeau. A slow oven is ideal for roasting after the meat has been seared on top of the stove.

Not all housekeepers consider that oven heat boils as well as bakes. If you have a bit of meat baking and intend to have certain warmed over foods with it put them in bakers and set them in the oven toward the last instead of lighting a fresh burner on top of the stove. Many dinner accessories may be cooked with the meat in the oven. Long handled stewpans won't do for this. Handles get in the way. Such cookery necessitates space saving utensils, well covered.

An oven wanted for quick browning must not be full of steam. Its heat may be utilized at that afterward for cooking vegetables. Fireless cookery of a sort can be done with oven heat that goes to waste after the roast or pie is out. Give your cereal, prunes, beans or what not for the next meal a start by having them ready to put in the oven while it is still hot and leaving them there until called for.

Setting one receptacle on top of another—say a stewpan of warmed over tomatoes on the lid of the vessel containing boiling potatoes—is another way to save gas. The dish besides is better for not being cooked again.

A sheet of galvanized iron from the tinsmith cut to fit two or more burners is another excellent conserve of gas. Light but one burner. You can cook on any spot on the iron sheet.

Gas makes a soft and agreeable illuminant. Do not try to read by the overhead light. Use a drop light. A green shade is best for sewing or reading. Do not have the gas at full pressure when the lamp is lighted. Turn off when not needed. If the drop light is supplied with a good mantle the light will be clear and strong and the single jet may be substituted for the two or more lights of the chandelier.

The lamp illustrated is an attractive yet inexpensive model in bronze with glass shade tinted a most artistic green.

Chocolate Mold.

For this dessert take three level teaspoonfuls of cornstarch and moisten with six tablespoonfuls of cold water. Add quickly a pint of boiling water. Cook a minute. Add half a cupful of sugar and two ounces of grated chocolate. Stir and cook until the mixture is smooth and chocolate is dissolved. Pour while hot into three well beaten eggs. Turn into a wet mold and put in cold place three or more hours. Serve with hot chocolate sauce or cream.

Baked Beef With Tomatoes.

Take slices of cold roast beef not inviting enough to be served thus at the table. Place in the bottom of a granite baking dish, season with salt and pepper and pour over them a quart can of tomatoes. A can of tomato soup is even better. Then cover with breadcrumbs and dot with butter and bake till brown. This may be served with fried potatoes.

NORTH WEYMOUTH

Warren Weston has been sojourning at his summer home on Chappequidic Islands.

Mrs. John Trainor of Gardner, Maine has been in town this week visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. C. B. Cushing of Madison street extended the hospitality of her home to Inasmuch Circle of the King's Daughters on Wednesday. By means of a dime party the affair placed a tidy sum in the treasury.

Twin sons were born the first of the week to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Farrar of Hingham, formerly of Laurel street. One survived only a few hours. Mr. Farrell who has been ill a few weeks is still confined to the house under the care of a nurse. Mr. Farrar holds a responsible position with the Granite Trust Co., of Quincy.

Mr. and Mrs. Burgess Spinney are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter.

Mrs. James Ford entertained the Woman's Foreign Missionary society Friday. Mrs. Martin Hawes was leader.

Robert Horton and family have taken the cottage of 20 Holbrook road.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Rowell have leased the tenement at 71 Lovell street recently vacated by Edward Donovan.

Mrs. Irving Morgan president of the Auxiliary of the King Cove Boat club entertained the members at an all day session Friday. A bountiful repast was served at noon. The afternoon was given over to business followed by a pleasing musical and literary program.

Mrs. Mary Burke has returned to her home in Scituate after spending the winter at the home of W. I. Beckiadorf.

Mrs. Chester Stoddard returned Friday from the Peter Bent Brigham hospital where she recently went for surgical treatment.

Frank Delorey is acting as sexton at the Universalist church in the absence of Joseph Alger who is ill with a painful attack of rheumatism.

J. Rupert Scott has installed new electrical appliances in his garage for use in connection with his electric auto.

Mr. and Mrs. Royal Brown have returned to Medford after spending the winter at William Shipp's cottage at the Bluffs Mrs. Brown is a well known writer her nom de plume being Ruth Cameron.

The annual Easter concert of the Universalist Sunday school will be held at the church Sunday evening at seven.

Judge Louis A. Cook gave an address on his trip to England before the Congregational Men's club of Stoughton recently.

P. J. Meehan and family are at their summer home 5 Arthur street for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cahill have reopened their cottage on Ocean avenue

Charles M Kidder is at his new cottage on Grand View road.

Miss Esther McGill of Braintree has been a guest at the home of William Tyler.

Justin McLennan, son of Neil McLennan of North street is ill with measles. John Tobin and Bernard Sherman are also ill with the same disease.

Mrs. Robert Hoffman was hostess this week for the South Shore Morning Musical club. Several members contributed numbers which made a pleasing and interesting program.

Mrs. Carolina A. Thomas of North street recently celebrated her 86th birthday. She received a post card shower and many tokens of love and esteem. Relatives and friends from Milton and the Weymouths called at her home to offer congratulations. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ellen O'Neill and Mrs. John Thomas. Several musical numbers were rendered by talented members of the family.

PRATT'S BREAD is wholesome, nutritious, crisp and delicious. Get it of your grocer.

W. H. HASLETT
31 Bridge Street, Quincy
Tel. Quincy 1092 W
Plastering and Cementing
Concrete Houses
Outside Stucco Work
Cement Walks, Steps and Cellar Floors.
PETROSILO sanitary and fireproof flooring—guaranteed to wear longer than hard wood floor—no joints one continuous piece put over any floor.
Feb. 25- W-S. tf

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING
WALL PAPER FOR SALE
KUSTAA RASANEN
121 Copeland St., West Quincy
Tel. Con. 19-tf

Children Cry for Fletcher's
CASTORIA
The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy.
Chas. H. Fletcher. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.
What is CASTORIA
Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatuleney, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhœa. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.
GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over 30 Years
The Kind You Have Always Bought
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

BRAINTREE

Miss Hazel Varney has been spending the week with her parents at her home 33 Sampson avenue.

Mrs. Harry S. Bates of Sampson avenue is recovering from her recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Gage of Cedar street have been spending several days in New York.

Miss Stella Hughes of West Quincy spent Tuesday with her sister, Mrs. Joseph Silver.

Mrs. Mansfield Belyea of Washington street, is confined to the house with a severe attack of rheumatism.

Misses Gladys and Alice Kennedy, of Washington street have been spending a few days with relatives in Lynn.

Miss Muriel Woodman of Robinson avenue has been confined to the house with chicken pox.

A little daughter came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tilden, of Mt. Vernon avenue Sunday morning.

The alarm from box 41 Wednesday afternoon was for a grass fire near the residence of Mrs. Elizabeth Dam on Middle street.

Auto combination 1, was called by telephone about 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon to extinguish a grass fire near 140 School street.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To all persons interested in the estate of Martha J. Brown, late of Randolph, in said County, deceased:
Whereas, Henry R. Scott, the administrator with the will annexed of the estate of said deceased, has presented for allowance, the first account of his administration upon the estate of said deceased. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County, on the 14th day of April, A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be allowed. And said administrator W. W. A. is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.
Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire Judge of said Court, this 19th day of March in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.
J. R. McCOOLE, Register
3t April 3-5-12

EDWARD J. FEGAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK
QUINCY.

WILLIAM R. DIMOCK
Carpenter and Builder
Plans furnished and estimates given.
All work personally and promptly attended to 133 PROSPECT AVENUE
WOLLASTON
Telephone 1238 W Quincy.

EXECUTRIX NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executrix of the will of Susan J. Lund late of Weymouth in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to FLORENCE H. ADAMS,
Executrix.
(Address)
154 North Street, North Weymouth, Mass.
March 19, 1915.
3t Mar. 20-27 April 3

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator with the will annexed, of the estate not already administered, of John Q. Adams late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to me.
CHARLES F. ADAMS 2d., Adm.
(Address) 84 State street, Boston.
March 25, 1915.
3t Mar. 27-April 3-10

CARPENTER AND BUILDER
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
All Work Given Prompt Attention
W. R. LOFGREN
19 College St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 368-3

Prescott Apartments
For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service. Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

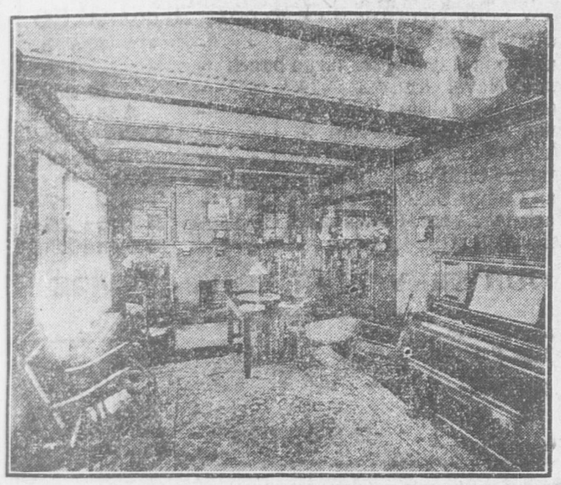

BE WISE
FOOL THE FLIES
HAVE YOUR SCREENS
RE-COVERED NOW
TELEPHONE OR WRITE
HOLMES & HALL
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

LIVING ROOM OF MUCH BEAUTY.

Design 1060, by Glenn L. Saxton, Architect, Minneapolis, Minn.

PERSPECTIVE VIEW—FROM A PHOTOGRAPH.

INTERIOR VIEW—LIVING ROOM.

Note in this design the artistic living room, extending across the entire front of the house, with abundance of wall space left for the piano and other large furniture. Special attention is called to the beamed ceiling, only cross beams being used. There is a splendid large fireplace at the end of the room, with built in bookcases at each side and art windows above, affording light and giving a general decorative effect. A large window on the long side furnishes all necessary additional light. This beautiful room corresponds with the artistic exterior of this fine home, which is 26 feet by 28 feet deep over the main part. Cost to build, exclusive of heating and plumbing, $3,200.

RAND CLASS LADIES NIGHT.

The annual ladies' night of the Rand Class of the Wollaston Baptist church was decidedly successful, drawing a much larger attendance than on any previous similar occasion.

The program was varied consisting of cornet solos by Leon Benson, of Boston; selections by a quartette of four young men, and readings by Vernon T. Field. The latter ranged from a chapter in "The Birds' Christmas Carol" to "The Original Version of Columbus Discovery of America," which kept his audience convulsed.

The last number on the program was a one-act comedy, entitled "That Telegram from Dad," and was presented by the following members of the class:—

Terry Flynn—William E. Bullock.
Pete—William H. Bartlett.
Billy Burnham—C. Percy Foss.
Charles Augustus Livermore, chief of Police—Harold B. Neal.
James Rush, a football coach—James Cahill.
Mrs. James Rush—George K. Drew.
Messenger—George MacKean.

The play depicted college life, and a telegram delivered to the wrong person, caused a most ludicrous misunderstanding, which cleared up at the end.

Refreshments of ices and cake were served after the play. Remarks were made by the president of the class, William E. Bullock, and by the teacher, J. Arthur Sparrow, who both extended hearty invitations to all young men to attend the Rand class which meets every Sunday noon.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is baked by experts in proved ovens. Sold by grocers.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENCILL'S
Tel. 1827-W Quincy

Loam for Sale
$1.75
per Two-Horse Load of 40 cubic ft.
APPLY
D. F. CROWLEY
Adams Street -- Tel. 720 Quincy

EXCELLENT HOME AND INVESTMENT
2 Family House, 13 Rooms, Large Attic, every modern improvement, Oak Floors, Combination Lighting Fixtures, connected with the sewer, about 8,500 square feet of land, plenty of room for garden. Built about 3 years ago. PRICE RIGHT, NAME OFFER.
TERMS CAN BE ARRANGED
W. T. DONOVAN
Room 4 Adams Bldg., Quincy

SUNDAY SERVICES

A new announcement of services is required each week. No notices accepted to run indefinitely. When possible the subject of sermon should be given, also special services. Generous space will be given in the news columns for church news, music and week day gatherings.

FIRST PARISH IN QUINCY (Unitarian)—City Square. Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, minister. Residence, Miller Stile Inn, Tel. 423M. office hours at church 9 to 12 A. M. Monday, Wednesday and Friday Tel. 1220. Morning service at 10.30. Subject of sermon by the minister, "Immortality." Sunday School at 4 P. M. Miss Minnie Packard, Supt. Special Easter Service.

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.—Junction Hancock and Chestnut streets. Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott, Pastor. Morning Service at 10.30 Message by the pastor. Topic: "The Answer to our hopes." 12, Bible School. Easter Concert. 6.00 Christian Endeavor meeting. 7.30 Pleasant Sunday Evening Service. Lecture Topic: "Ready to Live."

FIRST SPIRITUALIST CHURCH—Electa Hall Johnson building, Hancock street, Quincy Meeting at 7.30 P. M. Mrs. May Bemis, of Somerville speaker, assisted by Mrs. Lottie Brooks, of Roxbury. Soloist Mr. J. Nelson, of Boston. Message bearers: Mrs. S. V. Odiorne and Mrs. M M. Jollimore, Reader: Miss McIntyre. Come and bring your friends.

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH—Washington Street, Quincy. Rev. Merrill C. Ward, pastor; Residence 42 Dunster road, Jamaica Plain. Telephone Jamaica 1880. Sunday School at 2 P. M. 3 P. M. Service Subject of Sermon "The Heaven we hope for." Special Easter music.

CHRIST CHURCH, EPISCOPAL—Quincy corner Elm street and Quincy avenue. Rev. William Grainger, minister. 7.00 A. M. Holy Communion. 10.45 A. M. Morning prayer Holy Communion and sermon. 3.00 P. M. Sunday School, Easter Festival service. 7.30 P. M. Evening prayer and sermon.

ASSOCIATED BIBLE STUDENTS (undenominational) Hancock Hall, Hancock Building Quincy Centre. Free Bible Lecture Sunday at 3 P. M. speaker: Mr. G. F. Webber, Subject: "The Two Salvations." All are cordially invited. Seats free. No Collection.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST—Quincy, Alpha Hall, cor. Hancock street and Cottage ave. Morning service and Sunday School at 10.45 Subject: "Unreality." Golden Text: "In the multitude of dreams and many words there are also divers vanities; but fear thou God." Wednesday 7.45 a testimony and experience meeting. Reading room open from 3 to 5 P. M. week days, holidays excepted. Also Wednesday evening before and after services.

WASHINGTON STREET CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Quincy Point, Rev. Stephen C. Lang pastor. 10.45 Morning Worship, Special Easter Service Sermon by the pastor Subject: "The Easter Message." 12 noon, Bible school. 4.00 P. M. Bible School Easter Concert. 6.30 P. M. Y. P. S. C. E. Thursday 7.30 P. M. People's Hour Service. Public cordially welcome.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH—Franklin Street Rev. C. C. Tilley, Pastor. Residence 20 Richie Road. Preaching Service at 10.30 A. M. Subject: "Proving the Resurrection." Sunday School at 11.45. Christian Endeavor meeting at 6. Subject: "Conquering Discouragement." Leader: Mr. Fred Beaulieu, Scripture: Psalms 27:1-14. (Consecration meeting.) Evening Service at 7. Subject: "Where is He Now." Communion Service will be held at close of Sunday evening service. Regular prayer meeting on Thursday evening at 7.30. All cordially welcome.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Water and Quincy Streets. Rev. Clarence E. Campbell minister. Residence 95 Quincy Street. Telephone Quincy 884 W. 10.30 Morning Easter Service with a sermon "The Challenge of Easter" by the pastor. 11.45 Sunday School perfecting an organization of the men at the meeting of the Men's Class 3 P. M. Children's service with a story by Mr Campbell. 6 Christian Endeavor Easter Service. Evening service at 7.00 Subject: "Something God cannot do."

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Corner of School and Pleasant streets. Rev. D. B McLeod, M. A., pastor. Residence 40 Bradford St., Preaching by the pastor at 10.30 and 7.30 Morning Subject: "Home Missions." Evening Subject: "Easter Message." Sabbath school and Bible class 11.45. Junior Endeavor at 3. Senior Christian Endeavor at 6.30.

HALL PLACE M. E. CHURCH—West Quincy. Rev. P. S. Noldon, pastor, Residence, 12 Hall Place. Morning service at 10.30. Farewell sermon by the pastor. Topic: "The Value of the Resurrection." Sunday School at 11.45. Epworth League omitted. Easter Concert by Sunday School at 7 P. M. Junior League Monday at 6 P. M. Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7.30 P. M. Leader: Mr. A. D. Stewart. All are welcome.

ST. PAUL'S SWEDISH M. E. CHURCH—Corner Granite and Fort Streets Quincy, Rev. A. E. Hillman, pastor. Residence 121 Glendale Road. Morning service at 10.30 Subject: "The Triumph of Life." Sunday School at 12m. 7 P. M. The chorus will render a Cantata "A Morning in the Orient." This will be the pastors Farewell Sunday in Quincy.

SWEDISH BAPTIST CHURCH—Brewers Corner Rev. Paul Hallin, pastor Residence 101 Glendale Road. Sunday school 9.30 A. M. Classes for all ages. Easter Sermon by the pastor at 10.45 A. M. Extra singing, 7.00 P. M. The Sunday School will render its Easter program. Special offering will be taken at this service. Strangers are cordially invited to attend.

SWEDISH MISSION CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH Garfield street. Rev. A. G. Sporrong, pastor. 14 Euclid avenue. Tel. Quincy 1482-M. Sunday school at 9.30 A. M. Young peoples class led by the pastor. Morning service 10.45, sermon by the pastor. Subject: "The Message of the Easter Morn." 5.45 Communion. 7 P. M. Easter Musical service.

SWEDISH LUTHERAN CHURCH—L. Hokenson pastor; residence 28 Cottage St., Phone Quincy 1545M. Easter Morning service at 10.30. Subject by the pastor "Easter Joy."

PARK AND DOWNS CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH — Beach street and Rawson road, Wollaston, Rev. William B. Ayers pastor. Special Easter Service 10.30 A. M. Easter Exercises by the Sabbath School at 4.00 P. M. Evening service by the pastor at 7 P. M.

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL — Corner Lincoln and Winthrop avenues. Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, Ph. D., pastor. Res. No. 30 Marion street, Tel. Quincy 1116 M. Sunday Morning Children's Hour in the Vestry, in charge of Miss Lucile Smalley. A service for small children whose parents are attending Morning Worship. Kindergarten classes in charge of Mrs. Charles P. Hutchins. Mixed Bible class led by Dr. Sneath. Morning Worship at 10.45, sermon by the pastor. Subject: "Our Coming Life." John 12:26 Sunday School at 12.15. Mr Charles A. Campbell, Supt. Women's Bible class led by Mrs. A. A. Lincoln. Junior Christian Endeavor at 3.30. Topic: "A Story about Two Houses." Leader: Elizabeth Carpenter. Intermediate Endeavor meeting at 4.30 Topic: "Easter." Leader: Philip Moores Y. P. S. C. E. at 6. P. M. Topic: "Conquering Discouragement." Regular Midweek service on Thursday evening at 7.45 conducted by Dr. Sneath Subject: "A Walk to Emmaus Luke 24: 13-35. All seats free, and all are cordially invited to attend these services. Come and help and be helped.

ST. CHRYSOSTOMS EPISCOPAL CHURCH—Hancock street. Wollaston—Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra, rector, residence, the rectory. 523 Hancock street. 7.00 A. M. Holy Communion. Morning prayer, Holy Communion and sermon at 10.30. Sunday School service at 4. Evening prayer and address 7.30.

MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Atlantic Rev. Thomas W. Davison, pastor. Morning service 10.45. Sermon by the pastor Theme: "The Easter Message." Sunday School at 12 M. Easter Concert by the Sunday School at 7.00 P. M. The public cordially invited to all services.

ATLANTIC M. E. CHURCH—Corner Newbury avenue and Squantum streets. Rev. C. Pollard, pastor. Residence 19 Wesley Street, Newton Phone 1467 W. Easter service by the pastor at 10.45 A. M. Sunday School Easter service at 6.30 H. A. Cassidy Supt.

FIRST CHURCH OF SQUANTUM—Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor. Easter Concert by the Children of Squantum at 3 P. M. A cordial welcome to all.

TO LET
Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.
Dandy bungalow in E. Braintree for sale: small pay't., bal. as rent: see this at once.
Houses
H. F. McIntire
Greenleaf Blk
Tel. Quincy 1665-W.
Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.
1-1 yr.

EAST BRAINTREE

Mrs. Bernard of Bedford, N. H., mother of Mrs. A. P. Watson of Quincy avenue was the guest of her daughter over the week end.

Charles W. Matthews has moved from the Vinton house on Liberty street to H. F. Jordan's tenement on Commercial street.

Charles O. Miller has sold his lot on Clinton street to Herbert C. Poore and ground is already broken for a bungalow.

John F. Clinton of Stetson avenue, who has been ill with the grip for the past two weeks is still confined to his home.

Mrs. Simon Rideout and Mrs. John Crane of Shaw street were the guests this week of Mrs. Nathaniel Nash of Andover.

Mrs. Marston of Worcester, nee Alice Stevens, with her two children, is visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. James Stevens on Liberty street.

James Mallon is moving with his family from Braintree to one of George R. Dobson's houses on Bowditch street.

Mrs. Joseph Harris, formerly, Miss Georgie Elliot, now living in Randolph, is visiting her mother Mrs. Elliot of Hayward street.

Tommy Smithers has moved from his home on Cotton avenue to the house formerly occupied by Mrs. Ashworth on Shaw street.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Spear entertained Mr. and Mrs. George Hawes of Woonsocket, R. I., a few days this week, while their son Theodore was home.

Miss Esther Nelson has accepted a position with a prominent lawyer in the Old South building, Boston.

Miss Kate Fraizer of Hobart street has accepted a position in one of the Lynn shoe factories.

It has become absolutely necessary to enlarge the garage on Edward Ludden's property on Shaw street. Mr. Ludden's Ford car has proved so satisfactory that his father, George E. Ludden has purchased a second car to use in his real estate business.

Mrs. Hilda Smith and daughter Ruth of Jamaica Plain were the guests Tuesday of Mrs. William D. Aitken of Shaw street.

On the Sunday after Easter Albert Fraser of Shaw street is to be married to Miss Edna White of West Quincy. The couple will take up a residence on Hobart street and will make there a home for themselves and for the younger brother and sister of Mr. Fraser.

KEEP POSTED ON THE PEOPLE'S WANTS — CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING — WHY WORRY LET THESE ADS LIFT YOUR BURDEN

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Furnished housekeeping rooms. Apply 26 Elm street, Quincy. 3-3t

TO LET—In Atlantic, house 8 rooms, bath, large attic, set tubs, modern plumbing, large yard. H. L. Coe, 137 Billings street. 3-1t

RENT REDUCED—Half house at 31 Bigelow street in first class condition; good neighborhood and convenient to everything. Bath, laundry, furnace coal range, shades, screens, gas etc. Apply at 33 Bigelow street. 1-tf

TO LET—At 33 Bigelow street, Quincy, a desirable house of eight rooms with improvements. Ready for occupancy about April 15. Apply on premises. 1-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 5 rooms and bath. Rent $16.00. Lower flat of 5 rooms with improvements. Rent $14. Near station and cars. Apply at 59 Hall Place, West Quincy. 31-6t

TO LET—New flats, Quincy Point, four rooms and kitchenette, hot and cold water, set range, gas, separate cellars, low rent, Germain avenue, cor. Washington street. Small families only. Good neighborhood. E. R. Stone, 12 Avon Way. Ready April 1st. 31-6t

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house, 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2 Quincy or 110 South street, Boston, Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET— Two or three fine front rooms, furnished, everything needed for light housekeeping. Gas range separate bath. Good neighborhood, near centre. Write J. J. Ledger Office. 29-6t

TO LET—Upper and lower flats 91 and 93 Revere road 4 and 6 rooms and bath. To small families, $20 and $18. Fred M. Torrey, 25 Spear St., Tel. 202-1 Quincy. 27-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 5 rooms, one attic room and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. 97 Goddard street, near Quincy Adams Station. 15-tf.

TO LET—Tenement of three rooms $7.50 per month. Good place for hens. James Moorhead, 28 Curtis street. Tel. 599-1. 15-tf.

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Merrymount Road, near High School. Upper tenement 7 rooms Bath Gas and Electricity. All improvements. Apply A. W. Parker 87 Merrymount road. Tel. Quincy 258-1. 4-1mo.

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

Russell Park

House 7 rooms and bath. Cemented cellar, large attic, furnace, coal and gas ranges, electric lights, open fireplace. All improvements, sunny and very attractive, fine residential street. Immediate possession. For key apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 18-tf

TO LET

TO LET—Large Colonial house, containing 13 rooms, finely situated, ample grounds, one minute walk to centre. Would make an ideal Inn. Write N. D. Ledger Office. Apr. 3-7-10 3t

TO LET—Large front room, sunny, airy, with heat, electric lights, bath and all home comforts. Suitable for one or two gentlemen. Three minutes walk from City Square. 34 Chestnut street, corner Foster street. House formerly occupied by Dr. Davis 2-3t

TO LET—Furnished room, $3.00 a week to two young men or 2.50 a single man. A very pleasant room facing Edison Park on Massachusetts avenue. Apply 44 Massachusetts avenue. 2-3t

TO LET—5 rooms and bath, furnace, gas and electric lights. Also small furnished suites for housekeeping. 5 minutes walk from the square. Address Miss Spear, 118 Granite street 2-3t

TO LET—Half house of six rooms and large laundry to adult family, conveniences, large garden. Rent $20. Apply to George H. Newcomb, 21 Adams Bldg. or M. M. Newcomb, 39 Gay street or phone 1990 Quincy. 2-tf

TO LET—At 100 Upland road, furnished rooms in private family. Apply 100 Upland road. 1-3t

TO LET—Upper flat, 7 rooms, all conveniences, 112 Upland road. Apply on the premises or 20 Adams Building. 31-tf

TO LET—House of 7 rooms and bath on Russell Park. All improvements and very attractive. Immediate possession. For further details enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 4 rooms and bath in two-family house in Quincy Centre. Just right for a couple desiring a cozy sunny home with every convenience. Electric lights, furnace, gas stove, etc. Ready for occupancy. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—With private family, centrally located, a room suitable for one person, modern conveniences, and rent reasonable. Write Ledger L. M. B., or call Quincy 1796W. 30-6t

TO LET—Two front rooms, furnished, suitable for two gentlemen. Separate bath, good neighborhood, near the centre. Write W. W. Ledger Office. 29-6t

TO LET—Quincy centre, 18 Faxon avenue, modern suite, 6 rooms and bath. Every improvement. Three minutes from R. R. station. Telephone 414-M. Weymouth. 25-tf

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements. 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 13-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Adjustable Acme dress form, cost $15 2 months ago. Will sell cheap. Tel. 158-5 Quincy. 3-3t

FOR SALE—Twin 7 H. P. Indian Motorcycle in first class running order. Price $75.00 Can be seen at Thomas Nelson's, 20 Granite street, Quincy. 1-3t

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E. R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-tf. L P.

FOR SALE—400 loads of dark heavy loam cheap located at Dysart street. Apply to J. Coughlin of Coughlin & Donovan, 1475 Hancock street. 24-12t

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

WANTED

WANTED—2 or 3 furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Must be central and convenient. Write C. B. Ledger Office. 3-1t

WANTED—Men in all localities; $20 weekly; permanent position showing samples. Large mail order house. Outfit free. Highest references furnished. American Grocery Co., Port Huron, Michigan. 3-1t

WANTED— Experienced stitchers on power machines, work on silk, waists, plenty of work and good pay, those that have worked on sewing machines by power are wanted. Apply 192 Granite street, Quincy. George G. Bean. 30-3t eod

WANTED—Dressmaking either to go out to customers or at home 7 Park street, South Weymouth. Telephone 425 Christin Nelson. 20-10t S. and W

WANTED — Experienced young women as waitresses. Apply at Thompson's Cafe, Quincy Square, Quincy, Mass. 30-6t

PROOFREADER. A young Woman experienced in proofreading is wanted at the Ledger Office. If not experienced but well educated and possessing natural ability application will be considered. Address letter to Miss Prescott, Ledger Office, Quincy. 24-tf

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

MISCELLANEOUS

I Have A Contract To Distribute A Million Free packages Soap Powder, with soaps and want reliable men and women to help. $15.00 weekly. Waverly Brown, 730 N. Franklin, Chicago 3-1t

ELECTRICAL SPECIALTIES, UNEQUALLED, EXCLUSIVE, ORIGINAL Fine commission, literature, advertising help. With little capital fortune possible. The Sterling Corporation, 1273 West Third Street, Cleveland, O. 3-1t

FURNITURE and PIANO moving, packing and storage. Wm. D. King, 106 Centre street. Tel. 21003. 8-1mo.

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage. Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

TO LET
After May 1, Store or Stores No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.
Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x65 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Dursin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.
GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.
HALLS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.
Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for E. F. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 2006) Quincy

Read Ledger Advs.

All NEW Bicycles at KINCAIDE'S

Not a single bicycle here carried over from last year. But a splendid assortment of New Wheels just in fresh from the factory. Come and see them. All are high grade wheels which we gladly guarantee. Some are finished in fancy enamels with beautifully colored head. Some have oil proof, some non-skid tires. All have coaster brakes. Every wheel here is absolutely dependable. You want that kind. COME

We are Agents for IVER JOHNSON WHEELS

Price $25 and up. Easy Payments if you wish.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.

The Store of Quality and Service 1495 Hancock St.

BUILDINGS ARE GOING UP DAILY

Inspector Thomas Issued 32 Permits During Past Week

Some idea of the building activity that is now on in the city may be gleaned by the number of building permits issued each week by the inspector of buildings. The past week has been particularly busy in this line for up to this noon 32 permits had been issued, many of which, it will be noticed by the following list, are for new dwellings. The permits of the week were as follows:

George E. Smith, dwelling, Herbert street.

Christopher F. Brown, two dwellings, Conant road.

Edward S. Tenney, garage, Prospect street.

William Edwards, dwelling, off Germain avenue.

Arthur L. Boyden, dwelling, Flagg street.

Alice E. Thayer, dwelling, Washington street.

G. B. Bates, garage, Baxter street.

Mary A. Harvey, addition, Harvey avenue.

John Kanninie, garage, Brooks street.

Lorenzo Cary, small building, Brofield street.

Wilton A. Dunham, remodel dwelling, Bay View avenue.

E. F. Parlee, dwelling, Division st.

Mrs. Sophia A. Taber, addition, Bell street.

George A. Wetmore, addition, Ring street.

William H. Preston, dwelling, Cherry road.

H. W. Porter, addition, Edgemere road.

Mrs. Thea Rund, dwelling, Beach road.

H. M. Faxon, dwelling, Elm street.

Henry M. Faxon, two dwellings, Whitwell street.

Clara M. Johnson, alteration, Newport avenue.

Thomas H. Dowd, Tr. alteration, Parkhurst street.

Ellen M. Perry, alteration, Winthrop street.

Victor J. Hallsworth, dwelling, Squantum street.

Charles A. Jones, dwelling, Edwin street.

Janet Paterson, dwelling, Independence avenue.

A. Lloyd, garage, Oneida street.

James Donahue, alteration, Watkins street.

Russell Goldsmith, dwelling, Sea st.

R. J. Pierce, addition, Rock Island road.

Harriet H. Connor, alteration, Crosby road.

Ellen M. Perry, alteration, Winthrop street.

L. C. Merrill, dwelling, Highland avenue.

PLACES WOMAN UPON PROBATION

Mrs. Plaudio Jacobucci of Water street, one of three women of Quincy charged with the unlawful practice of medicine, pleaded nolo Thursday. Judge Avery placed her on probation until March 31, 1916, with the understanding that if she did not refrain from further violation a fine of $100 would be imposed.

INQUEST IS CONCLUDED

Judge Avery closed the inquest on the death of five year old Elmer Marble of South Weymouth this morning and will make his finding to the office of the district attorney next week. The little boy died at the Boston Hospital Sunday night as a result of injuries received when struck by the auto of Arthur McGilvray of Quincy.

CONDEMNS DRUGS

Some Temperance Drinks Are Scored By Speaker.

The use of heroin and other drugs in the manufacture of cough medicine was condemned by Dr. Adelaide Abbott, state superintendent of medical temperance, before the Quincy branch of the W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. Laura Tirrell of 49 Upland road Friday afternoon.

Dr. Abbott also spoke of the widespread use of drugs and said that white slavery and the drug habit were related. She also discussed the manufacture of drinks served at soda fountains and was vigorous in her condemnation of several of them. Her entire discussion, lasting several hours pointed out how necessary it was to pass the recent national bill regulating the dispensing of narcotics. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

The finance committee of the City Council held an executive session Friday evening at which Mayor Campbell and Commissioner Brown were present.

BRIEFS

The Harmony club will hold its regular business meeting Sunday afternoon in St. Mary's hall.

Mr. Joseph McNealy and family of West street have moved to Payne street.

Irwin Millard of Whitwell street is confined to his home by a slight attack of the measles.

James Barry of Whitwell street returned Thursday from the Bahama Islands. Mr. Barry left Quincy last October and went to New York sailing from there to the Islands. He says the weather down there at this time is very cold.

The whist committee of the Quincy Catholic club has arranged for a matinee whist party in Colonial hall next Saturday afternoon. The plans for the Ladies Night on April 29 will be completed at the regular meeting next Thursday night.

A special musical program has been arranged for Easter Sunday at St. Mary's church. In the evening Solemn Vespers will be sung at 7.45 P. M. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Joseph H Murphy of St Johns Seminary, Brighton. The services will close with the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Right Rev. Bishop Joseph G. Anderson of Boston will administer the Sacrament of Confirmation in the three Catholic churches of the city during the month of June. On Sunday June 20th he will be at St. Mary's, on Saturday, June 26th he will be at the Sacred Heart church, and the following Sunday at St. Johns Quincy. It is estimated that over 600 will be confirmed in the three churches.

DISMISSES COMPLAINTS.

The larceny charged against six Holbrook boys, alleged to have stolen bowling balls, were dismissed in the district court this morning for lack of prosecution. Maurice Blank, the complainant, who is also defendant in a charge of selling cigarettes to the same minors, was not present. He has been defaulted and Chief Crooker of Holbrook claims to have information which will lead to his being located.

IDENTITY UNKNOWN.

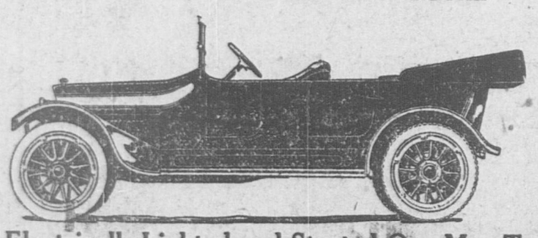

The body of the man who was drowned in Blacks creek Friday before a resuce could be effected by Patrolmen Cahill and McNamara is still at the morgue unidentified. A description of the body has been sent to all the nearby cities and towns.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank our many relatives and friends for the many acts of kindness shown to us in our recent bereavement and for the beautiful flowers.

MRS. CHARLES NICOL and family
3-1t

THE 1915 REO IS HERE

Electrically Lighted and Started, One Man Top Increased Wheel Base, 34x4 Tires, Crown Fender, Improved Upholstering, Increased Power.

	F.O.B. Factory		F.O.B. Factory
4 cyl.	$1050	2 ton Truck	$1650
6 cyl.	$1385	Light Delivery 1500 lbs.	$1075
4 cyl. Runabout	$1000	Light Delivery Chassis	$1000
4 cyl. Coupe	$1575

Reo the Fifth - - the Incomparable Four is on Display at our Garage. Call and see This Car.

Ask for Demonstration

CENTRAL GARAGE and SUPPLY CO.

Corner Washington and Pond Sts.

QUINCY

Tel. 1035 W C. W. Hodgkinson, Prop.

16-1mo.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

WANTED—At once an experienced woman to do sewing, 227. North Central avenue, Wollaston. 3-1t

BIRTHS

MORRISON—In Braintree, April 2, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Alva Morrison.

SHEPPARD—In Elizabeth, N. J., April 26, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Sheppard of this city.

DEATHS

STOKES—In Quincy, March 31, Prudence H., wife of Gilman M. Stokes, 70 years. Funeral services at the Methodist Episcopal church, Beale street, Wollaston, Sunday at 3 o'clock. 2-2t

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service

1453 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

UNDERGOES A SEVERE TEST

Performance of Submarine L-1 Satisfies Her Designers.

DIVES IN CAPE COD WATERS

Under Perfect Control as She Reaches Depth of Two Hundred Feet—Capable of Remaining Under Water For Two Days—No Indications of Weakness Anywhere

Provincetown, Mass., April 3.—The submarine torpedo boat L-1, built by the Electric Boat company for the United States navy, was tried off Cape Cod, and she gave entire satisfaction to her designers.

This boat is one of the Holland type, which was built at the yards of the Fore River Engine company, Quincy, Mass., and is one of a group of four which were authorized by congress in 1913.

The government requires that these boats shall be submerged to a depth of 200 feet, that they shall be capable of staying under water at rest for forty-eight hours and shall make fifteen nautical miles an hour on the surface and seven nautical miles when submerged.

It was an ideal day for the trial and the new craft left the Fore River shipyard under her own power and made the run across Plymouth bay very satisfactorily. There is plenty of deep water off the cape, and this course for speed trials as well as for the submarine tests is regarded as the best on the coast.

The new L-1 ran out to the deep spot and then without any preparation began to make her dive. She started slowly and under perfect control, and gradually settled in the water until she was down 200 feet, according to the instruments on board, which register the depth of submergency.

Then she rested and allowed the full pressure of the water to thoroughly test the construction of the hull, and while she rested the engineers carefully inspected every part of the vessel and particularly those parts where there might be any signs of strain.

The submarine stood the test well. There was no indications anywhere of weakness and not a single drop of water was taken in at any of the seams or joints.

After staying submerged for some time and until the engineers were well satisfied with the performance of the boat she came again to the surface and then proceeded under her own power back to the Fore River yard.

HORN TO HAVE HEARING

Habeas Corpus Writ Sought In Federal Court at Boston

Boston, April 3.—Habeas Corpus proceedings were started in the United States district court in behalf of Werner Horn, under arrest in connection with the dynamiting of the international bridge between Canada and Maine on Feb. 2 last.

The petition for the writ of habeas corpus, which is signed by Horn, alleges that he is deprived of his liberty without due process of law and that the order for his commitment to Cambridge jail, where he is now lodged in default of $10,000 bail, is null and void.

Judge Morton issued an order of notice for a hearing on Monday and United States Marshal Mitchell agreed to produce Horn in court on that date so that he may be heard.

ENGINEER KILLED AT POST

Express Train Runs Wild Until Controlled by Fireman

New York, April 3.—With its engineer dead at his post, the Knickerbocker express, bound from Boston to New York on the New Haven road, ran wild for nearly a mile just outside this city last night. The train was brought in by the fireman, who jumped to the throttle as the body of the engineer fell into the cab.

Engineer McConville had leaned out of the electric locomotive after passing Woodlawn when another passenger train struck him, killing him instantly. The noise of the impact attracted Fireman Greszer, who stopped the train and later brought it to New York.

McConville was 48 years old and had been in the New Haven's service thirty years.

SEIZURE OF CANNED BEANS

Southern Product Injures Reputation of Real Boston Variety

Boston, April 3.—The superiority of Boston baked beans, whose ancestry can be traced back to the Mayflower, was demonstrated once again when United States Deputy Marshal Huhl seized more than 5000 cans on complaint of the pure food inspectors.

The southern beans were baked and canned in Baltimore and shipped here for use in the Boston market. To add injury to insult, the beans were specked or spotted, and the government charges that they were adulterated by decomposed beans among them.

L-4 FINALLY IS LAUNCHED

The United States submarine L-4 was launched at the Fore River shipyard this afternoon in the teeth of one of the worst spring storms the city ever experienced. Clouds of snow swirled about the craft as she sped on her way toward the water and as she settled in the heavy sea, kicked up by the 50 miles gale which swept the coast, there was no blowing of whistles or cheering.

The only witnesses to the event were the officials of the Electric Boat Co. and the workmen. The submarine was to have been launched Wednesday. She was christened by Mrs. Florence L. Gardner and started at good speed but after sliding a boat length she caught on the ways Heavy screws were applied and she was jacked up and new coatings of grease applied to the ways.

The second attempt to launch her was made Thursday and the craft again caught after going another boat length She was again jacked up and more grease put on the ways.

This afternoon the blocks were knocked from under her for the last time, heavy hawsers cut and she finished the remaining distance without incident. The boat entered the water at 1.23 o'clock.

CLEAR UP MYSTERY.

The mystery of the disappearance of Carl Waldecker of the firm of Waldecker Brothers, florists, of 37 Sampson avenue Braintree who had not been heard from since last July, was cleared up today, when his brother Herman Waldecker, received a letter from him stating that he is with the 14th German Army Corps, and for five months past has been in Arras. France living most of the time in trenches nine feet underground.

BRADY RETURNS.

M. J. Brady, the pro of the Wollaston Golf club is back after a Southern trip. The jaunt was the longest taken by any of the golfers the past winter. Weather interfered with many of their engagements. Brady came back heavier. He was joined at New Orleans by Gilbert Nichols who went through Denver and other cities with him.

SOUTH BRAINTREE

Dr. and Mrs. L. Paul Chapin are spending this week in New York.

Mrs. Roger Lakin of Tremont street has been ill with a severe cold this week.

Miss Marion Howland, a teacher at the Braintree high school has been spending her vacation in West Newton.

Chief Tenney made a quick response Tuesday evening to a telephone call that little Fred Rand of Franklin street, was lost.

Employees of the highway department have been at work on Fountain and Prospect streets, South Braintree Heights.

The Tango club met Thursday evening at the home of Miss Hazel Lothrop, French avenue. Whist was played, followed by music and refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Keene of South Hanson and Mrs. John Cooper of Providence are spending the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Simonds of Franklin street.

C. S. Hannaford has rented the house at 301 Pond street, owned by Rev. Joseph Kyte to Mrs. Dollof of Dorchester and has sold a new bungalow and two lot of land on Fountain street to William J. Dranin of Everett. Mr. Dranin and family will move at once to their home.

The four allied patriotic societies will hold a joint celebration of the 50th anniversary of Lee, next Friday evening. The exercise, to which the public is cordially invited, will take place in Memorial hall at the Town house and several prominent speakers are expected to be present.

While playing ball on French's common yesterday forenoon, Earl Bridson the 7 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Bridson of Taylor street was struck on the nose by a bat which slipped from the hands of a comrade. He was taken home in an unconscious condition and Drs. F. R. Dame and C. A. Sullivan were called. They found that his nose had been broken and his face bruised. At last reports he was resting comfortably.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Henry L Kincaide & Co.
J. Szathmary.
Nathan Ames.
David Baer
Chas. C. Hearn.

FOR THAT EASTER DINNER

welcoming in the glad spring time, and bidding good-bye to winter we would like to supply your groceries. We need no introduction to most people in this town, but we want to bring to your special attention at this season the well kept line of groceries we carry. The prices are just as satisfactory as the goods.

EASTER HAMS

Armour's Famed Star Brand light salted, mild cured, sizes from 9 to 18 lbs. - - 17c. lb.

FRESH EGGS

Fancy Western,	23 and 25c doz.
New Laid, Nearby,	30c doz., 3½ doz $1.00
Swift's Bacon, strip - - - - -	18c lb.
California Asparagus, large bunch - -	37c
Sweet Navel Oranges - - - -	23c doz.
Large Juicy Grape Fruit - - -	4 for 25c
Jello, 8 different flavors - - -	3 Pkgs. 25c
Welch Grape Juice, pints - - -	23c bottle
Snider's Chili Sauce, pints - - -	19c "
Van Camps Baked Beans, large can - - -	17c
National Biscuit Co. Graham Crackers,	3 Pkgs 25c
Carnation Milk, large can - -	3 cans 25c

OUR SERVICE AT YOUR SERVICE

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980

FOY'S 2 STORES

WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

NEW THEATRE MAY SOON BE BUILT HERE

Report Places Building Opposite Kincaide Theatre

The prospects are that the very near future will see work commenced on the erection of another theatre at the corner of Hancock street and Revere road, on the lot at the northerly side of these two corners, owned by Fred B. Rice and known as the Hodges lot.

Mr. Rice has recently purchased through the office of James F. Burke & Co., a lot of land on Mechanic street and it is said that the house on the Hodges lot will be moved to this site and that the new theatre will be located on the Hodges lot.

Since the Auditorium theatre was declared unsafe and its further use prohibited, it is said that Mr. Ericson the manager of the theatre has been seeking a new location near the site of the Auditorium, and it is not improbable that the new theatre will be occupied by him.

There was a large attendance Friday evening at the preparatory service for communion Sunday at the Wollaston Baptist church. A short business session of the standing committee of the church was also held.

Good Spirits

can only be enjoyed by those whose digestive organs work naturally and regularly. The best corrective and preventive yet discovered for irregular or faulty action of stomach, liver or bowels, is known the world over to be

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

WE have the largest and most complete stock of Oriental Rugs in Boston and can always show you a greater assortment than you can find elsewhere.

JOHN H PRAY & SONS CO

646-650 Washington St., opp. Boylston St.

All Goods will be Delivered Free at esidences in Quincy

REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY

Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 80 QUINCY, MASS., MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 5, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

OBSERVANCE OF EASTER SUNDAY IN CHURCHES

Big Congregations Attend Services Throughout City

Although the weather Sunday was such as sorely to disappoint those who had planned to appear in their new Easter finery it did not prevent large congregations from being present at all of the churches of the city. It was noticed however that instead of the light and flimsy Easter gowns, fur wraps were the rule. The weather man was kind and as promised the sun came out during the morning so that overhead the skies were clear.

Elaborate Easter musical programs were given in all of the churches and Easter lilies were used in abundance in the floral decorations

Easter this year also brought several changes in the pastors of the Quincy churches. Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott Bethany church who it was announced several days ago had received a call to a church in Roxbury, read his letter of resignation at the evening service.

Rev. A. E. Hilliman of St. Paul's M. E. church preached his farewell sermon as did also Rev. Percy S. Neldon of the Hall place M. E. church at West Quincy.

Three pastors preached their first Easter sermons in Quincy. They were Rev. William Grainger of Christ Episcopal church, Rev. Clarence E. Campbell of the First Presbyterian church on Water street and Rev. Michael J. Owens of St. Johns church.

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL.

Capacity audiences attended the services at the Bethany Congregational church Easter Sunday. There was special music both morning and evening the choruses being assisted by Mrs. Emma S. Moore, soprano, Albert L. Hayden, bass, Edith Roubound, violinist, and Agnes B. Ruggles at the organ. Because of the weather which tied up the transportation service Mrs. Gertrude B. Worster, alto and Eugene Murphy, tenor, both of Weymouth were unable to attend the rehearsal Saturday evening and hence did not participate Sunday morning. They sang two selections in the evening. The girl's choir assisted. The special music will be repeated next Sunday, at which Mrs. Worster and Mr. Murphy will participate. The pulpit platform was prettily decorated with ferns and Easter lilies.

In the morning the pastor preached on "The Answer to Our Hopes. "He pointed out that it was not understanding the gospel of Jesus Christ to consider it a preparation for death, rather it was a preparation for life. Right living, in accord with the gospel which He preached, meant a fearlessness toward death, a sublime confidence that life was not all in vain and that the soul would live when the sun and the moon and the stars grew dim, and that it would not lose its identity in an all embracing, impersonal God. The strongest proof of immortality he contended was the aspiration for it by all peoples in all ages and by the fact that a man never quite finished his task on earth. The dreams and ambitions which he had were never fulfilled when death came. There would come another life in which the fulfillment might be accomplished.

In the evening the pastor spoke to a congregation which filled every available seat, taking for his subject, "Ready to Live."

The Sunday school gave a concert after the regular morning service. The Knights of King Arthur attended in a body and gave a responsive reading and sang an Easter anthem. The Girl's Choir gave a selection. Miss Stockford's class gave a recitation. The Primary department gave a selection as did Miss Murray's class. The Junior Auxiliary chorus which sang at the morning service, assisted in the singing Mr. Willmott gave a short address.

The C. E. meeting was in charge of the Citizenship committee with Wesley P Beckford, leader. The speaker of the evening was W. Magwood of Boston and his talk on "Good Citizenship" was most helpful and instructive Miss Williamina Laing and Miss Edith Avery sang an Easter duet. During the meeting the society songs were practiced in preparation for Norwood.

FIRST PARISH.

The First Parish pulpit was beautifully decorated with Easter lilies and other floral offerings on Sunday

(Continued on page Three.)

MUSIC HALL
Wednesday, Apr. 7, 1915
8 P. M.
Y. M. C. A. Dramatics
Personal Direction
ERASTUS OSGOOD
Music by
Wollaston Cadet Band Orchestra
Reserved Seats
50, 35 and 25 cents
April 1-6t

Chartered April 8, 1889.

THE WOLLASTON CO-OPERATIVE BANK
26th ANNUAL REPORT
April 1, 1915.

ASSETS		LIABILITIES.
Cash on hand	$43,334.02	Dues Capital	$898,396.00
Real Estate Loans	1,015,750.00	Profits	177,137.59
Share Loans	36,570.00	Forfeited Share Account	2.00
Suspense	2,461.03	Guaranty Fund	14,400.00
Personal Accounts	156.38	Surplus	8,335.84
	$1,098,271.43		$1,098,271.43

SHARES FOR SALE IN NEW SERIES
DIVIDEND AT RATE OF 5½%
NO FORECLOSED PROPERTY ON HAND

President, Herbert T. Whitman — Vice President, Frederick H. Bishop

DIRECTORS

Charles S. Adams, Thomas Fenno, Nathan G. Nickerson, George E. Thomas, Charles W. Bailey, Amos T. Leavitt, Albert G. Olney, George Weston, Clifton H. Baker, Charles A. Macfarland, George D. Woodbury, Walter S. Pinkham, Charles F. Wilde, Sidney F. Copeland, Arthur Murphy, Rufus W. Poole

For Information, Shares or Loans, Apply to BRANCH OFFICE, 930 Old South Building, Boston. Telephone, Fort Hill 4335.
HERBERT W. PINKHAM, Treas. 307 Newport Avenue, Wollaston, Mass. Telephone, Quincy 750.

NEW SHARES BEGIN WITH APRIL MEETING APRIL 20.

5-1t L 10-1w P

TRIP TAKES 23 HOURS

Took Nearly Day For Car to Come From Brockton

It took "Al" Trumbull, one of the motormen of the Bay St. St. Ry Co., 20 hours to get back to Quincy with his Brockton car as a result of the storm.

Trumbull took the 4.20 P. M. Brockton car out Saturday, five minutes late Snowed in rails caused delay after delay but Brockton was finally reached. He commenced the return trip several hours late and before reaching Holbrook several derailed cars and the spreading of the track held him up. He was forced to leave his car for the night. The hands of the clock pointed to 3.30 when he pulled into the local barn Sunday afternoon.

QUIETLY OBSERVE 50th ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Pinel of 52 Water street spent Easter Sunday quietly observing the 50th anniversary of their marriage. The anniversary date fell on Friday but the couple made no mention of it to their many friends, who learned of the matter Sunday and joined in a quiet observance of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Pinel were married on the Isle of Jersey and have been residents of Quincy 30 odd years. Mr. Pinel is a blacksmith by trade and followed that work until a few years ago. Mr. Pinel is in his 73rd year and his wife is 75 years of age. They are the parents of Mrs. William Martin of Water street.

VIOLATION OF PROBATION.

Judge Gives Mrs. Finkleman Another Chance.

Rebecca Finkleman, a Quincy Point resident, was arrested on a default warrant in the district court this morning, charging her with violation of her probation, the records showing she had not paid a $50 fine imposed last fall for violation of the liquor law.

The defendant was one of several women spectators in the court, and she was taken into custody at the close of the Russian case.

Inspector Goodhue, when questioned by the judge, said he was preparing again to raid the boarding house she conducted and that despite the order of the court that no liquor be allowed on the premises it had been delivered there.

When asked his wishes in the matter Inspector Goodhue recommended clemency because of two little children both of whom are less than five years of age and dependent on the mother.

Judge Avery asked further questions and ordered the default vacated and the execution of sentence again deferred until June 30, with the understanding that she would report weekly to Probation Officer Fahy.

MRS. ANGELA D. WOODMAN.

Mrs. Angela D. Woodman, widow of William O. Woodman, died Sunday at her home on 14 Royal street. The deceased was in her 86th year and leaves a niece surviving her. The body will be taken to New Bedford for burial Tuesday.

George F. Spooner, owner of Spooners auto exchange has taken the agency for the powerful and silent Jackson motor car in conjunction with E. F. Prior of Wollaston.

We are pleased to announce to the public that we have our Full Line of SPRING and SUMMER SUITS
on hand for your approval.
Or we will take your order for a custom made suit at a very reasonable price.
Dressmaking, Cleansing, Pressing, Dyeing, etc.
Orders promptly filled.
MADAME SARKIN
Granite Ladies' Tailoring Co.
Tel. Con. 1463 Hancock St.
5-3t

REV. HILLMAN BIDS FAREWELL

Preaches His Last Sermon Easter Sunday

Rev. A. E. Hillman for the past two years, pastor of the St. Paul's Swedish M. E. church, preached his farewell sermon on Easter Sunday. Since his settlement over the St. Paul's church there has been a renewed interest among parishioners and the church has been steadily growing and the people of the parish much regret that Mr. Hillman is to sever his connection He will be succeeded by Rev. Newton Lundstrom of Jersey City, N. J., who is expected to assume his charge this week and will preach his first sermon next Sunday.

ANOTHER DELAY FOR CENSUS TAKERS

The census enumerators were unable to start their work this morning owing to the delay in getting the supplies from Boston. The supplies were expected Saturday but had not arrived up to noon today.

STORM ENFORCES REAL PROHIBITION

Prohibition became effective in a small way in this city as a result of the storm. Motor trucks and double express wagons, held up by the storm until it was late when they reached the city, prevented many deliveries.

The first loads of intoxicants arrived about six o'clock but the horses were stabled immediately. The trip from Neponset bridge was a slow one an extra horses were necessary. Other wagons passed through City square at regular intervals, the heavy consignments of liquor adding to the difficulties of the trip.

It is estimated that several hundred people who expected to have a cold bottle with their Easter repast were obliged to do without it.

AUTO ACCIDENT.

A. N. LaBrecque dented the rear end of his auto at noon when in trying to turn around on Saville street he brought up against a telegraph pole. The machine stuck in a snow bank and could go no further.

CHARLES HATCH.

Charles Hatch died at his home in New York Sunday of pneumonia. He leaves a widow and two daughters. He is also survived by his mother, Mrs. George F. Hatch who is 88 years old, and two sisters and a brother all of whom live on Irving place.

POLICE WIN AFTER LONG, FIERCE BATTLE

Three Officers Arrest Eight Men In House After Real Fight

Five of eight Russians arrested after a fight in a boarding house at 43 Grafton street, Sunday evening, were fined $15 each on charges of drunkenness by Judge Avery this morning, four of them were fined $20 for disturbing the peace, the case of the proprietor, charged with maintaining a liquor nuisance, was continued and the cases of two others, charged with drunkenness, were continued to Friday.

The men were arrested after as fierce a pitched battle as the police were ever obliged to wage. The police were called to the house by frantic neighbors who thought that the inmates were engaged in a death struggle. On their arrival there was noise enough to accompany a bombardment but entrance was blocked because all the doors and windows were locked.

Inspector Goodhue forced a window and had succeeded in squeezing part way through the narrow frame when his entrance was contested by a husky Pole. During the struggle he managed to get inside. He was immediately attacked from all sides. Capt. McKay followed and the women lost no time in making him the centre of the blizzard. One woman grabbed him by the throat and with the assistance of others floored him Another Pole started to punish the captain as he was held down but Inspector Goodhue fought his way out of a gang and delivered a Jack Johnson punch. The blow landed on the point of the jaw of the Pole and knocked him out. The little finger on the Inspector's right hand was dislocated.

Chauffeur Cahill in the meantime gained entrance through the front door and the three officers placed seven under arrest after a long and trying struggle. After these had been placed in the patrol the officers went back for the proprietor. He was found hiding in a closet behind a pile of clothing and placed under arrest.

The police found one man on the floor in semi-conscious condition, with a bad gash in his head, probably the result of a bottle attack. The wound was sewed up by Dr. A. F. Bartlett at police headquarters.

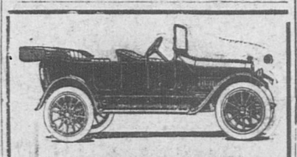

The officers said the interior of the home looked as though a bomb had been dropped from the roof. A Victrola and a score of records were shattered, two beds were broken, pictures had been torn from the walls, and fragments of broken bottles were strewn all about the lower floor.

The auto carried the arrested men to police headquarters in one trip, and it was necessary to shackle one man to prevent trouble. All resisted being taken to the cell room, most of them insisting that seven Americans who were in the place and are known to the police should be arrested also.

In court this morning the evidence was taken through an interpreter. Despite appearances all the defendants denied there had been any trouble until the arrival of the police. The only man discharged on the disturbance charge was the wounded man and he appeared with his head swathed in bandages.

The Russian women who took part in the melee, one of whom attempted to assault Capt. McKay with a hammar, were in court as spectators. Further action in the case is pending.

PRATT'S BREAD—is best because more care is used in the making. Grocers.

JACKSON Model 46
THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL. SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER
"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"
Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT
$1375
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 541

REV. B. A. WILLMOTT RESIGNS PASTORATE

Pastor of Bethany Church Asks to Be Released by May 2

The happiness of Easter Sunday was clouded for members of Bethany Congregational church, and indeed for many who had never entered the portals of the edifice, because of the resignation of the beloved pastor of the church, Rev. Benj. A. Willmott. At the Sunday evening service Mr. Willmott read a letter of resignation, stating that he had accepted the call to TheImmanuel Congregational church, Roxbury, and asking that he be relieved of his duties here not later than the first Sunday in May Although Mr. Willmott's resignation had been expected ever since the announcement that he had received the call, for it is customary in Congregational churches not to extend a call unless assured of acceptance. it was not expected before next Sunday. The pastor of a Congregational church rarely reads his own resignation, the unpleasant task usually devolving upon an exchange pastor. As an exchange had been announced for next Sunday it was expected that the resignation would be read at that time. Indeed, such had been Mr. Willmott's original plan.

The pastor felt. however, that the feeling of suspense was too great for the people to be forced to endure and he admitted Sunday evening, before he read the letter of resignation, that the strain was too great for him, too.

Mr. Willmott goes to one of the largest churches in Greater Boston. The position is one requiring great ability, the pastorate being considered as in the nature of frontier work for the Congregational church in this part of the country, and Mr. Willmott was urged by leading Boston clergymen to take up the work. The call from the church itself was unanimous. The salary is understood to be in excess of $4000. Mr. Willmott's salary in Quincy was $2500 and the parsonage.

The pastor of Bethany preached his first sermon in that capacity on Easter Sunday three years ago. Although his work here has extended only over this brief period it is generally acknowledged that what he has done has been little short of wonderful. Mr. Willmott was never troubled with empty pews on Sunday. The morning service found nearly every seat taken. The most brilliant feature of his achievement, however, was the Sunday evening attendance. The late comer rarely found a seat outside of the gallery and not infrequently not even there.

The loss to the city. in whose life he took so sympathetic and intelligent an interest, will be hardly less than the loss to Bethany church. In his pulpit and in private life he dealt with civic questions in absolute fearlessness. As a speaker at banquets men's meetings and similar gatherings he was greatly in demand.

Mr. Willmott was president last year of the Quincy Ministers association. He is vice-president of the Board of Managers of Woodward Institute. He belongs to no local societies, always feeling that he should devote all his time and energy to his church work.

He is a director of the Board of Pastoral Supply in Boston.

Following the regular Sunday evening service Mr. Willmott stated that he had a letter to read. He then read the following letter of resignation, addressed to the members of Bethany church.

Dear Friends:—

After three years of happy fellowship in the service of Christ in Bethany church, the pathway of duty is leading me to another field of service I wish therefore to resign my pastorate here, that I may accept a call to the Immanuel Walnut Avenue Congregational church of Roxbury, Mass.

In arriving at this decision we have been fully conscious of the importance of this step. More than once we have turned away from the call feeling it too difficult to undertake, and our unfitness for such a great task. The decision was more difficult to make, because of the unfailing kindness and patient co-operation shown by the officers and members of very department in the church. No mistrust, no bitterness has at any time marred our delightful fellowship, both the members of the church and congregation being kinder to us than we could expect or ever deserve.

During these years of service together God has most graciously blessed and prospered our united efforts, the good results have been made possible by the faithfulness of Chrisian souls both inside the church and out, many making great sacrifices that the Gospel might be made known to others.

Our faith in God's presence and our united endeavors have alike been justified by the results, our labor has not been in vain in the Lord.

Especially would I thank the deacons for the conscientious and kindly spirit shown in all our deliberations That for three years I have been your pastor and shared your joys and sorrows. is a privilege which I shall always remember with gratitude and

(Continued on Page Four.)

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Tuesday unsettled probably followed by showers.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	5.19
Sun sets	6.15
Length of day	12.56
Moon rises	1.19
High water, A. M.	4.00
High water, P. M.	4.45
Days increase	3 hrs. 50 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	54 degrees
Apr. 5, 1914,	39 degrees
Apr. 5, 1913,	46 degrees

Noon Maximum 18 years—86
Noon Minimum 18 years—30

Local Representative Wanted
by a large Boston Real Estate Office. Must be familiar with Quincy and Milton territory and values.
Write R. Ledger Office 5-3t

QUINCY SAVINGS BANK

The Annual Meeting of the members of the Quincy Savings Corporation, for the election of Trustees, and any other business that may legally come before them, will be held on TUESDAY, APRIL 13, 1915, at 4.30 o'clock P. M., at the Banking Rooms, 1374 Hancock street, Quincy, Mass.

GEORGE E. ADAMS, Clerk.
3t April 1-5-12

ADAMS SHORE
3 FINE LOTS ABOUT 200 FEET FROM BEACH
WILL SELL ONE OR ALL AT A BARGAIN
IF SOLD AT ONCE
DAVID BAER
40 COURT ST., BOSTON
TEL. FORT HILL 990
3 5-2t.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

MR. WILLMOTT'S DEPARTURE.

In the departure of the pastor of Bethany church the city of Quincy, as well as the church itself, has suffered a sad loss. Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott has been here but three years yet within that all too brief period he has made for himself a distinct and important place in the hearts and lives of his fellow citizens.

He has brought Bethany church to the highest point of service in its long and honorable career. In accomplishing this, Mr. Willmott has enjoyed, or rather earned, a co-operation and loyalty on the part of his parishioners such as few ministers enjoy. Under his pastorate Bethany church has been free from dissension, every member working loyally under his leadership for the good of the church and of the community.

As a preacher he is in the front rank. Eloquent, forcible, and yet logical and simple, his sermons have always made a wide appeal. This has been evidenced in a striking manner in the "Pleasant Sunday Evening Service," where the attendance has taxed, and sometimes exhausted, the capacity of the church. Church members, members of other churches, men and women who rarely entered any church have thronged to hear his message. Much was due to the personal magnetism and absolute sincerity of the man, much to the fearless vigor of his message.

As a pastor, he was kindly and sympathetic, always cheerful, always optimistic, always interested. He was one toward whom men, women and children would naturally turn in distress and trouble. He was a mans man, but his influence for good extended not only to men but to women and children. Some of his best work was done among the boys and girls of the church and of the city. The attendance of children at his services was strikingly large and at the morning service he always prefixed to the regular sermon a message to the younger members of the congregation.

In the life of the city itself, he always took an intelligent and sympathetic interest. A man of wide experience, of wide acquaintance with all sorts and conditions of men, he delved to the root of social problems and struck with absolute fearlessness at any evils which he found. Tolerant of the beliefs and opinions of others he enjoyed the friendship of the clergy of the city. Among his friends he numbered men and women in all walks of life, all of whom were forced to give him their sincere respect even if they could not give him an acceptance of his views.

The expression has often been used in speaking of Mr. Willmott that he was "too big for Quincy," that his ultimate departure from the city was inevitable. When the call came to go to Roxbury, he saw in it the call of duty. He felt that his work here was done, that he had passed through the rough waters and that the sailing hereafter was likely to be comparatively smooth. In the offer which came to him he saw a wider field, a difficult task which someone would have to do, and although all personal considerations would have kept him among the people of whom he had become so fond, in the city and church to which he had grown so attached, he felt that the call of duty could not be denied.

There are those who think that he should have remained here, but those who know him know that his decision, whether wise or unwise, was that which he felt was right. He responds, like a soldier to the call of duty. It will be many a day before we see his like again.

NEED FOR ACTION.

That the appropriation of $10,000 asked of the legislature this year to protect the water front at Houghs Neck, and which was turned down, was an important one was demonstrated by the storm of Saturday, when a large section of the embankment between Bell and Charles streets was washed away, leaving a section of the city sewer exposed to the elements.

The winter's storms have been gradually washing away this embankment, but it remained for the storm of Saturday to complete the job. So much of the embankment has been washed away that the commissioners department was obliged this morning to erect a fence at the foot of Bell street otherwise a person who attempted to drive around the corner onto River road would have experienced a drop of about 6 feet.

There is a sewer manhole at the foot of Bell street which is now exposed, as is also quite a section of sewer pipe, so that this morning the sewer department men were obliged to go down and cement the pipe to protect it.

Mayor Campbell said this morning that conditions at this point were serious and that something must be done immediately and that he would probably bring the matter to the attention of the city council at its meeting this evening.

Some idea of the force of the wind and tide along the shore front at Houghs Neck during the Saturday storm may be gained when it is realized that the large landing flor of Harvey's just north of Bell street was torn from its moorings and is now high and dry on the shore near the foot of Charles street.

The landing floats of the Quincy Yacht club have not been put out as yet and therefore no damage was done here and no damage was done to the public landing.

The embankment all along the water front however from the public landing toward Rock Island was more or less worn away. Unless a granite bulkhead is built along this water front it will not be long before the cottages facing on River road are undermined.

BRIEFS

The Elks installation will be held on the evening of Tuesday, April 13.

The car men's ball will be held Friday evening in Music hall

Daniel McKenna of New York is visiting his parents on Crescent street.

Mrs. S. I. Wood has moved from Alleyne terrace to School street.

John J. Joyce of St. John's Seminary Brighton, spent the week end with his parents on Hall place.

The Y. M. C. A. play "A Family Affair" will be presented at Music hall Wednesday evening.

The annual dance of the Seneca club will be held in Alpha hall on Friday evening, April 16.

The concert given under the auspices of students and graduates of Simmons College in this city will be held Tuesday evening, April 13.

Harry L. Sutton of 119 Glendale road has purchased a new Reo touring car from C. W. Hodgkinson of the Central Garage.

C. W. Hodgkinson, proprietor of the Central Garage, has secured orders for delivery this week, for a Reo Touring Car and Reo Two Ton truck.

The Misses Helen and Mary Knight of Quarry street extension spent the week end with relatives in Framingham.

Albert Willett of Hall place, who has been employed at the Mannex quarry the past two years, left Saturday for his home in Keene, N. H.

Work has been completed on the fence on Copeland street near the residence of Councilman O'Dowd. A coat of paint was applied Saturday.

James Ford of Willard street a driver for Murphy's Express Co., is recovering from a severe attack of pneumonia.

Bartholomew Flaherty of Hall place the popular janitor of St. Mary's hall is confined to his home by a felon on his finger.

The committee on fire department matters of the city council went to Boston Sunday to look at some of the American-La-France motor apparatus.

Mayor Campbell hopes to be able to get away from city business for a few days the latter part of the week, in order to make a short visit to Philadelphia.

James Allen, inspector of provisions who was operated upon at the city hospital Saturday for appendicitis, is reported as being as comfortable as can be expected today.

The meeting of the G. A. R. Relief association to have been held at city hall Saturday evening was postponed on account of the storm until next Saturday evening.

John E. Finn, sporting editor of a Manchester daily, spent Sunday with his parents on Wesson avenue. He was the star pitcher of the Adams Academy team when that team was at its best and later twirled for St. Anselm's College in Manchester.

Edward Flaherty, son of Park Officer Edward Flaherty of Barry street, has returned from the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary where he has been under treatment for the past few weeks as a result of a rifle bullet entering his eye while playing soldier with several other boys.

Malachi Mitchell of Grove street while at work cutting out the trees in the Blue Hill Reservation near Braintree Pond on Saturday was hit by a falling tree and was unconscious for nearly an hour. He was taken to his home and today is practically recovered.

CITY FEELS TEETH OF BIG NORTH EAST GALE

Snow and Wind Cripples Street Car and Railroad Service

Street and steam car service was badly crippled Saturday by the severe northeast snow storm which raged for the greater part of the day and night. The storm which began shortly before noon soon developed into a howling northeaster. It was a damp snow that made rapidly and was accompanied by a high wind that made it disagreeable to be out in.

The street cars ran on fairly good time until sundown, but by that time the snow was accumulating faster than it could be cleared from the track. The street railway's big ploughs, which had been housed for the summer season, were again brought from out and put at work but so high was the wind that the tracks filled up about as fast as they could be ploughed out. Then the cars began to run late and by early evening the regular schedule was paralyzed.

Then the trains on the steam railroad which had been running on fairly good time began to be late and by 7 o'clock trains from Boston were arriving at almost any time.

During the early evening it looked for a time as if the storm was clearing but it was but for a few minutes when it again came down in blinding sheets. People who tried to carry umbrellas to protect their faces soon lost them and there was great danger of accidents.

The attempt to carry umbrellas resulted in numerous laughable incidents. It was about 6 o'clock and a train had just arrived from Boston. A young lady came down Hancock street toward Granite street accompanied by a young man. The young man tried his best to protect the head piece of the young lady by holding his umbrella over it. When in front of the Central Building a gust of wind wheeled him about and wrenching the umbrella out of his hand dashed it up against a bill board smashing some of its ribs. Then the wind carried it into the street, still open and it began to fly along Hancock street until the corner of Granite street was reached when it turned the corner and started toward West Quincy with a crowd of young men in chase. It had not gone far before there was little left of the rain shedder but the stick.

About the same time there was a slight automobile accident at the head of Granite street, which was doubtless due in a great measure to the blindness caused by the storm. Fred Austin had just started his car from in front of the Brown's stationery store when a big touring car came down Hancock street and banged into him The result was that the front part of the touring car was somewhat smashed.

Early in the evening the street railway trolley wire at the corner of Coddington street and Woodward avenue blew down, delaying traffic on the Houghs Neck line for a time, until the emergency car could arrive and repair the break.

During the evening the large old tree in front of the residence of Charles Hall on Hancock stree blew over and as it fell it carried away a part of the piazza.

An arc light was also blown down on the Neponset bridge during the evening and as there was danger of someone coming in contact with the live wire and being injured, a police officer stood guard until the electric light man repaired the break.

There was an unusually high tide but fortunately there were but few boats in the water at this season so that no great damage was done along the water front.

The city ploughs which had also been housed for the summer were got out early Sunday morning so that by church time most of the sidewalks had been ploughed out.

The weather cleared early Sunday morning and the sun came out warm along toward noon melting the snow and making walking bad, especially at street crossings. These were in a bad condition most of the day until late when the street men had the gutters ploughed out relieving the water that had gathered on the crossings.

ORGANIZE NEW MEN'S CLUB

South Quincy Brotherhood Elects Officers

The South Quincy Brotherhood is the name of the latest of the men's clubs to be organized among the churches of Quincy. This club was organized Sunday evening at the Water Street Presbyterian church, and although the greater part of its members are affiliated with that church, it is not intended that its membership shall be strictly confined to that church as any man in the South Quincy district is eligible for membership. The club is organized along the same lines as the First Parish club, that is its aim is to promote good fellowship among the men of South Quincy and to work for the moral uplift of the city.

As with other men's clubs the plan calls for monthly meetings at which there will be a half hour social to be followed by supper, after which the club will be addressed by well known speakers. The club starts off with a membership of fifty and these officers:

President, Alexander Clark.
Vice Presidents—James Marr and Thomas McLay.
Secretary—Charles Bishop.
Treasurer—Wallace Kemp.
Publicity—Alexander Cowe.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Mead of Dimmick street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Lillian Mary Mead, to John Joseph Mahoney of West Quincy.

Peter Pastel BREAD
A bread of superlative excellence, carefully baked and wrapped in waxed tissue for your protection.
ASK YOUR GROCER

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton Director
Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
31-tf

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

Quincy E. E. GRAY CO. Wollaston
Two Stores
Tel. 327 M Quincy Reliable Groceries Tel. 1586 M Quincy

Butter, Best	30c	Quaker Oats (with china)	23c
Sardines (Norwegian Smoked)	9	Baked Beans Large Can	11
Evaporated Apples 1 lb pkg.	12	Corn 11c Value	7
Wash Powder, Large Pkg.	12	Pineapple Large can	17
Lenox Soap 3 Bars for	10	Blueberries, can	13
Olive Oil, Plagniol Bott.	23	Marmalade (Chivers)	17
Rice Fancy Head Pkg.	9	Shrimp Fancy Baratavia	11

Macaroni or Spaghetti 10c value per package 7

All Distances Are Short
BY LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE

To the merchants or the jobbers who make good trades;

To the managers who keep their forces humming at the factory or their salesmen busy in the field;

To the salesmen who arrange their tours, make appointments, or effect record sales of goods;

To the order and shipping departments of the live selling houses which save time between factories and customers;

To the executives or travelling men who keep in touch with the home office or the folks at home, when in other cities;

To the mothers and fathers who retain the home influence over sons and daughters at college;

To the men and women who do not lose track of friends and relatives in other towns.

Every Bell Telephone is a Long Distance Station
NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY
G. W. CONWAY, District Manager.
April 3-o-tw-15-12-19

CATHOLICS HOLD EASTER SERVICES

Splendor and Solemnity Mark Sunday's Program

Splendor and solemnity marked the Easter services in the Catholic churches of the city Sunday. Augmented choirs furnished the music at the masses and vespers.

The attendance was not lessened on account of the effects of the storm. The ordinary sized gatherings attended the early masses throughout the city but the later services were attended by thousands.

The Feast Day of the Resurrection was particularly significant to the people of St. John's parish for it was the first Easter since the passing of the late Fr. John J. Coan and the first in the pastorate of Fr. Michael J. Owens.

Fr. John J. Casey, senior curate, celebrated the high mass. Prof. Frank Wrigley played the prelude, the grand chorus of Guilmant and the choir sang Turners Mass of the Good Shepherd under the direction of John Mahan. Father Owens celebrated the vespers, Father Quinlan was deacon and Father Casey was subdeacon.

Fr. William J. Duffy celebrated the high mass at St. Mary's church. The choir sang Gounod's mass under the direction of Joseph Morrisette, with Mrs. Mary McKay Reardon as organist Father McCoy celebrated the solemn high vespers in the evening. Fr. William J. Duffy was deacon and Dr. A. J. O'Brien, professor of dogmatic theology at St. John's seminary at Brighton, was subdeacon. Bennett O'Brien was master of ceremonies and John Joyce thurifer. Rev. Joseph A. Murphy, professor of Sacred Scripture at St. John's seminary, preached the sermon.

Fr. R. J. McCoy, of the Oblate Fathers of Lowell was the celebrant of the high mass at the Church of the Sacred Heart. Fr. John P. Cuffe, the dean of the Catholic clergy of the city, preached the sermon. Father Cuffe officiated at the vespers in the afternoon. The soloists at the services were Miss Catherine Dolan and William Biganess. The choir was under the direction of Miss Mae Stevens, organist.

PRES. WHITON IS SPEAKER

Addresses Makaria Fraternity Sunday Noon

President Whiton o fthe city council was the speaker Sunday noon at the meeting of the Makaria Fraternity.

He spoke briefly on some of the many problems with which the city council have to deal, of the many streets which were asked to be accepted or repaired, the large expenditures of money necessary to maintain the public schools and the passing needs of new school buildings in various parts of the city.

He also took up the matter of the annual appropriation order explaining how the money was apportioned for the current expenses of the several departments of the city and the urgent need of the exercising of the most rigid economy in all departments of the city. He alluded to the many demands made upon the city council for improvements and why it was impossible to grant all of them.

SERIOUSLY ILL.

The many friends of Mrs. Walter E. Simmons of 34 South Central avenue will be sorry to hear of her serious illness at her daughter's home in Detroit, where she had gone on a visit Her husband and son John left for Detroit last Friday afternoon.

PRATT'S BREAD—the staff of life for you and your wife. Get a loaf today.

A Third Message
To the Business Men of Quincy

Prosperity and local pride are twins. They are born at the same time and grow up together. Enthusiasm for the home town is a great thing for local business men. Once developed, this feeling shows direct returns in more sales and bigger profits.

Have you ever seen a shabby town proud, or prosperous? Good paint is a powerful factor in keeping prosperity after a community has won it.

We sell and recommend
Beyer-Bauman White Lead
(Dutch Boy Painter Trade Mark)
as the base of "quality-first" paint. Put some "lead-and-oil" paint to work for you and your business. Call us up. We sell all good painting requisites.
WILLIAM WESTLAND

FOR YOUNG FOLKS

A Great Big Rooster and a Very Small Boy.

RATHER ODD PAIR OF CHUMS.

Little Farmer Boy Has a Most Unusual Pet—Puzzles and Games For Children—Various Bits of Useful Information.

Quite an odd playmate for a little boy is a big rooster, but a lad in Indiana has made a chum of the head of his father's flock of Cochin Chinas. They have been friends since the bird was a downy chicken, just out of the shell and they get along in a most amiable manner. Chickens, as a rule, are not given to such friendship, but in this instance the two youngsters practically grew up together. The rooster is perfectly tame and fearless with his little master, but is not friendly with other folks. It is well known that children have a faculty of making friends with birds and beasts that run away from grown folks. It is pretty safe to believe that the big bird will never lose his head and be sent to pot so long as he has his boy friend to guard him.

BOY AND HIS FEATHERED FRIEND.

Nail Driving Contest.

For each contestant provide a hammer, a block of wood and a supply of eightpenny or tenpenny nails. When all contestants are ready give the signal for the nail driving to begin. The object is to drive in the nails in the shortest possible time, and the first one to drive home ten nails is the winner. The head of the nail must be flush with the surface of the wood before it is considered in. This contest may be for either men or women, or for both. Any number may enter, but too many contestants scatter the attention. Usually most fun results with three contestants from each side. For those who are not expert soft wood may be provided, while hard, seasoned wood and long nails will tax the skill of the most experienced. This game, by the way, will almost certainly dispel the superstition that women cannot drive nails straight. Variation may be secured by having contests for boys, girls, married women, and so on. —Country Gentleman.

Advice For Boy Scouts.

Dan Beard in a recent letter to boy scouts published in Boy Life gives advice that appeals to all boys. He says that in the wilderness the word "carry" is out of date. You are asked to "pack a pail of water up from the spring," or to "pack a letter" to a settlement, and when you are said to be "fighting your pack" it means that you are fighting your load—that is, you are whining and complaining about your tasks. That is a performance for which Mr. Beard has nothing but contempt. He says, "Don't fight your pack, don't give in and fall down under your load and whimper like a 'sissy,' but straighten up, look the world straight in the eye and hit the trail like a man."

Riddles.

When is a man more than a man? When he is beside himself.

Why should little birds in a nest agree? Because it is dangerous to fall out.

When is a clock on the stairs dangerous? When it runs down and strikes one.

Why is a dog's tail like the heart of a tree? Because it is farthest from the bark.

Why should postoffice clerks be women? Because they know how to manage the males.

When is your nose not a nose? In winter, when it is a little reddish.

Boastful Spoon.

Said the spoon: "I am a hero.
I have beaten up the cake!
I have whipped the eggs and stirred the kegs
And made the pudding quake."

THE CHURCHES

(Continued from Page One.)

morning, which were afterward sent to those who are ill or shut in at home. The music was of the usual high order and the First Parish Quartette was ably assisted by a chorus of 20 young women of the church.

Rev. Mr. Hudson, in a powerful sermon on Immortality, disclaimed any religious interest or value in the declaration of the English Scientist, Sir Oliver Lodge, that the time would come when the fact of the continuation of personal human life beyond the grave would be established as a scientific fact. His contention was that our faith in immortality is not dependent upon scientific demonstration or physical phenomena of any kind. It belongs in the region of spiritual law, which does not violate natural law, but transcends it.

Such a faith is not unreasonable, as can be clearly demonstrated by many arguments; but it is still faith, and not knowledge. It is part of the soul's faith in God and in our kinship to Him. If that faith holds then "It follows as the night the day" that there is that within us which survives the grave and which can never die. It is most important in this age of vast intellectual confusions to keep that faith pure and free from "entangling alliances." The stupendous blunder in the past, which has led many of the leaders of Christian faith to contradict the results of scientific investigation, and which has led many leaders of scientific thought to reject the fundamental propositions of Christian faith,—as been the mutual acceptance of great fallacy that there is somenecessary conflict between science and religion, when the fact is that they occupy mutually exclusive fields of human interest; so that there never can be any conflict between them if their relationship to human life is rightly understood.

Incidentally Mr. Hudson touched upon a most interesting phase of the subject when he urged that those who do cherish a vital faith in Immortality ought not to use it merely as a consolation in time of sorrow, nor as a personal gratification of the desire for continued life; but that such faith should strengthen our sense of moral responsibility by leading each one of us to ask himself the question: "How ought those to act, speak and think who are to live forever?" Thus applied our faith would cease to be personal and would become social, thus helping to build character and promote true progress.

The Easter service of the Sunday school at 4 o'clock in the afternoon was well attended and was full of interest and enthusiasm. At the conclusion of the service each member of the school was presented with a flowering plant.

Through an error the announcement was made in the calandar that the Womans Alliance of the First church would meet Wednesday and be addressed by Mrs. Claire H. Gurney. There is to be no meeting of the Alliance this week, the next meeting being Wednesday April 14, when it will be held in the evening and will take the form of a reception to the teachers and officers of the Sunday school.

After the morning service Sunday many visited the sarcophagi beneath the portals of the church, where lie the remains of the two President Adams and their wives. On the day of the funeral of Hon. Charles Francis Adams, some of the large wreaths of roses and violets were placed on these sarcophagi, and although this was some days ago the flowers looked as fresh and were as fragrant Sunday as the day upon which the funeral services were held.

On Friday evening a neighborhood meeting of the officers of the Sunday school and teachers will be held in the social rooms of the church.

Next Sunday Rev. A. L. Hudson of the First Parish and Rev Carl G Horst of the Wollaston Unitarian will exchange pulpits

PARK AND DOWNS.

At the Park and Downs church a beautiful and delightful Easter service was held. Twenty-one people were baptized and twenty-eight were received into the membership of the church. There was also a service of baptism for infants at which seven children were baptized. Regardless of the weather large crowds attended the services and the church was filled. The service of baptism and reception of members was a very impressive scene.

The Easter decorations were in charge of the Sunday school class of Mrs. Charles Weeks. The chancel and altar were outlined in a dainty arrangement of green with white lilies.

The chorus choir sang from the cantata: "The Risen Lord." The music was especially impressive.

In the afternoon at 4 o'clock the Sunday school held a special Easter service. Songs and choruses were provided by the Sunday school and the Primary department. The Primary department's children's chorus representing over a hundred voices sang two numbers. Mrs. Charles Tanner had charge of singing. Mr. Stanley Smith representing the Young Men's class delivered a sermonette "What Easter Means." He gave a splendid representation of the young manhood and spirit of the class.

A Child's solo was sung by Miss Dorothy Waite.

The following children recited or took part in the exercises representing different ages in the Sunday school:

Catherine MacDonald, Beatrice Hurd, Mabel McKinnon, Dorothy Bishop, Ruth White, Paul Knowlton, Chester Mellish, Charles Decker, Ralph Richardson, Kenneth McKenzie, Edward Palmer, Doris Blaisdell, Theodore Bracket.

The regular evening service by the pastor, Rev. William B. Ayers was held at 7 o'clock. In addition to the three beautiful anthems by the choir was a vocal solo by Mr. Frank Dunham which was beautifully rendered, also a cornet solo by Mr. Ernest Pletsch that proved most pleasing. The organ selections by Miss Emily Bjorkman added much to the musical program.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN.

The snow outside the church did not in the least interfere with the joy and cheer of the Easter services. The floral decorations consisted of lilies, roses, azalias and a splendid array of sturdy potted geraniums, which contributed warmth and richness to the chancel. The selections by the Girls' choir, assisted by a mixed quartet, were much enjoyed. The Communion service was observed as usual in its symbolic form.

After the morning service the Sunday school held its annual Easter service in the church auditorium, consisting of Easter carols, responsive readings, prayer and a splendid story, exceptionally well told by Miss Margaret Sayward, the well known story teller of Dorchester. The children brought their annual gifts for the Children's Mission in Boston. Theodore Smith in behalf of Mrs. H. N. Thomas' class of boys, presented to the Kindergarten department two tables, the handiwork of the boys themselves. They will be much appreciated. The Sunday school presented a beautiful azalia to the superintendent in token of her most efficient services. Each child received a potted plant.

The donors of the memorial flowers which added their beauty and fragrance to our Easter joy were Mrs. Frederick Bishop, Mrs. Charles T. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Waterhouse, Mrs. Frank A. Page, Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, Mrs. George Weston, Mrs. A. W. T. Barber and W. J. Wellington.

The Quincy commandery, Knights Templar, in full regalia, attended in a body the Easter Vesper service at 4.30 o'clock. The musical portions of the service were rendered by the Schumann Quartet, the Canticle of Commemoration being especially impressive. The pastor was assisted by the Rev. Rufus Toby and Rev. Isiah Sneath.

The Young People's Religious Union held a special Easter service at 7 o'clock and listened to a fine Easter address by Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid Alliance will be held Wednesday at 2.30 o'clock. Annual reports of officers and standing committees will be given and election of officers held for the ensuing year. Tea will be served during the social hour.

The Neighborhood Conference of Sunday school workers in the Braintree, Quincy and Wollaston Unitarian churches will be held in the Quincy Unitarian church Friday evening at 7.45 o'clock.

Mrs. Eldon Howe of 312 Farrington street will open her home for a social whist for the benefit of the parish house Friday afternoon .

The annual meeting of the Wollaston Unitarian club will be held in the new parish house Tuesday evening April 13, at 6.30 o'clock. Use the Farrington street entrance.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST.

The services of the day were well in keeping with the Easter season. The pulpit was prettily decorated with potted plants and cut flowers. The pastor gave a very inspiring Easter message from the subject: "Convincing Proofs of the Resurrection."

Among other things the pastor said that the Resurrection of Jesus Christ is one of the best attested facts in all history. It is witnessed to by many persons, not by one or two or by a small company of interested followers. Scripture tells us that at least 500 followers saw Him at one time and that at the time of writing the greater part of that company were living and were able to be interviewed as to the accuracy of the statement.

The witnesses were people of at least average intelligence who had abundant opportunity to know through a period of 40 days They were people who did not naturally and easily believe but who were forced to believe it by the severest tests, for example, Thomas who doubted, and the women who went to the tomb, and the two men who were on their way to Emmaus, and again the disciples who were in the upper room.

Let us resist any attempt to belittle the real bodily resurrection of Jesus Christ.

The choir sang the anthem "As it began to dawn" and the carol "Alleluia, Christ is Risen." The Lord's Supper was observed at the close of the morning service after which the Sunday school assembled for bible study.

Mr. John E. Leavitt spoke at the Junior Endeavor meeting at 3.30 from the subject: "A Story About Two Houses."

Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.00, the subject was "Conquering Disco uragement," Psalm 27: 1-14. Selden H. Nickerson led the meeting.

At the evening service at 7.00 the pastor preached from the subject "Inspiring Lessons from the Resurrection."

The choir sang assisted by Miss Ruth L. Hardy.

Tuesday evening at 7.45, a cottage prayer meeting will be held a the home of William Arthur, 137 Hollis avenue.

Wednesday, beginning at 10.00 A. M., an all day sewing meeting, to finish up the year's work and to make Maybaskets for the old ladies at the Baptist home, Cambridge, will be held in the chapel. A mystery lunch will be served for which each lady attending, is asked to bring lunch for one person. The committee will serve coffee.

Thursday afternoon, at 4.00, the Pastor's class in the Fundamental Principles of the Christian Faith, will meet in the Chapel. Boys and girls from eleven years upwards are urged to be present. Parents are asked to co-operate.

Thursday evening at 7.45 the regular meeting for praise, prayer and testimony will be held in the chapel. All the members of the church are urged to come and help make this meeting a source of inspiration and power. Subject, "Courage."

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S.

The feast of Easter, the most glorious in the ecclesiastic year expressing the joy of the church over the resurrection of Christ, was fittingly observed at St. Chrysostom's Sunday with the usual impressive service.

At the 7 A. M. celebration the attendance was small owing to weather conditions.

The altar was beautiful with its appropriately embroidered white silk hangings, and vases filled with Easter lilies. Laurel and jonquils decorated the rood screen. On each side of steps leading to the chancel were potted plants.

The church was filled at the 10.30 service. The rector, Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra, delivered a forcible sermon, his text being: "I am He that liveth and was dead, and behold, I am alive for ever more." Rev. 1-18.

"Is there life after death? God himself answers this question of universal interest. He answers it by the Easter message of resurrection and life.

Any message may either be accepted or rejected. The Easter message depends upon the state of mind—whether receptive or not—of those who hear it. From the very first many believed but some doubted.

"But why should there be any doubters today? For faith in Christ's resurrection which is the pledge of ours, depends not alone upon the evidence of history; it depends even more upon our own personal experience which is the strongest possible witness. Men and women today have personal experience of and personal relations with the risen and living Jesus. We believe, therefore, most of all because we feel and know.

"Before the resurrection as a fact questions of method sink into insignificance. Christ is risen and man rejoices because he knows the fact by personal experience with Christ. This personal relationship with Christ is the goal set before Christian people. It is won through will, effort and prayer. Being won, the Christian becomes a witness of the resurrection and in himself reaffirms the Saviour's own assurance; I am He that liveth and was dead; and behold, I am alive for evermore."

The special musical program by the vested choir was under the direction of Herbert Y. Follett, Mrs. Jeannie M. Follett soloist, Miss Louisa Allison Ross, organist. It was well rendered and in keeping with the occasion. During the offertory the anthem "Break Forth in Joy" was sung.

The children of the Sunday school had their carol service at 4 P. M. Lenten mite boxes were brought to this service which was in charge of Herbert F. Price, the superintendent. The rector, Mr. Steenstra gave a brief talk on the meaning of Easter morning, emphasizing the words "Come and see, go and tell." Each child received a flowering geranium.

At 7.30 evening prayer and a short address followed.

In accordance with an ancient and beautiful custom of the church there was a service of Holy Baptism on Easter eve at 4 o'clock.

CHRIST CHURCH.

Rev. William E. Grainger preached his first Easter sermons as rector of Christ Episcopal church Sunday.

In the morning he preached on the "Living Saviour" and said the lesson of Easter is a lesson of the risen Lord who is for us a living saviour and not a dead one—a living hope in this world in whom, if we have any faith in the hereafter, we must believe.

At the children's service in the afternoon he told the story of Easter. The children presented a Lenten offering of $60 for missions. Potted plants were distributed. In the evening, Rev. Mr. Grainger preached on "Peter, Before and After the Resurrection."

There was a large attendance. Today Easter Monday, and tomorrow, Easter Tuesday, holy days of the church, are observed as Holy Communion Days.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH

Rev. Merrill C. Ward pastor of the Universalist church, took for his subject on Easter Sunday "The Heaven We Hope For". The pulpit was decorated with handsome Easter lilies and there was a special musical program by the choir which was augmented by Miss Angela McCarthy who sang "He is risen" by Sullivan. A session of the Sunday school followed at 4 o'clock and in the evening there was a meeting of the Young Peoples society.

HALL PLACE M. E.

Rev. Perry S. Neldon preached his farewell sermon at the morning service at the Hall Place M. E. church, Sunday. He took for his subject: "The Value of the Resurrection." His text was taken from the Gospel of St. Matt. 28—7, "And go quickly and tell His disciples that He is risen from the dead."

The disciples of Jesus had been overwhelmed by the incidents that had just taken place. The week in fact had been a strenuous one for those men. It had been a week filled with so much of excitement so much of sadness, so much of gloom and despair that it is a wonder that those men stood it as well as they did. But they were soon to have something added to their life and experience that would restore their confidence in the Christ and bring more fully to them the realization that Christ was just what He had professed to be, the Saviour of the world.

There are three reasons why we should value the resurrection. First: It guarantees our future life. Had Christ remained in the tomb what hope would the Christians today have of eternal life? It is only through our belief in the risen Christ that we can have any hope or any anticipation of a future life for ourselves. But because Christ lives, we shall live, and because of the living of that Christ in the world and because of his power in the world He can help men and women and children today to come into newness of life.

Second: It furnishes us a new power for holy living. Of ourselves we cannot do it and for the individual that has no hope of the future life, has no belief in the risen Christ, there is no power to help that individual to the kind of life God wants them to live.

Third: This resurrection shows our Redeemer to be now living. One of the saddest things about the heathen world has been that they worship something dead. But this belief in the resurrection of Christ, when we believe it, gives to us a living Christ not a dead Christ that was laid yonder in the sepulchre but a Christ that is living and means something to the world today.

At 7 o'clock the Sunday school gave their Easter Concert. The church was prettily decorated with the royal colors, cut flowers and Easter lilies. The program was pleasing and well rendered and showed the faithful work of the committee.

Anthem "Awakening Chorus" Choir
Recitations:
"What does Easter mean?" Russell McKay
"Filling the Easter basket" Miss Bessie Nicholls class
"Hiding the Easter Eggs." Miss Edna Burke's class.
Song "At Calvary" Choir
Recitation:.
"An Easter Chick" Eliot Loud
"The Anchor" Mrs. Badger's class.
Dialogue, "From a Young Man's Point of View," Mr. Neldon's class
Song "Joy to the World." School
"Easter Bells" Wm. Trask
"The Lattice" Miss Hilda Francis' class
Song "Bring Peace to My Soul" School
"Around the World" Mrs. McNeill's class
Song "All hail Immanuel" Choir
"Little Brown Girl and I" Myrtle Williams
Tableau "Near the Cross" Mrs. Badger's class

THE BIG FIGHT.

In view of the great interest in the prize fight in Havana today between Johnson and Willard, the Ledger will bulletin the result.

The reasons for Certain-teed Roofing

Every buyer needs the proper assurance, when he pays for the best quality, that a second or third quality will not be delivered. The market is flooded with too many brands. Some manufacturers with poor facilities too often meet competition by cutting quality. Some wholesalers buy any old quality, put their labels on it, and say it is the best. Our Certain-teed label is backed by the written guarantee of the world's largest manufacturer of asphalt roofings. It gives each buyer the assurance wanted, and our unequalled facilities for manufacturing enable us to sell it at a very reasonable price.

These are the reasons for Certain-teed Roofing

Come to our mills and see how we make the goods. We know that our Certain-teed Roofing is the best quality that we can make. It's the best quality that can be made to last and remain waterproof on the roof. It is made with that one purpose in view. We also make cheap grade, poor quality roofings to meet the demand for very temporary roofs, but the Certain-teed label goes only on our best quality, longest life product. It is the grade which carries our Company name and endorsement and guarantee—1-ply 5 years, 2-ply 10 years, 3-ply 15 years.

If you want the right quality and want to be sure you are getting what you pay for, insist on the Certain-teed label. The price is reasonable. No one can tell the quality of a piece of roofing by looking at it. The man is not living who can take three kinds of roofing of different qualities and tell with any degree of accuracy the length of time each one will last on the roof. He cannot tell their relative values by looking at them. Why take the chance of guessing, when you can get the safest guarantee on the best quality goods at a reasonable price.

If for any reason you do not care for the highest quality—if you want a temporary roof, we also make goods sold at the lowest price on the market, because we have unequalled facilities, and are making approximately a third of the entire asphalt roofing and building papers of the whole world's supply. Our facilities enable us to beat all competition on price goods as well as on Certain-teed quality.

The difference between the total cost of the goods, the freight, the laying etc., between quality goods and price goods is insignificant. It is a much better policy to cut out the guessing and let the manufacturer of real responsibility insure you on all the vital points. He knows what he puts into the goods and what they will do—you can then insist upon getting everything as represented.

General Roofing Manufacturing Company
World's largest manufacturers of Roofing and Building Papers
New York City Boston Chicago Pittsburgh Philadelphia Atlanta Cleveland
Detroit St. Louis Cincinnati Kansas City Minneapolis San Francisco
Seattle London Hamburg Sydney

LET'S BOOST BUSINESS

Less Politics — More Prosperity

We have had enough starvation business—enough of political "cure-alls" of every party, with their smashing and busting—enough of politicians who promise economy and honesty in order to get into office and then practice unheard of extravagances and then play for votes or party rather than for principle and right, etc. The cost of living is not going down. Let's go after good times and make enough money to pay for the cost of a living, whatever it may be. We don't want cheap living—we want good business and good times for everybody and if we all pull together we will get them.

The game of the politician is to promise everything. Many of them ought to be prosecuted for fraud on account of the difference between what they promise and what they deliver. They're worse than the business man who over-advertises the quality of his goods. Let the business interests, from the laborer to the superintendent, from the office boy to the president, from the hired man on the farm to the owner of the farm, remember that they have a common interest in good business and a square deal in business. Stop listening to the fakers and let's boost ourselves back into good times. It can be done. No more knockers and false prophets are wanted. We are going to be too busy to listen to any except those who promise "good business" legislation.

JOHN J. GALLAGHER, 230 Water St., Quincy Adams

The Sunnyside Dairy.

Pure Milk and Cream delivered at your door in clean, shiny bottles. Recommended by the leading physicians of Quincy, Braintree and Weymouth. We solicit your trade. Order by telephone Wey. 103 W or write F. T. JONES, P. O. Box 14, Weymouth.

Cattle and Barn inspected by Dr. Abele of Quincy.

March 5-eod-1m

CONSULT ME

I can tell you your Past, Present and Future, advise you in your Business, tell you who are your friends, and help you recover lost articles. Private Readings Daily $1.00. Circle Readings Tuesday 3.00 and 8.00 P. M.. Developing Class Thursday 8.00 P. M.

Mrs. S. V. Odiorne
8 Mechanic St. off Revere Road
Tel. 1923 M or 327 M

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

The funeral of Mrs. Kazia Petterson was held Saturday morning at the Church of the Holy Spirit (Episcopal,) Mattapan. Rev. Allan Taylor, rector of the church, officiated and burial took place at the Milton cemetery. Mrs. Petterson is survived by her husband and one daughter, Constance.

Easter services at the First Baptist church were largely attended. The church was beautifully decorated with blue and white and Easter lilies. In the morning the pastor's sermon theme was: "A Present Resurrection." The anthems sung by the choir were: "Christ the Lord is Risen Again" by Bohannon. "Saviour like a Shepherd Lead Us" by Bickmore, "Love Divine" by Judefind. There were six baptisms preceding the sermon. The Woodsum Class and S. S. met at 12 M. with 151 present. Awards were made by Supt. James H. Leatherbee to t hose having perfect attendance for the first quarter. Miss Olive Bishop led the C. E. society meeting at 6 o'clock her subject being: "Conquering Discouragement." At 7 o'clock the S. S. gave its annual Easter concert. The church was filled to its capacity, several people were unable to secure seats. The songs and recitations given by the pupils were the best that have been heard here for several years. Following the concert there were eleven baptisims.

Easter was observed at the East Congregational church with three services. At 10.30 A. M. the pastor, Rev. John M Trout, delivered a prelude sermon for children on: "What's in a Name." The sermon theme was: "An Easter Discovery." Twenty-five new members were received into the church following this service. The S. S. met at 12 M. At 3.30 o'clock a communion service was held The S. S pupils gave their annual Easter concert at 6.45 The songs and recitations were excellently rendered.

Miss Eleanor Weightman, the girl evangelist of Boston, is to conduct services at the First Baptist church next Sunday evening.

Kenneth D. Johnson and Parker B. Field Jr., recently hiked to Providence R. I., a distanct of 45 miles

Miss Bena G. Erhard has returned to her home on Washington street after spending a week with Miss Christine L. Lewis of Springfield, Mass.

The old barn on Mr. Charles Gardner's estate, Adams street, collapsed Saturday night because of the heavy snowfall. This building was probably the oldest in town.

Rev. Forshee, pastor of the Berean Temple, of Dorchester, will speak at the First Baptist church Tuesday evening.

NOTICE

The Board of Park Commissioners will hold a meeting in the Council Chamber, City Hall, Wednesday, April 7th, at 7.30 P. M. to issue permits for the several Playgrounds. Managers of athletic organizations desiring permits are requested to attend.

IRA M. WHITTEMORE, Secretary
March 30-6t

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING
WALL PAPER FOR SALE
KUSTAA RASANEN
121 Copeland St., West Quincy
Tel. Con. 19-tf

SNOW HALTS GRASS FIRES

Department Kept Busy Just The Same

The unexpected snow storm which visited Quincy Saturday will put a stop for a time at least, to the calls upon the fire department to extinguish grass fires. Before the storm commenced in earnest Saturday the central station auto chemical went out on two still alarms for grass fires on Federal avenue.

While the storm was raging at 3.10 the auto and chiefs car responded to a telephone call for an accident case on Johnson avenue, an account of which will be found elsewhere.

At 4.38 an alarm from Box 113 gave the fire department a two mile run in the teeth of the storm. The men on the auto chemical lay face down on the apparatus to protect their faces from the storm, but it was tough on the driver of the apparatus. The auto had no difficulty in ploughing its way through the snow but it was a hard pull for the horse drawn apparatus which responded.

The fire proved to be in a cottage at 633 Sea street occupied by C. A. Fisher and was caused by an overheated stove. The fire was quickly extinguished and the damage will not exceed $50.

As soon as the auto apparatus arrived and it became known that the fire was out, Chief Billings sent the auto back to stop the horse drawn apparatus, which it did near the Adams farm.

The fire was discovered by William E. Abbott, the hero of a thousand snow storms, who was motorman on a street car snow plough. Abbott and the crew of the plough rushed to the house and, broke down the door and found two red hot stoves. They went to work to extinguish the flames while a police officer ran to the fire alarm box and sounded the alarm.

At 10.55 Saturday night an alarm from Box 26 called the central station and Wollaston apparatus to a fire in the Chinese laundry of Hing Kee on Saville street. The fire which was caused by an overheated stove did but little damage.

The alarm from Box 435 at 11.38 Sunday morning was for a chimney fire in a house on Filbert street occupied by an Italian family.

CATCHES HAND IN MACHINERY

Woman Phones Firemen Who Rush to Aid

Saturday afternoon the fire department was called out on a still alarm for what proved to be an accident case on Johnson avenue. There is a small garage on the avenue where the automobile of R. W. Warriner, chief engineer at the Fore River is kept. Saturday afternoon his 23 year old son Pervin started to clean the machine. He was beneath the car when his right hand became caught in the moving gears. He was unable to get his hand out of the gears or to stop the machinery and he was in a perilous position.

His groans were heard by a woman in a nearby house who thought that a fire had been started and she promptly telephoned the fire station. This brought Chief Billings and the auto chemical. The firemen quickly stopped the engine of the car and although it was a painful job they managed to free the young man's hand.

He was taken to the office of Dr. W. Porter Pratt where it was found that three of the young man's fingers were badly crushed and the physician was afraid that one of them would have to be amputated.

IS THIS TRUE?

An alleged conversation in one of the department offices at city hall.

How much are marriage licenses?

They are $1.

I have only fifty cents.

Well, you are lucky.

Do not fail to see the Hollis School Minstrels at Bates Opera House, East Braintree, Monday evening April 12 Chorus of 35 voices. Funny end men. Specialties and solos. An evening of fun. Tickets 25 and 35 cents on sale at Hearn's drug store.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

AUSTRIANS ARE FALLING BACK

Meet With Reverses a Hundred Miles From Vienna

RUSSIANS IN GREAT FORCE

Troops Released From Siege of Permysl Reinforce Armies in the Carpathians—Attempted Invasion of Russian Territory by Austrians Meets Complete Failure In Bessarabia—German and British Merchant Steamers Sunk—Fighting on Small Scale Continues In the West —Turkish Cruiser Reported Sunk

London, April 5.—A big Austrian retreat before huge masses of reinforced Russians is under way in the Beskid range at the extreme western end of the Carpathians.

Vienna officially admitted that her troops were falling back in this section, which is on the Hungarian border, 100 miles from Vienna and about 150 miles from Budapest. Heavy fighting has been going on in this region for some time, the objective being the Jablunka pass, the chief route between Silesia and Hungary, and carrying the railway from Breslau to Budapest.

It seems probable that after the Russians break through the Jablunka pass they will make a swift advance over the Hungarian plains toward Budapest, the capital city, rather than toward Vienna, which, although geographically nearer, is cut off by the southward-trending range of the West Carpathians.

Austria Admits Defeat

The extent of the present Russian advance is as yet unreported. The Austrian war office simply concedes the retreat of its forces, saying it was caused by the presence of large Russian reinforcements reaching the battle lines from Permysl.

Further to the east there has been furious fighting on both sides of the Dukla pass, where the Russians have had a footing on the Hungarian foothills ever since January. The Austrian official statement is far from as hopeful as usual and declares that at this pass the Russians have thrown great masses of reinforcements into the battles in the Ondova and Laborcza valleys.

Vienna claims that numerous attacks of the Russians broke down with heavy losses, but the tone of the report indicates that all is not well with the Austrian armies.

This is borne out by an official communique from Petrograd, which records victories at several important points along the Hungarian frontier.

Russians Report Great Success

While the retreat of the Austrians is not specifically referred to, it is stated that the Russians have gained a "great success," particularly in the sector north of the roads leading to Bartfeld, and also in the region between Mezolaborcz and Lutoviska, on the Hungarian side of the mountains in the vicinity of the Dukla pass. During this fighting more than 2000 Austrian prisoners were captured, besides some artillery.

The Russians have won another important success in Bessarabia, where the attempted invasion of Russian territory by Austrian forces has met complete failure. A severe battle was fought in the direction of Chotin, in which the Russian cavalry, while on foot, attacked the Austrian infantry with bayonet, sabre and lance. The Austrians were completely routed and fled across their frontier, where they are reported to be entrenching.

Quiet In Other Places

In nearly every other arena of the war Easter Sunday will go upon record as being one of the quietest days since the hostilities began.

On the sea reports were received of the sinking of two merchant vessels. One of these was a German steamer, the Grete Hemsoth of 1550 tons, which struck a mine in the Baltic and went down with the loss of twenty-five of her crew. The other was the British coasting steamer City of Bremen from Dublin, which was sunk by a German submarine off the Cornish coast, four of her crew being lost.

Of land fighting there was a dearth. Russia reports a victorious cavalry charge against German forces on the road between Kalwarya and Suwalki, in the Niemen river district of northern Poland, the retreating Germans still being pursued.

In the west the Germans took a small village on the western bank of the Yser canal from the Belgians. The French occupied the village of Regnieville, west of the forest of Le Pretre, marking another step toward cutting off the German wedge before Verdun, in the Meuse valley.

No word comes from the Dardanelles, where the allied fleet is strengthening itself for new attacks which will probably include the use of land forces.

In the Black sea, according to a semi-official Russian report, the Turkish cruiser Medjidieh has been sunk by a mine.

Serbia Protests Bulgarian Raid

Interest in the international situation centres in the Bulgarian raid into Serbia. Although no official action has been taken, it is hinted that the Bulgarian government will disavow the action. Serbian dispatches assert, however, that Bulgarian, Austrian or German officers were in command of the irregulars who participated in the raid, and opinions in diplomatic circles differ as to its meaning. Serbia has demanded that Bulgaria punish the raiders.

GERMAN ADMIRALTY HOME.

Berlin Headquarters, From Which All Naval Orders Are Issued.

Photo by American Press Association.

SAYS HE IS INNOCENT

Swoboda Appeals to American Ambassador For Protection

Raymond Roi Swoboda, held prisoner in Paris on the charge that he had been acting as a secret agent for Germany, has appealed to the American government for assistance, declaring that he was born in San Francisco in 1881, and that he has never forsworn his American citizenship.

Swoboda has written a letter to American Ambassador Sharp, declaring he is innocent of the charge against him. He asserts positively that he had no design whatever of blowing up the Touraine.

Apparently Swoboda is ignorant of the other accusations lodged against him by the French authorities, that he had military maps in his possession and that papers seized in his apartments revealed that he was in correspondence with the Germans.

ALMOST READY FOR WAR

Editor-Statesman Thinks Italy Will Take the Plunge This Month

Giuseppe Bevione, editor of the Turin Stampa and also a member of the Italian chamber of deputies, says he has a deep conviction that Italy will begin war against Germany and Austria before the end of April.

Bevione said Italy's military preparations are almost complete. The Italian government, he declared, was not waiting for a decisive battle in favor of the allies, but desired to become engaged in the war before such a battle, as Italy would then be in a position to realize her aspirations in accord with the allies.

He added that it was not possible for Austria to satisfy these aspirations, because, in part, they concerned the Mediterranean.

HAD ARMS FOR TURKEY

Thirty-Five Men Drown as Austrian Steamer Blows Up

Thirty-five members of the crew were drowned by the destruction of an Austrian steamer which blew up in the Danube after striking a mine near Ritopek, according to a dispatch from Nish.

The character of the wreckage has given rise to the belief that the steamer was especially armor-plated and loaded with a large quantity of munitions and artillery supplies destined for Turkey.

The wreck of the steamer was carried by the current within range of Serbian artillery at Ritokep. Another explosion followed the bombardment of the hulk and the wrecked vessel sunk.

IMPRISONED AND FINED

Man Who Enlisted In French Army Proves to Be German Officer

A French court martial sentenced to four years' imprisonment and a fine of $300 Wilhelm Schonberg, who at the outbreak of the war enlisted in the Foreign Legion as an Alsatian, giving the name of Willy Schoberg.

It is stated that Schonberg's actions aroused suspicion, and, though no act of espionage on his part was detected, he was brought before the court martial, where he refused to answer any questions.

It is said that the fact is established that he was born in Darmstadt instead of Alsace and that he is an officer in the German army.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Morris Drohan of Crescent street is recovering from a slight attack of the grip.

The St. Mary's C. T. A. and M. R. society will hold the annual Easter Monday dance in St. Mary's hall this evening.

Rev. Andrew J. O'Brien, D. D., professor of Dogmatic Theology at St. John's Seminary, Brighton spent Easter with his parents on Crescent street.

The street railway resumed work this morning erecting a line of iron trolley wire poles on the East side of Hancock street, between Granite and School streets.

The window in the office of the clerk of committees at city hall was smashed by the storm of Saturday night.

Meetings of the committees on licenses and legislative matters of the city council have been called for 7 o'clock this evening, before the council meeting.

The Men's club of the Swedish Lutheran church on Garfield street are to hold a concert on Patriots' Day in the church. The program will consist of orchestral, organ and vocal selections and readings.

Sarah, the six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kurlansky of Water street, returned Friday from the Homoeopathic hospital where she has been ill with scarlet fever the past seven weeks.

Painters commenced work today painting the interior of the West Quincy Fire station. The whole building is being renovated. The chimney, which was taken down last week, is being rebuilt.

Dock and Water Front Commissioner Frank Fessenden Crane is to speak at the hearing before the committee on ways and means of the legislature Tuesday on the bill for the improvement of the Taunton river, on the line of the proposed Brockton and Fall River canal between Fall River and Bridgewater

The Harmony club held its regular meeting Sunday afternoon in St. Mary's hall. The cottage committee reported that it was considering several cottages but had not decided its choice The entertainment committee reported a large sale of tickets for the clubs annual dance, which will be held in St. Mary's hall Wednesday evening, May 5th.

MRS. MARTHA J. PERRY.

Mrs. Martha J. Perry, widow of Joseph W. Perry of East Milton, died at her home Easter Sunday in her 53rd year. She was a well known resident of that town. The funeral will take place Wednesday.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

GREAT MASS OF PROOF

Reports of 30,000 Cases of Kidney Trouble, Some of them Quincy Cases.

Each of some 6,000 newspapers of the United States is publishing from week to week, names of people in its particular neighborhood, who have used and recommended Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney backache, weak kidneys, bladder troubles and urinary disorders. This mass of proof includes over 30,000 recommendations. Quincy is no exception. Here is one of the Quincy cases.

Charles J. Somers, barber, 17 Newcomb street, Quincy, says: "I had a lame back and weak kidneys for ten years. Nothing ever relieved me until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They soon restored my kidneys to their proper working order and corrected the other ailments. I publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills after they helped me so much and I have watched their effect in other cases since. I use Doan's Kidney Pills off and on and I wouldn't be without a supply."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Somers had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Arthur B. Foster
CARPENTER and BUILDER
14 Bay View St., Quincy Point
Telephone Connection 31-1m

Prescott Apartments
For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service, Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

EDWARD J. FECAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
8.30 A. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK
QUINCY.

TIRES
Of Every Description
BUY A KELLY SPRINGFIELD TIRE
You will have the Best tire made.
BUY A LEE PUNCTURE-PROOF TIRE
You can ride without fear of punctures or blow-outs
BUY A DIAMOND SQUEEGEE TREAD TIRE and you get something more in service, than what you pay for.
BUY THEM HERE
You get Service, Saving and Satisfaction, all the time.
We also carry Goodrich, Goodyear, Fisk, Firestone and other makes of automobile tires.
WE are one of the largest Automobile Accessory dealers in Norfolk county.
Bring your Tires and Tubes Here, and have them Vulcanized right
F. W. BENT
1056-1058 HANCOCK ST., QUINCY TEL. 501-M

Protection in Fencing
If you need fencing, wire stretchers or fencing pliers you will find a large variety in our assortment. Now is the time toput your fencing in order, and this is the place to go for assistance.
Whether you are making poultry a business or not, you will probably need an abundance of netting. Right here, we wish to state that we carry the very best grade and in various widths, which we can furnish at extremely low prices.
Come in and look Our Stock over.
L. Grossman & Sons 37 FEDERAL AVE.
Near Quincy Adams Depot Tel. 979-R

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1030 or Main 414

REV. B. A. WILLMOTT

(Continued from Page One.)

pleasure. I must now ask you to unite with me in calling an Ecclesiastical Council, at your earliest convenience, to examine the facts presented and dissolve the pastoral relation not later than the first Sunday in May.

The generous gift you gave us at New Years we have returned, but we shall retain the love, of which the gift was such a splendid expression, among the most precious memories that will ever refresh our souls. We shall always rejoice in the prosperity of Bethany church. May God in His goodness use us all for the glory of His great name.

Benjamin A. Willmott.

Quincy, Mass., April 4, 1915.

Mr. Willmott was born in a suburb of London, England, where his mother, seven sisters and two brothers still reside. He was educated in England and came to this country in 1890, entering Bangor Theological seminary, graduating in the class of 1896.

In 1536 he was married to Alice Lowell Upton, daughter of Elisha Upton, editor of the Bath Times of Bath, Maine, and the same year was ordained to the Christian ministry in Lee N. H., over which church he was installed for four years, his only child, John Frederick, being born there.

In 1900, Mr. Willmott was called to the pastorate of the Congregational church in Townsend, Mass., where he remained for over five years and in 1906 was called to the pastorate of the First Congregational church in Lowell. The church which had been sorely crippled by a division, prospered under his ministry and a debt of fourteen thousand dollars was paid.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter-s Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER-S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S
Tel. 1847-W Quincy

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To all persons interested in the estate of Martha J. Brown, late of Randolph, in said County, deceased:
Whereas, Henry R. Scott, the administrator with the will annexed of the estate of said deceased, has presented for allowance, the first account of his administration upon the estate of said deceased. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County, on the 14th day of April, A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be allowed. And said administrator W. W. A. is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to all persons interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.
Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire Judge of said Court, this 19th day of March in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.
J. R. McCOOLE, Register
3t April 3-5-12

Russell Park
House 7 rooms and bath. Cemented cellar, large attic, furnace, coal and gas ranges, electric lights, open fireplace. All improvements, sunny and very attractive, fine residential street. Immediate possession. For key apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 18-tf

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

CARPENTER AND BUILDER
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
All Work Given Prompt Attention
W. R. LOFGREN
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 386-3

Fashion's Fancy Now Lightly Turns To the Straw Military Chapeau

BROWN MILITARY TOQUE.

At every showing of advance models you will see the military hat advanced to a place of importance. It is, of course, only an adaptation of the headgear of the military that femininity assumes. Tommy Atkins' cap has been featured, and the highland cap has had its day. More conservative models are demanded by ordinary women. This military toque of brown straw is worn straight on the head, with little of the hair showing between the hat and the eyebrows. A band of brown velvet finishes the bottom of the toque, with two soft feather fancies placed upright at the center of the front.

When You Move In.

In cleaning a house just vacated use a good amount of carbolic acid.

If any of the drains from sinks and washbasins seem to be clogged they can be cleansed with washing soda. A lot of it should be crumbled into the pipe and boiling water poured over it.

If doors and windows and drawers stick rub their edges with soap. If hinges of blinds or doors squeak anoint them with oil.

Surprise Tables.

Rainy days in the nursery are likely to prove long and uninteresting, and mothers gladly welcome any form of "indoor sunshine."

The best toy devised for such times, when the small child tires of playthings, is a "rainy day table" and a little chair decorated in scarlet. On the table are "surprises"—to make one happy when it rains.

Airing Mattresses.

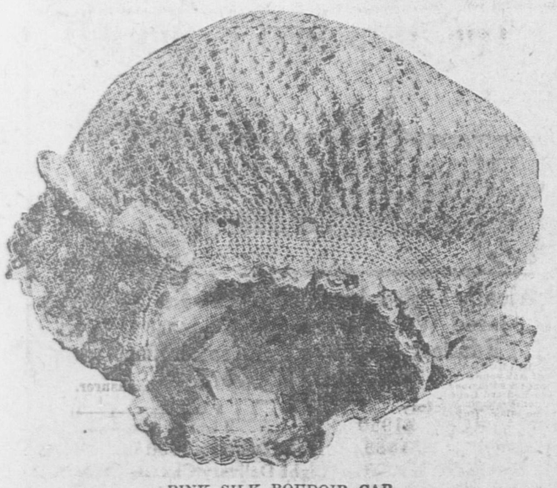

If you have a flat roof take every mattress in the house up there once a week and leave them in the hot sun for several hours. They will then be fluffy and sweet smelling. It would be well for the pillows and bedding to receive the same treatment.

A mattress will be easier to handle if straps are attached to the sides, and for this purpose pieces of old suspenders are very satisfactory, or strips made from bed ticking. Sew the straps or handles on firmly, two on each side.

Potato Peeling Made Easy.

Instead of peeling potatoes for steaming or boiling simply cut a narrow strip entirely around the center of each one. After being cooked, drained and dried in the ordinary way the potatoes slip easily from the skins when the opposite ends are pressed between the thumb and forefinger.

Boudoir Caps of Crochet Silk Are Favored by the Fastidious

PINK SILK BOUDOIR CAP.

Crocheting seems to have received quite an impetus in popularity. All sorts of pretty things are made in this style of fancy work. One sees boudoir caps done in Irish crochet or in a simple stitch like the one pictured here. The one illustrated is of pale pink silk loosely crocheted. It is lined with white pussy willow taffeta and has Dutch ear tabs at the sides. Finished with an edging of narrow val and tiny embroidered flowers, it is a very dainty cap indeed.

SAFFORD UNDER ARREST

Charge of Perjury Against Chief Witness in the Tanzer Suit

New York, April 5.—Frank D. Safford, the hotel clerk who was chief witness for Rae Tanzer during her hearing before Commissioner Houghton on a charge of using the mails to defraud, was arrested in Brooklyn on a charge of perjury.

Safford testified that James W. Osborne, the New York attorney against whom Miss Tanzer had brought a $50,000 breach of promise suit, was the company of the woman at a hotel in Plainfield, N. J.

Since that testimony was given Miss Tanzer has admitted that she made a "ghastly error" in naming James W. Osborne as the man who, she claimed, had promised to marry her.

Safford's arrest was a foregone conclusion. When he left the witness stand inspectors followed him to a hotel where he had several drinks. Then he made statements, which, it is alleged, implicated himself and others in a plot the federal officers are attempting to fathom.

MANY ACTS OF VANDALISM

Fifty-Seven Persons In Illinois Town Indicted as a Result

Fairfield, Ills., April 5.—Indictments against fifty-seven residents of Sims were returned after an investigation of the dynamiting of a church and other acts of vandalism attributed to persons who resented the closing of saloons by an option vote.

The Baptist church at Sims was partly wrecked by dynamite. One Sunday morning a dead horse was found in the First United Presbyterian church with its head resting on the Bible in the pulpit. Live stock frequently was killed by poison and many animals were shot or slashed in their stalls.

Sims and several surrounding townships voted out saloons several years ago. The common belief is that the campaign of destruction was waged by persons disgruntled over the closing of saloons.

CHICAGO POLITICAL LEADERS IN DOUBT

Worry Over Women's Vote For Mayor as Campaign Ends

Chicago, April 5.—Candidates for mayor of Chicago closed a lively campaign in which women for the first time took an active part.

How many of them will vote and for whom are questions that are worrying leaders of all parties here. Republicans, Democrats, Socialists and Prohibitionists have candidates for the four-year term as chief executive. With a registration of 789,041 the campaign has proceeded day and night for two weeks.

A parade with a herd of elephants, clowns and many bands of music, was given as a final display in the interest of William H. Thompson, the Republican candidate.

A similar demonstration closed the campaign of the Democratic candidate, Robert Sweitzer. The Socialist candidate, Seymour Stedman, and the Prohibitionist aspirant, John H. Hill, contented themselves with speeches to wind up the contest.

JAPAN'S SHARP BARGAIN

Bars Germany From China and Gets Long Port Arthur Lease

Paris, April 5.—The situation in China contained in a dispatch from Petrograd and printed in The Temps is outlined as follows:

The Chino-Japanese negotiations, according to reliable information, have been concluded. The Chinese government agrees to extend the Port Arthur lease for ninety-nine years.

It recognizes also that Japan has all the rights in Shantung previously belonging to Germany, and conditions are laid down that Germany shall never have the right to acquire colonies or spheres of influence in China.

Oklahoma Official Impeached

Oklahoma City, April 5.—A. P. Watson, corporation commissioner, was impeached on two charges, and on a vote of the impeachment court was ousted from office.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Dr. Julius M. Bleyer, who invented the electric chair used at Sing Sing prison, died at New York.

Thousands of unemployed are being attracted to New York as a result of the agitation of "public benefactors," according to Chief Sears of the municipal employment bureau.

B. C. Epstein, a traveling salesman employed by a New York leather goods firm, shot and killed his wife and himself at Columbus, O.

The battleship Delaware sailed from Vera Cruz, Mex., for the United States.

A third reduction in the price of crude oil within two weeks was announced at Pittsburg.

B. F. Finn, the original "Huckleberry Finn" of Mark Twain's books, celebrated his 90th birthday at his ranch near Portland, Ore. He is hale and hearty.

Eugene Hinz of Lewiston, 30, was found dead in the snow near Durham, Me.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the next-of-kin and all persons interested in the estate of Marion Louise Briggs, of Quincy in said County, minor:

Whereas, Lillian Briggs, the guardian of said minor has presented her petition for license to sell at private sale, in accordance with the offer named in said petition, or upon such terms as may be adjudged best, certain real estate therein specified, of her ward for investment. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the fourteenth day of April A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each of you fourteen days at least before said Court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this nineteenth day of March in the year one thousand ine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t 22-29 April 5th

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Laura Bryant, late of Quincy in said County deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Linda A Lincoln of said Quincy who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her the executrix therein named. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the fourteenth day of April A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this thirtieth day of March in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCoole, Register.
3t 1-5-12

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To all persons interested in the estate of William T. Spargo, late of Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, deceased:

Whereas, William J. Spargo and Nellie A. Spargo, as they are executors of said estate have presented to said Court their petition praying that they may be authorized to continue the business of said deceased for the benefit of his estate. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the fourteenth day of April A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioners are ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this thirtieth day of March in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t March 31 April 5-12

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Henry Newman late of Quincy, in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Mary C. Newman of said Quincy who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving surety on her official bond; You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Dedham in said County of Norfolk, on the seventh day of April A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing postpaid or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fifteenth day of March in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t Mar. 27-29 April 5

A business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.

Houses
H. F. McIntire
Greenleaf Blk
Tel. Quincy 1665-W.

Dandy bungalow in E. Braintree for sale: small pay't., bal. as rent: see this at once.

Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.

1-1 yr.

KEEP POSTED ON THE PEOPLE'S WANTS — CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING — WHY WORRY LET THESE ADS LIFT YOUR BURDEN

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Furnished housekeeping rooms. Apply 26 Elm street, Quincy. 3-3t

TO LET—Large front room, sunny, airy, with heat, electric lights, bath and all home comforts. Suitable for one or two gentlemen. Three minutes walk from City Square. 34 Chestnut street, corner Foster street. House formerly occupied by Dr. Davis 2-3t

TO LET—Furnished room, $3.00 a week to two young men or 2.50 a single man. A very pleasant room facing Edison Park on Massachusetts avenue. Apply 44 Massachusetts avenue. 2-3t

TO LET—5 rooms and bath, furnace, gas and electric lights. Also small furnished suites for housekeeping, 5 minutes walk from the square. Address Miss Spear, 118 Granite street 2-3t

RENT REDUCED—Half house at 31 Bigelow street in first class condition; good neighborhood and convenient to everything. Bath, laundry, furnace coal range, shades, screens, gas etc. Apply at 33 Bigelow street. 1-tf

TO LET—At 33 Bigelow street, Quincy, a desirable house of eight rooms with improvements. Ready for occupancy about April 15. Apply on premises. 1-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 5 rooms and bath. Rent $16.00. Lower flat of 5 rooms with improvements. Rent $14. Near station and cars. Apply at 59 Hall Place, West Quincy. 31-6t

TO LET—Upper flat of 4 rooms and bath in two-family house in Quincy Centre. Just right for a couple desiring a cozy sunny home with every convenience. Electric lights, furnace, gas stove, etc. Ready for occupancy. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—New flats, Quincy Point, four rooms and kitchenette, hot and cold water, set range, gas, separate cellars, low rent, Germain avenue, cor. Washington street. Small families only. Good neighborhood. E. R. Stone, 12 Avon Way. Ready April 1st. 31-6t

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house, 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2. Quincy or 110 South street, Boston, Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET—Upper and lower flats 91 and 93 Revere road 4 and 6 rooms and bath. To small families, $20 and $18. Fred M. Torrey, 25 Spear St., Tel. 202-1 Quincy. 27-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 5 rooms, one attic room and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. 97 Goddard street, near Quincy Adams Station. 15-tf.

TO LET—Tenement of three rooms $7.50 per month. Good place for hens. James Moorhead, 28 Curtis street. Tel. 599-1. 13-tf.

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

TO LET

TO LET—Half house of six rooms and large laundry to adult family, conveniences, large garden. Rent $20. Apply to George H. Newcomb, 21 Adams Bldg. or M. M. Newcomb, 39 Gay street or phone 1990 Quincy. 2-tf

TO LET—Upper flat, 7 rooms, all conveniences, 112 Upland road. Apply on the premises or 20 Adams Building. 31-tf

TO LET—House of 7 rooms and bath on Russell Park. All improvements and very attractive. Immediate possession. For further details enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—With private family, centrally located, a room suitable for one person, modern conveniences, and rent reasonable. Write Ledger L. M. B., or call Quincy 1796W. 30-6t

TO LET—Quincy centre, 18 Faxon avenue, modern suite, 6 rooms and bath. Every improvement. Three minutes from R. R. station. Telephone 414-M. Weymouth. 25-tf

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements. 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 13-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Adjustable Acme dress form, cost $15 2 months ago. Will sell cheap. Tel. 158-5 Quincy. 3-3t

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E. R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-tf. L. P.

FOR SALE—400 loads of dark heavy loam cheap located at Dysart street. Apply to J. Coughlin of Coughlin & Donovan, 1475 Hancock street. 24-12t

TO LET
Large Room 30x36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.
will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.
OFFICE AT
96 WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY
Tel. 618

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER

WANTED

WANTED—Young couple desire two furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Apply W. Mustenom, 52 Copeland street, West Quincy. 5-3t

WANTED — Experienced young women as waitresses. Apply at Thompson's Cafe, Quincy Square, Quincy, Mass. 30-6t

PROOFREADER. A young Woman experienced in proofreading is wanted at the Ledger Office. If not experienced but well educated and possessing natural ability application will be considered. Address letter to Miss Prescott, Ledger Office, Quincy. 24-tf

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and PIANO moving, packing and storage. Wm. D. King, 106 Centre street. Tel. 21003. 8-1mo.

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

TO LET
After May 1, Store or Stores No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.

Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.

Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.

City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.

Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.

City Square Store House or Shop
—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

City Square Club Room or Hall
—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.

Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water, $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.

Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for K.r. Kribs.)
Orchard Block. (Phone 2006) Quincy

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
Old Furniture Refinished
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

BE WISE
FOOL THE FLIES
HAVE YOUR SCREENS
RE-COVERED NOW
TELEPHONE OR WRITE
HOLMES & HALL
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1606 W

SALE OF JEWELRY

Our stock of Cut Glass, Silverware, Clocks and Jewelry which was slightly marred by smoke from the recent Welch Block fire is on sale at

One Half Prices

Everything MUST be Sold at Once, nothing to go back to our other store. No reasonable offer refused. We advise making selections early while the stock is large. This is your opportunity to secure the finest of everything in the jewelry line - - Grasp it!

C. F. PETTENGILL

1500 Hancock Street NEW KINCAIDE BLOCK

5-2t.

MRS. PRUDENCE STOKES.

Rebekahs Participate in Funeral Services.

The funeral of Mrs. Prudence Stokes wife of Gilbert Stokes, first president of Paul J. Revere Women's Relief Corps and a popular member of Reliance Rebekah lodge, I. O. O. F., took place Sunday afternoon at the Wollaston M. E. church on Beale street.

Rev. George M. Bailey, pastor, officiated at the services, after which the Rebekah service was conducted by a large delegation of members under the direction of Noble Grand Mrs. Emma Ela. Music was rendered by a quartette, consisting of Mrs. Ada Waite, Miss Mertie Lovell, Ray Cassidy and J. Belcher. There were many floral remembrances. Burial was in Manchester, N. H.

ATLANTIC MEMORIAL.

The Easter concert by Memorial Congregational Sunday school Atlantic had the usual large congregation Sunday evening, both the gallery and chapel being needed to accommodate all. The concert was under efficient leadership of Mrs. William F. Cummings, assisted at the piano by Miss Marion Letteney.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Foy's Two Stores
Local Representative Wanted
Charles C. Hearn
E. E. Gray Co.
Madame Sarkin

SPORTING COMMENT

The MacGregors of Quincy have a comfortable lead in the Scottish Clans league and need but one point to win the championship. The standing of the three high teams:

MacGregor	82	18	35,856
McPhail	79	21	35,603
Ramsay	76	42	35,916

Poehler has an average of 111 in the in Boston bowling circles, leading in Boston bowling circles, leading Walsh by one point.

Frank McPherson and P. Bishop beat Ross and C. Bishop in a special tandem 10 string match at Wardwells Saturday evening, 1885 to 1850.

The strings:

McPherson	85	115	112	94	94
	93	97	106	89	105	—990
P. Bishop	88	96	90	98	88
	70	74	93	101	97	—895
Ross	120	119	115	105	105
	81	120	97	87	81	-1030
C. Bishop	79	95	81	83	92
	72	80	79	71	88	—820

Friends of Mr and Mrs. Carl R. Sheppard, who on Friday became parents of a son will be pleased to learn that Mrs. Sheppard is gaining in health and strength at the home of her mother in Elizabeth, N. J. Mr. Sheppard will return to his home on Edgemere road, this city, on Wednesday

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT.

The engagement was announced Saturday of Mary Veronica, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Laurie of Commercial street, Weymouth Landing to William Henry O'Brien, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. O'Brien of Copeland street, West Quincy. Miss Laurie is well known in this city. Mr. O'Brien is employed at the George E. Keith shoe factory in East Weymouth.

A STRONG APPEAL.

"America, you are great and generous. You stand for humanity as no country has ever stood. You alone of all the nations fortunate enough to be outside this ring of war, have wealth and strength enough for a task like this. You alone can keep the flame of hope alive, the pulse of life beating in this starving nation. The world looks to you, America, looks to you to do justice to your own great heart. You have already lifted this burden of good deeds from the ground shoulder it as you alone know how, with that fine, fierce energy of yours. See this work of rescue through—and all the world shall bless you.

"To restore needs that the nation shall not have died first of sheer cold and hunger. Famine is a very simple thing. First will go the old men and women; then the children—cold and hungry children—young birds with gaping beaks. And the strong last. Yes, famine is a very simple thing, with its stark and icy clutch.

"If you ever felt you'd like to help a fellow, now's your chance, America."—John Galsworthy.

The following exchange of courtesy was recently chronicled in a German paper's advertisements:

"The gentleman who found a brown purse containing a sum of money in the Blumenstrasse is requested to forward it to the address of the loser, as he is recognized."

A couple of days later appeared the response, which, although courteous, had an elusive air, to say the least:

"The recognized gentleman who picked up a brown purse in the Blumenstrasse requests the loser to call at his house at a convenient day."—Everybody's.

YOU NEED

A Spring Tonic, something that will will brace you up and give you renewed energy. TRY---

HEARNS RECONSTRUCTIVE TONIC

75c bottle

CHAS. C. HEARN, Druggist, CITY SQUARE

KINCAIDE THEATRE

REMARKABLE PARAMOUNT PHOTO-PLAY

'The MORALS of MARCUS'

MARIE DORO, Leading Lady.

VAUDEVILLE IMPERIAL FOUR Comedy Singing Quartette.

RUSSELL & GRAY, Singing, Talking and Dancing—GEORGE ALLMAN, Character Comedian.

Mon. Tues & Wed. — Daily at 2.30 P. M. 10 & 15c. Evenings at 8—10-15-25c

Photo-Plays Coming "THE SIGN OF THE CROSS," with Wm. Farnum.
"THE GORSE GIRL," with Margaret Clark.
"MISTRESS NELL," with Mary Pickford.
'HER TRIUMPH," with Gaby Desleys. "BUCKSHOT JOHN," with Chas. E. Van Lomis
COMPLETE WITH ALL STAR CASTS.

5 2t

CITY HALL NOTES

The assessors who started out bright and early Thursday morning were able to finish all of their field work on Hancock street, between Granite and School streets before overtaken by the storm on Saturday. This morning they commenced work on the other end of Hancock street in Ward One and they hope to complete all of this street in Ward One by night.

The time for filing applications with the city council for permits to transport liquor and for licenses to drive wagons for the collection of junk expire tonight. All of the minor licenses and permits granted by the city council last year expire with the first of May, so that it is probable that the committee on licenses will report on all of the applications for liquor permits and junk collectors licenses at the next meeting of the council, the latter part of the month.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

FOR SALE—1913 Ford Touring car, electric lights, master vibrator, seat covers, tires and car in good condition. Apply to Central Garage and Supply Co., Washington and Pond streets. Telephone Quincy 1035 W. 5-6t

LOST—On Monday, lady's gold watch between Quincy Square, Chestnut and Washington streets. Mrs. E. I. Beal, 206 Washington street, Quincy. 5-3t

FOUND—A pair of glasses. Owner may have by finding Conductor No. 3393. 5-1t

CHAUFFEUR—Wants position with private family or on truck. Temperate. Long experience and best of references. Melvin L. Dell, 40 Franklin street. Telephone 1656-W. 5-6t

BIRTHS

RUGGLES—In Quincy, April 4, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. John Ruggles, nee Holton.

DEATHS

PERRY—In East Milton, April 4, Martha J., widow of Joseph W. Perry, in her 53rd year. Funeral services at late home, 110 Willard street, Wednesday April 7, at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 5-2t

WOODMAN—In Norfolk Downs, Apr. 4, Angela D., widow of William O. Woodman of 14 Royal street in her 82nd year.

HATCH—In New York, April 4, Chas. Hatch, son of Mrs. George F. Hatch of 35 Irving Place.

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service

1495 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

UNABLE TO PAY BOND INTEREST

Big Ship Combine Placed In Hands of Receiver

WAR PRECIPITATES CRISIS

English Subsidiaries Not Affected by Action Regarding International Mercantile Marine Company, Organized in 1902 by Morgan & Co.—Question as to Protection

New York, April 5.—The International Mercantile Marine company, the giant steamship combination organized in 1902 by J. P. Morgan & Co.., which placed under one control some of the principal English, American and Belgian steamship lines plying between the United States and Europe, has gone into the hands of a federal receiver. The company has for six months been unable to pay the interest on its $52,744,000 of 4½ percent collateral trust bonds.

While the International Mercantile Marine since its organization has been unable to pay dividends, it is said that with the outbreak of the European war its earnings were severely diminished, precipitating the present crisis. Many of its ships are now in war service and its various services greatly curtailed.

The application for the receivership was made by the New York Trust company, trustee for the defaulted bonds, and with the approval of the bondholders P. A. S. Franklin, vice president of the company, was appointed receiver.

Although the receivership affects the International Mercantile Marine as the holding company for all the subsidiary organizations which it controls, it does not affect the English subsidiaries, it is stated, such as the White Star, Leyland, Dominion and Atlantic Transport lines.

This is because the stocks of the latter companies were not pledged as collateral for the defaulted mortgage, it is explained. The receivership relates only to the American and Red Star (Belgian) lines, to which the receiver is empowered to lend money to conduct their operations.

Whether the ships of these two lines or the entire Mercantile Marine fleet regardless of nationality would be entitled to the protection of the United States government in the war zone by virtue of the federal receivership was a question raised when the receivership was announced.

At the end of 1912 the company had 119 steamships in service with a gross tonnage of 1,071,635 tons, and eighteen steamships building of 208,000 tons capacity.

Its issued capital stock is $49,931,735 common and $51,730,971 preferred, of which all but a small amount is held by a voting trust, the trustees being J. P. Morgan, Charles Steele, J. B. Ismay, Peter A. B. Widener and Lord Pirrie.

The 4½ percent bonds were created in 1902 and issued in 1902 and 1905, in connection with the plan for the formation of the company. The $50,000,000 issued in 1902 went to the syndicate of American and British capitalists which financed the plan, headed by J. P. Morgan & Co., New York

OPERATIONS DELAYED

Diving Tube to Be Used on Submarine F-4 Found to Be Leaky

Honolulu, April 5.—Tested at a depth of 320 feet, the improvised diving tube which is to be used in the work of raising the submarine F-4 leaked slightly. Salvage operations will be held up until the tube can be perfected.

It had been planned to lower a diver in the tube at the spot where the F-four is believed to be, but the officials would not permit him to descend until the apparatus had been tested.

After it had been submerged for an hour the tube was found to contain several inches of water as a result of the terrific pressure encountered at the depth to which it was lowered.

TO FIGHT INTERVENTION

Huerta Thinks United States Will Try to Grab Mexico

Paris, April 5.—The report that Generaal Victoriano Huerta has left Cadiz for Vera Cruz is accepted as a fact in circles here where Huerta was known.

"The United States is about to grab Mexico," Huerta is declared to have told some of his Spanish friends. "I am going back to hally all Mexicans against intervention."

Mrs. Thomas Leaves Penikese

Boston, April 5.—Mrs. Emma Thomas, mother of Archie Thomas, the boy leper at Penikese island, who died of pneumonia after he had perfected a wireless plant and secured an operator's license, has left the Buzzard's Bay colony for good.

New Spot on the Sun

Washington, April 5.—A large sun spot has been discovered by the naval observatory. It may be observed by using one side of an ordinary opera glass with a piece of smoked glass.

MEN!

BUY YOUR NEW SPRING SUIT AT WHOLESALE PRICES

SAVE FROM $5.00 to $10.00

The modern plan of clothes selling. No high ground floor rents—No credit accounts—No commissions to salesmen—No deliveries.

$18.00 and $20.00 SUITS $13.25

THE WHOLSALE PRICE

Daniels Clothing Co.

240 Tremont St. (Second Floor) Boston

Open Saturdays Till 9 P. M.
Next to Wilbur Theatre 5-7-9

SUNNY SIDE of LIFE

HELPED HIS VISION.

At the bidding of the school authorities in a certain country town a doctor visited the local schools and examined the eyes of the children. The next day the teacher sent a note to the mother of one pupil, saying that he was "imperfect optically," and Johnnie brought back his reply: "The old man whacked Johnnie last night and I took a hand at him again this morning, so I think you will find him all right now!"—Chicago Blade.

A FEARLESS PRESIDENT.

Andrew Johnson, who was the least picturesque of our presidents, possessed two qualities useful for a public man—magnetism and fearlessness. An incident which happened in the early days of the struggle in Tennessee, when he was hated by the whole secession element, illustrates these traits. He was to address a meeting in the town hall. He had been informed on good authority that half-a-dozen men were ready to shoot him as soon as he appeared before the audience.

When he arrived on the platform he deliberately produced a pistol and laid it on the table in frout of him, while a silent audience regarded him with curiosity. At last he spoke. "I understand," he said, in his placid way, "that the first business before the meeting is to shoot me. I move that the meeting proceed to business"

After waiting for some time he began his address.—Pathfinder.

ONE WAY OUT.

The Dentist's Daughter, (anxious to explain the presence of a young man in the passage)—Oh, Ronald, darling here's father coming. Quick! You'll just have to say you've come to have a tooth out.—Sketch.

You need the Ledger every day. SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

IT'S TIME TO THINK OF THIS YEARS GARDEN

We have every kind of Garden Seed. A Large stock of Garden Tools.

SPRAYERS
FOR FRUIT AND SHADE TREES

RELIABLE GOODS RIGHT PRICES

NATHAN AMES

5 Granite St.,

USE CARBORUNDUM SHARPENNG STONES

At Your Service

"I advertise service first, and merchandise second," says one of New York City's most successful merchants.

Our store offers you the very best service—prompt, courteous attention, the accurate filling of telephone orders, on-time deliveries, and absolute dependability of merchandise.

An order to-day for a pound of Hotel Astor Guests' Coffee, will convince you of the high order of our service, and the high quality of the products we handle. We recommend this rare blend of coffee to please the most critical. Its rich aroma, and delicious flavor, will please you.

FOY'S TWO STORES

THE 1915 REO IS HERE

Electrically Lighted and Started, One Man Top Increased Wheel Base, 34x4 Tires, Crown Fender, Improved Upholstering, Increased Power.

	F.O.B. Factory		F.O.B. Factory
4 cyl. - - -	$1050	2 ton Truck	$1650
6 cyl. - - -	$1385	Light Delivery 1500 lbs.	$1075
4 cyl. Runabout	$1000	Light Delivery Chassis	$1000
4 cyl. Coupe	$1575

Reo the Fifth - - the Incomparable Four is on Display at our Garage. Call and see This Car.

Ask for Demonstration

CENTRAL GARAGE and SUPPLY CO.

Corner Washington and Pond Sts.

QUINCY

Tel. 1035 W C. W. Hodgkinson, Prop.

16-1mo.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 81 QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY EVENING, APRIL 6, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS EASTER MONDAY BALL

Large Company Enjoy Annual Event In Music Hall

The Easter Monday ball of Quincy council, Knights of Columbus, in Music hall last night, was one of the most brilliant affairs ever conducted by the organization.

The special guests included Fr. John P. Cuffe, the dean of the Catholic clergymen of the city and in the words of a well known knight "A man without whose presence no Catholic gathering is complete." Louis A. Watson, state deputy of the Knights of Columbus, the officers of the various councils on the South Shore, members of the city government, and prominent people of Quincy.

The hall decorations transformed it into an Easter garden, in which Easter lilies and ferns predominated. The stage was a mass of quiet but attractive decorations. Four rows of Easter lilies along the front of the platform were interspersed with the ferns and colored streamers. In the rear of the stage hung an immense American flag, draped artistically, and below that the silken banner of Quincy council swayed in the slight breeze which found its way to the hall.

A wisteria vine twined itself about the flag and extended to all corners, and banking them were several rows of colored lanterns brilliantly illumined. At the front of the platform were the numerals "96," the number of the council, and surrounding them was an abundance of greenery.

More streamers of bunting draped the front of the platform and ended with two tall columns on which were more ferns and a moderate sized facsimile of the emblem of the organization, done in color by George McDonald.

Yellow and white bunting and other flowers toned the space between the windows, and more streamers and greenery banked the balcony. The decorative scheme was carried out under the direction of Miss Nellie Desmond and the plants were furnished by John Derringer.

The concert given during the arrival of the guests was by Strachan's orchestra, directed by Frederick T. Strachan, and the program included his Knights of Columbus march, dedicated to the organization, Suppe's Poet and Peasant overture, the popular hits as arranged by Lampe, Eltinge's Crinoline Girl and Zamecnik's famous World Peace.

The grand march formed early in the evening and was headed by Grand Knight Peter M. Sullivan and Miss Eulalie O'Toole, and State Deputy Louis A. Watson and Miss Elizabeth Walsh. Practically all in the hall, excepting the spectators who thronged the balcony, participated. Supper was served before midnight by Selier and the menu included:

Cold Roast Chicken Turkey
Boiled Ham
Cranberry Sauce Mashed Potatoes
Escalloped Oysters
Lobster Salad Chicken Salad
French Cream Fritters,
Benedictine Sauce
Ice Creams
Vanilla, Strawberry, Chocolate,
Pistachio, Sultana Roll, Claret Sauce,
Sherbets Frozen Pudding
Assorted Cakes
Rolls Coffee

The committee of arrangements included Michael M. Barrett, D. G. K., chairman, Dennis S. Sweeney, secretary, Michael T. Sullivan, treasurer, William A. Carey, Edward D Barrett, William J. McGunnigle, Thomas Griffin Andrew M. Driscoll, Frank Ferguson, Alfred J. La Croix, James J. Powers, James M. Sullivan, Michael T. Walsh, Richard A. Cole, George W. Berry, Frank Driscoll, Charles J. Haggerty, William Hogan, Alexander D. Thompson, Philip S. Guinan.

Peter M. Sullivan was floor marshal, Michael M. Barrett was floor director and Dennis S. Sweeney, Richard A. Cole and Thomas Griffin were the assistants. The aids were: James J. Powers, George W. Berry, Andrew M. Driscoll, Charles J. Haggerty, James M. Sullivan, T. Byron Brown, Philip S. Guinan, Alexander D. Thompson, Waldo Galligan, George J. Mahoney, Frank L. Avery, Thomas H. Sullivan, Alfred J. LaCroix, Henry F. Magee, Frank J. Mullen, Thomas J. Fallon, Jr Dennis Murphy, William J. Hogan, Thomas H. Fallon, James M. Cantfill Thomas F. Flaherty, Frank Ferguson, William H. Mahon, John T. Cain, Joseph H. Elcock, William J. McGunnigle, Francis L. Driscoll, John Mahon. William S. Coughlin, Benson Myatt, William J. Lynch, Raymond Coyle, Henry J. Lavelle, Edward Sweeney.

The reception committee was Wil-

(Continued on Page Four.)

LOST

SAVINGS BANK BOOKS

Savings Bank Books as listed below have been lost and application has been made for payment of the accounts in accordance with Section 40, Chapte 590, of the Acts of 1908. Payment has been stopp d.

Book No. 25311 Book No. 36812
Book No. 31747 Book No. 37699
Book No. 38502

QUINCY SAVINGS BANK
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.
March 23-31-23-30-April 6

TIRES
Of Every Description

BUY A KELLY SPRINGFIELD TIRE
You will have the Best tire made.

BUY A LEE PUNCTURE-PROOF TIRE
You can ride without fear of punctures or blow-outs

BUY A DIAMOND SQUEEGEE TREAD TIRE and you get something more in service, than what you pay for.

BUY THEM HERE

You get Service, Saving and Satisfaction, all the time.

We also carry Goodrich, Goodyear, Fisk, Firestone and other makes of automobile tires.

WE are one of the largest Automobile Accessory dealers in Norfolk county.

Bring your Tires and Tubes Here, and have them Vulcanized right

F. W. BENT

1056-1058 HANCOCK ST., QUINCY TEL. 501-M

NEW CAPS TO BE HERE SOON

Local Officers Will Look Like N. Y. Police

Capt. McKay of the police department will tonight issue a general order relative to a regular gun inspection and will also announce that the contract for the new caps, to take the place of helmets, and the new buttons for uniforms has been signed and that delivery will take place within a few days

The order for gun inspection is the result of a recent examination of revolvers and pistols carried by the patrolmen during which the small arms in some instances were found to be in such condition that they could not be used in case of necessity.

Definite arrangements for the target practice under the direction of Dr. Fred E. Jones has not been completed. Dr. Jones is one of the best known marksmen in the state militia and is the holder of several records and medals offered for high percentages.

The caps will be of the type in use by the New York patrolmen. The insignia on the front of the cap will be a replica of the seal of city. The buttons will be gold plated and also bear the city seal. The caps will be purchased by the men and the buttons and insignia will be bought by the city and loaned the men, contrary to the custom in vogue.

G. A. R. TO FLY HISTORIC FLAG

The first flag thrown to the breeze in Richmond on the entrance of the Northern army during the Civil War will fly from the staff on Grand Army hall Thursday during the open house to be kept in celebration of the surrender of Lee at Appomatox.

The flag was the property of a Mrs. Van Lew, a celebrated Northern secret service agent, who lived in Richmond throughout the war and cleverly diverted suspicion from herself time and again. Confederates searched her house regularly in an effort to secure incriminating evidence but secret chambers remained secret and their contents never became known to the Southerners.

Throughout this trying period the now famous "Old Glory" was hidden in the house. It was generally believed to be there but never discovered

The woman herself produced the evidence when she tied it to the halyards of the pole on her home and hauled it to the top as a greeting to the first soldiers that entered the city.

The flag was presented to Paul J. Revere post several years ago and is one of its choicest possessions. It is in a good state of preservation.

The flag, with the passing of the post, will probably go to the state and will then take its place behind a glass case in the Hall of Flags at the state house.

CONDITION CRITICAL.

The condition of James F. Allen, inspector of provisions, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the City Hospital, Saturday, was reported this noon as being very serious and but slight hopes were entertained for his recovery.

TOMORROW NIGHT
MUSIC HALL
8 P. M.
Y. M. C. A.
Dramatics
Personal Direction
ERASTUS OSGOOD
Music by
Wollaston Cadet Band Orchestra
Reserved Seats
50, 35 and 25 cents
April 1-6t

EX.-GOV. CURTIS GUILD.

EX-GOV. GUILD DIES AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Former Gov. Curtis Guild died early this morning. He had been ill with pneumonia at his home in Boston since Friday.

The former ambassador to Russia went to Salem on business Thursday and returned with a severe cold. Friday pneumonia developed. Drs. William B. Robbins and Jas. M. Jackson had been in attendance since. Yesterday morning Mr. Guild showed slight improvement but last night had a turn for the worse and sank rapidly until his death this morning.

Hope for his recovery was held to the last because of the extraordinary vitality that carried him through a similar illness in March, 1908, while he was Governor. At that time he was near death as a man may be and yet pulled through. This time, perhaps because he had weakened a little with his 55 years, the disease overcame him.

Since that siege of 1908 Mr. Guild had undergone an operation for appendicitis. That was in August, 1908. His recovery was apparently complete, but now it is believed that his constitution was undermined enough to allow pneumonia to conquer him.

Curtis Guild, LL. D. of both Holy Cross College and Harvard University, was born in South street, Boston, Feb, 2, 1860, the son of Curtis Guild.

He was graduated from Harvard, after having prepared at the Channcy Hall school, in 1881. After an extended tour of Europe he started at $7 a week as bill collector and travelling agent for the Commercial Bulletin, which his father and uncle were just founding.

In the spring of 1908, while Governor of the state, Mr. Guild was very ill from an acute attack of rheumatic fever, caused by overwork. For many days he was at death's door. He recovered after being confined to the house five weeks. During the same year he received 75 votes for the Republican vice-presidental nomination.

In 1910 he was appointed special ambassador to Mexico and served with such distinction that on July 21, 1911, he was chosen ambassador to Russia, which post he held until June, 1913, when he resigned.

TO CONFER WITH ELECTRIC LIGHT CO.

A meeting of the committee of the various improvement associations with the Electric Light Co., with a view to getting a reduction in the rates of electricity has been arranged for this evening. This movement is independent of that of the gas and electric light committee ofthe Board of Trade which held a conference with the company last week. The improvement associations committee is made up of delegates from the different improvement associations of the city, and was started by the Montclair association.

BOARD OF TRADE.

The regular meeting of the Quincy Board of Trade will be held Thursday evening in the rooms of the Granite Manufacturers' association in the Adams building. The principal business of the evening will be to listen to a talk on fire prevention by John A. O'Keefe, the Fire Hazard Commissioner. Mr. O'Keefe is a very attractive and entertaining speaker and there should be a good attendance of members. Aside from this there will be the usual reports of committees, and the receiving of applications for membership

MAY NOT HAVE TO AMPUTATE

The surgeons of the Quincy City hospital feel it will not be necessary to amputate the right leg of Fred Ernest of 589 Washington street. They have removed several inches of bone.

Ernest was struck by a snowplow Saturday night on Washington street and was taken to the hospital after a series of delays occasioned by the heavy storm.

On Monday afternoon former Mayor Hart of Boston, visited Ernest at the hospital. The injured man is related to the ex-mayor by marriage.

The Quincy Spiritualist society will meet at 8 Mechanic street Wednesday from 3 P. M. to 10 P. M.

JACKSON
Model 46
THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL, SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER
"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"
Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT
$1375
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

CITY COUNCIL HAS REGULAR MEETING

Transacts Considerable Amount of Business at Monday's Session

Although there was a large amount of business transacted at the regular meeting of the city council Monday evening there was nothing interesting in the way of debates. In fact the only semblance of a debate came on the report of the finance committee on the order for sewer extensions. The original order called for an appropriation of $40,000 but the finance committee cut this down to $25,000. The order could have passed on suspension of the rules but Councilman McGrath objected.

He argued that there was no hurry in passing the order and that it should be thoroughly investigated before another dollar was expended. It was time for investigation when it was a fact that the unit cost in Quincy was very much larger than in other cities. It was time to stop and see i f a less expensive plan could not be worked out.

Councilman Beeman believed it a good thing to put the sewer in the new streets. The amount was small.

A motion to suspend the rules was lost and the order went over until the next meeting.

GUN SQUAD MATTER.

Another matter that created a little stir, was the report on the matter of establishing a gun squad in Quincy. While there was no debate it was evident from the temper of the council that the matter will not have an easy time getting by.

There were two matters before the finance committee relative to the gun squad. One was the resolution favoring the establishment of the squad, which was handled by the finance committee jointly with the committee on legislative matters. This committee reported a resolution of approval. The report was ordered to a second reading.

The other report was that of the finance committee relative to the appropriation of $2,000. The committee recommended that this be referred to the executive. The acceptance of the report was declared rejected but the vote was doubted and before a verification of the vote could be taken the report was laid on the table.

The Mayor forwarded a communication from the city engineer complying with the request of a resolution of Councilman McGrath for the grades of all streets in the city crossing the railroad tracks together with the grades of said streets as proposed by the crossing elimination plan. The document was a lengthy one and was placed on file.

The city engineer also sent a report on the resolution of Councilman Prescott asking for the grade of Beale street under the proposed change in the tracks of the railroad.

The report says: "when additional tracks are laid out it will necessitate certain changes in the grade of the Beale street bridge, but what these changes are can not at present be foretold. The land abutting Beale street between Hancock street and the railroad location has not yet been built upon to any great extent, but plans are in preparation for a business block, and other parcels of land have recently changed ownership. It would therefore seem to be evident that if the grade of Beale street is to be improved at all, the work should be undertaken before expensive buildings are erected, thus saving a very large property damage. From an examination it would appear that by raising the grade of Beale street from Old Colony avenue, easterly to a point nearly opposite the new Masonic building, the present grade of Beale street would be very much improved."

In conclusion the city engineer stated that the estimated cost of the work is about $9,000, not including land and property damage.

The communication was referred to the street committee as was also an order offered late r by Councilman Prescott appropriating $10,000 to change the grade.

The Quincy Women's club were granted permission to have children appear on the stage at Music hall April 30 and May 1, and the Y. M. C. A. to have children appear on the stage at Music hall, April 7.

The Mayor announced the appointment of the assistant assessors as already published and the appointing them as constables.

APPLICATION FOR LICENSES.

An unusually large number of applications for minor licenses were received. The time for filing applications for liquor permits and applications for licenses to collect junk expired at this meeting. The total number of applications received was 103. Of this number 25 were for junk collectors, 13 for liquor permits, 19 for gasoline, 25 for Sunday Fruit, 9 for pool, and 8 for job wagons. The others were for common victuallers, etc.

All were referred to the license committee except those for gasoline, upon which a public hearing was ordered for the next meeting of the council.

The Mayor called attention to the need of a wall to retain the embank-

(Continued on Page Two.)

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Wednesday fair and warmer moderate winds.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	5.18
Sun sets	6.16
Length of day	12.58
Moon rises	2.04
High water, A. M.	5.00
High water, P. M.	5.45
Days increase	3 hrs. 52 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	60 degrees
Apr. 6, 1914,	50 degrees
Apr. 6, 1913,	47 degrees

Noon Maximum 18 years—86
Noon Minimum 18 years—30

We are pleased to announce to the public th t we have our Full Line of SPRING and SUMMER SUITS
on hand for your approval.
Or we will take your order for a custom made s it at a very reasonab e price.
Dressmaking, Cleansing, Pressing, Dycing, etc.
Orders promptly filled.
MADAME SARKIN
Granite Ladies' Tailoring Co.
Tel. Con. 1463 Hancock St.
5-3t

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

OVERHEARD IN A SHOP.

A few days ago as I was waiting in a tailor's shop of this city I overheard the following conversation. The speakers two women of refined appearance and their conversation had touched on such subjects as the school nurse, the district nurse, mothers meetings and club activities. At last one said:

"There's one thing that I can't understand and that is the Associated Charities. Appeals come to us to make contributions and then when I read the annual report I find $1,424 spent on salaries and only $31. spent on relief. Now I'd like to give money if I knew it was to go to the poor, but I don't care to give when it goes for salaries and the poor get so little."

As I left at this moment I did not hear the other's reply. I hope she was able to inform her friend that the old idea of alms-giving as a remedy for poverty has given way to the truer wisdom which helps the poor to help themselves. But just this scrap of conversation suggests that others beside the puzzled lady in the tailor's shop may be under misconceptions regarding modern social service and fail to appreciate the efficient work that our Associated Charities are doing in Quincy.

But first—assuming for one moment this lady's point of view—the figures referred to, need some explanation. Let it be remembered that the Associated Charities organization is merely a clearing house for the various branches of social service maintained in the community. The relation is a reciprocal one: the separate organizations refer cases to the general secretary and the secretary, after studying a case, may recommend one of the other social agencies—the Overseer of the Poor, the Board of Health, the King's Daughters, or one of the church societies—to give the needed relief. The money that these contribute does not appear in the report. The $31. is just what it is just what it is called—Emergency Relief; it is drawn from a sum of $25. kept permanently in the bank for cases needing immediate financial help. Thus it is seen that these figures do not represent the ratio between salaries and relief.

In reply to the puzzled lady I should like to quote what Dean Hodges in his address on "Efficient Philanthropy" says in answer to just this objection:

"The difference between the Associated Charities and the Relief Association is like that between the doctor's office and the drug store. You do not expect to carry away from the doctor's office something in a basket or in a brown paper parcel: you expect to get counsel and advice, and perhaps a prescription that you may take to the drug store. But the experienced doctor in making that prescription takes care to prescribe as few drugs as he can. He is afraid of getting people into the drug habit. And the wise philanthropist is just as afraid of getting people into the alms habit, which is closely akin to the morphine habit in that it deprives people of all self-respect.

"Now, in order to give advice, we must have people who are competent to give advice, and we must ask two things of them—training and time. That is the reason for the salaries. You can get advice on your legal affairs from anyone you please, but if you are wise you search for someone who is trained. And the thing for which you pay the lawyer is nothing material at all. It is solely for his counsel. ..... So when you see these figures for the office expenses of the Associated Charities, you understand that you are paying for economic physicians; you are paying for good advice; you are paying for the most expensive and at same time the most necessary thing that any community can have."

Miriam N. Marsh.

TRUE PATRIOTISM.

True patriotism does not always require a waving of flags and blowing of trumpets. Sometimes it is best expressed in a self-sacrificing restraint. The old Colony Memorial of Plymouth has a pertinent word or two to say along this line:

"Is Quincy or Nahant less patriotic than Plymouth in voting not to appropriate any money for Fourth of July celebrations At this time when municipal economy is so strongly urged, and with the increasing demands made upon the towns and cities of the state, there are doubtless some instances where patriotism can be best revealed without formalism and outward show. Lowell is experiencing a reaction from the impulse which led her to appropriate $3000 for a patriotic celebration. The amount of money for that occasion in Plymouth is not large, but the committee which has the matter in charge has no easy task to expend the money in a really profitable way."

PUBLIC SPIRIT.

The Waltham Free Press-Tribune does not mince matters in giving its opinion of the tax dodgers. Our own ex-mayor, Charles M. Bryant who resided in Orleans on the first day of April, thus escaping a Quincy tax on personal property is scored. The paper says:

"For Ex-Mayor Bryant of Quincy to be a tax dodger and flee to Orleans, looks as though the honors he received, and which he struggled very hard to win, sat but very lightly on him. We have a very poor opinion of the public spirit shown by such conditions."

PRIDE BEFORE A FALL.

Surely, pride goeth before a fall! The Waltham Press-Tribune said in its issue of last Thursday, "Severe snowstorms in the Carolinas and Georgia make one conclude that the climate of New England is much better than its reputation."

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT CONFERENCE

There was a good attendance Monday afternoon at the Wollaston school hall at the conference of the associated charities with the philanthropic committee of the Wollaston Woman's club.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mr. Davis of the Boston Dispensary who gave an interesting talk on the free medical care for individual children and the work of the school nurses, and its great importance. He said that the number of school children under par physically was one in ten, but in schools after the work of the school nurse the rate had been lowered to less than one per cent. He also said that a very large per cent of the school children were pro tuberculosis and of the advantage of school nurses in bringing this down to normal. He pointed out the great need of a free dispensary for the proper care of children.

WILL FIGHT FILM BE SHOWN HERE?

The passing of the heavyweight title to Willard at Havana Monday has revived considerable interest in Quincy fans as to whether or not motion pictures of the fight will be shown here.

Mayor Campbell when asked about it this morning said as far as he knew none of the local theatrical managers has arranged to show the films and that the matter has not been brought to his attention.

SERVICES FOR LITTLE GIRL

The funeral of Dorothy, the infant daughter of Fireman and Mrs. Richard Williams of Cross street, took place from the home Monday afternoon.

The services were in Christ church conducted by Rev. William Grainger rector, and were attended by relatives and friends, and members of Paul J. Revere Woman's Relief Corps and Maple lodge, Knights and Ladies of Honor, with which Mrs. Williams, mother of the father of the child, is prominently affiliated. Former Chief Amos L. Litchfield was among those present.

There was a wealth of floral remembrances which completely covered the grave in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

Members of the Holbrook Commandery U. O. G. S. attended the initiation of nine members at the Quincy Commandery, Monday evening.

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton Director
Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
31-tf

GLEN ARTHUR GOES ON TRIAL

High School Is Interested In Kidnapping Case

The case of the commonwealth vs. Glen Arthur, relative to the kidnapping of the Foreman girl, was called before the Superior Court, Room 11 of the Quincy High school Monday noon with Judge Henry Larson presiding.

Votes for Women triumphed when three girls were elected to the jury, Marion Kappler, Agnes Norling and Sara Cohen. The other members of the jury consisted of Leslie McCormick, Leo Cutler and Victor Hulteen its foreman. Room 11 was crowded, every seat being taken and enthusiasm reigned. If much more interest is taken the club will have to go to the assembly hall to hold its meetings as Room 11 is one of the biggest rooms in the building.

So much time was taken in electing jurymen, that only one witness could be called. Some of the members elected to the jury refused to serve one fair lady giving deafness as her excuse, while several others were just bashful. The court adjourned at 2.15.

CITY COUNCIL

(Continued from Page One.)

ment at Houghs Neck which was referred to the finance committee. The school committee recommended the purchase of 60,000 feet of land in the rear of the Atherton Hough school for a playground. To Public Building committee.

Petitions for the acceptance of Albertross road, that the quarry hole at Wilson's quarry be protected. That Cherry avenue be accepted. That Granger street be accepted, and from A. W. Pierce for permission to erect an advertising sign on Hancock street were received and referred, also a petition to oil Marlboro street.

A public hearing was held on the petition of Gessmer Bros. to keep gasoline at 41 Beacon street. There was considerable opposition, and the petition went back to the committee.

The street committee reported no legislation necessary on the matter of removal of extra poles on Hancock street between Depot and Granite streets as the street railway company had agreed to remove the poles.

The license committee reported ought not to pass on the order increasing the fee for peddlers licenses and recommended that the Mayor take up the matter of granting licenses to non-residents with the inspector of provisions.

The public buildings committee reported leave to withdraw on the petition for an addition to the Massachusetts Fields school, believing that the situation in this district could be better taken care of by building a new school at Norfolk Downs.

The finance committee reported recommending that the Mayor be requested to furnish plans for a tuberculosis hospital and forward any suggestions from the Planning Board on the matter.

The finance committee reported on the street watering order which was passed.

Under new business Councilman Craig offered a resolution that the finance committee take up the feasibility of establishing a municipal garage. In support of his resolution he quoted what was paid in some other cities for the upkeep of automobiles comparing it with the cost in Quincy. The price in Quincy was very much larger.

Councilman Richards offered an order establishing the office of inspector of wires and defining his duties, also setting forth rules and regulations governing electric wiring in Quincy. Referred to ordinance committee.

He also offered an order for the acceptance of a part of Lincoln avenue.

Councilman Beeman offered an order for $500 to equip and maintain a supervised playground in Ward Six. To public buildings committee.

Councilman Thompson offered an order for $2800 to rebuild a part of Whitwell street. Councilman Ferguson an order for a light on Federal avenue extension. Councilman O'Dowd orders for $400 for rebuilding Badgers Lane, widening Common street at its intersection with Cross and Reardon streets. He also offered a resolution that the Mayor take up with the New Haven railroad officials the matter of placing gates at the Robertson street crossing on the Granite branch.

Rule 1 was suspended and it was voted to adjourn to Monday April 26.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

SALE OF JEWELRY

Our stock of Cut Glass, Silverware, Clocks and Jewelry which was slightly marred by smoke from the recent Welch Block fire is on sale at

One Half Prices

Everything MUST be Sold at Once, nothing to go back to our other store. No reasonable offer refused. We advise making selections early while the stock is large. This is your opportunity to secure the finest of everything in the jewelry line - - Grasp it!

C. F. PETTENGILL
1500 Hancock Street NEW KINCAIDE BLOCK
5-2t.

ST. MARY'S HOLD DANCE

More Than 100 Couples Are Present

Over 100 couples were in attendance at the Easter Monday dance of the St. Mary's C. T. A. and M. R. society held in St. Mary's hall. The hall was beautifully decorated with blue and white streamers and the stage with potted plants.

The music was by Wilson's five piece orchestra, which gave a concert from 8 to 9. The dance order contained twenty-one dances. Miss Marion Teasdale, the Blue Ribbon Girl, was not found until after eleven o'clock by Miss Lillian Donavon who received the reward.

The floor was in charge of Thomas F. O'Brien, floor director, Lawrence Donavon, assistant floor director and Leo A. Garity, Edward Joyce, John Welsh, John Sheahan, Joseph I. Garrity and John Flaherty, aids.

FAREWELL PARTY.

A farewell party was tendered to Miss Eva King on the evening of her return to Kennebunk, Me., at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Thomas Boudin of Bunker Hill avenue. A pleasant evening was spent in playing all kinds of games, including nursery games. Miss King presided at the piano and Howard Johnstone and John Rizzi rendered several pleasing cornet selections.

Among those present were Delma Brunet, John Brunet, Margaret Reinhalter, John Rizzi, Mrs. Frank Bates, Eleanor Brunet, Albert Rizzi, Frank Bates and Howard Johnstone.

BULLETIN BIG FIGHT.

Crowd Watch Progress of Johnson-Willard Battle.

Interest in the great fight in Cuba Monday between Willard and Johnson was shown by the large crowd that gathered in front of the Ledger office all the afternoon to watch the bulletins, giving the progress of the fight. When the final result that Willard had won in the 26th round was posted the crowd made no demonstration of approval or disapproval but quietly moved away.

FIFTEEN TABLES IN PLAY.

At the whist party given by the Mt. Wollaston club in I. O. O. F hall Monday evening fifteen tables were in play The honors were awarded to Miss Lena Allen, Mrs. E. Newcomb, F. E. Drakes, Mrs. H. W. Tirrell, Miss M. Lizzie Furnald, Mrs. Freethey, Mrs. J. Starr.

CONDITIONS BAD IN MEXICO CITY

Local Merchant Receives Letter From Customer

Carranza and his army is camped in Vera Cruz, together with thousands of refugees, and all are safe from Villa, the rebel chieftan in control of the situation, as long as the ships of the United States are not withdrawn. That would mean an attempt to escape by Carranza and the others and the beginning of lamentable conditions in the city.

The information, while not official, is contained in a letter from a naval officer to Fred Zoller, in which several pair of canvass shoes are ordered Mexico City, according to the letter, is undergoing an unwelcome experience and the situation there is bad.

AT THE THEATRE

The Morals of Marcus with Marie Doro taking the leading part was the feature Paramount photo-play at Kincaides Theatre Monday. Miss Doro takes the part of a captured English girl in a Turkish harem. She escapes from her jail and the man who rescues her brings her to England where he leaves her. England is like a magic land to her. She wanders around and comes to a beautiful country estate that a young school teacher has just inherited. She begs his protection as she is afraid that her foster-father will try to capture her and bring her back to Turkey to marry an old man. There are some exciting moments in this absorbing drama.

A comical movie without a title is produced by the Essymay Co.

The vaudeville is headed by the Imperial Four who play different musical intruments, a colored comedian adding humor to the act. George Allman with a peculiar laugh and funny songs is good, and Russell & Gray quick change artists with songs and jokes completed this program. The program will be repeated today and Wednesday.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday a Paramount feature photo-play "The Sign of the Cross" with William Farnum in the leading role is to be shown here.

Unity Circle of King's Daughters will meet this evening in the chapel of Bethany church. Refreshments will be served by the Devotional Ten. The Kings Daughters of Norfolk County will hold a convention in Sharon on Thursday, at 11 o'clock.

MEN'S FORUM HOLD MEETING

Ladies night was observed by the Mens Forum of the Park and Downs church when a fine roast beef supper, with all the fixings, was served by a committee of the men.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. George W. Field of the Massachusetts Fish and Game Commission, who delivered an interesting stereopticon lecture on the fish and game within the state limits.

He showed what could be done for protection in the state by developing nature's latent assets. The streams and ponds ought to be cultivated, he said.

The water ought to be farmed. The fisherman ought to become a producer instead of mainly a destroyer. This is one of the ways in which the cost of living may be decreased.

An interesting portion of Dr. Field's talk dealt with the clams, quohangs and other mollusks below the low water marks. Game birds came in for their share of attention and the views displayed were very clear and beautiful.

President Breen presided at the meeting and extended a hearty word of greeting to the ladies. In charge of the supper were Alonzo V. Bissett, William J. Colby and William Pletsch.

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

PASTIME CLUB GIVE 6th DANCE

Members of Various Girls Clubs Special Guests

The members of the various girls clubs of the city, the W. A. Girls and the Bloomfield Associates were the special guests at the sixth grand dance of the Pastime club, held Monday night in Alpha hall. The affair was one of the prettiest post Lenten successes in the city.

Arthur Swanson, Quincy male soprano, rendered several vocal solos and was well applauded. He was accompanied by Hamilton's orchestra which also furnished music for the dancing.

M. Harold Smith was floor director and John B. Buzzi was the assistant. The aids were George Blanchard, Charles French, Stephen Eaton, J. Joseph Currie and Walter Allison.

HOLD ELECTION.

At the semi-annual election of the Young Men's Hebrew Association Juniors in their clubrooms on Water street the following officers were elected: Harry Lubarsky, president; Harry Cohen, vice-president; Israel Schwartz, recording secretary; Sidney Grossman, financial secretary; Isaac Kurtzman, treasurer. Refreshments were served after the election. Percy Lubarsky gave the boys a talk on "What Constitutes a Good Boy."

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER

YOU NEED
A Spring Tonic, something that will will brace you up and give you renewed energy. TRY---
HEARNS RECONSTRUCTIVE TONIC
C. 75c bottle
CHAS. C. HEARN, Druggist, CITY SQUARE

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE
Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit
WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS
Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.
Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys
1506--1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block
Jan. 26-tu.-th.-s.-tf

MAY TEAR DOWN OLD AUDITORIUM THEATRE

Another Plan Is Remodelling of Present Building

It is probable that something will be done in the near future with the property of the Auditorium theatre. As is well known the building which has been used for the past few years as a moving picture house was ordered closed by the Mayor following a settling of the balcony. Since that time the building has remained idle.

The site however is a valuable one, much too valuable in fact, to remain long idle, and it is understood that the owner of the theatre is thinking strongly of developing the property in the near future. At the present time he is considering the advisibility of tearing down the present structure and erecting a new and modern theatre or remodelling the present structure. The remodelling of the building however depends largely upon what requirements the inspector of buildings will impose. At any rate it is certain that something will be done with the property very soon.

REV. P. S. NELDON LEAVES QUINCY

Rev. P. S. Neldon, who preached his farewell sermon as pastor of the Hall Place M. E. church, left Monday for Ohio where he will continue his work in the ministry.

Because of ill health he asked the Methodist conference to detach him from the church and reassign him to his home field, feeling a change of climate would benefit his health.

A successor to Rev. Mr. Neldon will be appointed at the next session of the conference.

BRIEFS

Walter C. Rogers of New Rochelle, N. Y., formerly of this city, visited Quincy friend Monday. Mr. Rogers is superintendent of music in the public schools of New Rochelle.

The regular meeting of Adams Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, was held Monday afternoon at the old Adams house. There was not a large attendance and but little business was transacted.

Capt. Pipion in "Old Cronies" is an authority on how to propose to a widow. He will be at Music hall on Wednesday evening in the Y. M. C. A. dramatics.

There will be a whist party given under the auspices of the Squantum Improvement association this evening at Richards Memorial all. The affair will be in charge of Frand Anderson, William Spargo, John Holmes, Charles Bostwick and Perley Bostwick.

The fourth annual dance of the Thursday Evening club will be held in Ellsworth hall, on the evening of April 15.

You need the Ledger every day.

The PROBLEM of GOOD MILK

All persons do not understand what is meant by good, safe milk. Some believe that the milk with a deep cream line is desirable, whereas, the Doctor knows that Holstein Milk, although containing little cream is often more desirable for babies, partly for this reason, or perhaps because of the method of production.

The real criterion of a good milk is its wholesomeness. This depends upon the conditions at the dairy, and the special care given it until it reaches the consumer. Scrupulously clean and healthy cows, clean and healthy dairymen, rapid cooling, and protecting the milk, constant dairy and laboratory inspection are required. Furthermore safety is assured when the dealer pasteurizes his supply.

THE ELM FARM MILK COMPANY OF DORCHESTER offer pure Family Milk, and exceptional Nursery Milk at prices often charged for ordinary milk Speak to the salesman, or call Dor. 2100. 6-1 mo.

NORTH WEYMOUTH

The storm of Saturday caused a cessation of grass fires, Combination One having been out for tests only since Friday. The regular chauffeur Edward Stone, is substituting at South Weymouth for Ralph Bacon. In the absence of Mr. Stone his brother Charles Stone is in charge of the apparatus.

Mrs. Tobin of East Weymouth was the guest of her son Charles Tobin on Wednesday.

Miss Phyllis Keene has recovered from an attack of bronchitis.

Miss Clarabelle Pratt who has been ill is somewhat better.

Mrs. Laura Porter and daughters Muriel and Dorothy have returned to their home in Worcester after an extended visit with her sister Mrs. Neil McLennon.

Mrs. Winters is ill at her home on Union avenue.

The recent storm made a drift on Green street nine feet high and 100 feet in length of the correct style for tobogganning which sport has been indulged in by several youngsters.

Mrs. MacLennan has been entertaining Mrs. Kenney of Dover, New Hampshire.

Mrs. Fanny Murphy is ill with pneumonia and under the care of a trained nurse. Her condition is favorable.

Clifford Stiles has an attack of tonsilitis.

Mr. Cousins of North street has been sent to Montreal by the Fore River Ship Building Co.

Elaine Ross and Leonard Wolfe are both confined to their homes with colds.

The number of those ill with measles has been augmented by several: Christine Bailey of Delorey avenue, Mary Tobin, Virginia Ash and Hilda Chapelle.

Florence Mercer, the younger daughter of Rev. A. A. Mercer has a severe cold.

James Sculley spent Easter with his mother Mrs. Burke of Green stree, returning to his duties at the Searsport Maine plant of the A. A. C. Co., Monday evening.

Ira Grandell is ill with pneumonia, and measles.

Mrs. John Taylor, who is ill with tonsilitis, was unable to fill her position as organist at the Universalist church and Miss Bertha Estes substituted.

EASTER CONCERT.

The Easter concert of the Universalist Sunday school was held Sunday at 7 P. M. in the body of the church which was tastefully decorated with palms ferns potted plants and cut flowers. In spite of unfavorable weather conditions which prevented holding satisfactory rehearsals, and the absence of many of the children ill with measels, a most pleasing program was rendered. The concert was arranged by Mrs. E. R. Sampson, superintendent of the Sunday school who conducted the devotional exercises. Miss Bertha Estes presided at the organ and Percival Ames played violin obligatos.

The choir consisted of Misses Edna Miner, Viola Wolfe, Ruth Thayer, Olive Blake, Doris Torrey, Venus Thayer, Mrs. Elizabeth Pratt, who rendered several Easter anthems.

There were recitations by Dorothy Hilton, Evelyn Coombs, Mary Garfield, Raymond Nash, Margaret Killon, Ernest Keene, Hazel Smith, Clarence Sherman, Ronald Torrey, Theodore Wolfe Katherine Garfield, Valerie Hersey, Hilda Grandell, William Grandell, Clarence Rodolph, Eleanor Poulin, Mary Mercer, Evelyn Bailey, Elizabeth Holbrook, Bernice Stiles, James Glidden, Granville Miner, Kenneth Poulin, Dorothy Blackwell, Mary Hesse, Charles Wolfe, Elwyn Hersey, Olive Williams, Axel Grandell, Thomas Hesse, Leo Garfield Marjorie Torrey, Frances Bailey and Alice Morgan.

A reading "Tommy's Prayer" by Greta Garfield deserves special mention for the fine manner in which it was given. Remarks by the pastor Rev. A. A. Mercer and the singing of Coronation were the closing numbers.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—always crisp, clean, pure and wholesome. Try it. Grocers.

OF LATEST CUT AND DESIGN

Two Costumes in Which Wearer May Be Assured She Is Thoroughly Up-to-Date.

Walking Costume.—For fine cloth or serge, our smart model is well suited.

It has the skirt made with a plain lower part and deep-pleated tunic.

The coat is short and loose-fitting and has the lower part set on with wrapped seam; satin is used to face the collar and cuffs.

Hat of straw to match, trimmed with ribbon and little wings.

Materials required: Seven yards 46 inches wide, one-half yard satin 22 inches wide, two yards coat lining 40 inches wide.

Tweed Costume.—Gray tweed checked with green would be very useful for country wear made up in this style.

The skirt is a two-piece pattern with wrapped seam at left side front and right of back.

The loose sports coat has Magyar shoulders, with sleeves set into a double stitched seam. The collar is of the same material cut in a different way; it is stitched twice round the edge. Collar and cuffs of plain green cloth; a very large button fastens the belt; smaller ones are sewn on the cuffs.

Gray felt hat, trimmed with green velvet and a small mount.

Material required for the costume: Five yards 46 inches wide.

GOOD USE FOR THE EYELET

May Be Employed Effectively in Many Ways—Example in a Recent Centerpiece.

The eyelet is quite as accommodating as the French knot, and can be used effectively for so many different designs, varying in size from a mere transparent point to the size of the natural grape, although the necessity for the latter size is rare.

An up-to-the-minute art needlework shop recently showed an effective centerpiece of blackberries and their foliage. The blackberries instead of being done in the usual French knot stitch, were formed of eyelets, the tiniest kind. The eyelets changed the centerpiece from a rather commonplace design to one of distinct individuality, and the sales person back of the counter said the store couldn't keep enough of the designs in stock. It is sometimes necessary for the blackberries to have their dots spread farther apart for the eyelets than for the knots, although it must be remembered that the eyelets are of the tiniest and that fine thread and a fine needle are used in the working of them.

The California popper design is also displayed to best advantage when worked in eyelets instead of solid stitch.

A centerpiece with a grape border is ten times as effective in eyelet work for the grapes as when the grapes are worked in solid stitch or outline. Huckleberries and mulberries should also be worked in eyelets. Remember that if the eyelet edges are worked too heavily the artistic effect desired in such designs is lost. Flower centers may often be eyeleted instead of worked solidly or in French knots, and there are ever so many other designs which eyelets will enhance.

BEST OF BRAIDED RAG RUGS

Good Effect Is Easily Attainable by Woman With Skill and Proper Sense of Color.

Everyone would have one or more braided rag rugs if they knew how much they are admired. Braided with four strands, using only two colors, two strands black (old stockings are fine), with two of some color, make a nice rug. To sew, cut braid any length desired and sew with a strong thread to within about two inches of each end, letting this be for a fringe. When sewed together, each color forms a stripe. To make the stripe run one way always begin braiding by putting first strand over; to make stripe run the opposite direction begin braiding by putting the first strand under. Lacking enough of any two colors, use different colors in braids for the outer rows, or if it is hit or miss sew all light ones together and all dark ones together, then use two strands of each. As you work you will be able to plan many ways of braiding the colors that you have.

HOLDS ODDS AND ENDS

USEFUL RECEPTACLE FROM DISUSED TIN BOXES.

Covered With Brightly Colored Cretonne It Will Not Be Out of Place in Any Room—Suitable for Children's Use.

Preserve the tin boxes that have contained marshmallows and convert them into strong and handy receptacles for odds and ends that are apt to litter up bed and living rooms. The larger ones will come in handy for holding the cherished belongings of children, for the boxes are practically indestructible. After washing the box thoroughly outside and in, a thin lining (paper or silk) can be put in if preferred, but there is no real necessity for a lining.

The outside is covered with a bit of brightly colored cretonne. The bottom of the box is left bare and the cretonne is tightly stretched all around the box, held down with a good paste. The top is padded with cotton under the cretonne and should be cut a little larger than the top of the box to allow of the edges being turned over. Snip or notch this surplus material to make it lie flat and before pasting the cover to the top sew a ball button in the center, preferably a white glass button, and then paste a strip of cloth around the sides of the cover. Do not bring the material over the opening of the box. If you do it will be difficult to close it. The tiny strip of tin left will never be noticed, and to leave it bare will make the box much more practical, especially for children's use. Instead of odd things lying around they will be put into it.

The woman who has received decorative centerpieces she cannot use for their legitimate purposes can make them into dainty cushion covers suitable for a baby's or an invalid's pillow or for her bedroom. A round shaped cushion is made and covered first with pink or any delicate color, a puffing of the goods being set in to connect the top and bottom. The centerpieces are used as an outer covering and can be laced together with a cord or ribbon passed through eyelet holes worked upon the edges of the linen. Incidentally a round cushion that may be on hand but has become shabby could be made like new again by the addition of the bits of decorative linen.

Box for Odds and Ends.

Square centerpieces could perform the same charitable office for a square pillow.

Smaller doilies may be arranged upon linen and used as a decoration to a bureau or sideboard cloth. Very handsome effects are often the result of this arrangement. After the doilies are inserted the linen could be further decorated with needle and thread, as the sewer preferred, the whole bordered with a machine filet or cluny lace or a handmade crochet. Some of the latter designs are very lacy and pretty, and certainly there is no trimming that wears better. When one can make it the expense is, of course, nominal.

COATS OF HEAVY MATERIALS

Rich Colors Have Preference in These Extremely Popular Garments for Outdoor Wear.

The heavy coatings that bid fair to hold a prominent place this spring are, of course, higher in price, but then they are not so expensive after all, for they are very wide, and only a small number of yards is necessary to complete a garment. The rich oriental colors still hold their own in these materials, and for outing wear they are lovely. Even the conservative dresser does not hesitate to don one of these lovely colorful top coats when spending a time at a southern resort or in the country. Dress stuffs are only a trifle less colorful, and at the first one might get the impression that white had been excluded in the dress goods plan. This is by no means so, and almost any weave that is found in color is also to be had in plain white. There is this to be said, however, that almost every white gown, unless one is in mourning, has a liberal touch of color introduced in the way of trimming.

New Idea in Blouses.

Practically every new blouse carries a high collar; at least it is high at the back and usually buttons up in the front. They are smart even if they are not comfortable as were the collars of last season. Some are finished with a soft roll edge; others have the old-fashioned stock of satin with a turnover of a contrasting material and in all cases the long sleeves are finished in a manner similar to the collar. Buttons are used in quantities. While many of the waists are worn inside the skirt all are not, many having a peplum addition.

Glenwood

The Range that "Makes Cooking Easy"

It Pays To Buy Good Things

Don't try to keep house without a Glenwood

H. L. Kincaide & Co., Quincy

CHURCH AND CHOIR

SQUANTUM CHURCH.

Enjoyable Easter Concert By Sunday School Children.

An enjoyable Easter concert was given by the Sunday School children at the First Church of Squantum Sunday afternoon at 3.30.

The church was tastily decorated with potted Easter lilies, palms and ferns and placed on the pulpit and piano were cut flowers of daffodils and jonquils arranged attractively in cases.

Much credit is due Superintendent C. E. Carlson and his teachers Mrs. William C. Spargo, Mrs. Thomas Currie and Mrs. C. E. Carlson for the success of the concert.

To the music of a march played by Miss Martha Frieberg the children headed by Mr. Carlson entered the church and took their seats in classes Mr. Carlson announced the program.

A song by the Sunday school choir opened the exercises. Genny Rund, John Sumner, Lillian Swanson, Florence Swanson, Edith Olson, Beda Dahlquist, Hazel Mason, Harold Mason, Joseph Uppling, Arthur Olson, Malcolm Currie, Oscar Dahlquist, Carl Frieberg, Hazel Watts and Carin Dahlquist.

Recitation by Mrs. Spargo's class; Harold Mason, John Sumner, Joseph Uppling, Roy Olson, Albert Richardson, Oscar Dahlquist, Arthur Olson, Robert Gran, Holger Gran.

Solo by Jordine Davison accompanied by Miss Hazel Davison.

Recitation; Mrs Currie's class, Hazel Mason, Carin Dahlquist, Murial Harris, Mariam Richardson, Ardella Richardson.

Recitation Mrs Carlson's class, Hazel Olson, John Holmes, Earlin Hackenson, Ruth Holmes, Doris Sumner, Marjorie Marden, Olga Dahlquist, Lillian Rund, Ruth Olson, Martha Dahlquist, Ellsworth Sumner, Myles Goldbranson, Elinor Dahlquist, Frederick Gregory, Elsie Johnson, Lily Johnson.

Recitation, Ten girls: Florence Swanson, Sweet Maiden; Edith Olson, Pleasure; Hazel Mason, Beauty; Glenny Rund, Music; Hazen Watts, Fame; Lillian Swanson, Power; Elsie Oberg, Christianity; Ruth Olson, Faith; Ruth Holmes, Hope; Marjorie Mardin, Love.

Solo, Jordine Davison.

Remarks, Rev. T. W. Davison.

Solo, Joseph Uppling, Sr.

Offering.

Remarks, Supt. C. E. Carlson.

Song, Sunday school choir.

Benediction Rev. Mr. Davison

ATLANTIC MEMORIAL CHURCH

Sunday School Concert On Easter Sunday.

Sunday School repeated the "Shepherd's Psalm" followed by prayer by Pastor.

Song by the School Page 269.

Recitation "Welcome" by Wendell Zoehler.

Recitation "A Little Worker" Alan Smith.

Song by 3 little girls, Lois Coombs, Ruth Willmore, Elizabeth Brown.

Recitation "An Easter Story" by Hazel and Elizabeth Smith.

Recitation by Russell Smith.

Recitations and song by Primary Department.

Recitation by Catherine Priest and Ruth Murkland.

Recitation "The Secret of happiness" by Earl Beaman.

Song by the Junior Endeavor Chorus.

Recitation "Tell me the Easter Story" by Christina Kinniburg and Elizabeth Brown.

Recitation "When Easter came" Meta Miller.

Collection Choir and remarks by Pastor.

Song by S. S.

Recitation "The Easter Message" Jeannie Brown.

Recitation "What the Daffy said" Lois Coombs.

Song "God will send His angels" Ruth Murkland.

Recitation "Easter Call" Bertha Wight.

Recitation, Douglas Smith.

"Where is He Risen" by Ruth Beaman.

Recitation "Had I been there" by Louise Carter.

An Easter Message by four girls.

Closing Anthem by Choir.

ATLANTIC M. E.

Easter services were interesting at the Atlantic Methodist church. The pastor preached a cheerful Easter sermon at 10.45. The Sunday school gave an Easter concert at 6.30 P. M. A good audience greeted the children and a beautiful program was given. The pastor took an Easter offering of $15.00 for missions at the morning service and a $60.00 offering in the evening for pastoral support.

SPIRITUALIST SOCIETY.

Mrs. S. V. Odiorne presided. Mrs. Mary Bemis, speaker of the evening gave an interesting lecture on the, Birth, Life, Death and Resurrection of Christ and the Easter Festivities, Mrs. Lottie Brooks read a poem, Mr. J. Nelson sang the Palms and The Lost Chord." Mrs. S. V. Odiorne and Mrs. Bemis gave many messages from the loved ones on the other plane of life. Meetings at 8 Mechanic street. Tuesday at 3.00 and 8.00 P. M. Circle Wednesday 3.00 till 10.00 P. M. Society Meeting Thursday 8.00 P. M. Developing class.

Mrs. J. Henry Emery opened her home on Adams street Monday afternoon for a bridge whist party in aid of the Pond Home which netted something like $74. Punch was served by the hostess during the afternoon.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTORS OF THE PORT OF BOSTON.

40 Central St., Boston, April 2, 1915

Notice is hereby given that John J. Powers of Houghs Neck, Quincy, has made application to the Directors for license to build a temporary timber platform and float in and over the tide-waters of Quincy Bay at Houghs neck in the city of Quincy and county of Norfolk, as per plans filed with said application; and Thursday, the fifteenth day of April at 10.30 o'clock, A. M., and this office, have been assigned as the time and place for hearing all parties interested therein.

EDWARD F. McSWEENEY, Chairman
JOSEPH A CONRY,
LOMBARD WILLIAMS,
Directors.
6-1t

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

Persuant to the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Amy G. Atwood to Laura M. Holmes, dated July 1, 1914 and recorded with Norfolk Deeds Book 1285 Page 85, and for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises below described on Tuesday the 27th day of April, A. D. 1915 at two o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular, the premises conveyed by said mortgage, together with all improvements thereon, to wit:—A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in that part of Quincy known as Wollaston Park, being lot No. 98 on a plan of Charles S. Miller, Surveyor, dated April, 1896, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 13, Plan No. 536, and bounded and described as follows:—Northeasterly by Kemper street, fifty (50) feet; Southeasterly by Lot No. 96 on said plan eighty (80) feet; Southwesterly by Lot No. 84 on said plan fifty (50) feet and Northwesterly by Lot No. 97 on said plan eighty (80) feet. Containing according to said plan four thousand (4,000) square feet of land.

Said premises are to be sold subject to a mortgage of $3800.00 to the Merchants' Co-operative Bank of Boston and all existing taxes, assessments and liens.

One hundred (100) dollars to be paid at time of sale, other terms and conditions to be announced at said time.

LAURA M. HOLMES,
Mortgagee.
3t April 6-12-20

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

TWO TANDEMS AT WARDWELLS

Ross and Dell Beat Holmes and Gallagher

Two tandem matches at the Wardwell alleys Monday night held the interest of a large gallery of fans.

Ross and Dell beat Ducky Holmes of the Boylston team and Gallagher of the Boston Casino team by 60 pins in a special ten string match. Holmes had high single of 117 and Ross, as usual, had high total.

Herb Smith and Frank McPherson, well known local bowlers, beat Dobos and Olindy in a ten string match by 12 pins. Smith had high total.

The first tandem:

Smith	100	97	100	92	112
	107	105	116	114	87	—1030
McPherson	86	105	99	97	90
	99	101	74	100	107	— 958
Dobos	94	101	98	91	108
	104	79	104	100	92	— 971
O'Lindy	106	98	100	88	109
	106	111	91	93	103	—1005

The second tandem match:

Ross	96	91	104	89	109
	112	105	101	99	100	—1006
Dell	95	104	93	84	94
	96	89	90	94	105	— 944
D. Holmes	90	95	87	117	95
	103	84	94	86	91	— 942
Gallagher	100	94	99	96	105
	80	81	104	97	92	— 948

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

(Continued from Page One.)

liam A. Carey, chairman, Edward D. Barrett, Michael T. Walsh, John J. Cunniff, Lawrence W. Lyons, Edward J. Murphy, Timothy J. Carey, Peter J. Cahill, Michael T. Sullivan, John W. McAnarney, Marcus E. Mahon, William T. Donovan, Timothy F. Ford, John E. Lynch, William T. Moran, Bernard Cullen, Robert E. Foy, John A. Mahoney, Edward D. Larkin, John J. Faircloth, Frank J. Duffy, Timothy J. Collins, Edward J. Parker, John Derringer, John A. McGowan, John J. O'Hara, Francis J. Fahey, Edward J. Fegan, Martin J. Heaney.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.
will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.
OFFICE AT
96 WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY
Tel. 618

CARPENTER AND BUILDER
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
All Work Given Prompt Attention
W. R. LOFGREN
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 808-3

L. F. LaROSE WILL LEAVE Y. M. C. A.

Associations Physical Director Will Be Relieved on May 1

RESIGNATION WAS ASKED

Louis F. LaRose, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. will sever connections with that organization on May 1.

Mr. LaRose says the step will be taken at the request of the Board of Directors as the result of a meeting in February after he declined to tender his resignation

Mr. LaRose states that at the time his resignation was requested on the ground that he was physically incapacitated, he was ill but feeling recovery would be a matter of a few weeks he declined to accede to their wishes He has since resumed his duties.

Mr. LaRose since coming to Quincy seven years ago has been more prominent in sport than any man ever connected with local athletic development He has followed association work for 15 years. Two years ago he was tendered the post of physical director at the Holyoke Y. M. C. A. but at the earnest request of the directors he did accept. Not very long ago he was offered a similar place at the Springfield Y. M. C. A. but took the same stand.

Many of the Quincy athletes have been developed to a high point of ability under his direction and he has always been a general favorite with the boys. The last two summers he has had charge of the supervised playgrounds of the city and it is probable that he will again be appointed to that place this summer.

The news of the severing of his connection with the Y. M. C. A. comes closely on the news of the resignation of A. F. Bromley, secretary for four years, and the appointment of Robert S. Gaskell of Johnstown, N. Y. as his successor. So far as is known no successor of Mr. LaRose has been appointed.

STORM POSTPONES W. Y. C. SMOKER

The heavy storm completely destroyed all the plans for the big opening smoker and lunch scheduled to be held Saturday evening by the Wollaston Yacht club. With Ex-Mayor John F. Fitzgerald as the speaker and arrangements for a jolly good time there would have been a record breaking attendance but for the weather.

As it was, the smoker was postponed until next Saturday evening when it is expected that Wollaston will be favored by the presence of the ex-mayor.

Preparations had been made for a supper in honor of the new members, served by the losing team in the recent membership contest. The committee was there. Supper was there in quantity enough for a hundred appetites—but the crowd did not show up. Less than a score of stalwart tars ventured out in the blizzard.

The membership contest was a close one, eleven new members being brought in by Team Two, captained by Vice Commodore Lothrop and ten by Team One, captained by Commodore Taylor. The end is not yet, for a large number of applications are pending, which will greatly increase the present membership.

Composing the two teams were: Team One—Commodore Frank P. Taylor, Carroll E. Bates, F. N. Danforth, Charles A. Dill, Eleazer F. Drew, N. E. Gould, M. Irving, R. Lothrop, George Mitchell, Arthur N. Potterton, Clifton Sass, F. W. A. Schultz, Frederick Bussler.

Team Two—Vice Commodore Q. A. Lothrop, Otis Bailey, Joseph K. Barber, Edward A. Bean, William M. Burrell, Dr. F. E. Dawes, E. H. R. Gardner, W. L. Jefferson, C. L. Pratt, R. G. Rourke, F. Schahrer, L. T. Taylor J. T. Clark.

On Friday evening the club members will attend the movies at Atlantic in a body at the invitation of the proprietors. Wednesday afternoon will be set aside for the ladies at the clubhouse during July and August and the popular Sunday afternoon concerts will again be held during these same two summer months.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

KNOCKOUT IN TWENTY-SIXTH

Willard Becomes Champion Heavyweight of World

TAKES MUCH PUNISHMENT

Pounded by Johnson For Twenty Rounds, When Negro Stops Leading—Beginning of the End Comes In Twenty-Fifth Round, When White Giant Becomes the Master

Havana, April 6.—Jack Johnson, exile from his own country, lost his claim to listic fame as the heavyweight champion of the world, the title being wrested from him by Jess Willard, the Kansas cowboy, the biggest man who ever entered the prize ring, and a "white hope" who at last has made good. Willard won by a knockout in the twenty-sixth round.

Tomorrow, Johnson, his wife, and a little group of friends will sail for Martinique, there to await passage back to France where Johnson proposes to settle down and lead the life of a farmer, raising pigs and chickens. There is no doubt that he is through with the ring.

Willard, who is acclaimed as the new champion, is going back to the United States to win the fortune which was denied him when Johnson got $30,000 before the battle started, Willard taking only a small share of the net receipts. Just what his share was is not known.

Johnson Leads Twenty Rounds

The bout probably has no parallel in the history of ring battles. For twenty rounds Johnson punched and pounded Willard at will, but his blows grew perceptibly less powerful as the fight progressed, until at last he seemed unable or unwilling to go on.

Johnson stopped leading, and for three or four rounds the battle between the two big men was little more than a series of piastic poses of white and black gladiators.

So it was until the twenty-fifth round, when Willard got one of his wildly swinging right hand smashes to Johnson's heart. This was the beginning of the end.

When the round closed Johnson sent word to his wife that he was all in and told her to start for home. She was on the way out and was passing the ring in the twenty-sixth round when a stinging left to the body and a cyclonic right to the jaw caused Johnson to crumple on the floor of the ring, where he lay partly outside the ropes until the referee counted ten and held up Willard's hand in token of his newly-won laurels.

Not Knocked Unconscious

There is much discussion, and probably will be for all time, among the followers of the fighting game as to whether Johnson was really knocked out. In the sense of smashed into unconsciousness, he certainly was not put out. The consensus of opinion is that Johnson expected and knew that there was no possibility of his winning, so when knocked down he chose to take the count rather than rise and stand further punishment.

Johnson has often stated that fighting is a business and he would not foolishly submit to repeated knockdowns when he found he had met his master. A second or two after Jack Welsh, the referee, had counted ten, Johnson quickly got up. It was well that he did so, for a moment later a rush of spectators to the platform all but smothered the pugilists.

For an instant it seemed as if trouble was threatened, and some fifty or more of the several hundred soldiers stationed about the fight arena jumped into the ring and surrounded the vanquished and the victor. Under escort of the soldiers Willard and Johnson left the ring and went to the dressing rooms while the crowd cheered and broke into wild discussions. Willard was out of his dressing room in a few moments and in an automobile on his way back to Havana. He was escorted half way to the city from the Marianae race track, where the fight was held, by a troop of Cuban cavalry.

A Papular Victory

Crowds lined the streets and narrow roadways, and the new white champion was loudly cheered. He was decidedly the favorite of the crowd all through the fight, and is the hero of the island. His victory was very popular.

Willard is probably the most modest champion who ever stepped out of a prize ring, taking his victory as philosophically as he had looked forward to the fight.

Neither he nor Johnson showed much evidence of having been engaged in a heavyweight championship battle. The new champion's lip, right ear and left cheek showed slight cuts, but at no time was there more than a drop or two of blood in evidence.

Not a Brutal Contest

No contest between heavyweights that has gone to a finish was cleaner or less brutal. Johnson's left eye was partly closed in the early rounds, but not sufficiently to interfere with his fighting. His lip was cut inside and his famous golden smile flashed from a very red setting.

The end of the encounter came with a suddenness that dazed the spectators. It followed two or three rounds of almost complete idleness on the part of the contestants, and the crowd settled down to a long-drawn-out struggle, believing that it would go the full limit of the forty-five rounds without either being able to register a knockout.

Willard is a new kind of ring champion. He is married, has four children, and his wife is one of the Kansas "home folks," unused to city ways and sporting folk. Willard was a farmer boy, never fought until he was 24 years old. He is good natured, slow and awkward. He has no ambition to stir up Broadway. He is anxious to gather in as much money as possible and retire to the farm.

Not Hurt by Johnson's Blows

Willard said that none of Johnson's blows hurt more than momentarily, except a slash over the heart about the twentieth round which made him gasp for breath during the balance of the round. He declared he was not sore about the body, but one of the toes on his left foot was slightly sprained and swollen from a twist.

Johnson must have known this, for constantly during the fight he kept extending his left foot until he could just press down on Willard's left toes.

The new champion said; "I have no immediate plans for fights in the future. I am obligated to the syndicate which promoted the fight and would like to rest at home after an exhibition tour which I understand is projected."

Speaking of the final round that won him the victory, Willard said: "The blow that brought the fight to a quick conclusion was a right-hand smash to Johnson's body early in the last round. I felt Johnson grow limp in the next clinch and knew I had the championship within reach. A left to the body and a right smash to the jaw put Johnson down for the count."

Johnson had this to say: "I have no excuse to offer. A better and a younger man has taken the championship title. I shall never fight again."

THREE MEN SLAIN

Supposed to Be Victims of Burglars In New York Restaurant

New York, April 6.—Otto Zinn, a restaurant keeper, and two of his employes, Ronan Held and Stephen Hovorisky, were killed in Zinn's restaurant, supposedly by burglars.

Zinn and his wife were awakened by a clash downstairs and Zinn went down to investigate. When he failed to return, his wife called a policeman, who found the restaurant keeper and his two employes dead in the cellar.

In the cellar was found also a safe which had been thrown down stairs. It had not been broken open.

EARTHQUAKE IN ITALY

Communication With Disturbed District Is Interrupted

Rome, April 6.—Strong earthquake shocks were felt all over the district extending from Avezzano to Rieti and within fifty miles of Rome.

A large rock was loosened in the mountains overlooking the village of Petrellari, and it is feared the rock mass will destroy the town. All the inhabitants have fled.

Avezzano is fifty miles east of Rome and Rieti forty miles to the northeast. Communication with both cities and with several other towns in the region shaken by quakes has been interrupted.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Roscoe P. Owen, for thirty-four years conveyancer in the Boston city law department, is dead. Owen was a noted authority on legal matters.

Clifton Foye, a student at Wiscasset, Me., academy, was drowned when the boat in which he was rowing was overturned.

One million dollars is the estimated loss of Easter flower venders at New York because of the snowstorm.

John Dorgan, 30, clog-danced himself to death in a hall at Boston and Thomas Donigan, a spectator, shocked at the fatality, was himself overcome and is in a critical condition. Heart disease is said to be the trouble in each case.

JESS WILLARD

Giant Kansas Cowboy Who Is New Champion

Photo by American Press Association.

ZIMMERMAN DEVELOPING INTO A GREAT GOLFER.

Christy Mathewson declares that Heinie Zimmerman is a mighty hard man to beat on a golf course.

"I was playing with Heinie one day," said the pitcher of the Giants, "when he sliced his ball into an abandoned quarry. He went down into the pit and was gone for some time. After he came up I asked, 'How many did you play, Heinie?'

"'Three,' he answered.

"'Hold on, there,' I interrupted. 'I distinctly heard six strokes.'

"'Oh,' Heinie answered, 'the other three were echoes.'"

IT WAS A COLD, COLD DAY FOR BERT CUTLER

Albert Cutler, one of the members of the Champion Billiard Players' league, has a new winter story to tell. "Koji Yamada and I were to play in Flint, Mich.," says Cutler, "but we were carried beyond our station in a storm. We landed about seven miles from Flint and were told we would have a long wait. The waiting room at the station was just about big enough for the two of us and a stove.

"Pretty soon a handcar came down the tracks bound for Flint, and the Jap and I climbed aboard. We just about froze on the trip and were let off at a crossing from which we could get a trolley car for our hotel. After another long wait the car came along. But I had passed the kicking stage and was looking forward to thaw out with a good drink.

"When we reached the hotel I was so cold I couldn't register. But I smiled on the clerk and asked directions to the bar.

"'Sir!' said the clerk indignantly. 'This is a dry town!'"

NEW YORK'S NEW OWNERS.

Addition of Ruppert and Huston Adds Class to American League.

There is considerable class to the individuals who own the American league clubs. Colonel Ruppert, president of the New York club, is a wealthy brewer, a former congressman, a member of the Jockey club and one of the foremost American sportsmen. Captain Huston, his baseball partner, is a prosperous contractor and engineer who made a fortune in Havana. He once lived in Cincinnati and is a personal friend of John E. Bruce, secretary of the national commission. Joseph J. Lannin, owner of the Boston Red Sox, also is the owner of the Garden City hotel and much real estate in Boston. Benjamin Shibe is a big manufacturer in Philadelphia, besides being owner of the Athletics. Connie Mack is his partner.

Photos by American Press Association.

NEW OWNERS OF NEW YORK CLUB (TOP, RUPPERT; BOTTOM, HUSTON).

The Washington club is the property of a local stock company, made up of some of the capital's most prominent business men, and is headed by Benjamin S. Minor, an attorney. Charles W. Somers, who was instrumental in helping build up the American league, is the owner of the Cleveland club. Frank Navin and W. H. Yawkey, a multimillionaire lumber merchant, are the owners of the Detroit club. Chicago is owned by Charles Comiskey, who has been identified with baseball for more than forty years, while the St. Louis Browns are the property of Robert Lee Hedges, formerly a manufacturer.

Geers May Race at Fair

Ed F. Geers, driver and trainer, recently said that if present conditions existed in May he would ship a stable to California and race there in the Panama-Pacific exposition events.

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES.

Alonzo F. Abbott to William N. Swain, Euclid avenue.

Ethel H. Andrews to Martha E. Watts, Arlington and Brook streets.

Nellie B. Badger to Hilma Johnson, Willard street.

Joseph Bennett to Herbert Frazer, Pratt and Beach roads.

Rupert C. Bishop to Harry D. King, Kemper street.

Catherine L. Boyden et al to Lyman F. Palmer, Willow street Speakman street.

Christopher F. Brown to John A. Terrell et ux, Atlantic street.

Charles M. Bryant to Susan W. Bryant, Wollaston avenue, Waterston avenue.

Robert Cantley to Philip H. Sullivan City of Quincy et al to Edla E. Sevard.

Charles C. Crockett to Sarah E. Cochran, Beach street.

Louis Diamond to David Diamond, Water street, Penn street.

Wilton A. Dunham to Jennie G. Warren, Adams Shore.

William H. Faxon et al to Forris W. Norris et al trs, Beale street, Greenwood avenue.

William H. Faxon et al to Clayton F. Emerson, Central avenue.

Henry M. Faxon to Clayton F. Emerson, Beale street.

Benjamin L. Fowler to Wilton A. Dunham, Adams Shore.

Herbert D. French to John P. Granahan, Lunt street.

John P. Granahan to Theresa A. McCarthy, Lunt street.

Mary Kemp to Alexander Falconer tr, Gilbert street.

Maurice E. Kilpatrick to Karl E. Carlson, Hilda street.

Nellie G. King et al to City of Quincy, Billings road.

Harry D. King to Bangs K. Smith, Kemper street.

Millidge Le Cain to Lottie M. Le Cain, Western road, Rogers street.

Anson M. Lyman et al trs to Jessie A. French, Brooks street, Charles street.

Lydia A. Mann to Barney D. Mann, Wayland and Berlin streets.

Jeremiah J. McAnarney to Susan C. Smyth, Palmer street.

Sylvanus G. Morse to Karl E. Carlson.

Forris W. Norris et al trs to Marion E. Pike, Beale street, Greenwood avenue.

Marion E. Pike to Ferris W. Norris, Beale street, Greenwood avenue.

John Pyyny to John A. Paakkari, Weeden place.

George A. Richards to Francis J. Carney.

Charles R. Sherman to Carrie E. Stone, Belmont street.

Charles R. Sherman Norfolk Iron Co., Newport avenue, Arlington street

Claude L. Slayter to Maria A. Brennan, Botolph street.

Chester H. Smith to William N. Swain, Elm avenue.

Sarah B. Smith to Hazen B. Chapman, Beach street.

Isaiah M. Stewart to City of Quincy, Faxon road, Billings road.

John H. Storer et al trs to Augusta I. Newcomb, Channing street.

Philip H. Sullivan to Quincy Quarries Co.

William N. Swain to Chester H. Smith et ux, Elm avenue.

William N. Swain to Alonzo F. Abbott et ux, Euclid avenue.

William Williams to Christopher F. Brown, Conant road.

Fred W. Wood et al trs to City of Quincy, Billings road.

Fred W. Wood et al trs to Catherine L. Boyden, Marlboro street.

Fred W. Wood et al trs to Catherine L. Boyden, Flagg street.

Henry W. Hunt est Sadie L. Rivers, Squantum street.

Sadie L. Rivers to Pinckney Holbrook et al trs, Squantum street.

BRAINTREE REAL ESTATE SALES

Annie E. Cavanagh to Frank Lopez et ux, Railroad street.

John L. Emery to Ray A. White, Washington street, South street.

Mabel A. Lothrop to Emma S. Trowbridge, Pond street.

John J. Macdermott to Charles E. Powers, Town street.

Henry S. Moody tr to Fred B. Lawence.

John A. Piercy to Ellen Murphy, Shaw avenue.

☞PRATT'S BREAD costs a little more—is worth a good deal more. Ask your grocer.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

EDWARD J. FEGAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK
QUINCY.

COMMITTEE FACES PROBLEM

It is going to be quite a problem for the license committee this year to decide who shall be granted licenses to drive wagons for the collection of junk and who shall not. For the past few years an attempt has been made to keep the number of junk wagons down as low as possible and this has been accomplished, nineteen being all that was granted, and some years of late the number has been even smaller than that. This year however the council has been swamped with applications for such licenses and they now have 32 applications.

As for liquor permits there are quite a number of new applications this year, aside from those granted a year ago. Most of the new applications this year are from Italians and it is pretty safe to say that if refused a permit they will not enter the express business. The fee for a permit to transport liquor is $1.

Maple lodge, K & L. of H., will consider applications for membership at its meeting Wednesday evening. The last bowling match in the lodge's season will be bowled that evening.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Charles A. French late of Quincy in said County, deceased:
Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Henrietta French and Dora E. French both of said Quincy who pray that letters testamentary may be issued to them, the executrices therein named, without giving surety on their official bonds. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the fourteenth day of April A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioners are hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing postpaid or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.
Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-ninth day of March in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.
J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t March 30, April 6-13

Arthur B. Foster
CARPENTER and BUILDER
14 Bay View St., Quincy Point
Telephone Connection
31-1m

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S
Tel. 1827-W Quincy

Russell Park
House 7 rooms and bath. Cemented cellar, large attic, furnace, coal and gas ranges, electric lights, open fireplace. All improvements, sunny and very attractive, fine residential street. Immediate possession. For key apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 18-tf

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING
WALL PAPER FOR SALE
KUSTAA RASANEN
121 Copeland St., West Quincy
Tel. Con. 19-tf

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

BE WISE
FOOL THE FLIES
HAVE YOUR SCREENS
RE-COVERED NOW
TELEPHONE OR WRITE
HOLMES & HALL
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

The HOME BEAUTIFUL

Flowers and Shrubbery—Their Care and Cultivation

Among the Sweet Peas.

STARTING THE FLOWERS

By JOSEPHINE DE MARR.

If your sweet peas begin to deteriorate, watch closely to see that no seeds mature; that the soil is stirred and a good mulch applied; that they get a good soaking at the roots once or twice a week during dry weather.

In a shady corner of the garden prepare a bed of light, rich, sandy soil, and put a frame about it. Cover it with a glass frame heavily whitewashed. Water and firm the soil and then plant cuttings in it. Cuttings of geraniums, roses, etc., may vary from an inch to eight, but in all cases remove two-thirds of the leafage and bury the cutting, allowing one or two eyes above the soil.

If you want to grow geraniums, snip out the tips of the branches and train the plant to throw out shoots near the ground. No shoot should be allowed to grow longer than three inches. This snipping process will insure lots of blooms later on.

Prepare a good supply of liquid manure to offset the debilitating effect of summer upon the flowers. Have a spigot placed two or three inches above the bottom of the barrel, fill with straw well above this spigot, and then a foot or two of fresh manure. Fill the barrel with water and in a few days the manure water will be ready to draw off and apply.

Turn the potted plants that have been plunged in the border to prevent their roots striking through into the soil. Cut off all the buds just as soon as they appear, and give the plants enough water so that they will not suffer. Turn the calla lily pot on its side in a shady place and give it a good rest.

While most people preach the desirability of young plants for winter blooming, you will find that the geraniums and kindred plants will give more bloom and be more satisfactory as winter bloomers in their second year than in their first, if properly raised. Cut the year-old plants back severely, pinch out all the shoots before they get three inches long; repot and shift as necessary, but do not stimulate with liquid manure.

A neighbor has a hedge of perennial sweet peas screening the barnyard from the house yard, and it is most satisfactory. Although its flowers are not as light and graceful as the annual sweet pea, they have a charm all their own, and through heat and cold, frost and drought, need little care or coaxing to do their best.

If you want to cover a fence or trellis with a quick growth of vines, get stems of the Virginia creeper, about six to eight feet in length, make a trench along the fence, and bury the vines five or six inches deep. At every joint will grow a shoot. Give a good soil and top dressing of well-rotted manure in spring and fall. This vine is hardy as the oak and almost immune from the attack of insects and pests.

The gladioli may be planted up to July 20 and, if given good soil, water and liquid manure, they will bloom before frost. If you come across the wild cucumber this month be sure to carry home with you some of its seeds. Plant them where you want them to grow and then forget them. They will appear next spring.

WHERE EASTER LILIES GROW

By A. D. DART.

Lying somewhat south of the gulf stream, and six hundred miles or so off the Atlantic coast from Charleston, S. C., is a group of several hundred islands known as the Bermudas.

Storms seem to have been responsible for our early knowledge of these beautiful islands, which unlike most sections of the habitable globe, have never known a war.

Mark Twain once wrote of the place, "It is heaven, but hell to get there."

For many years England used the islands for a convict colony, but as the misuse of such a beautiful spot became apparent, the idea was abandoned, and as many of the convicts who chose to remain were granted pardons, and portions of land allotted to each one with which to make a fresh start, many of their descendants still own and cultivate extensive lily and onion farms.

Today one can ride for miles along the country roads between fields of pure white flowers, growing in such profusion (especially during April when the blossoms are at their best) that the ground is not visible—just masses of white and green.

There are over two hundred farms, some of which are 30 to 40 acres, devoted exclusively to lily growing.

Both tourists and natives grow very tired of the heavy perfume of the flowers, which is often noticeable a mile away.

The fragrance of a bunch of lilies, delicately scenting a room or church, is very different from the overpowering perfume exhaled from a large lily farm. There can be too much of a good thing, for the odor of the onion, still raised there to some extent, often brings a welcome change.

The natives are quite resigned to the heavy perfume, knowing that, acre for acre, growing the lily is three or four times as profitable as raising onions, potatoes or fruit.

It is believed that lily bulbs were first brought to this country from Japan, by a man named Harris, to which country they had been brought from their ancient native home, China. The Bermuda lily is known as lilium harrisii.

The original lily is probably the oldest of all known flowers, and also is the only flowering plant that has no poor kin.

POINTS TO REMEMBER

By HELEN WATTS M'VEY.

For lasting labels on plants exposed to the weather, cut strips of zinc, expose them to the weather for a few days and then write the names of plants on them.

Spray chrysanthemums for the black beetle; make a strong suds by shaving a cake of white soap in boiling hot water, and when dissolved, add half of it to a pailful of hot water; apply with a garden spray or syringe as hot as the hand can bear. Drench the beetle well.

After a shower, or when the foliage is wet, give the rose bushes a thorough dusting on all sides, with sifted wood ashes.

If this is done whether insects appear or not, it will save trouble.

Bignonia cupreolate is said to far exceed the ordinary trumpet flower, Bignonia radicans, in beauty, though it is hard to see how it can. Both vines are absolutely hardy, and in the southern states grow wild.

Give the lawn a dressing of fertilizer in midsummer. If you have no old fertilizer, well rotted manure, get the commercial fertilizers as they are not expensive, and be liberal with them.

Adjust the knives of the lawn mower to cut about two inches above the crown of the grass plant; keep the grass growing well, remove all lawn clippings and put them in the manure heap.

Do not fail to get a root of Tradescantia Virginica, known commonly as "Spiderwort," "Blue-eyed Mary," and by a few other names.

The plant is perfectly hardy, will grow anywhere, but prefers a reasonably moist situation.

HARD LUCK IN NUGGET

By HAROLD CARTER.

(Copyright, 1915, by W. G. Chapman.)

Women certainly are queer. They act in the most unexpected ways, and when you think you've roped them they're up and away like a wild maverick. Now there was Miss Rose Crawford, who kept books for Jim Riley. First he thought he'd got her and then he thought he hadn't, and then, just when he thought he had—well!

We'd heard a new preacher was coming to Nugget, and naturally the boys were interested. Doctor Hadley, who had been with us six years, had been thought a good deal of. His Saturday night illustrated lectures on the wonders of nature had proved a live wire. Jim Riley had won the prize Doctor Hadley offered for the best collection of lizards and Tom Bullen's wife got the prize he gave for the best cake baked for the church sociable; and so, with the parson gone, we saw all our innocent pastimes nipped in the bud unless Mr. Frank Cunningham turned out a sociable sort of man like his predecessor.

The minute he steps off the train, however, he looks so queer we see something is wrong. He looks about him surprisedlike.

"Where's your outlaws?" he asks.

"There ain't been none here for these ten years, not since they passed the antigambling laws," says Tom.

"Why don't you carry pistols?" the parson asks, still more surprised.

"They's taxed too high," I explains. "Times is hard in Nugget."

"What, don't you shoot up tenderfeet who take drinks of lemonade?" he demands.

"Everybody drinks lemonade, mister," explains Jim Riley. "This is a prohibition county."

Naturally this didn't make too good an impression on us, especially when he preached a sermon against outlaws from the pulpit the first Sunday. The boys had another thing against him, too. He'd asked Miss Rose to go buggy-riding with him on the Wednesday, and as Jim Riley had been monopolizing her a good deal, we didn't like the butting-in feature. However, Miss Rose went with him.

"He didn't talk about nothing but outlaws," she said to us. "He thinks we're hiding the vice of Nugget from him to prevent his breaking it up. He says if he spots it he's going to smash it."

"So that's why he come nosing round my back door on Sunday before church!" exclaimed Jim, hotly. "Wanted to see if I was violating the temperance laws, eh?"

Well, after another week had gone by things was getting unbearable. None of us wanted to lay hands on the parson, but we saw he hadn't come to Nugget in an understanding spirit. Moreover, he was bothering Miss Rose, and we didn't like that.

"Now I tell you how it is, boys," says Tom Bullen. "What he wants is to prove himself. He's like a young horse that hasn't been broke. He's like a soldier going into battle, who thinks he's a hero and has to learn that it will take all his heroism to keep from running away. If once he gets up against what he's looking for he'll sing pretty small and possibly turn out to be a good feller."

And then he outlined his plan to us. We were to stage an attempted abduction.

It was three nights later, before the moon come up, that we carried out the plan. Jim and Tom lay in wait at the parsonage corner, about the time when Miss Rose used to walk home from the store. We knew the parson would be waiting for her, to say good evening and to offer to escort her, and the rest of us was hiding in Ephraim's store across the street, to see the fun.

Just as Miss Rose was passing the parsonage Jim and Tom leaps out and grabs her. Scream? I never heard a girl holler like it. Jim said afterward it scared him into thinking he was really trying to abduct her.

"Help! Help!" she cried at the top of her voice.

Suddenly the parsonage door opened and Mr. Cunningham came out.

"Wh-wh-what's the matter?" he stammered.

It was so dark some of us had taken the opportunity to creep up close, and I tell you it fairly scared me stiff to think a man could be such a coward. The parson was positively shaking with fright, and he looked as if he was going to turn tail any instant.

"You leave that young lady alone," he mumbled; and then he caught sight of Miss Rose's face.

Next instant he had landed like a catapult right into the pair of them. Before he knew it, Jim was lying in the road with a cut lip and Tom was leaning against the wall with a bruised eye. But the parson was at them again, and there wasn't nothing to do but to turn tail. We ran, the lot of us, and we was afraid every instant the parson would land one of us blows across our necks. But he tailed off and went back to Miss Rose, and that was the last we saw, except that we heard he took her home and told her she wasn't never to go out alone after dark in such a vicious town again.

Miss Rose wasn't at the store next day, and by nightfall everybody knew she was to marry the parson when the banns had been read. He got perkier than ever afterwards, and Jim agreed we'd made a bad mistake in not accounting for the power of love over a man. Anyhow, we've got a new parson in Nugget now, and Jim's trying to interest him in lizards.

THE STRANGLING OF COMMERCE

Allies Have No Right to Establish an Embargo

UNITED STATES' ATTITUDE

Outlined In Note to Great Britain In Which It Is Explained That Reparation Is Expected For Every Act Which Constitutes Violation of Rights of Neutral Countries

Washington, April 6.—The United States government made public its note to Great Britain announcing that it "could not admit" either the right of the allies or their claims for justification in placing an embargo on all commercial intercourse between Germany and neutral countries.

"To admit it," says the communication, "would be to assume an attitude of unneutrality toward the present enemies of Great Britain which would be obviously inconsistent with the solemn obligations of this government in the present circumstances, and for Great Britain to make such a claim would be for her to abandon and set at nought the principles for which she has consistently and earnestly contended in other times and circumstances."

The note reviews at length the legal phases of a blockade of belligerent territory and virtual blockade of neutral coasts. In conclusion, the United States declares its expectation that Great Britain, after having considered "the possibilities of serious interruption of American trade" under the order in council, will "take the steps necessary to avoid them and, in the event that they should unhappily occur, will be prepared to make full reparation for every act which, under the rules of international law, constitutes a violation of neutral rights."

The American communication interprets the circumstances under which Great Britain claims to be justified in adopting retaliatory measures toward her enemies as "merely a reason for certain extraordinary activities" by her naval forces, "and not an excuse for a prelude to any unlawful action."

"If the course of the present enemies of Great Britain," the note adds, "should prove to be in fact tainted by illegality and disregard of the principles of war sanctioned by enlightened nations, it cannot be supposed, and this governent does not for a moment suppose, that his majesty's government would wish the same taint to attach to their own actions."

Ambassador Sharp at Paris was instructed to present a copy of the American note to Great Britain to the French foreign office, with the statement that, although the French admiralty decree had not been officially received in Washington, it was understood to be identical with the British order in council and the American government therefore made similar reply.

FOR SINKING THE FRYE

America Asks Germany to Pay $228,059 to Owners and Captain

Washington, April 6.—The American note to Germany on the sinking of the American sailing ship William P. Frye by the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich was made public here.

It is very brief. It is confined principally to a recital of the legal aspect of the sinking of the Frye and in polite and diplomatic language suggests that Germany make "reparation."

This is the text of the instructions to Ambassador Gerard:

"You are instructed to present the following note to the German foreign office:

"Under instructions from my government I have the honor to present a claim for $228,059.54 with interest from Jan. 28, 1915, against the German government on behalf of the owners and captain of the American sailing vessel William P. Frye for damages suffered by them on account of the destruction of that vessel on the high seas by the German armed cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich on Jan. 28, 1915."

The note recites the facts upon which the claim is based, and continues:

"The claim of the owners and captain consists of the following items:

"Value of ship, equipment and outfit, $150,000.

"Actual freight as per freight list, $89,759.54.

"Traveling and other expenses of Captain Kiehne and Arthur Sewall & Co., agents of ship, in connection with making affidavits, preparing and filing claims, $500.

"Personal effects of Captain H. H. Kiehne, $300.

"Damage covering loss due to deprivation of use of ship, $37,000.

"Total, $228,059.54.

"By direction of my government, I have the honor to request that full reparation be made by the German government."

The Frye, a steel sailing vessel of 3374 gross tonnage, cleared from Seattle, Wash., Nov. 4, 1914, for Queenstown, Falmouth or Plymouth for orders, with wheat.

KEEP POSTED ON THE PEOPLE'S WANTS — CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING — WHY WORRY LET THESE ADS LIFT YOUR BURDEN

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET— Two or three fine front rooms, furnished, everything needed for light housekeeping. Gas range separate bath. Good neighborhood, near centre. Write J. J. Ledger Office. 6-6t

TO LET—Two front rooms, furnished, suitable for two gentlemen. Separate bath, good neighborhood, near the centre. Write W. W. Ledger Office. 6-6t

TO LET—Furnished housekeeping rooms. Apply 26 Elm street, Quincy. 3-3t

RENT REDUCED—Half house at 31 Bigelow street in first class condition; good neighborhood and convenient to everything. Bath, laundry, furnace coal range, shades, screens, gas etc. Apply at 33 Bigelow street. 1-tf

TO LET—At 33 Bigelow street, Quincy, a desirable house of eight rooms with improvements. Ready for occupancy about April 15. Apply on premises. 1-tf

TO LET—House of 7 rooms and bath on Russell Park. All improvements and very attractive. Immediate possession. For further details enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 5 rooms and bath. Rent $16.00. Lower flat of 5 rooms with improvements. Rent $14. Near station and cars. Apply at 59 Hall Place, West Quincy. 31-6t

TO LET—Upper flat of 4 rooms and bath in two-family house in Quincy Centre. Just right for a couple desiring a cozy sunny home with every convenience. Electric lights, furnace, gas stove, etc. Ready for occupancy. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—New flats, Quincy Point, four rooms and kitchenette, hot and cold water, set range, gas, separate cellars, low rent, Germain avenue, cor. Washington street. Small families only. Good neighborhood. E. R. Stone, 12 Avon Way. Ready April 1st. 31-6t

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house, 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2, Quincy or 110 South street, Boston, Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET—Upper and lower flats 91 and 93 Revere road 4 and 6 rooms and bath. To small families, $20 and $18. Fred M. Torrey, 25 Spear St., Tel. 202-1 Quincy. 27-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 5 rooms, one attic room and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. 97 Goddard street, near Quincy Adams Station. 15-tf

TO LET—Tenement of three rooms $7.50 per month. Good place for hens. James Moorhead, 28 Curtis street. Tel. 599-1. 15-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 160 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

TO LET

TO LET—Half house of six rooms and large laundry to adult family, conveniences, large garden. Rent $20. Apply to George H. Newcomb, 21 Adams Bldg. or M. M. Newcomb, 39 Gay street or phone 1990 Quincy. 2-tf

TO LET—Upper flat, 7 rooms, all conveniences, 112 Upland road. Apply on the premises or 20 Adams Building. 31-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—Quincy centre, 18 Faxon avenue, modern suite, 6 rooms and bath. Every improvement. Three minutes from R. R. station. Telephone 414-M. Weymouth. 25-tf

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements. 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 13-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—1913 Ford Touring car, electric lights, master vibrator, seat covers, tires and car in good condition. Apply to Central Garage and Supply Co., Washington and Pond streets. Telephone Quincy 1035 W. 5-6t

FOR SALE—Adjustable Acme dress form, cost $15 2 months ago. Will sell cheap. Tel. 158-5 Quincy. 3-3t

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 29-1m

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E. R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-tf. L P.

FOR SALE—400 loads of dark heavy loam cheap located at Dysart street. Apply to J. Coughlin & Donovan, 1475 Hancock street. 24-12t

TO LET

Large Room 30 x 36

Second Floor

Savings Bank Building

Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes

Quincy Savings Bank

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.

Nov

M. T. SULLIVAN

Real Estate Insurance

Auctioneer Care of Property

Justice of the Peace

Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

Prescott Apartments

For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service. Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS

PAINTER and GLAZIER

LEADED STAINED GLASS

DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER

OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED

Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.

Dandy bungalow in E. Braintree for sale: small pay't., bal. as rent: see this at once.

Houses H. F. McIntire Greenleaf Blk Tel. Quincy 1665-W.

Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.

1-1 yr.

WANTED

WANTED—An American girl to care for children and assist in sewing. Apply to Mrs. M. M. Cannon, 126 Butler road. 6-2t

WANTED—In Wollaston on or near Beale street. Two unfurnished rooms with privilege of light housekeeping for mother and son. References furnished. Apply L No. 11 Francis Place 6-1t

WANTED—A carpenter, telephone 21036 Quincy, call between seven and eight o'clock or call at 645 Sea street, Quincy. 6-1t

CHAUFFEUR—Wants position with private family or on truck. Temperate. Long experience and best of references. Melvin L. Dell, 40 Franklin street. Telephone 1056-W 5-6t

WANTED—Young couple desire two furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Apply W. Mustenom, 52 Copeland street, West Quincy. 5-3t

PROOFREADER. A young Woman experienced in proofreading is wanted at the Ledger Office. If not experienced but well educated and possessing natural ability application will be considered. Address letter to Miss Prescott, Ledger Office, Quincy. 24-tf

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and PIANO moving, packing and storage. Wm. D. King, 105 Centre street. Tel. 21003. 8-1mo.

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy. Res. 22-tf

TO LET

After May 1, Store or Stores No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.

Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.

22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.

Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up

Offices and Desk Room.

City Square Office, Hancock Bld.

Small front office.

Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.

City Square Store House or Shop

—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

City Square Club Room or Hall

—38x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK

CITY SQUARE

(Best location in City.)

Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.

Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS

Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.

Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust

Ask for A. F. Kelley

Greatest Block, 'Phone 21000 Quincy

Local Representative Wanted

by a large Boston Real Estate Office. Must be familiar with Quincy and Milton territory and values.

Write R. Ledger Office 5-3t

KINCAIDE THEATRE

REMARKABLE PARAMOUNT PHOTO-PLAY
'The MORALS of MARCUS'
MARIE DORO, Leading Lady.

VAUDEVILLE IMPERIAL FOUR Comedy Singing Quartette.
RUSSELL & GRAY, Singing, Talking and Dancing—GEORGE ALLMAN, Character Comedian.
Mon. Tues & Wed.—Daily at 2.30 P. M. 10 & 15c. Evenings at 8—10-15-25c

Photo-Plays Coming
"THE SIGN OF THE CROSS," with Wm. Farnum.
"THE GOOSE GIRL," with Margaret Clark.
"MISTRESS NELL," with Mary Pickford.
'HER TRIUMPH," with Gaby Desleys. "BUCKSHOT JOHN," with Chas. E. Van Lomis
COMPLETE WITH ALL STAR CASTS.

5 2t

SISSOR PASTE

THE MAN WHO CAME BACK.

The Hon. Joseph G. Cannon was visited at his home at Danville, Ill., the other day by a federal grand jury which had been impaneled to investigate the mode and manner of his election. About the middle of November last, after it was seen that Republicans had returned to Congress all of the standpatters defeated two years earlier, who had stood for a re-election, stories of fraud, intended to break the force of such a blow to the Democrats, were manufactured in Washington It was announced that grand jury investigations, under Federal law, would be made.

It is possible that, at the first, the Administration really did fail to believe that the Republican party was reuniting around its old leaders. At any rate it soon made the discovery that there was not a shadow of a case of fraud to be shown against the former Speaker, and when the grand jurors assembled in Danville and reviewed the case they were not slow in reaching the same conclusion. At the close of their work they signified to Mr. Cannon that they would be glad to call upon him, and were cordially invited to come.

It was a "smoker," of course, with Uncle Joe in his best vein and best humor. Some of the jurors thought his prime Havanas a trifle strong, and marveled that a man at his age could consume so many. They had a pleasure in watching the smoke of an old man who has "come back," after a thousand brass-faced gongs had counted him down and out. They took a personal view of the case. The political view is as interesting.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

NO MORE WABBLING IN MEXICO.

The situation in Mexico is so bad today that it cries to heaven for amelioration; it is so bad that the American Secretary of State fears to make public matters set before him by responsible residents of Mexico City and suppresses a letter sent to the people of the United States. The responsibility for this situation rests in a large degree on the American Government, which imposes on the nation a heavy burden.

But despite all, it will be better in the end for this country and for Mexico if the United States does nothing and stands convicted of failure to take care of a plain duty, rather than to make a second blind and bungling plunge into the vortex with the strong likelihood that after muddling around awhile it will emerge having reaped more loss of life, new trouble new expense, new contempt abroad and in Mexico itself, and new reproach, without having done any constructive good but having only made a bad matter worse.

Whatever is done henceforth, let the nation pray that it may be done decently, sanely, effectively, in good order and without wabbling.—Detroit Free Press.

RELIANT IN ADVERSITY.

Italy's problem of dealing with the homeless and the suffering after the terrible earthquake visitation of Jan. 13, last, appears to have been solved largely by itself, inasmuch as there was no general appeal to the world for assistance. The cast shows that Italy is fully capable of looking after her own people in time of catastrophe like this, and the proof is especially convincing in view of the fact Italy already was carrying no slight load in the mobilization and equipping of troops and ships for eventualities in the great war. The extent of the added burden imposed by the earthquake is indicated by the fact that 374 communes were damaged by the shaking of the earth and approximately 30,000 persons were killed outright, while the number injured and distressed is not estimated. In times past it has been customary to call on the world for contributions in rebuilding the ruined buildings and in feeding, clothing and giving medical attendance to the distressed; but the demands of the great war precluded the possibility of such a call last January, in consequence of which Italy went about solving her own problem, a problem which she apparently has consummated in a reasonably satisfactory manner. Leastwise, we hear of no tremendous outcry for relief beyond that afforded by the Italian government and the people of Italy, supplemented by individual contributions from those in other countries who were directly concerned. Thus Italy has been proven relf-reliant.—Barre Times.

MRS. SIMMONS PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Walter E. Simmons of 24 South Central avenue, Wollaston, one of the best known residents of the city died at Detroit, Mich., at three o'clock this morning while visiting her daughter.

Mrs. Simmons was the wife of Walter E. Simmons, for 30 years secretary of Rural lodge, A. F. and A. M., and treasurer of A. Shuman Co. of Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons went West several weeks ago on an annual visit. Mr. Simmons returned home and last Friday received word of the poor condition of his wife.

Burial will be in this city Mrs. Simmons leaves her husband and five children. She was a member of the Quincy Women's club and of the Wollaston Unitarian church.

CONSIDER SITE FOR HOSPITAL

The choice of a site for the new contagious hospital and a new dispensary, the immediate erection of which is required by law, will be made by the Planning Board and will receive its attention at the next meeting.

The dispensary must be started by July 1st and the contagious hospital by Sept. 1. There has been a movement to combine both and locate them near the Quincy City Hospital. Some opposition has developed, the claim being made that necessity requires the dispensary to be as close to the hospital as practical but that the contagious hospital should be kept separate and located on the site in Faxon park, given when the law was passed several years ago by Henry M. Faxon.

Read Ledger Advs.

SPORTING COMMENT

Youth had to be served in the Willard-Johnson fight. Age relentlessly pursues and finally chokes. Fatted muscles cannot be eradicated From now on all varieties of heavyweights will come to the fore Let us hope they equal the cleverness of the deposed champ if they manage to annex the title.

Charlotte, N. C., came in the limelight Monday when the Braves defeated the local team 13 to 1.

Bill Sweeney, who has been released wants to interview Manager Jennings He hopes to get a tryout with the Detroits.

George Barry, the little commodore of the Colonial league joins the Taunton team for his second season on May 1 A factor in his development the past two years is the moderate life of the young man He has been the one exception to the rule—when with the boys you must be a boy

The Red Sox started something down in Memphis Monday when they trimmed the locals 10 to 5 Speaker never looked better Stickword is O K.

The soccer team of the Bethlehem Steel qualified for the final round in the challenge cup competition by defeating the Homestead Steel Works at Bethlehem on Monday.

John G. Anderson, prominent in Massachusetts Golf Circles, will make his home in New York. His change of residence will probably mean a withdrawal from amateur or open title events of the state.

Bowling has stilled as far as league contests are concerned, but individual matches for purses, tandems between clubs and special rolloffs have the centre of the stage until next fall.

TO WITNESS INITIATION.

Several members of G. L. Gill Rebekah lodge will visit Amana Rebekah lodge of South Braintree Thursday evening and witness the work of initiation on several candidates. D. D. G. M. Mrs. Sadie M. Wood, and suite will be special guests.

PARKER—CLIFFORD

Fred Bailey Parker, 22, of 85 North Central avenue and Hadassah Murray Clifford, 19, of 167 Safford street, were married Easter Monday in the presence of a few friends. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Isaiah Sneath of the Wollaston Congregational church. They will live in Quincy.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Foy's Two Stores.
Nathan Ames.
Problem of Good Milk.
Y. M. C. A. Dramtics.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank our relatives and friends for the many acts of kindness shown to us in our recent bereavement and for the beautiful flowers.
Mr. and Mrs. Richard Williams
6-1t

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

WANTED—Two or three furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Write W. F. R., Ledger Office. 6-3t.

LOST—Open face Waltham watch, with monogram M. E. G., Tuesday morning between Dysart street and Quincy station. Kindly notify Ledger office when found. 6-tf

FOUND—In Quincy, lady's watch, owner can have same by proving property and paying charges. O. Price, 11 Granite street, Quincy. 6-3t

MARRIAGES

PARKER—CLIFFORD—In Quincy, April 5, by Rev. Isaiah Sneath, Fred B. Parker of 85 North Central avenue and Hadassah Murray Clifford of 167 Safford street.

DEATHS

PERRY—In East Milton, April 4, Martha J., widow of Joseph W. Perry, in her 53rd year. Funeral services at late home, 110 Willard street, Wednesday April 7, at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 5-2t

SIMMONS—In Detroit, Mich., April 6 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Almira E., wife of Walter E. Simmons of South Central avenue, Wollaston.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1495 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

ALIENS ASSASSINATED

Eleven Said to Have Been Recently Put to Death In Mexico City

San Antonio, Tex., April 6.—Eleven foreigners have been assassinated recently in the City of Mexico, according to Arthur B. Johnson, an attorney representing jointly the 2000 Americans of the city and the international committee of the capital district, who passed through here on his way to Washington.

The persons assassinated, says Johnson, were an American, a Swede, three Ottomans and six Spaniards. "I carry affidavits," continued Johnson, "to the following statement:

"Obregon stated at the time of the first occupation of the capital he would not recognize foreigners until foreigners recognized him, and publicly stated at the time of the second occupation that he would live to see the day when a cross would mark the place where the City of Mexico once stood."

IMPRISONMENT AND FINE

Imposed Upon Oleo Manufacturers Who Cheated the Government

Providence, April 6.—Jerehiam H. Hall and William J. Higgins, officers of the New England Manufacturing company, were each sentenced to one year and one month in the state prison and to pay a fine of $1000 for conspiracy to defraud the government of $400,000 taxes.

The defendants were officers of a company doing business in the state since 1906 in the manufacture of oleomargarine. Robert Childs of the department of justice of Washington told Judge Brown of the United States district court that palm oil was used in the manufacture of the substitute for butter.

MANY SEAMEN LOST IN COAST STORM

Indications That Death List May Reach Nearly a Hundred

New York, April 6.—Latest reports of the effects of the great storm which swept the Atlantic coast indicate that the toll of human life will reach nearly 100 persons.

The Royal Dutch West Indies steamer Prins Maurits, with forty-nine persons aboard, is believed to have foundered off Cape Hatteras.

Fifteen of the crew of the sea-going tug Edward Luckenbach perished when the tug was wrecked off False Cape, Va.

Ten men were drowned when two coal barges broke away from the tug Cumberland and were pounded to pieces off Cape Henlopen, Del.

Thirteen men aboard the barge Tampico, which broke away from her tow, are believed to have been lost.

Dozens of barges, schooners and other craft went ashore at various points along the coast, whose crews were rescued by other vessels or coast guards.

It is feared that other casualties may be reported.

GAGGED AND MURDERED

Fate of Chicago Hermit Who Was Thought to Have Much Money

Chicago, April 6.—Bound tightly to a chair in the little bedroom back of his modest flower shop, a gag of cloth jammed into the mouth and held in place by heavy twine, the lifeless body of Herman Well was found at 421 West Sixty-third street.

Well, who lived the life of a hermit, is said to have had considerable money hidden about his rooms. The cash register in Well's store was rifled and the mattress of his bedroom torn open. There were also other signs of the robbers' search for secreted money.

HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

Maine Barber Accused of Killing Man Without Known Motive

Gardiner, Me., April 6.—John E. Connors, a barber, was arrested on the charge of murder and bound over to the superior court.

He was alleged to have killed James Callaghan, who was shot as he passed Connors' shop. No motive for the shooting was known. Connors, according to the police, had been drinking.

Church Destroyed by Fire

Central Falls, R. I., April 6.—St. Joseph's Catholic church, a $45,000 wooden structure in the centre of the Polish quarter, was destroyed by fire. Rev. Francis M. Kluger, the pastor, saved the sacraments and vestments.

Thaw Hearing April 19

New York, April 6.—Harry K. Thaw was in supreme court again on a technical step in his habeas corpus suit, which was postponed to April 19 and Thaw returned to the Tombs.

Railroad Fined $200,000

Trenton, April 6.—Federal Judge Reilstab fined the Central Railroad of New Jersey $200,000 on conviction for giving rebates.

The whale is not a fish. In everything which characterizes a true fish and separates it from other classes, as reptiles, birds and mammals, the whale resembles the last named (the mammals) and differs radically and fundamentally from the fish.—New York American.

THAT HANDSOME MAN

By JOHN DARLING.

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Marian Hamilton had met John Broadfoot in Washington while that young man had been attached to the British embassy. He had been noticeable even in Washington society because of his handsome face and splendid carriage. His manners, too, were charming and he was a much sought after guest at social functions.

From the moment that he beheld Marian he had loved her. And he was not long in telling her of his feeling. Marian had been very kind but very sorry—she could not marry him. She had always said she could not be happy with a really handsome man, and she had always said she hoped she would not fall in love with one. She recognized her own weakness—a tendency to jealousy.

And it was not until John Broadfoot was called back to his own country to serve his colors that the girl realized that, in spite of herself, she loved him. She had bidden him a hasty good-by and there had been no time for further explanation.

Following his departure she evaded society; she was not happy. And when an opportunity came to enlist herself for service in the Red Cross ranks she cheerfully took up the preliminary work in Washington. Later, when a girl chum decided to go on to the scenes of battle in Europe she begged leave of her parents to accompany her.

Therefore, it was not so strange that she should one day find her old lover, John Broadfoot, among the wounded soldiers under her care. His wounds had been so severe that there had been little hope of his recovery and she had lingered day and night at the side of his cot so that she might be near him when he regained consciousness. And she had been there only to receive the fleeting recognition and then to have him sink back again into the darkness. Strangest of all, followed the cable calling her to Washington. She had only time to leave a message with the girl with whom she had come across the ocean.

That message conveyed to John Broadfoot the hope that if he still cared to tell her a story she would listen. But the wounded soldier had not yet received the message and he looked forward to the time when he could rejoin his regiment and fight at the front.

"I've found Miss Hamilton's friend, Mary Sprague, who says she has a word to whisper in your ear," his nurse said to him one morning when he seemed brighter and stronger. "Will you see her?"

"Will a thirsty man drink?" he asked her, smilingly.

And almost as he said the words Mary Sprague appeared at the side of his cot. "John Broadfoot—you know me now?" she said, taking his thin, white hand.

"Now—and always, I hope," he said with a touch of his old-time chivalry.

"But it's a long way—from Washington, U. S. A., isn't it?"

Broadfoot nodded against his pillow. Then he seemed to wait for the message.

"Marian was with me," Mary Sprague began.

"I—yes, I remember seeing her standing here," the patient said.

"She and I joined the Red Cross together and—she was suddenly called home. Her mother was ill. She—she left a hasty message for you. She told me to tell you that—" Mary Sprague hesitated—"that there was some story you wanted to tell her that—that she would be interested in—now."

The wounded man searched the face of the nurse. "Marian told you to tell me that?" he asked, unbelievingly.

"She told me that as she left to catch the steamer back to America," Mary Sprague repeated.

John Broadfoot was silent for a few minutes. The other nurse had disappeared.

"Could you—would you let me write a cable message for her and—would you send it for me?" he asked, with almost childish appeal in his voice.

Mary got him pencil and paper. Then she left him while he composed his message.

When the cable letter was finished it said to Marian Hamilton: "Will you have me now? I am no longer the handsome man you refused. My nose is flattened and turned up like that of Socrates; I've lost a finger. Is that enough? The battle did it, but if it gives me you I'm happy."

It was an extravagant message, but it meant much to the wounded man, and when he received a reply to it that made him happier than he had ever been in his life he took a wonderful turn toward health and surprised the nurses and doctors who were attending him.

When he left the hospital it was with the promise to Mary Sprague that he would bring his bride back to help with the splendid work that she had been pursuing and that he would help in every capacity in which he would be permitted to help.

Local Products.

When the best products of any locality are shipped to a distant market, and only the "seconds" kept for home use, nobody gets anything at its best. If each locality would make the most of its own products the result would be much more satisfactory.—Mrs. Julian Heath.

BRIEFS

Fred Lovejoy was called to Maine Friday to attend the funeral of his brother.

E. R. Frost of Quincy has moved to Dover, occupying Mrs. Dandrow's house on Springdale avenue.

Mrs. George G. Saville of Saville avenue entertained her neighborhood bridge club Monday afternoon.

Mrs. James H. Slade of Edgemere road is entertaining at an afternoon bridge party Thursday.

A regular meeting of the Quincy Day Nursery association was held Monday.

The next meeting of the Quincy Alliance of the First Parish church will be held on the evening of April 14.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Washington street Congregational church will present a play Tuesday evening.

Mayor Campbell is to speak before the Rockland Brotherhood at Rockland next Tuesday evening.

Mayor Campbell leaves Wednesday evening for a brief business trip to Philadelphia. He will be absent from the city only a few days.

"An untruthful liar" is bound to get into trouble. Take the case of Dan Gillispie in a "Family Affair" at Music hall Wednesday evening.

Lemuel Bannister of New York spent Sunday at the home of his fiancee, Miss Mary Faxon of Adams street.

Mrs. Marion Barham and daughters of Norfolk Downs have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Besse of Hanson.

The Bible Study class of the Calvary Baptist church will be held at the home of Mrs. Annie Elder, 26 Pearl street tis evening.

The condition of James Allen, inspector of provisions, who was operated upon at the City Hospital Saturday continues to be favorable.

Mrs. Fred Lovejoy, who has been in New York city the past three months, has returned to her home on Hampden street.

John DeCoste, the former Copeland star third baseman, has accepted a position at the Fore River yard and will go out for the team.

This is one of the days on which the assessors are obliged to give up field work. The assessors completed all of that part of Hancock street which is in Ward One.

The Manhattan Social club and the Granite A. C. will hold a bowling match at St. Mary's alleys this evening. The Manhattans are out for revenge for their defeat of last week.

Some of the census enumerators did not receive their supplies Monday as was expected. A. M. Richardson, stated Monday evening that all would receive their supplies today.

Charles Knight, the star twirler of last years Fore River team, has accepted a position with the Fore River and willundoubtably be on the slab again for the team.

The national president of the A. O. H., James McLaughlin of Philadelphia who is making a tour of the United States, will speak to the Hibernians of Norfolk County at the building on Franklin street, this city, on Sunday afternoon, May 2.

This is a Pure Food Store

Good Housekeeping Magazine marks with a star the pure food products advertised in its pages. Good Housekeepers of this city, mark with the star of approval the pure food products sold in this store.

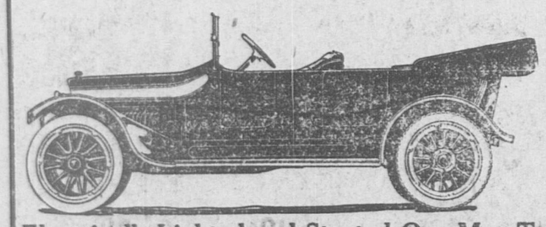

The freshest of butter, new laid eggs, canned and packaged goods of standard brands, and Hotel Astor Guests' Coffee, just the blend you have been looking for—rich in body, fragrant in aroma—35 cents a pound in sealed tins.

Prompt deliveries—telephone your orders.

FOY'S
TWO STORES
ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980
WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

Furniture Storage Warehouse
Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.
Rates $2---$3---$4 per month
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.
Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26--tu.-th.s.-tf

THE 1915 REO IS HERE

Electrically Lighted and Started, One Man Top Increased Wheel Base, 34x4 Tires, Crown Fender, Improved Upholstering, Increased Power.

	F.O.B. Factory		F.O.B. Factory
4 cyl. - - -	$1050	2 ton Truck	$1650
6 cyl. - - -	$1385	Light Delivery 1500 lbs.	$1075
4 cyl. Runabout	$1000	Light Delivery Chassis	$1000
4 cyl. Coupe	$1575

Reo the Fifth - - the Incomparable Four is on Display at our Garage. Call and see This Car.
Ask for Demonstration
CENTRAL GARAGE and SUPPLY CO.
Corner Washington and Pond Sts.
QUINCY
Tel. 1035 W C. W. Hodgkinson, Prop.
16-1mo.

For Your Lawn & Garden
Bradley's Fertilizer
dissolves readily with the first rain and instantly enters the soil and is absorbed by the roots.
It makes the soil rich and moist.
"The World's Best by every test."
ALL KINDS OF GARDEN SEEDS
USE CARBORUNDUM SHARPENING STONES
NATHAN AMES
5 Granite St.,

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 82 QUINCY, MASS., WEDNESDAY EVENING, APRIL 7, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

DOBLE-DEARING WEDDING BRILLIANT SOCIAL EVENT

Ralph N. Doble of This City Weds Braintree Girl

In the presence of friends from Quincy, Braintree and surrounding cities and towns at the First Congregational church of Braintree Tuesday evening Ralph Nelson Doble of this city and Miss Florence Agnes Dearing of Braintree were united in marriage by the Rev. Harry Grimes. pastor of the church. Despite the inclement weather a large and brilliant company attended the wedding and reception.

Mrs. Doble is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haven Dearing of 439 Washington street. Braintree, and Mr. Doble is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Doble of South street, this city. The marriage was the culmination of a school day romance, the young people first becoming acquainted when attending Thayer Academy, South Braintree. They will reside in this city in a house being built for them near the residence of the groom's parents on South street.

The ceremony was set for 7.30 o'clock and at that hour, despite the bad weather, nearly every seat in the church was filled. The minister entered together with the groom and his best man, Carl Doble of East Braintree, a brother. The attendants of the bride and the two little flower girls entered from the front of the church and advanced to meet the bride. Organist Hiram G. Tucker played the wedding march when the bridal party advanced from the rear of the church to the altar. The bride was on the arm of her father, Frank Haven Dearing.

The bride wore white bridal satin with under flounces of lace and carried a shower bouquet of Easter lilies and lilies of the valley.

The church was prettily decorated with Easter lilies and ferns. The bridal party marched under arches of green and white as they proceeded down the center aisle.

The matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Harrison Gordon of Braintree, who wore a gown of silk net of different rose shades and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas. The attendents of the bride were Miss Clarice Doble, of Quincy, sister of the groom, gown of white silk net trimmed with pink and taffeta ruffles, shower bouquet of sweet peas. and Mrs. Carl Doble of East Braintree. sister-in-law of the groom. gown of white silk net trimmed with pink taffeta ruffles, shower bouquet of sweet peas. The flower girls were the little Misses Dearing.

The ushers were Harrison Gordon of Braintree, Lyndon B. Hardwick, of Weston, Taylor Roberts of Dorchester, Kenneth Robinson of Boston, Olcott Hastings of Holyoke and Kendall Doble of Quincy. a brother of the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 439 Washington street, Braintree. The newly married couple were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haven Dearing and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Doble.

An upstairs room was filled with the many beautiful presents which the young couple had received. Slips showed gifts of an acre of land from father of the groom on the Doble estate, where Mr and Mrs. Doble are building their home, together with a check for one hundred dollars, a check for two thousand dollars and five thousand dollars in stock.

Among those who attended wedding and reception were ten members in uniform of the First Corps of Cadets of Boston, to which Mr. Doble belongs.

Quincy Quick Lunch

1510 Hancock Street

Next to Wardwell's Bowling Alley

Open from 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.

7-6t

We are pleased to announce to the public that we have our Full Line of

SPRING and SUMMER SUITS

on hand for your approval.

Or we will take your order for a custom made suit at a very reasonable price.

Dressmaking, Cleansing, Pressing, Dyeing, etc.

Orders promptly filled.

MADAME SARKIN

Granite Ladies' Tailoring Co.

Tel. Con. 1463 Hancock St.

5-3t

GUY PASSES ROUND FLAGROOT

Holds Up Legislative Committee

Charles W. Guy, former councillor of the second district, appeared before the committee investigating the pardon of Hall, the Southbridge banker on Tuesday, and added a humorous twist to the proceedings

He said he was for the pardon. although he had never seen Mr. Hall He was asked by Mr Washburn:

"If you had seen Hall's wife you would have been for the pardon, wouldn't you?"

"Certainly, I would," replied Mr. Guy "The others would have done so. too: I guess they did"

Mr. Guy was excused a moment later and reaching his hand into his back pocket said, "Thank you, Mr. Washburn, have some flagroot This is what I feed the governor on It is fine." And, amid general laughter Mr. Guy held up the proceedings while he distributed flagroot to all the committee members

ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE.

Mrs. Osborne Rogers entertained a neighborhood bridge party Tuesday evening at her home, 1072 Hancock street. The souvenir for the best score was given to Mrs. Howard Rogers while the consolation went to Mrs Buck of Bangor, Me.

The pretty hand painted Easter score cards were the work of Miss Gertrude Rogers, the 10 year old daughter of Mrs. Howard Rogers and were very finely executed. During the evening the hostess served a delightful lunch

TO HOLD DANCE.

The fourth annual dance of the Thursday Evening club of Milton will be held in Ellsworth hall, on the evening of April 15.

☞The Daily Ledger is news every day. Are you a regular reader?

JOHNSON AND CO.'S

PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR

AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT

Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.

IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.

Be Sure My Name is on The Band

Yours, JOHNSON

Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

PLANNING BOARD FAVORS 16 ROOMS

Goes on Record In Favor of That Number In Any Future Schools

ALSO DISCUSS HOSPITAL

The Planning Board at a meeting held Tuesday evening placed itself on record as being in favor of 16 rooms in any school buildings that may be erected in the future. This will provide room for junior high schools and will relieve the crowded condition at the High school and do away with the necessity of enlarging the High school for a number of years.

The Board also considered informally the location for a contagious or tuberculosis hospital which the city is obliged to erect in the immediate future. The Planning Board believes that the proper location for this hospital should be near the present City Hospital. No action however was taken in the matter.

In referring the matter of a contagious hospital to the Mayor Monday evening the finance committee of the City Council requested his honor to forward plans for the hospital and any suggestions that the Planning Board might have to make. It is probable, therefore, when the plans are forwarded to the city council that the Planning Board will officially recommend that the building be located near the City Hospital.

"A REGIMENT OF TWO" GIVEN

The Christian Endeavor society of the Washington Street Congregational church gave the first of a series of dramatics at the church vestry Tuesday evening The farce presented was "A Regiment of Two," under the direction of Mrs. Stephen C Lang.

The cast included the Misses Erna and Martha Schlenker, Helen Sherburne, Catherine Yule, James Waddell. Harold Hayden, Thomas and John Jones, Carleton McNeil and Ezekiel McCullock.

An added novelty was the concert given between the acts by a kitchen orchestra of junior members of the First Presbyterian church and recitations by Miss Maria Lorentzen.

The evening was enjoyed by the large number who attended. Ice cream and cake was served. The committee was Miss Helen Sherburne, Miss Catherine Yule and Mrs Stephen C. Lang

SERVICES FOR MRS. TURNER.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary A. B. Turner, who half a century ago was prominent in Boston art circles and who died Friday in her 70th year took place at her home, 303 Newport avenue, Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Carl G. Horst of the Wollaston Unitarian church officiated at the services.

Burial was in Medfield where the husband of the deceased was for many years superintendent of the car shops. Included in the personal effects of Mrs. Turner are many fine paintings of interest to connoisseurs.

TO-NIGHT

MUSIC HALL

8 P. M.

Y. M. C. A. Dramatics

Personal Direction

ERASTUS OSGOOD

Music by

Wollaston Cadet Band Orchestra

Reserved Seats

50, 35 and 25 cents

April 1-6t

TRAIN KILLS BRAINTREE MAN

Find Body of Charles Derby on R. R. Tracks

The body of Charles L. Derby 39 years, of 389 Middle street, Braintree, was found badly mutilated in the Braintree freight yard at four o'clock this morning by railroad employees.

Derby was employed as teamster by R. Allen Gage. He was probably crossing the track at Union street when struck The body was found a short distance away from there. He leaves a family.

FORE RIVER BILL TO PASS

Senate Committee Reports In Favor

In the Senate Tuesday the committee on ways and means reported ought to pass on the bill providing for an appropriation of $75,000 for widening the Fore rive to a width of 800 feet and dredging it to a depth of 24 feet at mean low water. The appropriation is contingent upon the appropriation of $200,000 by the United States government, the sum of $10,000 by the City of Quincy and $15,000 by the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation, for the poreject. This is taken to imply the passage of the bill.

The same committee also reported reference to the next legislature on the bill appropriating an additional sum of $50,000 to complete the Quincy Shore Boulevard from Wollaston beach to Hancok street. Although the Metropolitan Park commissioners will not get the additional sum of $50,000 desired this year, work on the boulevard will go forward immediately.

Another important matter reported upon by the ways and means committee was, ought to pass on the bill authorizing the Norfolk County Commissioners to expend the sum of $75,000 for a Norfolk County Agricultural school.

COMMITTEE GETS NO SATISFACTION

A committee which included delegates from the several improvement associations of the city held a conference Tuesday evening at the office of the Quincy Electric Light & Power company relative to a reduction in the prices charged in Quincy for electricity for domestic purposes. There were eighteen of the committee present, Charles Mossman of the Norfolk Downs association acting as chairman.

Nothing of importance developed, Mr. Faxon of the electric light company repeating the statement made a few days ago to the committee of the Board of Trade, that is that the company felt it was giving as low a rate as it could when concessions as to renewals of lamps, etc was considered and that before any reduction should be made the plant would be brought up to its highest state of efficiency, where the loss power would be a minimum.

NEIGHBORHOOD CONFERENCE.

Rev. Frank A. Powell. who recently assumed the pastorate of the All Souls church at Braintree will be the speaker at the neighborhood conference to be held Friday night in the social rooms of the First Parish church.

CLARA MORRISON

Pianist and Teacher

Leschetizky Method

CATHERINE MORRISON

Mandolin and Guitar

50 Hamilton Street, Wollaston

Tel. Quincy 1318-W. Sept 30-w.s.-1y

BLOCK OF STORES ON SCHOOL STREET

Plan Building on Old Mitchell Estate Near Walsh's Drugstore

WORK TO BEGIN SOON

It is announced on good authority that work is to be commenced at a very early date in the erection of a block of stores on the old Mitchell estate at the corner of Hancock and School streets. Plans for this block of stores have already been made. and the owners are expected to make application in a few days for the necessary permit so that work may be commenced. The plans have already been inspected informally by the inspector of building but formal application for a permit has not as yet been made.

HAVE EXCITING BURGULAR SCARE

The door of the Boston Market was found unlocked at six o'clock Tuesday evening by patrolman O'Neil and someone started the rumor that several men had just left the premises with the discovery

The rumor spread like wildfire and before long a score of people had gathered in front of the store. An examination showed things in apparent disorder and several people offered to furnish a description of the men who they said were rough appearing characters.

An investigation, however, revealed that the last person to leave had neglected to throw the catch on the Yale lock and that the disorder was the result of the days business.

ULJAS—KOITTO.

The Uljas-koitto Temperance association is to have two interesting events in the hall this week.

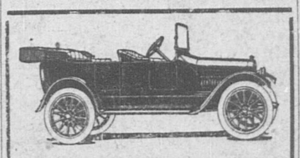

Thursday evening the girls are to give an entertainment, consisting of music, readings, and a short play. Dancing will take place at the close of the play with music furnished by the national band. Come and bring your friends.

Saturday evening there will be a masquerade ball. Prizes will be awarded the three most cleverly dressed dancers

SUES FOR DIVORCE.

Mrs. Mary A. Fuller of Quincy has filed a divorce libel in the Norfolk Superior Court against Charles H. Fuller of Milton on the grounds of non-support. The couple were married in Quincy, Aug. 9, 1886 and have lived here and in Ballardvale, Topsfield and Milton and in Milltown, Me.

Mayor Campbell leaves tonight for Philadelphia and will be absent until the latter part of the week.

JACKSON Model 46

THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL, SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER

"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"

Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT

$1375

JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.

EVERETT F. PRIOR

TRIBOU'S GARAGE

TEL. QUINCY 141

RECOVERS PART OF LOOT STOLEN DURING NIGHT

Officers Cahill and Farrell Arrest Two For Larceny

Patrolmen Cahill and Farrell broke into prominence today through their recovery of a portion of the brass castings and pipes, valued at $600, stolen during the night from a building at the Bay State Street Railway Company power plant at Quincy Point

The goods were found after a long search, hidden in a small building at Sandberg's wharf on Town river and are valued at more than $150.

Alfred Pappi, 18 years of Canal street and Paul DiSalvo, 19 years of 56 Newcomb street, have been taken into custody as a result of their investigations.

The burglary was discovered this morning by employees. Police headquarters were notified and Patrolmen Cahill and Farrell were assigned to the case. In their investigations they learned a boat had been tied up at the Power Point wharf during the night and that the same boat was moored this morning in Town river.

Both men centered their search in the immediate vicinity and several hours later found a brass casting valued at $150 and some of the pipe.

Transferring their operations to the Italian quarter they uncovered information which led them to believe the burglary was the work of boys and a rigid examination of several suspects resulted in the arrests

SERVICES FOR MRS. SIMMONS

The body of Mrs. Almira E. Simmons, wife of Walter E. Simmons, who died at the home of her daughter in Detroit, Mich., on Tuesday is being brought to Quincy for burial.

Mrs Simmons was one of the best known Wollaston residents and a popular club member. The funeral services to be held Thursday afternoon at her late home at 34 South street will be attended by members of the Quincy Wowen's club, with which she was affiliated, and of the Wollaston Unitarian church where sh was a constant attendant.

Mrs. Simmons is survived by her husband, Walter E. Simmons, three daughters, Mrs. May Holmes of Detroit, Miss Almira Simmons of Wollaston and Mrs. Kate Wyands of Wollaston, and two sons, Everett and John Simmons.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

COMBINED MUSICAL CLUBS

CONCERT

April 13 at 8 p.m.

Alpha Hall, -- Quincy

Benefit of

SIMMONS COLLEGE

Tickets -- 50 cents

3, 7, 9, 12

MEMBERS ARE DISCOURAGED

The members of the Machine Gun Co. who gathered in Union hall Tuesday night for drill were not as encouraged as a week ago as a result of the attitude of the city council toward the passage of the appropriation

Some feel that because of the delay in money will be appropriated this year. The resolution favoring the company has not been passed as yet by the council and if an appropriation is made it will have to be included in a supplementary budget.

MRS. ANGELA D. WOODMAN.

The body of Angela D. Woodman, widow of William O. Woodman, was taken to New Bedford Tuesday after funeral services at her late home 14 Royal street .

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity.

Fair Thursday. Moderate variable winds.

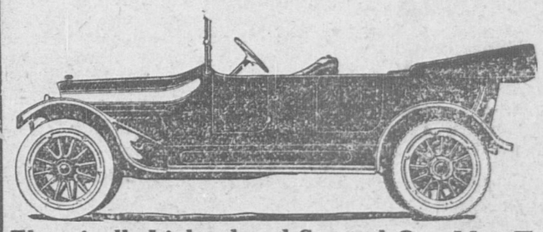

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	5.16
Sun sets	6.17
Length of day	13.01
Moon rises	2.39
High water, A. M.	6.15
High water, P. M.	6.45
Days increase	3 hrs. 55 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	58 degrees
Apr. 7, 1914,	42 degrees
Apr. 7, 1913,	44 degrees
Noon Maximum 18 years—86
Noon Minimum 18 years—30

THE 1915 REO IS HERE

Electrically Lighted and Started, One Man Top Increased Wheel Base, 34x4 Tires, Crown Fender, Improved Upholstering, Increased Power.

F.O.B. Factory		F.O.B. Factory
4 cyl. - - - -	$1050	2 ton Truck	$1650
6 cyl. - - - -	$1385	Light Delivery 1500 lbs.	$1075
4 cyl. Runabout	$1000	Light Delivery Chassis	$1000
4 cyl. Coupe	$1575

Reo the Fifth - - the Incomparable Four is on Display at our Garage. Call and see This Car.

Ask for Demonstration

CENTRAL GARAGE and SUPPLY CO.

Corner Washington and Pond Sts.

QUINCY

Tel. 1035 W C. W. Hodgkinson, Prop.

16-1mo.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

THE AMERICAN NOTE.

The American note in reply to the British order-in-council of March 15 is a masterpiece in diplomatic correspondence. It is an inquiry rather than a protest. It does not reproach Great Britain for the order which virtually establishes an embargo on commerce to and from Germany. Rather in entirely friendly spirit the note sets forth the attitude of the American government and sets it forth so clearly and concisely that England will be blind indeed if she does not see that it is likewise the attitude of international law, which she has so jealously defended on many occasions in the past and cannot honorably now cast aside. The tone of the note throughout is friendly and assumes that the interpretation of international law therein set down is identical with the interpretation of his majesty's government.

The tenor and substance of the note may be gained from the following brief extract:

"It is confidently assumed that his majesty's government will not deny that it is a rule sanctioned by general practice that, even though a blockade should exist and the doctrine of contraband as to unblockaded territory be rigidly enforced. innocent shipments may freely be transported to and from the United States through neutral countries to belligerent territory without being subject to the penalties of contraband traffic or breach of blockade. much less to detention, requisition or notification. Moreover, the rules of the Declaration of Paris of 1856—among them that free ships make free goods—will hardly at this day be disputed by the signatories of that solemn agreement.

"The note of his majesty's principal secretary of state for foreign affairs which accompanies the order-in-council. and which bears the same date, notifies the Government of the United States of the establishment of a blockade, which is, if defined by the terms of the order-in-council. to include all the coasts and ports of Germany and every port of possible access to enemy territory. But the novel and quite unprecedented feature of that blockade, if we are to assume it to be properly so defined, is that it embraces many neutral ports and coasts, bars access to them, and subjects all neutral ships seeking to approach them to the same suspicion that would attach to them were they bound for the ports of the enemies of Great Britain and to unusual risks and penalties. It is manifest that such limitations, risks and liabilities placed upon the ships of a neutral Power on the high seas, beyond the right of visit and search and the right to prevent the shipment of contraband already referred to, are a distinct invasion of the sovereign rights of the nation whose ships, trade, or commerce is interfered with."

It appears to be certain that no bungler is framing the American correspondence in this time of danger. Counsellor of the State Department Lansing is writing notes which are arousing the admiration of the recipient. The government and the American people are indeed fortunate in having so skilled a diplomat as successor to John Basset Moore and Asst Sec'y Adee. The layman may think little of these exchanges of international courtesies, explanations, protests and apologies, but they are important, nevertheless. They are the means which a nation adopts to get just treatment from another nation without going to war.

CURTIS GUILD.

There have been many public men in the history of Massachusetts who have had greater minds than ex-Governor Curtis Guild, but in recent years there have been few so popular with all sorts and conditions of men. He was a man of [illegible] personal magnetism. a prince of good fellows. He served the commonwealth with distinction and he displayed the same tact and ability when ambassador to Russia.

Although Easter Sunday in London dawned bright and clear it was not a day for the display of finery. The dress of the women was sombre in hue for it was not an Easter Sunday in an ordinary year. The dark shadow of the war; darker than any since the great Napoleon stalked ruthlessly over the continent of Europe and threatened the little island across the channel, at last has made an impression even upon the British. With sons, brothers, fathers, husbands and sweethearts at the front there was no inclination for gay colors.

FLEE FIRE IN NIGHT CLOTHES

Lively Blaze in Point Boarding House

There was a lively time for a while early this morning when fire was discovered in a house on East Howard street, directly opposite the Fore River works. The building is known as the old Woodbury house, now owned by Joseph Coughlin and occupied as a Syrian boarding house. There is a small store on the front part of the street floor. On the second floor a dozen Syrians were asleep when smoke began to pour through the rooms and there was a hurry to get out. The men were greatly excited and although there was no real danger at that time, some of them did not even stop to dress but ran into the street in their night clothes with their belongings under their arms.

The fire started in an L near a stove and the woman who ran the place and slept near the kitchen was the first to be aroused by smoke. She lost no time in arousing the boarders and the first man out rang the alarm from Box 725. This was at 2.45 and it was but a few minutes later when the fire department was on the scene. At that time everybody was out of the house. The place was filled with suffocating smoke however and the fire had worked up through the partition to the blind attic and thence through the roof.

It was necessary for the firemen to chase the fire with chemical streams and it was sometime before the all out signal sounded although the only place in which fire broke through was on the roof. Chief Billings estimates the loss at between $400 and $500.

The Syrians were taken care of for the remainder of the night at other boarding houses in the vicinity.

JAMES F. ALLAN DIES AT HOSPITAL

The many friends of James F. Allan will regret to learn of his death at the City Hospital, following an operation last Saturday for appendicitis. Mr. Allan was taken ill the latter part of last week, and his physician decided that the only hope for him was through an operation He was therefore taken to the City Hospital Saturday morning and an operation was performed later in the day. He rallied from the operation and Monday was reported as being comfortable. Other complications then set in and he began to fail rapidly, so rapidly that Tuesday noon it was given out that there was little hope of his recovery. He passed away Tuesday evening.

Mr. Allan was about 42 years of age and had been a resident of Quincy for many years His occupation was that of a meat cutter, and he had long been employed in the market of Johnson Bros Some years ago he received the appointment as inspector of meats and provisions, which position he held up to the time of his death.

Mr. Allan was a widower, his wife having died several years ago He is survived by three sons and a daughter. One daughter, Miss Annie Allan is employed in the office of the assessors at city hall as clerk to the board.

DR. G. F. S. PEARCE
DENTIST
327 Newport Avenue, Wollaston
Mondays -- Wednesdays -- Fridays
8 t, 12 — 1 to 5
EVENINGS
Boston Office 194 Boylston Street
June 24-ly-w-s.

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton, Director
Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
31-tf

OUTLINES PLATFORM OF ANTI-SUFFRAGISTS

Mrs. Foxcroft Speaks at Meeting of Local Organization

On Tuesday afternoon an Anti-Suffrage meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Herbert T. Drake, 13 Goffe street After a most interesting address by Mrs. Frank Foxcroft, Vice president of the Anti-Suffrage association of Cambridge, tea was served. Mrs. Henry M. Faxon and Mrs. L. H. Sturtevant assisting

Mrs. Foxcroft said in part:

"Anti-suffragists and Suffragists agree in wishing that women should render the largest possible service to the state. Their disagreement is about the form which the service should take

"Anti-suffragists estimate as highly as suffragists the ability of their sex, but they do not consider that it is best displayed in attempting identical effort with men. They see no indignity to womanhood in a division of responsibilities along the lines of sex. Our democracy recognizes that rich and poor, intelligent and ignorant, foreigner and native-born, employer and employed may have clashing interests and it gives to each group the ballot to safeguard its own But the interests of men and women do not clash, and their relations are so close that the men of each group may truly be said to represent the women of that group. Most women not only acquiesce in, but heartily approve such a representation as part of a reasonable and convenient division of labor. They think voting "a man's job," and they are glad to have men do it.

"The strength of the suffrage movement has been greatly exaggerated. Some of the suffrage states have an enormous area but a very small population. Wyoming, which is half as large again as New England, has a population about the size of Cambridge. Nevada, which is nearly as large as New York and the New England states combined, has a population the size of the city of Lawrence. Montana, which has a still larger area, has a population about one-half the size of the city of Boston Utah has a population of four to the square mile Of the eight most sparsely settled states in the Union, all but one are woman suffrage states The total population of the eleven suffrage states is 894,000 less than that of the state of New York The largest city among them stands 11th on the list of United States cities. In all the eleven states, there are only 11 cities with a population of more than 50,000 while in Massachusetts alone there are 12.

"It may be remarked, in passing, that there has been little chance in these states to test, the "city problem" which is the most serious in our political system.

"Most of the questions that come before voters are not moral questions to be settled in the light of conscience alone, as some suffragists would have us think They are business questions, or questions that must be worked out practically by business methods The average woman is less competent to deal with them than the average man She is less interested in them, more likely to be indifferent to them, or to be misled about them. (It is the average man and woman that must be compared, not the exceptionally intelligent woman and the exceptionally ignorant man.) That slogan of the suffragists; "Municipal government is nothing but municipal housekeeping," has more sound than sense.

"The difficulty which suffragists find in rousing women to ask for the ballot proves that most women are not suffering under a sense of injustice because they do not have it. A prominent Wisconsin suffragist, after the defeat of a Woman Suffrage amendment there in 1912 by a majority of over 90,000, gave as an explanation "the appalling indifference of the women." Gen. Rosalie Jones, of "hike" fame, reports from her canvass of four western states. "The men are all entirely willing to give the women the vote if they wish it. Our only work is in rousing the desire of the women." In our own state, with a female population of 1,131,000, the suffragists claim an enrolment of only 50,000—not one woman in twenty.

"The women who want the ballot, by their own admission, are tremendously outnumbered. And yet they talk as if their "rights" were the only rights involved. But this is really a question of the rights of all women, anti-suffragists as well as suffragists. The time has gone by when the suffragist can say, "Let me vote because I want to—you needn't vote if you don't want to." The harm done by the voter who does not vote is becoming so apparent that schemes for compulsory voting are talked of. They have even been proposed in our own legislature. A suffragist from Australia, speaking in this country, says: "We have compulsory registration of both men and women voters, and those who fail to register, unless they are travelling are fined $10," and she adds that such a system would be good for us here. Apart from legal penalties, the pressure of public opinion is strong. The man who neglects to vote is thought lacking in public spirit. The same pressure would be brought to bear on women, if women were voters. It is already brought to bear, whenever a school election is hotly contested.

"Women are finding out that 'casting a ballot on the way to market' is the smallest part of it. There must be study beforehand of the questions involved and of the records of candidates if women are to cast intelligent votes The individual vote counts for little It must be organised. 'What can we do to help?' said the women of Seattle at their first election. 'Get out and hustle as the men do,' was the reply.

"What does this hustling accomplish? Of this very Seattle election Burton J. Hendrick—himself a suffragist sympathizer—wrote: 'The definite lesson to be drawn is that women, when they have the ballot, behave about as men do. There is a safe majority of women who, when aroused, can be depended on to support good government, just as there is a safe majority of men. On the other hand there is a minority of women who will vote for good government, just as there is a minority of men.'

"We have seen the same thing in our own state, in school elections. We know that groups of women can be brought out, on whatever side, and the situation remains much as it was—indeed, it is often changed for the worse by the bitterness which women put into it. 'I long to stand shoulder to shoulder with my husband in the fight for good government,' says an ardent and sincere suffragist. But the men who are fighting for bad government have wives who will come out to stand shoulder to shoulder with them. A woman boss in Chicago last year brought out 300 women voters on registration day for that notorious grafter, Bathhouse John, whom a club of 200 women unanimously endorsed as 'a good family man, who has always used his best endeavor to serve the people of his ward.' The woman's auxiliary of the Personal Liberty league—an organization of saloonkeepers—claims to be the largest woman's organization in Chicago.

"At that memorable meeting in Tremont Temple, three years ago, where Mrs Carrie Chapman Catt exploited the White Slave Traffic so sensationally and claimed that it could only be suppressed by women's votes, Mr Frederic H. Whitin, of the New York Comittee of Fourteen, gave it as his opinion that 'a happy home is the greatest preventive of the white slave traffic.'

"Happy homes, anti-suffragists believe, need all the time that wives and mothers are giving to them now—more, not less.

"In their organized activity for the public good, Anti-suffragists believe that women can work most effectively along non-partisan lines. When Miss Jane Addams identified herself with one of the political parties in the last Presidential campaign, many of her sister suffragists felt that she lost influence with the public at large. Miss Mabel Boardman, an anti-suffragist, when asked to take a position of corresponding importance in the campaign of another party, more wisely refused, believing that she could serve the Red Cross work better by keeping herself free from all party alliances. As non-voters, large numbers of women—the very best women, in the very best sense of that word—can be held together in disinterested effort for the public good, rarely finding the women of lower ideals organized to oppose them. But, once given the ballot, the

(Continued on Page Four.)

RESIDENTS HERE 70 YEARS AGO

Find Portraits of Mr. and Mrs. Newcomb

Daguerreotypes of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Newcomb, who occupied the Hersey house on Hancock street as far back as 1845, and probably before that time, were found Tuesday. The daguerreotypes were found, covered with dust in a darkened corner of the attic, where perhaps the eye of man had not peeped for years They are now in the possession of William Thomas who is tearing down the building. They are in an excellent state of preservation and have been added to the collection of antiques gathered by him while razing old houses.

The daguerreotypes were made by McElroy, an old time Boston portrait man, and are encased in a leather box. The couple are dressed in the conventional dress of the Civil War period.

John A. Newcomb was born in Quincy in 1798 and died May 26, 1882, of old age, according to the vital statistics at city hall. His father was Charles Newcomb and his mother Jerusha Newcomb and both of them were born in Quincy and lived here during the Revolutionary period.

Mrs. Newcomb, according to the records, was the belle of the city and had a host of friends. She lived longer than her husband and suffered a severe attack of whooping cough when she was 85 years of age, two years after the death of her husband.

Mr. Newcomb was the father of Lucy Newcomb who married Jacob Hersey and they lived in the house and in that way it got its name. Their daughter was Alice Hersey who died after her marriage to Frank Manson of Quincy.

JUNIOR ENDEAVOR SOCIETY ELECTION

The Junior Christian Endeavor society of the Water Street Presbyterian church held its annual meeting and social Tuesday evening. After the business session games were played The following officers were elected:

President, Lois Kemp.
Vice-President Laura Cumming.
Secretary, Margaret Craig.
Treasurer, Everett Bissett.
Chairman of committees:
Prayer meeting, Catherine McLeod.
Social, Lillian Bissett.
Lookout, Alex Smart.
Flowers, Marion Henderson.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

The following letters remain unclaimed for the week ending April 3. S. Backman, A. J. Belden, John Brady, Mrs. E. M. Cook, Baby Edith Hakonas, John Johnson, Mrs. Joseph V. Lyons, Andrew McCall, Herbert Moody Charlie Morgan, John H. Murphy, William H. Neal, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Noll, Mrs. M. Rimill.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is good for growing children—nourishing and satisfying. Grocers sell it.

Time and Trial Prove the unequalled value of Beecham's Pills as the best corrective of ailments of the digestive organs so common—and the best preventive of lasting and serious sickness so often resulting from defective or irregular action of the stomach, liver or bowels.

Beecham's Pills
have a great record. For over half a century they have been used with entire satisfaction in thousands of homes. A few doses will prove to you that you can find prompt relief from the headaches, depression of spirits and general no-good feelings caused by indigestion or biliousness. Try them, and you will know what it is to have at your command such

An Invaluable Aid to Health
The Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World.
Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

UNITY CIRCLE MEETS.

A regular meeting of the Unity circle of King's Daughters was held Tuesday evening in the Bethany church. Mrs. George L. Badger had charge of the devotional exercises and after a short business session the circle listened to a talk on the federation of women's clubs by Mrs. Wilson Marsh. Miss Purchase also gave an interesting talk on the new dispensary.

During the evening Albert Hayden sang two solos. Light refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

COTTAGE PRAYER MEETING.

A cottage prayer meeting of the Wollaston Baptist church was held Tuesday evening with Mrs. Arthur on Hodges avenue. Today the women of the church are holding an all day sewing meeting to finish up the work of the winter. They will also make May baskets for the old ladies home at Cambridge. At noon a mystery lunch was served and this afternoon the Social Benevolent society meet.

MOOSE PLAY WHIST.

The Moose lodge held a whist party in Electa hall Tuesday evening and the souvenirs were awarded to G. Mark, C. L. Maitland, F. A. Carey, George Collier.

A public installation of officers will take place, April 20, in Electa hall.

FINDS ANOTHER ANCIENT COIN

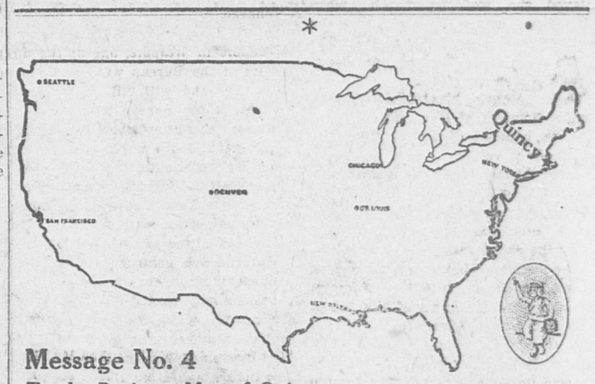

William Thomas while engaged in razing the old Hersey house on Hancock street today found another old coin of interest to collectors. The coin is of copper, about the size of a half dollar. On one side it bears a facsimile portrait of King George third of England and the date—1781. The reverse has the figure of a harp, surmounted by a royal crown. around which circles the word, "Hibernia."

The coin is the second bearing the word "Hibernia" found here within three weeks. The first was found on March 17 on the old Miller estate by Murdock Morrison.

K. C. MEMORIAL CLUB.

A regular meeting of the Katharyn Crane Memorial club was held Tuesday. There was no special business to transact other than to make plans for the field day which is to be held on the grounds of Mrs. Henry M. Faxon in June. The club was particularly well pleased with the result of the recent afternoon sale, which netted $117.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—not made by guess-work, but by a scientific formula. Leading grocers sell it.

Message No. 4
To the Business Men of Quincy

A young doctor, making a start in a small town, decided that to be prosperous he must look prosperous. He bought a new buggy and two good horses. Although he had only a few patients he always kept on the jump, attending to his patients' smallest needs. People began to notice this young doctor driving about town and they called him because he looked busy and prosperous. He got his start—a start that led to a comfortable practice.

Our town, like this doctor, must look prosperous to be prosperous.

Clean streets, attractive store windows, well-painted buildings and dwellings give the prosperous air. Well-painted buildings are greatest of these.

Beyer-Bauman White Lead
(Dutch Boy Painter Trade Mark)
and pure linseed oil make a most durable and protective paint that keeps buildings well painted. These materials can be mixed to suit conditions and tinted any color desired. We sell these good paint ingredients as well as other paint necessaries. Better get in touch with us in the interests of prosperity.

WILLIAM WESTLAND

FOR YOUR LAWN
Bradley's
SHEEP MANURE
It will make it look green and rich.
It supplies the elements most important for rich, green grass.
Everything
For The Garden
NATHAN AMES
5 Granite St.,
USE CARBORUNDUM
SHARPENING STONES

TIRES
Of Every Description
BUY A KELLY SPRINGFIELD TIRE
You will have the Best tire made.
BUY A LEE PUNCTURE-PROOF TIRE
You can ride without fear of punctures or blow-outs
BUY A DIAMOND SQUEEGEE TREAD TIRE and you get something more in service, than what you pay for.

BUY THEM HERE
You get Service, Saving and Satisfaction, all the time.
We also carry Goodrich, Goodyear, Fisk, Firestone and other makes of automobile tires.
WE are one of the largest Automobile Accessory dealers in Norfolk county.
Bring your Tires and Tubes Here, and have them Vulcanized right
F. W. BENT
1056-1058 HANCOCK ST., QUINCY TEL. 501-M

What Local Clubs are Doing

News of Women's Clubs is a feature of the Daily Ledger every Wednesday. Secretaries of organizations should send notices of club activities, to reach the Club Editor not later than Tuesday night to insure insertion the next day.

A luncheon for members only was held today at one o'clock by Wollaston Alliance and followed by the annual meeting and election of officers.

• • •

Atlantic Shakespeare Society brings its Shakespearian readings to a close for this season Thursday afternoon under the chairmanship of Mrs. William F. Davy. Mrs. Charles L. Coe is chairman of the musicale and review on April 22 and Miss Elizabeth J. Cook of the annual meeting on May 6.

• • •

The Wollaston W. C. T. U. held its monthly meeting Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles E. Goodspeed, Grand View avenue, the president Mrs. George Crothers presiding. Mrs. Frederick R. Morgan had charge of the devotional exercises. Five new members were received. Mrs. Elmon R. Johnson read a very interesting paper on "Mining and lumber camps."

• • •

The regular meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Y M. C. A. will be held in Association hall Friday afternoon at three o'clock. The speaker will be Mrs. I. W. Sneath of Wollaston her subject being "The Influence of Christian Womanhood." There will be the usual devotional service and good music. All women are invited to be present.

• • •

Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann of Presidents hill is hostess this week for the meeting of the Friday club and Mis. Edith Randall, chairman of the afternoon's program, subject: "With Dickens in London."

• • •

Next Tuesday's meeting of the Quincy Women's club at the clubhouse, will be in charge of the Civics committee, Mrs. H. H. Kitson, chairman. A speaker will tell of the work and aims of the Norfolk County Farm Bureau. Preparations are well under way for the annual May festival for children under the auspices of the Education committee

• • •

Junior Friday Club is to take up the study of Brazil at its meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs Perry Lawton, Presidents hill

• • •

Mrs Margaret J Ward of 14 Lowe street is to be the hostess for the business meeting Wednesday afternoon of the Riverside club

• • •

To increase the contribution by the Education committee o fthe Quincy Women's club toward the salary of the School Nurse, Miss Edith Randall is to give an illustrated lecture on Tuesday evening in Coddington school hall, subject "Belgium Before the War." Many subscribers to the lecture indicates a large attendance on that evening, the speaker and subject both being interesting.

The last meeting of Quincy Alliance before the annual of April 21 is to be an evening meeting on Wednesday, April 14.

• • •

Mrs. Charles Farwell is to be the leader at the next meeting of the Ladies' Benevolent Society of the Wollaston Congregational church on Wednesday afternoon, subject: "Quincy Charities."

• • •

Considerable interest is being aroused over the big peace meeting to be held Sunday afternoon April 18 in the First Parish church under the auspices of the Women's Club with Miss Edith Randall as the committee in charge Dr. William Jay Hudson the noted and forceful speaker and advocate of peace is to be the speaker and the singing will be by the Quincy Choral Society

• • •

The Quincy Elementary Teachers' Association meets Thursday evening in Coddington School hall. A play entitled "The Lovers Stratagem" will be given under the direction of Miss Lovejoy, with the following members of the associatiou in the cast: Miss Olive Moody, Miss Etta DeRuth Kemp, Miss Elizabeth Powers, and Miss Mabel Loyejoy. The White Trio will furnish music. Candy will be on sale.

• • •

A regular meeting of the Squantum Women's club was held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mathew McGrain Bayside road.

• • •

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

Mrs. H. H. Kitson, Quincy representative of the Norfolk County Farm Bureau, to give club members an idea of the work of that organization is to make it the subject of next Tuesday's meeting of the club at the clubhouse; her committee, the Civics committee having the afternoon's program in charge.

Mr. Kingman superintendent of schools in Walpole, one of the directors of the Bureau will be the chief speaker and will tell of the advantages of the Bureau to the consumer as well as to the producer. Mr. Munson, agent of the Bureau will give particular information regarding the work of the Bureau and there will be other speakers, also good music.

In connection with the meeting the Art committee of which Mrs. Ray Blanchard is chairman, is to have a fine exhibit. There will be blankets, baskets, etc., by the Sioux Indians of North Dakota, also a war bonnet made of the feathers of an eagle and a study in plaster of a Sioux Squaw. There will be a collection of baskets, beads and pottery from Porto Rico and rugs and baskets from the Hoti reservation in Arizona and from Wyoming. A picture in oils of an Apache squaw will be on exhibition. Window boxes, hats and many of the articles exhibited will be on sale. The collection will be well worth seeing even if one does not care to buy.

• • •

PHILERGIANS, BRAINTREE.

The Philergians met Tuesday in the First Congregational church. The president announced that there would be an opportunity for members to visit the art museum on Monday, that a petition for sewing and cooking to be taught in the public schools had been properly presented at a recent town meeting and action would probably be taken in regard to it in the fall A full report was made of the thousands of bandages wipers and other articles collected and carefully prepared by the Social service committee for the hospital relief work across the sea

A large committee has been organized by the Civics committee for a "Clean Up Week" which is to take place May 2 to 8

The afternoon's program was arranged by the Music department, Miss Mary Dyer, chairman. The program:

Toccata in G minor
H. Alexander Matthews
Will O'The Wisp Gordon B. Nevin
Romance sans Paroles Frysinger
'Cello Solo: Sonata in A, (First Movement) Rubenstein
Annah Howe Huntting
Capriccio in E John Hermann Loud
Cantilena Guilmant
Scherzo in G minor Elias Blum
Dedicated to John Hermann Loud
'Cello Soli:
(a) Andante Religioso (B minor Concerto) Goltermann
(b) Scherzo Von Goen
Annah Howe Huntting
Improvisation (on any given theme)
Grand Choeur (Suite in G minor)
E. E. Truette

CLUB EVENTS

APRIL.

8—Atlantic Shakespeare So.
8—Abigail Phillips Quincy Chapter D. A. R.
9.—Friday Club, Mrs. Pfaffmann.
9—Y. M. C. A. Auxiliary
12—Charity Conference—Wol. School hall.
12—Junior Friday, Mrs. Lawton .
12—Universalist Mission Circle.
13—Ed Com. Q. W. C., Benefit Lecture
13—Q. W. C., Clubhouse.
14—L. B. So., Wol. Cong. Church.
14—Riverside Club, Mrs. Ward.
15—Gen. Fed. Civics Con., Wollaston
20—W. W. C.
20—K. C. M. C., Florence Mead
21—Quincy Alliance, First Church Parlor.
27—Hospital Aid, Mrs. G. H. Wilson.
26—Junior Friday, Mrs. Sturtevant.
26—Charitable Ten, Mrs. Brewer.
27—Q. W C., Clubhouse.
28—L. B. So., Wol. Cong. Church.
28—Riverside Club, Mrs. Oxford.
29—Hospital Aid, Mrs. G. H. Wilson.

ANNUAL CHILDREN'S FESTIVAL.

"Fi-Fi of the Toy Shop," a spectacular musical fantasy with many charming dances is to be given at the annual May festival of the Quincy Women's Club.

Every child and many older persons who, like Peter Pan, never "grow up," often wonder what would happen if the dumb figures in a toy shop suddenly should be endowed with life and set free to dance and chatter through a temperamental carnival created out of their own whimsical fancies. To be sure, remarkable things would occur, and for this reason the audience which will greet "Fi Fi of the Toy Shop" will gasp with sheer delight at the fantastic doings of the "dolls" which liberated from the old Toy-maker's shop, and vying with each other in a series of bewildering adventures carries them to the Milky Way, through the gardens of Fairyland, and back again to earth in time to hurry to their places in the toy shop before the first ray of the morning sun.

Of course it is all a dream visualized— a dream which Bonnie, the toymaker's daughter, experiences when she is overtaken in a wood near her father's home and thrown into a magic sleep by the Sand Man. Bonnie is the keeper of the toys, and it is the most natural thing in the world that she should dream of them. In her sleep they come to life—bounding, exuberant, impish life—and begin their revels with all the abandon of imprisoned sprites, set free from some wicked ogre's thrall.

The Man-in-the-Moon is not, as gossip has contended "as cross as a bundle of sticks." Instead he is a most debonair young gentleman with a penchant for wearing a silvery moonbeam covered satiny suit and so impulsive that in a moment of infatuation for a lovely Parisian doll, Fi-Fi he rashly promises if she will marry him he will "never go out at night and never, never get full," which we sober minded folk, far removed from the subtle spell of moonshine and marguerites will certainly agree is a reckless vow for even a Moon-Man to make.

The adventures of "The Owl and the Pussy Cat" who went to sea in a pea green boat will be recounted again by the charming Bo Peep while Loosey will display limpness and loppiness to make the rag doll credible she will do team work with Capt. Barnicle the wicked sailor doll.

Ink Spot will disguise her beauty under a black face and will keep the audience in roars of laughter over her mishaps.

Prince Lolly Pop will give a fine characterization of an animated mechanical toy and the Toy Soldier is the only one of the toy friends that proves true to the fickle Parisian doll. Aurelia as the fairy and also as the witch with her magic smelling salts brings the toys to life.

Tackhammer the old Toy maker, Lieut. Tin Heart, The Doll's Head, A Talking Doll, Japanese Doll and two Clowns form the complete story on which is hung the ensemble. The Dance of the Winds, The Dance of the Bridesmaids, China Dolls, Paper Dolls Sprites Ballet, Live Letter Blocks, Christmas Fairies, Jumping Jacks, Noah's Ark Animals and Toy Soldiers with musical numbers, solo dancing and a sextette of dolls compiete the production which has been pronounced the most unique, brilliant and fascinating entertainment imaginable

It has been presented with amateur talent under the auspices of charitable and philanthropic societies in all parts of the country and wherever given has scored a tremendous success In many places a number of repetitions have been necessary to satisfy the demand for seats.

"Fi-Fi" is to be given by the Education committee of the Qiuncy Women's club under the direction of the author John B. Rogers.

COUNTING THE COST

I OFTEN wonder," said a local merchant recently, "why our bill for toll calls isn't larger each month, when I stop long enough to consider the use we make of the telephone, both at the store and at home. There isn't a town where I do business but seems nearer to me than even next door. I can beat many competitors by selling my goods over the telephone before they can get there by train; I can get into every town in New England all in one day, tell about my stock, quote my prices, make my deals and sit right here with my eyes on the home store all the time. Most of the people I sell to like that way of doing business.

"As for the folks at home, they keep in touch with all their friends everywhere, and my daughter there at Wellesley isn't a bit lonely, for she has mother's counsel, and it's the same way with Bob in Boston.

"Do you think I would let that telephone out of my reach? No siree ! It's not only money in my pocket in my business, but we are in the center of a big world of real live people, just because we can call up any one, anywhere."

Every Bell Telephone is a Long Distance Station

NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY
G. W. CONWAY, District Manager.

April 7-3t 7-14-21 Ob. 17-1w

BARRY GOES TO PORTLAND

Hugh Duffy, manager of the Portland New England league team has purchased the release of George Barry of the Taunton Colonial league team and will play the local boy as catcher during the coming season. He reports Monday.

Barry is the son of Fireman and Mrs. M. Barry, and broke into minor league ball three years ago in the Provinces. It was while there he first attracted the attention of the New England managers. Last season he was signed with Lowell but after a salary dispute he rejoined the Taunton team. and finished the season in good style.

His popularity in that city was much in evidence when Labor Day was dedicated to him and he was presented with a handsome diamond ring. The committee which arranged the "Barry Day" as it was called were members of the Board of Trade who passed a resolution of regret when he signed with Lowell and one of pleasure when he returned to their diamond. He is known on the Colonial circuit as the "Little Commodore."

Barry has probably the making of one of the best ball players ever born here. Somewhat lacking in weight he has nevertheless overcome that handicap through a most courageous performance behind and with the bat. It is generally believed here that Portland will not regret his addition to the team.

TRY THIS LOAF

Peter Pan BREAD

A new Bread wrapped in wax paper, clean from bakery to table.
Always good and wholesome.
SOLD BY BEST GROCERS
PRATT BREAD CO., 3190 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON

The PROBLEM of GOOD MILK

All persons do not understand what is meant by good, safe milk. Some believe that the milk with a deep cream line is desirable, whereas, the Doctor knows that Holstein Milk, although containing little cream is often more desirable for babies, partly for this reason, or perhaps because of the method of production

The real criterion of a good milk is its wholesomeness This depends upon the conditions at the dairy, and the special care given it until it reaches the consumer. Scrupulously clean and healthy cows, clean and healthy dairymen, rapid cooling, and protecting the milk, constant dairy and laboratory inspection are required. Furthermore safety is assured when the dealer pasteurizes his supply.

THE ELM FARM MILK COMPANY OF DORCHESTER offer pure Family Milk, and exceptional Nursery Milk at prices often charged for ordinary milk Speak to the salesman, or call Dor. 2100. 6-1 mo.

Quincy E. E. GRAY CO. Wollaston
Two Stores
Tel. 327 M Quincy Reliable Groceries Tel. 1586 M Quincy

Campbell's Soups all Varities	3 for 25c
National Biscuit Co., Biscuits
all 10c packages	3 for 25c
all 5c packages	6 for 25c
Finest California Navel Oranges	per doz. 21c
Butter Thin Biscuits	per lb. 12c

Reduction in Prices.

Your attention is called to the reduced spring prices on Anthracite Coal as follows

Lehigh Stove and Egg	$7.50
White Ash Stove and Egg	7.25
White Ash Nut	7.50
Shamokin Stove and Egg	7.50
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75
Pea	5.50
Franklin	8.50

We recommend the placing of your order at this time to insure the low prices.

Nothing but All Rail Clean Coal handled and delivered right by careful experienced drivers.

QUINCY COAL CO.
OFFICE and YARD
Penn St., Quincy Tel. 47-M
Ap. 7 1mo.

YOU NEED
A Spring Tonic, something that will brace you up and give you renewed energy. TRY---
HEARNS RECONSTRUCTIVE TONIC
75c bottle
CHAS. C. HEARN, Druggist, CITY SQUARE

CONSULT ME

I can tell you your Past, Present and Future, advise you in your Business, tell you who are your friends, and help you recover lost articles. Private Readings Daily $1.00. Circle Readings Tuesday 3.00 and 8.00 P. M.. Developing Class Thursday 8.00 P. M.

Mrs. S. V. Odiorne
8 Mechanic St. off Revere Road
Tel. 1923 M or 327 M

LADIES
Get Ready for the Railway Men's Ball and Buy Your Slippers and Pumps at LELYVELD'S
3 MAPLE STREET, ONLY AROUND THE CORNER QUINCY

3-STRAP PUMPS	COLONIAL PUMPS	$3.00 PUMPS	$3.50 PUMPS
$1.25	Patent and Gun Metal $2.29	$2.25	All Leathers $2.89

Legal Stamps Silk Hosiery, all colors, 19 cents Legal Stamps

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

CANDLE PIN TOURNAMENT

Team One 3 points
Team Two 6 points
Team Three, 3 points
High total, Mrs. Hall 258.

The candle pin tournament for the women of the Cochato club opened Monday night. Three teams rolled. High single was made by Mrs. Hall who got 97 and a grand total of 258.

The summaries:

TEAM ONE
Mrs. Wilder	89	68	84	241
Mrs. Hall	76	85	97	258
Miss Perry	75	64	77	216
Mrs. Perry	81	62	73	216
Miss Hatchard	71	66	59	196
Mrs. Wiggin	56	56	50	162
Mrs. Hollis	62	49	55	166
TEAM TWO
Mrs. Connell	70	89	79	238
Mrs. Macomber	75	71	73	219
Mrs. Witherbee	81	79	68	228
Mrs. Woodsum	65	82	69	216
Mrs. Lawley	67	77	76	220
Mrs. Jenkins	67	82	75	224
Mrs. Arnold	59	81	70	210
TEAM THREE
Mrs. Keating	83	77	77	237
Mrs. Andrews	80	84	76	240
Miss Abercrombie	75	83	80	238
Miss Crocker	75	76	72	223
Miss E. Kneeland	68	80	71	219
Mrs. Nickerson	55	55	55	165
Miss M. Kneeland	68	64	69	201

WIN SPECIAL MATCH.

Icenhower and Hamilton beat W. Dalzell and J. Arbuckler in a special ten string match at the Wardwell alleys Tuesday night, 1831 to 1828. The difference of three pins made the match the closest of the season. Dalzell was high with 122. The strings:

Icenhower	96	97	109	82	96
	82	80	104	96	96	—938
Hamilton	70	74	84	102	99
	89	99	91	88	97	—893
Dalzell	89	88	122	96	95
	85	108	98	99	90	—970
Arbuckler	75	89	100	102	81
	79	73	94	76	89	—858

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

W. H. HASLETT
31 Bridge Street, Quincy
Tel. Quincy 1092 W

Plastering and Cementing
Concrete Houses
Outside Stucco Work
Cement Walks, Steps and Cellar Floors.

RETROSILO sanitary and fireproof flooring—guaranteed to wear longer than hard wood floor—no joints one continuous piece put over any floor.
Feb. 25- W-S. tf

BE WISE
FOOL THE FLIES
'AVE YOUR SCREENS
RE-COVERED NOW
TELEPHONE OR WRITE
HOLMES & HALL
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

MACGREGORS STILL AT IT

Each Winning Team Scores Three Points

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

Capt. Nicoll 3, Capt. Hughes 1.
Capt. McKenzie 3, Capt. Maver 1.
Capt. Smith 3, Capt. McLean 1.

An even triple gave Hunter high total in the MacGregor league matches at the Coliseum alleys Tuesday evening. Birnie had high single with 117. The gallery increases as the season wanes and there was considerable cheering. An unusual event was that each winning team scored three points. The summaries:

CAPT. McKENZIE.
Hunter	88	108	104	300
Gordon	98	94	88	280
McKenzie	92	102	85	279
Russell	81	110	77	268
Drummond	114	88	90	292
	473	502	444	1419
CAPT. MAVER.
Welsh	95	87	96	278
Maver	88	99	88	275
Troupe	82	104	85	271
Birnie	82	117	91	290
Hastings	91	110	80	281
	438	517	440	1395
CAPT. SMITH
Davidson	100	69	92	261
Maver	102	90	85	277
Smith	101	107	91	299
Stewart	107	84	92	283
Martin	98	96	74	268
	508	446	434	1388
CAPT. McLEAN.
Paterson	74	78	86	238
Mannock	89	79	93	261
McLeod	83	82	100	265
McLean	85	108	96	289
Dell	105	95	88	288
	436	442	463	1341
CAPT. NICOLL.
Craig	89	84	85	258
A. Michael	77	96	105	278
J. Stewart	86	82	77	245
J. Michael	83	94	83	260
M. Nicoll	91	80	112	283
	426	436	462	1324
CAPT. HUGHES.
Hughes	75	84	89	248
Mitchell	84	91	107	282
Muir	72	94	86	252
O'Neil	87	98	76	261
Dackers	87	93	95	275
	405	460	450	1318

OUTLINES PLATFORM

(Continued from Page One.)

women of low ideals will find plenty of politicians ready to organize them for selfish ends and the purchasable vote of men will be duplicated by the purchasable vote of women.

"It is the belief in the value of this non-partisan vantage-ground for women that has led many women active in public service to identify themselves with the anti-suffrage cause. The honored president of our Massachusetts Association has been for many years on the State Board of Charities, and was one of the first women overseers of the poor ever elected in the state; one of the vice presidents was for many years dean of a woman's college; another is vice president of the Woman's Municipal league; another has been for many years a director of the Massachusetts Prison association and a member of the Massachusetts Child Labor committee another was for twenty years on the Massachusetts Prison commission. One member of the executive committee has served on the school committee of her town for twelve years, another is on the State Library commission; another is treasurer of an Industrial School; another is a visitor for the Massachusetts General Hospital; another is a director of the Department of Public Health of the Woman's Municipal league.

"Anti-suffragists believe in concentrating effort along the lines where women are most effective, not in wasting it in futile duplication. In seeking to conserve woman's energy for the lines of greatest effectiveness, they believe they are working for the benefit of every class in the community and are in harmony with the truest democracy, and they go forward to the campaign of the coming months with the fullest confidence in the justice of their cause."

You need the Ledger every day.

BRIEFS

Miss Olive Witter of Hartford, Conn. is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. George H. Ryder of Hancock street.

George W. Wales, formerly of this city but now of Newton is soon to open up an ice cream factory here.

Mrs. Robert Barham of Holbrook road, Bellevue park, is visiting in Rockland, Maine.

Miss Ethel Young of Eliot avenue, Bellevue park, is confined to her home by illness.

Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor of Winthrop avenue, Wollaston, are in Canada over Easter.

Stuart Dimmick of Lincoln avenue Wollaston, returned to High school, Monday, after having an attack of the measles.

Clarence Cassidy who is in school in New York is spending his Easter vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cassidy of Winthrop avenue, Wollaston.

The new collection plates which were used for the first time on Sunday morning at the Wollaston Methodist church were the gift of the Ladies' Aid to the church.

George Call of Holbrook road is selling out his grocery store and is to move to Braintree. Mr. Call is slowly recovering from a physical break-down and finds the work of the store too confining.

The son of John Graham who makes his summer home on Squantum street, Atlantic, was struck and fatally injured by an automobile in Boston. The boy was taken to the hospital but died before his parents could be located.

Eric Ewertz of Wollaston is to deliver an illustrated lecture on submarines in the vestry of the Wollaston Methodist church on Friday evening. Mr. Ewertz is a superintendent at the Fore River Works and is one of the finest submarine experts in the country. At this lecture the new lantern which has been purchased by the Men's club will be used.

Leading Him On.

"Would you call for help if I tried to kiss you?"

"No, but I would be almost sure that you must have been drinking something to give you courage."—Chicago Herald.

In a Few Days You'll Want Your Elite
Low Shoes

¶ Some of the "early birds" have already begun wearing their low shoes; some prefer to wait until the sun is a trifle warmer.

¶ No matter when you begin, you want foot comfort at low cost—ELITE prices range from

$4.00 to $5.00

GRANITE SHOE STORE
Your Shoe Store

GUILD'S DEATH IS KEENLY FELT

Messages of Condolence From Far and Near

BELOVED PUBLIC SERVANT

President Wilson, Ex-Presidents Taft and Roosevelt, Governor Walsh and Other Statesmen Pay Tribute to Man Who Was an Honor to Bay State For Many Years

Boston, April 7.—With all the ceremony commensurate with the honors he won in life, the body of former Governor Curtis Guild, who died at his home in this city of pneumonia, will be buried in Forest Hills cemetery next Friday afternoon. The funeral services will be held at noon in the Arlington Street Unitarian church.

As soon as he received the news of the former governor's death, Governor Walsh sent out word to have the flags placed at half-staff on every public building, and this order will hold until the body has been buried. Also the governor sent word to both houses that committees be appointed to attend the services.

From all over the country, and even from abroad, have come tributes to the memory of the man who made himself loved as chief executive, friend and neighbor.

From far away Petrograd came word of appreciation for Curtis Guild's services as United States ambassador to Russia.

President Wilson and former Presidents Taft and Roosevelt hastened to offer their condolences to the Guild family and express their regret at the death of so masterful a citizen.

A legion of others prominent in all walks of life joined in according tributes to Guild. Appreciation of his great unselfish public services and of his loyalty and devotedness as a friend was voiced with eagerness by those who knew him intimately in private, civil, business, political, military and other spheres of activity.

His splendid democracy, his true patriotism, his remarkable oratory and statesmanship, his lovable disposition, and all the attributes that had marked his brilliant career were recounted by a host.

Senators and congressmen, church dignitaries, public officials in state and city lent their praises to swell a mighty tribute to his memory. Members of all political parties joined in the generous eulogy.

Governor Walsh paid a great tribute to the memory of Guild in a special message to the legislature.

"In his personal relations he was kindly, affable and approachable to all. Rich and poor, high and lowly, native and immigrant, recognized him as a friend," said Walsh in his tribute.

An Eventful Career

Mr. Guild was 55 years old and served as governor of Masachusetts three times and was ambassador to Russia for two years.

He received the second highest honor within the power of the Czar of Russia to give—the decoration of St. Alexander. He was the first volunteer from Massachusetts in the Spanish-American war. In 1910 he served with distinction as special ambassador to Mexico.

Guild was one of the best loved public officials in Massachusetts. His genial manner and pleasant smile never forsook him, even at the most trying times.

Curtis Guild, LL. D. of both Holy Cross college and Harvard university, was born in Boston Feb. 2, 1860, the son of Curtis Guild.

He was graduated from Harvard and after an extended tour of Europe he started at $7 a week as bill collector and traveling agent for the Commercial Bulletin, which his father and uncle were just founding.

He was one of the five original founders of the Republican Club of Massachusetts. From the day of his graduation he was conspicuous as a stump orator.

Eighteen of the most strenuous years of Guild's life were devoted to practical newspaper work. After experience in every department of the work he was taken into partnership by his father and uncle.

In Cuba, in addition to his regular services as inspector general, he was chief of the secret service at the time when Cuban guerillas were expected to massacre the Spanish inhabitants. He had entire charge of investigation of all claims for land damages, together with inspection and reform of the slaughter house system.

In 1892 Guild married Miss Charlotte P. Johnson of Boston. They resided in Boston.

Guild was a member of the Tavern, Algonquin, Puritan, Exchange and University clubs, composed of artistic and literary people, and a life member of the Press club. He was a Mason of high degree.

A Unitarian in religion, he was for many years active in the management of the Benevolent Fraternity of Churches. He was a life member of the Young Men's Christian union. His favorite amusement was hearty exercise in the open air.

CURTIS GUILD

Was One of Best Loved Sons of the Bay State

WON'T FORCE PROHIBITION

British Cabinet Finds National Sentiment Strongly Opposed to It

London, April 7.—By sounding political leaders throughout the country, Premier Asquith and his cabinet have learned that British national sentiment is strongly opposed to any edict imposing universal prohibition.

As a result, it is learned from an authoritative source, no measure to that end will be introduced when parliament reconvenes on April 14.

The government's efforts will be directed toward promoting the movement for voluntary abstinence as initiated by King George and the royal household, and regulating the hours when alcoholic beverages shall be sold.

A measure fixing further restrictions on the hour of sale is likely to be the only definite measure introduced.

TERRE HAUTE MEN CONVICTED BY JURY

Verdict Returned Against All In Election Case

Indianapolis, April 7.—Mayor Donn M. Roberts of Terre Haute and the twenty-six co-defendants in the Terre Haute election conspiracy trial were found guilty by the jury in the United States district court.

The charge was that they had conspired to corrupt the election in January, 1914. Sentence will be imposed April 12.

The indictment charged conspiracy to injure persons in their civic rights; conspiracy to defraud the United States by corrupting the election and misuse of the mails.

The federal grand jury began its investigation about two weeks after the election of Nov. 3, 1914, and returned the indictment Dec. 24, naming 126 men; all but ten of those indicted were arrested. Eighty-nine of those arrested pleaded guilty. The trial of the accused began March 8.

TO REPENT IN WORKHOUSE

Young Woman Adopts Novel Plan to Victimize Her Friends

New York, April 7.—Caroline Klinck, a 17-year-old stenographer, pleaded guilty in the United States district court here to a charge of representing herself as an officer of the government and was sentenced to the workhouse for thirty days.

According to the officials who caused the arrest of the young woman, she returned home one day and announced that she had been appointed a stenographer in the New York custom house. Then, it is claimed, she victimized her father and sixteen of her friends, promising to secure lucrative positions for them in the customs service in return for sums of money.

The girl is said to have raised more than $2000 in this manner.

OLD GLORY HAULED DOWN

American Gunboat Captain Has It Promptly Raised Again

San Diego, Cal., April 7.—The American flag on the steamer Benito Juarez was hauled down at the command of General Zoranno of the Carranza forces at Acapulco, but it was hoisted again almost immediately by an American marine acting under instructions from Captain Hassbrouck of the gunboat Yorktown.

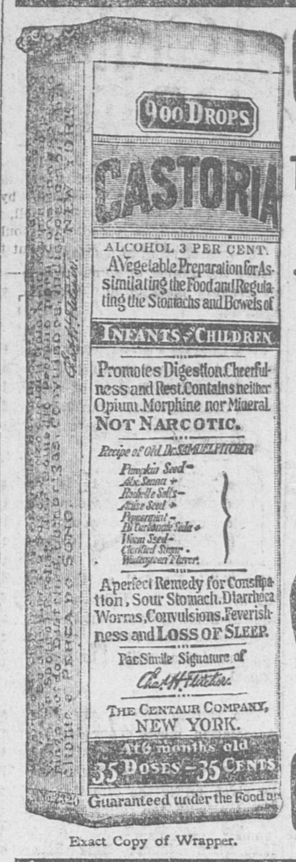

Hassbrouck reported the incident, stating that he had acted on his own authority. No complications are expected to result.

Fatally Shoots Former Friend

Boston, April 7.—John J. Kirby, who shot his former friend, Antone Yunitz, at Chelsea, was held in $5000 for a hearing April 16. Kirby admitted, the police say, that he shot Yunitz, who is dying. The motive is unknown to the police.

Merchant Marine Is Growing

Washington, April 7.—Ut to and including the month of March, 135 vessels of 485,586 gross tons were added to the American merchant marine fleet under the ship registry act of congress. The vessels were valued at $31,107,279.

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

The Sunnyside Dairy.

Pure Milk and Cream delivered at your door in clean, shiny bottles. Recommended by the leading physicians of Quincy, Braintree and Weymouth. We solicit your trade. Order by telephone Wey. 103 W or write F. T. JONES, P. O. Box 14, Weymouth.

Cattle and Barn inspected by Dr. Abele of Quincy.

March 6-eod-1m

WEYMOUTH JUNIORS WIN

The Weymouth Juniors got a bigger pinfall than the Gillis quintette in their special at the Wardwell alleys Tuesday evening. The points were divided. DeNeil was high with a total of 292 and a single of 111. Another match will be rolled. The summary:

CAPT. F. GILLIS.
Ash	79	76	94	249
Gillis	91	97	78	266
Clark	79	107	98	284
Mahoney	101	81	79	261
White	77	85	91	253
	427	446	440	1313
WEYMOUTH JUNIORS.
Neal	87	86	78	251
Lyons	94	80	75	249
Canfill	97	89	70	256
DeNeil	111	87	103	292
Dowd	81	100	94	275
	470	433	420	1323

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S
Tel. 1825-W Quincy

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING
WALL PAPER FOR SALE
KUSTAA RASANEN
121 Copeland St., West Quincy
Tel. Con. 10-tf

EDWARD J. FECAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Room 8 BURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK
QUINCY.

Arthur B. Foster
CARPENTER and BUILDER
14 Bay View St., Quincy Point
Telephone Connection
31-1m

Protection in Fencing

If you need fencing, wire stretchers or fencing pliers you will find a large variety in our assortment. Now is the time toput your fencing in order, and this is the place to go for assistance.

Whether you are making poultry a business or not, you wil probably need an abundance of netting. Right here, we wish to state that we carry the very best grade and in various widths, which we can furnish at extremely low prices.

Come in and look Our Stock over.

L. Grossman & Sons 37 FEDERAL AVE.
Near Quincy Adams Depot Tel 979-R

Successful Poultry Raising
rests on a few definite principles. Perfect cleanliness is one of these. Adopt it, and you have made a long stride toward success.
Pratts Poultry Disinfectant
35c per quart; $1 per gallon is designed to make this work easy. Safe, sure, pleasant to use. It kills disease germs, destroys odors, makes the plant and equipment clean, sweet and sanitary.
"Your money back if it fails."
Pratts Powdered Lice Killer is fatal to Lice. 25c and 50c
Sold by Grain Dealers & General Stores. 6639.

SALARIED MAN MAY OWN HOME

Need Not Remain Uncomfortable in Crowded Quarters in the City.

DEAL WITH REAL ESTATE MAN

Plan of Operation Outlined—Most Convenient Bungalow Type of House, Such as Is Described Here, Should Be Within Reach of Most.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD.

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1827 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only enclose two cent stamp for reply.

It is true that many thousands of city dwellers who have, in their natural love of the country, a longing for a home with ground and garden, are unable to secure what they desire, for various reasons—principally because of a lack of means.

City dwellers are compelled for the most part to live in flats or apartments, with never a look at trees or grass. Privacy, so much to be desired, is out of the question because of the common hallway; and the tramping of feet overhead is a constant reminder that the place is not a home but merely a place to stay.

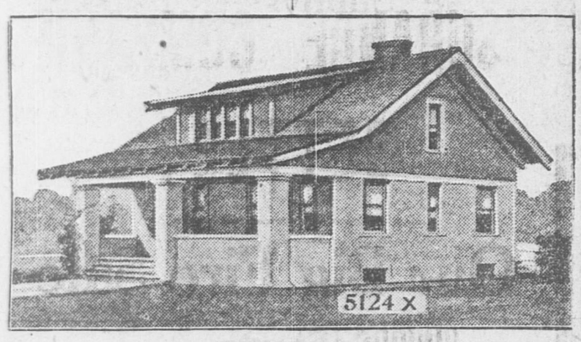

The whole idea of the builders of city "homes" is to economize space and get all the rooms possible on a given piece of ground, in order to earn revenue. All sight is lost of the artistic and everything must bend to the one purpose of earning an income from the investment. The occupants live along, and constantly dream of a little cottage with a few vines and a garden place in the back yard, and a place for the children to play where they will not be under the constant espionage of a janitor with a grouch.

This is all wrong. And, further, it is unnecessary,

You may be a salaried man. You may think you cannot do differently. You may not have the money to buy the ground, it is true, and to authorize a builder to put you up a house such as you want. You have always thought that even if you bought a house you must take one already made by some real estate firm and pay their high price.

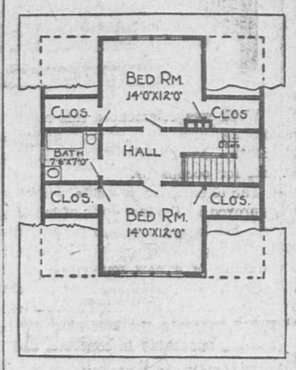

Now, listen. The real estate man has selling expense. He has advertising bills, office rent, clerk hire, maintenance of salesmen, and many other expenses in addition to his profits, all of which figure in the price of any given house. It is safe to say that this real estate man would be glad to eliminate this expense if he could make a deal that did not involve all these factors. He builds to sell. Suppose you were to take to him the plan of the house shown here, and say: "You are in the business of building and selling houses on small payments. You want your customers satisfied. Probably you are going to build a number of houses in the next few months. Here, now, is a house that just suits me. If you will build it, I will take it on the same terms you would ask for one that you might build from some other plan. I will sign the contract now."

There is no probability that the ordinary real estate man would refuse your terms. And what would you have? You would have the same house you would get if you owned a lot and built on it.

Now, the house shown here is one of the popular bungalow type of houses, and it is especially attractive on account of the fact that the porch is included under the roof of the house. Nor is it expensive. It ought to be built complete for about $2,500.

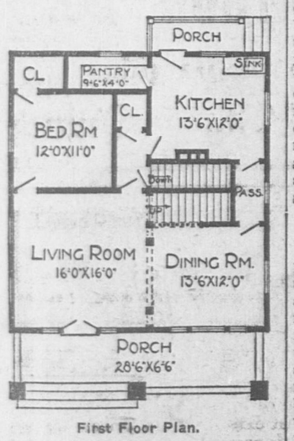

This house is 31 feet 6 inches wide, and 33 feet long. It has an attractive porch with strong lines. The design is one that will make every person look at the house as he passes by; and it is one that will always sell, if at any future time conditions should arise that would cause you to want to dispose of it. That you cannot do with a house, which, unlike this one, has no individuality.

Second Floor Plan.

There is a large living room 16 feet square; and, at the right of this, is the dining room 13 feet 6 inches by 12 feet in dimensions. The kitchen is reached from the dining room through a passageway. This is a good arrangement, for the reason that all smoke and steam from the kitchen will be kept out of the dining room. Another of the good features about this house is the fact that it is well lighted, and every room will be bright and cheery.

The second floor is reached by a stairway leading from the living room. On this floor are two bedrooms, which with the one on the first floor, provides three in all. The bathroom is located at the end of a hall that extends through the house, thus assuring plenty of air on summer nights through the windows at each end. An unusual arrangement, and one that will appeal to every housewife, is the fact that there are six closets in this house, providing plenty of storage places.

First Floor Plan.

Asking Hubby for Money.

In an interesting little article entitled "Feminine Finance" in the Woman's Home Companion, Lee Macalister says in part:

"If there is money to be had, it is foolish for a woman to shrink from asking for it as if she were an underserving child. Also, if her husband is only thoughtless, it is unfair to him. Most men wish to spare their wives every possible discomfort, and it is silly for a wife to experience needless inconvenience and feel sorry for herself the while when a little common sense would do away with it. Men can't understand such a point of view. Whatever they want they ask for, and they can't see why a woman should object to doing the same thing. And a woman shouldn't. There are times, of course, when a woman wants more money than she thinks her husband can afford to give her, and when it is necessary for her to be at home the greater part of the time. In that case some plan can be found if it be diligently sought."

To Teach Children About Trees.

A movement is on foot at Shreveport, La., to make it possible for the school children of that city to secure an education in tree knowledge. It is the intention of those behind the movement to have on hand at all times samples of all trees in the bark and after being manufactured so that the school children may acquire knowledge that may be of use to them in later years. Another movement on foot in that city, is to have all of the trees adorning the highways of the city, labeled so that not only the children, but grown people will be able to ascertain the difference between the various kinds of southern trees.—American Forestry.

Titles and Taxes in Spain.

In Spain titles of nobility are taxed in the same way as houses or land. Moreover, each separate title is taxed and for this reason certain members of ancient families in which a number of titles have accumulated drop some in order to save money. Owing to the system long prevalent in Spain by which women of noble birth transmit their title not only to their children but to their husbands, so that a plebeian marrying a duchess becomes a duke, Spanish titles rarely become extinct unless the holders deliberately discard them.

ANNUAL MEETING OF LADIES AID

The Ladies' Aid of the Wollaston Methodist Episcopal church held its annual meeting in the church parlors Monday afternoon. Mrs. Jennie Dimmick's report of the activities of the past year was interesting and comprehensive. Mrs. Lupton in giving the treasurer's report announced that about five hundred dollars had been raised by the ladies' society during the past year.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—Mrs. Joseph Sedgwick, president; Mrs. George Taylor, vice-president; Mrs. Henry Dimmick, secretary; Mrs. Newell Lane, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lupton, treasurer. Mrs. George Crothers was appointed the delegate for the Deaconess' Aid.

It was decided to hold the supper which was to be given by the loosing side in the mile of pennies contest on Friday evening, April 23. Mrs. George Crothers as captain of the loosing side is to be in charge of the affair. An invitation was received from Mrs. W. E. Robinson to hold a basket luncheon at her home sometime this spring. After the adjournment of the meeting dainty refreshments consisting of sandwiches, cookies, cake and tea were served by Miss Aurelia Merrill, Mrs. Given, and Mrs. Lane. Madam Morgan presided at the tea table and little Myron Lane assisted in serving.

A number of women from the Wollaston Methodist church are to attend the progressive luncheon given at Morgan Memorial, Shawmut avenue, Boston on Thursday. Those who desire to join the party should notify Mrs. T. Newell Lane, Brook street, Wollaston at the earliest possible date.

TENNIS TEAM HAS SCHEDULE

An innovation in tennis at Quincy High school is the introduction of indoor practice and the candidates are daily reporting and making fine progress.

The ambitious schedule, arranged by Manager Thomas Barstow includes ten teams of no mean calibre.

The more experienced players are coaching the less proficient on the different strikes and points on footwork.

Capt. Crocker, who was injured early in the basket ball season, finds his knee mending quickly and believes he will be able to play. Favreau, holder of the junior interscholastic championship, is in fine form and should successfully defend the title.

The possibility that Crocker may be unable to play and that Carl Pfaffmann, a likely candidate, may be a regular with the base ball team, has stimulated an interest among other boys and Fred Rasmussen, Lincoln Crosscup and Maynard Hatch are sparring for an opening.

Several of the boys will enter the Harvard meet in order to get a touch of fast court work before that time Melrose High has been booked for May 7 The schedule:

May 7—Melrose High at Melrose.
May 15—Harvard Interscholastics.
May 17—Huntington at Quincy.
May 21—Somerville at Quincy pending.
May 22—Huntington at Boston.
May 28—English High at Quincy.
May 31—Somerville High at Somerville.
June 2—English High at Franklin Field.
June 4—Newton High at Newton.
June 11—Newton High at Quincy.

TIPPERARY IS POPULAR NUMBER

The ever popular "Tipperary" was the popular number at the concert of the Wollaston Glee Club before the Parent-Teachers Association of the Adams school Tuesday night.

The song was one of the many pieces on the program which was given under the direction of J A. Crowley Vocal solos were rendered by James S Whyte and Mrs. Emma Shufelt Moore, Mrs. Velma Bailey Hicks was the reader W. Edwin Wallace was the accompanist of the Glee club and Miss Francis Murray of the soloists.

The concert was exceptionally good and was under the auspices of the executive committee of the association, greatly assisted by Richard Bishop a member of the committee and the organization The proceeds, a substantial sum, will be added to the fund being raised for the decoration of the school

THOMPSON WINS CHICAGO FIGHT

Republican Elected Mayor by Record Plurality

WHOLE TICKET WITH HIM

Democrats Admit Knockout In Election Which Was Expected to Be Close Contest—New Executive Says First Duty Will Be to Clear City of Pickpockets and Other Thieves

Chicago, April 7.—William H. Thompson, Republican, nominated in the direct primary of Feb. 23, was elected mayor of Chicago by the greatest plurality ever given to any candidate for a major office in the history of the city.

Thompson defeated Robert M. Sweitzer, the Democratic nominee, by a plurality around 140,000.

This figures greater than the 56,000 given to William McKinley for president in 1896. It exceeds the 110,000 lead which Roosevelt had over Bryan in 1904, and the 114,000 which Charles S. Deneen had over Lawrence B. Stringer for governor in the same year.

The biggest plurality heretofore for mayor was negotiated by the younger Harrison when he ran the first time in 1897 against John M. Harlan, Nathaniel C. Sears and Washington C. Hesing. Harrison's plurality over Harlan was about 79,150.

About 85 percent of the 50,000 men and women registered voted.

Thompson's victory was clean cut. He had 60 percent of the men and 60 percent of the women. It was a knockout, and so admitted by Sweitzer and Roger G. Sullivan.

Joint congratulations were sent to the winner by the two Democrats who had figured most conspicuously in the wildest municipal campaign that Chicago ever had to undergo.

As a natural result of the tidal wave the election of Thompson carried along the election of the entire Republican city ticket.

In a speech to a crowd of his followers, Thompson said:

"My first official move will be to have my chief of police drive the pickpockets and thieves out of Chicago."

Political writers are divided as to the cause of Thompson's sweeping victory in an election which at best was expected to be a close contest. In an interview Monday, Mayor Harrison, who was defeated when he sought to be renominated for a sixth term, declined to say how he would vote, although the Harrisons have been Democratic leaders in Chicago for generations. Many are inclined to believe this indicated the Harrison followers would cast their votes for Thompson.

The returns indicate that the total Socialist vote in the city will not exceed 20,000. Seymour Stedman was the Socialist candidate for mayor. The Prohibition party candidate, John Hill, was far behind Stedman.

PROPOSAL

Quincy, Mass., April 7, 1914.

Sealed proposals for delivering F. O. B. cars at Quincy Adams, Mass., about Two Hundred and one (201) tons Cast Iron Coated Water Pipe will be received at the office of the Commissioner of Public Works, City Hall, Quincy, Mass., Wednesday, April 14, 1915, until 10 o'clock A. M. When they will be publicly opened and read.

Sizes and quantities are approximately as follows:

66 tons	6 inch
75 tons	8 inch
60 tons	10 inch

The same to be delivered at the Water Works Siding, Quincy Adams, Mass

Weights and character of pipe to conform strictly to Class E Specifications of the New England Water Works Association

The right is reserved to increase or diminish the above quantities and also to reject any and all bids or to accept the bid deemed best for the city

Please state time of delivery.

MOSES L. BROWN,
Comissioner of Public Works.
7-1t

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.
will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.
OFFICE AT
96 WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY
Tel. 618

CARPENTER AND BUILDER
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
All Work Given Prompt Attention
W. R. LOFGREN
19 College St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 306-3

KEEP POSTED ON THE PEOPLE'S WANTS — CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING — WHY WORRY LET THESE ADS LIFT YOUR BURDEN

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

FOR RENT—1126 Hancock street, opposite Adams Academy, house 7 rooms, and bath 18 Faxon avenue, suite 6 rooms and bath, every modern improvement Tel. 414-M Weymouth. 7-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 7-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of two family house, 5 rooms and bath, all improvements, 3 Bradford street, Quincy Adams. Apply to William Duggan, Bradford street or telephone Quincy 724-W. 7-6t

TO LET—Large Colonial house, containing 13 rooms, finely situated, ample grounds, one minute walk to centre. Would make an ideal Inn. Write N. D. Ledger Office. Apr. 3-7-10 3t

TO LET— Two or three fine front rooms, furnished, everything needed for light housekeeping. Gas range separate bath. Good neighborhood, near centre. Write J. J., Ledger Office. 6-6t

TO LET—Two front rooms, furnished, suitable for two gentlemen. Separate bath, good neighborhood, near the centre. Write W. W. Ledger Office. 6-6t

RENT REDUCED—Half house at 21 Bigelow street in first class condition; good neighborhood and convenient to everything. Bath, laundry, furnace coal range, shades, screens, gas etc. Apply at 33 Bigelow street, 1-tf

TO LET—At 33 Bigelow street, Quincy, a desirable house of eight rooms with improvements. Ready for occupancy about April 15. Apply on premises. 1-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house, 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2, Quincy or 110 South street, Boston, Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET—Upper and lower flats 91 and 93 Revere road 4 and 6 rooms and bath. To small families, $20 and $18. Fred M. Torrey, 25 Spear St., Tel. 202-1 Quincy. 27-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 5 rooms, one attic room and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished, 97 Goddard street, near Quincy Adams Station. 15-tf.

TO LET—Tenement of three rooms $7.50 per month. Good place for hens. James Moorhead, 28 Curtis street. Tel. 539-1. 15-tf.

TO LET—Lower apartment 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

TO LET

TO LET—With private family, centrally located, a room suitable for one person, modern conveniences, and rent reasonable. Write Ledger L. M. B., or call Quincy 1796W. 7-6t

TO LET—Half house of six rooms and large laundry to adult family, conveniences, large garden. Rent $20. Apply to George H. Newcomb, 21 Adams Bldg. or M. M. Newcomb, 39 Gay street or phone 1990 Quincy. 2-tf

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements. 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 13-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Building lots on highest point of land between Boston and Plymouth. One minute from electric fifteen minutes from steam, 15c fare to Boston, 5c fare to Fore River, gas, electricity and town water A live town Dr. Taylor, South Weymouth, Mass. 7-6t

FOR SALE—1913 Ford Touring car, electric lights, master vibrator, seat covers, tires and car in good condition. Apply to Central Garage and Supply Co., Washington and Pond streets. Telephone Quincy 1035 W. 5-6t

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E. R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-tf. L P.

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and PIANO moving, packing and storage. Wm. D. King, 106 Centre street. Tel. 21003. 8-1mo.

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

TO LET
Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURCIN, Treas.
Nov

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

Prescott Apartments
For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service. Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

LEWIS N CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.
Dandy bungalow in E. Braintree for sale; small pay't., bal. as rent; see this at once.
Houses
H. F. McIntire
Greenleaf Blk
Tel. Quincy 1665-W.
Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.
1-1 yr.

LOST

LOST—Brindle Boston Bull pup, 7 months old, screw tail and small cataract on each eye Frank Canavan, 8 1-2 Intervale street, South Quincy 7-3t

LOST—Open face Waltham watch, with monogram M. E. G., Tuesday morning between Dysart street and Quincy station. Kindly notify Ledger office when found. 6-tf

WANTED

WANTED—Desirable board and room by young couple in private family, Quincy or Quincy Point. References if desired. Write N, care of Ledger Office. 7-3t

WANTED—Chamber, 2nd, seamstress, mother's helper, general maids housekeeper, first class positions waiting. Oldest employment office in city, L. M. Flynn, 22 Maple street, next to Post office. Phone 2235-W.

WANTED—Two or three furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Write W. F. R., Ledger Office. 6-3t

WANTED—An American girl to care for children and assist in sewing. Apply to Mrs. M. M. Cannon, 126 Butler road. 6-2t

CHAUFFEUR—Wants position with private family or on truck. Temperate. Long experience and best of references. Melvin L. Dell, 40 Franklin street. Telephone 1056-W 5-6t

WANTED—Young couple desire two furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Apply W. Mustenom, 52 Copeland street, West Quincy. 5-3t

WANTED—Dressmaking either to go out to customers or at home 7 Park street, South Weymouth. Telephone 425 Christin Nelson. 20-10t S. and W

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

Local Representative Wanted
by a large Boston Real Estate Office. Must be familiar with Quincy and Milton territory and values.
Write R. Ledger Office 5-3t

TO LET
After May 1, Store or Stores No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.
Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop
—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall
—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.
GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.00 per week.

SCHAELSS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest 3 dance Records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.
Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for K.r. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 2106) Quincy

At KINCAIDE'S

Beautiful New Buffets

Among the carloads of New Spring Goods we have been receiving these last few weeks is the finest assortment of Buffets we have ever shown—(and that's saying something.) Dozens of delightful new designs are here in Golden Oak, Fumed Oak, Mission and Mahogany. All sizes are shown from small neat patterns to great big massive pieces. All are thoroughly well made, nicely finished and guaranteed to give satisfaction. Values unequalled elsewhere invite you here. COME.

Others $22.50 25.00 27.50 29.75 On Easy Terms

SPECIAL THIS WEEK
Beautiful Buffet, new style shown in center above, quarter-sawed Oak, finely finished, large linen drawer, roomy closets, large French Plate beveled edge mirror. Regularly $23.75
Special $18.50

Others $30.00 35.00 42.50 50.00 to 125.00 On Easy Terms

KINCAIDE & CO. Complete Home Furnishers
"The Quality and Service Store"
Entire 5-floor bldg., 1495 Hancock St.

Coal Prices Reduced

STOVE	$7.25
EGG	$7.25
NUT	$7.50
FURNACE	$6.50
PEA	$5.50
LEHIGH EGG	$7.50
LEHIGH STOVE	$7.50
SHAMOKIN STOVE	$7.50
FRANKLIN STOVE	$8.50

Coal carried in baskets 25 cents per ton.
Bituminous Coal for Steam Use
We recommend Nut size for stove and range
Stove size for small furnaces and heaters
Egg size for large furnaces and heaters.
We advise placing your orders now as prices usually advance about July 1st.
Coal delivered in Quincy, Wollaston, Atlantic, and Norfolk Downs.

Frost Coal Co.
488 Neponset Ave., Neponset
TEL. 1500 DORCHESTER
April 3 Wed. & Sat. until July 1

MEN!
BUY YOUR NEW SPRING SUIT AT WHOLESALE PRICES
SAVE FROM $5.00 to $10.00
The modern plan of clothes selling. No high ground floor rents—No credit accounts—No commissions to salesmen—No deliveries.
$18.00 and $20.00 SUITS $13.25
THE WHOLSALE PRICE
Daniels Clothing Co.
240 Tremont St. (Second Floor) Boston
Open Saturdays Till 9 P. M.
Next to Wilbur Theatre 5-7-9

H. D. Cole, the local optometist, is showing a window display of Luxfel lenses. It also displays the ingredients used in the manufacture of Luxfel lenses and the finished lenses. The display has caused a good deal of favorable comment

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Orent-Payson and Co.
Foy's Two Stores
New England Telephone Co.
Nathan Ames
Kincaide Theatre
E. E. Gray Co.
Kincaide Furniture Store
Granite Shoe Store
Quincy Quick Lunch
Quincy Coal Co.
Lelyveld The Shoe Man
Y. M. C. A. Draamtics

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

FOR SALE—Almost new Ford touring car with lot of extras. Cheap for cash. Telephone 2267-W Quincy. H. G. Pope, Squantum. 7-1t

BIRTHS

THOMAS—In Quincy, April 7, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Earle Mountain Thomas, nee Penley, of 75 South Central avenue.

MARRIAGES

DOBLE—DEARING — In Braintree, April 6, Ralph N. Doble of Quincy and Florence Agnes Dearing of Braintree, at the First Congregational church by Rev. Harry Grimes, pastor.

DEATHS

SIMMONS—In Detroit, Mich., April 6, Mrs. Almira E., wife of Walter E. Simmons in her 70th year.
Funeral service at late residence 34 South Central avenue, Wollaston, Thursday afternoon at 2.15 P. M. Take 1.44 train from South Station.

ALLAN—In Quincy, April 6, James F. Allan in his 45th year.
Funeral services at late home 15 Alleyne terrace, Friday, April 9th at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited to attend. 7-2t

DERBY—Suddenly in Braintree, April 7, Charles L. Derby of 399 Middle street.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

KINCAIDE THEATRE
WILLIAM FARNUM
—In a Gripping 4 Reel Photo-Play
'The Sign of the Cross'
A Remarkable Paramount Feature Play—All Star Cast—Thrilling Acting.
Vaudeville. MORRISSEY and BURTON, Piano and Song Entertainers.
SEYMOUR and WILLIAMS, Old Time Singers, Dancers and Witty Talkers.
LEW PALMORE, Juggling Comedian. NEW COMEDY PICTURES To Make You Laugh.
TELEPHONE YOUR ORDER FOR SEATS
Thurs. Fri. & Sat.—Daily at 2.30 P. M. 10 & 15c. Evenings at 8—10-15-25c
COMING NEXT WEEK. Mon., Tues. & Wed.—"THE GOOSE GIRL," with Margaret Clark. Photo Play
Thurs., Fri. & Sat.—"MISTRESS NELL," with Mary Pickford. Photo Play
COMPLETE WITH ALL STAR CASTS.
REGULAR VAUDEVILLE and COMEDY PICTURES CHANGED TWICE WEEKLY.
8 2t

FAREWELL TO MISS SIMMONS

The members of the Onliate club tendered a farewell reception Tuesday to Miss Marian Simmons, one of its most popular members, who left today for Easton, Pa., where she will make her home with her sister, Mrs. Daniel Steckel of "Mt. Jefferson."

The reception took place at the home of Miss Eleanor Whittemore on Bigelow street and was well attended. During the evening Miss Simmons received many little gifts. She was also the recipient of a handsome vanity box from the club.

Military whist was played during the evening Miss H. Edna Rhoades and Miss Grace Thomas were given sterling silver vases for high scores and Stanley Churchill and George Stone were awarded playing cards in leather cases.

Miss Simmons, since coming to Quincy five years ago, has made her home on Marlboro street. She has been a most popular young woman and a prominent member of several clubs.

BRIEFS

Charles Cullen is confined to his home with tonsilitis.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Reed have opened their home on Bellevue road for the summer.

The many friends of Capt. Peterson will be sorry to learn that he has been quite ill.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Bond opened their summer home at Squantum last week for the season.

The Ladies Aid of the Squantum church meets in the ladies parlor this evening at eight o'clock.

One of the clerks at city hall is receiving congratulations on becoming a "granny."

It is probable that City Hall will be closed Friday during the hours of the funeral of James F. Allan, Inspector of meats and provisions.

Sunday evening at seven-thirty the Rev. Mr. Sprorng is to hold a special service for the Swedish people at the First church of Squantum

James S. Whyte is to be the soloist at an entertainment at South Weymouth this evening given by the Rebekah Lodge.

The rehearsal for the minstrel show, of the Ave Maria council, K. of C., will take place this evening in St. Mary's hall instead of Friday evening as previously arranged.

Miss Marion Farwell, 20 Briggs street, Wollaston, gave a talk Tuesday afternoon on "Current magazines in our home" before the Woman's Quest and Question club at Winthrop.

Thursday evening at seven o'clock the executive committee of the First church of Squantum meets in the church parlors. There will be a regular meting of church members at eight-thirty.

Mrs. Ella Perkins who has been very ill at a private hospital in Somerville has been removed to her home and will be taken to the home of her mother Mrs. Gregory in Squantum as soon as she is able to stand the trip.

The last of four conferences by the Associated Charities, the Quincy Women's Club and the Wollaston Woman's Club is to be held Monday afternoon at 3.30 in Wollaston School hall. Mr. Bellinger will speak on "Milk and Baby Hygiene." The public is invited to attend.

The members of the Granite Conclave, order Heptasophs, meet Thursday evening to complete arrangements for their annual ball to take place in Alpha hall, Friday evening. Garrett Robertson is chairman of the committee and is assisted by many members.

Everything for the Baby
THE PRICE IS RIGHT

Malted Milk	$3.50	$3.00
Malted Milk	$1.00	83c
Malted Milk	50c	43c
Nestles Food	50c	40c
Eskays Food	25c	20c
Eskays Food	50c	40c
Eskays Food	75c	60c
Sugar of Milk Patch's		35c
Sugar of Milk Hearns		30c
Nipples	5 and	10c
Nursing Bottles	8 oz	5c

Chas. C. Hearn, DRUGGIST
CITY SQUARE, - QUINCY

ANNUAL BANQUET THURSDAY.

The anual banquet of the Granite City club wil be held Thursday evening at the New American House, Boston, and promises to be an enjoyable affair. A special car for the accommodation of the members of the club will be atached to the train leaving Quincy at 6.4. The banquet will be served at 7 o'clock and will be followed by an entertainment in the banquet hall. Therew ill be no speechmaking as this is not a speechmaking club. The annual meeting of the club will be held at the club rooms on Saturday evenin.

MISS JACKSON SPEAKER.

Miss Marion Jackson will address the Parent-Teachers association of the Washington school tonight. Miss Jackson has been serving as school nurse since Jan. 1st and will for the first time tell of her experiences. The annual business meeting will also be held.

"DRYS" MAKE GREAT GAINS

Michigan Now Has Forty-Three Counties Without Saloons

Detroit, April 7.—With returns practically complete, it is conceded that the "drys" won in thirteen of the sixteen Michigan counties voting on local option, thereby adding nine counties to Michigan's "dry" area and giving the state at least forty-three counties without saloons.

The vote forced at least 327 saloons out of business, and added 336,736 to the population of the state already in "dry" territory.

Anti-saloon leaders are predicting state-wide prohibition in Michigan two years hence. Late returns increased the large majority won by the Republican state ticket.

SHAFTING GIVES WAY

Many Narrow Escapes From Injury When Fooring In Mill Sags

Fall River, Mass., April 7.—One youth was seriously injured, scores had narrow escapes from injury or death and all five floors in Pocasset mill, No. 2, nearly gave way when the main shafting in the mill broke.

Several large wooden posts in the card room, on the first floor close to the shafting, were broken in two, and these, falling, caused every one of the four floors above to sag in dangerous fashion.

Machinery on every floor was damaged more or less and in two rooms several pieces of machinery were overturned when the floor sagged.

Dependability
There is a world of comfort in knowing that your grocer is dependable, and that he sells nothing but dependable merchandise.
When you leave your orders at this store, you may rest assured that they will be filled with exacting care, that they will be delivered promptly, and that the quality of everything ordered will be standard.
If you would know the ultimate in coffee goodness, give us your order to-day for a pound of Hotel Astor Guests' Coffee—enticing in aroma, rich in body, and always dependable, because its standard never varies.
And you will find this delicious coffee true economy, it brews so many good cups to the pound.

SPECIAL
Despite the increase in pastry goods we are able to offer our customers
ROAST TOAST MILK CRACKERS
10c lb
10 to 11 lb. can 90c each
FOY'S
TWO STORES
ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1930
WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

START REMODELLING AUDITORIUM THEATRE

Inspector Thomas Approves Plans to Make Building Safe

Work was commenced this morning making changes in the Auditorium theatre so as to make the building safe for occupancy.

The changes to be made, which are approved by the inspector of buildings who has issued a permit for the same to George Lamprose, will include the building of a new foundation to the building, iron and brick piers, a steel girder under the balcony with additional supports, the enclosing of the heating apparatus in concrete, and in fact everything that will make the building perfectly safe for use as a theatre.

Inspector Thomas says that he made a thorough examination of the building and was surprised to find that the big hand hewed timbers were in such excellent condition. He further said that when the changes contemplated were completed there would probably be no reason why the building could not again be used for a theatre.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

MAYOR WINS NEW HONOR

At a meeting of the Massachusetts Real Estate exchange held Tuesday Mayor Campbell was elected chairman of the committee on the 1920 Worlds Fair which it is proposed to hold in Boston.

ADVERTISES FOR BIDS.

Commissioner Brown advertises today for bids for 201 tons of cast iron coated water pipe for the city. The sizes wanted are 66 tons of 6 inch, 75 tons of 8 inch and 60 tons of 10 inch.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Gusomano and family are occupying their summer home on Standish road. Mr. Cusamano is expecting to sail for Italy soon on a business trip.

INSURANCE COMPANIES SETTLE!
Our Big Fire Sale
Starts
Friday Morning
At 9.30 o'clock.
Come and Take the goods away!
We must clean out the entire stock within Ten Days, when the carpenters begin the work of reconstruction of our store.
ORENT-PAYSON CO.
The House of Bargains
1387 Hancock St., Quincy

ORIENTAL RUGS
WE have the largest and most complete stock of Oriental Rugs in Boston and can always show you a greater assortment than you can find elsewhere.
JOHN H PRAY & SONS CO
646-650 Washington St., opp. Boylston St.
All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 83 | QUINCY, MASS., THURSDAY EVENING, APRIL 8, 1915 | PRICE 2 CENTS

Y. M. C. A. PRESENTS "A FAMILY AFFAIR"

Three Act Farce Keeps Audience In Uproar

"A Family Affair," a three act comedy, was presented at Quincy Music hall, Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Quincy Y. M. C. A. and under the personal direction of Erastus Osgood. The cast:

Dan Gillespie — Thomas A.McLay
Jorkins Jobson — William H. Walker
Deacon Smith — Charles E. Bishop
Sally — Miss Annie Louise Laing
Miss Camson — Mrs. Elizabeth E Russell
Louisiana — Oscar L. Chell

It is comparatively easy to criticise amateur play which never rises above amateur heights because all the critic has to bear in mind is that he is considering the work of unskilled beginners and must accordingly lower his standards. The play presented Wednesday night under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. is more difficult for there were many occasions during its progress when the acting was not amateurish, many times when there was a finish and skill seldom seen off the professional stage. Such a condition naturally tends to raise the standards of the observer and may cause him to deal too harshly with the players when he forgets that after all they are not professionals.

The play itself left something to be desired. It is certainly open to question whether a farce based on a lie and carried through by a series of lies is a good thing. Dan Gillespie is a young man who is described as "a good fellow whose imagination runs away with him." That is another way of saying that he is a deliberate although clumsy liar. It appears that Gillespie is not possessed of an occupation of his own and that he has been living in a home in the country for two years on funds left hi mby his aunt. From her estate he receives a monthly allowance on condition that he be married.

Although unmarried the allowance is paid him by his aunt's executor, Deacon Smith of New York, whom he assures by letter he is happily married and the parent of a son. At the end of the two years the principal of the estate is to be turned over to him and Deacon Smith sends word that he will be down to inspect the home and, if all is satisfactory, deliver the property. The play opens at this point. Dan, much perplexed, wants someone to pass off as his wife for a few hours Through a misunderstanding he secures three: Miss Camson, his housekeeper, Sally, his cook, and Jobson, his gardner, dressed as a woman.

Upon this absurd foundation the author has built a series of truly uproarious situations. The play is really funny and there were few moments when the audience were not convulsed with laughter. Mirth becomes fast and furious until it reaches its climax at the close of the second act. It has become necessary to adopt a child for the nonce to pass off as Gillespie's son. Miss Camson gets one, Sully gets one, Gillespie gets one, and Jobson gets one. Clarence Rossing, aged four, made a hit as the son. The three others were of more tender age and appeared to be made of cloth. When the face of Jobson's baby was uncovered it proved to be as black as the ace of spades, the unfortunate gardner having stolen it from a baby carirage. The well meaning but blundering hired man thus brings down upon himself the wrath of Louisiana, a very dark brunette, who tracks him down and pursues him with a gigantic razor.

In the third act all comes out right. The liar confesses his lies and is rewarded with the hand of his sweetheart, the deacon's daughter. The deacon is also rewarded, falling captive to the wiles of Miss Camson, who rejoices that she will be single no longer.

The part of Gillespie was perhaps the most difficult as it was not a character part and required natural ease and grace to make it convincing. Mr. McLay after a slight stiffness in the first few minutes entered into the spirit o fthe play wholehcartedly. It is difficult to see how the part could have been better taken. He was particularly good in evading the questions of the deacon, his acting here frequently rising far above the ranks of the amateur.

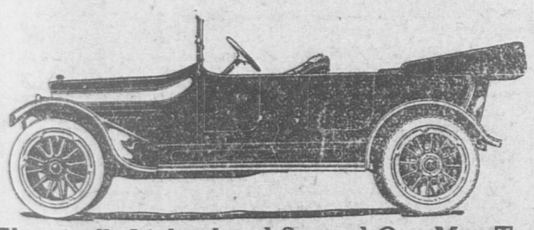

Jorkins Jobson as played by Mr. Walker was capital. His facial expression, entrances and exits, left nothing to be desired. His enunciation was clear, although always in keeping with the requirements of the part. Many would say he was the hit of the evening.

Deacon Smith had a difficult part to play. He must be vehement without overdoing it. Whenever he was on the stage he kept the ball of mirth rolling furiously, but he was at times a little too boisterous, a little too youthful, to be convincing. His makeup was a little youthful. But, when all is said, Mr. Bishop carried off a difficult part with a good deal of ability.

Miss Laing was an attractive and convincing Sally. Natural, clear voiced she appeared to be thoroughly enjoying herself and the audience certainly thoroughly enjoyed her. Her lightening changes of facial expres-

(Continued on Page Five.)

THE 1915 REO IS HERE

Electrically Lighted and Started, One Man Top
Increased Wheel Base, 34x4 Tires, Crown Fender, Improved Upholstering, Increased Power.

	F.O.B. Factory		F.O.B. Factory
4 cyl. - - -	$1050	2 ton Truck	$1650
6 cyl. - - -	$1385	Light Delivery 1500 lbs.	$1075
4 cyl. Runabout	$1000	Light Delivery Chassis	$1000
4 cyl. Coupe	$1575

Reo the Fifth - - the Incomparable Four is on Display at our Garage. Call and see This Car.
Ask for Demonstration

CENTRAL GARAGE and SUPPLY CO.
Corner Washington and Pond Sts.
QUINCY
Tel. 1035 W — C. W. Hodgkinson, Prop.

16-1mo.

MANY ATTEND BIG CHURCH WEDDING

Miss Ethel P. Robinson Marries Lawrence H. Abbott in. Milton

WILL LIVE IN MILTON

Miss Ethel P. Robinson of Adams street, was united in marriage to Lawrence Hall Abbott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall L. Abbott, proprietor of the Eaton Ice Co., at the East Congregational church, Milton. Several hundred friends from Dorchester, Somerville. Quincy and Milton attended the ceremony.

The church was most beautifully decorated with palms and potted plants. Music was rendered by Miss Lela Harvey. The single ring service was used and the ceremony was solemnized by Rev. John M. Trout, pastor of the church. The bride was dressed in a gown of white crepe meteor and veil. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Miss Emily Connor of Haverhill was the bridesmaid and Benjamin Fuller of East Milton was the best man. The ushers were: the Messrs James Burbank of East Milton, Lewis M. Abbott, brother of the grom Ralph E. Pendergast of Trenton. N. J, and George A. Wood of Dorchester. A reception was held in the vestry immediately following the ceremony. After a short wedding trip the couple will live in Milton.

WILL CELEBRATE LEE'S SURRENDER

The members of Paul J. Revere Post G. A. R., will on Friday celebrate the 50th anniversary of the surrender of Gen. Lee at Appomatox on April 9, 1865 and among those who will participate in the festivities connected with the "open house" will be members of the Northern army which entered Richmond.

The original plans called for the "open house" today, because the hall had been engaged by a lodge, but have been altered so the event will be held on the actual anniversary of the surrender.

A program will be given during the afternoon and will include speeches by men prominent in the public life of the community. Among them will be Charles H. Johnson.

The first flag flown in Richmond after the surrender will also fly from the staff on the building. Arrangements have been made to entertain members of the posts of surrounding cities and towns.

MRS. JOSEPHINE E. WALES.

Mrs. Josephine E. Wales, widow of Benjamin C. Wales of Braintree, died of bronchial pneumonia at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Osborne, in Lynn, today.

She was born Aug. 23, 1837 and lived at the corner of Cedar and School streets in Braintree. One sister, Mrs. Murray Chubbuck of Brockton, formerly of Quincy, and two daughters Mrs. Valiquet of Hyde Park and Mrs. Osborne of Lynn survive her. She leaves many relatives and a large circle of friends. The funeral will be held Saturday at her late home, Olney place, Lynn, and the burial takes place in Braintree.

Mrs. Pence Mitchell president of the Wollaston Book Club is recovering from an operation for appendicitis at the Quincy Hospital.

Beginning Sunday April 11

The Reading Room of the Thomas Crane Public Library will be closed Sunday afternoons until further notice.

Per order of the Trustees

8-3t

HOLD BOYS FOR GRAND JURY

Charged With Larceny of Brass Castings and Pipe

Alfred Pappi and Paul DiSalvo, two young Italians arrested by the police in connection with the larceny of brass castings and pipe from the power plant at Quincy Point, part of which has been recovered by Patrolmen Cahill and Farrell have been held in $1000 each for the Grand Jury.

DiSalvo entered a plea of not guilty When Pappi was arraigned on a charge of stealing bronze he immediately took exceptions to the charge and said it was brass. A plea of guilty was then entered.

Inspector Goodhue and both officers made further investigation Wednesday afternoon. They claim the shoes of the defendants fitted exactly in the footprints leading from the wharf Power Point and also from the Sandberg wharf on Town river to the building where part of the loot was hidden. The police say that part of the sole of one of the shoes had been lost and that it was found near the building.

The loot recovered is valued at about $150 and consists of a brass casting and pipe. The police expect to recover the remainder, valued at $350. within a few days and are relentless pursuing an investigation. Practically no information has been volunteered by the boys. The police say they have a strong case against them and that several others may be implicated.

The arrest of the boys was the result of good police work by Patrolmen Cahill and Farrell who were assigned to the case. They believe that the goods were taken in a boat from Power Point to Sandberg's wharf on Town river, a distance of two miles.

DIES AT AGE OF EIGHTY SEVEN

Samuel T. Drew of the Ledger composing rooms and vice president of the Quincy branch of the Irish National Land League, has the sympathy of his friends in the death of his father, Capt. George K. Drew who died Wednesday at the home of the home of his daughter, Mrs. William P. Buckley at Lancaster, N. H.

Capt. Drew was an old time sea captain and during his sea faring days, sailed between New England and West Indian ports. He has been retired a number of years and for some years past has made his home with his daughter. His death was due to heart trouble incidental to old age as he had reached the ripe old age of 87 years.

He is survived by two sons and two daughters, George E. Drew of Wollaston, Samuel T. Drew of Quincy, Mrs. James R. Jackson of Littleton, N. H. and Mrs. William P. Buckley of Lancaster, N. H.

MAYOR PRAISES POLICE OFFICERS

Mayor Campbell extends his congratulations and commendation to Acting Chief of Police Daniel R. McKay, Inspector Alfred W. Goodhue and Officer George A. Cahill, in quelling the disturbance Sunday night in the boarding house at 43 Grafton street in the following letter:

Capt. Daniel R. McKay,
Acting Chief of Police,
Quincy, Mass.

Dear Sir:—

I was gratified to hear of the result of the work done by Inspector Goodhue, Officer Cahill, and yourself in quelling the disturbance and the arrest of the several persons engaged in the same, when the odds were so greatly against you. Fearlessness and ability to handle difficult situations go well toward efficiency.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) Chester I. Campbell
Mayor

Mrs. Charles E. Haskins of Miller Stile road is seriously ill with pneumonia.

WON'T LET FIGHT FILMS BE SHOWN

Mayor Campbell Refuses Request of Local Theatre Men

THINKS THEM DEBASING

The films of the Johnson-Willard prize fight will not be shown in Quincy, for not only does the federal law prevent it but Mayor Campbell refuses to allow them even if he could. The matter was brought to the attention of the attention of the mayor a few days ago in the form of a request from George A Wardwell, manager of the Kincaide theatre, asking for permission to show the pictures in Quincy. This morning the mayor turned the request down in the following letter:

Capt. George A. Wardwell, Manager
Kincaide Theatre,
Quincy, Mass.

Dear Sir:—

In reference to your request to show the moving pictures of the Johnson-Willard fight, I desire to say that I have given the matter my careful consideration and I feel that for the best interests of the citizens of Quincy I must decline to grant the same Without appearing narrow in my views on matters of interest to the public I cannot see where the exhibition of such pictures would be a benefit to the public or where they will have a tendency to lift the ideal of citizenship. In fact I am inclined to think that the exhibition of such pictures can have no other effect than to lower our feeling of responsibility to the community in which we live.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) Chester I. Campbell,
Mayor

FRIENDS TENDER SURPRISE PARTY

Present Miss Lindberg Ivory Toilet Set

Miss Lillian Lindberg, who resigned as proof reader of the G. W. Prescott Publishing Co. to start training as a nurse at the Massachusetts Homoeopathic Hospital, was tendered a surprise party by 30 friends at her home at 160 Elm street Wednesday evening.

Alfred Hanson, in behalf of those present, presented Miss Lindberg with an ivory toilet set. The occasion and presentation was an unexpected and pleasant surprise to the young woman.

Miss Lindberg was connected with the Ledger office for three years. Her resignation became effective Saturday to the regret of the entire force at th plant.

STRAINS BACK BADLY IN FALL

George Forsythe Injured In Granite Yard

George Forsyth, 55 years of Rodman street, one of the best known Scottish residents of the city suffered a badly strained back and foot in a fall at the plant of Milne and Chalmers on Penn street at 8 o'clock this morning.

Forsyth has been employed there about 20 years and for the past 14 years has operated the derrick hoist. This morning he was on a roof platform pulling the rope which opens the feed of the hoister when it parted. He lost his balance and fell a distance of 15 feet.

He was picked up by fellow workmen and treated by Dr. J. M. McLeod. It is not thought he is seriously injured.

FIRE BADLY DAMAGES HOUGHS NECK COTTAGE

Delay in Sounding Alarm Has Serious Consequences

Through a misunderstanding in sounding the alarm, there was quite a serious delay at 11 o'clock Wednesday night in summoning the fire department to a bad fire in a seven room cottage on Winthrop street, Houghs Neck, owned and occupied by Leslie Alexander.

Mrs. Alexander had gone out for the evening and while waiting for her to return Mr. Alexander was taking a nap. He was aroused to find the rear of the house in flames and the rooms filled with smoke. The house is a short distance from the fire station and Box 114, for which Mr. Alexander started. Before he reached there however he met Mrs. W. H. Buchan coming from the direction of the box. He supposed that she had rung the alarm and she naturally supposed that he had so they both turned back toward the burning dwelling.

While waiting for the apparatus Mrs. Buchan coupled up her lawn hose but it was not long enough to allow the stream to reach the burning building.

Eventually they realized that the alarm had not sounded for some reason and Antonio Medus ran to the box and sounded it This was at 10.52. James Malone, driver of the combination was soon on the spot and with the aid of volunteers, laid two lines of hose and were doing effectual work when Chief Billings and the auto chemical from the central station arrived Two more lines of hose were laid and it was not long before the fire was under control, although not before the house had been quite badly damaged.

Mr. Alexander could give no cause for the fire He stated that there was a fire in the kitchen stove and that a lap was burning up stairs. The house was one of those where paperboard was used in place of plastering which added to the damage. The fire evidently started in the kitchen. Mr. Alexander estimates his loss at $1,500.

While the fire was in progress William Mulberry who lived in a house near by fearing that his own home would take fire removed his children, William, aged 8 years and Robert aged 3 years, to a place of safety, and was preparing to remove his furnishings. Several other faimlies residing near by also started to remove their furniture.

This was the second alarm of the evening, the first having been sounded from Box 137 at 6.29. The latter was for a slight fire in a clothes closet in the house of Samuel Cutler at 294 Water street. The fire was confined to the closet and the damage will not be heavy.

An alarm was sounded from Box 614 at 7.19 this morning for a fire in a small summer house on the premises of James Thomas at 99 Billings road. The building sets some distance from the house and the fire was evidently caused by hot ashes. The building was gutted leaving nothing but the shell. The loss will not be heavy. The premises were owned by A. S. Robinson.

CHIEF HUNT RESIGNS.

Chief of Police Horace F. Hunt of Braintree tendered his resignation to the selectmen a week ago and after considering it the selectmen at their meeting Wednesday voted to accept the resignation, later appointing Jeremiah Gallavan as chief.

Chief Gallavan began his duties Wednesday evening and ex-Chief Hunt went back on night duty on the beat at North Braintree that has been covered by Chief Gallavan. Chief Gallavan has been a member of the police department of Braintree for 19 years.

William Buckley and family of Atlantic have moved to Cross street.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity.

Fair and warmer Friday, with moderate winds.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	5.14
Sun sets	6.19
Length of day	13.05
Moon rises	3.06
High water, A. M.	7.15
High water, P. M.	8.00
Days increase	3 hrs. 59 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	64 degrees
Apr. 7, 1914,	50 degrees
Apr. 7, 1913,	49 degrees

Noon Maximum 18 years—86
Noon Minimum 18 years—30

FUNERAL NOTICE.

Clan MacGregor No. 5 O. S. C.

Members are hereby notified of the death of Clansman James F. Allan and are requested to meet in Clan MacGregor hall Friday, April 9th, 1915 at 1.30 to attend the funeral which will be held from his late residence 15 Alleyne Terrace.

WILLIAM CANTLAY, Chief
ANGUS KERR, Secretary.
8-1t

PROPOSAL

Quincy, Mass., April 8th, 1915.

Sealed proposals for delivering 9 tons of ARSENATE OF LEAD at the City Stables in the following quantities: 1000 lbs. in wooden kegs of 100 lbs. each, and the remainder in barrels of 300 lbs. each, will be received at the office of the Commissioner of Public Works, City Hall, Quincy, Mass., Thursday, April 15th, 1915, until 10 o'clock A. M. at which time they will be publicly opened and read.

MOSES L. BROWN,
Commissioner of Public Works
8-1t

ATTENTION — OF — TAX PAYERS

Bring in a list of your property, both real and personal, as requested by notices posted throughout the city.

Blanks for this purpose may be obtained upon application at the Assessors' office, Room 7, City Hall. All questions in said blanks should be answered and sworn to before one of the Assessors, or the clerk of the Board, and should be on file in the Assessors' office on, or before, May 15, 1915.

Justices of the Peace cannot administer such oath; and a Notary Public may do so only in case of non-resident tax payers.

The filing of the list requested within the time, and in the manner stated, is the only means whereby you can save all your rights, if your property is overvalued by the Assessors.

Board of Assessors, Quincy, Mass.
JOHN J. O'HARA, Chairman
April 1-6t-1-8-15-22-29—May 6

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

WRECKING A BOOM.

According to the New York Sun the Whitman presidential boom is wrecked. Perhaps the wish was father to the thought. The Washington correspondent of the Sun says:

"The Whitman boom, once a flourishing presidential prospect has been relegated to the scrap heap so far as the plans of the national leaders are concerned. For several weeks the Whitman candidacy has been subjected to the test of "watchful waiting," all comment having been suspended pending developments at Albany. The time has now come, though, when leaders of the Republican party are beginning to express their opinions openly and nearly all agree that Whitman has been tried and found wanting so far as presidential qualifications go. The opportunity which nearly every Republican of national prominence envied the young New Yorker has not been improved by him. If you had asked any one of the prominent Republicans in Congress or one of the Republican leaders what he thought of Whitman's chances a few weeks ago he would have replied, as many of them did at the time:

"If Whitman makes good as governor, look out for him in 1916." Now they say: "Oh, he's out of it."

When Whitman is discussed here now in regard to national politics it is in the nature of a political post-mortem. The talk invariably takes the form of suggestions of what might have happened had the governor been more of an administrator and less of a politician at Albany.

It is at least something to have the astute Republican politicians, of whom we suspect the Sun correspondent to be one, desire a man who is not a politician as their candidate for the presidency.

A FOOL QUESTION.

"That's a fool question," snapped Col. Roosevelt, in Philadelphia yesterday when a reporter asked him to express an opinion on the chances of the Progressives returning to the fold.

It is a "fool" question, although perhaps not in just the way the colonel took it, when Progressives have been hastening back into the G. O. P. ranks throughout the country.

Theodore Roosevelt is too astute a politician not to see this. He should make the best of the situation and bend his efforts toward an amalgamation which shall preserve the best in both parties. The Progressive movement had much to commend it, whatever may have been the motives of its inception. It has undoubtedly improved the character of the Republican organization, because the wise leaders of the party realize that the young, reform element has tired of having their politics cut and dried and thrust down their throats and are determined to think for themselves. Progressives and Republicans must realize that an amicable and firm union is the only thing which can possibly defeat Woodrow Wilson in 1916.

ETERNAL YOUTH.

Who says there is no elixir of youth? Who sneers at Ponce de Leon for his quest? Sarah Bernhardt gives the lie to the doubters and scoffers. "The Divine Sarah," now convalescent after the amputation of her leg, is not content to spend the remainder of her days in peace and quiet. She longs to plunge once more into that life of activity which won her such renown as an actress. Great artist that she is, who can doubt that she will conquer her latest affliction and will hear as of old the wild plaudit of floor and galleries.

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton Direction
Greenleaf Block,
1413 Hancock Street, Quincy
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
31-tf

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

AN EXPLANATION.

Editor of the Ledger:

I ask that you give space in your paper for the following explanation of a news item which appeared in the Ledger on March 31st. It states that the undersigned was summoned to court to answer for illegal aid given in childbirth cases.

In explanation of the above I would say that I have more than once been compelled to do without the doctor when he has not come on time and have by the doctor's orders done what he should have done to save human life. Present day happenings show that infants and even mothers die when the doctor does not come on time and those present dare not do anything because the law forbids it. Who will answer for these human lives?

I have been in this work for eight years and have always been commended by the doctors and patients During this hard winter I have done beyond my strength to help working people who are in reduced circumstances I have taken worn mothers into my little home from cold, damp houses. In this my husband has sympathetically helped. In doing this I could not dream I was breaking the law and I did not know there was a statute to prevent one from doing good. For I have not done this for myself but for the suffering mothers who have as often rewarded me with their tears as with their money.

And before all I have had the great physician, God with me, whom I thank that the slightest mishap has not occurred. I can also prove that very few of the working people can afford to pay for a doctor and a nurse. As they are compelled to have a doctor they have to go without a nurse. Of my own experience I can tell the way the ordinary family gets under a great burden of debt. It has cost us hundreds of dollars because of the lack of proper attendance The doctor visited my bedside but because neither I nor the nurse knew the language I had to go to a hospital to be cared for by specialists and had to pay them $100.00 before I got any help whatever.

The experiences of the poor who cannot speak the language are heartbreaking, especially in these hard times. Who will answer for the cries that go up, from suffering homes. Often noble mothers hide their sufferings in their hearts and suffer destitution rather than ask for aid and even then the number of applicants is great. And we are not allowed to help one another just for the sake of the financial welfare of a few individuals. With sorrow I wonder why I should remain as a wrong does under surveillance.

(Mrs.) W. F. Pyyny.

MAYOR JOINS LOCAL LODGE

Transfers From Providence to Wollaston I. O. O. F.

Mayor Chester I. Capbell became a member of John Hancock lodge, I. O. O. F., of Wollaston Wednesday evening Mayo r Campbell joined the organization some years ago in Providence, R. I. His recent application for a transfer was granted and unanimously accepted by the members.

The meeting was in Odd Fellows hall, Wollaston, and was attended by nearly 150 members. During the ceremonies of the evening music was furnished by the lodge orchestra. Among the visitors were members of lodges in South Weymouth, Hingham and Dorchester.

Herbert Gearwar, past noble grand of the lodge, who has been at the Isle of Pines the past three years and who returned this week, was present and received a fine reception. He also gave a short talk on conditions in the West Indies.

Mrs. Charles M. Bryant entertained the executive board of the Wollaston Woman's Club at luncheon today.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

NORTH WEYMOUTH

At the annual meeting of Combination One Fire Company held at Engine hall Tuesday the following officers were elected to take effect May 1st:

Captain—John S. Nelson.
1st. Lieut.—Fred W. Stoddard.
2nd. Lieut.—William H. Macomber.
Clerk—Edwin A. Stone.

Hiram Nadell was unanimously recommended to the Selectmen for the position of District Engineer.

Mr. Wiley and family have moved from the tenement above H. H. I. Smith's store to the tenement on Lovell street recently vacated by J. S. Blagdon.

Miss Gladys Sidelinger is visiting her uncle A. J. Sidelinger

Mrs. Miles Keene, Mrs. Mary Flint, Mrs. Jennie Callahan, Mrs Caroline Sewall, Mrs. Mary Mahoney and Mrs. Margaret Culley were delegates from W R C 102 to the department convention in Boston this week

Nineteen pupils of Miss Emma Harris in grade 2 of the Athens school are ill with measles.

Mrs. Martha Dougee White widow of Martin White died at the Worcester Hospital March 31. She was born at North Weymouth, was a member of Pilgrim church, and very active in its service in her early years. She is survived by one daughter Sadie of Jamaica Plain. Funeral services were held at Pilgrim church last Saturday. Rev. Charles Clark pastor officiating. Mrs. Oscar Saunders and Mrs. Sydney Dunbar sang several selections, accompanied by Mrs. Gardner Alden at the piano. Beautiful flowers testified that she was remembered by relatives and friends.

At the meeting of the Village Improvement Association Wednesday evening President P. J. Derrig presided. A lively discussion as to where future meetings would be held resulted in the decision to continue at Engine hall. A committee was appointed to interview the Park Commissioners. The Publicity committee reported several new members.

Mrs. J. J. Eppler and Frank Fullerton and family all of Roslindale are at Wessagussett for the week.

EASTER CONCERT.

An Easter concert was held at Pilgrim church Sunday evening under the direction of Mrs. E. R. O'Neil and Miss Ebba Rosendale, Easter recitations were given by the children, and carols were sung by the school. Sadie McLellan gave the greeting, Laughton Dasha the farewell address.

An Easter recitation "Her Easter Choice" was finely given by the following cast:

Louise—Ebba Rosendale.
Pleasure—Edith McLennan.
Beauty— Lorraine Page.
Music—Helen Regan.
Fame—Mildren Rosendale.
Power—Marion Winkfield.
Christianity—Evelyn Nadell.
Faith—Gertrude Culley.
Hope—Sadie McLennan.
Love—Isabel Young.
Rev. Charles Clark addressed the school.

LADIES AID SUPPER.

The Ladies circle of Pilgrim church served a supper in the vestry Wednesday evening followed by a "Suffragette Town Meeting." Nearly 100 people partook of the bountiful repast served by a committee of ten: Mrs. Charles Williams, chairman, Mrs. Sarah A. Dasha, Mrs. L. J. Peterson. Mrs. R. O. Clark. Mrs. W. A Drake. Mrs. John Bastey, Mrs. E. Marshall, Mrs. Henry Dyer, Mrs. Raymond Lane, Mrs. Henry Farrington.

Previous to calling the "Town Meeting" to order Mrs. Gardner Alden and a friend sauntered in and in return for a promised invitation to a garden party persuaded her friend to nominate her for Moderator. Mrs. E. A. Davis, Mrs. John Thomas Mrs. Raymond Lane also advanced arguments to show themselves particularly fitted for the position, but the news that one of their townswomen had through a trick of fate become a Duchess caused the decision that Mrs. Henry Farrington should be Moderator, in which position she sustained her reputation for clever acting.

Mrs. Hattie Bean as Town Clerk and Miss Trussell as chairman of Selectwomen read reports that created much amusement. Mrs. Raymond Lane reported as Chairman of School Committee, Mrs. Davis as Overseer of the Poor, who went to Kincaide's Theatre with the proceeds of a Rummage sale. Other reports were read by Mrs. Horace Walker, Mrs. Sidney Dunbar, Mrs. Lottie Baker, Mrs. John Thomas, Mrs. Gardner Alden, Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. Will Tyler, Miss Nason, Mrs. Will Collyer. A trio of servants was portrayed to perfection by Misses Maude Williams, Helen Burgess and Mrs. Nat Ford.

The fence viewer who viewed the fences from the top of Great hill, the auditor who announced all words correctly spelled, the treasurer who required $5000 to run her office, created great merriment.

There were many recommendations among them a request for jitney buses. Local hits thoughout the performance was the source of much laughter and applause.

The parts were all played in an excellent manner, showing careful preparation. The capacity of the vestry was taxed. Mrs. A. J. Sidelinger was treasurer and a satisfactory sum was added to the treasury.

LORING—POWERS.

A wedding of interest to Weymouth friends was solemnized at Newtonville Saturday afternoon, the bride being Eleanor Elizabeth Powers of North Weymouth, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Thomas H. Powers. The groom Lewis Deering Loring is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Loring of East Weymouth.

Rev. Rufus H. Dix of the Newtonville Universalist church solemnized the marriage at two o'clock. Miss Ruth F. Powers of Arlington Heights was maid of honor and the best man was Ward F. Humphrey of East Weymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Loring are enjoying a two weeks' trip to Philadelphia and Atlantic City. Their future home is to be on Birch Brow avenue, North Weymouth, where they will receive their friends after June 1st.

ATHERTON HOUGH.

Historical Information Concerning Him.

Atty. James L. Edwards, always interested in historical subjects, has been trying to find a portrait of Atherton Hough so that he might have a photographic copy made for the Houghs Neck school. He has not yet been able to find the portrait.

Among those to whom Mr. Edwards addressed inquiry regarding the picture was John H Burdakin. register of deeds of Norfolk County, who had collected some material regarding Atherton Hough. In reply Mr. Edwards received the following lettter:

July 27, 1914.

James L. Edwards, Esq..

Dear Sir.

Yours of 25th ins't. rec'd. much of the material I collected several years ago concerning Atherton Haugh (or Hough) has been mislaid or destroyed. You can find his will at Probate office, East Cambridge. At the rooms of the Genealogical Society, Ashburton Pl.. Boston refer to their publication the Register Vol. 1, page 286. Vol. 3, page 92, Vol. 4 page 121. Page's History of Cambridge. In article entitled "Old Boston in England" by L. Octavia Holden published in the New Eng. Magazine, Dec. 1899. page 401 allusion is made to bold Atherton Hough, mayor of the bourough in 1628. I think the Memorial History of Boston has something of interest, also Shurtleff's Mass Colony records. The former Register of Deeds Chas. B. Stevens, a descendant of Atherton H.. informed me several years before he died that he possessed an oil portrait of A. H. Iadvised him to give it to the Bostonian Society whether he did or not I don't know.

Yours truly,
J. H. Burdakin.

ARE DELEGATES.

Past Commander Francis P. Loud and Secretary James Hadlah Webb of Paul J Revere post, G. A. R., were the delegates to the Massachusetts encampment of veterans which closed in Boston Wednesday.

BABY CHICKS
You can save every one, provided you feed for the first few days
PRATT'S BABY CHICK FOOD
and then continue with Wirthmore Baby Chick and Wirthmore Growing Feed.
These are the feeds that have proven their worth time and time again, and will raise the entire hatch to maturity at the least possible trouble and expense.
Our best advertisement is our enthusiastic customers.
NATHAN AMES
5 Granite St.,
USE CARBORUNDUM SHARPENING STONES

Sooner or Later
Glenwood
The Range that Makes Cooking Easy

A Woman Can't Help
wanting a new Plain Cabinet Glenwood; it is so smooth and easy to clean, no filigree or fussy ornamentation, just the natural black iron finish.—"The Mission Idea" applied to a range.

The improved baking damper, heat indicator, revolving grate and roller bearing ash pan make it the most wonderful Cooking Machine ever devised to make housekeeping drudgless.

This Range is also made with Elevated Gas Oven instead of End Style as shown.

If gas is not desired, it can be had with large copper reservoir on the end opposite fire box. It can be furnished with fire box at either right or left of oven, as ordered.

H. L. Kincaide & Co., Quincy

AT THE THEATRE

Yes it's all here and more too. Kincaide Theatre is offering an exceptionally strong bill for the end of the week, and you certainly must be there.

First the Paramount picture "The Sign of The Cross" featuring William Farnum as Marcus Superbus. For many years the original play has fascinated the imagination and swayed the emotions of audiences throughout the civilized world. The action takes place during the reign of Nero, when the Roman Empire was at the height of its infamous period of licentiousness and passion and for the most part it glows into Titianesque luxuriance of coloring as befits a fearless picture of life in the Rome of Nero.

But this exciting world of intrigue and unbridled luxury covers but a portion of the canvas, in fact it only serves to reveal with startling contrast the exquisite reverence and saintliness and the serene unquestioning faith of early Christian martyrs. A certain officer, high in confidence of the emperor rescues Mercia, a Christian maid from a street riot and through a gallery of startling scenes now splendid with throned sensualities and stately luxury, now beautiful with piteous suffering illuminated with holy hope and love, Mercia and Marcus, the unfaltering Christian and doubting Pagan march to their decreed doom.

There are three corking acts of vaudeville. Seymour and Williams head the list. Their dancing is graceful, their voices excellent and their dialogue is funny. A close second is Lou Palmore, while Sidney and Burton are two of the cleverest comedians upon the vaudeville stage.

To cap this bill of headliners Mr. Wardwell has secured the screaming Keystone comedy featuring Sidney Chaplin in Gussie's Day of Rest, with laughter as its only excuse. Chaplin and laughter are now synonymous to the moving picture fan, and this film will be no disappointment

Next week are two strong features the "Goose Girl" with Marguerite Clark. and Mary Pickford in "Mistress Nell."

WHIST PARTY.

An enjoyable whist party was held in Richard's Memorial hall Tuesday evening by the Squantum improvement association Seven tables were in play The highest scorers were Perley Bostwick, Carl Lindgren, Hugo Wikstrom, and James H. Sumner. Mrs. John R. Nelson was given a consolation souvenir. Next Tuesday night will be the first of a series of four whist parties to be given by the association. At the end of the series Councilman John R. Nelson, president of the association is to give a souvenir to those holding the highest scores.

☞PRATT'S BREAD never varies. It is made and baked by a fixed rule. Ask your grocer.

BETHANY UNION.

All Day Session Held On Wednesday

A regular meeting of the Bethany Women's Union was held Wednesday. The ladies of the union met as usual at 11 o'clock to sew and at 1230 a most delightful lunch was served under the direction of Miss Addie Park who was assisted by Mrs. George L. Badger, Mrs. Victor E. Miller, Mrs. C. S. Sherman and Mrs. Albert L. Hayden.

At 1.30 there was an executive meeting, at 2.30 a business meeting and at 3 o'clock the social session. Mrs. A. L. Hayden had charge of the devotional exercises and there was singing by Mrs Mary Miller. The address of the afternoon was by Mrs. E. F. Tead of Atlantic who gave a most interesting and instructive talk to mothers. Rev. Mr. Willmott, who was present during the first of the meeting, also spoke briefly.

HOLLY CLUB MEETS.

Whist Follows Regular Business Session.

The members of the Holly club gathered at the home of Mrs. Emma Stoddard on Baxter street Wednesday evening and after a brief session spent a social hour. During the whist party piano selections were rendered by Miss Annie Norrie. The souvenirs for high scores were awarded to Mrs. M. Perkins and Mrs. M. Gagnan. A dainty collation was served. Mrs. Stoddard was assisted in making the arrangements by Mrs. Mary McNeil, president of the club.

Quincy Quick Lunch
1510 Hancock Street
Next to Wardwell's Bowling Alley
Open from 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.
7-6t

Furniture Storage Warehouse
Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.
Rates $2---$3---$4 per month
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.
Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26--tu.-th.s.-tf

Reduction in Prices.
Your attention is called to the reduced spring prices on Anthracite Coal as follows

Lehigh Stove and Egg	$7.50
White Ash Stove and Egg	7.25
White Ash Nut	7.50
Shamokin Stove and Egg	7.50
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75
Pea	5.50
Franklin	8.50

We recommend the placing of your order at this time to insure the low prices.
Nothing but All Rail Clean Coal handled and delivered right by careful experienced drivers.
QUINCY COAL CO.
OFFICE and YARD
Penn St., Quincy Tel. 47-M

THE EDUCATIONAL FIELD

THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
HIGH SCHOOL PUBLIC SCHOOLS
WOODWARD INSTITUTE PAROCHIAL SCHOOL

The Coddington School Parent-Teachers association is to hold its annual meeting in the Assembly Hall, Wednesday April 14. At this meeting, the officers for the ensuing year will be elected and an informal reception will be given the teachers of the school.

The parents of pupils at the Montclair school will hold a meeting in the school corridor Tuesday, April 20, when they will organize an association similar to those in the other school districts of the city. One previous meeting has been held which was very well attended and resulted in much interest being shown.

The teachers of the city have been invited by the Teacher's school of Science of Boston, one of the Lowell Courses to accompany their field class on May 8 when they visit Quincy to study some of the local geological phenomena. In the wording of the course, the subject of study in Quincy will be "Batholith, granite, erupted into Cambrian slates, with much contact phenomena." On June 5, the same class will go to Atlantic and thence to Squantum where it will study "Stratification folds, cleavage; pudding stone, sand stone, sholes and tillite."

As both these excusions are on Saturday afternoons, no doubt a large number of people will join the class for the day. The instructor of the class is George H. Barton.

WOLLASTON SCHOOL.

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association will be held in the Assembly hall, Monday evening, April 12. The speaker is Dr. David Snedden, commissioner of education for Massachusetts. A large attendance is desired.

The class of 1913 will present two short plays in the assembly hall, Friday at 4 P. M. Admission ten cents. Proceeds to make up deficit on class picture.

MASS. FIELDS SCHOOL.

The Mass. Fields Parent-Teachers association will hold its regular meeting Thursday evening, in the school corridor.

Capt. Newell will deliver his lecture entitled "A Trip Around the World."

The question of a supervised playground during July and August will be discussed.

PUBLIC LIBRARY TRUSTEES REPORT

The Trustees of the Thomas Crane Public Library submit to the mayor their annual report for the year 1914.

Among the recommendations made by the board is the opening of a third branch reading room at Wollaston or Quincy. They also urge the erection of a suitable building on the library grounds to be used for a lecture hall, story hours, exhibitions and training school for apprentices.

The total city appropriation for 1914 was $14,444.69. The expenses of the central library were $11,748.71, the largest item being $6,984.32 for salaries.

The report of Miss Alice G. White, librarian, will be found elsewhere in this issue.

WEEKLY WHIST.

Fred Drake and Samuel T. MacQuarrie carried off the prizes at the weekly whist tournament at the Granite City club Wednesday evening. As usual a lunch was served after the tournament.

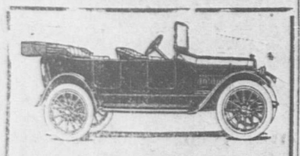

ALL DAY SEW.

An all day sewing meeting was held Wednesday at the Wollaston Baptist church to finish up the year's work and to make May baskets for the old ladies home at Cambridge. At noon a mystery lunch was served.

LADIES AID MEET.

The Ladies Aid society of the Squantum church held its weekly meeting Wednesday at which time plans were made for a supper to be held on the evening of Saturday April 17.

The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader.

JACKSON
Model 46
THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL. SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER
"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"
Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT
$1375
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

GIRLS REVEL AT COSTUME PARTY

The Sanctuary Girls club, composed of young women who live in that part of Quincy Point section which will be soon set off as a separate Catholic parish, held a costume party at the home of Misses Amy and Marion Fallon on Washington street, Wednesday evening.

More than a score were present. The custumes ranged from the ridiculous to the sublime and because there was so much variety and fine appearance no attempt was made to award prizes.

The program included games, an impromptu musical entertainment, and dancing, music being furnished by the members. The party followed the regular business meeting at which it was voted to meet next Monday evening at the home of Miss Marguerite McDonald on Germaine avenue.

BOWLING TOURNEY CLOSES.

First Prize Goes to Miss M. Lizzie Furnald.

The bowling tournament of Maple lodge, K. & L. of H., closed in Protection hall Wednesday night and the first prize was awarded to Miss M. Lizzie Furnald who had a total of 117. Harry Tirrell was second with 112. The booby prizes were given to Mrs. Rose A. Reid who had 42 and J. P. Hedman whose total was 55.

The contest followed a business meeting at which one was initiated and two applications for membership were received. It was announced that the entertainment committee is planning other features for the near future.

BOTH FINED.

Benjamin Litchfield and Earl Anderson of Cohasset faced Judge Avery in the District Court this morning on charges of drunkenness and assault and battery.

The police of that town claimed both had created considerable excitement in the town on Monday. Charles Wilkes of Quincy conducted the prosecution for Cohasset.

Both men were fined $15 on the drunkenness charge and $20 on the other, Litchfield was placed on probation.

SERVICES FOR R. R. MAN.

Funeral services for Charles Hatch who died in New York Sunday evening were held there Tuesday, the interment being at Barrington, R. I. Wednesday. The N. Y. and N. H. R. R. showed appreciation of Mr. Hatch's services of more than thirty years by placing a special car at the disposal of the family and friends. Representatives of the railroad were present from Boston, New Haven and Providence.

Thomas Connelley and family of Whitwell street have moved to their new home on Hayward street, East Braintree.

CONDITIONS ARE REAL MENACE

Houghs Neck Residents Disregard Quarantine

Houghs Neck residents, whose homes are under quarantine as a result of the measles, have become a menace to the general health of that community and are either willfully negligent or unaware of the danger of the disease.

These words closed a quick summary of the contagious situation in Quincy by Dr. Harold Diehl of the Board of Health this morning.

Dr. Diehl said that he found a little more than the normal number of cases of measles in the city and that an vestigation in all wards showed the most flagrant offenders of the quarantine rules were residents of Houghs Neck. He said a visit to that section Wednesday uncovered children of infected homes at play with others, parents visiting neighbors, inmates of quarantined homes purchasing in the stores at the beach, and all varieties of violation existing, and that he also found what he believed to be a deliberate attempt to hide a measles patient.

Dr. Diehl's severe arraignment of the people of Houghs Neck was simply, he said the views of a man who realized only too well the possibilities of a continued exposure of the entire community.

Measles, according to Dr. Diehl causes more deaths annually than scarlet fever, one of the most malignant of contagious diseases, and that usually about 20 per cent of the cases close with the death of the patient. At Houghs Neck he said it is a matter of fact that practically no attention has been paid to the rules of the Board of Health.

Many violators told him, he said, that they did not known they were endangering public health and agreed to respond to his request to consider the welfare of others, and that the indications were there would be some co-operation between the home and department in trying to prevent a general spreading of the disease.

SERIOUS CONDITION.

The condition of Robert T. Johnson which appeared to be becoming more and more favorable, late Wednesday night suddenly became serious. Mr. Johnson remains in a serious condition today.

PAUL B. BAXTER.

Paul P. Baxter, brother-in-law of the late Mrs. George W. Morton of Quincy, died at Ketchum, Idaho, according to information received here today.

The deceased was married some years ago to Miss Kate Averill and lived at Quincy Point He was well known here. His body will be brought to Quincy for burial.

BRIEFS

Henry P. Kittredge reached Quincy Wednesday after a trip to Bermuda.

John King of Concord who has been visiting friends in this city left for his home Tuesday.

The St. Marys Junior bowling team have arranged a match with the Franco Americans which will be held Friday evening at St. Mary's alleys.

Monday the streets were covered with snow and slush. Today the dust is being blown about by the high winds. Truly New England weather is variable.

The Chickatawbut Social club will hold a re-organization meeting Friday evening at the home of Theodore Minahan on Rustic place. The club plans to put a strong base ball team on the field.

Dr. E. S. Taylor of Boston who four years ago purchased one of the show places of South Weymouth has placed part of his estate on the market and already 10 house lots have been sold and some very handsome houses are to be built at once.

PARENTS DEFAULT.

Fred Palistini of Phipps street and Michael Canel of Gilbert street did not appear in the District Court this morning to face charges of neglecting to send children to school and both were defaulted. Warrants will be issued for their arrests.

The complainant in the cases is Charles H. Johnson, truant officer. Palistini is the father of three children and Canale the father of four children, who have not been attending school.

REAR ADMIRAL BEATTY.

Commandant of Norfolk Navy Yard Keeping Close Watch on the Prinz Eitel.

Photo by American Press Association.

CAR MEN ORDERED OUT

Railways In Central and Western New York Tied Up by Strike

Syracuse, N. Y., April 8.—A strike on the Empire United Railway lines was ordered last night by the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes.

The strike affects practically the entire interurban system of central and western New York, with the exception of the Oneida railway, the Syracuse and Utica division.

NEW YORK RECORD GOES TO DISCARD

Total Vote of Chicago Is Shown to Have Reached 669,309

Chicago, April 8.—The women—243,797 of them—voted just like any mere man voter in Chicago's municipal election. Complete returns gave Thompson a plurality of 139,624 over Sweitzer, the Hearst-Sullivan candidate, who led the Democratic ticket.

The total vote cast was 669,309. Thompson received 390,691; Sweitzer, 251,202; Stedman, Socialist, 23,826, and Hill, Prohibition, 3590.

The vote was the largest ever cast in any city in the United States. New York formerly held the record with 642,763 votes, cast for governor in 1908.

Republicans point to the fact that Thompson, supported by only one of Chicago's eight newspapers, defeated the man who had the active support of the two Hearst papers and, at the least, some support from four of the remaining papers.

REFUSE TO ARBITRATE

Edgemakers Quit Work and Others Follow Suit In Lynn Factory

Lynn, Mass., April 8.—Twelve hundred hands in the shoe factory of the A. M. Creighton company were thrown out of work when, according to the company officials, the edgemakers refused to submit to arbitration their demand for an increase in pay of ½ cent a pair. The same demand was made at the Bartlett-Howland factory.

A member of the latter company announced after a conference with representatives of the union that the increase would be granted. The P. J. Harney company also granted the raise.

In union circles it was stated that it was probable demands for an increase would be presented in all the factories.

Defeat For Woman Suffrage

Hartford, April 8.—The resolution providing for a referendum on a proposed constitutional amendment extending suffrage to women was defeated in the Connecticut house of representatives.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The torpedo boat destroyer Wadsworth will be launched April 29 at Bath, Me.

The New York board of aldermen voted against a sociological inquiry to ascertain how expensive articles of clothing wives of the "white wings" force buy.

The Heywood Bros. & Wakefield Co. rattan plant of Wakefield, Mass., has presented to the Baptist church a lot to be used as a site for an Italian mission chapel.

Fire destroyed the Empire theatre building at Brockton, Mass.

P. F. Packard, 49, retired brigadier general of the Massachusetts volunteer militia, died at Salem, Mass.

BRYAN IS FOR PROHIBITION

Wants Democrats to Favor It In Their Platform

HE DENOUNCES LIQUOR MEN

Says They Conspire Against All That Is Pure In Society, Sacred In Family and Desirable In Government—Friends Think He Will Be Candidate For President In 1916

Washington, April 8.—That Secretary of State Bryan wishes the Democratic party to put a prohibition plank in its platform at the next national election is the general opinion here, following the publication by him of a letter which he wrote to L. W. Kennington, Democratic national committeeman from Iowa.

Furthermore, many interpret his action as an announcement that he would like to be the candidate of the party for president on a platform in which prohibition would be the chief issue.

It is generally understood that Bryan is fully convinced that prohibition will be the greatest moral issue throughout the country by the time the next presidential election takes place and that national prohibition is likely to be an accomplished fact within a few years.

By taking a leading part in the movement from now on he believes, according to some of his intimate friends, that he would be the logical candidate of the party in 1916.

In his letter to Kennington he denounces the liquor interests in the most scathing terms. That "the brewer, the distiller, and the saloon keeper are in a conspiracy against all that is pure in society, against all that is sacred in the family and against all that is good in industry and desirable in government" is one of the statements made by him.

He says the Democratic party should make the question an issue on every possible occasion from now on and that Democrats should "throw their influence against the liquor interests and all they stand for."

Bryan says in a statement issued in conjunction with the letter that at the present time "it does not seem possible that prohibition will find a place in the national platform of either the Democratic or Republican party," but this expression seems to carry little weight when compared with his denunciation of the liquor interests and his urgent advice to the party leaders to fight these interests on all occasions from now on, and to nominate only men who are totally opposed to all that the liquor interests stand for.

REPOSES IN STATE HOUSE

Body of Former Governor Guild Is Viewed by His Fellow Citizens

Boston, April 8.—Massachusetts today has the opportunity of paying her last honors to the memory of former Governor Curtis Guild. The body is lying in state in the Hall of Flags at the state house, where the thousands who called Guild leader and friend may look upon his face for the last time.

The pleadings of all the commonwealth that the remains lie in state were brought to Mrs. Guild personally by Governor Walsh, and she reluctantly gave her permission.

From the Guild home, on Marlboro street, the body was brought to the Hall of Flags at 10:30 o'clock this morning. For the first half hour heads of state departments and late associates of Guild were admitted, but after that the general public had an opportunity to look upon the remains of the man who led the state for so long a time, and who made himself a figure wherever diplomacy is discussed. At 4 o'clock the body will be taken back to the Guild residence.

BATTLE EXPECTED SOON

Villa and Carranza Forces Expected to Clash Near Queretaro

Washington, April 8.—Advices indicating that a battle was imminent which would decide whether the Villa-Zapata forces were to control unmolested the railroad route from Mexico City to the border, or whether General Obregon, the Carranza commander, would cut off the northern troops from communication with the capital, attracted interest in official quarters here.

Officials are watching the military campaign closely and attach much importance to the outcome of the contest expected to be fought in the vicinity of Queretaro, where two armies have been concentrated.

Policeman Slays Wife and Self

New York, April 8.—Andrew Zeleha, a city policeman, 30 years old, and his wife, Mamie, 25 years old, were found dead in bed at their home here. Zeleha had killed his wife and then ended his own life by shooting. Friends said he had suffered from ill health.

Alleged Assailant of Girls

South Framingham, Mass., April 8.—Tanino Sungilo, in the district court, was charged with felonious assault on two young girls. He was held in $12,000 for a hearing April 14.

GOLD DUST
—it actually works at hundreds of tasks daily

"Let the Gold Dust Twins do your work" is much more than a popular phrase. It is based on truth, an actuality, for Gold Dust really works.

The millions of women who use it for dishwashing and scrubbing know this. But Gold Dust should be used for cleaning and brightening everything.

It is the only washing and cleaning powder needed in any home.

The small quantity required is quickly taken up by hot or cold, hard or soft water—forming a perfect cleaning solution. The valuable antiseptic cleansing agent it contains helps to make things sanitarily clean, as well as bright and new-looking.

5c and larger packages sold everywhere

"Let the GOLD DUST TWINS do your work"

THE N.K. FAIRBANK COMPANY
MAKERS

WOLLASTON WOMAN'S CLUB.

In spite of the forbidding weather Wollaston School hall was well filled with members, friends and guests at the regular meeting of the club Tuesday afternoon when Miss Elizabeth Hetena Soule gave an illustrated talk on "A trip to the bottom of the sea." It was the privilege of the club to have as special guests the 7th and 8th grades of the school with their teachers. Miss Soule gave a very interesting account of Captain Sorcho the deep sea diver and of the sinking and subsequent disposal of the battleship Maine. Capt. Sorcho holds the world record for depth of dive and duration of time spent under water. Many of his interesting experiences were told and of the dangers encountered on every dive not the least of these being an adventure with an octopus who kept Capt. Sorcho a prisoner at the bottom of the sea for several hours. The minute description of the dress and armor worn by the diver together with illustrations of the telephone by which he is able to communicate with those on the surface and the searchlight with which he is able to scan the ocean depths were both interesting and instructive.

Preceding the lecture was a short business meeting with the president Mrs. Ropes in the chair.

The last of a series of four conferences held under the auspices of the Associated Charities and the Quincy and Wollaston Woman's clubs, will be held on April 12th in the Wollaston School Hall at 2.30 P. M. Mr. Bettinger will speak on "Milk and Baby Hygiene." The public is cordially invited.

April 15 there will be an all day Civic Conference in the Unitarian parish house. The morning meeting will open at 10.15 and the subject will be "The need of women as Police Officers." The afternoon meeting will begin at 2.15 and the subjects will be "Community Betterment" and "Town Management." There will be several speakers both morning and afternoon and it is hoped that as hostesses as many as possible will attend both meetings.

The club voted to engage quarters for the ensuing year in the new Masonic building.

The annual election of officers of the club takes place in May and the report of the nominating committee was made.

Saturday April 24th is the day set for the annual children's party from 2 to 4 P. M. in the Unitarian Parish House. Miss Edith Randall of Quincy will entertain the children with an illustrated talk, there will also be dancing with Miss Elizabeth J. Corlew of Brookline in charge. Ice cream and cake will be served Announcement was also made of the Club luncheon to be held at the Hotel Vendoe, Boston, May 1st at 1 P. M., the price will be one dollar and a half a cover it is hoped all members and waiting list will attend. Any member may bring a guest. Tickets may be procured from any member of the program committee.

At this meeting the club voted to increase the club membership to 350 thus taking into membership the first 50 on the waiting list.

Mrs. Nathan G. Nickerson made a plea for any pretty pictures, curtains or rugs which members could spare that would be useful in the "Old Peoples' Home in Quincy.

Announcement was made that it is not permissable to have guests at the Annual meeting on May 4.

Everything for the Baby
THE PRICE IS RIGHT

Malted Milk	$3.50	$3.00
Malted Milk	$1.00	83c
Malted Milk	50c	43c
Nestles Food	50c	40c
Eskays Food	25c	20c
Eskays Food	50c	40c
Eskays Food	75c	60c
Sugar of Milk Patch's		35c
Sugar of Milk Hearns		30c
Nipples		5 and 10c
Nursing Bottles		8 oz 5c

Chas. C. Hearn,
DRUGGIST
CITY SQUARE, - QUINCY

ALLIANCE HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Woman's Alliance of the Wollaston Unitarian church was held Wednesday afternoon. The annual reports for the year were read showing the alliance to be in a flourishing condition and that much good work had been accomplished during the past year. The election of officers resulted as follows:

President—Mrs. A. B. Briggs.

Vice Presidents—Mrs. Charles S. Adams, Mrs. William Burrell, Mrs. Carl G. Horst.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. John Merrill.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Gilbert F. Redlon.

Treasurer—Miss Alma M. Hatch.

Auditor—Mrs. F. A. Page.

J's SHINE IN ROLLOFF

Every winner in the rolloff at the Wardwell alleys Wednesday night had a first name commencing with the letter J and the six who came through and qualified for the money prizes and cigars had no easy time taking a position from the 30 entered. J. Higgs got the cigars with a single of 113. The other winners were: J. Olindy 306, J. Harling 294, J. Shannon 291, J. Welsh 288, J. Walker 199.

ADVERTISE FOR BIDS.

Commissioner Brown advertises today for bids for furnishing the gypsy moth department with nine tons of arsenate of lead to be delivered at the city stables. The bids will be opened April 15.

The PROBLEM of GOOD MILK

All persons do not understand what is meant by good, safe milk. Some believe that the milk with a deep cream line is desirable, whereas, the Doctor knows that Holstein Milk, although containing little cream is often more desirable for babies, partly for this reason, or perhaps because of the method of production.

The final criterion of a good milk is its wholesomeness. This depends upon the conditions at the dairy, and the special care given it until it reaches the consumer. Scrupulously clean and healthy cows, clean and healthy dairymen, rapid cooling, and protecting the milk, constant dairy and laboratory inspection are required. Furthermore safety is assured when the dealer pasteurizes his supply.

THE ELM FARM MILK COMPANY OF DORCHESTER offer pure Family Milk, and exceptional Nursery Milk at prices often charged for ordinary milk Speak to the salesman, or call Dor. 2100. 6-1 mo.

LIBRARIAN SUBMITS HER ANNUAL REPORT

Year One of General Progress But Improvements Still Needed

Quincy, Mass., January 1, 1915.

To the Trustees of the Thomas Crane Public Library:—

I have the honor to present herewith my report for the year ending December 31, 1914.

While the year just closed has been one of general progress a few salient points stand out deserving of special mention. These are the removal of the Atlantic reading room, the purchase of two extra copies each of books added to the Children's room to help feed the insatiate demands of the Branch reading rooms, the increase of assistants' salaries, the establishing of a reference desk in the Main hall reading room with a special assistant in attendance daily afternoons, the change to the purchase of Library of Congress cards from previously typewriting them for the card catalog, and the opening of the Main hall to readers Sunday afternoons. But by far the most stupendous undertaking to which we are committed is the reclassification of the entire library, under the charge of Miss Ruth Alexander.

Atlantic Reading Room

Although the increase in circulation has continued from all the loan desks, the gain at the Atlantic reading room of 7,679 has exceeded all expectations. This result has been reached by a steady increase month by month over 1913, amounting to 3,766 during the first seven months of the year and 3,913 during the last five, or since its removal to a more central location and to one large room better fitted to the purpose. The average daily circulation has increased from 86 to 102, and only 11 books are missing at the end of the year. The cost of maintaining this reading room the past year, including the moving and necessary refurnishing, has been $1,363.98.

West Quincy Reading Room

The proportionate increase of circulation from the West Quincy reading room was not attained in 1914, the year showing a gain of only 252; but increased reference work for school pupils is growing to be an important feature in the daily work. Besides these questions, come requests for pictures from both teachers and pupils, and 210 have been mounted and circulated since September.

Children's Room

In June, after Miss Brackett left us, we were fortunate in securing the services as children's librarian of Miss Mary K. Weston from the Greenleaf Public Library. There were continued gains in circulation here from February until the last two months of the year, when there was a surprising falling off, to be accounted for perhaps by the beautiful weather and good skating. There was, however, a total gain during the year of 1,806 loaned from this room. During the summer the children enjoyed the pleasurable competition of the "Vacation reading." Each boy and girl who entered the contest agreed to read at least 5 from some 400 carefully selected volumes. Fifteen children read the required number or more, and the result of the contest was that many, although they did not do that, continued coming to the library taking other books and magazines, thus making the circulation remarkably good during the summer months, which showed a gain of 951 during July and August.

The younger children have enjoyed the free access to the picture books in the new case near their reading table, and the dissected maps and puzzles which have been donated are very popular.

A few beautifully illustrated and bound editions of children's books, some old favorites and some seeking favor, were on exhibition in this room for several weeks before Christmas, the purpose being to give suggestions for Christmas book buying. Judging by the number of visitors this privilege was appreciated.

Main Hall

Although no statistics of readers are kept it has been noticed this winter that more men are using the reading room during the day, presumably out of employment this hard year. Besides the special collections of books—on the European war, education, for the study clubs, High school pupils, Italian readers, etc., placed on shelves in the reading room, 10,477 volumes of fiction have been put on the open shelves, not including all new books added, both fiction and non-fiction. Books reported missing from the open shelves here are 28 fiction, 4 non-fiction, and 2 reference books. But worse than all else is the deliberate mutilation of art magazines and others placed upon the periodical cases. The following periodicals were added to our subscription list the past year: the Unpopular Review, Life, the Automobile, the Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, the Times History of the War, and the Third Hill Searchlight. Many words of appreciation come from members of study clubs and others of helps in their use of the wealth of material in the library through the newly established reference department, and it may easily be seen that this takes the time of one assistant. To the music collection 31 books have been added, making a total of 115 which have circulated 912 times. The important gift of the year was the large quarto volume, "The Old Silver of American Churches," from Mr. Charles Francis Adams, now of South Lincoln, who by the way, is the only one living of our first Board of Trustees, and was its Chairman for 19 years.

Distributing Agencies

A little improvement has been made in the weekly distribution of books to patrons at Wollaston and Norfolk Downs by means of the delivery baskets now that the persons at whose stores the baskets are left are paid a small sum for exercising some care over them. But this improvement still leaves such service a very unsatisfactory method both to patrons and the Library, which shows the need of Branch reading rooms. From the Central library to the two Branch reading rooms, books requested are delivered three times a week, 895 books having been sent to Atlantic and 382 to West Quincy.

Work With Schools

Besides what little we have continued to do we feel that there should be a closer connection between the two educational institutions of the city, the schools and the library, to be brought about by co-operation betwen teachers and librarians. While there is a continued increasing use of the library by High school pupils that is gratifying, showing the acquired "library habit," we feel that we cannot do any adequate work such as we might do if we had duplicates of books enough to form small collections for collateral reading, to be placed on deposit in the grade schools for a longer or shorter time as they might desire, as many libraries do. We also want to stimulate the teachers in the use of the library by calling upon its resources in advance of their need of material, when here is material and willing workers to supply it.

Books In Foreign Languages

The Free Public Library Commission asks among other questions "What effort has been made to reach your foreign population, and with what results?" The circulation of Italian books was 262 at the Central library, increased from 96 the preceding year, and 268 at West Quincy, which shows what we could do with more books in that language. Our French collection certainly needs some new titles; and undoubtedly we could use Swedish, Polish and German books if we had them. Six books in Spanish have been loaned 60 times.

Story Hours

Four Story hours have been held at the Atlantic reading room during the year, three at the old location, between 30 and 40 children crowding the rooms, and one at the new reading room with 130 present. Two particularly interesting Story hours were those given in the Children's room, one just before Thanksgiving, the other before Christmas. At the time of the Christmas gathering the room was bright and attractive with two real Christmas trees, evergreen and immortelles, and scarlet bells hung from the new electric fixtures. In this appropriate setting Miss Ella Packard, one of our assistants, told stories that all children know and love in such a manner that, of her audience of 50 children, many then or later wanted the books themselves.

Sunday Opening

The reading room of the Central library has been open 7 Sunday afternoons beginning November 15, from 2 until 6 o'clock p. m. Like many new things it started off with a good patronage which dwindled down to the few who seem to appreciate the privilege, to which number we hope will be added others during the season. The average number of readers has been 37. These include few who do not come week days, and 35 per cent have been High school pupils.

Staff

We are fortunate after previous experiences, to have had this year but one resignation from the staff besides the aforementioned, Miss Follansbee leaving us in May to work for the Free Library Commission. In September, Miss Whittemore, Miss Kingsbury and Miss Prout were added to the staff, and since their return to their work at the Library is shown the great value to them of the course at Simmons College, supplementing their training here. The results gained are the broader viewpoint, more interest in library work, and the spirit of co-operation, these all making for greater efficiency.

Building

The addition of the two periodical cases in the Main hall makes us wonder what we did without them before. The indirect lighting is a great success in the Children's room and at the desk in the Main hall. Now we desire only an open shelf book room, by the addition of display cases, to be fully equipped and up-to-date as are other modern libraries (hoping this will be a help toward making a better class of books read), this library having been built at the time when the much mooted question of open shelves was just being advanced.

Reclassification

We are giving as much time of our assistants as we can spare from the regular work, to Miss Alexander and her boy helpers in the mechanical part of the change from the old method of classification to the Dewey decimal system, which puts all the books on a certain subject together and in alphabetical order. The work on the non-fiction of the Children's room, begun in October, is practically finished. Some idea of the extent of the labor connected with the process of reclassification of the entire library will be understood by the fact that, in connection with the mechanical labor alone, it is estimated roughly that it will take one and one-half years to change the book numbers on the card catalog cards of the non-fiction circulating volumes. As to the numbers on the books themselves, once on, they stay, being put on with white ink, sometimes upon a coating of black India ink, and shellacked over. No more troublesome labels. We are happy that in this reclassification of the books our dream of years, ever since the building of the addition, is at last beginning to come true. It is a matter of regret that the publication of the special lists has had to be discontinued, both on account of lack of time and the change of the call numbers. We published but two last year,—Agriculture and Choice of a Career, which latter was distributed in the High school.

Co-operation

The key-note of the present work in libraries seems to be co-operation. And that co-operation is economy of effort and makes for efficiency; and is shown, for instance, in the catalog department by the purchase of the Library of Congress cards. So much of the work has been done for all libraries by one large library that, with slight alterations when necessary of date, publisher, etc., and the type-writing of our subject headings on each of the cards required for a single book, we get greater accuracy and fulness, the cards are put out more quickly, the printed cards remain clear longer, and the cost is less. Of course there is the systematizing of the ordering, keeping accounts, etc.

In pursuance of this policy of co-operation the libraries of Massachusetts have been divided into small groups with some one prominent library as a centre, the librarian of which serves as local secretary for the group and thus becomes the connecting ink between the Commission and these libraries. There are possibilities of mutual helpfulness through discussions of problems, visits, etc. The Quincy library group includes Avon, Braintree, Holbrook,, and Randolph. Their librarians were invited to meet here, books have been loaned, lists of books given, the Librarian has visited each of the libraries and has called the attention of the Commission to the needs of one of them.

I have tried to show how we have been more than busy the entire year, trying with too small an income to meet the ever increasing demands of the public, trying to keep pace with the needs of the study clubs, schools, fiction readers (supplying the latter with fairly clean books), laborers, mechanics, technical students, and foreign craftsmen. From this report, much in detail, it may be seen that the carrying on of these many activities is responsible for the yearly increases in our demands upon the City Treasury. Our needs are almost unlimited, but our fulfilment has to depend upon our limited resources, necessarily so when every other department of the city is growing. The library has never overrun its appropriation. It may be asked how we can come out even, leaving no balance. Easiest thing in the world, with books always waiting at our elbow which the people have asked for and we have had no money to buy—always the demand in excess of the supply.

The harmony that has prevailed the entire year in all relations, with janitor, assistants, and Trustees, has helped in large measure to lighten the task of the year's work and responsibility.

Respectfully submitted,

Alice G. White,

Librarian.

BALL TEAMS ASSIGNMENTS

Park Commissioners Apportion Various Fields

The Park Commissioners met the managers of the base ball teams in the council chamber at city hall Wednesday evening, the meeting being to assign dates for the use of the public parks of the city to the base ball teams during the coming season. Quite a few managers of teams were present with their schedules which they submitted to the Commissioners While the complete assignment for the season could not be made at this meeting a large number of assignments were made to the different teams represented. They were as follows:

Fore Rivers at Merrymount Park upper field, May 8, 22, 31, June 5, 19, July 3, 5, 17, 31, Aug. 21, Sept. 6.

St. Mary's C. T. A. & M. R. at Ward Four playground. May 31, both morning and afternoon

Redmen Athletic association, at Ward Three playground April 19. A. M. and April 24.

St. John's Junior, Holy Name society, Ward Three playground, April 19, P. M.

Quincy A. C. at Ward Six playground, April 19, May 1, 15. 29, 31, A. M. June 5, 17. 19, July 3, 17, 31, Aug. 14, 28, Sept. 6, A. M. Sept. 11, 25. Oct. 9, 12.

Walnut A. C. Ward Six playground April 19, A. M. April 24, May 22, 31, June 12, 17, A. M. 26, July 10. 24, Aug. 7, 21, Sept. 4, 6, 18, Oct. 2, 12 A. M.

Quincy Independents, upper field Merrymount park, May 15, 29, June 12, 26, July 10, 24, Aug. 7, 14, 28.

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING
WALL PAPER FOR SALE
KUSTAA RASANEN
121 Copeland St., West Quincy
Tel. Con. 10-tf

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE
Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit
WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS
Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.
Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys
1506--1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block
Jan. 26-tu.-th.-s.-tf

MUNCHAUSEN AT HOUGHS NECK

Famous Baron Creates Much Excitement

A peculiar species of the genus homo appeared in Houghs Neck Wednesday and several people are trying to figure it out.

The man's description according to the best reports, was that he wore ordinary clothing, a derby, prince-nez glasses and "sideboard" whiskers. He could also talk a blue streak.

The man appeared in the morning at the Folsom store at Post Island and inquired for Miss Hattie Lovedale. While waiting he said he had a message from her brother who was seriously ill in Brockton. "Funny," remarked Mrs. Folsom, "I am her sister and I know nothing about it." "Well it's so," he replied.

Close questioning resulted in his quick departure in the direction of Houghs Neck. On the way he hailed James McConnell of Germantown who drove by and in conversation with McConnell represented himself as having several occupations. He inquired for the O'Brien family on Manet avenue and also said he was the grandest liar to the south of Boston

Leaving the carriage he started toward the O'Brien home but stopped on the way at the Noonan store and purchased a quart of milk. When he learned there was no objection to his lunching there he produced a Gladstone bag, filled with food, from underneath his coat.

After finishing his repast he hung around for a little while and then started for Post Island again. When she saw hi mapproaching Mrs. Folsom pointed him out to Mr. McConnell who was in the store. She said she had telephoned and found her brother was not ill. As the man drew near headed apparently for the store both lay in wait for him. As he was nearly opposite he saw them watching and he hit up a quick walk. Mr. McConnell went to the door and called to him to stop, but the unknown speeded in the direction of Adams shore.

In the meantime, those who were in on the story have been trying to figure it out.

TO INITIATE SEVERAL.

Reliance Rebekah lodge, I. O. O. F. has planned for the initiation of several new members at the meeting in Odd Fellows' hall tonight. The district deputy and suite are expected as guests and there will be a visitation by members of Azar Rebekah lodge of Milton.

SCHOOL BUYS VICTROLA.

The proceeds of the pop corn sales at the Washington grammar school and part of the interest on the school deposits at the local banks has been used in purchasing a Victrola by Principal Thomas B. Pollard. The instrument will be used in connection with gymnastics and marching. The children are joyous over the purchase.

☞ PRATT'S BREAD is baked for those who want good bread. Grocers sell it.

EXPLAIN DELAY IN SCHOOL HOUSE

Councilman Griffin Talks to Parents and Teachers

No obstacles exist to prevent the early erection of the new school house at Quincy Point and the seeming delay is only the result of the careful deliberations of Mayor Campbell and the school committee over the type of building to be erected.

This information was furnished by Councilman Thomas Griffin Wednesday evening at the annual meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association of the Washington school, when he was asked about the progress being made.

Councilman Griffin said he understood a type of building altogether different from the Wollaston and Adams schools would be erected and that plans were now being considered. He said the new building would probably be one of 16 rooms and that it would combine all of the latest improvements in schools. He said it would differ radically from these two schools inasmuch as the rooms and hall would be arranged so an addition would not decrease its efficiency.

Councilman Griffin said that Mayor Campbell and members of the school committee had inspected schools recently erected in surrounding cities and towns and that he understood they wanted the latest in design where the design is practical Councilman Williams, former councilman Barrows and Principal Thos. B. Pollard also spoke of the progress ade toward the building.

Mrs. J. B. Mellen was elected president at the election and Councilman Griffin was chosen vice president. Mrs. Ida J. Crane was chosen secretary, Miss Mary F. Sampson, treasurer, and the executive committee will be Thomas B. Pollard, Daniel Scouler, Jr. Bernard Fritz and Mrs. Arthur B. Foster.

Miss Maron Jackson, the school nurse, told of her experiences since her department was inaugurated by the Women's club and said she had found hearty co-operation on the part of the parents. Miss Jackson said her recommendations, with few exceptions, had been acted upon by mothers and she found the general health of 8000 pupils in the city to be good. She enlivened her talk with anecdotes and spoke of children taken to the Eye and Ear Infirmary for Boston and the Forsyth Dental Hospital for treatment.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Arthur B. Foster
CARPENTER and BUILDER
14 Bay View St., Quincy Point
Telephone Connection
31-1m

EDWARD J. FEGAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
8.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-915 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Room 8 BURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK
QUINCY.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S
Tel. 1537-W Quincy

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
Old Furniture Refinished
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

BE WISE
FOOL THE FLIES
HAVE YOUR SCREENS
RE-COVERED NOW
TELEPHONE OR WRITE
HOLMES & HALL
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1896 W

QUINCY HIGH LOSES DEBATE

Weymouth High School Boys Are Winners

The first public debate of the Boys Debating club of the High school was held under school auspices in the assembly hall Wednesday evening with a large number of the student body in the audience.

The question was Resolved: "That the Philippine Islands should be given their immediate independence." The negative side was presented by Weymouth High school boys and they were unanimously declared the winners by the judges.

The Weymouth team included Messrs Martin, Dizar and Talbot. The Quincy team was Messrs Foy, McDonald and McMahon. Mr. Talbot appeared for Weymouth in rebuttal and Herbert Smith for Quincy.

The debate hinged on the interpretation of the word "immediate," the visitor's contending it meant within a year.

The judges were Walter E. Andrews, principal of Hingham High school, H. E. Sapson of the Mechanics Art High school of Boston and G. H. B. Green, Jr., Esq. of Boston. Headmaster Ernest L. Collins of Quincy presided.

Y. M. C. A. PRESENTS

(Continued from Page One.)

sion from gay to indignant and back again to gay were well done.

Mrs. Russell was irresistable as Miss Camson, a sentimental but strong minded old maid, who was determined to be married and did not much care who was the victim. Her acting was polished and natural, her facial expression above reproach, her attitudes deliciously funny.

Mr. Chell only appeared for a few moments but he made those few moments count and up to the time he recovered the baby and rushed through the door he kept the audience in an uproar.

At the close of the first act Miss Laing, Miss Camson and Mr. McLay were given beautiful bouquets.

The success of the play reflects great credit upon the painstaking coaching of Mr. Osgood ,and the infrequency of the prompting reflects great credit upon the industry of the members of the cast.

Music was furnished by an eight piece orchestra from the Wollaston Cadet Band.

Before the principal play there was a curtain raiser written by Mr. Osgood entitled "Old Cronies." The cast:

Dr. Jacks, Erastus OOsgood
Capt. Pigeon William H. Walker

Mr. Walker was not so good as in "A Family Affair." At times he spoke too loudly and his words were not always intelligible. Mr. Osgood in the principal part had an opportunity to display his really unusual talents. The action revolved about a proposal which Capt. Pigeon contemplated making to a maiden lady named Miss Jones. He sought the aid of Dr. Jocks in the matter and together the "two old cronies" sought to write an epistle which should be both ardent and respectful. In the end they send a telegram and Capt. Pigeon, somewhat to his relief, is refused. The play was natural and finished but struck one as being a bit too long drawn out.

HOLD SERVICES FOR MRS. PERRY

The funeral of Mrs. Martha J. Perry widow of the late Joseph W. Perry, took place Wednesday afternoon from her late residence at 110 Willard street, East Milton, near the Quincy line. Rev. H. Boyd Edwards, pastor of the Church of our Saviour (Episcopal) of which Mrs. Perry was a charter member, officiated. Interment was in the Hall place cemetery.

Mrs. Perry was born in Ireland in 1863. She came to this country at the age of nineteen and married Joseph W. Perry in 1885. She lived in West Quincy up to last November when she moved to East Milton. She is survived by her father, four brothers, one daughter and one son, Joseph W., a member of the Metropoliton police force.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

POTATOES FOR CLEANING.

Many Purposes to Which They Are Adapted In Housekeeping.

To clean a vinegar cruet fill the cruet with finely chopped potato skin, cork tightly and let it stand in a warm place three days; then turn the skins out and rinse the cruet with warm water and borax.

To clean rusty knives use a raw potato dipped in brick dust.

Potato parings dried in the oven are good to kindle fires, as they light easily.

To clean carpets grate a raw potato and rub over the surface of the carpet and finish off with a clean cloth wrung out in warm water.

To clean dresses grate two raw potatoes into a pint of cold water, strain through a sieve, add another pint of water and let it settle. Dip a sponge into the water and rub the soiled garment carefully, afterward rinsing with clear water.

To clarify drippings slice a raw potato into the fat while rendering. It will absorb all impurities.

To make light bread mash a boiled potato and add to the flour.

For corned beef hash chop a raw potato and add to the meat.

To clean mud spots from silk, after washing thoroughly rub soiled places with a raw potato.

When a fern turns yellow slice a raw potato and put it on top of the soil. This will draw out the worms.

OLD PIQUE SKIRTS.

May Be Made Over Into Useful Garments For the Babies.

Pique, being durable and being white, is one of the most desirable materials to use for the little one's garments. Following are a few of the things for baby which can be made from your last year's skirt, which is cut on lines now unfashionable:

Little dresses of pique can be worn either in spring or summer. These pique dresses are especially appropriate for boy babies and make up well in the box plaited styles designed for boys.

Pique hats for summer are pretty, comfortable and easily laundred. These can be worn by both boy and girl babies.

Pique bibs with a spray of embroidery upon them or a buttonholed edge are serviceable. The pique in this instance should be of a double thickness.

Pique coats for summer are pretty and appropriate little garments for tiny tots.

Pique carriage robes for summer add to the appearance of the gocart or the perambulator.

SPRING PETTICOATS.

Changes In the Shapes of Dress Skirts Require Greater Fullness.

Underlays and dust ruffles are among the latest revivals, some form of lining being now essential in order to prevent the petticoat flounce from clinging about the ankles. The dust ruffle is employed in the more extreme styles—that is, in the petticoats of greater width.

Crepe de chine being so soft in finish, petticoats of that material will now require flounces considerably fuller than formerly and sufficiently wide to reach almost to the knee.

The vivid greens, reds, blues and other high tones of previous seasons being temporarily out of favor with consumers, retailers will doubtless take a large proportion of practical numbers in the soft, dull tones.

The colors that bid fair to be most in demand are tan, gray, taupe, wistaria, blue, dark green, rose and brown. There will be a big call for black and white effects and also for the plain black and the plain white.

Pique Collars.

Rolled pique collars that are attached to vest fronts of the same can be added to any coat front or will go with the one piece dress that is always opened with a deep V at the neck. The pique in all these models is neither stiff nor limp; it has to be wired if it is to stand up about the neck. All the pique models are not plain; some of them are in very fancy weaves or have a little running spray of white mercerized embroidery along the edges.

Some pretty sets for dresses or coats are made of silk in gay bayadere stripes. The deep gauntlet cuffs are held together by cutlike buttons. The collars are of the same sailor shapes as the pique or the lawn; sometimes revers are added.

STYLE NOTES.

Choke collars are here in innumerable styles.

Ashes of roses is an old color come back again.

Simplicity is the keynote of dress goods for the spring.

Quaint little bead tassels appear on some of the new waists.

All of the broad brimmed hats are worn at a pronounced angle.

The narrow lining has not been discarded in frocks for semiformal wear.

Some handsome sports coats are made up in corduroys and velveteens.

If the complexion is colorless avoid wearing delicate grays, greens and blues.

Corduroys will be worn again. Velveteens and velours are elegant and distinctive.

Tulle bands with bows behind are worn for evening and are becoming to the majority of women.

Some of the skirts dip front and back, being raised at the sides, but not showing any petticoat.

GOOD SENSE ON THE FOOD QUESTION.

Keeping up one's strength prevents the nerves from becoming panicky and encourages optimism to a surprising degree. While it is true that luncheon consumes much valuable time, it is equally necessary to be on good terms with the stomach.

An early luncheon saves time, and where this is not possible a cup of bouillon, hot milk or chocolate will take the edge off the appetite. Something warm is far better than an ice and sweet cake.

Eat slowly and taste your food well and it will slide down and give more nourishment than food eaten quickly. Never eat when tired or overexhausted, but lie down, even if only for a few minutes, before dining.

Some people suffer from an unnatural thirst. Barley water is a safe and cooling drink and is nutritious as well. Put into a pitcher one large tablespoonful of well washed pearl barley, pour over it two quarts of boiling water, cover and let stand until cold. Drain off the liquid, add one-half cupful of sugar and a little nutmeg. If liked the juice of a lemon is a pleasant addition.

MAKING GLOVES LAST.

Much Depends on the Way They Are Treated.

In buying remember that kid gloves wear longer than suede, so that from the point of view of economy the former are the best to get. Suede gloves wear into holes very quickly, and, what is more, they don't look as well as kid ones do after cleaning.

Be careful that your gloves fit well. Tight gloves not only make your hands red, but are apt to split easily, while gloves which are too large look most untidy.

Always get the saleswoman at the glove counter to stretch them slightly and dust a little powder into the gloves before taking them away with you.

Be careful how you put on new gloves for the first time, for on the care you take will depend the time they will keep in shape. Never put them on hurriedly—take your time over it. Rest your elbow on the table while putting on each glove. Work all the fingers into the glove fingers before putting in the thumb and, above all, see that the seams are not twisted, but that they are all in place.

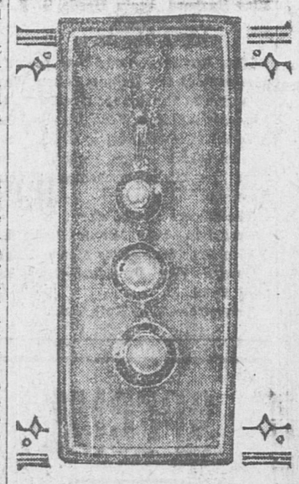

Stitch all the buttons on firmly before beginning to wear the gloves. Usually some of them will be found to be loose and will come off the very first time you wear them if you forget to do this.

If after taking off light kid gloves you stretch them out gently and put them away between sheets of clean tissue paper you will find that they keep their shape ever so much longer.

FORETHOUGHT FOR EASTER.

Early Consideration of the Problem of Gift Giving Is Wise.

The habit of giving gifts at Easter has grown from season to season. If you are looking ahead to choose a suitable gift for a friend consider the pretty pendant here shown. It consists of a series of three handsome pearls framed in black enamel and mounted on a very simple little chain. The pearls are a very good imitation of the real gems, so that the cost of the gift is not so great as their size would suggest.

PEARL AND ENAMEL PENDANT.

Care of Tinware.

Stains on tinware can be removed with a damp cloth that has been dipped in common soda, rubbed briskly, washed in hot water and wiped dry. Always wash the bread board with cold water if you want it to keep white. Agateware should never be dried over a hot fire, as the heat expands it and in that way may cause the outside to scale. Tinware should not be dried over great heat, as it causes discoloration.

Stuffed Cabbage.

Take the center out of a cabbage. Save the center for coleslaw. Make a dressing of cold cooked meat cut fine, a minced onion, a little boiled rice and a seasoning of herbs, salt and pepper. Place this in the hollow of the cabbage head. Tie the cabbage in a cloth and boil for an hour. Make a sauce of the water in which it was cooked.

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

At a meeting of the Senior class of the high school Wednesday afternoon Hugh Robertson and J. Randall Pratt were nominated for class marshal. The result of the voting was as follows Pratt 20, Robertson 10. A committee consisting of the Misses Helen Melley, Rachael Farrington and Alice Thompson was appointed by the president, Kenneth D. Johnson to look into the matter of a class gift.

The action which the school board has taken concerning the abolition of class day is a great disappointment to the graduating class. Some talk was heard about making a protest and asking the committee for a hearing on the question but no definite steps in this direction have yet taken place.

On Friday evening the Junior class will tender it s annual reception to the sedate seniors in the town hall. This event is ever looked forward to by members of both classes as the climax of the social season of the year.

Friday evening, April 23, the Milton High School Glee club, Miss Harriet Whittier, director, will give a concert in the town hall. Bernard Ferguson, the well known baritone soloist will assist.

About eighty members of the Cunningham gymnasium attended the annual banquet of the bowling league which was held Tuesday evening on the gym floor Whittemore the caterer. furnished the food. John F. Perkins of the board of trustees acted as toastmaster. Remarks were made b ya large number of the men in the league Following the banquet Mr. Perkins awarded the prizes. The awards and those to receive them were:

Team 3, sweaters—D. Reid, capt., Palise, Sangster, Coffin and Wood.

Team 9, bags—E. Cummings, capt. Badger, Brierly, J. Farrell and Rowell.

Team 4, pins—D. Duggan, capt., C. Smith, Leary, Keegan and W. Farrell

Team 7, cuff links—Sim, capt., Jones J. F. Reid Jr., Swift and Chase

Team 10, gloves—J Corkery, capt., Jobling, E. Corkery, Loud and Marchant..

High average, watch—E. Cummings 95.4.

Second High average, safety razor—Wood 95.

High three string, umbrella, D. Reid 336.

High single string, brushes—J. F. Reid, Jr., 101

Rev. C. C. Tilley, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church of South Quincy, conducted evangelistic services Tuesday evening at the First Baptist church

The championship bowling title of the gym has been awarded to George Reid. The final rolloff of five strings was recently rolled and young Reid came out in the lead with a total of 548 pins. Wood, whom everyone expected to win, came in second with 515. The other men were: Powell, Jobling and Corkery.

The Misses Ruth and Frances Mooers of Bates road have had as their guests the past few days the Misses Pearl and Hope Smith of Hillsboro, N. H.

The Junior Suffrage league held its regular meeting Monday evening at the home of Miss Edith Swift, the president, on Central avenue. Three new members were voted into membership. Plans were discussed for the festival which is to be held June 5, on Mrs F. E. Milliken's estate Brush Hill. On Friday evening the league will meet at the home of Mrs. John Lindsley, Adams street.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF

Which Is Better—Try an Experiment or Profit by a Quincy Citizen's Experience.

Something new is an experiment.
Must be proved to be as represented.
The statement of a manufacturer is not convincing proof of merit.
But the endorsement of friends is.
Now supposing you had a bad back,
A lame, weak, or aching one,
Would you experiment on it?
You will read of many so-called cures.
Endorsed by strangers from far-away places.
It's different when the endorsement comes from home.
Easy to prove local testimony.
Read this Quincy case:

James W. Murray, River Road Quincy, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills for irregular kidney action. They promptly relieved me. I don't have any need of a kidney medicine now, but I keep a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills on hand. Another of my family has taken Doan's Kidney pills as a kidney tonic and the benefit has been very pleasing."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Murray had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

KEEP POSTED ON THE PEOPLE'S WANTS

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

WHY WORRY LET THESE ADS LIFT YOUR BURDEN

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Private garage, large, light and roomy. 380 Washington street, City. 8-3t

FOR RENT—1126 Hancock street, opposite Adams Academy, house 7 rooms, and bath 18 Faxon avenue, suite 6 rooms and bath, every modern improvement Tel. 414-M Weymouth. 7-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 7-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of two family house, 5 rooms and bath, all improvements, 3 Bradford street, Quincy Adams. Apply to William Duggan, Bradford street or telephone Quincy 724-W. 7-6t

TO LET— Two or three fine front rooms, furnished, everything needed for light housekeeping. Gas range separate bath. Good neighborhood, near centre. Write J. J. Ledger Office. 6-6t

TO LET—Two front rooms, furnished, suitable for two gentlemen. Separate bath, good neighborhood, near the centre. Write W. W. Ledger Office. 6-6t

RENT REDUCED—Half house at 31 Bigelow street in first class condition; good neighborhood and convenient to everything. Bath, laundry, furnace coal range, shades, screens, gas etc. Apply at 33 Bigelow street. 1-tf

TO LET—At 33 Bigelow street, Quincy, a desirable house of eight rooms with improvements. Ready for occupancy about April 15. Apply on premises. 1-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house, 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2, Quincy or 110 South street, Boston. Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET—Upper and lower flats 91 and 93 Revere road 4 and 6 rooms and bath. To small families, $20 and $18. Fred M. Torrey, 25 Spear St., Tel. 202-1 Quincy. 27-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 5 rooms, one attic room and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. 97 Goddard street, near Quincy Adams Station. 15-tf.

TO LET—Tenement of three rooms $7.50 per month. Good place for hens. James Moorhead, 28 Curtis street. Tel. 599-1. 15-tf.

TO LET—Lower apartment, 3 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

TO LET

TO LET—Large square bedroom in private family. Near Wollaston beach With board. Man and wife preferred. Write M. W. Ledger Office or telephone 439-M. 8-3t

TO LET—Upper flat of 4 rooms and bath. All improvements, electric lights, furnace, gas stove, etc. For further particulars enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 8-tf

TO LET—With private family, centrally located, a room suitable for one person, modern conveniences, and rent reasonable. Write Ledger L. M. B., or call Quincy 1796W. 7-6t

TO LET—Half house of six rooms and large laundry to adult family, conveniences, large garden. Rent $20. Apply to George H. Newcomb, 21 Adams Bldg. or M. M. Newcomb, 39 Gay street or phone 1990 Quincy. 2-tf

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements. 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 13-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—A half house on Quincy avenue near Scammel street. Apply to E. F. Curtis, 172 Washington street, Weymouth. Tel. 253-M. 8-3t

FOR SALE—Building lots on highest point of land between Boston and Plymouth. One minute from electric fifteen minutes from steam, 15c fare to Boston, 5c fare to Fore River, gas, electricity and town water A live town Dr. Taylor, South Weymouth, Mass. 7-6t

FOR SALE—1913 Ford Touring car, electric lights, master vibrator, seat covers, tires and car in good condition. Apply to Central Garage and Supply Co., Washington and Pond streets. Telephone Quincy 1035 W. 5-6t

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E. R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-tf. L P.

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

TO LET
Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

Prescott Apartments
For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service. Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.
Dandy bungalow in E Braintree for sale: small pay't., bal. as rent: see this at once.
Houses
H. F. McIntire
Greenleaf Blk
Tel. Quincy 1665-W.
Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.
1-1 yr.

LOST

LOST—Brindle Boston Bull pup, 7 months old, screw tail and small cataract on each eye Frank Canavan, 1 1-2 Intervale street, South Quincy 7-3t

LOST—Open face Waltham watch, with monogram M. E. G., Tuesday morning between Dysart street and Quincy station. Kindly notify Ledger office when found. 6-tf

WANTED

WANTED—Desirable board and room by young couple in private family, Quincy or Quincy Point. References if desired. Write N, care of Ledger Office. 7-3t

WANTED—Chamber, 2nd, seamstress, mother's helper, general maids housekeeper, first class positions waiting. Oldest employment office in city. L. M. Flynn, 22 Maple street, next to Post office. Phone 2235-W. 7-3t

WANTED—Two or three furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Write W. F. R., Ledger Office. 6-3t

CHAUFFEUR—Wants position with private family or on truck. Temperate. Long experience and best of references. Melvin L. Dell, 40 Franklin street. Telephone 1056-W 5-6t

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

TO LET
After May 1, Store or Stores No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.
Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for L. L. Knight
Greenleaf Block ('Phone 2036) Quincy

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.
will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.
OFFICE AT
96 WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY
Tel. 618

CARPENTER AND BUILDER
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
All Work Given Prompt Attention
W. R. LOFGREN
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 328-3

T A. HAYDEN
Court, Quincy Point
TUNER
. PETTENGILL'S
-W Quincy

N CURTIS and GLAZIER
TAINED GLASS
d PAPER HANGER
TURE REFINISHED
ff Spear Street Quincy

avings Bank
RS: Every Business
urday, 8.30 A. M. to 8
-8, 30 A. M. to 12 M.
LARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

WISE
THE FLIES
UR SCREENS
ERED NOW
NE OR WRITE
ES & HALL
NCOCK ST.
INCY 1896 W

We Have Prepared For This Week

An Exceptional Early Season Offering

OF

NEW SUITS NEW HATS NEW SKIRTS
NEW DRESSES NEW OSTRICH PLUMES

Presenting the most recent developments of fashion and showing advanced models for immediate wear at very reasonable prices.

Many Suits in the Newer Styles Just Opened

Smart stylish materials, gabardines, poplins, serges, novelty stripes, checks, mixtures, shepherd plaids. All the leading shades and colors, such as Belgium blue, navy, green, putty. All sizes to suit every figure. Specially priced for this week.

$9.98 $14.98 $17.98

An Assemblage of New Spring Skirts

Tailored and dressy styles in the newer full skirt effects and stylish pleated models, some with pockets, others braid and button trimmed, in the best shades and materials. You can't afford to miss this showing. Specially priced for this week.

$1.98 $2.98

There are Still Many Women Who Need a Hat

We are showing a line of hats that would do justice to a Fifth Avenue store. This is the time when you want to look your prettiest. This is the time when we're at our best, too. When every style that the best fashion centers is included in our store. Simple designs or effectively trimmed with the latest novelties. Prices are extremely moderate, too.

$ .98 $2.98 $4.98

A Word About Our Ladies Tailors Shop

In adding this new department to our store, we believe we are filling a long felt want. Here a girl or lady can be fitted perfectly, in any style you desire. Under the conductorship of

Mr. H. H. LEVANSON

For years considered QUINCY'S leading tailor. Mr. Levanson is only too glad to offer his personal services in any matter pertaining to my Lady's Suit. Plan to pay us a visit this week Madam.

J. Szathmary TAILORS and MILLINERS 1447 Hancock St.

INSURANCE COMPANIES SETTLE!

Our Big Fire Sale

Starts

Friday Morning

At 9.30 o'clock.

Come and Take the goods away!

We must clean out the entire stock within Ten Days, when the carpenters begin the work of reconstruction of our store.

ORENT-PAYSON CO.

The House of Bargains

1387 Hancock St., Quincy

SEVERAL TAKE EXAM.

Several Quincy men took the examination held at the state house Wednesday by the United States Civil Service Commission to fill a vacancy in the office of the superintending constructor U. S. Navy at the Fore River Ship yard. The requirements of the examination made it necessary for one to have worked at the yard for over one year. The rate of pay will be 2.80 per diem.

The Quincy Catholic club meets tonight at the rooms of Quincy council, K. of C.

TOOLATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

WANTED—Carpenters, all grades. Apply at new house, Independence avenue or J. W. Pratt, 5 Summer street, corner of School street. 8-3t

FOR SALE OR TO LET—On Independence avenue, South Quincy, an 8 room cottage, with all modern improvements. If not sold by May 1, will be let. J. B. Sutherland, Independence avenue. 8-3t

DEATHS

ALLAN—In Quincy, April 6, James F. Allan in his 45th year. Funeral services at late home 15 Alleyne terrace, Friday, April 9th at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited to attend. 7-2t

DREW—In Lancaster, N H., April 7, Capt. George K. Drew, aged 87 years.

WALES—In Lynn, April 8, Mrs. Josephine E., widow of Benjamin C. Wales, aged 77 years, 7 months and 16 days.

BAXTER—In Ketchum, Idaho, Paul P. Baxter, formerly of Quincy.

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service

1495 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

CHURCH HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

Alexander N. Smart was elected president of the congregation of the First Presbyterian church at its annual meeting Wednesday evening. Wallace M. Kemp was elected clerk A. Wendell Clark treasurer and John McKay and Dr. J. McLennan were chosen trustees.

The meeting was in the vestry and largely attended. The trustees presented the best reports in years and the reports of all the societies connected with the church were encouraging.

Rev. Clarence E. Campbell, who recently assumed the pastorate, spoke in an optimistic way of the work to be taken up during the coming year.

The meeting came to a close with the serving of refreshments by the Ladies Aid society, under the direction of President Mrs. John D. McKay.

You need the Ledger every day.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Snappy and Popular Walk-Over Styles

The kind that wide-awake people prefer—the kind that particular dressers buy. There's good reason for their choice.

If you have not tried Walk-Overs, let us fit you to a pair now.

See window display.

GRANITE SHOE STORE

Your Shoe Store

MANHATTANS WIN.

Defeat Granite A. C. By Decisive Victory.

The bowling match between the Granite A. C. and the Manhattan Social club which was postponed from Tuesday resulted in a decisive victory for the latter team. A very enthusiastic audience witnessed the match. The Manhattans were anxious to get revenge for their defeat of last week and surely made good. Dick Knight of the Granites had high three string total of 291 and tied at 105 for high single with Caravaghio of the Manhattans. The final rolloff will be held next Tuesday evening.

ELECT OFFICERS.

Miss Packard Again Heads Q. Y. W. Club.

Miss Minnie Packard was reelected president of the Quincy Young Woman's club at the annual meeting in the Academy building Wednesday evening. A social followed during which there was an entertainment, including selections by a kitchen orchestra of club members.

The officers elected were:
President—Miss Minnie Packard.
Vice President—Miss Maude Briggs.
Second Vice President—Miss Mildred Dean.
Treasurer—Miss Ruth Dahl.

SPECIAL

Despite the increase in pastry goods we are able to offer our customers

ROYAL TOAST MILK CRACKERS

10c lb

10 — 11 lb. can

90c each

FOY'S

TWO STORES

ADAMS MARKET, City Square, Phone 1980 | WATER STREET, Cor. Quincy, Phone 117

KINCAIDE THEATRE

WILLIAM FARNUM
—In a Gripping 4 Reel Photo-Play
'The Sign of the Cross'
A Remarkable Paramount Feature Play—All Star Cast—Thrilling Acting.

Vaudeville. MORRISSEY and BURTON, Piano and Song Entertainers.
SEYMOUR and WILLIAMS, Old Time Singers, Dancers and Witty Talkers.
LEW PALMORE, Juggling Comedian. NEW COMEDY PICTURES To Make You Laugh.

TELEPHONE YOUR ORDER FOR SEATS
Thurs. Fri. & Sat. — Daily at 2.30 P. M. 10 & 15c. Evenings at 8—10-15-25c

COMING NEXT WEEK. Mon., Tues. & Wed.—"THE GOOSE GIRL," with Margaret Clark. Photo Play
Thurs., Fri. & Sat.—"MISTRESS NELL," with Mary Pickford. Photo Play
COMPLETE WITH ALL STAR CASTS.
REGULAR VAUDEVILLE and COMEDY PICTURES CHANGED TWICE WEEKLY.

WILL ERECT TWO STORY BRICK BLOCK

Henry M. Faxon's New Building to Have Nine Stores

At the present rate of building activity it will not be many years before all of that part of Hancock street between city square and School street will be devoted entirely to business. At the present time there are only a few buildings in this section of the main thoroughfare of the city that are given up to homes and those are fast giving away to the demands of business.

Some months ago work was commenced erecting a large business block on the easterly side on what is known as the Col. Abner B. Packard estate, extending to Cottage avenue and now work has been in progress several weeks tearing down the old Hersey house and adjoining house on the west side of Hancock street between Music hall block and the Kincaide theatre. On this site Henry M. Faxon will immediately erect a large modern business block.

The block to be erected by Mr. Faxon will be of first class construction, of brick and two stories high. In fact it can be said that there will be two blocks with a street forty feet wide running between them connecting Hancock street with the meadow land in the rear owned by the Edwards estate. The street will be about fifty feet to the south of the Music hall block.

The opening of this street will be in compliance with the conditions upon which the so-called Hersey lot was sold, that is, that there should always be a right of way from Hancock street to the meadows in the rear.

The new blocks will contain nine stores on first floor, the second floor being given up entirely to office purposes. Under the building law it is required that the building should be located a certain distance back from the street, but Mr. Faxon has applied to the commission, provided for in the ordinance, for relief from this condition, and his request has been granted so that the new block may be erected near the street line.

Mr. Faxon has not as yet filed his plans with the inspector of buildings for a permit, as they have not been fully perfected, but it is probable that they will be filed in a few days.

Just as soon as the lot has been cleared of the old buildings which have been torn down work on the foundation will be commenced and a few weeks at the most will see work started in earnest

It is understood that Mr. Faxon has already received applications for some of the stores, but nothing has been definitely decided.

CHIEF WITNESS OF FIRE DRILL

Chief Billings visited the Fore River shipyard Wednesday to witness a drill of the fire department of the yard, and he speaks in the highest praise of its efficiency. The big auto pumping engine built at the plant, which did such good work at the Manchester, N. H., and Salem, Mass. fires, is now used as a part of the yard equipment. The engine has been painted in the standard fire department color and is a very formidable piece of fire apparatus. At the drill Wednesday the call brought the men of the department quickly to their assigned places. The auto pumping engine was manned and run out, four lines of hose were quickly laid and water was running through the lines in a very short time. Ladders were also raised with a quickness that would do credit to the best drilled fire department of the state. In fact, Chief Billings said the drill was one that showed the volunteer department of the yard to be most efficient in every way.

ACTING MAYOR CRANE.

Mayor Campbell left Wednesday evening for Philadelphia for a few day's business trip. During his absence City Clerk Emery L. Crane will be the acting mayor.

You need the Ledger every day.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

COAL

ANNOUNCEMENT

April 1, 1915.

Full coal bins are a source of real satisfaction. We are filling our bins as rapidly as possible with FRESH MINED COAL. By placing your order now YOU can take advantage of the LOW PRICES announced in the schedule below. Coal will positively ADVANCE IN PRICE later. There will be no Further Reduction.

We should be glad to call and talk Coal with you if you will notify us.

PRICES FOR CASH

Franklin Egg and Stove	$8.50 per ton
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75 per ton
Shamokin Stove	7.50 per ton
White Ash Broken	6.50 per ton
White Ash Egg	7.25 per ton
White Ash Stove	7.25 per ton
White Ash Nut	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Broken	6.75 per ton
Lehigh Egg	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Stove	7.50 per ton
Pea	5.50 per ton

25 cents per extra where coal is carried in. Orders taken for these Prices are for delivery by July 1, 1915.

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc.

JOHNSON AND CO.'S PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT

Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.

IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.

Be Sure My Name is on The Band

Yours, JOHNSON

Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 84 QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 9, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF LEE'S SURRENDER

Grand Army Veterans Hold Exercises In Observance of Day

The members of Paul Revere Post 88, G. A. R., were out bright and early this morning, in their uniforms of blue to observe the 50th anniversary of the surrender of Gen. R. E. Lee, general-in-chief of the Confederates, to Gen. U. S. Grant, thus bringing the Civil War to an end. It also brought to those boys in blue, who had given up home and all to fight for the preservation of this united country, a feeling of exultation, for there would be no more fighting and soon they would turn their faces toward home.

But a remnant of those who had gone forth with smiling faces, light with the blush of early manhood, remained. Every town, no matter how small mourned the loss of one or more of its sons. How different in appearance were these boys in blue that arrived home at the end of the war. The privations and hardships which they had undergone were written on their haggard faces, yet they were happy.

Some of those veterans we see on the streets today were present at the memorable scene at the Appomattox courthouse, when Gen. Lee handed his sword to Gen. Grant, and it is safe to say that as they gather in headquarters today, where they will keep open house that this scene will be brought vividly to mind, and that the boys will recount many of the battles in which they took an active part and which are now an important part of history

Shortly after 10 o'clock the post formed in front of headquarters and headed by a drum corps and under command of Commander Mark E. Hanson a short parade was held. The post marched down Hancock street hence through Temple street and Washington streets to Hancock street and back to headquarters.

Flying between headquarters and the adjoining building is the old flag, the first to be flown in Richmond when the Northern army entered during the Civil War.

The flag was the property of a Mrs. Van Lew, a celebrated Northern secret service agent, who lived in Richmond throughout the war and cleverly diverted suspicion from herself time and again. Confederates searched her house regularly in an effort to secure incriminating evidence but secret chambers remained secret and their contents never became known to the Southerners.

Throughout this trying period the now famous "Old Glory" was hidden in the house. It was generally believed to be there but never discovered

The woman herself produced the evidence when she tied it to the halyards of the pole on her home and hauled it to the top as a greeting to the first soldiers that entered the city.

The flag was presented to Paul J. Revere post several years ago and is one of its choicest possessions. It is in a good state of preservation.

The flag, with the passing of the post, will probably go to the state and will then take its place behind a glass case in the Hall of Flags at the state house.

This afternoon Charles H. Johnson an honorary member of the post, will deliver an historic address.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Saturday generally fair. Sunday unsettled.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	5 13
Sun sets	6 20
Length of day	12 07
Moon rises	3 29
High water, A. M.	8.15
High water, P. M.	8.45
Days increase 4 hrs. 1 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	64 degrees
Apr. 9, 1914,	56 degrees
Apr. 9, 1913,	43 degrees

Noon Maximum 18 years—86
Noon Minimum 18 years—30

FOR SALE

Great Bargain. In Quincy, near car line. House. Barn, one acre land, $3,200. Very easy terms.

FRANK FESSENDEN CRANE
19 Temple St., Quincy, Mass
9-6t

MADAME SARKIN

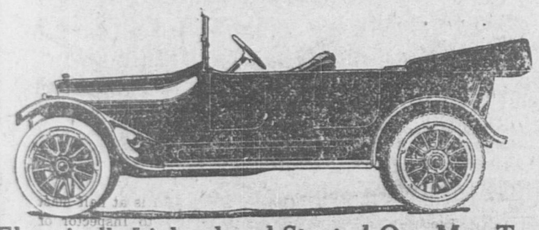

1463 Hancock St., Quincy Mass.

Owing to the stormy Easter weather we are reducing our line of Ready Made Suits, Skirts, Waists and Petticoats to very reasonable prices as we must make room for summer goods.

We are always ready to take your order for Custom work, cleansing, pressing, dyeing, etc. Prompt service.

Tel. 1727-M. April 9-2t

THE 1915 REO IS HERE

Electrically Lighted and Started, One Man Top
Increased Wheel Base, 34x4 Tires, Crown Fender, Improved Upholstering, Increased Power.

	F.O.B. Factory		F.O.B. Factory
4 cyl. - - -	$1050	2 ton Truck	$1650
6 cyl. - - -	$1385	Light Delivery 1500 lbs.	$1075
4 cyl. Runabout	$1000	Light Delivery Chassis	$1000
4 cyl. Coupe	$1575

Reo the Fifth - - the Incomparable Four is on Display at our Garage. Call and see This Car.
Ask for Demonstration

CENTRAL GARAGE and SUPPLY CO.
Corner Washington and Pond Sts.
QUINCY
Tel. 1035 W C. W. Hodgkinson, Prop.
16-1mo.

DISTINCT ADVANCE IN FISH PRICES

With This Exception Local Prices Remain About Same

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW

There is but little change in market conditons from what they were a week ago. The prices of meats remain the same although since the close of the Lenten season there has been an increased demand for meats and a correspondingly falling off in the demand for fish, eggs, etc. The markets afford the usual variety in choice of meats, steaks, chops and roasts. In fact one with an unlimited pocketbook will have no difficulty in appeasing taste, As a general rule all kinds of meats are slightly lower than they have been so that one will not be obliged to part with half a dollar to carry home a pound of the best rump steak for dinner. For 38 cents, one, if he stands in well with the meat cutter, can obtain as tender and juicy a steak as the most exacting could demand.

In the line of vegetables there are in the markets today a great variety. Asparagus is plentiful as are also tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes, etc. Most of these are of course either hot house or Southern grown and while they lack the real taste of vegetables raised about home in the little garden they are quite refreshing after a winter's absence. Then there is lettuce rhubarb, dandelion greens, etc., not to say a word about the great variety of fruit although bananas are not over and above plentiful. Of oranges, however there is plenty and they are reasonable. To those who still think they cannot afford the luxury of early vegetables, there remains the ever ready canned goods. These are of great variety and are very good at that and are reasonable and within reach of all.

Potatoes, which a few weeks ago occupied much attention in the press because of experiments in using them as a substitute for wheat in making bread are again coming to the front. This time however it is the statement from Aroostook, County, Me., to the effect that prices have taken a jump from 50 cents to 75 cents a barrel and that there has been a rush among the farmers to sell at this price. Buyers say that the rise in price is due to the shortage of the supply, but do not expect that the shortage will be permanent. Then again, the potatoes are beginning to shoot forth sprouts and if delayed too long the farmer must go to the additional expense of going through his potato bins to break off the sprouts.

One would naturally expect following the close of the Lenten season that the price of fish would take a drop. On the contrary however prices have advanced sharply. The advance is due almost wholly to the unfavorable weather and the lack of activity among the fishing fleet. The receipts have been very light this week as the fishing fleet has been held back by almost continuous gales. Several of the largest fishing craft in Boston harbor have been tied up a week for favorable weather and those that have come in have had very light cargoes Halibut is plentiful, however, and this is the only kind of green fish that can be bought for less than last week's prices. There is a scarcity of the fancy varieties such as blue fish, shad and salmon, but a few days good weather will bring in a good supply.

Cod steak is quoted at 9 1-4 cents a pound, and market cod at 4 3-4 cents a pound. Steak pollock at 4 -3-4 cents and large hake at 5 3-4 cents.

Lobsters are still coming in freely and there has been a slight decline in price. Scollops are a little cheaper. However, lobsters are still high for most people and they remain in the class known as luxuries.

Members of the Quincy Branch of the Ladies' Catholic Benevolent society attended the mammoth whist of the state organization in Cathedral hall, Boston, Thursday evening. Among the local members on the committee of arrangements were Mrs. William J. Walsh, Miss Bessie Mahoney and Mrs. Mary McKay.

SAY MEDICINES MADE OF HERBS

Charge Woman Practiced Medicine Illegally

Madame Mary Butterfield of 42 Appleton street, Boston, according to the police has been served with a summons to appear in the district court Friday morning on a charge of illegally practicing medicine.

The complainant in the case is Inspector Goodhue who says his filing of the complaint followed an investigation of three weeks, during which time he claims to have collected considerable evidence to support his charge.

The police allege that Madame Butterfield has a large number of patients she is treating for various ailments and that the "medicine" she gives is made from herbs.

Madame Butterfield has had an office at 246 Copeland street West Quincy the past month.

AUDITORIUM TO REOPEN

Building Inspector Approves Reconstruction Plans

The Auditorium theatre building, closed to the public several weeks ago by order of Mayor Campbell, will be reopened to the public on April 19.

Workmen are now engaged in complying with the orders of Inspector of Buildings Thomas and it is expected that this part of the work will be completed by that date.

It is understood that the entire structure will be strengthened by iron girders and supports and that the floor timbers will rest on a dozen brick piers set on cement foundations.

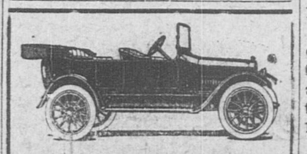

Additional metal columns will be set under the balcony which sagged when one of the two which held up the front of it slipped through a hole in the floor and caused it to drop during a performance and which resulted in the order of the mayor.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Friends Give Miss Mattie Gold Watch Bracelet.

A birthday party was tendered to Miss Bessie Mattie of Penn's Hill, Thursday evening. A supper was served at 10.30, the table being ornamented with a handsome birthday cake, illuminated by lighted candles representing her age. The dining room was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and Japanese lanterns. The evening was spent in dancing, games, piano and vocal selections. Relatives and friends were present from Brookline, Cambridge, Dorchester and Braintree. Miss Mattie received gifts among them being a gold watch bracelet from her parents.

The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader.

JACKSON Model 46

THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL, SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER
"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"

Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT

$1375

JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

CLUB HOLDS ITS ANNUAL BANQUET

Members and Friends Make Merry In Royal Good Time

ENJOY VAUDEVILLE SHOW

The rooms of the Granite City club in the Savings Bank building, which usually show forth their welcoming light at night, were dark Thursday evening. The members and friends of the club were enjoying themselves at the annual club banquet and entertainment, which on this occasion was held at the New American House, Boston. The affair was a most enjoyable one in every way and attended by nearly one hundred members and friends.

The members for the most part left for the scene of the evening's entertainment on the train leaving Quincy at 6.04, to which a special car had been attached for their use. The New American house was reached shortly before 7 o'clock and after a few minutes passed in a sort of informal reception dinner was announced. It was served in one of the large dining rooms of the hotel. Instead of one long table there were numerous smaller tables seating nine and ten. At the head table were seated the officers of the club and City Clerk Emery L. Crane, who represented the Mayor. However there was no speechmaking, for it is not a speechmaking club, the only formality at the banquet being the command of President MacQuarrie to have a good time.

The tables looked very attractive. Long stemmed carnations and palm leaves formed the centre piece while at each cover was a red carnation for the coat lapel. In addition to this was a candelabra with lighted candles, the red shades harmonizing with the carnations.

The menu card, an eight page affair, besides the announcement and menu, contained the words of several of the popular songs of the day such as "I Want to go Back to Michigan" "I want to linger" "My Croony Melody" "I Love the Ladies" "This is the Life" and of course "Tipperary"

The menu was a particularly good one and included: Little neck clam cocktail; chicken gumbo, a la creole; olives, radishes, salted nuts and gerkins; filet of halibut en coquille; lobster patties, cardinal; frozen Tom and Jerry; roast larded sirloin of beef, Bordelaise; potatoes in cream; fresh asparagus; strawberry shortcake, frozen pudding and vanilla ice cream, assorted cheese, toasted crackers, demi tasse, cigarettes and cigars.

The dinner was enlivened by a pleasing entertainment, furnished under the direction of J. J. Baudry, steward of the American house, and included the Burdette W. Williams tango orchestra and Ferncroft trio; University City Four, Messrs White, Brogan, Sharples and Gurney; The Remick singers, Harold Ashton, leader; E. Stanley Nichols, monologist; Harry Case, German dialect recitations; Miss Alice Tuttle, and Miss Annie Russell, cabaret singers, Miss Laura Gleason Childs, mezzo soprano and Alex A. Brunis, pianist.

The entertainment was continuous during the serving of the banquet and for half an hour following, ending about 10 o'clock, allowing ample time for the banqueters to connect with 1034 train for Quincy.

As a whole the banquet was pronounced to have been one of the most successful the club has ever held.

The club is indebted to John H. Johnson, the well known distributor of the La Rosa de Juncos, Private Stock and Blenheim cigars, which were presented to each participant at the close of the banquet.

While the club members were enjoying themselves those who were unable to be present on account of illness were not forgotten and at the close of the banquet a large bouquet of carnations was made made up and this morning it was taken to the home of James H. Lalley, a member of the entertainment committee, who has always been present at other banquets of the club but who is now confined to his home as a result of an accident several weeks ago.

BOARD OF TRADE FAVORS LOWER LIGHTING RATE

Commissioner O'Keefe Talks on Fire Prevention

A discussion on fire prevention by John A. O'Keefe, fire hazard commissioner, and a warm debate on electric light rates enlivened the Board of Trade meeting Thursday evening.

The discussion followed the report of A. N. LaBreque of the lighting committee on a recent conference with the directors of the Quincy E. L. & P. Co., when the committee was told there was little likelihood of a reduction at present.

John F. Merrill, county commissioner, favored an examination of the books of the lighting company, also of the gas company, so a fair comparison could be made with surrounding cities and towns, particularly Milton.

John R. Richards in a severe arraignment of the situation said it should be brought before the Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners and a resolution was passed to that effect.

The resolution was "That the Board of Trade be authorized to petition the commission for a reduction of rates."

Capt. George M. Downes, 6th Regt. M. V. M., detailed to form the local Machine Gun Company, invited the members to inspect the equipment of the company which has been delivered to Quincy and requested their attendance at the regular drill in Union hall Tuesday night. Capt. Downes suggested the organization place itself on record on the question of locating a company here.

Pres. Edward J. Fegan presided and there was a good attendance. Mr. O'Keefe spoke in part as follows:

"Nearly all fires are preventable. They are the result of negligence or criminal design. That is what makes the fire prevention department of value to a city or town. Prior to last year there was no official in the Commonwealth whose duty it was to study the origin and progress of fires with a view to preventing the loss of life and property. This is now the work of the fire prevention commissioner. A disease cannot be successfully treated unless the symptons and their progress are studied and catalogued.

"That is true of the ravages of disease; it is equally true of the ravages of fire. To stop the loss by fire a study must be made of their causes, the hazards of different lines of business, the habits of the people, and a hundred other things. Then, when the ground has been cleared, so to speak, remedies must be devised. The problem is a different one in almost every city and town.

The class of construction is different; the elements that go to make up the population are different; the lines of industry are different. Consequently a study must be made of every city and town. Recently four important towns, Reading, Stoneham, Lexington and Rockland have voluntarily become parts of the Fire Prevention district by overwhelming majorities. I have spent a day in each one of these towns becoming acquainted with its officials, examing the fire department, studying the nature of its industries and attempting to settle in my own mind just what its problems were and the work of this department will be adapted to the needs of each town. That is the correct scientific way. The work that is needed in Chelsea may not be needed in Quincy and vice versa.

"But fire prevention is concerned very largely with the safe guarding of life. My authority over industry depends on whether or not it is located within fifty feet of a dwelling house. All lines of industry that have to do with materials likely to cause or spread fires if located close to a dwelling house, require the permit of the fire prevention commissioner. It was high time that it was the duty of someone to protect the homes of the wage earner. That is now one of my duties.

"Fires can be prevented by punishing arson, by controlling lines of industry that are hazardous, and by educating the people away from negligent habits. They can be prevented by getting more sensible building laws. The work done by the fire prevention commission during the past six months towards the elimination of the wooden shingle is an example. Fires can be pervented often by changing the customs of the people. For example, many fires are caused by the explosion of glass oil lamps. I have just undertaken the task of supplanting oil lamps by metal lamps. Already I have conferred with the president of the Hardware Dealers' association on this matter. I shall try to get the dealers to put in stocks of metal lamps; I shall show how inexpensive they are and how dangerous the glass lamp is; and I hope to diminish largely the use of glass lamps. The same work can be done along other lines.

"The number of fires in Quincy from October first to April 3 was sixty three, the causes were as follows: over heated stoves or furnaces 5; rubbish in basement 1; electric wires 4; explosion of oil stoves 3; spontanious 7; smoking 7; sparks on shingle roofs; salamander 1; unknown 4; rats and matches 1; children and matches 3; incendiary 6; electric motor 1; clothes near stove 2; set by children 1; exposure 3; auto back fire 1; chimney fires 4; explosion of lamp 1; smoking in bed 2; candle fell to flor 1.

"During this period the commonest causes of fire in Quincy have been, arson, overheated stoves, spontaneous combustion, electric wires, smoking, sparks on shingled roofs, chimney fires and children. If we can check these causes, we shall check the fires. If cannot wholly check these causes we can at least introduce a larger measure of care.

"I would say a word about three of these causes. Children should not be allowed to play with or have matches. Matches should be kept in metal boxes and matches that have been used should not be thrown on the carpet or on the floor. Frequently they are still afire and set fire to the room. Wooden shingles are the greatest existing menace to any city. They caused the destruction of Chelsea and of Salem. They are always in shape to take fire from a spark and to spread the fire over other roofs. They should be forbidden. Asphalt singles are just as cheap, will probably wear as long and no spark will set them afire. The most intelligent cities and towns are rapidly passing ordinances against the wooden shingles."

The flag on city hall is at half mast today out of respect to Inspector of Meats and Provisions James F. Allen whose funeral was held this afternoon.

You need the Ledger every day.

CONSULT ME

I can tell you your Past, Present and Future, advise you in your Business, tell you who are your friends, and help you recover lost articles. Private Readings Daily $1.00. Circle Readings Tuesday 3.00 and 8.00 P. M.. Developing Class Thursday 8.00 P. M.

Mrs. S. V. Odiorne
8 Mechanic St. off Revere Road
Tel. 1923 M or 327 M

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

LEE'S SURRENDER.

The local post of the Grand Army of the Republic, in common with posts of that organization throughout the country, is today celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of the surrender of General Robert E. Lee at Appomattox. With the observance is mingled no feeling of scorn or bitterness for the conquered. Lee was admittedly one of the greatest, probably the very greatest, generals that America has produced. He was on the losing side of the fight, he succumbed to the overwhelming odds which Grant brought against him. We trust that throughout the country when tributes are paid to the noble men who saved the union a tribute will also be paid to the noble men who chose the side which they believed was right and struggled to destroy the union. Let us render honor to Robert E. Lee, a brave soldier, a noble leader, a Christian gentleman.

The Richmond Times Despatch has a word to say on a proposed celebration of the occasion by the Confederate veterans:

"Apparently there will be no "jubilee" at Appomattox on April 9—and that is as it should be. The plan had a generous inspiration and a praiseworthy purpose, but it failed to take into consideration the temper of the people of Virginia. It is not for Virginia to jubilate over the sombre tragedy that marked the ending of a people's hopes.

"This State is as appreciative as any other of the blessings of peace, because, very largely, it knows better than any other the curse and privation of war. There is no lukewarmness in Virginian loyalty to the reunited country—we live that loyalty here, and it is not necessary that we proclaim it from the housetops.

"Appomattox, however, is not appropriate to purposes of jubilation—not, at any rate, in this part of the world. It is a shrine rather, and an altar, on which the South laid its last living and heroic sacrifice. It is holy ground. It is meet for tears and weeping, and for the homage devotion pays to valor and suffering. It is the sepulchre of a nation, where

Glory guards with solemn round
The bivouac of the dead.

Moreover, Appomattox brought no peace to the people of the South. The years of Reconstruction were less easy to endure than the years of actual war. It was when the State was rescued from the carpet-bagger and the scalawag that peace for Virginia really began to dawn. Suppose we wait until the fiftieth anniversary of that glorious event and celebrate then? There ought not to be a dissenting voice.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

The report of the librarian of the Thomas Crane Public Library, printed in full in Thursday issue, deserves a careful reading on the part of every citizen.

The services rendered by an institution of this kind are not so tangible, not so apparent as those rendered by many other institutions. But they are real services just the same. Education is the gateway to progress and the library is a valuable adjunct to education.

The report of the trustees recommends the establishment of a branch library at Quincy Point or Wollaston. This should be done. Those familiar with the workings of an institution of this nature know that full efficiency cannot be secured without availability Quincy covers a wide territory: the journey from one of the outlying districts to the center is a considerable one. The solution is a branch library. The branches at West Quincy and Atlantic have proved successful. Similar arrangements should be made for Quincy Point and Wollaston.

The appropriation bill has been made up and doubtless the city, in these days of financial distress, will not be able to see its way clear to providing the funds necessary if the services of the library are to be widened. It is an aim worthy any citizen, however, and we hope that it will not be long before the Thomas Crane Public Library has enlarged its sphere of usefulness in accord with the recommendation of the trustees.

QUARANTINE REGULATIONS.

There seems to be still considerable misunderstanding throughout the city regarding quarantine regulations in diphtheria and scarlet fever. The recently enacted ruling that wage earners may be allowed to continue at their usual occupation under certain provisions at the discretion of the Board of Health has been made in order that the financial hardships of quarantine might be somewhat abated, especially in many needy families. Such a ruling, however, does not allow the wage-earner to call upon his or her neighbor or to go anywhere else than to daily work, nor are any other unauthorized persons under any circumstances allowed to enter such quarantined house. At least one such instance has recently occurred, the violator pleading ignorance. Due warning is given by the Board of Health that such ignorance of the laws will not be any further an excuse, but that any outside person entering a quaratined house, or being visited by any member of a quarantined household, will at once have his own house placed in strict quarantine.

COURT HEARS DIVORCE CASES

These uncontested divorce libels were heard:—

Verna K. Carter of Quincy vs. Charles A. Carter of Boston. Decree nisi for desertion, with care and custody of Charles S., minor son. F. J. Tuttle for libellant.

Rose H. Condrick of Quincy vs. Edward F. Condrick of Weymouth. Decree nisi for desertion, with care and custody of Elizabeth Irene, minor daughter. Joseph S. O'Neil and Dolan, Moran & Stebbins for libellant.

Pauline O. Curtis vs. Robert G. Curtis, both of Quincy. Decree nisi for gross and confirmed habits of intoxication, with care and custody of Catherine E., William S. and Robert E., minor children. George W. Abele for libellant.

Mary C. Paige of Boston vs. Harold L. Paige of Quincy. Decree nisi for neglect to provide suitable maintenance, with right to resume maiden name of Mary C. Brigham. No alimony allowed. F. W. McGettrick for libellant.

TELLS HOW TO RING IN ALARM

Chief Issues New Fire Alarm Cards

Chief Engineer Billings is receiving many compliments on the new fire alarm card which he has just issued. The card aside from containing a complete list of the location of all the fire alarm boxes of the city, contains on the reverse side pictures of fire alarm boxes.

One shows the box closed as it is when not in use, and the other a box with the outer door open, showing the hook, which must be pulled down in order to send in an alarm. This side is done in two colors, red and black. It also gives the number and location of the box nearest to the place where the card is shown, and instructions how to give an alarm, also the request to wait if possible until the apparatus arrives to direct them where the fire is.

It also gives some other good advice to keep halls, stairways and aisles to exits and fire escapes free from obstruction, to keep the premises clean and free of rubbish, to put ashes and greasy material in metal receptacles with metal covers to close fire doors and shutters every night. "Safety First" is the slogan at the top of the card.

MRS. WALTER. E. SIMMONS.

Hold Services For Prominent Wollaston Woman.

The funeral of Mrs. Almira E. Simmons, wife of Walter E. Simmons of the A. Shuman Co., who died while visiting her daughter in Detroit, Mich., took place Thursday afternoon at her home at 34 South Central avenue.

Rev. Carl G. Horst of the Wollaston Unitarian church, of which Mrs. Simmons was an active member, conducted the services. There were many floral remembrances which completely covered the grave in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

A regular meeting of the Woman's Guild of Christ church was held Thursday afternoon.

We Have Prepared For This Week
An Exceptional Early Season Offering
OF
NEW SUITS NEW HATS NEW SKIRTS
NEW DRESSES NEW OSTRICH PLUMES
Presenting the most recent developments of fashion and showing advanced models for immediate wear at very reasonable prices.

Many Suits in the Newer Styles Just Opened
Smart stylish materials, gabardines, poplins, serges, novelty stripes, checks, mixtures, shepherd plaids. All the leading shades and colors, such as Belgium blue, navy, green, putty. All sizes to suit every figure. Specially priced for this week.
$9.98 $14.98 $17.98

An Assemblage of New Spring Skirts
Tailored and dressy styles in the newer full skirt effects and stylish pleated models, some with pockets, others braid and button trimmed, in the best shades and materials. You can't afford to miss this showing. Specially priced for this week.
$1.98 $2.98

There are Still Many Women Who Need a Hat
We are showing a line of hats that would do justice to a Fifth Avenue store. This is the time when you want to look your prettiest. This is the time when we're at our best, too. When every style that the best fashion centers is included in our store. Simple designs or effectively trimmed with the latest novelties. Prices are extremely moderate, too.
$ .98 $2.98 $4.98

A Word About Our Ladies Tailors Shop
In adding this new department to our store, we believe we are filling a long felt want. Here a girl or lady can be fitted perfectly, in any style you desire. Under the conductorship of
Mr. H. N. LEVENSON
For years considered QUINCY'S leading tailor. Mr. Levanson is only too glad to offer his personal services in any matter pertaining to my Lady's Suit. Plan to pay us a visit this week Madam.

J. Szathmary TAILORS and MILLINERS 1447 Hancock St.

RECEPTION FOR REV. A. E. HILLMAN

Friends Gather to Bid Farewell And Give Him Purse

LEAVES SWEDISH CHURCH

Rev. A. E. Hillman, who has resigned as pastor of the Swedish M. E. church, was given a farewell reception Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Selma Johnson, Deldorf street Fjalmar Kjellander, in behalf of all gave a short address and presented Mr. Hillman with a purse and the best wishes of all.

A short program was rendered after which refreshments were served.

CLUB HAS OPENING NIGHT.

The Brockton Press club Thursday night observed its opening night in the club rooms in the City Theatre building of that city. Frank H. Pope former state auditor and now state supervisor of small loan agencies, was the speaker. Following the speaking there was a lunch after which three minute speeches were in order. Dan Smith, president of the club, acted as toastmaster. Among the guests of honor were Ex-Congressman Edward Gilmore of the 14th congressional district, Ex-Mayor Harry C. Howard of Brockton, Judge Walter I. Lane, Marshal James E. Lays, Deputy Marshall James E Morey, Clerk of the Police Court Timothy J. Meade and Assistant Clerk Charles F. King. F. Ambler Welch, editor of the Ledger and formerly a Brockton newspaper man was a guest of the club.

NOT TO RETIRE.

George Call of Holbrook road denies the report that he is to retire from the grocery business and remove to Braintree. Mr. Call has been in poor health for some time but he intends to continue the business.

The regular meeting of the Abigail Phillips Quincy Chapter, D. A. R., will be held next Monday with Mrs. Frank Burgess. The program for the afternoon will be a musical one.

MOOSE HOLD BIG SMOKER

Members Enjoy Vaudeville Entertainment

Quincy Adams hall, South Quincy, was packed to the doors and scores were turned away at the smoker of the Loyal order of Moose No. 413 Thursday evening.

Niel McDonald introduced the talent to the audience who were first treated to boxing exhibitions between Gillis and Rand of Quincy, Regan and McDonald of Braintree, Gardner and Griffin and Samon and Noonan, all well known amateurs.

The vaudeville part of the program was good. Mordelia, the one man band who played seven instruments at the same time, was popular. Kitty Hoffman's songs and stories were greeted with enthusiasm. De Tallo, a female impersonator, certainly lived up to his name, completely fooling those present till he removed his wig. Henry Myers, well known in Quincy as a black face comedian, again demonstrated his ability to entertain an audience and kept everyone mirthful from beginning to end.

Valvenio and Lanoll performed some amusing acrobatic stunts. Dora Roneo, the Gypsy violinist captivated the audience. The Barnard Trio in songs and dances and Loomis Davis in oriental dancing concluded the entertainment.

The committee in charge of the entertainment were Niel A. McDonald, chairman, Walter Carman, secretary, assisted by Wm. B. Norrie, Albert Williams, Alex Craig, James Ross, Walter Buckley, Martin Anderson, John Heffernan, Charles Williams, Jeremiah Gooded, Albert Bean, Robert Craig, John E. Brown and Joseph Darrow.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Those who attended the annual dramatics of the Association were more than delighted with the way the play progressed and many complimentary things have been heard regarding the way the different members of the cast handled their parts. It is to be hoped that this will be an annual affair and that these people can be seen again in the future.

The members of the Women's auxiliary of the association and their friends are to have the pleasure of listening to Mrs. I. W. Sneath of Wollaston at the regular monthly meeting of the auxiliary to be held in Association hall this afternoon at three. Mrs. Sneath's subject will be "The Influence of Christian Womanhood" and it is hoped that a large number of women will be present at the meeting to hear Mrs. Sneath on this interesting subject.

The Boys' Bible classes will meet as usual this afternoon and Sunday. Many of the boys are looking forward with a great deal of interest to the International Bible Study Examination which will be given the week of April 18-24. Another Feed will be served the boys by the ladies on the evening of April 14th which will be followed by stereopticon pictures along the line of their lessons.

Stereopticon pictures will be shown at the Boys' Meeting in the hall tomorrow morning at nine o'clock. Much disappointment was felt because it was not possible to show the pictures which were promised for last week but with pictures and illustrated songs this week a large number of boys should be present.

The fifth and last annual Gym Exhibition under the direction of Physical Director Louis LaRose for the Juniors and Cadet classes will be given in the Gym the evening of April 23d. Beside the regular drills special work will be done by the leaders of the class and the boys are working hard to make this an enjoyable evening for all who attend. The tickets which are selling for ten cents are being sold by the boys rapidly and the public is invited to avail themselves of this opportunity of seeing the work being done in the Gym.

The plans for the observances of State Boy's Day are nearing completion and the boys are turning in the names of those whom they think would like to have a share in the work by giving a small amount on April 24th. It is hoped that the good people of Quincy will feel free to ask any member of the Boys' Division regarding this part of the association work, and if interested are invited to send their names to the association in order that information may be sent them. April 24th is the day. The money received is for Local, State, National and Foreign Boys' Work.

The Senior Bowling tournament which has until the first of May to run is being followed with considerable interest among the members. High average for the total twenty-five strings rolled is held by C. Thomas who has a score of 90 10-25 average with a total of 2260. Al Thomas, his brother comes second with a total of 2245 pin and an average of 89 20-25.

Quincy Quick Lunch
1510 Hancock Street
Next to Wardwell's Bowling Alley
Open from 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.
7-6t

Reduction in Prices.
Your attention is called to the reduced spring prices on Anthracite Coal as follows

Lehigh Stove and Egg	$7.50
White Ash Stove and Egg	7.25
White Ash Nut	7.50
Shamokin Stove and Egg	7.50
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75
Pea	5.50
Franklin	8.50

We recommend the placing of your order at this time to insure the low prices.
Nothing but All Rail Clean Coal handled and delivered right by careful experienced drivers.
QUINCY COAL CO.
OFFICE and YARD
Penn St., Quincy Tel. 47-M
Ap. 7 1mo.

KINCAIDE THEATRE
Vaudeville.
WILLIAM FARNUM
—In a Gripping 4 Reel Photo-Play
'The Sign of the Cross'
A Remarkable Paramount Feature Play—All Star Cast—Thrilling Acting.
MORRISSEY and BURTON, Piano and Song Entertainers.
SEYMOUR and WILLIAMS, Old Time Singers, Dancers and Witty Talkers.
LEW PALMORE, Juggling Comedian. NEW COMEDY PICTURES To Make You Laugh.
TELEPHONE YOUR ORDER FOR SEATS
Thurs. Fri. & Sat.—Daily at 2.30 P. M. 10 & 15c. Evenings at 8—10-15-25c
COMING NEXT WEEK.
Mon., Tues. & Wed.—"THE GOOSE GIRL," with Margaret Clark. Photo Play
Thurs., Fri. & Sat.—"MISTRESS NELL," with Mary Pickford. Photo Play
COMPLETE WITH ALL STAR CASTS.
REGULAR VAUDEVILLE and COMEDY PICTURES CHANGED TWICE WEEKLY.

News of Interest to Granite Manufacturers and Workers

A trip through the granite cutting section in and about South Quincy, is all that is needed to convince one that the granite business which has been at a dull ebb all winter has taken on a new lease of life and that things are now booming. The winter months are always quiet ones in the granite trade. On account of the conditions necessary for health, most cutting yards are in the open air save from a sheltering top. Then again it is of course impossible to set memorials during the winter months and to fill the yards with finished work means the tieing up of a large amount of capital by the manufacturer.

Now however things are booming although the real busy season will not commence until the latter part of this month and during the month of May, there are few idle granite cutters in this city.

A GREAT CHANGE.

If some of the granite manufacturers of the early days, who have long since gone to their last home could come back and take a walk through the granite district they would doubtless be startled, at the wonderful changes that have taken place during the past few years. In place of the finishing and carving formerly done by hand, he would find in every yard pneumatic tools which are doing this work better and in less than half of the time. He would also find instead of the back breaking derricks, travelling cranes and derricks that are operated by power.

NATIONAL CONVENTION.

The convention of the National Retail Monumental Dealers Association of America is to be held in Denver, Col., Aug. 17, 18, and 19, and while as yet it is not definitely known that anyone from Quincy will be in attendance at the convention the chances are that there will be. Arrangements are being made for special cars for the New England party which will leave Boston Sunday, Aug. 15, and will connect with the Western special at Chicago. The special car will be run through to Denver without change.

MEMORIAL TO MRS. HOWE.

A movement is on foot to erect a granite memorial in Boston to the memory of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe. For a memorial that will last for all time there is nothing better than Quincy granite.

A GRAVE PROBLEM.

A well known granite man when asked what was the greatest problem that the monumental trade had to contend with today said "Unfriendly and openly hostile competition, accompanied by misrepresentation and dishonest methods the determination to beat the other fellow or make him sell out at a loss."

INDIVIDUAL SLOGANS.

"Granite, Marble and Bronze," a monthly trade publication devoted to the granite industry, commenting on the suggestion of the Ledger that the "Buy Now" slogan be applied to the granite business, suggests that each granite dealer form a little slogan for his very own, which he can word to suit himself, but let it mean "Get Business now."

A VITAL FACTOR.

William M. Adrian of the Quincy Adams Granite Co., in a half hour interview with "Billy" says he considers advertising one of the vital factors in his business. He says that he has found that the judicious use of space has resulted in a much larger increase in business than anticipated. At Mr. Adrian's plant in South Quincy there can be seen some of the finest specimens of the granite cutters art to be found anywhere in Quincy.

AN ERROR.

It has sometimes been supposed on account of the coarse grain of Quincy granite that it is not good for memorials that require carved work. This is an error. There has been turned out in this city memorials of such quality stock upon which some fine specimens of the granite carver's work is shown. A trip through the Quincy Adams district will prove this.

Mr. MIRKIN
Upholsterer

Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

Quincy Pianoforte School
Mackellow Director
Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
31-tf

TAKE TRIP TO FOREIGN LANDS

Capt. Newell Relates His Experienees

Those attending the monthly meeting of the Massachusetts Fields Parent-Teachers association Thursday evening in the school corridor enjoyed a lecture on "A Trip to Foreign Lands" delivered by Captain Charles H. Newell of Boston.

Captain Newell has been around the world four times. His first voyage started in October 1882 on the good ship "Amy Turner" and consumed 14 months and 9 days. Two other trips he took on this ship and also went around the world on the "Benjamin Sewall."

Captain Newell's lecture was amplified by a large chart on which he pointed out various places en route, adding much to the interest of the lecture. Miniature ship's signals were also displayed and their code explained.

The voyage described by the speaker started at New York and circled Cape Horn, making stops at various South American ports. Continuing westawrd Hawaii was reached, where many interesting customs were described, among them the diving of the natives.

Hong Kong and other Chinese ports were visited and strange natural phenomena including earth quakes, volcanoes, typhoons and monsoons were depicted. The lecture contained much marine phraseology which added to its interest.

At the business meeting which preceded a report was rendered by Nicholas Kappler on the recent attempt to secure additional school accommodations. The committee, after a hearing, had been given leave to withdraw.

Messrs. Ripley, Kappler and Fleschman were appointed a committee to appear before the City Council regarding the proper grading of the new playground. At present the lot is said to be unfit for the proper installation of playground apparatus.

For the next meeting, which will be the annual meeting and close the season's program, the following women were appointed to serve as a hospitality committee, Mrs. Joseph K. Barber, Mrs. Daniel Miller, Mrs. S. J. Ripley, Mrs. Shay, Mrs. Broadbent and Mrs. Leonard Paine.

BRIEFS

A Swedish meeting will be held in the Union church of Squantum Sunday evening at 7.30. Rev. A. G. Sporrong will preach and there will be special music. The regular service in the Swedish Congregational church will be postponed.

Florence Rich Nichols, assisted by Emma E. Walker, violinist and Arville D. Walker, accompanist, will give a reading and song recital in the Atlantic M. E. church tonight under the auspices of the Epworth League.

A neighborhood conference of Sunday School workers of Quincy, Wollaston and Braintree Unitarian churches will be held in the social room of the First Parish church at 7.30 this evening. Questions of interest to Sunday school workers will be discussed.

Everything for the Baby
THE PRICE IS RIGHT

Malted Milk	$3.50	$3.00
Malted Milk	$1.00	88c
Malted Milk	50c	43c
Nestles Food	50c	40c
Eskays Food	25c	20c
Eskays Food	50c	40c
Eskays Food	75c	60c
Sugar of Milk Patch's		35c
Sugar of Milk Hearns		30c
Nipples	5 and 10c
Nursing Bottles	8 oz 5c

Chas. C. Hearn,
DRUGGIST
CITY SQUARE, - QUINCY

ENTERTAIN AZAR REBEKAH LODGE

Reliance Lodge Hosts For Forty Guests

Reliance Rebekah lodge, I. O. O. F., entertained 40 members of Azar Rebekah lodge of Milton in the Wollaston lodge rooms Thursday evening.

During the regular meeting, which preceded a social, three candidates were initiated under the direction of Noble Grand Mrs. Emma Ela and degree master Andrew F. Johnston. Seven applications for membership were received.

Mrs. May Johnston, chairman of the committee of the lodge, which is acting in conjunction with the committee of John Hancock lidge, reported that the plans for the joint celebration of the anniversary of their institution were materializing and that they will be completed Sunday.

A short musical program was given during the social hour and ice cream, cake and coffee, were served.

BIG BOWLING TOURNEY NEAR

The Monster tournament to be held in Boston at Mechanics Pavilion from April 29 to May 15 under the auspices of the Atlantic Coast Bowling association promises to make bowling history.

Big feature nights will be established during the tournament and one of the largest features promises to be Elks night, Monday, May 3rd, at which time the championship of the world for Elks lodges will be established for the handsome trophies that will be given in connection with the prize money that is offered for those competing in the tournament.

The Quincy Lodge of Elks has as a member Paul Poehler who is known as the champion candle pin bowler of the world and is looked upon by the knowing ones as the most likely contender for the world's title for "Hello Bills."

The Elks lodge of Washington, D. C., will no doubt give a good account of themselves in the duck pin game as this team is recognized as one of the strongest duck pin teams in the country.

The Mother lodge of New York City has promised to send a team under the direction of Hugh McQuire that will enter in the ten pin class and will no doubt be favorites in the betting for that style of game.

The merchants and manufacturers of Worcester held a big boosters meeting at which time they voted to subscribe a sum that would be sufficient to send a delegation to accompany their Elks team in addition to establishing a Worcester Night which will no doubt be granted by the tournament committee.

ARRESTED ON NEW CHARGE

Michael Omsky, one of three Russians arrested in a boarding house on Grafton street, Sunday evening, who came into court this morning to withdraw an appeal from a fine of $15 for drunkenness and $20 for disturbing the peace, was arrested on a charge of keeping a liquor nuisance. His case was continued to April 21.

The arrest of Ormsky was the result of a hearing on drunken charges against two other Russians whose cases had been continued until today when they were fined $15.

The original charge of keeping a liquor nuisance was preferred against Harry Mosang. His case will be heard tomorrow and according to the police it is probable the complaint will be dismissed.

PRESENT MUSIC CABINET.

Daniel Z. Sullivan of 27 Quarry street was tendered a surprise party at his home Thursday evening. During a lull in the festivities the host was presented with a handsome mahogany music cabinet the presentation speech being made by Mr. Flaherty. During the evening there were vocal solos by Edward Johnson, James Copeland, Harold McDonald and Miss Osborne. Piano selections by the host. Ice cream and cake, sandwiches and coffee were served.

PRATT'S BREAD—try it with a bowl of milk and blueberries. All grocers.

AMUSEMENTS

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

"Common Clay" by Cleves Kinkead began its thirteenth week Monday at the Castle Square Theatre and seats are still selling four weeks in advance for this extraordinary play. Last week the theatre had the honor of entertaining some distinguished visitors, David Belasco, Daniel Frohman—both in town for rehearsals of "The Celebrated Case"—Helen Ware, Nat Goodwin, Eugene Walters, the playwright, Paul Armstrong, Prof. Baker and Prof. Ordynsky of Harvard University, were all present for a performance of the play.

John Craig and Mary Young have begun rehearsals for "The Long Lane" a new play by B. H. Voigt of Brooklyn. Mr. Craig is going to put on the piece for a matinee performance to give it a trial. It is a drama in four acts and tells the story of a woman's redemption. That is what "Common Clay" tells, but the two plays do not otherwise resemble each other. Miss Young and Betty Barnicoat are to have the only two women's roles. It will be produced in about two weeks.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE.

No lover of true dramatic art can afford to miss seeing the wonderful production of Stephen Phillips' great romantic drama "The Sin of David," which, on Monday begins the second week of its engagement at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston. The piece is being presented by a company of all English players. The play was originally produced with great success by H. B. Irving last season. The engagement at that time was suddenly terminated because of the outbreak of hostilities.

"The Sin of David" is not a biblical piece. It concerns Sir Hubert Lisle a powerful and influential figure of the seventeenth century, who, while waging war against the cavaliers of Charles the First becomes enamored of a young French girl, who is married to a very old man. The young girl falls in love with Sir Hubert and the latter in turn sends the old man to the scaffold. The child born to them brings them both to remorse, repentance and a vivid illumination of their sin. Mr. George Relph, an actor with a big English reputation plays Sir Hubert, while Miss Viva Birkett appears as the young girl. The programme is rounded out by the presentation of an amusing one-act modern comedy entitled "The Van Dyck." The piece has to do with an up-to-date Raffles who is a connoisseur with pictures.

CORT THEATRE.

It is rather an unusual occurrence but speaks volumes for a play that finds it profitable at the termination of its engagement at one theatre to move to another playhouse in the same city, such however is the case with that most delightful bit of Scottish fiction, "Kitty MacKay," that has been playing at another Boston theatre and moved to the Cort for the week of April 5 beginning Easter Monday night.

This merry romance possesses a subtle charm and a heart interest all of its own. Winsome Kitty, a Scotch Cinderella, is taken from a life of poverty and ill-treatment among the Highlands to fashionable London, where she is quick to learn that "all that glitters is not gold." When poor Kitty is denied marriage to the man she loves she carries the audience with her in her sorrow. When she and Mag start to re-write the Bible to suit themselves they do it entirely without offence but in a manner that convulses with laughter all who hear it. The charm and fun of the play is shown to the best advantage by such well known and finished artists as Irene Haissman, Reginald Denny, Elizabeth Merson, Bertha Kent, John F. Glancy, Jock McGraw, Margaret Calvert and others.

Following "Kitty MacKay" the Cort will have for their next attraction beginning Monday, April 12, "A Modern Eve" an operetta that has been the musical sensation of Europe.

KEITH THEATRE.

Princess Rajah, the world's greatest Oriental dancer, will come to B. F. Keith's Theatre the week of April 12th as one of the features of a gigantic spectacular bill. Rajah will appear in a superb spectacular scenic production of her wonderful "Cleopatra Dance," supported by a large company. She will also present the Arabian Chair dance, the most remarkable exhibition of strength ever placed upon a stage. Other big headliners of the week will include Carl Jorn, the renowned Wagnerian tenor from the Metropolitan Opera House in New York City, with a splendid repertoire of popular selections; James and Bonnie Thornton, the King and Queen of Variety, offering a series of songs and dances; Jesse L. Lasky's "Society Buds," a big musical comedy production with Gladys Clark and Henry Bergman, assisted by a big company of twenty singers, dancers, comedians, and pretty girls; and Hermine Shone and company in the merry comedy success, "The Last of the Quakers." Other exceptionally strong attractions of the week will include Edwin George, the talkative juggler; Ray Dooley Trio of juvenile entertainers and Herbert Geramine Trio of wonderful novelty acrobats.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE.

With unabated success "The Little Cafe" trips merrily into the second and last week of the engagement at the Hollis Street Theatre, beginning Monday April 12. This jingling musical comedy has again scored heavily in Boston and if laughter and merriment be exhilerating then "The Little Cafe" is an efficient spring tonic; wine women and song; light, color and melody; mirth, beauty and youth, everything necessary for the delight of the senses are offered in abundance, in fact the evening passes with a smash and a bang and a hurrah that is altogether refreshing. Julian Mitchell is responsible for the ensemble numbers and is credited with being able to handle a female chorus better than anyone else. He has staged more musical comedy productions than anyone in this country. "The Little Cafe" is the work of Ivan Caryll and C. M. S. McClellan who wrote the book of "The Pink Lady" and "Oh, Oh, Delphine!" The music is of the scintillating character that keeps everybody in good humor from the rise of the curtain to the final drop. Among the popular song hits are "You Little Cafe", "Good Bye" "Serve the Caviar", "The Best Queen of All", "This Gay Paree", "The Love is a Rose", and "Just Because it's You." Contrary to the usual musical comedy, this one is written in three acts instead of the usual two, yet the final curtain drops promptly at 10.45 P. M.

BOSTON THEATRE.

The Spring season of grand opera in English under the direction of Milton and Sargent Aborn opened at the Boston Theatre last Monday night to a large enthusiastic audience, the initial offering being "Aida," which was scheduled for three more performances in the first half of the week. The four performances of the latter half of the week are occupied with Puccini's "Madam Butterfly," with many of the same artists in the alternating casts The principal singers of the first week are Estelle Wentworth, Vivian Kingston, Mildred Rogers, Marie Louise Biggers, Morgan Kingston, Leonid Samoloff, Henry Taylor, John Graham, Thomas Chalmers, George Shields, Alfred Kaufman, Florence Coughlan, Philip Fein and Frederick Chapman, with Charles H. Jones as stage director and Josef Pasternack as conductor.

Many of the same artists will remain for the second week, and the added newcomers will be Gertrude Francis, Morton Adkins, Louis D'Angelo, Domenico Russo, Gladys Chandler and Mary Carson.

The first three nights and Wednesday matinee of the coming week will be given to Wagner's majestic "Lohengrin." The last three nights and Saturday matinee will be devoted to Verdis evergreen favorite, "Il Trovatore." Beside these eight regular performances, there will be extra matinee performances of "Haensel and Gretel" on Tuesday and Friday, April 13th and 16th. For the accommodation of school children and out-of-town patrons, the curtain will rise at three oclock,—an hour later than usual,—at these "Haensel and Gretel" matinees.

TOY THEATRE.

"Change," a Welsh play, with a Welsh actor of reputation on both sides of the Atlantic, to play the leading role and coach all the others is the novelty offered at the Toy Theatre Boston, for six performances only, beginning Monday evening April 12, closing Thursday evening April 15, with matinees Tuesday and Thursday.

"Change" is by J. O. Francis and is a realistic play of life among the colliers in South Wales. It has just been published by The Drama League and is an intensely interesting play with plenty of simple humor and the dramatic excitement provided by a strike breaking episode in which all the members of the family of John Price take their varying parts. Ernest Cove who was born and brought up close to the very town "Aberpandy" where the scene of Change is laid takes the part of the stiff old collier John Price. Jessie Cove his wife plays "Lizzie Ann" and the others in the cast Ruth Delano, Irving Pichel, Malcolm Morley, Everett Glass, Paul Boone, David Kimball and Day Manson make a very strong group.

There is no beautiful scenery in this production such as was seen at the Toy in "Captain Brassbound's Conversion," "The Great Catherine," "The Dark Lady of the Sonnets" and "Across the Border" only a simple cottage interior but the management promise that the acting will equal or excel anything so far seen at this very fascinating and rather astonishing little theatre.

SCOLLAY SQUARE OLYMPIA.

In addition to a score of big features which has characterized the weekly bills at the magnificent Scollay Square Olympia, the management announces that for the coming week a new and distinct innovation will be added to the program A chorus comprising fifty trained soloists, many of whom bear international reputations, will top the bill, that for excellence and variety is positively unequalled. The company is known as the Olympia Festival Chorus and will be directed by Richard Henry Warren, America's noted organist, whose versatility at the keyboard of the great $50.000 Moeller pipe organ installed in this theatre, has won him the esteem and plaudits of thousands of New England playgoers. The chorus will render a list of popular and classical selections In their renditions they will be assisted by the pipe organ, with Mr. Darren himself at the keyboard and an augmented orchestra of well trained musicians. The appearance of this unique and decidedly novel attraction will be merely an added feature to what the patrons of this popular theatre have been in the habit of getting.

MAJESTIC THEATRE.

The Dog and the Cat that talked; Bread, Milk, Water, Fire and Light which took on human shapes and accompanied the children Tyltyl and Mytyl in their quest for Happiness; the ugly Fairy Berylune and her lovely Palace; the Churchyard, the graves of which opened and disclosed a riot of blossoming lilies; the Kingdom of the Future where the unborn children dwell, and the far-off home of the Hours, the Happiness, the Stars, the Mist Maidens and the Blue children, these are just a few of the wonders that are disclosed to the delighted kiddies and their grownups in Maurice Maeterlinck's famous spectacular drama, "The Blue Bird," at the Majestic Theatre.

Indeed, "The Blue Bird"" production is said to be the most marvelous bit of stagecraft that has been witnessed in America. Certainly no scenes have yet been conceived that can compare in beauty and compelling weirdness with "The Palace of Night," "The Kingdom of the Past," "The Land of Happiness," and other lands born of the poet's imagination, where Mytyle and Tyltyl have their adventures.

Sunday April 11th is Low Shoe Day

THE BELL HAS RUNG

COME TO THE

GRANITE SHOE STORE

Today—You will be pleased with our goods and our prices.

All the latest styles and patterns in Spring Footwear. SEE US TODAY ! !

Granite Shoe Store
Quincy's Shoe Market
WALK OVER

The Sunnyside Dairy.

Pure Milk and Cream delivered at your door in clean, shiny bottles. Recommended by the leading physicians of Quincy, Braintree and Weymouth. We solicit your trade. Order by telephone Wey. 103 W or write F. T. JONES, P. O. Box 14, Weymouth.

Cattle and Barn inspected by Dr. Abele of Quincy.

March 5-eod-1m

Quincy E. E. GRAY CO. Wollaston
Two Stores
Tel. 327 M Quincy Reliable Groceries Tel. 1586 M Quincy
OUR TEAS and COFFEES
Are unsurpassed by any sold at the same price.
One trial will convince you.
Tea Prices Per lbs. 20c 30c 40c 50c
All Kinds and Flavors.
Coffee Prices Per lbs. 20c 25c 30c
Finest Creamery Butter Per lb. 30c

SUNNY SIDE of LIFE

HOW IT HAPPENED.

It was Pat's first day in the sawmill, and his duties consisted of working the circular saw. The foreman directed him as to its use, then left him in order to attend to some pressing matter. Having occasion, however to pass Pat's way again, he was somewhat annoyed to see him standing idly surveying his hand.

"Well, what's wrong?" he said sharply.

"ure and begorra I've lost a finger" replied Pat.

"How did it happen?" inquired the foreman.

"Sure I was jist doin' like this when —bejabbers! There's another one off!"—Pathfinder.

TAKE IT BACK AGAIN

Knicker—"So you think every wife should have an allowance?"

Bocker—"Certainly, otherwise there isn't anything to borrow."—New York Sun.

USUAL PLACE

Where was Magna Charta signed?
At the bottom! (Princeton Tiger)

HYPOCRITE

Jim—"What kind of a fellow is Briggs?"

Jack—"Oh, he's the sort that leaves his car in front of the church and goes across the street to shoot a game of pool."—Yale Record.

REAL PROOF

"Young Mr. Goodleigh is a true Christian," said the deacon's wife.

"I guess that's right," replied the deacon. "He has gone to the Sunday school picnic three years in succession." Life.

THE LIMIT

"She paints her eyebrows."

"Well, she has to draw the line somewhere." (Columbia Jester.)

The Wollaston Parent-teachers association will hold a meeting Monday evening. Dr. David Snedden state commissioner of education, will speak on "Current Problems In Educatfon."

Beginning Sunday April 11

The Reading Room of the Thomas Crane Public Library will be closed Sunday afternoons until further notice.

Per order of the Trustees
83t

The PROBLEM of GOOD MILK

All persons do not understand what is meant by good, safe milk. Some believe that the milk with a deep cream line is desirable, whereas, the Doctor knows that Holstein Milk, although containing little cream is often more desirable for babies, partly for this reason, or perhaps because of the method of production

The real criterion of a good milk is its wholesomeness This depends upon the conditions at the dairy, and the special care given it until it reaches the consumer. Scrupulously clean and healthy cows, clean and healthy dairymen, rapid cooling, and protecting the milk, constant dairy and laboratory inspection are required. Furthermore safety is assured when the dealer pasteurizes his supply.

THE ELM FARM MILK COMPANY OF DORCHESTER offer pure Family Milk, and exceptional Nursery Milk at prices often charged for ordinary milk Speak to the salesman, or call Dor. 2100. 6-1 mo.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. OBrien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 18 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

CUBS DEFEAT REGULAR TEAM

Odd Fellows Hold Special Contests

The Odd Fellows' teams clashed at the Wardwell alleys Thursday night. The Cubs beat the regulars, string for string and also in the total. L. Brooks had 119 for high single. A. Prescott was high scorer with 308. The match was warmly contested. The summary:

CAPT. BROOKS CUBS
W. Hodges	95	74	73	252
D. Bowers	71	75	80	226
C. Holmes	84	81	95	260
A. Prescott	102	111	95	308
L. Brooks	95	119	93	307
	447	470	436	1353
CAPT. GOMEZ "REGS."
G. Prout	77	74	85	236
J. Green	97	85	93	275
A. Marnock	78	98	76	252
A. Gomez	80	84	74	238
F. Halquist	80	84	100	264
	412	425	428	1265

THREE TIE IN FOURTH PLACE

Three men tied for fourth place, one pin behind the third place man, in the roll offs at the Coliseum alleys Thursday night.

Farrar had 126 for high single. The three high men were winners. The scores:

Farrar	78	102	126	306
Morrisette	83	113	108	304
Westland	119	87	97	303
Herne	94	89	119	302
Smollett	91	109	102	302
Sweeney	119	98	85	302

CARPENTER AND BUILDER
PLANS EXCOUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
All Work Given Prompt Attention
W. R. LOFGREN
19 College St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 3683

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S
Tel. 1040-W Quincy

LEWIS N CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
Old Furniture Refinished
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING
WALL PAPER FOR SALE
KUSTAA RASANEN
121 Copeland St., West Quincy
Tel. Com 104

COYLE QUINTETTE ARE CHAMPIONS

Secure Impregnable Position in Next To Last Roll

SHARP FIGHT FOR SECOND

K. OF C. LEAGUE.

Capt. Coyle	39	17
Capt. Fallon	33	23
Capt. R. Sullivan	32	24
Capt. P. Avery	30	26
Capt. Cantfill	21	35
Capt. F. Avery	13	43

High single—R. Sullivan and W. Mahan 130.

High Individual total, W. Mahan 336.

High team single, Capt. Coyle 481.

High team total, Capt. Coyle 1401.

Capt. Coyle 4, Capt. Avery 0.
Capt. Cantfill 2, Capt. P. Avery 2.
Capt. Fallon 3, Capt. Sullivan 1.

The quintette of Captain Coyle won the championship of the Knights of Columbus league in the next to the last match of the schedule at the Wardwell alleys Thursday evening. Their total of 39 points won, is three more than the five of Capt. Fallon, which is in second place but cannot displace them.

The fight in the final Monday night will be between the Fallons, Sullivans and Paul Avery combinations. The returns will decide second and third positions in the league. There is also a possibility that the league records may be smashed and the holders of the marks the greater part of the season may not be given the prizes, on that account at the banquet to be held within a short time.

The feature of the matches last night was the rolling of Lavelle who tripled with three strings by the century. The figures were reached through good legitimate bowling. The absence of three regulars from the Avery team forced the substitution of their season records and gave the Coyles a better opportunity of copping top place. The summaries:

CAPT. COYLE.
Hogan	74	79	73	226
Sullivan	94	76	89	259
Thompson	86	98	98	282
Dummy	85	85	85	255
Coyle	92	99	95	286
	432	437	440	1309
CAPT. AVERY.
Burns	90	105	102	297
Dummy	83	83	83	249
Dummy	86	86	86	258
Welsh	91	80	84	255
Dummy	80	80	80	240
	430	434	435	1299
CAPT. CANTFILL.
Dummy	84	84	84	252
McGrath	97	80	107	284
McDermott	82	83	87	252
Costello	84	84	84	252
Cantfill	82	98	101	281
	427	429	463	1319
CAPT. P. AVERY.
Murphy	99	83	76	258
Dummy	73	73	73	219
Lavelle	108	101	104	313
Walsh	81	78	91	250
P. Avery	106	86	88	280
	473	421	432	1326
CAPT. FALLON.
Mahan	84	81	89	254
Flaherty	92	84	92	268
Cain	82	78	79	239
Ford	96	106	80	282
Dummy	82	82	82	246
	436	431	422	1289
CAPT. R. SULLIVAN.
Powers	83	83	85	251
Myatt	79	84	77	240
Dummy	83	82	82	246
Haggerty	84	83	80	247
R. Sullivan	99	96	87	282
	430	432	418	1270

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

WASECA DUO ARE VICTORS

The Waseca tandem, Swain and Veale, and Pinel, decisively defeated the Redmen doubles, Swain and Veale, in a Quincy Social clubs tandem tournament match at the Wardwell alleys Thursday night. The losers rolled very low. The total was 1866 to 1593. The strings:

Wright	78	117	99	111	94—
	93	99	86	98	108—983
Pinel	92	100	83	89	102
	79	79	88	94	77—883
Swain	81	71	77	80	86
	66	77	95	78	66—777
Veale	78	93	89	95	85
	88	71	88	49	80—816

THREATENS TO HURT CANDY BUSINESS

Federal Court Rules That Talc Is Classed as Adulterant

Boston, April 7.—Easter candy eggs polished by rolling them in talc are "adulterated," within the meaning af the pure food and drugs act, according to an opinion handed down in the United States circuit court of appeals by Judge Bingham.

The opinion is based on a very broad view of the law and threatens to affect the candy business generally, as talc is continuously used for coating purposes.

In 1911 the government seized 104 boxes of confectionery that had been shipped here from New York and Pennsylvania. The manufacturers conceded that the candy had been treated with talc during the process of rolling in order to impart a polish and to prevent adhering.

They also conceded that minute quantities of talc may have adhered, but denied that the talc was used as an adulterant or that the confectionery was adulterated within the meaning of the act.

In his opinion Bingham stated that talc was a mineral compound, not an article of food, and there was no evidence that it existed naturally in any form of confectionery.

The Odenwald Incident

Washington, April 7.—Investigation of the circumstances under which the American forts at San Juan, P. R., opened fire on the German steamer Odenwald and alleged undue detention of the vessel by the port authorities has been requested of the state department by the German embassy here.

Three Drown In Auto Plunge

Newark, N. J., April 7.—Three young members of the Montclair Academy Alumni association were drowned when an automobile in which they were riding with four others plunged through an open drawbridge into the Passaic river.

Town Put Out of Business

Tarrytown, N. Y., April 7.—Creditors of the village of Hillsdale attached the portable police station, empty safe and chairs and tables in the town hall, putting the town out of business.

CAR MEN'S BALL TONIGHT.

An ideal evening is promised for the annual concert and ball of the Street Railway Employees union which will to be held this evening at Music hall There will be a promenade concert from 8 to 9 oclock which will be followed by dancing. At the close of the ball special cars will leave in front of the hall for all terminals, including Brockton.

ARE YOUR FRUIT TREES
Giving Satisfactory Results?
WE STRONGLY RECOMMEND
BRADLEY'S FRUIT FERTILIZER
It Supplies the Elements Most Important for Fruitage.
WE HAVE EVERYTHING FOR THE GARDEN
GIVE US A CALL
NATHAN AMES
5 Granite St.
USE CARBORUNDUM SHARPENING STONES

FREDERICK MORS.

Says He Killed Eight In Odd Fellows' Home, Yonkers, N. Y.

Photo by American Press Association.

MORS LEAVES JAIL

Man Who Said He Killed Eight Persons May Go to Asylum

White Plains, N. Y., April 9.—After being locked up in the White Plains jail since Feb. 3, because of his confession that he killed eight aged inmates of the German Odd Fellows' home in Yonkers, Frederick Mors was ordered discharged by Coroner Dunn.

Mors, who is believed to be of unsound mind, will probably be consigned to the Matteawan asylum.

GREAT INCREASE IN TOBACCO INDUSTRY

Connecticut Growers to Put 3280 Acres Under Cloth

Hartford, April 9.—Noteworthy progress in the shade-grown tobacco industry in the Connecticut valley is observable this year. In 1914 the total acreage under cloth was less than 2000. Thirty-five growers will this season put at least 3280 acres into shaded tobacco.

This denotes an increase of 60 percent, which is the largest expansion that has taken place in this important industry in any one of the fifteen seasons since Marcus L. Floyd cultivated the first little patch of tobacco under cloth at Poquonok in the summer of the year 1900.

An investment of $2,000,000 is necessary to carry out the plans in an industry which promises remarkable expansion.

HUMANIZING THE LAW

Alien Women and Girls Are to Receive Better Treatment

Washington, April 9.—Greater consideration is to be shown in the future to alien women and girls arrested or detained by immigration authorities under amendments to the immigration rules.

Hereafter those detained or arrested upon their arrival in this country will be placed under the supervision of special female officers, who will see to it that they are properly cared for in the immigration stations or by philanthropic or other similar organizations. Only in case of absolute necessity shall detained women and girls be placed in jails or other similar places.

The bureau has made arrangements to notify women's organizations in Europe and elsewhere of all facts and circumstances of all cases, so that in case aliens are deported assistance may be rendered them when they reach their native country.

BOUGHT BY MAINE MAN

Trolley Property In Bay State Disposed of Under the Hammer

Worcester, Mass., April 9.—The property of the Worcester, Brookfield and Spencer Street Railway company, including a trolley line from Spencer to West Warren and a branch from East Brookfield to North Brookfield, was sold at auction to Frank L. Palmer of Saco, Me., for $160,000. The property has been offered for sale for several months, but the sales adjourned because the bids were not large enough to satisfy the court.

Crazy Man Imprisons Family

New York, April 9.—Crazed by unemployment, Henry Forsberg imprisoned his wife and four children for a week in their home. They were starving when rescued by police.

Fire Destroys Allies' Hay

Houston, Tex., April 7.—Two hundred thousand bales of hay awaiting shipment to European countries engaged in war were burned here with the warehouses of W. L. Edmondson.

WITH BUT ONE EXCEPTION

Business Shows Improvement In Every State In the Union

Washington, April 9.—Business conditions throughout the country are showing marked improvement in almost all lines, according to reports from national bank examiners made public by the treasury department.

Reports by the ninety examiners in the United States reported a permanent improvement in business.

Of the seven New England districts reporting, none shows a decline in business conditions, while three districts show improvement. Maine is the only portion reporting real depression, while other reliable interests report that the situation is improving. In Rhode Island the jewelry business only is badly depressed, all other business indicating gains.

A stagnant condition exists in central Massachusetts. The lines which show the greatest activity are those with orders for war supplies, which include shoes, woolens, course cotton, arms, ammunition, and metals. Textiles, lumber, steel and iron show improvement. The machine and shoddy business is very good and there is a fairly good business in plated wares and copper utensils.

BODY FOUND IN MORGUE

Boston Paving Inspector Had Been Missing For Three Weeks

Boston, April 9.—A day after the police were asked to aid in searching for him, the body of Edmund J. Fitzgerald, a city inspector of paving, was found in the city hospital morgue, where it had lain three weeks.

Although a membership card in the Ancient Order of Hibernians bearing Fitzgerald's full name was found in the pocket of his coat when the body was brought to the morgue no effort was made, so far as could be learned, to communicate with his relatives.

Fitzgerald disappeared from his home March 12 and died that same night in a house on Shawmut avenue. He had visited this place several times and was known there as Edward Fitz. He was 45 years old.

HOBOES SHIFT TO SUMMER RESIDENCE

"Hotel de Gump" Succeeds Hostelry Known as "de Gink"

New York, April 9.—The Hotel de Gink, Gotham's famous hobo hostelry, closed its doors. Its foyer, spacious lobby, and checker room, grill and kitchen were stripped of furnishings.

Guests and outfitting were transplanted to a Bensonhurst farm, and a new summer home for wayfarers, called the Hotel de Gump opened. "Gump" means "chicken" in the vernacular of the road, according to Jeff Davis, presiding genius of the project. The "boss" will raise chickens this summer, use of the farm having been donated.

Davis said the "De Gink" was put out of business by New York's "charity trust," but would be opened in a new location next winter.

The hotel guests and their baggage were moved in style from the old hotel to their summer residence, two automobiles and an automobile truck being donated.

"RELIEF" FOR AFRICANS

Big Cargo of Rum Being Loaded at Boston For the West Coast

Boston, April 9.—Unless the prohibition wave hits Africa before the vessel gets there, the four-master schooner Orleans of this port, which will leave for the West Coast within a few days, will probably be received by the natives as a "relief ship," too, for beneath her hatches will be more than 200,000 gallons of rum.

The rum is in 1500 hogsheads and 200 kegs. It is well sealed and the schooner expects to make the run in five weeks to the shores of sunny Africa where the beneficial results of grape juice is no nearer the natives' knowledge than it was in the days of old New England when the Yankee traders carried rum there to barter for ivory.

Expensive Legal Services

Boston, April 9.—For legal services, "other than services in connection with damage claims," the Bay State Street Railway company has paid in four years $300,000, according to admissions of Charles R. Rockwell, vice president and treasurer of the company, in exhibits filed with the board of arbitration that is to adjust the wage scale of the company.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

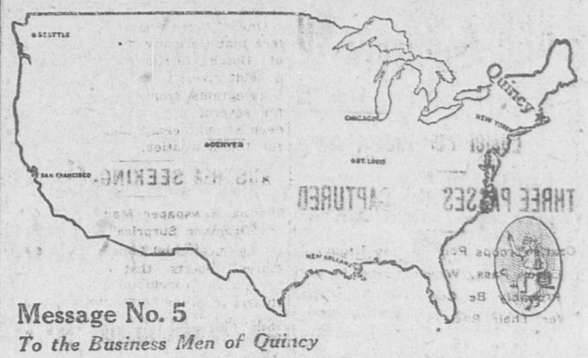

The Collins block, a three-story brick structure at Adams, Mass., was destroyed by fire. The loss will exceed $50,000.

The late Miss Anna E. Smith of New York made bequests aggregating $259,000 to charitable, religious and educational institutions.

George Breckenridge of San Antonio, Tex., gave to the University of Texas his $100,000 yacht Navidad.

Dulany Howland, former general manager of the New York Herald, died at New York.

In an effort to exterminate coyotes infected with rabies, the rangers of the [illegible] forest in Oregon killed more than 100 coyotes.

Message No. 5
To the Business Men of Quincy

The prosperity of a city is in direct proportion to the local pride. Where local pride runs high, prosperity has a firm foothold. Such a town is a good place to live and do business in.

Paint helps to a remarkable degree in spreading an impression of prosperity throughout a community. It gives a fresh, new, inviting look wherever it is used. Municipal buildings, stores and homes feel its good effects. Growing business is bound to be one of the direct results of a liberal use of paint, not from any magic in the paint, but because of the pride which is stimulated.

Beyer-Bauman White Lead
(Dutch Boy Painter Trade Mark)

mixed with pure linseed oil is the paint of quality and always has been. Lasting and economical. Get in touch with us today. We carry all painting requisites.

WILLIAM WESTLAND

MEN!
BUY YOUR NEW SPRING SUIT AT WHOLESALE PRICES
SAVE FROM $5.00 to $10.00

The modern plan of clothes selling. No high ground floor rents—No credit accounts—No commissions to salesmen—No deliveries.

$18.00 and $20.00 SUITS $13.25
THE WHOLSALE PRICE

Daniels Clothing Co.
240 Tremont St. (Second Floor) Boston
Open Saturdays Till 9 P. M.
Next to Wilbur Theatre 5-7-9

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1030 or Main 414

Protection in Fencing

If you need fencing, wire stretchers or fencing pliers you will find a large variety in our assortment. Now is the time toput your fencing in order, and this is the place to go for assistance.

Whether you are making poultry a business or not, you wil probably need an abundance of netting. Right here, we wish to state that we carry the very best grade and in various widths, which we can furniah at extremely low prices.

Come in and look Our Stock over.

L. Grossman & Sons 37 FEDERAL AVE.
Near Quincy Adams Depot Tel 979-R

GOAL
ANNOUNCEMENT

April 1, 1915.

Full coal bins are a source of real satisfaction. We are filling our bins as rapidly as possible with FRESH MINED COAL. By placing your order now YOU can take advantage of the LOW PRICES announced in the schedule below. Coal will positively ADVANCE IN PRICE later. There will be no Further Reduction.

We should be glad to call and talk Coal with you if you will notify us.

PRICES FOR CASH

Franklin Egg and Stove	$8.50 per ton
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75 per ton
Shamokin Stove	7.50 per ton
White Ash Broken	6.50 per ton
White Ash Egg	7.25 per ton
White Ash Stove	7.25 per ton
White Ash Nut	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Broken	6.75 per ton
Lehigh Egg	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Stove	7.50 per ton
Pea	5.50 per ton

25 cents per ton extra where coal is carried in. Orders taken for these Prices are for delivery by July 1, 1915.

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc.

AUSTRIAN ARMY BADLY SMASHED

Passage to Hungary Becomes Easier For Russians

THREE PASSES ARE CAPTURED

Czar's Troops Pouring Into Region of Uzsok Pass, Where Austrians Will Probably Be Compelled to Transfer Their Base—Heavy Battle Being Fought In West, With Result Undetermined—French Troops to Participate In Dardanelles Attack—No Sign of Hostilities Between Holland and Germany

London, April 9.—The advance of the Russians in the Carpathians has cut the Austrian army under General Boerovitch in two places. The Austrian eastern wing is in a precarious position.

The Russians have captured Smolnik, east of Lupkow pass, according to advices from Petrograd.

The Russians also have thrown back the Austrians in the district of Bartfeld and in the district of Lupkow. Having advanced through the Rostock pass, they have forced a wedge between the Austrian armies.

Smolnik controls the only road through the Beskid mountains between Mezo Laborcz and Uszok, a distance of sixty miles.

The western wing of the Austrian army has its base at Gummence, and its communication along the roads into Hungary are quite safe. The eastern wing, on the contrary, is joined with the forces operating around Uzsok, twenty miles from the Russian positions at Smolnik, by which they are threatened with attack.

It is regarded as likely that the Austrians will be compelled to transfer their base at Uzsok in the direction of Munkaca, or else accept battle at Uzsok, handicapped by the lack of roads.

Austrians Are Cut Off

In either case the Austrians will find themselves cut off from the main army under Boerovitch and his German reinforcements.

The Russians have crossed the crest of the Beskids at Gummence and apparently have a clear road to the plains of Hungary.

The fighting in the mountain passes continues as fiercely as ever and, although Austria claims that her troops, with the assistance of Germans, have gained success on both sides of the Laborcza valley, the Russians are, on the whole, much further advanced than they were a week ago and have now forced the Dukla, Lupkow and Bostok passes, and are pouring troops into the region of Uzsok pass, where the heaviest battle is now in progress.

So far as the rest of the eastern front is concerned, the only battle of any importance is that in Bukowina, where the Austrians are thrusting at the Russian positions in the hope of compelling the Russians to send reinforcements from the Carpathians.

In west Galicia and Poland the overflowing rivers and bottomless marshes prevent movements on a large scale.

Fighting In the West

These same conditions are hindering the French operations between the Meuse and Moselle rivers, the French official report stating that heavy rains have rendered the ground difficult for the movement of troops and the employment of artillery.

A very important battle is in progress in this region, however, and the French claim to be making advances—a claim which is contested by the Germans, who declare that all the attacks have been repulsed.

Whichever report is correct, there is little doubt that a sanguinary battle is being fought and that in the attacks and counter-attacks very heavy losses have been sustained.

Preparing to Invest Straits

French troops from Africa are ready to assist the allied fleets and British expeditionary forces against Turkey. The following official statement was issued by the French war office:

"The expeditionary corps to the Orient, which was placed under command of General D'Amade and concentrated at Bizerta (a fortified seaport of Tunis, Africa) to perfect its organization, has effected the voyage of the Levant under the best of conditions. It has been ready since March 15 to aid the allied fleets and British expeditionary corps.

"In waiting it was deemed advisable not to prolong the stay of the troops aboard the transports, and for this reason the hospitality of Egypt was accepted. The French forces have been debarked at Alexandria and are installing at Ramleh, where they are resting and perfecting their organization and cohesion. They are ready to proceed without delay to any point necessary."

War Rumors Unconfirmed

Rumors were current in London of a declaration of hostilities between Germany and Holland. They were, however, without confirmation, and dispatches from The Hague ignored any such development.

The minister of the Netherlands in London, when questioned, said he had heard rumors to this same effect. He had no information on the subject himself and he discredited the report.

One of these rumors was to the effect that Germany had seized a strip of Dutch territory south of the Scheldt river.

Telegrams from Holland say that for several days the Germans have been strengthening their guard along the Dutch frontier.

AUSTRIA SEEKING PEACE?

Vienna Newspaper Man Looks For "Dramatic Surprise" Very Soon

The Gazetta del Popolo of Turin declares reports that Austria contemplates concluding peace with Russia in order better to defend herself against Italy are not so visionary as official communications issued at Vinna would indicate.

The correspondent of the paper at the Austrian capital professes to have obtained reliable information to the effect that the Austrian government already has opened semi-official pourparlers with two powers of the triple entente and he believes a "dramatic surprise" is possible.

FABALA NOT ARMED

British Claim That Those Aboard Had Not Time to Escape

The British admiralty issued an official statement regarding the torpedoing of the liner Fabala, with the loss of 112 lives, to refute the statement issued by the German embassy at Washington.

The admiralty denied that the Fabala carried any guns. It was stated that the five minutes intervening between the submarine's warning signal and the explosion of the torpedo was insufficient to permit the passengers and crew to escape.

TURKEY NEEDS MORE HELP

Sultan Promulgates Irade Calling Youths to the Colors

An irade promulgated by the Sultan of Turkey authorizes the ministry of war to call out all men capable of bearing arms, but who heretofore were not liable for service, inclusive of the ages of 19 and 20, for the defense of the Turkish coasts and frontiers and the maintenance of order.

The ministery also is given power to enroll for military service all immigrants for the duration of mobilization.

BULLET FOR THE SULTAN

It Goes Wide of Mark and Would-Be Assassin Is Arrested

An attempt was made at Cairo to assassinate the Sultan of Egypt, Huszin Kemal. As the sultan was leaving Abdin palace a native fired a shot at him. This went wide and the native was seized.

The assailant described himself as a native Egyptian, 25 years of age, and a merchant hailing from Mansurin. He was perfectly composed.

Prince Huszin Kemal, the eldest living prince of the family of Mehemet Ali, was appointed Sultan of Egypt last December to succeed the Khedive of Egypt, Abbas Hilmi, when Great Britain proclaimed a protectorate over Egypt.

GREAT LOVE TRIBUTE

Thousands of Persons View the Remains of Curtis Guild

Boston, April 9.—Thirty thousand people paid tribute to Curtis Guild, three times their governor, and always their friend, while his body lay in state in the Hall of Flags at the state house.

It was undoubtedly the greatest demonstration of affection and grief accorded a son of this commonwealth within the memory of the living. It was a tribute of devotion to Guild, the soldier, statesman, leader, but most of all the man.

This noon at his funeral, thousands more added another tribute to his memory. And those who gathered around his bier in the Arlington Street church represented the nations of the globe, this nation, the state, the city and a host of friends in all walks of life.

THREE YEARS FOR JOYCE

Former City Clerk of Medford Pleads Guilty to Misuse of Funds

Cambridge, Mass., April 9.—Allston F. Joyce, former city clerk of Medford, in whose accounts a shortage of $9139.64 was discovered and who has been indicted in twenty-four counts charging larceny, was arraigned before Judge Fisk in the superior criminal court here.

He pleaded guilty to three counts and was sentenced to serve three years in the house of correction.

Counsel for Joyce told the court restitution had been made in part, and, in view of this and because the accused is 62 years of age, District Attorney Corcoran consented to the three-year term.

Bean Made Secretary of State

Concord, N. H., April 9.—The New Hampshire legislature elected Edwin C. Bean of Belmont, speaker of the house of representatives, to the office of secretary of state, to succeed Edward N. Pearson of Concord, resigned.

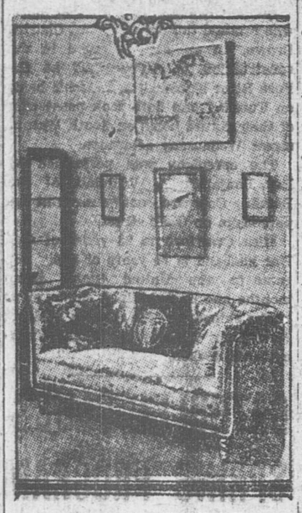

Life Term For Killing Woman

Concord, N. H., April 9.—John Stewart of Northfield was sentenced to life imprisonment for the murder of Mrs. Myra Bean at Northfield. He pleaded guilty to murder in the first degree.

ATTRACTIVE ROOMS.

Simplicity, Comfort and Good Taste Should Reign Through the Home.

No room in the house has greater possibilities of remodeling, especially if old fashioned and in need of freshening, than the living room. It is the heart of the home, where throb the collective activities, intelligencies and pleasures of the household. It should never be the expression of the taste or hobby of an "individual," but a harmonious whole which is the outcome of one mind striking fire from another, a particular talent, fraternizing with its brother talents, a neutral ground where every hobby makes room for his neighbor.

USEFUL AND HANDSOME SOFA.

A neutral ground. That is the keynote. And neutrality combines simplicity with diplomacy, comfort and good taste.

It should be simplicity itself because a cluttered room, whether it be the clutter of too many designs and colors in rugs, wall paper, hangings or woodwork or an endless conglomeration of furniture and bric-a-brac, is never attractive nor restful. An empty space is far better than an ugly, useless piece of furniture, and this also applies to ornaments. A simply furnished room should be able to stand the "homey" disorder which is bound to take place in a home of varied activities and tastes. Open, half read books, tumbled cushions, magazines and newspapers, sheets of music, bits of sewing and the masculine touch of a pipe or two contribute its greatest attraction—"the home atmosphere."

The living room should be comfortable and restful to mind, eye and body with solid, well made furniture, carefully placed and shaded lights, soft neutral tinted walls, low toned rugs and hangings, never so intricate nor conspicuous in design or color that they create restlessness by torturing the eye of the beholder. Easily accessible books, a capacious desk or writing table and a sofa designed for use and equipped with cushions for use and not for show. No cushion has an excuse for being save the one with an easily laundered cover against which the head can rest without the uneasy feeling that possibly you may be soiling it or with the still more disturbing feeling that it may be already in that condition.

The sofa pictured here was in a room which had been recently finished over. All the pieces were of walnut and were reupholstered in a tapestry in which the predominating shade was a brown a trifle lighter than the walnut framework and was figured with brownish leaves like the soft brown often seen when oak trees have donned their autumnal coloring. The cushions were all of washable materials in the same tints.

A FEW DON'TS FOR PARENTS.

Don't forget that children, like plants, suffer seriously from want of sunlight.

Don't forget that children are more seriously affected by impure air than grown people.

Don't let the nursery be used as a laundry nor a larder. Food should never be kept in it.

Don't forget that lowered vitality makes children more liable to catch any infectious disease.

Don't say "don't" to your little one. Remember to tell the child what he is to do, not what he is not to do.

Don't forget that little children are easily depressed by gloomy surroundings, and this lowers their vitality.

Don't forget that you sometimes do harm to your children by doing too much for them. There are things that it is far better to teach the children to do for themselves.

Don't shake or scold a child who wakes up and cries out in the night. Often night terrors are a purely nervous affection and any harshness only makes matters worse.

Don't think that money is wasted in buying pretty paper and bright colored paint for the decorations of the nursery. Money spent on brightening life at its opening will bear good interest in health and happiness.

Don't think that any room in the house will do for the nursery, as "it's only for the children." The sunniest most airy and most cheerful room in the house should be given to the children if you want them to be healthy

The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company.

To the Stockholders of The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company:

NOTICE is hereby given that a special meeting of the stockholders of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company will be held at Harmonie Hall, 9 Elm Street, in the city of New Haven, Connecticut, on SATURDAY, THE 24th DAY OF APRIL, 1915, at twelve o'clock noon, to consider and act upon the following propositions:

1. To reduce the capital stock of this Company from 1,800,170 shares to 1,571,179 shares by retiring and cancelling 228,991 shares now in this Company's treasury.

2. To accept the amendment to the charter of this corporation contained in an Act of the General Assembly of the State of Connecticut, approved March 19th, 1915, entitled "An Act amending the charter of The New York New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company," and to authorize the directors to exercise the powers therein conferred.

3. To accept the amendment to the charter of this corporation contained in an Act passed by the General Assembly of the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations at its January Session, A. D. 1915, and approved March 26, 1915, entitled "An Act in Amendment of and in addition to an Act entitled 'An Act to Incorporate The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company, a Corporation in this State,' passed by the General Assembly at its January Session. A. D. 1893.""

4. To authorize the issue of bonds by this Company as successor to the New York, Providence and Boston Railroad Company and as successor to the New Haven and Northampton Company, pursuant to the terms of, and for the purposes set forth in the mortgages of said companies, dated April 1st, 1892, and June 1st, 1906, respectively.

Only stockholders of record at the close of business April 10, 1915, will be entitled to vote.

Dated at New Haven, Connecticut, the 3d day of April, 1915.

By order of the Board of Directors.

A. E. CLARK, Secretary.

2t 9-16

NO. 5324.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts

LAND COURT.

To Arthur P. Benson of Dedham, in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth; William Edwards of Quincy, in said County of Norfolk; and to all whom it may concern

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Charles E. Baker of Melrose, in the County of Middlesex, and said Commonwealth, to register and confirm his title in the following described land

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situate in said Quincy, being lot 13 on a plan made by H. F. Whitman, dated July 1894, recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Libro 740, Folio 399, bounded and described as follows:—

Beginning at the northerly corner of the land hereinafter described at a point on the southwesterly side of a private way thirty (30) feet wide, shown on said plan, said bound being distant two hundred sixteen and 4-10 (216.4) feet southeasterly from the southeasterly line of another private way thirty (30) feet wide, which extends to Bicknell Street; thence running in a southwesterly direction along the line of lot numbered twelve (12) on said plan forty-five (45) feet to lot numbered fourteen (14) on said plan; thence turning and running in a southeasterly direction along the line of lot numbered fourteen (14) on said plan, seventy-nine and 32-100 (79.32) feet; thence turning and running in a northeasterly direction forty-five and 21-100 (45.21) feet to the southwesterly line of said first mentioned private way; thence turning and running along said southwesterly line of said first mentioned private way northwesterly seventy-five (75) feet to lot numbered twelve (12) on said plan, being the point of beginning. Containing 3472 square feet of land.

Petitioner claims as appurtenant to the above described land rights or easements as follows:——Right of free passage on foot, with vehicles and otherwise, over and along a thirty (30) foot private way, shown on said plan and first mentioned in the above description to the second mentioned private way referred to in said description, which extends to Bicknell street; also such other rights of way, if any, as it may appear from an investigation that said petitioner is entitled to

The above described land is shown on a plan filed in Land Court case No. 1710, numbered 1740, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the twentieth day of April A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-fifth day of March in the year nineteen hundred and fifteen.

Attest with Seal of said Court.

CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.

(Seal.)

3t Mar. 26 April 2-9

Arthur B. Foster

CARPENTER and BUILDER

14 Bay View St., Quincy Point

Telephone Connection

31-1m

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Private garage, large, light and roomy. 380 Washington street, City. 8-3t

FOR RENT—1126 Hancock street, opposite Adams Academy, house 7 rooms, and bath 18 Faxon avenue, suite 6 rooms and bath, every modern improvement Tel. 414-M Weymouth. 7-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 7-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of two family house, 5 rooms and bath, all improvements, 3 Bradford street, Quincy Adams. Apply to William Duggan, Bradford street or telephone Quincy 724-W. 7-6t

TO LET—With private family, centrally located, a room suitable for one person, modern conveniences, and rent reasonable. Write Ledger L. M. B., or call Quincy 1796W. 7-6t

TO LET—Half house of six rooms and large laundry to adult family, conveniences, large garden. Rent $20. Apply to George H. Newcomb, 21 Adams Bldg. or M. M. Newcomb, 39 Gay street or phone 1990 Quincy. 2-tf

RENT REDUCED—Half house at 31 Bigelow street in first class condition; good neighborhood and convenient to everything. Bath, laundry, furnace coal range, shades, screens, gas etc. Apply at 33 Bigelow street. 1-tf

TO LET—At 33 Bigelow street, Quincy, a desirable house of eight rooms with improvements. Ready for occupancy about April 15. Apply on premises. 1-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house. 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2, Quincy or 110 South street, Boston, Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET—Upper and lower flats 91 and 93 Revere road 4 and 6 rooms and bath. To small families, $20 and $18. Fred M. Torrey, 25 Spear St., Tel. 202-1 Quincy. 27-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 5 rooms, one attic room and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. 97 Goddard street, near Quincy Adams Station. 15-tf.

TO LET—Tenement of three rooms $7.50 per month. Good place for hens. James Moorhead, 28 Curtis street. Tel. 599-1. 15-tf.

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 5 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

TO LET

TO LET—Large square bedroom in private family. Near Wollaston beach Will board. Man and wife preferred. Write M. W. Ledger Office or telephone 439-M. 8-3t

TO LET—Upper flat of 4 rooms and bath. All improvements, electric lights, furnace, gas stove, etc. For further particulars enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 8-tf

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements. 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 13-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Milk wagon, painted and varnished, strong, carry a ton. Bargain $75. 50 Squantum street, East Milton, phone 688-M Milton. 9-3t

FOR SALE—A half house on Quincy avenue near Scammel street. Apply to E. F. Curtis, 172 Washington street, Weymouth. Tel. 253-M. 8-3t

FOR SALE—Building lots on highest point of land between Boston and Plymouth. One minute from electric fifteen minutes from steam, 15c fare to Boston, 5c fare to Fore River, gas, electricity and town water A live town Dr. Taylor, South Weymouth, Mass. 7-6t

FOR SALE OR TO LET—On Independence avenue, South Quincy, an 8 room cottage, with all modern improvements. If not sold by May 1. will be let. J. B. Sutherland, Independence avenue. 8-3t

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E. R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-tf. L P.

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

TO LET

Large Room 30 x 36

Second Floor

Savings Bank Building

Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes

Quincy Savings Bank

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.

Nov

EDWARD J. FEGAN

COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW

830 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.

914-915 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.

10.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK QUINCY.

M. T. SULLIVAN

Real Estate Insurance

Auctioneer Care of Property

Justice of the Peace

Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

Prescott Apartments

For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service. Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.

Houses H. F. McIntire Greenleaf Bl'k Tel. Quincy 1665-W.

Dandy bungalow in E Braintree for sale; small pay't., bal. as rent: see this at once.

Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.

1-1 yr.

LOST

LOST—Brindle Boston Bull pup, 7 months old, screw tail and small cataract on each eye Frank Canavan, 8 1-2 Intervale street, South Quincy 7-3t

WANTED

WANTED—Carpenters, all grades. Apply at new house, Independence avenue or J. W. Pratt, 5 Summer street, corner of School street. 8-3t

WANTED—Desirable board and room by young couple in private family, Quincy or Quincy Point. References if desired. Write N, care of Ledger Office. 7-3t

WANTED—Chamber, 2nd, seamstress, mother's helper, general maids housekeeper, first class positions waiting. Oldest employment office in city, L. M. Flynn, 22 Maple street, next to Post office. Phone 2235-W. 7-3t

CHAUFFEUR—Wants position with private family or on truck. Temperate. Long experience and best of references. Melvin L. Dell, 40 Franklin street. Telephone 1056-W. 5-6t

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

TO LET

After May 1, Store or Stores No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.

Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.

22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.

Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up

Offices and Desk Room.

City Square Office, Hancock Bld.

Small front office.

Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.

City Square Store House or Shop—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

City Square Club Room or Hall—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK

CITY SQUARE

(Best location in City.)

Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.

Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS

Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.

Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.

Ask for R. r. Bribe.)

Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 2306) Quincy

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.

will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.

OFFICE AT

96 WASHINGTON ST. QUINCY

Tel. 618

BE WISE

FOOL THE FLIES

HAVE YOUR SCREENS RE-COVERED NOW

TELEPHONE OR WRITE

HOLMES & HALL

1179 HANCOCK ST.

TEL. QUINCY 1606 W

Spring Is Here To Stay

Fritz is ready to make you gentlemen an Up-To-Date Spring Suit or Overcoat. We have the latest style Woolens, and the ability of making good clothing we have proved it for the past 18 years here in Quincy.

We pay strict attention to Cleaning, Pressing and repairing.

Open Evenings

BERNARD FRITZ & SON

7 DEPOT ST., -- -- Opposite City Hall

YOUR SUNDAY DINNER OUR SPECIALTY
— FOR SATURDAY —

Legs of Lamb* 20c lb

Sale holds good as long as lot lasts

Strawberries	30c Box
Cucumbers	10c
Celery	18c
Lettuce	5 and 8c
Spinach, Radishes,
Asparagus	33c Bunch
Half Bunches	20c
Large Grape Fruit	4 for 25
Navel oranges	25-29
Sun Kist Lemons	17c

Native Chicken* 28c lb

Our Roast Beef

has no accuser therefore it needs no introducer.

Quality is of the very finest, prices lowest for Best Quality

Coughlin & Donovan

HIGH QUALITY MARKET

1475 Hancock St.

Tel. 696 W. Free Delivery

The George L. Gill Associates entertained at whist in Odd Fellows' hall Thursday afternoon with nine tables in play and several spectators. The winners of souvenirs were Mrs. G. W. Sargent, Mrs. Mary O'Neil, Miss M. Lizzie Furnald, Mrs. G. Bolster, Mrs. Mary L. Thomas, Mrs. M. Davidson, Mrs. W. R. Thomas, Mrs. W. S. Wilbur.

You'll Like These Hats

THE "NO NAME" HAT

THE "NO NAME" HAT

Investigate the merits of our NO NAME HATS, you'll find it fully up to your expectations, its all that a hat should be—and a little more. We've marked it $3; you'll find it worth $4. The same holds true of all our hats. Every one has the new Spring idea. You get what is correct—all shades, all shapes. Will tell you plainly that our No Name Hat can't be duplicated anywhere, in style, price or value. Plan to visit us today, try this hat on. We'll give it to you for $3

OTHER MAKES fully guaranteed by us which we sell for

$2.50 $2.00 $1.50 95c

Big Shirt Values Here

All the new Spring Shirts, both soft and laundered cuffs, a large and complete stock unequalled in this community. Special prices here

$1.50 value $1.15 75c value 48c

$1.00 value 79c 50c value 35c

Great Values in New Neckwear

New Spring patterns in Neckwear—Four-in-hands with large flowing ends. Positively the handsomest line in the city. New Goods—Low Prices.

75c value 48c 35c value 21c

50c value 35c 25c value 15c

New Fibre Silk Hose 25c all colors

REMICKS

The Wide-Awake Store --- Music Hall Block

BARON ANSWERS CALL OF WILD

The "Call of the Wild" again lured Baron Munchausen, or his successor, to Houghs Neck Thursday and although the unknown did not repeat his visits to the people he called on Wednesday he passed several hours walking back and forth in front of their homes.

In all places his appearance created considerable excitement, principally because on the preceeding day he not only told stories which developed into startling untruths but also claimed to be the grandest liar to the south of Boston.

No attempt has been made by the people of the district to verify his boast although they are satisfied he can "go some." Just how he will be received on his next visit is hard to say.

GOVERNOR SETS ARBOR DAY

Governor Walsh today issues a proclamation setting apart April 24 as Arbor Day. The proclamation reads:

"In order to impress more strongly upon the citizens of Massachusetts the great importance of our orchards and forests to the common welfare the General Court has decreed that the last Saturday in April of each year should be set apart as a special day for "the planting of trees, shrubs and vines, the promoting of forest growth and culture, and the adorning of public and private grounds."

I, therefore, David I. Walsh, Governor, do hereby designate and set apart Saturday, the twenty-fourth day of April, as and I urge and invite all good citizens old and young, to do their part to make the day, and all other days during the planting season, of real advantage to these important interests

ARBOR DAY

To the first settlers the magnificent forests of New England were mainly a menace and an impediment —the lurking-places of savage foes and cumberers of the land needed for agriculture.

By following generations the forests have been heedlessly exploited for immediate gain, with too little regard for consequences to soil and climate and to the rights of posterity.

It is for us now to redeem as far as may be former errors, to reclothe stony and infertile wastes with valuable timber, to develop our unexcelled orchard resources, to beautify our landscapes, and to line our highways with a grateful shade.

Given at the Executive Chamber, in Boston, this eighth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and thirty-ninth.

(Signed) David I. Walsh,

BRIEFS

On Friday April 23 the Nonpareil A. C. will hold a dance in Alpha hall.

A meeting of the Men's club of the Swedish Lutheran church will be held Monday evening, April 19.

The Allerton A. C. will hold a dance in Alpha hall on Wednesday evening, April 21.

The Thistle Girls will hold their yearly dance in Alpha hall on the evening of Tuesday April 22.

The annual meeting of the Wollaston Unitarian club will be held Tuesday evening.

The Seneca club will hold its annual dance in Alpha hall on next Friday evening.

Mrs. Bennett of Muskogee, Oka., and son Leo are the guests of Capt. and Mrs. Daniel R. McKay.

The annual dance of Granite conclave, I. O. H., will be held this evening.

Loyal Ladies of Clan MacGregor will hold their grand costume ball on the evening of Monday, April 19, in Music hall.

Ladies Night will be observed by Quincy conclave, Knights of Sherwood Forest, on the evening of Friday, Aril 30.

The Saturday Auction Bridge club meets tomorrow afternoon with Miss Ethel G. Hersey of Washington street, Quincy Point.

The annual ball of Division 5, A. O. H., will be held Wednesday evening. The annual ball of Ave Maria council K. of C., will be held the same evening.

Adams Chapter, Daughters of Revolution, have passed resolutions on the death of Hon. Charles Francis Adams. The chapter has also sent a letter of condolence to the family of Mrs. Mary A. Chapman, former state regent and an honorary member of Adams chapter, who died recently.

WASTING HIS BREATH.

Americans have been warned again to get out of Mexico. Americans in Mexico seem to pay no more attention to Mr. Bryan's warnings than Carranza pays to them.—Charleston News.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

BIRTHS

CONNORS—In Quincy, April 8, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius J. Connors, 17 Taft street.

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service

1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

CROSSES OCEAN TO MARRY HER

Charles Brown Marries Girl From England

Annie Crawford, an English miss, who crossed the ocean to wed Charles Brown, an engineer engaged in the construction of submarines at the Fore River shipyard, became his bride on Tuesday and both took possession of their future home on South Walnut street Wednesday afternoon.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott of the Bethany Congregational church at the parsonage on Goffe street.

Miss Crawford is 23 years of age. Her husband is 24 years of age. He came to the United States some months ago and obtained employment at the shipyard. He met his bride at New York Tuesday when the Transylvania docked.

CATHOLIC CLUBS SPRING PROGRAM

The Quincy Catholic club completed part of its spring program at a meeting in the rooms of Quincy council, K. of C., Thursday evening. President Mrs. Agnes Reardon presided.

The committee in charge of the matinee whist party in Colonial hall Saturday afternoon reported a fine response by members and friends and the banquet committee reported that event would take place in June. A May party was proposed and a committee was appointed to take it in charge.

It was also announced that the annual election of officers will take place at the next meeting.

During the social hour which followed there were piano solos by Miss M. McDonald of Dorchester and vocal solos by Miss Margaret E. Mills of Dorchester, Miss Teresa Wholey and Miss Annie Walsh of Quincy.

SERVICES FOR JAMES F. ALLAN

The funeral of James F. Allan, inspector of meats and provisions, who died at the City Hospital, Tuesday was held this afternoon at 2.30 from his late home, 15 Thayer street. The services were conducted of Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott of the Bethany church. There was a profusion of beautiful flowers which included tributes fro m the officials and clerks at city hall, the employees of Johnson Bros. store where Mr. Allan had been employed for many years, from Clan MacGregor, O. S. C., and from a host of friends.

Clan MacGregor attended the sercises and escorted the body to the cemetery. Out of respect to his memory the store of Johnson Bros., was closed during the hour of the funeral. The burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

ASSOCIATION IN THREE ACT FARCE

The Quincy Elementary Teachers Association at its meeting in the Coddington school hall Thursday evening voted to give the charitable fund, contributed by the members to the Associated Charities of Quincy to be applied, as they may direct, to local relief.

Those present included members and friends who gathered for the entertainment which followed the meeting. The main feature was a three act farce, "The Lover's Stratagem," the cast of which was the Misses Anio DeAvellar, Alice Munster, Ruth Kemp, Elizabeth Powers, Olive Moody and Mabel E. Lovejoy.

The male parts were taken by Miss Moody and Miss Lovejoy, and the presentation was coached by the latter. During the evening music was furnished by Whites orchestra, composed of High school students.

PASSING THROUGH CRISIS.

The condition of Robert T. Johnson is reported as more encouraging. Mr. Johnson is passing through the crisis and is showing unexpected vitality.

A Perfect Roast

is a source of delight to the epicure. We dress meats daintily and spicily and merit your everlasting approval. Every sanitary precaution taken by us to keep our meats in perfect condition.

Choice Rib Roasts of Prime Beef	14—18—22 lb.
French Roast, top of shoulder, rolled, all meat, economical,	20 lb
Rib Steak Roast, no fat, no bone, a favorite with many	22 lb.
Vein Roast, no waste, all good meat,	22 lb.
Hatchet Corn, best Maine,	2 cans 25
Good Peas, Tomatoes,	3 cans 25
Sears Pure Raspberry Jam regular 25 size for	20 Bottle
Van Camps Beans, 20 size	3 cans 50
Carnation Milk	3 cans 25
Blue Label Catsup, large size Bottle	19
Manhattan Marmalade, large size Bottle	15
Hersheys Cocoa, 1-2 lb can	16
Pompeian Olive Oil, Quart can	75

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980

FOY'S

2 STORES

WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

HOLD ANNUAL GYM MEET

Play Basket Ball and Other Games

The Quincy Young Women's club held its annual gym meet in the High school gym Thursday night. A large gallery of members and friends witnessed the events which included folk dancing, relay, chariot and club races, and passing the medicine ball.

The regular program was interrupted for a few moments while Miss Minnie Packard, president of the club, presented Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann one of the interested spectators with a handsome bunch of Killarney roses. In her presentation Miss Packard spoke of the appreciation of the members for the assistance given by Mrs. Pfaffmann to the club since is organization and conveyed the well wishes of the girls.

Mrs. Pfaffmann, greatly surprised, made a brief speech of acknowledgement.

The basket ball game, a lively event, was won by Atlantic 22, Wollaston 18. Miss Ruth Bass was the highest individual scorer.

Capt. Miss May Nyhan and the Atlantic girls had little difficulty in winning the medicine ball contest. The Wollaston relay chariot team, captained by Miss Ruth Bass, was a winner and the Atlantic girls captured the club race and the dodge ball contest.

During the evening there were several readings by Mrs. Frank Butler which were will received. The summary of the basket ball game:

ATLANTIC		WOLLASTON
M. Bean	rf	lb E. Whitehead
E. O'Toole	lf	rb R. Bass
M. Hill	c	c E. Mullen
H. O'Toole	rb	lf, M. Packard
H. Waterhouse	lb	rf A. Lowe

Score Atlantic 22, Wollaston 18.

Goals from floor Mildred Bean 3, Eulalie O'Toole 2, Margeurite Hill 2, Helena O'Toole 2, Harriett Waterhouse 2, Ruth Bass, 5, Edith Mullin 4.

The following verses were written by Mrs. Carrie M. Warren of 17 Webster street in celebration of Atlantic's victory:

Rah, rah, rah, Atlantic won
O 'twas fun
To watch how slick the thing was done

Quincy sore? It may be so. We don't care
We did our best
And we played fair.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Foy's Two Stores.
Nathan Ames.
Madame Sarkin.
Frank Fessenden Crane.
E. E. Gray Co.
Bernard Fritz & Son.
Quincy Public Market.
Remick's Clothing Store.
Coughlin & Donovan.
Granite Shoe Store.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Are you Particular

About the quality, freshness, delicate flavor and tenderness of the Meat you buy and eat ? If so, we invite you to our up-to-date market, where absolute sanitation prevails.

Let us send you a choice cut for Sunday's dinner so you can prove by eating, the superiority of our Meats.

Leg Loin of Genuine Lamb	19c lb
Fancy Corned Brisket	15c lb
Lean Flanked Corned Beef	9c lb
Corned Shoulders	11c lb
Best Sirloin Steak	25c lb
Fresh Spinach	30c pk

Also Lettuce, Celery, Cucumbers, Oranges, Grape-Fruit, Cranberries, Apples and lots of other vegetables Fresh daily.

FRESH FISH AT ALL TIMES.

Quincy Public Market

1514 Hancock St. Kincaide's Block

Phone 1434 J Legal Stamps Free Delivery

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 85 QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY EVENING, APRIL 10, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

FIVE HUNDRED COUPLES ATTEND CARMEN'S BALL

Thirteenth Annual Dance of Association is Biggest Ever

Hundreds, who for years, believed the number 13 to be unlucky, saw their pet theory shattered at Music hall Friday night when over 1000 attended the 13th annual ball of the Quincy Branch of the Amalgamated association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America.

The large crowd arrived early and stayed late and Music hall patrons, for the first time since the hall's erection, saw nearly 800 people for two solid hours attempt to dance at the same time. So dense was the throng that all were forced to moderate the modern dances and the familiar glides and plain dances were given places of honor in the program.

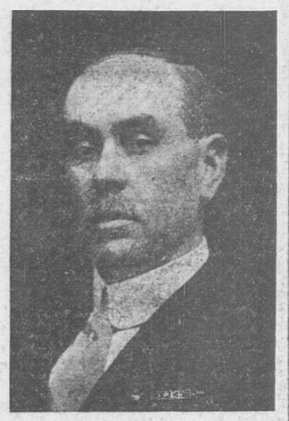

The association broke all kinds of records in this year's affair. Not only were more tickets than ever sold but the attendance was the biggest since the affairs have been run and the territory from Brockton and Boston and Milton to Hull furnished its share of guests.

The proceeds will be devoted to the sick and death fund and will be, it is expected the largest amount ever realized.

SPECIAL GUESTS.

Men prominent in railway circles and public life were amoung the guests of the evening Mayor Chester I. Campbell, who was in Philadelphia, was unable to be present. The guests included Gen. Supt. and Mrs. John Conway, Div. Supt. and Mrs. Thos. R. Gammons, Fred Kimball, vice president of the Brockton local, Michael Coughlin, superintendent of car barns, Frank Yates of Brockton, superintendent of the line department, Martin Brennan, superintendent of the East Weymouth car barn, John Noonan, superintendent of the Braintree car barn, Robert Barry, superintendent of the Quincy car barn.

Congressman Richard Olney 2nd, representative of the 14th congressional district of which Quincy is a part, James Mandeville of Hyde Park, Edward J. Fegan of the Board of Trade, Representative Edward J. Sandberg of the Sixth Norfolk district, Representative Charles A. Ericson of the Fifth Norfolk district, Thomas Butler, chief of police of East Weymouth, Acting Chief McKay of the Quincy police.

PRESIDENT WILLIAM H. GOULD.

MARCH A FEATURE.

The concert, during the arrival of the hundreds who attended, was by Wilson's seven piece orchestra, partially concealed behind decorations of Easter lilies, greenery, palms, flags and illumined lanterns. At nine o'clock the officers of the dance took their places in the march with Wil-

(Continued on Page Two.)

MADAME SARKIN

1463 Hancock St., Quincy Mass.

Owing to the stormy Easter weather we are reducing our line of Ready Made Suits, Skirts, Waists and Petticoats to very reasonable prices as we must make room for summer goods.

We are always ready to take your order for Custom work, cleansing, pressing, dyeing, etc. Prompt service.

Tel. 1727-M. April 9-2t

ANNUAL DRAMATICS OF

Q. H. S. ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

"THE RUNAWAYS"

HIGH SCHOOL HALL SAT. MAY 8 at 8 P. M.

Only 250 Reserved Seats AT 50c EACH.

Can be bought at MURPHY'S DRUG STORE, QUINCY, BROOK'S DRUG STORE, WOLLASTON, AFTER WEDNESDAY, APRIL 14th. ADMISSION 35 CENTS.

Information from Dorothy Packard Tel. 28

BETTER THAN 6 %

PREFERRED SHARES

— OF —

THE CITY REALTY TRUST

PRICE PAR $100

CUMULATIVE PARTICIPATING AND NON-TAXABLE

Over quarter of a million ($250,000) paid in strong surplus account steadily increasing.

Annual certified Audit and Appraisal.

A common stock bonus on a limited number of Preferred shares.

FOR BOOKLET, general information, etc.

Address

QUINCY A. LOTHROP

10 Post Office Square, BOSTON, MASS.

TRUSTEES

CHESTER I. CAMPBELL

LOUIS H. PARKHURST

April 10-3t-10-14-17

CONCLAVE HOLDS ANNUAL DANCE

Informal Ball Is Highly Enjoyed

Members of the Heptasophs and friends danced at the annual assembly in Alpha hall Friday evening under the auspices of Granite conclave. Among the guests were Representatives Edward J. Sandberg and Charles A. Ericson, and residents of the metropolitan district.

The music of the evening was by Provosts orchestra and the special number was "On Old Cape Cod," a waltz recently composed by William Provost. The dance was repeatedly encored.

The affair was strictly informal although the friends and wives of the young men wore pretty dresses and carried handsome bouquets. The decorations of the hall were potted plants and palms.

Archon William J. Canty was chairman of the committee of arrangements and assisting him were the officers: M. H. Irving, past archon Daniel Reardon, provost: James Collins, prelate; Edward Young, inspector: Kenney Hirtle, warder; Edward Ferguson, sentinel; F. P. Hill, financier; J. Cahill, treasurer; Mark B. Gill, secretary.

FIRST PRIZE TO HAMILTON

Hamilton won the gold watch, first prize, in the City square rolloffs Friday night. All varieties of prizes were given. The winners, prizes and totals:

Hamilton, watch	292
Regan, diamond scarf pin	291
G. Erickson, initial fob	291
V. Stevens, gold chain	287
Crockett, cuffe links	284
C. Broberg, booby	241

There were plenty of ties. Erickson and Regan rolled off the tie and tied each other twice and a single pin gave the place to Regan in the third attempt.

NEW DENTAL SOCIETY.

At meeting of the Dentists of Quincy, Braintree and Weymouth, Thursday evening, a new dental society was formed, known as the South Shore Dental Society. The following officers were elected:

Dr. Fenimore S. Andrews, of Quincy, president.

Dr. Chas. E. Monroe of Wollaston, vice president.

Dr. Ralph R. Stoddard of Quincy, secretary.

Dr. H. L. Keene of Quincy, treasurer.

Dr. Walter S. Davis of Braintree, Dr. James H. Maloney, Quincy, Dr. H. M. Stetson, East Weymouth were elected members of the executive committee.

The society was formed for the purpose of elevating professional character to encourage social intercourse and good will among the dentists and to cultivate higher ethical principles.

G. A. R. RELIEF TONIGHT.

A meeting of the G. A. R. Relief association, postponed from a week ago, will be held at city hall this evening.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity. Sunday unsettled. Monday probably fair and cooler.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	5.11
Sun sets	6.21
Length of day	13.10
Moon rises	3.50
High water, A. M.	9.15
High water, P. M.	9.45
Days increase 4 hrs. 4 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	62 degrees
Apr. 10, 1914,	54 degrees
Apr. 10, 1913,	51 degrees

Noon Maximum 18 years—86

Noon Minimum 18 years—30

MAY ESTABLISH H. S. SCHOLARSHIP

Alumni Association To Give Play, "The Runaways," May 8.

TICKET SALE WEDNESDAY

The establishment of a scholarship for the most deserving High school student at any New England college or the formation of a loan fund for college students is one of the aims of the executive committee of the new Quincy High School Alumni association and may be attained in the early future if present plans are successful.

Whether any such step can be taken this year will depend in large measure upon the success that may attend the first annual Alumni play, "The Runaways," which is to be given in High School hall, Saturday evening, May 8, at 8 P. M.

This dramatic performance, in which some of the best stage stars of the last 10 classes will take part, is to be given jointly by the athletic and entertainment committees of the association, as half of the net proceeds will be devoted in some way to helping or fostering the athletics of the school.

The balance of the proceeds will go into the association treasury. If the sum is large enough it is hinted by Pres. Lucien H. Thayer that a substantial amount may be appropriated to serve as a small scholarship for some deserving student planning to enter college.

"Unquestionably there could be no better channel for the expenditure of the association's money than a school scholarship" said Mr. Thayer today. "It is something we have had in mind for some time. There is, however, some doubt as to the possibility of establishing such a scholarship before next year, on account of the great expense there has been incidental to the formation of the association this year. I hope it will be possible in the early future."

"The Runaways" is a funny, racy three-act comedy staged on a Western ranch where a misunderstanding causes all manner of fun and confusion, a pair of arch-criminals, diamond thieves, entering into the plot. At length the complications are simplified by explanation amid general rejoicing. The play is coached by Mrs. Molly (Brown) Sheppard, a popular local dramatic star.

The cast is as follows:

Jean MacLean, Little Miss Fixit, Miss Margaret Magee, '14

Mrs. Juniper, a young wife, Miss Juanita Metherall, '12

Victoria, the Girl in the Taxi, Miss Jean Arthur, '11

Texana, the Girl of the Golden West, Miss Ruth Packard, '08

Max Juniper, a perplexed husband, Edward R. Hall, '07

Alonzo Willing, a fortune hunter, Maurice Blackmur, '12

Ted Keegan, the Man on the Box, Everett Rhodes, '08

Sheriff Jim Larrabee, Officer 666, Loyal Safford, '14

Paul Blackmur is chairman of the entertainment committee of the association and Russell T. Bates chairman of the athletic committee. The distribution of tickets is in the hands of Miss Dorothy Packard of the entertainment committee. Reserved seat tickets or admission tickets will be on sale at Brooks' Drug Store, Wollaston, or Murphy's Drug Store, Quincy, after Wednesday, April 14. There will be only 250 reserved seats.

Meanwhile Chairman Bates of the thletic committee is rounding up a fast base ball team to play the High School team April 19, the holiday, and a big crowd of alumni are expected to be on hand to root for the "used-to-bes." Since the Alumni were beaten in basket ball they are out to even up matters on the diamond, but the High school boys feel confident.

Early in June, probably on Saturday, June 12, the Alumni outdoor picnic is to be held at some neighboring park and plans for a rousing celebration are under way.

☞PRATT'S BREAD sales have increased because it satisfies. Your grocer.

CAPTURES THIEFS AFTER LONG CHASE

Three Dorchester Boys Rob Small Store on Willard Street

LADS MAKE RESTITUTION

Three Dorchester boys, two 15 and one 17 years of age, caught by patrolman Travers of Milton after a two mile chase were arraigned in court this morning for breaking and entering the small store of Charles D. Adams on Willard street, West Quincy, Friday afternoon. They made restitution for the three boxes of candy taken and were placed on probation.

The break occurred at three o'clock while Mr. Adams was at the East Milton station getting his supply of evening papers. It was alleged this morning that two gained entrance through the rear while the third kept watch. The trio were seen by Estelle Coffey, a young colored girl, who lives nearby. She notified Patrolman Travers.

He started in pursuit of the boys and the chase led down Granite avenue across fields. The officer commandeered a passing auto and when the boys were almost over the Milton line at Granite bridge he apprehended them.

The chase caused no end of excitement in Milton. Before starting out Patrolman Travers notified police headquarters. Chief Pierce was paying his men when he received the call.

He immediately ordered all hands to the scene in the police auto and chief' car, thinking yeggs instead of boys had committed the theft. They arrived just before Patrolman Travers caught the boys.

The building occupied by Adams is a small one. The boys say a window was broken and the place appeared to be deserted.

CHURCH GIVES FINE CONCERT

The Epworth league concert at the Atlantic M. E. church Friday night was interesting and well attended. It consisted of a reading and song recital by Florences Rich Williams. She was assisted by Emma E. Waiker, violinist, and Arville D. Walker, accompanist. The affair was in charge of a committee of which Miss Marion G. Green was president and Theo R. Davison, first vice president. The program:

PART I

Reading—Keeping a Seat at the Benefit Mae Isabelle Fiske

Violin Solo

Scene de Ballet De Beriot

Song Life's Maytime Ernest Newton

Reading—A Story of the Kindergarten Marion Hill

PART II

Violin Solo

"Berceuse" from Jocelyn Godard

Humoreske Dvorak

Song

Happy Days Violin obligato Strelezki

Reading

Jim Smiley's Frog Mark Twain

Song

Spring Love Song Denza

Reading Jimmy Butler and the Owl

FIRE IN BUNGALOW.

Chief Billings and the Houghs Neck Combination responded to a still alarm at 7.45 this morning for a fire in the bungalow at the corner of Crosby and Sea streets owned by Mrs. Hattie Connor and occupied by Addison Hammond. The fire started in the kitchen back of the stove and damaged the bungalow about $50 worth.

VIEWING STREETS.

The City Council committee on streets accompanied by the Mayor, Commissioner Brown and City Engineer Sargent, this afternoon is viewing the streets for which petitions and orders have been received for acceptance, or rebuilding, etc.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

DEPLORE PRESENT LACK OF TRUE PATRIOTISM

Stirring Addresses In Observance of Lee's Surrender

The program Friday afternoon at the observance of the fiftieth anniversary of the surrender of Gen. Robert E. Lee to Gen. U. S. Grant at Appomattox was a most interesting one. The exercises were largely attended by members of Paul Revere Post and kindred patriotic organizations. Stirring talks were given by Charles H. Johnson, John D. Mackay, chairman of the School Committee, Lyndon D. Gurney of Atlantic a son of the late Thomas Gurney, a well known Grand Army Veteran, Past Commanders George L. Phillips and Francis P. Loud.

In addition to these talks there were vocal selections by Mrs. Nason readings by Mrs. Kate A. Blaisdell and musical selections by the Misses Ruth, Dorothy and Minnie Packard.

Past Commander Loud related some of the events of the civil war which had come under his personal observation and Past Commander Phillips gave some patriotic recitations.

Mr. Gurney advanced a new idea when he spoke strongly of the elimination from the text books in the public schools of all the sorrowful events of the country, especially those in regard to the civil and other wars. Instead of recounting these incidences we should teach the good results from the war. Speaking for the unpatriotic spirit that was being shown today he advanced the theory that the patriotic organizations themselves were more to blame for this condition than anyone else.

He paid a high tribute to Gen Grant whom remembered having seen at the time he passed through Quincy in a special train stopping for a few minutes at the Quincy Depot. He recalled vividly the great enthusiasm shown by the citizens at that time. He also paid a tribute to Gen. Lee, saying that he was one of the best citizens the country ever had, that he had joined the Confederacy because he believed it his duty, and after the war became a fine citizen and set a great example.

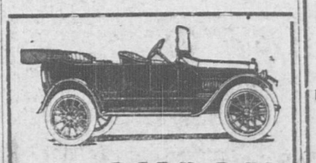

Chairman Mackay of the school board said that he came to pay his respects to the veterans of the great struggle and he expressed his surprise that the citizens did not manifest more interest in the observance of the day. He thought that municipalities as well as republics were inclined to be ungrateful. Continuing he said "The old soldier has his reward for all he did and all he dared. He has the consciousness of having served not only his day and generation but also the generations to follow after him. It is a splendid heritage you gentlemen have to hand down to your sons and daughters. There can be no greater honor than having shouldered a rifle in defense of your country. Every citizen impliedly agrees to lay down his life for his country if need be and the country on its part agrees to protect the citizen. This is the basic principle of our government. By responding to the call of your President fifty-four years ago you proved that you were willing to lay your lives on the altar of loyalty. I hope you will continue to make your influence felt in matters pertaining to the government of the country, for no class of men deserve to be listened to more than you. You should, I think, advocate a greater army and navy for this country, for righteousness alone will not save a nation. It must be able to protect itself from injustice. Witness the treatment of Belgium, a country which gave no offense to any other. Germany's cannons are shaying Europe because in peace she prepared for war. Great Britain is mistress of the seas for the same reason. This country should have such a navy and

(Continued on Page Six.)

CITY OF QUINCY.
Department of Health.
April 10, 1915.

Bids will be received by the Board of Health at their office Room 12, City Hall, until Wednesday, April 14, 1915 at 10 A. M., for building a fence around the Quarry Hole on Apthorp Street, Atlantic and also about Wilson's Quarry, West Quincy. Specifications may be obtained by calling at the office of the Board of Health.

WALTER H. BUCHAN, Chairman.
Board of Health.
10-2t

JACKSON Model 46

THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL. SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER

"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"

Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT

$1375

JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.

EVERETT F. PRIOR

TRIBOU'S GARAGE

TEL. QUINCY 141

FOR SALE

40ft. MAST

ALMOST NEW COST $45.00

PRICE $12.00

Call at 43 Whitney Road or 'Phone 1063M Quincy

4t 10, 12, 15, 17

TO LET

After May 1, Store or Stores No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.

Shop or Factory—21 Granite St.

22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.

Durgin-Merrill Block 1 flight up

Offices and Desk Room.

City Square Office. Hancock Bld.

Small front office.

Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.

City Square Store House or Shop

-ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

City Square Club Room or Hall

—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK

CITY SQUARE

(Best location in City.)

Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.

Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS

Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.

Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building. City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.

Ask for R.E. Weekly.

Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 1006) Quincy

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

A TIMELY TOPIC.

Pulmonary tuberculosis or consumption is communicable. It is a disease of the lungs and is taken from other people who have it. It is not simply caused by a cold although a cold may make it easier to take the disease. Matter coughed up or sneezed up by the people who have the disease is full of living germs of "tubercle bacilli" too small to be seen. These germs are the cause of tuberculosis and when they are breathed into the lungs of weakened and debilitated people, they set up the disease. Tuberculosis thrives in poverty and ignorance. For the protection of the community careful and intelligent treatment should be given freely to those known to have the disease.

For this reason persons predisposed to it should be carefuly watched and carefully instructed as to personal hygiene diet, living conditions, etc.

For this reason persons afflicted and in the early stages of the disease should be kept in touch with the doctor and urged, assisted if necessary, to take sanitarium treatment.

For this reason especially, a dispensary easily reached by the sick, by tired mothers, and weak and weary workers, should be provided. The law requires that such a dispensary shall be provided by cities and towns, but no law makes it compulsory that people visit such a dispensary. Should wenot in Quincy interest ourselves to see that our dispensary shall be located where it will be used? That it shall be in the center of the city, within two or three minutes walk of Quincy depot, easily accessible to all who need to use it. First, for the sake of those afflicted; second, for the sake of those in danger of contracting the disease.

A dispensary differs from a hospital in that it is simply a place where people may go freely for advice and treatment. It is intended for those who cannot afford to employ a private physician.

The law Chapter 576, Acts of 1911, amended by Chapter 408, Acts of 1914 says that the dispensary must be provided and the time limit when the dispensary shall be established and equipped has been made July 1, 1915 or a fine of $500 may be imposed for every case.

In this city 140 have died from tuberculosis since January 1, 1913. (These figures do not include deaths from pneumonia.) At the present time there are 208 families where persons are known to be suffering from this disease; this is probably from 1-3 to 1-2 the number of those who have it. (These figures may be verified at the rooms of the Board of Health.) Recently it was discovered that 140 families known by the Associated Charities to have tuberculosis were not known to the Board of Health the reason being that a large number of those suffering from the disease are going to Boston dispensaries for treatment. In the 140 families known there are a great many children varying in numbers from 1 to 9, and as it is estimated that about 75 per cent of all cases of tuberculosis are contracted during childhood, it is most important that the children in these families should be carefully watched and examined from time to time.

The District Nurses, the School Nurse, the workers in the Associated Charities, in fact all those whose work brings them in contact with the sick and the poor in their homes are especially interested in having the Quincy dispensary well and centrally located, as all should be. It is a matter which concerns the rich as well as the poor, and all localities should be equally interested, as it is time that active measures were taken to reduce the number of cases and to stop the spread of the disease. The most effective way of dealing with the problem has been found to be through the centrally located dispensary, easily accessible to the sick and the poor and to the children, with a nurse to visit the homes where the trouble is. To put such a dispensary in some inaccessible place, away from car lines, would be only complying with the letter of the law and would be poor economy, as under those circumstances it would not be used, because people suffering from the disease are especially helpless, weak and sensitive. We should make things as easy as possible for them to receive the best treatment.

Jenny M. Purchase
Secretary Quincy Associated Charities.

FIVE HUNDRED COUPLES

Continued from Page One.

liam Gould, president of the local association, and Mrs. Alfred Bean as the head couple. There were 50 couple who participated, the majority of those present packing the balcony and sides of the hall. Frequent applause burst from the gathering as the different formations were executed and the marchers were tendered an ovation as they swung into quartettes and octettes. The applause became thunderous as with finesse they swung into a 16 couple lines, and marched the length of the hall. The movement was spectacular and as unexpected as pleasant.

PLAIN DANCING IN STYLE.

There were 22 numbers on the program, six of them plain dances. Old and young joined in the dancing and event Joseph Finnegan of Braintree, one of the oldest employees of the road in point of service, clasped hands with a young woman of that town in the Portland fancy.

The supper was served at 11 o'clock, and four different times, the banquet hall was packed. The preparations were not without incident either, for as the auto of Burleigh and Martin the caterers, was swinging around to the banquet hall entrance, a large box fell over the edge of the tailboard and the dishes it contained were shattered in a thousand fragments when they struck the paving in front of the hall. The menu:

Roast Turkey Mashed Potatoes
Cranberry Sauce
Potato Salad
Banana Fritters Cream Fritters
Rolls
Lobster Salad Chicken Salad
Chicken Croquettes and Peas
Cream Sauce
Assorted Fancy - Light Home-Made Cakes
Lady Fingers Macaroons
Harlequin
Frozen Pudding
Sultana Roll, Claret Sauce
Strawberry Mousse Sherbets
Coffee

OFFICERS OF THE DANCE

The committee of arrangements was headed by William H. Gould, chairman, John J. Kelly, secretary and Frank W. Sampson, treasurer, assisted by W. S. Belyea, A. Sandberg, J. S. Ronanyne, E. S. Gomez, J. Ford, J. P. McManus, J. F. Kelly, F. W. Thiesfeldt, George C. Dunham, C. Gill, R. Kaufman, H. A. Guy, William Pierce, J. Murphy, George T. Slavin.

William H. Gould was floor marshall Frank W. Sampson was floor director for the 13th time. George Arbuckle, H. A. Guy and F. W. Thiesfeldt were assistant floor directors. Alfred Sandberg was chief of aids and his assistants were: D. Taylor, A. Trumbull, M. Hawes, J. F. Sullivan, W. Anderson, G. W. Ford, H. Gould, J. F. Finnegan, D. Kearns, F. Locke, S. Marr, E. Dillon, J. Stratton, William Abbott, S. Delorey, W. Cowe, William O'Connell, W. Mullin, R. J. McDonald, George Smith, George C. Dunham.

William N. Fields was chairman of the reception committee. The other members were: J. Brassill, C. Gill, E. Myatt, A. Blanchard, George Sprague, T. Ferguson, H. Johnson, H. Packard, J. F. O'Brien, George Walker, F. Russell, George Fay, J. Murphy, T. A. Boyle.

The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader.

Pratt's Vienna Bread
A Bread made after a fixed formula by expert workmen in a light, modern bakery.
Sold Through Grocers

DR. G. F. S. PEARCE
DENTIST
327 Newport Avenue, Wollaston
Mondays -- Wednesdays -- Fridays
8 to 12 — 1 to 5
EVENINGS
Boston Office 194 Boylston Street
June 24-1y-w. s.

CLARA MORRISON
Pianist and Teacher
Leschetizky Method
CATHERINE MORRISON
Mandolin and Guitar
50 Hamilton Street, Wollaston
Tel. Quincy 1815-W. Sept 30-w.s.-1y

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE.

The Education committee of Quincy Women's Club is to give an illustrated lecture for the benefit of the School Nurse in Coddington school hall Tuesday evening. "Belgium before the War," will be Miss Edith Randall's subject. Her travels have taken her through this great war country where she has many personal friends among the Belgians. She has personally selected many attractive views which now remain a part of history. The musical program will consist of vocal and instrumental music by courtesy of Mrs. Frank J. Moore.

Among the patrons and patronesses are the following:

HIGH SCHOOL TEACHERS.

Ernest L. Collins, principal, Frank L. Mansur, sub-master, John F. Roache, Robert F. Aschenbach, Harry W. French, Edward H. Fuller, George W. Paulsen, Charles B. Thomson, John G. Grainger, William B. Pierce, Enor Lundin, Clara E. Thompson, Grace A. Howe, Louisa R. Holt, Harriet B. Whitaker, Frances M. Newcomb, Elizabeth M. Douglas, Elizabeth L. O'Neill, Victoria M. H. Zeller, Edith L. Abbott, Juliette C. Bostwick, Mary N. Whitcomb, Pearl N. Perry, Lucy H. Atwood, Mildred H. Allen, Alice D. Brooks, Sally F. Dawes, Esther G. Anderson, J. Marjorie Bailey, Margaret Seymour, Maud P. Thayer, Isabel McMurtry, Elizabeth G. Anderson and Elinor Furber.

ADAMS SCHOOL.

Arthur S. Townsend, master, Miss Mary L. Eagan, Miss Jennie F. Griffin, Miss Elizabeth N. Ross, Miss Bessie E. Roberts, Miss Ruth Kemp, Mrs. Lucy B. Page, Miss Eliza F. Dolan, Miss Beatrice Rothwell, Miss Lora E. Lamb and Miss Euphrasia Herman.

ATHERTON HOUGH.

James S. Perkins, master, Miss Elizabeth A. Garrity, Miss M. Alice Kennedy, Miss Anna L. DeAvellar, Miss Margaret C. Casey and Miss A. Gertrude Sanderson.

CODDINGTON SCHOOL.

James S. Perkins, master, Miss E. Gertrude Drislain, Miss Frances A. Kelley, Miss Jennie N. Whitcher, Miss Mary E. Costello, Miss Ada M. Williams, Miss Olive F. Moody, Miss Katherine T. Larkin, Miss Marjorie A. Miller, Miss Gladys Flieger, Miss Ethel F. Marsh, Miss Esther M. Demill, Miss Helen M. Mayer, Miss Grace J. Elcock and Miss Mary A. Geary.

CRANCH SCHOOL.

Arthur S. Townsend, master, Miss Carrie A. Crane, Miss Elizabeth C. Hamlin, Miss Elsie E. Turner, Miss Helen F. Burke, Miss Annie C. Healey, Miss Marie D. Fegan, Miss Annie R. Birnie, Miss Ethel M. Cook and Miss Edith I. Knutson.

GRIDLEY BRYANT SCHOOL

Andrew S. Johnson, master, Miss Margaret E. Sweeney, Miss Mabel A. Johnson, Miss Clara M. Pearce, Miss Mary A. Coyle, Miss Alice E. Munster, Miss Augusta E. Dell and Miss Catherine C. McGovern.

JOHN HANCOCK SCHOOL

H. Forest Wilson, master, Marion S. Strange, Bernice M. Moore, Mary C. Parker, Marion B. Reinhardt, Helen M. West, Mary E. Burns, May Kapples, Isabelle Moir, Ellen McNealy and Mary P. Underwood.

LINCOLN SCHOOL.

H. Forest Wilson, master, Mary D. Bragdon, Gladys L. Leighton, Mary G. Anderson, Ruth M. Eldridge, Esther J. Viden, Minnie E. Donovan, J. Elizabeth Sullivan, Alice M. Sheehy, Grace M. Lamb, Olive V. Bickhell, Martha E. Isaac and Pauline L. Whitman.

MASSACHUSETTS FIELDS SCHOOL

David H. Goodspeed, master, Miss Gertrude M. Burke, Miss Ruth A. Taylor, Miss Caffan Dana Thayer, Miss Annie M. Bennett, Miss Lillian M. Waterhouse, Miss Florence G. Gammons, Miss Esther G. Kedian and Miss Laurie Z. Ackerman.

MONTCLAIR SCHOOL.

Andrew G. Johnson, master, Miss Lucy E. Hennigar, Miss Lydia B. Randall, Miss Margaret G. Knight, Miss Ruth S. Ferguson, Miss Alice M. Igo, Miss Bertha F. Estes, Miss Velma A. Henderson and Miss Elizabeth M. Powers.

QUINCY SCHOOL.

Mr. Sampson, master, Miss Tolman, Miss Hunt, Miss Shaw, Miss Eddy, Miss Keefe, Miss Shirley, Miss Lovejoy, Mis Kelley, Miss Howe, Miss Grannahan, Miss Humphrey and Miss Hunter.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL.

Thomas B. Pollard, master, Miss Jennie Cline, Miss Mildred Spear, Miss Alice S. Hatch, Miss Mary F. Sampson, Miss Mary G. Murray, Miss H. Frances Cannon, Mrs. Ida F. Humphrey, Miss Sarah A. Malone, Miss Charlotte F. Donovan and Miss Marion Downey.

WILLARD SCHOOL

Leroy L. Woods, master, Miss Ethel Vogler, Miss Clara M. Shaw, Miss Katherine M. Coughlan, Miss Mary A. White, Miss Sarah F. Howes, Miss Ellen B. Fegan, Miss Elizabeth J. McNeil, Miss Frances C. Sullivan, Miss Alicia B. Elcock, Miss Jessie O. Shirley, Miss Teresa McDonnell, Miss Annie Z. White, Miss Mabel D. Reardon, Miss Anne M. Cahill, Miss Grace E. Drumm, Miss Ellen G. Haley, Miss Margaret Burns, Miss Annie F. Burns, Miss Mary B. Keating, Miss Helena M. Dempsey, Miss Grace D. Fisher and Miss Helen Dempsey.

WOLLASTON SCHOOL.

David H. Goodspeed, master, Miss Evelyn Farrington, Miss Clara E. G. Thayer, Miss Dora Start, Miss Annie G. Cumming, Miss R. Grace Warshaw, Miss Gladys Goodnow, Miss Ruth Stopp Miss Annie Flieger, Miss Helen Howard, Miss Catherine Brown, Miss Margaret Luthill and Miss Margaret Shyne

INDEPENDENT INDUSTRIAL.

J. Gould Spofford, principal, Rowland Linfield, Frank C. Bucknam, Elijah P. Barrows and Hugh H. Marshall.

THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Miss Alice G. White, librarian, Miss Stella Barker, Miss Edith L. Hyland, Miss J. Eleanor Whittemore, Miss L. Louise Prout, Miss Dorothy Kingsbury, Miss Catherine Saville and Miss Belinda E. Wainwright.

BRIEFS

The annual meeting of the Granite City club will be held this evening.

The alarm from Box 552 at 3.10 Friray afternoon was for a grass fire off Brook street.

Many of the churches are to repeat their Easter music on Sunday either at the morning or evening service.

The annual meeting of the Wollaston Co-operative Bank is to be held Tuesday evening April 20.

The Easter music is to be repeated Sunday morning and evening at the Wollaston Baptist church.

The annual meeting of the Wollaston Unitarian club will be held Tuesday evening

Frank Damon of Billings street has started work on his cottages at Plymouth, getting ready for the season.

The Universalist Mission Circle meets in the church parlor at two o'clock Monday afternoon.

George Brown of Wollaston is to develop the Boy Scout movement in Atlantic and the boys will meet hereafter on Tuesday evenings.

The Wollaston Glee Club is to give a concert Monday night in the Cohasset town hall under the auspices of the Masonic Associates.

The Easter sale Wednesday in Memorial church was a great success under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harry W. Read.

John LaTour's mother and grandfather who have been with him during the winter have returned to their home in Meriden, Connecticut.

The Reading Room of the Thomas Crane Public Library will be closed Sunday afternoons until further notice commencing, April 11.

It was reported this morning that Mrs. Charles E. Haskins who has been seriously ill with pneumonia had passed the crisis and now had a good chance of recovery.

A number of the Ladies Benevolent society of Memorial church visited Morgan Memorial in Boston Thursday and were much pleased with their visit.

The Harmony club will hold its regular business meeting Sunday afternoon at St. Mary's hall. The club has been making extensive plans for the annual dance to be held Wednesday evening, May 5, in St. Mary's hall and the different committees will report on Sunday.

BABY CHICKS
You can save every one, provided you feed for the first few days
PRATT'S
Baby Chick Food
and then continue with Wirthmore Baby Chick and Wirthmore Growing Feed.
These are the feeds that have proven their worth time and time again, and will raise the entire hatch to maturity at the least possible trouble and expense.
Our best advertisement is our enthusiastic customers.
NATHAN AMES
5 Granite St.
USE CARBORUNDUM SHARPENING STONES

Spring is Here to Stay

Fritz is ready to make you gentlemen an up-to-the minute Spring Suit or Overcoat. The neatest assortment of Spring and Summer Woolens ever shown by us is now ready for your inspection at our store. Select the patterns for your Spring clothes today. Our reputation is our greatest asset. We have the ability of making good clothing, we've proved it for the past 18 years.

We pay strict and close attention to Cleaning, Pressing and Repairing. GIVE US A CALL TODAY

BERNARD FRITZ & SON
7 DEPOT ST., Opposite City Hall

YE OLDEN DAYS.

Editor of the Ledger:—

One of my old schoolmates of 70 years ago, Albert Keating reminds me in a note that his wife's father Mr. Mulford ran the tannery in "Paddy Hollow" so-called long before William Panton took possession. Yes I remember him well. Town brook running by Kincaide's furniture store was used as a water privilege by Mulford and Panton. Francis Williams used it on the other side of the street to run his tannery. So it will be seen the old Town brook which has now seen its best days as a water privilege was a very useful stream in giving employment to many townspeople in the old days. Another water privilege on the same stream farther up was utilized by George Veazie, father of Francis Veazie, who ran a saw mill there and later it was used as a carpenter shop by Bailey & Baxter.

In Frank Williams' tannery and currying shop is where Clift Rodgers learned his trade, going over from Marshfield when but nineteen years of age and made the beginning of his prosperity. He amassed a small fortune for those early days and the same may be said of Francis Williams a near friend of mine. Both of these men stood in the front rank of prominent men of Quincy.

I am glad to hear from associates in those days as from Mr. Keating, or any others who can bring to mind "fond recollections" of old times. I have heard from a number since writing my historic sketches of early Quincy; one especially from Louis A. Newcomb, head of the detective agency in New York City. I remember him as a red headed boy of 9 or 10 years, son of Lewis Newcomb and brother of the late Mrs. Abner Packard. A letter received from him mentioned a number of early events which I have noted in my sketches.

Franklin street, in South Quincy, a half century ago was one of the most prominent streets in town. Adam Curtis was then called the king of Franklin street. His shoe manufactory under the style of Adam Curtis & Co., employed many men, also women were given work in those early days in vamping the legs of boots, (long legged calf boots.) I presume there are some of those vamping wooden clamps, which held together the strips of leather as they handsewed the vamps, around Quincy now. I have one. Most all the men and boys wore long-legged boots in the winter. Boots and shoes in those days were the real article, not the shoddy, too much in the market today. The boots made by Adam Curtis & Co., in those days had a wide reputation all over the United States especially in the South. The Civil war, hurt the business, but his reputation was so great for a first class article, his old customers (who were left) returned to him at the close of the war.

He had a brother, Samuel Curtis who lived nearly opposite, as a partner. He was the father of Mrs. Perry, Mrs. Gregg, and Henry Curtis and great grandfather of Mrs. Henry M. Faxon.

There was also another large boot and shoe manufactory at the junction of Franklin and School streets, near Daniel Baxter's grocery store, in one of the buildings since converted into a dwelling house and occupied by one of the McDonnells, granite contractors This manufactory was carried on by Nathaniel White, father of the late Judge George White, Judge of probate of Norfolk County, who gave employment to many men.

In those days there were but two physicians in town, Dr. Woodward and Dr. Stetson. The latter was located in the southern part of the town, the residence now being occupied by his son, James H. Stetson. Dr. Woodward was located at the center.

Dr. Steison was a very genial man and when he came into the presence of a patient, as I remember him, just his presence alone seemed to revive you. He made one forget their ailments. He always entered a room with a low humming whistle, if you know what that is, just breathed it out with a smiling countenance and a pleasant talk about some foreign matter. The first one knew, he would have his hand on the wrist feeling the pulse. He was one of the best family physicians I ever knew. He was much interested in raising fruit, especially pears. He exhibited them at the old Norfolk County Fair, then held at Readville. His was the best raised in town. The doctor studied medicine under his predecessor, old Dr. Phipps, who was the grandfather of Mrs. George L. Baxter and Mrs. Clift Rodgers, and great grandfather of Mrs. Theophilus King, daughter of the late James Baxter. Dr. Phipps lived in the house I think, now occupied by one of my old schoolmates Mrs. John A. Wood on School street.

Sometime after the advent of Doctors Woodward and Stetson, came Doctors Gilbert, Gordon, Underwood and the late Dr. Sheahan. Dr. Gordon is the only old time doctor to my knowledge, living.

I should have mentioned other shoe shops in town that of Benjamin Curtis & Co., on the site or near where the Catholic church now stands, another near by run by Tom White, and still another by Samuel White located on the southeasterly side of the old Orthodox church, opposite the Barnard's bakery on Hancock street. Later a large shoe manufactory was operated by the late John D. Whitcher, who amassed quite a fortune by his industry.

Where are the shoe manufactories now? "Gone where the woodbine twineth," in the words of Jim Fiske. A great many men and women were given employment in the old days in this great industry. Now Rice & Hutchins manufacture in their great factories elsewhere in a single day more than all the above mentioned put together and I don't dare say how much more.

Lysander S. Richards
Marshfield Hills, March 30, 1915.

NEIGHBORHOOD CONFERENCE

The Neighborhood Conference of Sunday School Workers met Friday evening in the chapel of the First Parish church. In the absence of the president, Mr. West, of Braintree, the Rev. A. L. Hudson took charge of the meeting. There was an informal discussion of problems of special interest to Sunday school teachers. A visit was made to the tombs of the presidents beneath the church. Refreshments were served. The committee was: Mrs. Carl Horst, Wollaston, Miss Holyoke, Braintree and Miss Ruth Bass, Quincy.

Positive Relief from the suffering caused by disordered conditions of the organs of digestion and elimination—from indigestion and biliousness—always secured by the safe, certain and gentle action of
Beecham's Pills
Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

Quincy Quick Lunch
1510 Hancock Street
Next to Wardwell's Bowling Alley
Open from 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.
7-6t

Beginning Sunday April 11
The Reading Room of the Thomas Crane Public Library will be closed Sunday afternoons until further notice.
Per order of the Trustees
8-3t

Reduction in Prices.
Your attention is called to the reduced spring prices on Anthracite Coal as follows

Lehigh Stove and Egg	$7.50
White Ash Stove and Egg	7.25
White Ash Nut	7.50
Shamokin Stove and Egg	7.50
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75
Pea	5.50
Franklin	8.50

We recommend the placing of your order at this time to insure the low prices.
Nothing but All Rail Clean Coal handled and delivered right by careful experienced drivers.
QUINCY COAL CO.
OFFICE and YARD
Penn St., Quincy Tel. 47-M
Ap. 7 1mo.

In SOCIETY

Mrs. William Frick of Baltimore has come North for an extended visit with her son and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Frick of Hancock street, Wollaston. Later in the season Miss Mary Frick will come up from Charleston, South Carolina when she and her mother will go to their summer cottage at North Hadley.

* * *

Miss Clara Coombs of Bath, Maine who has been the house guest of Mrs. Frederick Ingraham of Elm avenue for three weeks has returned to her home.

* * *

Mrs. I. F. Waterhouse, delegate, and Mrs. Edward E. Jameson, alternate, leave next week for Washington, D. C., to attend the continental congress as representatives of Abigail Phillips Quincy Chapter, D. A. R.

* * *

Mrs. Catherine Keefe of Woodward avenue has been spending the past few days in Monson, where she has been the guest of friends.

* * *

Miss Etta M. Prescott of Presidents hill has returned from New York where she has been the guest for a week of Mr. and Mrs. George Andrews Tisdale of Providence, R. I.

* * *

Miss Ruth Bass leaves Monday for New Milford, Connecticut, where she is to take the place of Miss Edna Lewis Smith as physical director at Ingleside a school for girls.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Sayward of Winthrop avenue announce the engagement of their daughter Dorothy to Worthington C. Kennedy of Hardwick, Mass.

* * *

Miss Alice W. Manchester came over from New York Thursday for a few days with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Leander C. Manchester of Davis street.

* * *

Miss Edna Lewis Smith formerly of Quincy is visiting friends here.

* * *

Mrs. Linwood Wright of Muirhead street entertained at whist Tuesday evening.

* * *

Miss Helen King returned to the Dana Hall school at Wellesley, Friday, after spending the ten days Easter recess with her mother Mrs. Edgar A King of Clay street.

* * *

Miss Elizabeth Brewer of Presidents hill has returned from a visit of several months to friends in Brooklyn New York.

* * *

Mrs. Ronald MacDonald of Hancock street, Wollaston, entertained at auction bridge Monday evening in honor of Miss Clara Coombs of Bath, Maine. Three tables were in play after which a dainty collation was served. Jonquils decorated the table.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. George N. Rice of Standish avenue have sent out invitations for the marriage of their daughter Blanche Eva to Adolph Restelli at St. Johns church, Quincy, April nineteenth at nine o'clock in the morning.

* * *

Misses Grace and Ruth Parker are visiting their parents on Russell street.

Mrs. Charles M. Bryant proved a very charming hostess Thursday morning when the executive board of the Wollaston Woman's club met at her home for its last regular meeting. Much business was discussed and many plans made after which Mrs. Bryant invited those present to partake of a most delicious luncheon. She was assisted by Mrs. Nathan G. Nickerson and Mrs. Percival A. Thompson. The dinning room had every appearance of spring with Easter lilies and jonquils and refreshing salads and ices. Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, president of the club and Mrs. William E. Rowe served at the bountifully spread table. After the luncheon music was enjoyed in the music room and after singing Auld Lang Syne the executive board bid each other and their hostess farewell, each glad to have been a member of the first executive board of the Wollaston Woman's club and a participant in so pleasant an occasion.

* * *

Announcements have been received by members of Adams Chapter Daughters of the Revolution of the annual meeting of the General Society to be held in Brooklyn, N. Y. beginning May 6th. Much is to be done socially for the "Daughters" attending the week's conference.

BOARD TO FENCE QUARRY HOLES

The Board of Health has taken a hand in protecting the two dangerous quarry holes of the city. One near Apthorp street in the Norfolk Downs district, known as the old slate quarry and the other Wilson's quarry where there have been several accidental drownings. The Board advertises today for bids for building fences about these quarry holes. The bids will be received at the office of the Board in city hall up to 10 o'clock next Wednesday.

Last year an order was introduced in the city council asking for an appropriation of $10,000 to fill the old slate quarry, but no action was taken on the matter. At the last meeting of the city council a widely signed petition was received asking that something be done to protect the public from Wilson's quarry. This quarry is one that is frequently used in summer as a bathing place. The water is always very cold with the result that bathers are frequently seized with cramps and there is scarcely a year without a drowning.

CHOIR GIRLS PLAY GAMES.

The Girls' Choir of Bethany church were the guests of Misses Marion and Helen Mitchell, members of the choir, Friday evening at the home of Miss Agnes B. Ruggles, Oakland street, Neponset.

About thirty attended and enjoyed the evening playing games. Refreshments were served.

CASE DISMISSED.

Victor Serberg who conducts a bicycle store at Brewers corner was in court this morning on a charge of receiving stolen property. He just walked in, turned around, and walked right out again, the case having been dismissed for want of prosecution.

The PROBLEM of GOOD MILK

All persons do not understand what is meant by good, safe milk. Some believe that the milk with a deep cream line is desirable, whereas, the Doctor knows, that Holstein Milk, although containing little cream is often more desirable for babies, partly for this reason, or perhaps, because of the method of production

The best criterion of a good milk is wholesomeness. This depends upon the conditions at the dairy, and the special care given it until it reaches the consumer. Scrupulously clean and healthy cows, clean and healthy dairymen, rapid cooling, and protecting the milk, constant dairy and laboratory inspection are required. Furthermore safety is assured when the dealer pasteurizes his supply.

THE ELM FARM MILK COMPANY OF DORCHESTER offer pure Family Milk, and exceptional Nursery Milk at prices often charged for ordinary milk Speak to the salesman, or call Dor. 2100. 6-1 mo.

HERE'S A $500 TOUR FREE FOR SOME GIRL

The Prettiest Girls in the Country will be honored guests at the PANAMA-PACIFIC EXPOSITION this Summer—and in order that New England may be well represented The Boston Traveler and Sunday Herald offer to send FIVE GIRLS, to be chosen from photographs sent in. We'll help by making artistic photographs at a special low price. Arrange today for a sitting.

OFFICIAL PHOTOGRAPHER

B. H. NERSES

1507 Hancock St. Quincy

TEL. CON.

BRIEFS

Miss Huston, Overseer of the Poor is confined to her home today by illness.

The drama "Old Acre Folks" is to be given at the Universalist vestry, Wednesday evening by a strong cast of home talent. It depicts old home life in New England.

The regular meeting of Reapers circle of Christ church was held Friday evening with Miss Madeleine M. Pollock. There was a short business session followed by a social hour

The Friday club met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. George E. Pfaffman on Goffe street. Miss Edith Randall was in charge of the program, which dealt with Dickens in London.

The condition of Robert T. Johnson remains about the same. He passed a fairly comfortable night and is holding the improvement gained yesterday.

"The Worlds Workers" will be the subject of the meeting Sunday at 4.15 P. M. of the Y. P. C. U. of the Universalist church. Charles Hanscomb will speak on "Mining." Every is invited to attend.

The Holy Name society of St. Mary's church will attend Holy Communion in a body at the eight o'clock mass. In the afternoon at four o'clock the regular monthly meeting of the society will be held. Father McCoy will give a lecture on "Church and Science." This will be the second of a series of lectures planned for the year.

MRS. MARGARET C. MUNDY.

Mrs. Margaret Crathorne Mundy, wife of John Mundy, one of the best known members of St. John's parish died this morning at her home at 111 Arnold street, aged 70 odd years.

Mrs. Mundy and her husband on April 19, 1913, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. They were married by the late Rev. Fr. Aaron L. Roche before St. John's parish was separated, while he was situated in Bridgewater. In order to perform the ceremony he came to Quincy on horse back. Mr. and Mrs. Mundy were one of the oldest couples at the recent golden jubilee of St. John's.

Her funeral will take place Monday morning, with a high mass of requiem at the church at nine o'clock.

The deceased is survived by her husband, four daughters, Mrs. John Mahoney, Alice, Nellie and Margaret Mundy and three sons, John, James and William.

PREPARE PETITION.

A petition i s being prepared by the committee on gas and electric lights of the Board of Trade to be forwarded to the Gas and Electric Light Commissioners, asking for a hearing on the matter of a reduction in the price o electricity as furnished in the City of Quincy by Quincy Electric Light & Power Co. It is understood that under the law from twenty to twenty-five signatures of users of electricity are required to the petition.

MRS. ANN LEAVITT.

Mrs. Ann Leavitt, widow of Calvin L Leavitt and mother of Lewis Leavitt one of the veteran motormen of the Quincy division of the Bay State St Ry. Co. died this morning at her home at 70 Coddington street. She was in her 78th year and was a well known resident of this city.

COIN APPROPRIATE TO DAY.

Newsboy Finds War Coin on Friday.

A newsboy on Friday, the 50th anniversary of the surrender of Lee at Appomattox, made a most appropriate discovery when in looking over small change in his pocket he discovered a Army and Navy cent, one of the series issued as the Civil War money. The coin bears no date and is of copper

On the obverse side in bold face letters are the words, "Army and Navy" Beneath that is an anchor resting against two crossed swords which form the centre piece of a wreath consisting of acorn leaves, on the right and laurel leaves on the left. Surmounting it is a six-pointed star.

The reverse is the most interesting for it bears the motto "The Federal Union —It Must Be Preserved" and thirteen stars, representing the 13 original states.

INDICT THREE.

The Norfolk Country Grand Jury has indicted three men as follows:

John J. Joyce, Quincy, breaking and entering and larceny.

Sirvi Allio. breaking, entering and larceny at the store of Thomas L Wiliams. Allio was arrested one evening by Patrolman Doran in the act of looting the premises.)

Howard W. Van Slyse of Quincy, forging a check for $20 on the International Trust Co., and another for the same amount.

MARS AND CUPID MIX

By HARMONY WHEELER.

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

When Capt. Cyril Blake was ordered with his regiment to the front, his chief regret was the fact that he must leave his birds and flowers in the care of strangers. The young officer had a hobby for rare songsters and still more rare flowers and had nurtured them most devotedly in his small but lovely domicile in the London suburb. His concern over their welfare was deep. He felt that only one who loved birds and flowers could understand and care for them according to their sensitive demands.

The advertisement he inserted in the papers was human and appealing and brought a quick response in the person of Marna Vance. She having bidden her sweetheart good-by when his regiment had gone forth to battle felt that she must do something to occupy her mind and rid it of the horror of visualizing the scenes of the battleground.

Captain Blake knew the moment he saw Marna's face light up at sight of his birds and flowers that they would be in perfect care during his absence.

He went off to the front with a light heart. Marna took possession of his home and his old housekeeper rejoiced in the presence of a mistress. An uncommunicative male person was at times trying as a master.

Weeks wore away and on the battlefield only one of the many deeds of valor was the going out under fire of Private Young of the Bucks Light infantry to save a wounded officer who had fallen. Young, though shot through the shoulder himself, carried Captain Blake back to safety. They were both almost across the great border, but awakened to recover in the base hospital in Paris. Captain Blake, realizing that he owed his life to Private Young, offered him all that he had to offer for the time, and that was a lasting friendship. Young also received the Victoria Cross a short time later.

When they could be moved from the hospital Blake insisted that Young go with him to the suburban cottage to recuperate.

The little English nurse who was ministering angel to some twenty wounded men and who had administered to them during eight weeks without a full night's rest, took charge of them even to the moment when they were put on the hospital ship and transferred to England. She too, was in need of rest.

A great wave of guilty joy swept over Private Young when he knew that Blake had asked the little nurse to continue her good work and stay with them until the last bandage was removed.

Marna stifled a cry when she caught sight of the two once stalwart men being tenderly helped from the big limousine in front of the cottage. She saw quickly that other hands than those of the little nurse were required to get both into the house and she went swiftly forward.

"Marna!"

"Davie!"

Those were the only words Captain Blake and the little nurse heard, but they told their tale. A pang shot through the heart of the nurse, and she turned her eyes quickly away from the sight of Private Young and the girl he had left behind him.

Captain Blake smothered an exclamation, whether of pure amazement or newborn jealousy he did not know.

Blake, because he was on a quicker road to recovery than Young, found himself constantly thrown into Marna's society.

And Young, feeling more of a cad than Blake, knew himself to be in love with the little nurse who gave him such tender care.

Things reached a climax on the day that Marna slipped from the perch upon which she was standing in order to feed one of the birds. Fortunately Blake was standing close beside her, and save for his swift movement Marna would have had a bad fall. He caught her in his arms and Marna, looking swiftly into his face, saw him turn pale. Her own eyes hid themselves with sudden shyness, and when she erected herself and tried to thank him her voice refused to act without a telltale tremor in it.

She slipped quickly away, leaving Captain Blake glowing with the knowledge that Marna loved him.

The girl, with heightened color, went straight to David Young.

"Davie," she said softly and with a smile in her eyes, "we do not love each other as sweethearts, do we? I think," she added with dainty banter, "that you are secretly pining for—"

"Marna—you're a darling!" David said swiftly and put his good arm about her. He was kissing her on either blushing cheek when Captain Blake and the nurse stood in the doorway.

Consternation reigned for a moment when David and Marna looked smilingly at the two in the door.

"We are just breaking our engagement," they said in duet.

"Capital!" said Blake, and the little nurse blushed.

Mother Cleaned Up.

"Willie Tompkins, how does it happen that you are late at school this morning?"

"It wasn't my fault, ma'am."

"Don't tell me a falsehood, sir!"

"I'm not telling one. Pa made me stay home for an hour this morning and help him hunt for his safety razor."

SCISSOR PASTE

ANOTHER CHAMPION.

Championships come and go, and so do champions. No sooner is a man or woman, for there are women champions, declared the winner of a coveted title, than some aspirant challenges the holder and the title must be defended. The champion may hold it against the challengers for a time, but sooner or later the dreaded blow is struck or the record beaten, and the proud feeling that inspired the champion is lowered and he becomes a "has-been." But even that is better than a "never was." There has been a long search for a "white hope" who could win the chief honors of the sporting world from the black giant, who won the title from the previous holder, and on Monday it ended with the crowning of Willard as the fistic champion of the world. The prize doubtless seems good to him, as it did to Sullivan until Corbett snatched it from his grasp. Then came Fitzsimmons, who surrendered it to Jeffries, who, in turn, lay down before the conquering son of Africa. Johnson has made the most of his position and has not been particularly careful to observe the laws of the land or the proprieties of civilized life, and few will mourn his defeat outside the circle where large sums of money were lost in wagers placed on his success. Willard is now the champion. He will find men ready to challenge him, who, for racial reasons, would not enter the ring with Johnson. Men speak of the war in Europe as the last conflict on the battlefield of time. Would that the brutal affair of Monday could be so referred to. Public opinion is against such brutal expositions, and it is not easy to find a place in a civilized land where it can be shown. We look for it in the land of bull fights, but, strange to say, the crowd that gathered at the ringside was largely composed of Americans, Every body says prize fighting is shameful, but nearly everybody will blame the newspaper that fails to give the details of the affair. Human nature is a curious composition, and prize fights will cease when wars shall be no more, and not much sooner.—Lynn Item.

WHAT LLOYD SAYS.

The betting at Lloyds is an incident of some significance. Combining the keenest judgment, the most expert knowledge, unlimited and almost inaccessible sources of information, and vast capital, Lloyds in London, is willing to gamble on anything from the date of the prospective revolution in Portugal to the time set for the end of the European war. Lloyds has no bias; it doesn't deal either in prejudices or sympathies, but is conducted solely as a business proposition, and with no regard for national views or aspirations. When. therefore, it is stated that the betting at Lloyds is even that the great conflict will end before September 1, of this year; ten to one that the war will not last until the end of the year, and fifteen to one that it will be over before twelve months hence, it is worth taking note of the unbiased and best informed public opinion in England on the situation.—Taunton Herald News.

RUSSIA'S STAYING POWERS.

Russia's enormous capacity for recovering from severe punishment in the field and returning stronger than ever is again in evidence in East Prussia, Poland and the Carpathians. For the past ten days Russia's steady advance along the whole line, with hardly a check, has been the dominating feature of the war.

Whether the masterful Von Hindenberg can again succeed in checking it and rolling it back at any vital point, remains to be seen. Should he do so, the Russians will gain "come back" with unabated energy, further wearing down the German defence. Among the surprises of this war for Germany is the discovery that the Russian giant is wide awake and ready.

It is significant that Professor Vogt, a well-known German authority on Russian affairs, warns Germany in the "Vorwaerts" that "It will take a long time, great energy and patience and many victories to gain headway against the new Russia." Professor Vogt says further: "Russia's offensive powers have hardly been touched. Her staying powers are enormous. Her army has done magnificent work, while the Russian financial and economic position has seldom been better. Its enemies have got reason to beware the bear that walks like a man."—Taunton Herald News.

You need the Ledger every day.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

COAL PRICES REDUCED

STOVE	$7.25
EGG	$7.25
NUT	$7.50
FURNACE	$8.50
PEA	$5.50
LEHIGH EGG	$7.50
LEHIGH STOVE	$7.50
SHAMOKIN STOVE	$7.50
FRANKLIN STOVE	$8.50

Coal carried in baskets 25 cents per ton.
Bituminous Coal for Steam Use
We recommend Nut size for stove and range
Stove size for small furnaces and heaters
Egg size for large furnaces and heaters.
We advise placing your orders now as prices usually advance about July 1st.
Coal delivered in Quincy, Wollaston, Atlantic, and Norfolk Downs.

Frost Coal Co.
488 Neponset Ave., Neponset
TEL. 1500 DORCHESTER

April 3 Wed. & Sat. until July 1

AND THE SALE CONTINUES

Fully 10,000 people visited our store yesterday, crowds upon crowds took advantage of our fire sale

TODAY---SATURDAY

We are more prepared than yesterday, extra salesmen, better service. It will make your shopping easier.

Plan to give us a visit this evening, you will be sure to find a bargain.

ORENT-PAYSON CO.
The House of Bargains
1387 Hancock St.

PASSES FORE RIVER BILL

The bill authorizing the expenditure of $75,000 by the state. for widening and deepening the Fore River channel,the expenditure of the amount being contingent upon the appropriation of $2000,000 by the government, $15,000 by the Fore River Co., and $10,000 by the City of Quincy, was passed to be engrossed in the State senate Friday. The bill to allow the City of Quincy to expend a sum of $10,000 for the project is still pending in the legislature.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

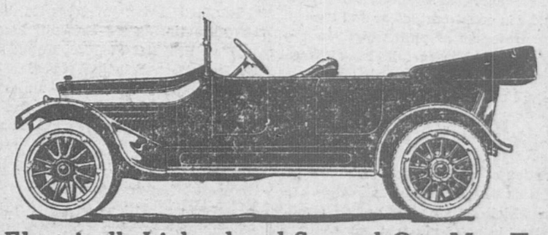

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer

Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St. near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

Quincy Pianoforte School
Mackellon Practical

Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
31-tf

THE 1915 REO IS HERE

Electrically Lighted and Started, One Man Top
Increased Wheel Base, 34x4 Tires, Crown Fender, Improved Upholstering, Increased Power.

	F.O.B. Factory		F.O.B. Factory
4 cyl. - - -	$1050	2 ton Truck	$1650
6 cyl. - - -	$1385	Light Delivery 1500 lbs.	$1075
4 cyl. Runabout	$1000	Light Delivery Chassis	$1000
4 cyl. Coupe	$1575

Reo the Fifth - - the Incomparable Four is on Display at our Garage. Call and see This Car.
Ask for Demonstration

CENTRAL GARAGE and SUPPLY CO.
Corner Washington and Pond Sts.
QUINCY
Tel. 1035 W C. W. Hodgkinson, Prop.

16-1mo.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

MILTON CITIZEN PASSES AWAY

The sudden death of Henry Ellsworth Sheldon of Adams street, East Milton, came as a great shock to his many friends. Mr. Sheldon seemed to be in the best of health when late Friday night he took a sudden, turn for the worse and died within short time.

He was born in the house he died in on Feb. 20, 1852. His father Oliver E. Sheldon was well known throughout the granite business as he was then manager of the Granite Railway Co. Mr. Sheldon was educated in the public schools of Milton and graduated from the High school. He served his apprenticeship as a stone cutter in Concord, N. H. He then became assistant manager of the Granite Railway Co. At the death of his father Mr. Sheldon became manager of this same firm.

In 1875 he married Miss Ella Frances Staniels of Dorchester. In 1901 several years after the death of his first wife, Mr. Sheldon married a second time, his wife being Miss Elizabeth Campbell Mitchell of Manchester N. H. He retired from active business in 1900.

Mr. Sheldon was always actively interested in town affairs. At one time he served as a member of the Board of Health, and at the time of his death he was a member of the board of library trustees. Mr. Sheldon was well known as a mason, having been a member of the Macedonian lodge for years. He was a heavy taxpayer in the town and owned considerable real estate here. He is survived by his wife, one son, Percy Sheldon and one sister, Mrs. A. S. Brown of New York City. The funeral will probably take place, Monday afternoon at two o'clock from his late residence.

PEACE MEETING AT FIRST CHURCH

Jay William Hudson, who is to deliver an address at the mass peace meeting in the First Parish church Sunday, April 18, is an eloquent speaker, thoroughly in earnest, more than this, he is consistent, clear and logical.

As professor of philosophy in the University of Missouri, he has attained a wide reputation, not only in his chosen line, but as a man of broad culture and experience. He has something definite to say, and he says it in an original manner, which holds the attention of his auditors. He often illustrates with a flash of whimsical humor, which delights his audience and carries his point straight home.

He is one of the best exponents of International Peace, and Quincy is fortunate in having him here at this time.

A cordial invitation is extended to the men and women of the city. Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, president of the Quincy Women's club, under whose auspices the address is made, will preside.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S
Tel. 1527-W Quincy

ST. MARY'S WIN BOWLING MATCH

The St. Mary's Jr., bowling team defeated the Franco-Americans 1334 to 1161 Friday evening in a one-sided contest. The match was one of a series being rolled between several teams representing different districts in West Quincy. The high string 101, was rolled by Knight who also had high three string total of 288.

The score:

ST. MARY'S JR.

Knight	97	90	101	288
Donavon	78	90	71	239
Saville	79	75	100	254
Hagerty	100	85	90	275
O'Rourke	87	92	99	278
	441	432	461	1334

COMMON STARS.

F. Gosselin	82	74	70	226
C. Gosselin	61	86	86	233
Lorandeau	82	80	74	236
Rogers	76	82	71	229
Bertrand	75	89	73	237
	376	411	374	1161

SIMMONS CONCERT.

Patronesses for the Simmons concert will be: Mrs. Redfield H. Allen, Mrs. Fred H. Austin, Mrs. Charles Thatcher Baker, Mrs. John Buchanan, Mrs. Edward Burkhardt, Mrs. Chester I. Campbell, Mrs. James H. Churchill, Mrs. Edwin E. Davis, Mrs. Thomas Fenno, Mrs. Stephen A. Gardner, Jr., Mrs. Charles A. Hall, Mrs. Edward R. Hall, Mrs. Eben L. Harrison, Mrs. Walter M. Hatch, Mrs. Curtis Hilliard, Mrs. Arthur P. Homer, Mrs. Charles L. Homer, Mrs. Charles H. Jones, Mrs. J. Brooks Keyes, Mrs. Frank A. Page, Mrs. Henry W. Porter, Mrs. James A. Ring, Mrs. Charles R. Safford, Mrs. A. H. Smith, Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, Mrs. Eugene H. Sprague, Mrs. Frank Sprague, Mrs.—DeWitt Taylor, Mrs. James Walker and Mrs. Frank W. White.

The following program will be rendered:

Shadowland — Gilbert
Mandolin Club
Swing Along — Cook
Glee Club
Yankee Dandy — Weidt
Serenade — Titl
Instrumental Trio
Mai poina oe ia u
Hawaiian Quintet
Reading by Alexander Martin
The Kavanagh — Bullard '87
Glee Club
Second Connecticut March — Reeves
Banjo Club
The Boatman on the Volga
Russian Folk Song
Mandolin Club
Requiem — Homer
Thy Beaming Eyes — MacDowell
Herbert C. Williamson
Mighty Lak'a Rose — Nevin
Plectrum Banjo Quartet
In Picardie — Osgood
Lullaby — Brahm
Glee Club Semi-Chorus
The Cardinal and the Grey — Moody '07
Combined Clubs.

MILTON HIGH SCHOOL SOCIAL

The big social event of the year in the eyes of the High School pupils took place Friday evening in the Town Hall in the form of the reception of the Juniors to the Seniors. The hall was artistically decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and wisteria. The first part of the evening was spent as a reception. In the receiving line there were the Junior's class officers: Miss Dorothy Fuller, president; Miss Carolyn Cook, secretary, Miss Alma Jardine, treasurer. The ushers were Paul Crowell, Stanford Luce, Walter Gordon, Walter Martin, James Driscoll, Louis Douglass, Brackett Parsons, and Kenneth Hecker. Principal Charles L. Curtis and Miss Bertha W. Meserve led off the grand march in which forty couples participated. A short farce entitled: "The Oysters" was presented by six girls. The cast included:

Betty—Miss Dorothy Fuller.
Isabelle—Miss Alma Jardine.
Betty's chums—Miss Donalda Anderson and Miss Dorothy Herland.
Aunt Tabby Tibbets—Miss Bertha Cunan
Lucy—Caroline Cook.

This play was very well presented and kept the audience in a continual uproar of laughter. Charades were then acted by various members of the class. Following the refreshments, dancing was enjoyed and the party broke up at a late hour.

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association will be held in the Assembly hall, Monday evening, April 12. The speaker is Dr. David Snedden, commissioner of education for Massachusetts. A large attendance is desired.

SOUTH BRAINTREE

Miss Marie Seguin of Central street has been ill this week.

The Texas Oil Company is installing a distributing plant on Union street.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Palmer have a new six cylinder touring car.

Mrs. William Chase of Pepperell street was the guest of Mrs. Annie Brett of Summer street this week.

Charles A. Hobart of Washington street has been ill for the past two weeks with rheumatism.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Herring of Medford have moved to their home on Standish avenue.

John B. Crowe of Central avenue has returned from a business trip to Rochester, N. Y.

The four sons of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bates of Union street are ill with the measles.

The William Stevens estate on Taylor street has been purchased by Louis J. D'Arigo.

Arthur B. Hayward of Braintree Highlands is building a house of the bungalow type on Standish avenue.

Mrs. Catherine Holbrook of Union street has been confined to her hon by illness.

The officers-elect of Local 143,, Boot and Shoe Workers' Union were installed in the rooms, Hampton House block Tuesday evening.

G. Dallas Willis, Jr., of aWshington street and George E. Dunn of Frederick road enjoyed a fishing trip at Sebago lake, Maine, over the week end.

Master Earl Bridson of Taylor street is recovering from the effects of his recent accident and will be able to resume his school work next Monday

Mrs. William E. Knowlton of Taylor street spent Thursday as the guest of Mrs. Charles Knowlton of Jamaica Plain.

Howard Wade of Holbrook avenue has suffered a relapse of his recent illness and has gone to his home in Brighton.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Abell and son Charles of Taylor street spent the Easter holidays with Mrs. Abell's parents in Randolph.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bailey of Hanover are the proud parents of a daughter born Thursday. Mrs. Bailey before her marriage was Miss Bernice Chase of this town.

The annual meeting of the Pond Cemetery Association will be held next Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harold L. Jones of Tremont street.

Mrs. A. F. Hollis, Mrs. Fred Thayer and Miss Alice V. Thayer attended the State convention of the Sons of Veterans' Auxiliary held Wednesday in Pilgrim hall Congregational church, Boston.

The directors of the Sunset baseball league will hold a meeting at the home of the president, A. F. Rollis of Taylor street, tomorrow afternoon and discuss plans forthe coming season.

Mr. and Mrs. William Carleton of East Bridgewater welcomed a son to their home Wednesday. Mrs. Carleton will be remembered as Miss Caroline Wilkinson formerly librarian at the Thayer public library.

The sympathy of the community is extended to Mrs. C. A. Sullivan of Washington street because of the death of her mother, Mrs. J. H. Donahue of Chelsea who pased away suddenly Sunday evening.

Antietam Camp No. 32 S. of V. will hold an open meeting and smoke talk in Memorial hall next Tuesday evening to which members of the G. A. R. and all eligible sons of veterans are especially invited.

The Massachusetts Minute Men of 1861 will meet at the Revere house, Boston, next Thursday. Captdin James T. Stevens of this town is president of the association and will preside at the meeting which will mark the 54th anniversary of this famous organization.

Everything for the Baby
THE PRICE IS RIGHT

Malted Milk	$3.50	$3.00
Malted Milk	$1.00	83c
Malted Milk	50c	48c
Nestles Food	50c	40c
Eskays Food	25c	20c
Eskays Food	50c	40c
Eskays Food	75c	60c
Sugar of Milk Patch's		35c
Sugar of Milk Hearns		30c
Nipples	5 and 10c
Nursing Bottles	8 oz 5c

Special Today
Strawberry College Ice with Fresh Fruit
Chas. C. Hearn,
DRUGGIST
CITY SQUARE, - QUINCY

EASY MANIPULATION OF SKI

Motion of Foot in Walking Automatically Sends Person Along Over Surface of Snow.

If you have ever undertaken to make use of a pair of skis you found that every time you made progress to the extent of an inch over the snow you immediately slid that same distance backward. The boy who said he could not go to school for the reason that he slid two steps backward every time he went one step forward over the ice-covered ground had a great advantage over the amateur skier for the reason that he could turn around and walk backward, but the fellow on the skis simply slides back the same distance he has gained, so that he cannot go anywhere until he has learned the trick of skiing.

In Wisconsin they make use of these skis to a very liberal extent and an inventive genius of that state has made an improvement on this style of footgear as is shown in the cut. A foot piece is pivoted in the ski and the front end is provided with a tilting "dog," moving in guides so that it is maintained in an upright position. The dog protrudes through the bottom of the runners so that with each step the dog takes hold of the ground as the pressure of the toe is exerted to propel the operator. The mere act of walking with the ski on the feet sends one along over the surface of ice or snow automatically.

Progressing on Skis.

UTILIZING THE SPARE TIME

No Better Employment of Idle Moments Can Be Made Than That of Reading Some Good Book.

The pursuit in leisure hours of studies that are in some way allied to a man's daily occupation is certain to bear fruit. Even the pursuit of less vitally related studies is often surprisingly important in shaping a career.

In the lives of many men—especially men without hobbies—there are daily unprofitable periods when they sit lethargic, with vacant minds. They would read a book if just the right sort—a detective story, for example—were at hand; but their library contains nothing new and appealing, only classic authors, Dickens, Shakespeare, Thackeray, and they have read all those. On those volumes the dust has been gathered for years. Yet it is only on a second reading that a really memorable book can begin to count as an influence in any one's life. Then, less engrossed than before in the mere story and its surprises, the reader absorbs and appreciates the wisdom, the knowledge of life, the humanity, the observations that have been drawn upon in the making of the book.

It is not the first reading of great books that enriches a man's mental life and assists in his development, but the second, and the third, and the fourth. For the loose and idle minutes wasted every day in vacant speculation or indecision there could be no better employment than the reading of good books.

Spare time, like spare change, should not be squandered thoughtlessly.—Youth's Companion.

Limitations of Art.

The head of a certain Washington family was recently approached by his son, just nearing his majority. "Father," said he, "I want a talk with you concerning my future. I have decided to become an artist. Have you any objections?"

The old gentleman scratched his head effectively and replied:

"Well, no, son—provided, of course, that you don't draw on me."

Cause of Unhappiness.

The unhappiest people in the world are those who have nothing to do, who feel within them pent-up energies which have no outlet, apparently. We pity the overworked drudges and they deserve sympathy without any doubt, but they are fortunate compared with the people who have nothing to do.—Girls' Companion.

Next Branch.

Young Lady—How is it you don't come to Sunday school, Katie?"

Katie—Oh, please, miss, I'm learning French and music now and mother doesn't wish me to take up religion till later.

An Embryo Humorist.

"Johnny, didn't you hear me say to save part of your doughnut for little sister?"

"Well, ma, you told me not to eat the hole of it, an' I didn't; I only ate the rim."

MINSTREL SHOW.

To quote many delighted auditors, "the best minstrel show ever presented in Braintree" was given in the Town hall last evening under the auspices of the Hollis school association before an audience which filled the place to the doors. "Colored" ladies and gentlemen acted as ushers and candy was offered for sale by cute little pickaninnies. Delightful music was rendered previous to the performance by Frank E. Johnson, pianist and Truls Lagerquist, violinist.

As the curtain rose on part one the performers all in blackface were discovered seated beneath a huge American flag and bearing lighted candles, the ensemble effect being very beautiful in the darkened hall. The interlocutor Henry D. Higgins in immaculate full dress, flashed his resplendent electric shirt studs and the chorus crashed forth into the song "In the candle light."

Mrs. Olive Bean was very effective in her vocal solo and she was followed by Harry A. Simonds who sang "My wifes gone to Europe," with such evident enjoyment in this fact that he was heartily applauded for his fine work and was tendered a nice bunch of radishes and a mammoth sunflower.

All of the soloists were rewarded at the close of their numbers with owers, vegetables, chicken pies, etc., etc., passed over the footlights in rapid succession. Jokes by the end men, "knocks" on well known citizens and plenty of local hits kept the audience in roars of laughter.

Elsie Cooper gave a beautiful rendition of "When you wore a tulip and I wore a big red rose." Haven Belcher sang "Tip-Top Tipperary Mary," with vim, ably seconded by the chorus which at all times was effective.

One of the most beautiful numbers of the evening was the duet "Do you hear me calling, Caroline" sung by Mabel Kinna and Louise Kean.

Harold Bean sang "I want to go back to Michigan" in a way that left no doubt of his sincerity and his assistant, a big red rooster helped to carry out the rural effect.

The vocal treat of the show was the solo "Under the Southern moon" sung by Dr. Arthur R. Gould. He was applauded to the echo and responded with a beautiful rendering of the ballad, "Mother McChree."

Between the acts Mr. Lagerquist was heard in the difficult and finely executed violin solo, "Souvenir de Luick." He was ably accompanied at the piano by Mr. Johnson. For an encore they played the well known "Flower Song."

A topical song rendered by Harry Vinton "knocked" the Hollis school and the new automobile chemical. Harry Richmond in the solo "When grown-up ladies act like babies" made a hit. He was followed by the male quartet which sang first when the curtain rose on part 1. This time the gentlemen were made up, half black and half white, clothing and faces, also hands, presenting a very novel appearance. Ernest Woodsum sang "Bake dat chicken pie" as if he would really appreciate a slice of it. "My old Kentucky home" was sung very sweetly by Mabel Kinna.

Eleanor Shaw gave an original rendition of the song "Pick, pick, pickaninny." Perhaps the best end song of the evening was "He's a rag picker" sung with a snap and dash by Frank C. Allen. His dance steps were very well done. The closing number was the chorus "It's a long way to Tipperary," the solo part sung by W. O. White, attired as an army officer.

Audience and performers then joined in singing "America" and as the lights flashed forth, the entire company was grouped in an effective tableau with Miss Lucille Chandler as "Miss Columbia," Harold Bryant as the "Army" and Sidney Binney the "Navy." At intermission the president of the Hollis school association, Ray S. Hubbard announced that the show would be repeated Monday evening in Bates' Opera house, East Braintree.

Then with a brief but appropriate speech he presented Mrs. H. E. Roberts in behalf of the committee of arrangements a large bouquet of roses in recognition of her able efforts as chairman of the committee. Mrs. Roberts who is secretary of the Hollis school association has labored hard and earnestly, aided by her co-workers to bring the affair to such a successful issue.

CASE CONTINUED.

The charge of keeping and maintaining a liquor nuisance against Harry Mossang, alleged to have conducted the Russian boarding house at Grafton street which was raided by the police Sunday night was continued to April 21 by Judge Avery this morning. He was fined $20 on a charge of disturbing the peace and was placed on probation on a drunkness charge. Another man, with an unpronouncable name, has also been arrested on the nuisance charge.

Baby Chicks Safe

Have sturdy, big boned and constitutionally sound chicks at three weeks old—and the rest is easy. You can do it with

Pratts Baby Chick Food
25c, 50c and $1.00

It is a scientific mixture of food and tonics that starts chicks right and keeps them growing. Feed it for three weeks at a small cost per chick, and insure a profit paying flock.

George A. Cosgrove, Member of Conn. Board of Agriculture, writes: "I honestly believe that if Pratts Baby Chick Food were used exclusively for the first three weeks by all the poultry raisers in the United States the saving would amount to millions of dollars."

Don't confuse it with ordinary scratch foods. Refuse substitutes; insist on Pratts.

Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Back
Get Pratts 100 page Poultry Book

188

A. J. RICHARDS & SON, C. W. & G. W. NIGHTINGALE
NATHAM AMES E. H. DOBLE & CO.
AND GRAIN DEALERS AND GENERAL STORES EVEYWHERE 6639

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE

Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit

WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS
Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.
Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys
1506--1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block
Jan. 26-tu.-th.-s.-tf

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

Y. M. C. A. AUXILIARY.

Hold Interesting Program Friday Afternoon.

A well attended meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Auxiliary was held Friday afternoon. The devotional exercises were in charge of Mrs. George L. Badger, whose talk was on the subject of Easter. The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. I. W. Sneath of Wollaston who gave a most interesting talk on "Influence of Christian Womanhood." During her talk Mrs. Sneath gave several personal reminiscences of Mary A. Livermore, Julia Ward Howe and others.

The musical part of the afternoon program included a piano solo by Mrs. Frank Gilbert, and piano duets by Mrs. W. F. Hodgkinson and Mrs. Frank Gilbert.

At the conclusion of the afternoon program tea was served by Mrs. Alfred Bean assisted by Mrs. Jacox of Wollaston Park and Mrs. John F. R. Roach of Quincy Point.

☞PRATT'S BREAD made of the best flour by the best bakers. Your grocer.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING
WALL PAPER FOR SALE
KUSTAA RASANEN
121 Copeland St., West Quincy
Tel. Con. 1946

W. H. HASLETT
31 Bridge Street, Quincy
Tel. Quincy 1092 W
Plastering and Cementing
Concrete Houses
Outside Stucco Work
Cement Walks, Steps and Cellar Floors.
RETROSILO sanitary and fireproof flooring—guaranteed to wear longer than hard wood floor—no joints one continuous piece put over any floor.
Feb. 25- W-S. tf

WILLIAM R. DIMOCK
Carpenter and Builder
Plans furnished and estimates given. All work personally and promptly attended to 133 PROSPECT AVENUE
WOLLASTON
☞ Telephone 1238 W Quincy.

AMUSEMENTS

SHUBERT THEATRE.

"Tonight's the Night," a delightful musical comedy, presented by the famous London Gaiety Company, and fresh from its successful run of nearly five months at the Shubert Theatre, New York, is now duplicating its metropolitan success at the Shubert Theatre, Boston, where it opened last Monday night.

The London Gaiety Theatre is famous from one end of the civilized world to the other as the home and fountain-head of musical comedy. It was there that musical comedy was born, that this peculiar and distinctive form of light entertainment first had its being. Countless Gaiety pieces have been hitherto presented in America, but never by the all-English companies originally appearing in them in London, and with a background of real "Gaiety bells." Before their presentation here they have generally been subjected to a process of Americanization, so-called, by some hack musical comedy librettist, and when shown they have always been offered by casts in which American players have strongly predominated. The result has generally been disappointing. The English atmosphere of daintiness and delicate charm, the distinctive feature of all the Gaiety pieces, has usually been lacking. Now American theatre-goers in Tonight's the Night" have the opportunity of seeing the simon-pure variety of English production.

WILBUR THEATRE.

Easter week found "A Pair of Sixes" enjoying its fifteenth week at the Wilbur Theatre, already having broken all records for Boston, and still attracting the biggest and happiest audiences in the city. It is superfluous to say anything more about the wonderful merits of this great farce, as over 160,000 Boston people have already seen it, and each one has told his or her friend not to miss this play. So much has already been said and written concerning the enjoyable qualities of "A Pair of Sixes" that it is hard to add any complimentary phrases. Any show that keeps an audience laughing uproariously for three hours, and can do it for 125 performances in Boston, must be a remarkable play. The laughter that comes from the Wilbur Theatre at each performance can be heard a block away, and it is the happy, healthy sort of laughter, that doesn't leave a sting behind it.

Prescott Apartments

For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service. Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator with the will annexed, of the estate not already administered, of John Q. Adams late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to me.

CHARLES F. ADAMS 2d., Adm.
(Address) 84 State street, Boston.
March 25, 1915.
3t Mar. 27-April 3-10

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhœa. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years

The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

GOAL

ANNOUNCEMENT

April 1, 1915.

Full coal bins are a source of real satisfaction. We are filling our bins as rapidly as possible with FRESH MINED COAL. By placing your order now YOU can take advantage of the LOW PRICES announced in the schedule below. Coal will positively ADVANCE IN PRICE later. There will be no Further Reduction.

We should be glad to call and talk Coal with you if you will notify us.

PRICES FOR CASH

Franklin Egg and Stove	$8.50 per ton
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75 per ton
Shamokin Stove	7.50 per ton
White Ash Broken	6.50 per ton
White Ash Egg	7.25 per ton
White Ash Stove	7.25 per ton
White Ash Nut	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Broken	6.75 per ton
Lehigh Egg	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Stove	7.50 per ton
Pea	5.50 per ton

25 cents per ton extra where coal is carried in. Orders taken for these Prices are for delivery by July 1, 1915.

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc.

Furniture Storage Warehouse

Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.

Rates $2---$3---$4 per month

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.

1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.

Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26-tu.-th.s.-tf

WE have the largest and most complete stock of Oriental Rugs in Boston and can always show you a greater assortment than you can find elsewhere.

JOHN H PRAY & SONS CO

646-650 Washington St., opp. Boylston St.

All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy

REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY

Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

EAST BRAINTREE

Miss Olga Saluetti was the guest of Mrs. Louis Pitts last Sunday.

Miss Melissa Dockum entertained her mother during the past week.

Mrs. Louis Pitts of Shaw street is spending a few days in North Weymouth.

Little Renne Nakes of Wellington street is seriously ill at her home with pneumonia.

Herbert Clogston of Lyle street moved his family to Washington street Braintree on Monday.

Dr. James H. Cook returned Tuesday from a week's rest at Boothbay, Maine.

Mrs. Carrie F. Loring is having her residence on Front street improved by Peter Ness the local painter.

Thomas Marshall of Somerville has hired one of C. O. Millers flats on Commercial street.

Mrs. W. K. Gillmore of Liberty street is out again after a recent attack of rheumatism.

Donald Remick of Lisle street, who has been ill the past week with tonsilitis, is able to be about again.

Mrs. Charles Keith of Maine was the guest of her sister Mrs. Arthur Clifford of Cotton avenue.

Mrs. Edward Watts of Bellevue road has been ill the past week with the grip.

Little Beth Cochrane is able to attend school once more after an attack of the measles.

Mr. and Mrs. Nat Crane have recently removed from Shaw street to one of Mr. Fogg's houses on Hayward street.

Mr. Robert Hamilton whose business is in Montreal has been spending the last of the week with his family on Shaw street.

Mrs. F. O. Wellington of Quincy avenue has been confined to the house the past week with an attack of the grip.

Mrs. Charles T. Nickerson has returned from her recent visit with relatives in Dennis and has been entertaining her brother the past week.

Mrs. Carrie F. Loring attended the banquet of the ninteen hundred and four W. R. C. Association in Shawmut church, Boston, on Monday evening.

Miss Elizabeth Dean of New York was the guest of her sister Miss Melvina Dean of Hobart street last Wednesday.

Arthur Hamilton of Shaw street was a member of the honorary guard which attended the body of the late Ex-Governor Guild at the State House.

Misses Hunt and Ross, teachers in this precinct, returned Sunday evening from a weeks stay at Harwich. They reported a severe storm on the Cape, but the snowfall was not as heavy there as in this vicinity.

Little Teresa Tardiff is confined to her home on Cotton avenue with an attack of the measles. In consequence her brother and two sisters are obliged to remain home from school

The Camp Fire Girls of Union church gave "The Peddler's Parade" in the church on Friday evening. Twenty-four girls represented peddlers from different lands and entertained the audience with songs and recitations to match their respective countries. After the play the girls took their baskets out among the guests and proceeded to sell their wares.

Little Helen Watson met with an accident Monday which might have proved serious. She was on her way home from Weymouth and when she reached the toll bridge over Fore River she became interested in some gulls which were in the water and stopped to watch them. Unfortunately she was standing right by a hole in the fence and in her excitement she fell through. Luckily the tide was out thereby preventing a catastrophe. A lady who was passing helped her out and saw her safely home.

The G. Y. G. C. held their regular weekly meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Goss on Commercial street Monday evening. Little Allen Goss was allowed to be present as Monday was his birthday and a birthday cake was made in his honor with one candle in the middle, which was lighted during the luncheon hour. Sewing was the business of the meeting and plans were made for a coming excursion.

At the department convention of the W. I. C. held in Boston the past week, Mrs. Carrie F. Loring was elected a member of the executive board of the Massachusetts department of the W. I. C. The convention was well attended there being seven hundred and forty-seven delegates present from all parts of the state. The Reynolds Corps of Weymouth sent seven delegates and on Wednesday this Corps presented their Department Inspector, Mrs. Carrie F. Loring with a very beautiful bouquet of Easter lilies and pinks.

SUNDAY SERVICES

A new announcement of services is required each week. No notices accepted to run indefinitely. When possible the subject of sermon should be given, also special services. Generous space will be given in the news columns for church news, music and week day gatherings.

FIRST PARISH IN QUINCY (Unitarian)—City Square. Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, minister. Residence, Miller Stile Inn, Tel. 422M, office hours at church 9 to 12 A. M. Monday, Wednesday and Friday Tel. 1290. Morning service at 10.30. Subject of sermon by Rev. Carl G. Horst. "The Ministry of Affliction." Sunday School at 12 noon Miss Minnie Packard, Supt. Business meeting of Y. P. R. U. at 4.30 P. M.

CHRIST CHURCH, EPISCOPAL—Quincy corner Elm street and Quincy avenue. Rev. William Grainger, minister. 8.00 A. M. Holy Communion. 10.45 A. M. Morning prayer and sermon. 4.00 P. M. Baptisms. 7.30 P. M. Evening prayer and sermon.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST—Quincy, Alpha Hall, cor. Hancock street and Cottage ave. Morning service and Sunday School at 10.45 Subject: "Are Sin, Disease and Death Real." Golden Text: "God is not the author of confusion, but of peace." Wednesday 7.45 a testimony and experience meeting. Reading room open from 3 to 5 P. M. week days, holidays excepted. Also Wednesday evening before and after services.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH—Franklin Street Rev. C. C. Tilley, Pastor. Residence 26 Richie Road. Preaching Service at 10.30 A. M. Subject: "Saying Goodbye to God." Sunday School at 11.45. Christian Endeavor meeting at 6. Subject: "Getting Ready for the Next Life." Leader: Miss Esther MacDonald. Scripture: Col. 3.14 1-4. Evening Service at 7. Subject: "What Shall I Do With Jesus?" Regular prayer meeting on Thursday evening at 7.30. All cordially welcome

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Water and Quincy Streets, Rev. Clarence E. Campbell minister. Residence 95 Quincy Street. Telephone Quincy 881 W. 10.30 Morning Service with the administration of the Lord's Supper and reception of members. 11.45 Sunday School and Men's Class 3 P. M. Children's service with a story by Miss Marjorie Miller of Wollaston. 6.00 Christian Endeavor. Evening service at 7.00 address by the pastor. Subject: "The Signs of the times."

HALL PLACE M. E. CHURCH—West Quincy Rev. P. S. Neldon, pastor, Residence, 12 Hall Place. Morning service at 10.30. Sermon by Rev. H. A. Weldey of Boston. Sunday School at 11.45. Epworth League Devotional service at 6 P. M. Topic "A Singer with a Consecrated Voice." Leader: Warren D. Jordan. Evening service at 7, Preaching by Rev. H. A. Weldey, Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7.30 P. M. Leader John Pearce. Junior League Monday at 4 P. M. All are welcome.

ST. CHRYSOSTOMS EPISCOPAL CHURCH—Hancock street. Wollaston—Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra, rector, residence, the rectory. 523 Hancock street. 8.00 A. M. Holy Communion. Morning prayer, and sermon at 10.30. Sunday School at 12. Evening prayer and address 7.30.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN CHURCH—Corner Beale and Farrington streets. "An House of Prayer for all People." Rev. Carl G. Horst, minister. Residence 39 Grand View avenue. Telephone Quincy 317-1. The church auditorium is equipped with earphones. Service with sermon at 10.45 a. m. by Rev. A. L. Hudson. Kindergarten for children of three years and over in the vestry in charge of Miss Catherine Reed at 10.45 A. M. Sunday School at 12 M. in charge of Superintendent Mrs. H. C. Needham, classes for all. Ministers preparatory class in Church Auditorium of 12. Seats are free and a cordial welcome to all.

MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Atlantic Rev. Thomas W. Davison, pastor Morning service 10.45. Sermon by the pastor Theme: "Why Stand Ye Gazing up into Heaven?" Sunday School at 12 M. Junior Endeavor 3.30 P. M. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 P. M. Evening service at 7 o'clock. Address by the pastor. A cordial welcome to all.

FIRST CHURCH OF SQUANTUM—Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor. Sunday School at 3 P. M. Church service at 4 P. M. Sermon by the pastor. A cordial welcome to all.

JAMES F. ALLAN FUNERAL SERVICE

Out of respect to Inspector of Meats and Provisions James F. Allan, who for many years has been connected with the store of Johnson Bros., the store was closed Friday afternoon during the hour of the funeral, that the clerks might attend and pay their last tribute to him with whom they had so long been intimately associated.

In the absence of Mayor Campbell the city was represented by the Acting Mayor Emery L. Crane There was also a delegation present from Clan MacGregor, O. S. C., besides friends and neighbors.

The services were conducted by Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott of Bethany church, and at the close of this service the ritual burial service of Clan MacGregor was read by the officers of the clan.

There were many beautiful floral tributes which included pieces from Clan MacGregor, the officials and young women clerks at city hall, the employees at Johnson Bros. and from many friends. The burial was at Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

TO INSTALL OFFICERS.

The newly elected officers of Quincy lodge of Elks will be installed next Tuesday evening in Colonial hall at 7.45 o'clock. The officers will be installed by Harry E. Gleason, P. E. R., of Brookline lodge, as acting District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler. The installing officer will be accompanied by a large suite. A banquet will be served at the club house following the installation.

☞ The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

KEEP POSTED ON THE PEOPLE'S WANTS — CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING — WHY WORRY LET THESE ADS LIFT YOUR BURDEN

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 3 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Private garage, large, light and roomy. 380 Washington street, City. 8-3t

FOR RENT—1126 Hancock street, opposite Adams Academy, house 7 rooms, and bath 18 Faxon avenue, suite 6 rooms and bath, every modern improvement Tel. 414-M Weymouth. 7-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 7-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of two family house, 5 rooms and bath, all improvements, 3 Bradford street, Quincy Adams. Apply to William Duggan, Bradford street or telephone Quincy 724-W. 7-6t

TO LET—With private family, centrally located, a room suitable for one person, modern conveniences, and rent reasonable. Write Ledger L. M. B., or call Quincy 1796W. 7-6t

TO LET—Half house of six rooms and large laundry to adult family, conveniences, large garden. Rent $20. Apply to George H. Newcomb, 21 Adams Bldg. or M. M. Newcomb, 39 Gay street or phone 1990 Quincy. 2-tf

RENT REDUCED—Half house at 31 Bigelow street in first class condition; good neighborhood and convenient to everything. Bath, laundry, furnace coal range, shades, screens, gas etc. Apply at 33 Bigelow street. 1-tf

TO LET—At 33 Bigelow street, Quincy, a desirable house of eight rooms with improvements. Ready for occupancy about April 15. Apply on premises. 1-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house, 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2, Quincy or 110 South street, Boston, Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET—Upper and lower flats 91 and 93 Revere road 4 and 6 rooms and bath. To small families, $20 and $18. Fred M. Torrey, 25 Spear St., Tel. 202-1 Quincy. 27-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 5 rooms, one attic room and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. 97 Goddard street, near Quincy Adams Station. 15-tf.

TO LET—Tenement of three rooms $7.50 per month. Good place for hens. James Moorhead, 28 Curtis street. Tel. 599-1. 15-tf.

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $13. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

TO LET

TO LET—To small family of adults, several sunny attractive half houses, all improvements, centrally located, $21, $23 and $25 per month and water rates. Tel. Quincy 174-2, Charles H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. 10-12t

TO LET—Large Colonial house, containing 13 rooms, finely situated, ample grounds, one minute walk to centre. Would make an ideal Inn. Write N. D. Ledger Office. Apr. 3-7-10 3t

TO LET—Large square bedroom in private family. Near Wollaston beach Will board. Man and wife preferred. Write M. W. Ledger Office or telephone 439-M. 8-3t

TO LET—Upper flat of 4 rooms and bath. All improvements, electric lights, furnace, gas stove, etc. For further particulars enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 8-tf

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements. 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams. 12 Greenleaf street. 13-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—A baby carriage in good condition. Apply at 24 Elm avenue, Wollaston. Telephone Quincy 502-W. 10-1t

FOR SALE—Milk wagon, painted and varnished, strong, carry a ton. Bargain $75. 50 Squantum street, East Milton, phone 688-M Milton. 9-3t

FOR SALE—A half house on Quincy avenue near Scammel street. Apply to E. F. Curtis, 172 Washington street, Weymouth. Tel. 253-M. 8-3t

FOR SALE—Building lots on highest point of land between Boston and Plymouth. One minute from electric fifteen minutes from steam, 15c fare to Boston, 5c fare to Fore River, gas, electricity and town water A live town Dr. Taylor, South Weymouth, Mass. 7-6t

FOR SALE OR TO LET—On Independence avenue, South Quincy, an 8 room cottage, with all modern improvements. If not sold by May 1, will be let. J. B. Sutherland, Independence avenue. 8-3t

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E. R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-tf. L. P.

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN

Real Estate Insurance

Auctioneer Care of Property

Justice of the Peace

Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

CARPENTER AND BUILDER

PLANS EXECUTED

Established 1831 in Quincy

All Work Given Prompt Attention

W. R. LOFGREN

19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall

Tel. Quincy 368-3

EDWARD J. FEGAN

COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW

830 A. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.

914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.

10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.

Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK QUINCY.

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.

Dandy bungalow in E Braintree for sale: small pay't., bal. as rent: see this at once.

Houses H. F. McIntire Greenleaf Bl'k Tel. Quincy 1665-W.

Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.

1-1 yr.

LOST

LOST—A slide rule, in a case, with name F. L. Perra on case, worth about $8.00, between Quincy square and Quincy Point Reward if returned to the Bay State St. R. R. Office. 10-3t

WANTED

WANTED—Dressmaking either to go out to customers or at home 7 Park street, South Weymouth. Telephone 425 Christin Nelson. 20-10t S. and W

WANTED—Carpenters, all grades. Apply at new house, Independence avenue or J. W. Pratt, 5 Summer street, corner of School street. 8-3t

CHAUFFEUR—Wants position with private family or on truck. Temperate. Long experience and best of references. Melvin L. Dell, 40 Franklin street. Telephone 1056-W 5-6t

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

TO LET

Large Room 30 x 36

Second Floor

Savings Bank Building

Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes

Quincy Savings Bank

CLARENCE BURGIN. Treas.

Nov

FOR SALE

Great Bargain. In Quincy, near car line, House, Barn, one acre land, $3,200. Very easy terms.

FRANK FESSENDEN CRANE

19 Temple St., Quincy, Mass

9-6t

Arthur B. Foster

CARPENTER and BUILDER

14 Bay View St, Quincy Point

Telephone Connection

31-1m

LEWIS N CURTIS

PAINTER and GLAZIER

LEADED STAINED GLASS

DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER

OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED

Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.

will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.

OFFICE AT

96 WASHINGTON ST.

QUINCY

Tel. 613

BE WISE

FOOL THE FLIES

HAVE YOUR SCREENS RE-COVERED NOW

TELEPHONE OR WRITE

HOLMES & HALL

1179 HANCOCK ST.

TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

DO YOU WANT

=== Some New Rugs, Carpets, Linoleum
=== A New Parlor Suite - A Library Table
=== A Dining Table - China Closet - Buffet
=== A Davenport - Bed - Mattress
=== in short anything in homefurnishings?

Special Values Invite You Here

You can always do BEST at Kincaide's. Everything is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction. Assortments are large and carefully selected. All goods are A-1 quality. Terms to suit you will be arranged. Prices always lowest—and just now there are many SPECIAL VALUES throughout the store. For example

REGULAR $21.00	REGULAR $23.75	REGULAR $25	REGULAR $29 75
Golden Oak China Closets	Quartered Oak BUFFETS	Quartered Oak Dining Tables	3-Piece Parlor Suites
$14.75	$18.50	$17.50	$19.75

50 New Baby Carriages, Go-Carts and Sulkies at Low Prices
Guaranteed Bicycles $25 and up. Agents for Iver Johnson Wheels.

Kincaide Furniture Store

Entire 5 Floor Building 1495 Hancock St., Quincy

DEPLORE PRESENT LACK

(Continued from Page One.)

army as would insure respect for its rights and its dignity."

Mr. Mackay closed by reading from a newspaper account of the battle of Gettysburg, written more than 50 years ago, the following tribute to the soldiers, living and dead, who had taken part in that conflict. The writer of the tribute was Carleton, war correspondent of the Boston Journal. The tribute follows:

"The invasion of the North was over, the power of the Southern Confederacy broken. There at that sunset hour I could discern the future,—no longer an overcast sky, but clear, unclouded star-light,—a country redeemed, saved, baptized, consecrated anew to the coming ages.

"All honor to the heroic living, all honor to the gallant dead. They have not fought in vain they have not died for naught. No man liveth to himself alone. Not for themselves but for their children, for those who may never hear of them in nameless graves, have they yielded life—for the future—for all that is good, pure, holy, true, just—for humanity, righteousness, peace—for paradise on earth—for Christ and for God—they have given themselves a willing sacrifice. Blessed be their memory forevermore."

Charles H. Johnson when introduced was received with a round of applause. This was the first public speech of Mr. Johnson's since the Mayoralty campaign last fall but he has lost none of his old time vigor of speech. The address was one of the best in the large number that have been delivered by Mr. Johnson and stamp has as one of the best of our Patriotic speakers. His opening words caught the attention of the audience at once.

"I am pleased to have this opportunity of meeting the members of Paul Revere Post and members of kindred organizations, to join with you in the observance of one of the most stirring and exciting events of our Civil war. Much as I enjoy meeting you boys in blue and you women of the Relief Corps, I sincerely wish that on this occasion I might be privileged to meet an audience of the citizens at large of this City.

"This day and occasion would be a most auspicious one to remind them of the cold, indifference and lack of patriotism in our midst, that will allow the years to quietly slip by and no effort made to procure a memorial hall for the patriotic organizations of our city. The pages of history are rich with the deeds of Quincy born patriots and heroes, and now only a handful are left of the heroes of '61.

"The dingy quarters you still occupy are good enough for the preservers of our Nation, so say the citizens of our city as indicated by their actions. Two historical spots, either of which would have been most desireable for such a hall, have been diverted to other purposes, and the citizens quiet their consciences by orpanizing an association to pay your expenses in a place that resembles in some ways Libby prison. The above expenses are met in a large part by those who are and have always been deeply interested in keeping alive the true spirit of patriotism. When well known men of our city are not included in this list of subscribers they had better turn once more the pages of history and read the story of the fierce and bloody conflicts on many a battiefield, waged by you members of Paul Revere Post 88 G. A. R., that the corner stones of this nation might be preserved, and in this preservation they have been enabled to heap to themselves great riches.

"I trust you will pardon this possibly unexpected opening of my address on this occasion but as long as I have the power of speech I shall cry aloud in the streets and bye-ways of our city the urgent need and bounden duty of her citizens to give a substantial recognition to the true spirit which spread throughout this land on the Surrender of Gen. Lee by the erection of a Memorial Home, especially when the example is being set by many a small hamlet in Massachusetts."

Mr. Johnson then gave a most graphic description of the Surrender of General Lee. In closing he said:

"So the news of Lee's surrender filled the country with wild excitement. All modes of expressing joy were inadequate, and yet all were employed. It is doubtful if so many bells were ever rung together, and so many cannons fired, and so many shouts of victory raised, since the dawn of creation as on that memorable Monday of April 10, 1865. Standing upon the hill-top, almost anywhere in the loyal states the sound of many bells and the peals of connons could be heard. The people were no happier than the people were when Cornwallis surrendered, and the bloody strife for Independence was over."

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Kincaide Furniture Store
Joyce Bros. & Co.
Quincy Realty Trust
Orent-Payson Co.
Oberlin S. Clark
Bernard Fritz & Co.
For Sale
B. H. Nerse
Nathan Ames

The Young People's Religious Union of the First Parish church are to give a dance at Alpha hall Tuesday evening, April 27, for the benefit of the Boston Federation of Young People's Religious Unions.

A Perfect Roast

is a source of delight to the epicure. We dress meats daintily and spicily and merit your everlasting approval. Every sanitary precaution taken by us to keep our meats in perfect condition.

Choice Rib Roasts of Prime Beef	14—18—22 lb.
French Roast, top of shoulder, rolled, all meat, economical,	20 lb
Rib Steak Roast, no fat, no bone, a favorite with many	22 lb.
Vein Roast, no waste, all good meat,	22 lb.
Hatchet Corn, best Maine,	2 cans 25
Good Peas, Tomatoes,	3 cans 25
Sears Pure Raspberry Jam regular 25 size	for 20 Bottle
Van Camps Beans, 20 size	3 cans 50
Carnation Milk	3 cans 25
Blue Label Catsup, large size Bottle	19
Manhattan Marmalade, large size Bottle	15
Hersheys Cocoa, 1-2 lb can	16
Pompeian Olive Oil, Quart can	75

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980

FOY'S 2 STORES

WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

WOMAN HEALER IS FINED $100

Court Places Her on Probation However

Madame May L. Butterfield of 42 Appleton street, with an office at 246 Copeland street, West Quincy, pleaded not guilty to a charge of illegal practice of medicine in the district court this morning and after a hearing was fined $100.

Judge Avery suspended sentence and placed her on probation until April 26, 1916, with the understanding she would refrain from continuing in business and would give none of the herb tonic she prepared unless the person wanting it could produce a prescription from a registered physician calling for it.

The case was conducted by Inspector Goodhue of the police department, complainant. The State Board of Registration was represented by State Officer Keating.

The witnesses were mostly Italian residents of West Quincy.

They testified they had taken the preparations of Madame Butterfield.

The defendant said she had prepared an herb medicine and sold it ever since the death of her father, who was a docto r 25 years ago. She said she had never violated the law and never had intended to and that she did not think a person shoul be prosecuted in trying to help the poor.

Judge Avery after hearing the government and defendant testimony turne d to Madame Butterfield and said "You refrain from giving this medicine to anybody who comes to you unless they come to you with a physician's prescription calling for your medicine. You are not capable of diagnosing diseases and it is not for you to say."

"Why should anyone object," asked Madame Butterfield," if they say they want to take it?"

"You have no right to advise them to take it, "replied the judge.

"I have advised no one to take it and it is singular this should happen, after all these years, i n Quincy, where I have been but three weeks."

Judge Avery then lectured Madame Butterfield and gave his interpretation of the law she was charged with having violated. He spoke of her preparation being analyzed and recommended her calling on the State Board of Registration to learn just how far she could go.

"But," said Madame Butterfield," I have several witnesses here in my behalf."

"I don't think they will change the case."

"But, they ought to be put on the stand."

"Very well," said Judge Avery, "I will hear them."

Two women were then sworn and after their testimony the judge said their evidence only confirmed his belief and he imposed the sentence.

Concrete for Permanence

There are several purposes for which concrete is better adapted than any other building material.

Have you seen the good roads movement pictures labeled "Before" and "After?" Why not make your front walk look like "After?" Concrete will do it.

Do you like the rough, ill appearing interior surface of old fashioned stone house foundations with the mortar often loose and falling out? Did you know that concrete would give a smooth, regular, good appearing wall at about the same price?

Have you ever thought you would like to know more about other uses you have heard concrete is put to? Why not ask me?

OBERLIN S. CLARK
Concrete
537 BRIDGE STREET
Tel 593-M Wey.
NORTH WEYMOUTH

JOYCE BROS. & CO. JOYCE BROS. & CO. JOYCE BROS. & CO.
Boston — Providence — Lynn — Pawtucket — Quincy — Manchester — Malden

When Buying Your Spring Clothes

REMEMBER! That this store offers advantages in making purchases and settlements that never before have been equalled by any house in our line in this country. REMEMBER! THAT IT IS YOUR PLAIN DUTY TO GET THE MOST PO SI-LE VALUE for every dollar expended. REMEMBER! That at this store you can buy more and better clothes for the same money than is obtainable elsewhere. REMEMBER! That OUR BUSINESS POLICY OF SMALL PRO ITS ON A LARGE VOLUME OF BUSINESS and not big profits on a small number of sales PROTECTS THE PEOPLE AGAINST THE HIGH COST OF CLOTHING NECESSITIES.

YOU DON'T NEED TO PAY CASH FOR YOUR SPRING CLOTHING!

We will gladly charge your purchases, and you may pay for them in easy partial payments as you earn the money

Stylish Suits
We show a great variety of stylish spring suits in serges, poplin, crepe and shepherd plaids. All the latest colors. Alterations free.
$9.90, $12.50 up to $18.50

Beautiful Suits
Stunning spring suits in poplin, gabardine, serges, crepe, plaids and chuddah cloth. Colors Belgian blue, navy, sand, putty and black. The latest accepted styles. Alterations free.
$18.98, $22.50 up to $37.50

Misses' Suits
Stylish spring suits for misses and small women in the most becoming styles, colors and materials. You will find your suit "affinity" here at a great money-saving price. Alterations free.
$9.90, $12.50 up to $25.00

New Spring Coats
Stylish coats for spring and summer wear in fancy plaids coverts, chinchilla and stylish mixtures. All colors. Styles the latest. Alterations free.
$6.98, $12.50 up to $30.00

Ladies' Dresses
Beautiful stylish dresses in serge, messaline, taffeta, crepe de chine, poplin, etc. Colors Belgian blue, sand, putty, navy, gray and black. Alterations free.
$6.98, $12.50 up to $35.00

Girls' Coats
Ages 4 to 14. Nobby, stylish spring coats for girls, in all the new shades and latest styles. Materials serge crepe, poplin and fancy mixtures. All colors.
$1.98, $2.50, $4.98 up to $10.00

Men's Spring Suits
This department is now replete with stylish Spring Suits for men, and represents the best products of the country's best manufacturers. Our prices are the lowest obtainable for equally good merchandise.
$9.98, $12.50, $16.98, up to $30.00

Young Men's Suits
Our line of young men's Spring Suits is particularly attractive. Stylish, snappy models, in new, handsome fabrics and popular colors; grays, tans, browns and blues.
$7.98, 12.50, $14.98 up to $24.00

Men's Overcoats
Our line of Men's Spring Overcoats represents the latest models and most stylish fabrics. We show only what is correct in style and that will give perfect satisfaction.
$12.50, $16.50, $18.98, up to $30.00

Stylish Shoes
We show a large variety of stylish, dependable Shoes for Men and Boys. High cut and Oxford. Black and tan.
$1.75, $2.50, $3.50 up to $5.00

Boys' Suits
Well made, dignified, handsome Suits for boys are what we show in this department Made from stylish, sturdy fabrics in Russian, Norfolk sailor and double-breasted models.
$1.98, $3.50, $4.98 up to $10.00

Boys' Overcoats
Stylish, nobby Spring Overcoats for the little man. We show in tan, blue, red and brown, all the latest models combining durability, comfort and economy.
2.98, $3.50, $4.98, up to $10.00

WE ARE COMPLETE OUTFITTERS FOR MAN, WOMAN AND CHILD

Joyce Bros. & Co.

HAVE YOUR PURCHASES CHARGED

13-15 Granite Street, Quincy

JOYCE BROS. & CO. JOYCE BROS. & CO. JOYCE BROS. & CO.

CELEBRATES HER 17TH BIRTHDAY

A birthday party was given by Miss Agnes Mathieson at her home Washington street, Quincy Point Thursday evening. A pretty table was spread with fancy cookies, cake, candy, fruit and ice cream. The table was decorated with Easter lilies and small chicks. The room was illuminated by a birthday cake of seventeen candles giving a pleasing effect to the dainty spread.

Among those present were Misses Lillian Dorley, Helen Jones, Ellen Wright, Susie Harry, Maud Jones, Isabella Frew, Margaret Frew, Geraldine Herd, Elmer Herd, May Redding and Josephine Tebrault.

Music and games were enjoyed the remainder of the evening. Miss Redding played a piano solo and Miss Agnes Mathieson sang. The guests departed merrily, each carrying an Easter souvenir.

ATLANTIC SHAKESPEARE CLUB.

The Atlantic Shakespeare club met Friday afternoon with Mrs. B. F. Thomas and completed the reading of Midsummer Night's Dream, the 4th and 5th acts being read. During the reading Mrs. Cecil Marble gav e a piano solo. "Midsummer Night's Dream" which was beautifully rendered. At the business session of the club plans were made to visit the Art Museum, April 15, and listen to a talk on laces.

GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL HERE.

Mr. Grafton of the census bureau at Washington arrived in Quincy this morning for the yearly government examination of the trust funds of the city, the expenses of the city etc. He will probably be in Quincy several days.

MAYOR RETURNS.

Mayor Campbell returned from a business trip to Philadelphia this morning. He said that he had good weather while absent and a pleasant trip.

SEPTEMBER MORN.

Italy, as the Philadelphia Record points out, is giving an excellent imitation of September Morn these days. She can't make up her mind whether to plunge or not to plunge.—Hartford Times.

DEATHS

MUNDY—In Quincy, April 10, Margaret Crathorne, beloved wife of John Mundy.
Funeral from late residence 111 Arnold street, Monday, April 12 at 8.15 A. M. High mass of requiem at St. John's church at nine o'clock. Relatives and friends invited. Please omit flowers.
SHELDON—In East Milton, April 9, Henry E. Sheldon, in his 64th year. Funeral services at late home 486 Adams street, Monday, April 12, at 2 P. M.
LEAVITT—In Quincy, April 9th, Ann, widow of Calvin L. Leavitt of 70 Coddington street, in her 78th year.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1495 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 86 QUINCY, MASS., MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 12, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

J. HIGGINS IS AGAIN MANAGER

Fore River B. B. Team to Practice Saturday

John Higgins has been reappointed manager of the Fore River shipyard base ball team which will again play in the Manufacturers' league this season. Practice has been called for next Saturday afternoon at Merrymount park and nearly 60 have announced their intention of reporting. The majority claim to be battery men. Manager Higgins feels he will be able to put a team on the diamond which will outclass anything the city has seen in years. The fans at the close of last season, after a careful review, have generally admitted the 1914 team was of high class.

The Fore River base ball season will open auspiciously. Charles Knight reported at the yard today and is the most likely candidate in sight for pitcher. Link Elcock and Wes Ganzel have both secured positions there and may remain throughout the season. Both boys were signed up with the New York state leagues which were broken up a week ago on account of business depression. With Ganzel at first and Link at second, strengthened by Cain, the fast hot corner man who is available, and probably Frank Gillis at second, the infield should be a good one.

CANTATA OF RUTH AT WOLLASTON

Gaul's cantata of Ruth was given Sunday afternoon at the Wollaston Congregational church under the direction of William Ellis Wyston. The cantata was given by a chorus of forty voices assisted by the quartette choir of the church. In addition to the music, Rev. Dr. Sneath, pastor of the church, gave a talk on the character of Ruth.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity.
Tuesday fair with diminishing winds.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	5.08
Sun sets	6.23
Length of day	13.15
Moon rises	4.28
High water, A. M.	10.45
High water, P. M.	11.00
Days increase	4 hrs. 9 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	68 degrees
Apr. 12, 1914,	56 degrees
Apr. 12, 1913,	60 degrees

Noon Maximum 18 years—86
Noon Minimum 18 years—30

AUTOMOBILE STRIKES BOY

Skin Stripped From Leg Of Six Year Old Child

Horace Call, 6 years, of 403 Washington street, was run over by an automobile on Washington street, Saturday night, and suffered a fracture of the right leg. The boy's leg was stripped of all its skin on the right side, from just below the knee to the fracture at the ankle, without the tiniest blood vessel bursting and it will be necessary to graft new skin. Surgeons are watching the case with interest since a complete cast cannot be put around the leg until the grafting is completed.

The machine which struck little Horace was owned by Ernest Leroy Lane of Hingham, and was operated by his chauffeur, Francis Krause. The latter says that he was driving slowly and that the boy ran in front of his machine from behind a team and that it was impossible to stop before striking him.

Mr. Lane took the boy to the office of Dr. W. J. Middleton. Dr. Leslie Spooner was in the machine and assisted in the examination. The boy was later taken to the Quincy City hospital.

Mr. Lane drove to police headquarters and reported the accident. He was allowed to go to his home.

WARMEST APR. 11 FOR MANY YEARS

The parade of spring finery, which was called off on Easter Sunday on account of the bad weather, took place Sunday. It was the warmest April 11 for many years and was taken advantage of by all who could get out. Open street cars made their appearance for the first time this season, and while some closed cars were also run it was noticed that when there was a choice between a closed and an open car, the open car had the preference. Thousands of automobiles were passing through City square all day and Officer Jim Murray had his hands full preventing collisions.

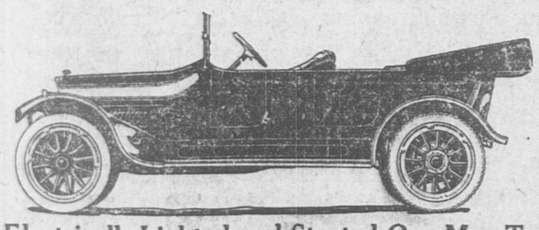

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Murray of Fairhaven are visiting Mrs. Alexander Davidson of Forest avenue, West Quincy.

CITY OF QUINCY.
Department of Health.
April 10, 1915.

Bids will be received by the Board of Health at their office Room 12, City Hall until Wednesday, April 14, 1915 at 10 A. M., for building a fence around the Quarry Hole on Apthorp Street, Atlantic and also about Wilson's Quarry, West Quincy. Specifications may be obtained by calling at the office of the Board of Health.

WALTER H. BUCHAN, Chairman.
Board of Health.
10-2t

THE 1915 REO IS HERE

Electrically Lighted and Started, One Man Top Increased Wheel Base, 34x4 Tires, Crown Fender, Improved Upholstering, Increased Power.

	F.O.B. Factory		F.O.B. Factory
4 cyl. - - -	$1050	2 ton Truck	$1650
6 cyl. - - -	$1385	Light Delivery 1500 lbs.	$1075
4 cyl. Runabout	$1000	Light Delivery Chassis	$1000
4 cyl. Coupe	$1575

Reo the Fifth - - the Incomparable Four is on Display at our Garage. Call and see This Car.
Ask for Demonstration

CENTRAL GARAGE and SUPPLY CO.
Corner Washington and Pond Sts.
QUINCY
Tel. 1035 W — C. W. Hodgkinson, Prop.

16-1mo.

BUILDING STILL IS VERY ACTIVE

Work on Foundation of Wollaston Block Is Started Today

ARE ERECTING HOUSES

Although a permit has not as yet been taken out from the office of the inspector of buildings, work was commenced this morning on the foundation for a one story block on the corner of Hancock and Beale streets. It is understood from the contractor, E H. Sears, that the building will be of brick, with three stores facing on Hancock street and three facing on Beale street. It is expected that the permit for the building will be taken out this week.

Work is also progressig tearing down some of the old buildings on Beale street near the new Masonic Temple, making ready for the erection of a large apartment house. While it is not definitely known just what the plans are it is understood that there will be stores on the street floor and a number of small apartments on the upper floors.

A trip through the Wollaston Park district shows unusual building activity for there are now in the process of building, upwards of thirty dwellings. This section of the city is especially adapted to residental purposes and is fast building up.

GET READY FOR YACHTING SEASON

Things have begun to liven up at the Baker Yacht Basin where many yachts have been tied up during the winter months and the owners have begun to get their craft ready for active service. The steam yacht "Thendara," owned by King Upton is being rapidly made ready for a spring cruise to Chesapeake Bay and Virginia waters. Other yachts in the basin which are being made ready for the immediate service are the steam yacht "Wacondah" of Charles Hayden, the schooner "Astra" of Fred Jones; the sloop "Halaia" of James W. Dammerall, Jr., the "White Heather" of Alexander P. Graham and the "Thalia" of Commodore Dawes.

Sunday was also a busy day among the owners of yachts tied up at the foot of River street. There are a large number of small yachts hauled up at this point and Sunday their owners were on hand to see what repairs were necessary, before putting them into the water.

RECEIVE CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Arnold of 175 Arnold street, Braintree are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter today.

You need the Ledger every day.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

QUINCY SAVINGS BANK

The Annual Meeting of the members of the Quincy Savings Corporation, for the election of Trustees, and any other business that may legally come before them, will be held on

TUESDAY, APRIL 13, 1915,
at 4.30 o'clock P. M., at the Banking Rooms, 1374 Hancock street, Quincy, Mass.

GEORGE E. ADAMS, Clerk.
3t April 1-5-12

Massachusetts Institute of Technology
COMBINED MUSICAL CLUBS
CONCERT
April 13 at 8 p.m.
Alpha Hall, -- Quincy
Benefit of
SIMMONS COLLEGE
Tickets - - 50 cents

3, 7, 9, 12

YACHT CLUB IS JUBILANT

Hears Good News at Meeting Saturday

There was great rejoicing among the members of the Wollaston yacht club when it was announced Saturday evening, that the channel off the club house, for which a special appropriation had been made by the legislature, would be from 8 to 9 feet deep instead of 6 feet as was expected.

This announcement came at the smoker of the club, and was contained in a letter to Representative Sandberg from the Directors of the Port of Boston It was the word of cheer brought by Representative Sandberg when called upon to speak Senator Langelier, who was also present, said that he could say that work on the channel would be awarded as soon as the contract had been let, which would be very soon He also announced that it was expected that work on the boulevard would be commenced next week.

Commodore Taylor announced that the banquet and real opening smoker of the club would be held May 1. During the evening there was music by an orchestra and readings by Henry Armstrong. The speaker of the evening was Inspector Feri Felix Weiss of the United States Immigration Service, who gave an interesting talk on "The Sieve."

The title is very well chosen for Inspector Weiss compares the Immigration Law to a sieve which Uncle Sam is using to sift the inflowing multitude of aliens, separating the admissable and desirable immigrant from the undesirable, diseased and vicious.

The speaker traced Immigration from the arrival of the Pilgrim fathers and early settlers up to date, almost to the minute. He showed how the incoming tide has changed considerably during the past century, and especially during the last quarter century, how the sources of Immigration have reached further and further back from the British Isles to the Continent of Europe, until now the waves have touched not only Asia Minor, but even the Hinterland of Asia and Africa. Races like for instance the Armenians, Syrians, Chaldeans, Kurds, Turks, have never been known to come here in large numbers till recently; Croatians, Slavonians, Servians, Slovaks, Bulgarians, Macedonians, Greeks, Albanians and Ruthenians have only started to come within the last 25 years. The speaker pointed out the grave conditions which may arise eventually in this country if a large floating population of birds of passage flocks in, who form foreign colonies right in the heart of our big cities.

Another interesting point brought out by the Inspector is the effect of Immigration on the labor question. He explained the working of the Contract Labor laws which prohibit the importation of alien labor into this country. He explained at length the Medical examination of arriving immigrants, which is really the most important and most practical part of the enforcement of the Immigration laws. He illustrated his remarks by some pathetic and also some humorous stories relative to immigrants whom he personally intercepted during his twelve years duty at the Long Wharf Station. Among other things he related how he captured "Sir" James Carleton, the English adventurer, who later jumped his bail of $2,000 and is now serving a four years term in England.

Inspector Weiss closed his remarks with a patriotic appeal to all those present to take the deepest interest in the most vital question of the day, i. e., the Immigation question, as in his opinion a tremendous wave or high-tide is apt to set in after the War from all those countries which have suffered through the devastations of invading armies, and also from others where heavy taxation and generally unsatisfactory economic conditions are likely to pinch the laboring classes to such a degree that they may shake the dust of their old homes and seek betterment from poverty in the Eldorado of the West.

Inspector Weiss invited the members of the club to hear his Stereopticon Lecture on the same subject in Tremont Temple on April 27th, where they will have an opportunity to see the most interesting incidents he talks about illustrated on the screen.

SCAN COURTROOM CEILING INTENTLY

Judge and Spectators Crane Necks Without Knowing Why

REASON REVEALED LATER

The investigation of a leak in the roof of the district court house by John Thomas, the local roofer, while court was in session, created not a little excitement this morning.

Mr. Thomas reached the building after Judge Avery took the bench. William Coughlin, the custodian, pointed out that the leak had stained the ceiling in the basement and Mr. Thomas examined the roof and traced the course of the leak as passing by the court room. To make sure the walls and ceiling of that chamber hadn't been stained he quietly entered.

Practically no attention was paid to him until he stood gazing upward. Several times he changed position, but still gazed. The spectators joined him and finally Judge Avery, Court Officer Marden, Assistant Court Officer Hultman, Clerk Lyons and Probation Officer Fahy got to craning their necks.

Mr. Thomas said nothing during the gaze and when he left the court room all wondered why he did it. The explanation came after court adjourned.

TO HAVE LATE E. MILTON CAR

Councilman John D. Smith has probably earned the undying gratitude of the young men of Quincy who have made a practice of reaching City square late and losing the East Milton 11.10 car on Sunday evenings.

Without mentioning the cause of the delay, there has been some demand for a late car on that evening and the young man from Ward Four at the request of the young men, particularly of a colleague who finds himself frequently in the same box, took the matter up with street railway officials during the winter. A promise of earnest consideration with the opening of spring and heavier traffic, resulted today in the following communication:

Quincy, April 9, 1915.
Mr. John D. Smith,
West Quincy, Mass.,
Dear Sir:

As per our conversation relative to running a late car from Quincy to East Milton Sundays, I wish to inform you that we have a number of changes to go into effect May 2nd, 1915, and beginning on that date will have a care leave Quincy at 11.50 P. M. for East Milton and return every Sunday, on trial.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) Thomas Gammons, Supt.

FINED FOR RECKLESSNESS.

Gustave Gutler of Brockton pleaded guilty to reckless operation of an auto this morning and paid a $50 fine The complainant Patrolman Schofield of Weymouth, testified that Gutler ran his machine against a hydrant in Commercial square Sunday evening and broke it off, causing

ANOTHER BIG CONTRACT FOR FORE RIVER YARD

Will Construct Molasses Boat For Cuban Distilling Co.

The Fore River Shipbuilding Corp secured another large contract Saturday The contract was for building a molasses boat for the Cuban Distilling Company. The new vessel will be of the same design as the steamships Nelson and Currier, built by the Fore River Corporation for this same company, although she will be considerably larger than either the Nelson or Currier. The new vessel will be about 505 feet long and the contract calls for her delivery in eleven months.

The new steamship will have a capacity of 3,000,000 gallons and while the contract price is not given out it is said to not be far from $700,000.

WORRIED DOG, ARE ARRESTED

The big dog of Carmine Salvucci of Brooks avenue, was the occasion of a disturbance in South Quincy Sunday afternoon which resulted in the arrest of Joseph DiVesti and Joseph DiBrini on charges of disturbing the peace and drunkenness.

The police say that Salvucci's dog was inside the fence and both men in passing ran sticks along the pickets and worried the dog who started growling and barking Salvucci came to the door and ordered the men to leave the dog alone. What followed is not known but the neighbors reported a fight and the police were rushed to the scene. The men had scattered when they arrived. Chauffeur Whelan followed in the direction one had taken and caught him near Rodman street. The other was apprehended near Roberts street A large crowd of Italians joined in the chase.

DiVesti created considerable excitement in the flight because his face was covered with blood streaming from a gaping wound in the head. He was treated by Dr. W. J. Middleton at police headquarters and appeared in court this morning, his head swathed in bandages. Four Italians were sworn in as witnesses and the cases were continued until April 28. The defendants were released on their personal recognizance.

The police are making an investigation of the affair and it is probable that further arrests will be made.

SERVICES FOR MRS MUNDY.

Long time neighbors, relatives and friends attended the funeral of Margaret Crathorne Mundy, wife of John Mundy, held this morning from her home at 111 Arnold street.

A high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. John's church by Fr. Walter A. Quinlan. Music was by the regular choir which sang the Gregorian chant under the direction of John Mahon, organist, with Miss Eva Rice and Mrs. Mary Burns King as soloists.

The burial was in St. Mary's cemetery. The bearers were J. A. Carey and James J. Powers of Quincy, William and John Craven of Boston.

Fresh strawberries with delicious ice cream is on the bill at the store of Charles C. Hearn, the City square druggist.

MRS. EMILY M. O'BRIEN.

Mrs. Emily McLay O'Brien, wife of James J. O'Brien who lives at Brook road and Water street, died Sunday evening at the Carney hospital. Her child died four weeks ago.

Mrs. O'Brien before her marriage two years ago lived in Braintree. She was a popular girl in that town and Quincy.

GETS CURLEY'S PICTURE.

Mrs. T. J. O'Connell of 33 Summer street, was the recipient Saturday of an autograph photograph of Hon. James M. Curley, mayor of Boston in a handsome frame.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

TO LET

After May 1, Store or Stores No. 18-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.

Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.

Dyerin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.

City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.

Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.

City Square Store House or Shop
—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

City Square Club Room or Hall
—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.

Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.

Music Hall—Music Hall Block— capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.

Colonial Hall—Hancock Building —City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building City Square—capacity 150

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for E. r. Kribs.
Greenleaf Block ('Phone 1003) Quincy

KINCAIDE THEATRE

"THE GOOSE GIRL"
A Paramount Photo-play with Margaret Clark and an All Star Cast
Full of Thrills and Remarkable Acting

Vaudeville. "Chiyci" The Japanese Wonder in his Novelty Act
Louise Ferera—A Remarkable Musician and Entertainer.
Two Emeralds — Unique Songsters with Rapid Costume Changes.
Mon. Tues. & Wed.—Daily at 2.30 P. M. 10 & 15c. Evenings at 8—10-15-25c

Coming Thursday — MARY PICKFORD in Mistress Nell

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

REPORTERS AND DRINKING.

Brockton possesses a Press club which held its opening banquet Thursday night. It has a membership of 65 and bids fair to become a flourishing institution. It is significant of the changed times that at the organization meeting of the club the members voted unanimously that no intoxicating liquor should be served in the rooms. There was a time, and not many years ago, when a Press club without liquor would have been doomed to failure. There was a time when almost one of the qualifications of a newspaper man was an ability to "stow away" a considerable amount of alcoholic drinks. There were reporters and editors in that era who never drank but they were in the minority.

Now the balance has shifted decidedly. Most successful newspaper men are temperate, many are total abstainers. Intoxication is a sure road to dismissal in many newspaper offices today. Owners of newspapers have come to realize, just as owners of railroads and other great industries have come to realize over-indulgence in intoxicants spells inefficiency in the employee and a financial loss to the business. It is not a question of sentiment but a question of dollars and cents. The drinking newspaper man with dulled brain cannot keep pace with his non-drinking rival who always has possession of all his faculties.

THE PEACE FLAG.

Numerous inquiries have been received by the Women's Peace Party in regard to the Peace Flag, which was in existence long before their party was organized but which is becoming known, in the eastern states at least, largely through their influence. For ten years at least this flag has been flying in different parts of the country. It consists simply in adding to the national flag a white, border, double the width of the separate stripes. This is easily adaptable to the flag of any country, and is far more sensible and convenient than the "universal flag" proposed. By the use of it one may proclaim his loyalty and at the same time indicate that that loyalty implies no enmity to other nations. In Chicago the flag has been much used by schools. A prominent writer and settlement worker has expressed the hope that some day this flag will wave over postoffices, hospitals, and all other buildings of plainly pacific purposes.

WAR MAD.

A French Socialist paper estimates the total loss of men in the Great War to date as 5,950,000 and the total expenditure of money as $8,400,000,000. – This is probably exaggerated but even allowing the loss of men to have been a million or so less the figure is still appalling. It seems inconceivable to Americans, happily at peace, that in view of such a staggering waste of men and money public opinion should not exert an influence for peace which must be heeded. But public opinion does not appear to be influenced by facts and figures which would carry conviction to sane men when that public opinion comes from peoples insane with the lust for blood. It is no idle figure of speech but a perfectly rational statement of fact to say that Europe is war mad.

LIVING HISTORY.

Secretary Daniels on Thursday sent formal orders to Rear Admiral Beatty, commanding the Norfolk Navy Yard, to take the Prinz Eitel Friederich to the Navy Yard for internment.

This is a statement which today is perfectly intelligible to the average newspaper reader. No one asks the meaning of the word internment. The accounts of the Great War have been a great school in International Law. We trust that they are so regarded by history and political economy teachers in the schools of the city. A lecture on international law now and then, in place of the chapters in the history text books which relate how Caesar crossed the Rubicon and Washington the Deleware, would not be amiss.

QUINCY AUTOMOBILE CLUB.

Among the things which Quincy does not have is an automobile club. Many cities and towns with a much smaller population and a much smaller number of automobile owners have such an organization, which not only are successful as social institutions but have accomplished much in the way of intelligent speed and driving regulations and in road improvement. In an automobile club could improve Quincy's atrocious roadways undoubtedly many would willingly pay dues toward its support, even if they did not happen to possess a gasoline buggy. Let us have a Quincy Automobile Club.

Financial Review

To the lay mind, the war struggle seems to drag disappointingly on at its western end, where the deadlock is evidently so obstinate that neither party appears prepared to break it; whether, because of inability or from desire to evade the terrible cost of life involved, is not yet apparent. At the eastern end, Russian successes, plus the activities of the Allies at the Dardanelles, give hope for an early termination of the war. The most sanguine opinion is that before the end of summer we will see the end of the war, while the least optimistic fix its cessation about the end of the year. What the effects of peace will be once restored, it is difficult to measure. It means another period of readjustment to vastly changed conditions. Several of the belligerents will have to face a period of severe exhaustion.

First efforts will be confined to reconstruction work or the rebuilding of homes, factories and railways, as well as restoration of fields and highways to usable conditons. It is quite possible that each of the nations will show greater recuperative powers than at present anticipated.

Our own foreign trade has been more seriously disturbed by the war than is generally supposed. Imports are running steadily behind, thus swelling the excess of exports. The latter would also have shrunken considerably had it not been for the large shipments of food products, war materials and the partial recovery in cotton shipments. During the seven months ending Jan. 31st, these remarkable recreases accurred in our exports: Cotton, $275,000,000; machinery, $64,000,000; steel products, $50,000,000; copper and manufactures thereof, $33,000,000; lumber and manufactures thereof, $32,000,000; mineral oils, $14,000,000; engines and cars $11,000,000; tobacco, $10,000,000; naval stores, $7,000,000; electric machinery $5,000,000 and cotton goods, $4,000,000. These losses were almost entirely due to the war. They were partly offset during the same period by increases of $190,000,000 in bread stuffs, $24,000,000 in horses and mules $12,000,000 in leather, $10,000,000. in wool manufactures, and large shipments of war material. A further idea of the effect of the war upon our foreign trade is illustrated by decreases of $215,000,000 in our exports to Germany, $29,000,000 to Belgium, $10,000,000 to Russia, $11,000,000, to Austria-Hungary and $38,000,000 to Canada; while our exports to Great Britain increased $45,000,000 to Italy $40,000,000, and to France 33,000,000.

General trade is quiet, but now that spring has fairly come, there is reason to look for improvement; in fact the latest reports show that the turn in the current has already begun. In this connection the recent large dry goods failures reflect conditons which belong to the past. The belief in early peace, the improved financial situation, the recent buoyancy in the stock market, the more reasonable attitude of legislation towards business, all tend to inspire confidence in the future. Many persons have overlooked the fact that a number of industries are reaping abnormal profits from war contracts. Our farming classes are also very prosperous. The steel trade future is more promising. Each day the belief that we have turned the corner and are on the way to better times is strengthened; hence the present activity in stocks. Conditons are favorable to continuance of that activity, accompanied by sharp fluctuations, dependent upon the vicissitudes of war.—Henry Clews.

TEAM GET SUITS.

The new suits for the base ball team of the Quincy High school were given out to the following members who comprise the first team: Captain Paul Larkin, Reardon, Hulteen, Simmons, O'Donnell, Hamlin, DiSenso, Desmond, Dorley, Bryan, O'Connor and Baker.

The second team received the old uniforms. Those getting them were: Carlson, Hoffsess, Jenkins, Pfaffmann, Arthur, Reinhalter, Sandbloom, Smith, Johnson, Isaacson, Crosby, Baron and Browne.

The first game is April 19 when the Alumni play the first team at Merrymount Park.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

REPLIES TO ATTACK.

Editor of the Ledger:

I am enclosing an answer to the recent attack on suffrage published in your paper by Judge Snell of the State of Washington. While I appreciate it is rather long, I sincerely hope that in justice to the "pro" side of the issue, you will be able to find space for the reply as I have outlined it. You will see that I have tried to make it as short as possible, that do not bear directly on Judge Snell's mistaken attitude.

Yours very truly,
Helen E. Comins.

Secretary Wollaston Equal Suffrage League.

The article, written by W. W. Seymour, former mayor of Tacoma, Washington, follows:

It certainly is most amazing that Judge Snell should have written the sentiments expressed in the article mentioned, and I can only account for it by the fact that he has been outside the State a good deal, and in recent years not closely connected with local political questions.

In the spring of 1911 I was elected Mayor of Tacoma, receiving a majority of the women's vote, and occupied the position for three years, my term having expired May 5, 1914. I wish to say that, as a result of my experience and observations, my conclusions are directly opposed to those of Judge Snell. I believe that if the question of women's suffrage were again submitted in the State of Washington it would carry by the vote of the men, by a much greater majority than in 1910.

Judge Snell refers to women taking part in politics from selfish motives. It cannot be that he has had experience with the women actively engaged in bettering political conditions. For instance, during my campaign, it was universally conceded that the women had a remarkable organization and worked hard, some of them being actively engaged for several weeks, but so far as I know (and I was in a position to know) not one of them worked for pay or for office. Most of the women appointed to office in my department during my term as mayor had taken no part in the campaign whatever, nor was I ever criticised to any extent by any woman or by a collection of women because of my appointments. In fact, the office of district nurse (which was created during my administration) was filled from Boston. Judge Snell's error in this regard needs no elaborate comment.

Every business man appreciates how much more honest and unselfish ordinarily are the services of women than of men; how much more devoted to principle in the home, in the office, in the church, anywhere, than are men.

I would not presume to make a plea for women's suffrage for Massachusetts. You may have problems of which I am unaware. Our success in this line may be local, due to our system of education, which, I think, is generally conceded to be superior to that of any other State. It may be that the hardships of pioneering which must be shared by the men and women equally, have brought them into greater sympathy and co-operation. It may be that the enterprise necessary for a women to go so far to better her condition, and the natural tendency of the west to throw its children upon their own resources, have better fitted her to assume public duties.

However this may be, in the State of Washington and the city of Tacoma we owe a great deal to the active participation of women in politics. It is true, as Judge Snell states, that on some questions their influence is not particularly felt. On the other hand, I am firmly convinced that their influence complements that of men, and that women take an active interest in certain vital questions about which the majority of men are not particularly keen.

I refer to health, sanitation, education and morals. Judge Snell very well knows, for instance, what the women through the leadership of Mrs. (Judge) O. G. Ellis of Tacoma have done both locally and in the State in regard to the pure food laws. Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane was in our State in 1914, Dr. Wiley was also there a year or so ago, and I believe either will testify as to the efficient influence of women, with votes, along these lines in the State.

The progress made in the State and city against the plague of tuberulosis can be largely credited to the women. I believe Washington is one of the leading States in fighting the "Great White Scourge." Miss Beals of Seattle and others associated with her (many of them men), have worked indefatigably throughout the State and at the sessions of the Legislature to bring about better conditions. Indeed, Pierce County (in which Judge Snell and I live), has just completed a tuberculosis hospital devoted exclusively to this disease.

Judge Snell certainly must be conversant with the influence of the women in carrying the State for prohibition last November, and while the law will be enforced by the co-operation of the men and women of Washington, the inspiration and effectiveness of enforcement will come more from the zeal and faithfulness of the women than the men.

Judge Snell refers to women returning to office Mayor Gill, whom they had helped to recall, ignoring the fact that Mayor Gill, since his return to office, has established a record differing far from that made when elected by the votes of the men alone. Indeed, I think that Mayor Gill is now making a record which will rank among the best administrations of Seattle's mayors. Anyone can corroborate this by writing to friends living in Seattle.

The Judge also mentions that women voted with the saloonkeepers (at my election), yet he very well knows that the most effective laws against the saloon were passed during my administration, and the laws were better enforced than at any previous time.

However, as to this, I might explain that the mayor under the commission form of government has little to do with this matter except in an advisory capacity, all excise matters being under the immediate control of the Commission of Public Safety. In this connection I may say I have always believed that Judge Snell voted for my election and that my official acts had his support; if so, I am somewhat surprised he should now complain against the women whose influence as a whole was exercised in the same direction.

In this last paragraph Judge Snell really answers his own contention. In the beginning he charges women with a lack of influence, and at the end he accuses them of being too thoroughly organized, as if this were a fault. During my administration as mayor I was invited either to attend as a guest or to address a good many gatherings of women, and I am proud to be able to state that in the conduct of their meetings there was nothing said or done by my women fellow citizens of which any woman anywhere need feel ashamed; on the contrary, the proceedings were very well ordered and dignified. The subjects discussed were serious, and the conclusions reached exhibited thought of the highest plane of American citizenship.

It can hardly be known to Judge Snell that his reference to women circulating petitions for pay has as a basis so few actual performances that they might well be considered negligible, and he very well knows, or should know that a law was passed by the Legislature some two years ago which effectually put an end to the practice.

Judge Snell enjoys the reputation of being one of our leading citizens; a gentleman of irreproachable character; yet his attack upon the women of the State of Washington because of their political actions would be considered outrageous were he intimately conversant with all the facts, and I feel that it must be attributed to his ignorance of local conditions that have arisen during the past few years, and especially the position which the women have taken and the influence they have exerted making for higher political and social ideals.

If women's suffrage in the State of Washington had been a failure,—indeed, had it not been a pronounced success,—the men in our neighboring States, who are thoroughly conversant with all these matters, would not have voted for the imposition of the same conditions in their respective States, as they have done.

Carefully baked and wrapped in waxed paper, to protect you and us from dust and dirt. Ask for it by name, Peter Parley bread. Take no substitute.
SOLD BY LEADING GROCERS
PRATT BREAD CO.
3190 Washington Street, Boston

Quincy Quick Lunch
1510 Hancock Street
Next to Wardwell's Bowling Alley
Open from 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.
7-6t

Editor of the Ledger:

An invitation is extended to the members of the Board of Trade to attend the meeting at Union hall Tuesday evening to inspect the quarters of the Machine Gun Company now being formed in Quincy, and it is hoped that a large number of members will attend on that evening.

The Quincy Board of Trade at its last meeting voted unanimously to endorse and assist in every way possible this Company.

The formation of this Company is certainly something of great importance to Quincy. The addition of the establishment of a company of the State Militia in Quincy is certainly one that the citizens should encourage and support in every way possible. It will increase the importance of the city as one of the leading cities in the Commonwealth. It will be of great advantage to the young men of the city affording them an opportunity to acquire military instruction and the advantages of military discipline. It will make a company of disciplined men available for the assistance of city officials if occasion should require, either from disturbance among the citizens or if we should be so unfortunate as to experience an extensive conflagration, the assistance of such a company as this of our own citizens would be invaluable.

It is the hope of the Quincy Board of Trade that the company will receive the active enthusiastic support of all classes of citizens of Quincy.

Be sure and be present at the meeting on Tuesday evening April 13th to encourage the officers and young men who have already joined.

Respectfully,
John O. Hall, Secretary.

SCISSOR PASTE

DAY OF OLD GENERAL.

The striking difference between the ages of the commanding officers in the present war as compared with those of earlier times is attributed by The British Medical Journal to the saving of bodily wear and tear brought about by modern inventions. The paper suggests that Napoleon would not have broken down so soon if he had been able to use automobile, telephone and telegraph.

Generals a few generations ago were young men, because they broke down under the hardships of campaigning. They had to live in the saddle and keep the field under eye in order to be able to direct the movements. Nowadays, the general stays in his base quarters, where he follows operations on a map as reports come in by telephone and telegraph, occasionally by motorcycle from various parts of the line. When he goes on a tour of inspection, he rolls along in a motor car at his ease.—Taunton Herald.

ONE THING SEEMS SURE.

Political history is based upon developing sentiment, and today sentiment is being made. The only thing that seems sure is that the next Republican presidential nominee will be a thorough and regular party man. He will represent fundamental Republican principles and traditions and he will be pledged to the restoration of every tried and proved Republican policy that has in the past helped to make the nation strong and its people prosperous. —Kansas City Journal.

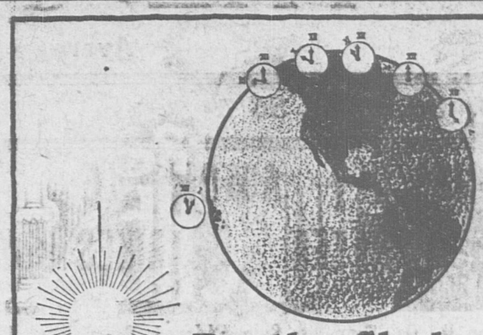

WILL HE TRY BURGLARY?

Something said by Eugene Noble Foss at a Boston meeting of the alumni of the University of Vermont is construed as the declaration of a purpose to reenter politics. The only result so far is to make copy for Boston reporters of politics. It is a hard job to show where he could break in. —Springfield Republican.

FIRE IN DRAPERIES.

The alarm from Box 74 at 8.58 Saturday night was for a fire in some lace draperies in the house at 661 Washington street. The loss was slight.

PRATT'S BREAD—baked by experts in a light, well-ventilated building. All grocers.

By the Clock

When it is midnight in New York it is 11 o'clock in Chicago, 10 o'clock in Denver, 9 o'clock in San Francisco, 5 A. M. the next morning in London and 1 P. M. the day before in Manila.

By Western Union
it is NOW.

There's a Western Union Service to meet every need.
Full information gladly given at any office.

THE WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH CO.

All Distances Are Short

BY LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE

To the merchants or the jobbers who make good trades;

To the managers who keep their forces humming at the factory or their salesmen busy in the field;

To the salesmen who arrange their tours, make appointments, or effect record sales of goods;

To the order and shipping departments of the live selling houses which save time between factories and customers;

To the executives or travelling men who keep in touch with the home office or the folks at home, when in other cities;

To the mothers and fathers who retain the home influence over sons and daughters at college;

To the men and women who do not lose track of friends and relatives in other towns.

Every Bell Telephone is a Long Distance Station

NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY
G. W. CONWAY, District Manager.

April 3-o-1w-1-5-12-19

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL

Rev. Amon S. Dyer of Sharon, oc cupied the pulpit Sunday mornin taking as his subject "An Uncrowne King."

Reviewing at length the events of the last week of the life of Jesus, h went on to say that Jesus was sti uncrowned except with the crown c thorns placed on his brow by his en emies whereas his diadem should b made up of the willing hearts of a the community.

Jesus and his followers must figl until all enemies are put under hi feet. It is a life-long struggle. Si has held its own in all the ages. is hard to decide whether the force of sin or righteousness have won single trench.

We have put away slavery of th body but slavery exists today in an other form. Even the sanctity of th home is attached by sappers and min ers. Sin is hydra-headed, cut off on head and another appears. Neutralit in religion is impossible. Even thos who try to live decent lives but forge God and neglect Jesus Christ must b classed as enemies.

The only relief to the dark pictur is the resurrection of Jesus Chris through whom we have the promis of our own resurrection. Becaus He lives we shall live also and Hi cause must win, if not in this world in another.

But the speaker held that the ne generation will see the forces c righteousness take a new stand an closed with an earnest appeal to th community to become loyal support ers of God in the war being wage It is our privilege to range ourselve beside other fighters in the good cause and hasten the time when th rightful king shall receive His crown

In the evening the pastor, Rev. A. Willmott spoke on "Understand ing One Another."

"Getting Ready for the Next Life was the subject of the C. E. meetin Theodore Forsyth was leader.

The Junior C. E. will meet at o'clock Thursday afternoon.

On Friday evening the Knights o King Arthur will meet..

Bethany Brotherhood will hold it annual ladies' night on Wednesad evening, April 21. The Weber Quar tet and Miss Grace Sanborn Cole wi furnish the entertainment.

Next Sunday Hon. Richmond P Hobson, U. S. Congressman from Al abama will speak in the interests c National Prohibition.

FIRST PARISH.

Rev. Carl G. Horst, of the Wollaston Unitarian church occupied the pulpit at the First Parish church Sunday morning, in exchange with Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson. Rev. Mr. Horst's subject was "The Ministry of Affliction."

The theme of the speaker's sermon was that adversity and suffering is needed to make one sympathetic. "One must be touched by adversity in order to bring forth purity," he said. "All the difference between the worthless and good diamond is in the grinding and cutting. The school of sorrow is a necessity, it teaches things that are never realized. It teaches how to be sympathetic with others. Sorrow brings out an element of character that is possible in no other way. The heart is sweetened by having been touched by sorrow.

"What a wonderful thing human sympathy is. How it helps us to bear sorrow and sends a quickening thrill through our souls and enables us to be stronger. It is affliction which settles whether we are gold or not. We must welcome God's angel of sorrow and see what lesson it has. Real blessing comes through sorrow. t makes us stronger, better and more sympathetic."

On Wednesday evening the alliance will give a reception to officers and eachers of the Sunday school in the chapel. There will be a short reception followed by an entertainment ncluding music under the direction of Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann, and readngs by Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick. Light refreshments will also be served

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN.

The Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, minister of the historic First Parish n Quincy occupied the pulpit in exchange with the pastor Sunday morning, preaching a helpful sermon. The music by the new quartet was much enjoyed.

Dr. David Snedden, commissioner of Education for Massachusetts, will be he speaker at the Parents-Teachers Association at the Wollaston school his evening.

The Sunday school in place of the usual opening exercises held a memrial service for Mrs. Walter E. Simnons, a helpful worker and teacher in he Sunday school for many years.

The dedicatory exercises of the parsh house will be held Monday evenng, April 26.

The Wollaston Unitarian club will old its last meeting of this season Tuesday evening in the banquet room of the new parish house. Dinner will be served at 6.30 o'clock. Offiers for the year 1915-16 will be hosen. Walter F. Spaulding, secreary of Massachusetts Prison associaion and member of the State Board of Parole, will speak on "The Treatment of Crime, Past, Present and Future." Use wide entrance on Farrington street.

The old fashioned dance under the uspices of the entertainment committee of the parish, which was postponed out of respect for the late Mrs. Walter E. Simmons, a charter member of the hurch and a faithful attendant upon ll its services, will be held in the arish hall this evening.

The Young People's Religious Union will present at its fifth and last social athering of the season a Cafe Chantant in the new parish house, Friday evening, at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

The New England Associate Alliance will meet in the First Parish church, Brookline, Thursday with a morning session at 10.30 and an afternoon session at 2 o'clock. Between the sessions there will be a box luncheon. Among the speakers are the Rev. William H. Lyon, D. D., Mrs. G. R. Dinsmoor, the Rev. Julian R. Pennington of Norfolk, Va., and Rev. Augustus P. Reccord of Springfield.

The parish house and alterations in the church are receiving their finishing touches and will soon be ready for dedication.

Rev. Carl G. Horst attended today the monthly session of the Ministers Monday club which was held in Channing hall, Boston.

A mass Peace meeting will be held in the First Parish church next Sunday at 4 p. m. Prof. Jay William Hudson will speak and the Quincy Choral society will sing.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN.

Rev. Clarence E. Campbell conducted services at the First Presbyterian church Sunday. In the morning the pastor administered the Lord's supper. There was a reception of members. The following persons, sixteen in all, joined the church:

John Buchannan, 133 Grand View avenue, Wollaston; George Craig, 274 Liberty street; George Cumming, 33 Totman street; Mrs. Annie Colombo, 166 Independence avenue; John E. Campbell, 213 Liberty street; Mrs. Edith Duff, 48 Payne street; Charles Imray, 22 Verchild street; George Imray, 22 Verchild street; Katherine Lamont, 71 Trafford street; Charlotte McLennan, 175 Liberty street, Woodward McLeod, 54 Rodman street; Chester McLeod, 18 Bennington street; Elizabeth McLay, 46 Newcomb place; William Rennie of East Milton, Mary S. Summers, 36 Quincy street, Robert Roy Tinney, 362 Granite street.

In the evening the pastor spoke on "The Signs of the Times."

PARK AND DOWNS.

An unusually large and interested audience listened to an eloquent sermon by the pastor, Rev. Wm. B. Ayers. The morning sermon was on "The Power of a Name." The text was in Ephesians 1:21 "Above every name that is mentional his name shall be exalted."

The speaker said he was surprised to fin d how much emphasis in the Bible was laid on the name of Christ. "In youth we treat our names with a certain contempt," he said. "We are careless of them as we are careless of life itself. We squander our youth on petty traffic and often heap odium upon it. We think that we leave it far behind and we do, but some time later in life we see rising in our pathway to mock and torment us the name that we have sullied. When we die nothing is left against which to record our existence except a name.

"A name is more than life..... for into it is gathered the record of our existence. It is engraved upon universal life and for all time bears record for or against. It is important what you are writing over against your name. It is certainly a proud moment in a man's life when he is able to boast of the good name his father left behind. The reason there is such purging power in the name of Christ is because he lived such a wonderfully consistent life."

In the evening the pastor opened his series of talks on Japan. To judge by this lecture this will prove one of the most interesting of the discourses which have been carried on under the subject of the "Great Religious Lessons of the War." In this lecture the pastor reviewed the history of Japan to the 15th century after Christ.

The lecture contained not only a mass of interesting material but many a valuable lesson for present day christian living. The speaker paid a tribute to the home which was very affecting. This lecture was intensely interesting and appealed directly to the heart of the listener.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST.

The pastor, Rev. Joseph Walther gave an inspiring message from the subject "Four Things of Which Job Was Assured." Text Job. 19-25.

Job knew nothing of Easter, nor of Jesus, nor of His resurrection. He was but a poor sufferer and had lost at least six things, property, sons and daughters, health, his wife's confidence, the confidence of friends and his vision of God. Just which of these troubled Job the most we are unable to tell.

But in spite of all his sufferings there are four things mentioned in the text which gave Job assurance. He said: "I know that my redeemer liveth. He lives, He is not dead. He may be silent. He may be mysterious. He may seem unresponsive to my prayers, but He lives.

I know not merely that He lives but that He shall stand at the latter day upon the earth. God will not always be silent. He will surely appear and break the silence. We are told in the 38th chapter of Job, that God did appear and spoke out of the whirlwind and made clear many of the things which were before misunderstood and that He blessed Job more than He had ever done before.

Job said without my flesh shall I see God. The destruction of the fleshly temple shall not prevent my seeing God. Somewhere I shall see Him and shall know Him as I am known. These words are significant because Job is regarded as one of the earliest writers. If this is true then Job may be regarded as the pioneer teacher of the doctrine of the Immortality of the Soul, and as furnishings the foundation upon which all others built. The last assurance Job gives in the text is this: When he sees God he will see Him for himself and he will see Him not as a stranger because he had living fellowship and communion with him.

As Job was not disappointed in his day so men will not be disappointed today. May God help us to trust him, even though we may not see because of tears and darkness.

It is believed that Job spoke more deeply than he knew, as many another old testament prophet has done, and beyond his own needs and time he flashes light upon New Testament scenes and activities.

The Sunday School assembled at 12.15 for bible study with 315 present.

The Junior Endeavor meeting at 3.30 was led by Mildred Colson, Subject: "A talk with John's Disciples."

The subject of the Y. P. S. C. E. meeting at 6.00 was "Getting Ready for the New Life," Miss Grace Schermerhorn being the leader.

At the evening service at 7.00 the pastor preached from the subject: "Consider the Lilies."

The choir repeated the Easter selections.

The annual supper and business meeting of the church will be held Tuesday evening at 6.30 in the chapel.

Thursday afternoon at four o'clock the pastor's class will meet in the chapel.

The Men's Assembly will meet at six o'clock Friday evening. Supper will be served at 6.30 P. M. in the chapel. Lieut. Col. John Stuart Barrows, M. V. M., will speak on "The Equipment of Our Army"

Next Sunday the services will be conducted by a group of four young men from the Newton Theological Seminary.

SPIRITUALIST SOCIETY.

The Sunday meeting of the Spiritualist society opened with song service, bible reading and prayer. Mrs. T. True Stratton, speaker, gave many thoughts on the human side of Spiritualism. Miss Irene Howes was soloist, accompanier by Mr. H. Stebbins. Dr. W. H. Rollins gave a lecture on the spinal column and nervous system. Miss McIntyre gave a recitation, Mrs. S. V. Odiorne, Niles Grimes and Mrs. Strattan gave many messages from loved ones. All present enjoyed the meeting. Next Sunday Mr. F. Roscoe of Providence, R. I., will be the speaker. The society will hold a fair and entertainment on May 10th. All members and friends are requested to help. Donations for same may be sent to No. 8 Mechanic street, care of Mrs. S. V. Odiorne.

MacGREGORS CHAMPIONS

Gain Lead of Scottish Clans League

The MacGregors of Quincy have won the championship of the Scottish Clans league. The standing of the first four teams and league records:

Team	Won	Lost	Pinfall
MacGregor	86	18	37,327
McPhail	81	23	37,004
McKenzie	77	27	36,649
Ramsay	76	28	36,353

Team single, McPhail 558.

Team three string total, MacGregor 1529.

Highest average, Jas. Stewart of McPhail 101.

Second highest average, Dell of MacGregor 99.

Third highest average, Vaughn of Stewart 98.

Individual single, J. Stewart of McKenzie, 143.

Individual three strings, T. B. Stewart of McPhail. 366.

FUNERAL SERVICES.

At the funeral on Sunday afternoon of John F. Johnson of Henry street, Rev. Mr. Johanson of the Swedish Lutheran church of Cambridge and Rev. T. W. Davison of the Atlantic Memorial church conducted the services. Rev. Mr. Johanson spoke in Swedish and Rev. Mr. Davison in English. The master of the Swedish Lodge of Foresters, Number 118, read the ritual of the order. There were many beautiful oral tributes.

The following teachers from the Adams school Miss Mary J. Morrison, Miss Eliza C. Sheahan and Miss Ruth H. Wilkes were inadvertently omitted from the list of patronesses published in the Saturday Ledger.

The PROBLEM of GOOD MILK

All persons do not understand what is meant by good, safe milk. Some believe that the milk with a deep cream line is desirable, whereas, the Doctor knows that Holstein Milk, although containing little cream is often more desirable for babies, partly for this reason, or perhaps because of the method of production

The real criterion of a good milk is its wholesomeness. This depends upon the conditions at the dairy, and the special care given it until it reaches the consumer. Scrupulously clean and healthy cows, clean and healthy dairymen, rapid cooling, and protecting the milk, constant dairy and laboratory inspection are required. Furthermore safety is assured when the dealer pasteurizes his supply.

THE ELM FARM MILK COMPANY OF DORCHESTER offer pure Family Milk, and exceptional Nursery Milk at prices often charged for ordinary milk Speak to the salesman, or call Dor. 2100. 6-1 mo.

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer

Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton Directory

Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
31-tf

WHAT SNOWBALL SAW

Of the three kittens, one of them, Snowball, used to go to the city with his master to watch his team while he was in the stores. He had just returned from one of his trips, and Puff and Kit wanted to hear all about the things he had seen, for it was Christmas week, and they were sure he had seen strange sights.

"Did you see Santa Claus?" asked Kit.

"Lots of them," answered Snowball.

"Them?" Kit said. "I never heard of more than one Santa Claus.

"Neither did I," said Snowball, "but I saw one in a window and three on the street, and one stood on a corner and he had a kettle. He was collecting money."

"I always thought that one man could never go to all the places in one night," said Puff, "and this explains it. There are a number of them."

"Do they all look alike?" asked Kit.

"You couldn't tell them apart," said Snowball.

"Did you ask for anything for us?" said Puff, looking very hard at Snowball.

"I didn't have a chance," Snowball replied. "I had to watch master's team, and, besides, we did not stop near any of the Santa Clauses."

"What else did you see?" asked Kit.

"I saw a little man running around the street, and a dog—"

"Oh," said Puff.

"And mice, too," Snowball said.

"Did you catch one?" asked Kit.

"No," said Snowball scornfully. "They were tin."

"Tin mice!" said Kit and Puff. "Think of it! How do the city cats ever eat them?" asked Puff.

"They do not eat them, silly," Snowball said. "These tin things are for children to play with. And you should see the Christmas trees in the shop windows, all fixed up with shiny trimmings and dolls and books, and dogs and cats hanging all over the trees."

"Dogs and cats!" gasped Puff. "I should have thought you would have been afraid that they would catch you and hang you on the tree, too."

"You are the most stupid kittens that I ever saw," said Snowball. "They were toy dogs and cats for the children to play with."

"Oh," said both kittens meekly.

"I wonder if we will get anything in our stockings this year," said Puff. "I do not think I care for a mouse again."

"We had better sit up and tell Santa what we want, the same as we did last year," said Kit.

"One of you will have to do the asking this time," said Snowball. "I want a collar with my name on it."

"I would like to have a big ball that I can chase around the room," said Kit.

"I want a pretty blue ribbon to tie around my neck," said Puff.

"With a bell on it?" asked Snowball.

The kittens laughed.

"No," said Puff, "the mice are scarce enough now."

Christmas morning, when the three kittens went for their breakfast, there was the little girl who lived in the house, with three dishes of cream, and when they had eaten it she called Snowball and put a collar around his neck.

"That is for watching father's bags and boxes so well," she said, "and your name is on it, too. And there is a nice basket for all three. It is lined with soft woolly cloth. I think you have fared well for kittens," she said, as she went away.

Snowball walked proudly around with his new collar, but Kit and Puff went into a corner of the room and turned their backs.

"It is just as I thought," said Kit. "He did ask Santa Claus for a present, and that basket is as much for him as it is for us, as you see he really asked for two presents for himself and not one thing for either of us."

"Going to the city has spoiled him," said Puff, "but come along and jump into the basket. We'll stretch out and take all the room and have a good nap. He is so proud of his new collar, let him walk and show it."

A Shortened Visit.

"Did the little girl from next door have a good time?" inquired the fond mother.

"I'm not sure, mamma," said the wise child. "Her nurse said she could stay two hours, but I gave her some lessons on how to behave when on a visit, and I read to her several chapters from that dear little book you gave me called 'Punctilious Points for Polite People,' and she went home an hour earlier."

A Modern Myth.

Teacher—Johnny, name some mythical creature.

Johnny—The goat we're always afraid someone will get.

In School.

Teacher—If steak is forty cents a pound, Jimmy, how much would four pounds come to?

Jimmy—They wouldn't come to our house at that price.

The Sunnyside Dairy.

Pure Milk and Cream delivered at your door in clean, shiny bottles. Recommended by the leading physicians of Quincy, Braintree and Weymouth. We solicit your trade. Order by telephone Wey. 103 W or write F. T. JONES, P. O. Box 14, Weymouth.

Cattle and Barn inspected by Dr. Abele of Quincy.

March 5-eod-1m

CITY HALL NOTES

There will be no meeting of the city council this evening. The next meeting will not be held until Monday, April 26. The regular meeting falls on a holiday and for this reason adjournment is until the last of the month.

The street oiling schedule passed a week ago by the city council goes into effect Tuesday, April 20, and will continue until Oct. 20. Most of the streets in the schedule are sadly in need of oiling and it will be a source of comfort to people residing on these streets when the schedule goes into effect. In City square it is not quite so bad as the Commissioner has had the watering carts lay the dust nearly every day.

There is much speculation on the part of the many applicants for permits to transport liquor and for licenses to drive wagons for the collection of junk as to the attitude this year of the license committee.

Extra clerks have been put at work in the office of the assessors and it is probable that they will be kept at work from now until fall.

CITY OFFICIALS GET INVITATIONS

It is particularly desirous that members of the City Government and City Council should attend the mass Peace meeting to be held at the First church next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, as will be seen by the following invitation received this morning by Mayor Campbell.

"The Quincy Women's club extends an invitation to the Mayor and the City Council with their families to attend a Mass Peace Meeting in the First Parish church on Sunday, April 18th at 4 o'clock. The speaker will be Prof. Jay William Hudson of the University of Missouri. Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, President of the Club, will preside.

(Signed) Edith Randall.
Chairman Publicity Committee.

TO HAVE PAPER AT FORE RIVER

A paper for the benefit of the employees at the Fore River shipyard is to be published under the direction of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation and the first edition will go to press, it is expected, on May 1.

The company has offered a prize of $10 to the employee who names the paper and several hundred have submitted names to the judges of the contest.

Joseph M. Larkin, supervisor of apprentices, has been appointed editor and everybody is a contributing editor in the sense that all who care to submit "copy" are welcome to do so. The entire plans have not been completed as yet so it is impossible to say how large the paper will be or how often it will be published.

At present there are close to 4500 men employed at the yard, a percentage of which read and write English with difficulty. There will be no attempt to print news in any language excepting English.

The paper will probably develop into one of the most interesting publications in New England for it is always possible that a genuine writer may be uncovered.

The Scotch people employed at the shipyard it is well known, have displayed real genius in articles contributed to metropolitan dailies and some of them have been brimful of humor. College men at the shipyard have specialized in technical essays for years, and more than one human interest story can be built around employees who have worked in every known part of the globe, including Arctic explorers in the North and diamond hunters from the innermost recesses of Africa.

The Woman's Guild of St. Chrysostoms church will hold the usual all day sewing meeting on Wednesday of this week, beginning at ten o'clock. Luncheon will be served and at 2.30 the monthly business meeting will be called.

COAL
ANNOUNCEMENT

April 1, 1915.

Full coal bins are a source of real satisfaction. We are filling our bins as rapidly as possible with FRESH MINED COAL. By placing your order now YOU can take advantage of the LOW PRICES announced in the schedule below. Coal will positively ADVANCE IN PRICE later. There will be no Further Reduction.

We should be glad to call and talk Coal with you if you will notify us.

PRICES FOR CASH

Franklin Egg and Stove	$8.50 per ton
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75 per ton
Shamokin Stove	7.50 per ton
White Ash Broken	6.50 per ton
White Ash Egg	7.25 per ton
White Ash Stove	7.25 per ton
White Ash Nut	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Broken	6.75 per ton
Lehigh Egg	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Stove	7.50 per ton
Pea	5.50 per ton

25 cents per ton extra where coal is carried in. Orders taken for these Prices are for delivery by July 1, 1915.

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc.

CONSULT ME

I can tell you your Past, Present and Future, advise you in your Business, tell you who are your friends, and help you recover lost articles. Private Readings Daily $1.00. Circle Readings Tuesday 3.00 and 8.00 P. M.. Developing Class Thursday 8.00 P. M.

Mrs. S. V. Odiorne
8 Mechanic St. off Revere Road
Tel. 1923 M or 327 M

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT
BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden, 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunks' News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branchied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

AUTO RUNS INTO TELEPHONE POLE

A small runabout automobile, registered in the name of Wesley E. Linsey of 666 Washington street, Brookline, came to grief about midnight Saturday night on Adams street, a short distance from Hancock street. The car which contained two young men was going down Adams street toward Boston, at a moderate rate of speed when either owing to the driver losing control of the car or the steering gear going out of commission, the automobile ran to one side of the road and came up against a telephone pole with a loud crash.

The result of the impact was the smashing of the forward axle and other damage so that the car had to be taken to a garage for repairs. Neither of the young men were injured. The driver said the gear on the steering shaft had broken and that was the cause of the accident.

ORGANIZE BALL TEAM.

The first spring meeting of the North Quincy Catholic Club was held Friday evening at Poland hall. A base ball team was organized. Pete Flynn, North Quincys' ex- professional has started the boys in training and promises one o f the fastest teams in the State. Subscriptions were taken up to finance the team and hearty support was given and success from a financial standpoint assured. April 23 will be base ball night at the club and nothing but base ball will be talked. Bill Carrigan the Red Sox manager is to do the talking. The meeting will be an open one, and the ball fans of this section will have an opportunity to talk base ball.

HOLD BAKE SALE.

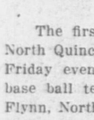

Auxiliary of Woman's Guild Raises Funds.

The auxiliary of the Woman's guild of Christ church held a bake sale Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Annie Turtle at 1 Adams street. There was a good display of cake, pastry, candy and preserves which met with a ready sale and quite a sum was realized. The object of the sale was to provide funds for sending to the South the goods on which the Woman's guild of the church has been at work during the Lenten season.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

The following letters remain uncalled for at the Quincy post office for the week ending April 10, 1915:—

Mrs. Thomas Aldridge, Karl Blattner (2), Miss Teola DeFlavis, William Gregory, Mrs. Anna Leach, Mrs. A. G. Mitchell, J. Morrow, Leone Pasquale, Carmine Quintiliani, Mrs. George E. Robinson, George Snedden, Vittorio Tolfa.

CHICHESTER S PILLS

THE DIAMOND BRAND
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chichester S Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHESTER S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING
WALL PAPER FOR SALE
KUSTAA RASANEN
121 Copeland St., West Quincy
Tel. Conn 10-tf

GRANITE CITY CLUB ELECTS

Nathan Ames New President of Organization

Nathan Ames, one of the well known business men of City square, was elected president of the Granite City club at the annual meeting of the club Saturday, on the retirement of Samuel T. MacQuarrie, who has served the club as its president for the past two years.

At the business session three new members were elected to fill vacancies in the membership again bringing the membership up to 125, the limit. There are still nine or ten names on the membership waiting list.

The reports of the officers of the club showed its finances to be in the best condition that they ever have been since its institution, for besides having a balance of nearly $500 on hand, with all bills paid, it has a trust fund of over $1,000.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President, Nathan Ames.
Vice President, Mark L. Read, Jr.
Clerk and Collector, W. W. Mitchell.
Treasurer, John Q. Cudworth.
Finance Committee, James H. Penniman, Henry F. Tilden, Russell T. Anthony.
House Committee, Elmer F. Ricker.
Membership Committee, H. Everett Crane, Fred H. Whittemore, George W. Jones, Charles C. Hearn, Joseph L. Whiton.
Entertainment Committee, Benjamin F. Chase, John H. Johnson, Dr. Herman L. Keene.
Trustees, J. Warren Nightingale, Henry McGrath, George H. Field.

MEETING AGAIN IS POSTPONED

Lack of a quorum prevented the meeting of the G. A. R. Relief association called for Saturday evening from being held. It was the desire of President Whiton of the association there should be a good attendance, especially of the collectors so that a report of the amount of funds collected might be reported. It was announced that another meeting would be held next Saturday evening at which time it is hoped that there will be a large attendance.

MRS. ALVINA HAYDEN.

Widow of Former Chief of Police Dies.

Mrs. Alvina Hayden, widow of Jos. W. Hayden, for several years chief of police, died Saturday night after a long illness at her home on Gay street, aged 68 years. Chief and Mrs. Hayden resided for many years at the foot of Howard avenue, on the water front of Weymouth Fore river, and although the advent of the Fore River Shipbuilding Co., almost surrounded them, they continued to make their home on Howard street until a few years ago when they sold their property to the Fore River Co. This was after Mr. Hayden had retired from the office of Chief of Police. Ex-Chief Hayden died two years ago, since which time Mr. Hayden has resided on Gay street. They had no children.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

Needful Knowledge

Quincy People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are many. Disordered kidneys often excrete a thick, cloudy, offensive urine, ful of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding. The back may ache, headaches and dizzy spells may occur and the victim is often weighted down by a feeling of languor and fatigue. Neglect these warnings and there is danger. Delay often proves fatal.

You can use no better endorsed kidney remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's Quincy proof of their merit.

Mrs. S. Nelson, 177 Washington St., Quincy, says: "One of my family had pains across the small of the back. Four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills were used and they made a great improvement. Doan's Kidney Pills deserve great credit for what they have done in that case."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Nelson recommends. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

SPORTING COMMENT

Joseph Larkin, supervisor of apprentices at the shipyard, has been elevated from the secretaryship of the Manufacturers league to the presidency. Regular meetings have been held and a schedule will be announced probably this week. President Larkin, although not stating positively that the home games will be enlivened by the Fore River band, has intimated that such a possibility exists.

George Barry left this morning with his catcher's paraphanelia and the best wishes of the local base ball public for Portland, to start the season with Hugh Duffy, manager of that team of the New England league. Duffy purchased his release from the Taunton combination of the Colonial league. The choice is not only popular but is an exhibition of good judgment on the part of Duffy. Barry should make good in his department.

Frank Bruce finished in tenth place in the Cathedral Y. M. C. A. 10-mile road race Saturday. His time was 59:42. James P. Henigan of the Dorchester club finished in first place. Virtually a scratch man, starting but 30 seconds after the watch, he made 52.14, a new record for the course.

Coach Guy Nickalls of the Yale water navy, gave the college a surprise Saturday by disbanding three varsity crews and forming two new eights. The move is probably to retard development, the crews being advanced too far so early in the season.

Tack Hardwick of this city was in left field for Harvard Saturday in the game with the graduates. He secured a hit and two put outs. Although he has not reached the form which will give him that place permanently the student body looks for him to attain it ere long. Tack deserves a banner season to bring a glorious college athletic career to a close.

The sweepstakes at the Wollaston Golf club Saturday saw 38 players. W. H. Thayer took the trophy for the best gross with a round of 81, two strokes better than A. H. Goodale, the second man.

Peter S. McNally, passed on, Saturday no more to participate in water sports. May his memory be revered. Swimmer, life-saver, newspaperman, theatrical press agent, assistant curator of the city of Boston Zoo and Aquarium, Peter S. McNally was probably one of the best known men hereabouts.

Leon White, High school '14, now a Dartmouth freshman, visited his parents last week. White, husky and healthy looking, is not the same boy he was at High school. In the pink of condition and with the confidence which comes with more mature years White is likely to add to Dartmouth's athletic powers.

The Brooklyn Celtics beat the Coats Co., Saturday 2 to 1 and jumped into the final round of the National soccer cup series

Jess Willard, the "White Hope" who brought back the crown, is to tour the world. It will take a good part of a year to complete his present plans. After that he will fight any man who earns a chance. Willard is now in position to dictate his own terms. Naturally he will be as cautious as his predecessors.

The base ball season has officially opened. John McGraw has been given his annual licking. It all resulted from his refusal to speak to a Richmond fan, C. L. Straus, who taunted him at having been outplayed by Richmond. Mac was tumbled about and ran to his auto.

John Passen of the Finnish A. C. of this city is a member of the team to represent the B. A. A. at the Bronx Church House games in New York. Manager George Y. Brown announced the team Saturday.

PRIVATE DANCE.

Miss Elizabeth Gilchrist of Beachmont entertained several well known Quincy young men and women at a private dancing party in Colonial hall Saturday night. Joseph Driscoll was floor director.

A very pretty party was given Eddie Carlson at his home on Huckins avenue, Squantum last week in honor of his birthday. Quite a few of his friends gathered and spent a most enjoyable evening. Refreshments were served. Eddie received numerous gifts among them a diamond ring from his father C. E. Carlson.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader.

FIRST PARISH Y. P. R. U. ELECT

The annual business meeting of the Y. P. R. U. of the First church was held in the chapel at 4.30 P. M. Sunday. The reports of the various committees were read, showing that the year has been a very busy and successful one.

The officers for 1915-1916 were elected as follows:

Pres.—Miss Beatrice Morrison.
V. Pres.—Miss Ella Packard.
Sec.—Frederick Atwood.
Treas.—Richard Allen.
Executive Committee— Mrs. Isabelle Davis, Miss Marie Bass, Miss Minnie Packard, Willard Crocker, William Edwards.
Director to the Boston Federation—Frederick Atwood.
Chairman of the Entertainment Committee—Miss Catherine Saville.

The executive committee was authorized to make all necessary arrangements for giving a parish supper on May 21 in the chapel, following the general method of the First Parish club suppers, the proceeds to go toward a fund for fixing the church grounds.

TOUR CITY.

The street committee of the City Council accompanied by Mayor Campbell, Commissioner Brown and City Engineer Sargent, made a tour of the city Saturday afternoon in automobiles. There are something like 65 matters which have been referred to this committee including orders and petitions for the acceptance of new streets, the rebuilding of streets, the building of granolithic sidewalks, etc. It was expected that the committee would require two days to see all of the streets, but starting promptly at 1 o'clock they kept moving and were successful in covering all of the matters, ending at Squantum and returning to City Square about 7 o'clock.

TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS.

Following are the subscribers connected with the Quincy Exchange for the week ending April. 7.

1587W Young, H. K., 37 Prospect street.
1587M Kerns, J. Edward, 112 Sagamore street.
1433W O'Brien, T. L. Mrs., 90 Billings street.
1447W Prescott, H. S., 643 Boulevard.
1596W Saunders, Geo. M., 15 Conant road.
368M Finch, Wm. Walter, Jr., 51 Gay street.
1487W Pearce, Geo. F. S. 242 Everet street.
1513W Grossman, Louis, 22 Federal avenue
826M Bennett, Geo. R., 13 Sagamore street.
826R Cafarella Bros., 83 Newbury avenue.
1939J Hutchinson. George T., 7 Greenwood avenue.
1691W Davison, Theo. R., 118 Sagamore street.
1486M Dailey, Charles C., 356 Washington street.
551R Brennan, Wm. L., 87 Botolph street.
1293W Robie, H. S., 1166 Hancock street.
584-2 Duffy, Julia F., 27 Garfield street.
1596M Stewart, Geo. H., Mrs., Williams street.
1965W Jones, Robert J., 27 Herbert road.
1987W Townsend, E. J., 84 Washington street.

GARDEN SEEDS
Vegetable Seeds
Garden Tools
Rakes
Hoes
Forks
Spades
Everything for the garden.
Save All Chicks
Pratt's Baby Chick Food will do it.
INCUBATORS
At Your Service
NATHAN AMES
5 Granite St.
USE CARBORUNDUM SHARPENING STONES

State House News

Dry towns will be really dry if two bills continue to be advanced by the legislature. One makes it optional with the town authorities whether or not to grant express licenses for the importation of liquor. The other prohibits liquor dealers from delivering into a no-license town.

Even some liquor men favor this legislation, for they claim that if dry towns were really dry, instead of dry for the poor and wet for those who can afford to buy wholesale, we should have fewer dry towns.

The committee chosen by the legislature to draft a new B. & M. bill is able and well balanced. The particularly noteworthy members are Representative Washburn, the well-known Republican railroad authority and Representative McLoughlin, the Democratic floor-leader.

McLoughlin will act as the personal representative of Governor Walsh, who is giving much time and thought to the problem.

Attorney Judd Dewey of Boston is one of the most active and successful members of the "people's lobby," i. e., the men who lobby without pay or as representatives of public-spirited organizations, in the interest of the public.

As a result of his efforts the senate ways and means committee has unanimously favored the bill for the extention of Savings Bank Life Insurance.

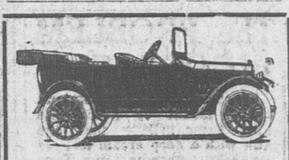

The senate has substituted the Boston Teachers' Pension Bill for the adverse reports of the committee on municipal finance with the assent of the committee.

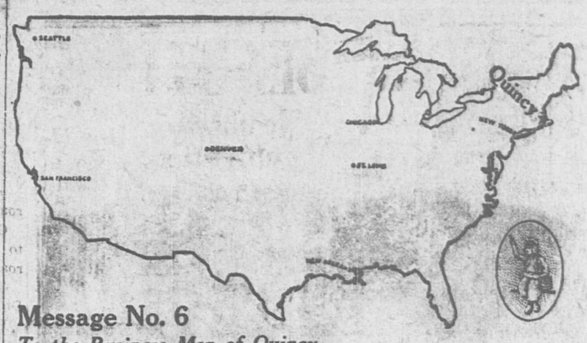

BUILDING PERMITS.

The building boom still continues active for last week the Inspector of Buildings issued 22 permits. Of this number nine were for dwelling houses. Of the others several were for garages, and still others for alterations. The permits issued were:

A. M. Angell, dwelling, Valley street.
Percy Goodwin, garage, Ellington road.
Arthur A. Tripp, alteration, Quincy street.
Theodore Holby, dwelling, Verchild street.
Charlotte M. Winnett, dwelling, Casco street.
Leroy M. Hill, dwelling, Elm avenue.
Nicholas Sprunk, dwelling, Pope street
E. J. Regnier, removal dwelling, Ocean street.
Edward F. Murphy, garage, Carle oad.
D. Mahoney alteration, Common street.
Fore River Shipbuilding Cor. addition to elevator shaft.
Alice A. Sanford, garage, Rawson road.
Michael Landas, dwelling, Randlett street.
Mrs. L. J. Doyle, alteration Broadway.
John L. Hamilton, garage, Elm avenue.
Ida Mae Howard, two dwellings, Flynt street.
Mrs. Wilhelmina Burchard, addition Water street.
Mrs. H. E. Scrivens, shed, Winthrop street.
N. R. Morton, garage, Brunswick street.
Alfred C. Hatch, dwelling, Chickatabot road.
Charles W. James, garage, Grand View avenue.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is always in favor because delicious in flavor. Your grocer.

JACKSON Model 46
THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL, SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER
"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"
Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT
$1375
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

Message No. 6
To the Business Men of Quincy

When a run-down salesman calls on you, do you buy his goods? Aren't you afraid of his line because he looks as if no one ever gave him an order?

Same thing is true of a seedy town. To be prosperous we must look prosperous and show local pride.

Clean streets, nice stores and well-painted buildings pay because they bring business. Paint-hungry buildings are least excusable, for paint made of

Beyer-Bauman White Lead
(Dutch Boy Painter Trade Mark)

and pure linseed oil pays its way by protecting buildings against rot and decay.

Let us estimate on your painting job. We have all good painting requisites. Call us up today.

WILLIAM WESTLAND

Reduction in Prices.

Your attention is called to the reduced spring prices on Anthracite Coal as follows

Lehigh Stove and Egg	$7.50
White Ash Stove and Egg	7.25
White Ash Nut	7.50
Shamokin Stove and Egg	7.50
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75
Pea	5.50
Franklin	8.50

We recommend the placing of your order at this time to insure the low prices.

Nothing but All Rail Clean Coal handled and delivered right by careful experienced drivers.

QUINCY COAL CO.
OFFICE and YARD
Penn St., Quincy Tel. 47-M
Ap. 7 1mo.

INTERESTING TALK.

An interesting talk was given before the Young Peoples Christian Union of the Universalist church Sunday afternoon by Charles W. Hanscom. The speaker's subject was "Mines and Mining in Montana." He gave a description of Butte, Montana, and of mining during the eighties. He also showed several samples of gold and silver quartz and explained just how the gold and silver were extracted.

Freeman Hyland presided at the meeting and in addition to the speaker there was a piano solo by Miss Alice Parmenter.

Prescott Apartments

For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service. Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

Pursuant to the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Amy G. Atwood to Laura M. Holmes, dated July 1, 1914 and recorded with Norfolk Deeds Book 1285 Page 85, and for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises below described on Tuesday the 27th day of April, A. D. 1915 at two o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular, the premises conveyed by said mortgage, together with all improvements thereon, to wit:—A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in that part of Quincy known as Wollaston Park, being lot No. 98 on a plan of Charles S. Miller, Surveyor, dated April, 1890, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 13, Plan No. 566, and bounded and described as follows:—Northeasterly by Kemper street, fifty (50) feet; Southeasterly by Lot No. 99 on said plan eighty (80) feet; Southwesterly by Lot No. 84 on said plan fifty (50) feet and Northwesterly by Lot No. 97 on said plan eighty (80) feet. Containing according to said plan four thousand (4,000) square feet of land.

Said premises are to be sold subject to a mortgage of $3800.00 to the Merchants' Co-operative Bank of Boston and all existing taxes, assessments and liens.

One hundred (100) dollars to be paid at time of sale, other terms and conditions to be announced at said time.

LAURA M. HOLMES,
Mortgagee.
3t April 6-12-20

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To all persons interested in the estate of William T. Spargo, late of Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, deceased:

Whereas, William J. Spargo and Nellie A. Spargo, as they are executors of said estate have presented to said Court their petition praying that they may be authorized to continue the business of said deceased for the benefit of his estate. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the fourteenth day of April A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioners are ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this thirtieth day of March in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t March 31 April 5-12

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Laura Bryant, late of Quincy in said County deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Linda A Lincoln of said Quincy who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her the executrix therein named. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the fourteenth day of April A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

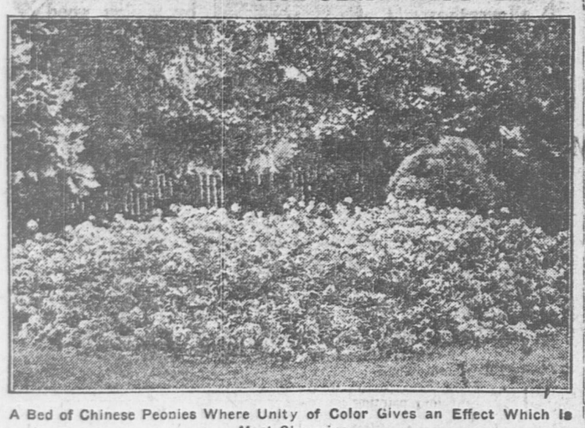

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this thirtieth day of March in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCoole, Register.
3t 1-5-12

Read Ledger Advs.

The HOME BEAUTIFUL

Flowers and Shrubbery—Their Care and Cultivation

A Bed of Chinese Peonies Where Unity of Color Gives an Effect Which Is Most Charming.

THE GOOD OLD PEONY

By CHARLES A. GITCHELL.

The old-time "piny" was a nasty-smelling, rank-looking plant, with large red flowers of stiff, waxy appearance, blooming generally in May. It was not beautiful, but it was hardy and pushed its way out of the ground in the spring as soon as the frost would permit.

Peony is the botanical name for this plant. Varying forms of it have been in cultivation in the celestial and flowery kingdoms of China and Japan for a long period of time.

In China these forms have been crossed and recrossed thousands of times. The hybrids that are the result of these centuries of crossing are the most beautiful flowers in the world.

While traveling in China several years ago I had the rare good fortune to be in the interior during the blooming season of these flowering plants, and I was so much impressed with them that I purchased 1,000 of the most striking and popular colors for a home test.

These arrived in good condition and were carefully planted on my farm in Virginia. They flourished from the start. I readily sold blooms last year for $3 a dozen. Most of these went to New York and Boston. At this price for the flowers, an acre of established plants would produce $5,000 in a single season.

The idea underlying the growing of these flowers is to get the blooms early and ship them to cities North, where the demand for flowers in May, ending May 30, Decoration day, is so great as to exhaust the entire output. It is the one season of the year when flowers are scarce.

The peony is the only flower of prominence that blooms during this season and the one flower that defies hothouse culture. It is an outdoor plant, and will not succeed when put under glass, and therefore cannot easily be forced by artificial means.

When planted on land that is quick to respond to the first rays of the sun in the spring, land sloping to the south, but made rich and powerful to produce a strong vegetable growth, the peony will produce flowers to ship about May 18.

At this season of the year there is not a flower of this variety to be seen in any northern market unless it comes from further South.

The blooming season lasts about fifteen days and is generally at its height just before Decoration day.

The plants never fail to bloom, require but little care, and being leguminous, enrich the soil.

Once in the ground there they remain for five years. No other flower is more deserving of popularity. So easy to raise that the novice can raise it, so permanent that a clump has been known to bloom annually for half a century; so hardy that no protection is required in the bitterest of winters, and so free from disease and fungus that one is spared the labor of fighting disease.

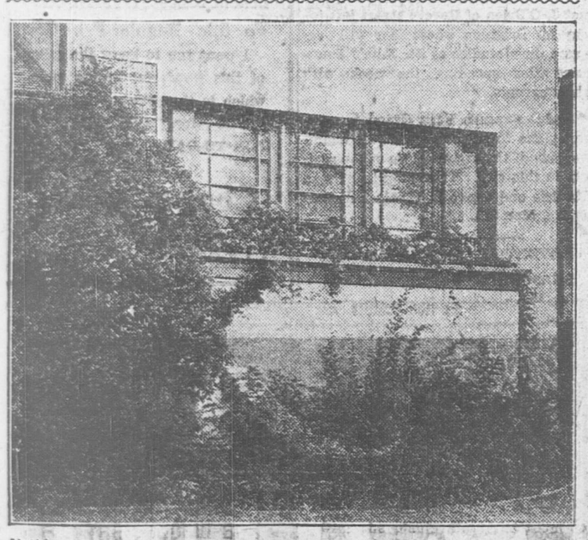

PUSHING SWEET PEAS

By MRS. C. W. JENNINGS.

During the early spring months I emptied the wood ashes, from the cooking stove, over the ground that I intended to use for flowers. When the time for planting came, I had a trench dug, which I half filled with ashes. Over the ashes I threw an inch or two of soil, and planted sweet peas, covering them one inch. In a few days they were up and such vines as I had! When they were six inches high I laid cedar brush along one side of them. They grew five and six feet tall and gave quantities of lovely flowers all summer.

I fertilized them once a week with soap suds, and hoed them three or four times during the season, each time drawing the dirt about them, but never making a narrow ridge for them to grow in. When this is done they dry out too much, and do not bloom well.

Nasturtiums, also, shared the same treatment except that I did not give them so many ashes. I kept the flowers picked from both the sweet peas and the nasturtiums. Soap-suds is the fertilizer I employ most for my flowers and nothing is better for the rose bushes.

Nothing Softens and Beautifies a House Like Vines and Window Boxes.

FOR THE WINDOW BOX

Nothing so softens and beautifies a stiff looking house—or any other kind, for that matter—as window boxes.

Prepare them now. Make a box eight inches deep and ten inches wide. Use only rich black soil to fill it. A bucket of fertilizer worked into the soil will improve it.

Fill the box level full and then let it stand for a week. Then stir up the soil to loosen it, and plant.

Keep window garden clean. Remove dead leaves, scrub pots, shower foliage. Keep window glass clean.

Ferns should be planted in the rear of the box. Between them place geraniums, red or pink preferred.

In the front of these plant a row of purple ageratum seed and for good measure, mix in a few of candytuft.

For a front row, plant sweet alyssum. The alyssum will fall over the front of the box and form a pretty border.

Give the plants plenty of room to grow, and they will make a better appearance than many in one box, stunted for lack of room.

For a large porch, with plenty of room, a few dwarf nasturtiums may take the place of the sweet alyssum.

Other flowers suitable for boxes are pinks, pansies and marigolds and low-growing plants.

When the plants, raised from seeds, are an inch high, thin them out to about two inches apart.

The box should be watered daily, morning and evening, especially if it is exposed to the sun all day.

All the hardy flowering shrubs may be started by rooting cuttings, and this should be done early this month that the plants may be well established by cold weather. Such plants started from cuttings will bloom much more quickly than those from seeds.

Shower, spray, dip, wash, scrub; do any and all these things to keep down the insect enemies. Don't let bugs pasture on your plants.

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES.

Ephraim C. Davis to Anson M. Lyman et al trs, Brook street, Hollis avenue, Quincy: Walnut terrace, Brookline.

Theresa J. Adams to Mary A. McCloskey, Littlefield street, Western road.

Charles E. Adams 2nd et al exs et al to John A. Sullivan, Narragansett road.

Christian P. Anderson to Wilton A. Dunham, Adams Shore.

Boston Safe Deposit & Trust Co., tr to Henry M. Faxon, Hancock street.

James E. Carel et al to Alice V. Carey, Hall place.

James E. Carey et al to Charles F. Carey, Willard street.

James E. Carey to Margaret C. Carey et al, Crescent street.

Helen L. Coe to Cushing O. Thomas et al, Billings street.

Edith A. Costain to Commissioner of Massachusetts, Hancock street.

Catherine Curtis to Eva N. Mayforth.

Jeremiah W. Donovan to Catherine T. Donovan, Squantum street.

Wilton A. Dunham to Heinrich Lorbees, Houghs Neck.

Richard J. Favorite to Sallie A. Wilmarth, Belmont street.

William H. Faxon et al to Mary A. Small, Beale street.

William H. Faxon to Hamilton Flood et al.

Elizabeth C. Follett to Ella M. Freeman, Beech street.

Ella M. Freeman to Edith C. Williamson, Beech street.

Nathan H. Glover to Edwin B. Root, Billings street.

John A. Gordon to Axel G. Ahlstrom, Woodward avenue Huntley road.

John A. Gordon to Mabel E. Lovejoy et al, Huntley road.

John A. Gordon to Elizabeth Murray, Huntley road.

William E. Harmon to Fred W. Wood et al trs, Holmes street.

John S. Johnson to Daniel J. MacDonald, Guild street.

Glennie D. Kelley to Felix Favorite, Everett street.

Annie M. Kelley to Christian P. Anderson, Curlew road.

Daniel J. MacDonald to Emma L. Mitchell, Billings street.

Eva N. Mayforth to Catherine Curtis, Sea street, Hull street.

Margaret E. McGilvray to Annie W. McGilvray Willard street.

Andrew Milne et al trs to Carl Johnson, Roselin avenue.

Sabina T. Moore to Leo A. Walsh et ux Rogers street.

James R. Murphy tr to Winthrop Pattee.

Edward J. Murphy et ux to Robert B. G. Craig Independence avenue, Federal avenue.

James R. Murphy et al trs to Wilton A. Dunham Adams Shore.

James M. Nowland to Annie M. Angell, Valley street.

Margaret J. Powers to John J. Powers Houghs Neck.

Richard E. Raycroft to Loreto DiGravio et ux, Broadway.

George A. Richards to Margaret M. Mills.

George A. Richards to William V. West, Beach street.

Robert F. Sanderson to Christian P. Anderson, Plover road.

Charles R. Sherman to Charles H. Raffuse, South Central terrace.

Gilbert C. Shunk to Roy F. A. Mesrve et al, Safford street.

Bernard J. Smith et al to Wendell G. Corthell, Safford street.

John A. Sullivan to Margaret L. Sullivan, Chickatabot road.

Maude C. Swallow to Moreton T. Swallow Gaffe street Dimmock street.

Gershom B. Thomas to Fred B. Rice Mechanic street.

Thomas B. Turner to Leroy S. Hinxman, E. Elm avenue.

James A. Zwicker to Eva F. Downs, Freeman street.

Charles O. Miller to Thomas J. Flaherty, Franklin and Commercial street.

BRAINTREE REAL ESTATE SALES.

George F. Blood to Charles F. Howe et ux Cedar street.

Mary E. Crossley to Grace H. Spear, Claremont street.

George W. Furgang to George T. Austin, Randolph street.

Charles S. Hannaford to William J. Drinan, Columbas avenue, Sagamore street.

Jessie R. Howe to George F. Blood, Cedar street.

Charles F. Howe to George F. Blood Cedar street.

H. A. H. Kelly et al to Edna E. Woodsum.

Julietta A. Libby adm. to Henry F. Arnold et al, Middle street.

Charles B. McHannan et ux to Henry P. Herr, Sherbrook avenue.

Henry S. Moody tr to George M. Gillian.

Bessie L. Rand to Hollis G. Rand, Central avenue.

Walter A. Rowell to Climena H. Drake, Fairmount avenue.

Town of Braintree to George W. Furgang, Randolph street.

Edgar Wilde to Elsie L. McKay, Academy street.

THANKS QUINCY FOR IVY WREATH

The following is a letter received from Henry Adams son of the late Charles Francis Adams, by Mayor Campbell:

Chester I. Campbell, Esq.,
Mayor of Quincy.

Dear Sir:—I wish to thank you as representing the City of Quincy for the Ivy wreath sent to the funeral of my father, Charles Francis Adams. That the City of Quincy should maintain such a strong feeling for him when he had not been a citizen there and only indirectly connected with the city's affairs for many years makes this tribute especially grateful to all his family.

Although it is twenty years since my father moved from Quincy, all his children were born there and spent their childhood there. We and our mother therefore feel in this remembrance from Quincy a sentiment that cannot belong to any other. I wish to thank you and the City of Quincy for this remembrance on behalf of the family.

Sincerely,
(Signed) Henry Adams.

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

At the East Congregational church, Sunday morning the pastor, Rev. John M. Trout, preached on: "The Christian Rule of Three." The "Just An Hour" service began at 7.30 instead of 7.00 P. M. The Easter music by the two choirs was repeated. The sermon theme was: "An Easter Postlude." The young people of the church met at 7:00 o'clock to hear the report of the committee which was appointed to consider the formation of a Young People's Union. In all probability such a union will soon be organized.

The Ladies Aid society of the East church will meet Wednesday afternoon in the vestry.

The adjourned meeting of the East Congregational parish will be held April 26 at 8 o'clock. The report of the board of church canvassers will then be heard.

The sermon theme at the First Baptist church Sunday morning was: "Preparations for a Revival." Preceding the sermon there were seven baptisms. At the communion service, following the sermon, twenty-six people received the right hand of fellowship. Miss Marguerite Ward of the Gordon Bible Training school spoke at the meeting of the C. E. society. At the evening service, Miss Eleanor Weightman, the nineteen year old girl evangelist of Boston, spoke and conducted evangelistic services. The S. S. met at 12 M. with 174 present, the record attendance so far this year.

A cottage prayer meeting will be held Tuesday evening at the home of Rev. J. Hamilton Woodsum, pastor of the First Baptist church, on Hazel street.

INVITATION TO VIEW QUARTERS

An invitation has been extended members of the Quincy Board of Trade to visit Union hall Tuesday evening to inspect the quarters of the Machine Gun Company, now being formed here. It is expected a considerable number will attend as the Board of Trade at its last meeting voted unanimously to endorse and assist the formation of the company.

The Model Cook.

"I hear that you have a college graduate for a cook. Isn't that very expensive?"

"Not very. She works for her board and clothes."

"Why, how does she come to do that?"

"She is my wife."

The Ever Present Casus Belli.

Judge—What's the row between this man and woman? Policeman—You see, they're married and— Judge—Was there any other reason for the fight?—Philadelphia Ledger

KEEP POSTED ON THE PEOPLE'S WANTS — CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING — WHY WORRY LET THESE ADS LIFT YOUR BURDEN

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

FOR RENT—1126 Hancock street, opposite Adams Academy, house 7 rooms, and bath 18 Faxon avenue, suite 6 rooms and bath, every modern improvement Tel. 414-M Weymouth. 7-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 7-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of two family house, 5 rooms and bath, all improvements, 3 Bradford street, Quincy Adams. Apply to William Duggan, Bradford street or telephone Quincy 724-W. 7-6t

TO LET—With private family, centrally located, a room suitable for one person, modern conveniences, and rent reasonable. Write Ledger L. M. B., or call Quincy 1796W. 7-6t

TO LET—Half house of six rooms and large laundry to adult family, conveniences, large garden. Rent $20. Apply to George H. Newcomb, 21 Adams Bldg. or M. M. Newcomb, 39 Gay street or phone 1990 Quincy. 2-tf

RENT REDUCED—Half house at 31 Bigelow street in first class condition; good neighborhood and convenient to everything. Bath, laundry, furnace coal range, shades, screens, gas etc. Apply at 33 Bigelow street. 1-tf

TO LET—At 33 Bigelow street, Quincy, a desirable house of eight rooms with improvements. Ready for occupancy about April 15. Apply on premises. 1-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house, 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2, Quincy or 110 South street, Boston, Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET—Upper and lower flats 91 and 93 Revere road 4 and 6 rooms and bath. To small families, $20 and $18. Fred M. Torrey, 25 Spear St., Tel. 202-1 Quincy. 27-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 5 rooms, one attic room and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished, 97 Goddard street, near Quincy Adams Station. 15-tf

TO LET—Tenement of three rooms $7.50 per month. Good place for hens. James Moorhead, 28 Curtis street. Tel. 592-1. 15-tf.

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

TO LET

TO LET—To small family of adults; several sunny attractive half houses, all improvements, centrally located, $21, $23 and $25 per month and water rates. Tel. Quincy 174-2, Charles H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. 10-12t

TO LET—Upper flat of 4 rooms and bath. All improvements, electric lights, furnace, gas stove, etc. For further particulars enquire of Miss Prescott at Ledger Office. 8-tf

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements. 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 12-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Milk wagon, painted and varnished, strong, carry a ton. Bargain $75. 50 Squantum street, East Milton, phone 688-M Milton. 9-3t

FOR SALE—Building lots on highest point of land between Boston and Plymouth. One minute from electric fifteen minutes from steam, 13c fare to Boston, 5c fare to Fore River, gas, electricity and town water A live town Dr. Taylor, South Weymouth, Mass. 7-6t

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E. R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-tf. L P.

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Burgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

LEWIS N CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
Old Furniture Refinished
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

FOR SALE
Great Bargain. In Quincy, near car line, House, Barn, one acre land, $3,200. Very easy terms.
FRANK FESSENDEN CRANE
19 Temple St., Quincy, Mass
9-6t

CARPENTER AND BUILDER
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
All Work Given Prompt Attention
W. R. LOFGREN
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 2612-3

EDWARD J. FEGAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
830 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Room 8 DUNCAN & MERRILL BLOCK
QUINCY.

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.
Dandy bungalow in E Braintree for sale: small pay't, bal. as rent: see this at once.
Houses
H. F. McIntire
Greenleaf Blk
Tel. Quincy 1665-W.
Reasonable rents, near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.
1-1 yr.

LOST

LOST—Boston Terrier dog, female, 10 months old, color white with big black spot over left eye, and small spots on body. Reward for information which leads to recovery of dog or upon return to Andrew Johnson, 7 Gothland street, Quincy. 12-3t

LOST—On Friday, from Boston on the 1.44 train, or in Quincy, a gold brooch with white enamel one large diamond inserted. Liberal reward if brought to Ledger Office. 12-3t

LOST—A slide rule, in a case, with name F. L. Perra on case, worth about $8.00, between Quincy square and Quincy Point. Reward if returned to the Bay State St. R. R. Office. 10-3t

WANTED

WANTED—House or building lot near Payne street, South Quincy, or house at Quincy Point, or Quincy avenue. Owners only need answer. Write E. W. Ledger Office. 12-3t

WANTED — Painters. Apply 159 Whitwell street. 12-1t

WANTED— General maids, also Scotch cook. References required. Miss Frances Wilson, Quincy Employment Bureau, 1247 Hancock street. Tel. 1757-W. 12-3t

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

TO LET
Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

Arthur B. Foster
CARPENTER and BUILDER
14 Bay View St., Quincy Point
Telephone Connection
31-1m

FOR SALE
40ft. MAST
ALMOST NEW COST $45.00
PRICE $12.00
Call at 43 Whitney Road or 'Phone 1063M Quincy
4t 10, 12, 15, 17

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S
Tel. 1827-W Quincy

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.
will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.
OFFICE AT
96 WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY
Tel. 618

BE WISE
FOOL THE FLIES
HAVE YOUR SCREENS
RE-COVERED NOW
TELEPHONE OR WRITE
HOLMES & HALL
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1686 W

"Fifteen Years In Business And Haven't Scratched Yet."

(With Apologies to Bon Ami.)

The Good Shoes we sold in 1900 are reflected on the Good Shoes we sell today.

GRANITE SHOE STORE

QUINCY'S BIG SHOE STORE

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Kincaide Theatre
Foy's Two Stores
Nathan Ames
E. E. Gray Co.
Granite Shoe Store
Charles C. Hearn

MATINEE WHIST.

The Quincy Catholic Club entertained a large number at a matinee whist in Colonial hall, Saturday. The affair was in charge of Pres. Mrs. Agnes Reardon, and members of the entertainment committee. The souvenirs were awarded to Miss Annie Heaney, Mrs. John Dinegan, Mrs. Michael E. Cook, Mrs. Daniel J. Deasey Mrs. George H. Morris, Mrs. John Nolan, Mrs. Joseph Dasha, Mrs. Robert H. Jones, Mrs. Catherine Walsh, Mrs. E. J. Murphy, Mrs. J. J. McAnarney, Mrs. M. T. Sullivan, Miss Catherine Reddy Frappe and cake was served after the play.

WINTER CLUB HOLDS SOCIAL

The Winter club, composed of well known Swedish residents of the city, held an enjoyable dancing social in Electa hall, Saturday evening. There was a good attendance.

Refreshments were served during the evening. The music for dancing was furnished by Provosts orchestra.

The committee in charge was Algot Ericson, Andrew Johnson, William Ericson, Rep. Charles Ericson, Otto Peterson, Otto Backman, Gus Pierson, John Olson, Nils Ackerstrom.

SHOWS IMPROVEMENT.

It is pleasing to note that the condition of Mrs. Charles E. Haskins of Miller Stile road, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, continues to improve, and she is apparently on the road to recovery.

MANY ATTEND BIRTHDAY PARTY

About one hundred relatives and friends were present at Ellsworth hall, Saturday evening, to observe the eighteenth birthday of Miss Emily C. Doherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Doherty of Washington street, East Milton. The hall was made very attractive with its decorations of potted palms and white and pink bunting.

In the receiving line were Miss Emily C. Doherty, Mrs. William H. Doherty, Mrs. May Hazelwood and Mrs. Annie Hazelwood. The ushers were: George M. Jack, William H. Doherty, William R. Doherty, Hugh Robertson and Frances W. Doherty. Friends were present from Dorchester, Roxbury, Boston, Hull and Jamaica Plain. The evening was spent in dancing. During the intermission punch was served. Miss Emily is a junior in High school and has a host of friends among the young people of the town.

CUSHING TO SPEAK.

Lieut. Gov. Grafton D. Cushing is to be the speaker at the next meeting of the First Parish club, Tuesday evening April 20. His subject will be "The Tax Situation in Massachusetts." This is the annual meeting of the club and officers will be elected for next year. It is also the closing meeting and dinner of the season.

Quincy E. E. GRAY CO. Wollaston
Two Stores
Tel. 327 M Quincy Reliable Groceries Tel. 1586 M Quincy

Corn Meal 5 lb. pkg.	13c	Cocoa (1-2 lb. can Gray's)	13c
Peanut Butter (Best)	10c	Beans (Small California) qt.	12c
Early June Peas	9c	Salmon (Good Alaska)	10c
Corn (Fancy)	8c	Corn Starch per lb. pkg.	4c
Catsup (Gray's)	8c	Soap (Good Will) 6 bars for	21c
Crab Meat (Large Can)	33c	Soup, Campell's 3 cans for	25c
Karo Corn Syrup can	9c	Pears, Jersey large can	11c

Spring is Here to Stay

Fritz is ready to make you gentlemen an up-to-the minute Spring Suit or Overcoat. The neatest assortment of Spring and Summer Woolens ever shown by us is now ready for your inspection at our store. Select the patterns for your Spring clothes today. Our reputation is our greatest asset. We have the ability of making good clothing, we've proved it for the past 18 years.

We pay strict and close attention to Cleaning, Pressing and Repairing. GIVE US A CALL TODAY

BERNARD FRITZ & SON
7 DEPOT ST., Opposite City Hall

BRIEFS

Mrs. Charles W. Bailey of Wollaston has been visiting in Buckland, Mass

The regular bi-monthly meeting of St. Mary's C. T. A. and M. R. society will be held in their hall this evening.

Mrs. John Abbott of Ocean street is spending two weeks with her son in Dorchester.

The Woman's Relief Corps 103 will hold a German whist party in G. A. R. hall Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Frederick Simpson of Edgemere road is entertaining at an auction bridge party, Friday evening.

Mrs. Sarah McKee has been visiting her daughter Mrs. Addie Burton of Whitman.

The Boy Scouts of East Weymouth took a hike Saturday to Quincy and visited the Fore River works.

Harry Heffernan, who is ill at his home on Elm place with pneumonia, is gradually recovering.

Miss Margaret O'Hara is at the Quincy City Hospital, recovering from the effects of an operation for appendicitis, recently performed.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Sheppard, born April 2, has been named Joel Fithian Sheppard, 3rd, after Mr. Sheppard's grandfather.

Mrs. Withee and daughter, who have been spending the winter in Wollaston, have returned to their summer home in North Scituate.

The Wollaston Glee club of thirty-four members will give a concert tonight in the Cohasset town hall under the auspices of the Masonic Associates.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Howe of Butler road have returned from Springfield where they have been the guests of relatives.

Commissioner Brown is out in a new automobile today. The new car is a Buick, taking the place of a Ford runabout.

The one round from Box 171 at 6.37 Sunday night was a false alarm. It was evidently pulled by some boy who pulled the hook but part way down.

English Ivy lodge, Order Daughters of St. George will hold their regular meeting Thursday evening in Quincy Adams hall at 7 o'clock, followed by a public whist party at 8 o'clock.

Miss Louise Wagner of Kansas City is visiting Miss Mary Faxon of Adams street. Miss Wagner and Miss Faxon were room-mates in the school they attended in Berlin, Germany.

Lieut. Joseph S. Evans is making a short visit with his family on Edgemere road, having recently come North from Panama, where his ship has been stationed.

The condition of Edward Darcy Barrett, Jr., the two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Barrett, who is ill with penumonia at their home on Elm street, is improved today.

The Saturday Auction Bridge club met Saturday afternoon with Miss Ethel G. Hersey, of Washington street, Quincy Point. Three tables played, the highest scorer being Miss Elizabeth Atwood.

TOOLATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

TO LET—Tenement of 7 rooms, all improvements. Rent $25. Apply 233 Washington street. 12-6t

TO LET—Flat in new house, all modern improvements. Apply 61 Richie road. April 12-6t

WANTED—Large room and board with refined private family, for couple and 3 year old child. Quincy Point or vicinity. Particulars by letter, Patton Baker's Yacht Basin, Quincy Point. 12-3t

LOST—Between Granite and Buckley streets, a child's grey hat. Finder please return to Turva's Store, 32 Copeland street. 12-1t

BIRTHS

ARNOLD—In Braintree, April 12, a daughter to Henry S. and Lillian (Green) Arnold, 175 Arnold street.

DEATHS

HAYDEN—In Quincy, April 10, Lavina H. widow of Joseph W. Hayden in her 73rd year.
Funeral services at late home 49 Gay street, Tuesday April 13th at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited to attend. 12-1t

MAHAR—In Brighton, April 10, Michael Mahar of Phipps street, aged 38 years.

O'BRIEN—In Carney Hospital, Emily, wife of James O'Brien of Water street and Brook road, aged about 24 years.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

CHILDREN ENJOY DANCING PARTY

Master William W. Jenness Entertains Friends

The party given by Master William Whittem Jenness on Saturday at Hancock hall was attended by about forty of his young friends. The ushers were Masters Thomas Burgin, Lawrence Griswold, Winsor Harlow, Archer Nickerson, Edgar Horton and Frederick Lovell. Mrs. William Whittem Jenness, Master William Whittem Jenness and Mrs Nathaniel Stevens Hunting received the children, after which dancing was in order the modern dances prevailing.

At intermission Mrs. Hunting entertained the parents present with selections on the Victrola which were much enjoyed. Ice cream was served during intermission, and punch during the afternoon. The music was furnished by Miss Hannah Sandberg at the piano with Earle Simmons at the drum.

Miss Isabel McMurtry and Miss Florence Hardy took charge of the floor during the afternoon. The boys in their dark suits and white gloves and the girls in their handsome party gowns made a very charming picture.

BROUGHT FROM LIVERPOOL

Junior Officer of American Liner Charged With Theft of Gold

New York, April 12.—Four $20 gold pieces, found in a room of a New York hotel two weeks ago, led to the arrest of Sydney M. Foster, junior third officer of the American line steamship New York, on the arrival here of the steamship Arabic from Liverpool.

The four double-eagles are said to be part of 118 double-eagles alleged to have been missing from a consignment of gold coin shipped from Liverpool on the steamship New York, arriving here March 1.

Several days later the finding of the gold pieces in the hotel was reported to the police. Detectives followed the movements of Foster, who had occupied the room, and reported that he had made numerous purchases, all of which were paid for in double-eagles.

The New York having sailed, Liverpool detectives were notified and Foster was arrested on arrival. He waived extradition, consenting to return on the Arabic, accompanied by a Liverpool officer.

GORGAS TO QUIT ARMY

Noted American Surgeon General to Fight Typhoid Fever In Serbia

Washington, April 12.—Major General Gorgas, surgeon general of the army, has decided to resign his commission in order to accept an offer of the trustees of the Rockefeller foundation to take charge of the medical relief expedition that is to be sent to Serbia to stamp out the epidemic of typhus fever which is raging there.

It is understood that the compensation that has been tendered Gorgas is $50,000 a year, together with an agreement that after the completion of the work in Serbia he shall be pensioned for life with an annual salary amply sufficient to compensate him for his prospect of retirement as an army officer.

There will also be a stipulation in the agreement that in the event that Gorgas should lose his life from exposure to the fever, his wife will receive a pension generous in amount, and in excess of the provision made for her by law as the wife of an army officer.

HEIRESS IS BRIDE OF ITALIAN CONSUL

Wedding Ceremony at Home Instead of St. Louis Cathedral

St. Louis, April 12.—Maude C. Scudder, member of one of the wealthiest and most prominent Methodist families in the west, became the bride of Gustave Di Rosa, Italian consul at Boston and member of an historic Italian family. Di Rosa is a Roman Catholic.

Because of the difference in the religious views of the bride and bridegroom, the wedding ceremony took place in the Scudder home instead of in the new cathedral where most of the big Catholic weddings in St. Louis are held.

Rev. Francis J. O'Conner of the new cathedral performed the ceremony, however, and the nuptial blessing was given by Archbishop Glennon.

Auto Kills Famous Sculptor

New York, April 12.—Karl T. F. Bitter, one of the leading sculptors of this country, died here of injuries suffered when he and Mrs. Bitter were run down by an automobile. Mrs. Bitter's injuries are not serious.

This label on Roofing insures service

Certain-teed Roofing is giving excellent service on all classes of buildings all over the world. Try it once—you'll buy again.

We have built up the biggest roofing and building paper mills in the world by selling good goods at reasonable prices.

Buy materials that last

Certain-teed

Roofing

1-ply guaranteed	5 years
2-ply guaranteed	10 years
3-ply guaranteed	15 years

Ask your dealer for products made by us—they bear our name.
Asphalt Roofings (All grades and prices)
Slate Surfaced Shingles
Asphalt Felts
Deadening Felts
Tarred Felts
Building Papers
Insulating Papers
Wall Boards
Plastic Roofing Cement
Asphalt Cement
Roof Coating
Metal Paints
Outdoor Paints
Shingle Stains
Refined Coal Tar
Tar Coating

General Roofing Manufacturing Company
World's largest manufacturers of Roofing and Building Papers
New York City Boston Chicago Pittsburgh Philadelphia Atlanta Cleveland Detroit St. Louis Cincinnati Kansas City Minneapolis San Francisco Seattle London Hamburg Sydney

JOHNSON AND CO 'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

SOUTH QUINCY RESIDENT DIES

Michael Mahar, one of the most popular residents of South Quincy died early today at the contagious branch of the Massachusetts Homeopathic Hospital following a complication of measles and pneumonia. The deceased was in his 38th year.

Michael Mahar has made his home in Quincy, at 165 Phipps street, for many years. He was a tool sharpener by trade. His funeral will take place at Brighton probably Tuesday afternoon and burial will be in Quincy.

The deceased was a member of Div. 5, A. O. H., the tool sharpeners branch of the Granite Cutters International association and Quincy Herd, Benevolent Order of Buffaloes.

Mr. Mahar was also for many years an active member of the Quincy branch of the United Irish Land League.

BRIEFS

John Barron and family have moved from Bedford street to Euclid avenue.

Theodore Parker of Russell street is confined to his home with pneumonia.

John J. Joyce of Hall place and Bennet J. O'Brien of Revere street left today for Brighton where they will resume their studies at St. John's Seminary after spending the week with their parents.

Lodge Skandia Vasa Orden is making plans to celebrate the tent hanniversary of the organization of the society in this city. They plan to hold a big fair and dance in Electa hall Saturday, May 8th.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

HOLY NAME SOCIETY MEETS

The Holy Name society of St. Mary's church held its regular monthly meeting Sunday. At the eight o'clock mass over 500 members of the society attended the Holy Communion in a body. In the afternoon at 4 o'clock over 600 members were in attendance at the meeting. Rev. Father McCoy, the spiritual director, gave a short but very interesting talk on "Church and Science." The meeting closed with benediction of the Blessed Sacrament by Father Duffy. The singing was by members of the society. Mrs. Mary Reardon presided at the organ.

FREE!! FREE!!
Any person bringing this coupon

It is worth 25c cut it out to my store any day this week will receive a bottle of HEARNE'S RECONSTRUCTIVE TONIC

For 50c Regular Price 75c

I want you to know the value of this wonderful Spring tonic, which is the reason for this special offer. CUT THE COUPON TO-DAY.

Chas. C. Hearn
DRUGGIST
City Square, Quincy
12-3t

Were we to tell you of all the Wonderful Values obtainable when buying in our stores, it would take a page of type talk.

We have, therefore culled the following specials as typical of the host of others awaiting your picking.

Dr. Johnson's Educator Wheat Bran, .10 pkg
O. K. Peanut Butter 2 lbs. .25

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980

FOY'S
2 STORES

WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 87 QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY EVENING, APRIL 13, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

POLICE OFFICER BUYS INTEREST IN THEATRE

George W. Fallon and Karl Erickson Now Proprietors of Auditorium

George W. Fallon, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Fallon of 771 Washington street and a member of the reserve police force of the city, has purchased a half interest in the Auditorium theatre and when that building reopens for business next Saturday it will be under the management of Erickson and Fallon.

Mr. Fallon is one of the best known young men of the city and the first local young man to enter the theatrical field in recent years. He graduated from High school in 1905 and while there made the record for throwing the ball. He participated in athletics, particularly base ball, and until two years ago when he retired from the diamond was one of the fastest local men in the game.

He was appointed a reserve patrolman by Mayor Stone and since then has done duty in every part of the city. The past two winters he has been permanently assigned to the Auditorium theatre.

His partner, Karl Erickson, came to Quincy several years ago and since his arrival has made a "go" of the Auditorium theatre which was then a struggling playhouse. He was manager of the theatre when a portion of the building settled during a recent performance, which resulted in the closing of the building for the time being by Mayor Campbell.

Workmen the past few days have been engaged in making the changes ordered by Building Inspector Thomas. The brick piers have been built and parts of the sides of the building have been removed and iron girders have been run between the uprights.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity:

Although there was a southwesterly breeze all day Monday, the air was warm and it proved to be an ideal spring day. The little rain during Sunday night coupled with the warm sun did wonders in starting vegetation and before night it was noticeable that the grass on the lawns had begun to take on its green tinge. The air became a little cooler in the evening, but at no time was it uncomfortable. This morning the air at sunrise was a little cooler but the weather gave promise of warming up with the sun.

The indications are that Wednesday and Thursday will be pleasant and considerably warmer, with moderate westerly winds.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	5.06
Sun sets	6 24
Length of day	13.18
Moon rises	5.00
High water, A. M.	11.30
High water, P. M.	11.45
Days increase 4 hrs.	12 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	60 degrees
Apr. 13, 1914,	47 degrees
Apr. 13, 943,	46 degrees

Noon Maximum 18 years—86
Noon Minimum 18 years—30

His Love Story

By Marie Van Vorst

IS a story of love and adventure centering about the loveaffair of a young captain of the French army and a beautiful American girl. They fall in love at first sight; the young officer is whisked away to active service in Algiers before he can declare himself, goes through skirmish and battle. How he is left for dead in the desert sands, is miraculously saved, and finally restored to the girl he loves, makes mighty interesting reading.

You'll Like This New Serial Because It's Good All the Way Through!

DON'T MISS IT!

Quincy Quick Lunch
1510 Hancock Street
Next to Wardwell's Bowling Alley
Open from 6 A. M. to 12 P. M.
7-6t

BETTER THAN 6 % PREFERRED SHARES
— OF —
THE CITY REALTY TRUST
PRICE PAR $100
CUMULATIVE PARTICIPATING AND NON-TAXABLE
Over quarter of a million ($250,000) paid in.
Strong surplus account steadily increasing.
Annual certified Audit and Appraisal.
A common stock bonus on a limited number of Preferred shares.
FOR BOOKLET, general information, etc.
Address
QUINCY A. LOTHROP
10 Post Office Square,
BOSTON, MASS.
TRUSTEES
FORRIS W. NORRIS
CHESTER I. CAMPBELL
LOUIS H. PARKHURST
April 10-3t-10-14-17

DANCING CLASS CLOSES SEASON

Miss Corlew Gives Annual Reception

A large number of spectators watched the 72 children of Miss Elizabeth Corlew's dancing class participate in the closing reception in Alpha hall Monday evening. The balcony and seats arranged about the hall were filled with enthusiastic parents.

The children gave exhibitions of the foxtrot, opera foxtrot, hesitation one step, plain waltz, polka Louise and Castle polka. There were two Germans, and in one large vari-colored balloon were the favors.

The brilliant picture visible from the balcony was one that has never been surpassed in the city. The boys in dark suits and white ties were the partners of the girls who were dressed in the prettiest of dresses. When all were dancing the effect was kaledioscopic.

And perhaps, more than anything else, the deportment was a feature. Four year old children courtesied with the grace of adults as they were claimed as partners or taken to their seats after dances by the boys, with a low bow, with the left hand pressed lightly against the heart.

The youngest child was four years old and the oldest was 13.

The matrons were Mrs. Fred Cheever, Mrs. Wyman Streeter, Mrs. Charles Chase, Mrs. Everett Simmons, Jr., Mrs Herbert Childs, Mrs. Charles E. Weeks, Mrs. Charles Stecker.

Miss Corlew was assisted in receiving by two four year old girls, Ellen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chase and Phyllis, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. Tuttle, all of Wollaston.

The ushers were Hayden Chase, Horace Ripley, Louis Harlow, Armory Waite, James Stevens, Paul Knowlton, Fred Cheever, George Simmons, Everett Wood, Millard Peabody, Samuel Allen, Horace Ripley

The program opened with the ushering of the matrons to their corners after which came the reception march. The boys and girls were presented at its close. Miss Corlew announced the galop. The program of the evening then commenced and was carried out under the direction of Miss Corlew and her niece, Miss Juliet Corlew.

The feature of the affair was the receiving of little Ellen Chase and Phyllis Tuttle, whose simple dignity was truly appealing.

MRS. BUMPUS GIVES LECTURE

Mrs. E. C. Bumpus gave the members of the Woman's Guild of Christ church and their friends a most delightful evening in the parish house Monday evening, at which time she gave a lecture on St. Catherine of Siena. The object of the lecture was to increase the church fund and Mrs. Bumpus kindly gave her services.

The subject was a most interesting one and was illustrated by a large number of views, many of which were taken personally by Mrs. Bumpus while she was in Italy. Among the views were many showing scenes about the city of Siena, especiallly interesting being the view of the cathedral, where St. Catherine attended religious services and of her home which is still standing.

TO SPEAK TWICE.

Mayor Campbell has two speaking engagements for this evening. During the first part of the evening he will speak before the Business Men's association at Rockland on "Present Day Tendencies." Later in the evening he will speak before the Bay State Auto association at the Lenox, Boston on "The Auto and Roads."

Quincy Pianoforte School
Mackellon Director
Greenleaf Block,
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
Pupils received daily and Wednesday evenings
INSTRUCTION PAR EXCELLENCE
31-tf

MAYOR RIDES IN REAL JITNEY BUS

Enjoys Experience in Philadelphia on His Recent Trip

LARGE NUMBER IN USE

During the visit of Mayor Campbell to New York, Philadelphia, and Providence the past week he took occasion to look up the new fad of "Jitney Riding."

The Mayor seems to feel that judging from the inquiries being made at City Hall in reference to licenses for same, that it will be but a short time before the "Jitney" will be much in evidence on the streets of Quincy.

The "Jitney" first made its appearance in the larger Western Cities. In fact, so numerous did they become in Seattle, Tacoma, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Providence, that the street railway companies were forced to reduce their help and take off many cars from the routes. They are generally operated by the man who can gather together enough cash to secure a serviceable second hand car, and then he selects a certain route over which he travels back and forth, stopping to take on and let off passengers all along the route. Without doubt Philadelphia possesses the best general "Jitney" service to date. Besides the two or three hundred "Jitneys" in day use, this number is greatly added to in the evening by the young office clerks who add to their income by running these cars until midnight.

As one stands on North Broad street, Philadelphia, a steady string of the cars can be seen all filled to their capacity and many having passengers riding on the running board. The fare is invariably 5 cents per passenger.

For the tests of service and for the gathering of information the Mayor took several rides. On these occasions the average distance travelled in a seven passenger car was 2 1-2 miles. On one trip from the Philadelphia City Hall to Diamond street, a distance of about 3 miles, the "Jitney" started with 2 passengers. Within 3 blocks two more passengers were added and before another block was passed the car was filled, and had one passenger on the running board. Four of the passengers remained for the round trip and on the return trip they found new passengers at each street corner. There is no doubt the "Jitney" is popular where it has been introduced.

LOCAL PEDLERS ONLY WANTED

Acting on the suggestion of the city council, peddlers' licenses will probably not be issued to non-residents this year by the inspector of meats and provisions. It has always been claimed that there are enough residents in the peddling business to supply the wants of the city and that even they often have a hard time to get a living.

In many years, however, peddlers from out of town have been allowed to come to Quincy and peddle their wares upon the payment of $2.00 the same fee as a resident. It was thought that perhaps it might be possible to pass an ordinance so that residents might be charged one price and non-residents another, but this has been ruled as illegal and that the city can not show any discrimination in the fee charged. The city however can refuse to grant a peddler's license to a non-resident if it sees fit and this is what will probably be done this year. Then if an out-of-town man wants to peddle his wares in Quincy he must take out a state license for which the fee is $25.

The chairman of the Board of Health, W. H. Buchan, who is acting as inspector of meats and provisions, in place of James F. Allan who passed away last week, has refused thus far to issue any permits for peddling to non-residents.

STATE HEAD OF SCHOOLS SPEAKS

Dr. David Snedden Addresses Association

A meeting of unusual interest took place Monday evening in the Wollaston school hall, when the Wollaston Parents' and Teachers' Association had the opportunity of hearing Dr. David Snedden, commissioner of education for Massachusetts.

Rev. G. M. Bailey, president of the association, called the meeting to order at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Hillman read the report of the secretary and treasurer and a nominating committee, composed of Mr. Keyes, Mrs. Robert Park and Mr. Blake were elected.

Mr. Bailey announced that the May meeting of the association would involve the student body of the school as Dr. Smith was preparing the program which would consist of an exhibition in the line of gymnastic work. He also said that, owing to this fact, it would be better to put the meeting a week later than May 10th the regular date, as May 10th would be the first day after their vacation.

The speaker of the evening was then introduced. He took as his subject "The Current Problems ofducation." He said in part:

"You can readily realize that no subject is harder to discuss than the current problems of education. A good many people believe that we who have the schools in charge are forever trying to introduce new things. I wish to say that this is not true. In fact school men are rather reluctant about bringing in new things. We cannot comprehend education unless we see it as an out-growth.

"We are changing; for instance the economic life is changing to a great degree. Our grasp of nature, our comprehension of nature or scientific knowledge is changing tremendously. We want more than our ancestors. We want everything in life to be more practical. These demands are designated as social farces. Society conceives a new thing and then endeavors to have the schools carry it out as the schools of today have to do with the making of the future. So to a very great extent it is true that the schools are doing the things the world is compelling them to do.

"During the last two hundred years the school has accepted the tradition of progress. A very large proportion of us now believe that things are in the process of changing. We like to think that the change is forward and not backward. We believe that tomorrow will be different from today as today is from yesterday. We have come to accept the tradition of progress. Now therein we differ from those who believe that the most desirable thing is to continue status quo.

"However, most of us expect the books or the machinery of to-morrow to be better than those of today. We are all thinking in terms of progress and refuse to admit that we are mere things of circumstance. We try to find our goals whether or not they are practical and worth achieving. We speak of problems. In the world of business affairs today, we realize that things are going forward through definite plans. Nowadays, we try to shape our problems, then make an attack upon them. See an architect at work and you see a man who has reached a high means of planning. He draws his plans and is able to calculate from them his results.

"In public education we are trying to shape our problems so that we may attack them more effectively than in the past. It is not a simple thing to do. We are dealing with a problem that is very complex, for example, the purpose of education is to take boys and girls and to make them into the kind of men and women they should be or the kind we want them to be. We call these the aims of eduaction. We are teaching them Latin, Ancient History, Chemistry and so on.

"We say we must have some purpose for doing this. I have been trying to solve the problem as to why we require girls to study Algebra. I am beginning to think we have not any reason and that it is tradition. Although we may have some mystical reason we can prove nothing.

"We also have our ideals of culture and we may say that we impart these ideals by telling them but we know that does not form a pedagogical prob-

(Continued on Page Six.)

LOCAL SINGER ENTERS SUIT FOR $20,000

Mrs. Page Claims Voice Was Injured In Auto Accident

Mrs. Edith Cary Page, the well known vocalist, has entered suit in the superior court at Dedham against Henry E. Hunt of Duxbury for $20,000 for injury to her nerves resulting from an automobile accident, which she claims greatly impaired her singing powers. Mrs. Page's husband Eugene C. Page has also entered suit against the same party for $500 for damages done to his automobile.

In her declaration Mrs. Page claims that on August 2, 1914, as she was riding in her automobile on Beale street, near Hancock street, an auto owned by Mr. Hunt collided with it. She states that she is a public singer and vocal teacher, and that the shock of the accident so affected her nerves that it caused great injury to her singing powers.

ROSS MAY SEEK NOMINATION

Said to Aspire to Rep. Ericson's Seat

While he has not publicly announced himself as yet it is more than probable that Councilman Charles A. Ross, will be a candidate next fall for the nomination as Representative from the Fifth Norfolk district which comprises Wards One, Two and Three, now represented by Charles A. Ericson.

TWO MARRIAGE RETURNS FILED

Marriages performed by Catholic clergy of two parishes became known today with the return of records to City Clerk Crane, and the grooms are both employed at the Fore River shipyard.

On Sunday Thomas S. Gabler, 30 years, of 17 Silver street, a pattern maker, and Miss Viola O'Brien of 90 Billings street, were married at the Sacred Heart parish house. The ceremony was performed by Fr. James F. McNiffe.

Miss Annie Jane McNamee, of 5 Cherry avenue, became the bride of Hugh Boyd, Jr., of the same address a boiler maker at the shipyard, on Monday. The ceremony took place at the St. Johns parish house and was performed by Fr. Michael J. Owens, pastor.

Both of the couples are now on wedding trips and on their return will make their home in Quincy.

HORSE RUNS AWAY.

Fruits and vegetables were strewn over a large part of Granite street this morning when the horse of Herbert W. Cass, a local potato dealer, bolted on Goffe street and in turning onto Granite street brought his wagon up against a telephone pole.

The wagon upset and the load went flying in all directions and the horse with nothing but the front wheels and shafts attached sped down Granite and across Hancock street to Temple street where it was brought to a stop. No one was injured.

☞ A hero soldier and dreamer, a charming American girl, and Pitchoune a little dust colored Irish terrier make up a narrative of intense interest in Marie Van Vorst's serial story "His Love Story", which begins in Wednesday's Ledger. We recommend it to all lovers of good fiction. Opening chapters Wednesday

NOTE VIOLATION OF QUARANTINE

Board of Health Is Keeping Close Watch

The number of cases of measles in the city do not in any way indicate an epidemic although members of the Board of Health are keeping in close touch with the families in quarantine and have discovered some flagrant violations of the regulations.

At present the disease has claimed 45 victims, some of them adults. Because several children of the same families have been stricken the number of houses in quarantine is about 38.

The close quarantine ordered in two cases as a result of investigation by Dr. Harold E. Diehl of the Board of Health has been removed. The quarantine was ordered after he found older members of the family visiting the patient and continuing at work.

A closer watch has been kept on the situation this year than ever before because the new rules impose certain moral obligations which can be violated almost at will if the families decide to do so. Where violations exists however the close quarantine has been ordered and families which could have had the privileges of working forfeit the opportunity.

There has been some response to the request of the board by the people of Houghs Neck who either willfully or through ignorance of the law, openly violated all the rules of quarantine and exposed the entire district to the disease.

PLAN ANNUAL BALL.

Eighty-five stalwart sons of Italy, gathered in Protection hall Monday evening as members of Loggio Roma, Figli d'Italia and completed arrangements for the first annual ball of that organization to take place in Alpha hall, April 30. A score of local Italians were initiated to membership.

HIGHLAND TROOP WIN.

The Highland Troop Boy Scout Base Ball Team under Captain William Simonson on Monday met and defeated the Quincy Braves with a score of 10 to 8. Shortstop William Nightingale brought in the two winning scores by knocking a home run. The Highland Scouts would like to hear from other teams composed of boys of 15 or under.

☞ The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader.

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

GIVE US RELIEF.

The Supreme Court of Massachusetts has rendered its decision in the matter of four bills, introduced into the present session of the state legislature and designed to remedy the present absurd system of taxation, whereby personal property is taxed at the same rate as real property. The Supreme Court finds that these remedies are unconstitutional.

The Boston Transcript thus summarizes the provisions of these bills:

(1) Certain forms of property to be assessed at their market value, and other forms at certain multiples of their market value, the total assessments thus reached to be taxed at a rate uniform throughout the Commonwealth, for the purpose of securing greater equality of contribution to the tax burden.

(2) A tax upon the income from all forms of personal property; also a tax at a rate uniform throughout the Commonwealth upon incomes from trades, professions and employments.

(3) Exemption from taxation of intangible property proved to be secured by, or to derive its value from, tangible property which is taxable where it is located; and permitting holders of such property to establish such facts by registering such property with the tax commissioner, upon payment of a reasonable excise or duty.

(4) Providing that intangible property shall have no situs in the Commonwealth and that the income therefrom shall be taxed by the Commonwealth at a uniform rate.

To get relief from the present iniquitous system a constitutional amendment is clearly necessary. Steps should be taken immediately toward securing it. We believe, as we have stated in these columns before, that a wise tax law, a tax law which could be enforced, which would bring more revenue to the community and yet not place so heavy a burden on the individual, would embody these principles:

A tax upon real property, assessed and levied by the city or town within which the tax payer lived at the rate necessary to make up the necessary revenue. This form of taxation is in existence today.

A tax upon personal property, levied by the state at a rate uniform throughout the state and low enough to be practicable, such as a third of one percent. This tax would be received by the state and redistributed proportionately among the various cities and towns. This form of taxation is not in existence in Massachusetts today. Today personal property is taxed at the same rate as real property, a manifest absurdity and unfairness.

The enactment of a law embodying these principles we believe would bring a much larger revenue to the various communities, would prevent tax dodging and the flight of tax harassed persons from Quincy to Orleans, and, at the same time, would not impose an undue burden upon anyone.

The second form of taxation cited above is not advisable. We are at present suffering under a federal income tax, not yet very well systematized or satisfactory as a revenue producer, and the addition of a state income tax law would be the last straw. A considerable exodus to war-ridden Europe would not be beyond the bounds of possibility.

SHOULD NOT STRIKE.

In these days of unemployment it seems strange to read that a strike by Chicago carpenters is threatened if the union wage is not raised from 67 1-2 cents an hour to 70 cents an hour. Sixteen thousand men threaten to walk out Friday if the new wage scale is not granted.

The union has proved a great blessing to countless Americans but it is possible to make it a great curse. We do not pretend to know much about the merits of this particular strike but it seems as if the contractor's offer of 67 1-2 cents an hour, taking into consideration the general business depression, higher cost of material in some instances, difficulty of always getting paid in cash, is eminently fair, and it does not seem as if 2 1-2 cents an hour is worth a strike.

That now is the time to build is an absolute truth, and the Ledger recently printed a special "Build Now" edition to show its faith in the slogan. But one of the inducements offered timid investors was the comparative freedom from strikes. The Chicago carpenters are hurting the prosperity of the country by too unyielding an attitud.e

Whether or not equal suffrage is desirable the vote in Chicago recently serves to refute the statement that woman would not vote if they had the privilege of doing so. Eighty-six per cent of the women voters cast their ballots, a decidedly respectable showing.

VARIED TALENT IN BIG CONCERT

The concert by the Boston Tech Musical clubs in Alpha hall this evening, will feature several numbers in addition to those by the individual clubs. Herbert Williamson of Rochester, N. Y., is the vocal soloist. His voice is a lyric tenor and is of such a pleasing quality that he has been retained as soloist in Trinity church, Boston. Alexander Martin of Portland, Oregon, reads several humorous selections during the course of the program, while the Glee Club Quartet entertains with light numbers. The instrumental trio includes E. H. Barry, flute H. Mendelsohn, celo, and S. R. Clark, piano.

The Glee club is the oldest organization of Boston Tech Musical clubs. The club is led this year by W. Lardner Ogden; '16. The entire Glee club numbers thirty-two men. The Banjo club is the oldest instrumental organization connected with the Institute. It has always been a small club, this year's membership being ten, and has enjoyed an unbroken reputation as a musical organization. True to banjoistic traditions, the music of the club is of that lively, spirited order which has made the banjo so popular and which is sure to dispel the most severe attack of the "blues." The Mandolin Club contains about 20 men.

JITNEY BUS BILL DEFEATED

State House, Boston April 13—The Senate Monday refused to concur with the House and recommit the jitney bus bill to the committee on mercantile affairs. This is one of the most important bills of the year and the action of the upper branch leaves the matter up in the air. The original bill how goes back to the House.

Just what the House will do with the measure is a problem. The bill as it stands provides that the owners of jitney bus lines must post a bond of at least $2000 for every bus they operate to insure the public of some visible means of redress in case of accident or death which is not provided for under the law at the present time. The members of the committee on mercantile affairs believed that the owners of the jitney bus lines should have the alternative of taking out liability insurance but were uncertain as to the constitutionality of such a provision in the bill.

This question, however, has been decided to the satisfaction of the committee and an effort was made to have the House committee on bills in the third reading amend the bill so as to include the insurance provision. That committee recommended that the bill be returned to the committee on mercantile affairs so that a new bill could be drawn and the House acted favorably upon that recommendation.

The Senate, however, in refusing to concur puts the bill back where it was when first submitted to the House. From the attitude of several members of the committee on mercantile affairs it is believed an attempt will be made to have the bill amended on the floor of the House and failing in that to pass the bill to be engrossed as it stands. The attitude of the Senate is not regarded as favorable to any phase of the proposition and it is debatable whether any jitney bus bill will get through the upper branch this year.

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.
will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.
OFFICE AT
96 WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY;
Tel. 618

CLUB DEBATES EQUAL SUFFRAGE

The St. Mary's Debating club held its first debate after the regular meeting of the society on Monday evening. The subject was equal suffrage. School Committeeman Joseph H. McPherson and John Duggan took the stand in favor and George A. Sullivan and Thomas F. O'Brien took the part of the Antis. Both teams put forth their best arguments and the society voted that the arguments of the Antis was the strongest and that when the question comes up for suffrage in the fall if the members vote they will oppose such a law. After the debate Rev. Thomas R. McCoy, pastor of St Mary's church who is the Spiritual Director of the society gave the young men a short but very interesting talk on the value of being able to speak in public and how to attain the ability to do so well. The next debate will be held the first meeting in May. The subject has not yet been chosen.

CONFERENCE OPENS TODAY

The New England Lutheran conference which became a separate conference three years ago after an affiliation for 42 years with the New York conference, opened its annual session in Boston today. The Swedish Lutheran church of Quincy will be represented throughout the conference, which extends to Saturday night, by Rev. Leander Hokenson, pastor.

The executive committee prepared the program Monday and the pastoral conference was held today. On Wednesday night there will be a grand opening, on Thursday the conference college session will be held, Friday will be devoted chiefly to the missionary and foreign societies, composed of women of the various churches. The charitable institutions will be discussed Saturday.

Rev. Dr. S. G. Ohman, of New Britain, Conn., president of the conference will preside throughout the session and at the mass meeting in Tremont Temple at three o'clock Sunday afternoon. The speaker will be Dr. Gustave Andren, president of the Augustan College and Theological Seminary of Rock Island, Ill., the oldest and largest of the Lutheran institutions. Senator Knut Nelson of Minnesota has also been invited.

Rev. Mr. Hokenson will take an active part in the arrangements for the week and the various discussions. He will, during his report, announce that the dedication of the chapel of his church on Granite street, practically completed, will take place in May. Rev. Mr. Hokenson, this year has been one of the auditors of the Orphanage at Avon, and as a member of the immigrant board will take part in the dedication of the Immigrant and Seamen's Home at East Boston Saturday night. He is also a member of the committee on law.

PLAN TO HOLD BIG FIELD DAY

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the St. Mary's C. T. A. & M. R. society was held Monday evening with President O'Brien in the chair. The entertainment committee reported that it had received a permit from the Park Commissioners to hold the annual field day on the Ward Four Play ground Monday May 31st. It is planned to make this field day a large athletic meet and invite the best stars in the state to enter. This affair is an annual event of the society and from past performances there has always been great enthusiasm shown in the baseball games. The society hopes to induce Mike Kiley to put his Old Timers on the field against some strong local team.

TO HOLD SUPPER.

Saturday evening, the Ladies Aid society of the First church of Squantum hold a supper from six to eight o'clock in Richards Memorial hall. Mrs. Albert E. Richardson, president of the society is chairman and her assistants will be Mrs. James Sumner, Mrs. John Holmes, Mrs. John Mardon and Mrs. Roger Mason and the following women will serve: Mrs. Herman Berghaus, Mrs. Charles Watts, Mrs. John Mardon, Mrs. James Sumner, Mrs. Peter Olson and Mrs. Joseph Gregory.

SCISSOR PASTE

TWO LINCOLNS.

Abraham Lincoln once said, "God must love the common people or he would not have made so many of them." This expressed the thought of the Great Emancipator and the poor always found in him a true friend. His son, Robert Todd Lincoln, may have some of the characteristics of his noble father, but not all of them He is president of the Pullman Car Company, a corporation that is able to pay large dividends on its stock, but never has paid, and still refuses to pay living wages to its colored porters. The elder Lincoln is a saintly personage to the colored race in America, but the younger Lincoln considers $26 a month ample pay for the colored porters attached to the cars of the company, assuming that tips from passengers will make up all deficiences. The small amount paid to porters as wages is all the company does for the men. They can sleep in the smoking room of their car, but they must provide their own food. One of the porters testified before a commission that is investigating the matter that his tips averaged $77 a month, about three times as much as his regular wages. The travelling public pay big prices for the accommodations furnished by the Pullman Company and in addition it is expected to hand out enough to the porters to enable them to live. The tip is an imposition upon those who are compelled to give it in order to get a service that their fares are supposed to pay for—Lynn Item.

NO SHORT BALLOT

The legislative committee having in hand the petition for a law to take the power of electing State officials below the rank of Governor out of the hands of the people has reported "leave to withdraw." The committee has taken the right action. The name given to the act condemned it at once as an attempt to deceive people. The name was attractive, but it did not express its real meaning. Such tactics are unworthy of men who were behind the petition. We meant that the name should have told at sight just what was proposed. It is too common a practice for those who desire legislation that is likely to provoke opposition to give their bill an innocent appearing title. In the case in point, the purpose of the petitioners was readily discovered, and the adverse decision was wise. The people of the Commonwealth are just as capable of choosing all the State officials as they are to make a right selection of Governor. There has never been a popular demand for the appointment of those officers instead of voting for them, as has been done for more than two centuries. The right to choose State officers should never be taken from the people and efforts to do so are not in the interest of popular government.

Lynn Item

TRY AN OLD MAN.

A Broadway business man was talking to a friend who was looking for a good office boy. "Cut out the boys," he said with confidence, "and get an old man who is willing to work for less than a man's wages. I began it about a year ago and I never did a better thing.

"I got the suggestion from a man not in business, but a physician. He had ordered some article or other which had not come promptly and he came in person to see about it. I told him, which was true, that I had been bothered so by changing my office boys that I couldn't get it to him. Then he blew out at me and asked me why I didn't get an old man to do office boy work and I wouldn't have any more bother.

"It looked so different at first that I laughed at him, but he insisted so that it was the only cure that I concluded I would try it. I knew of an old chap, honest and living with his son, doing small jobs and helping all he could for his keep, and I asked him how he would like to be office boy for me. He laughed just as I did at first, but I insisted on his trying it and he agreed to come and do the best he could but wouldn't guarantee that he would be satisfactory.

"He came the next day and though he was a bit slow at first he was always ready and willing and in a week or so I was so well satisfied with him that I wouldn't have traded him for all the boys I had been bothered with for five years. He isn't perfect, nor is anybody for that matter, but he is reliable and honest, never soldiers on me, doesn't smoke cigarettes or read dime novels, isn't fresh around the store, is always polite and is always on time.

"I pay him seven dollars a week and he is glad enough to get it, and he isn't so old but that he is good for at least ten years of duty, which will also be ten years of comfort for me and the entire store. I don't say that any old man will be as satisfactory as this one, but I do say that nine-tenths of the old fellows will make better office boys than the average we have to put up with.

"Try an old man for an office boy and see if you can do any worse than you have been doing. Several of my friends are doing it and so far they are all pleased with the change."—New York Sun.

Glenwood
The Range that "Makes Cooking Easy"

Gas Oven
Coal Oven

Sooner or Later You'll Have One
Now if you knew what it would Save
H. L. Kincaide & Co., Quincy

SERVICES FOR MILTON MAN

Funeral services for Henry Ellsworth Sheldon, who died suddenly late last Friday evening, were held Monday afternoon from his late residence on Adams street, East Milton. The services were entirely consistent in their character with Mr. Sheldon's simple and unceremonial nature.

Rev. Roderick Stebbins of the First Parish church officiated and conducted a brief committal service at the Milton cemetery, where the interment took place. The great profusion of flowers was remarkable and showed the esteem in which Mr. Sheldon was held in by those who knew him. Several large automobiles were required to remove the floral tributes to his final resting place.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is wholesome, nutritious, crisp and delicious. Get it of your grocer.

"MILK AND BABY HYGIENE" TOPIC

The last of the series of conferences between the Associated Charities, the Quincy Women's club and the Wollaston Woman's club was held Monday afternoon in the Wollaston school hall. The speaker at this meeting was Mr. Bettinger of Boston who gave a most interesting talk on "Milk and Baby Hygiene."

There have been four of these conferences in all and they have done much to bring out the great work that is being accomplished by the Associated Charities as well as to inform the women of these associations on important matters. The first two of these meetings were held at the Quincy Women's club house, the talks being on "Friendly Visiting" by Mrs. W. H. Lothrop, and on "Mother's Aid" by Miss Josephine Blaikie. The last two meetings have been held under the auspices of the Wollaston Woman's club at the school hall, the first talk being by Miss McMahon on "Free Medical Care for School Children." So successful have been the meetings that others will doubtless be arranged later.

MUSICAL PROGRAM.

A very pleasing musical program was given at the meeting of Abigail Phillips Quincy Chapter D. A. R., Monday afternoon. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Burgess on Highland avenue. Mabel Burgess Hart gave several readings, Olive Chapman, violin solos and Mrs. L. P. Wright, contralto solos The hostess served frappe and cake.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

SOCIETY HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Women's Universalist Mission society was held Monday afternoon and these officers elected:

President—Mrs. T. A. Addison.
Vice President —Mrs. Harriet Lombard.
Secretary—Mrs. J. F. Hyland.
Treasurer—Mrs. Robert G. Reed.

A social hour followed the business session during which light refreshments were served.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

FREE!! FREE!!
Any person bringing this coupon
It is worth 25c cut it out
to my store any day this week will receive a bottle of
HEARN'S RECONSTRUCTIVE TONIC
For 50c Regular Price 75c
I want you to know the value of this wonderful Spring tonic, which is the reason for this special offer. CUT THE COUPON TO-DAY.
Chas. C. Hearn
DRUGGIST
City Square, Quincy
12-3t

KINCAIDE THEATRE
"THE GOOSE GIRL"
A Paramount Photo-play with Margaret Clark and an All Star Cast
Full of Thrills and Remarkable Acting
Vaudeville. "Chiyci" The Japanese Wonder in his Novelty Act
Louise Ferera—A Remarkable Musician and Entertainer.
Two Emeralds — Unique Songsters with Rapid Costume Changes.
Mon. Tues. & Wed.—Daily at 2.30 P. M. 10 & 15c. Evenings at 8—10-15-25c
Coming Thursday — MARY PICKFORD in Mistress Nell

BEGIN CONSTRUCTION OF WOLLASTON BOULEVARD

Will Give Preference to Quincy Workmen

The construction of the so called missing link of the Wollaston boulevard started this morning and will be completed it is expected about Nov. 1. Hundreds will be employed on the extension.

The work is being done under the direction of John Cashman and Sons, lowest bidders, who have been awarded the contract by the Massachusetts Highway Commission.

One of the members of the firm this morning said that Quincy men would be given the preference where they are physically able to do the work.

The missing link will be about a mile and three quarters in length. The contract calls for a complete subgrading but the top will be of special variety and can be put in general use until the real top is built some time in the future.

Bids for the bridge over Black's Creek will be submitted next week. It is understood that the plans have been approved by the war department and that no changes have been ordered in the approaches.

WOMEN BOWL AT BRAINTREE.

Team One 5 points
Team Two, 6 points
Team Three, 1 point
High single, 99 Mrs. G. Keating.
High total, 260, Miss L. Abercrombie

Heavy pinfall was registered in the candle pin bowling tournament by the women at the Cochato club at Braintree Monday evening. The summaries:

TEAM ONE.

Mrs. Wilder	72	81	74	227
Mrs. Hall	73	86	90	249
Miss Perry	89	67	86	242
Mrs. Perry	77	80	72	229
Miss Hatchard	65	71	84	220
Mrs. Wiggin	56	56	56	168
Mrs. Hollis	72	56	57	185
	504	497	519	1520

TEAM TWO

Mrs. Connell	74	70	91	235
Mrs. Macomber	65	88	87	240
Mrs. Wetherbee	76	62	71	209
Mrs. Woodsum	67	67	67	201
Mrs. Lawley	63	63	63	189
Mrs. Jenkins	77	85	76	238
Mrs. Arnold	66	69	77	212
	488	504	532	1524

TEAM THREE.

Mrs. Keating	99	72	71	242
Mrs. Andrews	71	81	76	228
Miss Abercrombie	67	95	98	260
Miss Crocker	72	70	67	209
Miss E. Kneeland	70	63	71	204
Mrs. Nickerson	55	55	55	165
Miss M. Kneeland	64	48	48	160
	498	484	486	1668

Quite a few Sir Knights of Quincy Commandery K. T. were the guests of South Shore Commandery of East Weymouth Monday evening at its annual inspection.

A GOOD PLACE TO BUY
RUBBER ROOFING
SPECIALLY PRICED
$1 Per Roll
OF 100 SQUARE FEET
NAILS and CEMENT
Packed in Every Roll
GIVE US A CALL TODAY
IT'S YOUR OPPORTUNITY.
SERVICE RIGHT.
NATHAN AMES
5 Granite St.
USE CARBORUNDUM SHARPENING STONES

JUST OBSERVED 78th BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Ellen Cluse Dies in Private Hospital

Mrs. Ellen Cluse, who never had a birthday party until friends tendered her one on the 17th of last month as a tribute to her declining years, died this morning at the private hospital of Mrs. Lydia Beaulieu on Buckley street, aged 78 years.

Mrs. Cluse was born in Ireland in 1837 and came to Quincy as a young girl. She married and became the mother of two daughters who survive her. Her husband was in the navy during the Civil War and five years ago a discovery of his discharge papers by those connected with the office of the overseer of the poor resulted in her receiving a long, delayed but merited pension from the government.

Mrs. Cluse became an inmate at the City Home in 1878 and through her fine disposition and appreciative ways became one of the few rays of sunshine of the place. A year ago she suffered a shock and was removed to the private hospital where she has since been under treatment. A recurrence of the shock and a slight attack of pneumonia caused her condition to be critical last night. She died this morning.

Mrs. Annie James of Stone City, Iowa, one of the two daughters, came to Quincy a few years ago. She had been adopted in baby days by a Western family and never saw her mother until her visit. Mrs. Cluse turned a deaf ear to her entreaties to spend the remainder of her years under her roof because she believed her old friends of Quincy were her real friends.

Since her admittance to the hospital Mrs. Cluse has regularly been visited by younger ladies of the city to whom she became endeared. Their remembrance on her birthday was a magnificent bouquet of Killarney roses and sweet peas and they served to brighten up Mrs. Cluse on that day because her love for flowers was greater even than the depths of her appreciative spirit.

A remarkable feature of the birthday party was the attendance of eight aged women whose years totaled 635. The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed but if the services are held at the hospital the same six who joined in the party will be in the group of mourners.

AT THE THEATRE

Harold McGrath's famous "Goose Girl," presented by the Famous Players held the attention of a large audience at the Kincaide theatre Monday afternoon and evening. The play is the story of the chancellor of a European monarchy who substitutes his own child for a baby princess so she could participate in court life while the real princess is reared by a humble but honest family and becomes the goose girl. The heir to the throne becomes her suitor and to escape marriage with a princess he had never seen he runs away, woos the Goose girl as a poor man and gains her love.

The exposure of the chancellor through the confession of an accomplice in the substitution and the taking of the rightful place by the Goose Girl—princess financee of the prince, closes the story. Supporting this intensely interestly and eloboratly staged film is Chiyci, a wonderful Japanese acrobat, Louise Ferera, a musical entertainer and the Emerals, singers and dancers.

CONTRIBUTE TO FUND.

The Italians of Quincy generously subscribed to the fund for the earthquake sufferers of Italy through various sources and those living in the Canal street district, who appointed Arnaldo DiNicola, as treasurer, have contributed $72.25. The money was sent to the relief fund today.

NORTH WEYMOUTH

The annual meeting of tne Universalist Sewing Circle will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3.30 with supper at 6.30.

Arthur Pratt entertained C. Studebaker, a classmate at the Mechanic Arts High, over the week end.

Combination 1 and the East Weymouth pump responded to an alarm from box 15 at 3.08 P. M., Thursday which proved to be a small fire in the Universalist vestry caused by wax for the floor catching fire. Harry Stiles was heating it over an oil stove when it caught. He quickly seized a poker and hooking it into the handle of the pail carried it to the sink, and in doing so the flames flared back setting his clothing afire in several places. In the meantime the blazing wax had set fire to the woodwork and Harry hiked for box 15 in front of the church. Driver Stone got in some quick work so that the damage to the building was small. This is only one of many times that the Combination under the able management of Ed Stone has demonstrated its value for fire protectionn.

Doris and Vera Parker of Pierce court are among the latest of the measles patients. The four children of Charles Tobin are also reported as ill with it.

A new floor has been laid in the vestry of the Universalist church.

Mrs. E. O'Brien of Quincy is substituting in Grade 8 of the Athens school.

Mrs. Nettie Saunders and children have returned from a visit to her parents in Everett.

Cecil Manuel has taken the tenement on Shaw street vacated by Patrick Mack.

Fred Davis, proprietor of the Pond Plain skunk farm has moved his enterprise to the "Old City" section, while he has leased a location from Herbert Paine.

Charles Price and family of the Landing have taken a house on Holbrook road.

Miss Mary Delorey has returned to her studies at Mt. St. Joseph's academy after a visit to her parents Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Delorey.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Howley have taken possession of their recently purchased home on Evans road.

Mrs. Eugene Smith who recently passed away was a native of this place, being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McIsaac.

Edward Butnam was in town over the week end, the guest of relatives.

At the meeting of the Y. P. C. U., Rev. Arthur Mercer was the leader, subject, "My Ideal." Percival Ames was pianist.

C. E. Stiles and family motored to Brookline Sunday in their new car, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hilton, former residents of this place.

P. J. Derrig, superintendent at the A. A. C. Co. plant, has improved his residence by cement walks and steps the latter being moulded at the Fort Point plant and conveyed to his home ready to set in place.

The Village Improvement committee met Monday evening at the home of David Kidder on Pearl street. Mrs. Kidder served pineapple, punch, sandwiches and crackers.

Herman Collyer has a new delivery auto.

Henry Warren Dyer is confined to his home with an attack of the grip.

A. J. Smith and daughter Hazel and son Clifford spent Sunday with Mrs. Smith at Norwell, where she is convalescing.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanyan royally entertained the K. C. B. C. and ladies at their beautiful home at Monatiquct Bluffs last Friday. The affair was in the nature of a house warming, inasmuch as the rooms have been newly decorated. Instead of the customary wall finishes, Mr. Stanyan has had oil paintings of scenes appropriate to the several rooms painted directly on the walls, a unique and beautiful plan. Mr. and Mrs. Stanyan are famous as entertainers and the guests were unanimous in proclaiming the party no exception.

G. A. R. ANNIVERSARY.

Commander Andrew Culley of Post 58, welcomed a gathering at G. A. R. hall Friday evening which taxed the capacity of the hall, the occasion being the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of Lee's surrender at Appomattox. A display of fireworks on the grounds was witnessed by a large gathering.

Past Commander, Dr. W. A. Drake who was a witness at the surrender of Lee gave a most vivid account of it. P. I. John Murray Whitcomb spoke on "Early Enlistments" and Selectman Bradford Hawes on "The Soldier's Return."

There were cornet solos by Theodora Keith, the post bugler, accompanied by Miss Marjorie Keith; mandolin and piano duets by Misses Ethel and Gertrude Ryan and chorus singing by the audience.

A collation was served in the banquet hall. Cake was served at the D. of V. table, Mrs. Ida Farrington being in charge; Mrs. Jennie Keene as chairman of the Auxiliary table attended to serving cream and Mrs. Mary McLaughlin as representative of the W. R. C. served punch.

Commander Culley was ably assisted in arranging the affair by his wife Mrs. Margaret Culley and Mrs. Mary E. Mahoney. P. I. Mrs. Estelle Richards presented the Post with a Union Jack, her escort being Mesdames Lottie Stoddard, Mary Cain, Jennie Keene and Marian Bailey.

AVE MARIA TO HOLD BIG BALL

Ave Maria council, the junior Knights of Columbus organization of the city, will observe the fifth anniversary of its institution with its annual ball in St. Mary's hall Wednesday evening. The council is composed of well known men of St. Mary's parish and promises to be a brilliant event.

The invited guests, most of whom will be present, include Mayor Chester I. Campbell, Joseph L. Whiton, president of the council, Louis A. Watson, State deputy of the organization and Daniel S. Gallagher, state secretary, District Deputy Supreme Knight Edward D. Barrett of the council, Fr. Thomas R. McCoy, pastor and Fr. William J. Duffy, curate, of St. Mary's parish, Fr. John P. Cuffe, pastor of the Sacred Heart parish, Fr. Michael J. Owens, pastor of St. John's parish, Dr. Andrew J. O'Brien, professor of dogmatic theology at St. John's seminary, Brighton, the grand and deputy grand knights of the councils on the South Shore, including Brockton.

Charles Buckley, lecturer of the council, is chairman of the general committee of arrangements. William R. Teasdale is chairman of the reception committee and Michael Martin heads the refreshment committee. They are assisted by a large staff of members. James E. Garey, grand knight of the council will be floor marshall for the evening.

The program includes a concert from eight to nine o'clock after which there will be dancing until two o'clock The members of the council anticipate a brilliant affair.

SENECA SOCIAL CLUB.

Make Final Plans For Third Annual Dance.

Final preparations have been made for the third annual dance of the Seneca Social club. The affair will be held Friday evening in Alpha hall and guests will be present from all the neighboring towns. The club has offered a valuable cup which has been on exhibition in several of the local store windows to the club pooling the largest number of votes at the dance. The floor will be in charge of Robert Grassick and he will be assisted by Theodore Turner and the following aids. Walter Main, Robert Booth, William Cramond, William Murray, Allen Daw, John Dickie, Chester Birnie, Randolph Jacobson Harold Warmington, William Michael, Ernest Michael, Ernest Ciardi, William Falconer, Gilbert Daw, Chester Moyle, Oscar Solander, Charles Ross, and Frank Tantillo.

LIVE PIG ON JOB.

A live pig and live chickens will form part of one of the scenes at the entertainment to be given at the Universalist church Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Dorcas society. The title of the drama is "Old Acre Folk."

The PROBLEM of GOOD MILK

All persons do not understand what is meant by good, safe milk. Some believe that the milk with a deep cream line is desirable, whereas, the Doctor knows that Holstein Milk, although containing little cream is often more desirable for babies, partly for this reason, or perhaps because of the method of production

The real criterion of a good milk is its wholesomeness This depends upon the conditions at the dairy, and the special care given it until it reaches the consumer. Scrupulously clean and healthy cows, clean and healthy dairymen, rapid cooling, and protecting the milk, constant dairy and laboratory inspection are required. Furthermore safety is assured when the dealer pasteurizes his supply.

THE ELM FARM MILK COMPANY OF DORCHESTER offer pure Family Milk, and exceptional Nursery Milk at prices often charged for ordinary milk Speak to the salesman, or call Dor. 2100. 6-1 mo.

AGED COUPLE VISITING HERE

Home Is In Melbourne, Australia

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Foley of Melbourne, Australia are spending a few weeks as the guests of their niece, Mrs. James McDonald of Willard street. The couple, who are well advanced in years, left Melbourne several months ago for England and arrived in London just after the outbreak of the war. The conditons in England at that time were not of the best and they decided that it would not be safe to remain there. About a month ago they reached California where they remained several weeks and then left for the East. Mrs. Foley is eighty year old and her husband is seevnty-seven but they are both enjoying the best of health. They plan to return to Melbourne in the Fall.

POLICE HAVE KNOTTY PROBLEM

The detective squad of the police department have been given a difficult problem to solve, the theft of a hand bag containing $9 and a door key from the store of Thomas L. Williams on Hancock street on Monday.

The bag was the property of Miss Williams, daughter of the proprietor. After she opened the store in the morning she left the bag in the safe. Its disappearance was discovered before closing in the evening.

The thief in order to get the bag had to work quietly since at no time was the store left unattended. It is thought that one customer took the bag while another drew attention to another part of the store.

Mr. Williams reported the incident after a thorough search which convinced him that the bag was not mislaid. Today he changed the lock on the door.

NEW PARISH HOUSE OPENED

The new parish house of the Wollaston Unitarian church was thrown open for the first time, Monday evening, when an old fashioned dance was held by the entertainment committee. The scene was a pretty one, the assembly hall standing out in all its pristine brilliance, and the attractice costumes of the women being all that was necessary to complete the picture.

The occasion was marked by the attendance of a large number of the older members of the parish and many who did not dance came to watch the fsetive scene. A long order of old fashioned glide and square dances was enjoyed to the music of Murdock's orchestra.

At ten o'clock the dances adjourned to the new supper room in the basement where refreshments were served. The committee in charge were: Mr. and Mrs. Clifton H. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. G. Ernest Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W Oldham, Mrs. Redlon, Jercy A. Hull and George Holmes.

The occasion served as the beginning of a large number of social events which will probably take place from month to month. Not only will it serve the church but the community as well, for at present there are few gathering places for the many social events continually occuring in Wollaston.

The dedication of the new parish house will take place on onday evening, April 26. At this time the keys of the building will be handed over to the proper authorities and there will be a devotional services in charge of the pastor. Among the speakers will be William H. Sayward, president of Norfolk Conference, Rev Edward A. Horton, with a promise of several other prominent men.

Edward E. Jameson of Wollaston, past commander of De Molay commandery, K. T., of Boston was in charge of the reunion of the members of the commandery Monday evening at a dinner and dancing party held in the Palm room at the Hotel Lenox. About one hundred were in attendance.

You need the Ledger every day.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

HIS LOVE STORY
by MARIE VAN VORST

HE is a sturdy young Captain in the French army. She is a beautiful, courageous, thoroughbred American girl. There is a marquise, a duke, a countess, an Algerian caravaneer, a witch woman of the desert, and Pitchoune, a spunky little Irish terrier, with an eccentric limp, the greatest devotion and almost human intelligence.

Mingling the tender feeling and rare coloring of a French idyl with the stirring action of a frontier drama, Marie Van Vorst has made this an enchanting tale of young love.

Our New Serial! You Will Thoroughly Enjoy It!

Watch for the Opening Installment
IN Wednesday's Ledger

Reduction in Prices.

Your attention is called to the reduced spring prices on Anthracite Coal as follows

Lehigh Stove and Egg	$7.50
White Ash Stove and Egg	7.25
White Ash Nut	7.50
Shamokin Stove and Egg	7.50
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75
Pea	5.50
Franklin	8.50

We recommend the placing of your order at this time to insure the low prices.

Nothing but All Rail Clean Coal handled and delivered right by careful experienced drivers.

QUINCY COAL CO.
OFFICE and YARD
Penn St., Quincy Tel. 47-M
Ap. 7 1mo.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT

BOSTON—South Station after 3.30
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's, News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neal, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 142 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Sea street.

LITTLEWOOD FIVE CAPTURE MATCH

Capt. Littlewood's five beat Capt. Connors' boys at Wardwells Monday night. They lost the first string, tied in the second and won the third. The pinfall was light. The teams are Fife and Drum Corps members. The summary:

CAPT. J. LITTLEWOOD.

J. Littlewood	77	76	82	235
A. Freberg	84	74	82	250
S. McDonald	76	80	91	247
G. Littlewood	77	86	82	245
A. Mattson	79	87	85	251
	393	403	422	1218

CAPT. CONNORS.

Riley	74	77	73	224
Sullivan	79	67	94	240
Connors	96	89	78	263
Joyce	96	81	79	256
Hynes	96	89	66	251
	441	403	390	1204

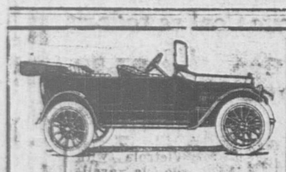

ROLL SPECIAL 10 STRING MATCH

E. Dowd of Weymouth and George White rolled a ten string match at the Wardwell alleys Monday night, with the latter a winner, 967 to 953, a margin of 14 pins. Dowd had high single, 123. White's best string was 122. The strings:

Dowd	90	94	87	123	82
	96	101	104	95	95	—967
White	80	97	122	84	100
	89	85	104	101	91	—953

At the song recital to be given by Helen Allen Hunt, the Boston mezzo-contralto, in Alpha hall, Sunday afternoon, April 25, the assisting soloist will be Carlos Pinfield, a first violinist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Both artists will be accompanied by Harris S. Shaw, organist of the First Universalist church, Boston. The public seat sale of tickets will be held from the drug store of C. C. Hearn, Quincy square, beginning Wednesday, April 14.

PRATT'S BREAD is baked by experts in proved ovens. Sold by grocers.

JACKSON
Model 46
THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL, SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER
"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"
Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT
$1375
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

K. OF C. SEASON COMES TO END

Fallon Five Clamber Into Second Place

F. OF C. FINALS.

Capt. Coyle	39	21
Capt. Fallon	37	23
Capt. R. Sullivan	34	26
Capt. P. Avery	32	28
Capt. Cantfill	23	37
Capt. F. Avery	15	45

High single, R. Sullivan and W. Mahan 130.
High individual total, W. Mahan 336
High team single, Capt. Coyle 481.
High team total, Capt. Coyle 1401.

FINAL MATCHES.

Capt. Fallon 4—Capt. Coyle 0.
Capt. F. Avery 2—Capt. P. Avery 2
Cpt. R. Sullivan 2—Capt. Cantfill 2.

The Knights of Columbus league closed its schedule at the Wardwell alleys Monday night with light pinfall. All of the matches were peculiar. Capt. Coyle's team which jumped into top position last week by so wide a margin it could not be supplanted celebrated the closing by dropping four points to the Fallon five, which gave the latter second place, two points in the rear.

It was a case of brother against brother in the matches between the Averys. Paul's team took the first and third single and Frank's the second. The rolloff of the tie in the total gave the second point to Frank's five.

Capt. Russell Sullivan and Capt. Cantfill followed suit and divided the points, the former taking the first single and total, and the latter the second and third strings.

The finals gave Russell Sullivan high average of 98 and high pinfall of the season by 12 pins, Paul Avery being second man. None of the records established during the season were broken.

Harry McGrath got high single in the closing matches, 117. Timothy Ford was high man with a total of 294 He came the closest of any of the boys to a triple. The final matches:

CAPT. COYLE.

Hogan	77	89	85	251
Sullivan	78	88	89	255
Thompson	75	101	83	259
Magee	85	81	82	248
Coyle	92	80	85	257
	407	439	424	1270

CAPT. FALLON.

Mahan	84	88	102	274
Cain	101	99	70	270
Flaherty	85	90	74	249
Ford	94	86	114	294
Dummy	82	82	82	246
	446	445	442	1333

CAPT. F. AVERY.

Burns	95	81	83	259
Driscoll	85	87	79	251
Fallon	87	88	70	245
Dummy	86	86	86	258
F. Avery	60	75	74	209
	413	417	392	1222

CAPT. P. AVERY.

Dummy	81	81	81	243
Sullivan	73	73	73	219
Lavelle	102	74	77	253
Walsh	109	75	81	265
P. Avery	73	85	84	242
	438	388	396	1222

CAPT. CANTFILL.

Brown	84	84	84	252
McGrath	82	117	84	283
McDermott	85	82	78	245
Heaney	98	77	94	269
Cantfill	78	85	94	257
	424	445	434	1303

CAPT. R. SULLIVAN.

Powers	90	72	84	246
Myatt	65	68	94	227
Dummy	82	82	82	246
Haggerty	87	87	78	252
R. Sullivan	105	75	83	263
	429	384	430	1343

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING
WALL PAPER FOR SALE
KUSTAA RASANEN
121 Copeland St., West Quincy
Tel. Con. 141

END OF CAR STRIKE

Issues Between Companies and Employes Will Be Arbitrated

Syracuse, N. Y., April 13.—A strike that would have involved the electric transportation service in Syracuse, Rochester, Buffalo and intermediate points was averted here by an agreement reached between the Empire United Railways and the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes, whereby the existing strike is declared off and disputed labor questions are to be submitted to arbitration.

Under the terms of the agreement, service on the Auburn city line and the Auburn and Syracuse electric railway, which has been suspended five days, is resumed; conditions in the shops of the Empire United Railways are to be restored as they existed before the strike, which involves the reinstatement of several men whose discharge precipitated the strike.

The issues involved in the conflict between the Amalgamated Association and the Brotherhood of Locomotice Engineers are to be settled by arbitration.

THIRTEEN HUNDRED OUT

Stubborn and Unruly Mules Cause Strike of Coal Miners

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 13.—The presence of stubborn and unruly mine mules in a mine of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company is responsible for a strike of 1300 employes, which completely tied up operations.

The company issued an order directing the men to enter and leave the Ross vein through the main gangway, instead of by outlets and cross cuts. The miners objected to the order, claiming that they were forced to carry dynamite into their chambers, and that because of stubborn and unruly mules in the gangways their lives were endangered. The company officials refused to rescind the order, and the miners declared a strike.

PASSENGERS SAVED ON AMERICAN LINER

Japanese Cruiser Aids When Minnesota Runs on Rock

Kobe, Japan, April 13.—The American steamer Minnesota, plying between Japanese ports and Seattle, struck a rock off Iwajima.

In a wireless message Captain Garlick asked for a salvage steamer. He says all the 201 passengers and crew of 277 are safe. The Minnesota was in the inland sea when the accident occurred.

The Minnesota is one of the largest steamships flying the American flag. She was built near New London, Conn., in 1904 for the great Northern Steamship company.

From the details which came to hand by telegraph, it would appear that the Minnesota mistook her course during a storm. The thick weather prevented her from sighting the lighthouse.

The impact ripped a hole 120 feet long in the forward part of the steamer. The captain at once ordered the closing of the water-tight compartments to stem the inflow. At the same time wireless signals for help were sent out.

The Japanese cruiser Yakumo heard the calls and speeded to the rescue. She arrived on the scene and found the entire crew of the Minnesota working desperately at the pumps.

TWO STRIKERS KILLED

Others Dangerously Wounded In Street Fight at Newark

Newark, N. J., April 13.—Two strikers were shot to death and three other men were dangerously wounded in a street fight in the densely populated foreign section of this city.

The shooting, according to the police, followed an attempt by strikers to intercept a party of alleged strike-breakers who were on their way to the fur-dyeing works of A. Hollander & Sons, where a strike is in progress. The dead are Morris Rubins and Abram Novak.

ADRIFT ON ICE FLOES

Many Sealers Rescued After Spending Night In Severe Blizzard

St. John's, April 13.—A repetition of last year's sealing disaster, in which about 175 hunters perished on the ice floes, was narrowly averted when 150 men from the sealer Neptune were rescued from the ice by the stealer Florizel, according to a wireless dispatch from the latter steamer.

The hunters had been caught in a blizzard and were adrift all night.

Great Ice Plant Wrecked

Kansas City, April 13.—An explosion, the cause of which is unknown, wrecked the seven-story cooling building of the Cudahy Packing company's plant here, causing a loss estimated at $750,000.

Leaps Ten Stories to Death

Milwaukee, April 10.—Assemblyman Christopher Paulus leaped from the tenth floor of the First National bank building and was instantly killed.

DONN M. ROBERTS

Mayor of Terre Haute Is Guilty of Election Frauds

BOND INTEREST WITHHELD

National Bank Brings Proceedings Against Treasury Heads

Washington, April 13.—The Riggs National bank, the largest financial institution in Washington, began legal proceedings against Secretary McAdoo and Comptroller of the Currency Williams to compel them to desist from alleged efforts to ruin its business.

Temporary and permanent injunctions were asked from the District of Columbia supreme court against these officials. The bill of complaint alleges that McAdoo and Williams have persecuted the bank for more than a year past, culminating with a refusal to pay $5000 interest on government bonds on deposit with the United States to secure the bank's circulation.

After hearing the petition Justice McCoy granted a temporary restraining order against the defendants, returnable April 16. At that time argument will be heard on motions for the permanent injunctions sought by the bank.

WILL DO NOTHING TO OFFEND AMERICA

Huerta's Visit Partly For Business and Partly For Pleasure

New York, April 13.—General Victoriano Huerta, former provisional president of Mexico, who for nearly a year has been an exile in Spain, arrived here on the steamship Antonio Lopez from Cadiz.

Huerta was passed by United States immigration officials as a transient alien, after he had declared under oath that he would do nothing that would in any way involve the neutrality of the United States.

The former president said he had come to the United States partly for pleasure and partly to attend to some personal business connected with family affairs. He swore he had no intention of going to Mexico or to Cuba. The length of his stay here, he said, was indefinite, but he would return to Spain, possibly sailing from New York early in May.

Huerta was met at quarantine by representatives of the press and by an array of photographers. While submitting to being photographed in every desired pose, he declined to say anything as to his mission—agreeing to meet newspaper men next Friday.

CHARGED WITH PERJURY

Two Sisters of Rae Tanzer Are Indicted by Grand Jury

New York, April 13.—Dora and Rose Tanzer, sisters of Rae Tanzer, were indicted for perjury by the federal grand jury, which has been investigating the charge that Rae Tanzer used the mails in an attempt to defraud James W. Osborne.

The indictment charges that Dora and Rose Tanzer committed perjury by identifying James W. Osborne as the man who had called upon their sister at the Tanzer home in the Bronx.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Mayor-elect Thompson of Chicago took the oath of office, although he will not assume his official duties until April 26.

Mrs. Lilly Day, 49, of Gloucester, Mass., committed suicide by inhaling illuminating gas.

Josiah B. Parker, a Mt. Vernon, Vt., poultry raiser, was killed by a shotgun trap, which he had set in his chicken house as a protection against thieves.

Louis John, a fruit dealer, was found dead in the rear of his store at Boston. Beside the body an empty acid bottle was found.

The two-masted schooner Kit Carson, coal laden, went ashore two miles south of Narragansett Pier, R. I., and probably will be a total loss.

SPORTING COMMENT

Poehler and Walsh are tied at 110 for high average in the Boston suburban league. Miller, Howard and Gibson are next with 107 each.

Mark Gill, with an average of 101 heads the Columbus club bowling league.

Capt. Willard Crocker's High school tennis team will not enter competition of any kind for a year. This decision is taken at the recommendation of physicians who believe he will regain proper use of his knee in that time. Crocker received his original injury in football. He withdrew from competition for the season. He led the basketball quintette until he tore the tendons again. His recovery is not yet complete. He is at present captain of the tennis team. If he holds to his decision not to play he may resign in favor of Favreau, junior interscholastic tennis champion.

Several changes in grammar base ball may be effective this year, the principle one being a probable change of the Washington school team from the National to the American league. Such a change would even up matters in the former league and more than stimulate an interest in the latter for it would throw Massachusetts Fields into one corner, Washington into another, with the field against them.

And in speaking of grammar school ball it is well to mention the Montclair school, picked to finish in first division of whatever league it is assigned to.

The St. John's team has organized and has a partial schedule completed. A share of the games will be played at Ward three.

Bowling fans are awaiting with considerable interest the completion of plans for the battle royal between four tandem teams, two from Boston and two from Quincy, for a purse. The matches will probably take place on Wardwell's alleys.

Ross and Dell, Olindy and Smith will comprise the local representation. The third tandem will be Carey and Gallagher of the Casino team and the fourth will be "Ducky" Holmes of the Boylstons and James Mahoney of the Arch street contingent.

Holmes and Mahoney make their first local appearance tonight with Olindy and Smith as their opponents. All four are in fine form and should equal, if not surpass, the best bowling at Wardwell's this winter.

Pete McDonald, who pitched for Coddington last year, and "Beef" Costello, the other half of the battery, plan to organize a junior team and meet the other aspirants for city honors.

The Junior Friday club met Monday with Mrs. Perry Lawton, with Mrs. Sturtevant in charge. The subject of the afternoon was "Brazil."

Simple Logic Proves It.

By MOSS.

A wants to sell something. B wants to buy it. X is the advertisement that brings them together.

X costs money. It's the bring together price.

A makes more money by selling to many B's and can therefore pay for X. A benefits. B benefits.

That's advertising in a nutshell.

It works especially well in this home newspaper, as many of our merchants and all of our readers know.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S
Tel. 1837-W Quincy

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Joseph Banigan, late of Providence, in the County of Providence and State of Rhode Island, deceased:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by William Garneau, of Woonsocket in the State of Rhode Island, with certain papers purporting to be copies of the last will and testament of said deceased, and of the probate thereof in said State of Rhode Island duly authenticated, representing that at the time of his death, said deceased had estate in said County of Norfolk, on which said will may operate, and praying that the copy of said will may be filed and recorded in the Registry of Probate of said County of Norfolk, and letters of administration with the will annexed thereon granted to him.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the nineteenth day of May A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, Mass., the first publication to be thirty days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twelfth day of April in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register
3t April 13-20-26

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Charles A. French late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Henrietta French and Dora E. French both of said Quincy who pray that letters testamentary may be issued to them, the executrices therein named, without giving surety on their official bonds. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the fourteenth day of April A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioners are hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing postpaid or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-ninth day of March in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t March 30, April 6-13

Arthur B. Foster
CARPENTER and BUILDER
14 Bay View St., Quincy Point
Telephone Connection 3t-1m

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
830 A. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK QUINCY.

Prescott Apartments
For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service. Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

BE WISE
FOOL THE FLIES
HAVE YOUR SCREENS RE-COVERED NOW
TELEPHONE OR WRITE
HOLMES & HALL
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE

Of Real Estate at Public Auction

Pursuant to a license granted to the undersigned, Administrator of the Estate of CHARLES WILSON, late of Quincy, Mass., deceased, by the PROBATE COURT for the County of Norfolk on the seventh day of April, A. D. 1915, and for the purpose of distribution, will be sold at PUBLIC AUCTION on Saturday, the eighth day of May, A. D. 1915, the following described real estate of said deceased, namely:

1. A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in said Quincy, bounded and described as follows:—beginning at a point in the southeasterly line of a private way thirty (30) feet wide leading southwesterly from Quincy Street Extended and at a distance of one hundred and fifteen (115) feet from said Quincy Street Extended, and running, southeasterly on land now or late of Long & Saunders, ninety (90) feet; thence running southwesterly on land now or late of the Old Colony Railroad Company, two hundred and five (205) feet; thence running northwesterly on land now or late of the Empire Polishing Company, formerly of the Adams Real Estate Trust, ninety (90) feet; and thence running northeasterly on said private way, two hundred and five (205) feet to the point of beginning; containing 18,450 square feet of land;—including also all rights in said private way.

Being the greater portion of the same premises conveyed to said Charles Wilson by deed of Peter McCourty dated November 1, 1894, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, book 724, page 134.

2. Also a certain parcel of land with all the buildings thereon situated in said Quincy, being lot numbered 53 and the northeasterly part of lot numbered 54 on a plan by Whitman & Breck, recorded with Norfolk Deeds in plan book 9, plan No. 387, and bounded and described as follows:—Northwesterly on Penn Street, ninety (90) feet; Northeasterly on lot No. 52 on said plan, one hundred (100) feet; Southeasterly on a private way leading southwesterly from Quincy Street Extension, being land formerly of the Adams Real Estate Trust, ninety (90) feet; and Southwesterly on the remaining portion of said lot No. 54, one hundred (100) feet:—containing 9000 square feet of land. Being all and the same premises conveyed to said Charles Wilson by deed of Edwin W. Marsh dated August 18, 1899, and recorded with said Norfolk Deeds, book 859, page 533.

3. Also a certain parcel of land situated in said Quincy, bounded and described as follows:—Northeasterly by Centre Street, four hundred and seventy-five (475) feet; Southeasterly by land now or late of Marion F. Brewer, formerly of John Wilson, two hundred (200) feet; Northerly and Northwesterly by said last named land, about two hundred and thirty (230) feet; Easterly and Northeasterly by said Centre Street and by a private way called Jackson's Lane, about four hundred and eighty-nine (489) feet; Southerly by said Jackson's Lane, by an irregular line, twelve hundred and ninety five (1295) feet; Southeasterly by land now or late of John Owens, formerly of Adams, seventy-six (76) feet; Southwesterly by land now or late of the Old Colony Railroad Company, eighty four (84) feet; Northwesterly by land now or late of Fanny U. Adams, by an irregular line, thirteen hundred and twenty-nine (1329) feet. Containing 15, 015-1000 acres, be any or all said measurements and area more or less. All of said boundaries being located approximately as shown on a plan by H. T. Whitman, Surveyor, dated Oct. 1900, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds in plan book 31, plan No. 1428. Including also all rights in said private way, and said premises are subject to rights of way in said Jackson's Lane and in the "cartway" shown on said plan.

4. Also a certain parcel of land situated in said Quincy, and being lot marked "A" on a plan of house lots at West Quincy made by Whitman and Breck, Surveyors, dated June, 1882, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, book 539, page 2, and bounded and described as follows:—Northeasterly on land now or late of Herbert T. Whitman, being lots numbered 33, 34, 35 and 36 and the end of a passageway running from Centre Street between said lots 33 and 34, one hundred eighty-nine and 5-10, (189.5) feet; Southeasterly on other land of said Wilson, three hundred seventy-six (376) feet; Southwesterly on land now or late of said Whitman, at the base of a ledge, one hundred fifty-seven (157) feet; and Northwesterly on land now or late of said Whitman and the end of a street now called Hill Street leading from McDonald Street to said premises, four hundred two and 80-100 (402.80) feet; containing about 66,900 square feet of land;—including a right of way over said Hill Street and McDonald Street to Centre Street, and also over the above named passageway that is 15 feet wide, between said lots 33 and 34, to Centre Street.

The parcel first described will be sold on said premises on Saturday, May 8, 1915, at half past two o'clock in the afternoon.

The second described parcel will be sold on said premises on Saturday, May 8, 1915, at half past three o'clock in the afternoon.

The third and fourth parcels, which adjoin, will be sold together as one parcel, on said premises at the corner of Centre Street and Jackson's Lane on Saturday, May 8, 1915, at half past four o'clock in the afternoon.

Each of said parcels will be sold subject to the taxes assessed April 1, 1915. $500. in cash will be required to be paid by the purchaser at the time and place of each of said sales, the balance to be paid in cash on delivery of the deed within ten days thereafter. Other terms will be announced at the sales.

CHARLES H. WILSON,
Administrator of the Estate of Charles Wilson.
Savings Bank Bldg.
Quincy, Mass.
April 8, 1915 3t April 13-21-28

MUCH COMFORT IN A LITTLE SPACE

Small House May Be Classed as Triumph of Architectural Designing.

SHOWS MARCH OF PROGRESS

Builders of Today Have Learned How to Utilize Room to the Best Advantage — Modern Bathroom Is One of the Especial Features of the Plans.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD.

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1827 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only enclose two-cent stamp for reply.

A thoroughly well-built "big little" house containing seven rooms and a bathroom, all inclosed in a space 26 feet 6 inches by 41 feet, exclusive of porches, is shown in the accompanying illustrations.

Architects have learned how to make a roof to accommodate several bedrooms. Bedrooms finished off in the attic are not exactly a new idea; but a thoroughly well-arranged set of three or four bedrooms in a roof, practically all above the plates, with bathroom and plenty of convenient closets, is a production of modern architecture of a high order.

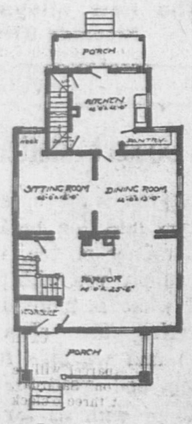

It is just as much of an innovation to lay out house space to the best advantage as it is to invent a machine to do a certain kind of work in a manufacturing plant. A few years ago a house this size and shape would have about three rooms downstairs and a cheap partition somewhere in the loft to inclose a set of bedroom furniture. In the design here presented we see how the old-fashioned shell has been transformed into a house of beauty outside, and a model of comfort and convenience within.

Objection is sometimes made to bedrooms in the roof on account of the heat in summer; but when you consider that north of parallel 42 there is no more than two weeks of uncomfortably hot weather in a whole year this objection is not very serious. By having the house shaded with large trees during the afternoon the objection disappears entirely, because a low house shaded is cooler than a high house exposed to the sun.

The bathroom in this little house is exceptionally large, being 8½ feet square, with a good window that is free of access. Bathrooms have never received the attention they deserve. Nothing adds more to the comfort of a family than a good bathroom that is warm and comfortable. Bathing is necessary for good health in the winter time as well as in warm weather. No one can bathe properly without the necesary accomodations, which include a warm room and plenty of hot water.

First Floor Plan.

In laying out a house it costs very little more to add a bathroom. The expense when building will never be noticed; but this feature will be appreciated as long as the house is occupied. The question, "Shall we have a bathroom?" should never come up. If there is any question about it at all, it should be: "Shall we have one or two bathrooms?"

Modern plumbing is so simple that almost any blacksmith can screw the pipes together and make the necessary connections in a satisfactory manner. Enameled bathtubs, wash basins and bowls may be had at reasonable prices from almost all large dealers; and they are not half as expensive as they were a few years ago.

Where hard coal is used the most satisfactory water heater is a range water front. This device used to be called a "water back;" but when the heater is in front of the fire it is thought the oven works better. For this reason most stoves are built with a heater in front of the fire. There is just one precaution to remember in laying the pipes. They must incline all the way from the top of the heater to the highest hot-water tap, and the cool return pipe must incline toward the heater from the lowest part of the hot-water reservoir; otherwise steam will gather in the pipes and a disagreeable kicking will be kept up as long as the water tries to circulate.

Second Floor Plan.

The carrying of hot water in the pipes depends on what is called the principle of the circulation of hot water. Warm water is lighter than cold water, and it quickly finds its way to the top, so that in practice the water is continually circulating through the pipes. Where long hot-water pipes are used a return is necessary to prevent the water cooling too much in the pipes; but in a small house this is not necessary. The cooking range would be in the kitchen directly under the bathroom; and the pipe to the washstand and to the bath would be no more than six or eight feet long, and would not hold more than possibly a quart of cold water.

It is not necessary to have a city water supply in order to have running water in the house. There must, of course, be a supply under pressure from some source; but this may be had from a tank which is filled by a pump either from a cistern or a well. Of course the supply must be sufficient for the needs of the family, and it should be so thoroughly well arranged and connected, and so well adapted to the purpose, that there will be no shortage, with no tinkering necessary. Water is cheap, whether hot or cold, if the arrangements for supplying it are adequate and satisfactory. Persons living in villages or in the country today may have modern improvements in a better and more satisfactory way than residents of cities had a few years ago.

Modern catch basins, cesspools, septic tanks, etc., have worked great changes. If families do not avail themselves of these modern improvements and conveniences to make life pleasant they are not living up to their opportunities. Because our fathers or grandfathers did without such things is no reason why we should. Life in the country is more satisfactory than living under artificial conditions in town, if we have the things necessary to make home pleasant.

Kissing on Street Proper.

It is not disorderly conduct for two men to frequently kiss a girl when they are bidding her good night at a street corner. At least that is the decision handed down by Justice Dean of the northeastern police district.

Charles Lawson and his brother, Harry Lawson, had attended a party in northeast Baltimore with Miss Eva Bova. After the party adjourned they accompanied the girl to the street.

They were kissing and hugging each other when they were interrupted by Patrolmen Callahan and Murray and taken to the northeastern police station.

Justice Dean dismissed the case.—Baltimore Dispatch to the New York Sun.

Arctic Placidity.

"Ah, me!" exclaimed the Eskimo; "This is indeed a happy life."

"In what respect?" asked the explorer.

"We can go through the whole year without the slightest nervousness about when it is necessary to throw away our straw hats."

THE SANDMAN STORY

by Mrs. F. A. WALKER

COPYRIGHT BY PICTURE NEWSPAPER SYNDICATE, N.Y.

THE MAGIC SHOES

A long time ago two sisters, whose father and mother were dead, lived alone in a house on a country road. One sister was very bad, for she took all the money the father and mother left to support the little girls and gave the other sister very little. She would give her bread and cheese and a cup of goat milk in the morning and tell her that was all she could have that day. But the other sister was very good and did not complain; she would go into the fields and gather berries when she was very hungry. One day a little old lady knocked at the door of their home, and the bad sister opened the door. "Will you please give me a cup of water, my dear?" said the little old lady.

"No, I will not," the bad sister replied. "Go away; we do not want any beggars here." And she closed the door on the old lady.

But the good sister heard her, and ran to the door. "I will get you water," she said. "Sit down under this tree till I get some fresh from the well." And she led her to a seat.

"You should not speak so unkindly to old people," she told her sister. "You will be old some day yourself."

"That time is a long way off," replied the bad sister, tossing her head.

After the little old lady had drunk the water, the good sister brought her some cheese and bread and the milk she had saved from her breakfast. "This is all I can give you," she told her, "but you are very welcome to it."

The little old lady thanked her and ate some of the food. But when she had finished there seemed to be just as much left as the good sister had brought to her. Then the good sister saw that the little old lady's shoes were old and worn on the soles, so she went into the house and found a pair that had belonged to her mother, and put them on the old lady's feet.

When the bad sister saw what she had done, she was very angry and said:

"What a foolish girl you are. Those shoes could have been sold for money." But the good sister did not notice her, and bade the little old lady wear the shoes. The old shoes she threw into the road, but the old lady told her to get them and keep them, and if ever she should be in trouble to put them on. To please her the good sister picked them up. The little old lady thanked her again for her kindness, and told her they should meet again.

After a while the bad sister married a man who was as selfish and greedy as herself, and they treated the good sister very badly. One night they told her she could not live with them any longer. The poor girl went to her room to gather her few belongings, and in the back of the closet she found the little old lady's cast-off shoes. Then she remembered what she had told her, and feeling that she was in trouble now, she slipped the shoes on. To her surprise they just fitted her, and how there were no holes in the soles. She walked along the road with her little bundle under her arm, wondering where she should go, when she noticed she was in a very beautiful park. A little fawn ran up to her, and she gave him a piece of bread, which she had in her pocket. He ran along beside her, and soon they were in front of a very handsome mansion. Then the good sister noticed that she was not touching the ground, that she seemed to glide on the air. She glided or flew up the steps of the big house, and as the door opened a beautiful little girl appeared and took her by the hand. "Come," she said, "my grandmother expects you."

The good sister was very much surprised, but she did as the little girl said, and soon she was in a brilliantly lighted room, where a table was spread with all kinds of dainty things to eat, and there at the head of the table sat the little old lady to whom she had been kind. But how differently she was dressed! Her hair hung in little white curls beneath a dainty lace cap, and her gown was of heavy black silk, and upon her hands were beautiful jewels.

"So they turned you out?" asked the old lady. "Well, the shoes brought you to me just as I intended, and now you never will be treated unkindly again, for you are to live here with my granddaughter and me."

Then she told the little girl to take her to her room, and there the good sister found a nice soft bed, beautiful furniture, and everything a girl could wish for. In the closets were lovely dresses, and there were shoes and stockings and hats. And she lived with the little old lady and her granddaughter ever after.

One day when she was riding in her carriage, drawn by four beautiful white horses, she suddenly came upon her sister and her husband. They were sitting by the road, and the sister was crying. The good sister had her coachman stop. "What are you crying about, poor woman?" she asked. Of course, they did not recognize her in her beautiful clothes. The bad sister dried her eyes and stared at the handsome coach. "Oh, dear lady!" she said, "the rain came and the wind blew, and our crops were spoiled, and our home was taken from us," and she began to cry again. The good sister threw them a heavy purse filled with gold. "There is money," she said, "to buy your home back and start your farm again." And away she went in a cloud of dust.

The bad sister little dreamed that the kind lady was the much-despised sister that she had turned out of the house.

The good sister had returned good for evil, and her life was long and happy.

WHIZZED AROUND IN CIRCLE

Much Amusement Given by Use of "Whirligig"—Excellent Way to Learn How to Skate.

Grandfather was always making something new and useful for someone at our house and we, as children, never tired of following him around and watching him "tinker."

One day we saw him with father going down to the little pond near the house with a large post, writes Annette Jackson in Farmer's Mail and Breeze. What could they be going to do? Of course we went along to see.

Father pulled off his boots and stockings, rolled up his trousers, and with the post on his shoulder waded out to the middle of the pond. Then he pounded the post into the mud until it was firm and solid and standing about four feet above the water. A sharpened iron rod was then fastened in a hole in the top of the post.

We asked all sorts of questions, but were told to wait till the pond froze and then we would find out.

Grandfather then began work on a long pole that father had brought from the woods. This he smoothed and squared and braced, boring a hole in it about eight feet from one end and 14 feet from the other. On the tip of the longer end he made a curved runner. How our curiosity was excited, and how we longed for the pond to freeze!

An Ice Whirligig.

Cold weather came at last and the water froze. Then the two men took the long pole and placed it on the post, the rod forming a pivot on which the pole swung. The runner rested on the ice and we were told to take hold of the short handle. Father fastened one pretty sled to the runner and put Charlie on it. Then we pushed and the sled just whizzed around in a big circle.

What fun we had all winter with our "whirligig!" Sometimes one of us would stoop down and hold on to the runner and slide around, but our parents told us we must not do this for it wore out the shoes too fast.

It was a fine way to learn to skate, for one could hold to the pole while the others turned it, learning first to keep one's balance and then to take the stroke.

Other children were always coming out from town to play with the whirligig" and it furnished us with amusement all winter when the ice was not too deeply covered with snow. I think we never as children had anything that gave us more exercise and pleasure than our "whirligig."

BEST KIND OF ICE-BREAKER

Folks Can't Help Feeling Acquainted After They Have Enjoyed Hearty Laugh Together.

A laugh is the best kind of ice-breaker for a party or social. Folks can't help feeling acquainted after they have had a good hearty laugh together, no matter if they were all strangers at first. A good way to get the laugh started is to try a laughing game.

Choose two captains and let them select players for each side, the players standing in two rows facing each other as in a spelling match. When everyone is ready, the hostess throws an old felt hat on the floor between the rows. If it falls crown up, all the players in the line on the left must begin to laugh as heartily as possible. If anyone in the opposite line laughs or even smiles, he must go over to the other side. In three minutes the hat is thrown again, and if it falls with the brim up, the right line must laugh and try to win back the players they lost, and as many others as they can coax into a smile. The game is continued till one side wins all the players.

Sympathy in Sunny Hours.

It is any amount easier to sympathize with thos trouble than to keep the comm "Rejoice with them that do rejoice." Many a girl who is as sweet and kindly as an angel when some schoolmate is sorrowful, looks askance at another who is in high spirits over some good fortune, and feels a little pang of envy. Something is wrong with your sympathy if it is reserved for your friends' dark hours.—Girls' Companion.

And He Was Right.

"Well, young man," said the serious-looking uncle to his nephew, "will you please tell me what the end of this year brings to you?"

"Why certainly, uncle," was the reply; "it brings the beginning of another year."

KEEP POSTED ON THE PEOPLE'S WANTS

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

WHY WORRY LET THESE ADS LIFT YOUR BURDEN

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—A tenement of 4 rooms to small family, rent $8.00, 19 Carrolls Lane. Apply Carrolls Lane. 13-6t

TO LET—Small tenement on 11 Francis Court, all modern improvements. Rent $18.00, apply 11 Francis Court. 13-6t

TO LET—Lower flat in two-family house. Living room, dining room, bedroom, kitchen and bathroom, pantry, good closets and cellar. Coal and gas range, furnace, electric lights. Every convenience. Rent $20. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 13-tf

FOR RENT—1128 Hancock street, opposite Adams Academy, house 7 rooms, and bath 18 Faxon avenue, suite 6 rooms and bath, every modern improvement Tel. 414-M Weymouth. 7-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 7-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of two family house, 5 rooms and bath, all improvements, 3 Bradford street, Quincy Adams. Apply to William Duggan, Bradford street or telephone Quincy 724-W. 7-12t

TO LET—With private family, centrally located, a room suitable for one person, modern conveniences, and rent reasonable. Write Ledger L. M. B., or call Quincy 1796W. 7-6t

TO LET—Half house of six rooms and large laundry to adult family, conveniences, large garden. Rent $20. Apply to George H. Newcomb, 21 Adams Bldg. or M. M. Newcomb, 39 Gay street or phone 1990 Quincy. 2-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house, 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2, Quincy or 110 South street, Boston, Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET—Upper and lower flats 91 and 93 Revere road 4 and 6 rooms and bath. To small families, $20 and $18. Fred M. Torrey, 25 Spear St., Tel. 202-1 Quincy. 27-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 5 rooms, one attic room and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. 97 Goddard street, near Quincy Adams Station. 15-tf.

TO LET—Tenement of three rooms $7.50 per month. Good place for hens. James Moorhead, 28 Curtis street. Tel. 599-1. 15-tf.

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

TO LET

TO LET—3 new flats, Quincy Point, four rooms and kitchenette, hot and cold water, set range, gas, separate cellars, low rent, Germain avenue, cor. Washington street. Small families only. Good neighborhood. E. R. Stone, 12 Avon Way. Ready now. 13-6t

TO LET—Tenement of 7 rooms, all improvements. Rent $25. Apply 233 Washington street. 12-6t

TO LET—Flat in new house, all modern improvements. Apply 81 Richie road. April 12-6t

TO LET—To small family of adults, several sunny attractive half houses, all improvements, centrally located, $21, $23 and $25 per month and water rates. Tel. Quincy 174-2, Charles H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. 10-12t

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements. 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 13-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Building lots on highest point of land between Boston and Plymouth. One minute from electric fifteen minutes from steam, 15c fare to Boston, 5c fare to Fore River, gas, electricity and town water A live town Dr. Taylor, South Weymouth, Mass. 7-6t

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E. R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-t. L. P.

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

TO LET
Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

FOR SALE
Great Bargain. In Quincy, near car line, House, Barn, one acre land, $3,200. Very easy terms.
FRANK FESSENDEN CRANE
19 Temple St., Quincy, Mass
9-tf

CARPENTER AND BUILDER
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1911 in Quincy
All Work Given Prompt Attention
W. R. LOFGREN
19 Cottage St., Near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 3618-3

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.

Dandy bungalow in E Braintree for sale: small pay't., bal. as rent: see this at once.

Houses
H. F. McIntire
Greenleaf Blk
Tel. Quincy 1665-W.

Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.

1-1 yr.

LOST

LOST—Boston Terrier dog, female, 10 months old, color white with big black spot over left eye, and small spots on body. Reward for information which leads to recovery of dog or upon return to Andrew Johnson, 7 Gothland street, Quincy. 12-3t

LOST—On Friday, from Boston on the 1.44 train, or in Quincy, a gold brooch with white enamel one large diamond inserted. Liberal reward if brought to Ledger Office. 12-3t

LOST—A slide rule, in a case, with name F. L. Perra on case, worth about $8.00, between Quincy square and Quincy Point Reward if returned to the Bay State St. R. R. Office. 10-3t

WANTED

WANTED—Gardening, grading and jobbing by day or job. Mr. Bellington, 17 Edwards street, Quincy. 13-6t

WANTED—A carpenter at once. Tel. 21036 Quincy, or call at 645 Sea street, Quincy. 13-1t

WANTED—Large room and board with refined private family, for couple and 3 year old child. Quincy Point or vicinity. Particulars by letter. Patton Baker's Yacht Basin, Quincy Point. 12-3t

WANTED—House or building lot near Payne street, South Quincy, or house at Quincy Point, or Quincy avenue. Owners only need answer. Write E. W. Ledger Office. 12-3t

WANTED—General maids, also Scotch cook. References required. Miss Frances Wilson, Quincy Employment Bureau, 1247 Hancock street. Tel. 1757-W. 12-3t

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

TO LET
After May 1, Store or Stores No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.
Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop
—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall
—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

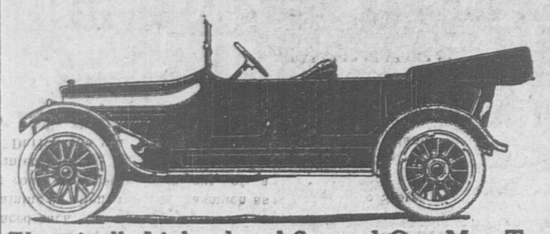

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 140—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for L. r. Mrkn.
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

Read Ledger Advs.

THE 1915 REO IS HERE

Electrically Lighted and Started, One Man Top
Increased Wheel Base, 34x4 Tires, Crown Fender, Improved Upholstering, Increased Power.

F.O.B. Factory		F.O.B. Factory
4 cyl. - - -	$1050	2 ton Truck	$1650
6 cyl. - - -	$1385	Light Delivery 1500 lbs.	$1075
4 cyl. Runabout	$1000	Light Delivery Chassis	$1000
4 cyl. Coupe	$1575

Reo the Fifth - - the Incomparable Four is on Display at our Garage. Call and see This Car.

Ask for Demonstration

CENTRAL GARAGE and SUPPLY CO.
Corner Washington and Pond Sts.
QUINCY
Tel. 1035 W C. W. Hodgkinson, Prop.

16-1mo.

COAL
ANNOUNCEMENT

April 1, 1915.

Full coal bins are a source of real satisfaction. We are filling our bins as rapidly as possible with FRESH MINED COAL. By placing your order now YOU can take advantage of the LOW PRICES announced in the schedule below. Coal will positively ADVANCE IN PRICE later. There will be no Further Reduction.

We should be glad to call and talk Coal with you if you will notify us.

PRICES FOR CASH

Franklin Egg and Stove	$8.50 per ton
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75 per ton
Shamokin Stove	7.50 per ton
White Ash Broken	6.50 per ton
White Ash Egg	7.25 per ton
White Ash Stove	7.25 per ton
White Ash Nut	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Broken	6.75 per ton
Lehigh Egg	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Stove	7,50 per ton
Pea	5.50 per ton

25 cents per ton extra where coal is carried in. Orders taken for these Prices are for delivery by July 1, 1915.

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc.

STATE HEAD

(Continued from Page One.)

lem, however, clear it may be.

"Massachusetts has recently taken a new field of work—vocational industry. The world is filled with vocations. You cannot go along without seeing some one at work at a vocation. We are today trying to train our boys and girls in some sort of a vocational school but I assure you that to carry the problem further would be by no means simple. We may have the end we wish to achieve, but we do not know how to accomplish it or what methods to use. That whole field is filled with problems.

"Let me get a little nearer home with some of the problems. No matter what we want our schools to do we desire to have them at least teach our children to read, write and spell. It is an ancient responsibility but one that we cannot give up.

"Reading aloud is emphasized during the first four grades only. If reading aloud is taught no further than this, I believe more emphasis should be put on the silent reading. A friend of mine from the Boston Normal school said that the poor scholarship in the upper schools could be traced back to the pupils lack of training in silent reading inasmuch as he could not get enough out of a printed page.

"During the years of adolescense the pupils should be trained in culture. We Americans all have crude, raw and vulgar tastes. Picture a car in which there are forty college girls. Would these girls all buy the best magazines or go to the best theatres?

"I cannot yet make out what people learn from the moving picture but I know learning from it must be very easy as you do not have to drive people to them with a stick.

"Our aim today is to give each individual boy and girl a way to support himself independently. The spirit of this aim dates back to 1776. We are ever looking forward and never backward."

ROLL FINAL MATCH TONIGHT

The final bowling match between the Manhattan Social club and the Granits Athletic club will be rolled this evening. Both teams have been strengthened since the last match. The Granite have added Jimmie MacDonald to their team while the Manhattans have added Joe Caravaglio. Both of these men roll high and it is expected that the match this evening will be very close.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Foy's Two Stores
Granite Shoe Store
Nathan Ames
William Westland

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Furniture Storage Warehouse

Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.

Rates $2---$3---$4 per month

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.
Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26--tu.-th.-s.-tf

BRIEFS

A meeting of the Planning Board has been called for this evening, at City hall.

Thomas Kelly of Buckley street left Saturday for Montreal where he expects to be stationed until the fall.

A session of the Norfolk County probate court will be held in Quincy Wednesday.

Councilman Frank F. Prescott and family are moving today from 33 Bigelow street to Farrington street, Wollaston.

The Harmony club of West Quincy plans to journey in a body to East Weymouth Wednesday evening to attend the annual dance of the Walkover Girls which will be held in Masonic hall.

Mrs. Moses L. Brown, wife of Commissioner Brown, and Mrs. Charles W. Bailey, have returned from Buckland Mass. The health of Mrs. Brown was greatly improved by her visit to the Berkshires.

Mrs. M. E. Wallace of New York city who has been visiting at the home of her aunt Mrs. Helen McGowan, Orchard street, left Monday for Fitchburg where she will be the guest of relatives.

The first child to be christened in the new church at Squantum was the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jones of Gladstone street, Herbert Clifford Jones age one year christened by Rev. T. W. Davison Sunday at the four o'clock service.

There promises to be a large attendance tonight in Coddington School hall for the illustrated lecture under the auspices of the Education committee of the Quincy Women's Club for the benefit of the School Nurse fund. Miss Edith Randall the popular lecturer is to speak on Belgium Before the War.

The many friends of Winfield Jacobs the popular letter carrier who covers the Cranch Hill district are pleased to hear that he has resumed his duties after two months absence. Mr. Jacobs suffered an attack of appendicitis while at work several weeks ago and was immediately rushed to the hospital where he was operated upon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Ralph Taylor of West Roxbury formerly of Cushing street, Wollaston, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter Sylvia Brooks Taylor, on April ninth. Mr. Taylor was for four years principal of the Massachusetts Fields and Wollaston schools. Mrs. Taylor is president of the West Roxbury Woman's club. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor are to spend the summer at Camp Wyanoke for Boys, in Wolfeboro, N. H., where Mr. Taylor has been secretary for several years, and where many Wollaston and Quincy boys have been numbered among its past campers.

☞ A new serial story starts in Wednesday's Ledger "His Love Story" by Marie Van Vorst. It is a story of love and adventure, good all the way through. Clean and readable by every member of the family a pleasent change from the exciting overdrawn situations so much over done by picture film shows. Start the story in the Ledger April 14.

TOOLATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

FOR SALE—New two flat house on Kittredge avenue. Each flat has 5 rooms and bath, all modern improvements, coal and gas range, electric lights. Inquire at 11 Ring avenue off Washington street. 13-6t

FOR SALE—20 foot open boat, 4 H. P., Victor engine, reverse, cushions, etc., T. E. Baker, 24 Baxter Street. 13-6t

BIRTHS

HAYDEN—In Quincy, April 11, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Forrest E. Hayden of 14 River street.

MARRIAGES

GABLER—O'BRIEN—In Atlantic, April 11, by Fr. James F. McNiff, Thomas S. Gabler of Quincy Point and Miss Viola O'Brien of Billings street.

BOYD—McNAMEE—In Quincy, April 12, by Fr. Michael J. Owens, Hugh Boyd, Jr., and Miss Annie J. McNamee, both of Quincy.

DEATHS

O'BRIEN—In Carney Hospital, April 10, Emily, beloved wife of James J. O'Brien, aged 20 years, 6 months. Funeral from her late residence, Water street, corner Brook road, Wednesday, April 14, at 2 P. M. Interment at Weymouth, Mass.

CLUSE—In West Quincy, April 13, Mrs. Ellen Cluse, in her 78th year.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

ARRESTED FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Quincy Man's Auto Kills Fourteen Year Old Boy

LAD DIES INSTANTLY

Joseph Dinan, 14 years, was instantly killed when he was struck and run over by an auto truck on Massachusetts avenue, Boston today.

Charles W. Rogers, of Verchild street, Quincy, owner and driver of the truck was arrested on the charge of manslaughter. The truck was loaded with several granite monuments.

INVESTIGATING TAX DODGERS

nternal Revenue Agent is In Quincy

William V. Newton, former member of the House of Representatives from one of the South Boston districts and a summer resident of Germantown, came to Quincy today in the capacity of an internal revenue agent making investigation of the taxable incomes of men who have failed to file reports and schedules required under the income law.

Mr. Newton had a list of several men to interview but met with poor success, most of them being out of the city for the day.

ATTY. THOMAS CHOSEN TANIST

Arthur L. Thomas, one of the best known of the local attorneys at law, was unanimously chosen tanist of Clan MacGregor at a meeting in Clan MacGregor hall Monday evening. He was installed by Royal Secretary Peter Kerr of this city.

Mr. Thomas succeeds to the office of tanist which was become vacant through the death of Charles G. Nicoll a week ago.

Chief William Cantlay presided at the meeting. Matters to be considered at the annual convention, to which Angus Martin and Alfred C. Diack are the delegates, were discussed with the purpose of instructing both men.

A session of the Norfolk County probate court will be held in Quincy Wednesday.

For Your Own Good!

By MOSS.

Cut off the appendix of carelessness.

In your newspaper reading cultivate the habit of thoroughness. It is to your own advantage.

Read and digest the news carefully.

Observe and study all the advertisements thoughtfully.

Merchants who advertise in this paper are deserving of your patronage. All things being equal, they sell better and cheaper than those who do not advertise. You can easily prove this by a continued test.

EASTER ON FIFTH AVENUE.

Dark Blue The Prevailing Color—Note In Tailored Suits and Dresses—Black And White Combinations—Taffetas And Gabardines—Serge And Silk—Tricorne Hats And War Lord Turbans.

The "Easter Parade" after church on Sunday is a sight worth seeing, though the throng is so great that one gets only a passing glimpse of the smart costumes which might leave a very slight and hazy impression if a careful study of advance models had not already made the seasons fashion points familiar.

DARK BLUE AND BLACK

Dark blue is the dominant color in smart tailored get-ups, with black and beiges also much in evidence. Many of the plainer coat and skirt suits have extra collars of fancy striped silks topping the cloth collar at the back, and often these silk accessories are prolonged into vests that make a brave showing where the coats open nearly to the waist in front. Black and white stripes are leaders, but nearly all colors are represented in these trimming touches, and blocks, fancy plaids, and plain taffeta, all figure in the fashionable turn out.

Black taffeta combined with blue French serge makes some of the most distinguished looking costumes, replacing the satin and serge suits and dresses of the past two seasons.

BRAIDS, BUTTONS and EMBROIDERIES.

Many simple dresses of plain serge or gabardine are rendered smart and distinctive with braid and button trimmings, while embroideries wrought on the material lend elegance to costumes that would otherwise be ordinary in effect. While the majority of the coats are short, either Eaton, or ending at the line of the hip, there are a number smartly worn that come quite to the knee. These are especially noticeable in a Russian blouse model of blue or black serge, with band embroideries wrought in steel threads and braids, ornamenting the belt, buttom of tunic, sleeves and collar. Buttons of ball form in pierced steel are used with these.

6435

McCall Design

BELT UBIQUITOUS.

Belts are employed on all sorts of coats and in endless varieties of form from little straps that hold the ripple fullness on the hip, to half, or all way round lengths, marking either a high Empire waist line, or sloping to suggest the tapering waist that many authorities endorse and are endeavoring to bring into favor.

SKIRTS.

While the full ripple skirt is firmly established, and enticingly worn by the youthful contingent, above the daintiest of fancy footwear, it is not nearly as smart on the matronly wearer in longer length. Good designers moderate the ripple, and quite a number of women are following the Callot lead and retaining the long full tunic above a narrow under skirt, which is still wide enough to permit comfortable walking. Pleated skirts especially in narrow box styles, are smartly endorsed for separate skirts, especially in the dull green and blue paids and shepherd checks that come in great variety of blocks and combinations.

Corkscrew skirts built of bias bands corded, one on to the other exactly like those worn when Queen Victoria was young, are fetchingly developed in taffeta silk. In the same material very full skirts corded at the foot, are topped by short jackets, that hang well away from the figure at the waist. These have turned back straight revers at either side, held flat with a row of white pearl buttons while a girdle that finishes with a short turn over flap at the left hip is ornamented with white embroidery.

HAT STYLES.

Tricorne hats are among the smartest worn with tailored get-ups. These depend almost altogether upon their shape and straw, and admit of only a wing or quill trimming.

Turbans compete for similar wear, and for these there is more latitude in garniture, while small low crowned shapes with Derby or top hat crowns, are often decked with Tommy Atkin ribbon ties, and gay little wreaths of small flowers, or with tiny nosegays. Quill trimmings are popular and practical. Contrasts are the rule for these, black on colored straws and colors on black, though all black, and black and white effects are the choice of many of the smartest women here. Wide brims, especially in flat sailors are increasingly favored both for girlish wearers and for dress hats, with semi-transparent brims of lace or tulle.

Rosalind May.

New York, April 5, 1915.

HEARD AT POLICE STATION.

"Hello, police headquarters?"

"Yes."

"Well I have lost my horse."

"When?"

"This morning, he was left standing and when I came out he had gone. He was white and hitched to a light wagon."

"Whereabouts?"

"Oh, never mind now, continued the femine voice, he is walking back to where I left him."

"Well did you ever?" said the officer hanging up the receiver.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

Thursday, April 15th Is Low Shoe Day

Fashion has set Thursday April 15th as the Official Day to Start Wearing LOW SHOES

$2.50 to $4.00

The Granite Shoe Store has the choicest assortment of Pumps and Oxfords for Men, Women and Children.

All Widths from AA to EE

GRANITE SHOE STORE

ALL KINDS OF GARDEN TOOLS FLOWER AND VEGETABLE SEEDS AND FERTILIZERS

Everything to make your Garden the kind of garden you want it to be.

WILLIAM WESTLAND
THE HARDWARE MAN
1597 Hancock St., Quincy

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE

Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit

WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS

Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.

Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys
1506--1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block
Jan. 26--tu.-th.-s.-tf

It Doesn't Matter

What you want in the grocery line, for breakfast, dinner or tea, we can supply you with it. And what is more, our groceries are always fresh and we give full weight and good value for your money. Just try trading with us for a short while: we'll guarantee you'll never go anywhere else.

TODAY:

Stanzalone Coffee 20c lb
Tuna Fish, largest can 20c can

ADAMS MARKET
City Square
Phone 1980

FOY'S
2 STORES

WATER STREET
Cor. Quincy
Phone 117

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 88 QUINCY, MASS., WEDNESDAY EVENING, APRIL 14, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

MAYOR HAS PIN 3000 YEARS OLD

Once Adorned Neck of Egyptian Queen

Those who succeeded in getting by the city messenger and entering the office of the Mayor at City Hall this morning could scarcely help noticing the peculiar looking stick pin which ornamented his honor's Easter cravat. Inquiry brought out the fact that the pin was the gift of the Egypt Exploration association of America of which his honor is the treasurer. The stone is what is known as a scarab, or sacred beetle of Egypt, and according to the little history that went with the stone it once ornamented the fair neck of Queen Esther in 1500 B. C. and was evidently given to her by some of her loyal subjects as a birthday gift because the translation of the Egyptian characters on the back of the stone read "Well Wishes, Wisdom, Love and Truth."

It is an unusually fine specimen of a scarab and was recovered by some of the Egyptian explorers. There is a little hole on the top of the stone and it is supposed that originally it held a bar by which it was suspended about the neck.

The Mayor feels very proud of his gift and he has had it mounted in a gold frame in which it swings on a swivel.

MARTIAL LAW IMMINENT.

Situation In Vienna Said to be Serious

(By United Press)

London, April 14—The situation in Vienna is growing worse daily, the Rome correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Co. wired today. A proclamation of martial law is imminent. The population according to the correspondent is growing extremely restless because of the Russian advance through the Carpathians.

BOTH LEAGUES OPEN.

Good Weather Reported In All Cities.

(By United Press.)

Washington, D. C., April 14.—"Good weather in all base ball cities" announced the weather department today—the first time in many seasons.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity.

Weather like that of Tuesday and today, is enough to make enemies forget their differences, shake hands and resolve that hereafter they will be friends. This is what "Bill" Taft and "Teddy" Roosevelt did Tuesday at New Haven, where they were both present to attend the funeral of their mutual friend Thomas Raynesford Lounsbury. When two such nation wide celebrities are willing to clasp hands and forget the past, is it not a good example for everybody to follow?

Wednesday and Thursday promise to be fair, with moderate winds and warmer.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	5.04
Sun sets	6.25
Length of day	13.21
Moon rises	8.01
High water, A. M.	12.00
High water, P. M.	12.00
Days increase	4 hrs. 13 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	51 degrees
Apr. 14, 1914,	59 degrees
Apr. 14, 1913,	58 degrees

Noon Maximum 18 years—86
Noon Minimum 18 years—30

FOR CHINESE RESTAURANT

Application Made for One at Hough's Neck

A full fledged Chinese restaurant will be conducted at Houghs Neck this summer if the council acts favorably on the application of Flat Wong.

Quincy is the only city south of Boston which hasn't at some time or other had a Chinese restaurant within its limits. The only members of that race who have done business here have been the laundry men.

Whether or not there will be any opposition to the granting of the license is not known but it is probable that there will be more or less discussion on the floor of the council if the license committee makes a favorable report.

MAYOR SPEAKS AT ROCKLAND

"Present Day Tendencies" is His Subject

Tuesday evening Mayor Campbell was given the most royal reception by the Rockland Brotherhood. His honor spoke on P"resent Day Tendencies" with particular reference to the political, business, religious, and social sides. In reference to the political sides. In reference to the political life that people were getting more and more to placing men in office because of actual worth rather than because of political affiliation. He said that he believed there was a great political upheaval coming in the near future.

As for the religious side he said that he believed that all protestant denominations are more and more laying aside their creeds and working in harmony with each other, that all of the denominations were working with the same end in view and that the time was coming when all would be one, and that while the Catholic church would be separate yet the protestants and catholics would be working along parallel lines.

Taking up the social element he spoke of the work that the poor department of the city of Quincy was undertaking. It had been found that a great majority applied for aid because of their inability to support themselves. What the poor department was trying to bring about with the aid of the Women's clubs, was the employment of a professional housekeeper who should go from house to house, especially among the poorer classes, and give instruction in housekeeping.

After leaving Rockland the Mayor spoke briefly before the Bay State Auto Association at the Hotel Lenox Boston.

CITY OF QUINCY

Office of City Clerk

Notice is hereby given that a Public Hearing will be held at the Council Chamber, City Hall, on Monday, April 26, 1915 at 8 o'clock P. M. on the following applications to keep and store gasoline:—

Stephen J. Hofferty at 85 Revere road; Harry B. McIntire at 3 Calumet street; John J. Powers at foot 5 Parkhurst street; A. B. C. Oil Co., in two tanks of 20,000 gallons each on Western Avenue between Wollaston Centre Garage and Ralph Coall Co., J. L. Harvey on float off Houghs Neck; J. L. Harvey on float off Houghs Neck; Frank A. MacDonald at 1087 Sea Street; Naclerio Bros. at 290 Liberty Street.

EMERY L. CRANE, City Clerk
Quincy, April 14, 1915. 1t

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
OF QUINCY, MASSACHUSETTS, ANNOUNCES
A FREE PUBLIC LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
By VIRGIL O. STRICKLER, C. S.
OF NEW YORK CITY
Member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.
AT WOLLASTON, MASS.
IN WOLLASTON SCHOOL HALL, BEALE ST. FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 16 AT EIGHT O'CLOCK.
You and your friends are cordially invited to be present.
10-1w P & O L-14-3t

TECH CONCERT IS DECIDED SUCCESS

Excellent Program Under Auspices of Simmons Girls

SIXTY MEN PARTICIPATE

The combined musical clubs of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology comprising more than 60 young men one of the best musical combinations which ever appeared here, gave a concert in Alpha hall Tuesday evening to a large and appreciative audience.

The affair was for the benefit of the dormitory endowment fund of Simmons college and was under the auspices of the Quincy chapter of the alumnae and student association.

A real touch of college spirit was added to the program through the encores which were mostly popular songs of the day. The close of the program brought all of the Tech boys to their feet for the college cheer.

Several changes in the original program were necessary owing to the sickness of several of the members.

The program:

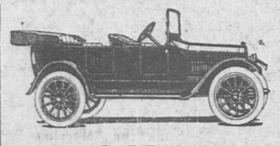

Shadowland — Gilbert
Mandolin Club
Swing Along — Cook
Glee Club
Yankee Dandy — Weidt
Banjo Club
Solo — Selected
Mr. Howlett
Mai poina oe ia u
Hawaiian Quartette
Reading — Selected
Alexander Martin
Intermission
The Kavanagh — Bullard '87
Glee Club
Second Connecticut March — Reeves
Banjo Club
The Boatmen on the Volga — Russian Folk Song
Mandolin Club
a) Requiem — Homer
b) Thy Beaming Eyes — MacDowell
Herbert C. Williamson
Mighty Lak' a Rose — Nevin
Plectrum Banjo Quartet
a) In Picardie — Osgood
b) Lullaby — Brahm
Glee Club Semi-Chorus
The Cardinal and the Grey — Moody '07
Combined Clubs

The former students and graduates of the college who were on the committee were the Misses Gertrude F. Baker of Wollaston, Alice G. Higgins formerly of Atlantic, Eleanor Nelson and Helen Horton of Atlantic, Elizabeth Douglas, a teacher at Quincy High school, Beulah C. Hatch, Miriam Smith and Mrs. Wallace Brown.

The ushers were students at the college, the Misses Martha D. Ring, Gertrude A. Shaw, Edna Conway, Esther Beckford, Alice Parker, Isabel Walker, Ednah Rhodes, Olive Barnicoat, all of Quincy and Lucy Beck of Braintree.

MAYOR CAMPBELL TO SPEAK.

Mayor Campbell is to be one of the speakers at the meeting of the Retail Automobile Dealers' association at Belmont Springs, in Watertown this evening Later he will attend the ball of Ave Maria council K. of C. at West Quincy.

JACKSON
Model 46
THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL. SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER
"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"
Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT
$1375
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

ELKS INSTALL 1915 OFFICERS

Brilliant Affair at Home of Lodge

The officers of Quincy lodge, B. P. O. E., were instated at the lodge rooms Tuesday evening and were the centre of a reception at the clubhouse on Foster street after the ceremonies, when several of them were presented with the prizes of the bowling season.

The officers were installed by Harry E. Gleason, past exalted ruler of Brookline lodge, and acting district deputy. He was accompanied by members of that lodge who comprised his suite as follows:

Dr. Everett M. Bowker, past exalted ruler, acting grand esteemed leading knight.

William B. Powell, past exalted ruler, acting grand esquire.

William F. Foley, exalted ruler, acting grand esteemed loyal knight.

Joseph A. Gohl, acting grand esteemed lecturing knight.

J. Lawrence McCormick, acting grand secretary.

William A. Wardwell, acting grand treasurer.

T. W. A. Goodwin, acting grand organist.

William F. Bailey, acting grand chaplain.

John B. Keenan, acting grand tyler.

Lawrence J Lihneman, acting grand inside guard.

George W. Delano, acting grand trustee.

Edward E. Larkin, installed as exalted ruler, and Dr. J. H. Maloney, installed as esteemed leading knight, were both presented with gavels by the installing officer.

The meeting was attended by well known Elks throughout the state.

A banquet was served at the clubhouse after which there was an entertainment. Monologues were given by Joseph Currie of Quincy, who made his local debut, and there were vocal solos by Ira Kessner, Edward Bullock, and talent from the Kincaide theatre. Orchestra music was by French's orchestra and the accompanist during the concert was Milan Graves, pianist at the Kincaide theatre and a member of the lodge of Lewiston, Me.

One of the entertaining features of the evening was the presentation of cups and a solid gold Elks watch fob to the lodge by Capt. George A. Wardwell, manager of the Wardwell alleys where the league contests were held this season. They were received by Past Exalted Ruler John Hildebrand, captain of the submarine team of the league. He presented, to his successor in office, Edward Larkin, the cup given the team which won the championship and the special trophy, awarded to John J. Joyce, holder of the all city record single of 165. Charles Hanson, high individual total man of the league received the watch fob.

Eleven o'clock, the mystic hour when all Elkdom pauses and dwells for a moment on the departed brothers, chimed during the height of the festivities. Under lowered lights Philip Schafer of the lodge gave the toast to the "Absent Brothers" at the close of which all sang Auld Lang Syne.

The clubhouse was then turned from a sombre to a brilliantly lighted home and the program continued until after midnight.

MISS CRABTREE OBJECTS.

Miss Lotta Crabtree, the actress, of Squantum and Quincy, broke into the limelight Tuesday when she wrote Mayor Curley of Boston protesting against the proposed appropriation of $20,000 to aid Dr. Mallory of the City Hospital in his research for an antitoxin for measles and scarlet fever. She objects as a taxpayer and an anti vivisectionist, the later because chimpanzies may be used in the research.

☞At the song recital to be given by Helen Allen Hunt, the Boston mezzo-contralto, in Alpha hall, Sunday afternoon, April 25, the assisting soloist will be Carlos Pinfield, a first violinist of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Both artists will be accompanied by Harris S. Shaw, organist of the First Universalist church, Boston. The public seat sale of tickets will be held from the drug store of C. C. Hearn, Quincy square, beginning today.

INSPECTION OF MILITIA SQUAD

Councilmen and Members of Board of Trade Attend

Councilmen and members of the Board of Trade, one of the local organizations which has endorsed the location of a Machine Gun squad in Quincy inspected the equipment and witnessed the drills of 30 members at the Union hall armory Tuesday night. Over a score were present.

They were entertained by Lieut. George M. Downes, of the 6th Regt. M. V. M., detailed to form the company here and who lectured on the machine guns, pistols and the use of knives issued to the company.

The inspection drill was directed by Sergt. Charles M. Starbird, instructor and the seven squads did exceptionally well.

The surprise of the evening came in the announcement of Lieut. Downes that the company was to be a real infantry company and would be equipped with rifles for parade purposes, and also that he had been given the refusal of the horses of Troop C calvary for the use of the mounted detachment.

SPANISH WAR HERO TO SPEAK

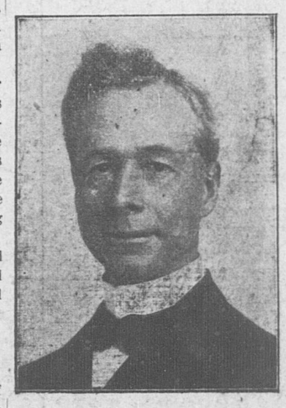

Congressman Richard P. Hobson and Dr. A. G. Bain, national lecturer of the Anti-saloon league, will speak at the

HON. R. P. HOBSON

Bethany church Sunday morning in the advocacy of national prohibition.

Mr. Hobson is known throughout the country for his heroism at Santiago Harbor during the Spanish-American war when he, and a few companions sunk the "Merrimac" in an attempt to bottle up the Spanish fleet. He escaped with his life although it was believed the venture would result in certain death.

DR. A. C. BAIN

☞The Daily Ledger is news every day. Are you a regular reader?

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton Director
Street Floor, Greenleaf Block
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
Piano Instructions Par Excellence Voice
Private or Class Lessons
31-tf

CHURCH VOTES TO HAVE MODERN GYMNASIUM

Wollaston Baptist Holds Annual Business Meeting

A gymnasium for young men, equipped with modern apparatus and located in the basement of the chapel of the Wollaston Baptist church will be the probable result of the motion introduced by Ernest W. Campbell at the annual parish meeting Tuesday evening.

With a vote of the parish authorizing the step and with Frank Burgess as the probable athletic leader there is no doubt that in a short time there will be an up to date gymnasium in active working order for the young men of the church.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:

Pastor—Rev. Joseph Walther.

Deacons — George E. Thomas, Charles E. Goodspeed, Amos D. Albee, J. Arthur Sparrow, Elford L. Durgan, George B. Huntington.

Clerk—Philip S. Dresser.

Treasurer—Charles M. Roach.

Collector—Mrs. Charles E. Goodspeed.

Auditor—Herbert W. Pinkham.

Trustees—O. A. Blaisdell, Charles W. Bailey, Ernest W. Campbell, J. Arthur Sparrow, Eben Hardy.

Honorary Trustee—George F. Pinkham.

Standing Committee—Pastor, deacons, clerk, superintendent Sunday school and Mrs. Elford L. Durgan, Mrs. Philip S. Dresser, Mrs. Seldon H. Nickerson and Mrs. George E. Drew.

Musical Director—Amos D. Albee.

Organist—Mrs. George K. Drew.

Pianists—Mrs. Charles M. Roach, Mrs. Emma F. Perry, Mrs. Joseph Walther, Miss May Critchley.

Weekly Offering Committee—Ernest W. Campbell, Selden H. Nickerson, Louis S. Cleaves, Arthur W. O'Connell, William H. Bartlett.

Missionary and Beneficent Offering Committee — Charles E. Goodspeed, Mrs. George F. Pinkham, Mrs. Joseph Walther, Miss Grace Schermerhorn, Walter Thomas, Mrs. Mary W. Finney, Miss Laura Jones, Mrs. Hattie V. Dimmock.

Treasurer Trust Fund—Herbert W. Pinkham.

Ushers—J. Arthur Sparrow, Kendall F. Harriman, Elford L. Durgan, Louis S. Cleaves, Lester Porter, Ernest B. Neal.

The meeting was called to order by the moderator Rev. Joseph Walther, and opened with scripture reading and prayer. Reports of the church officers showed the church to be in excellent financial standing with a membership of 432.

Eepecially noteworthy was the amount of benevolences disbursed which probably nearly equal, if they do not exceed any church in Quincy. During the year three members have died: Mrs. Marion Wade, John L. Miller and William H. Hayden.

Reports were received from Philip S. Dresser, clerk; Charles M. Roach, treasurer, Mrs. Charles E. Goodspeed, collector; Herbert W. Pinkham, auditor; Ernest W. Campbell, weekly offering committee; George E. Thomas, fellowship fund; Herbert W. Pinkham, trust fund; Charles E. Goodspeed, beneficent offering committee.

Miss Marion G. Rand reported for the Christian Endeavor and told of the Sunday evening and the monthly social meetings. The society has a membreship of 63, Mrs. George K. Drew reported for the Social and Benevolent society and Mrs. Charles Macfarland for the Elliot Home Mission society.

Miss Elizabeth Sayward gave the report of the Nearer and Farther Lights society and Miss Grace Schermerhorn that of the choir, O. A. Blaisdell reported for the trustees and Mrs. Elford L. Durgan for the Womens Foreign Missionary society.

A supper in the chapel served by the young people of the church preceded the business meeting. On the supper committee were: Mrs. George K. Drew, Mrs. Elford L. Durgan, Mrs. Ralph C. Weeks, Mrs. George Kendall and Miss Marion Barker.

The waitresses were Misses Annie and Gladys Flieger, Eleanor Dunn, Alice, Clara and Marion Porter, Gertrude Bullock, Catherine Brown, May Critchley, and Mrs. C. M. Roach, Mrs. Frank Swain, Mrs. Chester Barlow, Mrs. Ernest Roberts and Mrs. L. S. Cleaves.

JUDGE IMPOSES SENTENCE.

Judge Avery disposed of one charge of neglect to send children to school in the district court this morning, but could make no finding on the second case because the defendant was not in court.

The complaints were brought in by Truant Officer Charles H. Johnson. The one against Fred Palastine was pressed and he was fined $20 and placed on probation until June 30, when the school term year closes.

Michael Canale, the other defendent will be brought in April 22nd and will probably be accompanied by his family.

MISS PETERSON.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Peterson have the sympathy of their many friends in the death of their daughter Marjorie, who died April 13, in her 21st year.

DR. G. F. S. PEARCE
DENTIST
327 Newport Avenue, Wollaston
Mondays -- Wednesdays -- Fridays
8 to 12 — 1 to 5
EVENINGS
Boston Office 194 Boylston Street
June 24-1y-w. s.

CLARA MORRISON
Pianist and Teacher
Leschetizky Method
CATHERINE MORRISON
Mandolin and Guitar
50 Hamilton Street, Wollaston
Tel. Quincy 1414-W. Sept 30-w.s.-1y

Wanted
Ten Boys
Between the ages of 16 and 18 years. Must possess intelligence and have a hustling spirit. High School boys preferred. A Splendid chance to make good money.
See MR. MILLS at the Ledger Office
Between 2.30 and 3.30 any day this week.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
INCORPORATED
THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

THE BOULEVARD AT LAST.

No item of news in Tuesday's Ledger, we imagine, brought greater rejoicing than the announcement that work had started on the completion of the so-called missing link of the Wollaston boulevard. This means the employment of several hundred Quincy men, most of whom, doubtless, sorely need the work. The work is being done under the direction of John Cashman & Sons, the lowest bidders, who were awarded the contract by the Massachusetts Highway Commission.

The Cashman firms contract is for something over $60,000 and calls for a boulevard a mile and three quarters in length. The new work will be joined to the Atlantic shore boulevard back of the private bath-houses at Wollaston Beach and will then continue over the farm of the Sailors Home, along the shore back of Merrymount Park, across Black's creek, then following the creek to Hancock street. Ultimately it will be joined at Hancock street with the Furnace Brook Parkway. Bids for the bridge over Black's creek will be submitted next week.

The state has set an excellent example to the city. Let the local government get to work rebuilding at least the main thoroughfares of the city which are the terror of automobilists who have to pass over them, and have given Quincy anything but an enviable reputation among citizens of surrounding cities and towns.

CHURCH SOCIETIES.

Those who have read the Ledger attentively during the past few months must have been impressed by the large part which the churches have been playing in the social life of the community. This is as it should be and Quincy is by no means unique in this respect. In recent years churches are realizing more and more that they must enter into social life to attain their fullest measure of usefulness. A church is not an edifice to be opened only for Sunday service and mid-week prayer meeting. Associated with the church are religious, benevolent and social organizations which make their home in the chapel, parish house, or whatever that useful addition to a church may be called in any particular case. Such organizations distract attention not a bit from the serious aim of the church but rather serve as useful auxiliaries to that aim.

BOY SCOUTS MEET.

The boy scouts troop of the Atlantic Memorial church met in the vestry Tuesday evening with three patrols, 27 scouts, present. Scout Master George Brown of Wollaston was in charge of the evening.

The interest in the appointment of a drummer has become acute and the various candidate tried out. No finding will be made for several days.

Arrangements were made for the troop to join with the other troops of the city in an all day camping hike to Milton next Monday. It is probable that there will be 70 boys who will participate.

The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader.

$500.00 Prizes For Good Photographs

The offer made by The Boston Traveler and Sunday Herald to send Five Pretty Girls from New England on

Free Tours To the Expositions

in California, amounts practically to giving $500.00 apiece for good photographs. We'll do our share to win this big prize for you or your friends by making the best pictures that can be made, at special low prices from now until May.

Arrange Today for a Sitting

OFFICIAL PHOTOGRAPHER
B. H. NERSES
1507 Hancock St. Quincy
TEL. CON.

TO ENFORCE LICENSE RULES

The laws in regard to minor licenses are to be strictly enforced this year, for word has gone out from city hall that all persons holding licenses as common victuallers, Sunday trust, pool billiard and bowling, hackney carriage etc., whose licenses have not been renewed by May 1, or who have not applied for renewals by that time, will be closed up.

All minor licenses granted by the city council expire on May 1, and in many cases the holders of such licenses seem to be in no hurry about applying for a renewal for in years past they often have been allowed to keep open until such time as the spirit moved them to make application.

This year it is to be different and the first of May will see the police department enforcing the law. No favoritism is to be shown but all persons attempting to do business without a license, or who have not made application for such a license, will be closed up tight.

It is probable that persons who have made application will be allowed to do business until the city council has had an opportunity to act. The reason for this is that it is impossible for the council to act upon all applications at one time. The rule of the License committee this year is to clean up these matters at the earliest possible moment after they have been filed.

BRIEFS

The annual ball of Div. 5, A. O. H., will be held this evening.

Theodore Parker of Russell street Atlantic is very ill with pneumonia.

There will be a meeting of Merrymount lodge, K. of P. this evening.

Quincy Chapter, O. E. S., will hold a May party and dance in Alpha hall on May 7.

The Men's Assembly of the Wollaston Baptist church will meet Friday evening.

The opening smoker of the Quincy Yacht club will be held on Wednesday evening May 19.

The Knights of King Arthur, Bethany castle, will convene in their hall Friday evening.

W. E. Kelley, builder, is erecting a house on Carl road for Dr. McMurphy of Dorchester.

The annual ball of Ave Marie Council, K. of C., will be held in St. Mary's hall this evening.

William J. Voss is moving this week from Botolph street, Atlantic to his cottage on Marshall street.

A cafe chantant will be given by the Y. P. R. U. of the Wollaston Unitarian church Friday evening.

Mrs. Mary A. Fox of Franklin street has been entertaining her niece, Mrs. W. D. Merrill of Bradford, Vermont.

The fourth annual dance of the Harmony Club will be held in St. Mary's hall Wednesday evening, May 5.

Mrs. N. Kneeland Ellis of 30 Apthorp street is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Otis Briggs in Middleboro.

English Ivy lodge will meet in Quincy Adams hall Thursday evening at 7 P. M. followed by a public whist party at 8 P. M.

Mr. Kennedy of Apthorp street has moved into the new house on Arnold road recently built by George V. Douse.

A meeting of St. Margarets Guild of Christ church was held Tuesday evening in the parish house, at which time Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick read selections from "Thedrus."

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Campbell and daughter Evelyn of Toronto, Ontario, have moved to Wollaston and will locate near Mrs. Campbell's three sisters, Mrs. J. W. Hallett, Mrs. H. J. Landry and Mrs. H. K. Ellis.

The Dorcas society of the Universalist church will present "Old Acre Folk" this evening. It is a comedy, laid in a small country village and is produced under the direction of James B. Schmidt.

St. Francis Court, 25 M. C. O. F. held its regular meeting in Div. 22 hall Tuesday evening. One new member was initiated. Resolutions were passed on the death of the late John M. O'Brien who was an earnest worker in the interests of the court.

The Quincy members of the Political Equality Union hold an afternoon meeting at the home of Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann, 65 Goffe street, Tuesday April 20 at three o'clock. Mrs. Lister Watson, secretary of the Woman's National Council of Australia, will address the meeting. Everyone interested in the question of Equal Suffrage is invited to attend.

SCISSOR PASTE

A HAPPY RELIEF.

The moving picture companies which sent operatives to Havana to get films of the Johnson-Willard prize fight expect to reap fortunes when the pictures are put on exhibition. They can show them anywhere but in the United States. Congress has passed a law that moving pictures of an affair like the recent championship battle can be shown in the State where they are taken, but they cannot be shown out of the State or into another country. As the fight occurred in Cuba, the pictures are barred from this country. In previous encounters of this kind the exhibition of fight pictures depended on the judgment of local censors, and a great many people were disappointed. Some censors let them by, while others were firm in their refusal. The law, which was enacted after the Reno fistic battle, shuts out all such pictures, except as mentioned above, and one great source of income by the moving picture people is barred. This will be a great relief to those who have taken steps to stop such exhibitions in their localities. The law has relieved them of all responsibility, and they can rest assured that the young people in their communities will not be injured by the sight of a battle like that fought last Monday in Havana.—Lynn Item.

AMERICAN DYESTUFFS.

The good news is assured from Washington that in a few months American chemical companies will be able to supply much of the material for the simpler dyes, which heretofore have been brought in Germany at a cost of $12,000,000 annually. Six chemical plants are now under construction for the manufacture of the coal tar derivatives upon which the colors used in cloth manufacture, varnishes and other products are based. The commercial agent of the department of commerce estimates that American coke ovens are wasting annually $100,000,000 in byproducts that could be saved and employed in other industries. The war in Europe is thus indirectly working for the benefit of the United States. Without the incentive which the loss of German dyestuffs has caused American industries, the activities, above referred to would not have been attempted. They needed something of the sort to stir them to attempt what is in prospect. It was easier and cheaper to send an order to Germany for what was required than to invest capital in factories and commence to supply the home market. But when it became known that the supply of the foreign articles would be exhausted in a few months, something had to be done. Capital became interested, and before the German supply has been consumed the American substitutes will be on the market. The war has caused some inconvenience to the American people, but it has also been productive of good.—Lynn Item.

SKINNER-ROBERTSON.

Warren H. Skinner of Cranch street and Elizabeth A. Robertson of 48 Edison park were married at North Weymouth Monday by Rev. Arthur Mercer of the Universalist church of that town.

Thousands In Thousands of Homes found the ailments to which all are early and certain relief is found for the ailments to which all are subject—ailments due to defective or irregular action of the stomach, liver, kidneys or bowels—in the most famous family remedy, the world has ever known.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

are justly famous because they have proved to be so reliable as correctives or preventives of the sufferings, dull feelings and danger due to indigestion or biliousness. If you will try them to cleanse your system, purify your blood, tone your stomach, stimulate your liver and regulate your bowels, you will know why so many rely on Beecham's Pills to Insure Health and Happiness

Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World. Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

HIS LOVE STORY

By MARIE VAN VORST

ILLUSTRATIONS By RAY WALTERS

COPYRIGHT BY THE BOBBS-MERRILL COMPANY

CHAPTER I.

A Serious Event.

Le Comte de Sabron, in the undress uniform of captain in the —— Cavalry, sat smoking and thinking.

What is the use of being thirty years old with the brevet of captain and much distinction of family if you are a poor man—in short, what is the good of anything if you are alone in the world and no one cares what becomes of you?

He rang his bell, and when his ordonnance appeared, said sharply:

"Que diable is the noise in the stable, Brunet? Don't you know that when I smoke at this hour all Tarascon must be kept utterly silent?"

Tarascon is never silent. No French meridional town is, especially in the warm sunlight of a glorious May day.

"The noise, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, "is rather melancholy."

"Melancholy!" exclaimed the young officer. "It's infernal. Stop it at once."

The ordonnance held his kepi in his hand. He had a round good-natured face and kind gray eyes that were used to twinkle at his master's humors and caprices.

"I beg pardon, mon Capitaine, but a very serious event is taking place."

"It will be more serious yet, Brunet, if you don't keep things quiet."

"I am sorry to tell, mon Capitaine, that Michette has just died."

"Michette!" exclaimed the master. "What relation is she of yours, Brunet?"

"Ah, mon Capitaine," grinned the ordonnance, "relation! None! It is the little terrier that Monsieur le Capitaine may have remarked now and then in the garden."

Sabron nodded and took his cigarette out of his mouth as though in respect for the deceased.

"Ah, yes," he said, "that melancholy little dog! Well, Brunet!"

"She has just breathed her last, mon Capitaine, and she is leaving behind her rather a large family."

"I am not surprised," said the officer.

"There are six," vouchsafed Brunet, "of which, if mon Capitaine is willing, I should like to keep one."

"Nonsense," said Sabron, "on no account. You know perfectly well, Brunet, that I don't surround myself with things that can make me suffer. I have not kept a dog in ten years. I try not to care about my horses even. Everything to which I attach myself dies or causes me regret and pain. And I won't have any miserable little puppy to complicate existence."

"Bien, mon Capitaine," accepted the ordonnance tranquilly. "I have given away five. The sixth is in the stable; if Monsieur le Capitaine would come down and look at it . . ."

Sabron rose, threw his cigarette away and, following across the garden

Sabron Looked at the Letter.

in the bland May light, went into the stable where Madame Michette, a small wire-haired Irish terrier had given birth to a fine family and herself gone the way of those who do their duty to a race. In the straw at his feet Sabron saw a ratlike, unprepossessing little object, crawling about feebly in search of warmth and nourishment, uttering pitiful little cries. Its extreme loneliness and helplessness touched the big soldier, who said curtly to his man:

"Wrap it up, and if you don't know how to feed it I should not be surprised if I could induce it to take a little warm milk from a quill. At all events we shall have a try with it. Fetch it along to my rooms."

And as he retraced his steps, leaving his order to be executed, he thought to himself: The little beggar is not much more alone in the world than I am! As he said that he recalled a word in the meridional patois: Pitchoune, which means "poor little thing."

"I shall call it Pitchoune," he thought, "and we shall see if it can't do better than its name suggests."

He went slowly back to his rooms and busied himself at his table with his correspondence. Among the letters was an invitation from the Marquise d'Esclignac, an American married to a Frenchman, and the great lady of the country thereabouts.

"Will you not," she wrote, "come to dine with us on Sunday? I have my niece with me. She would be glad to see a French soldier. She has expressed such a wish. She comes from a country where soldiers are rare. We dine at eight."

Sabron looked at the letter and its fine clear handwriting. Its wording was less formal than a French invitation is likely to be, and it gave him a sense of cordiality. He had seen, during his rides, the beautiful lines of the Chateau d'Esclignac. Its turrets surely looked upon the Rhone. There would be a divine view from the terraces. It would be a pleasure to go there. He thought more of what the place would be than of the people in it, for he was something of a hermit, rather a recluse, and very reserved.

He was writing a line of acceptance when Brunet came in, a tiny bundle in his hand.

"Put Pitchoune over there in the sunlight," ordered the officer, "and we shall see if we can bring him up by hand."

CHAPTER II.

Julia Redmond.

He remembered all his life the first dinner at the Chateau d'Esclignac, where from the terrace he saw the Rhone lying under the early moonlight and the shadows falling around the castle of good King Rene.

As he passed in, his sword clanking—for he went in full dress uniform to dine with the Marquise d'Esclignac—he saw the picture the two ladies made in their drawing-room: the marquise in a very splendid dress (which he never could remember) and her niece, a young lady from a country whose name it took him long to learn to pronounce, in a dress so simple that of course he never could forget it! He remembered for a great many years the fall of the ribbon at her pretty waist, the bunch of sweet peas at her girdle, and he always remembered the face that made the charm of the picture.

Their welcome to him was gracious. The American girl spoke French with an accent that Sabron thought bewilderingly charming, and he put aside some of his reserve and laughed and talked at his ease. After dinner (this he remembered with peculiar distinctness) Miss Redmond sang for him, and although he understood none of the words of the English ballad, he learned the melody by heart and it followed with him when he left. It went with him as he crossed the terrace into the moonlight to mount his horse; it went home with him; he hummed it, and when he got up to his room he hummed it again as he bent over the little roll of flannel in the corner and fed the puppy hot milk from a quill.

This was painstaking operation and required patience and delicacy, both of which the big man had at his finger-tips. The tune of Miss Redmond's song did for a lullaby and the puppy fell comfortably to sleep while Sabron kept the picture of his evening's outing contentedly in his mind. But later he discovered that he was not so contented, and counted the hours when he might return.

He shortly made a call at the Chateau d'Esclignac with the result that he had a new picture to add to his collection. This time it was the picture of a lady alone; the Marquise d'Esclignac doing tapestry. While Sabron found that he had grown reticent again, he listened for another step and another voice and heard nothing; but before he took leave there was a hint of a second invitation to dinner.

The marquise was very handsome that afternoon and wore yet another bewildering dress. Sabron's simple taste was dazzled. Nevertheless, she made a graceful picture, one of beauty and refinement, and the young soldier took it away with him. As his horse began to trot, at the end of the alley, near the poplars at the lower end of the rose terrace he caught a glimpse of a white dress (undoubtedly a simpler dress than that worn by Madame d'Esclignac).

CHAPTER III.

A Second Invitation.

"I don't think, mon Capitaine, that it is any use," Brunet told his master.

Sabron, in his shirt-sleeves, sat before a table on which, in a basket, lay Michette's only surviving puppy. It was a month old. Sabron already knew how bright its eyes were and how alluring its young ways.

"Be still, Brunet," commanded the officer. "You do not come from the south or you would be more sanguine. Pitchoune has got to live."

The puppy's clumsy adventuresome feet had taken him as far as the highroad, and on this day, as it were in order that he should understand the struggle for existence, a bicycle had cut him down in the prime of his youth, and now, according to Brunet "there wasn't much use!"

Pitchoune was bandaged around his hind quarters and his adorable little head and forepaws came out of the handkerchief bandage.

"He won't eat anything from me, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, and Sabron ceremoniously opened the puppy's mouth and thrust down a dose Pitchoune swallowed obediently.

Sabron had just returned from a long hard day with his troops, and tired out as he was, he forced himself to give his attention to Pitchoune. A second invitation to dinner lay on his table; he had counted the days until this night. It seemed too good to be true, he thought, that another picture was to add itself to his collection! He had mentally enjoyed the others often, giving preference to the first when he dined at the chateau; but there had been a thrill in the second caused by the fluttering of the white dress down by the poplar walk.

To-night he would have the pleasure of taking in Miss Redmond to dinner.

"See, mon Capitaine," said Brunet, "the poor little fellow can't swallow it."

The water trickled out from either side of Pitchoune's mouth. The sturdy terrier refused milk in all forms, had done so since Sabron weaned him; but Sabron now returned to his nursery days, made Brunet fetch him warm milk and, taking the quill, dropped a few drops of the soothing liquid, into which he put a dash of brandy, down Pitchoune's throat. Pitchoune swallowed, got the drink down, gave a feeble yelp, and closed his eyes. When he opened them the glazed look had gone.

The officer hurried into his evening clothes and ordered Brunet, as he tied his cravat, to feed the puppy a little of the stimulant every hour until he should return. Pitchoune's eyes, now open, followed his handsome master to the door. As Sabron opened it he gave a pathetic yelp which made the capitaine turn about.

"He Won't Eat Anything From Me."

"Believe me, mon Capitaine," said the ordonnance with melancholy fatality, "it is no use. If I am left with Pitchoune it will be to see him die."

know his spirit, mon Capitaine. He lives for you alone."

"Nonsense," said the young officer impatiently, drawing on his gloves.

Pitchoune gave a plaintive wail from the bandages and tried to stir.

"As for feeding him, mon Capitaine," the ordonnance threw up his hands, "he will be stiff by the time . . ."

But Sabron was half-way down the stairs. The door was open, and on the porch he heard distinctly a third tenderly pathetic wail.

* * * * * * * *

That evening the Marquise d'Esclignac read aloud to her niece the news that the Count de Sabron was not coming to dinner. He was "absolutely desolated" and had no words to express his regret and disappointment. The pleasure of dining with them both, a pleasure to which he had looked forward for a fortnight, must be renounced because he was obliged to sit up with a very sick friend, as there was no one else to take his place. In expressing his undying devotion and his renewed excuses he put his homage at their feet and kissed their hands.

The Marquise d'Esclignac, wearing another very beautiful dress, looked up at her niece, who was playing at the piano.

"A very poor excuse, my dear Julia, and a very late one."

"It sounds true, however. I believe him, don't you, ma tante?"

"I do not," said the marquise emphatically. "A Frenchman of good education is not supposed to refuse a dinner invitation an hour before he is expected. Nothing but a case of life and death would excuse it."

"He says a very sick friend."

"Nonsense," exclaimed the marquise. Miss Redmond played a few bars of the tune Sabron had hummed, and which more than once had soothed Pitchoune, and which, did she know, Sabron was actually humming at that moment.

"I am rather disappointed," said the young girl, "but if we find it is a matter of life and death, ma tante, we will forgive him?"

The Marquise d'Esclignac had invited the Count de Sabron because she had been asked to do so by his colonel, who was an old and valued friend. She had other plans for her niece.

"I feel, my dear," she answered her now, "quite safe in promising that if it is a question of life and death we shall forgive him. I shall see his colonel tomorrow and ask him pointblank."

Miss Redmond rose from the piano and came over to her aunt, for dinner had been announced.

"Well, what do you think," she slipped her hand in her aunt's arm, "really, what do you think could be the reason?"

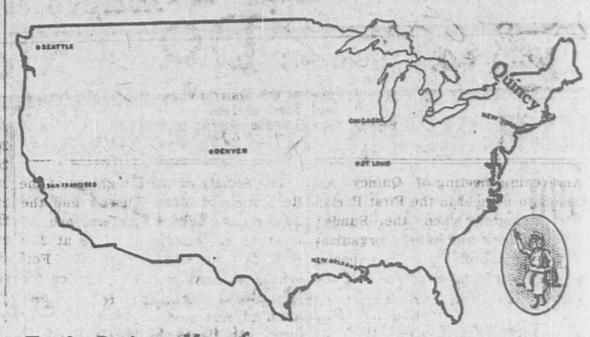

"Please don't ask me," exclaimed the Marquise d'Esclignac impatiently. "The reasons for young men's caprices are sometimes just as well not inquired into."

If Sabron, smoking in his bachelor quarters, lonely and disappointed, watching with an extraordinary fidelity by his "sick friend," could have seen the two ladies at their grand solitary dinner, his unfilled place between them, he might have felt the picture charming enough to have added to his collection.

(To be Continued.)

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

To the Business Men of
QUINCY

When a good salesman goes out after business, he first puts on a clean collar and gets his shoes shined. Then he looks like more business—and he's made a flying start toward getting it.

Likewise, a community can go after more business—and get it. The "clean collar and shiny shoes" of this town are the well-painted stores, the bright, cheery homes, the fresh, clean-looking buildings. The part paint plays in building up local pride cannot be put in figures—but its good effects are recorded on the local merchants' sales sheets. Buy good paint. We recommend and sell and pure linseed oil. We know of nothing else so satisfactory, so lasting and cheap in the long run. We sell all other paint necessaries as well. Get in touch with us today.

Beyer-Bauman White Lead
(Dutch Boy Painter Trade Mark)

WILLIAM WESTLAND

CONSULT ME

I can tell you your Past, Present and Future, advise you in your Business, tell you who are your friends, and help you recover lost articles. Private Readings Daily $1.00. Circle Readings Tuesday 3.00 and 8.00 P. M.. Developing Class Thursday 8.00 P. M.

Mrs. S. V. Odiorne
8 Mechanic St. off Revere Road
Tel. 1923 M or 327 M

What Local Clubs are Doing

News of Women's Clubs is a feature of the Daily Ledger every Wednesday. Secretaries of organizations should send notices of club activities, to reach the Club Editor not later than Tuesday night to insure insertion the next day.

An evening meeting of Quincy Alliance is to be held in the First Parish chapel tonight, when the Sunday school teachers and other organizations of the church will be special guests. The annual meeting will be held next Wednesday.

• • •

Mrs. Margaret J. Ward of Lowe street entertained the Riverside Club today for its regular business meeting and April 28th Mrs. Mary Oxford of 14 River street will be the hostess.

• • •

By invitation of the Wollaston Woman's Club a civics conference is to be held at the Wollaston Unitarian church Beale street, on Thursday beginning at 10.15 A. M. Subject for discussion, "The Need of Women Police Officers," speakers: Edwin Mulready, Commissioner of Labor; Miss Lucy Hutchins probation officer of Middlesex county; Mrs. Caroline Engler, president of the Lynn Woman's Club, 2.15 P. M. "Community Welfare and Town Management," speaker, George F. Willett of Norwood. Reports of clean-up campaigns will be given by Mrs. Ralph B. McDaniel, Mrs. Fred Richards Lufkin and Mrs. Ida F. Wilson. Box luncheon.

• • •

The Wollaston Club is to have an "original afternoon" at its meeting next Tuesday afternoon in charge of Mrs. Electa M. Sherman the parliamentarian and lecturer. She will be assisted by Addie Rice Heath, whistling soloist.

• • •

Children of members of the Wollaston Woman's Club are looking forward to the children's party to be held April 24 in the parish house of the Wollaston Unitarian church.

• • •

Wednesday, April 21, at 2 P. M. there will be an art conference in the Massachusetts Normal Art School, Boston. All clubwomen who are interested in art instruction for teachers and art training for the industries of the State are invited. Representative work of the students will be shown. The directors, James Frederick Hopkins, will speak of the purpose and achievement of the school, which is now on the eve of a further extension and development that will be of vital importance to the industrial art of Massachusetts. Helen A. Whittier, chairman.

• • •

A literature conference is to be held in the lecture room of the Boston Public Library by invitation of the Boston Ruskin Club, April 26 at 2.30 P. M. A new study outline, "The Immigrant as Seen Through His Own Literature," will be presented. Rev. A. M. Rihbany, author of "A Far Journey," and Charles Zueblin will speak on phases of the subject. All are welcome. Mrs. True Worthy White, chairman.

• • •

An enjoyable afternoon each season of the Atlantic Shakespeare Society is the annual musicale and review which will be held next week Thursday with Mrs. Charles L. Coe, as chairman of the program. The annual meeting will close the season May 6.

• • •

Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick and Mrs. John F. Welch are chairmen of next week's meeting of the Friday club at the home of Mrs. Welch. Manners, customs and traditions of the Londoner will make up an interesting afternoon's study.

The Society of the Daughters of the Revolution of Massachusetts and the Junior Sons and Daughters are to meet on the holiday April 19 at 2.30 P. M. at Hotel Vendome, Boston. Following a short memorial service for Mrs. Mary Wright Chapman a program of reading, music and solo dancing will be followed by general dancing.

• • •

The next meeting of the Saturday Auction Bridge club will be held April 24, with Miss Clarice Doble on South street.

• • •

At the meeting Thursday at 10 A. M. at Adams Academy of the executive board of the Quincy Federation of Women's Clubs the matter of associate membership will be taken up also plans made for the annual meeting.

• • •

Next Tuesday afternoon the Katharyn Crane Memorial Club is to meet with Florence Mead of Granite street.

• • •

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

There was a double attraction at the meeting Tuesday afternoon of the Quincy Women's Club, a fine exhibition of Indian blankets, baskets, etc., by the Art committee and a program by the Civics committee telling of the aims of the Norfolk County Farm Bureau recently organized.

Mrs. Chandler W. Smith president called the meeting to order and after reports by the clerk and treasurer announced various meetings by the State Federation.

Miss Edith Randall, announced a mass peace meeting to be held Sunday afternoon April 18 in the First Parish church to be addressed by Dr. William Jay Hudson and urged club members to attend and bring all their family. She also invited all to attend an equal suffrage meeting April 20 at 3 P. M. at the home of Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann, Goffe street which would be addressed by Mrs. A. Watson Lester. Whether for or against women should attend and hear what is to be said in favor so as to understand both sides of the question.

Mrs. George L. Badger announced an afternoon with Margaret Deland, Saturday, April 24 at the home of Mrs. Theophilus King, Adams street under the auspices of the King's Daughters and asked those present to take tickets.

Mrs. Wilson Marsh for the Philanthropy committee said Miss Whitaker of the High school asked the co-operation of the club in encouraging the girls in their sewing. Orders would be taken for embroidery, etc. An exhibition, of their work would be shown at the next club meeting.

Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann for the Girls' club made an appeal for a sewing machine which reecived an immediate response. She told how the club was prospering in its new home in the Adams academy building. An outdoor fete is to be given by the girls on the Academy grounds to raise funds, also there would be dramatics at Alpha hall May 10, all of which the co-operation of the club is asked.

Mrs. N. S. Hunting for the Visiting Nurse committee said $100 had been received from the Wollaston Woman's club and expressed her thanks for the gift.

Mrs. Edward S. Tenney said there were a few unsold copies of Mrs. Gurney's anniversary poem.

The recommendation of the incoming officers that "a member may serve on only one standing committee" was given its second reading and the club voted that it be added to the standing rules of the club.

Announcements of a song recital by Mrs. Helen Allen Hunt; grand opera to be presented at the Harvard Stadium; an opera talk by Havrah Hubbard at Braintree ended the business for the afternoon.

The musical program was a piano solo by Miss French which was so much enjoyed that she was obliged to respond to an insistent encore.

Mrs. H. H. Kitson, chairman of the Civics committee introduced the speakers of the afternoon, the first being County Commissioner Richardson, president of the recently organized Norfolk County Farm Bureau, who told of its advantages to consumer as well as producer.

Mr. Richardson said if we thought about it we would see that most things come from the farm, food and clothing factories could not run if it were not for the farm, therefore we are dependent on the farm for existence. In Massachusetts agriculture has declined. Not many years ago there was one cow to every 13 inhabitants, now 1 to 39 which was a wrong ratio as population has increased and had to go outside for what could just as well be produced in the state. The farmer or producer only received 30 cents of the dollar paid by the consumer and it was the aim of the Bureau to deal directly with consumer for the mutual benefit of both.

Experiment stations had been established by the agricultural colleges to work along various lines, trees, the soil, things adapted to certain localities, etc. The state has got the land, also the market but lacks people to give the soil intelligent cultivation, hence the abandoned farms.

The Norfolk County Farm Bureau asks the co-operation of bankers, business men, Boards of Trade, Women's club, granges and the farmers in a back to the soil movement. To send experts to show how to raise fruit, poultry, dairy products and also into the homes for better home-making.

The state had empowered the County to give dollar for dollar for that raised by the bureau for the work and $1,000 had already been given. Norfolk County had made a start and ask for co-operation personally and financially

Hampton County in two years increased its product one-half a million dollars—a wonderful result of expert work. Last year the state furnished $75,000,000 of product and imported $300,000,000 which have just as well been produced in the state.

Mr. Richardson said it was possible to make good on the farm and the aim of the Bureau is in the line of inducing people to stay on the farm and become producers, and show the people how to get the best food for the least money; to bring consumer and producer together.

Miss Mildred Huston, Overseer of the Poor asked the co-operation of the club for her work to act as friendly visitors, especially as visiting housekeepers to visit homes to show family how to buy and live well and cheaply.

The next speaker W. A. Munson, agent of the Bureau gave special information regarding his work. He said it made him laugh to be standing before a women's club as he was right from the farm. The government was interested in and working for the farmer. The state had inspection stations all working for community betterment; better schools, landscape gardening, care of trees, healthful professions, etc., and now the farm bureau which worked in districts or counties. For effective work the Bureau has got to be an organization of business men and farmers. If community is interested and a call for help is sent in an expert is sent to study conditons and demonstrate how to improve farms and land, what the soil is best adapted to raise. He favored sending boys to summer camps at the agricultural colleges. In closing Mr. Munson asked the co-operation of club members for the Norfolk County Farm Bureau. He could be reached Saturday and Monday mornings at his office in the Registry of Deeds building, Dedham or by letter.

The last speaker Mr. Hammel, the tree expert, has addressed the club before and has done much work in the city on trees. He said he would like to see Quincy get the prize this year in the tree planting contest. Mr. Hammel said the value of a shade tree was reckoned at $1.00 per square inch. Some people and localities are thus much wealthier than they had any idea of. He touched upon the harm done by moths and the need of vigilance and expert advice and service.

At the close of the meeting the speakers were busy for some time giving personal advice to many desirous of further details for there is much interest in agriculture many club members being interested in a small way in producing for pleasure or home consumption. Mrs. H. H. Kitson, chairman of the Civics committee is a di-

(Continued on Page Five.)

CLUB EVENTS

APRIL.

15—Gen. Fed. Civics Con., Wollaston
20—W. W. C.
20—K. C. M. C., Florence Mead
21—Quincy Alliance, First Church Parlor.
24—W. W. C. Children's Party.
26—Junior Friday, Mrs. Sturtevant.
26—Charitable Tea, Mrs. Brewer.
27—Q. W. C., Clubhouse.
28—L. B. So., Wol. Cong. Church.
28—Riverside Club, Mrs. Oxford.
29—Hospital Aid, Mrs. G. H. Wilson.

$198 De LUXE SPECIAL 4-ROOM OUTFIT $198

$20.00 CASH, $3.00 A WEEK, OR $12 A MONTH

THE MOST VALUABLE AND BEAUTIFUL GIFT EVER OFFERED TO NEW ENGLAND BRIDES BY SUMMERFIELD'S—
The House of Dignified Credit.

Oneida Community Par Plate Silver

A handsome oak chest containing 26 pieces, Bridal Wreath Design, Par Plate, guaranteed for 10 years by the Oneida Community, Ltd., as well as the SUMMERFIELD CO.

This chest of silver is worth and considered cheap at $15.00 and will be given absolutely free to every purchaser of an outfit of $150.00 or over, whether for cash or on SUMMERFIELD'S Dignified Credit Plan.

Spring Brides will do well to see this grand offer of Community Par Plate Silver.

We Specialize in Complete HOME OUTFITS

WE FURNISH TWO ROOMS as low as..... $48 Terms $5 Cash—$1 a Week

THREE ROOMS CAN BE FURNISHED as low as..... $69 Terms $6 Cash—$6 a Month

Four Rooms Can be furnished as low as $98 Terms $10 Cash $2 a Week

Five Rooms Can be furnished as low as $135 Terms $15 Cash $2.50 a Week

Five Rooms known as our Vanderbilt Outfit $246 Terms $25 Cash $15 a Month

Large Overstuffed LIBRARY CHAIRS or ROCKERS $20.00 Values for $12.48 $2.00 Cash, $1 a Month.

These Chairs and Rockers are very comfortable, and luxuriously covered in Dark Green, Brown or Black O'Bannon, Imitation Leather, far superior to cheap, genuine leather in wear and looks, and would be considered cheap for $20.00. Our price, $12.48

PILGRIM KITCHEN CABINET The Greatest Value Ever Offered $8.00 Terms $1.00 Cash, $2.00 a Month

OLD GLORY VALUED $2.50 FOR 98c

Iron Socket, Cord and 10-Foot Pole with Knob

Summerfield's FLAG SALE

The Flag is 8 feet long, 5 feet wide, is guaranteed fast color, the stripes are sewed with soft cotton bunting; the pole is 10 feet long with knob, hardwood and oiled, with complete rope outfit to raise and lower same; the heavy iron bracket can be fastened anywhere to hold the pole. This is a regular $2.50 outfit; 500 only in this sale, so order at once; a charge of 15c for delivery in 10-mile district will be made, but prefer to have you call and take with you.

98c

Mail Orders Filled. We do not pay the freight.

SUMMERFIELD'S, 727-735 Washington Street, Boston

A bread made after a fixed formula by expert bakers, sold by Grocers under its trade-mark name "PETER PARLEY." It is wrapped for protection.

Quincy E. E. GRAY CO. Wollaston
Two Stores
Tel. 327 M Quincy Reliable Groceries Tel. 1586 M Quincy

Fine Old Sharp Cheese	per lb 22c
Best Creamery Butter	per lb 31c
Strictly Fresh Eggs	per doz 25c
Graham Crackers	per lb 9c

JOINT MEETING.

A joint meeting of the Planning Board and the special committee of the city council was held Tuesday evening in the office of the Mayor at City Hall to discuss the matter of a waiting room in City Square. While the committee and Board are not ready as yet to give out what has been accomplished it is expected that a report will be submitted soon

You need the Ledger every day.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

The PROBLEM of GOOD MILK

All persons do not understand what is meant by good, safe milk. Some believe that the milk with a deep cream line is desirable, whereas, the Doctor knows that Holstein Milk, although containing little cream is often more desirable for babies, partly for this reason, or perhaps because of the method of production

The real criterion of a good milk is its wholesomeness This depends upon the conditions at the dairy, and the special care given it until it reaches the consumer. Scrupulously clean and healthy cows, clean and healthy dairymen, rapid cooling, and protecting the milk, constant dairy and laboratory inspection are required. Furthermore safety is assured when the dealer pasteurizes his supply.

THE ELM FARM MILK COMPANY OF DORCHESTER offer pure Family Milk, and exceptional Nursery Milk at prices often charged for ordinary milk Speak to the salesman, or call Dor. 2100. 6-1 mo.

SCHOOL NURSE REPORT.

The report of the School Nurse for March is as follows:

995 Children examined for various causes.

90 Home visits made.

232 Cases referred to School Physician.

12 Cases of corrected vision.

1 Case of corrected hearing.

5 Operations for tonsils and adenoids.

2 Trips to Forsythe Dental Infirmary, once for examination, once for operation for tonsils and adenoids of 2 children.

5 Trips to Eye and Ear Infirmary with children with defective vision and hearing.

181 Names on list which I have not had time to call upon.

A schedule has been arranged so the School Nurse visits every school once a week.

Arrangements have been made with the Forsyth Dental Infirmary to take care of the teeth of the children who cannot afford to go to a private dentist, but that dist is so full they could not give us an appointment until about April 15, and then take in ten children once a week, which would take the School Nurse away from the school one-half a day every week but I have secured the services of one volunteer who will do it.

The District Nurse has made 18 visits in cases which have needed surgical dressings in their homes, that otherwise would not be attended to, or it would be done in a very incompetent or unclean way which might bring very unfavorable results.

The co-operation of the Board of Health, Overseers of the Poor, Associated Charities, Catholic Club and District Nurses has been excellent.

Marion Jackson

VISITING NURSE REPORT

The Visiting Nurse report for March is as follows visits 361; metropolitan visits 76; carfares $12.45; fees $25.25; doctors calling 12; first calls in obstetrics 5; patients 75; free 42; paying 21; metropolitan visits 12. The districts visited were Quincy, West Quincy, South Quincy, Wollaston, Quincy Point, Norfolk Downs and Houghs Neck. Among the donations were 3 gowns from Music Ten, Kings Daughters and old linen from Mrs. Z. S. Arnold.

You need the Ledger every day.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

COAL PRICES REDUCED

STOVE	$7.25
EGG	$7.25
NUT	$7.50
FURNACE	$6.50
PEA	$5.50
LEHIGH EGG	$7.50
LEHIGH STOVE	$7.50
SHAMOKIN STOVE	$7.50
FRANKLIN STOVE	$8.50

Coal carried in baskets 25 cents per ton.
Bituminous Coal for Steam Use
We recommend Nut size for stove and range
Stove size for small furnaces and heaters
Egg size for large furnaces and heaters.
We advise placing your orders now as prices usually advance about July 1st.
Coal delivered in Quincy, Wollaston, Atlantic, and Norfolk Downs.

Frost Coal Co.
488 Neponset Ave., Neponset
TEL. 1500 DORCHESTER
April 3 Wed. & Sat. until July 1

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

FOR SALE AT
BOSTON—South Station after 3.30.
QUINCY—Ledger Office, Hancock st.
Brown & Co., 1395 Hancock St.
C. F. Carlson, oppo. Depot.
Thompson's Waiting Room, City Sq.
H. P. Kittredge, City Square.
J. P. O'Brien, 1595 Hancock st.
Mrs. Madden 16 Quincy ave.
WOLLASTON—Shunk's News Stand.
NORFOLK DOWNS—Branschied & Marten.
Bugbee & Neil, Hancock St.
ATLANTIC—Branschied & Marten.
NEWCOMB SQUARE—Stetson Pierce.
QUINCY POINT—H. H. I. SMITH.
McGilvray Pharmacy cor. Chubbuck
Clyde T. Cox, Washington St.
J. C. M. Sharpe, 538 Washington St.
E. H. Lowe, Washington St.
George E. Sprague, Cor. River St.
SOUTH QUINCY—Litchfield, Water st.
A. Person, 92 Granite St.
Miss C. Booth, Brooks Avenue.
BREWER'S CORNER—Emma Lark.
F. J. Pierson, 149 Granite St.
WEST QUINCY—Edward F. Drohan.
John C. Belanger.
HOUGHS NECK—A. H. Dunham, and his newsboys.
NEPONSET—Thompson's at the Quincy car barn.
NORTH WEYMOUTH—D. A. Jones Lea street.

QUINCY DUO ARE VICTORS

Olindy and Smith Defeat Opponents

A margin of 48 pins gave Olindy and Herb Smith the ten string match over Ducky Holmes and E. Grant, both of Boston, at the Wardwell alleys Tuesday night. Grant was substituted for J. Mahoney who was unable to appear The score was 1979 to 1931.

Olindy had high single of 139 and a high total of 1041. A return match will be rolled at the Roll-away-alleys, Somerville, Saturday night.

The local contest:

Olindy	86	93	98	130	101
	107	89	101	139	97	—1041
Smith	99	127	91	103	90
	99	81	78	82	88	— 938
Grant	76	97	85	106	82
	85	99	80	122	80	— 911
Holmes	77	98	115	121	107
	89	97	99	97	119	—1020

NEW TANDEM WIN EASILY

Farrell and Coates, a new tandem, beat Ingehower and Hamilton at the Wardwell alleys Tuesday evening in a ten string match, 1808 to 1687. Ingehower was high with 119 and was tied for totals with Coates. The summary:

Farrell	76	110	95	102	94
	97	82	82	80	86	—904
Coates	77	91	101	88	78
	89	91	100	85	99	—899
Ingehower	119	90	98	75	83
	77	85	89	88	95	—899
Hamilton	77	80	83	80	80
	74	84	70	79	81	—788

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

WALCO
ASPHALT SLATE
SHINGLES
ATTRACTIVE DURABLE
EASILY LAID NO PAINTING
TWO COLORS
RED and GREEN
COOLER THAN
SLATE SHINGLES
FIRE PROOF
WATER PROOF
Come in Today
Ask for Sample
NATHAN AMES
5 Granite St.
USE CARBORUNDUM
SHARPENING STONES

McLEANS LEAD MACS LEAGUE

Roll Final Matches Tuesday Night

FINAL STANDING.

Capt. McLean	74	46	40197
Capt. Nicoll	72	48	38492
Capt. McKenzie	64	58	39979
Capt. Smith	57	63	38261
Capt. Mavers	48	72	38732
Capt. Hughes	45	75	39717

High team single, Capt. Mavers 573.
High team total, Capt. Mavers 1573.
High individual total, J. Dell 369, Hastings 342, W. McLean 328.
High single, J. Dell 149, M. Nicoll 129, David Drummond 127.

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

Capt. Mavers 4—Capt. Nicoll 0.
Capt. McLean 3—Capt. McKenzie 1
Cpt. Smith 3—Capt. Hughes 1.

NEW CITY RECORDS.

Team total, Capt. Mavers, 1573.
Team single, Capt. Mavers, 573.

Capt. William McLean's team won the championship of the Clan MacGregor league in the final matches at the Coliseum alleys Tuesday night. The Nicolls five which led the league the last half of the season finished in second place.

The closing matches were the most spectacular ever seen in the city for the Mavers five in defeating and causing the Nicolls team to drop into second place established new all city records which will probably stand for some time. The records were 1573 for a team total and a team single of 573. The other records made throughout the season were not broken and will remain.

Prizes for the records, championship and other features will be awarded at the annual banquet to take place within a short time. The Mavers quintette in staking a claim to the team single and total records, forfeited its right to the bobby prize for it jumped into next to last place, changing places with the Hughes five. Hastings with a total of 342, became second man in that department, beating out McLean and causing the elimination of Peter Dackers who had 322.

The scores of the record team follows:

Welsh	101	111	105	317
Mavers	111	114	89	314
Troupe	89	122	91	302
Birnie	106	100	92	298
Hastings	105	126	111	342
	512	573	488	1573

The summaries of the final matches:

CAPT. MAVER.

Welsh	101	111	105	317
Maver	111	114	89	314
Troupe	89	122	91	302
Birnie	106	100	92	298
Hastings	105	126	111	342
	512	573	488	1573

CAPT. NICOLL.

Craig	97	90	89	276
Michael	79	109	93	281
Stewart	86	79	107	272
J. Michael	94	88	104	286
Nicoll	88	129	91	308
	435	495	484	1423

CAPT. McLEAN.

Paterson	77	77	75	229
Mannock	89	110	74	273
McLeod	80	93	86	259
McLean	89	103	130	322
Dell	104	117	85	306
	439	500	450	1389

CAPT. McKENZIE.

Hunter	96	88	83	267
Gordon	80	81	89	250
McKenzie	87	103	83	273
Russell	76	98	76	250
Drummond	117	97	92	306
	456	467	423	1346

CAPT. SMITH.

Davidson	89	78	86	253
Maver	97	101	90	288
Smith	97	105	88	300
Stewart	112	85	85	282
Martin	94	92	81	267
	489	461	430	1390

CAPT. HUGHES.

Hughes	97	102	85	284
Mitchell	74	98	78	250
Muer-	88	101	98	287
O'Neil	97	82	82	261
Dackers	81	87	81	249
	437	470	424	1331

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING
WALL PAPER FOR SALE
KUSTAA RASANEN
121 Copeland St., West Quincy
Tel. Con. 19-6

SPORTING COMMENT

Tack Hardwick showed up well in the Harvard-Braves game Monday. He hit both times at the bat and got two putouts in left field. Incidently one of Tack's hits was a triple drive which helped bring over a score.

The first golf tournament of the season [illegible] the ladies of the Women's [illegible] Association was played at Montclair Monday. Team B beat Team A, 8 to 6.

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

The officers for the Junior department of the Women's club have been elected and are as follows: president, Miss Helen Considine; vice president, Miss Hazel Sprague; secretary, Miss Catherine Ward; treasurer; Miss Edith Stocker; directors, the Misses Marion Hathaway, Veronica Wachtler, Mary Hendry, Claretta Pope and Elizabeth Guilfoyle. The nominating committee consisted of: Miss Mary Chase chairman, Miss Claretta Pope, Miss Elizabeth Guilfoyle, Ruth Mooers and Veronica Wachtler.

The High school baseball team opens its season today along with the big leagues. Its opponent is the Wellesley high team and the game takes place at Wellesley.

Miss Ella Smith of the Belcher school teaching staff has returned to her duties after an absence of a week on account of illness

Several of the members of the Senior class of the High school, who are going to take part in the graduation program, were the guests of Mrs. J. Malcolm Forbes Tuesday evening when they went to Brookline and heard Prof. Jay William Hudson of the University of Missouri talk on: "New Internationalism." Those in the party were the Misses Bena G. Erhard, Alice Damon, Josephine Rice Parker B. Field, Jr., and Kenneth D. Johnson.

The fourth annual dance of the Thursday evening club will be held tomorrow evening.

THREE HUNDRED KILLED

Villa Forces Get the Worst of Battle at Matamoros

Brownsville, Tex., April 14.—In a sortie by 1500 of the Carranza garrison at Matamoros, a heavy blow was inflicted upon the Villa army besieging them.

General Navarro, second in command of the Villa troops, was dangerously wounded and the Carranza consulate claimed the Villa dead numbered 300. The sorties drew from the Villa forces their long-promised shelling of Matamoros, but the firing ceased when the Carranza garrison returned to the trenches with the positions of the armies virtually unchanged.

Sensational Jump in Steel

New York, April 14.—Another spectacular rise in Bethlehem steel, which sold up to 155, and then dropped to 123, closing at 125, was the feature of the market.

EXECUTRIX NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executrix of the will of Abner Lincoln Baker, late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

(Address)
ABBIE F. BAKER, Executrix.
April 7, 1915 3t April 14-21-28

Arthur B. Foster
CARPENTER and BUILDER
14 Bay View St., Quincy Point
Telephone Connection
31-1m

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St. near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.
will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.
OFFICE AT
96 WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY
Tel. 613

CASE OF BANK PUT INTO PRINT

Charge That Williams Has Misinterpreted Statements

COUNSEL STUDIES PAMPHLET

Bad Temper Said to Have Been Shown by Comptroller of Treasury —Interesting Legal Duel Promised in Court Between Brandeis and Bailey In Suit For Injunction

Washington, April 14.—Louis D. Brandeis has been engaged by the department of justice as special counsel for Comptroller of the Currency Williams in the suit in equity brought against that official by the Riggs National bank.

The writ for a temporary injunction is returnable in the supreme court of the District of Columbia Friday, when the reply of the government may be filed. Twenty days thereafter are allowed for the filing of a brief relative to a permanent injunction against the comptroller restraining him from "persecuting" the Riggs National bank.

A document which will figure importantly in the case is a printed compilation made by the bank of the correspondence between the institution and Williams. This sets forth the whole story. The pamphlet was published in January and a demand of the bank examiner for a copy of it was refused by counsel for the bank, who intimated, however, that a request for a copy of the document as a courtesy would not be denied. This request was made and the copy furnished, subsequently being sent by the comptroller's office to Brandeis.

The statement of Williams is being studied carefully by counsel for the bank with a view to reply. One of the charges against Williams is that in this correspondence he frequently misinterpreted statements made by the bank to his office and embodied the erroneous deductions in his own correspondence.

For example, the comptroller is said to have quoted the bank as declaring that "nearly all" of certain real estate notes had been paid, when, as a matter of fact, the bank had informed him that months before the last of the notes had been liquidated.

As an illustration of the temper in which some of the letters of the comptroller were conceived, it is cited that when President Glover of the Riggs bank was in attendance upon a son who was seriously ill in a hospital at Montreal, Williams began one letter with the words, "As your president has gone to Canada."

It is expected that Williams will be required to take the stand in this suit and the duel between ex-Senator Bailey of Texas, counsel for the bank, and Brandeis promises to be a lively one.

Secretary McAdoo of the treasury and Comptroller Williams are made defendants in proceedings begun in the District of Columbia supreme court by the bank, which alleges that these officials have combined and conspired to wreck that institution. Temporary and permanent injunctions to halt the alleged conspiracy and to prevent the comptroller from making what the bank charges are unlawful demands for special reports of various kinds are sought from the court.

GUILD WILL PROBATED

All the Estate of Late Statesman is Bequeathed to Relatives

Boston, April 14.—The will of the late Curtis Guild, former governor and former ambassador to Russia, was probated at the Suffolk registry of probate.

In disposing of two of his properties to his brother and sister the testator wrote:

"Inasmuch as my wife is amply provided for, and as the following described property came to me from either my father or my mother, I give all my real estate and all my interest in the Anchor Linotype Printing company to my sister, Sarah Louisa Guild, and to my brother, Courtenay Guild, in equal shares."

The Anchor Linotype Printing company publishes the Commercial Bulletin, founded by Guild's father and owned solely by the testator.

The will provides that Guild's interest in the Kinney Manufacturing company shall go to his brother. The rest of his estate of every nature is to go to his wife absolutely. There are no public bequests.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

The board of directors of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway company of Texas authorized the expenditure of $1,500,000 for the purchase of forty-two locomotives and for rehallasting.

The Washington Gospel Mission opened a clinic for "fiends" whose drug supplies have been cut off by the "anti-dope" law.

Fourteen-year-old James Dinan was run over and killed at Boston by an auto truck loaded with granite monuments.

Founders' day was celebrated at the University of Virginia by the unveiling of a bronze statue of Thomas Jefferson.

COUNTING THE COST

"I OFTEN wonder," said a local merchant recently, "why our bill for toll calls isn't larger each month, when I stop long enough to consider the use we make of the telephone, both at the store and at home. There isn't a town where I do business but seems nearer to me than even next door. I can beat many competitors by selling my goods over the telephone before they can get there by train; I can get into every town in New England all in one day, tell about my stock, quote my prices, make my deals and sit right here with my eyes on the home store all the time. Most of the people I sell to like that way of doing business.

"As for the folks at home, they keep in touch with all their friends everywhere, and my daughter there at Wellesley isn't a bit lonely, for she has mother's counsel, and it's the same way with Bob in Boston.

"Do you think I would let that telephone out of my reach? No siree! It's not only money in my pocket in my business, but we are in the center of a big world of real live people, just because we can call up any one, anywhere."

Every Bell Telephone is a Long Distance Station

NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY
G. W. ONWAY, District Manager.

April 7-3t 7-14-21 Ob. 17-1w

State House News

Former Governor Foss has set the politicians guessing by his statement on the prohibition question. There is some feeling that he may make an attempt to get the Republican nomination on a dry platform.

A sub-committee of the committee on railroads has nearly completed a draft of the bill which meets some of the objections that have been made by the bill reported by the trustees.

Curtis Guild, Jr., was the first Governor of Massachusetts to lie in state in the Hall of Flags. It is particularly fitting that this should be so as the Hall of Flags was given its name by Governor Guild.

There is a resolve before the legislature to provide for a commission to investigate military training in the schools. There is some objection being made to it on the ground that this is not a good time to take steps which seem to look toward military preparedness.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—the staff of life for you and your wife. Get a loaf today.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S
Tel. 1827-W Quincy

—COAL—
ANNOUNCEMENT
April 1, 1915.
Full coal bins are a source of real satisfaction. We are filling our bins as rapidly as possible with FRESH MINED COAL. By placing your order now YOU can take advantage of the LOW PRICES announced in the schedule below. Coal will positively ADVANCE IN PRICE later. There will be no Further Reduction.
We should be glad to call and talk Coal with you if you will notify us.

PRICES FOR CASH

Franklin Egg and Stove	$8.50 per ton
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75 per ton
Shamokin Stove	7.50 per ton
White Ash Broken	6.50 per ton
White Ash Egg	7.25 per ton
White Ash Stove	7.25 per ton
White Ash Nut	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Broken	6.75 per ton
Lehigh Egg	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Stove	7.50 per ton
Pea	5.50 per ton

25 cents per ton extra where coal is carried in. Orders taken for these Prices are for delivery by July 1, 1915.
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc.

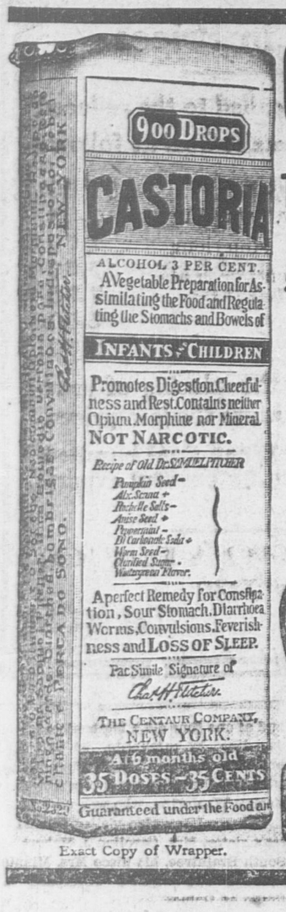

W. H. HASLETT
31 Bridge Street, Quincy
Tel. Quincy 1092 W
Plastering and Cementing.
Concrete Houses
Outside Stucco Work
Cement Walks, Steps and Cellar Floors.
PETROSILO sanitary and fireproof flooring—guaranteed to wear longer than hard wood floor—no joints one continuous piece put over any floor.
Feb. 25- W-S. tf

EDWARD J. FEGAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
830 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK QUINCY.

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

Prescott Apartments
For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service. Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

BE WISE
FOOL THE FLIES
HAVE YOUR SCREENS
RE-COVERED NOW
TELEPHONE OR WRITE
HOLMES & HALL
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1898 W

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

JOHNSON AND CO.'S PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT

Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.

IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.

Be Sure My Name is on The Band

Yours, JOHNSON

Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

TWO TANZER GIRLS PLEAD NOT GUILTY

Sister Rae, Two Lawyers and Detective Under Indictment

New York, April 14.—Miss Rae Tanzer's two sisters, Dora and Ruth, entered pleas of not guilty to indictments charging them with perjury when they swore on the witness stand that their sister's suitor was James W. Osborne, former assistant district attorney of New York.

Federal Judge Cushman ordered the accused girls held in $2500 bond each.

Rae Tanzer, Maxwell and David Slade of the law firm of Slade & Slade, her attorneys in the breach of promise suit she brought against Osborne, and Albert J. McCullough, a detective employed by the Slades, were indicted late yesterday by the federal grand jury, which has been investigating the filing of the suit.

Miss Tanzer is charged with using the mails in an attempt to defraud, while the Slades and McCullough are charged with conspiracy.

The annual banquet of Col. Abner Packard camp, S. of V., will be held in Boston on the evening of Thursday, April 29.

SEWING CLASS MEETS.

The Young Ladies Sewing class of the Swedish Congregational church met Tuesday evening with Mrs. Peter Gustafson on Euclid avenue. During the first part of the evening there was a business session at which time the committee appointed to draft by-laws made its report and the by-laws as reported were unanimously accepted. Two young women were admitted to membership, Miss Esther Nyman and Miss Alice Lindholm.

Following the business meeting there was a sewing session, during which Rev. Mr. Sporrong, the pastor, read several poems. The meeting which was attended by about thirty young ladies closed with a social hour during which light refreshments were served.

PARENTS OF BOY.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rasmussen of Brighton are the proud parents of a baby boy born Monday. Mrs. Rasmussen before her marriage last April, was Miss Martha Woodward, daughter of Arthur C. Woodward of Robertson street, West Quincy. She was very popular among the younger people of the city and was a graduate of Woodward Institute. Mr. Rasmussen is manager of an automobile concern in Boston.

We have the largest and most complete stock of Oriental Rugs in Boston and can always show you a greater assortment than you can find elsewhere.

JOHN H PRAY & SONS CO

646-650 Washington St., opp. Boylston St.

All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy

REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY

Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

AMONG THE CLUBS

(Continued from Page Three.)

director of the County Bureau, being a woman of many talents.

Before and after the meeting the rooms were thronged with those desiring to inspect the exhibition arranged by the Art committee, Mrs. T. Ray Blanchard, chairman. There was a beautiful collection of rugs, baskets, beads and pottery from the Indians of North Dakota, Arizona and Wyoming and from Porto Rico. Many of the articles were for sale and found ready buyers.

The meeting was an interesting and instructive one throughout and well attended.

* * *

WOLLASTON WOMAN'S CLUB.

The last of a series of conferences held under the auspices of the Associated Charities cooperating with the Quincy and Wollaston Women's clubs was held Monday afternoon in Wollaston school hall. Mr. Bettinger spoke on Milk and Baby Hygene. Surely every one was impressed with the vast amount of good done and the great help it is to mothers. Mr. Bettinger said their work was to make sick babies well and to teach mothers, motherhood. Boston stands second in infant mortality, New York being first.

Thursday an all day Massachusetts State Federation Civics conference will be held in the Unitarian parish house beginning at 10.15. It is hoped the conference will be largely attended, as much good will surely be gained from so many splendid speakers. During the noon recess the guests will have the opportunity of visiting the many points of interest in the city.

Saturday April 24 there will be a children's party in the Unitarian Parish house. Each member is entitled to bring a child. All those intending to do so are asked to notify Mrs. Joseph K. Barber on or before April 20. This encludes the waiting list also.

The nominating committee have reported the following nominees:

President—Mrs. William E. Rowe, Mrs. Richard F. Trumper.

Vice President—Mrs. Harry N. Thomas, Miss Harriet E. Turner.

2nd Vice President—Mrs. Herbert H. Albee, Mrs. Edward E. Jameson.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. Charles W. Estes, Jr., Mrs. Leonard W. Newell.

Corresponding Secretary —Mrs. Boyd F. Bowels, Mrs. Edward O. Woodward.

Treasurer—Mrs. Charles M. Bryant, Miss Helen F. Foster.

Custodian—Mrs. Percy L. Davidson, Mrs. Harry A. Stevens.

Directors—Mrs. Joseph K. Barber, Mrs. Oscar A. Blaisdell, Mrs. Samuel Chapman, Mrs. James E. Curtin, Mrs. George B. Damon, Mrs. Arthur T. Homer, Miss Fanny L. Johnson, Mrs. Samuel H. Nichols, Mrs. Helen M. Record, Mrs. Eugene H. Sprague.

The next meeting of the club will be held in the Unitarian Parish house next Tuesday. The program will be an original one, with Mrs. Harry A. Stevens as chairman.

* * *

ELEMENTARY TEACHERS.

The Quincy Elementary Teachers' Association held its regular meeting April 8 at Coddington school hall.

After a short business meeting "A Lover's Stratagem," a dashing little play in six scenes, was admirably presented by members of the association, before a large and delighted audience. It was the first entertainment to which guests were invited, a strictly feminine affair, all members of the sterner sex being barred from the audience. Miss Waterhouse, the president, welcomed the members and their guests in a short address before the play.

During the evening boxes of delicious chocolates were sold by six young ladies, appropriately costumed. The cast was as follows;

Nathalie Gwynne—Anna DeAvellar
Mother Gwynne—Alice Munster.
Stella Murdock—Ruth Kemp.
Madge—Elizabeth Powers.
Uncle Hinsdale—Olive Moody.
Rowland Hinsdale—Mabel E. Lovejoy.

Music was furnished by the White Trio. The evening's entertainment was in charge of Miss Cassie Thayer, chairman of the entertainment committee, while Miss M. Lovejoy directed the theatricals.

It was announced during the evening that the money collected in the charity envelopes was voted to the Associated Charities of Quincy, as a donation.

This Association under the able management of its president and committees, finds itself in a very promising condition. Splendid meetings of an educational and of a social nature have been held both this year and last, and it is confidently expected that the good work will continue in the future.

The present list of officers are: President—Miss Lillian Whitehouse, vice president—Miss Mary Murray, secretary—Miss Alicia Elcock, treasurer—Miss Mary Kapples.

A. P. Q. C. OF D. A. R.

The Abigail Phillips Quincy chapter D. A. R. held its April meeting with Mrs. Frank Burgess of Highland avenue Wollaston, Monday afternoon. The regent, Mrs. I. F. Waterhouse presiding. She spoke of the loss to the chapter in the death of Mrs. Walter E. Simmons and the members rose and stood in silent tribute to her memory.

The chapter continued its benevolent work by a contribution to the American International college at Springfield to assist in the education of a young coal miner who was seriously injured while at work and who wishes to become a preacher.

The program of the afternoon was under the direction of Mrs. E. E. Jameson and consisted of music and readings. Mrs. Mabel Burgess Hart of West Medford gave an extract from "War Brides" entitled "The Message to the Emperor" in a most dramatic manner; Mrs. L. P. Wright sang "Without Thee" accompanied by Mrs. Barry at the piano and very graciously responded to the applause by singing again; Miss Olive Chapman played a violin solo, with her sister Miss Edith Chapman at the piano.

Mrs. Hart gave the experience of a precocious child in earning money to fill her missionary boxes and her impersonation was most clever. She was obliged to respond to an encore. Mrs. Wright sang "Knowest Thou the Fair Land," which showed to good advantage her splendid voice. She also sang "The Rosary" very effectively, and Miss Chapman closed the program with a violin solo.

The hostess Mrs. Burgess assisted by the Misses Chapman and members of the chapter served cakes and ices.

* * *

HUERTA STUDYING MEXICAN SITUATION

Liquid Refreshments Said to Be Confined to Port Wine

New York, April 14.—For a professed casual tourist enjoying himself by traveling, Victoriano Huerta is exceedingly busy studying the Mexican situation. This, at least, was the declaration of Abraham Ratner, his business associate and a member of the Huerta party.

Carefully guarded by hallmen, bellboys, Ratner and Jose Delgado, his private secretary, Huerta remained in his luxurious suite at the Ansonia hotel. He steadfastly refused to receive visitors.

A throng that besieged the Huerta apartments were amused when icemen bore a great cake of ice through the door of the suite, while a waiter led the van with a tray of over-sized whisky glasses. Ratner explained that Huerta was confining himself to port wine, before the question had been asked.

IN MEMORY OF LINCOLN

Flags to Be Half-Masted on Anniversary of His Death

Washington, April 14.—President Wilson signed the following executive order, providing that fitting observance be given to the anniversary of the death of Abraham Lincoln, who died fifty years ago tomorrow:

As evidence of the profound affections of the American people for the memory of Abraham Lincoln, it is hereby ordered that the executive offices of the United States shall be closed and that the national flag be displayed at half-mast upon all federal buildings and at all forts and military posts and naval stations, and on all vessels of the United States, and that the representatives of the United States in foreign countries shall, in like manner, pay appropriate tribute to his memory, on Thursday, April 15, 1915, the fiftieth anniversary of his death.

The owners and masters of all merchant ships of the United States are requested similarly to display the national flag at half-mast.

MARINES' AID INVOKED

Singapore Riots Quelled After Many Mutineers Are Killed

London, April 14.—Landing parties of marines from five allied cruisers, co-operating with the military and civil forces at Singapore and later reinforced by six companies of British territorials, have suppressed the Singapore riots, according to an official statement issued here.

All but eleven of the mutineers have been accounted for, it was announced; 614 have been captured and fifty-two killed, with scarcely any casualties to the allied forces.

"Trail Hitters" Live Outdoors

Philadelphia, April 14.—Ministers here have completed investigation and disclosed that many cards signed by "Trail Hitters" at Sunday's tabernacle contain addresses in cemeteries or parks.

Great Disaster In Japanese Mine

Tokio, April 14.—An accident in a coal mine near Shimonoseki resulted in the loss of 236 lives, according to information received in Tokio.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

KEEP POSTED ON THE PEOPLE'S WANTS — CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING — WHY WORRY LET THESE ADS LIFT YOUR BURDEN

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—A tenement of 4 rooms to small family, rent $8.00. 19 Carrolls Lane. Apply Carrolls Lane. 13-6t

TO LET—3 new flats, Quincy Point: four rooms and kitchenette, hot and cold water, set range, gas, separate cellars, low rent. Germain avenue, cor. Washington street. Small families only. Good neighborhood. E. R. Stone, 12 Avon Way. Ready now. 13-6t

TO LET—Small tenement on 11 Francis Court, all modern improvements. Rent $18.00, apply 11 Francis Court. 13-6t

TO LET—Lower flat in two-family house. Living room, dining room, bedroom, kitchen and bathroom, pantry, good closets and cellar. Coal and gas range, furnace, electric lights. Every convenience. Rent $20. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 13-tf

FOR RENT—In Quincy Centre, opposite Adams Academy, house 7 rooms, and bath 18 Faxon avenue, suite 6 rooms and bath, every modern improvement Tel. 414-M, Weymouth. 7-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms, with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 7-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of two family house, 5 rooms and bath, all improvements, 3 Bradford street, Quincy Adams. Apply to William Duggan, Bradford street or telephone Quincy 724-W. 7-12t

TO LET—Half house of six rooms and large laundry to adult family, conveniences, large garden. Rent $20. Apply to George H. Newcomb, 21 Adams Bldg. or M. M. Newcomb, 39 Gay street or phone 1990 Quincy. 2-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house. 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2. Quincy or 110 South street, Boston. Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET—Upper and lower flats 91 and 93 Revere road 4 and 6 rooms and bath. To small families. $20 and $18. Fred M. Torrey, 25 Spear St., Tel. 202-1 Quincy. 27-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 5 rooms, one attic room and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished, 97 Goddard street, near Quincy Adams Station. 15-tf.

TO LET—Tenement of three rooms $7.50 per month. Good place for hens. James Moorhead, 20 Curtis street. Tel. 599-1. 15-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 908 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Flats, Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

TO LET—Four room tenement, large lot of land. Rent $8. Apply 33 Bates avenue. 14-1t

TO LET—Three rooms at 32 Newcomb place. Apply at 32 Newcomb place. 14-3t

TO LET—Tenement of 7 rooms, all improvements. Rent $25. Apply 233 Washington street. 12-6t

TO LET—Flat in new house, all modern improvements. Apply 81 Richie road. April 12-6t

TO LET—To small family of aguits, several sunny attractive half houses, all improvements, centrally located, $21, $23 and $25 per month and water rates. Tel. Quincy 174-2, Charles H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. 10-12t

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements. 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 13-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—New two flat house on Kittredge avenue. Each flat has 5 rooms and bath, all modern improvements, coal and gas range, electric lights. Inquire at 11 Ring avenue off Washington street. 13-6t

FOR SALE—20 foot open boat, 4 H. P., Victor engine, reverse, cushions, etc., T. E. Baker, 21 Baxter Street. 13-6t

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E. R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-tf. L. P.

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

LEWIS N CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
Old Furniture Refinished
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

FOR SALE

Great Bargain. In Quincy, near car line, House, Barn, one acre land, $3,200. Very easy terms.
FRANK FESSENDEN CRANE
19 Temple St., Quincy, Mass 9-tf

CARPENTER AND BUILDER
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
All Work Given Prompt Attention
W. R. LOFGREN
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 2613-3

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.

Dandy bungalow in E Braintree for sale: small pay't., bal. as rent: see this at once.

Houses
I. F. McIntire
Greenleaf Blk
Tel. Quincy 1665-W.

Reasonable rents, near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.

1-1 yr.

LOST

LOST—Boston Terrier dog, female, 10 months old, color white with big black spot over left eye, and small spots on body. Reward for information which leads to recovery of dog or upon return to Andrew Johnson, 7 Gothland street, Quincy. 12-3t

LOST—On Friday, from Boston on the 1.44 train, or in Quincy, a gold brooch with white enamel one large diamond inserted. Liberal reward if brought to Ledger Office. 12-3t

FOUND

FOUND—A stick pin, owner may have by calling 1919-W. 14-3t

WANTED

WANTED—Gardening, grading and jobbing by day or job. Mr. Bellington, 17 Edwards street, Quincy. 13-6t

WANTED—Dressmaking either to go out to customers or at home 7 Park street, South Weymouth. Telephone 425 Christin Nelson. 20-10t S. and W

WANTED—Large room and board with refined private family, for couple and 3 year old child. Quincy Point or vicinity. Particulars by letter, Patton Baker's Yacht Basin, Quincy Point. 12-3t

WANTED—House or building lot near Payne street, South Quincy, or house at Quincy Point, or Quincy avenue. Owners only need answer. Write E. W. Ledger Office. 12-3t

WANTED—General maids, also Scotch cook. References required. Miss Frances Wilson, Quincy Employment Bureau, 1247 Hancock street. Tel. 1757-W. 12-3t

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

TO LET
Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

TO LET
After May 1, Store or Stores No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.
Shop or Factory—24 Granite St. 22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld. Small front office.
Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop —ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall —28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms with care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water, $2.00 to $5.50 per week.
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building —City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for R. F. Keith.
Greenleaf Block. ('Phone 21666) Quincy

BETTER THAN 6 %

PREFERRED SHARES

— OF —

THE CITY REALTY TRUST

PRICE PAR $100

CUMULATIVE PARTICIPATING AND NON-TAXABLE

Over quarter of a million ($250,000) paid in.

Strong surplus account steadily increasing.

Annual certified Audit and Appraisal.

A common stock bonus on a limited number of Preferred shares.

FOR BOOKLET, general information, etc.,

Address

QUINCY A. LOTHROP

10 Post Office Square, BOSTON, MASS.

TRUSTEES

FORRIS W. NORRIS

CHESTER I. CAMPBELL

LOUIS H. PARKHURST

April 10-3t–10-14-17

WANTED

EXPERIENCED STITCHERS

STEADY WORK

APPLY TO

SOVEREIGN WAIST CO.

192 GRANITE ST.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR ANNUAL BALL

The Loyal Ladies' Clan MacGregor, No. 1 are completing plans for their twenty-fourth anniversary Costume ball which will be held in Quincy Music Hall Monday evening. The program consists of a promenade concert from eight to nine followed by dancing until two. Music will be furnished by the Granite City orchestra. The floor will be in charge of Miss Katherine Williams and she will be assisted by Miss Elizabeth Grassick and the following aids: Evelyn Cowe, Jennie Grassick, Huena McLeod, Florence Williams, Mabel Schofield and M. Belle Stronach. Mrs. Margaret Ross is president of the reception committee, Mrs. Belle Grassick, vice president. The committee of arrangements is headed by Mrs. Margaret Ross, assisted by the following: Mrs. Effie Scarborough, Mrs. Margaret Mundie, Mrs. Bella Ross, Mrs. Margaret Hall, Mrs. Henrietta Marr, Mrs. Christina McLennan, Mrs. Katherine Williams, Mrs. Margaret Allen, Mrs. Mary Cowe, treasurer and Miss Elizabeth Grassick secretary.

RECEIVE CONGRATULATIONS.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel E. Duggan of East Milton are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son Tuesday. Mrs. Duggan before her marriage was Miss May Keenan of West Quincy. "Dan" was the star player on the Quincy A. A. basket ball team when it won the championship of the state. He is also a prominent member of the St. Mary's C. T. A. & M. R. society.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Flower and Vegetable Seeds

All Kinds of Garden Tools and Fertilizers

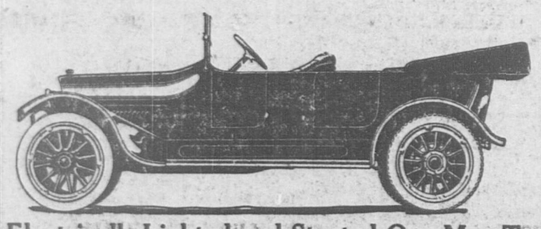

Everything to make Your Garden the kind of garden you want it to be.

WILLIAM WESTLAND

The Hardware Man

1597 Hancock St., - - Quincy, Mass.

THE 1915 REO IS HERE

Electrically Lighted and Started, One Man Top
Increased Wheel Base, 34x4 Tires, Crown Fender, Improved Upholstering, Increased Power.

	F.O.B. Factory		F.O.B. Factory
4 cyl. - -	$1050	2 ton Truck	$1650
6 cyl. - - -	$1385	Light Delivery 1500 lbs.	$1075
4 cyl. Runabout	$1000	Light Delivery Chassis	$1000
4 cyl. Coupe	$1575

Reo the Fifth - - the Incomparable Four is on Display at our Garage. Call and see This Car.

Ask for Demonstration

CENTRAL GARAGE and SUPPLY CO.

Corner Washington and Pond Sts.

QUINCY

Tel. 1035 W C. W. Hodgkinson, Prop.

16-1mo.

CLAIMS GIRL WAS BITTEN

Judge Avery Hears Suit of Seven Year Old Girl

Seven year old Mary E. Lamb was a witness in a civil case heard by Judge Avery Tuesday in the district court. Little Mary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lamb of 9 Faxon road.

The respondent was Mrs. Helen E. Talbot of Brook street, Norfolk Downs owner of the champion Irish setters "King" and others, all of which are blue ribboners whenever they are shown.

The suit was brought to recover damages for a dog bite alleged to have been received some months ago by the little girl. The witnesses included Dr. Fred A. Bartlett, city physician, and Dr. Harvey A. Field of Mattapan.

The plaintiffs claimed the girl was biten by one of Mrs. Talbot"s setters and the defense maitnained that the injury on the body was not a bite but a wound, caused by a fall.

The physicians said it could have been caused by either a bite or a fall but neither of them found tooth marks that would ordinarily appear following a bite.

Mrs. Talbot discussed various breeds of dogs. In testifying she said the dogs had not bitten the little girl and that she could plainly see that to be the case but that the little Mary ran away, apparently frightened.

Judge Avery made no finding in the case although he intimated he would favor the plaintiff with a nominal amount because the girl had been frightened.

Atty William H. Hurley represented the petitioners and Atty Everett W. Crawford the respondent.

The dogs, probably as valuable as any of their breed i nthe coutnry, were brought to court and arrived just as Judge Avery left the bench. The respondents, if they thought it necessary, were to introduce the dogs to the court.

BARELY SAVE LIVES.

(By United Press)

San Francisco, April 14—Sinking rapidly, while men, women and children passengers fought for life preservers, the excursion steamer Monarch early today raced toward San Cablo. The 65 passengers and crew had barely been landed safely over improvised gangways after the ship went ashore off Selzy landing when she slipped back into deep water and sank out of sight.

SEVEN TABLES IN PLAY.

Seven tables were in play Tuesday evening at the German whist given under the auspices of Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps, with Mrs. Elwood M. Litchfield in charge. Mrs. N. A. Jones was successful in carrying off the prize for the best score of the evening. The other prize winners were James W. Pierce, Mrs. Agnes Fletcher Mrs. Mary M. Thomas, Mrs. Harry W. Tirrell and Mrs. Levina Dorley.

WILL DISALOWED.

The will of Laura Bryant, late of Quincy was disallowed for the reason that it contained but two witnesses, the law providing that instruments of this kind must have three signatures. In the will Linda A. Lincoln was named as executrix and the estate a small one was left to Amanda B. Hidden, Linda A. Lincoln and Mary B. Lincoln. They were also given her trinklets.

FREE!! FREE!!

Any person bringing this coupon

It is worth 25c cut it out to my store any day this week will receive a bottle of

HEARN'S RECONSTRUCTIVE TONIC

For 59c Regular Price 75c

I want you to know the value of this wonderful Spring tonic, which is the reason for this special offer. CUT THE COUPON TO-DAY.

Chas. C. Hearn

DRUGGIST

City Square, Quincy

12-3t

GRANITES WIN BOWLING SERIES

The final match between the Manhattan S. C. and the Granite A. C. was rolled Tuesday evening at the St. Mary's alleys was won by the latter team by 128 pins. The match was witnessed by over 100 rooters and the crowd was very enthusiastic. Pat Hagerty, captain of the Granites rolled a high string of 119 and also had a high three string total of 306. The Granites state they are willing to meet any local amateur team.

The score:

GRANITES
Knight	84	85	96	265
Joyce	90	86	104	280
Murphy	106	99	89	294
Saville	97	91	96	284
Hagerty	106	81	119	306
	483	442	504	1429
MANHATTANS.
Fitzgerald	102	76	75	253
McGrath	77	94	64	235
Buckley	83	83	114	280
Caravaglio	76	92	91	259
Donavon	113	79	82	274
	451	424	426	1301

WILL CONTINUE BUSINESS.

The granite business of the late William T. Spargo, will be conducted as usual, as Judge Flint of the Norfolk County Probate court has authorized William J. Spargo and Nellie A. Spargo, executors of the will and who were associated with their father in the conduct of the business, to carry on the business for the benefit of the heirs of the estate.

BRIEFS

Leon N. Randall is home from Dartmouth for the spring vacation.

The bid for printing the annual reports of the city officers was awarded this morning to Pratt & Co.

Miss Ednah M. Sanborn entertained classmates from the Normal Art school at her home on Warren avenue Tuesday.

Miss Margaret Goodspeed, Wellesley, 1917 and Miss Alta Grant, Northfield, 1915, have returned to school after the Easter recess.

"The Pear Is Not Ripe"

Bourrienne asked Napoleon before the expedition started if he had really determined to risk his fate in Egypt. "Yes," was the reply. "If I stay here I shall have to upset this miserable government and make myself king. But we must not think of that yet. The pear is not ripe. I have sounded, but the time is not yet come. I must first dazzle these gentlemen by my exploits."—Table Talk and Opinions of Napoleon Buonaparte.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Foy's Two Stores
Granite Shoe Store
William Westland
Sovereign Waist Co.
Nathan Ames
Wanted Ten Boys
E. E. Gray Co.
B. H. Nerse
Quincy Pianoforte School
City of Quincy

Another Pet Idea Smashed!

By MOSS.

Of course you know our dear old friend, the ichthyosaurus, is as dead as a doornail.

He's about as out of date as the idea that newspaper advertising doesn't pay.

Newspaper advertising absolutely pays under two conditions: When the newspaper is a good medium and when the advertising is properly displayed and truthful.

It pays the merchant and it pays the buyer. Experience has proved this a million times.

This paper is a good medium.

SERVICES FOR MR. MAHAR

Funeral services for Michael Mahar in St. Mary's cemetery Tuesday afternoon were conducted by Fr. Michael J. Owens, pastor and Fr. Walter A. Quinlan, curate, of St. John's parish.

The death of Mr. Mahar, who was one of the most popular of the South Quincy residents, at the contagious branch of the Massachusetts Homoeopathic Hospital at Brighton took place Monday. Last Thursday Mr. Mahar was treated for appendicitis and was out of doors Friday. Saturday he developed the black measles and on Sunday pneumonia set in. He was taken to the hospital that day and died on Monday.

The funeral was attended by delegations from Div. 5, A. O. H. Quincy Herd, Benevolent Order of Buffaloes, the tool sharpeners branch of the Granite Cutters International Association, with all of which he was affiliated.

Fr. Patrick A. Hayes of Milo, Me., a life long friend of the deceased was unable to reach Quincy in time for the services and George Faircloth of Schenectady, N. Y., another intimate friend arrived several hours before and was among those present.

The bearers were James Dougherty, John McMann, Joseph Kelly, Patrick Monahan, Edward Faircloth and Frank Clinton.

COCHATO FIVE ARE WINNERS

The Cochato bowlers beat the Wampatucks at the club alleys in Braintree in a candle pin match Tuesday evening by 13 pins. They also took two of the three strings. Brewer of the winners high total of 313, his strings equaling or bettering the century. E. S. Hollis took the high single with 123. The good strings were made. The summary:

COCHATO.
Woodsum	97	104	91	292
J. E. Arnold	94	100	109	303
E. S. Hollis	123	89	98	310
Lawley	101	79	98	278
W. I. Arnold	96	106	84	286
	511	478	480	1469
WAMPATUCKS—Hingham.
W. E. Field	89	91	108	297
Hallett	108	83	86	277
Breen	87	112	89	288
Henderson	97	82	99	278
Brewer	109	104	100	313
	499	472	482	1453

PEOPLE WILL DECIDE.

Wilbur F. Forrest
(United Press Correspondent)

London, April 14—The British cabinet will take no action to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors. After several conferences the ministry has decided to leave the question to the people through their representatives in the House of Commons. Premier Asquith made the announcement today.

In response to a query Secretary of State for the Colonies Harcourt intimated that the government would consult Canada and other self governing colonies when the time to discuss peace shall arrive. He had no observation to make regarding the possibilities of early peace.

MUCH IMPROVED.

Robert T. Johnson of Maple street, who has been critically ill, was much improved this noon although not yet out of danger.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

BIRTHS

DUGGAN—In East Milton, April 13, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Daniel E. Duggan, formerly of Quincy.

RASMUSSEN—In Brighton, April 13, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rasmussen.

DEATHS

BAXTER—In Ketchum, Idaho, April 7 Paul P. Baxter in his 80th year. Funeral services at Hall's Undertaking Rooms, 1489 Hancock street Thursday, April 15, at 2.30 P. M. 14-t

PETERSON—April 13th, Marjorie, beloved daughter of Carl and Mary Peterson of Quincy, in her twenty-first year. 14-1t

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service

1495 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

Reduction in Prices.

Your attention is called to the reduced spring prices on Anthracite Coal as follows

Lehigh Stove and Egg	$7.50
White Ash Stove and Egg	7.25
White Ash Nut	7.50
Shamokin Stove and Egg	7.50
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75
Pea	5.50
Franklin	8.50

We recommend the placing of your order at this time to insure the low prices.

Nothing but All Rail Clean Coal handled and delivered right by careful experienced drivers.

QUINCY COAL CO.

OFFICE and YARD

Penn St., Quincy Tel. 47-M

Ap. 7 1mo.

PAUL K. BAXTER.

Paul P. Baxter of Ketchum, Idaho, who passed away at his home April seventh, in his 80th year was born in Quincy, April 21, 1835. At the age of 14 years he went to California in 1849 with his father. They were gone some two or three years. A few years later he went to California again staying until 1876 when he returned to see his dying father.

A year or so later he married Miss Katherine C. Averil, and took his bride to California. They traveled some few years and then settled in the old pioneer state of Idaho where he has since made his home.

Mr. Baxter was in the hotel business and at one time did a big business, and was liked by everybody. In 1911 Mr. and Mrs. Baxter visited Quincy, to be with Mrs. Baxter's sister, the late Mrs. George W. Morton, who was very ill at the time. They also visited Mr. Baxter's sister, Mrs. Caroline J. Hobart of South Braintree, his niece Mrs. Minnie E. Lowe and nephew Thompson B. Crane of Quincy.

Mr. Baxter lost his wife and companion about two years ago and had not enjoyed good health since. The body reached Quincy today and services will be held Thursday afternoon.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER

Two Great Shoes

FOR TWO BIG DAYS

Low Shoe Day tomorrow and Patriots Day April 19th should bring your thoughts to Pumps and Oxfords.

LA FRANCE SHOE for WOMEN

The Elite

The assortment found here will satisfy anyone desiring high grade footwear at a medium price.

Granite Shoe Store

EVERYDAY GROCERIES

To our regular list of customers we want to add a special number for our regular trade. We want to give such fine satisfaction that we will increase our usual patronage. We want to sell choice groceries at the lowest prices in this community and give the very best of service. If you have never tried us, suppose you do so now.

NOTE THESE

Blue Label Ketchup 19c bot

Van Camps Baked Beans 17c can

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1930

FOY'S 2 STORES

STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 89 QUINCY, MASS., THURSDAY EVENING, APRIL 15, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

AVE MARIA COUNCIL HOLDS 5TH GRAND BALL

Elaborate Decorations Feature At Annual Affair

The fifth grand ball of the Ave Maria council was held Wednesday evening in St. Mary's Hall and was attended by the largest numberint h history of the council. The affair will be remembered by those present as one of the most enjoyable times of the season.

The council, although enjoying an enviable reputation for brilliant and artistic decorations, this year exceeded all expectations.

Around the hall there was a white lattice work interwoven with green sprigs and supported by white columns which were also decorated with green foliage. The stage presented a fine appearance. A white fence extended from each end of the stage to the center where a small opening was left and around this there were placed potted palms and fir trees.

The hall was draped with red and white bunting and at the entrance to the hall a large emblem of the Knights of Columbus was worked into the decorations. Above the stage was a large portrait of Christopher Columbus. Seated within the foliage on the stage Hamilton's orchestra rendered the music of the evening.

The guests of the evening included Rev. Thomas R. McCoy, pastor of St. Mary's church, Rev. William J. Duffy, assistant at St. Mary's church, Mayor Chester I. Campbell, State Deputy Louis Watson, Peter M. Sullivan, G. K., Quincy council and Joseph V. Cuffe, G. K., Braintree council.

The guests started to gather in the hall shortly after eight o'clock and the first hour was spent in renewing acquaintances while Hamilton's orchestra rendereda delightful concert with the following program:

Marcia—Show Boy Fillmore
Selection—Sari Stern
Xylophone Solo—Rag Baby Remick
Overture—Orphans Offenbach
March—The American Trumpeter Lake

During the intermission a buffet lunch was served in the lower hall. The menu was as follows:

Salmon Salad
Chicken Salad Rolls
Assorted Sandwiches
Frozen Pudding
Bombe Glace Cafe Parfait
Harlequin Macaroons
Lady Fingers
Orange and Lemon Sherbet
Light and Fancy Cake
Coffee

Burleigh & Martin, caterers.

After intermission dancing was again in order until two o'clock. The floor was in charge of James E. Geary, G. K. as floormarshal, designated by a purple sash. The floor director was Charles F. Buckley designated by a lavender sash. The assistant floor directors were Edward Monahan, George Reinhalter and George A. McDonald, who wore red sashes. The aids, who were designated by helitorope sashes, were James Donovan, Philip Galigan, Edward Reardon, Joseph LeClaire, Henry Donaher, Joseph Barry, Daniel Falvey Charles Reardon, Angelo Bizzozero and Joseph Daley. The members of the reception committee, who wore nile green sahes were William H. Teasdale, chairman; Bernard O'Neil, Robert Teasdale, Charles J. McGilvray Dr. John H. Ash, Dr. John T. Reynolds and Councilman John D. Smith.

QUEEN ESTHER CIRCLE.

The Queen Esther circle of the Hall place M. E. church held its April meeting at the home of Miss Addie and Miss Ethel Newcomb on Hall Place Wednesday evening. A good number of the girls were present.

Miss Rita Hunter was elected treasurer to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Hilda rancis.

The program for the next two meetings are out and are very neat affairs. The May meeting will be held at the home of Miss Jennie Manhire on Albertina street.

The Circle voted to have the fiscal year close June 30, in accordance with the other circle.

tA the close of the program refreshments were served by the hostesses and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

LEAVES FOR DES MOINES.

Chief Yeoman Robart H. Lenson, who has been attached to the U. S. Birmingham has been detached and assigned to recruiting duty at Des Moines, Iowa. He left for there today, accompanied by his wife, who before marriage was Miss Margaret Bisson of Gay stret. Mr. Lenson's home is in St. Louis, where they will make a short visit before going to his new station.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
OF QUINCY, MASSACHUSETTS, ANNOUNCES
A FREE PUBLIC LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
By VIRGIL O. STRICKLER, C. S.
OF NEW YORK CITY
Member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.
AT WOLLASTON, MASS.
IN WOLLASTON SCHOOL HALL, BEALE ST. FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 16 AT EIGHT O'CLOCK.
You and your friends are cordially invited to be present.

10-1w P & O L-14-3t

ATTENTION
— OF —
TAX PAYERS

Bring in a list of your property, both real and personal, as requested by notices posted throughout the city.

Blanks for this purpose may be obtained upon application at the Assessors' office, Room 7, City Hall. All questions in said blanks should be answered and sworn to before one of the Assessors, or the clerk of the Board, and should be on file in the Assessors' office on, or before, May 15, 1915.

Justices of the Peace cannot administer such oath; and a Notary Public may do so only in case of non-resident tax payers.

The filing of the list requested within the time, and in the manner stated, is the only means whereby you can save all your rights, if your property is overvalued by the Assessors.

Board of Assessors, Quincy, Mass.
JOHN J. O'HARA, Chairman

April 1-6t-1-8-15-22-29—May 6

"OLD ACRE FOLK" DELIGHTS MANY

Dorcas Society of Universalist Church Gives Successful Play

EVENING FULL OF MIRTH

"Old Acre Folk" was the title of a comedy drama presented in the vestry of the Universalist church Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Dorcas society. The comedy was given in two acts, and while there were some incidents during the progress of the play, that would bring tears to the eyes of the tender-hearted, there were so many amusing situations, that for a larger part of the evening the audience was convulsed with laughter.

While the audience was assembling an orchestra, composed of Miss Emma Walker, Miss Martha Hanson, John F. Hyland, Mr. Walker and Miss Edith Hyland rendered some selections and Misses Bernice G. Stoddard, Susie M. Harvey, Alice M. Parmenter and Mildred E. Stoddard, in large pink sun bonnets and Mother Hubbard wrappers, circulated about the vestry with baskets of candy on their arms, which they disposed of for a small price.

The scene of the play was laid at the Deacon Evans' farmhouse in the village of Old Acre Folk. The curtain rises disclosing the Deacon's wife, Emma Eliza, busy preparing dinner for the men folks, who are hard at work in the hay field. Mary Jane the frolicksome daughter is assisting and she is made supremely happy when Ebenezer Ham, a country boy, her lover, is invited to dinner. Many laughable situations occur during the preparation of that dinner, not the least of which is the introduction of a tiny pig and a red hen. What made it more amusing was the feeding of the pig with a nursing bottle.

The deacon's son Jaffray is in love with Lizabeth Ann, Squire Playfair's daughter, but when he broaches his suit to the squire, he meets with a cold refusal. While bemoaning his fate Lizabeth Ann enters having just arrived from the city She is in love with Jaffray and finally gets him to confess. The love scenes between Jaffray and Lizabeth Ann and between Mary Jane and Ebeneezr are frequently interrupted by the entrance of the deacon's wife and by Priscilla Prim, the Squire's housekeeper and the busybody of the village.

No play would be complete without a little villainy and so it was with this The villain is Job Hardy, who made his escape from jail, to which he had been sentenced, largely through evidence given by Jaffray. He returns to the village in the disguise of a tramp, but is recognized by Jaffray. There is a fight in which the tramp is worsted and he departs vowing vengeance. This he accomplishes by placing money, which he has stolen from the squire's house in Jaffray's pocket where it is later found.

Of course Jaffray is accused but denies his guilt and the Deacon stands firmly by him and the first act closes.

Six months are supposed to have elapsed between the first and second act Act two is in the evening in the Deacon's "settin room." Mother Evans is anxiously awaiting the arrival of Jeffray who has gone in search of the tramp. Affairs move swiftly for the squire, becoming angry because Lizabeth Ann will not marry the man of his choice, turns her from home and she is found by the deacon wandering in the snow, and is taken to his home where she declares her love for Jaffray and the end her belief in his innocence. Of course in the end everything comes out all right.

It is of course easy to criticise but in doing so it should be remembered that all those who took part were amateurs. As a whole the play ran smoothlyl, although at times it dragged a little. Some of the byplay could well have been eliminated to advantage. Although the scenes were laid in a country village some of the modern phrases used, while timely, were hardly in keeping with what one would expect to find in a country town. They however served to enliven the play and create much amusement.

(Continued on Page Two.)

Abraham Lincoln

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF LINCOLN'S DEATH

At Ford's theatre in Washington on the evening of April 14, 1865 John Wilkes Booth, the actor, entered the private box wherein were seated President Abraham Lincoln and his party, and fired the shot which caused the death of the great man who had guided the nation through the awful years of the Civil War. But a few weeks before he had been reelected President and but five days before he had rejoiced in common with all the North, over the surrender of Gen. Lee at Appomattox, which brought the war to a close. He felt he had earned the right to a little relaxation and therefore attended the theatre together with his wife, General and Mrs. Grant, and a few other friends. General Grant and his wife left before the tragedy occurred.

Physicians saw that the president's death must swiftly follow and, accordingly, he was carried to a house opposite the theatre and died at 7.22 the following morning, fifty years ago today. At noon on the 15th Andrew Johnson assumed the Presidency, and active measures were taken which resulted in the death of Booth and the execution of his principal accomplices The funeral of President Lincoln was conducted with unexampled solemnity and magnificence. He was buried at Oak Ridge cemetery, near Springfield, Ill., on May 4.

In accordance with the order of President Wilson government officials throughout the country and U. S. representatives in foreign lands are observing the day. Flags on government buildings are at half mast. Government inspectors at the Fore River shipyard are not on duty today, neither are workmen in the Charlestown navy yard and other navy yards. Flags on state buildings are at half mast in accordance with the order of the Governor and in accord with his recommendation Mayor Campbell ordered public buildings in Quincy to take similar action.

DIV. 5, HOLDS ANNUAL BALL

Large Numb r Pass Very Enjoyable Evening

The annual ball of Division 5, A. O. H., was held Wednesday evening in Quincy Adams and Franklin halls, South Quincy. Both halls were packed to the doors, over 500 being present.

The concert from 8 to 9 was very good including a Medley of Irish airs by the orchestra, solos by Miss Bessie Burke and Miss Mildred Donaher and Irish Jig a reel dance by Coughlin Bros. All were forced to respond to encores.

Dancing commenced promptly at 9 o'clock and continued till 2 o'clock, music in Quincy Adams hall being furnished by Wilson's orchestra. A special feature of the occasion was Irish Jig and Reel dancing in Franklin hall, music being furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Higgins and Fiddler John Hallisay. During intermission refreshments were served in the banquet room.

The floor was in charge of John J. Donahue, Assistant Floor Director Wm. J. Histen, Chief of Aids, Timothy Sullivan, Aids Thomas Walsh, James McArdle, James Scanlon, James Brennan. Frank Wade, James Donahue, John McMahon, Joseph Kelly, Charles Costello, Wm. Carey, Daniel Mannix, Dennis Coughlin and John J. Fitzgerald.

Among the invited guests present were state treasurer of the A. O. H., Dennis J. Slattery of Weymouth, County President James White of Walpole, Country Secretary James Knox of Weymouth, Edward Finn president of Division 4 of West Quincy, Edwin Shea president of Div. 17 of Atlantic, and Miss Mary E. Gleason president Division 31 of Newton Lower Falls.

The committee on arrangements were John J. Donahue, chairman, James Scanlon, secretary, Edward Powers, treasurer, assisted by a score of members from Division 5, A. O. H., and also a number of the members of Div. 10, Ladies auxiliary.

There will be a meeting of the presidents of the different divisions of the A. O. H., in Franklin hall Sunday afternoon to complete the arrangements for the afternoon of May 2nd when the National President James McLaughlin will lecture to members of this county.

SAVOIE—HUGHES.

Edward Savoie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Savoie of Summer street Wednesday evening took as his bride Mary Fullerton Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hughes of 89 Hascock street, Braitnree.

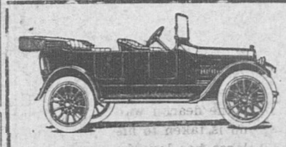

The ceremony was performed at the St. Francis parish house, Braintree, by Fr. Hugh Blunt, pastor. Miss Josephine Savoi, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and Edward D. Hughes, brother of the bride was best man. A reception followed at the home of the bride.

The bride was dressed in a blue travelling suit and wore a hat to match. Her attendant was also dressed in blue.

The bride is a popular girl in Braintree and Quincy. The groom is employed b ythe Quincy Eelctric Light and Power Co.

St. Ambrose court, M. C. O. F., will hold a Memorial Mass in St. Mary's church for the deceased members April 19th. The mass will be celebrated at eight o'clock by Rev. William J. Duffy, assistant at St. Mary's church.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

JACKSON
Model 46
THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL. SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER
"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"
Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT
$1375
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

SAYS THERE IS NEED OF WOMEN OFFICERS

Women Attend Civics Conference at Wollaston

Edwin Mulready of the state board of labor and industries was the first and principal speaker this morning at the civics conference of the State Federation of Women's clubs at the new parish house of the Wollaston Unitarian church. The Wollaston Woman's club was the hostess for the conference.

Mrs. Ropes, president of the Wollaston club, welcomed the visitors and gave an interesting sketch of Quincy historical places, inviting the delegates to visit some of them during the noon recess.

The subject for discussion was "The Need of Women Police Officers."

Mrs. Hiram W. Fisher, chairman of the civics department of the State Federation then took charge of the meeting and introduced Mr. Mulready

He said he had received a letter from Mrs. Fisher asking him to speak on a phase of probation work. "I couldn't speak about anything else. I have been in the work for sixteen years and feel competent to speak on that subject. There is nothing nearer my heart than the changing of the bad to the good."

He then told of a young girl, 19 years old, whom he had saved from jail and the "downward stream" whom he saw some years later happily married with two little children. "She had been termed those worst of words in our language, "No good." The state would have done its duty in sending her away. Probation saved her."

Mr. Mulready then went on to explain about some bills he had offered to the legislature and how they so amended them that he begged to have them killed. "So," he exclaimed, "Good bills are lost and people are indifferent." There's nothing to be done with that class of people,' you hear said. I say to you, ladies, you cannot vote, I know, but you just go up on Beacon Hill and make it so hot up there that we'll get some real social laws."

The speaker begged to digress a bit and mentioned the great need of censorship on moving pictures. He spoke of the recent attempt to make a law covering this and the ludicrous arguments in the legislature opposing it.

He spoke of the women police officers. At first he said he strenuously opposed them, but that was because he had in mind the common duties of a street policeman. He said the police were all right, were needed, etc., but he didn't want women in that machine.

He mentioned the White Slave investigation to which Gov. Foss appointed him. He said his 15 years in court had not taught him what that one year on this commission did. He said he tried to get at causes, ways, to help and conscientiously stud-

(Continued on page Three.)

THE WEATHER.

April 15, is the day upon which the New England Shoe Wholesalers' association has decreed that low cut shoes shall come into general use. However most persons find the air a little cool round the ankles today.

According to an announcement from Washington weather predictions will hereafter be issued every Tuesday, beginning April 20. This is the general weekly forecast previously issued Sundays but discontinued because of the war. The forecast for the week which began Wednesday is as follows:

North Atlantic States—Generally fair until the 18th to 20th, when the weather will become unsettled, with probably local showers. Temperature will be low during the 14th to 16th, followed by a marked change to higher temperature the latter half of the week.

Middle Atlantic States—Fair until near the close of the week when there will bea short period of unsettled weather and showers. First half of the week will be cool with probably frosts; the latter half of the week much warmer.

Looks fairly promising for the holiday.

Fair and somewhat warmer weather is indicated for Friday with moderate variable winds.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	5.03
Sun sets	6.26
Length of day	13.23
Moon rises	9.05
High water, A. M.	12.15
High water, P. M.	12.45
Days increase 4 hrs. 17 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	44 degrees
Apr 15, 1914,	49 degrees
Apr. 15, 1913,	48 degrees
Noon Maximum 18 years—86
Noon Minimum 18 years—30

You Can Now Buy
ORIGINAL
LUTHER BURBANK
SEEDS
IN QUINCY

We have secured the exclusive selling rights of Luther Burbank's Original Seeds for Quincy, having been appointed the special representatives of the Luther Burbank Company.

No other store in Quincy can sell you original Burbank Seeds. The prices are moderate; no more than you would have to pay for average seeds of good quality

With every $1.00 purchase of seeds we will present you with an interesting and instructive book in which Luther Burbank himself gives valuable directions on "The Culture of Flowers, Fruits and Vegetables."

Johnson's City Flower Store
CITY SQUARE

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

LINCOLN THE MARTYR.

Today we observe quietly and reverently the fiftieth anniversary of the assasination of Abraham Lincoln.

There is little bitterness left today, only a genuine sorrow that the man of destiny could not have lived to enjoy the fruits of his labor. In the months and years which followed the death of President Lincoln, the period of the carpet bagger and of negro dominance in the South, a period harder for the South to bear than the years of the terrible war just passed, the South grew to realize that it had indeed lost its best friend.

Leader of the North, friend of the South, President of the United States was Lincoln in very truth. He gave his life for his country and as the years roll on the country is growing to realize more and more the extent of his sacrifice.

It is fitting that a Southern President should be the one to issue the order to observe the death of his great predecessor. And is should be the prayer of the nation that Woodrow Wilson may draw from the life and death of the martyred President inspiration and help for the mightly task which confronts him, a task heavier than has fallen to the lot of any other President since Lincoln himself.

LINCOLN AND PATRIOTISM.

Abraham Lincoln, who gave his health, strength and very life for his country, is an undying example of the true meaning of Patriotism. To Lincoln and the men who stood at his side during the dark days of the Civil War the nation owes an eternal debt of gratitude. Citizens of the Republic can best show their appreciation for what Lincoln did by striving to live up to the ideal which he set,—unselfish devotion to his country. They can show their appreciation for the noble men who responded to his call and went forth to fight for their country by honoring those men living and dead.

The least that citizens of Quincy can do is to see to it that the few remaining veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic who are still in our midst shall have every comfort. And yet to our shame be it said that at the mass meeting for the G. A. R. Relief association last Saturday night an adjournment was necessary because of a lack of quorum. Even the men who had accepted the duty of collecting the funds for the G. A. R. post appeared in small number.

Lack of a quorum.

If there had been lack of a quorum when Lincoln issued his call, as we fear there would have been had such selfishness and indifference to all demands of duty and patriotism gained such ascendency then, we tremble to contemplate what the United States would be today.

There is another mass meeting next Saturday. If there is any decency, gratitude, unselfishness and patriotism left in Quincy there should be a good attendance.

JAPAN'S ATTITUDE.

With the eyes of the entire civilized world directed suspiciously at Japan it is only fair to hear whatever the Mikado's government itself has to say regarding the negotiations with China. Count Okuma, the premier, has cabled to the Independent the following message:

The uneasiness and suspicion in the United States in connection with Japan's negotiations at Pekin are based on misunderstanding and misinformation, scattered broadcast by interested mischief makers.

When the negotiations are disclosed it will be found:

That Japan has not infringed the rights of other nations.

That Japan has adhered strictly to the principle of equal opportunity.

That Japan is not attempting to secure a monopoly in China.

That Japan is not attempting to create a protectorate over China.

That Japan is not seeking to secure in China any advantage which does not accord with the Anglo-Japanese alliance or with any treaties or undertakings with the United States.

We have fully informed the United States and the other interested powers as to Japan's purposes.

We believe that they are satisfied.

The negotiations between Japan and China are nearing a satisfactory conclusion.

I am now willing to state publicly that Japan is quite confident of the rectitude and good faith of her position.

Japan is merely seeking to settle outstanding troublesome questions in a way looking toward permanent peace and good understanding.

SQUANTUMITES ARE INDIGNANT

Very Angry With School Committee

That the City of Quincy has no funds to pay the noon fares of Squantum school children that they may return home to dinner was the discouraging report made to the Squantum Improvement association at its regular meeting in Richards Memorial hall, Tuesday night. In reply to a letter sent to the school committee asking that the noon car fares be paid by the school board Chairman John D. McKay in a letter to the association replied that there were no funds available for such use.

In the meantime sixty-five school children, varying in ages from six years to ten years must attend the Atlantic school daily and eat cold lunches in the basement of the building or their parents must pay 10 cents car fare for them, in addition to the 5 cent paid daily as one half of the regular fare for going to and returning from school morning and night.

Complaint has been made to the association by many parents that the children are compelled to eat their lunches in the basement, without any teacher in attendance. Many of the children have complained of their lunches being stolen and other abuses have prevailed.

Indignation was expressed at the improvement association meeting that Quincy—one of the largest cities of the commonwealth—should be too poor, considering that its tax rate is one of the highest in the state, to give sufficient aid to parents so that the school children might be properly cared for.

It was voted that a petition be circulated and signed by parents of the children and forwarded to the school board in a final effort to see if funds could not be provided for the car fare of the children.

It was voted that a letter be sent the Bay State Street Railway asking that half hour car service be inaugurated at once for the summer season. Half hour car service has usually started on the first of May but this year the summer residents have arrived early.

The matter of the acceptance of Dorchester street and Bellevue road by the city brought out a large attendance at the meeting and was the subject of lively discussion. The members of the Dorchester street committee—Messrs. James H. Sumner, James Hagan and Joseph Allen—each made a report. They said that two conferences regarding repairs to Dorchester street which is in an impassable condition, had been held with Mayor Campbell and Commissioner of Public Works Brown. They said that the city solicitor had acknowledged that as the street had been a public highway before the betterment act was passed in 1901 that it could be accepted by the city either with or without the betterment act. It was voted that the association work for the acceptance of Dorchester street by the city. Later a vote was taken that the association also work for the acceptance of Bellevue road.

James H. Sumner, treasurer of the executive committee of the First Church of Squantum, reported that this committee had voted to make the regular rental of the hall to the association $2.00 a night instead of $3.00. This report was received with applause. He also stated that when the association wished to use the hall for a banquet an additional charge of $1.00 would be made for use of kitchen, dishes, etc. He also stated that the committee wished to offer the use of the hall free to the association for its minstrel show rehearsals. It was voted that a letter of thanks be sent the church committee for its courtesy to the association.

It was voted that an annual minstrel show be held and Charles Bostwick was appointed chairman with the privilege of selecting his own committee. It was voted that the date of the show be left to the committee.

Bernard Golbrason and Joseph Gregory were voted in as members of the association.

You need the Ledger every day. SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

"OLD ACRE FOLK"

(Continued from Page One.)

Ebenezer Ham was the life of the whole play. He was a typical country boy both in dress and actions. In Deacon Caleb Evans one would hardly recognize John F. Scott, the genial and wide awake telephone commercial agent. Yet it was he, and to him much credit is due for the manner in which he impersonated the character. The side remarks which he frequently interjected were shots straight from the shoulder and that they found their mark was evident by the laughter. His defense of his son was masterly.

Jaffray was the country boy lover. His rendition of the lines of his part were clear and unhesitating. It seemed at times as if a little more vigor might have been put into the words.

The squire lacked a little the dignity one might expect from one of that position yet he played the part of the stern parent with distinction.

Although John F. Hyland, the telephone plant chief does not often wander from his chosen vocation, his work as Job Hardy, the tramp and villain of the play showed that he had talent. It was a hard part, well taken.

The only other male character was Constable Ike Johnson, and his speaking part was limited. He however performed with credit the disagreeable duty of placing his neighbor's son under arrest.

There were four female parts in the play, the deacon's wife, the deacon's daughter, the squire's housekeeper, and the squire's daughter. The deacon's wife was a good housekeeper and acted well her part. The daughter, Mary Jane, was as lively as a kitten and her work with Ebenezer was the life of the play. The squire's housekeeper was one of those busybodies whose chief pleasure in life seems to be to make trouble.

The squire's beautiful daughter was the heroine loyal to her lover. The introduction of local hits into her work convulsed the audience. The part was capitally taken by Miss Blake.

Much of the credit for the successful presentation of the play is due to James B. Schmidt, under whose direction it was given and whose Ebenezer was the hit of the evening.

The cast of the play was as follows:

The Deacon, Caleb Evans
Mr. John F. Scott
The Deacon's wife, Emmia Eliza
Miss Alfretta Hanson
The Deacon's son, Jaffray
Mr. John E. Greene
The Deacon's daughter, Mary Jane
Mrs. John E. Greene
The country boy, Ebenezer Ham
Mr. James B. Schmidt
The Squire, Aaron Playfair
Mr. Charles H. Greene
The Squire's daughter, Elizabeth Ann
Miss Mary W. Blake
The Squire's housekeeper, Priscilla Prim, Mrs. Charles H. Greene
The stranger, a tramp, Job Hardy
Mr. John F. Hyland
The constable, Ike Johnson
Mr. Elverton E. Clapp

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Read and daughter Miss Margaret left Tuesday afternoon for a two weeks' trip to Bermuda.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

Sheriff's Sale.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Norfolk, ss.

Quincy, March 22, A. D. 1915

Seized on execution and will be sold at public auction, on Saturday the 1st day of May, A. D. 1915 at nine o'clock A. M., at my residence No. 163 Franklin Street, in said Quincy, all the right, title and interest that Cyrille Grenier, sometimes known as Cyrille Greanlor, had (not exempt by law from attachment or levy on execution) on the said 22nd day of March, at nine o'clock A. M., the time the same was seized on execution, in and to the following described real estate, to wit:—

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in that part of Quincy known as Adams Shore and being lots Nos. 213 and 214 as shown on plan of house lots at Adams Shore, Quincy, dated December 19, 1908, Ernest W. Branch, Surveyor, recorded with Norfolk Deeds, plan book 51, plan 2430.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Deputy Sheriff
3t April 15-22-29

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

HOLDS PROBATE COURT

Judge Flint Allows 6 Wills, Other Business

Judge Flint held probate court for Norfolk county at Quincy Wednesday and transacted the following business

WILLS ALLOWED

Of Marcus O. Lane late of Braintree Bessie F. Rand, executrix. Bond $300.

Of John M. Richardson late of Medfield, Fred A. Richardson of Brattleboro, Vt. and Fred L. Tyler of Charlesmont, executors. Bond $25,000 each.

Of Samuel Williams late of Brookline. Ellie O. Page, Fred F. Williams and Alfred S. Williams, executors. Bond $500,000 each.

Of Charles A. French, late of Atlantic, Henrietta French and Dua French executor. Bond $60,000 each.

Of William Kelly late of Milton. Michael J. Chriss, executor. Bond $10,000

Of Charles Martin, late of Quincy, Rose H. Martin, executrix. Bond $500.

The will of Laura Bryant, late of Quincy, was disallowed, as it had but two signatures.

ADMINISTRATIONS

Edith M. Kenny on estate of James F. Kenny, late of Brookline. Bond $1000.

Elizabeth Hughes on estate of John Hughes late of Quincy. Bond $8,000

Timothy J Golden on estate of Catherine Golden late of Quincy. Bond $400

Harry A. Whiting on estate of Mary E. Bullard, late of Walpole. Bond $400

Charles F. Marble, on estate of Elmer A. Marble late of Weymouth. Bond $100.

Edward Donahue, on estate of Margaret Donahue, late of Wellesly. Bond $500.

Bertha L. Merritt on estate of Rachel A. Merritt, late of Weymouth. Bond $500.

Ruth B. Moseley on estate of William C. Moseley, late of Needham. Bond $500.

TRUSTEES

Catherine B. Doyle, Clarence Burgin, and Charles H. Hardwick were appointed trustees of certain estate of William B. White, late of Quincy, for certain purposes. Bond $40,000 each.

Mabel J. Keedlick on estate of Josephine H. Cassell, late of Dedham. Bond $6,000.

Howard P. Knox on estate of Mary E. Knox, late of Milton. Bond $2000.

ACCOUNTS ALLOWED.

Fourth of Charles H., Everett V., Sydney C. and Robert A. Hardwick, executors of will of Henry E. Hardwick, late of Quincy, also as trustees of certain estate.

First and final of Bertina E. Scott, executrix of will of Susan R. Brodine, late of Weymouth.

First and final of Annie C. Pond, administratrix of will of Alvira R. Ellis, late of Medway.

MISCELLANEOUS

Mabel C. Christensen, guardian of Preston D. and Clara K. Stowell, minors of Weymouth, was granted permission to mortgage real estate to the amount of $1300.

A warrant was issued for the appraisal of the estate of William F. French late of Weymouth.

Eunice E. Campbell of Cohasset was appointed guardian of Daniel S., Herbert W., Eva E., and George E. Campbell minors. Bond $4,000.

Annie F. Pratt was appointed guardian of Paul W. Pratt, a minor of Beechwood. Bond $500.

Lillian Briggs, guardian of Marion L. Briggs, a minor of Quincy, was granted permission to sell real estate to the amount of $100.

Annie R. Thayer, administratrix of estate of John F. Haley, late of Franklin, was granted permission to sell real estate to the amount of $600.

William J. Spargo and Nellie A. Spargo, executors of will of William T. Spargo late of Quincy were authorized to carry on the granite business of the deceased.

DEFECTIVE WIRING.

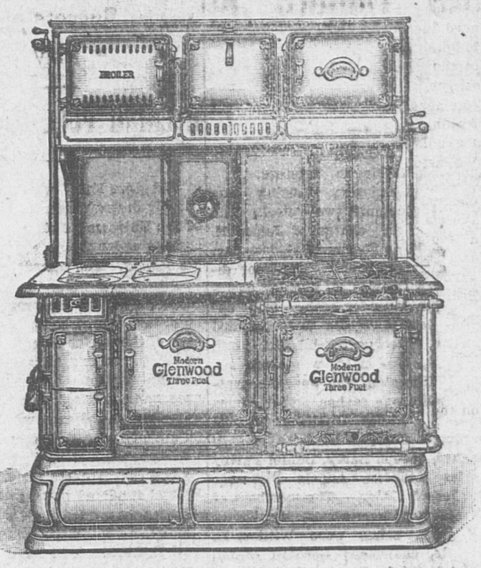

Although no official finding has been made upon the inquest into the causes of the fire in the Dr. Welch block several weeks ago, it is understood that defective wiring was the cause. Leo T. Moran, an electrician who had done wiring in the Orent-Payson Co. store testified to having found unsoldered joints near the seat of the fire. Mr. Moran did not wire that particular part of the building.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
830 A. M. to 5 P. M.—6 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Room 3 BURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK QUINCY.

For Coal, Wood or Gas
Glenwood
A Brand-New Cooking Machine

Just the range for your new home. Handsome—Convenient—Mechanically Right. Smooth Cast. Colonial Design. Plain Mission Finish. A Room Saver—Like The Upright Piano. Every essential refined and improved upon.

Two main ovens below—one heated by coal and the other by gas, both on the same level. Three auxiliary ovens above—two gas heated, one for pastry baking, one for broiling and one for keeping the food hot and warming plates.

Five cooking burners in gas range top, three ordinary, one giant and one simmering burner.

Very compact—length over all, 4 feet 5 inches. Just right in size for the average family.

The fire box, is arranged for burning either coal or wood and is provided with a powerful water front for heating the kitchen boiler.

If a large amount of baking is required, both coal and gas ovens can be operated at the same time.

It is the most wonderful, cooking and baking machine ever devised to make housekeeping drudgeless.

"Makes Cooking Easy"

H. L. Kincaide & Co., Quincy

SIX FIRMS BID FOR CONTRACT

Commissioner Brown has received the following bids for furnishing the city with water pipe, the sizes and quantity to be as follows: 66 tons of 6 inch, 75 tons of 8 inch and 60 tons of 10 inch.

M. J. Drummond & Co.	$4,453.08
Walworth Mfg. Co.	4,723.50
Donaldson Iron Co.	4,787.82
Standard C. I. Pipe & Foundry Co.	4,793.85
United States Pipe & Foundry Co.	4,844.10
R. D. Wood & Co.	4,892.34

The contract will probably be awarded to the lowest bidder.

TO PREACH ON EUROPEAN WAR

For the next few Sundays Rev. Mr. Campbell of the Water Street Presbyterian church will be running two series of sermons. At the morning services he will take up the great issues raised by the great European war and discuss them in the light of the teaching of Christ. At the evening services he will give modern interpretations of the great theological doctrines of the church. Subjects for the next two Sundays are announced as follows:

April 18—The Arguments for Militarism—Morning.

April 18-The Truth in our Theologies—Evening.

April 25—Christ's Teachings of Non-Resistance—Morning.

April 25—Original Sin and Human Depravity—Evening.

Folks who do not worship elsewhere will always find a welcome at this church and something worthwhile These themes are live issues of the day and will be treated in an interesting way. Street cars will put you off at the door.

CAPTURE THE SPOONS.

Granite City Club Members Play Whist

The new entertainment committee of the Granite City club took hold of their job for the first time Wednesday evening at the weekly whist tournament and at the conclusion of twenty-five hands the members of the committee, looking like hotel chefs in their immaculate white aprons, served creamed dried beef, with rolls and coffee. The best scores of the evening were made by Nathan A. Ellis and John Curtis, who carried home silver spoons as evidence of their skill.

Lawn Seed, Lawn Dressing
Wood Ashes, Sheep Manure
Have a Good Lawn this year by caring for it properly now
WILLIAM WESTLAND
The Hardware Man
1597 Hancock St., - - Quincy, Mass.

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

COAL
ANNOUNCEMENT
April 1, 1915.
Full coal bins are a source of real satisfaction. We are filling our bins as rapidly as possible with FRESH MINED COAL. By placing your order now YOU can take advantage of the LOW PRICES announced in the schedule below. Coal will positively ADVANCE IN PRICE later. There will be no Further Reduction.
We should be glad to call and talk Coal with you if you will notify us.

PRICES FOR CASH

Franklin Egg and Stove	$8.50 per ton
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75 per ton
Shamokin Stove	7.50 per ton
White Ash Broken	6.50 per ton
White Ash Egg	7.25 per ton
White Ash Stove	7.25 per ton
White Ash Nut	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Broken	6.75 per ton
Lehigh Egg	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Stove	7.50 per ton
Pea	5.50 per ton

25 cents per ton extra where coal is carried in. Orders taken for these Prices are for delivery by July 1, 1915.
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc.

THE EDUCATIONAL FIELD

THOMAS CRANE PUBLIC LIBRARY
HIGH SCHOOL PUBLIC SCHOOLS
WOODWARD INSTITUTE PAROCHIAL SCHOOL

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES.

A remarkably fine series of animal studies by a French artist, M. Meheut, is now in exhibition in the art gallery of the Public Library. The pictures include members of the cat family even the lion and tiger;—many domestic animals, several kinds of birds, and some peculiar, yet familiar fish.

The pictures of the rabbit, just as he looks in his home, when he is burrowing, or playing with other rabbits, will be enjoyed by the children as much as the funny antics and positions that the often despised mouse takes. Very natural are the positions of the farmyard birds,—the geese, the ducks and the strutting cocg. Though not as familiar, the stork poising on one long leg, and the peacock exhibiting his beautiful fan-shaped tail are just as entertaining.

A lot of insects, like beetles, dragon flies, and butterfiles, are presented in such clear views that they appear lifelike. It is easy to note for this same reason, the difference between the stiff-spined, big-eyed chameleon, the mottled salamander, and the scaly lizard

Some of the odd fish that are so well known, like the shrimp, crab and sea anemone, John Dory, the fish with the gloomy mouth, and the flat skate, are included in the exhibition which is one of the most interesting for school children that the library has ever had. Many of the pictures would prove useful as either a science lesson or a drawing lesson for the child or art student.

ADAMS EVENING SCHOOL

The exercises at the closing of the Adams Evening school will be held Friday evening in the assembly hall of that building at 8 o'clock. They will be short and simple, the principal feature being the award of certificates of literary to those men who have earned them. There is quite a class in the school who are now sufficiently advanced that they may seek naturalization. Brief addresses will be made by the Mayor, the chairman of the School Committee, the Superintendent and the chairman of the Evening School Committee.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

The Quincy Industrial school has just been presented by the Brown & Sharpe Manufacturing Co., of Providence, R. I. with the following enlarged pictures.

1 Universal Milling Machine.
1 Plane Guiding Machine.
1 Automtic Screw Machine.
1 Automatic Gear Cutting Machine

The enlargements are all framed in oak frames and are an addition to the school.

EXPLAINS CIVIL SERVICE

The Massachusetts Civil Service Reform league has furnished the schools with a large number of pamphlets explaining the civil service system for use in the history classes of the school.

The condition of Mrs. Charles E. Haskins of Miller Stile road, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, continues to improve. She is now thought to be convalescent.

POULTRY WIRE
— AT — REDUCED PRICES
GALVANIZED
This is No. 19 Wire, strong, well made and durable.
These Low Prices back-on you here.
4 Feet $2.39
5 Feet $2.98
PRICES RIGHT
SERVICE RIGHT
USE CARBORUNDUM SHARPENING STONES
NATHAN AMES
5 Granite St.

ISSUES PERMIT FOR BRICK BLOCK

Inspector of Builidngs Thomas issued the permit this morning for the building of the brick business block at the corner of Hancock and Beale streets, the foundation of which was commenced earlier in the week. According to the permit the owner of the building is Sidney T. Wyman of Wollaston and the contractor E. H. Sears. The building is to be of brick one story high. It will have a frontage on Hancock street of 72 feet and a frontage on Beale street of 80 feet and the extreme depth will be 42 feet.

There will be three stores on the Beale street side and two on the Hancock street side and one large store on the corner of the two streets. The cost of the building as given on the permit is $10,000. It will be of first class construction throughout. Work on the building will be commenced as soon as the foundation is ready.

In addition to this block there are several other buildings contemplated in this immediate vicinity, which with the new Masonic Temple now well along toward completion will make this a busy section during the summer months.

While work on the Masonic Temple is well along, the building having been roofed in, it is probable that it will not be ready for occupancy until fall. There have been many demands for the public hall on the first floor of the building for dancing parties, etc., and next winter this promises to be a busy social centre. It is understood that a moving picture house has secured the auditorium for three night a week, the pictures to be passed upon by the owners of the building before being shown.

As is well known work on the Masonic Temple was commenced late in the fall when the weather was not such as to make it advisable to lay the corner stone. The corner stone of the Temple therefore will be laid sometime during the early summer, in the north east corner of the building. It is probable that the Grand Master of the Grand lodge of Massachusetts will perform the ceremony and that Quincy commandery, Knights Templars, will take a prominent part. All Masonic bodies in the city will probably be invited.

ALBERT HAYDEN IS PRESIDENT

The teachers of the Coddington school were tendered an informal reception by the members of Parent-Teachers association who gathered in the assembly hall Wednesday evening for an informal reception. There was a large attendance.

A musical program included instrumental selections by Leon K. Biganess, vocal solos by Miss Gladys Flieger and Albert L. Hayden. Miss Florence G. Olney was accompanist. Those present were very appreciative and there was loud applause.

The association voted to affiliate with the State Federation of Parent-Teachers associations which will hold its annual convention in Quincy in October. The officers elected were:

President—Albert L. Hayden.
Vice President—George E. Adams.
Sec.-Treas.—Mrs. Ernest L Collins.
Executive committee—Mrs. Fred Breslyn, Mrs. Ernest Fitts, Mrs. Daniel J. Deasy.

TO OPEN CAMPAIGN.

The Quincy High School Alumni association will next week open a membership campaign. It is desired to secure a membership of 500 Special inducements are offered those who enroll now. Frederick W. Atwood is chairman of the committee.

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton Director
Street Floor, Greenleaf Block
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
Piano Instructions Par Excellence Voice
Private or Class Lessons
31-tf

CIVICS CONFERENCE

(Continued from Page One.)

ied the question. Seventy-five per cent. of the girls examined were under 18, and 51 per cent. feeble-minded "Isn't that a monstrous problem?" he asked. "Doesn't that need a tremendous amount of supervision? Doesn't that show that women workers are needed?

"I was under the impression when I started that the low wage caused the immorality. That is not the real cause in Massachusetts! And don't run away with the idea that they come from poor homes either. The girls are not worth decent wages, because they are feeble-minded. There are many girls in the primary schools today, who, without proper supervision, will end by being white slaves. This is an age of prevention not cure. Doctors are preventing disease, lawyers are settling cases out of court, preventing litigation, and we should prevent this awful social evil. Here is the place for the women—in this prevention."

The law provides that an officer be a watchman at night. "I wonder if the right watchwoman seeing the same girl on the street night after night, put her arm around that girl and led her to some proper place of recreation, if that girl might not be saved? Girls who have been working all day must have recreation, and we must provide it. Whatever you call this women, I shall call her an angel of mercy."

"The law provides that a police officer may enter places of recreation, etc. Isn't this the place for a woman. Mightn't she save an infinite amount of downfalls? Isn't a woman needed at fairs, cattle shows, etc.? I won't mention Brockton, but take Worcester. Couldn't she be of wondrous use, there?"

Another law cited was the lying-in hospital for expectant mothers, supervised by the board of health, the police and the selectman! "Isn't a woman officer needed here?" he exclaimed.

Mr. Mulready closed by saying we needed a big force of women workers, organized under the law, doing real social work. He paid high tribute to Mrs. Ropes' opening address and said it was splendid to have pride in one's ancestors, but "It is better to be a good ancestor than to have one," he exclaimed.

Miss Lucy Hutchins, probation officer of Middlesex County was then introduced. She gave a most interesting account of just one day of her work. She gave numerous examples of the way a woman can mother, guard and bring out good in a girl termed by the community "no good."

Miss Brownell of Springfield told about the excellent results of a woman probation officer in her city. She also gave an interesting account of what the city was doing to provide recreation. She said some of the public dance halls were forced to close simply because of competiton with those run by the city. She told also of the Big Sister movement and its really wonderful results.

Mrs. Engler of the Lynn Woman's club told of her club's efforts to get women police officers. They were instrumental in having the state law passed and were now waiting hopefully for Lynn to pass it; they were practically assured of its success. She gave some extremely interesting accounts of a raid made on boarding houses of her associates' efforts with Lynn's City Fathers and other social experiences she had.

Mrs. Young of the Boston City Federation was the last speaker at the morning's session. She gave a spirited talk on "Clean Up Day," and the clearing of Boston, of those fearful pests—Rats! She also begged every woman to have a garden.

The meeting was adjourned until 2.15. Guides were provided by the Wollaston club to take the visitors to Quincy's historic places. Coffee was provided by the Wollaston members and the visitors brought box luncheons.

The session was resumed at 2.15 this afternoon.

A full account of this session will be printed in Friday's Ledger.

L-2 TO NAVY YARD.

L-1 Equals Expectations In Official Trials.

The United State submarine L-2 was taken to the Charlestown Navy Yard today where she will be dry-docked and made ready for her trials The ship was in command of Capt. "Joe" Kemp, official pilot of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation.

The government has announced that the official trials of the U. S. submarine L-1 will take place off Provincetown on April 27. The craft had her builders' trial at Provincetown several weeks ago and came up to expectations. She has been anchored off there since then.

DETERMINED TO ENFORCE LAW

Police Stop Divers of Unlighted Teams

The elimination of unlighted teams from the streets of the city at night is the object of the campaign started Wednesday evening by the patrolmen of the city, acting under instructions of Acting Chief McKay.

The order was read at roll call and instructed the men to bring all offenders to court. Many teams with out lights were stopped during the night and a number of names were taken. In some cases drivers were found who did not know the law. They will probably be given another chance.

BEGIN OILING STREETS TODAY

The oiling of the streets was commenced Wednesday afternoon and will be pushed forward until all the stroets in the schedule have received their coating of oil. This application will last some months before it is necessary to give the streets another supply.

OLINDY AND SMITH TIE.

Lee Brooks Gets Cigars For High Single.

Olindy and Herb Smith tied in the rolloffs at the Wardwell alleys Wednesday night with a total of 314. Both men rolled two boxes, Olindy getting the best hits and taking the first prize. Smith was given second money.

W. B. Donovan was winner of third place with a total of 304 and C. Bishop was fourth with 303. The cigars for high single during the rolloff went to Lee Brooks who had 110. J. Purpura and P. Del Lucca tied for the booby prize with a total of 231.

OPEN BIDS.

Bids were opened by Commissioner Brown this morning for furnishing the city with nine tons of arsenate of lead for use in the gypsy moth department, to be delivered at the city stables. Four bids were received as follows:

The Grasselli Chemical Co.	$810.00
Merrimac Chemical Co.	812.50
Thompson Chemical Co.	857.50
Charles C. Hearn	1,082.50

The bids were taken under advisement and the contract will be awarded later.

MRS A. J. GEORGE.

Mrs. A. J. George, one of the lecturers of the Anti-Suffrage union, will speak in Colonial hall on the evening of April 23 under the auspices of the local association.

The campaign committee has requested the support of prominent men in the community and has conducted a correspondence campaign in an effort to enlist their support.

The antis expect to have a large attendance.

The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader.

The PROBLEM of GOOD MILK
All persons do not understand what is meant by good, safe milk. Some believe that the milk with a deep cream line is desirable, whereas, the Doctor knows that Holstein Milk, although containing little cream is often more desirable for babies, partly for this reason, or perhaps because of the method of production
The real criterion of a good milk is its wholesomeness This depends upon the conditions at the dairy, and the special care given it until it reaches the consumer. Scrupulously clean and healthy cows, clean and healthy dairymen, rapid cooling, and protecting the milk, constant dairy and laboratory inspection are required. Furthermore safety is assured when the dealer pasteurizes his supply.
THE ELM FARM MILK COMPANY OF DORCHESTER offer pure Family Milk, and exceptional Nursery Milk at prices often charged for ordinary milk Speak to the salesman, or call Dor. 2100. 6-1 mo.

GOLD DUST
For every brightening and cleaning purpose in every home
Gold Dust is used at least three times a day in millions of homes everywhere.
Yet there are many thousands of housewives who think Gold Dust is only for one or two uses—
They would not use anything else but Gold Dust for washing dishes, for example—
Or for scrubbing floors and woodwork, washing windows, etc.
* * *
Gold Dust should be used for cleaning and brightening everything.
It is most economical; it is most satisfactory and it is most sanitary.
Cannot scratch or harm any surface, and it will dissolve and remove all dirt and grease.

The active principle of Gold Dust is so remarkably thorough that you rinse away the dirt and grease, leaving a newness, a cleanness and a brightness which delights.
* * *
Gold Dust forces its way into the corners and crevices where neither fingers nor washcloth can reach. It truly works for you. Any woman who has washed dishes with Gold Dust knows what that means.
Gold Dust is the leading washing and cleaning powder in the world; it is indispensable once you know it.
5c and larger packages sold everywhere
THE N.K. FAIRBANK COMPANY MAKERS
"Let the GOLD DUST TWINS do your work"

OBSERVE 2nd ANNIVESARY

Mr. and Mrs. Richard N. Tinney entertained many friends at their home on Quincy street Wednesday evening in observance of the second anniversary of their marriage. The home was prettily decorated with blue and white crepe paper, potted plants and cut flowers.

Supper was served at 10 o'clock and during the evening there were piano solos by Joseph Currie, Frank Smith, Chester French and Miss Isabelle Donahue. Games were enjoyed and the festivities continued until a late hour

Mr. and Mrs. Tinney were married two years ago. Mrs. Tinney before her marriage was Miss Mary Costa. Her husband is one of the employees at the Adams Market of R. E. Foy.

Among those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, Miss May Taylor, Miss Eleanor Taylor, Miss Ruth Taylor, Miss Annie McLeod, Miss Irene Costa, Miss Helen Costa, Mr. and Mrs. J. Kennedy, Miss M. Tinney, Mrs. Catherine Costa, Miss Isabella Donahue, Miss Marie Fisher, William Birmingham, Andrew Costa, John Costa, Frank Smith, Chester French, Joseph Currie, Joseph Tinney.

MANY ATTEND SERVICES.

Hold Funeral of Mrs. O'Brien Wednesday.

Many relatives and friends attended the funeral of Emily, wife of James J. O'Brien held from her late home on Water street, corner of Brook road, on Wednesday afternoon.

Rev. Nelson E. Price, pastor of the M. E. church of East Braintree, officiated at the services at the home and also at the grave in the Village cemetery Weymouth, where interment took place.

There was a wealth of floral remembrances including a large wreath from the employees of the Board of Health, where the husband is employed. The bearers were Thomas, William and Edward O'Brien, Walter Mason, Frank Piper and William H. Taylor.

The death of Mrs. O'Brien at the Carney Hospital Sunday followed an illness of eight weeks. She was a native of East Braintree and lived there until her marriage two years ago.

A regular meeting of Merrymount lodge, K. of P., was held in Colonial hall Wednesday evening. One candidate was initiated.

TO HOLD BIG MAY PARTY

St. Mary's C. T. A. and M. B. society is planning to hold a grand May party in the hall Friday evening, May 14th. The affair has been placed in the hand of a committee of the women friends of the members of the society. They plan to have a May Dance and seevral other features at the affair.

The committee held a meeting Tuesday evening in St. Mary's hall. Miss May Joyce was elected chairman of the affair, Miss Julia Corcoran, assistant, Miss Eileen Fay, secretary. Miss Mary Doyle is chairman of the printing committee, Miss Annie Corcoran, chairman of the decorating committee, Miss Dorothy Foley, chairman refreshment committee.

The following will act as aids: Misses Frances Daley, Mary Finn, Ella Mulligan, Julia Corcoran, Marie Cormack, Annie Kelley, Elizabeth Schatzel, Rose Cormack, Helen Little Helen Ferriter, Margaret Knight, Hilda Crowley, Margaret Kelley, Theresa Buckley, Lillian Donavon, Rita Collins, Annie Hagerty, Esther Mulligan, Florence Shepard, Nellie Crowley and Julia Corcoran.

WILL CONSTRUCT HUGE TOOL SHOP

Plans are being completed for the monster tool shop to be erected in the Fore River shipyard which when completed will be the longest building of its kind to the south of Boston. Before many days the preliminary work will be started.

The building is one of the principle improvements contemplated in the shipyard. It will be 1750 feet in length and 200 feet in width and will be of steel and brick.

The extension to the present tool shop is finished and this building will be retained as it is now, the new building having a different site.

The building will be a short distance from the three story-and-basement storehouse of concrete, brick and steel which has just been finished.

Reduction in Prices.
Your attention is called to the reduced spring prices on Anthracite Coal as follows

Lehigh Stove and Egg	$7.50
White Ash Stove and Egg	7.25
White Ash Nut	7.50
Shamokin Stove and Egg	7.50
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75
Pea	5.50
Franklin	8.50

We recommend the placing of your order at this time to insure the low prices.
Nothing but All Rail Clean Coal handled and delivered right by careful experienced drivers.
QUINCY COAL CO.
OFFICE and YARD
Penn St., Quincy Tel. 47-M
Ap. 7 1mo.

URGES BOARD TO USE UP TO DATE METHODS

Arthur Hultman Would Have Paid Clerk and Office Hours

Arthur B. Hultman, assistant court officer, appointed to the Board of Managers of Public Burial Places by Mayor Campbell, introduced resolutions at the meeting of the board Wednesday night to abolish the salary of the secretary of the board and to request the council to appropriate $500 for a clerk to keep the office open at all times and have records available so business could be conducted through that office. The first motion was referred to Mayor Campbell and the others have been laid on the table pending his decision.

Arthur Hultman in support of his motion said the method of conducting the business of the board had become antiquated and that the old fashioned ways should give way to more efficient methods. Thomas Bishop dissented and John Vogel and John Evans, other members, did not commit themselves on the motions.

John Cudworth, secretary of the board at a salary of $300, is understood to have offered no objection to the motion. He said he had anticipated offering such a resolution before the end of the year.

Other motions requested the council to appropriate money for a fence on Valley street, the posting of the regulations at both entrances to the cemetery and the making of a plan of the cemetery by the city engineer. All three were carried

The motion to make a map of the cemetery means that a plan of the entire cemetery will be available. No city plan exists, although private plans have been kept by a local undertaker and dates back many years and the other has been kept by James Nicolls, since he became superintendent 20 years ago. It is thought that both plans will be available for reference.

The motion to have a plan made of the cemetery is said to be the result of the recent opening of the wrong graves, the discovery of which took place a short time before the arrival of a funeral, and the correction of which was made possible through a reference to the records of a local undertaker.

The Board also passed resolutions on the death of Charles Nicoll, for many years assistant superintendent, who died a week ago after a short illness.

The motion of Mr. Hultman ordered the salary of the Secretary of the Board of Managers of Public Burial Places of the City of Quincy be and is hereby abolished, and that the managers vote that the sum of $500 shall be appropriated for clerical assistance, and that the office of the board shall be open from 8 A. M. to 12 o'clock noon and from one to five o'clock daily.

Also that the clerk to the board shall be in charge of the office when opened and it shall be the duty of the clerk to perform all the duties specified or implied by the board and that said clerk shall receive for such services rendered $500 a year payable in weekly payments

The order shall take effect upon its passage.

The second motion of Mr. Hultman instructed the superintendent of the cemetery to have a sign with the rules posted at the entrance and another at the Valley street entrance on or before May 8, 1915, the order to take effect upon its passage.

The third motion of Mr. Hultman requested the city engineer to furnish, not later than Aug. 1, 1915, a map of the cemetery, its avenues, lots and graves on each lot.

Another motion of Mr. Hultman requested the City Council to appropriate the sum of $2500 for a fence on the Valley street boundary of Mt. Wollaston.

The question of transferring a lot in the cemetery from the Kittredge family to Mrs. Charles F. Adams, widow of the late Charles Francis Adams who was recently buried there was discussed and passed.

The bodies in the Kittredge lot were removed to Hingham some time ago and the request was made because it borders the Adams family lot.

The transfer was opposed by Arthur Hultman on the ground that section three of the ordinance concerning public burial places specifically stated conveyances could be made only to residents of the city. The board voted to make the transfer subject to conditions which it may deem proper and expedient according to rights reserved to the board in the same ordinance.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

Some People We Know, and We Will Profit by Hearing About Them.

This is a purely local event.
It took place in Quincy.
Not in some faraway place.
You are asked to investigate it.
Asked to believe a citizen's word;
To confirm a citizen's statement.
Any article that is endorsed at home
Is more worthy of confidence
Than one you know nothing about,
Endorsed by unknown people.

Walter E. Berlucchi, barber, Adams Building, Quincy, says: "I needed a good medicine for backache which bothered me severely at times. My kidneys acted irregularly and when I took cold, it settled in my back and kidneys. I was tired in the morning. Someone recommended Doan's Kidney Pills, and after I used four boxes I was relieved so much that I had no further need of them. I like to keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand so that I always have them when needed."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Berlucchi had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING
WALL PAPER FOR SALE
KUSTAA RASANEN
121 Copeland St., West Quincy
Tel. Con. 19-tf

GETS BEQUEST FOR KIND ACT

"Cast thy bread on the waters and it shall return after many days." That is what Mrs. Ida B. Woolford of Medfield did and it was returned to her in the form of a substantial bequest in the will and codicil of John M. Richardson of Medfield, who died March 8, 1915, and whose will was admitted to probate at Quincy this morning. In the original will, which was dated Feb. 22, 1905, she is left the sum of $1,000 "for kindness shown to the father of testator, Fred A. Richardson."

In this will is also left the sum of $500 to the Medfield Historical society, $50 of that sum to be expended in securing a framed portrait of testator's father to be hung in the rooms of the society. The sum of $500 is also given to the Medfield Public Library and his books are given to the First Parish congregation of Medfield.

On March 5, a codicil was written on a small sheet of paper in the deceased's own handwriting. By this codicil he leaves to Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Woolford all of his shares in the United Steel Co., the American Sugar Refinery and other companies. While the value of these shares are not given they will total a large sum. These are given "for her use."

LADIES' BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Benevolent society of the Wollaston Congregational church was held Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Edwin Beal spoke interestingly on the work of the Auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A. Mrs. Edmund Taylor spoke of the work of Whatsoever Circle of King's Daughters, especially of their work connected with the Pond Home for aged people in Pondville.

Announcement was made that on Friday afternoon there will be a silver tea at the home of Mrs. H. T. Whitman, on Grand View avenue, this being the third in the series.

Announcement was also made of a sociable and supper to be held next Wednesday. Miss Louise Thornton of Boston, a reader will furnish the entertainment, supplemented by music.

MISS CATHERINE MONAHAN.

Miss Catherine Monahan died at the Quincy City Hospital Wednesday in her 73rd year. She leaves a sister, Mrs. Mary Favreau of Rodman street and her funeral will take place from there Friday. The deceased has made her home in South Quincy for some time.

TALKS ON CRIME AND CRIMINALS

Member of State Prison Commission Speaks to Wollaston Club

W. M. CHASE PRESIDENT

The Wollaston Unitarian club used the supper room of the new parish house, Tuesday evening, when it held its last meeting of the season and elected the following board of officers:

President—William M. Chase.
Vice President—Charles E. Barker.
Secretary—John E. Simmons.
Treasurer—Charles P. Loring.
Executive Committee—Rev. Carl G. Horst, E. Tyler Brigham and Albert R. Moulton.

In anticipation of the larger quarters the membership limit had been raised to 150 and, as there has always been a waiting list, it is probable that when the fall season opens there will be a full membership. On motion of George Taylor a collection of fifty dollars for new tables was realized from those present.

The speaker of the evening was W. S. Spaulding of the State Prison Commission who spoke on "The Treatment of Crime, Past, Present and Future." In his opening remarks he stated that he was a resident of this community 45 years ago and returned last night for the first time.

"Crime isn't a problem" said Mr. Spaulding. "It is the criminal that is the problem. We speak of what to do with crime, when we are not dealing with crime, but the criminal.

"There is no criminal class, but there are classes of criminals. There is the professional criminal who makes a business of crime and has no intention of reforming, the habitual criminal who is continually committing crime but getting nothing out of it. There are the men who tumble into crime through force of circumstances; hosts of them, who do not intend to wrong anyone.

"It was formerly assumed that all were criminals and that all should be treated alike. The only thing done was to impose a sentence, on the assumption that if we punish a man he won't do it again."

"Of the 23 or 24 thousand arrested each year, from 10 to 15 thousand have been in the same prison before. This great mass of repeaters has served 87 thousand sentences or an average of six sentences apiece."

"We have punished the man but we have done little to abolish crime. We have sentenced the community to receive him back at the end of his prison term whether his character has changed or not."

Speaking of the improvement in the administration of criminal affairs, Mr. Spaulding spoke in favor of the indeterminate sentence which leaves it to an administrative board to consider whether a man is fit to be at large again.

Modern systems of education and reform were described and the permission to pay fines in installments instead of jailing the criminal for lack of funds was favored. The system of restitution now being put in force was referred to as another improvement.

In closing he urged the establishment of a system whereby the different classes of criminals could be divided instead of being thrown together as at present.

PRATT'S BREAD—always crisp, clean, pure and wholesome. Try it. Grocers.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

Arthur B. Foster
CARPENTER and BUILDER
14 Bay View St., Quincy Point
Telephone Connection 31-1m

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.
will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.
OFFICE AT
96 WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY
Tel. 616

His Love Story

By MARIE VAN VORST

Illustrations by RAY WALTERS

(Copyright by the Bobbs-Merrill Company)

(Continued from last issue.)

CHAPTER IV.

The Dog Pays.

Pitchoune repaid what was given him.

He did not think that by getting well, reserving the right for the rest of his life to a distinguished limp in his right leg, that he had done all that was expected of him. He developed an ecstatic devotion to the captain, impossible for any human heart adequately to return. He followed Sabron like a shadow and when he could not follow him, took his place on a chair in the window, there to sit, his sharp profile against the light, his pointed ears forward, watching for the uniform he knew and admired extravagantly.

Pitchoune was a thoroughbred, and every muscle and fiber showed it, every hair and point asserted it, and he loved as only thoroughbreds can. You may say what you like about mongrel attachments, the thoroughbred in all cases reserves his brilliancy for crises

Sabron, who had only seen Miss Redmond twice and thought about her countless times, never quite forgave his friend for the illness that kept him from the chateau. There was in Sabron's mind, much as he loved Pitchoune, the feeling that if he had gone that night . . .

There was never another invitation!

"Voyons, mon cher," his colonel had said to him kindly the next time he met him, "what stupidity have you been guilty of at the Chateau d'Esclignac?"

Poor Sabron blushed and shrugged his shoulders.

"I assure you," said the colonel, "that I did you harm there without knowing it. Madame d'Esclignac, who is a very clever woman, asked me with interest and sympathy, who your 'very sick friend' could be. As no one was very sick according to my knowledge I told her so. She seemed triumphant and I saw at once that I had put you in the wrong."

It would have been simple to have explained to the colonel, but Sabron, reticent and reserved, did not choose to do so. He made a very insufficient excuse, and the colonel, as well as the marquise, thought ill of him. He learned later, with chagrin, that his friends were gone from the Midi. Rooted to the spot himself by his duties, he could not follow them. Meanwhile Pitchoune thrived, grew, cheered his loneliness, jumped over a stick, learned a trick or two from Brunet and a great many fascinating wiles and ways, no doubt inherited from his mother. He had a sense of humor truly Irish, a power of devotion that we designate as "canine,' no doubt because no member of the human race has ever deserved it.

CHAPTER V.

The Golden Autumn.

Sabron longed for a change with autumn, when the falling leaves made the roads golden roundabout the Chateau d'Esclignac. He thought he would like to go away. He rode his horse one day up to the property of the hard-hearted unforgiving lady and, finding the gate open, rode through the grounds up to the terrace. Seeing no one, he sat in his saddle looking over the golden country to the Rhone and the castle of the good King Rene, where the autumn mists were like banners floating from towers.

There was a solitary beauty around the lovely place that spoke to the young officer with a sweet melancholy. He fancied that Miss Redmond must often have looked out from one of the windows, and he wondered which one. The terrace was deserted and leaves from the vines strewed it with red and golden specters. Pitchoune raced after them, for the wind started them flying, and he rolled his tawny little body over and over in the rustling leaves. Then a rabbit, which before the arrival of Sabron had been sitting comfortably on the terrace stones, scuttled away like mad, and Pitchoune, somewhat hindered by his limp, tore after it.

The deserted chateau, the fact that there was nothing in his military life beyond the routine to interest him now in Tarascon, made Sabron eagerly look forward to a change, and he waited for letters from the minister of war which would send him to a new post.

The following day after his visit to the chateau he took a walk, Pitchoune at his heels, and stood aside in the highroad to let a yellow motor pass him, but the yellow motor at that moment drew up to the side of the road while the chauffeur got out to adjust some portion of the mechanism. Some one leaned from the yellow motor window and Sabron came forward to speak to the Marquise d'Esclignac and another lady by her side.

"How do you do, Monsieur? Do you remember us?"

(Had he ever forgotten them?) He regretted so very much not having been able to dine with them in the spring.

"And your sick friend?" asked Madame d'Esclignac keenly, "did he recover?"

"Yes," said Sabron, and Miss Redmond, who leaned forward, smiled at him and extended her pretty hand. Sabron opened the motor door.

"What a darling dog!" Miss Redmond cried. "What a bewitching face he has! He's an Irish terrier, isn't he?"

Sabron called Pitchoune, who diverted his attention from the chauffeur to come and be hauled up by the collar and presented. Sabron shook off his reticence.

"Let me make a confession," he said with a courteous bow. "This is my 'very sick friend.' Pitchoune was at the point of death the night of your dinner and I was just leaving the house when I realized that the helpless little chap could not weather the breeze without me. He had been run over by a bicycle and he needed some very special care."

Stood Aside to Let a Motor Pass Him.

Miss Redmond's hand was on Pitchoune's head between his pointed ears. She looked sympathetic. She looked amused. She smiled.

"It was a question of 'life and death,' wasn't it?" she said eagerly to Sabron.

"Really, it was just that," answered the young officer, not knowing how significant the words were to the two ladies.

Then Madame d'Esclignac knew that she was beaten and that she owed something and was ready to pay. The chauffeur got upon his seat and she asked suavely:

"Won't you let us take you home, Monsieur Sabron?"

He thanked them. He was walking and had not finished his exercise.

"At all events," she pursued, "now that your excuse is no longer a good one, you will come this week to dinner, will you not?"

He would, of course, and watched the yellow motor drive away in the autumn sunlight, wishing rather less for the order from the minister of war to change his quarters than he had before.

CHAPTER VI.

Ordered Away.

He had received his letter from the minister of war. Like many things we wish for, set our hopes upon, when they come we find that we do not want them at any price. The order was unwelcome. Sabron was to go to Algiers.

Winter is never very ugly around Tarascon. Like a lovely bunch of fruit in the brightest corner of a happy vineyard, the Midi is sheltered from the rude experiences that the seasons know farther north. Nevertheless, rains and winds, sea-born and vigorous, had swept in and upon the little town. The mistral came whistling and Sabron, from his window, looked down on his little garden from which summer had entirely flown. Pitchoune, by his side, looked down as well, but his expression, different from his master's, was ecstatic, for he saw sliding along the brick wall, a cat with which he was on the most excited terms. His body tense, his ears forward, he gave a sharp series of barks and little soft growls, while his master tapped the window-pane to the tune of Miss Redmond's song.

Although Sabron had heard it several times, he did not know the words or that they were of a semi-religious, extremely sentimental character which would have been difficult to translate into French. He did not know that they ran something like this:

Good keep you safe, my love,
All through the night;
Rest close in his encircling arms
Until the light.

And there was more of it. He only knew that there was a pathos in the tune which spoke to his warm heart; which caressed and captivated him and which made him long deeply for a happiness he thought it most unlikely he would ever know.

There had been many pictures added to his collection: Miss Redmond at dinner Miss Julia Redmond—he knew her first name now—before the piano; Miss Redmond in a smart coat, walking with him down the alley, while Pitchoune chased flying leaves and apparitions of rabbits hither and thither.

The Count de Sabron had always dreaded just what happened to him. He had fallen in love with a woman beyond his reach, for he had no fortune whatsoever, nothing but his captain's pay and his hard soldier's life, a wanderer's life and one which he hesitated to ask a woman to share. In spite of the fact that Madame d'Esclignac was agreeable to him, she was not cordial, and he understood that she did not consider him a parti for her niece. Other guests, as well as he, had shared her hospitality. He had been jealous of them, though he could not help seeing Miss Redmond's preference for himself. Not that he wanted to help it. He recalled that she had really sung to him, decidedly walked by his side when there had been more than the quartette, and he felt, in short, her sympathy.

"Pitchoune," he said to his companion, "we are better off in Algiers, mon vieux. The desert is the place for us. We shall get rid of fancies there and do some hard fighting one way or another."

(To be continued.)

Wanted
Ten Boys
Between the ages of 16 and 18 years. Must possess intelligence and have a hustling spirit. High School boys preferred. A Splendid chance to make good money.
See MR. MILLS at the Ledger Office
Between 2.30 and 3.30 any day this week.

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE
Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit
WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS
Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.
Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys
1506--1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block
Jan. 26-tu.-th.-s.-tf

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter-s Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER-S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S
Tel. 1427-W Quincy

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

Prescott Apartments
For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service. Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

ENJOY DANCE AND RECITAL

The pupils of James Kennedy gave a recital and dance in Atlantic Music hall Tuesday evening before a large audience.

Each dancer was in appropriate costume and all showed the excellent training of Mr. Kennedy.

Miss Mae Stevens furnished music for the dancers.

The programme was as follows:

Piano selection Augusta MacMahon
Momment Musical Thelma Keay
Pierrot—Annie Kennedy
Irish Jig—Thelma Keay, Malcolm Kennedy.
Violin—Adelaide Lynch.
Vocal Solo—Lora Churchill.
Highland Fling—John Vasalick, Annie Kennedy, Margaret Phillips, Thelma Keay, Mary Lukman, Elinor Phillips, Margaret Reardon, Adelaide Lynch.
Petronella—Annie Kennedy, Eleanor Phillips, Adelaide Lynch, Thelma Keay.
Polish Danse—Mary Vosalick.
Reading—Pheobe Buckley.
Little Bo-Peep—Louise Vozella.
The Violet—Mary Luckman
Tarantella—Eleanor Phillips. Thelma Keay, Annabel Brown, Annie Kennedy, Gladys Barclay, Adelaide Lynch.
Vocal Solos—James Butler, In the Garden of my Heart. A Perfect Day.
Sailor's Hornpipe—Ruth Wilmore.
Sword Dance—Annie Kennedy.
American Dance—Mary Vosalick.

At the close of the program the audience enjoyed dancing until a late hour.

Music was furnished by the White Trio.

BE WISE
FOOL THE FLIES
HAVE YOUR SCREENS RE-COVERED NOW
TELEPHONE OR WRITE
HOLMES & HALL
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

WANTED
EXPERIENCED STITCHERS
STEADY WORK
APPLY TO
SOVEREIGN WAIST CO.
192 GRANITE ST.

Furniture Storage Warehouse
Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.
Rates $2---$3---$4 per month
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.
Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26--tu.-th.s.-tf

ALL JOIN IN WAR ON DIRT

Clean Up and Paint Up Campaign Almost at Hand

COMES FIRST WEEK IN MAY

Aim of Campaign Committee Is to Add to Prosperity and Happiness of Each Community—Women's Clubs Add to Success of Movement—Mrs. Frank L. Young Heads Boston Committee

All of New England is catching the spirit of tidiness. Joseph N. Baker, secretary of the New England Clean Up and Paint Up Campaign Committee, P. O. Box 1224, Boston, reports that information relative to the Clean Up and Paint Up week idea has been mailed to over 2000 cities and towns in the New England states.

The New England committee is composed of representatives from twenty leading trade organizations who have endorsed this concerted effort for a Cleaner, Brighter and Happier New England.

This campaign has received the cordial endorsement of such public men as Governor David I. Walsh of Massachusetts, Governor R. L. Beeckman, Rhode Island; Governor Oakley C. Curtis, Maine; Governor Charles W. Gates, Vermont; Lieutenant Governor Grafton D. Cushing, Massachusetts; ex-Governors John L. Bates and Curtis Guild, Massachusetts; George W. Anderson, United States attorney, who are honorary members of the New England committee.

The method employed by the New England committee to interest the different cities and towns in this campaign idea has been to distribute broadcast through New England, by having wholesale merchants send same out with their mail, a little folder containing invitation to merchants, tradesmen, etc., to interest themselves in the idea and form local Clean Up and Paint Up committees; letters of invitation have also been sent to business men's associations, women's clubs, selectmen and others, inviting them to join in this good work.

DIRTY BACK YARDS ALONG RAILROAD TRACKS GIVE UNFAVORABLE IMPRESSION TO VISITORS. THEY HURT ANY CITY OR TOWN

The aim of the committee is not to benefit any one branch of trade, but to add to the prosperity and happiness of the whole community.

The title "Clean Up and Paint Up" is the one under which the movement started in St. Louis in 1912, and it was thought best to co-operate with the national bureau and use this title, as it tells the property owners plainly just what is wanted in each community.

"The beauty of New England cities and towns is proverbial. This section has a high reputation throughout the country for cleanliness and thrift, and we should all endeavor to maintain that reputation.

"Here is an opportunity for every citizen of New England (man, woman or child) not only to show his personal pride, but also his civic pride. No city or town is attractive if it is dirty, littered up or unpainted. Everyone should be willing to co-operate in cleaning up and painting up, not only his own premises, but in helping arouse others to the importance of this work and assisting when necessary. Let us all work together to make New England not only clean but beautiful, and then do our best to keep it that way throughout the entire year," says the New England committee.

The New England committee is especially pleased at the great interest that the women's clubs have taken in this effort for homes and towns beautiful.

Last year, in nearly every local campaign, the women's clubs took a prominent part, and it was largely due to the co-operation of the women's clubs that the different campaigns achieved the measure of success that they did.

At a meeting held in city hall, Boston, March 25, for the purpose of organizing the Boston Clean Up committee, there was a very large attendance of city officials and citizens, including many women from the different women's clubs in metropolitan Boston, and after a thorough discussion of ways and means of carrying on the Boston Clean Up week campaign, the meeting organized itself into a committee of the whole and elected Mrs. Frank L. Young chairman.

Mrs. Young is the president of the Boston City federation. She is a very public spirited woman who has always taken a great interest in every effort for civic betterment, and no better selection could be made for chairman of the Boston Clean Up committee.

In taking the chair Mrs. Young said this movement must not move like the old-time freight train, the cars no faster than the locomotive. "Be up to date and let the movement be an automobile one, a self-starting movement, each working with vigor, and if necessary, drag along the chairman."

On her suggestion Miss Mabel Frost of the Women's Municipal league was elected secretary.

At this point Mayor Curley entered and was given a rousing reception. Mrs. Young called on him at once for words of encouragement. The mayor said the city was deeply appreciative of the assistance given by this clean-up movement and so far as city officials were concerned he could promise hearty co-operation.

Mrs. Young appointed the following executive committee: Mrs. F. L. Young, Miss Frost, Commissioner of Public Works Louis K. Rourke, Fire Prevention Commissioner John A. O'Keefe, Dr. Francis X. Mahoney, chairman of the health board; Chief Health Inspector Thomas Jordan, John J. Walsh of the city planning board, Fire Commissioner John Grady, and the following to represent the several sanitary districts of Boston: J. Carlton Nichols, South Boston; Miss Jean E. Morrison, East Boston; P. J. Kyle, Charlestown; Karl Kilburn, Faneuil; Mrs. G. A. O. Ernst, Jamaica Plain; Mrs. P. G. Bolster, Dorchester; V. N. Heath, Roxbury; Miss Mabel Frost, Back Bay; H. S. Upham, South End; Howard Whitmore, West End; George W. Owen, Hyde Park.

The following committees were appointed:

Finance—George C. Morton, B. H. Bain, C. E. Osgood.

Press—Mrs. Myra B. Lord, chairman; Mrs. Robert Lincoln O'Brien and Mrs. George B. Gallup.

Posters and Printed Matter—George B. Gallup, chairman; Claude A. Palmer, J. N. Baker.

Schools and Schoolchildren—Franklin B. Dyer, chairman; Miss Frances Curtis, Miss Elsie Virgin.

Retail Stores—Arthur P. Felton, chairman; George A. Richardson, H. M. Sanders.

Death to Rats—Mrs. Robert S. Bradley, chairman, with full power to name her associates.

Local committees along the line of the one just established in Boston are being formed in hundreds of places throughout New England, and any citizen located in a town where no local committee has as yet been established, is invited to start at once and organize a local committee.

The plan of organization, as used by the citizens committee in Boston last year, is a good one for any local committee to follow. Briefly stated this plan is as follows: We quote from the report made by that committee:

This committee was organized March 17, 1914, and consisted of one representative from each of the eleven sanitary districts into which the city is divided. Mrs. Thomas Sherwin was chairman and Mrs. G. A. O. Ernst secretary. The general plan that they carried out was as follows:

May 2 to 9 was decided upon as Clean Up week. Each member of the central committee was to organize a local committee in his district, to act as its chairman and do the general supervisory work in his district.

The members of these sub-committees were supposed to first make a thorough inspection of their district and note down all specially untidy or unsanitary places, including vacant lots that needed special attention, inviting the owners to co-operate by cleaning up; then they were to obtain from the central committee signs, posters and advertising matter and place same in church vestries, stores and various places in their district, where they would be of advertising value. To report to the chairman all bad conditions where the owners did not clean up, and the central committee were to write letters to these property owners, asking them to clean up their places, and in case this did not bring the desired results, the conditions were to be reported to the city officials or the board of health, to see if some pressure could not be brought to bear.

A FACTORY YARD BEFORE IT WAS CLEANED UP

The general plan of publicity, to arouse the citizens to co-operate during Clean Up week, was as follows:

A proclamation by His Honor, Mayor Curley.

Notices read in churches and posted in church vestries.

House to house circulars, same being distributed by the employes of the public works department when making their removal of ashes the week before Clean Up week; some 130,000 of these circulars, many in foreign languages, were distributed in this way.

Dasher signs on all of the street cars in Boston.

Team signs on all the city wagons and other trucking teams.

A letter from the school committee was sent to the principal of every public school, to be read to the pupils, asking them to do their part in Clean Up work.

A set of fifteen lantern slides was placed at all the large moving picture shows in the city.

A parade of school children in the West End, headed by the school boys' band, contributed much publicity in that section.

One hundred thousand business men's circulars were distributed in the wholesale section of the city by members of the Under Forty division of the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

LOUIS K. ROURKE
Commissioner of Public Works, Boston. The man who directed the Clean Up of the City

The merchants of the city gave the newspapers of Boston a double spread of pages of advertising clean up articles. These were run with large headings across the top "Clean Up and Paint Up This Week."

Retail stores dressed their show windows with Clean Up articles and appropriate signs during the week.

Many letters were sent to owners of vacant lots, asking them to clean same up and stating that if they could not conveniently attend to same, if they would send $3 to the committee they would employ a man to clean the lot up and put it in good order. Some out of town owners of city vacant lots sent the money in this way.

A feature of this year's Clean Up and Paint Up campaign as conducted by the New England committee has been an earnest effort to render aid on the unemployment problem. About February first this committee responded to invitation received from the state executive committee on unemployment for co-operation. Within forty-eight hours about 15,000 circulars were put in circulation inviting property owners generally to help the unemployed by starting just as early as possible all inside work, Repairing, Cleaning, Painting, Alterations, etc. This assistance resulted in considerable cleaning being started immediately and has given many jobs to men whose families were needy.

STEWARDS WERE HIRED ABROAD

Charge In Warrant Served on Skipper of Kroonland

MANY OF CREW ARE ARRESTED

Seventy-Seven on American Liner Said to Have Been Employed In Violation of Alien Contract Labor Law—Deportation Awaits All but Few to Be Held as Witnesses

New York, April 15.—Seventy-seven men and women, virtually the entire force of stewards and stewardesses aboard the American liner Kroonland, were arrested by immigration officers, and a warrant was served on the captain, charging the Red Star line, owners of the vessel, with violation of the alien contract labor law.

The entire complement of stewards and stewardesses—sixty-nine men and eight women—it was charged, had been brought in as passengers aboard the liner Finland last January from England. After their arrival here, it is charged, the Red Star line transferred them, in accordance with a previous agreement, to the Kroonland, thus violating the law.

Under the law, the immigration officers asserted the line had the privilege of transferring the crew of one ship to another, but could not bring to America as passengers aboard one of their ships a crew for another ship in an American port.

Conviction of the charge carries with it a penalty of $1000 fine for each alien employed. In this case, the maximum fine, upon conviction, would be $77,000.

Although placed technically under arrest at quarantine, the stewards and stewardesses were allowed to remain at work until the ship docked. The captain of the ship was notified, however, that the line would be subject to a fine of $1000 for each man or woman who should escape.

George W. Moore, the officer making the arrest, said the government planned to send the arrested men and women to Ellis island temporarily, and would deport most of them as quickly as possible, leaving only five or six behind as witnesses.

Moore said the employment of alien stewards and stewardesses was an object to many steamship lines because the rate of wages was about half that paid Americans.

The Kroonland reached New York with 295 tourists. The vessel sailed Jan. 21 and circled South America with the tourists, passing through the Panama canal.

URGES REORGANIZATION

Special Message to New Hampshire Legislature on Boston and Maine

Concord, N. H., April 15.—Governor Spaulding sent a special message to the legislature of New Hampshire, in joint convention, urging the passage of the Boston and Maine reorganization bill against which the judiciary committee reported by a vote of 14 to 1.

The message was short, but gave a strong indorsement of the bill, and especially emphasized the necessity of some legislation.

The Boston and Maine is in financial straits, the governor said, and in consequence it is giving the public inadequate service. With a floating indebtedness of $18,000,000 it cannot raise the $30,000,000 needed to re-equip its lines.

NELSON PLEADS GUILTY

Killed Man Whom He Thought Was Too Friendly With His Wife

Skowhegan, Me., April 15.—Verdie W. Nelson of Canaan pleaded guilty to the murder of Bert Ireland, a fellow townsman, when he was arraigned in the supreme court here. Sentence will be imposed later.

Ireland was found dead on the threshold of his home. Nelson, who had quarrelled with the man over Ireland's attentions to his wife, was arrested at the home of his brother, where he had gone to wash blood stains from his hands.

STEAMER GOES TO BOTTOM

Passengers and Crew on Excursion Boat Barely Escape Death

San Francisco, April 15.—Sinking rapidly, while men, women and children fought for life preservers, the excursion steamer Monarch raced toward shore in San Pablo bay.

The sixty-five passengers and crew had barely been landed safely over improvised gangways after the ship went ashore off the Selby landing than she slipped back into deep water and sank out of sight.

Only Bruised In Seven-Story Fall

New York, April 15.—Intervening clothes lines saved the life of Kathleen Reed, 12 years old, when she fell from a seventh-story window while walking in her sleep. The girl escaped with a few bruises.

Killed by Excitement

North Adams, Mass., April 15.—Willard Moody, 90, dropped dead from excitement when fire destroyed the buildings on the farm of Frank Conchine, his next door neighbor, on the Sand Springs road.

KEEP POSTED ON THE PEOPLE'S WANTS — CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING — WHY WORRY LET THESE ADS LIFT YOUR BURDEN

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Modern apartment, near high school; two-family house, every thing separate; 7 rooms and bath; electricity and gas. Apply A. D. Cossaboom, 95 Merrymount road; Tel. 1374-M. 2 15-1t

TO LET—A tenement of 4 rooms to small family, rent $8.00, 19 Carrolls Lane. Apply Carrolls Lane. 13-6t

TO LET—3 new flats, Quincy Point, four rooms and kitchenette, hot and cold water, set range, gas, separate cellars, low rent, Germain avenue, cor. Washington street. Small families only. Good neighborhood. E. R. Stone, 12 Avon Way. Ready now. 13-6t

TO LET—Small tenement on 11 Francis Court, all modern improvements. Rent $18.00, apply 11 Francis Court. 13-6t

TO LET—Lower flat in two-family house. Living room, dining room, bedroom, kitchen and bathroom, pantry, good closets and cellar. Coal and gas range, furnace, electric lights. Every convenience. Rent $20. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 13-tf

FOR RENT—In Quincy Centre, opposite Adams Academy, house 7 rooms, and bath 18 Faxon avenue, suite 6 rooms and bath, every modern improvement Tel. 414-M Weymouth. 7-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 867, Quincy. 7-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of two family house, 5 rooms and bath, all improvements, 3 Bradford street, Quincy Adams. Apply to William Duggan, Bradford street or telephone Quincy 724-W. 7-12t

TO LET—Half house of six rooms and large laundry to adult family, conveniences, large garden. Rent $20. Apply to George H. Newcomb, 21 Adams Bldg. or M. M. Newcomb, 39 Gay street or phone 1990 Quincy. 2-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house, 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2 Quincy or 110 South street, Boston, Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 5 rooms, one attic room and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished, 97 Goddard street, near Quincy Adams Station. 15-tf.

TO LET—Tenement of three rooms $7.50 per month. Good place for hens. James Moorhead, 28 Curtis street. Tel. 599-1. 15-tf.

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Flats, Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

TO LET

TO LET—Upper apartment, 6 rooms and bath, gas and coal ranges, small family $20, F. M. Torrey, Tel. 292-1 Quincy, 25 Spear street. 15-tf

TO LET—Light housekeeping rooms also furnished rooms, 5 minutes from library, 65 Spear street, Quincy. 15-3t

TO LET—Three rooms at 32 Newcomb place. Apply at 32 Newcomb place. 14-3t

TO LET—Tenement of 7 rooms, all improvements. Rent $25. Apply 233 Washington street. 12-6t

TO LET—Flat in new house, all modern improvements. Apply 61 Richie road. April 12-6t

TO LET—To small family of adults, several sunny attractive half houses, all improvements, centrally located, $21, $23 and $25 per month and water rates. Tel. Quincy 174-2, Charles H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. 10-12t

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements. 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 13-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—In Wollaston, new two flat house, ten minutes to Quincy or Wollaston station, one minute to electric cars, will sell reasonable, apply at 26 Carruth street, near car barn. 15-3t

FOR SALE—New two flat house on Kittredge avenue. Each flat has 5 rooms and bath, all modern improvements, coal and gas range, electric lights. Inquire at 11 Ring avenue off Washington street. 13-6t

FOR SALE—20 foot open boat, 4 H. P., Victor engine, reverse, cushions, etc., T. E. Baker, 24 Baxter Street. 13-6t

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E. R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-t. L. P.

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1207-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

FOR SALE
Great Bargain. In Quincy, near car line, House, Barn, one acre land, $3,200. Very easy terms.
FRANK FESSENDEN CRANE
19 Temple St., Quincy, Mass
9-tf

CARPENTER AND BUILDER
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1881 in Quincy
All Work Given Prompt Attention
W. R. LOFGREN
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 398-3

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.

Dandy bungalow in E Braintree for sale; small pay't., bal. as rent; see this at once.

Houses
H. F. McIntire
Greenleaf Bl'k
Tel. Quincy 1665-W.

Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.

1-1 yr.

FOUND

FOUND—A stick pin, owner may have by calling 1919-W. 14-3t

WANTED

WANTED—Carpenter at once. Tel. 21026 Quincy or call at 645 Sea street Quincy between 7 and 8 o'clock during the evening. 15-1t

WANTED—Intelligent honest girl to help care for child two and a half years and to do light housework. Apply at 644 Adams street, East Milton. 15-3t

WANTED—Gardening, grading and jobbing by day or job. Mr. Bellington, 17 Edwards street, Quincy. 13-6t

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

FOR SALE
40ft. MAST
ALMOST NEW COST $45.00
PRICE $12.00
Call at 43 Whitney Road or 'Phone 1063M Quincy
4t 10, 12, 15, 17

LEWIS N CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
Old Furniture Refinished
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

TO LET
Large Room 30x36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

TO LET
After May 1, Store or Stores No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.

Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x65 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.

Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.

City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.

Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.

City Square Store House or Shop—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

City Square Club Room or Hall—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.

Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water, $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.

Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for K. F. Kribs.
Greenleaf Block. ('Phone 21066) Quincy

KINCAIDE THEATRE

MARY PICKFORD
THE MOST POPULAR MOVIE-ACTRESS AS
"MISTRESS NELL"
A Sensational 4 Reel Romantic Drama by the Famous Players Co.
Souvenir Photo Postals of Mary Pickford given away Friday Matinee.

Vaudeville. Roattini & Cortella in a Comedy Sketch entitled "The Opera Singer and the Fruit Vendor"
Bert and Lotta Walton—Live Entertainers—New Wit—Clever Songs—Rapid Changes
Paul Stevens—Novelty in Gymnastics

THURS. FRI. SAT. DAILY MATINEE 2.30 P. M. 10 & 15c. EVENINGS at 8 — 10-15-25c

Coming Monday Latest Episode "Exploits of Elaine" by popular request
"Buckshot John" 4 Reel Western Paramount Photo-Play

CHANGES AT FORE RIVER.

The annex in the Fore River yard which has been used as a dining room ever since its erection will be removed and the dining room will be transferred to the top floor of the main office building. Two elevators will be installed, one for passengers and the other for freight, so the floor can be easily reached. This improvement will probably be completed within a few months.

SEPARATE OFFICE AND YARD.

Before many days workmen will commence the erection of a seven foot, ornamental iron fence in the rear of the Fore River shipyard office The fence will separate the office from the shipyard.

The plans call for a fence of iron bars, artistically designed to be 500 feet in length. The tracks directly in the rear of the office will be straightened and the land graded up to the fence from both sides. Grass seed will be sown there and the caretaker of the yard expects to have a lawn by the middle of the summer. Next fall several scores of shrubs will be set out.

The sewing circle of Rebecca Wiswell tent, Daughter of Veterans, will hold an all day session Friday at the Home of Mrs. Annie Grignon. 105 Independance avenue.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Official Low Shoe Day
TODAY April 15th, TODAY

Warm Spring Weather and fashions decree that you should get your Low Shoes.

Hasten to Look over Our Line.

LA FRANCE SHOE for WOMEN

Here you will find the largest and most complete line of footwear at prices that will surely meet with your approval.

The Elite

Granite Shoe Store

RECEPTION TO S. S. TEACHERS

Women's Alliance Entertains Faithful Workers

The Women's Alliance of the First church entertained the officers and teachers of the Sunday school on Wednesday evening in the chapel. From eight o'clock until half past eight there was a reception with Mrs. Thomas Fenno, president of the Alliance Miss Minnie Packard, superintendent of the Sunday school, Mrs. Henry M. Faxon and Rev. A. L. Hudson in the receiving line.

The brief musical program in charge of Mrs. George Pfaffmann which followed was exceptionally fine and a genuine treat to music lovers.

Greetings Hawley
Mr. Kearns
Open Secret Woodman
Mrs. Sturtevant
Mavourneen
What is Love?
Miss McCarthy

Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick told in a charming manner "The Story of Phaedrus" by Newell Dwight Hillis a stirring tale of a young Christian who lived in the time of Nero.

The refreshments were in charge of Mrs. George T. Magee and Mrs. Walter Piper. Mrs. Conway, Mrs. Hunting Mrs. Lovell and Miss Nightingale poured and the young ladies of Mrs Frederick Smith's class assisted in serving.

This is the first affair of the kind that the Alliance has given. It was a graceful way of expressing appreciation of the faithful and efficient service of those who are working in the Sunday school.

☞PRATT'S BREAD costs a little more—is worth a good deal more Ask your grocer.

SPORTING COMMENT

"Miracle" George Stallings says his team of today is better than the bunch that beat the Macks last fall. Some claim.

Jess Willard and his entire crew are due at the Arena April 19.

We don't want to be over enthusiastic over Tack Hardwick but he got one for a total of two in the Bowdoin game. The day before he got two for a total of four. And there remains, 'tis said, some doubt as to whether he will be a regular. That dope is wrong.

BRIEFS

English Ivy lodge will meet in Quincy Adams hall this evening.

The Auditorium Theatre will reopen Saturday.

The Allerton A. C. will hold a dance in Alpha hall Wednesday evening.

There will be a meeting of the Golden Star in Electa hall on Friday evening April 23.

The Wollaston Woman's club will give a children's party on Saturday, April 24.

Quincy conclave, Knights of Sherwood Forest, will hold its ladies night on Friday evening, April 30.

Tickets are out for the High school Alumni play which is to be given in the High school hall on May 8.

Mrs. Frederick Simpson of Edgemere road will give a small and informal auction bridge party Friday evening.

The Citizen's Gas Light Co. is connecting its customers along Hancock street, between Granite and School streets, with the new main laid a few days ago.

The street railway has replaced the wooden trolley suspension poles on the east side of Hancock street between the Ledger office and School street with the ornamental iron poles. The improvement is very marked.

St. Stephen's Royal Arch Chapter held a regular convocation Wednesday evening in the Masonic apartments and exemplified the Royal Arch degree upon several candidates.

The members of Quincy chapter, N. E. O. P., will be entertained at a Dutch supper Friday evening in Protection hall. The supper will be served after the annual roll call of the organization. The committee in charge will be Mrs. Ermina Lindsay Mrs. Jennie Donahue, Mrs. Louise Lansair, Mrs. Lena Holman, Hoyt Macaulay and James Bartlett.

CANTFILL STOPS RUNAWAY HORSE

James N. Cantfill, sealer of weights and measures, rushed from his home today and stopped a runaway horse hitched to a tip cart as it swung into Madison street and toward a group of children playing in its path.

Mr. Cantfill was at dinner when the heavy rumbling of the bouncing cart attracted his attention. Losing no time in reaching the street he jumped for the bridle and after being dragged 20 feet brought the animal to a stop. a short distance from the children. No one was injured. The horse was owned by the city.

NOTICE

On and after this date, I shall not pay any debts except of my own contracting.

EUGENE H. PROUTY,
37 Quincy Ave.,
Quincy, Mass.
April 15, 1915 15-3t

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

FOR SALE—Two Runabouts, Model 10 Buick, 1914 Trumbull, tires good and in good running order. Cheap for cash. O. S. Sandberg, 1281 Hancock street. 15-3t

MARRIAGES

SAVOIE—HUGHES—In Braintree, April 15, by Fr. Hugh Blunt, Edward Savoie of Quincy and Miss Mary Fullerton Hughes of Braintree.

O'NEIL—BIRNIE—In Quincy, April 15, by Fr. Michael J. Owens, Joseph O'Neil and Miss May Birnie, both of Quincy.

DEATHS

MONAHAN—In Quincy City Hospital, April 14, Miss Catherine Monahan, sister of Mrs. Mary Favreau of Rodman street, in her 73rd year.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1495 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

PLAN EXHIBITION DRILL AT DANCE

The degree team of the local branch of the I. C. A. has challenged the uniform degree team of John Adams court Fraternal Order of Eagles, to an exhibition drill. The challenge was read at the meeting of the latter organization in Electa hall Wednesday evening and was unanimously accepted. The contest will take place in the near future, probably at the annual dancing party of the I. C. A. The challengers have been drilled by George Mitchell, conductor of the challenged team.

Several applications for membership were received and Pres. John J. Faircloth announced that the charter would be open during the months of May, June and July.

O'NEIL—BIRNIE.

Miss May Birnie of Phipps street, South Quincy, and Joseph O'Neil, the youngest special officer of the Quincy police department, were married here Wednesday evening.

The ceremony was performed by Fr. Michael J. Owens, at the St. John's parish house. Miss Mary O'Neil, sister of the groom, and Thomas J. Shortle, his cousin, were the attendants. They were given a reception by the members of their immediate family, relatives and friends, at the home of the bride, following the ceremony They were the recipients of many handsome presents.

The bride is one of the most popular of the South Quincy young women and has a host of friends. She is the daughter of Mrs. Anna Leahy. The groom is the younger son of Bernard O'Neil, a member of the Metropolitan park police force. Last summer he did duty at Squantum and became a favorite with the residents of that community.

They will live in a bungalow recently erected on Dysart street.

QUINCY MINISTERS MEET.

While the Quincy Ministers association at its meeting Wednesday did not take any formal action relative to the use of the Adams Academy building as a free dispensary, the members did enter a decided protest against its use for such a purpose. The meeting was held primarily to say good-bye to Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott and Rev. A. E. Hillman who are to leave Quincy and to A. F. Bromley of the Y. M. C. A., who is also to leave. Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson, presided and acted as toast master, and instead of each clergyman giving a farewell talk Rev. Mr. Hudson voiced the sentiment of regret of the association. Rev. A. E. Hillman was unable to be present as he had already left Quincy.

Rev. Mr. Willmott spoke in reply telling of the good fellowship that had existed among the ministers of the city and expressed his regrets at parting with the association. Mr. Bromley also spoke briefly.

In addition to saying farewell to those mentioned the meeting was also one of welcome to two new pastors, Rev. William Grainger of Christ church and Rev. Clarence E. Campbell of the Water Street Presbyterian church.

FRENCH TROOPS GAIN.

William Philip Simms
(Staff Correspondent of the United Press.)

Berlin, April 15—The French troops gained nearly a mile in fighting in the upper Alsace according to dispatches received here today Near Laboisselle in the Argonne, the battle still raging around the German wedge east of St. Mihiel, the French made further gains. Violent conflict has been in progress southwest of Colmner in the upper Alsace several days.

PULMOTOR SAVES LIFE.

The litle girl born to Mrs. A. Ciardi of 30 6Water street this morning is alive and Dr. George M. Sheahon and Dr. Harold Diehl who applied the pulmotor are jubilant. The little girl came into the world about seven o'clock, showing but little signs of life. A slight heart flutter indicated life and the oxygen sustained life.

WILL HIT FARMERS.

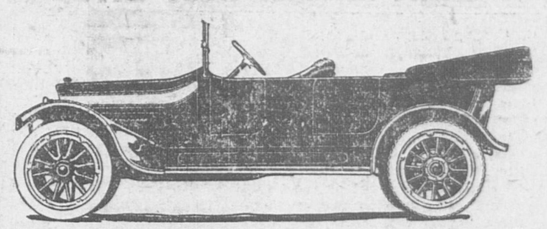

Farmers, especially those who make a business of keeping hens and raising eggs for the market, will be hard hit if the proposed building law now before the legislature known as House Bill 1750 becomes a law for they will be prohibited from building any hen house more than 20 feet long, 11 feet high and 10 feet wide, without having plans drawn and securing a permit from the state.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER. SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

Exclusive Agency
Dorothy Dodd
SMART SHOES FOR WOMEN
Famous for Style and Comfort
The best fitting, best wearing, most popular shoes today
You are cordially invited to call and inspect the new Spring Models.
$3.00, $3.25, $3.50, $3.75, $4.00
JONES Just around the Corner 1 Granite St., Quincy

An Absolute Necessity
In Every Family
A CHEMICAL THERMOMETER
We have them at Prices from 50c to $1.75
Chas. C. Hearn, Druggist
City Square

THE 1915 REO IS HERE

Electrically Lighted and Started, One Man Top
Increased Wheel Base, 34x4 Tires, Crown Fender, Improved Upholstering, Increased Power.

	F.O.B. Factory		F.O.B. Factory
4 cyl. - - -	$1050	2 ton Truck	$1650
6 cyl. - - -	$1385	Light Delivery 1500 lbs.	$1075
4 cyl. Runabout	$1000	Light Delivery Chassis	$1000
4 cyl. Coupe	$1575

Reo the Fifth - - the Incomparable Four is on Display at our Garage. Call and see This Car.
Ask for Demonstration
CENTRAL GARAGE and SUPPLY CO.
Corner Washington and Pond Sts.
QUINCY
Tel. 1035 W C. W. Hodgkinson, Prop.
16-1mo.

The Ruling Forces in the grocery line are highest quality and fair prices. We believe that in Quincy we have set a standard in groceries that is hard to come up to. Our reward is in the continuous satisfaction of our patrons. How great that satisfaction is you may determine by giving us a trial order today.

Carnation Milk 3 cans 25c
Libby's Extra Peaches 2 cans 25c
Hatchet Corn 2 cans 25c

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1989
FOY'S 2 STORES
WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

At KINCAIDE'S — Special Values for Friday and Saturday

As pictured
REGULAR $6.50
GO-CARTS
Light, strong and serviceable. Fold up easily with one motion
$4.49

Regular $35.00
FULL REED
CARRIAGES
Very smart stylish carriage, reed body and hood, natural finish, corduroy upholstering, reversing gear, 14-inch Artillery wheels, heavy rubber tires
$25.75

As Pictured
REGULAR $12.50
ROADSTERS
Neat, trim new design, wood body, prettily painted and striped; Leather cloth adjustable hood; strong springs and steel wheels, rubber-tired.
$8.49

Fifty Other New Styles to Choose From. 2-wheel Sulkies $1.49 up.

Reliable New BICYCLES
High-Grade wheels which we guarantee. Fancy enamels. Coaster brakes. Lots to choose from $25 and up

Quincy Agents For
Iver Johnson Wheels
Quick Free delivery, low prices—cash or credit.

Furniture, Rugs, Ranges, Pianos — Everything to Furnish Homes
Complete Outfits, Quailty Goods $150, $198, $245, $295 to $1000
Easy Payments if You Wish.
Kincaide Furniture Store
"The Quality and Service Store." Entire 5-Floor Building, 1495 Hancock Street.

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 90 QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 16, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

DISCUSS TOWN MANACER FORM OF GOVERNMENT

Hold Afternoon Session of Civics Conference

The afternoon session of the civics conference of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's clubs, which was held in the hall of the new parish house of the Wollaston Unitarian church on Thursday, was of unusual interest and importance in view of the fact that the main topic of the afternoon was "Civic Betterment" and that the subject was treaed from the standpoint of the town manager form of government.

Many of the prominent men of Quincy are discussing this policy with a view to testing it sometime in the future. This meeting showed that the thinking women of Massachusetts are not behind in the modern, up-to-date problems of our municipalities. The presiding officer presented Mr. Morrill of Norwood who spoke briefly on "Norwood and Better Management." He stated that since the tax question has been taken up and dealt with in a business-like way the rate has been reduced from over $25 a thousand to $8 a thousand.

Mr. Morrill in presenting Mr. Geo L. Willett, a prominent citizen of Norwood, said that usually men of means die before they do anything for the betterment of society with their money but that Mr. Willett was one man who preferred to see his wishes carried out while he lived. Mr. Willett then spoke for a short time on Civic Betterment as it has been fulfilled in Norwood. He said that the part which women could take to bring these things to pass was to engender public sentiment in the community.

Economic waste, waste which comes from the administration of political affairs was the cause for the change. It has been seen that we cannot apply business methods to public affairs but we can apply business methods to the organization of public affairs. "We attempted," Mr. Willett said, "in Norwood to analize town affairs and see why the exsisting form was so terribly inefficient." This analysis resulted in the determination to form a sort of dual organization. The first factor in this organization is the political organization which consists of the selectmen and a few other officials. These men are elected by the people not because of any marked ability but simply because they are good fellows, popular and well liked and so represent the majority of the citizens.

"The second factor in the dual organization, is the business organization. This is under the control of the political organization only so far as the appointment of these officers is concerned. The man in the political organization will not be expected to run the affairs of the town but he will be expected to choose a man for the business organization who will be an expert in his line. We do not want people who have run for political favors year in and year out and are always elected because they are always running for some office, we want men who are specialists. "Under the old form there were but a limited number of men who could be called upon to serve upon the board

(Continued on Page Two.)

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity.

A short time ago the sun came out good and warm and for two days the weather was such as to lead many to believe that summer weather had arrived. Heavy top coats were laid aside, low shoes put on and in many cases furnaces were allowed to die out. The fickleness of New England weather was lost sight of. True to its reputation for handing out a great variety of weather in a short time, a change came. Thursday was cold and raw, top coats did not feel at all uncomfortable and in the afternoon there was a little snow flurry. The furnace is again cating up black diamonds at the rate of eight dollars a ton and the indications are that there will not be much change in temperature Saturday although the weather man promises that it will be pleasant, but with moderate variable winds.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	5.01
Sun sets	6 28
Length of day	12 27
Moon rises	10 06
High water, A. M.	1.00
High water, P. M.	1.30
Days increase 4 hrs. 21 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

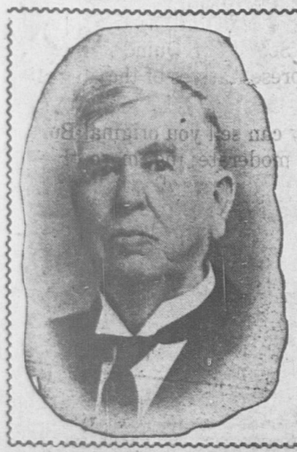

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	54 degrees
Apr. 16, 1914,	27 degrees
Apr. 16, 1913,	48 degrees

Noon Maximum 18 years—86
Noon Minimum 18 years—30

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
OF QUINCY, MASSACHUSETTS, ANNOUNCES
A FREE PUBLIC LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
By VIRGIL O. STRICKLER, C. S.
OF NEW YORK CITY
Member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.
AT WOLLASTON, MASS.
IN WOLLASTON SCHOOL HALL, BEALE ST. FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 16 AT EIGHT O'CLOCK.
You and your friends are cordially invited to be present.

10-1w P & O L-14-3t

Associated Bible Students
Free Lecture
TOPIC
"THE OVERTHOW OF SATAN'S EMPIRE"
A lecture of unusual interest by J. A. Gillespie, V.D.M. of New York City
Colonial Hall - City Square
Sunday April 18, at 3 P. M.
All are cordially invited.
Seats Free - - No Collection

ASSOCIATION TO BROADEN FIELD

Senator Langelier Addresses Wollaston Gathering

With the change of name from Wollaston Park Improvement association to Wollaston Improvement association and the admission of 22 new members this organization started in a broader field ot activity at its meeting in Progressive hall, Thursday evening.

For some time the work and the membership of the association has been enlarging until it was thought advisable to make its name and efforts cover the whole of Wollaston. With a present membership of 125 big efforts are being made to bring the total up to 200 before the end of the current season.

The organization is planning a ladies night, to be held on May 28 at the Wollaston Yacht club, when a musical program, followed by dancing will be in order. The scheme for an Association building of the bungalow type was brought up and referred to the directors.

The association went on record as against the petition of the A. B. C. Oil Company for the location of two gasolene tanks, each of two carload capacity, to be located adjoining the spur track of the railroad, between the Wollaston Garage and the Ralph Coal Co. Steps were taken to have a committee present at the hearing, April 26.

The business meeting was preceded by an informal "get together" and the speaker of the evening was Senator Louis F. R. Langelier, who took for his subject "The Massachusetts Legislature."

After a description of the personel of this body the speaker told how easy it was for the average citizen to introduce a bill. Many freak bills were mentioned and the senator had his audience in gales of laughter over some of their humorous features.

One bill introduced in the New York senate was aimed at the farmers of New York state in retaliation for the anti-trust legislation put forth by them. Among other features the bill provided that all bills should be equipped with a bell of not less than 50 pounds, a steam whistle and a headlight of not less than 1000 candle power.

One third of the legislation submitted, the speaker said, gets on the statute books. This makes an unsettled condition for business all the time. The average citizen has little conception of the amount of work accomplished by the legislators, for in addition to the regular sessions there are countless committee hearings and other work of investigation that has to be attended to.

The senator mentioned several bills of local interest and told of the steps necessary. It was very easy. All you have to do is to have your nomination papers signed and filed and then get votes enough to elect you.

Men in public life sometimes wondered if the game were worth the candle, he said, as he concluded with reading the New York Tribune's derogatory editorial on the retirement of George Washington.

PAINFULLY BURNED.

James J. O'Donnell, one of the crew getting a United States submarine ready for her government trials off Proivncetown, was painfully burned about the face and hands in a flareback this morning. O'Donnell was the only man in the compartment when it took place. He came to Quincy today and then returned to Provincetown where he went on duty immediately.

BOB TAYLOR

the popular young clerk of R. E. FOY'S has a splendid chance for that trip to the Panama. You will help him greatly if you would give him all the wrappers of FERGUSON'S HONEY AND PEERLESS BREAD.

BOB is a likable young chap and he will appreciate your co-operation. HE WILL SEND YOU ALL A CARD WHEN HE GOES.

CONTEST CLOSES JUNE

AUDITORIUM TO OPEN SATURDAY

Building Inspector Says it is Perfectly Safe

The Auditorium theatre which was closed March 9, by order of Mayor Campbell on account of the unsafe condition of the building, is to be opened again to the public Saturday. For the past few weeks men have been working making extensive repairs. These were completed Thursday and that afternoon Inspector of Buildings Thomas visited the theatre and made a thorough examination after which he authorized its again being opened. Inspector Thomas said this morning that he now considered the building to be absolutely safe as far as stability was concerned.

The closing of the building was due to the settling the night before of the balcony. The theatre was filled at the time, but through the coolness of the employees the building was quickly emptied and there was no stampede.

Inspector Thomas says that the repairs made included new brick piers beneath the floor of the auditorium, extra supports to the balcony, a new chimney and a reconstruction of the foundation on the southerly side of the building. This is the side of the building that had bulged out owing to the rotting of the sills.

MISS HARKINS DIES TODAY

Miss Mary Harkins, one of the most prominent members of St. John's parish and a young woman who always devoted herself to parish affairs, died at four o'clock this morning after an illness of a week. Death was the result of a complication of diseases.

Miss Harkins has always lived in this city and had a host of friends. She was the daughter of Sarah and the late John Harkins. Her death is the fourth the family has suffered within three years, the first being Annie, a very popular daughter, the second being Fr. Howland J. Harkins, a Catholic priest who had a most promising future in the Boston diocese, and the third was the father, John Harkins, one of the most active business men of Quincy.

Miss Harkins, particularly affected by the deaths of all, suffered a poignant grief. Not a robust girl she appeared to be unable to recover from the shock but at times seemed to be improving. A week ago she was stricken and obliged to take to her bed Her death took place this morning about three o'clock.

She is survived by her mother, three sisters, Sarah, Ethel and Hester and two brothers, Everett and Henry. Her funeral will take place from the family home at 95 Adams street, probably Monday morning.

BOARD CONSIDERS HOSPITAL SITE

Mayor Campbell states that he has held several conferences with the Planning Board relative to the contagious hospital which the city must build this year and that while definite plans were not as yet in such shape that they could be made public be expected to be in condition to forward to the city council at its meeting April 26 a definite plan.

While the Planning Board has never made public its views on the subject it is understood from good authority that it is in favor of locating the hospital near the site of the City Hospital.

SENATOR ALDRICH DIES.

(By United Press.)

New York—April 16—Former Senator Aldrich died at his home, 908 Fifth avenue, shortly after nine o'clock this morning. He had not been in good health for some months but his illness was not regarded as serious. He was in his 74th year. Senator Aldrich retired from the senate March 3, 1911, after serving in Congress from Rhode Island, in both Senate and the House for many years.

WEYMOUTH MAN PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

Police Allege His Automobile Killed Chief Butler of That Town

Joseph E. L. Miller, the Weymouth contractor held in connection with the sudden death of Chief of Police Patrick Butler of Weymouth entered pleas of not guilty to charges of manslaughter and operating an auto while under the influence of liquor in the district court this morning. The case was continued to April 21 for a hearing and bail was set at $6500.

The government was represented by George E. Adams of Quincy, second assistant district attorney. G. M. Heath cote of the A. L. A. represented Miller and H. M. Girby the Massachusetts Highway Commission.

Atty. Adams moved for $10,000 bail and when asked by Judge Avery if he thought the charge of operating under the influence of liquor could be maintained he answered "without any question."

Defendant's counsel objected to a large bail on the grounds that the defendant had been a resident of Weymouth for 22 years and all that was necessary was to insure his appearance in court.

Atty. Adams then remarked, "We want to make doubly sure." During the conference on bail Atty. Adams said the fact the defendant had been in court before and received a jail sentence makes his second offence a serious one since it had resulted in homicide, and that the killing of a chief of police in the discharge of his duties was a most serious matter.

A compromise on bail was reached, $6,000 on the manslaughter charge and $500 on the operating charge.

Miller sat in the prisoner's dock, beside four other men charged with minor offences, during the preliminaries. He waived the reading of the complaints and entered his plea through his counsel. He gave no indications of worry over his plight but when taken to the detention room in the basement paced up and down. Several friends and his attorney talked to him there.

Miller lives at 907 Washington street East Weymouth, and conducts the seam face granite quarry in South Weymouth. He was operating the car on Pleasant street and was driving toward the home of Chief Butler at 7.30 Thursday evening when the accident which resulted in the death of Chief Butler took place.

Chief Butler had just left his home and as he came into the street he observed an automobile approaching without lights. He stepped into the street and held up both hands for the car to stop. It is not known whether the driver of the car saw him, but if he did he made no effort ti stop, the police claim. The next instant Chief Butler was struck by the car, and it is said was thrown some distance landing on his stomach, and the car then coming up ran over him and when brought to a stop the chief was beneath the rear wheels.

As the car struck him he screamed and his scream was heard by his son and daughter, Edward Butler and Miss Alice Butler who rushed into the street. Stephen Dwyer and Frank Harvey who were passing also ran to the scene.

The chief was carried into his home directly opposite and physicians quickly summoned. Medical Examiner John C. Fraser was the first physician to reach the injured man but the latter was beyond aid having suffered a fractured skull and a broken back. Chief Butler regained consciousness a few minutes before he died and was able to make a statement as to the accident and to bid his family farewell. He died a short time after the accident.

Shortly after Chief Butler had been carried to his home John F. Cushing, an expressman, driving along Pleasant street heard of the accident and hastening back to Jackson square notified Officers Pratt and Schofield who placed Miller under arrest. The police searched the car and it is said that they found three bottles of liquor under the seat.

Chief Butler was one of the best known police officials in the state. He was born in Ireland 59 years ago, but came to America when 10 years of age and had lived in Weymouth since that time. During his early life he was employed by the Weymouth Nail foundry, later taking up the shoemakers trade which he followed until about 35 years ago when he gave up that employment to do police duty, having been elected as a constable by the town, which position he has held since that time. During his early work as a police officer he was assigned to Lovell's grove, North Weymouth during the summer months, and participated in many of the troubles which the police experienced with the rough element that visited the grove. Later he was assigned to the liquor squad where he did excellent work.

Chief Butler was a member of the Weymouth council, K. of C. and the Holy Name society of the Church of the Immaculate Conception. He was a rugged type of a gentleman of the old school. His wife and eleven children survive him. One daughter lives in Quincy.

Miller, according to the police, was arrested about three years ago by Metropolitan Park police officers on a charge of overspeeding on the Nantasket Beach Reservation. He was sentenced in the Plymouth court to three months in the house of correction at Plymouth but never served the sentence as he told the court he had several important contracts on hand which he would lose if imprisoned.

FINED ON NON SUPPORT CHARGE

Judge Avery Orders Grant to Pay $100

Albert Grant, 25 years, of Weymouth a defendant in court this morning, was surrendered for violation of his probation on a non support charge and fined $100 by Judge Avery. The fine is the largest ever imposed here in connection with such a charge and when paid will be given to his wife.

Grant was brought in today, charged with assault and battery on his wife, who alleged she had been struck on the head and wounded so badly that five stitches were necessary.

Grant had pleaded not guilty to that charge and the case had been continued to April 22 when he was surrendered. Judge Avery on learning the particulars revoked the probation and imposed the fine. Grant entered an appeal and was held in $300 sureties.

MADAME SARKIN

Friday and Saturday we are having a Special Sale on Suits, Whists, Children's dresses, etc.

$5.98 Skirts reduced to $3.98
$2.98 Skirts reduced to $1.79

Don't forget our Tailoring and Dressmaking department. Cleaning, pressing, dyeing, etc.

1463-1465 Hancock Street
Tel. Quincy 1727-M 16-2t

QUINCY SCOUTS TO PARTICIPATE

Troops 1, 3 and 4 of Quincy will participate in the ninth Greater Boston field day of the Boy Scouts of America on the Milton academy field, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Assembly blows at 2.45 for a review of all troops, followed by a rally around the reviewing stand and the recital in unison of the scout law and oath.

Exhibitions as follows: Staff drill by Troop 3 of Milton; tumbling by Troop 4 of Milton; signal tower work by Troops 3 of Milton and 2 of Dedham; setting up drill by Troop 3 of Quincy; firing building without matches by Troops 1 of Milton, 2 of Dedham and 3 of Quincy; litter drill by Troop 2 of Dedham.

This will be followed by a chariot race, dressing race, water boiling, antelope race, semaphore signalling, tug of war and international Morse signalling.

Troop 1 of Quincy is in charge of B. F. Hodgkinson Jr., Troop 3 in charge of George W. Brown and Troop 4, in charge of C. W. Whitney.

You need the Ledger every day. SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER

You Can Now Buy
ORIGINAL
LUTHER BURBANK
SEEDS
IN QUINCY

We have secured the exclusive selling rights of Luther Burbank's Original Seeds for Quincy, having been appointed the special representatives of the Luther Burbank Company.

No other store in Quincy can sell you original Burbank Seeds. The prices are moderate; no more than you would have to pay for average seeds of good quality

With every $1.00 purchase of seeds we will present you with an interesting and instructive book in which Luther Burbank himself gives valuable directions on "The Culture of Flowers, Fruits and Vegetables."

Johnson's City Flower Store
CITY SQUARE

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
INCORPORATED
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

ADVERTISING RELIGION.

"When I heard Mr Sunday I was not struck with any irreverence in the things he said—they had rather the opposite effelt on me. Of course that does not prove much, for I am not easily shocked. I always try to have a shock-absorber with me. I am not shocked at the things he says about Unitarians or about going to hell. There are many more shocking things than that. It is so much more shocking to attend church and see a handful of people going away not knowing what the preacher has said."

Thus declared Rev. Samuel M. Crothers, D. D., minister of the First Parish (Unitarian) church of Cambridge in a recent address.

We suspect that herein lies the truth of the whole matter. There are few people, doubtless, who do not deplore Sunday's "bad taste" in assaulting the Unitarians so viciously. But Sunday is not concerned with being in good taste; if he was we suspect he would not draw the crowds which throng to hear him. His objects are: first to get the people there second, to convert them. Many go from curiosity, aroused in many cases by Sunday's "bad taste," by his fiery denunciation of this or that. People like to hear things denounced. As for Sunday he does not care wat motive brings him his congregation. All he asks is to have them there, attentive. Sunday is a rattling good press agent. He knows how to advertise and even religion must advertise.

Surely Dr. Crothers is not exaggerating when he declares it is more shocking to have a minister fruitlessly expend his energies upon a handful of people than to have his words remembered by thousands and followed by some.

Whether clergymen and churches agree with Sunday or not they must learn some of his tricks. They must advertise. We have always firmly believed that every church should have a live, up to date press agent, and we cannot see anything irreligious in this. It is surely not irreligious to work in every legitimate way for the spread of religion.

WOMEN POLICE OFFICERS.

Many arguments for women police were given by the speakers at the civics conference of the State Federation of Women's clubs Thursday in Wollaston.

By the term policewoman we are apt to conjure up in our minds a blue coated Amazon having a tough tussle with an offender of the law. This term "policewoman" is truly misleading. None of the speakers yesterday argued for a policewoman with a regular beat or with the duties now performed on the streets by our police officers.

They argue for women to tend to women prisoners, to guard the morals of the young girls, to oversee the public dance halls, lying-in hospitals, etc., things for which women are eminently fitted.

Another name should be given these women officers when they become a reality in more cities than they now are. Mrs. Engler suggests they be called the "Social worker of the police department."

This is too long a term to be universally used. A short, expressive title should be determined upon. And may we have more, especially in the large and foreign-populated cities, soon.

The suggestion by Arthur B. Hultman to his associates on the Board of Managers of Public Burial Places regarding the advisability of hiring a permanent clerk seems to us a sensible one. The Board now pays the secretary $300 a year. Mr. Hultman recommends abolishing that office and salary and appointing a permanent clerk at $500 a year, who shall keep the office of the Board open in the day time. There is no fault found, nor justly could be found, with Mr. Cudworth's work as secretary. He is a busy man and he cannot afford, of course, to give the time which the office requires. It seems more sensible to pay $200 more and hire a regular clerk.

One suspects that nothing will ever make alarm clocks popular.

TARTS OF STRAW ARE VERY TASTY

First Fresh Mackerel Arrived in Local Stores This Week

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW

With the sharp advance in the price of wheat Wednesday it is possible that flour may go up again although up to this morning the local dealers had not made any change in the price of flour from that of a week ago. However this talk about a probable price of flour brings up again the matter of substitutes for flour.

It is interesting to note that a dispatch from Berlin says that bread made by straw is very tasty but of doubtful nutritive value, according to the admission of Dr. Friedenthal whose recent announcement that he had succeeded in producing a valuable food product from triturated straw, aroused predictions of a revolution in the feeding of the human race. Samples of tarts, made of straw were passed around among some epicures assembled and were found to be decidedly tasty. However most people are skeptical about what they eat and few will take kindly to filling up on straw.

Along with the announcement of straw bread comes an announcement by the Department of the Interior at Washington, which is promoting a scheme for the introduction of reindeer meat for the table.

All of these substitutes for articles of food that have been in use for years may sound well but it is an open question if the general public will take kindly to them, unless by force of circumstances they are reduced to such a state, financially, as to take up anything in the food line that will produce nourishment

In the meat markets today there is little or no change in prices The only meat in which any great change is noted is veal, which has advanced five cents a pound.

The arrival of the first fresh mackeral of the season has been one of the events of the week in the fish markets. Most of the mackeral that arrived this week was caught off the Delaware coast last week, landed in New York the first of this week and, in due course of time arrived in the Boston markets. As a rule they are running small, about a pound each, and are being sold in Quincy from 20 cents to 25 cents each. However, now that mackeral have commenced to run, frequent arrivals may be expected pretty regularly from now on. Bluefish, shad, salmon and other seasonable varieties are in the markets but in all cases the supply is light and the prices therefore are beyond the reach of the average purse.

Southern vegetables continue to be plentiful and as the volume increases the prices are going down correspondingly. For instance asparagus which ten days ago sold as high as 40 cents a bunch can be bought today for 29 cents, and some at an even lower rate. There are also plenty of cucumbers, tomatoes and greens of all kinds in the markets and prices are not unreasonable.

There are a few green peas but the prices are so high that most people will pass by with scarcely a glance. Strawberries of the Southern variety are becoming more plentiful and the prices are of course, going down. However, the strawberries in the market today do not have the delightful taste of native berries and most people are content to wait until the latter make their appearance.

A visit to the markets of the city today will find most of them offering some special bargains for Saturday, so that the economical buyer can supply the Sunday dinner about as cheaply today as before the war which sent prices of all food products soaring.

RECEIVES ROYAL WELCOME.

Mrs. O'Brien Attends Meeting of Skandia Lodge.

Mrs. Hilma O'Brien, one of the best known Swedish residents of the city attended the meeting of Lodge Skandia, Vasa Orden, Thursday night for the first time since she was injured last winter. She was given a royal welcome.

Mrs. O'Brien suffered a sprained ankle and tore the ligaments of her leg in slipping on an icy sidewalk in front of her home on Garfield street. An examination showed also that the bone had been split. Her recovery was slow.

DISCUSS TOWN MANAGER

(Continued from Page One.)

of selectmen because a man in business could not afford to neglect this business, if he worked for someone else he was liable to lose his position because of this division of his interest and time. Under this new plan any man may serve without neglecting his own interests because he has nothing to do with the working end of town affairs.

"New and complex relations which have outgrown the old conditions is the cause for this economic waste. We do not have the civic spirit because we do not have a social organization to insure the growth of this spirit, an organization which shall stand in the same relation to the civic life as the church does to the spiritual life. Two hundred years ago all the social and political life was included in one organization and that organization was the church, the Congregational church it happened to be. The minister became the leader of each group because he was liable to be the best educated and most intellectual man in the community. As time went on, however, society broke up into many social groups each working for its own aims and purposes such as the clubs, fraternal organizations and various religious bodies. Now these are not community organizations or every man, woman and child would have membership or at least be entitled to membership in them.

"One of the problems in Norwood was to bring every one in the town together and to this end there must be some place to assemble and come together for we cannot get a civic consciousness without such a place any more than you can get a religious consciousness without a church. The minister who is obliged to hold his meetings in a school house or hall or above a store is not doing the best work he is capable of. It was necessary to have a civic building and so the town of Norwood procured several acres of land and erected such a building. In this club house, or civic association as it is called, there is a large social hall, a gymnasium, a pool room, swiming pool, rooms for glee clubs and other interests which will draw people together. Outside is an athletic field and tennis courts.

"In this building are situated the head quarters of the business organization, the offices of the town planning committee and the offices of the Real Estate Trust. This latter organization buys up land at strategic points throughout the town and beautifies them. Sometimes this property is made a means of public revenue. Unsightly buildings are torn down and new ones erected. In what is called the Corner house is situated an emergancy hospital with ten beds. The district nurses have their headquarters here. There is a model house in this building where foreigners are taught home-making. Classes in dressmaking, milinery and cooking are carried on. There are dental and eye and ear clinics and 87 per cent of the cases treated are paid for, not a large price but enough to make it something besides charity. The town charity has been systematized by being carried on through an official who has his headquarters here. Even private individuals consult with this official before expending money in this way.

"The only authority the city manager has is to spend the public money. He cannot say how a thing shall be done. If a street is to be laid out the people vote as to which direction it shall take, then the selectmen tell the manager that a street is to be laid out in such a direction and his business is to see that the work is done as inexpensively and as efficiently as possible. If the town manager does not do his duty the selectmen can discharge him upon five days notice but if the people after hearing the manager's side favor him they may discharge the selectmen and elect a new body who may hire the manager over again if it seems best."

Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, vice president of the State Federation in the absence of the president, Mrs. Perkins, explained the new plan of dealing with the annual questions.

Mrs. William E. Rowe of the Wollaston Woman's club told of the work of bringing out an edition of the Quincy Evening Telegram which was done by the women of the club.

Mrs. Eva McDaniels told of the Clean Up campaign in West Roxbury. The enterprise started in the civics committee comprised of five women. These five pledged themselves each to interest ten others. They interviewed mens organizations, ministers, school teachers and got them to promise their co-operation. The work was started because the people in West Roxbury were troubled with the mosquito and they were inspired with the success of Brookline's campaign to rid itself of the nuisance. The city gave the use of its teams for the day, the board of health assisted by sending out notices to owners of vacant lots, and the school children assisted with the actual work of cleaning.

The children were divided into squads with an older child at the head and each leader had several of these squads. Each child was provided with a stick with a nail in the end and a bag which had been donated by a local grain man. When these bags were full they were emptied into barrels which were supplied by one of the grocers. In the afternoon a huge bonfire was made on one of the playgrounds to burn this refuse. Long tables were placed on the grounds and the boy workers were given refreshments.

Mrs. Lufkin of Watertown told of the plans on foot in Watertown to have a Clean Up campaign. The children are being interested by prizes which have been offered for the best essays on the subject and by the making of the sticks for the work.

Ordway Teed spoke briefly on the Unemployment Insurance. He stated that speakers are available for Womens' Clubs and other organizations who will explain the plans of such an insurance.

Mrs. Ropes, president of the Wollaston club, announced a Clean Up day in Wollaston Park.

After a word of appreciation to the hostess, Mrs. Ropes, and the entertaining club, the meeting adjourned.

EIGHT SAILORS DROWN

Germans Sink British Ship In North Sea Without Giving Warning

The British steamship Ptarmigan was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine in the North sea. Eight sailors of the Ptarmigan's crew of seventeen men were drowned.

The survivors of the Ptarmigan, who were landed at Gravesend, say the submarine gave no warning of the attack. In the excitement of lowering the lifeboats after the torpedo struck one of the fall ropes was cut and the occupants of the boat were thrown into the water.

FOR SUFFERING POLAND

Flag Day to Raise Funds Will Be Celebrated In America May 3

New York, April 16.—On May 3 Poland's flag, a white falcon on a shield of claret, will wave from Maine to Washington, from Florida to California, for that is to be the Polish flag day.

Not only will the 2,000,000 and more Poles in this country join in the celebration and give aid for the relief of their suffering countrymen, but Americans will also have an opportunity to help those 15,000,000 innocent unfortunates who are starving in Poland, torn by its three conquerers—Germany, Russia and Austria.

These Polish flags of all sizes, from the tink six ones for buttonholes to very large ones, will be sold and the proceeds turned into the Polish relief committee treasury. Every cent of this goes to aid Poland, since every expense of the committee is paid by friends, so that not one penny of the sums donated is used to maintain the committee work.

There will be concerts, lectures, parties, fetes and many other forms of entertainment for the raising of funds.

You need the Ledger every day. SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company.

To the Stockholders of The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company:

NOTICE is hereby given that a special meeting of the stockholders of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company will be held at Harmonie Hall, 9 Elm Street, in the city of New Haven, Connecticut, on SATURDAY, THE 24th DAY OF APRIL, 1915, at twelve o'clock noon, to consider and act upon the following propositions:

1. To reduce the capital stock of this Company from 1,800,170 shares to 1,571,179 shares by retiring and cancelling 228,991 shares now in this Company's treasury.

2. To accept the amendment to the charter of this corporation contained in an Act of the General Assembly of the State of Connecticut, approved March 19th, 1915, entitled "An Act amending the charter of The New York New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company," and to authorize the directors to exercise the powers therein conferred.

3. To accept the amendment to the charter of this corporation contained in an Act passed by the General Assembly of the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations at its January Session, A. D. 1915, and approved March 26, 1915, entitled "An Act in Amendment of and in addition to an Act entitled 'An Act to Incorporate The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company,' a Corporation in this State," passed by the General Assembly at its January Session, A. D. 1893."

4. To authorize the issue of bonds by this Company as successor to the New York, Providence and Boston Railroad Company and as successor to the New Haven and Northampton Company, pursuant to the terms of and for the purposes set forth in the mortgages of said companies, dated April 1st, 1892, and June 1st, 1906, respectively.

Only stockholders of record at the close of business April 10, 1915, will be entitled to vote.

Dated at New Haven, Connecticut, the 3d day of April, 1915.

By order of the Board of Directors.
A. EA CLARK, Secretary.
2t 9-16

KINCAIDE THEATRE

MARY PICKFORD
THE MOST POPULAR MOVIE-ACTRESS AS
"MISTRESS NELL"
A Sensational 4 Reel Romantic Drama by the Famous Players Co.
— Souvenir Photo Postals of Mary Pickford given away Friday Matinee.

Vaudeville. Roattini & Cortella in a Comedy Sketch entitled "The Opera Singer and the Fruit Vendor"
Bert and Lotta Walton—Live Entertainers—New Wit—Clever Songs—Rapid Changes
Paul Stevens—Novelty in Gymnastics

THURS. FRI. SAT. DAILY MATINEE 2.30 P. M. 10 & 15c. EVENINGS at 8 — 10-15-25c

Coming Monday Latest Episode "Exploits of Elaine" by popular request "Buckshot John" 4 Reel Western Paramount Photo-Play

E. MILTON CLUB HOSTS AT DANCE

About eighty couples attended the fourth annual dance of the Thursday Evening club of East Milton, held Thursday evening in Ellsworth hall. This affair for the past four years has been the big post Lenten dance in East Milton.

The music for the evening was furnished by Morrisette's orchestra and the dancing continued to the midnight hour. The "hops" engaged in were, the waltz, two step, schottische, waltz moonlight, one step, duchess and waltz hesitation. The duties of floor director were very ably carried out by Ernest Jobling assisted by "Bill" Martin. The aids were: William Forde, Horace Wood, and George Arnold. The committee in charge of the dance included: Sam Wood, chairman, Albert Wood, Ernest Jobling, George Arnold, William Martin and Robert Sweeney. The programs arranged by the committee were an attractive feature of the affair.

JOHNSTON—BRUNET.

Miss Brunet Bride of T. H. Johnston

The culmination of a very pretty romance which started in the Rice & Hutchins Shoe factory came last evening when Miss Delma A. Brunet daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ubald Brunet of Bunker Hill avenue became the bride of Thomas H. Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Johnston of Granite street.

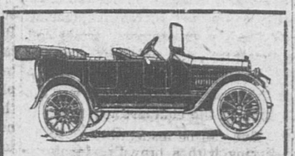

The couple were married at St. Mary's parochial residence by Rev. William J. Duffy. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Alma Brunet and the groom by John Brunet, a brother of the bride. The bride was attired in a blue travelling suit with a picture hat. After the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Bunker Hill avenue. The couple were assisted in receiving by their parents. They were the recipients of many beautiful wedding presents. They will start on their honeymoon Saturday and will go to Canada and Maine. On their return they will reside at 22 Willard street.

AWARDS CONTRACTS.

Commissioner Brown has awarded the contract for furnishing the city with nine tons of arsenate of lead for use in the gypsy moth department to the Merrimac Chemical company whose bid was $812.50. The contract for furnishing the city with 200 tons of water pipe was awarded to M. J. Drummond & Co. whose bid was $4,453.08.

BUYS RICKER HOUSE.

The handsome residence of Hazen E. Ricker on Whitney road has been sold to Mr. Ivers of Hingham, who it is understood will occupy it. Mr. Ivers is in the electrical business in Boston.

JACKSON
Model 46
THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL. SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER
"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"
Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT
$1375
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

CONSULT ME
I can tell you your Past, Present and Future, advise you in your Business, tell you who are your friends, and help you recover lost articles. Private Readings Daily $1.00. Circle Readings Tuesday 3.00 and 8.00 P. M.. Developing Class Thursday 8.00 P. M.
Mrs. S. V. Odiorne
8 Mechanic St. off Revere Road
Tel. 1923 M or 327 M

GEORGE H. BENT.

Cracker Manufacturer Dies In Milton

George H. Bent, of Milton, grandson of Josiah Bent who founded a cracker baking industry more than a century ago in Milton, died in that town Thursday, after an illness of four days from pneumonia. He was well known in this city and some years ago employed a number of local people at his factory.

He was in his seventy-second year. He was born in Milton, Aug. 19, 1843, the son of Samuel T. Bent and Frances B. (Ashton) Bent. His grandfather, who founded the cracker business in 1808 in Milton, was Josiah Bent. George H. Bent received his education at Milton Academy and then entered his father's business and ever since then he had been actively connected with the manufacture of the special crackers. The original business was taken over eventually by the National Biscuit Company, and Mr. Bent continued to be identified with it under the new conditions Later he and two others formed a company of their own with a new factory and this in turn was absorbed by the National Company. Mr. Bent is survied by three sons and two daughters of his first wife, as well as by a second wife and two sons, and one daughter of whom she is the mother.

PRATT'S BREAD is good for growing children—nourishing and satisfying. Grocers sell it.

VOTES TO OPEN CHARTER.

Skandia Lodge Meets In Protection Hall.

Skandia lodge, Vasa Orden, at a special meeting in Protection hall Thursday evening voted to open the charter for the second half of the year and initiated three candidates to membership.

The meeting was largely attended by members from all parts of the city and Braintree and several were appointed to the committee arranging for the observance of the anniversary of the institution of the organization to be held in Alpha hall May 6.

It was announced that the choral society is rehearsing weekly under the direction of Emmanual Sandberg and a concert of Swedish music probably will be given May 15 in Electa hall.

EXECUTIVE SESSION TONIGHT.

The city council committee on streets which a week ago made a tour of the city, looking over all matters, petitions and orders which have been referred to it will meet tonight and thresh out the matters in executive session. Under the rules of the council all such matters must be reported upon by May 15 and no appropriation for street rebuilding shall be made after the first of July.

The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader.

An Absolute Necessity
In Every Family
A CLINICAL THERMOMETER
We have them at Prices from 50c to $1.75
Chas. C. Hearn, Druggist
City Square

Reduction in Prices.

Your attention is called to the reduced spring prices on Anthracite Coal as follows

Lehigh Stove and Egg	$7.50
White Ash Stove and Egg	7.25
White Ash Nut	7.50
Shamokin Stove and Egg	7.50
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75
Pea	5.50
Franklin	8.50

We recommend the placing of your order at this time to insure the low prices.

Nothing but All Rail Clean Coal handled and delivered right by careful experienced drivers.

QUINCY COAL CO.
OFFICE and YARD
Penn St., Quincy Tel. 47-M
Ap. 7 Inc.

OPPOSE LIBRARY FOR SQUANTUM

The trustees of the Thomas Crane Public Library do not take kindly to the scheme to have a public library located at Squantum and it is very doubtful if the plan is carried out. Some time ago the Carnegie Commission was appealed to. The commission in reply forwarded a number of questions upon which it desired information before taking action. It desired to know what provision would be made for supplying the library with books and maintaining it should a building be erected.

This phase of the matter was put up to the Mayor who in turn put it up to the Library Trustees. The reply of the trustees is to the effect that they had no authority to take action and doubted if it was wise to recommend it is as much as aside from stocking the library with books it would require an appropriation of about $2,000 a year to maintain it.

Mayor Campbell said this morning that in view of these facts he did not feel like recommending to the city council that it appropriate $2,000 a year to maintain a library in Squantum, and he has so informed Mrs. Titus who was active in the movement to have the library established.

It is understood that residents of Squantum had offered to give the necessary land for building and that those interested in the movement have reason to believe that they may be able to have the books also given but that the city would of course have to maintain the library.

PASTIME PAIR ARE ELIMINATED

The semi finals in the tandem contest between the boys of the Quincy Social clubs for the trophy offered by Capt. Wardwell of the Wardwell alleys resulted Thursday night in a victory for the Quincy Adams duo and the elimination of the Pastime pair from the running. The finals will be next Thursday night between the Quincy Adams and Waseca representatives. The scores were 1852 to 1793.

The semi finals were witnessed by an enthusiastic gallery which packed in the space between the cases and the benches. Curtin got three strings over the century, one of 110, one less than the high single of the evening made by Condrick. Blanchard of the losers passed the hundred mark once and McLeod, his partner, did the same.

The strings follow:

D. Curtin	87	81	94	109	102
	93	91	78	110	77—923
H. Condrick
	82	86	97	91	97
	84	111	97	78	106—929
C. Blanchard
	108	82	98	78	78
	82	90	97	88	79—880
McLeod	87	99	78	81	84
	90	90	105	83	107—913

PULMOTOR BABE DIES.

The baby girl, born Thursday morning to Mrs. A. Ciardi of 306 Water street, died this morning. The girl gave but slight indications of life after birth and Dr. H. E. Diehl and Dr. George M. Sheahan applied the pulmotor of the police department and succeeded in prolonging life nearly a day.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

The PROBLEM of GOOD MILK

All persons do not understand what is meant by good, safe milk. Some believe that the milk with a deep cream line is desirable, whereas, the Doctor knows that Holstein Milk, although containing little cream is often more desirable for babies, partly for this reason, or perhaps because of the method of production.

The real criterion of a good milk is its wholesomeness. This depends upon the conditions at the dairy, and the special care given it until it reaches the consumer. Scrupulously clean and healthy cows, clean and healthy dairymen, rapid cooling, and protecting the milk, constant dairy and laboratory inspection are required. Furthermore safety is assured when the dealer pasteurizes his supply.

THE ELM FARM MILK COMPANY OF DORCHESTER offer pure Family Milk, and exceptional Nursery Milk at prices often charged for ordinary milk. Speak to the salesman, or call Dor. 2100. 6-1 mo.

ALLOW WILL OF CHAS F. ADAMS

The will of Charles Francis Adams, who died suddenly at Washington, D. C., and was buried in Mt. Wollaston cemetery, this city was presented to the probate court at Cambridge Thursday and was allowed. No public bequests were contained in the document. It is estimated that the value of the personal estate of the deceased is $1,500,000. Mary Ogden Adams, his widow, is named as executrix and has given a bond of $2,000,000. Mrs. Adams is beneficiary under the will.

EXPECTS ZEPPELIN RAID.

Edwrd L. Keen.
(United Press Correspondent.)

London—London expects a great Zeppelin raid before many hours. Floating corp commanders were summoned to the admiralty early today for a conference on defense. Special constabulary were ordered on patrol duty at the outskirts of the city.

Two or three Zeppelins participated in the raid over Essex and Suffolk early today in which a woman and a girl were injured. One of the sky monsters crossed the Thames eleven miles from London, according to the official reports to the Admiralty.

A Zeppelin hovered over Southwall half an hour today. While the conference was in session at the admiralty a dispatch stated that a German aeroplane dropped bombs over Faversham 41 miles southeast of London and upon Shippingbourne, 32 miles southeast of London.

FINDS WAR TIME PAPER.

C. E. Sherman Has New York Herald of 1865.

In looking through an old trunk on Thursday, the fiftieth anniversary of the death of Abraham Lincoln, C. S. Sherman, proprietor of the Daylight store, found a copy of the New York Herald for Saturday, April 15, 1865.

The paper, now one of the leading dailies of the country and a leader at that time under the regime of James Gordon Bennett, is only one sheet. The entire copy is practically devoted to a few advertisements and several accounts and bulletins of Lincoln's assassination. In addition to this there are several stories of the aftermath of the war. One head informs us that Jeff Davis is seeking to induce his "deluded followers" to continue the rebellion, another telling of the movements of General Sherman's army, which was still in the field.

An extra, headed 8.10 A. M. states that the President is dead.

The family of Franklin Curtis have taken the Ricker house at Adams Shore for the summer months.

WASTEBASKET PUBLICITY

The wastebasket is an article of convenience that is to be found in nearly every office, study or library in the land and is the common receptacle for torn envelopes, scraps of paper, circulars and other useless things. Except when searching for some lost possession no one ever examines the contents of a waste basket but these rare investigations always bring to light advertising matter received by mail and cast away unopened.

Now, the wastebasket cannot read circulars and is unable to buy any of the things that they seek to exploit. It has no need for corsets or groceries or clothing, no money to invest in dividend paying securities or to deposit in banks. And yet men of supposed commercial acumen spend large sums of money each year in futile attempts to convert the wastebaskets of the country into customers. They might just as well address the garbage pails and they undoubtedly would if they could only find a sure medium of communication.

The merchant who wishes to reach ten thousand wastebaskets must pay someone for writing his circular. The printing, the paper, the envelopes, the folding, the addressing, and the postage stamps will bring the cost to a sum, that, wisely spent in newspaper advertising, would make his wares known to an enormous number of possible buyers.—New York Herald.

Another American industry may be stimulated by the war. The best window glass in the world is made in Ireland and the sand from which it is manufactured comes from Belgium. This the glass makers have been unable to obtain since the war and glass users have been forced to look elsewhere for their glass. Glass is made in the Netherlands and in Sweden, but it is of a poorer quality than that which is made in America which is second only to the Irish glass.—

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

MAKING RAG RUGS

Revival of an Old Domestic Art With New Variations.

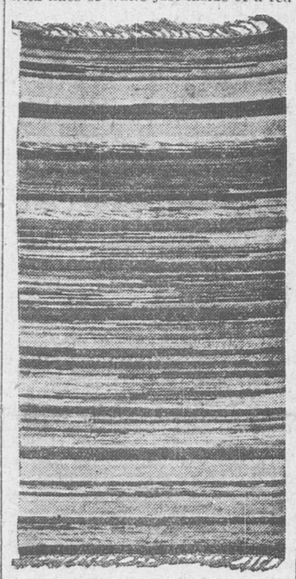

"HIT OR MISS" PATTERNS.

But Borders and Designs In Colors Show Many Artistic Possibilities; Also Rugs Can Be Made of Old Carpets With Success.

In this illustration is pictured an old fashioned rag rug like grandmother used to ornament her floors with. All sorts of brilliant and subdued colors were used "hit or miss," with sometimes very surprising artistic results. A little lady who makes her living by weaving rugs tells her story of how it all came about.

"Mine is an old fashioned way of earning a living, and my grandmother bequeathed me the means of doing it—that loom." She pointed to the cumbersome wooden object, and there was a note of pride in her voice. "Nobody knows exactly how old it is, for it has been in our family for generations," she continued. "My grandmother had it from her mother, and she could not remember when it was new. And she taught me to weave carpets of the long, narrow strips of rags which we had sewed together.

"At first I stuck to the old fashioned 'hit or miss' pattern because everybody round about made their carpets in that way. One day, however, I found myself with a collection of all red and all white balls of material and conceived the idea of making a red rug with lines of white just inside of a red border. I sold that rug for $5 and took an order for a white and yellow one which was to bring me $10. That gave me my start and the incentive to continue.

RAG RUG.

"Of course I try nearly every new dye as it comes upon the market, and I do not confine myself to any particular sort, although I prefer to use the old recipes given to me by my grandmother along with the old loom. Experience with dyes has taught me which materials are most easily colored the desired shades, and in considering the purchase of rags for carpets I chiefly buy those fabrics.

"Rag carpet weaving has not made a fortune for me," concluded the middle aged weaver, "but it has supported me for years in perfect comfort, and I need not deny myself anything within reason.

"I find that another excellent, artistic and durable rug is made from old carpets and rugs. Anything that is carpet can be used, and all rugs are double faced. The rugs are exactly the original colors of the carpet in mottled design, very handsome if the carpets are rich, and if there be less color they are of the neutral tones, which are always very satisfactory in wear and to some more beautiful than the brighter colors. For places of hard wear, such as halls, dining rooms, porches, these rugs are without a rival in general utility. While carpets may appear worn, the surface or top layer only is gone, and there remain three or four layers of unworn wool beneath the warp almost as good as new."

Brown Sauce For Cabbage.

Cabbage can be made very palatable by serving with a brown sauce. Boil the cabbage in salt water until very tender, then cover with a sauce made as follows. Put one heaping tablespoonful of browned flour into a tablespoonful of melted butter, add a pinch of salt, a dash of red pepper and one cupful of cold water; stir until smooth and thick, then pour over the cabbage, which should be well drained.

For a delicious coleslaw take half as much chopped celery as cabbage and pour over it a dressing consisting of one egg beaten thoroughly. Add a pinch of salt, three tablespoonfuls of sugar, one-quarter of a cupful of vinegar and one-half cupful of water. Let come to a boil and thicken with a heaping teaspoonful of flour and one of cornstarch, mixed together and thinned with water. Make the dressing about as thick as thin cornstarch and let it get cold. When thoroughly cold add a gill of cream whipped to a froth.

Your New Suit for Patriots Day

We have prepared for this week an exceptional early-season offering presenting the most recent development of fashion and showing advanced models for immediate wear at very reasonable prices.

Many Suits in the Newer Styles Just Opened

Smart stylish materials, gabardines, poplins, serges, novelty stripes, checks, mixtures, shepherd plaids. All the leading shades and colors, such as Belgium blue, navy, green and putty. All sizes to suit every figure. You, who want to look neat and smart for the holiday will find a visit to us most extraordinary and profitable. All our suits are specially priced

$9.98 $14.98 $17.98

YOUR SUIT Made to Your Measure

For the benefit of those who want, made to measure suits this department is maintained, under the personal conductorship of

MR. H. N. LEVENSON

We believe in adding this new department we are filling a much desired want. Here you can be perfectly fitted in any style you desire. Will you give us a call this week, Madam?

A Large and Varied Display of NEW HATS

We are showing an array of new hats that would do justice to a Metropolitan store, certainly a much larger city than Quincy. If the weather man's forecast is true we are going to have lovely weather Sunday and Monday, which of course will make it the time when a miss or lady will want to look her prettiest. This is the time when we're at our best, too. Simply scores of hats ready for your choosing. Simple designs or effectively trimmed with the latest novelties. Hats here for the High School girl, for the child who wants to look neat Patriots Day, and for the woman who wants distinction as well as individuality. Prices are extremely moderate, too.

$1.25 $2.98 $4.98

A Wonderful Assortment of SKIRTS

Tailored and dressy styles in the newer full skirt effects and stylish pleated models, some with pockets, others braid and button trimmed, in the best shades and materials. You can't afford to miss this showing, Madam. No matter what your fancy may be your taste is sure to be exemplified here. Specially priced

Alterations Free $1.98 $2.98

A Beautiful Line of OSTRICH PLUMES

Now ready for your inspection. Without doubt the finest array of Ostrich Plumes in the city. You'll have to see them to appreciate them. All colors.

$1.69 Worth $5

Tailors J. SZATHMARY Milliners
1447 Hancock Street

LETTER OF THANKS.

The Newsboys club of Quincy has written a letter of thanks to C. H. Humphrey of the Y. M. C. A. for the educational movies given under his direction at a recent meeting. The letter follows:

Quincy, April 15, 1915.

Mr. C. H. Humphrey,

Dear Sir:

I wish to express my thanks for your kind talk and good advice given to the Newsboys club on Tuesday evening, April 13, also for the educational movies, rendered under your direction.

I am pleased to take the trouble of writing you this letter of thanks and assure you that your work is appreciated by the club and myself.

Sincerely yours,
David Polovsky,
Director.

EVENING SCHOOL GRADUATION.

Mayor Campbell, Chairman John D. MacKay of the School Committee, Alfred O. Diack, Joseph H. McPherson and Arthur W. Newcomb of the subcommittee of the Adams school are among those who are expected to speak tonight at the first graduation of the evening school at the new Adams building.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

About fifty boys enjoyed a "feed" prepared for them by the women of the Women's Auxiliary of the association last Wednesday evening. The supper which consisted of sandwiches, cocoa and ice cream and cake, was soon finished. Guy Westar was presented with a stickpin as the winner of the new members campaign held in the Boys' Division recently. Following this came a review of the lessons the boys have been having during the winter in their Bible classes at which time Mr. Humphrey, the boys' work secretary went over by means of stereopticon slides, the different lessons in preparation for the International Bible Study Examination which will be given Monday evening at seven. About twenty-five boys are planning to take the examination and as they have put hard work into their studying should be able to pass with high marks.

April 23rd at eight p. m., when the annual Gym exhibition will be given, should see the Gym crowded to the doors with the parents and friends of the members of the Junior and Cadet classes. The boys under the leadership of the Physical Director Mr. L. LaRose have been getting ready for this exhibition for some time and feel sure they are going to make this year no exception to the other good exhibitions which Mr. LaRose has put on. Admission will be but ten cents and tickets can be secured from any member of the classes or at the building.

Much interest is being shown by the senior members in the proposed twilight baseball league which is being talked of. This should give a lot of the fellows a chance to get into the game and it is hoped that the first game will be played soon.

Stereopticon pictures were enjoyed at the meeting of the Newsboys' club which met at the Association last Tuesday evening. The story of Marley's Ghost was read by the boys' work secretary of the association, who also spoke briefly to the boys after the pictures were finished telling them something about different kinds of boys who they might know and ending by urging them to be the kind of boys that could always be depended upon. A short debate followed which proved interesting and after plans were made for a baseball team to be formed among the newsboys and the new members of the club introduced ice cream was enjoyed by all.

Stereopticon pictures held the interest of the boys who attended the Saturday morning meeting for boys last week. This week a good speaker has been secured and a large number of boys are expected to be present. Over two thousand boys have attended these meetings which have been held each Saturday morning for the last five months.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
830 A. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M
914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK
QUINCY.

A trip to the Blue Hill has been planned for Monday, April 19th. The start will be made from the building at nine-thirty, the boys taking their lunch with them and returning in the late afternoon.

April 24th, the day set for the observance of State Boys' Day here in Quincy is being looked forward to by the members of the Boys' Division with a great deal of expectation as they are hoping to make this year as successful if not more so than last year in their collections. This being the one chance during the year the people who are interested in the welfare of the boys of Quincy have to share in the expense of the work of the Boys' Division it is hoped that a hearty response will be made to the appeals of the boys as they shall endeavor to collect their funds on April 24th.

LOOK THEM OVER CAREFULLY!

Study them from every angle—style, finish, fit, and price; and you will find a shoe that measures up to your ideal in footwear. We will be glad to demonstrate the good qualities of

Packard SHOES

Come in.

REMICK'S Music Hall Block

THE 1915 REO IS HERE

Electrically Lighted and Started, One Man Top
Increased Wheel Base, 34x4 Tires, Crown Fender, Improved Upholstering, Increased Power.

F.O.B. Factory		F.O.B. Factory
4 cyl. - - -	$1050	2 ton Truck	$1650
6 cyl. - - -	$1385	Light Delivery 1500 lbs.	$1075
4 cyl. Runabout	$1000	Light Delivery Chassis	$1000
4 cyl. Coupe	$1575

Reo the Fifth - - the Incomparable Four is on Display at our Garage. Call and see This Car.
Ask for Demonstration

CENTRAL GARAGE and SUPPLY CO.
Corner Washington and Pond Sts.
QUINCY
Tel. 1035 W C. W. Hodgkinson, Prop.

16-1mo.

NO EASY TASK FOR ASSESSORS

Last Years Valuations Delay Their Progress

The assessors are having a hard time this year and up to the present time they have not progressed as fast in their field work as they would like to have done. They have now been at work since the first of April and have not as yet completed Ward One. This general jacking up of estates by last years board of assessors is responsible in a great measure for the many problems that are confronting the Board this year.

The assistant assessors are also meeting with some trouble from the fact that in many cases their routes have to be gone over two or three times before all matters have been cleaned up. The large number of automobiles which they have to asses is responsible in large measure for the delay in their work. It is no easy task to set the value of an automobile for it depreciates rapidly.

Just as if the citizens did not have trouble enough this month with visits by the assessors and census enumerators another source of worry has arrived in the person of an internal revenue agent who is investigating some of those who paid no income tax and who are suspecting of being liable to make a return.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—not made by guess-work, but by a scientific formula. Leading grocers sell it.

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.
will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.
OFFICE AT
96 WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY
Tel. 618

Quincy E. E. GRAY CO. Wollaston
Two Stores
Tel. 327 M Quincy Reliable Groceries Tel. 1586 M Quincy

Early June Peas	per Can 9c
Shredded Wheat	per pkg 10c
Force	per pkg 11c
Cream of Wheat	per pkg 14c
Puffed Corn	per pkg 14c
Puffed Wheat	per pkg 10c

Closed Monday All Day.

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

SPORTING COMMENT

Bruce has entered the marathon on April 19 and expects to finish the full distance with the first division. Bruce is in good condition. He finished seventh in the cross country last Saturday.

Billy McVicar, coach of the North Dorchester club again exercised his rare good judgment when he advised Allen Connor not to run the marathon. Connor is young and has a middle distance career and no one spotted it sooner than McVicar who participated in all kinds of distance work when he was in the game. He well knows that the effects of the long grind interfere sadly with a fellow's future, except in some cases and it is hardly worth while in his estimation to attempt to be the exception.

The Makaria base ball team has not chosen a captain for the season Jenkins and Nicolls are likely candidates . The choice may be made within a few days.

Dennis Murphy, who was unable to roll in the closing matches of the Knights of Columbus league because a muscle in his leg got unhooked, is slowly recovering from his injury but is rather lame.

There were four winners in the roll-offs at the Coliseum alleys Thursday night. Forty-two men competed. The scores did not run very high. The winners:

Copp	108	106	97	111
Gallagher	109	85	110	304
Morton	98	114	91	303
Johnson	95	82	128	300

Michael Hennesey's illness has confined him to his home. Hennesey has established an enviable record in bowling since he came to Quincy to be a motorman, three years ago. Reports of hs sickness are not encouraging.

MAY VISIT QUINCY.

It is possible that the delegates to the convention of the American Automobile association which is to be held in Boston May 17, may visit Quincy. Mayor Campbell is vice chairman of the committee of arrangements for the entertaining of the delegates, and he is considering strongly the idea of inviting them to visit Quincy during that week as his especial guests. However the matter is not definitely settled as yet.

ON THE DIAMOND

National League

At Boston:

	R	H	E
Philadelphia	7	9	2
Boston	1	7	2

Batteries—Mayer and Killifer; Hughes, Strand and Gowdy.

At New York:

	R	H	E
New York	2	8	1
Brooklyn	0	0	2

Batteries—Marquard and Meyers; Rucker, Regan and Miller.

At Chicago:

	R	H	E
St. Louis	4	5	1
Chicago	2	5	1

Batteries—Doak and Glenn; Cheney, Standridge and Archer.

At Cincinnati:

	R	H	E
Cincinnati	2	8	0
Pittsburg	1	5	1

Batteries—Benton and Doom; Harmon and Gibson.

American League

At Philadelphia:

	R	H	E
Boston	5	12	2
Philadelphia	3	7	2

Batteries—Collins, Mays and Carrigan; Bush, Wyckoff, Schang and McAvoy.

At Detroit:

	R	H	E
Detroit	5	5	1
Cleveland	4	7	1

Batteries—Dauss and Stanage; Steen, Morton and O'Neill.

At Washington:

	R	H	E
New York	3	6	1
Washington	1	5	6

Batteries—Fisher and Nunamaker; Harper, Ayers, Bentley and Henry.

At St. Louis:

	R	H	E
Chicago	16	14	0
St. Louis	0	7	5

Batteries—Faber, Schalk and Daly; Hoch, Perryman, Baumgardner, Agnew, Leary and Alexander.

Federal League

At Brooklyn:

	R	H	E
Brooklyn	17	14	4
Newark	6	5	7

Batteries — Whitehouse, Billard, Brandon and Hariden; Seaton, Land and Watson.

At Baltimore:

	R	H	E
Buffalo	6	10	1
Baltimore	2	5	3

Batteries — Hedient and Blair; Suggs, Smith and Owens.

At Chicago:

	R	H	E
Pittsurg	3	5	0
Chicago	1	7	5

Batteries — Dickson and Berry; Brown, McConnell and Wilson.

At Kansas City:

	R	H	E
Kansas City	4	11	2
St. Louis	3	10	3

Batteries—Johnson and Easterly; Davenport, Plank, Willett and Chapman.

VIEWS OF O'GORMAN ON WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Will Be Sought by Delegation of Five Hundred New York Women

New York, April 16.—Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont announced that 500 women of this city will march to the local office of United States Senator O'Gorman April 30 to obtain his views on woman suffrage.

This, Mrs. Belmont said, would be the first of a series of calls to be made on members of congress in a nation-wide campaign begun by the Congressional union for woman suffrage.

Members of the union intend personally to interview, through large deputations, every member of congress before it meets again and to obtain an expression of their opinions on the federal suffrage amendment which is to come up for passage. O'Gorman has consented to receive the delegation of New York women.

PROBING DETROIT DISASTER

"Green" Motorman and His Instructor Are Placed Under Arrest

Detroit, April 16.—With eleven mangled bodies lying in the county morgue, four persons dying and twenty-three others suffering from serious injuries, city and state authorities started investigations into the fatal crash of a street car and a freight train here.

The first result of the probe of the tragedy came when J. C. Westover, apprentice motorman, in charge of the wrecked street car at the time of the collision, and Richard Vallade, his instructor, were locked up on charges of manslaughter.

SHAW PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Former Town Treasurer, Alleged Embezzler, Held in $3500 Bail

Milo, Me., April 16.—Probable cause for holding Leroy F. Shaw, former town treasurer, for the September term of the supreme court on the charge of embezzlement of town funds, was found in the Piscataquis municipal court.

There is alleged to be a shortage of $4400 in his accounts. Shaw pleaded not guilty. He furnished $3500 bail.

Couple Perish in Fire

Montville, Conn., April 16.—Charles Church and his wife perished, while they slept, in a tenement house fire at Pequot. Other occupants of the house had narrow escapes.

Suicide by Electrocution

Washington, April 16.—Discouraged by ill health, Charles Fisher, at the Georgetown power plant, grasped two live wires carrying a 13,000-volt current and was instantly killed.

His Love Story

By MARIE VAN VORST

Illustrations by RAY WALTERS

(Copyright by the Bobbs-Merrill Company)

(Continued from last issue.)

Pitchoune, whose eyes had followed the cat out of sight, sprang upon his master and seemed quite ready for the new departure.

"I shall at least have you," Sabron said. "It will be your first campaign. We shall have some famous runs and I shall introduce you to a camel and make you acquainted with several donkeys, not to speak of the historic Arab steeds. You will see, my friend, that there are other animals besides yourself in creation."

"A telegram for mon capitaine." Brunet came in with the blue envelope which Sabron tore open.

You will take with you neither horses nor dogs.

It was an order from the minister of war, just such a one as was sent to some half-dozen other young officers, all of whom, no doubt, felt more or less discomfited.

Sabron twisted the telegram, put it in the fireplace and lighted his cigarette with it, watching Pitchoune who, finding himself a comfortable corner in the armchair, had settled down for a nap.

"So," nodded the young man aloud, "I shall not even have Pitchoune."

He smoked, musing. In the rigid discipline of his soldier's life he was used to obedience. His softened eyes, however, and his nervous fingers as they pulled at his mustache, showed that the command had touched him.

"What shall I do with you, old fellow?"

Although Sabron's voice was low, the dog, whose head was down upon his paws, turned his bright brown eyes on his master with so much confidence and affection that it completed the work. Sabron walked across the floor, smoking, the spurs on his heels clanking, the light shining on his brilliant boots and on his uniform. He was a splendid-looking man with race and breeding, and he combined with his masculine force the gentleness of a woman.

"They want me to be lonely," he thought. "All that the chiefs consider is the soldier—not the man—even the companionship of my dog is denied me. What do they think I am going to do out there in the long eastern evenings?" He reflected. "What does the world expect an uncompanioned wanderer to do?" There are many things and the less thought about them, the better.

"A letter for Monsieur le Capitaine." Brunet returned with a note which he presented stiffly, and Pitchoune, who chose in his little brain to imagine Brunet an intruder, sprang from the chair like lightning, rushed at the servant, seized the leg of his pantaloons and began to worry them, growling, Brunet regarding him with adoration. Sabron had not thought aloud the last words of the telegram, which he had used to light his cigarette.

. . . Nor will it be necessary to take a personal servant. The indigenes are capable ordonnances.

As he took the letter from Brunet's salver he said curtly:

"I am ordered to Algiers and I shall not take horses nor Pitchoune."

The dog, at mention of his name, set Brunet's leg free and stood quiet, his head lifted.

"Nor you either, mon brave Brunet." Sabron put his hand on his servant's shoulder, the first familiarity he had ever shown a man who served him with devotion, and who would have given his life to save his master's. "Those," said the officer curtly, "are the orders from headquarters, and the least said about them the better."

The ruddy cheek of the servant turned pale. He mechanically touched his forehead.

"Bien, mon Capitaine," he murmured, with a little catch in his voice. He stood at attention, then wheeled and without being dismissed, stalked out of the room.

Pitchoune did not follow. He remained immovable like a little dog cut from bronze; he understood—who shall say—how much of the conversation? Sabron threw away his cigarette, then read his letter by the mantlepiece, leaning his arm upon it. He read slowly. He had broken the seal slowly. It was the first letter he had ever seen in this handwriting. It was written in French and ran thus:

Monsieur—My aunt wishes me to ask you if you will come to us for a little musicale tomorrow afternoon. We hope you will be free, and I hope, she added, that you will bring Pitchoune. Not that I think he will care for the music, but afterward perhaps he will run with us as we walk to the gate. My aunt wishes me to say that she has learned from the colonel that you have been ordered to Algiers. In this way she says that we shall have an opportunity of wishing you bon voyage, and I say I hope Pitchoune will be a comfort to you.

The letter ended in the usual formal French fashion. Sabron, turning the letter and rereading it, found that it completed the work that had been going on in his lonely heart. He stood long, musing.

Pitchoune laid himself down on the rug, his bright little head between his paws, his affectionate eyes on his master. The firelight shone on them both, the musing young officer and the almost human-hearted little beast. So Brunet found them when he came in with the lamp shortly, and as he set it down on the table and its light shone on him, Sabron, glancing at the ordonnance, saw that his eyes were red, and liked him none the less for it.

CHAPTER VII.

A Soldier's Dog.

"It is just as I thought," he told Pitchoune. "I took you into my life, you little rascal, against my will, and now, although it's not your fault, you are making me regret it. I shall end, Pitchoune, by being a cynic and misogynist, and learn to make idols of my career and my troops alone. After all, they may be tiresome, but they don't hurt as you do, and some other things as well."

Pitchoune, being invited to the musicale at the Chateau d'Esclignac, went along with his master, running behind the captain's horse. It was a heavenly January day, soft and mild, full of sunlight and delicious odors, and over the towers of King Rene's castle the sky banners were made of celestial blue.

The officer found the house full of people. He thought it hard that he might not have had one more intimate picture to add to his collection. When he entered the room a young man was playing a violoncello. There was a group at the piano, and among the people the only ones he clearly saw were the hostess, Madame d'Esclignac in a gorgeous velvet frock, then Miss Redmond, who stood by the window, listening to the music. She saw him come in and smiled to him, and from that moment his eyes hardly left her.

What the music was that afternoon the Count de Sabron could not have told very intelligently. Much of it was sweet, all of it was touching, but when Miss Redmond stood to sing and chose the little song of which he had made a lullaby, and sang it divinely, Sabron, his hands clasped behind his back and his head a little bent, still looking at her, thought that his heart would break. It was horrible to go away and not tell her. It was cowardly to feel so much and not be able to speak it. And he felt that he might be equal to some wild deed, such as crossing the room violently, putting his hand over her slender one and saying:

"I am a soldier; I have nothing but a soldier's life. I am going to Africa tomorrow. Come with me; I want you. come!"

All of which, slightly impossible and quite out of the question, nevertheless charmed and soothed him. The words of her English song, almost barbaric to him because incomprehensible, fell on his ears. Its melody was already part of him.

"Monsieur de Sabron," said Madame d'Esclignac, "you are going away tomorrow?"

"Yes, Madame."

"I expect you will be engaged in some awful native skirmishes. Perhaps you will even be able to send back a tiger skin."

"There are no tigers in that part of Africa, Madame."

The young soldier's dark eyes rested almost hostilely on the gorgeous

He Stood Long Musing.

marquise in her red gown. He felt that she was glad to have him go. He wanted to say: "I shall come back, however; I shall come back and when I return" . . . but he knew that such a boast, or even such a hope was fruitless.

His colonel had told him only the day before that Miss Redmond was one of the richest American heiresses, and there was a question of a duke or a prince and heaven only knew what in the way of titles. As the marquise moved away her progress was something like the rolling of an elegant velvet chair, and while his feelings were still disturbed Miss Redmond crossed the room to him. Before Sabron quite knew how they had been able to escape the others or leave the room, he was standing with her in the winter garden where the sunlight came in through trellises and the perfume of the warmed plants was heavy and sweet. Before them flowed the Rhone, golden in the winter's light. The blue river swept its waves around old Tarascon and the battlements of King Rene's towers.

"You are going to Algiers tomorrow, Monsieur de Sabron?" Miss Redmond smiled, and how was Sabron to realize that she could not very well have wept there and then, had she wished to do so?

"Yes," he said. "I adore my regiment. I love my work. I have always wanted to see colonial service."

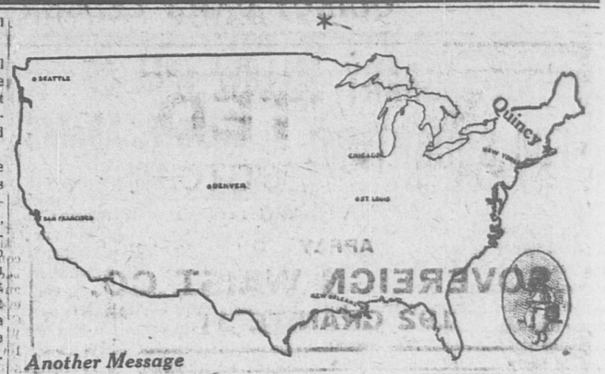

"Have you? It is delightful to find one's ambitions and desires satisfied," said Miss Redmond. "I have always longed to see the desert. It must be beautiful. Of course you are going to take Pitchoune?"

"Ah!" exclaimed Sabron, "that is just what I am not going to do."

"What!" she cried You are never going to leave that darling dog behind you?"

(To be continued.)

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENCILL'S
Tel. 1047-W Quincy

Another Message
To the Business Men of Quincy

Business fights shy of dead towns. A sure sign of a dead one is the lack of local pride. People who live in a live, prosperous town show it. Their stores are attractive, their streets clean, their homes are well painted.

Nothing shows a lack of pride, a lack of prosperity, like paint-hungry buildings. Let's paint up. As the most durable and economical paint, we recommend

Beyer-Bauman White Lead
(Dutch Boy Painter Trade Mark)

and pure linseed oil, mixed right on the job, to suit the job. Have your painter tint it any color you wish.

We carry all other paint necessaries also. Consult us on that job of painting you have in mind. Today's the day.

WILLIAM WESTLAND

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

Prescott Apartments
For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service, Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

Wanted
Ten Boys
Between the ages of 16 and 18 years. Must possess intelligence and have a hustling spirit. High School boys preferred. A Splendid chance to make good money.
See MR. MILLS at the Ledger Office
Between 2.30 and 3.30 any day this week.

COAL
ANNOUNCEMENT
April 1, 1915.
Full coal bins are a source of real satisfaction. We are filling our bins as rapidly as possible with FRESH MINED COAL. By placing your order now YOU can take advantage of the LOW PRICES announced in the schedule below. Coal will positively ADVANCE IN PRICE later. There will be no Further Reduction.
We should be glad to call and talk Coal with you if you will notify us.

PRICES FOR CASH

Franklin Egg and Stove	$8.50 per ton
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75 per ton
Shamokin Stove	7.50 per ton
White Ash Broken	6.50 per ton
White Ash Egg	7.25 per ton
White Ash Stove	7.25 per ton
White Ash Nut	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Broken	6.75 per ton
Lehigh Egg	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Stove	7.50 per ton
Pea	5.50 per ton

25 cents per ton extra where coal is carried in. Orders taken for these Prices are for delivery by July 1, 1915.

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc.

WANTED

EXPERIENCED STITCHERS

STEADY WORK

APPLY TO

SOVEREIGN WAIST CO.

192 GRANITE ST.

AMUSEMENTS

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

"Common Clay" by Cleves Kinkead began the fourteenth triumphant week of its unprecedented run at the Castle Square Theatre this week. The play has broken all records for runs for the theatre as well as the records for two-a-day stock in this country. John Craig expects to finish out the season with it. The Craig Players are rehearsing the new play, "The Long Lane" by B. H. Voight which is to be produced next week at a special matinee. Mary Young will have a part in the new piece which is said to rival that of Ellen Neal, the role which she is playing so successfully in "Common Clay." John Craig is seen at his best in the part of the suave and polished lawyer whose life is lived according to the conventions but who reserves the right to think for himself. William P. Carleton has a role that endears him to every woman in the audience because the boy he portrays turns out to be the sort of man that every woman admires.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE.

A brilliant galaxy of stars, nearly all new to Boston audiences, will be the offering at B. F. Keith's Theatre the week of April 19th, headed by Beatrice Herford, Manuel Quiroga, the great Spanish violinist; Sah Chip and Mary Marble, "The Veterans," with Harry J. Fern and Company; Adelaide Hermann and her wonder workers; Courtney Sisters; "Tango Shoes;" Kramer and Morton and the Skaters Bijouve. Beatrice Herford needs no introduction to Boston audiences. This is her first appearance in vaudeville, but Miss Herford has won for herself a position in the very front rank of society entertainers. Her recent appearances in Boston were nothing short of a sensation, and it was a foregone conclusion that the great B. F. Keith circuit would soon secure Miss Herford's services as an attraction for their theatres. Miss Herford will offer a repertoire of her inimitable characterizations. Madame Emma Calve will be on early attraction at B. F. Keiths Theatre.

CORT THEATRE.

Monday evening last the very newest creation there is in musical comedy, "A Modern Eve" was presented at the Cort Theatre, Boston and met with emphatic approval. So favorable indeed, was the verdict of the public that the stay of the pretty new-comer may be prolonged far into the summer "A Modern Eve" was first produced in Berlin over two years ago, and was so successful that it played protracted engagements there and in Paris, Vienna and Budapest.

The story of the play is intended to poke fun at the woman's suffrage movement in a good-natured manner. It shows the family life of the Cascadiers, a French family, in which Madame Cascadier is positively and most distinctly the head of the house. Her daughters Renee and Camille, are brought up by the female parent, the former as an artist and the latter as a physician, under strict instructions to shun love and lovers as they would the plague, achieve fame by their individual talents, and help run the world as it should be run. Poor Casimir, husband and father, is sent to the kitchen where he becomes boss of the servants, knits stockings, and really acts as the family door-mat. But, of course, this state of affairs cannot last long, for lovers by the score trail the pretty daughters morning, noon and night, and in the end love triumphs, and everybody is happy but the militant suffragette leader.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE.

The Boston engagements of Miss Ethel Barrymore are always events of extreme interest and importance to local playgoers and the announcement of the coming appearances of this most popular of American actresses at the Hollis Street Theatre for a fortnight beginning Monday evening, is a very welcome one. Miss Barrymore comes direct from the Empire Theatre in New York where for the past three months she has been appearing in "The Shadow," by Dario Niccodemo and Michael Morton. It is i nthis play that Miss Barrymore has been credited with having achieved the highest artistic success of her entire career, the acclaim and praise accorded her by even the most conservative of the New York critics amounting to little less than a triumph.

"The Shadow" was originally written in French by Dario Niccodemo for Rejane but war conditions in Paris having made its production inadvisable, the play was translated by Michael Morton and submitted to Charles Frohman, who promptly accepted it for Miss Barrymore.

"The Shadow" differs from most of the dramas that follow the triangular pattern in the fact that all three of the people that figure in the tragedy are absolutely right from their various points of view. It is a drama of good people, striving pitifully to be just and kind, and true. The piece is written masterfully. Few greater pieces of dramatic writing have been listened to in recent years than the dialogue in the second act between the hero and heroine.

BOSTON THEATRE.

The Easter week opening of the Aborn Grand Opera company at the Boston Theatre was only exceeded in enthusiastic praise and public approval by the second week's offerings of this popular organization. Many of the leading artists who have helped to establish the organization in high repute during the first and second weeks will remain for the casts of the third week and will be re-inforced by a number of important artists heretofore not heard by Boston music lovers.

Wagner's "Lohengrin "opened the second week's program and was sung Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights and the Wednesday matinee; while the latter half of the week "Il Trovatore" was presented.

For the third week the selections made by the Boston music loving public have been Bizet's "Carmen" the first half and "The Tales of Hoffman" for the second part of the week. Boston will hear for the first time a new Carmen in Gertrude Francis. There will be four performances of "Carmen," with the usual Wednesday matinee and four performances of Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffman" with a Saturday matinee. The chorus and ballet for the ensemble numbers number 60 and the augmented odchestra of 30 have already won merited praise from the musical critics of Boston as well as commendable appreciation from the public.

MAJESTIC THEATRE.

At the Majestic Theatre for a limited engagement, is that remarkable New York success, "The Law of the Land," from the pen of that prolific writer of American dramas, George Broadhurst. Some of the greatest dramatic successes of the past decade have come from Mr. Broadhurst, among them being "Bought and Paid For," "Today," "Innocents," "The Man of the Hour," "The Wrong Mr. Wright," "What Happened to Jones" and "Why Smith Left Home." His latest big hit, "The Law of the Land," is a drama of the home involving marital relations which we all know exist but have never before seen utilized for dramatic treatment on the stage. It is, as well distinctly a drama of action, with a plentiful number of unique comedy scenes interspersed.

The play is said to be a masterpiece in construction, and superbly acted. Certainly not since "The Third Degree" has a play made so profound an impression upon those who are interested in social conditions of today. As in some other recent successful plays the police and a murder figure prominently in the story. "The Law of the Land" differs from many of the recent works of our leading playwrights in that it does not argue or talk its way through a story nor lead up to stagy obvious situations. Given a certain set of facts and a strong opening situation the people involved in this drama proceed to do human and manifestly plausible things.

SHUBERT THEATRE.

The London Gaiety Company, direct from the London Gaiety theatre, the most famous home of musical comedy in the world, is now playing a limited engagement at the Shubert theatre, Boston, fresh from a successful run of four months at the Shubert theatre, New York. The organization is presenting "Tonight's the Night," which has scored one of the three biggest successes of the current season in the metropolis. "Tonight's the Night" was written for presentation at the Gaiety theatre early in the fall. The costumes and scenery were all ready, and the company had been engaged when the European war broke out. The management decided that it would be folly to risk an elaborate new production in London at that time, and arranged with the Messrs. Shubert to give the piece its premiere in New York instead. The entire Gaiety company, chorus and all, was accordingly packed aboard ship some few weeks later, arduous rehearsals were held in New York, and the production was launched there late in the old year. There will be a special matinee on Patriots' day, Monday, April 19.

WILBUR THEATRE.

New England playgoers in search of hearty laughter and bright entertainment are still flocking to the Wilbur theatre, where "A Pair of Sixes," on Patriots' day, will begin the seventeenth week of an engagement which has broken all records for long runs in Boston. Although it would seem that every man, woman and child in Boston has already seen this wonderful farce, the attendance remains just as large as ever, and at every performance "A Pair of Sixes" sends its thrills of laughter across the footlights at an audience that fills every portion of the playhouse. There must be some reason why a play can come to Boston in a season that has been characterized by poor business, and stay longer than any farce has ever been known to stay in the Hub City. For since this piece came to the Wilbur theatre in December nearly 100 shows have come to Boston and gone their way.

Quincy Pianoforte School

Mackellon Directors

Street Floor, Greenleaf Block

1419 Hancock Street, Quincy

Piano Instructions Par Excellence Voice

Private or Class Lessons

Tel. 539-M 31-tf

BE WISE

FOOL THE FLIES

HAVE YOUR SCREENS

RE-COVERED NOW

TELEPHONE OR WRITE

HOLMES & HALL

1179 HANCOCK ST.

TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

VERMONT LOSES A LEADING CITIZEN

Ex-Governor Woodbury Distinguished Himself In Civil War

Burlington, Vt., April 16.—Former Governor Urban A. Woodbury died at his home here at the age of 76 years. He had been ill for several months, following a stroke of paralysis.

Woodbury was born in Acworth, N. H. He was a veteran of the Civil war. Although he lost his right arm in the first battle of Bull Run, where he was serving as sergeant in the Second Vermont volunteers, was taken prisoner, paroled and discharged for wounds, he re-enlisted as scon as he had recovered his health and became captain of Company D in the Eleventh Vermont volunteers.

He was mayor of Burlington in 1886-6, lieutenant governor in 1888-90 and governor in 1894-96. He was commander of the Vermont department of the Grand Army of the Republic in 1900. In 1859 he received the degree of doctor of medicine from the University of Vermont.

GET $50,000 IN HOLDUP

Robbers Strip Cars of Fast Freight and Load Plunder on Autos

Buffalo, April 16.—Masked men held up a New York Central fast freight train at Sanborn, stripped several cars of bolted silk valued at $50,000 and escaped. The thieves were armed and fired several shots at the crew. No one was injured.

After forcing the engine crew to uncouple the locomotive, and run it a short distance down the tracks, the engiremen and the three other members of the train crew were lined up and placed under guard of a single bandit while the others looted the merchandise cars.

Four five-ton automobile trucks which the robbers had in waiting were quickly loaded.

Engineer Goss escaped the guard and reached his engine in safety, though several shots were fired at him. He made a quick run into Suspension Bridge, eight miles away, and gave the alarm. Police and armed citizens were hurried to the scene, but found no trace of the robbers.

Nelson Gets Life Sentence

Skowhegan, Me., April 16.—A sentence of life imprisonment at hard labor was given to Verdie W. Nelson of Canaan, who pleaded guilty to the murder of Bert Ireland at Canaan.

Four-Year-Old Gets Big Estate

New York, April 16.—H. A. Heinze jr., 4-year-old son of the late copper magnate, is heir to a gross estate of $1,478,666, according to the appraisers' report.

The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of M. F. Maher also known as Michael F. Maher, late of Quincy in said County deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Joseph T. Hayes of said Quincy who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Dedham in said County of Norfolk, on the fifth day of May A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper, published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fifteenth day of April in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register
3t April 16-23-30

LEWIS N. CURTIS

PAINTER and GLAZIER

LEADED STAINED GLASS

DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER

OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED

Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

BIG TORTURE OF HUERTA'S LIFE

Knows Who Killed Madero, but Keeps "Professional Secret"

HE ISSUES SIGNED STATEMENT

Does Not Think Washington Has Been Fair to Mexico and Says Sixteen Million People Would Resist Invaders—Affairs Much Worse Than When He Fled the Republic

New York, April 16.—Vehemently asserting that he had nothing to do with the death of Francisco Madero, General Victoriano Huerta, former provisional president of Mexico, issued a lengthy statement setting forth what he termed his side of the Mexican question. Huerta declared he knew who was responsible for Madero's death, but that he was keeping a "professional secret."

Huerta's statement reviewed the history of the Madero revolution and his accession to the provisional presidency and concluded with the assertion that "my country cannot be conquered. Sixteen millions of men, women and children would have to be killed before Mexico would submit to an invader."

The heads of the Washington administration, he declared, had not been fair to Mexico, had been misled by false statements, and if they had been in Mexico for thirty days "they would have changed their theoretical erroneous ideas." Had it not been for the embargo on the exportation of arms from this country, Huerta indicated, the army would have prevailed over those opposed to it.

The former provisional president reiterated the assertion which he made when he left Mexico—that he had resigned from his position only because he hoped to bring peace to his country. He pointed out that in the eight months since that date the situation in Mexico had become "too sad for me to analyze deeply."

"Anarchy is too soft a word to call it," he said. Mexico would eventually be saved, but by a Mexican. Who that would be he did not know.

Huerta declined in response to questions to give any inkling as to his future movements. He denied the report that he would go to San Antonio, Tex., or any other point near the Mexican border. Discussing the death of Madero, he said:

"That is a professional secret. Lawyers have secrets, doctors have secrets—I am a soldier—why should not a soldier have secrets? It is not through friendship for anyone that I am withholding the information. It is a professional duty.

"The time will soon come when my name will be vindicated and, as General Lee said of General Jackson, the world will say of me, I stood like a stone wall submitting to the ignomy and the insults that have been heaped upon me."

"It has been said that you betrayed the confidence of President Madero. Is it so?" he was asked. Huerta straightened up proudly, his eyes flashed, and bringing his clenched fists against his breast, he replied:

"No, I swear it, I was in no way responsible for his death. It has been one of the big tortures of my life. I am sorry I have to keep the secret. Although I am of a different race than you, gentlemen, I am a man."

FROM FAR-OFF CHINA

Imported Eggs Being Sold to Bostonians at 18 and 19 Cents

Boston, April 16.—Chinese eggs were placed on sale in the Boston dairy market for the first time. Two carloads of 400 cases each, with thirty dozen eggs to the case, were received by rail from the Pacific coast by a Boston firm, and were sold at 18 and 19 cents a dozen.

The eggs, slightly smaller than the domestic variety, arrived in good condition. They were about six weeks on the way.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

Clyde Lynde, 17, was run over by a freight train which he tried to board at South Lancaster, Mass.

Edward McHugh, the English land reformer and trade unionist, died at Birkenhead, Eng.

Governor Whitman of New York signed the law abolishing coroners in New York city. Medical examiners will take their places.

Charles E. Haley, 22, committed suicide at Cambridge, Mass., by drowning.

Mrs. Mary French, 65, lost her life while trying to flee from a brush fire at Norway, Me.

Rev. Daniel S. Gregory, 83, general secretary of the Bible League of North America, died at East Orange, N. J.

Jewelry worth $2000 was taken from the home at Swampscott, Mass., of Ludwig Eiseman, a Boston wool merchant.

Arthur Chapin of Bangor anonunced that he will be a Republican candidate for governor of Maine.

John H. Murray of Providence, serving a life sentence for murder, was voted a pardon by the Rhode Island senate.

KEEP POSTED ON THE PEOPLE'S WANTS — CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING — WHY WORRY LET THESE ADS LIFT YOUR BURDEN

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Modern apartment, near high school; two-family house, everything separate; 7 rooms and bath; electricity and gas. Apply A. D. Cossaboom, 95 Merrymount road; Tel. 1374-M. 15-12t

TO LET—A tenement of 4 rooms to small family, rent $8.00. 19 Carrolls Lane. Apply Carrolls Lane. 15-6t

TO LET—3 new flats, Quincy Point, four rooms and kitchenette, hot and cold water, set range, gas, separate cellars, low rent. Germain avenue, cor. Washington street. Small families only. Good neighborhood. E. R. Stone, 12 Avon Way. Ready now. 13-6t

TO LET—Small tenement on 11 Francis Court, all modern improvements. Rent $18.00, apply 11 Francis Court. 15-6t

TO LET—Lower flat in two-family house. Living room, dining room, bedroom, kitchen and bathroom, pantry, good closets and cellar. Coal and gas range, furnace, electric lights. Every convenience. Rent $20. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 13-tf

FOR RENT—In Quincy Centre, opposite Adams Academy, house 7 rooms, and bath 18 Faxon avenue, suite 6 rooms and bath, every modern improvement Tel. 414-M Weymouth. 7-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 7-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of two family house, 5 rooms and bath, all improvements, 3 Bradford street, Quincy Adams. Apply to William Duggan, Bradford street or telephone Quincy 724-W. 7-12t

TO LET—Half house of six rooms and large laundry to adult family, conveniences, large garden. Rent $20. Apply to George H. Newcomb, 21 Adams Bldg. or M. M. Newcomb, 39 Gay street or phone 1990 Quincy. 2-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house. 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2, Quincy or 110 South street, Boston, Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 5 rooms, one attic room and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished. 97 Goddard street, near Quincy Adams Station. 15-tf.

TO LET—Tenement of three rooms $7.50 per month. Good place for hens. James Moorhead, 28 Curtis street, Tel. 599-1. 15-tf.

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

TO LET

TO LET—Upper apartment, 6 rooms and bath, gas and coal ranges, small family $20, F. M. Torrey, Tel. 202-1 Quincy, 25 Spear street. 15-tf

TO LET—Light housekeeping rooms also furnished rooms, 5 minutes from library, 65 Spear street, Quincy. 15-3t

TO LET—Three rooms at 32 Newcomb place. Apply at 32 Newcomb place. 14-3t

TO LET—Tenement of 7 rooms, all improvements. Rent $25. Apply 233 Washington street. 12-6t

TO LET—Flat in new house, all modern improvements. Apply 81 Richie road. April 12-6t

TO LET—To small family of adults, several sunny attractive half houses, all improvements, centrally located, $21, $23 and $25 per month and water rates. Tel. Quincy 174-2, Charles H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. 10-12t

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements. 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 13-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Buffet, refrigerator, porcelain lined, mahogany dresser, desk. 37 Royal street, Norfolk Downs. 16-1t

FOR SALE—Two Runabouts, Model 10 Buick, 1914 Trumbull, tires good and in good running order, cheap for cash. O. S. Sandberg, 1281 Hancock street. 15-3t

FOR SALE—In Wollaston, new two flat house, ten minutes to Quincy or Wollaston station, one minute to electric cars, will sell reasonable, apply at 26 Carruth street, near car barn. 15-3t

FOR SALE—New two flat house on Kittredge avenue. Each flat has 5 rooms and bath, all modern improvements, coal and gas range, electric lights. Inquire at 11 Ring avenue off Washington street. 13-6t

FOR SALE—20 foot open boat, 4 H. P., Victor engine, reverse, cushions, etc., T. E. Baker, 24 Baxter Street. 15-6t

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E. R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-tf. L. P.

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away, Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy. Res. 22-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN

Real Estate Insurance

Auctioneer Care of Property

Justice of the Peace

Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING

WALL PAPER FOR SALE

KUSTAA RASANEN

121 Copeland St., West Quincy

Tel. Con. 19-tf

Arthur B. Foster

CARPENTER and BUILDER

14 Bay View St., Quincy Point

Telephone Connection 31-1m

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.

Cosy upper 4 room and bath flat, 122 Glendale Road. $19.

H. F. McIntire HOUSES Greenleaf Blk Tel. Quincy 1665-W.

Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale. 1-1 yr.

LOST

LOST—A lady's gold Waltham watch with initial B on outside of case and No. 6786793 on inside of case. Either before taking car at the corner of Franklin and Water streets or in West Quincy. Please return to 61 Payne street, South Quincy and receive reward. 16-3t

WANTED

WANTED—An experienced maid for general housework. References required. Apply at 118 Merrymount road. 16-tf

WANTED—By experienced young lady, a steady place to do housework on Saturdays by the hour. Apply to 46 Granite street, Quincy. 16-2t

WANTED—Experienced maid for general housework. Swede or Nova Scotia preferred. Apply at 50 Glendale road near Goffe street, Presidents Hill, Quincy. 16-tf

WANTED—Intelligent honest girl to help care for child two and a half years and to do light housework. Apply at 644 Adams street, East Milton. 15-3t

WANTED—Gardening, grading and jobbing by day or job. Mr. Bellington, 17 Edwards street, Quincy. 13-6t

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

CARPENTER AND BUILDER

PLANS EXECUTED

Established 1891 in Quincy

All Work Given Prompt Attention

W. R. LOFGREN

19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall

Tel. Quincy 368-3

TO LET

Large Room 30 x 36

Second Floor

Savings Bank Building

Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes

Quincy Savings Bank

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.

Nov

TO LET

After May 1, Store or Stores No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.

Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.

22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.

Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up

Offices and Desk Room.

City Square Office, Hancock Bld.

Small front office.

Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.

City Square Store House or Shop—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

City Square Club Room or Hall—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK

CITY SQUARE

(Best location in City.)

Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.

Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water, $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS

Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.

Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.

Ask for A. R. Kribs,

Greenleaf Block, (Phone 2100) Quincy

Exclusive Agency

Dorothy Dodd

SMART SHOES FOR WOMEN

Famous for Style and Comfort

The best fitting, best wearing, most popular shoes today

You are cordially invited to call and inspect the new Spring Models.

$3.00, $3.25, $3.50, $3.75, $4.00

JONES Just around the Corner 1 Granite St., Quincy

News of Interest to Granite Manufacturers and Workers

With only six weeks left before Memorial Day business at the granite yards is assuming a very busy aspect. The yards are getting work ready for the polishing mill and the mills are running up to their capacity endeavoring to get the work out in time for the finishing to be done on them so that they can either be shipped or set before Memorial Day. Several large truck loads or finished work leave Quincy every day to be set, and the same will continue from now until the last minute that the cemeteries will allow the work to be set.

The question of the abolition of the grade crossing seems to have been forgotten in this city. It is hoped that the work will be finished before next spring so that the Granite shippers in Quincy will not have to stand for the present accommodations at South Quincy another season. The writer passed through the freight yard where the granite is shipped one night last week and counted 28 teams lined up waiting to be unloaded On inquiring it was found that one of the teams arrived at the yard shortly after one o'clock. This condition could be relieved if the railroad company would install a derrick at the end of Quincy street to unload the carload lots of granite coming into Quincy and to help load the stock to be shipped.

At the West Quincy station with the small derrick installed there more work could be shipped if required, than with the present crane at South Quincy. During the past week several carloads of Granite Railway stock has been shipped from the quarry.

TO MAKE MEMORIAL.

J. N. White & Sons of Miller street have just received the contract to furnish the Firemen's Memorial to be erected by the Firemen's Relief association of the city of Waltham in Mount Peake Cemetery The monument is of light Barre granite, 5—0 square at base—total height 7—6. On the front of the monument there will be a bronze department hat badge, and a suitable inscription. Contract calls for completion by June 5.

HAVE COMPLETED CONTRACT.

J. N. White & Sons have just completed a large memorial in Calvary cemetery. The bottom base is 10 ft. by 5 ft. and on the wash of the base a winged statue holds a cross standing six feet high. The die stands six feet high and is surmounted by a plinth and cap. The memorial stands eighteen feet in the air. The stock is the very finest of Westerly and all hammered. There are four columns on the corners of the die, finely carved. The work was all cut at the Quincy yard of the firm.

J. S. Swingle is making many changes at his quarry to take care of the ever increasing demand for his best stock. The quarry is now being operated to its full capacity.

Many wholesalers have been visiting this city the past few weeks buying up stock work from the local manufacturers. These men are always welcomed here by the men who have their money tied up in stock jobs.

The Quincy Electric Light & Power Company are installing a motor at the plant of H. Gerrior & Company, corner of Quarry and Garfield streets.

BRITISH SHIPS ATTACK.

(By United Press)

Berlin by way of Wireless to London April 16,—British destroyers standing in near the coast, assisted the allied land forces in a heavy artillery attack upon the German position between Nieuport and Ostend yesterday, according to an official statement from the war office this afternoon.

The Germans trained their coast guns upon the warships and forced them to retire without doing any damage. Increased activity around the battle front was reported in official dispatches received today. Fighting has recommenced between the Meuse and Moselle, according to the war office, but has been confined largely to artillery duelling. There is little change in the situation on the Eastern battle front .

FINED $15.

John Gilrain, of Atlantic was fined $15 for drunkenness in district court today.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Auditorium Theatre
Foy's Two Stores
Granite Shoe Store
Quincy Public Market
Nathan Ames
Madame Sarkin
Bob Taylor
J. Sathmary
Remick's Holiday Suits
E. E. Gray Co.
Associated Bible Students
H. F. McIntire
Remick's Shoes

CITY HALL NOTES

So many matters have come up since the annual budget was passed by the council for additional sums for current expenses that it is more than likely that Mayor Campbell may find it necessary to send a supplementary budget to the council. There are a number of new streets which should be oiled and were not included in the street oiling schedule. The managers of Public Burial Places desire a permanent clerk at $[illegible] which will have to be included, unless the department can find a way to use that sum out of its regular appropriation. If the council should pass the resolution approving the establishment of a gun squad in Quincy, this amount will have to be included in the supplementary budget, and there are doubtless other matters that it will be found necessary to ask money for. However, the Mayor has plenty of time to forward a supplementary budget for it can be done any time before the tax rate is announced.

AT THE THEATRE

The chief attraction at Kincaide's last night was Mary Pickford in the five reel photo-play "Mistress Nell".

Mary Pickford has been rightfully called "Queen of the Movies." The play lends itself well to this famous little actress' piquant, and wholly fascinating charms. It is the story of plots and counter-plots in which little Nell Gwyner saves her lover's (Charles II of England) kingdom from destruction by France. Little Miss Pickford disguised as a young Irish blade of fashion is irresistible. It is a truly dashing romance of the period of hearts and swords.

The other "movie" is a really funny one of two bad men, a "cop," a lady and her irate father. It kept the audience in roars of laughter from the time the two bad men emmerged from a garbage pail, until the "cop" marched them off the reel in "lock-step hands up."

For the vaudeville Paul Stevens did some novel stunts in gymnastics, Bert and Lotta Whiton gave a series of nonsense talking, dancing and singing acts, with rapid costume changing and best of all, Roattini and Cortella gave a clever skit, involving an opera singer and an Italian fruit vender with a really remarkable tenor voice.

This bill will be repeated today and Saturday.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

NOTICE

On and after this date, I shall not pay any debts except of my own contracting.

EUGENE H. PROUTY,
37 Quincy Ave.,
Quincy, Mass.

April 15, 1915 15-3t

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

FOR SALE—House, 17 Edison street 7 rooms and bath. Gas, electric lights steam heat, 11,725 feet land, 15 minutes walk to Fore River Shipyard, price $3300. Make an offer. Apply on the premises. 16-6t

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

WALCO
ASPHALT SLATE
SHINGLES
ATTRACTIVE DURABLE
EASILY LAID NO PAINTING
TWO COLORS
RED and GREEN
COOLER THAN
SLATE SHINGLES
FIRE PROOF
WATER PROOF
Come In Today
Ask for Sample
NATHAN AMES
5 Granite St.
USE CARBORUNDUM
SHARPENING STONES

Roast Beef Sales

Did you eat one of our Choice Beef Cuts last Sunday.

If not you should get one this week—we have secured some extra choice young tender BEEF for this sale at a price that will interest and benefit every family.

Fancy Milk Feed Veal to roast ..... 20c lb.
Choice Rib Roast (good and tender) ..... 15c lb.
Fancy Lean Sugar Cured Bacon ..... 20c lb.
Good Hamburg Steak (no fat) ..... 15c lb.
Sale on Corned Beef (good and lean) ..... 10c lb.
Butcher Steak (that is tender) ..... 25c lb.
Fresh Eastern Pork Shoulders (lean) .. 12 1-2c ib.
Corned Spare Ribs (lean) ..... 10 1-2c lb.
Try a pound of our Coffee it's delicious ..... 20c lb.
High Grade Ceylon Tea .... 35c lb, 3 lbs. for $1.00
Good Onions .... per peck 25c

Also Spinach, Cucumbers, Lettuce, Radishes, Asparagus, Celery and fancy table Apples, lower than any prices in town.

LEGAL STAMPS FREE

Quincy Public Market
1514 Hancock St. Kincaide's Block
Phone 1434 J. Free Delivery.
CLOSED ALL DAY MONDAY.

Low Shoes for the Holiday

Spend Patriots Day in a pair of our low shoes The amount of comfort you receive will repay for the small investment you make.

Walk Over

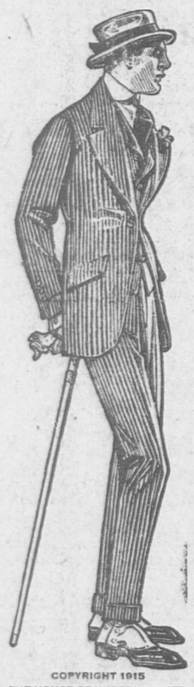

Elite La France

With these three handsome lines to select from you will surely find a Shoe that will meet with your approval.

Granite Shoe Store

Here's Your Holiday Suit, Sir!

COPYRIGHT 1915 THE HOUSE OF KUPPENHEIMER

Perhaps you are going for a short trip over the holiday, your clothing requirements might need replenishing. Here at this

Wide-Awake Store

You'll find New Spring Suits in handsome fancy mixtures. superior wearing qualities and style to to please. This store meets the requirements of parents, young men and boys alike. We are proud of our connection with the you'll be proud to wear one of their suits. We might add that they are the best clothes that any maker can produce, and the best values dollar for dollar, that this or any other store can offer.

The House of Kuppenheimer

$18 to $27

Don't let a thin pocket-book hinder you from getting a new suit, it is no handicap at this WIDE-AWAKE STORE, we doubt if there's a single suit that can be duplicated for less than $18 elsewhere.

$10 and $15

Music Hall Block REMICKS THE Wide-Awake STORE

MEAT

A Tempting Portion

of such meats as ours are surely worth having. Try us once and you will keep a coming. Prices right — everything the best procurable.

Fresh Killed Fowl, 5 lb weight	.23 lb
Star Hams, 10 lb weight	.17 lb
Prime Ribs of Roast Beef	.18 lb
Choice Rump Roasts	.25 lb
Corned Ox Tongue	.20 lb
Simon Pure Leaf Lard	.52 pail
Blue Label Catsup, pints	.19 bot
Van Camp's Baked Beans, large can	.17
Dr. Johnson's Educator Wheat Bran	.10 pkg
Stanzalone Coffee	.20 lb
Knox Gelatine	.12 pkg

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1989

FOY'S 2 STORES

WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

GRAND OPENING
AUDITORIUM THEATRE
Saturday April 17th
The whole interior reconstructed and renovated
Bring the children along — Saturday Matinee
ADMISSION MATINEE EVENINGS Ladies and Children 5c Everybody 10c Come Saturday Sure A Wonderful Show

ales
oice Beef
ek—we have er BEEF for and benefit
.....20c lb.
..... 15c lb.
..... 20c lb.
..... 15c lb.
..... 10c lb.
..... 25c lb.
. 12 1-2c lb.
. 10 1-2c lb.
..... 20c lb.
lbs. for $1.00
..... 25c
e, Radishes, pples, lower EE arket le's Block Delivery.
AY. oliday
ts Day in a low shoes of comfort will repay investment
France select from
WALK OVER tore ing Portion eats as ours
worth having.
and you will ming. Prices erything the able.
.23 lb
.17 lb
.18 lb
.25 lb
.20 lb
.52 pail
.19 bot
.17
.10 pkg
.20 lb
.12 pkg
WATER STREET
Cor. Quincy
Phone 117

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 91 QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY EVENING, APRIL 17, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

YOUNG PEOPLE DELIGHT WITH CAFE CHANTANT

Alan Miller Author of Successful Operetta

One of the most sucessful entertainments given by the young people in recent years was the Cafe Chantant, held Friday evening in the new Unitarian parish house by the Wollaston Young People's Religious Union.

Tables, seating four, were informally scattered around the hall and these were filled at an early hour with a merry throng, artificial bougns of peach blossoms helping to make the scene a festive one.

The program opened with the entrance of the waitresses in dainty Japanese costumes who marched in and out among the tables singing "Chinatown."

They were: Misses Gretchen Horst, Charlotte Barstow, Catherine Reed, Elizabeth Reed, Dorothy Atwood, Florence Crowell, Rebecca Bird, Helen Moulton, Anna Weston, Helen Thompson, Katherine Adams, Margaret Magee, Martha Robinson, Priscilla Robinson, Bertha Polk, Helen Browne, Marion Browne, Dorothy Stevens, Ruth Sanborn, Edna Sanborn, Alberta Smith, Alice Taylor and Mrs. George Barnes.

The first number was a Hebrew sketch entitled "Cohen's Divorce," which was screamingly funning and in which the parts were taken by Leon D. Browne and Alan Miller.

An instrumental trio consisting of Miss Augusta Talbot, violin, Miss Martha Whittemore cello and Miss Helen Seavey, piano, was much appreciated and applauded.

A farce "Miss Jones, Journalist" was taken part in by Miss Maragaret Magee, Ernest W. Arnold and Ronald Shaw and closed the first half of the program.

During intermission ice cream was served and music given by an orchestra consisting of William Ellis Weston, Max O. Pinkham and Edward Packard was enjoyed.

Another selection by the trio opened Part Two and "Just Amateurs" was produced by Bruce Saville and Miss Beatrice Morrison. This was a bright little piece and was capitally done by the two performers.

A demonstration of the Castle polka by Alan Miller and Miss Dorothy Stevens was presented and the program closed with the original operetta. "The Land of Let's Pretend."

This was the composition of Alan Miller, a member of the Union and was produced by a large cast of young people. It was in the form of a fantasy which introduced the various characters of Mother Goose land. The action of the piece was interspersed with popular songs and chorus numbers, the whole presenting a most acceptable addition to the evenings enteretainment.

In the cast were:

Jack Marshall	Axel Nelson
Alice Marshall	Eleanor Whittemore
Bill Marshall	Fred Schenkelberger
Mother Goose	Anna Weston

Three wise men of Gotham, Clarence Cath, Everett Sutermeister, Ted Rollins

Humpty Dumpty	Leon Browne
Jack	Horton Page
Jill	Catherine Reed
Johnny Snooks	Baxter Baron
Bessie Brooks	Ruth Sanborn
Johnny Green	Reginald Gay

In the chorus were: Gretchen Horst Florence Crowell. Catherine Reed, Elizabeth Reed, Charlotte Barstow. Helen Moulton. Horton Page. Stanley Cummings. Everett Sutermeister. Clarence Cath and Ted Rollins.

After the entertainment the tables were cleared away and general dancing was enjoyed. This formed the fifth and last affair in an entertainment series run by the local union.

Comprising the committee were: Alan Miller, Miss Catherine Reed, Leon D. Browne. Miss Almira E. Simmons and Miss Margaret Magee.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity.

Monday, Patriots Day, promises to be fair with seasonable temperature, which means that the man of the house will improve the opportunity to do a little cleaning up. One in passing through the city may expect to find numerous plies of dead leaves and rubbish for the city ash teams to carry away. Storm doors will come down and storm windows will be taken off for there can be little doubt that spring is really at hand and that zero weather has departed until late in the year, or at least that is what everybody hopes.

Sunday also promises to be fair with seasonable temperature and moderate winds.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	5.00
Sun sets	6.29
Length of day	13.29
Moon rises	11.04
High water, A. M.	1.30
High water, P. M.	2.00
Days increase	4 hrs. 23 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	62 degrees
Apr. 17, 1914,	37 degrees
Apr. 17, 1913,	48 degrees

Noon Maximum 18 years—86
Noon Minimum 18 years—30

Walter P. Ela of Whitney road is on a trip to the Bermudas for his health.

You Can Now Buy
ORIGINAL
LUTHER BURBANK
SEEDS
IN QUINCY

We have secured the exclusive selling rights of Luther Burbank's Original Seeds for Quincy, having been appointed the special representatives of the Luther Burbank Company.

No other store in Quincy can sell you original Burbank Seeds. The prices are moderate; no more than you would have to pay for average seeds of good quality

With every $1.00 purchase of seeds we will present you with an interesting and instructive book in which Luther Burbank himself gives valuable directions on "The Culture of Flowers, Fruits and Vegetables."

Johnson's City Flower Store
CITY SQUARE

DEVELOPMENT OF FIREARMS

Men's Assembly Hear Interesting Speaker

At its monthly meeting in the Wollaston Baptist chapel the Men's Assembly listened to a lecture on "The Weapons of Our Country," by Lieutenant Colonel John Stewart Barrows, inspector general of the Massachusetts Volunteer Militia.

Colonel Barrows had with him a small arsenal of weapons and ammunition and made his lecture doubly interesting by constant reference to his specimens. Starting with the sling and bow and arrow of primitive times the speaker brought his audience through the various stages down to the modern rifles and small arms of the present day.

"Sometimes in the dark past, gun powder was discovered" said the speaker as he drew an imaginary picture of its accidental discovery by some chemist centuries ago, through the combination of sulphur, saltpetre and charcoal.

"A hand cannon, held against the body and fired by a match was the first firearm used. Invention added a stock to this, so that it could be held against the shoulder and the old firelock resulted. In the eighteenth century the flint lock came in.

"The Revolutionary War was no fought with rifles as we sometimes picture it, but with smooth bore flint lock guns. In 1795 the manufacture of Springfield muskets was begun and 245 were turned out the first year. These were used in the army until 1841.

"Although the percussion musket was a fact at the time of the war with Mexico, it was litle used on account of lack of general familiarity with the weapon.

"The muzzle loading rifle, with a cartridge of 58 calibre was used through the Civil War. This could be fired twice a minute. After the Civil War came the breech loading rifle of 45 calibre capable of firing 26 shots a minute.

"Then came the improved model of 1873. Even the range of this was limited and when the range was 1,000 yards it would have to be aimed so that the bullet would be 40 feet higher than the target when 500 yards away.

"With the combination of smokeless powder and a smaller bore, a more effective weapon came into being and in 1892 the United States accepted the Krag-Jorgensen model. This had an elevation of only 20 feet in 1000 yards and was capable of firing 22 times a Spanish-American war.

"In 1903 an improved model was issued with a magazine in the stock and was capable of firing 22 times a minute as a single loader or 25 times with the magazine. Unaimed it could be fired 27 times or 35 times with the magazine

"The Dum Dum bullet, the shrapnel shell, the military revolver and the Colt automatic were all exhibited and described as well as countless varieties of amunition, bayonets and other weapons.

A musical program consisting of trombone solos by Charles A. Richardson and vocal solos by Edward Capen, "The Fairy Hand," was enjoyed. Mr. Capen's selections included "Why Do the Nations?" and "The Widow Clancey." Miss May Critchley was the accompanist.

George Thomas, Jr., Arthur Jewell and R. P. Blanchard were appointed a nominating committee and James P. Cahill, C. B. Kimball and Russel Sears a committee to arrange a ball game with the Methodist club. The usual roast beef supper was served.

PEACE MEETING.

At the Peace meeting in the First Unitarian church tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock Jay William Hudson of the University of Missouri is to deliver an address on "The Program of a New World Order." There will be a free distribution of peace literature. The Quincy Choral Society, William Ellis Weston, organist, give the following program:

Organ Prelude.

Angel of Peace	Keller
Recessional	De Koven

Solo and chorus from "Gallia" Gounod

Solo by Mrs. Edith Cary Page

MAKE AN OFFER

Double House, Large Orchard and barn.
Single House, 3-4 Acre Land opposite Connors, See Owner Sheehan, Bates Ave. West Quincy

MADAME SARKIN

Friday and Saturday we are having a Special Sale on Suits, Whists, Children's dresses, etc.

$5.98 Skirts reduced to $3.98
$2.98 Skirts reduced to $1.79

Don't forget our Tailoring and Dressmaking department. Cleaning, pressing, dyeing, etc.

1463-1465 Hancock Street
Tel. Quincy 1727-M 16-2t

BOYS FIGHTING FOR L. F. LaROSE

Wish Him Retained As Physical Director

Members of the Y. M. C. A. are to protest strenuously against the action of the Board of Directors of the organization in their removal of Louis F LaRose and petitions are being circulated with that purpose in view.

Mr. LaRose severs his connections with the association on May 1 at the request of the directors who base their action on the grounds that he is physically incapacitated for the work. As the story goes when they requested his resignation he was ill and refused to tender it.

The petition was started by members of the junior cadet classes and it is understood another is about to be started among the seniors. The junior petition is headed as follows:

"To the President and Directors of the Quincy Y. M. C. A

"We the undersigned, members of the junior and cadet classes of the Quincy Y M. C. A. wish to enter our protest against the removal of our present physical director, Mr Louis F LaRose." Fifty-two out of the 58 boys in the two classes have signed.

MR. WILLIAMS PASSES AWAY

William J. Williams, one of the most popular residents of Quincy and father of Frederick D. Williams of the E. J Murphy pharmacy, died at the Quincy City Hospital this morning after a short illness and five months after the death of his wife

Mr. Williams was stricken several months ago and was a patient at the hospital for several weeks. He made some recovery and was removed to his home at 228 Granite street. This week his illness became acute and he was returned to the hospital.

Mr. Williams for many years was connected with the granite industry and for a long time was foreman of the Hitchcock quarry After many years of service he resigned to enter the grocery business and at his death conducted a store opposite his home.

He was one of the most prominent Odd Fellows of the city. having held office in Mt. Wollaston lodge and Manet Encampment. He was also a member of George L. Gill Rebekah lodge. For many years he was warden of Precinct Two of Ward Three and performed his duties there in a way which gained him the respect and esteem of the voters of that section.

eH leaves two children Frederick D., and Grace B Williams.

NO PAPER MONDAY:

Monday being Patriot's Day no edition of the Ledger will be published Tuesday's paper will have a full account of the holiday's happenings.

It is understood that Hazen E. Ricker, who has sold his house on Whitney road, is to occupy one of the new houses on Goffe street, near the Women's club house

Anti-Suffrage Rally

New Colonial Hall, Quincy

Friday, April 23

At Eight O'clock

SPEAKER

Mrs. A. J. GEORGE

Field Secretary of the Massachusetts Anti Suffrage Association

Honorary Chairman, MRS. BROOKS ADAMS

VOTERS—Come and Hear Why Women Do NOT Want the BALLOT.

17-3t

NEW PASTOR TAKES CHARGE

Rev. N. F. Sundstrom to Preach Sunday

The Rev. Newton F. Sundstrom has been appointed by the Eastern Swedish Conference to take charge of St. Paul's Swedish M. E. church of this city.

Rev. Sundstrom will preach for the first time in this church Sunday morning at 10.30, when his topic will be "The Sure Foundation." The evening worship will be at 7 P. M. at which service the choir will participate. The sermon topic will be, "Whose Image and Superscription?"

Rev. Sundstrom was formerly a newspaper man of McKeesport, Pa. He has attended the Northwestern University of Illinois and is a graduate of the Swedish M. E. Theological seminary of Evanston, Ill. He has been pastor of the Swedish M. E. church of Jersey City for the past three years, and has also had a wide experience as a travelling evangelist.

Rev. and Mrs. Sundstrom arrived in Quincy yesterday and are at present the guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Wohlander of 35 Verchild street.

Q. H. S. BOYS TO PLAY GRADS

The Quincy High school base ball season opens at 10.15 Monday morning at Merrymount Park when the school team and the alumni representation starts its annual game. Great interest is being shown in the event and both teams have enlisted a large crowd of supporters.

The first ball will be thrown out by Mayor Campbell, if he can arrange his engagements to allow him the necessary time to do the stunt.

The men who will start the game for the High school are Hamlin, Hoffesses, O'Connor, pitchers; O'Donnell or Hultin, catchers; Blinker Desmond first Viv McCarthy second; Les Ankin, shortstop; Bryan, third; Baker, utility infielder; DiSenso, Reardon and Simmons, outfield.

Capt. Millard Chapman, who will alternate with Rus Bates at third. will lead the association team. A complete list of players is not available but it will include Link Elcock at first. Viv McCarthy, second; eLs Andrews and McDonald, pitchers: Tabb, catcher; Allen and Theo Galvin and Sawyer, outfielders, with Billy Manning at short.

The High school boys have been equipped with new blue and gray uniforms, with caps to match. The best bunch of bats ever secured by the school will be on the diamond ready for the swat fest. What impression the association team will make on the general public in the hitting line is open to question, but the indication is that the students will smelter more than one double and perhaps a couple of triples, the result of properly directed practice in that line.

Eddie Hoyt will probably do the umpiring.

News comes from Houghs Neck that the season at the beach this year gives promise of being a busy one. Up to the present time it is reported that practically all of the cottages have been rented for the season. One resident explains it by saying that it is owing to the falling off of European travel due to the war, for that reason people must pass their summers in the United States which has created an unusual demand for cottages at summer resorts.

PROPOSAL.

Quincy, Mass., April 17, 1915.

Sealed proposals for furnishing to the City of Quincy one White Co. automobile truck, capacity 1500 pounds, will be received at the office of the Commissioner of Public Works, Room 3, City Hall, Tuesday, April 20, 1915 when they will be publicly opened and read.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids or to accept the one deemed best for the city.

MOSES L. BROWN,
Commissioner of Public Works.
17-1t

FOR SALE

40ft. MAST

ALMOST NEW COST $45.00
PRICE $12.00

Call at 43 Whitney Road or 'Phone 1063M Quincy

4t 10, 12, 15, 17

GRADUATION OF EVENING SCHOOL IS IMPRESSIVE

Sixteen Nationalities Represented at Exercises

Representatives of 16 nationalities gathered in the Adams school hall Friday evening opened the graduation exercises of the Adams Evening school with the pledging of allegiance to the flag and brought them to a close by singing the national hymn.

There were 430 men and 32 women who participated and among the nationalities represented were Finns, Syrians, Egyptians, Polish, Italians, American and one Chinese.

A. E. Townsend, master of the school presided during the evening and pointed out that seven had been prepared for their first papers, two had made application for their second papers, others have been properly started. Mr. Townsend said the teachers of the evening schools, the ushers of the evening, could speak Italian, French, Syrian and Egyptian. He spoke of the fine attendance.

The speakers of the evening were Mayor Campbell, A. L. Barbour, superintendent of schools, Joseph H. McPherson, chairman of the committee of evening schools of the School Board.

Among those present were Mrs. Chester I. Campbell, wife of Mayor Campbell, Miss Alice G. White of the Thomas Crane Public Library, Chas. H. Johnson, truant officer of the school board who co-operated with employees during the year in having workers sent to school, and several hundred others, most of whom were related to or interested in the pupils.

The music for the evening was by a group of Italian pupils who have formed a string orchestra since they attended school. Their efforts were loudly applauded. Several flags decorated the hall and, there were other flags among the pupils.

As each graduate was presented a certificate the audience clapped loudly but it remained for the women students to receive the biggest share.

Mayor Campbell when presented was loudly applauded, the students doing their share. He said it was not often a mayor had the opportunity of speaking at such an event and it did not take him long to accept the invitation to attend for he said he appreciated how rare a treat it was to meet people striving for a truly American education, the kind American citizens feel proud of and are glad to give to those who seek it and are willing to work to attain it.

"Several have been enabled to secure papers for citizenship and to those I extend my hearty congratulations and assure the others who are working toward the same end and getting what Americans pride themselves on having, 'the privilege of calling themselves citizens of the great public'."

Mayor Campbell said he extended the best wishes of the citizens for the future welfare of the students and said he would consider it a privilege to assist them all he could.

He said he was proud to see a class in the city who aimed for citizenship and he asked to be allowed to give what encouragement he could. He asked them to help one another, saying: "Little acts of kindness and goodness on your part will be a great assistance and American citizenry as a whole will be delighted to have you with them."

Albert L. Barbour, superintendent of schools and known personally to all of the pupils, was presented, as the expert employed by the city to direct the big enterprise of schools. He said there is nothing in Quincy which gave him more solid satisfaction than what has been accomplished in the eevning schools for the men and women of foreign birth who came here to become a part of us and claim the American flag as their flag.

He spoke of the thrill he received as all joined in pledging allegiance to the flag at the beginning of the exercises. Continuing he said that everybody in this country is descended from or is an immigrant. There are no native people here. All are alike, although some came here earlier than others and some didn't have the handicap of learning the English language and that is all that distinguishes some and which it is the hope of the city to remove.

Evening schools, he said, are maintained at great expense to teach reading and writing and the state law requires that such school shall be maintained, because we want you to

(Continued on Page Three.)

SONG RECITAL
—BY—
HELEN ALLEN HUNT,
— Mezzo-Contralto —
— ASSISTED BY —
CARLOS PINFIELD, Violin
(Boston Symphony Orchestra)
HARRIS S. SHAW, Accompanist

ALPHA HALL, Quincy
Sunday, April 25, 3.30 P.M.

Tickets at 75 and 50 Cents
AT THE C. G. HEARN DRUG STORE
CITY SQUARE 2t 17-24

BETTER THAN 6 %
PREFERRED SHARES
— OF —
THE CITY REALTY TRUST
PRICE PAR $100

CUMULATIVE, PARTICIPATING AND NON-TAXABLE

Over quarter of a million ($250,000) paid in.
Strong surplus account steadily increasing.
Annual certified Audit and Appraisal.
A common stock bonus on a limited number of Preferred shares.

FOR BOOKLET, general information, etc.
Address
QUINCY A. LOTHROP
10 Post Office Square, BOSTON, MASS.

TRUSTEES
FORRIS W. NORRIS
CHESTER I. CAMPBELL
LOUIS H. PARKHURST

April 10-3t-10-14-17

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

MENACE OF THE AUTO.

There were many residents of Quincy and surrounding cities and towns who were deeply grieved to learn of the death of Chief of Police Patrick Butler of Weymouth. Chief Butler had served his community as a constable for many years and his elevation to the position of chief was acknowledged generally to be a fitting recognition of an honest and efficient officer.

In connection with his death Joseph E. L. Miller. a prominent citizen of Weymouth, has been held and faces a charge of manslaughter. According to the police Chief Butler was standing in the middle of the road signalling to Miller to stop his automobile when the machine ran into him. It is further contended by the police that Miller was operating a motor vehicle when under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

It would be improper to comment upon the merits of this particular case before it is considered by the court. Chief Butler's death naturally suggests, however, that there is altogether too much of this sort of thing. The automobile can be, and indeed has been, of great service to mankind. But unless the laws regulating its operation are vigorously enforced it can be a great curse

It is not wholly a question of speed. Twenty-five miles an hour may be perfectly safe on a country road whereas 15 would be excessive on a crowded city street. The skilled, cool headed operator, in possession of all his faculties, can often safely drive at a rate of 20 or more miles an hour, whereas the unskilled, excitable operator might be a menace at five miles an hour. An operator under the influence of liuor is always a menace. The police should vigorously enforce the law in the case of any intoxicated man, who threatens the lives of his fellow citizens every time his car appears on the street

A LIBRARY AT SQUANTUM

There appears to be slight change of Squantum securing a public library, of its own from the Carnegie Commission The commission would not even consider the request of the ptitioners unless it was assured that the city would shoulder their running expenses and this the city, very naturally, will refuse to do.

The proposition never appeared to have any merit. Squantum is entitled to library service and doubtless a branch of the Thomas Crane Public library will be established there as soon as there are funds available. Squantum residents should direct their energies toward securing such a branch as is serving Atlantic or West Quincy and not waste their time on futile applications for an exclusive library buildng.

Fashion decreed for this summer's millinery, that the trimming should be flowers. And now comes the news that, as the war has closed the London feather market, the enormous production of ostrich feathers from So. Africa has been dumped into the New York Market, causing a precipitous tumble in feather prices. Will fashion change her decree? Or will the abundance and cheapness make feathers less desirable? Such is human nature. A $150.00 plume may now be bought for $5.00!

The New York Post has the following to say about one of the best newspapers we have:

"Such a paper as the Springfield Republican is a standing protest against the doctrine that the business of a newspaper is solely to give people what they want. Give them what you think they ought to have and it may turn out that in spite of certain appearances to the contrary, that is just what they really want—or at least enough of them to support your enterprise, certainly enough of them to show that the endeavor was worth while."

That's a mightly good slogan suggested by the Massachusetts Forestry Association, "Talk Less and Plant More."

☞ The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader?

SENECA SOCIAL CLUB HAS DANCE

Franklins Win Cup For Popularity

A large number attended the third annual dance of the Seneca Social club in Alpha hall Friday evening and among them were members of the clubs of the city interested in the award of the silver cup to the most popular organization.

The ballots were cast at the entrance to the hall and the return of the tellers gave the Franklins the award by three votes with the Wasecas next. President William Murray of the club presented the cup to president Edward Carson of the winners at intermission.

During the evening there were vocal solos by James Fay of Boston and an exhibition drill by the uniform degree team of Abigail Adams court, Independant Companions of America Both features were loudly applauded. Those in the team were Mrs. Mary Ford, captain, Miss Belle Stronach, Miss Julia O'Brien, Miss Annie McNaughton, Mrs. Annie Larandeau, Miss Elizabeth McKee, Mrs. Margaret Spargo, Mrs. Mary McLaughlin, Miss Margaret McKee, Mrs. Jennie Steinbrenner, Mrs. Josie Daw, Mrs. Russell Medlyn, Miss Margaret Gorman, Mrs. Mary Barnicoat, pianist. George Mitchell, conductor of the degree team of the John Adams aerie, and coach of the I. C. A. team, directed the drill and he was assisted by members of the Eagles team in uniform.

The music of the evening was by Hamilton's orchestra. Many out of town clubs were represented.

Robert Grassick was floor director and Theodore Turner was assistant floor director. James Copeland was chief of aids. The aids were Walter Main, Robert Booth, William Crammond, William Murray, Allen Daw, John Dickie, Chester Birnie, Randolph Jacobson, Harold Warmington, William Michael, Ernest Ciardi, William Falconer, Gilbert Daw, Chester Moyle, Oscar Solander, Charles Ross, Frank Tantillo.

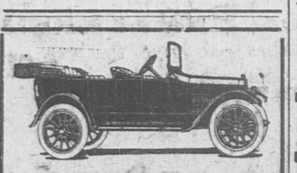

ANTI MASS MEETING.

Mrs. A. J. George, field secretary of the Massachusetts Anti-Suffrage association, who will be the speaker at the mass meeting in Colonial hall next Friday evening is a graduate of Wellesley college, and has twice been prsident of the Boston Wellesley College club. She is the widow of Dr. Andrew J. George, the eminent Wordsworth scholar, whose work in the Newton High school is remembered with affection by numbers of its graduates.

Mrs. George is one of the ablest speakers in the country, and is especially successful in presenting the practical side of her subject, being thoroughly familiar not only with the legislation of the suffrage states, but with our own, and that of European countries. She spoke in London, a year ago, before the Anti-Suffrage league, and refused a flattering invitation from its leaders, Lord Curzon and Lord Cromer, to spend a season in their work.

Returning, she took an active part in the successful anti-suffrage campaign, last fall, in Ohio, Nebraska, Missouri and South Dakota. She is in demand as a speaker before men's clubs, and her debate with Senator Helen Ring Robinson, before the Economy club, of Boston, was a notable event. She spoke Feb. 27, at the luncheon of the New York Republican club. Men and women welcome.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

JACKSON
Model 46
THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL, SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER
"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"
Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT
$1375
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

BOWLERS WILL HOLD BANQUET

The bowling season of Quincy council, Knights of Columbus, will be formally closed on April 27 with a banquet at the Quincy house, Boston. Prizes and cup will be presented that evening.

The special guest will be Edward J. Parker, one of the popular members, who never took to the game and because the league lost the pleasure of associating with the members one evening a week on account of it. Timothy Ford, the only man in the city who rolls a ball which floats, and toastmaster last year at the annual event, will again serve in the capacity.

The directors of the league have voted to award a cup to the quintette of Capt. Ray Coyle, winner of the championship. The individual prizes will go to Russell Sullivan who had high average and William Mahan who had high total. Both were tied at 130 for high single.

The question of a tie eliminating them from a prize for high single and making Peter M. Sullivan, who had 124, eligible instead has been discussed by the directors. They voted to let the tie stand.

MODERN DANCE NOT ON ORDER

Town River Yacht Club Has Enjoyable Time

The second old fashioned dance under the auspices of the Town River Yacht club was held Friday evening in Colonial hall and was participated in by upwards of fifty couples. The term old fashioned dance, means that the Turkey Trot, Bunny Hug, Fox Trot, Hesitation, etc., were given a back seat and in their place were the pretty and graceful glide waltz, the schottische, quadrille, etc.

Wilson's orcehstra furnished the necessary accompaniment for the lancers and a thoroughly good time they had. During the later part of the evening a short intermisison in the festivities was called during which time ice cream and cake was served.

Commodore Joseph Carruthers, was he chairman of the committee in charge and assisting him was Allan MacGeachie and W. C. Luther.

Commodore Carruthers announced that the opening night of the club house would be held next Wednesday evening, and that it would be for members only. There will be an entertainment, music and refreshments.

WOLLASTON METHODIST.

Rev. Herbert Cassidy, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cassidy of 71 Winthrop avenue, a member of the New England Southern Methodist conference will occupy the pulpit of the Wollaston Methodist church both morning and evening on Sunday. A special feature of the Sunday evening service will be singing by a college quartette, composed of two Wellesley college young women and two Harvard men. Miss Davis and Mr. Baldin, members of the quartette, will also render solos.

Ready Help in time of physical trouble caused by indigestion, biliousness resulting from torpid liver, inactive bowels, is always given, quickly, certainly, safely by the most famous of family remedies
BEECHAM'S PILLS
Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World
Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

DR. G. F. S. PEARCE
DENTIST
327 Newport Avenue, Wollaston
Mondays -- Wednesdays -- Fridays
8 to 12 — 1 to 5
EVENINGS
Boston Office 194 Boylston Street

CLARA MORRISON
Pianist and Teacher
Leschetizky Method
CATHERINE MORRISON
Mandolin and Guitar
50 Hamilton Street, Wollaston
Tel. Quincy 1318-W. Sept 30-w.s.-1y

CARPENTER AND BUILDER
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
All Work Given Prompt Attention
W. R. LOFGREN
18 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 398-3

BRIEFS

The annual meeting of the Universalist parish is to be held in the vestry Wednesday evening at eight o'clock

The Old Colony Universalist Association is to meet in All Souls' church, Braintree, Friday, April 30, with morning and and afternoon sessions.

The Sanctuary Girls of Quincy Point plan to meet at the home of Miss Emma Kelly on Cleverly court Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cleverly of Malden are moving to Wollaston park next month, having purchased a bungalow on Kemper street.

Judge Michael J. Murray is to address the Atlantic Men's club in Memorial Congregational church Wednesday evening.

City Treasurer Curtis advertises for bids for a temporary loan of $100,000 maturing April 6, 1916. Bids will be received up to noon April 21.

The Atlantic Boy Scouts have received their scout uniforms and go to the Milton Academy field with the Ninth Greater Boston District for their field day April 19th.

Fred A. Kelley of Beale street is at Lakewood, New Jersey hoping that a change of climate will cure a throat trouble which has afflicted him for some weeks.

Rev. William Grainger wil be the officiating clergyman and preacher at St. Chrysostom's church Sunday morning and Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra will officiate at Christ church, Quincy.

At the Universalist Young Peoples Christian Union meeting at 4.15 Sunday afternoon the subject will be "How to read a Picture." Mrs. Thomas A. Addison of Quincy Point will read "The Legend of St. Christopher."

The Fragment Society of the First Parish church is to hold its last all day session on Wednesday the 21st and members are to take their personal sewing and make it a holiday meeting.

Rev. W. G. Puddefoot formerly of Indiana is to speak in Memorial church Sunday morning. Rev. T. W. Davison has been trying to get Mr. Puddefoot for two years in order to give the church the treat.

Patrolman Charles Crooker reported to police headquarters Thursday afternoon that because of illness he was unable to continue duty and he was excused. Patrolman Crooker had just resumed duty after a two weeks' illness.

Prof. William Jay Hudson who is to lecture Sunday afternoon in the First Parish church on the "Peace Movement," is to bring with him for distribution some peace literature which will be of interest to take home for careful reading.

Seventy-two members of the Junior Christian Endeavor Society met in the Washington street church Thursday to plan to raise money for the missionary box. Norman Pierce was leader. Several are to attend the party to be given in Boston May 8 under the auspices of the Women's Board of Foreign Missions.

Henry F. Mosses, president of the Atlantic Improvement association, has resigned the presidency. He has an important position with the telephone company, and feels that the Improvement association to be carried on as it should requires more time and strength than he can devote to it. George W. Baker who is vice president, organized the association almost three years ago and acted as president a year and a half, and there is a popular demand that Mr. Baker fill the vacancy.

You need the Ledger every day.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING
WALL PAPER FOR SALE
KUSTAA RASANEN
121 Copsland St., West Quincy
Tel. Con. 19-tf

Arthur B. Foster
CARPENTER and BUILDER
14 Bay View St., Quincy Point
Telephone Connection 31-1m

BE WISE
FOOL THE FLIES
HAVE YOUR SCREENS RE-COVERED NOW
TELEPHONE OR WRITE
HOLMES & HALL
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

THE "NO NAME" HAT

"Here's Your Hat, Sir!"

The "No Name Hat" Worth $3.50
We Sell it For $3.

Now-a-days with so many hats to choose from, and all claiming to be good; you don't really know what you are buying.

We would like very much for you to investigate the merits of our "No Name Hat." You'll find it fully up to your expectations — it's all that a Good Hat should be — and a little more. Every one has the New Spring idea, all shades, green, blue, brown, putty and black, you get what is correct. It is by far the biggest hat value in this community. It cannot be duplicated anywhere, in style, price or value. Come in to-day try a hat on, then you will know why we are proud of having connections. with the "No Name Hat."

Extreme Values In Other Hats

There is a Big Inducement for the man with a thin pocket-book, we doubt if there is a hat that can be duplicated in style, idea, and value. Here you have a large selection to choose from, all colors, and kept in dust-proof show cases. At these prices their value is unequalled.

$2.50 $2.00 $1.50 95c

Men's and Young Men's Caps

Here you will find a wonderful assortment of fancy Plaids, Check, Mixtures, in fact everything you want in a cap. For the young chap who is particular this is surely the store, extra good values too. Make us a visit today.

45c 65c 95c

Music Hall Block REMICKS THE Wide-Awake STORE

Store Closed all day Monday, Patriots Day

WOLLASTON BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday a group of four students from the Newton Theological Seminary will have charge of all the services at the Wollaston Baptist church. They will speak at the morning and evening services also at the Sunday school and Christian Endeavor. Wherever these young men have spoken it has been with the greatest profit and blessing to the hearers, therefore it is hoped that a large number will be present. The morning subject "The Present Crisis in Missions" will be as follows: What is the Crisis?—F. P. Manley. Why is there a Crisis?—E. J. Woodall. The Real Task—R. J. Inke. A New Grip—L. B. Moss.

Evening subject, John 3—16 as follows: The Love of God.—E. J. Woodall, "For God so loved the World." The Gift of Jesus.—F. P. Manley "That He gave His only begotten Son." Faith—R. J. Inke "That whosoever believeth on Him." Eternal Life—L. B. Moss "Should not perish but have Eternal Life."

The chorus choir will sing at morning and evening service and everyone will receive a hearty welcome.

MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN.

Q. H. S. Alumni Association Wants 500 Enrolled.

The week of April 19th, next week, is Campaign Week for the Q. H. S. Alumni association. An energetic committee is planning to canvass the city and secure enough new members to raise the total membership to 500. This committee has a captain and helpers in each section of the city. Frederick M. Atwood 1914 is chairman, assisted by the following as captains: Marie Bass '02, Dorothy Packard '09, Margaret Lennon '09, Carl Prescott '06, Leslie Arthur '11, Richard Larkin '13.

Graduates of the Quincy High School who join during campaign week and pay the dues of $1.00 will be members until July 1, 1916. It is hoped that this will be an inducement to many who have been dilatory about joining the organization.

The Q. H. S. Alumni association promises to be a live and up-to-date affair. A number of interesting events are already scheduled. On April 19 the Alumni are to play the High school baseball team. On May 8 the Alumni are to give a play for the benefit of the association and High school athletics on the 50-50 basis. In June, probably the 12th, the Alumni will have an outdoor picnic, with a lunch, athletic carnival and games. Later in June, during graduation week comes the annual meeting, with special speakers, prbably a banquet, an entertainment and a dance. Lucien H. Thayer of Wollaston is president of the Alumni Association.

Campaign Week has been carefully planned for. Circular letters have been sent out. Members of the committees will call on graduates and urge them to join the association. Campaign Week deserves to be a great success.

An Absolute Necessity
In Every Family
A CLINICAL THERMOMETER
We have them at Prices from 50c to $1.75
Chas. C. Hearn, Druggist
City Square

Reduction in Prices.

Your attention is called to the reduced spring prices on Anthracite Coal as follows

Lehigh Stove and Egg	$7.50
White Ash Stove and Egg	7.25
White Ash Nut	7.50
Shamokin Stove and Egg	7.50
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75
Pea	5.50
Franklin	8.50

We recommend the placing of your order at this time to insure the low prices.

Nothing but All Rail Clean Coal handled and delivered right by careful experienced drivers.

QUINCY COAL CO.
OFFICE and YARD
Penn St., Quincy Tel. 47-M
Ap. 7 1mo.

In SOCIETY

Miss Catherine Yule of Quincy Point who is visiting friends in New York expects to return next Monday.

• • •

Miss Dorothy Faulkner of Somerville is the week end guest of Miss Helen Handy of Standish avenue.

• • •

Mrs. Claude Blackie of Wollaston is at Braintree Highlands for a week, the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Illingworth.

• • •

Mrs. Edward L. Mitchell, Jr., of Glendale road was hotsess Friday afternoon for the Bridge club of which she is a member.

• • •

William F. Crowley of Wollaston was best man at the wedding of Miss Emeline F. Lewis of Cambridge and Alexander B. Stewart of Montreal, Wednesday evening at Cambridge. A reception followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart are to live in Montreal.

• • •

Mrs. James H. Slade of Edgemere road is in New York for a short visit, going over on Monday.

• • •

Mrs. Frederick H. Steenstra and young sons Edward F. and Walter H., left Friday for Mauch Chunk, Penn., where Mrs. Steenstra will visit her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Walter C. Roberts for three weeks. After a week's visit with their grandparents the boys are to visit their aunt Mrs. Harry E. Atwater at Cranford, New Jersey, until their mother returns North.

• • •

Mrs. Charles F. Johnston of Buffalo, New York left for her home yesterday after a two weeks' visit with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Renwick of Vassal street.

• • •

Miss Isabelle K. Michael of South Quincy is spending the week end and holiday with a party of friends in Wellesley.

• • •

Miss Bernice E. Hobbs of North Cohasset is spending the week end with her grandmother, Mrs. M. Feeley, 11 Tyler street, Norfolk Downs.

• • •

Hartwell Piper of Centre street goes to Wilton, N. H., today for over the holiday.

• • •

President Joseph L. Whiton of the city council and family returned Friday from a week's automobile trip through the Cape district. He reports having had a fine trip.

• • •

Misses Dorothy, Marjorie and Gretchen Young and Miss Jessie French are in New Hampshire for over the week end and holiday.

• • •

Junior Friday club met Monday afternoon with Mrs. Perry Lawton of Presidents hill. Brazil was taken up for study under the leadership of Mrs. Laurance H. Sturtevant.

• • •

Prof. Frank Wrigley is moving today from the Faxon house at the corner of Washington and Coddington streets to the Prescott house on Bigelow street.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Poquette of Montclair have returned from a visit to his parents in Vermont.

• • •

Lieut. Joseph S. Evans of the United States Navy is enjoying a month's leave of absence which he is spending with his wife and family at their home on Edgemere road.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Kincaide of Whitney road are giving a dinner in Boston Monday evening at the Algonquin club.

• • •

Mrs. Walter F. Perry is spending the week end and holiday with relatives in Somerville and is planning later to join her husband in Montreal for a stay of several months. Mr. Perry is in Canada in connection with work for the Electric Boat Co.

• • •

Week end and holiday house parties are numerous, hostesses and guests appreciating the holiday following Sunday, thus prolonging the pleasures of the parties.

• • •

One of the enjoyable affairs of the week was the Alliance reception Wednesday evening to the officers and teachers of the First Parish Sunday school. Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann arranged an unusually enjoyable musical program. Mrs. Walter E Piper and Mrs George T. Magee as hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Osborn Rogers and Mrs. John T. Conway, Mrs. Ralph L. Lovell and Mrs. N. S. Hunting poured and Miss Annie Nightingale and Mrs Conway served the sherbet. Misses Edith Bixby, Maria Schenkelberger, Grace Miller, Edna Conway and Laurice Penniman made charming servers.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Prescott and family who have resided for twenty-five years on Bigelow street, have moved to Wollaston where they are settled in the new home on Farrington street which they recently purchased.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Simpson of Edgemere road entertained neighbors and friends with an auction bridge party Friday evening. There were eight tables in play. Miss Madeline McCrory and John Prouty were awarded first prizes and booby prizes went to Mrs. James M. Nowland and Lieut. Joseph S. Evans. A luncheon was served at the close of play.

• • •

One of the social events of next week will be an afternoon with Margaret Deland at the home of Mrs. Theophilius King, Saturday, April 24 at 3 o'clock under the auspices of Unity Circle of King's Daughters. The musical program will consist of selections by the Cecilian Quartet of Quincy and the Mary Dyer Orchestra of Braintree. The opportunity to hear Mrs. Deland give readings from her own books, the fine music and the delightful hospitality of Mrs. King in opening her house for this occasion, all combine to make an afternoon of unusual attractiveness.

• • •

Seumas O'Brien the distinguished Irish playwright now visiting this country is to read one of his plays and a fairy tale or two at the last literary meeting of the season of the New England Woman's Press Association at Hotel Somerset, Boston, Wednesday afternoon. Quincy members are to attend with guests.

• • •

TO HOLD MEETING.

The executive board of the Quincy Federation of Women's Clubs is to meet in Adams Academy Thursday at 10 A. M. to hear reports from various committees on: waiting room; recreation centre for young women; birth registry and vocational and part time schools. Miss Dickinson of the State Board of Health will tell of the result of her investigations in this city in regard to tuberculosis and the needs of a dispensary and hospital. A cordial welcome is extended the public to attend this meeting.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE MEETTING.

The Quincy members of the Political Equality union will hold an afternoon meeting at the home of Mrs. George Pfaffmann, 65 Goffe street, on Tuesday at three oclock. The speaker of the afternoon will be Mrs. A. Lister Watson, secretary of the Woman's National council at Australia. Mrs. Watson speaks from a personal acquaintance with conditions in Australia, where women have had the full franchise since 1902, and in her talk will outline the results of equal suffrage in that country.

It is hoped that a large number of those present will care to enroll as members of a Quincy Equal Suffrage club which wil organize informally at the close of the meeting.

AUDITORIUM OPENS.

The state building inpsector and Inspector Thomas of Quincy visited the Auditorium theatre this morning and saw that everything was O K. after which a permit was issued for the theatre to open tonight. The managers have arranged an unusually fin program for the opening night whici wil include the following:

"Haunted Hearts," a two art drama, featuring Cleo Madison, star actress of the "Trey of Hearts," a two act comedy entitled "An Unexpected Honeymoon," featuring Harry C. Meyer, a drama "Her Adopted Mother," and a screaming comedy entitled "Fatty's Infatuation."

SERVICES FOR MRS. CLUSE.

But one relative, a daughter, Mrs. Annie Stone of Stone City, Iowa, who never knew her mother, Mrs. Ellen Cluse, until five years ago, attended the funeral held Friday morning.

A high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Mary's church by Fr. William J. Duffy and the choir chanted the Gregorian mass under the direction of Mrs. Mary McKay Reardon. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mrs. Cluse was the widow of John Cluse who served in the Marine corps in the Civil War. The daughter was given away in adoption in baby days and learned of the existence of her real mother when friends inquired from Mrs. Cluse about her history so they could secure a pension.

ENTERTAINMENT AND DANCE.

On Friday afternoon the Sophomor class of Woodward Seminary entertained the Freshmen in a most delightful manner.

There was a program consisting o piano solos by Miss Marion Spear Scottish dance, Miss Eleanor Stuart recitation Miss Mary McKenzie an an exceedingly dainty and graceft Shepherdess Dance by Miss Constance Fryer in costume.

After the entertainment refreshments were served and general dancing enjoyed until five o'clock.

Those in the receiving line wer Miss Gertrude Beale, 1917, Miss Esther Murray, 1918, class presidents and Miss Taber and Miss Maccarty instructors.

SURPRISE PARTY FOR TEACHER.

Pupils Present Camera to Miss Taylor

Miss Ruth Taylor of Beach street teacher of the eighth grade in the Massachusetts Fields school was very pleasantly surprised Friday evening when the members of the Class of 1915 trooped in on her.

The members met at the school and quietly proceeded to the house in a body. Miss Taylor was called downstairs and after the surprise was over all adjourned to the school corridor, where games, dancing and refreshments were enjoyed.

The feature of the evening was the presentation to Miss Taylor of a handsome camera, the gift of the class. The speech of presentation was made by Ralph Painter, president of the class and the gift was gracefully accepted by Miss Taylor.

G. A. R RELIEF ASSOCIATION

Mass Meeting Will Be Held Tonight

A meeting of the G. A. R. Relief Association will be held in city hall tonight and President Whiton of the association hopes that the citizens of Quincy will show their interest in the welfare of the Grand Army by attending this meeting. This is the third attempt of the association to hold a meeting. On the first night a severe snow storm prevented the meeting being held and last Saturday night there was not a quorum.

BITTEN IN NECK BY MAD DOG

Henry Harkins of Adams street was bitten in the neck Thursday night. The wound was cauterized by Dr. D. B. Reardon. The report of the State Board of Health Saturday showed that the dog had rabies, Mr. Harkins will probably undergo the Pasteur reatment next week.

IS FORE RIVER A BENEFIT?

""Is the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation a Benefit to Quincy?" This was the subject of a spirited debate at the regular meeting of Bethany Castle, Knights of King Arthur, Friday evening. There was a short business session following which the debate was held, participated in by a number of the knights. It is said that some good arguments were made, both pro and con. The judges of the debate were the barons, Warren Crane and Wesley Williams, who will give their decision at the next meeting of the castle.

PROMISES TO LEAVE CITY.

But May Go to Braintree where Judge Avery Lives.

Cornelia Palma who gave the police trouble by violating liquor laws in West Quincy agreed in court this morning to leave West Quincy and take his wife with him. After court he strongly intimated he would move to Braintree, the home town of Judge Avery, who issued the order.

We Have Prepared
For Patriots Day
An Exceptional Offering of ---
New Suits, New Hats, New Skirts.
New Dresses, New Ostrich Plumes
At Moderate Prices
J. SZATHMARY
1447 Hancock Street

"SALLY LUNN" TO BE GIVEN

"Sally Lunn" will make her appearance at the Hall Place M. E. church, April 30. "Sally Lunn" is the name of a play to be given by the Epworth league. It is bright, interesting and laughable. The peculiar position in which John Randolph is forced by his classmate at Yale is nothing to the predicament in which the said classmate finds himself placed by the accusation of being a thief and having stolen the valuable papers of the father of the girl he loves at first sight, having met her in answer to a "matrimonial ad."

Mrs. Randolph, in an attempt to help her stepson find a partner for the dance, finds that while she was absent, dressing heresIf to appear as a young girl, the whole Randolph family, including Mr. Randolph's acidy sister and her daughter, arrive at the Randolph home, for the purpose of inspecting Mr. Randolph's new wife. Mrs. Randolph is forced to pass herself off as the daughter of a neighbor.

The cast of characters is:

Mrs. Randolph—Mary Williams.
Margorie Randolph—Bessie Nicholls.
Mrs. Winslow—Hilda Francis.
Vivian Winslow—Rita Hunter.
John Randolph—E. Newcomb.
Leo Randolph—A. McCormick.
Morton Glynn—A. Williams.

Mrs. N. A Savage of 181 Franklin street leaves for Maine Sunday night with her cousin, Miss E F. Overlock, accompanying the body of her mother Mrs Henry Overlock, who passed away at Somerville Thursday. Burial will be at Stockton Spring, Me.

GRADUATION

(Continued from Page One.)

learn to speak, read and write English, as soon as you can so you will become naturalized citizens of the country, so you will be added to ourselves as defenders of the flag and as one whom the flag will in return defend.

"Good citizenship pays and nothing stands in the way of all becoming office holders. That privilege is open to you as soon as you become citizens. Your stand before the law is as good as mine and we expect Quincy, in future years, as in other cities, to have officers of Italian descent or birth, of Finnish nationality or what ever other nationalities may aspire to office, holding the best that can be given them.

"Some come from countries noted for their splendid municipal governments. All have rights here before the law and all will be defended. There is no oppression whatever and all should feel they can enjoy the fruits of good citizenship and realize how many good things the country holds out for the foreigner. It is our earnest wish that you appreciate living here, wheer all are equal, where there is no aristocracy, nothing but a plain democracy, regardless of birth."

Joseph H. McPherson, chairman of the committee on evening schools of the School Committee, was the next speaker. He spoke of the significance of the occasion and how seldom he was accorded such an honor.

Mr. McPherson said some, particularly those who have an edueation, are apt to minimize the importance of evening schools for those who seek homes on our shores. "Some do not realize what it means for these men to study two hours several nights a week after a hard day's work," he said. "Those two hours mean a great deal for the future of our country.

"The great bulwark against the red flag and anarchy the No God—No Boss feeling which has been sweeping over the country, is perhaps those two hours study and I see clearer than ever the solution to the problem, to the evening schools."

Mr. McPherson spoke of Lincoln, the inspiration through his life to all peoples, and said he was God sent to a country in the time of its peril, the great emancipator who saved the country.

He said the School Board is ready and willing to continue its efforts and the best way to improve on it is to help themselves. He then spoke of what assistance they could give each other. "You know your wants better than the teachers who have so patiently taught you," he said, "and have given their time under trying conditions for almost nothing. I want to assure them their work is appreciated and while it is seldom the board gives votes of thanks, let me assure them we will back them up in what they do and assist them as far as possible."

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Baked with great care and wrapped in Wax Paper. Dust proof between our bakery and your table. Ask for it.
"OUR GROCERS SELL IT
ATT BREAD CO. 3190 WASHINGTON ST. BOSTON

EDWARD J. FEGAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
830 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M
914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10.30 A. M. to 2 P. M.
Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK
QUINCY.

REMICKS REMICKS REMICKS
A Shoe For Every Occasion

For Every Social Affair you will find the Packard to meet every demand. The man who demands appropriate and stylish footwear we recommend the Packard Shoe highly. Note upper left hand illustration.
For The Business Man — We believe no other shoe has the same excellent qualities as the Packard. Study them from every angle—style, finish, fit and price; and you will find a shoe that measures up to your ideal in footwear. Notice the graceful lines in the LOWER LEFT CUT.
Shoes For The Young Man. The famous line of low shoes for young men appeals readily to men of all ages. The makers have brought out a remarkable showing of new up-to-the-minute models that will appeal strongly to the young man. There's action in every pair. Upper RIGHT hand cut tells the story.
The Shoe For Pleasure. They are designed and made with one object in view—to give the wearer the utmost in comfort. For the man who wants a nice low shoe we highly recommend these. Notice LOWER RIGHT hand illustration.

$4.00 $4.50 $5.00
Big Values in Lower Priced Shoes
For the man who is looking for style, fit and price here is a shoe that we believe can't be duplicated, it really measures up to the Packard standard. In the FARNUM SHOE you are getting more than dollar for dollar value. Every shoe is guaranteed. This shoe is equal to most $4 shoes. We sell it for $3.50.
If you would step inside this wide-awake-store today, ask to see the Remick Special. Here is a shoe that is in a class by itself, style, fit and price are clearly in the shoe's make-up. The maker guarantees it and so do we. You know the sloping drop toe, low heel style, well it's in this shoe, drop in today, ask to see it, it sells for $3.25 worth a good deal more.
MUSIC HALL BLOCK
REMICK'S
THE WIDE-AWAKE STORE
STORE CLOSED ALL DAY MONDAY PATRIOT'S DAY.

HERE'S A $500 TOUR FREE FOR SOME GIRL
The Prettiest Girls in the Country will be honored guests at the PANAMA-PACIFIC EXPOSITION this Summer—and in order that New England may be well represented The Boston Traveler and Sunday Herald offer to send FIVE GIRLS, to be chosen from photographs sent in. We'll help by making artistic photographs at a special low price. Arrange today for a sitting.
OFFICIAL PHOTOGRAPHER
B. H. NERSES
1507 Hancock St. Quincy
TEL. CON.

The PROBLEM of GOOD MILK
All persons do not understand what is meant by good, safe milk. Some believe that the milk with a deep cream line is desirable, whereas, the Doctor knows that Holstein Milk, although containing little cream is often more desirable for babies, partly for this reason, or perhaps because of the method of production
The real criterion of a good milk is its wholesomeness This depends upon the conditions at the dairy, and the special care given it until it reaches the consumer. Scrupulously clean and healthy cows, clean and healthy dairymen, rapid cooling, and protecting the milk, constant dairy and laboratory inspection are required. Furthermore safety is assured when the dealer pasteurizes his supply.
THE ELM FARM MILK COMPANY OF DORCHESTER offer pure Family Milk, and exceptional Nursery Milk at prices often charged for ordinary milk Speak to the salesman, or call Dor. 2100. 6-1 mo.

Spooners
Auto Exchange
Agents for Studebaker
Velie
JACKSON
Automobiles
Demonstrated at our Garage
64 Revere Rd
Tel. Quincy 454
USED CAR SALE
1912 Buick Roadster
1911 White Touring Car
1914 Ford Touring Car
These cars are all in first-class condition and at very low prices
GIVE US A CALL

ATTEND CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

There was a large attendance Friday evening in Wollaston School hall for the lecture on Christian Science given by Virgil O. Strickler, C. S., of New York City, a member of the board of lectureship of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston. Mr. Strickler said in part:

It is undeniable that Christian Science has healed many sick people and has brought about the regeneration of many who were the victims of sin. Among its membership are those who have been healed of intemperance, of so-called chronic and organic deseases, as well as of maladies that were acute or functional. It has healed others of sorrow, fear, unhappiness and similar diseased mental conditions that often cause more suffering and distress than physical disorders.

In every case of Christian Science healing, whether the disease was chronic or acute, physical or mental, the cure was brought about without the use of hypnotism mental suggestion, drugs or any material means, and entirely through the application of the spiritual and meta-physical teachings of Christian Science.

The healing of the sick, however, is not the primary purpose of Christian Science. According to the teachings of this Science all sickness and disease result from error and false belief, which are summarized as sin, and when the error or belief is destroyed by the truth which Christian Science imparts, the disease disappears. Christian Science, therefore, teaches that the cause of all disease and sin is mental, and not physical, and that both sin and disease may be cured by one and the same metaphysical process, namely, by the substitution of spiritual truth in place of error and false belief in the human consciousness.

"YE SHALL KNOW THE TRUTH AND THE TRUTH SHALL MAKE YOU FREE."

It is recorded in the 8th Chapter of the Gospel of John that upon one occasion when Jesus was being harassed by the lawyers and theologians, who were plying him with questions and seeking to entrap him by his answers, he turned to a group of his followers, who were standing near, and said to them, "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." In all of the Bible there is no statement of greater importance to mankind than this utterance of the Master. It prescribes the remedy for every human ill. Knowledge of a thing must come through the mental and not through the physical, hence, according to the words of Jesus, mankind will be delivered from sin, disease and death not by doctoring the physical, but by filling the mental with truth. If this statement of Jesus was true it follows by irresistible logic that the enslaving conditions from which humanity suffers must be due to the belief of something which is not true. In other words, if the time is ever to come, as Jesus has declared that it will come, when the knowledge of truth shall emancipate humanity from its bondage to sickness, sin, unhappiness, poverty, old age and death, such results can only be brought about when the knowledge of the truth shall have displaced and destroyed (out of human consciousness), the belief of that which is not true. There is no escape from this conclusion.

Christian Science shows that it is the effect produced by Truth operating in the human mentality, destroying superstition, false and vicious beliefs that must and will some day emancipate mankind from bondage to sin, disease and death.

ULTIMATE TRUTH.

There must be ultimate truth somewhere, and when it is apprehended by the human mind it will emancipate those who apprehend it from bondage to evil. Christian Science asserts that ultimate truth, concerning God and man and their relationship is revealed by the Scriptures, and may be gained by every person when the Scriptures are rightly interpreted.

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN BELIEF AND UNDERSTANDING.

It is sometimes difficult for people to understand how religion can heal sickness and destroy sin, but the words of Jesus make it plain. Since it is through a knowledge of the truth that these results are accomplished the important thing for each one is to gain an understanding of truth instead of being satisfied with mere belief about it. In other words, in order to find out how religion can destroy sin, sickness and all sorts of evil condition, it is first necessary to gain an understanding as to what is religion. To gain the benefits promised in the Bible to true believers it is necessary to get rid of that which is erroneous in religious belief and practise, and to ascertain what constitutes true religion.

There are many who honestly think that it makes no difference what religious beliefs they entertain, so long as they are sincere in them. A moment's reflection, however, will show that such a theory is pernicious and destructive, for it is perfectly plain that if a thing is not, in fact, true, no amount of sincerity on the part of the believer can ever make it true. No engineer ever arrived at a correct result, no matter how sincerely he may have believed that his processes were correct, if they were not so in fact.

With respect to many things it may be unimportant whether the thing believed is true or not, but with respect to the things that people believe about God, and about themselves, and about their relationship to God, they are vital, because it will be shown that the things believed with respect to these matters, become laws that are binding upon the believer.

GOD

In trying to ascertain what constitutes religion the very first subject to be considered is that which relates to God. Every one must agree that a correct understanding of God is essential as the foundation of religion. Any system of religious teaching that is founded upon an imperfect or erroneous conception of God must necessarily fail to bring to its adherents the help and comfort for which they seek. When we look about us and see the splendid fidelity of men and women to their religious beliefs, and then see how much suffering and failure they experience, and how far short they come of attaining the good which they so honestly seek, it is a fair deduction that there is something wrong about their understanding of God.

No offense will be given, therefore, by the statement that the average person has a very indefinite and nebulous conception of God. If you were to ask a dozen people to tell you who and what God is, you would get a dozen different answers. There are some who think God is a person. How many people there are who, when they kneel down and close their eyes and reverently pray to God, have in mind a person, or a form, or an image, to which they pray! And how many others there are who think of God as a being of anger and resentment, who sends failure and suffering to those who displease him! And are there not a great many others who think of God as a being who lives in a far-off country called Heaven, and that it is necessary for people to die, and go there, in order to see Him?

These are only a few of the incorrect beliefs which people entertain about God.

Yet, all the while that people have gone on believing these erroneous things about God, the Bible statements concerning him have been perfectly plain. The Bible says, for instance, that God is Love, and, since He is infinite, he must be infinite Love. Christian Science says, therefore, that infinite Love cannot be the author of evil, either in the form of sickness or sin, and that, no matter what one may think about evil, it must be accounted for in some other way than as being a part of the creation of God.

The Bible further discloses that God not only is Love, but is also omnipresent. If that is so, then He is everywhere, for that is what the word means. He fills all space, and is in one place in precisely the same degree and to precisely the same extent that He is in every other place. Does that not lift one's thought above the concept of a limited God? And is it not plain that so long as people believe in a limited God, who is limited as to His form, dwelling place, or goodness, they will continue to suffer from limitations—limitations with respect to life and the duration thereof, health, strength, mental capacity success, love, spirituality and every good thing? Christian Science makes plain that humanity can hope to be emancipated from the curse of limitations in any and all of these directions when men and women shall have given up their false beliefs about a limited God, and shall have learned the truth concerning His nature and character.

Christian Science, therefore, pleads for a rational and demonstrable understanding of God in place of theoretical and speculative beliefs about Him.

MRS. EDDY.

Some day all mankind will recognize the immeasurable service that Mrs. Eddy has rendered to humanity by her discovery of Christian Science and the establishment of the Christian Science movement. Through her teaching she has elevated religious understanding from a theoretical to a practical basis. She has taught the world that it is the mission of religion to heal people of sickness, sorrow, unhappiness, and fear, as well as to destroy sin, and has so clearly defined the process by means of which these results may be accomplished as to make it possible for every one to prove it for himself and thereby to heal himself and others. Christian Science is applied Christianity just as truly as engineering is applied mathematics. There is no mystery about it, and when one does his work correctly, according to its rule, healing and regeneration must follow.

In the Bible (John xx: 17) we read that Jesus said to Mary, "Go to my brethren, and say unto them, I ascend unto my Father, and your Father; and to my God and your God." Also in 1 John, iii:2,- "Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is." St. Paul also wrote (Romans 8: 16, 17), "The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God: and if children then heirs; heirs of God, and joint heirs with Christ."

Christian Science demonstrates the truth of these inspired statements. It makes available as a present right and possibility man's inheritance as the son and heir of God by showing that the real man created by God is spiritual and not material; that his life, continuity, intelligence and harmony are in spirit and not in matter; that all of his qualities and attributes are derived from Spirit, and that every function of the real man is governed by the divine Mind. Man, therefore, expresses the divine nature, and hence he is the image of God, and as such is perfect and immortal. The material man is not the likeness of God, for matter cannot be the image of Spirit. He is the false concept of man, and the sin, disease and death involved in this false concept will disappear as false mortal beliefs are dissolved by truth. The material belief must give place to the spiritual fact in every case.

Out of the amplitude of her own spiritual understanding Mrs. Eddy has translated into human language the truth about God and man, and their relationship; has revealed a perfect divine Principle that governs mankind, and has proved that the truth taught by Jesus is scientific, and may be demonstrated today as of old to deliver the sinning, sorrowing and suffering from their oppressors, to set all makind free from bondage to evil, and to establish the kingdom of God an earth.

☞PRATT'S BREAD never varies. It is made and baked by a fixed rule Ask your grocer.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ters Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TERS DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 35 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

Prescott Apartments

For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service, Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.

Cosy upper 4 room and bath flat, 122 Glendale Road. $19.

H. F. McIntire HOUSES Greenleaf Bl'k Tel. Quincy 1665-W.

Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.

1-1 yr.

Quincy Pianoforte School
Mackelvan Directors
Street Floor, Greenleaf Block
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
Piano Instructions Par Excellence Voice
Private or Class Lessons
Tel. 539-M

WILLIAM R. DIMOCK
Carpenter and Builder
Plans furnished and estimates given. All work personally and promptly attended to 133 PROSPECT AVENUE
WOLLASTON
☞ Telephone 1238 W Quincy.

His Love Story

By MARIE VAN VORST

Illustrations by RAY WALTERS

(Copyright by the Bobbs-Merrill Company)

(Continued from last issue.)

"I must, unfortunately. My superior officers do not allow me to take horses or dogs, or even my servant."

"Heavens!" she exclaimed. "What brutes they are! Why, Pitchoune will die of a broken heart." Then she said: "You are leaving him with your man servant?"

Sabron shook his head.

"Brunet would not be able to keep him."

"Ah!" she breathed. "He is looking for a home? Is he? If so, would you . . . might I take care of Pitchoune?"

The Frenchman impulsively put out his hand, and she laid her own in it.

"You are too good," he murmured. "Thank you, Pitchoune will thank you."

He kissed her hand. That was all.

From within the salon came the noise of voices, and the bow of the violoncellist was beginning a new concerto. They stood looking at each other. No condition could have prevented it although the Marquise d'Esclignac was rolling toward them across the polished floor of the music-room. As though Sabron realized that he might never see this lovely young woman again, probably never would see her, and wanted before he left to have something made clear, he asked quickly:

"Could you, Mademoiselle, in a word or two tell me the meaning of the English song you sang?"

She flushed and laughed slightly.

"Well, it is not very easy to put it in prose," she hesitated. "Things sound so differently in music and poetry; but it means," she said in French, bravely, "why, it is a sort of prayer that someone you love very much should be kept safe night and day. That's about all. There is a little sadness in it, as though," and her cheeks glowed, "as if there was a sort of separation. It means . . ."

"Ah!" breathed the officer deeply, "I understand. Thank you."

And just then Madame d'Esclignac rolled up between them and with an unmistakable satisfaction presented to her niece the gentleman she had secured.

"My dear Julia, my godson, the Duc de Tremont." And Sabron bowed to both the ladies, to the duke, and went away.

This was the picture he might add to his collection: the older woman in her vivid dress, Julia in her simpler gown, and the titled Frenchman bowing over her hand.

When he went out to the front terrace Brunet was there with his horse, and Pitchoune was there as well, stiffly waiting at attention.

"Brunet," said the officer to his man, "will you take Pitchoune around to the servants' quarters and give him to Miss Redmond's maid? I am going to leave him here."

"Good, mon Capitaine," said the ordonnance, and whistled to the dog.

Pitchoune sprang toward his master with a short sharp bark. What he understood would be hard to say, but all that he wanted to do was to remain with Sabron. Sabron bent down and stroked him.

"Go, my friend, with Brunet. Go, mon vieux, go," he commanded sternly, and the little dog, trained to obedience as a soldier's dog should be, trotted reluctantly at the heels of the ordonnance, and the soldier threw his leg over the saddle and rode away. He rode regardless of anything but the fact that he was going.

CHAPTER VIII.

Homesick.

Pitchoune was a soldier's dog, born in a stable, of a mother who had been dear to the canteen. Michette had been une vraie vivandiere, a real daughter of the regiment.

Pitchoune was a worthy son. He adored the drums and trumpets. He adored the fife. He adored the drills which he was accustomed to watch from a respectable distance. He liked Brunet, and the word had not yet been discovered which would express how he felt toward Monsieur le Capitaine, his master. His muscular little form expressed it in every fiber. His brown eyes looked it until their pathos might have melted a heart of iron.

There was nothing picturesque to Pitchoune in the Chateau d'Esclignac or in the charming room to which he was brought. The little dog took a flying tour around it, over sofas and chairs, landing on the window-seat, where he crouched. He was not wicked, but he was perfectly miserable, and the lovely wiles of Julia Redmond and her endearments left him unmoved. He refused meat and drink, was indifferent to the views from the window to the beautiful view of King Rene's castle, to the tantalizing cat sunning herself against the wall. He flew about like mad, leaving destruction in his wake, tugged at the leash when they took him out for exercise. In short, Pitchoune was a homesick, lovesick little dog, and thereby endeared himself more than ever to his new mistress. She tied a ribbon around his neck, which he promptly chewed off. She tried to feed him with her own fair hands; he held his head high, looked bored and grew thin in the flanks.

"I think Captain de Sabron's little dog is going to die, ma tante," she told her aunt.

"Fiddlesticks, my dear Julia! Keep him tied up until he is accustomed to the place. It won't hurt him to fast; he will eat when he is hungry. I have a note from Robert. He has gone to Monte Carlo."

"Ah!" breathed Miss Redmond indifferently.

She slowly went over to her piano and played a few measures of music that were a torture to Pitchoune, who found these ladylike performances in strong contrast to drums and trumpets. He felt himself as a soldier degraded and could not understand why he should be relegated to a salon and to the mild society of two ladies who did not even know how to pull his ears or roll him over on the rug with their riding boots and spurs. He sat against the window as was his habit, looking watching, yearning.

"Vous avez tort, ma chere," said her aunt, who was working something less than a thousand flowers on her tapestry. "The chance to be a princess and a Tremont does not come twice in a young girl's life, and you know you have only to be reasonable, Julia."

Looking, Watching, Yearning.

Miss Redmond's fingers wandered, magnetically drawn by her thoughts, into a song which she played softly through. Pitchoune heard and turned his beautiful head and his soft eyes to her. He knew that tune. Neither drums nor trumpets had played it, but there was no doubt about its being fit for soldiers. He had heard his master sing it, hum it, many times. It had soothed his nerves when he was a sick puppy and it went with many things of the intimate life with his master. He remembered it when he had dozed by the fire and dreamed of chasing cats and barking at Brunet and being a faithful dog all around; he heard again a beloved voice hum it to him. Pitchoune whined and softly jumped down from his seat. He put his forepaws on Miss Redmond's lap. She stopped and caressed him, and he licked her hand.

"That is the first time I have seen that dog show a spark of human gratitude, Julia. He is probably begging you to open the door and let him take a run."

Indeed Pitchoune did go to the door and waited appealingly.

"I think you might trust him out. I think he is tamed," said the Marquise d'Esclignac. "He is a real little savage."

Miss Redmond opened the door and Pitchoune shot out. She watched him tear like mad across the terrace, and scuttle into the woods, as she thought, after a rabbit. He was the color of the fallen leaves and she lost sight of him in the brown and golden brush.

CHAPTER IX.

The Fortunes of War.

Sabron's departure had been delayed on account of a strike at the dockyards of Marseilles. He left Tarascon one lovely day toward the end of January and the old town with its sweetness and its sorrow, fell behind, as he rolled away to brighter suns. A friend from Paris took him to the port in his motor and there Sabron waited some forty-eight hours before he set sail. His boat lay out on the azure water, the brown rocks of the coast behind it. There was not a breeze to stir as he took the tug which was to convey him. He was inclined to dip his fingers in the indigo ocean, sure that he would find them blue. He climbed up the ladder alongside of the vessel, was welcomed by the captain, who knew him, and turned to go below, for he had been suffering from an attack of fever which now and then laid hold of him, ever since his campaign in Morocco.

Therefore, as he went into his cabin, which he did not leave until the steamer touched Algiers, he failed to see the baggage tender pull up and failed to see a sailor climb to the deck with a wet bedraggled thing in his hand that looked like an old fur cap except that it wriggled and was alive.

"This, mon commandant," said the sailor to the captain, "is the pluckiest little beast I ever saw."

He dropped a small terrier on the deck, who proceeded to shake himself vigorously and bark with apparent delight.

"No sooner had we pushed out from the quay than this little beggar sprang from the pier and began to swim after us. He was so funny that we let him swim for a bit and then we hauled him in. It is evidently a mascot, mon commandant, evidently a sailor dog who has run away to sea."

The captain looked with interest at Pitchoune, who engaged himself in making his toilet and biting after a flea or two which had not been drowned.

"We sailors," said the man saluting, "would like to keep him for luck, mon commandant."

"Take him down then," his superior officer ordered, "and don't let him up among the passengers."

* * * * * * *

It was a rough voyage. Sabron passed his time saying good-by to France and trying to keep his mind away from the Chateau d'Esclignac, which persisted in haunting his uneasy slumber. In a blaze of sunlight, Algiers, the white city, shone upon them on the morning of the third day and Sabron tried to take a more cheerful view of a soldier's life and fortunes.

He was a soldierly figure and a handsome one as he walked down the gangplank to the shore to be welcomed by fellow officers who were eager to see him, and presently was lost in the little crowd that streamed away from the docks into the white city.

(To be continued.)

☞ PRATT'S BREAD is baked for those who want good bread. Grocers sell it.

COAL PRICES REDUCED

STOVE	$7.25
EGG	$7.25
NUT	$7.50
FURNACE	$6.50
PEA	$5.50
LEHIGH EGG	$7.50
LEHIGH STOVE	$7.50
SHAMOKIN STOVE	$7.50
FRANKLIN STOVE	$8.50

Coal carried in baskets 25 cents per ton.
Bituminous Coal for Steam Use
We recommend Nut size for stove and range
Stove size for small furnaces and heaters
Egg size for large furnaces and heaters.
We advise placing your orders now as prices usually advance about July 1st.
Coal delivered in Quincy, Wollaston, Atlantic, and Norfolk Downs.

Frost Coal Co.
488 Neponset Ave., Neponset
TEL. 1500 DORCHESTER
April 3 Wed. & Sat. until July 1

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S
Tel. 1647-W Quincy

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 2 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.
will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.
OFFICE AT
96 WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY
Tel. 618

ORIENTAL RUGS
WE have the largest and most complete stock of Oriental Rugs in Boston and can always show you a greater assortment than you can find elsewhere.
JOHN H PRAY & SONS CO
646-650 Washington St., opp. Boylston St.
All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhœa. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years

The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

COAL

ANNOUNCEMENT

April 1, 1915.

Full coal bins are a source of real satisfaction. We are filling our bins as rapidly as possible with FRESH MINED COAL. By placing your order now YOU can take advantage of the LOW PRICES announced in the schedule below. Coal will positively ADVANCE IN PRICE later. There will be no Further Reduction.

We should be glad to call and talk Coal with you if you will notify us.

PRICES FOR CASH

Franklin Egg and Stove	$8.50 per ton
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75 per ton
Shamokin Stove	7.50 per ton
White Ash Broken	6.50 per ton
White Ash Egg	7.25 per ton
White Ash Stove	7.25 per ton
White Ash Nut	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Broken	6.75 per ton
Lehigh Egg	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Stove	7.50 per ton
Pea	5.50 per ton

25 cents per ton extra where coal is carried in. Orders taken for these Prices are for delivery by July 1, 1915.

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc.

WANTED

EXPERIENCED STITCHERS

STEADY WORK

APPLY TO

SOVEREIGN WAIST CO.

192 GRANITE ST.

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE

Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit

WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS

Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.

Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys

1506-1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block

Jan. 26-tu.-th.s.-tf

Furniture Storage Warehouse

Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.

Rates $2---$3---$4 per month

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.

1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.

Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26-tu.-th.s.-tf

SUNDAY SERVICES

A new announcement of services is required each week. No notices accepted to run indefinitely. When possible the subject of sermon should be given, also special services. Generous space will be given in the news columns for church news, music and week day gatherings.

FIRST PARISH IN QUINCY (Unitarian)—City Square. Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, minister. Residence, Miller Stile Inn. Tel. 423M. office hours at church 9 to 12 A. M. Monday, Wednesday and Friday Tel. 1220. Morning service at 10.30. Subject of sermon by the minister "Is Christianity Practicable?" Sunday School at 12 noon, Miss Minnie Packard, Supt. Peace Mass meeting at 4.00 P. M. All are invited.

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Junction Hancock and Chestnut streets, Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott, Pastor. Morning Service at 10.30 The speaker will be Richmond Pearson Hobson, 12, Bible School, 6.00 Christian Endeavor meeting, 7.30 Pleasant Sunday Evening Service, Topic, "The Pastor and the Church."

FIRST SPIRITUALIST CHURCH—Electa Hall Johnson building, Hancock street, Quincy Meeting at 7.30 P. M. Mrs. F. Roscoe from Providence, speaker, others will assist. COME.

CHRIST CHURCH, EPISCOPAL—Quincy corner Elm street and Quincy Avenue. Rev. William Grainger, minister. 8.00 A. M. Holy Communion. 10.45 A. M. Morning prayer and sermon. 7.30 P. M. Evening prayer and sermon.

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH—Washington Street, Quincy. Rev. Merrill C. Ward, pastor; Residence 62 Dunster road, Jamaica Plain. Telephone Jamaica 1950. Sunday School at 2 P. M. 3 P. M. Service Sermon by the pastor. Subject: "The Best Patriots of Today." 4.15 P. M., Y. P. C. U. Subject: "How to read a Picture." Mrs T. A. Addison will read "The Legend of St. Christopher.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST—Quincy, Alpha Hall, cor. Hancock street and Cottage ave. Morning service and Sunday School at 10.45 Subject: "Doctrine of Atonement." Golden Text: "As he which hath called you is holy so be ye holy in all manner of conversation." Wednesday 7.45 a testimony and experience meeting. Reading room open from 3 to 5 P. M. week days, holidays excepted. Also Wednesday evening before and after services.

WASHINGTON STREET CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Quincy Point, Rev. Stephen C. Lang pastor. 10.45 Morning Worship, Subject of sermon "The Bold Confession." 12 noon, Bible school. 4.30 P. M. Communicant's class. 6.30 P. M., Y. P. S. C. E. 7.30 P. M. Stereoptican Lecture "The Immigrant in America." Thursday 7.30 P. M. People's Hour Service. Public cordially welcome.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH—Franklin Street Rev. C. C. Tilley, Pastor. Residence 26 Richie Road. Preaching Service at 10.30 A. M. Subject: "Shall we believe in 'Billy' Sunday's Devil?" Sunday School at 11.45. Christian Endeavor meeting at 6, Subject: "One day in Seven For the Highest Things." Leader: Mr. Frank G. Pettee Scripture: Ezekiel 20:1-20 (Sabbath Observance meeting.) Evening Service at 7. Subject: "Waste and Want in the Far Country." Regular prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7.30. All cordially welcome.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Water and Quincy Streets. Rev. Clarence E. Campbell minister. Residence 95 Quincy Street. Telephone Quincy 884 W. 10.30, Morning Service with a sermon on "The Basis of Militarism." beginning of a series." 11.45 Sunday School and Men's Class. 3 P. M. Children's service with a story. 6.00 Christian Endeavor. Evening service at 7.00 Address on "The Truth in our Theologies." beginning a series of modern interpretation of the great theological teachings of the church.

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Corner of School and Pleasant streets. Rev. D. B McLeod, M. A., pastor. Residence 40 Bradford St. Preaching by the pastor at 10.30 and 7.30 Sabbath school and Bible class 11.45. Junior Endeavor at 3. Senior Christian Endeavor at 6.30. Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7.30

HALL PLACE M. E. CHURCH—West Quincy, Rev. P. S. Neldon, pastor, Residence, 12 Hall Place. Morning service at 10.30. Preaching by Mr. Robert Farquhar. Sunday School at 11.45. No evening service will be held on account of the Annual New England Conference being in session

SWEDISH MISSION CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH Garfield street. Rev. A. G. Sporrong, pastor, 14 Euclid avenue. Tel. Quincy 1482-M. Sunday school at 9.30 A. M. Young peoples class led by the pastor. Morning service 10.45, sermon by the pastor. Subject: "True and false Shepherds for Christ's flock." Young People's meeting 5.00 P. M. At 7 P. M. The Young People's society celebrates Annual Anniversary. An offering for the organist.

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL — Corner Lincoln and Winthrop avenues. Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, Ph. D., pastor. Res. No. 20 Marion street, Tel. Quincy 1116 M. Sunday Morning Children's Hour in the Vestry, in charge of Miss Lucile Smalley. A service for small children whose parents are attending Morning Worship. Kindergarten classes in charge of Mrs. Charles P. Hutchins. Mixed Bible class led by Dr. Sneath Morning Worship at 10.45, sermon by the pastor, Subject: "The X Rays of Spiritual Life." Sunday School at 12.15. Mr. Charles A. Campbell, Supt. Women's Bible class led by Mrs. A. A. Lincoln. Junior Christian Endeavor at 3.30, Topic: "With Our Missionaries in India." Leader: Ruth Smith Intermediate Endeavor society at 4.30 Topic: "One day in seven for the Highest Things." Leader: Esther Murray. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6. P. M. Topic: "One day in seven for the Highest Things." Regular Midweek service on Thursday evening at 7.45 conducted by Dr. Sneath. Subject: "I will Praise." Ps. 9th. All seats free, and all cordially invited to attend these services. Come and help and be helped.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST CHURCH—Cor. Prospect and Warren avenues. Rev. Joseph Walthel pastor. Prayer meeting at 10.15 in Pinkham class room. Kindergarten for children whose parents are attending morning service at 10.45 in Primary Department room. Morning service at 10.45 Address by Four Student Volunteers. Subject: "The Present Crisis in Missions." Sunday School 12.15, Elford L. Durgan Supt. Address by Student Volunteers. Junior Endeavor meeting omitted. 6. Senior Endeavor meeting. Address by Student Volunteers. Evening Service at 7. Address by Student Volunteers. Subject: "John Three Sixteen." Everyone invited.

ST. CHRYSOSTOMS EPISCOPAL CHURCH—Hancock street. Wollaston—Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra, rector, residence, the rectory. 523 Hancock street. 8.00 A. M. Holy Communion. Morning prayer, and sermon at 10.30. Kindergarten at 10.30. Sunday School at 12. Evening prayer and address 7.30.

MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Atlantic. Rev. Thomas W. Davison, pasto Morning service 10.45. Sermon by Rev. W. G Puddefoot formerly of Indiana. Sunday School at 12 M. Junior Endeavor at 3.30 P. M. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 P. M. Evening service at 7 o' clock. Address by the pastor. A cordial welcome to all.

FIRST CHURCH OF SQUANTUM—Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor. Sunday School at 3 P. M. Church service at 4 P. M. Sermon by the pastor. A cordial welcome to all.

No. 5276.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
LAND COURT.

To Robert F. Owens and Catherine F. Donnelly of Brockton, in the County of Plymouth and said Commonwealth; to the City of Quincy, a municipal corporation located in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth; Charles W. Hall of Quincy in said County of Norfolk; Patrick Murphy, Sands, Taylor and Woods Company and the Barrett Manufacturing Company of Boston in the County of Suffolk, and said Commonwealth; Judson W. Maxim of Warren, in the County of Worcester and said Commonwealth; Otto E. Freeman, residence unknown, or his heirs, devisees or legal representatives; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by John A. Hester of said Brockton, to register and confirm his title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Quincy, bounded and described as follows: Comprising the lot numbered nine (9) in section three (3) as shown on the Plan entitled "Plan of Portion of Section three of the Manet Land Associates' Lands at Hough's Neck, Quincy, Mass. July, 1890" and recorded in the book of plans in the Norfolk County Registry of Deeds. Said parcel of land is bounded, Northerly by land of parties unknown, there measuring forty-five (45) feet; Easterly by lots ten (10) and eleven (11) on said plan, there measuring one hundred (100) feet; Southerly by Bell Street, there measuring forty-five (45) feet; and Westerly by lot eight (8) on said plan, there measuring one hundred (100) feet; and containing forty-five hundred square feet of land.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the tenth day of May A. D. 1915 at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixteenth day of April in the year nineteen hundred and fifteen.

Attest with Seal of said Court.

(Seal.)

CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder

3t April 17-24 May 1

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed, given by Walter Webb of Boston, in the County of Suffolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts to Jennie E. Hubbell of said Boston, dated April 8th, 1909, recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 1107 page 83, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described on Wednesday, May 12, 1915 at 9.30 o'clock in the forenoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein described substantially as follows:—"A certain parcel of land together with the buildings thereon, situated on Sagamore Street in Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, in the part of said Quincy called Atlantic, and being shown as lot No. 3 on a 'plan of lots at Atlantic, City of Quincy, Mass., Dec. 24, 1908 by Frederick E. Tupper, Civil Engineer,' and bounded and described as follows:—Northerly by land now or formerly of M. M. Mills, thirty-eight and fifty-four one-hundredths (38 54-100) feet; Easterly by lot No. 2 on said plan about one hundred fifty-one (151) feet; Southerly by said Sagamore Street, thirty-eight and five tenths (38 5-10) feet; and Westerly by lot No. 4 on said plan about one hundred fifty-three and five tenths (153 5-10) feet; containing about 5840 square feet of land and being a portion of the premises conveyed to said Walter Webb by Henry B. Blackwell by deed dated Sept. 1, 1908 and recorded with Norfolk Registry of Deeds, Book 1089, Page 271."

Said premises will be sold subject to any and all unpaid taxes, tax-titles, assessment, betterments, or other municipal liens if any there are.

Five hundred dollars will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale, other terms will be made known at the time and place of sale.

Moses Shapiro, Assignee and present holder of said mortgage.

Boston, Mass., April 16, 1915. G. A. Holzman, 27 State Street, Boston, Attorney for Moses Shapiro.

3t April 17-24 May 1

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Laura Bryant, late of Quincy, in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petiton has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Linda A. Lincoln of said Quincy without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-eighth day of April, A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixteenth day of April A. D. 1915.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.

3t April 17-20-26

KEEP POSTED ON THE PEOPLE'S WANTS — CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING — WHY WORRY LET THESE ADS LIFT YOUR BURDEN

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Modern apartment, near high school; two-family house, everything separate; 7 rooms and bath; electricity and gas. Apply A. D. Cossaboom, 95 Merrymount road; Tel. 1374-M. 15-12t

TO LET—A tenement of 4 rooms to small family, rent $8.00, 19 Carrolls Lane. Apply Carrolls Lane. 13-6t

TO LET—3 new flats, Quincy Point, four rooms and kitchenette, hot and cold water, set range, gas, separate cellars, low rent, Germain avenue, cor. Washington street. Small families only. Good neighborhood. E. R. Stone, 12 Avon Way. Ready now. 13-6t

TO LET—Small tenement on 11 Francis Court, all moderif improvements. Rent $18.00, apply 11 Francis Court. 13-6t

TO LET—Lower flat in two-family house. Living room, dining room, bedroom, kitchen and bathroom, pantry, good closets and cellar. Coal and gas range, furnace, electric lights. Every convenience. Rent $20. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 13-tf

FOR RENT—In Quincy Centre, opposite Adams Academy, house 7 rooms, and bath 18 Faxon avenue, suite 6 rooms and bath, every modern improvement Tel. 414-M Weymouth. 7-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 7-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of two family house, 5 rooms and bath, all improvements, 3 Bradford street, Quincy Adams. Apply to William Duggan, Bradford street or telephone Quincy 724-W. 7-12t

TO LET—Half house of six rooms and large laundry to adult family, conveniences, large garden. Rent $20. Apply to George H. Newcomb, 21 Adams Bldg. or M. M. Newcomb, 39 Gay street or phone 1990 Quincy. 2-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house, 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving—place. Tel. 144-2, Quincy or 110 South street, Boston, Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of 5 rooms, one attic room and bath. Large piazza, screened in. All latest improvements. House just finished 97 Goddard street, near Quincy Adams Station. 15-tf.

TO LET—Tenement of three rooms $7.50 per month. Good place for hens. James Moorhead, 28 Curtis street. Tel. 599-1. 15-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

TO LET

TO LET—Two rooms, furnished for light housekeeping. Gas range, electric lights and privilege of bath and laundry. Also one single room. Desirable parties only, 34 Chestnut street, corner Foster street. 17-3t

TO LET — Desirable furnished rooms, 33 Saville street near Quincy depot. Apply to F. P. Morgan. 17-3t

FOR RENT — Small furnished apartments for housekeeping, from $18 per month upward. Also 5 rooms suites unfurnished $18 and $22.50. Address C. F. Spear, 118 Granite street. 17-1t

TO LET—3 furnished rooms, all modern improvements, reasonable rent, 132 Marlboro street. 17-6t

TO LET—Upper apartment, 6 rooms and bath, gas and coal ranges, small family $20, F. M. Torrey, Tel. 202-1 Quincy, 25 Spear street. 15-tf

TO LET—Light housekeeping rooms also furnished rooms, 5 minutes from library, 65 Spear street, Quincy. 15-3t

TO LET—Tenement of 7 rooms, all improvements. Rent $25. Apply 233 Washington street. 12-6t

TO LET—Flat in new house, all modern improvements. Apply 61 Richie road. April 12-6t

TO LET—To small family of adults, several sunny attractive half houses, all improvements, centrally located, $21, $23 and $25 per month and water rates. Tel. Quincy 174-2, Charles H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. 10-12t

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements, 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 13-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Buggy, sleigh, harnesses and robes. Apply Dr. T. J. Dion. 17-6t

FOR SALE—House, 17 Edison street 7 rooms and bath. Gas, electric lights steam heat, 11,725 feet land, 15 minutes walk to Fore River Shipyard, price $3300. Make an offer. Apply on the premises. 16-6t

FOR SALE—Two Runabouts, Model 10 Buick, 1914 Trumbull, tires good and in good running order, cheap for cash. O. S. Sandberg, 1281 Hancock street. 15-3t

FOR SALE—In Wollaston, new two flat house, ten minutes to Quincy or Wollaston station, one minute to electric cars, will sell reasonable, apply at 26 Carruth street, near car barn. 15-3t

FOR SALE—New two flat house on Kittredge avenue. Each flat has 5 rooms and bath, all modern improvements, coal and gas range, electric lights. Inquire at 11 Ring avenue off Washington street. 13-6t

FOR SALE—20 foot open boat, 4 H. P., Victor engine, reverse, cushions, etc., T. E. Baker, 24 Baxter Street. 13-6t

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E. R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-1t. L P.

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

MISCELLANEOUS

BABY CHICKS—Orders taken for Barred and White Rock chicks for May 10 and 18, $15 per 100. R. C. Kellam, 158 Summer street, Weymouth. Tel. 159-W. 17-1t

DISTRIBUTORS—"$50 for giving away 400 packages Borax Soap Powder" is title of proposition we send you FREE. No money or experience needed. Ward & Company, 215 Institute, Chicago. 17-1t

FREE TO ANY WOMAN Beautiful 42-piece Dinner Set for distributing only 3 doz. cakes of Complexion Soap FREE. No money or experience needed. Tyrrell Ward, 216 Institute Place, Chicago. 17-1t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN

Real Estate Insurance

Auctioneer Care of Property

Justice of the Peace

Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

LOST

LOST—A new set of peddler's scales on way from Electric Express office, via Foster, Cottage or Hancock street. Please return to H. W. Cass, Cor. School and Hancock street, Quincy. 17-1t

WANTED

WANTED—For housework in small flat and assist with young boy, neat and willing required. Go home nights. Near Quincy Center. Address S. F. E., Ledger Office. 17-3t

WANTED—Dressmaking either to go out to customers or at home 7 Park street, South Weymouth. Telephone 425 Christin Nelson. 20-10t S. and W

WANTED—An experienced maid for general housework. References required. Apply at 118 Merrymount road. 16-tf

WANTED—By experienced young lady, a steady place to do housework on Saturdays by the hour. Apply to 46 Granite street, Quincy. 16-2t

WANTED—Experienced maid for general housework, Swede or Nova Scotia preferred. Apply at 50 Glendale road near Goffe street, Presidents Hill, Quincy. 16-tf

WANTED—Intelligent honest girl to help care for child two and a half years and to do light housework. Apply at 614 Adams street, East Milton. 15-3t

WANTED—Gardening, grading and jobbing by day or job. Mr. Bellington, 17 Edwards street, Quincy. 13-6t

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

TO LET

Large Room 30 x 36

Second Floor

Savings Bank Building

Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes

Quincy Savings Bank

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.

Nov

TO LET

After May 1, Store or Stores No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.

Shop or Factory—24 Granite St. 22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.

Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up Offices and Desk Room.

City Square Office, Hancock Bld. Small front office.

Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.

City Square Store House or Shop —ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

City Square Club Room or Hall —28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK

CITY SQUARE

(Best location in City.)

Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.

Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water, $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS

Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.

Colonial Hall—Hancock Building —City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.

Ask for E. r. Kribs.)

Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 2005) Quincy

Your Suit For The HOLIDAY!

COPYRIGHT 1915 THE HOUSE OF KUPPENHEIMER

You Young Men and Fathers who want to look well in appearance on Patriots Day will find here a great showing of Mens' New Spring Suits. A Wonderful Showing, indeed! You'll find, sir, that this store meets all the requirements of young men, fathers and boys alike.

Our connection with

The House of Kuppenheimer

has been a pleasant one, all told, we are proud of it, and you'll be proud to wear one of their Suits, and yet we feel safe in saying that even the best is none too good for this

Wide-Awake Store

These New Suits are the best clothes that any maker can produce, and the best values, dollar for dollar, that this or any other store can offer

$18 to $27

Big Values in Low Price Suits. Don't let a thin pocketbook hinder you from getting a new suit, it is no handicap at this wide-awake store, we doubt if there's a single suit that can be duplicated for less than $12 to $18 elsewhere

$10 and $15

Wonderful New Spring Covert Top Coats. No other novelty we have ever offered has met with such favorable approval as this new Top-Coat. As a wrap for spring this Covert Coat is unsurpassed, they are sold with the Remick guarantee. $7.75, $9.75, $14 50, $18.00, $20.00

New Spring Idea Styles in Mens Furnishings, We have just received a beautiful line of new Spring Neckwear, large open ends, pleasing color combinations, a finer line of cheney silk ties have never been shown before. All colors at exceptional values 48c 35c 21c

BATES STREET SHIRTS

Latest Designs and Patterns.

$150 Value $1.15

OUR SPECIAL SHIRTS.—There is value. New, neat and nobby patterns special for the Holiday. Worth $1. 79c.

NEW SILK HOSE

that will wear, has a beautiful appearance. We cannot speak too highly of the TRIPLE-TOE HOSE, all shades, including the new Palm Beach color 25c.

STORE CLOSED ALL DAY MONDAY—PATRIOTS DAY.

REMICKS, The Wide-Awake Store

Muaic Hall Block.

BOY SCOUTS GIVE CONCERT

A pleasing and varied program was offered at the musicale given Friday evening in the Park and Downs church by Quincy Troop Three of the Boy Scouts of America.

The affair was directed by Mrs. F. Arenberg and the contributing artists were Miss Marion Moorhouse, cello; Mrs. Margaret L. Fisher, reader. Miss Cecilia Arenberg, violin; Ernest Pletsch, cornet ; and Artemus Dingwell and Alan Painten, vocalists.

The orchestra opened with an overture "Heimkehr ans der Freude" by Mendelsohn, followed by two numbers on the cornet by Mr. Pletsch "Serenade" by Schubert and "Parting song" by Messler.

"The Newly-Weds-Before" was the title of a very humorous reading given by Mrs. Fisher and as an encore "The Wind" was given. "Preislied" from Wagner's "Meistersingers" was played on the violin by Miss Arenberg and Part One closed with a solo by Mr. Dingwell.

Part Two opened with a march "Vampire" by the orchestra and a reading "The Newlyweds-After" by Mrs. Fisher. "Mother McCree" was sung by Mr. Painten and "Tarantelle" by Popper, played by Miss Moorhouse "Cujus Ananam" from Rossini's "Stabat Mater" was played by Mr. Pletsch and the evening concluded with Rodney's "Cavalry" by the Arenberg family.

During intermission candy was sold and a tidy sum will go to the troop. Troop Three is organized with George W. Brown as scoutmaster.

CLOSSIFIED

HOBSON AT BETHANY.

Hon. Richmond Pearson Hobson will speak at the Bethany Congregational church, City Square Sunday morning at the regular morning service Mr. Hobson will speak on "National Constitutional Prohibition"

Fred H. Lawton, assistant superintendent of the Massachusetts Anti-Saloon league will be the other speaker.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.

Building Falls on Workman Fracturing His Spine.

A small building while being moved at 363 Centre street this morning toppled and pinned Stephen Savartoni, 52 years to earth causing a fracture of the spine.

Witnesses of the accident ran to his assistance and lifted the building off the injured man. A physician was called and ordered his immediate removal to the City Hospital in the police ambulance.

This noon partial paralysis had set in and his condition was gradually becoming critical. The injured man is well known in West Quincy and is a stone cutter by trade. The building was used for hot beds and was not large.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

NOTICE

On and after this date, I shall not pay any debts except of my own contracting.

EUGENE H. PROUTY,
37 Quincy Ave.,
Quincy, Mass.

April 15, 1915 15-3t

TOOLATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

WANTED—Neat, capable, Protestant general house work girl. Plain cooking. References required. $4.00 a week, no washing. $5.00 with washing. Apply 12 Berlin street, Wollaston. 17 3t

TO LET—Single house, 8 rooms, all improvements, centrally located, rent $22.50 per month. Inquire at 65 Chestnut street, City. 17-3t

DEATHS

WILLIAMS—In Quincy, April 17, William J. Williams in his 68th year.

Funeral services at late home 228 Granite street, April 19, at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 17-1t

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1801 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

Now Necessary

A chick's first meal and every meal for three weeks should always be

Pratts* Baby Chick Food

25c, 50c and $1.00

Then you know you have given it what's best for it and there is no danger of loss from indigestion or bowel trouble.

Pratts Powdered Lice Killer is easy to apply and sure death to vermin. 25c and 50c.

Refuse substitutes; insist on Pratts.

Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Back

Get Pratts 160 page Poultry Book

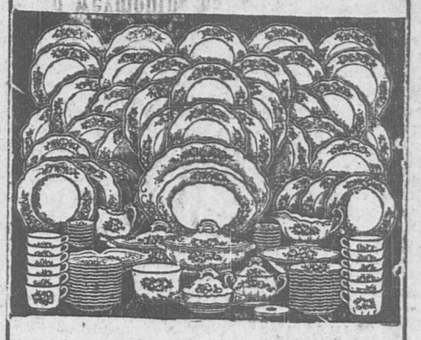

241

Grain, Poultry Supply & General Stores. 6639.

Furnish Your Home From This Great Home Store

Buy Now and get a Beautiful

SET OF DISHES FREE

OUR SPECIAL APRIL OFFER

With every complete outfit amounting to $100 or more, we will give a delightful set of 112 pieces decorated Saxon China

ABSOLUTELY FREE

You wouldn't want any larger assortment to choose from than you'll find on our five spacious floors. It's easy here to make pleasing selections. And you can depend upon whatever you buy at this good store. We deal only in goods of guaranteed quality and gladly make good anytime anything you buy of us that does not give perfect satisfaction.

Benefit by Our Low Prices

Here in the Suburban district we have comparatively low rent and small expense. We buy in large quantities at rock-bottom spot-cash prices—and we are satisfied with small profits. So our prices are much lower than elsewhere. We offer liberal credit to those who desire it and charge no interest. Cash customers get a cash discount from regular plainly marked prices.

Come Furnish Your Home From This Great Home Store

Kincaide Furniture Store

"The Store of Quality and Service" Entire Building 1495 Hancock St.

BRIEFS

The city council committee on streets held an executive session at city hall Friday evening. This committee has sixty-five matters which have been referred to it and under the rules of the council all must be reproted upon not later than May 15.

Miss Alice G. White, librarian, Miss Mary K. Weston, children's librarian, and Miss Ella Packard all of the Thomas Crane Public Library attended the "Story Hour" at the Brookline public library Friday afternoon given by Miss Mary Shedlock of London, England.

James B. Schmidt, under whose direction the comedy "Old Acre Folk" was presented by the Dorcas society of the Universalist church Wednesday evening, has been asked by three local organizations to repeat the performance. Probably the play will be given within a short time for the benefit of the City Hospital.

City Hall will close at noon today until Tuesday morinng, as Monday is a legal holiday.

Studebakers products will be demonstrated at the Auditorium Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

Lawn Seed, Lawn Dressing

Wood Ashes, Sheep Manure

Have a Good Lawn this year by caring for it properly now

WILLIAM WESTLAND
The Hardware Man
1597 Hancock St., - - Quincy, Mass.

CONCRETE FOR PERMANENCE

Concrete can be mixed and placed with no other tools than a shovel, but it can be put in CHEAPER and BETTER if some other equipment is available.

I have a new, power concrete mixer. I can place all the concrete in an ordinary house foundation in one day with it This gives a foundation all in one piece, with no weak, unsightly joints. Usually a quickly completed job is also a low-priced one.

I PUT IN WALKS AND FLOORS.

Ask Me; I like to answer questions.

Oberlin S. Clark
Concrete
537 Bridge Street
Tel. 593-M Wey.
North Weymouth, Mass.

W. H. HASLETT
31 Bridge Street, Quincy
Tel. Quincy 1092 W

Petrosilo, sanitary and fireproof flooring, guaranteed to wear longer than hardwood floor. No joints One continuous piece.

Plastering and cementing concrete houses, outside stucco work, cement walks, steps and cellar floors. Give us a call.

Feb. 25 W. S. tf

MEAT

A Tempting Portion

of such meats as ours are surely worth having. Try us once and you will keep a coming. Prices right — everything the best procurable.

Fresh Killed Fowl, 5 lb weight	.23 lb
Star Hams, 10 lb weight	.17 lb
Prime Ribs of Roast Beef	.18 lb
Choice Rump Roasts	.25 lb
Corned Ox Tongue	.20 lb
Simon Pure Leaf Lard	.52 pail
Blue Label Catsup, pints	.19 bot
Van Camp's Baked Beans, large can	.17
Dr, Johnson's Educator Wheat Bran	.10 pkg
Stanzalone Coffee	.20 lb
Knox Gelatine	.12 pkg

Closed All Day Monday

ADAMS MARKET
City Square
Phone 1939

FOY'S
2 STORES

WATER STREET
Cor. Quincy
Phone 947

CHURCH NEWS.

Those who wish church news printed in Tuesday's Ledger are urged to send it in Monday as usual so that it may receive prompt attention.

BRIEFS

The city bulletin boards have received a coat of white paint.

The Ladies Aid of the First church of Squantum will hold a supper in Richards Memorial hall this evening from six to eight.

The Squantum Improvement association will hold a whist in Richards Memorial hall Monday evenin. Tickets may be obtained from Charles Bostwick.

Postmaster Charles L Hammond has purchased a Velie car from George H. Spooner, proprietor of Spooner's Auto exchange.

As usual on holidays the Quincy post office will only be open on Monday until 10 A. M. There will be one delivery in the morning by carriers and one collection from the boxes in the afternoon.

Business in general will be suspended in Quincy on Monday. City Hall will be closed all day as will also the business houses of the city. There are some local sporting events which probably will draw large crowds.

Commissioner Brown advertised today for bids for furnishing the city with one White automobile truck of 15 pounds capacity. Bids will be opened Tuesday, April 20.

Mayor Campbell and City Engineer Sargent made a tour of the city Friday afternoon looking at places for which petitions and orders for street lights have been referred to the Executive.

Those who were unable to see the fine exhibit of Indian blankets. pottery, baskets and the like at the women's clubhouse Tuesday afternoon have an opportunity to see the exhibit as Mrs. Fred Austin of 27 Saville street has it at her house for a few days and will be glad to have any call.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

And Now
YOUR SHINGLES

Sterling Slate Top Asphalt Shingles

A Quality Product

Give your roof an attractive appearance. Requires no painting.

FIRE PROOF WEATHER PROOF

Made in Red or Green finish. Will last indefinitely.

SEE - US - TODAY

USE CARBORUNDUM SHARPENING STONES

NATHAN AMES
5 Granite St.

NOTABLE LAND SALE

By Order of Executors
AT PUBLIC AUCTION
On the Premises
Friday April 23, 1915
at 4 o'clock p.m.

"275 feet Frontage on Water St., main thoroughfare between South and West Quincy offers extensive Mercantile Development.

"420 and 305 feet Frontage on Roberts St. extension to be soon built, should command the attention of Manufacturers and others.

Several House Lots are accessible by Private Way from Granite Street.

Investors! Do You Believe in Quincy
Positive Sale. If you miss a bargain don't growl
Executors Estate W. S. Williams

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 92 QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY EVENING, APRIL 20, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

JAY WILLIAM HUDSON AT BIG PEACE MEETING

Large Audience Hear Stirring Address in First Parish Church

Dr. Jay William Hudson was the speaker at the peace meeting Sunday afternoon in the First Parish church. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Quincy Women's club, and was very largely attended. The address was preceded by a twenty minute musical program, under the direction of William E. Weston, by the Quincy Choral society, during which Keller's "Angel of Peace," a recessional from DeKoven, and a solo and chorus from "Gallia" with solo by Mrs. Edith Carey Page, were rendered.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, president of the Quincy Women's club, who briefly welcomed the large audience. "We all deplore the terrible war now going on in Europe, but we can not look for immediate peace. Wise ones tell us that it can not come until it comes to stay. In order that the men and women of Quincy may consider this problem we have been fortunate in having Mr. Hudson, the highest authority on the world peace movement, to speak to us on "The Program for a New World Order."

In opening the speaker said that the large audience on such a beautiful day was evidence of real interest in the New World Order program. He said:

"The war system as a means of settlement of disputes should go and a system of co-operation take its place. The idea of the militarists has been that the best way to prepare for peace is to prepare for war. They have had their way and the result is that something has happened. The whole prophesey of the military element has failed.

"The movement for the new world order began 100 years ago, yet we find the same madness to kill and destroy and the militarists tell us that the peace movement has failed. We have come to see that another Hague conference is necessary to bring about co-operation and a better international understanding. The program of the New World Order is for international understanding, morally, and in every thing that deals with the fundamental principals of life. This world peace order can not come by disarmament. The only way is to show them that they can get what they want without arms. It will be a long time before we get nations to love each other. That is not the real basis of international peace.

"The international program of all nations is that they may be able to read one or two foreign languages so that there has become an international effort of education. The peace movement, if it stands for anything, stands for the fact that no nation can hurt another nation without hurting every other nation, morally intellectually and financially. The first things that nations must secure to its citizens is a sound economic situation. War stops this co-operation. I believe every nation as long as the war system exists should be prepared for attack."

The speaker then went on to say that in a recent address by a congressman which he heard it was advanced that Great Britain would attack America and that we should be prepared. His program was to build four battleships a year. "Great Britain now has 42 battleships to our twelve and as the life of one of these great vessels is only 20 years, before they go into the scrap heap, how long is it going to take America to be prepared to meet her. In the mean time what would Great Britain be doing? I do not believe there is any danger of attack from her. The best way to fortify our Canadian frontier is by Fort Friendship, Fort Justice and Fort Understanding. I never dreamed such a wild dream that it was necessary for the United States to expend millions of dollars to fortify against an attack that may come 75 years from now.

"The question is asked who is to be the victor in this war? The answer is the nation that kills the most men and destroys the most property in the shortest possible time. The victor will then dictate the international law until some other nation comes along and proves that it can kill more and destroy more in a given time. The new world order will be enacted as we enact our state laws, simply for the welfare of the people. It does not mean that nations shall compromise. It simply means that we go as a nation and solve the problems in the line of justice. The world needs to be educated and the culture and financial situation must come by co-operation and understanding. We can do more toward moulding people of the world than any other nation. Like Lincoln we can honor the noble dead, and resolve that there shall be an awakening of the world into a new intellectual life and consciousness, that this war shall go down in civilization as the last war."

FRIENDS SURPRISE MISS ANDERSON

Miss Lillian Anderson of 35 Grant street was surprised Saturday evening when on answering the door bell she found forty or more friends assembled on the piazza. The occasion was the 18th anniversary of her birth.

The evening was spent in playing games, singing, etc. Miss Helen Lord in behalf of those present, presented her with a sum of money.

with a sum of money.

Towards the end of the evening a large birthday cake which was decorated with eighteen colored candles was cut and distributed among the guests. Hidden in this cake was a wedding ring and a thimble. Miss Ruth Johnson found the ring and Raybern Melendy the thimble.

Refreshments were served and the party broke up about midnight.

ATLANTIC HAS NEW PASTOR

At the concluding session of the New England Methodist Episcopal conference Monday the only change in Methodist Episcopal clergymen in Quincy as announced by Bishop William A Quayle was the appointment of Rev. W. D. Heaston, to the Atlantic Methodist Episcopal church. succeeding Rev. Mr. Pollard, who has not been assigned.

The degree staff of Quincy chapter, N. E. O. P., will hold a whist party and social in Electa hall, Wednesday eveninfi. Chester D. Brown is in charge and he is assisted by Mr. and Mrs. J. Thompson.

CONSULT ME

I can tell you your Past, Present and Future, advise you in your Business, tell you who are your friends, and help you recover lost articles. Private Readings Daily $1.00. Circle Readings Tuesday 3.00 and 8.00 P. M.. Developing Class Thursday 8.00 P. M.

Mrs. S. V. Odiorne

8 Mechanic St. off Revere Road

Tel. 1923 M or 327 M

LARGE NUMBER ATTEND SERVICE

A. J. Restelli Marries Miss Blanche Eva Rice Monday Morning

WELL KNOWN COUPLE

The marriage of Miss Blanche Eva Rice and Adolph J. Restelli, prominent vocalists of the city at St. John's church on Monday morning was one of the most brilliant affairs ever solemnized at the church.

Hundreds attended the nuptial high mass celebrated at nine o'clock by Fr. John J. Casey who also officiated at the marriage, and many attended the wedding breakfast at the bride's home after the ceremony.

Miss Minnie Rice, sister of the bride was the attendant and Joseph Mullen of East Milton was bets man. The two younger sisters Agnes, aged 8, and Mary, aged 6, were the flower girls. The ushers were George Rice, Romeo Ratti, Newton and Murdock McLeod.

The bride was dressd in white crepe meteor, en traine, with Dutch trimmings and lace dotted with orange blossoms. Her veil was caught up with orange blossoms and the shower bouguet was lilies of the valley and orange blossoms.

Her attendant wore yellow marquisette with satin trimmings and a white picture hat trimmed with yellow The little flower girls wore white. Each wore wreaths of lilies of the valley and carried large baskets of roses which they strewed along the aisles of the church in the path of the bridal party.

The single ring service was used and the music for the occasion was under the direction of John Mahon organist and rendered by the choir.

Hundreds thronged the church yard as the happy couple took their places in an automobile and were taken to the bride's home at 24 Standish avenue where the reception was held.

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. George N. Rice, parents of the bride and the immediate relatives of the froom. TThe wedding breakfast was served by caterers.

The house was decorated with hearts and flowers by Miss Nellie Desmond. White and wisteria colored crepe paper and ribbons extended from the chandeliers to all parts of the home and potted plants and palms banked the walls.

A large number of presents were exhibited to the guests, the gifts of many friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Restelli are well known in the city. Both have been members of the choir of St. John's church. They were introduced to each other last Christmas and their engagement was announced three weeks later. The bride was also one of the instructors of music at the St. John's parish' school.

Mr. and Mrs. Restelli are now on their honeymoon and on their return will make their home at 124 Independence avenue.

SERVICES FOR MR. WILLIAMS

Three branches of the Odd Fellows and many friends attended the funeral services of William J. Williams, a prominent resident of the city, held Monday afternoon from his home at 228 Granite street.

Services were conducted by Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, pastor of the First Parish church, and burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

The deceased was one of the best known of the local Odd Fellows, and delegations were present from Mt. Wollaston lodge, Manet Encampment, and George L. Gill Rebekah lodge. He leaves two children, Frederick D. Williams of the E. J. Murphy pharmacy and one daughter, Grace Williams.

TO WED THURSDAY.

Providence Mayor to Marry Miss McPherson.

The wedding of Mayor Grainer of Providence to Miss Christina McPherson of Quincy will be solemnized at St. John's church on Thursday. Because of a recent death in the family of the bride the wedding will be a very quiet affair with only a few relatives present.

Following the ceremony, Mayor Gainer and his bride will leave for a wedding trip and upon their return will occupy the home recently purchased by Mayor Gainer on Grotto avenue, Providence.

BUSINESS STOPS DURING FUNERAL

Many Attend Services For Chief Butler

Capt. Daniel R. McKay, Inspector Goodhue, Serg. John T. Larkin and 15 uniformed officers represented the Quincy police department Monday morning at the funeral of Chief of Police Patrick Butler, of Weymouth, who was killed by an automobile Thursday evening. The services were held at the Church of the Immaculate Conception at East Weymouth and out of respect to the departed chief business was generally suspended throughout the town, flags were half masted and the town officials were at the funeral services.

A solemn High Mass of Requiem was celebrated by Rev. Cornelius T. Reardon, pastor of the church, with Rev. Dennis J. Crimmins of South Weymouth as deacon and Rev. Maurice Lynch of Cambridge, as sub-deacon. The regular choir sang the Gregorian mass under the direction of Miss Nellie F. Noonan, organist. The ushers were Frank McCarthy, J. E. Mulligan, William J. Fitzsimmons, Walter Cronin, John McCarthy, and C. B. Mitchell.

The body was escorted from the home on Pleasant street by the fire and police departments and Weymouth Council, K. of C., of which Chief Butler's son is grand knight.

The pall bearers were Inspector Thomas Fitzgerald, Officers Arthur H. Pratt, George W. Nash, Lawrence A. Schofield, Charles Baker, Charles Trask, William Goggin and Albert Ford of the Weymouth police department.

The burial was at St. Paul's cemetery, Hingham, the body being escorted to the dividing line between Weymouth and Hingham by the societies.

FINISHES 16TH IN MARATHON

John Pasanen of the Finnish A. C. of West Quincy, was the only Quincy man to cross the tape in the annual B. A. A. marathon Monday. Pasanen finished 16th, in 3 hs. 2m., 10s., as against 2h. 31m. 41 2-5s. for Edouard Fabre, the winner. Pasanen is the second local boy to run the full distance, Fletcher T. Miller, the first; getting 11th and fourth place in his two attempts.

You need the Ledger every day.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

Anti-Suffrage Rally

New Colonial Hall, Quincy

Friday, April 23

At Eight O'clock

SPEAKER

Mrs. A. J. GEORGE

Field Secretary of the Massachusetts Anti Suffrage Association

Honorary Chairman, MRS. BROOKS ADAMS

VOTERS—Come and Hear Why Women Do NOT Want the BALLOT.

17-3t

LOYAL LADIES COSTUME BALL

Large Number Assist in Observance of 24th Anniversary Monday

MAYOR ONE OF JUDGES

The Loyal Ladies of Clan MacGregor of Quincy observed their 24th anniversary with a costume ball in Music hall on the holiday evening. A large number were present.

The awards for the various costumes were made to Miss Elizabeth Grassick, a knight; William Walker, a tin soldier; Mrs. John A. Clark, a unique costume; John Smith, humorous costume; Mrs. Martin Anderson, flower girl and Fred Barnicoat, dude. The variety of costumes was great.

The judges were Mayor Chester I. Campbell, City Clerk Emery L. Crane, John Roche, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Mackay, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Richards.

The costume march was headed by Mr. and Mrs. George Williams. The music for dancing was by the Granite City orchestra. The floor was in charge of Mrs. Katherine Williams, assisted by Miss Elizabeth Grassick. The reception committee was headed by Mrs. Margaret Ross, president; and Mrs. Bella Grassick, vice president. The committee of arrangements included Mrs. Effie Scarborough, Mrs. Margaret Mundie, Mrs. Bella Ross, Mrs. Margaret Hall, Mrs. Henrietta Marr, Mrs. Christina McLennan, Mrs. Katherine Williams, Mrs. Margaret Allen, Mrs. Mary Cowe and Miss Elizabeth Grassick.

The aids to the floor directors were Miss Evelyn Cowe, Miss Jennie Grassick, Miss Huenna McLeod, Miss Florence Williams, Mrs. Mabel Schofield and Miss M. Belle Stronach.

OPPOSES GUN SQUAD IN CITY

Rev. C. E. Campbell Preaches On War

Rev. Clarence E. Campbell of the First Presbyterian church on Sunday morning jolted the views of Congressman Gardner of Massachusetts when in an extensive discussion of war he condemned the formation of the proposed machine gun company in Quincy. His subject was "Basis of Militarism."

"The present is not the time to prepare for war," declared Rev. Mr. Campbell. "The way should be paved for the victories of peace. Our country is the only one of any consequence that will be at all strong when the war is over. The others will be nations who will not fight us because they will be battered to pieces in the long struggle and will be years recovering from the effects of the rigorous campaigns conducted and the bloody battles fought.

"The United States will be expected to lead the world in culture, progress, industry and commerce and rather than prepare to fight, the country should be preparing to take its proper place in the congress of nations, not as a belligerent power but as one whose good officers will bring about the happiness and well being of all the peoples who will suffer after the mighty struggle closes."

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

Quincy Branch Advertised letters, April 17, 1915:

Howard Anderson, Jos. F. Anderson, Joseph L. Berry, Pascuale Cagnetto, Cancetta Cirilla, Joe. Corrigan, Mrizzro Dianese, Mrs. Mabel Endrick, Adalph Ericsan, DeMaria Fedele, Dr. Harry P. Healy, Alex Kuris, Sakri Nelson, W. Noble, T. J. O'Brien, Gemm Padulo, J. Prawednek, F. Reyrea, Charles Samborn, George Snedden, D. B. Wells, Mrs. Xodckny.

CONGRESSMAN HOBSON SPEAKER AT BETHANY

Delivers Address In Favor of National Prohibition

An impressive plea for national prohibition was made in Bethany church Sunday morning by Congressman Richmond P. Hobson, known throughout the land for his heroic exploit in Santiago Harbor during the Spanish-American war and famed since that time as a member of Congress which he has addressed periodically in favor of national prohibition and in censure of what he terms the country's unpreparedness for war.

Contrary to what was probably the general expectation Captain Hobson's address was not of a fiery sort but was a calm, dispassionate setting forth of what he declared were cold facts, in part almost a scientific address. He held the close attention of his hearers throughout. At the close of Capt. Hobson's address Assistant Superintendent Lawton of the Anti-Saloon league pleaded for contributions and pledges.

Upon the question of war preparation Capt. Hobson touched but briefly saying:

"For many years I have felt sorry that our country was no better prepared to defend itself, should war be declared upon it by another nation," said Captain Hobson, in leading up to the danger he declared existed from alcohol. "Assuredly the time to prepare for war is not after a declaration of war.

"But although I realize the great power and armament represented, I would rather try to defend this country against the combined onslaught of England, France, Germany, Russia, Austria-Hungary, Japan and Italy, and take a chance on its being saved, than to allow it to be given over to the ravages of the liquor traffic. For the liquor traffic is our great internal enemy, and for us to allow it to go further, unchecked is to invite our national extermination.

"We Americans, among other effects for the war in Europe, are accustomed to marvel at its great cost. We lose sight of what alcohol costs us each year in this country in the lost efficiency of our working men. This amounts to 20 per cent. If it were not for the wasted effort caused by liquor drinkers our national production of wealth would be just 20 per cent more. Of figuring the cost of European war up to this date, alcohol and its waste makes us pay for the cost of just such an expensive war every year It is a great national menace, that has as great and as destructive a grip upon us as the institution of slavery had in 1860

The liquor traffic, according to the speaker, threatens the national extermination of the United States and would long ago have accomplished it were it not for the women This is one of the reasons why Capt. Hobson favors equal suffrage.

He spoke of the need of a constitutional amendment to stop the making of alcoholic liquors. Such an amendment would make a "sober nation by stopping the recruiting of youthful drinkers."

"The continuation and expansion of drinking in the nation is the result of the systematic debauching of the youth by the liquor interests for the purpose of gain. The moment you stop the profits in the business by stopping the sale, the business must die and the systematic debauching of the youth of this country must cease. Therefore the youth will grow up sober and in two generations we would be a perfectly sober nation.

"The major premise of those who oppose national prohibition is that alcohol is a food and its temperate use beneficial. As a matter of fact alcohol is a poison and its widespread moderate use is more harmful to society than the more limited excessive use.

"This question, fortunately, is not open for discussion. It is a matter of fact, not opinion. Liquor is produced by supplying food for ferment germs. The principal food for ferment germs is glucose. After devouring the food the germs give off gas and alcohol.

"Now Pasteur in his laboraties in Paris, settled this fact that alcohol is the toxic excretion of ferment germs. The law is universal that the toxic of one germ of life will poison itself and every form of life of a higher order. Alcohol toxin is therefore a poison to every form of life known to man, whether plant or animal. Alcohol is a pretoplasnic poison. I will not stop to describe the way it affects the organs and various tissues of the body. This toxin attacks the white corpuscles so they cannot transport the necessary oxygen to the system and then the whole system suffers. It especially preys upon the consumptive.

"From charts issued in both France and England furnished by the government authority, is shown the fact that out of every 1000 deaths 440 are pre-

(Continued on Page Six.)

THE WEATHER.

Monday, Patriot's Day, the weather was ideal, and many people improved the opportunity to do a little work about the house. Dead leaves were raked up, gardens spaded, and in many cases planting was done. Others spent the day in witnessing some of the various ball games, and those fortunate enough to own automobiles took the opportunity for a spin through the country. Top coats were discarded, as were also high shoes, and spring garments were the rule. All nature smiled and it seems as though real spring weather was at hand.

Continued fair weather is indicated for tomorrow, with moderate winds and seasonable temperature.

The temperature climbed to the 76 degree mark this noon. making today the warmest day at noon since Oct. 22, when the noon temperature was 71 degrees. The warmest day at noon in April last year was on April 19, when the noon temperature registered 82 degrees

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	4.55
Sun sets	6.32
Length of day	13.37
Moon rises	12.38
High water, A. M.	3.45
High water, P. M.	4.15
Days increase	4 hrs. 31 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	75 degrees
Apr. 20, 1914,	66 degrees
Apr. 20, 1913,	39 degrees
Noon Maximum 18 years—86
Noon Minimum 18 years—30

JOHNSON AND CO.'S PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT

Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel smoke.

IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.

Be Sure My Name is on The Band

Yours, JOHNSON

Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

ONE LAW FOR ALL.

Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott since his coming to Bethany church three years ago has never been afraid to hit out from the shoulder, to say what he meant no matter whom he might offend. His Sunday evening sermon, nearly the last one he will preach in Quincy, was no exception.

He energetically denounced Sunday tennis playing because, in his opinion, it was manifestly unfair to allow persons of influence to play tennis when persons without influence paid the penalty of "gaming on the Lord's Day."

A great many good persons believe that since Sunday is supposed to be a day of rest it is wicked to play games of any sort. A great many good persons, on the other hand, believe that for the mentally tired business man there is no rest so satisfying as a game of golf, or tennis, or baseball.

There is a great deal to be said on both sides. We do not fully agree with Mr. Willmott when he contends that there is something inherently wicked in playing games on Sunday. Under proper restrictions we feel it might sometimes be advisable.

His cheif attack was on the unfairness of drawing a distinction under the law between rich and poor. That his attack on this point was just and reasonable seems obvious. A democracy cannot live if it has a law for the rich and a law for the poor. Mr. Willmott might have dwelt not only upon the unfairness of such a distinction but he might well have pointed out its danger.

Any man who has used his eyes, his ears and his brain must be conscious of a bitterness upon the part of the so-called poorer classes toward those more fortunately endowed with this world's goods. Part of that bitterness is justified, part is not. At all events every thinking man must agree that it constitutes a real menace to the perpetuation of the democracy. If it continues unchecked the inevitable result is, at the best, Socialism, or, at the worst, Anarchy.

Obedience to the law of the land is essential to the life of any government. There is nothing which so engenders social bitterness as to see the law relaxed in the case of some, tightened with full severity in the case of others. The Italian arrested and fined for playing "Duck on the Rock" cannot have much respect for the law when he sees his richer neighbor playing baseball with impunity. He becomes bitter toward the law, toward the government which enacted it, and toward his richer neighbor.

Because a person thinks a law is bad or foolish or useless constitutes no reason for his disobeying it. The law was made by and for the community. If the members of a community become convinced that a law is bad they should seek to repeal it. It is the duty of citizens to obey the law; it is the duty of government officials to see that they do.

DESERVES TO BE READ.

The address in favor of National Prohibition by Congressman Richmond P. Hobson of Spanish War fame, delivered at Bethany church Sunday morning and printed in another column of this issue, deserves to be read. It will disappoint those who look for an eloquent denunciation of the wickedness of drinking, together with a fervent denunciation of the country's unpreparedness for war.

Upon the latter point the speaker touched in passing. As for eloquence, there was not so much of that as there was earnestness and sincerity. There was no spread eagle ranting, simply a calm exposition of the influence which alcohol exercises upon the race and upon the individual. The speaker gave the impression that he was stating cold, undeniable facts.

There is no point in seeking to analyze Capt. Hobson's speech in this column. What he said speaks for itself. It is at least entitled to a fair reading by citizens who must realize that the question is assuming more and more importance throughout the world and may, at no distant date, be incorporated in the platform of one of the major political parties.

The Ledger is gratified to note the increasing number of communications contributed to its letter box upon one subject or another. It betokens a healthy interest in current problems arising in this community. Signed letters upon matters of timely interest are always welcome. It makes not the slightest difference whether the writer happens to be in accord with the editorial policy of this paper.

And now, Mr. Mayor and gentlemen of the City Council, you having become accustomed to your new positions, isn't it about time to start some real road improvement work. Some of the streets of the city are a disgrace. That is not your fault, gentlemen, but it will be your fault if there is not an improvement before your term of office expires.

MISS MARY C. HARKINS.

Held Funeral Services For Young Woman.

Funeral services for Miss Mary C. Harkins, daughter of Mrs. Sarah and the late John Harkins and sister of the late Fr. Howland J. Harkins, were held Monday morning at St. John's church.

A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated with Fr. Michael J. Owens pastor, as celebrant, Fr John J. Casey deacon and Fr. Walter J. Quinlan, sub deacon. Seated within the sanctuary railing were Fr. P. J. Lyons, chaplain of the Carney Hospital of Boston and Mrs. Florence W. McCarthy of St. Cecelia's church, Boston and a former curate of St. John's parish. Members of the Sisters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul were also present.

The musical portion of the mass was sung by an augmented choir under the direction of John Mahan, organist and the soloists were Arthur Holmes, Marcus Mahan, Mrs. Mary Burns King and Miss Mary S. Lyons. There were many floral offerings. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery, West Quincy. The bearers were Peter M. Sullivan, John W. Burke, Jr. Frank Avery, Leo Ford, James Kelly and Alexander Thompson. The committal service at the grave was performed by Rev. Fr. Lyons of the Carney Hospital.

MONTREAL RUNNER WINS MARATHON

Boston Athlete Second In Grind From Ashland to Boston

Boston, April 20.—Eduoard Fabre, representing the Richmond Athletic club of Montreal, won the nineteenth annual Marathon race conducted by the Boston Athletic association. His time was 2:31:41 1-5.

Clifton Horne of Dorchester club, Boston, was second; time, 2:33:1. Sydney H. Hatch of the Illinois Athletic club, Chicago, was third; time, 2:35:47.

Although this was the first Marathon he had won, Fabre finished third in 1911, 2:29:22 1-5, which is faster by two minutes than his time this year. Fabre finished second last year in 2:25:16, or more than four minutes better than his latest time. Fabre lost seven and a half pounds during the race. He weighed 147 pounds when he started.

It is estimated that more than 300,000 saw the race of twenty-five miles from Ashland to the Boston Athletic association clubhouse on Exeter street.

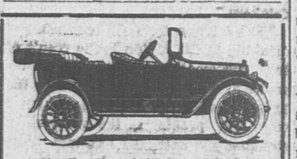

LIVELY STOCK MARKET

Records of Many Years Are Broken on New York Exchange

New York, April 20.—Stock transactions on the New York exchange broke all records of years. There were 1,552,900 shares trade in, according to the figures which came after the market closed.

Prices previously had in the instances of many issues touched their highest for the present bull movement. Then a rush to clean up profits caused a sharp reaction. A number of leaders lost all advances and sustained big losses.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

JACKSON
Model 46
THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL, SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER
"NO HILL TOO STEEP—NO SAND TOO DEEP"
Five Passenger Richly Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT
$1375
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

DENOUNCES PLAYING TENNIS ON SUNDAYS

Rev. B. A. Willmott Delivers 'Straight From Shoulder" Address

A fierce attack upon Sunday tennis playing in Quincy and a reputation of the insinuation that he, a minister, was "after the money" in accepting the call to Roxbury, featured the Sunday evening lecture of Rev. B. A. Willmott at Bethany church.

Mr. Willmott's subject was "The Pastor and the Church" and he opened by saying that he had only two more weeks as pastor of the Bethany church and that as he did not want to make any farewell address or sermon he was going to take this occasion to tell his people what he thought of them.

He illustrated his feelings in leaving the church by comparing them to his emotions when starting from England when he was a young fellow, scarcely sensing the fact that the ties were really being broken.

He then spoke of how dear his people had become to him and how he had tried to bring them the truth, even sometimes when it hurt if it were for their good.

He forcibly and passionately denounced again the Sunday tennis-playing, and said he always should attack that. He said Bethany's pulpit had always stood for justice, and therefore he hated, abhorred and condemned a practice that so stretched the law of the land that it allowed the rich, who had six other days in the week to play tennis, to game on Sunday, and arrested the poor Italian for a similar offence. He said the gaming had started already this spring, and that he had a newspaper clipping saved at home telling about some Italians arrested a few Sundays ago for "gaming on the Lord's Day."

He then went on to say that there was a higher law than man's that was being broken and that was in the decalogue. What right has man to take nine of God's laws and obey them but to cast out the tenth and disregard it, he asked.

He remarked feelingly about the strong ties and love he had for his people, but said that most of all he would miss the Sunday evening gatherings. He told of how the Christian Endeavor rallying around the new pastor had a large share in making these meetings the power for good he had reason to believe they were. He paid high tribute to the girls who had so faithfully sung in the choir each Sunday evening and then he spoke about his seventy-odd boys whom he had learned to love so well. He said he hoped the church realized that they had the finest, cleanest, manliest group of boys he had ever seen.

He caused amusement when he said he liked girls all right but he couldn't get along with them. He could give a boy a good, rousing scolding, and love him all the more, but when he thought he saw tears starting in a girl's eyes, he just had to tell her everything was all right.

For the people of the church themselves he had the highest praise. He said they had really been too good to him, and would spoil him if he stayed longer.

"What I say now," he said, "is not in defense of myself, for I never feel that I have to defend my actions to you, but in defense of the ministry. It has come to my ears that some men have said, , 'Oh, Mr. Willmott's just like the rest of us,—he's after the money.' Gentlemen, a minister is the most sacrificing, unselfish man in the world."

He said that a minister gave seven years' preparation, with the thought firmly in his mind that he never would be rich; that he would never get much more than a mere living. He said that when he entered the ministry he gave up all idea of riches, that he was in it for the God-given good he could do.

He then told of some ministers whom he heard remark how foolish he was to give up the Quincy church for such a difficult one as Roxbury. He told them that he did love Quincy's church and people, but felt Roxbury needed him, and that it was his duty to take that task upon his shoulders.

He goes to his new field with the desire of conquest, and if he fails he does not fail alone because he is going with God's help. If he fails he fails trying.

He ended his talk by again expressing his affection and loyalty to his people, and with a few words of advice concerning their attitude to their new pastor.

G. A. R. RELIEF ASSOCIATION

Treasurers Reports About Five Hundred Dollars Raised

The directors of the G. A. R. Relief association met in the council chamber Saturday evening and received reports from several of the coletlcors Treasurer Walter E. Piper reported that approximately $500 had been contributed.

Past Commander Marston of Post 88, G. A. R. suggested that the directors consider the acquisition of a dwelling house on Hancock street, near the present headquarters, as a desirable way of caring for the post and the directors in executive session voted to inspect the property at an early date.

SMITH—SEARS.

Alexander M. Smith Weds Miss Lillian A. Sears.

Miss Lillian A. Sears and Alexander M. Smith of Quincy were married Sunday afternoon. The bride, formerly of Milford was married by her former pastor, the Rev. Mr. H. S. Fister.

The bridal party left in a touring car at twelve noon arriving at Milford at three. A collation was served at the parsonage. Returning home at six a wedding supper was served at the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Sears at Washington street, Quincy Point.

She was the recipient of many beautiful gifts, among them a silver service from the best man, Charles Moyle of Quincy. The bridesmaid was Miss Beatrice Lee of South Boston. After supper a reception was given to the bridal couple by the bride's parents at their home.

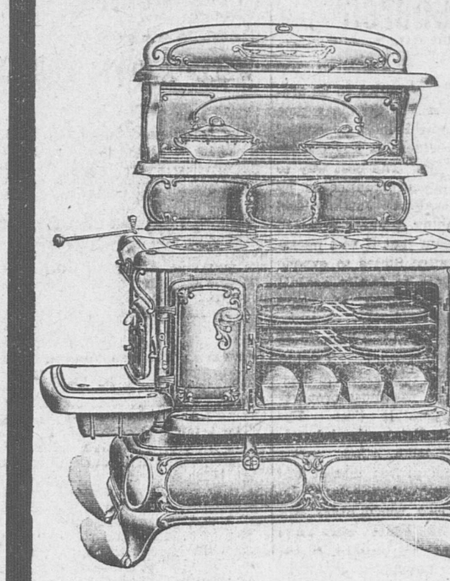

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S
Tel. 2007-W Quincy

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE
Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit
WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS
Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.
Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys
1506-1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block
Jan. 26-tu.-th.-s.-tf

Glenwood
The Range that "Makes Cooking Easy"

It Pays To Buy Good Things
Don't try to keep house without a Glenwood
H. L. Kincaide & Co., Quincy

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

THAT SQUANTUM LIBRARY.

Editor of the Ledger:

My attention is called to an article in the Ledger of Friday, stating that the trustees of the Thomas Crane Public Library "oppose" the plan to establish a public library at Squantum. This article does these gentlemen injustice, so perhaps you will kindly allow me to state the facts.

Some months ago I applied to Mr. Andrew Carnegie for a library and building similar to one given to a city in Illinois costing about $15,000, a photograph of which was sent to me by the friend who secured the building from Mr. Carnegie.

The building was built of granite, about 30 by 60 in size, and was so handsome that it occurred to me as Squantum has no library privileges that it would be pleasant to see such a building erected at Squantum.

I accordingly wrote to Mr. Carnegie and at once received a reply enclosing the usual blank to be filled out in making such requests, and one of the questions to be answered—No. 9 on the blank was the following: "What amount will the city council pledge from taxation, for annual support of Library, if building is obtained?" It is obvious that it is necessary for Mr. Carnegie to receive such information.

I accordingly referred the matter to his honor, Mayor Campbell, who was of the opinion that the matter should be referred to the Board of Trustees of the Thomas Crane Public Library, asking for their co-operation. The reply received from A. N. Murray states that "at the last meeting of the Library trustees it was the sense of the trustees that this matter did not call for any action on their part. The Carnegie information blank emphasizes answer to question 9, as the prime essential for consideration of the application, and of course that is a point in which the Library Trustees have no power. All of which is quite true. It seems to me, therefore, that this is a matter where Squantum should be allowed to act independently.

Few people in Quincy realize the absolute lack of many of the ordinary comforts of civilization in Squantum, which has always, until the past few years, been persistently neglected by the City Authorities of Quincy. Squantum now is growing rapidly. We have here over 100 young children—young men and girls growing up without a library or reading room to which to go on winter evenings. Such a place would be of inestimable value to the young people.

Why should not Squantum be permitted to have such a building?

If I am able to secure a suitable lot of land free of cost to the city of Quincy, and the Carnegie Corporation will give us a library and building to cost approximately $15,000, it seems to me that an appropriation for the maintenance of such a building should be provided for by the city.

I feel quite sure that the Trustees of the Thomas Crane Public Library are too liberal minded to offer any opposition to the establishment of a Public Library at Squantum and would gladly help us if they could.

I feel also sure that if his honor, the Mayor, thinks best to bring this to the attention of the council that some suitable action may be taken. Of course, it would probably be two years before any appropriation for the maintenance of the Library building would be needed. Meanwhile I hope we shall meet Mr. Carnegie halfway in the matter, so that the city of Quincy may receive as a gift a library building for Squantum of which we shall all be proud.

Mrs. L. B. Titus.

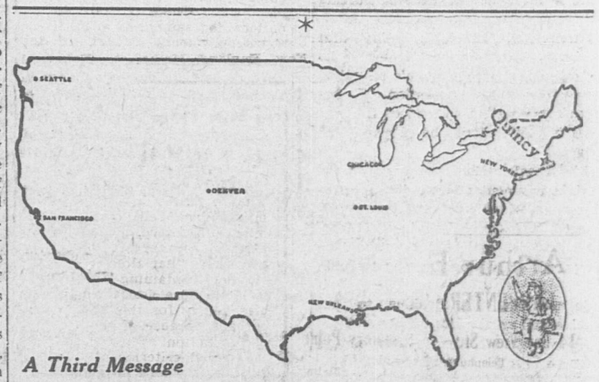

TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS.

Following are the subscribers connected with the Quincy Exchange for week ending April 17.

1600 Rich, E. A., Winslow road.
1974W Bond, F. H., 52 Park street.
2099W Brady, M. J., 4 Newhall street.
1199W Coleman, M. J,, Bellevue avenue
1212W Irving, Thos. H., 47 E. Elm avenue
1561W Rilcup. E. J. 275 Manet avenue.
1675M Whittam. Arthur. 57 Phillips street.
324-5 Balkam, Gilbert, 210 Arlington street
346M Emerson. Wm. H., Walker street.
1107M Phelps, Ida F., Mrs. 127 Huckins avenue.
1579M Walker. H. B., 162 Beach street
1702J Thurber, Walter 214 Highland avenue.
1955W Crawley. A. E., 123 Merrymount road.
1958 Welsh, H. J., 354 Hancock street.
1973W Davis, W. W. 160 Davis street.
539M Hackelton, C. E., 51 Marlboro street.
1163-3 Foster, Arthur B., 14 Bay View street.
1258W Smith, T. 10 Tirrell stret.

THISTLE CLUB.

Final preparations have been made for the dancing party of the Thistle club. The affair will be held Thursday evening in Alpha hall, and guests will be present from neighboring towns. The floor will be in charge of Miss Marion Mathieson, assisted by Miss Grace Lennon, and the following aids: Misses Florence Williams, Elizabeth Grassick, Katherine Williams, Jeannie Grassick, M. Belle Stronack, Evelyn Cowe, Huena MacLeod, Mabel Schrofield, Catherine Yule.

A Third Message
To the Business Men of Quincy

Prosperity and local pride are twins. They are born at the same time and grow up together. Enthusiasm for the home town is a great thing for local business men. Once developed, this feeling shows direct returns in more sales and bigger profits.

Have you ever seen a shabby town proud, or prosperous? Good paint is a powerful factor in keeping prosperity after a community has won it.

We sell and recommend

Beyer-Bauman White Lead
(Dutch Boy Painter Trade Mark)

as the base of "quality-first" paint. Put some "lead-and-oil" paint to work for you and your business. Call us up. We sell all good painting requisites.

WILLIAM WESTLAND

FIRST PARISH.

"Is Christianity Practicable" was the subject of the sermon of Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson Sunday morning. It was a forcible address during which the speaker argued that a minister could be a man as well as a minister. He said that Christianity which could not be applied to everyday business life was not Christianity. The speaker also had a word to say about Billy Sunday, declaring that his attack on Unitarianism had reacted. He said that many who had never attended the Unitarian churches had done so after the attack of Billy Sunday and that they found the churches so much to their liking that they had become constant attendants. While it was doubtless true that many had walked down the saw dust paths it was not evidence that they had become converted or that they would remain so. Many had evidently gone forward in the spirit of fun.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST.

Four young men, student volunteers brought inspiration and blessing to the Wollaston Baptist church through all the services of the day.

The theme of the morning, "The Present Crisis," was divided into four parts, each young man taking a part. An interesting talk was given in the various departments of the Sunday school and also at the C. E. meeting. The evening service opened with singing by the choir and prayer by the pastor, Rev. Joseph Walther, after which the subject: John 3:16 was discussed by the young men in the same manner as the subject of the morning each man taking a different thought to speak upon.

Thursday evening at 7.45 the annual meeting and guest night of the Nearer and Farther Lights society will be held in the chapel.

Wednesday afternoon at 3.00 the annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society will be held with Mrs. Eben Hardy, 28 Wollastonf avenue.

Thursday afternoon, at 4.00, the pastor's class in the Fundamental Principles of the Christian Faith will meet in the chapel.

Thursday evening at 7.45 the regular meeting for Praise, Prayer and Testimony will be held in the Chapel. Bro. Vernon A. Field of this church will speak on "Items of Missionary Interest."

PARK AND DOWNS.

Wednesday 2.30 sharp, Woman's Guild—a great Missionary will tell about her work after which refreshments will be served. Friends are invited.

Friday at 8 P. M. the Wollaston Glee club will give a concert at the church under the auspices of the Men's Forum.

The sermon Sunday morning by the pastor Rev. William B. Ayers, was on the subject "Spring as a Revealer of God." Nature is eloquent, she has no language of words but by a multitude of forces she beckons man to search her out, to investigate, analyze and discover herwondrous secrets. She has not spoken her lessons by any sarcrilous tongue to the ear of man. He followed the animal in spring and saw him eat the herbs and the bark which cured its diseases and saved it from the deadly contagion. Wherever he traced nature he found mind at work, he found beneficence—he heard a voice.

What seemed empty and silent and cruel became vocal and warm, merciful and loving. No teacher has ever given by word of mouth a greater revelation of his mind and heart than nature, springtime and life gives to us of the heart of God: that Great Loving, Compassionate Heart that back of all the universe beats out love.

In the evening the pastor gave the second talk on Japan. He traced a thousand years of Japanese history.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN

The Sunday school teachers will attend a conference of the Sunday schools in Wollaston this evening at 7:45 in the Methodist church.

The Unitarian Sunday school union meets in Arlington street church Boston, Wednesday, at 6 P. M. Speaker: Rev. Samuel McChord Crothers D. D. Eubject: "The Ethics of Jesus."

A silver tea wil be held at the home of Mrs. Albert R. Moulton, 260 Safford street, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock for the benefit of the parish house fund.

The Sunday school teachers will have a conference Thursday evening, in the church vestry.

The dedication of the parish house takes place Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Among those that participate in the exercises are the Rev. Edward A. Horton, chaplain of the Massachusetts Senate, Rev. A. L. Hudson of Quincy, W. A. Sayward, President of Norfolk Conference of Unitarian churches, his honor Mayor Campbell of Quincy; the Rev. Samuel A. Eliot, president of the American Unitarian association. Hon. Eugene H. Sprague representing the church; Charles T. Baker, representing the building committee and the minister, Rev. Carl G. Horst. Special muisc will be rendered by the Girl's choir, the Church Quartet and others. All who consider the Wollaston Unitarian church their church-home are cordially invited. Refreshments will be served at the close of the exercises.

The pastor will preach upon "The Theatre, Card Playing and Dancing" next Sunday morning.

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL

Dr. Sneath spoke Sunday morning upon the topic "The X-Rays of the Spiritual Life", using Luke 12:2 as the foundation of his discourse "There is nothing covered that shall not be revealed neither hid that shall not be made known." The discovery of the heat rays and the later invention of the X-Ray machine has proven a valuable agency in surgery, science and in detective work. The fundamental principle is the revealing of the invisible by means of the invisible.

By analogy we have the same principle in the spiritual life. We are coming to realize that the Christian principal that character will reveal itself in time and in eternity is a rational principal and a true one. There are the X-Rays of the conscience, of the Holy Spirit and of the unseen and eternal life, all of which operate upon the principal of revealing the invisible by means of the invisible. It is also worth perceiving that the invisible alone has enduring worth. It is through the unseen rays of heat that we have life and so through the unseen forces of the spiritual world do we have eternal life.

NOTICES FOR THE WEEK

The last social of the season will be held on Wednesday at 6:30, when supper will be served. Afterward Miss Louise Thornton, reader and impersonator will entertain.

On Thursday evening at the mid-week service the topic will be "I will praise" Psalm 9, and the service will be a praise meeting.

Dr. Sneath will speake at the spring conference of the Suffolk South association in Canton on Wednesday afternoon upon the topic "Treatment of Absent and Delinquent Members."

SPIRITUALIST SOCIETY.

Mrs. S. V. Odiorne, presiding, services opened with song service, bible reading and prayer. Mr. Y. H. Roscoe of Providence, R. I., was the speaker and those present heard a beautiful intellectual and inspiring lecture on "Spiritualism, Its Truths and Benefits." Messages from the loved ones were voiced by Mr. Roscoe and Mrs. Thompson of Boston and all went away pleased with the evening's work. A fair and entertainment will be held on May 10th. Donations for same received at No. 8 Mechanic street.

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING
WALL PAPER FOR SALE
KUSTAA RASANEN
121 Copeland St., West Quincy
Tel. Con. 19-tf

Arthur B. Foster
CARPENTER and BUILDER
14 Bay View St., Quincy Point
Telephone Connection 31-1m

BE WISE
FOOL THE FLIES
HAVE YOUR SCREENS
RE-COVERED NOW
TELEPHONE OR WRITE
HOLMES & HALL
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1690 W

The PROBLEM of GOOD MILK

All persons do not understand what is meant by good, safe milk. Some believe that the milk with a deep cream line is desirable, whereas, the Doctor knows that Holstein Milk, although containing little cream is often more desirable for babies, partly for this reason, or perhaps because of the method of production.

The real criterion of a good milk is its wholesomeness. This depends upon the conditions at the dairy, and the special care given it until it reaches the consumer. Scrupulously clean and healthy cows, clean and healthy dairymen, rapid cooling, and protecting the milk, constant dairy and laboratory inspection are required. Furthermore safety is assured when the dealer pasteurizes his supply.

THE ELM FARM MILK COMPANY OF DORCHESTER offer pure Family Milk, and exceptional Nursery Milk at prices often charged for ordinary milk. Speak to the salesman, or call Dor. 2100. 6-1 mo.

TWO SISTERS ARE MARRIED

McCarthy Sisters Both Wed Saturday

The parsonage of the Wollaston Baptist church was the scene of a double marriage Saturday evening when Miss Annie Beatrice McCarthy of 4 Old Colony avenue became the bride of Joseph C. Guivens of 18 Furnace Brook parkway and her sister, Sarah Virgie McCarthy became the bride of Norman W. Pemberton of 4 Old Colony terrace.

Rev. Joseph Walther officiated at the services which were performed in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends. Both couples were unattended. A reception took place at the home of the brides and the happy couples are now on a honeymoon. They will live in Quincy.

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

Miss Edith C. Johnson, Miss Inez Carder, Miss Agnes McAndrew, Chester Carder and Gordon Lewis of the First Baptist church, C. E. society, attended the Norfolk county C. E. convention held on Patriot's Day at the Norwood Congregational church.

Miss Margerite Atkinson of Scott's Woods received a bad blow in the head at the Milton-Weymouth game Monday afternoon. She was watching the game when a wild throw from Luce hit her right above the nose and rendered her unconcious for several minutes. Luckily Dr. Rowe was present and soon revived her so that she was able to go to her home.

The tennis courts at Cunningham park reopened on the holiday and many people enjoyed this sport for the first time this season.

William J. Martin is having a new double house constructed on Pleasant street.

The Academy baseball nine opened its season Saturday afternoon and won 1—0, after an eleven inning game. The opposing team was that of Thayer Academy of Braintree. "Fat" Clark made a three base hit in the eleventh and knocked in Hutchinson for the winning run.

The Wide Awake class of the First Baptist church S. S. met Saturday evening at the home of the teacher, Mrs William B. Batchelder, Huntington road.

The Milton Equal Suffrage league has been very fortunate in securing Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of New York to speak here on Monday evening, May 3 at the town hall. His subject will be: "Democracy and Equal Suffrage."

The next meeting of the Belcher school association will be held on Tuesday evening, May 2 in the school hall. Miss Mabel E. Turner, instructor in gardening in the public schools of the town, will give an illustrated lecture on her work.

At the First Baptist church Sunday morning the sermon theme was, "The Prayer of Faith." At the session of the S. S. Ladies' and Girls' Day" was observed and the ladies succeeded in being in the lead with a majority of three. Mrs. William B. Batchelder led the C. E. society meeting her subject being. "One Day in Seven for the Highest Things." In the evening the pastor preached on "The Devil." A newly organized boy's choir furnished music for the service.

Rev. A. D. Smith of the Centre Congregational church preached at the East church Sunday morning in exchange with the pastor. Rev. John M Trout. The first in the series of services for young people was held at 7 o'clock in the vestry with the Kemp class in charge. At the evening service a fitting observance of the fiftieth anniversary of Lincoln's death was held. The pastor's sermon theme was: "Lincoln Fifty Years After."

The estate of the late Granville Webster on Adams street bordering the Quincy line, is now for sale.

FRAZER—FRANZI.

Albert Frazer of Shaw street, East Braintree, and Miss Emma Franzi of Hall place this city were married Sunday evening at the parochical residence of St. Mary's church by Fr. Thomas R. McCoy. The couple left for a short wedding trip and on their return will reside on Hobart street, East Braintree.

The sewing circle of Rebecca Wiswell, camp 52 D. of V. will meet Wednesday with Laura Connell at 2 Bradford street.

MEN COOKS AT CLUB SUPPER

A special open meeting of the Men's club of the Swedish Lutheran church was held at the church Monday evening and it proved to be most enjoyable. During the first part of the evening a pleasing entertainment was enjoyed by the large number present, the program including selections by an orchestra, vocal solos by Fritz Swanson, organ solo by Mr. Preston, double quartette from the Men's club, and readings by Nils Linquist and Raymond Swanson.

There was also an interesting address by Rev. E. H. Cornell of South Manchester, Conn., whose topic was "The Strength of Union Work." The pastor, Rev. Hokenson, also gave a brief address.

At the conclusion of the evening's program a lunch was served by the men. In this respect it might be said that this was an occasion where the women sat quietly by and saw the men in their white caps and aprons set the tables and serve the food which they had prepared without the aid of women's hands and which the latter pronounced excellent.

SUMMARY OF MONDAY SPORTS

BASE BALL RESULTS.

B. C. Hight 8—Brockton 1.
South Boston H. S. 1—Dedham 0.
Alumni 15—Braintree H. S. 10.
Weymouth H. S. 4—Milton 1.
Arlington H. S. 14—Thayer 6.

BOXING.

Langford—Flynn, chased from ring
Jeanette gives Brook K. O.
Mandot beat Drouillard.
Mike Glover put out Uvanni.
Mickey Brown and Tom Shea, draw.

BILLIARDS.

Cutler 300, Julius Klinger 218.

SOCCER.

Gen. Elec 5, Brockton 1.
Bethlehem 1, Rovers 0.

GARLAND—BARBER.

Miss Barber Weds Connecticut Clergyman.

Miss Julia Arnold Barber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Arnold Barber of Atlantic, and a graduate of the Quincy High school in the class of 1907, was united in marriage Monday evening to Rev. John Louis Garland, pastor of the Georgetown, Conn., Congregational church. The ceremony took place at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. John L. Merrill at Wollaston, the home of the bride's sister, Rev. R. F. Holway, D. D. pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, at Northampton, officiating. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The Rev. Dr. Garland, is a native of Newfoundland. He prepared for the ministry at Wilbraham Academy, studied at the Boston University and Drew Theological Seminary and concluded his theological studies at Yale.

WILL DISCUSS "BIRTH OF NATION"

The motion picture, "The Birth of a Nation," will be discussed by prominent men at the meeting of the South Quincy Brotherhood in the vestry of the First Presbyterian church this evening. Alexander Cowe, detailed to see the film, will make his report. Among the speakers will be John D. Mackay, chairman of the school committee.

APPOINTS RESERVE OFFICER.

Mayor Campbell has advised Acting Chief McKay that Lawrence Galvin has been appointed a reserve officer of the police force. Patrolman Galvin is one of the younger men on the department and is very popular with his associates. His promotion follows a two years' service of merit.

Baked with great care and wrapped in Wax Paper. Dust and flyproof between our bakery and your table. Ask for it.
YOUR GROCERS SELL IT
PEATT BREAD CO.
3190 Washington Street, Boston

Heed Nature's Danger Signals

Nature gives warning in an unmistakable way every time an organ is disordered or some part of your system is weak and ailing and out of harmony.

If you heed her warning and immediately right the condition, you will suffer only the temporary discomfort. Disregard the warning, and the small ill may develop into a big and serious one.

Sick headache, sallow skin, dull eyes, disturbed sleep, languor, and skin eruptions are sure signs that there is some disturbing element that should be removed.

Take BEECHAM'S PILLS

Act Promptly

—take Beecham's Pills, and these symptoms will quickly disappear, proving that the cause has been removed. Beecham's Pills are a safe, quick and sure remedy for disordered stomach, sluggish liver, inactive bowels, indigestion, or kidney trouble the source of most of your ills.

Beecham's Pills clear the system of impurities, stimulate the liver and leave the organs of digestion in a strong, healthy condition. They are carefully prepared from a happy combination of the products of several medicinal herbs. Equally efficient for men, women and children.

They have proven their value as a reliable household remedy in sixty years' use throughout the world. Keep a box on hand—take them to

Prevent Serious Illness

At All Druggists, 10c., 25c.

Directions of special value to women with every box

PERMITS FOR BUSINESS BLOCKS

In the list of building permits issued last week by Inspector of Buildings Thomas are two business blocks, one on Hancock street near St. Chrysostoms church and one at Brewer's corner. In addition to these a number of permits were issued for new dwellings.

The new business block on Hancock street is at No. 505 to be built by M. E. Fitzpatrick, the size of the building being 32 by 35 feet. Mr. Fitzpatrick is also to build two dwellings one at 507 and the other at 509 Hancock street.

Shirley F. Nutting has taken out a permit for a store at Brewer's corner on Copeland street, the size to be 28 by 43 feet. The permits issued this week were as follows:

Charles H. Wilson, garage, Saville street.

Mrs. Mary E. Paul, dwelling, Bellevue road.

H. B. Chapman, dwelling, Hamilton street.

Charles O. Keltz, store, Sea street.

Daniel F. Fitzgerald, polishing mill, Miller street.

Carl Berger, garage, School street.

Henry F. Graham, garage, Ferndale road.

Charlotte M. Winnett, dwelling, Littlefield street.

Maude N. Vinton, addition, Crosby street.

Edmund G. Hayden, garage, West street.

Harry Schwartz, store, Sumner street.

John Pyyny, dwelling Williams court.

Albert W. Wilscher, hen house, Arnold street.

L. Grossman & Son, garage, Federal avenue.

M. E. Kilpatrick, store, Hancock street.

M. E. Kilpatrick, two dwellings, Hancock street.

George F. Sawyer, Jr., dwelling and garage, Ocean street.

A. G. Ahlstrom, dwelling, Huntly road.

Mrs. Florence W. Starr, dwelling, River road.

Edith C. Williamson, dwelling, Beach street.

Agostino Carzonigo, dwelling, Columbia street.

Leroy M. Hill, garage, W. Elm avenue.

A. M. Sandell and E. A. Sequist, addition, Bell street.

Israel Landry, dwelling, Adams street.

C. D. Smith, dwelling, Bird street.

S. F. Nutting, store, Copeland street.

Charles W. Jones, garage, Grand View avenue.

N. K. Morton, garage, Brunswick street.

LIVELY BLAZE IN MARSHES.

The alarm from Box 119 at 1.52 Monday afternoon was for a lively blaze in the marshes at Rock Island. The Houghs Neck apparatus was called to the fire on a still alarm and was at work when someone rang the alarm. The fire was getting near some of the cottages and the firemen put in nearly an hour's hard work before the fire was out.

Earlier in the morning the Quincy Point apparatus went out on a still alarm for a grass fire on Chubbuck street.

SIGNS THERE AGAIN.

Not So Light As Old Ones However.

"Go Slow Keep to the Right" are the way the heavy signs read that were placed at important street junctions in City square this noon. The signs which replace those used a few weeks ago are heavy resting on a solid base so that they will not be easily overturned. On the top of the post is a broad sign painted red with large white letters.

CUSHING TO SPEAK.

The last meeting of the season of the First Parish club, as well as the annual meeting, will be held Tuesday evening, with dinner at 6.30. The speaker of the evening will be Lieut. Gov. Grafton D. Cushing, who will discuss the tax situation in Massachusetts, which is now working such an injustice to cities like Quincy with a high tax rate.

COMPLETE ARRANGEMENTS.

National President Will Address Hibernians.

James McLaughlin, national president of the A. O. H. will lecture in Quincy Adams hall, Franklin street on Sunday afternoon, May 2d. The lecture will be for the members of the division and auxiliaries of Quincy and surrounding towns.

The arrangements were made at a meeting of the officers of the Norfolk county organizations last Sunday afternoon. President McLaughlin, within a short time will travel to the Pacific coast, lecturing on Hibernianism in all of the larger cities. His ultimate destination is the Panama Exposition where he will be a guest of honor.

EDWARD J. FECAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
830 A. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Room 8 BURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK
QUINCY.

CARPENTER AND BUILDER
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
All Work Given Prompt Attention
W. R. LOFGREN
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 398-3

GOAL
ANNOUNCEMENT

April 1, 1915.

Full coal bins are a source of real satisfaction. We are filling our bins as rapidly as possible with FRESH MINED COAL. By placing your order now YOU can take advantage of the LOW PRICES announced in the schedule below. Coal will positively ADVANCE IN PRICE later. There will be no Further Reduction.

We should be glad to call and talk Coal with you if you will notify us.

PRICES FOR CASH

Franklin Egg and Stove	$8.50 per ton
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75 per ton
Shamokin Stove	7.50 per ton
White Ash Broken	6.50 per ton
White Ash Egg	7.25 per ton
White Ash Stove	7.25 per ton
White Ash Nut	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Broken	6.75 per ton
Lehigh Egg	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Stove	7.50 per ton
Pea	5.50 per ton

25 cents per ton extra where coal is carried in. Orders taken for these Prices are for delivery by July 1, 1915.

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc

FIELD DAY HELD BY BOY SCOUTS

Quincy Troops Compete at Milton

Several hundreds of people attended the annual field day of the ninth greater Boston district of the boy scouts of America held Monday afternoon on the Milton academy field. About 200 scouts representing Quincy, Hyde Park, Dedham and Milton participated in the events.

Assembly was blown at 2.45 o'clock. This was followed by a general review of all troops, followed by a rally round the judges' stand and the recital in unison of scout law and oath. Troop 3 of Milton gave a fine staff drill followed by some excellent tumbling on the part of William Lewis, Samuel Rogers and Malcolm Joe of Troop 4 of Milton. The exhibition of signal towers by Troop 2 of Dedham was greeted with loud applause.

The setting up drill presented by troop 3 of Quincy was a strenuous one. Ralph Calwall and Louis Epstein of Troop 1 of Milton were unable to build a fire without matches but credit is due them for their persistent efforts. The litter drill of Troop 2 of Dedham showed their excellency in that line of work.

The competitive games were the most interesting and resulted in a victory for Troop 4 of Milton which made four points out of a possible eight. Troop 3 of Milton came in second with two points and Troops 4 of Quincy and 2 of Dedham received one apiece.

The games and winners were: Chariot race, Troop 4 of Quincy, R. Coombs Ruggles, Winners, Barclay, and Burr; Dressing race, first Lawrence Claire of Troop 4 of Milton, second, Eliot Johnson of Troop 4 of Milton; Water boiling, first, Lesther Evans and Theodore Collins of Troop 2 of Dedham, second, Arthur Thompson and Kenneth Stuart of Troop 3 of Milton; Antelope race, first, Troop 4 of Milton. Lewis, Howe, Clarke, Hollidge, Clapp, Turner, Joe and Ellsworth, second, Troop 4 of Quincy, Ruggles, Coombs, Winters, Burr, Kennedy, Barclay, Pember and Heap; Semaphore signalling, Troop 4 of Milton, senders, Holmes and Turner, receivers, Cappers and Ellsworth. The message was:—"Send four scouts."

Tug of war, Troop 3 of Milton after three tugs with Troop 4 of Quincy was awarded the first prize, the Milton team included: W. Hecker, K. Hecker, Addison, K. Stuart, W. Stuart H. Howe, Bryant, Appollonio, Watson, and Cross, the Quincy team included: Ruggles, Coombs, Rich, Winters, Burr, Brown Younge Ross Barclay and Pember; International Morse signalling Troop 3 of Milton, senders W. Hecker and Appollonio. The message was: "See the pine tree across the lake;" Fireman's life distance 100 yards Troop 4 of Milton, Ellsworth and Clapp.

PLAY FIRST GAME.

The North Quincy Athletic club played its first game of the season Patriots day with the Crescent A. A. of Roxbury at Ward Six playground winning by a score of 6 to 0.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is liked by the most discriminating people. Grocers sell it.

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter-s Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER-S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton Proctor
Studio Instructions
Par-Excellence
Private or Class Lessons
Street Floor, Greenleaf Block
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
Piano Voice
Tel. 539-M 31-tf

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.
will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.
OFFICE AT
96 WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY
Tel. 618

ST. JOHNS B. B. TEAM WINNER

The St. Johns Junior Base Ball team opened its season on Patriot's Day by defeating the Bisons of Lynn at the Ward Three playground by a score of 11 to 3. Mahoney starred for the winners at third base. Abbott played the best game for the losers in the catcher's position. The score by innings:

St. John's	6	4	0	0	0	1	0	0	x	—11
Bisons	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	0	0	— 3

Batteries—Swain, Curtin and Di-Sense; Newton, Orde and Abbott. Umpires, Charles Knight and "Scrappy" DeCoste.

HOLD SPECIAL TANDEM MATCH

Icenhower and Hamilton lost to Coates and Farrell by 63 pins in a special tandem match at Wardwell alleys on the holiday. The score was 1898 to 1835. The strings:

Coates	94	92	106	83	100
	104	98	85	96	90	—942
Farrell	106	83	94	102	107
	88	74	93	100	89	—956
Icenhower	67	113	96	91	99
	74	86	78	88	76	—868
Hamilton	112	102	93	87	106
	107	89	75	90	96	—967

DENY DEFEAT.

Manhattans Say Granites Did Not Win Series.

The Manhattans take exception to the published report of their bowling match, giving the victory and series to the Granites in Wednesday night's Ledger, and in a vigorous letter closing with "I think the Granites owe the Ledger an apology." issue a challenge for a match for $50.

The letter is the first of its kind received this season and is as follows:

Sporting Editor Ledger:

Dear Sir:—In the Ledger of April 15, we read that the Granite A. C. of West Quincy defeated the Manhattans by a wide margin. I would like to ask the Granites, through your paper, if they have not been treated fairly by us in the bowling line, and if it is good sportsmanship to tamper with the sheets so Capt. Hagarty could have high single of 119 and high total of 306.

If Capt. Hagarty will look over the sheets he will find that he did not hit the 20 mark once, and that his total was 238.

The Manhattans outclassed the Granites in every string and defeated them by 63 pins. In behalf of our team would say if the Granites believe they have anything on us they will have to go south in their B. R. for a small purse of $50.

We think the Granites owe the Ledger an apology. We are Very truly yours,

Manhattan A. C.

Fitzgerald, McGrath, Buckley, Caravaglio, Donovan.

LOCAL BOYS RUNS.

Allen Connor of Quincy, wearing the Dorchester clubs colors ran the Jamaica Central A. A. 10 mile handicap on Monday morning and finished tenth. His actual time was 55m. 33s. Connor had a three minute handicap. Henry F. Mahoney of the B. A. A. won in 54m. 20s.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader.

ITS HARD TO WORK

When Suffering from Kidney Ills. Many Quincy People Find This To Be True.

What's so hard as a day's work with an aching back?
Or sharp "stabs" of pain with every sudden twist or turn?
There is no peace from the dull ache—
No rest from the soreness, lameness and weariness. If the kidneys are disordered you can't reach the cause too soon.
Neglect is often fatal.
Weak kidneys need prompt attention.
Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills at once—
A tested and proven kidney remedy.
Quincy readers should find new hope in the following statement.
W. O. Coffin, machinist, 16 Mechanic street, Quincy, says: "I had an operation and after that was not very strong. I suffered from backache and the kidney secretions passed too frequently at night. I used a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and felt better in a week. Some time later, I again used Doan's Kidney Pills and I haven't needed any kidney medicine since."
Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Coffin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

His Love Story

By MARIE VAN VORST

Illustrations by RAY WALTERS

(Copyright by the Bobbs-Merrill Company)

(Continued from last issue.)

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Le Comte de Sabron, captain of French cavalry, takes to his quarters to raise by hand a motherless Irish terrier pup, and names it Pitchoune.

CHAPTER II—Sabron dines with the Marquise d' Esclignac and meets Miss Julia Redmond, American heiress, who sings for him an English ballad that lingers in his memory.

CHAPTER III—Sabron, trying to save Pitchoune's life, declines a second invitation to dinner because of a "very sick friend."

CHAPTER IV—No more invitations come from the Chateau d' Esclignac. Pitchoune, though lame from his accident, thrives and is devoted to Sabron.

CHAPTER V—Sabron and Pitchoune meet the Marquise and Miss Redmond and after the story of Pitchoune is told Sabron is forgiven and invited to dinner again.

CHAPTER VI—Sabron is ordered to Algiers, but is not allowed to take servants or dogs. He is invited to a musicale at the Chateau.

CHAPTER VII—At the musicale Miss Redmond, hearing that Sabron cannot take Pitchoune with him, offers to take care of the dog during his master's absence.

CHAPTER VIII—Pitchoune, homesick for his master, runs away from Miss Redmond. The Marquise plans to marry Julia to the Duc de Tremont.

CHAPTER IX—Unknown to Sabron, Pitchoune follows him to Algiers.

CHAPTER X.

Together Again.

That night after dinner and a cigarette, he strode into the streets to distract his mind with the sight of the oriental city and to fill his ears with the eager cries of the crowd. The lamps flickered. The sky overhead was as blue nearly as in daytime. He walked leisurely toward the native quarter, jostled, as he passed, by men in their brilliant costumes and by a veiled woman or two.

He stopped irdifferently before a little cafe, his eyes on a Turkish bazaar where velvets and scarfs were being sold at double their worth under the light of a flaming yellow lamp. As he stood so, his back to the cafe where a number of the ship's crew were drinking, he heard a short sharp sound that had a sweet familiarity about it and whose individuality made him start with surprise. He could not believe his ears. He heard the bark again and then he was sprung upon by a little body that ran out from between the legs of a sailor who sat drinking his coffee and liquor.

"Gracious heavens!" exclaimed Sabron, thinking that he must be the victim of a hashish dream "Pitchoune!"

The dog fawned on him and whined, crouched at his feet whining—like a child. Sabron bent and fondled him The sailor from the table called the dog imperatively, but Pitchoune would have died at his master's feet rather than return. If his throat could have uttered words he would have spoken, but his eyes spoke. They looked as though they were tearful.

"Pitchoune, mon vieux! No, it can't be Pitchoune. But it is Pitchoune!" And Sabron took him up in his arms. The dog tried to lick his face.

"Voyons," said the officer to the marine, who came rolling over to them, "where did you get this dog?"

The young man's voice was imperative and he fixed stern eyes on the sailor, who pulled his forelock and explained.

"He was following me," said Sabron, not without a slight catch in his voice. The body of Pitchoune quivered under his arm. "He is my dog. I think his manner proves it. If you have grown fond of him I am sorry for you, but I think you will have to give him up."

Sabron put his hand in his pocket and turned a little away to be free of the native crowd that, chattering and grinning, amused and curious and eager to participate in any distribution of coin, was gathering around him. He found two gold pieces which he put into the hand of the sailor.

"Thank you for taking care of him. I am at the Royal Hotel." He nodded, and with Pitchoune under his arm pushed his way through the crowd and out of the bazaar.

He could not interview the dog himself, although he listened, amused, to Pitchoune's own manner of speech. He spent the latter part of the evening composing a letter to the minister of war, and although it was short, it must have possessed certain evident and telling qualities, for before he left Algiers proper for the desert, Sabron received a telegram much to the point:

You may keep your dog. I congratulate you on such a faithful companion.

CHAPTER XI.

A Sacred Trust.

His eyes had grown accustomed to the glare of the beautiful sands, but his sense of beauty was never satisfied with looking at the desert picture and drinkin in the glory and the loveliness of the melancholy waste. Standing in the door of his tent in fatigue uniform, he said to Pitchoune:

"I could be perfectly happy here if I were not alone."

Pitchoune barked. He had not grown accustomed to the desert. He hated it. It slipped away from under his little feet; he could not run on it with any comfort. He spent his days idly in his master's tent or royally perched on a camel, crouching close to Sabron's man servant when they went on caravan explorations.

"Yes," said Sabron, "if I were not alone. I don't mean you, mon vieux. You are a great deal, but you really don't count, you know."

Before his eyes the sands were as pink as countless rose leaves. To Sabron they were as fragrant as flowers. The peculiar incenselike odor that hovers above the desert when the sun declines was to him the most delicious thing he had ever inhaled. All the west was as red as fire. The day had been hot and there came up the cool breeze that would give them a delicious night. Overhead, one by one, he watched the blossoming out of the great stars; each one hung above his lonely tent like a bridal flower in a veil of blue. On all sides, like white petals on the desert face, were the tents of his men and his officers, and from the encampment came the hum of military life, yet the silence to him was profound. He had only to order his stallion saddled and to ride away for a little distance in order to be alone with the absolute stillness.

This he often did and took his thoughts with him and came back to his tent more conscious of his solitude every night of his life.

There had been much looting of caravans in the region by brigands, and his business was that of sentinel for the commerce of the plains. Thieving and rapacious tribes were under his eye and his care. Tonight, as he stood looking toward the west into the glow, shading his eyes with his hand, he saw coming toward them what he knew to be a caravan from Algiers. His ordonnance was a native soldier, one of the desert tribes, black as ink, and scarcely more childlike than Brunet and presumably as devoted.

"Mustapha," Sabron ordered, "fetch me out a lounge chair." He spoke in French and pointed, for the man understood imperfectly and Sabron did not yet speak Arabic

He threw himself down, lighted a fresh cigarette, dragged Pitchoune by the nape of his neck up to his lap, and the two sat watching the caravan slowly grow into individuals of camels and riders and finally mass itself in shadow within some four or five hundred yards of the encampment.

The sentinels and the soldiers began to gather and Sabron saw a single footman making his way toward the camp.

"Go," he said to Mustapha, "and see what message the fellow brings to the regiment."

Mustapha went, and after a little returned, followed by the man himself, a black-bearded, half-naked Bedouin, swathed in dust-colored burnoose and carrying a bag.

He bowed to Captain de Sabron and extended the leather bag. On the outside of the leather there was a ticket pasted, which read:

"The Post for the —— Squadron of Cavalry——."

Sabron added mentally:

"—wherever it may happen to be!"

He ordered bakshish given to the man and sent him off. Then he opened the French mail. He was not more than three hundred miles from Algiers. It had taken him a long time to work down to Dirbal, however, and they had had some hardships. He felt a million miles away. The look of the primitive mail bag and the knowledge of how far it had traveled to find the people to whom these letters were addressed made his hands reverent as he unfastened the sealed labels. He looked the letters through, returned the bag to Mustapha and sent him off to distribute the post.

Then, for the light was bad, brilliant though the night might be, he went into his tent with his own mail. On his dressing table was a small illumination consisting of a fat candle set in a glass case. The mosquitoes and flies were thick around it. Pitchoune followed him and lay down on a rush mat by the side of Sabron's military bed, while the soldier read his letter.

The Silence to Him Was Profound.

Monsieur—

I regret more than ever that I cannot write your language perfectly. But even in my own I could not find any word to express how badly I feel over something which has happened.

I took the best of care of Pitchoune; I thought I did, but I could not make him happy. He mourned terribly. He refused to eat, and one day I was so careless as to open the door for him and we have never seen him since. As far as I know he has not been found. Your man, Brunet, comes sometimes to see my maid, and he thinks he has been hurt and died in the woods.

Sabron glanced over to the mat where Pitchoune, stretched on his side, his forepaws wide, was breathing tranquilly in the heat.

We have heard rumors of a little dog who was seen running along the highway, miles from Tarascon, but of course that could not have been Pitchoune.

Sabron nodded. "It was, however, mon brave," he said to the terrier.

Not but what I think his little heart was brave enough and valiant enough to have followed you, but no dog could go so far without a better scent.

Sabron said: "It is one of the regrets of my life that you cannot tell us about it. How did you get the scent? How did you follow me?" Pitchoune did not stir, and Sabron's eyes returned to the page.

I do not think you will ever forgive us. You left us a trust and we did not guard it.

He put the letter down a moment, brushed some of the flies away from the candle and made the wick brighter. Mustapha came in, black as ebony, his woolly head bare. He stood as stiff as a ramrod and as black. In his childlike French he said:

"Monsieur le Lieutenant asks if Monsieur le Capitaine will come to play a game of carte in the mess tent?"

"No," said Sabron, without turning. "Not tonight." He went on with his letter:

". . . . a sacred trust."

Half aloud he murmured: "I left a very sacred trust at the Chateau d'Esclignac, Mademoiselle; but as no one knew anything about it there will be no question of guarding it, I dare say."

. . . So I write you this letter to tell you about darling Pitchoune. I had grown to love him though he did not like me. I miss him terribly. . . . My aunt asks me to say that she hopes you had a fine crossing and that you will send us a tiger skin; but I am sure there are no tigers near Algiers. I say . . .

And Sabron did not know how long Miss Redmond's pen had hesitated in writing the closing lines:

. . . I say I hope you will be successful and that although nothing can take the place of Pitchoune, you will find someone to make the desert less solitary.

Sincerely yours,
JULIA REDMOND.

(To be continued.)

All Distances Are Short

BY LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE

To the merchants or the jobbers who make good trades;

To the managers who keep their forces humming at the factory or their salesmen busy in the field;

To the salesmen who arrange their tours, make appointments, or effect record sales of goods;

To the order and shipping departments of the live selling houses which save time between factories and customers;

To the executives or travelling men who keep in touch with the home office or the folks at home, when in other cities;

To the mothers and fathers who retain the home influence over sons and daughters at college;

To the men and women who do not lose track of friends and relatives in other towns.

Every Bell Telephone is a Long Distance Station

NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY
G. W. CONWAY, District Manager.

Reduction in Prices.

Your attention is called to the reduced spring prices on Anthracite Coal as follows

Lehigh Stove and Egg	$7.50
White Ash Stove and Egg	7.25
White Ash Nut	7.50
Shamokin Stove and Egg	7.50
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75
Pea	5.50
Franklin	8.50

We recommend the placing of your order at this time to insure the low prices.

Nothing but All Rail Clean Coal handled and delivered right by careful experienced drivers.

QUINCY COAL CO.
OFFICE and YARD
Penn St., Quincy Tel. 47-M
Ap. 7 1mo.

WANTED
EXPERIENCED STITCHERS
STEADY WORK
APPLY TO
SOVEREIGN WAIST CO.
192 GRANITE ST.

Furniture Storage Warehouse
Separate Rooms under Yale-Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.
Rates $2---$3---$4 per month
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.
Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26-tu.-th.s.-tf

BLACK BEDROOM

Relieved by Gray, It Is the Fad In England.

NEW IDEA IN MOURNING.

This Notion Calls For the Ebony Hued Boudoir, Which, However, May Not Be Too Somber, but Lightened by Silver Accessories.

The war has been on long enough for European people to become somewhat hardened to its horrors and its sorrows, and fashionable persons are even developing fads in mourning. One of these fads, writes a London woman, is the black bedroom.

An eccentric old dowager in Kent lost two of her relatives in the battle of the Marne, a third went down in the naval encounter in South American waters, and her favorite nephew, a young officer, died after having been wounded in the fiercest of the fighting before Ypres. Her ladyship is given to light colors and Parisian creations, and after the many deaths in her family she still went about her charities almost as though nothing had happened. One of the heroes' mothers remonstrated with her.

BLACK EBONY BED.

"You might at least put a band upon your sleeve," she said. "You were always fond of Reggie."

Mourning In Her Sleep.

"My dear," the old lady answered, shaking her mauve bonnet, "I mourn while I sleep. Come and see my bedroom."

She had effected a complete and startling change in her sleeping chamber. The floor had been recarpeted in dead black velvet, and the furniture had been replaced by ebony pieces. What upholstering there was had been done in silver gray. The walls had been covered with silver gray paper, topped by a frieze of black, a conventional pattern with gray shadings. The only ornaments left in the room were of silver; all pictures had been removed and photos of her soldiers in black frames substituted; there was an abundance of black velvet pillows on the divan and floor pillows of black.

The bed itself was the most striking piece. It was of ebony with silver trimmings. The whole looked like a magnificent bier, and the woman who could sleep in it must indeed be a courageous character. The coverlet was of black and white, and in the center the dowager's coat of arms done in thick silver. She sleeps in a black silk nightgown, and her sheets and pillow cases are black silk, her blankets black with silver striped borders and her quilts black satin.

Those who see the bedroom gasp at first; later they may take up the fad.

"What do you think of it?" the old lady asks grimly of those who are permitted to enter it. "It serves to remind me more forcedly that I shall soon join my own where battles are no more. Do you think this is less mourning than the black rags I might put upon my back?"

Certainly more. And in the opinion of some such mourning goes deeper. Black bedrooms are growing in favor, particularly in London, though with modifications. Few are brave enough to try the bed with the mirror above it.

The black bedroom in England is not entirely a new idea. At least ten years ago a rich old woman in Sussex had a black and mauve chamber with a black and mauve bed and a full length mirror raised on the four posts of the bed, not because she was in mourning, but because she chose to be eccentric.

Excellent Nut Bread.

Two cupfuls of white flour (sifted), two cupfuls of graham or entire wheat flour (sifted if one chooses), one-half cupful of New Orleans molasses, a little salt, two cupfuls of milk or water, one cupful of walnut meats (cut up fine), one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in milk, about two tablespoonfuls melted butter. Let raise twenty minutes. Bake about one hour in moderate oven.

Ribbon Bows.

Bows of ribbon are effective used on some of the new wide skirted frocks of satin and silk. One that is pretty has little square bows of satin reaching from throat to hem. They are distinctly in keeping with the wide skirt.

Milady's Mirror

How to Massage the Face.

After cleansing the face cover with cold cream and compress the lips. Massage the sagging lines about the mouth first with the first finger of each hand. Place the thumbs under the chin and with an upward circular stroke smooth out each line. If the mouth has a tendency to turn down at the corners lift with the finger tips at ending of each stroke. Use all the fingers on the throat; raise the elbows well and give long, steady strokes upward to the ears. Remember the throat should never be rubbed downward, but always upward, with gentle pressure. On the fat face the main object of stimulative rotation should be to stimulate relaxed skin and also to dissolve the fat folds.

If the face is very fat it will be found beneficial to lift or pinch up the fat folds between the thumb and finger and give them a rolling, kneading motion. The object of this is to reduce the fat by stimulating absorption. In all these movements care should be taken not to continue them too long if a feeling of irritation is felt.

In applying the powder do not rub it downward and thus force it into the pores. As already explained, it is quite essential to skin health that the pores can be open and pure at all times. Fluff the powder on and smooth gently, and at the same time dust off all that does not cling to the skin.

For Puffiness Under the Eyes.

Puffiness under the eyes is often due to inflammation of the lower lid. Pull the lid down, and if it is red and inflamed you will know it needs attention. Purchase a glass eye cup, fill it half full of salt water, about as salty as tears. Lean the head forward, fit the cup to the eye socket, hold it firmly, throw back the head and open and close the eye ten times. Lean the head forward and remove the cup. This will wash the eyes, rest them and reduce the inflammation. Boracic acid, ten grains to the ounce of distilled water, is very good and can be used the same way.

To retain a fresh, youthful color the tiny blood vessels or capillaries which carry the blood to the skin must be kept in a healthy, active condition. The colorless parchment-like skin of the aged is due to the fact that these little capillaries wither away and the skin is not properly nourished. Therefore it is important that the blood should be brought to these tiny blood vessels. This can be accomplished by steaming, facial massage and electricity or the vibrator. When properly given they will strengthen the muscles, clear the skin and stimulate the action of the tiny blood vessels.

Tight Shoes a Menace to Beauty.

Recently long, narrow feet have been the rage, and girls with short fat feet, size 3D, all try to wear 5A, which is just as bad as trying to wear shoes too short for the feet.

No woman who tries to pinch her feet into shoes too short or too narrow for her realizes what infinite harm she is doing to her health and consequently to her appearance. Tight shoes affect the body in two places—the eyes and the digestion.

The girl who habitually squeezes her feet can usually be distinguished by her red lids, red nose and sallow, unhealthy skin. Pinching the feet affects first the digestion, which in turn discolors the nose and spoils the complexion. No girl who suffers from indigestion ever has a clear, rosy complexion. It is generally a muddy color, marred by blotches and specks.

Every one can tell a pinched foot by a single glance, and its owner at once becomes an object for ridicule. So the girl who distorts her feet spoils her complexion, and for what? A vain delusion that she is appearing more beautiful by doing so.

To Keep Hands White.

The home worker can keep her hands in nice condition if she will exercise a little care. When they have been stained by vegetables or fruit the stains should be removed with an acid, lemon, vinegar or sour milk, and then rinsed in contact with soap or soapy water. Always rinse off all soap before wiping the hands, and be sure they are wiped perfectly dry.

At night rub in some good cream, powder the hands and keep them in loose gloves all night. The hands will be as white and soft as though they had never done a bit of housework.

For Callouses.

When the outline of the foot is affected by callouses the process of removal is simple, but requires time. First soak the feet well in hot water; then after they are dried rub the callouses until the skin peels. If any of this dead skin can be removed by cutting with the scissors do so, but be extremely careful that you do not injure the tender flesh beneath.

Don't Make Faces.

Don't narrow your eyes when you wish to be impressive. If you draw your mouth into a button and allow deep lines to pucker between your eyes you will acquire a habitual cross expression. Is anything more unpleasant than an angry face with its features tied in veritable knots?

NORTH WEYMOUTH

Mrs. Myron Hord entertained the Ladies' Social Circle of the M. E. church at an all day thimble party Wednesday.

Mrs. Edwin R. Sampson is ill at her home on Lincoln street with an attack of the grip.

Mr. and Mrs. George [illegible] Smith have reopened Bayside Inn.

J. P. Preston has leased the house recently remodeled by E. H. Kavanaugh.

Mrs. Mabel Gooding was elected department inspector at the recent convention.

W. K. Hight and family of Boston are at their summer residence on Pilgrim road for over the holiday.

Raymond Nash is one of the recent additions to the list of those who have the measles.

Miss Thelma Peterson of Boston is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Peterson.

Mr. and Mrs. Lovering and family have moved here from East Weymouth.

Percy Vogel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Vogel is critically ill with pneumonia.

Mrs. R. H. Dix, a former resident has the sympathy of a host of friends on the death of her mother, Mrs. Blair of Warren.

Mrs. Job Ferris is confined to her home on Pratt avenue with an attack of erysipilis.

In commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of Lincoln's death the North Weymouth post office was closed from 2 until 3 P. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Loring have returned from an extended wedding trip to Washington, D. C., and other points of interest and have taken up their residence on Birch Brow avenue

Mrs. E. A. Bain and daughters Fannie and Mattie leave today for Masioneuvere, Quebec where Mr. Bain is working.

Several members of Troop 4 B. S. A. have entered the events at the field day to be held Monday at Milton.

Miss Grace Gooding has resumed her studies at the Quincy High school after an absence of several weeks owing to illness.

Mrs. E. P. Henderson, a former resident who passed away recently was buried at Mt. Auburn.

Deputy Supreme Dictator Louis M. Beach a local motorman, installed the officers of Lodge 1288 L. O. O. M. on Tuesday evening and the next evening instituted a ladies' circle with Mrs. Beach as worthy matron.

Wednesday Mrs. Henry H. Gooding of Morrel street, was a special guest of Helen L. Gilson, Tent 47 D. of V., at Hyde Park of which Tent Mrs. Gooding is the official "mother," having instituted it during her term as department president.

Wednesday Combination One in response to a phone call extinguished a grass fire opposite the residence of Mrs. Mary Sampson on Neck street. At 3.10 they received another call for a woods fire at Weymouth Heights which was burning fiercely and threatened the Curtis residence. Combination Two alos responded to a phone call for the same fire and it was necessary to lay two lines of hose to save the house and barn.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Sewing Circle connected with the Universalist church was held in the vestry Wednesday and the following officers elected for the ensuing year.

President—Mrs. Alice Drew.

Vice President—Mrs. E. H. Kavanaugh.

Secretary—Mrs. Alice Ames.

Assistant Secretary—Mrs. E. R. Sampson.

Treasurer—Mrs. Clara Taylor

Auditors—Mrs. Frank Kittredge and Mrs. Ezro Estes.

Directors—Mrs. George Nash, Mrs. Hosea Farrar and Mrs. Roy Vining.

Supper was served at 6.30 by Mrs. Roy Vining, Mrs. Earle Williams and Mrs. Irving Morgan. The circle is to serve its customary May breakfast.

By CHARLES N. GOODRICH,
Auctioneer.
512 Old South Building, Boston.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Vinnie M. Cobb to the Boston Co-operative Bank dated May 4th, 1914, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the County of Norfolk Book 1280 Page 461, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same on Thursday the 13th day of May, 1915, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, and therein described substantially as follows: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in that part of Quincy in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts called Wollaston, comprising Lot Thirty-seven on a plan made by Ernest W. Branch, dated March 1912, recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Books of Plans 63, Plan 3015, and bounded and described as follows:—Southwesterly by Kemper street, fifty feet; Northwesterly by land now or formerly of Wood et al., Trustees, and land of owners unknown, eighty and 16-100 feet; Northeasterly by Lot Sixty-one on said plan, forty-four and 86-100 feet; and Southeasterly by Lot Thirty-eight on said plan, eighty feet. Containing 3794 square feet of land.

Said premises will be sold subject to the restrictions referred to in deed from Mary P. Johnson to said Vinnie M. Cobb, duly recorded with Norfolk Deeds, and to any and all unpaid taxes and assessments.

For further particulars inquire of Frank M. Perry, 554 Old South Building, Boston. $200 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Balance in ten days from day of sale at 12 o'clock noon, at the said office of Frank M. Perry.

BOSTON CO-OPERATIVE BANK,
by George T. Bosson, Treasurer,
Present holder of said Mortgage.
Boston, April 17th, 1915.
3t April 20-27 May 4

NOVELTY FOR POMEROY

Sees Baseball Game For First Time Since He Entered Prison

Boston, April 20.—Jesse Pomeroy saw his first baseball game since he entered state prison at Charlestown. From the window in the office of Cherry Hill, where he is confined, he watched a nine-inning game between the two prison teams, the Braves and the Red Sox, which the Braves won by a score of 19 to 6.

The prison teams appeared in uniforms for the first time. Headed by the prison band of forty pieces they marched around the yard and then cheered Warden Allen.

"Toodles" Sets New Fashion

New York, April 20.—Miss "Toodles" Ryan, of breach of promise fame, has earned more printer's ink by parading Fifth avenue with a live canary encaged in the top of a gauze bonnet.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

John A. De Roche, a Freehold, N. J., high school freshman, was struck and killed by a batted ball.

The feat of drawing sustained musical tones from stringed instruments with an electro-magnet has been accomplished by a Parisian.

The grand clan of the Massachusetts Order of Scottish Clans elected Thomas R. P. Gibb of Boston as grand chief.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

Persuant to the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Amy G. Atwood to Laura M. Holmes, dated July 1, 1914 and recorded with Norfolk Deeds Book 1285 Page 85, and for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises below described on Tuesday the 27th day of April, A. D. 1915 at two o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular, the premises conveyed by said mortgage, together with all improvements thereon, to wit:—A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in that part of Quincy known as Wollaston Park, being lot No. 98 on a plan of Charles S. Miller, Surveyor, dated April, 1890, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Book 13, Plan No. 566, and bounded and described as follows:—Northeasterly by Kemper street, fifty (50) feet; Southeasterly by Lot No. 99 on said plan eighty (80) feet; Southwesterly by Lot No. 84 on said plan fifty (50) feet and Northwesterly by Lot No. 97 on said plan eighty (80) feet. Containing according to said plan four thousand (4,000) square feet of land.

Said premises are to be sold subject to a mortgage of $3800.00 to the Merchants' Co-operative Bank of Boston and all existing taxes, assessments and liens.

One hundred (100) dollars to be paid at time of sale, other terms and conditions to be announced at said time.

LAURA M. HOLMES,
Mortgagee.
3t April 6-12-20

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Joseph Banigan, late of Providence, in the County of Providence and State of Rhode Island, deceased:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by William Garneau, of Woonsocket in the State of Rhode Island, with certain papers purporting to be copies of the last will and testament of said deceased, and of the probate thereof in said State of Rhode Island duly authenticated, representing that at the time of his death, said deceased had estate in said County of Norfolk, on which said will may operate, and praying that the copy of said will may be filed and recorded in the Registry of Probate of said County of Norfolk, and letters of administration with the will annexed thereon granted to him.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the nineteenth day of May A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, Mass., the first publication to be thirty days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twelfth day of April in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register
3t April 13-20-26

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Laura Bryant, late of Quincy, in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petiton has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Linda A. Lincoln of said Quincy without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-eighth day of April, A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixteenth day of April A. D. 1915.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t April 17-20-26

KEEP POSTED ON THE PEOPLE'S WANTS — CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING — WHY WORRY LET THESE ADS LIFT YOUR BURDEN

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—6 room tenements, all improvements. Apply to C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 20-tf

TO LET—Tenement of 7 rooms, all improvements. Rent $25. Apply 233 Washington street. 20-6t

TO LET—Modern apartment, near high school; two-family house, everything separate; 7 rooms and bath; electricity and gas. Apply A. D. Cossaboom, 95 Merrymount road; Tel. 1374-M. 15-12t

TO LET—A tenement of 4 rooms to small family, rent $8.00, 19 Carrolls Lane. Apply Carrolls Lane. 13-6t

TO LET—3 new flats, Quincy Point, four rooms and kitchenette, hot and cold water, set range, gas, separate cellars, low rent, Germain avenue, cor. Washington street. Small families only. Good neighborhood. E. R. Stone, 12 Avon Way. Ready now. 13-6t

TO LET—Small tenement on 11 Francis Court, all modern improvements. Rent $18.00, apply 11 Francis Court. 13-6t

TO LET—Lower flat in two-family house. Living room, dining room, bedroom, kitchen and bathroom, pantry, good closets and cellar. Coal and gas range, furnace, electric lights. Every convenience. Rent $20. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 13-tf

FOR RENT—In Quincy Centre, opposite Adams Academy, house 7 rooms, and bath 18 Faxon avenue, suite 6 rooms and bath, every modern improvement Tel. 414-M Weymouth. 7-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 7-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of two family house, 5 rooms and bath, all improvements, 3 Bradford street, Quincy Adams. Apply to William Duggan, Bradford street or telephone Quincy 724-W. 7-12t

TO LET—Half house of six rooms and large laundry to adult family, conveniences, large garden. Rent $20. Apply to George H. Newcomb, 21 Adams Bldg. or M. M. Newcomb, 39 Gay street or phone 1990 Quincy. 2-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house, 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2, Quincy or 110 South street, Boston, Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments, all latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

TO LET

TO LET—Single house, 8 rooms, all improvements, centrally located, rent $22.50 per month. Inquire at 65 Chestnut street, City. 17-3t

TO LET—Two rooms, furnished for light housekeeping. Gas range, electric lights and privilege of bath and laundry. Also one single room. Desirable parties only, 34 Chestnut street, corner Foster street. 17-3t

TO LET — Desirable furnished rooms, 33 Saville street near Quincy depot. Apply to F. P. Morgan. 17-3t

TO LET—3 furnished rooms, all modern improvements, reasonable rent, 132 Marlboro street. 17-6t

TO LET—Upper apartment, 6 rooms and bath, gas and coal ranges, small family $20, F. M. Torrey, Tel. 202-1 Quincy, 25 Spear street. 15-tf

TO LET—To small family of adults, several sunny attractive half houses, all improvements, centrally located, $21, $23 and $25 per month and water rates. Tel. Quincy 174-2, Charles H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. 10-12t

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements. 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 13-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Buggy, sleigh, harnesses and robes. Apply Dr. T. J. Dion, 59 Cross street, West Quincy. 20-5t

FOR SALE—House, 17 Edison street 7 rooms and bath. Gas, electric lights steam heat, 11,725 feet land, 15 minutes walk to Fore River Shipyard. price $3300. Make an offer. Apply on the premises. 16-6t

FOR SALE—New two flat house on Kittredge avenue. Each flat has 5 rooms and bath, all modern improvements, coal and gas range, electric lights. Inquire at 11 Ring avenue off Washington street. 13-6t

FOR SALE—20 foot open boat, 4 H. P., Victor engine, reverse, cushions, etc., T. E. Baker, 24 Baxter Street. 13-6t

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E. R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-tf, L P.

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

MISCELLANEOUS

NOTICE—Whist players, Electa hall Wednesday evening. Chester D. Brown.

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street, Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

Prescott Apartments

For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service. Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.

Cosy upper 4 room and bath flat, 122 Glendale Road, $19.

H. F. McIntire HOUSES Greenleaf Blk Tel. Quincy 1665-W.

Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.

1-1 yr.

WANTED

WANTED—Neat, capable, Protestant general house work girl. Plain cooking. References required. $4.00 a week, no washing. $5.00 with washing. Apply 12 Berlin street, Wollaston. 17 3t

WANTED—For housework in small flat and assist with young boy, neat and willing required. Go home nights. Near Quincy Center. Address S. F. E., Ledger Office. 17-3t

WANTED—An experienced maid for general housework. References required. Apply at 118 Merrymount road. 16-tf

WANTED—Experienced maid for general housework, Swede or Nova Scotia preferred. Apply at 50 Glendale road near Goffe street, Presidents Hill, Quincy. 16-tf

WANTED—Gardening, grading and jobbing by day or job. Mr. Bellington, 17 Edwards street, Quincy. 12-6t

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

TO LET
Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

TO LET

After May 1, Store or Stores No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.

Shop or Factory—24 Granite St, 22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.

Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up Offices and Desk Room.

City Square Office, Hancock Bld. Small front office.

Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.

City Square Store House or Shop —ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

City Square Club Room or Hall —28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)

Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.

Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS

Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.

Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for K. V. Kribs,
Greenleaf Block. ('Phone 21066) Quincy

Read Ledger Advs.

KINCAIDE THEATRE

THE FAMOUS PLAYERS IN

"BUCKSHOT JOHN"

A Thrilling Western 4 Reel Photo-Play

— As Produced by the Paramount Co. —

15th Episode—Pathe Films—"Exploits of Elaine"—with new thrills

Vaudeville. — The Honolulu Duo — In a Novelty Musical Act

Direct from Hawaii

Swan and Bombard — Eccentric Comedians and Fun Makers

Wood and Halpin — Entertaining Singers — with new dances and original live talk

TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY DAILY MATINEE at 2.30 10 & 15c. EVENINGS at 8 — 10-15-25c

Coming Thursday — John Barrymore, in - "The Man From Mexico."

ALUMNI BEAT Q. H. S. BOYS

Regulars Play Good Game, However

The Alumni association followed custom and defeated the High school regulars in the annual game on the holiday morning at Merrymount Park. The score was 19 to 13, and would not have been as close if the grads hadn't let up in the last two innings.

Quincy High showed more form, comparatively speaking than any team trotted onto the diamond in recent years and a remarkable feature of the performance was the boys' ability to hit. Lack of experience accounted for some of the plays but on the whole the game was worth watching.

Both teams were there with the eye, the grads getting 12 hits from the three pitchers used and the students 14 off of Andrews, five of them due at least to his tired condition.

Hamlin started the game in near mid season form. Six runs were netted in three and a half innings. O'Connor succeeded him, but realizing his arm had not come back, he retired of his own volition after eight runs had been scored and Hoffses finished the game. It was his debut with a base ball team and he demonstrated considerable ability. He had been in the box but a few minutes when he was christened "Smiles," and he will probably be known by that sobriquet the balance of the season.

The grads played four extras but the entire combination was not up to the handle. In most cases it was the first appearance for the men.

They were very complimentary to the High school boys, and Link Elcock, perhaps as good a judge of base hall stock as there is in the city, stated the team was a little corker and gave fine promise. The score:

ALUMNAE.

	R	BH	PO	A	E
Manning ss	2	1	1	3	0
Markham 3b	1	1	0	1	0
Blackmur 3b	1	0	0	0	0
R. Larkin c	3	2	13	2	0
Elcock 2b	2	1	0	3	1
Chapman 1b	4	1	12	0	0
Allen lf	1	1	0	0	0
Galvin lf	2	1	1	0	0
Sawyer cf		0	0	0	0
Stevens cf	1	0	0	0	0
Pfaffmann rf	1	1	0	0	0
Bates rf		1	0	0	0
Andrews p	1	2	0	1	1
	19	12	27	10	2

Q. H. S.

	R	BH	PO	A	E
Bryan ss	1	3	0	0	1
DiSenso rf		1	0	0	0
P. Larkin ss	1	1	0	1	1
Desmond 1b	11	1	10	0	1
O'Connor cf, p	0	0	0	0	0
Hoffses p	1	1	0	0	0
Dorley 2b	3	3	0	1	0
Simmons lf	0	0	0	0	0
Reardon cf	0	1	1	0	0
O'Donnell c	1	0	3	0	0
Hultin c	1	1	9	2	0
Hamlin p lf	3	2	4	4	0
	13	14	27	8	3

Alumni	0	2	2	2	8	0	0	0	5	—19
High School	0	3	1	1	0	2	0	1	5	—13

Two Base Hits—P. Larkin, Desmond, Hoffses, Pfaffmann. Three base hits—Markham. Stolen bases—R. Larkin 3, Elcock. Base on balls by—Hamlin 5, O'Connor 3, Hoffses 2, Andrews 3. Struck Out by—Andrews 12, Hamlin 4, O'Connor 2, Hoffses 9, Sacrifice hits—Sawyer, Reardon 1. Hit by pitched ball—O'Donnell, Larkin. Wild pitches—Hamlin, Andrews. Passed balls—O'Donnell. Umpire—E. Hoyt.

CITY SEES ITS FIRST JITNEY

The first jitney bus line in Quincy was established Patriot's Day by W. T. S. Tribou of Wollaston and ran between City square and Wollaston. The bus started about 11 o'clock in charge of William Merrill and it is reported that a good business was done throughout the day. The bus was kept moving all of the time and according to those interested in the scheme the day's receipts amounted to a little over $8. It is claimed that the expense was not over $4, giving the proprietor a profit of about $4.

If the first line proves successful it is planned to extend the route to Neponset bridge and establish other lines from East Milton to Wollaston beach, via Beale street, and this summer between Quincy and Houghs Neck and between Quincy and Nantasket beach.

Tribou holds a license issued by the city to operate a hackney carriage.

The many friends of Charles Cullen who has been ill at his home for the last three weeks will be glad to know that he is able to be out of doors.

RESOLUTIONS.

At a regular meeting of the Quincy Branch, Irish National Land League, No. 61, the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas—It has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst our beloved brother and associate, Michael Mahar.

Whereas—The Quincy Branch, Irish National Land League, No. 61 feels that it has sustained in his death a personal loss, one which is most bitterly regretted by the league, and

Whereas—We feel that some token of the esteem in which we hold him should be manifested in this bereavement which has befallen his relatives therefore be it

Resolved—That the Quincy Branch Irish National Land league No. 61 extend to his relatives our heartfelt sympathy in this their hour of affliction, and be it further

Resolved—That there be recorded in the history of our organization, a copy of above resolutions and that another be presented to the family.

PETER McCONARTY,
SAMUEL T. DREW,
DANIEL AHEARN,
Committee on Resolutions.

April 20, 1915.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for the sympathy shown, and beautiful flowers given in our time of trouble. Also for beautiful wreath of flowers contributed by the Brother Street Railway Employees.

Lewis L. Leavitt and family.

20-1t

TOOLATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

LOST—In Quincy, black spaniel dog, had on a red blanket. Send postal to George E. Rogers, 1812 Beacon street, Brookline. 20-1t

LOST—Monday between Randolph and Quincy, pocketbook, containing $10 bill, license and registration of auto. Reward if returned to William A. Shirley, 592 South street. 20-3t

WANTED—Errand Boy between 16 and 18 years of age. Apply at Navillus Market, Braintree. 20-3t

WANTED—Neat, capable, protestant general housework maid. Plain cooking. References required. $4.00 a week without, $5.00 with laundry work. Apply 12 Berlin street, Wollaston. 20-2t

TO LET—Tenement of six rooms at 8 Mechanic street. Apply to E. D. Barrett, 27 Revere road.

FOR RENT—At 18 Faxon avenue, suite 6 rooms and bath, every modern improvement. Tel. 414-M, Weymouth. 20-tf

MARRIAGES

GARLAND—BARBER—In this city, April 19, by R. F. Holway, D. D., John Louis Garland of Georgetown, Conn., and Miss Julia Arnold Barber of Wollaston.

O'BRIEN—LAURIE—In Weymouth, April 19, by Rev. John B. Holland, William H. O'Brien and Miss Mary Laurie.

RESTELLI—RICE—In Quincy, April 19, by Fr. John J. Casey, Adolph J. Restelli and Miss Blanche Eva Rice, both of Quincy.

NICHOLS—RIDGE—In Quincy, April 17, by Rev. William E. Grainger David Nichols and Miss Sadie Ridge, both of Quincy.

GUINVENS—McCARTHY—In Quincy, April 17, by Rev. Joseph Walther, Joseph C. Guivens and Miss Annie Beatrice McCarthy, both of Quincy.

PEMBERTON — McCARTHY — In Quincy, April 17, by Rev. Joseph Walther, Norman W. Pemberton and Miss Sarah Virgie McCarthy both of Quincy.

CORIATY—SABA—In Boston, April 18, by Rev. Nicholas Gannam, Mikel Raffool Coriaty and Martha Saba, both of Quincy.

FRAZER—FRANZI— In this city, April 18, by Rev. Fr. Thomas R. McCoy, Albert Frazer of East Braintree and Miss Emma Franzi of this city.

established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1493 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

COPELAND CLUB HOLDS ELECTION

The biennial election of officers of the Copeland club was held at the regular meeting Sunday morning in the club rooms. In the absence of President Leary, Vice President John D. Smith, presided. The treasurer gave a report which showed that the club was in the best condition financially. The following officers were elected for the ensuing term:

President—Joseph Desmond.

Vice President—Peter Bertrand.

Secretary and Treasurer—George S. Hebert.

Recording Secretary—Henry Desmond.

Executive Committee — Joseph Reardon, John Donavon, Thomas Rogers, Michael Martin and Peter Bertrand.

Entertainment Committee —George Hebert, Joseph Desmond, Edward Drohan and William Martell.

Sergeant-at-Arms—Charles M. Sullivan.

MILTON PLAYS POOR BASE BALL

The Milton baseball fans witnessed one of the worst exhibitions of the national game ever played at Cunningham park when the Milton High team went down to defeat at the hands of Weymouth by the score of 4—1 on the afternoon of the holiday.

Until the fourth inning neither team tallied a run but in that inning Weymouth came across with two and with the same number in the sixth. Although Capt. Reiser made fourteen strike outs he lost his own game by several foolishly thrown balls which sent the Milton boys up in the air. In the eighth inning Milton commenced to rally when "Jim" Driscoll made the hingle run from "Starr" Luce's double But their spirit had been vanquished and the game came to a close with a decided victory for the visitors.

The score was:

WEYMOUTH	MILTON
Gorman 2b	lf Parsons
Gloucester 3b	p Reiser
Dyer rf	cf Robertson
Vender 1b	3b Driscoll
Callahan, E. ss	2 b Luce
Condrick C. cf	c Parks
O'Rourke lf	rf Palouci
Condrick E., c	ss Welch
Callahan L. p	lf Corbett

Weymouth	0	0	0	2	0	2	0	0	0	—4
Milton	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	—1

Score—Weymouth H. S. 4—Milton H. S. 1. Runs—Gloucester. Dyer, Vender 2, Driscoll 2 base hit Luce, Gloucester. Strike out—Reiser 14, Callahan 7. Hit by ball—Callahan 2. Wild throw—Reiser 2. Base on balls—Callahan 4. Umpire—H. Brierly. Attendance—1,000.

NICHOLS—RIDGE.

Miss Sadie Ridge Weds David Nichols

Miss Sadie Ridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Ridge of Main street and David Nichols of South Walnut street were married Saturday afternoon at the Christ church rectory. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William E. Grainger, the rector.

Miss Lilian Ridge, sister of the bride, was her attendant and James Guthrie was best man. The bride was dressed in white satin, trimmed with Venetian lace and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride's roses. Her bridesmaid wore white crepe de chine with pearl trimmings.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents and was largely attended by relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Nichols will make their home on Grafton street.

O'BRIEN—LAURIE.

William H. O'Brien, son of Mr. and Mrs. James O'Brien of Copeland street, West Quincy and Miss Mary Laurie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Laurie of Commercial street Weymouth, were united in marriage at the Sacred Heart church, Weymouth, Monday afternoon by the pastor, Rev. John B. Holland. The bride was attended by Miss Sadie Hennessey and the groom by his brother, James O'Brien. The couple left on a wedding trip to New York and on their return will reside on Main street, this city.

On Tuesday evening, April 27 the Young People's Religious Union of the First Parish church will give a special dancing party at Alpha hall for the benefit of the Boston Federation.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

BRIEFS

Mrs. Underhill, Bellevue road is confined to her home with a grippe cold.

Miss Mary Rogers of Providence was the guest of Miss Julia Coyle over the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Nelson have been entertaining Mr. F. B. Thompson of Presque Isle, Maine.

Mr. F. Cusumano. Standish road, sailed for Italy this week on an extended business tour.

Mr. and Mrs. William Whitley's children. Bertram, Florence and Frederick. have all been ill with measles.

Cornelius Spain, who has been ill at his home on O'Connell avenue, is better today.

Miss Edith Johnson of Merrymount road, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. James McDonough, is expected home within a few weeks.

Ruth Holmes the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Holmes, Bellevue road has been quite ill the past week with the measles.

Walter Scott, royal tanist and past royal chief of the Scottish Clans of New York, was the guest Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Dunbar.

Paul Revere Women's Relief corps will hold a rummage sale Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at George Spooner's store, corner of Washington street and Revere road.

An all day meeting of the Fragment society of First Parish church will be held Wednesday. As the regular work laid out for the season has been completed, members and guests are invited to bring their own sewing. In the afternoon the annual business meeting of the Alliance will be held and there will be a "Travel Talk" by Miss Edith Randall.

Quincy markets say that they have not received any of the consignment of Chinese eggs which reached Boston this week and that most of their customers prefer Quincy eggs, which they are fairly certain were laid in the present century rather than Chinese eggs which may have first seen the light during the days of the late lamented empress dowager.

Among the Quincy people who attended the annual meeting of the Sons of the American Revolution at the Old South church, Boston, Monday, were Henry Kittredge, Herbert H. Newcomb, Arthur W. Newcomb and F. Allison Newcomb. The society marched fro mthe church to the American House for the banquet.

Quincy E. E. GRAY CO. Wollaston

Two Stores

Tel. 327 M Quincy Reliable Groceries Tel. 1586 M Quincy

Butter Best Creamery lb.	31c	Quaker Oats with china	23c
Corn, Fancy Maine	10c	Baked Beans Boston large can	11c
Peas, Fancy Sifted	11c	Jell-O all flavors pkg.	8c
Tomatoes (Whole Ripe)	10c	Soap, Lenox 3 bars	10c
Salmon (Good)	10c	Evaporated Apples (fancy)	12c
Catsup, Golden Gate	12c	Evaporated Milk large can	8c
Shrimp, Best Baratavia	11c	Olives, Fancy Queen large bot.	25c
Peaches, Griffin & Skelly	13c	Fig Bars lb.	9c

CONGRESSMAN HOBSON

(Continued from Page One.)

mature and due to alcohol. It is also a great specific cause of degeneracy

"If degeneracy continues liberty will die. It is a serious menace to the precious institutions of democracy."

The speaker then went on to point out that alcohol was a menace to evolution. The physical evolution of man stopped centuries ago but there has been, and ought to continue to be, a moral evolution. The top of the brain, the seat of the will power, of love, and other good qualities, the seat, that is, of character, is the line of evolution and it is precisely at this point that the effect of alcohol is most harmful. Alcohol breaks down the will power, breaks down character, and retards the line of evolution.

Alcohol drives an animal or a human being back to its lower state. Feed a puppy alcohol and in time he will howl like a wolf, the speaker asserted. Give an Indian alcohol and he will go on the war path.

The speaker gave some impressive statistics regarding the affect of alcohol upon the children. When both parents are drinkers only one child in six is normal: when both parents are total abstainers nine out of ten are normal.

At the close of the speaking the members of the congregation met Captain Hobson personally.

STREET OILING SCHEDULE BEGINS

Today is the day upon which the annual street oiling schedule goes into effect and work was commenced bright and early this morning giving the streets their first coating of oil. Before the oil was applied however the gravel streets were scraped and the surface dust removed.

Tax Collector Curtis held another sale this morning of the Squantum property of the City of Boston for taxes and as usual the sale was continued for another six days. It is understood that the bill which will allow the matter to be fixed up between the Mayors of Quincy and Boston, has passed the legislature and is now before the Governor awaiting his signature. When the bill is signed the matter will be straightened out and the land at Squantum will probably be taken for a public playground.

CORIATY—SABA.

Mikel Raffool Coriaty, 67 Sumner street, and Martha Saba, 69 Sumner street, were married Sunday in Boston by Rev. Nicolas Gannam. They will live in Quincy.

Q. Y. C. OPENS HOUSE SATURDAY

The Quincy Yacht club house was opened for the season Saturday, and a large number of club members were on hand that evening and all day Monday fixing up their lockers and getting things in shape for the season. The club floats are not in position yet but probably will be in a few days. "Trapper" Nash will be the janitor of the club house this season as usual.

The restaurant at the club house will be run this year by Mr. Duffy and it is expected that it will be opened sometime this week.

The club will not issue a year book this year but in its place will get out a pamphlet of a size which can be carried in the vest pocket, giving the officers of the clubs and the dates for the racing and social events.

The first club race is scheduled for Saturday, May 22.

Abigail Adams court, Independent Companions of America, will give a concert and dance tonight in Franklin hall, South Quincy. Mrs. Russell Medlyn, chairman of the committee, is assisted by many members of the organization.

Spooners
Auto Exchange
Agents for Studebaker
Velie
JACKSON
Automobiles
Demonstrated at our Garage
64 Revere Rd
Tel. Quincy 454

USED CAR SALE
7 Passenger Buick
Touring Car
Ford Roadster

These cars are all in first-class condition and at very low prices
GIVE US A CALL

Garden Tools

Rakes
Hoes
Spades
Spading Forks
Turf Edgers
Hedge Shears
Wheel Barrows

Perfect satisfaction
Prices Right

W. WESTLAND
The Hardware Man
1597 Hancock St.

NOTABLE LAND SALE
By Order of Executors
AT PUBLIC AUCTION
On the Premises
Friday April 23, 1915
at 4 o'clock p.m.

"275 feet Frontage on Water St., main thoroughfare between South and West Quincy offers extensive Mercantile Development.
"420 and 305 feet Frontage on Roberts St. extension to be soon built, should command the attention of Manufacturers and others.
Several House Lots are accessible by Private Way from Granite Street.

Investors! Do You Believe in Quincy
Positive Sale. If you miss a bargain don't growl
Executors Estate W. S. Williams
17-4t

USE
Walco Asphalt
Slate Shingles
Easily Laid, require no painting, fireproof and weather proof.
ATTRACTIVE and DURABLE.
Much cooler than Slate Shingles.
Two colors
RED and GREEN
We recommend this roofing highly.
Come in and see our line.
Ask for Sample.
USE CARBORUNDUM SHARPENING STONES
NATHAN AMES
5 Granite St.

We Carry the Best

Groceries it is possible to obtain. Our stock is always fresh. Supply your grocery needs from our stores and you will be well pleased, both in quality and price. 'Phone us your order. It will receive prompt and careful attention.

Star Naptha Washing Powder	.05 pkg.	6 for .25
Large size " "	.20 "	3 for .55
Sun Bright Cleanser	.05 can	6 for .25
Wool Soap		6 bars .25

ADAMS MARKET
City Square
Phone 1980

FOY'S
2 STORES

WATER STREET
Cor. Quincy
Phone 147

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 93 QUINCY, MASS., WEDNESDAY EVENING, APRIL 21, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

WANT TO SELL LIQUOR NEAR NEPONSET BRIDGE

Licensing Board of Boston Gives Notice of Two Applications

CITY OF BOSTON
1275 Office of the Licensing Board for the City of Boston
April 17, 1915

Notice is hereby given under Chapter 100 of the Revised Laws, that William N. & Agnes J. Hackett as William N. Hackett & Co. have applied for a license of the second class to sell intoxicating liquors as victuallers at No. 443 Neponset avenue and bulkhead entrance Dor. in said Boston in one room first, one room and office second floors; cellar for stock only of said building.

CHARLES R. GOW,
JOSIAH S. DEAN,
ROBERT A. WOODS,
Licensing Board

CITY OF BOSTON
1280 Office of the Licensing Board for the City of Boston
April 17, 1915

Notice is hereby given under Chapter 100 of the Revised Laws, that David P. and Mary V. Power as David P. Power & Co. have applied for a license of the fourth class to sell intoxicating liquors at No. 406 Neponset avenue and rear entrance from passageway Dor. in said Boston in one room and office first floor and cellar of said building.

CHARLES R. GOW,
JOSIAH S. DEAN,
ROBERT A. WOODS,
Licensing Board

The above are copies of the official advertisements which appeared in the Dorchester Beacon of April 17. Both the locations mentioned are a short distance from Neponset bridge.

The second class license applied for permits the operation of a Palm Garden, the statute providing holders of that license can sell malt liquor, cider and light wines, containing not more than 15 per cent of alcohol.

The fourth class license applied for in the other advertisement, under the statute will allow the sale of liquor of any kind, not to be drunk on the premises.

No. 406 Neponset avenue is a few doors this side of Minot street.

No. 443 Neponset avenue is a short distance from the street railway terminals at Neponset Bridge.

The publication of the advertisements will in all probability arouse the opposition which became dormant after a reputable citizen of the city called on the licensing board a short time ago and was assured that no application for the sale of liquors at Neponset had been made.

THE WEATHER.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	4.53
Sun sets	6.33
Length of day	13.40
Moon rises	1.14
High water, A. M.	4.30
High water, P. M.	5.15
Days increase	4 hrs. 31 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	60 degrees
Apr. 21, 1914,	55 degrees
Apr. 21, 1913,	33 degrees
Noon Maximum 18 years—86
Noon Minimum 18 years—30

HOLD SOCIAL AND DANCE.

Chapter No. 11, Odd Ladies of Manchester Unity, held a social and dance after a short business meeting in Franklin hall, Tuesday evening. Over 150 were present. The affair was in charge of the regular entertainment committee with Mrs. Russell Medlyn as chairman. The money realized will be turned over to the benefit fund.

UNITY DRAMATIC CLUB

The Unity Dramatic club is holding rehearsals for its annual play which will be held in Quincy Music hall Thursday evening, May 6th. The play to be given is "Triss or Beyond the Rockies." It is a Western play full of the real wild west parts. The major parts will be taken by Andrew J. Dinegan who has been in several past minstrel shows in the city and has always acquitted himself very creditably and by Miss Mary Williams who has also appeared in several heavy parts in the Sons of St. George Minstrels. The minor parts will be taken by the following: George Orr, Maud Ellis, Rita Gurney, Ethel Jones, James Williams, Charles Ross, and Hugh Williams.

OF INTEREST TO AUTOMOBILISTS

Studebaker products will be demonstrated at Music hall, this afternoon and evening and at the Auditorium Theatre Friday and Saturday.

NOTABLE LAND SALE

By Order of Executors
AT PUBLIC AUCTION
On the Premises
Friday April 23, 1915
at 4 o'clock p.m.

"275 feet Frontage on Water St., main thoroughfare between South and West Quincy offers extensive Mercantile Development.
"420 and 505 feet Frontage on Roberts St. extension to be soon built, should command the attention of Manufacturers and others.
Several House Lots are accessible by Private Way from Granite Street.

Investors! Do You Believe in Quincy
Positive Sale. If you miss a bargain don't growl
Executors Estate W. S. Williams
17-4t

GEO. H. BROWN GOES TO NEWTON

George H. Brown, one of Quincy's well known lawyers and real estate agents, is moving this week from Elm street to Newton, where he has bought a large estate and where he will make his home in the future. Although Mr. Brown has maintained an office in Quincy in the Adams building for some years of late he has devoted but little time to Quincy owing to the increase of his business in Boston, where he has an office in the Tremont building.

LEAGUE HOLDS MEETING.

The annual business meeting of the Epworth League was held in the vestry of the Hall Place M. E. church Tuesday evening. Reports of the various departments were received and placed on file.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year.

President, Arthur Jordan.
First Vice-pres. Ernest Briggs.
2nd Vice-pres., Miss Rita Hunter.
3rd Vice pres., Miss Addie Newcomb.
4th Vice pres., Robert McCormick.
Secretary, Miss Edna Miller.
Treasurer, Miss Bessie Nichols.
Pianist, Miss Jessie Burke.

The resignation of Mrs. D. McNeill as Junior League superintendent was laid on the table for one month

TWO ATTACKS REPULSED.

(By United Press.)

Paris, April 21—Fighting today was chiefly confined to the border of Montmare, where the Germans have been making desperate efforts to retake the trenches recently captured. Two counter attacks by the Germans against these positions were repulsed today with heavy losses, according to the official reports.

MRS. SUSAN D. ALLBEE.

Susan D. Allbee, widow of John G. Allbee died Tuesday night at her home, at 90 Hollis avenue. Mrs. Allbee was a well known resident of Atlantic.

SIX STILL ALARMS.

The apparatus was called out a number of times Tuesday by still alarms. At 1.50 the Atlantic auto went to a fire on the Neponset bridge.

At 2.20 Wollaston apparatus went to a fire on Clay street.

At 3.40 Quincy Point went to a grass fire on Chubbuck street.

At 4.30 West Quincy went to a brush fire on Larry place.

At 8.40 Atlantic went to a grass fire near the Parker estate.

At 9.50 the Atlantic apparatus was called to the Norfolk Downs depot but found no fire on its arrival.

BRYAN IS SILENT.

(By United Press.)

Washington, April 21—Sec. Braan was silent today concerning Edward Gray's declaration in the British House of Commons on the Chinese "Open door." That the Japanese-Chinese situation has been most trying to the administration was common knowledge however, so it was believed the British foreign secretary's assurance was highly gratifying.

SEEKS COMPENSATION.

The Industrial Accident Board is holding a hearing at city hall today in the James McKenna case against the Fore River Shipbuilding Corp. The case is one where McKenna seeks compensation on account of an injury to an eye. What makes the case somewhat complicated is the fact that the acicdent was not reported until six months after its occurence.

"The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader.

OPEN WAR ON TOBACCONISTS

Word has gone forth from the Mayor's office to the police department to open war on the dealers in tobacco who it is alleged have been selling cigarettes to minors. For some weeks past many complaints have been coming to the school department that a large number of school boys are getting the cigarette habit. The Mayor has directed Capt. McKay to prosecute dealers in tobacco who are selling cigarettes or tobacco in any form to minors.

ANNUAL MEETING.

Wollaston Cooperative Bank Elects Officers.

The annual meeting of the Wollaston Cooperative bank was held Tuesday evening and the officers elected:

President, Herbert T. Whitman.
Vice President, Frederick H. Bishop
Treasurer and clerk, Herbert W. Pinkham.

Directors, Charles S Adams, Charles W. Bailey, Clifton H. Baker, Thomas Fenno, Amos T. Leavitt, Charles A. McFarland, Arthur Murphy, Nathan G. Nickerson, Albert G. Olney, Walter S. Pinkham, R. W. Poole, Alfred H. Richards, George E. Thomas, George Weston, John G. Whitman, Charles F. Wilde and George D. Woodbury.

The new series of shares were placed on sale and a large number were subscribed for. At the meeting the bank loaned the sum of $30,000.

TO HOLD LADIES' NIGHT.

The Ladies' Night of the Quincy Catholic club will take place in New Colonial hall Thursday night, a week earlier than originally announced and a fine entertainment program has been arranged for the occasion.

The affair will be held for the members of the club and their friends and will be followed by a social hour. The dramatic committee is completing the arrangements, and those in charge will be Miss Mary Lyons, Miss Helen Galvin, Miss Margaret Magee, Miss Josephine McCarthy, Miss Annie Walsh and Miss Corrine LaBrecque.

The annual ladies of the Bethany Brotherhood will be held this evening.

FORE RIVER LOG TO BE ITS NAME

The first edition of the Fore River Log, the paper to be devoted to the interests of the employees of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation, will be issued on May 1.

The formal christening of the publication took place today when it was announced that Charles Ellis, plumber and John P. Cogan, stewart of the yard, had both submitted the name chosen. Prizes of $10 gold pieces have been awarded to each man.

Tons of copy have been coming in to Joseph Larkin editor in chief of the publication. There are a score of contributing editors and included in the contributors are some of the best known men in naval construction in the world. The paper will also have its share of table gossip, items of a personal nature and stories on changes in the shipyard.

MOOSE HOLD INSTALLATION

District Deputy Supreme Dictator James J. Daley, formerly of Quincy and past dictator of Quincy lodge of Moose, installed Dictator William B. Norrie and the other officers of the local lodge in Electa hall Tuesday evening. The exercises were attended by the women friends and wives of the members.

A social hour followed, with whist and dancing The whist prizes were awarded to Mrs. E. J. Killin, Mrs. J. Pineau, Oscar Swanson and R. Hanson. The consolation prizes went to "Miss" Edward J. Fegan who played as a lady and Albert Lawton.

The affair was conducted under the direction of the entertainment committee, Neil MacDonald as the chairman.

The South Shore branch of the Sunday School Union will meet on the afternoon and evening of Monday, May 3, in the new parish house of St. Chrysostom's church.

RELEASE MILLER AFTER SEVERAL DAYS IN JAIL

Judge Avery Reduces Bail of Man Charged With Manslaughter

Joseph E. Miller, the Weymouth contractor, held on two charges in connection with the accident which resulted in the death of Patrick Butler, chief of police of Weymouth appeared in court this morning.

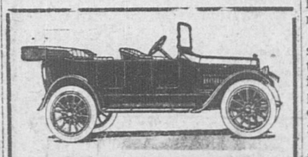

Following representations made by M. J. Shugre, former district attorney of Suffolk County, who has been retained as counsel for the defendant, Judge Avery reduced the bail on the complaint charging manslaughter from $5000 to $1500. The bail of $500 on the complaint charging him with operating while under the influence of liquor was allowed to stand.

Atty. Shugre said another factor to be considered so justice could be served was that an attorney in attempting to prepare a case while a client languished in jail was hampered. He argued that a speedy trial, perhaps this week, was necessary inasmuch as through the delays a false impression of the case might be formed at the office of the district attorney and for which his client might suffer.

Atty. Adams asked for a continuance to April 28 because he said pressing duties at the district attorney's office had prevented the preparation of the governments' case. Judge Avery granted the request.

During the conference Judge Avery announced that an inquest would be held Saturday and that Lewis A Cook, associate justice, would hear the testimony.

Harry B. Quinn and Margaret A. Miller wife of the defendent, were accepted as sureties. Miller who has been in Dedham jail since his arrest was immediately released and joined his friends in the court.

JACKSON
Model 46
THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL. SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER
"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"
Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT
$1375
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

KINCAIDE THEATRE

THE FAMOUS PLAYERS IN
"BUCKSHOT JOHN"
A Thrilling Western 4 Reel Photo-Play
— As Produced by the Paramount Co. —
15th Episode—Pathe Films—"Exploits of Elaine"—with new thrills
Vaudeville. — The Honolulu Duo — In a Novelty Musical Act
Direct from Hawaii
Swan and Bombard — Eccentric Comedians and Fun Makers
Wood and Halpin — Entertaining Singers — with new dances and original live talk
TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY DAILY MATINEE at 2.30 10 & 15c. EVENINGS at 8 — 10-15-25c
Coming Thursday — John Barrymore, in — "The Man From Mexico."

FURNITURE and PIANO MOVING
PACKING and STORAGE
William D. King
106 Center St., Tel. Quincy 21003
21tf

LIEUT. GOV. CUSHING AT FIRST PARISH CLUB

Elect Geo. E. Pfaffmann President at Annual Meeting

Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson of the First Parish church on Tuesday evening retired from the presidency of the First Parish Men's club after three years' service and George E. Pfaffmann was unanimously elected his successor, Lt. Governor Grafton Cushing was the speaker of the evening.

The officers elected were:
President—George E. Pfaffmann.
Vice President—Joseph B. Groce.
Secretary—William A. Bradford.
Treasurer—George F. Hall.
Executive Committee—Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson, Charles C. Hearn, Joseph L. Whiton and B. A. Day.

Dinner committee—H. A. Day, Dr. H. L. Keene, Elmer Ricker, James H. Lally, H. F. Tilden.

The report of Retiring Secretary Henry R. Holden pointed out that there are now 190 members and that the average attendance at the dinners has been 135.

Arthur B. Bowen, a member, Holden announced is with the British army in the field. The announcement occasioned much applause.

Treasurer Hall said $1206.25 had been received, that the balance was $165.21 and that $506.30 had been spent for food and provisions.

The candidates were unopposed, the list submitted by the nomination committee being unanimously adopted.

Rev. Mr. Hudson highly commended his associate officers, particularly the dinner committee. He said he felt a deep sense of gratitude for the loyal esprit de corp which has featured the association the past three years. The value of the club he said, "is fundamental and vital to the best interests of the city. Men have and will continue to meet on the broad basis of good citizenship, standing for certain ideas of citizenship and character which have a strong bearing on the social, political and moral life of the city." He spoke of the privilege of being a layman which he was about to enjoy, and said he had no use for the ministry as a profession when it separates from the manly, earnest sympathy of men.

"There are forces in Quincy," declared Rev. Mr. Hudson which disintegrate and draw apart and they tend to take away the possibility of splendid growth because they create distrust. The club has helped draw men together in sympathy, good fellowship and common ideals.

"I never expect to live anywhere else," he continued and after the applause which greeted the statement died away, he said: "When my work is finished as pastor I intend to stay and see the other fellow work."

The election followed the roast beef dinner and was well attended. The menu was of unusual excellence, rich, rare and of a high flaver. About 150 lovers of good food were present. Smokes were lighted at the close of the dinner and the annual meeting and speech of Lt. Gov. Cushing followed.

Lt. Gov. Cushing was received with applause. He said his talk on "Taxation" was the result of nine years' experience as a legislator together with considerable business experience.

He said if the constituional amendment passes the legislature it will come before the voters next fall. He declared it to be of vital importance because it will open the way to correct the evil effects resultant from the taxation system of Massachusetts which is universally considered, he declared about the worst in the world

The supreme court has ruled that the legislature can make no changes and the only relief in sight is through an amendment. One third of the states have no constitutional provision which calls for proportional legislation, applicable when enacted but now inequitable and unjust.

"It has always seemed absurd," said the speaker, "that the legislature is bound by constitutional provision in such a way that it cannot pass proper laws and if the legislature cannot be trusted self government might just as well be given up.

"The wealth of the commonwealth is partly intangible, consisting of stocks and bonds which can not be seen. It is estimated at the office of the tax commissioner that between five and six billion dollars worth of securities annually escape taxation. Think of it, gentlemen, five billion dollars worth of wealth untaxed.

"The compulsory return recommended by Gov. Walsh resulted in 100 millions worth of capital leaving the state and we are face to face with the situation which confronted Ohio some years ago, when all of the wealthy men left the state, and from which the state has never recovered. The tax on intangible securities ranges from one-third to one-half of its return. That is the law and there is no despot of the Orient who would maintain such a system.

"Orleans, a country town where there are none of the heavy expenses of self government, some weeks ago saw a string of automobiles pass over its borders and the passengers become residents. The present system which allows this change of residence to escape taxation is the most inequitable, unjust immoral system in the world and the system is to blame.

"Massachusetts' securities are not now taxed and investment in them means the escape of taxation. Many of these however bring no return and simply to become nontaxable corporations which had nothing to do with Massachusetts have moved here and escaped taxation.

"The market is flooded with foreign investments masquerading as Massachusetts corporations and trustees are driven to invest in inferior securities to escape Massachusetts taxation.

"The word 'proportional' was incorporated in the tax laws when there was no tangible property, it then was real estate and personal, personal consisting of tangible property, such as horses and cows. The elimination of that word would greatly help in correcting the present system.

"A corporation is simply a way of holding property no one man can hold alone, but triple taxation with a vengeance exists and is illogical. Corporations pay taxes in Massachusetts when they are established outside the state. They also pay a Federal tax and if the securities are held by Massachusets people they are again taxed here.

(Continued on Page Four.)

Anti-Suffrage Rally

New Colonial Hall, Quincy
Friday, April 23
At Eight O'clock

SPEAKER
Mrs. A. J. GEORGE
Field Secretary of the Massachusetts Anti Suffrage Association
Honorary Chairman, MRS. BROOKS ADAMS

VOTERS—Come and Hear Why Women Do NOT Want the BALLOT.
17-3t

JOHNSON AND CO.'S PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

AN IMPORTANT MESSAGE.

Governor David I. Walsh on Tuesday submitted to the Senate and House of Representatives a distinctly important message which had to do with the present iniquitous system of taxation in Massachusetts and suggested a remedy. The governor's recommendations were substantially in accord with the attitude of Lieut Governor Grafton Cushing as the latter expounded it at the meeting of the First Parish club in this city Tuesday evening. Let us hope that this agreement of a prominent figure in the Republican party of the state with a prominent figure in the Democratic party augurs for a non-partisan consideration of the governor's message.

We have several times pointed out in this column the absurdity of Massachusetts system of taxation, whereby personal property is taxed at the same rate as real property. We have advocated a three mill tax for intangible personal property, imposed and collected by the state and then redistributed in proper proportion among the various cities and towns. We believe a revision of the tax laws would be the most important and valuable work which the present legislature could do.

It is not our purpose at this time to consider the Governor's message at length. Suffice it to say that Governor Walsh makes three points bearing out his contention that the present taxation system is iniquitous. They are

First, the system is faulty and unjust in that a few persons are taxed according to law upon their personal property, while a very large number partially or completely escape such lawful taxation.

Secondly, the fact that neighboring states have established a system much more favorable to the owners of such property taxing it at rates representing a small fraction only of the average rate in Massachusetts, makes it certain that the enforcement of our present laws would only result in causing large holders of taxable securities to remove their domicile from this State. Indeed, evasion is now taking place by a form of trust holdings in other states.

Thirdly, the colonization of rich people in certain communities where the cost of government is light; the result is that in such places the rate of taxation upon such personal property as is taxed at all may be and is as low as $3, while in other parts of the commonwealth it is as high as $26.

The Governor recommends that the legislature this year enact laws to become operative after the adoption by the people of the necessary constitutional amendment, as follows:

1st. A law giving additional power and authority to the tax commissioner

2nd. A law making compulsory returns of taxable property by the owners thereof.

3rd. A law which will retain in the treasury of the Commonwealth certain of the corporate franchise taxes and bank taxes which are now distributed to cities and towns on the basis of the residence of the shareholders of the corporations.

4th. A law similar to a bill which is now before the legislature (Senate No. 451) requiring banks and corporations to give to the tax commissioner such information as they have as to the holders of bonds now taxable.

5th. A resolve providing for a commission to draft an income tax law.

Our observation of the working of the Federal Income Tax has not led us to have much regard for that sort of taxation. We are inclined to think a three mill tax on the principal of personal property preferable to an involved and elaborate tax system upon incomes from personal property. But the important thing is to abolish the present system. The Governor's recommendation is a great step in advance and should receive careful consideration.

We should like to hear from Quincy's representatives in Senate and House upon this important subject. We shall closely watch their course on the matter and shall record their action.

Mexico is respectfully reminded that a time will come when patience ceases to be a virtue.

ASH TEAMS TO TAKE RUBBISH

The Board of Health is getting ready to observe its yearly clean up week in which the regular ash teams in addition to carrying away ashes will also take from houses all rubbish that is placed out for them. Usually the Board has had one week in the early summer for this work but this year it is planned to continue right through the summer season. There will be one week in every month in which the Board of Health teams will carry off rubbish from every ward of the city. The present plans of the Board of Health are that this work shall be commenced on May 3.

MR. GRAFFAM FINISHES WORK

G. M. Graffam, representing the United States Bureau of Census, who has been in Quincy for the past few days compiling statistics for Quincy has completed his work here.

Before leaving this morning he said; "These statistics are collected annually by the Federal Bureau in cities having a population of 30.000 or over. They embrace all financial transactions of the cities including the valuation of all taxable property, the indebtedness and the assets of the cities as represented by the value of water supply systems and other property. The enterprise, progressiveness and tendency towards efficient systemization as displayed by the City Auditor, Henry O. Fairbanks is deserving of favorable comment."

Mr. Graffam also expressed in behalf of the government and personally his appreciation of the cooperation of all of the city officials during his examination.

GUN SQUAD GET PACK SADDLES

Several of the latest pack saddles perfected by H. L. Day of the regular army, the packing expert of the government, have been received by the M. G. Co., of the 6th Regt., M. V. M., and were exhibited to many visitors at the armory, Union hall, on Tuesday evening by Lieut. George M. Downes. The pack allows for the carrying of a machine gun and its entire equipment, together with separate parts, and is so designed that 250 pounds can easily be carried by a mule.

The saddle is an improvement on the pannier baskets used for many years in the Mexican and South American countries and all its parts have Spanish names. The leather in it is heavy sole leather.

The stenciling of the accoutrements practically has been completed. The insignia consists of two crossed guns with the figure "6" above and the letters "M G" below. The automatic pistols and bolos have arrived, packed in cosmoline. They have not been distributed to the men as yet. Several of the caps which will be a part of the dress uniform were delivered at the armory Tuesday. The cap is the regulation army blue with two stripes of robin blue. On the front will be the crosed guns and company insignia.

The drill Tuesday night was conducted under the direction of Instructor Charles Starbird. Lieut. Sydney C. Hardwick of the surgeon's staff examined several applicants. The number of applicants has increased by leaps and bounds the past two weeks and further examinations will be conducted.

MEMORIAL MASS.

A memorial mass for the deceased members of St. Ambrose court, M. C. O. F., was celebrated at St. Mary's church Monday morning by Fr. Thomas R. McCoy, pastor. The attendance was large.

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

The Junior Suffrage league of Milton held one of its most enthusiastic meetings last Friday evening at the home of Mrs. John Lindsley on Adams street. Over fifty young people were present and six applied for membership.

Rev. Roderick Stebbins presided and introduced Mrs. Lister-Watson of Victoria, Australia as the speaker of the evening. Mrs. Watson was a most interesting and fascinating speaker and he kept the attention of her audience for over an hour. She said that there is absolutely no truth in the contention that women suffrage has been a failure in Australia where it was adopted twenty years ago. Through women suffrage, intsitutional life has been done away with and the death rate has decreased so that now it is the lowest in the world. No man prominent in the public life of the country nor no newspaper of standing says anything against women suffrage. The women were highly elated in 1910 when the Parliament of Australia unanimously passed a resolution declaring women suffrage to be the most beneficial law in the country and urging every country in the world to adopt it as soon as possible.

After a brief business meeting refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed.

DISTRICT COURT.

Frank E. Faxon and Henry H. Faxon, adjudged habitual truants, were sent to the Union Training school.

Frank Shea was fined $15 on a charge of drunkenness at Braintree and given probation to Sept. 15 and also fined $10 for disturbing the peace and given probation until June 1.

Warren E. Bearse, 49, sentenced to State Farm for drunkenness at Weymouth.

Thomas J. Ford, Holbrook fined $5 for assault on Walter Parris. Probation to July 1.

August Peterson was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery, in which Frank Link was the complainant, an investigation by Probation Officer Fahy was ordered by Judge Avery who intimated he would find the defendent guilty.

Satisfaction was acknowledged in the case of John Schulet, charged with assault and battery on complaint of Thomas Dukewise, on payment of $7.20 costs.

Mikel Ormsky and Harry Mosang, charged with maintaining a liquor nuisance at Quincy Point following a raid by the police, did not appear in court this morning and were defaulted Both were released a week ago on personal recognizance.

Mitchell LaLond, 47 was sentenced to the State Farm for drunkenness at Weymouth.

Michael Canale was fined $20 for on complaint of Truant Officer Johnson. Appeal entered and personal recognizance taken.

Chesley Williams, claiming Ridlingville, Me., as home was sentenced to State Farm for being a tramp at Milton.

SUES FOR DIVORCE.

Mrs. Minnie L. Merritt of Brockton has filed a libel for divorce in the superior court at Dedham against her husband, Dr. Louis A. Merritt of Quincy. In her libel Mrs. Merritt alleges that her husband was cruel and abusive toward her and that on Dec. 15, 1910 he deserted her and has failed to support her since that time. Dr. Merritt has filed an answer in which he denies his wife's allegations.

The 96th aniversary of Odd Fellowship will be observed by Mt. Wollaston lodge Thursday evening. Arrangements have been made for a banquet, and a large number are anticipated.

MANY APPLY FOR MINOR LICENSES

The committee on licenses of the city council met Tuesday evening to wrestle with a large number of applications for minor licenses, particular applications for permits to transport liquor and for licenses to drive wagons for the collection of junk. Under the pony express law permits for the transport of liquor must be granted during the month of April, and as the council meeting next Monday evening is the last meeting in April it will be necessary for the committee to make its report at that time. At the meeting Tuesday night several of the applicants for licenses appeared before the committee, some being represented by counsel. The committee will probably report upon all applications before them next Monday evening.

BRAINTREE REAL ESTATE SALES

Richard Barden to Henry B. Vinton, Stedman avenue.

Ruth R. Brown to Priscilla Holmes Washington street.

George H. Hatchard to Gustav A. Bergfors, Holmes street.

Henry P. Herr to Michl Esaue, Sherbrooke avenue.

Aubrey Hilliard to Curtis M. Hilliard.

Hobart H. Parker to Lizzie M. Spring.

Agnes C. McDonnell to Mary A. Felker, Oakland street.

Carrie L. Miller to Herbert C. Poore, Willard and Atherton streets.

William F. Rogers to Mabel G. Rogers, Pleasant street and Capen road.

TAKE SIX STITCHES.

Fred E. Goodnow, a cornet player living at 1350 Washington street, Braintree, received a bad shaking up Tuesday night when he was thrown head first from the rear platform of a street car in South Braintree square by the sudden starting of the car. His nose and forehead was laid open and he received a dislocation of the thumb on the right hand. Six stitches were required to close the cut on his forehead.

HOUGHS NECK TO BOSTON.

It is announced that the Houghs Neck steamboat company is to run six trips a day between Houghs Neck and Boston the coming summer. During the winter months the company has added a new boat to its fleet giving them three boats. The regular summer schedule will go into effect early in May.

ASSESSORS HAVE HARD TIME.

The assessors are having a hard time of it this year, for although they have been on their field work for nearly four weeks they have not yet completed Ward One. Up to last Saturday night they had completed all of that part of the ward west of Hancock street, which is known as precinct one. This week they are at work in precinct two.

"Bachelor Hall," will be presented under the auspices of the senior dramatics in High school hall Friday evening.

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES.

Charles F. Adams 2nd et al trs to Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Bertha M. Anderson to Wilton A. Dunham.

City of Quincy to Catherine T. Donovan, W. Squantum street.

City of Quincy to Catherine T. Donovan, W. Squantum street.

Kate A. E. Falvey to Matti Leppanen, West street.

Elizabeth Fulmore to Thomas M. Taylor, Sea street, Fenaugre avenue.

John P. Granahan to Francis J. Germain et ux, Willow street.

Walter B. Grant et al to Alex Miller, Glover avenue.

Darius J. Gregoire to Guy D. Tobey, Cherry street.

William H. Hastings to Margaret Wuerth, Willow street.

Charles F. Lancaster et al trs to City of Quincy.

Mary H. Miller to Fred M. Torrey, Cherry avenue.

Myron L. Morton to Viola M. Ray, Rawson road.

Timothy Reed adm. to L. Dowley Williams, Adams street.

Forrest A. Rowell to Darius J. Gregoire, Cherry street.

Christina J. Sewell to Anna G. Lyons, Berry street.

Charles R. Sherman to Leroy M. Hill, West Elm avenue.

Frederick O. Simpson to James Thomas, Flynt street.

Thomas Swithin et al trs to Charles W. Laing et al, Atherton street.

Elmer H. Warren to Carrie M. Warren.

Fred W. Wood et al trs to August H. Morton et al, Waterston avenue, Thornton street.

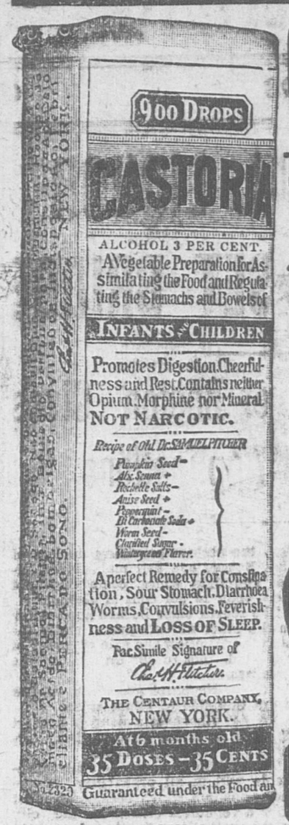

Fred W. Wood et al trs to Elias S. Watts, Florence street.

RECOVER STOLEN HORSE.

The horse and buggy of Ezra Decello, stolen Monday noon from 48 Washington street, was recovered by Patrolman Frank Canavan on Hancock street. Two boys in the buggy admitted, the police say, that they took the horse and had been to Nantasket and Neponset and were on their way home when stopped by the officer. The charge against the boys in connection with the theft was dropped.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CONSULT ME

I can tell you your Past, Present and Future, advise you in your Business, tell you who are your friends, and help you recover lost articles. Private Readings Daily $1.00. Circle Readings Tuesday 3.00 and 8.00 P. M.. Developing Class Thursday 8.00 P. M.

Mrs. S. V. Odiorne
8 Mechanic St. off Revere Road
Tel. 1923 M or 327 M

COUNTING THE COST

I OFTEN wonder," said a local merchant recently, "why our bill for toll calls isn't larger each month, when I stop long enough to consider the use we make of the telephone, both at the store and at home. There isn't a town where I do business but seems nearer to me than even next door. I can beat many competitors by selling my goods over the telephone before they can get there by train; I can get into every town in New England all in one day, tell about my stock, quote my prices, make my deals and sit right here with my eyes on the home store all the time. Most of the people I sell to like that way of doing business.

"As for the folks at home, they keep in touch with all their friends everywhere, and my daughter there at Wellesley isn't a bit lonely, for she has mother's counsel, and it's the same way with Bob in Boston.

"Do you think I would let that telephone out of my reach? No siree! It's not only money in my pocket in my business, but we are in the center of a big world of real live people, just because we can call up any one, anywhere."

Every Bell Telephone is a Long Distance Station

NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY
G. W. ONWAY, District Manager.

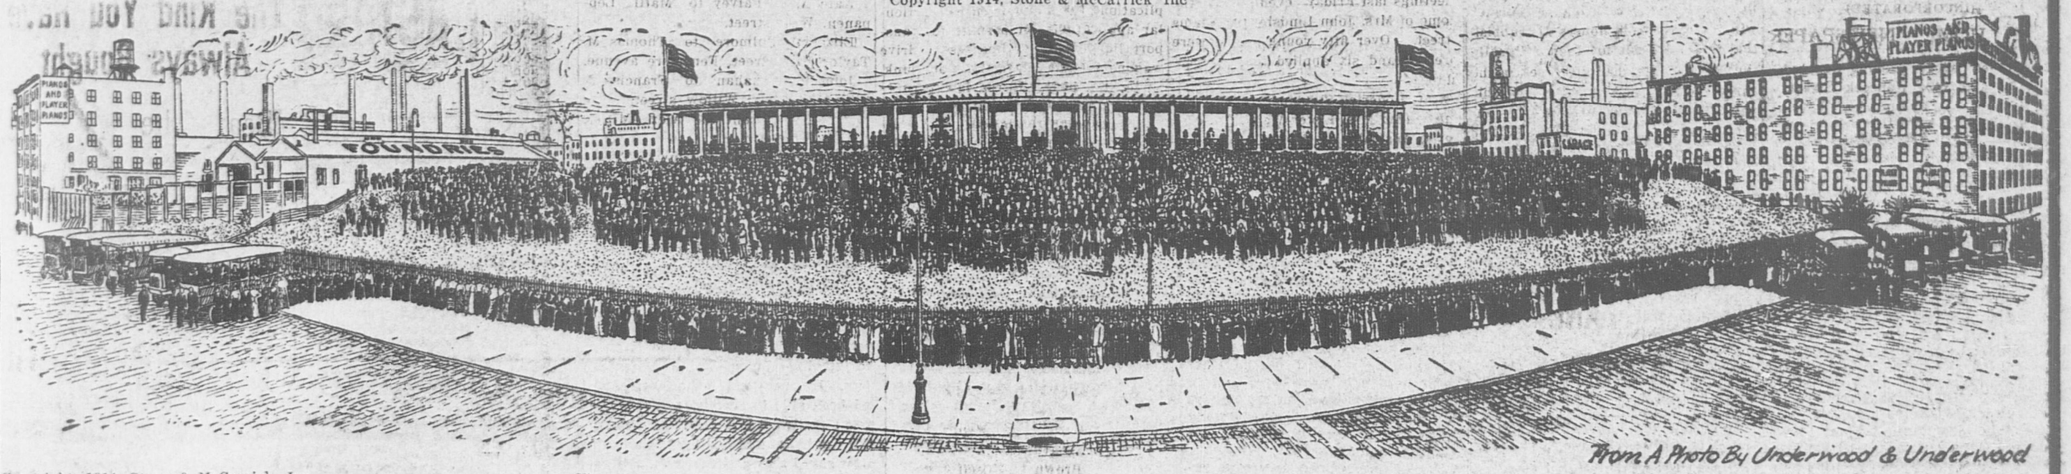

You Should Worry If
it were difficult to find a safe and reliable remedy for the ailments due to irregular or defective action of the stomach, liver or bowels. These ailments are likely to attack anyone; likely, too, to lead to worse sickness if not relieved.
Beecham's Pills
are famous the world over, for their power to correct these troubles certainly and safely. They cleanse the system, purify the blood and act as a general tonic upon body, brain and nerves. Indigestion, biliousness, constipation might, indeed, cause you prolonged suffering and expose you to danger if Beecham's Pills
Were Not On Hand
The Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World.
Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

Garden Tools
Rakes
Hoes
Spades
Spading Forks
Turf Edgers
Hedge Shears
Wheel Barrows
Perfect satisfaction
Prices Right
W. WESTLAND
The Hardware Man
1597 Hancock St.

Manufacturer's Sale of 5,000 Pianos

Announcing an enterprise unparalleled in the history of American business

Copyright 1914, Stone & McCarrick Inc

From A Photo By Underwood & Underwood

Copyright, 1914, Stone & McCarrick, Inc.

View taken from a panoramic photograph which was taken recently on the occasion of the Annual Outing of the 3500 employees of the Bacon Piano Co. and its associated industries.

STATEMENT by W. P. H. Bacon

President, The Bacon Piano Co.

"If a man will take care of his business, his business will take care of him."

And this announcement is the direct result of our strong belief in this principle.

We have built up what is generally believed to be one of the most successful businesses of its kind in the world. It is at least a progressive business. Employing a very large capital and having an organization of 3500 persons.

Just how to keep a big lot of men like these employed, in the piano business, in times when people are talking hard times and everybody is afraid of their shadows, has been a question.

But we have solved it. And we will tell you how.

In the first place, we believe, with President Wilson, that the hard times are largely psychological. We know that there is no sane or sound reason for depression or pessimistic talk.

The country has never had such large crops and they have never brought such high prices—with prices still going up. The people have never been so little in debt. There are fewer people have their forms and homes mortgaged—and there is more money deposited in savings banks than ever in the history of the country. Yet, knowing these things to be so, we realize that people think and talk about war, and depression, and panic and hard times—until the thinking and talking make them seem real.

Now, the way and the only way to offset such a state of mind, is to offer bigger values and bigger inducements for people to buy now rather than to put off buying until after the scare blows over.

We determined at the very first peep of the hard times war scare to make just as many pianos as we have ever made. To keep our organization intact, to the last man in it. To pay as high wages and salaries as we have ever paid. To pay increased wages for better service—just as we have always done—and we have done so and will continue to do so.

But the obstacle in the way was the piano dealer. He is timid with his capital. He said, "Pianos can not be sold in as large numbers as last year." He said, "Everybody is talking about cutting down expenses and retrenching, and it is hard to sell something like a piano, in the face of wars and a lot of pessimistic talk."

In plain, everyday words, the piano merchant got "cold feet."

The Bacon Piano Co., New York City, and its associated enterprises, make up the largest manufacturing industries in the piano and player-piano business.

Their combined capital amounts to nearly TEN MILLIONS OF DOLLARS.

They employ 3500 persons.

The distribution of their products is world wide, their selling and distributing organization extending to all parts of the globe.

They are intensely aggressive and progressive.

Yet, theirs is something more than a vast commercial enterprise, as they stand for a broad humanitarianism, of which this sale to keep their factories running to full capacity, and the photograph of their Annual Outing, reproduced above, are two good evidences.

But we said, "These conditions as you describe them are not so." We said, "You give the people bigger values than you regularly give them; give them a bigger inducement to buy. Make your payments easier. Cut your profits down—to one half what they usually are, and the people will buy just as many pianos now as they ever bought from you—

"And we will assist you."

We told the piano dealers that we would meet them half way, (or more, if need be) in making lower prices and giving easier terms of payment, so that they could go right ahead and do as much business as usual—but do it, at one half the profit, if necessary.

To that end we telegraphed to sixteen of the most representative piano dealers in America to come on here to New York and meet us in conference.

That was on Jan. 20th.

When they reached here, we outlined what we had in mind and told them what we intended doing, and when they left New York, you never saw a lot of more optimistic business men in your life

The sale, its terms and conditions which will be told of in another column in this advertisement, is the result of that meeting, here in our offices, and we commend it to every thinking person, who has any intention of ever putting a piano in his home.

(Signed)

W. H. P. Bacon

New York, Jan. 25, 1915.

The Bacon Piano Company.
President.

Our house with fifteen other firms chosen to distribute 5,000 Pianos

One short month ago, if you told us that today, we would be launching the largest enterprise in the 40 years of our business career, we would have said "IMPOSSIBLE."

Yet, that is exactly what we are doing.

At the instigation of The Bacon Piano Co., New York City, which, with its associated companies are the largest manufacturers of pianos and player-pianos in the world, we announce the most admirable piece of business enterprise ever initiated by any American manufacturer.

It is a bold and audacious undertaking; bold in its conception; audacious in carrying it into effect.

Copyright, 1914, Stone & McCarrick, Inc.

It is not of our initiative. We did not have the slightest thing to do with getting it up.

The whole credit and honor goes to the master minds and directing genius back of the gigantic Bacon Piano Co.'s industries. They thought the whole plan out and put it into motion.

We are merely one of the 16 luckily chosen factors, in different sections of the country, through which the big enterprise takes final shape.

On Jan. 20th, we were called to New York City, by a telegram from The Bacon Piano Co.

This telegram was responded to by our Mr. Kincaide leaving for New York that night.

400 Homes in our section to save the enormous sum of $41,550

On reaching the offices of The Bacon Piano Co., Mr. Kincaide was told that our house, in connection with 15 others, had been selected to assist their factory in carrying out a big undertaking.

The proposition was gone into and thoroughly explained.

Mr. Bacon, President of The Bacon Piano Co., explained that they proposed to go into a big selling campaign, notwithstanding most piano manufacturers were retrenching.

He told us that they intended to keep their factories going and their men employed, regardless of war scares and depressing talk.

He showed us by Savings Bank reports from all over the country, that the buying public actually have more money to spend, today, than at any previous time in our history.

He pointed out that people wanted pianos just as much during war scares, as they did when there were no war scares.

That it was only a question of reaching the customer, by making

That it was only a question of reaching the cutomser, by taking

That it was only a question of reaching the customer, by giving

They then made us a definite proposition.

And that it was a big, broad-gauged, generous proposition, can best be told by telling you that every firm that was asked to participate instantly accepted.

Mr. Kincaide's enthusiasm was so great he immediately sent us a telegram, which said in part: "Will be biggest prestige builder of our career."

What the individual buyer gains in reduced prices and easier terms

The Bacon Piano Co's. proposition was, in a few words, that they were going to distribute three thousand pianos and two thousand player-pianos, through sixteen large retail houses, in sixteen different sections of the country.

Of this number we were apportioned two hundred and fifty pianos and one hundred and fifty player-pianos.

The firms selected to carry this big movement to completion were carefully chosen for their standing in the section in which they do business.

A list of the various cities represented in this undertaking, is printed herewith

The proposition hinged around one central thought, namely:

That pianos must be sold at reduced prices.

That small payments must be made an inducement to buy, along with the lower prices—especially during the first year.

To put the proposition so that you can grasp what it means to four hundred homes in our section; it is like this; two hundred and fifty homes, in our community, will get pianos of an average value of three hundred and fifty dollars each, for 266 dollars each, a saving of 84 dollars to each home.

One hundred and fifty homes, in our community will get player-pianos of an average value of 550 dollars each, for 413 dollars each, a saving of 137 dollars to each home.

FIVE DOLLARS is every cent you have to pay on making your purchase The piano or the player-piano will be delivered to your home immediately.

You are then given 3 years and 8 months, (185 weeks) in which to pay the balance as shown in the following tables—WITH NO ADDITIONAL CHARGE FOR INTEREST.

Your 1st year's payments will be $1.00 a week for 55 weeks	$55.00
Your 2d year's payments will be $1.25 a week for 52 weeks	65.00
Your 3d year's payments will be $1.50 a week for 52 weeks	78.00
Your 4th year's payments will be $1.75 a week for 36 weeks	63.00
	$261.00

Your 1st year's payments will be $1.75 a week for 52 weeks	$91.00
Your 2d year's payments will be $2.00 a week for 52 weeks	104.00
Your 3d year's payment will be $2.25 a week for 52 weeks	117.00
Your 4th year's payments will be $2.50 a week for 36 weeks	90.00
	$402.00

List showing sixteen cities in which this sale is being conducted.

Austin, eTxas.
Cleveland, Ohio.
Des Moines, Iowa.
Denver, Colo.
Evansville, Ind.
New London, Conn.
Philadelphia, Penna.
Providence, R. I.
Rochester, N. Y.
Salt Lake City Utah.
San Antonio, Texas.
San Francisco, Calif
Quincy, Mass.
St. Louis, Mo.
Springfield, Mass.
Utica, N. Y.

¶ During this sale, the Piano Department will be open every evening by appointment, arrangements for which may be made by calling phone No. 1200, and asking for Mr. Bates.

H. L. KINCAIDE & CO.

QUINCY, MASS.

¶ All instruments sold during this sale will be delivered at once. Arrangements may be made, however, to have an instrument set aside, after being selected, to

What Local Clubs are Doing

News of Women's Clubs is a feature of the Daily Ledger every Wednesday. Secretaries of organizations should send notices of club activities, to reach the Club Editor not later than Tuesday night to insure insertion the next day.

The annual meeting of Quincy Alliance was held this afternoon in the chapel of the First Parish church. Following the business session Miss Edith Randall gave a travel talk and a social hour and tea was enjoyed.

* * *

The season for the Atlantic Shakespeare Society is drawing to a close for tomorrow the annual musicale and review will be held under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles L. Coe followed next week by the annual meeting.

* * *

This month brings the season of the Friday club to a close, this week's meeting being the last of the regular program and that of next week the annual meeting which will be held at the home of Mrs. Frank A. Page of Grand View avenue, Wollaston.

* * *

A regular business meeting of the Women's Riverside Club is to be held next Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Oxford, 14 River street.

* * *

Mrs. George H. Wilson of 47 Revere road is to be the hostess for the April meeting of the Hospital Aid Association on Thursday afternoon April 29.

* * *

A colonial tea is to be given by the Y. M. C. A. Women's Auxiliary in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on the evening of April 28, followed by an entertainment. Tea at 7.30 will be served by members of the Auxiliary dressed in colonial costume.

* * *

Members and friends of Unity circle of King's Daughters are anticipating a rare treat Saturday afternoon when they will gather at the home of Mrs. Theophilus King, Adam street, to hear Mrs. Margaret Deland give readings from her books. There will also be a musical program.

* * *

Charitable Ten King's Daughters meet at 2.30 Monday afternoon with Mrs. Charles Wilson and Mrs. Francis F. Brewer of 39 Bigelow street The whist given under the auspices of the Charitable Ten at the home of Mrs. J. Emery of Adams street was a pronounced success financially and socially, the net receipts totalling $83 which will be given to the Pond Home.

* * *

An all day meeting beginning at half past ten is to be held next Wednesday by the Ladies Benevolent Society of the Wollaston Congregational church. Mrs. Alfred Thompson will be the leader.

* * *

Arrangements have been made by the New England Wheaton Club for its annual May breakfast to be held Saturday May 8 at twelve noon at Hotel Vendome, Boston. Miss Mary E. Woolley, '84, president of Mt. Holyoke college wil be a guest, also Dr. Sperry of the Central church, Boston, who recently became a trustee of Wheaton college.

* * *

Grown-ups as well as children are becoming interested in "Fi-Fi" to be given a grand presentation at the annual May festival for children under the auspices of the Education committee of the Quincy Women's club.

* * *

The Quincy Anti-Suffrage League is to hold a mass meeting Friday evening in Colonial hall to be addressed by Mrs. George which men as well as women are invited to attend.

* * *

Junior Friday club meets Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Laurance H. Sturtevant, Adams street and will continue the study of Brazil under the leadership of Mrs. Jesse I. Litchfield of Wollaston.

* * *

Next Tuesday's meeting of the Quincy Women's Club wil be the last of the social meetings for this season as that of May 11 will be devoted to annual reports and other business. Miss Caroline Tichnor is to lecture at Tuesday's meeting under the auspices of the literature committee, her subject being "Literary Pilgrimages to the Homes of the New England Poets" A social tea will follow the afternoon's program.

* * *

An important and interesting meeting of the Quincy Federation of Women's Clubs is to be held Thursday morning at ten o'clock in the Adams academy building. Miss Dickinson, an able speaker, a member of the State Board of Health, will give the main address. Mrs. Arthur Townsend will speak on the subject of part time schols and the various committees will report.

* * *

The regular meeting of the Squantum Women's club will be held this evening at the home of Mrs. C. S. Purcell, Dorchester street. Saturday night a whist party is to be given at her home b ythe ladies of the club.

* * *

MID-BIENNIAL COUNCIL.

Executive Board members of State Federations, heads of departments, state presidents, General Federation secretaries, presidents of all clubs holding direct membership in the General Federation and other club women interested to attend are eligible to participate in the deliberations of the mid-biennial conference, to be held in Portland, Oregon, June 1, 2, and 3, by the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

The dates set for the Council are just previous to the opening of the Annual Rose Festival, for which Portland is famous.

* * *

WOLLASTON WOMAN'S CLUB.

The regular meeting of the club was held Tuesday afternoon in the Unitarian parish house.

The club voted to give $25 to the Massachusetts Fields school playground.

A letter of thanks was read from Mrs. N. S. Hunting of the Quincy Women's club for the $100 which the Wollaston club gave for the benefit of the Visiting Nurse.

The club voted $500 with interest accruing into a permanent building fund.

Announcement was made of the club luncheon to be held at Hotel Vendome, Boston, May 1st at 1 o'clock The after-dinner speakers will be Mrs. J. Malcolm Forbes of Milton and Mrs. George F. Young, president of the Boston City Federation. Toasts will be responded to by club members.

The children's party will be Saturday at the Unitarian parish house.

The afternoon's program was in charge of Mrs. Harry A. Stevens who introduced Mrs. Electa M. Sherman. Mrs Sherman in a delightful way explained something about parliamentary law showing that it was really a pleasant and profitable study. The parliamentary law class was called upon to show their knowledge gleaned through the winter, various members taking their turn at being chairmen of the meeting and many instructive points were made in a most humorous way.

Surely the original afternoon was very enjoyable and best of all instructive. Mrs. Addie Rice Heath rendered several whistling solos accompanied by Miss Olney which were much enjoyed.

The recent afternoon whist given at the home of Mrs. J. Henry Emery, by the Charitable Tens circle, Kings Daughters, for the benefit of the Pond Home, netted $83.

The PROBLEM of GOOD MILK

All persons do not understand what is meant by good, safe milk. Some believe that the milk with a deep cream line is desirable, whereas, the Doctor knows that Holstein Milk, although containing little cream is often more desirable for babies, partly for this reason, or perhaps because of the method of production

The real criterion of a good milk is its wholesomeness This depends upon the conditions at the dairy, and the special care given it until it reaches the consumer. Scrupulously clean and healthy cows, clean and healthy dairymen, rapid cooling, and protecting the milk, constant dairy and laboratory inspection are required. Furthermore safety is assured when the dealer pasteurizes his supply.

THE ELM FARM MILK COMPANY OF DORCHESTER offer pure Family Milk, and exceptional Nursery Milk at prices often charged for ordinary milk Speak to the salesman, or call Dor. 2100. 6-1 mo.

Pratt's Vienna Bread

Baked expressly for those who appreciate the best. Always uniform in quality and quantity.

YOUR GROCER

Quincy E. E. GRAY CO. Wollaston

Two Stores

Tel. 327 M Quincy Reliable Groceries Tel. 1586 M Quincy

Sunkist Lemons	per doz. 20c
Best Milk Biscuits	3 lb. for 25c
Butter-Thin Biscuits	per lb. 12c

TEA, COFFEE AND SPICES
BEST GROCERIES AT REASONABLE PRICES
GOODS DELIVERED

MUST REMAIN EUROPE'S FRIEND

America Is Becoming Mediating Power of the World

PLEA FOR TRUTH IN NEWS

President Makes Clear His Ideas of True Neutrality—Will Not Walk Around Trouble, Nor Is He Looking For It—We Do Not Want Anything Not Belonging to Us

New York, April 21.—President Wilson gave a definite and clear statement of the neutrality which is guiding his administration during the war in Europe.

He chose the occasion of the annual luncheon of The Associated Press for what he said he regarded as a statement of gravest importance to the American people.

The influence of the newspapers in moulding public opinion, Mr. Wilson said, prompted him to make clear his ideas of true neutrality, and in doing so to impress upon his hearers the importance of adhering strictly to truthfulness and honesty in the dissemination of the news.

Mr. Wilson seemed to weigh individually each word he uttered. The importance he attached to his statement was reflected in a request that no attempt be made to paraphrase his speech or to give it publicly until the official White House stenographer had transcribed it in full.

As the only great nation not engaged in the war or suffering under the immediate influence of the war zone, Mr. Wilson declared that a great distinction awaited the United States when the hour of readjustment should come, provided this nation should prove to the world its self-control and self-mastery. The past had been difficult, he pointed out, but the future would be more difficult.

America, the president said, never would attempt to sit in judgment upon another nation. No nation was fit to do that, he added. But America, free from hampering ambitions as a world power, free of a lust for territory, calm, cool and without interest, must be appealed to to assist in the reconstruction processes of peace.

"There is something much greater to do than fight," said the president. "Let us think of America before we think of Europe, so that America may be fit to be Europe's friend when the test of friendship comes.

"The times before us are likely to be difficult, for the world's affairs are rapidly drawing to a climax, and then will come the great test for us.

"We are becoming more and more, by force of circumstances, the mediating nation of the world. We must be ready to help both sides when the struggle is over.

"The basis of neutrality is not self-interest, but fairness, sympathy and good will. We do not want anything that does not belong to us, and hence we are in a position to form a part of the asessing opinion of the world.

"My interest in neutrality is not the petty desire to keep out of trouble. I have never looked for trouble, but I do not want to walk around trouble. If any man wants a scrap that is an interesting scrap, and worth while, I am his man.

"There is in some quarters a disposition to create distempers in this body politic. Men are even uttering slanders against the United States as if to excite her. Men are saying that if we should go to war upon either side there will be a divided America—an abominable libel of ignorance.

"America is not all of it vocal just now. It is vocal in spots. But I, for one, have a complete and abiding faith in that great silent body of Americans who are not standing up and shouting and expressing their opinions just now, but are waiting to find out and support the duty of America."

WILL APPEAL TO PEOPLE

Frank's Fate Sealed, as Far as the Courts Are Concerned

Atlanta, April 21.—Leo M. Frank will appeal for his life to the people of Georgia. His case is out of the courts. No further move at law will be made to save him, according to Harry A. Alexander, his chief of counsel.

It appears likely that the last word to the noted case will be said by Governor-elect Harris. The very earliest date under legal procedure, and with the utmost dispatch of every factor concerned, that Frank could face the day to mount the gallows, cannot fall within two months and a half.

RECEIVERS FOR RAILROAD

Rock Island Company Admits Inability to Meet Obligations

Chicago, April 21.—The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway company was placed in the hands of receivers in the United States district court here.

The company admitted its inability to meet more than $5,000,000 in short-term notes and other obligations due between now and May 1, and the court appointed H. U. Mudge, president of the company, and Jacob M. Dickinson receivers.

CITY HAS NEW ORGANIZATION

Montclair Parent-Teachers Association Efects

About a hundred people from Montclair, Norfolk Downs and Bellevue Park met in the Montclair school on Tuesday evening and organized a Parent-Teacher's association. Joseph P McCabe was the presiding officer. The pupils of the eighth grade under the direction of Miss Leah Henniger sang several selections including "Way Down Upon the Swanee River" and "Softly now the Light of Day fade upon our Sight away."

Andrew C. Johsson, principal of school, read the secretary's report and also the report of the committee which had been appointed to draw up the constitution and by-laws.

The balloting resulted in Theodore Parlee being elected president, George Horte, vice-president Mrs. Frederick E. Harding, secretary, James Ross treasurer and for directors to serve two years, Mrs. Baker, Mr. Mossman Mr. Paull and Mr. Ross. For directors for one year Mr. Brown, Mr. Morgan, Mr. Horte and Mrs. Kessler.

Mr. Barbour, superintendent of schools, spoke on "Parent-Teacher' Associations of Other Schools an Their Purposes." He said that this was the eighth association which has been organized in Quincy. "The purpose in short" he said "is to promote the welfare of the child, to help the teachers and the superintendent to educate the children. The association puts the parent in touch with the work which the boy or girl is doing in the school. It means a great deal to the child to know that his father and mother are acquainted with his teacher and are taking time to belong to such an organization. It make the child feel his importance and his responsibility.

"The parent is helped in being told things which only the teacher has the opportunity of knowing and the teacher is helped by seeing the characteristics of the parent in the child. Therefore there must be co-operation between the two for the best result Quincy is passing through a transitional period in education as well as in politics. It is going from a small city to a large city. Quincy has always been especially desirous for the best educational but the best thing cost money so the Parent-Teacher' association should act as a responsible body to which the school superintendent may go for moral backing for new expenditures. We want you to feel that you have a part in the work.

Mr. McCabe in a bright and witty manner called upon a number of those present to express their opinions on the enterprise.

It was voted to invite Mayor Campbell to address the next meeting which will be held on the third Tuesday in May.

Mr. Parlee thanked the members of the association for the honor conferred upon him and enlisted the assistance and encouragement of the people.

CANCELS ENGAGEMENT.

Mayor Campbell, who had an engagement to speak in Cleveland, O this week and was to have left for that city today, has been obliged to cancel the engagement on account of pressing city and private business.

DR. G. F. S. PEARCE DENTIST

327 Newport Avenue, Wollaston
Mondays -- Wednesdays -- Fridays
8 to 12 —— 1 to 5
EVENINGS
Boston Office 194 Boylston Stree
June 24-1y-w. s.

Quincy Pianoforte School
Mackelton Director
Street Floor, Greenleaf Block
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
Piano Instructions Voice
Private or Class Lessons
Tel. 539-M 31-tf

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.

will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.

OFFICE AT
96 WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY
Tel. 618

SUFFRAGISTS HOLD MEETING

One of Speakers Comes From Australia

Between sixty-five and seventy persons attended the Equal Suffrage meeting at Mrs. Geo. E. Pfaffmann's Tuesday afternoon to hear Mrs. Lister-Watson of Australia and Mrs. Susan FitzGerald of Boston. Miss Edith Randall presided at the meeting.

Mrs. Watson sketched briefly the history of woman suffrage in Australia and then dwelt more at length on the social legislation enacted since women have had the vote. She said it seemed odd that someone had to come all the way from Australia to tell the people of Massachusetts that taxation without representation was tyranny. And yet while Australia seemed the jumping-off place it was the jumping-off place of old prejudices. By personal experience she had been able to compare the outgrown method of indirect influence with the ballot and had found that the latter saved time and energy. Before women had the vote a man could desert his family and earn good pay in another state without any law compelling him to support his family. Women kept urging a law to correct this but it was not put through till women became voters. Now the legislators ask the women what they want. When the question of a Federal Marriage and Divorce Law came up, the women's organizations were asked to make suggestions and pass judgment on the provisions that had been drafted.

In the matter of infant mortality Australia and New Zealand have the lowest percentage in the world. The marked decrease has followed two bills pushed by the women, one of which is a pure milk act. There was a bill recently before the Massachusetts legislature providing for clean dairies but although women worked hard for it the bill was shelved.

Mrs. FitzGerald followed with arguments based upon our democratic form of government. Equal Suffrage is nothing new and revolutionary under our form of government for the foundation stone of our national structure is self government. How can we believe in this and limit the government to one-half the population? Woman suffrage is a logical outgrowth of our American democracy which has been slowly progressing from a very limited democracy based on property and religious qualifications and color up to the present half-democracy.

Women are already interested in social reform; we want to give them not new field of activity but a new method of working in this same field. Women equipped only with personal influence are doing work under modern conditions with a tool that was quite adequate one hundred years ago. But we have not the time to use old-fashioned methods. Eventually pure milk laws may be passed by indirect influence, but meanwhile the babies are dying. It took fifty-nine years of unremitting work and then a terrible tragedy to get the law passed in Massachusetts giving the mother equal guardianship of her children with the father. In Colorado it was passed by the first legislature that convened after women had the vote. Personal influence is also possible only to the few with exceptional ability and with poise; the ballot is the simple mechanism which gives the whole people power over their legislators.

After the talk a discussion was started concerning the fight the liquor dealers were putting up to defeat woman suffrage. When the meeting had been adjourned tea was served. Mrs. Pfaffmann was assisted in serving by Miss Maria Schenkelberger, Miss Edith Bixbee, Miss Constance Sears, Miss Ethel Hersey and Miss Vinon Lacey.

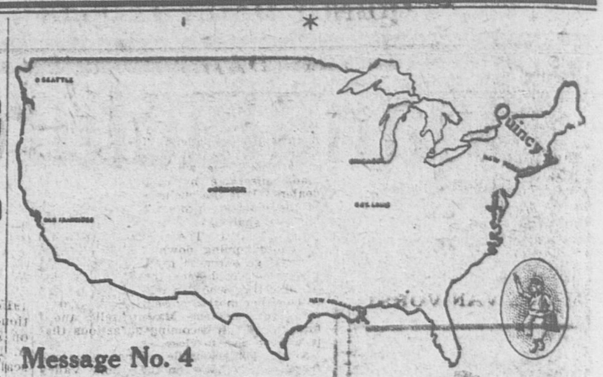

☞PRATT'S BREAD sales have increased because it satisfies. Your grocer.

W. H. HASLETT
31 Bridge Street, Quincy
Tel. Quincy 1092 W

Petrosilo, sanitary and fireproof flooring, guaranteed to wear longer than hardwood floor. No joints One continuous piece.

Plastering and cementing concrete houses, outside stucco work, cement walks, steps and cellar floors. Give us a call.

Feb. 25 W. S. tf

Message No. 4

To the Business Men of Quincy

A young doctor, making a start in a small town, decided that to be prosperous he must look prosperous. He bought a new buggy and two good horses. Although he had only a few patients he always kept on the jump, attending to his patients' smallest needs. People began to notice this young doctor driving about town and they called him because he looked busy and prosperous. He got his start—a start that led to a comfortable practice.

Our town, like this doctor, must look prosperous to be prosperous.

Clean streets, attractive store windows, well-painted buildings and dwellings give the prosperous air. Well-painted buildings are greatest of these.

Beyer-Bauman White Lead
(Dutch Boy Painter Trade Mark)

and pure linseed oil make a most durable and protective paint that keeps buildings well painted. These materials can be mixed to suit conditions and tinted any color desired. We sell these good-paint ingredients as well as other paint necessaries. Better get in touch with us in the interests of prosperity.

WILLIAM WESTLAND

Reduction in Prices.

Your attention is called to the reduced spring prices on Anthracite Coal as follows

Lehigh Stove and Egg	$7.50
White Ash Stove and Egg	7.25
White Ash Nut	7.50
Shamokin Stove and Egg	7.50
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75
Pea	5.50
Franklin	8.50

We recommend the placing of your order at this time to insure the low prices.

Nothing but All Rail Clean Coal handled and delivered right by careful experienced drivers.

QUINCY COAL CO.
OFFICE and YARD
Penn St., Quincy Tel. 47-M
Ap. 7 1mo.

LIEUT. GOV. CUSHING

(Continued from Page One.)

"The first time the legislature ever showed the slightest interest in the tax question was the passage by the house of the income tax recommendation by Gov. Walsh. The income tax is a recognized method of raising revenue and is of value when well drawn.

"The federal income tax is extremely badly drawn and entirely unnecessary. Good Massachusetts money is spent in the South in the building of irrigation ditches which have to be dusted out in the summer they are so dry in order that Southern representatives may be returned to Washington.

"A state income tax will allow us to reach the Massachusetts which is untouched today. It presupposes compulsory returns. Under an income tax a return can be expected because it will be reasonable and will reach everybody alike. It will be collected by the state and distributed to the cities and towns. The elements of populations, school population valuation, the state tax, will probably be means in determining its distribution.

"It will make no difference whether a person lives in Orleans where the rate is $3 or in Quincy, the same rate on intangible property will prevail.

Real estate will be assessed as now by city assessors and so will the tangible personal property but the state will take care of the assessing and collection of the income tax.

"Bargaining with assessors, which although not legal exists, will be eliminated. Massachusetts people have been corrupt for years through our unjust system but a good system, once established, in which a man will pay what he should, will lift our residents to a high plane of honesty."

In closing Lt. Gov. Cushing said the adoption of a constitutional amendment will be clearing the ground for the legislature to go ahead on and adopt such a measure as an income tax. A commission will study the condition and make a recommendation which must be so technical that the dropping of a part will destroy all of it. It may take several years to pass such a law but when finally enacted it will commend itself to the people of the commonwealth.

Several questions were asked after which Lt. Gov. Cushing was given a rising vote of thanks and met many of those present.

ORIENTAL RUGS

WE have the largest and most complete stock of Oriental Rugs in Boston and can always show you a greater assortment than you can find elsewhere.

JOHN H PRAY & SONS CO
646-650 Washington St., opp. Boylston St.

All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy

REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

His Love Story

By MARIE VAN VORST

Illustrations by RAY WALTERS

(Copyright by the Bobbs-Merrill Company)

(Continued from last issue.)

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Le Comte de Sabron, captain of French cavalry, takes to his quarters to raise by hand a motherless Irish terrier pup, and names it Pitchoune.

CHAPTER II—Sabron dines with the Marquise d' Esclignac and meets Miss Julia Redmond, American heiress, who sings for him an English ballad that lingers in his memory.

CHAPTER III—Sabron, trying to save Pitchoune's life, declines a second invitation to dinner because of a "very sick friend."

CHAPTER IV—No more invitations come from the Chateau d' Esclignac. Pitchoune, though lame from his accident, thrives and is devoted to Sabron.

CHAPTER V—Sabron and Pitchoune meet the Marquise and Miss Redmond and after the story of Pitchoune is told Sabron is forgiven and invited to dinner again.

CHAPTER VI—Sabron is ordered to Algiers, but is not allowed to take servants or dogs. He is invited to a musicale at the Chateau.

CHAPTER VII—At the musicale Miss Redmond, hearing that Sabron cannot take Pitchoune with him, offers to take care of the dog during his master's absence.

CHAPTER VIII—Pitchoune, homesick for his master, runs away from Miss Redmond. The Marquise plans to marry Julia to the Duc de Tremont.

CHAPTER IX—Unknown to Sabron, Pitchoune follows him to Algiers.

When Sabron had read the letter several times he kissed it fervently and put it in his pocket next his heart.

"That," he said to Pitchoune, making the dog an unusual confidence, "that will keep me less lonely. At the same time it makes me more so. This is a paradox, mon vieux, which you cannot understand."

CHAPTER XII.

The News From Africa.

It took the better part of three evenings to answer her letter, and the writing of it gave Sabron a vast amount of pleasure and some tender sorrow. It made him feel at once so near to this lovely woman and at once so far away. In truth there is a great difference between a spahi on an African desert, and a young American heiress dreaming in her chintz-covered bedroom in a chateau in the Midi of France.

Notwithstanding, the young American heiress felt herself as much alone in her chintz-covered bedroom and as desolate, perhaps more so, than did Sabron in his tent. Julia Redmond felt, too, that she was surrounded by people hostile to her friend.

Sabron's letter told her of Pitchoune and was written as only the hand of a charming and imaginative Frenchman can write a letter. Also, his pent-up heart and his reserve made what he did say stronger than if perhaps he could have expressed it quite frankly.

Julia Redmond turned the sheets that told of Pitchoune's following his master, and colored with joy and pleasure as she read. She wiped away two tears at the end, where Sabron said:

Think of it, Mademoiselle, a little dog following his master from peace and plenty, from quiet and security, into the desert! And think what it means to have this little friend!

Julia Redmond reflected, was greatly touched and loved Pitchoune more than ever. She would have changed places with him gladly. It was an honor, a distinction to share a soldier's exile and to be his companion. Then Sabron wrote, in closing words which she read and reread many, many times:

Mademoiselle, in this life many things follow us; certain of these follow us whether we will or not. Some things we are strong enough to forbid, yet we do not forbid them! My little dog followed me; I had nothing to do with that. It was a question of fate. Something else has followed me as well. It is not a living thing, and yet it has all the qualities of vitality. It is a tune. From the moment I left the chateau the first night I had the joy of seeing you, Mademoiselle, the tune you sang became a companion to me and has followed me everywhere . . . followed me to my barracks, followed me across the sea, and here in my tent it keeps me company. I find that when I wake at night the melody sings to me; I find that when I mount my horse's and ride with my men, when the desert's sands are shifted by my horse's feet, something sings . . . the sun and in the heat, something sings . . . and in the pursuit, and in the silents, under the stars, the same air haunts me still.

I am glad you told me what the words mean, for I find them beautiful; the music in it would not be the same without the strength and form of the words. So it is, Mademoiselle, with life. Feelings and sentiments, passions and emotions, are like music. They are great and beautiful: they follow us, they are part of us, but they would be nothing—music would be nothing without forms by which we could make it audible—appealing not to our senses alone but to our souls!

And yet I must close my letter sending you only the tune; the words I cannot send you, yet believe me, they form part of everything I do or say.

Tomorrow I understand from my men, we shall have some lively work to do. Whatever that work is you will hear of it through the papers. There is a little town near here called Dirbal, inhabited by a poor tribe whose lives have been made miserable by robbers and slave-dealers. It is the business of us watchers of the plains to protect them, and I believe we shall have a lively skirmish with the marauders. There is a congregation of tribes coming down from the north. When I go out with my people tomorrow it may be into danger, for in a wandering life like this, who can tell? I do not mean to be either morbid or sentimental. I only mean to be serious, Mademoiselle, and I find that I am becoming so serious that it will be best to close.

Adieu, Mademoiselle. When you look from your window on the Rhone Valley and see the peaceful fields of Tarascon, when you look on your peaceful gardens, perhaps your mind will travel farther and you will think of Africa. Do so if you can, and perhaps tonight you will say the words only of the song before you go to sleep.

I am, Mademoiselle,

Faithfully yours,

CHARLES DE SABRON.

There was only one place for a letter such as that to rest, and it rested on that gentle pillow for many days. It proved a heavy weight against Julia Redmond's heart. She could, indeed, speak the words of the song, and did, and they rose as a nightly prayer for a soldier on the plains; but she could not keep her mind and thoughts at rest. She was troubled and unhappy; she grew pale and thin; she pined more than Pitchoune had pined, and she, alas! could not break her chains and run away.

There Was Only One Place for Such a Letter to Rest.

The Duc de Tremont was a constant guest at the house, but he found the American heiress a very capricious and uncertain lady, and Madame d'Esclignac was severe with her niece.

"My dear Julia," she said to the beautiful girl, looking at her through her lorgnon; "I don't understand you. Every one of your family has married a title. We have not thought that we could do better with our money than build up fortunes already started, than in preserving noble races and noble names. There has never been a divorce in our family. I am a marquise, your cousin is a countess, your aunt is one of the peeresses of England, and as for you, my dear . . .

Miss Redmond was standing by the piano. She had lifted the cover and was about to sit down to play. She smiled slightly at her aunt, and seemed in the moment to be the older woman.

"There are titles and titles, ma tante; the only question is what kind do you value the most?"

"The highest!" said her aunt without hesitation, "and the Duc de Tremont is undoubtedly one of the most famous parts in Europe."

"He will then find no difficulty in marrying," said the young girl, "and I do not wish to marry a man I do not love."

She sat down at the piano and her hands touched the keys. Her aunt, who was doing some dainty tapestry, whose fingers were creating silken flowers and whose mind was busy with fancies and ambitions very like the work she created, shrugged her shoulders.

"That seems to be," she said keenly, "the only tune you know, Julia."

"It's a pretty song, ma tante."

"I remember that you played and sang it the first night Sabron came to dinner." The girl continued to finger among the chords. "And since then never a day passes that sometime or other you do not play it through."

"It has become a sort of oraison, ma tante."

"Sabron," said the marquise, "is a fine young man, my child, but he has nothing but his officer's pay. Moreover, a soldier's life is a precarious one."

Julia Redmond played the song softly through.

(To be continued.)

PRATT'S BREAD made of the best flour by the best bakers. Your grocer.

CLARA MORRISON
Pianist and Teacher
Leschetizky Method
CATHERINE MORRISON
Mandolin and Guitar
50 Hamilton Street, Wollaston
Tel. Quincy 1318-W. Sept 30-w.s.-1y

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE

Of Real Estate at Public Auction

Pursuant to a license granted to the undersigned, Administrator of the Estate of CHARLES WILSON, late of Quincy, Mass., deceased, by the PROBATE COURT for the County of Norfolk on the seventh day of April, A. D. 1915, and for the purpose of distribution, will be sold at PUBLIC AUCTION on Saturday, the eighth day of May, A. D. 1915, the following described real estate of said deceased, namely:—1. A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in said Quincy, bounded and described as follows:—beginning at a point in the southeasterly line of a private way thirty (30) feet wide leading southwesterly from Quincy Street Extended, and at a distance of one hundred and fifteen (115) feet from said Quincy Street Extended, and running southeasterly on land now or late of Long & Saunders, ninety (90) feet; thence running southwesterly on land now or late of the Old Colony Railroad Company, two hundred and five (205) feet; thence running northwesterly on land now or late of the Empire Polishing Company, formerly of the Adams Real Estate Trust, ninety (90) feet; and thence running northeasterly on said private way, two hundred and five (205) feet to the point of beginning; containing 18,450 square feet of land:—including also all rights in said private way.

Being the greater portion of the same premises conveyed to said Charles Wilson by deed of Peter McConarty dated November 1, 1894, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, book 724, page 134.

2. Also a certain parcel of land with all the buildings thereon situated in said Quincy, being lot numbered 53 and the northeasterly part of lot numbered 54 on a plan by Whitman & Breck, recorded with Norfolk Deeds in plan book 9, plan No. 387, and bounded and described as follows:—Northwesterly on Penn Street, ninety (90) feet; Northeasterly on lot No. 52 on said plan, one hundred (100) feet; Southeasterly on a private way leading southwesterly from Quincy Street Extension, being land formerly of the Adams Real Estate Trust, ninety (90) feet; and Southwesterly on the remaining portion of said lot No. 54, one hundred (100) feet:—containing 9000 square feet of land. Being all and the same premises conveyed to said Charles Wilson by deed of Edwin W. Marsh dated August 18, 1899, and recorded with said Norfolk Deeds, book 350, page 533.

3. Also a certain parcel of land situated in said Quincy, bounded and described as follows:—Northeasterly by Centre Street, four hundred and seventy-five (475) feet; Southeasterly by land now or late of Marion F. Brewer, formerly of John Wilson, two hundred (200) feet; Northerly and Northwesterly by said last named land, about two hundred and thirty (230) feet; Easterly and Northeasterly by said Centre Street and by a private way called Jackson's Lane, about four hundred and eighty-nine (489) feet; Southerly by said Jackson's Lane, by an irregular line, twelve hundred and ninety five (1285) feet; Southeasterly by land now or late of John Owens, formerly of Adams, seventy-six (76) feet; Southwesterly by land now or late of the Old Colony Railroad Company, eighty four (84) feet; Northwesterly by land now or late of Fanny C. Adams, by an irregular line, thirteen hundred and twenty-nine (1329) feet. Containing 15, 015-1000 acres, be any or all said measurements and area more or less. All of said boundaries being located approximately as shown on a plan by H. T. Whitman, Surveyor, dated Oct. 1900, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds in plan book 31, plan No. 1428. Including also all rights in said private way, and said premises are subject to rights of way in said Jackson's Lane and in the "cartway" shown on said plan.

4. Also a certain parcel of land situated in said Quincy, and being lot marked "A" on a plan of house lots at West Quincy made by Whitman and Breck, Surveyors, dated June, 1882, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, book 539, page 2, and bounded and described as follows:—Northeasterly on land now or late of Herbert T. Whitman, being lots numbered 33, 34, 35 and 36 and the end of a passageway running from Centre Street between said lots 33 and 34, one hundred eighty-nine and 5-10, (189.5) feet; Southeasterly on other land of said Wilson, three hundred seventy-six (376) feet; Southwesterly on land now or late of said Whitman, at the base of a ledge, one hundred fifty-seven (157) feet; and Northwesterly on land now or late of said Whitman and the end of a street now called Hill Street leading from McDonald Street to said premises, four hundred two and 80-100 (402.80) feet; containing about 66,900 square feet of land:—including a right of way over said Hill Street and McDonald Street to Centre Street, and also over the above named passageway that is 15 feet wide, between said lots 33 and 34, to Centre Street.

The parcel first described will be sold on said premises on Saturday, May 8, 1915, at half past two o'clock in the afternoon.

The second described parcel will be sold on said premises on Saturday, May 8, 1915, at half past three o'clock in the afternoon.

The third and fourth parcels, which adjoin, will be sold together as one parcel, on said premises at the corner of Centre Street and Jackson's Lane on Saturday, May 8, 1915, at half past four o'clock in the afternoon.

Each of said parcels will be sold subject to the taxes assessed April 1, 1915. $500 in cash will be required to be paid by the purchaser at the time and place of sale of said sales, the balance to be paid in cash on delivery of the deed within ten days thereafter. Other terms will be announced at the sales.

CHARLES H. WILSON,
Administrator of the Estate of
Charles Wilson.
Savings Bank Bldg.
Quincy, Mass.

April 8, 1915 3t April 13-21-28

OBSERVANCE OF 11th BIRTHDAY

Miss Lois Parlee entertained a number of her young friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Parlee of Montclair avenue, Montclair, on Monday. The affair was in honor of her eleventh birthday. The house was decorated with red, white and blue streamers and liberty bells. The afternoon between three and six was spent in playing games. At six the guests were conducted to the dining room where sandwiches, cake, strawberry ice cream and punch were served. The favors were large peppermints with each person's name in red on them. In the centre of the table was a large birthday cake. Lois received many gifts including candy, handkerchiefs, a pin, a string of beads and a bread and milk set. The party broke up at eight o'clock. Those present were Edith Nickerson, Ruth Kessler, Beatrice Horte, Inez Parlee, Charlotte Fox, Flora Ross, Margaret Ross, Dorothy Mayberry, Ethel Polk, Lillian Callahan, Loretta Chalker, Lois Storm, Sadie Storm and Dorothy Storm.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Five Year Old Boy Entertains Friends.

Richard Scott of East Elm avenue, Wollaston, gave a luncheon to five of his friends on Tuesday from twelve to half past two in honor of his fifth birthday. When the little people arrived they went directly to the dining room where a dainty luncheon of sandwiches, fancy cookies, cake, ice cream, cocoa and fruit had been prepared. The table was decorated with American flags and the favors consisted of corn cobs which when opened disclosed red, white and blue bands. Each guest was given a soldier cap also. The place of honor on the table was given to a birthday cake ornamented with colored candles and five lighted candles. After luncheon games were played and some of the little people recited. Before going to their homes the guests with their host were grouped on the lawn and their picture taken. Those present besides Richard Scott were Louise Galaher, Warren Frasier, Virginia Reed, Arline Fowler and Ruth Fowler.

FIRE IN BARREL.

The central station auto chemical was called to the house of John Prouty at 57 Edgemere road at 10.05 this morning for a fire in the cellar in a barrel of rubbish. The maid emptied a tin of hot ashes into the rubbish barrel which started the fire filling the house full of smoke. The fire created considerable excitement and the department headquarters was notified. In the meantime Carl R. Shepard came to the rescue and succeeded in extinguishing the fire with a garden hose before the department arrived. The ceiling of one of the rooms, which had been newly kalsomined, was damaged by the smoke which forced its way through the floor over the cellar.

DEFEAT BROCKTON BOYS.

At Merrymount Park Tuesday the Quincy car barn team defeated the Torrey street car barn team of Brockton by a score of 10 to 5. The feature of the game was the home run of Keegan. The score:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Quincy	0	2	1	0	0	1	2	4	x—10
Torrey St.	1	0	1	0	0	1	0	0	2— 5

Batteries, Keegan and Gomez Ackleman, Jackson and Friend.

EXECUTRIX NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executrix of the will of Abner Lincoln Baker, late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

(Address)
ABBIE F. BAKER, Executrix.
April 7, 1915 3t April 14-21-28

EDWARD J. FECAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
9 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.
914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10.30 A. M. to 4 P. M.
Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK
QUINCY

CARPENTER AND BUILDER
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
All Work Given Prompt Attention
W. R. LOFGREN
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 368-3

KEEP POSTED ON THE PEOPLE'S WANTS — CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING — WHY WORRY LET THESE ADS LIFT YOUR BURDEN

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Two large rooms for light housekeeping, with electric light set tubs and use of bath. Apply 53 Chubbuck street. 21-3t

TO LET—2 furnished rooms, modern conveniences with or without board. Could be used for professional purposes. Apply at 71 School St. 21-6t

TO LET—Upper and lower flats, 14 and 16 Wibird street. All improvements. Five rooms and bath, large attic with upper flat. Call Miss Newcomb, 49 Newcomb street. 21-6t

TO LET—Two rooms, furnished, for light housekeeping. Gas range, electric lights and privilege of bath and laundry. Also one single room. Desirable parties only. 34 Chestnut street, corner Foster street. 17-3t

TO LET—6 room tenements, all improvements. Apply to C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 20-tf

TO LET—Tenement of 7 rooms, all improvements. Rent $25. Apply 233 Washington street. 20-6t

TO LET—Modern apartment, near high school; two-family house, everything separate; 7 rooms and bath; electricity and gas. Apply A. D. Cossaboom, 95 Merrymount road; Tel. 1974-M. 15-12t

TO LET—Lower flat in two-family house. Living room, dining room, bedroom, kitchen and bathroom, pantry, good closets and cellar. Coal and gas range, furnace, electric lights. Every convenience. Rent $20. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 13-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 7-tf

TO LET—Upper flat of two family house, 5 rooms and bath, all improvements, 3 Bradford street, Quincy Adams. Apply to William Duggan, Bradford street or telephone Quincy 724-W. 7-12t

TO LET—Half house of six rooms and large laundry to adult family, conveniences, large garden. Rent $20. Apply to George H. Newcomb, 21 Adams Bldg. or M. M. Newcomb, 39 Gay street or phone 1990 Quincy. 2-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house, 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2, Quincy or 110 South street, Boston, Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and fully modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

TO LET

TO LET—Tenement of six rooms at 8 Mechanic street. Apply to E. D. Barrett, 27 Revere road. tf

FOR RENT—At 18 Faxon avenue, suite 6 rooms and bath, every modern improvement. Tel. 414-M, Weymouth. 20-tf

TO LET—Single house, 8 rooms, all improvements, centrally located, rent $22.50 per month. Inquire at 65 Chestnut street, City. 17-3t

TO LET — Desirable furnished rooms, 33 Saville street near Quincy depot. Apply to F. P. Morgan. 17-3t

TO LET—3 furnished rooms, all modern improvements, reasonable rent, 132 Marlboro street. 17-6t

TO LET—Upper apartment, 6 rooms and bath, gas and coal ranges, small family $20, F. M. Torrey, Tel. 202-1 Quincy, 25 Spear street. 15-tf

TO LET—To small family of adults, several sunny attractive half-houses, all improvements, centrally located, $21, $23 and $25 per month and water rates. Tel. Quincy 174-2, Charles H. Hardwick, 141 Washington street. 10-12t

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements. 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 13-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—One mission set, chiffonier, and a morris chair, practically new. Apply between 3 and 6, Room 7 Durgin and Merrill block. 21-6t

FOR SALE—Buggy, sleigh, harnesses and robes. Apply Dr. T. J. Dion, 59 Cross street, West Quincy. 20-5t

FOR SALE—House, 17 Edison street 7 rooms and bath. Gas, electric lights steam heat, 11,725 feet land, 15 minutes walk to Fore River Shipyard, price $3300. Make an offer. Apply on the premises. 16-6t

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E. R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-tf. L P.

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

MISCELLANEOUS

NOTICE—Whist players, Electa hall Wednesday evening. Chester D. Brown.

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M, Quincy. Res. 22-tf

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

Prescott Apartments
For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service, vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street, Quincy

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.

Cosy upper 4 room and bath flat, 122 Glendale Road, $19.

H. F. McIntire
HOUSES
Greenleaf Blk
Tel. Quincy 1665-W.

Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale

1-1 yr.

LOST

LOST—Monday between Randolph and Quincy, pocketbook, containing $10 bill, license and registration of auto. Reward if returned to William A. Shirley, 592 South street. 20-3t

WANTED

WANTED—General maids, best of wages to experienced girls with references. Second maids, also young girls. Miss Frances Wilson, Quincy Employment Bureau, 1247 Hancock street. Tel. 1757-W. 21-3t

WANTED—Dressmaking either to go out to customers or at home 7 Park street, South Weymouth. Telephone 425 Christin Nelson. 20-10t S. and W

WANTED—Errand Boy between 16 and 18 years of age. Apply at Navillus Market, Braintree. 20-3t

WANTED—For housework in small flat and assist with young boy, neat and willing required. Go home nights. Near Quincy Center. Address S. F. E., Ledger Office. 17-3t

WANTED—An experienced maid for general housework. References required. Apply at 118 Merrymount road. 16-tf

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

TO LET
Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

TO LET
After May 1, Store or Stores No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.
Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall—28x35—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 168.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for K.r. Kriba.
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21666) Quincy

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN,
Treasurer.

COAL PRICES REDUCED

STOVE	$7.25
EGG	$7.25
NUT	$7.50
FURNACE	$6.50
PEA	$5.50
LEHIGH EGG	$7.50
LEHIGH STOVE	$7.50
SHAMOKIN STOVE	$7.50
FRANKLIN STOVE	$8.50

Coal carried in baskets 25 cents per ton.
Bituminous Coal for Steam Use
We recommend Nut size for stove and range
Stove size for small furnaces and heaters
Egg size for large furnaces and heaters.
We advise placing your orders now as prices usually advance about July 1st.
Coal delivered in Quincy, Wollaston, Atlantic, and Norfolk Downs.

Frost Coal Co.
488 Neponset Ave., Neponset
TEL. 1500 DORCHESTER

April 3 Wed. & Sat. until July 1

Keep your eye on this space for the announcement of our great

1 CENT SALE

UNHEARD OF BARGAINS. WATCH AND WAIT

WEDNESDAY
SPECIAL 40c Wrapped Caramels 29c lb.

CHAS. C. HEARN Druggist City Square

ARRESTED FOR NEGLECT.

Hyman Sampson of New York came to Quincy Monday in response to a telegram and was placed under arrest on a charge of neglect of family.

Sampson's case was continued in court Tuesday to May 22 and the $20 deposited as bail by agreement was given to Probation Officer Fahy to be applied to the maintenance of several children.

Truant Officer Johnson reported that the children were not properly cared for and Judge Avery told Mrs. Sampson she would be allowed 10 days in which to get them ready for school.

K. C. MEMORIAL CLUB.

The Katharyn Crane Memorial club met Tuesday afternoon with Miss Florence Meade and listened to an interesting and instructive talk by Miss Marion Jackson, the school nurse on her work.

The Golden Star will meet Friday evening in Electa hall.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S
Tel. 2007-W Quincy

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING
WALL PAPER FOR SALE
KUSTAA RASANEN
121 Copeland St., West Quincy
Tel. Con. 19-tf

Arthur B. Foster
CARPENTER and BUILDER
14 Bay View St., Quincy Point
Telephone Connection 31-1m

BE WISE
FOOL THE FLIES
HAVE YOUR SCREENS
RE-COVERED NOW
TELEPHONE OR WRITE
HOLMES & HALL
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

SPORTING COMMENT

Peter M. Dackers, captain of the Clan MacGregor team which won the championship of the Scottish clans desires to extend through the Daily Ledger, the thanks of the team to the royal rooters who followed them all winter and proffered so much encouragement in the tight places which developed during the rolloffs.

A five team series for a purse of $25 is to be rolled at the Coliseum. The entrants will be the best in the leagues of the city and the event should create considerable interest in the opening world.

SETBACK TO ROOSEVELT.

Bond P. Geddes
(Staff Correspondent United Press)

Syracuse, N. Y. April 21—Colonel Roosevelt's testimony of by-partisan bossism charges against William Barnes was greatly limited today by a ruling of trial justice Andrews. The ruling cuts out much sensational evidence planned by the defense in the libel and was regarded as a serious setback for Roosevelt.

CITY HALL NOTES

The city council on fire department matters will meet Thursday evening and the committee on Water Supply Monday evening before the council meeting.

Miss Mildred Gray Ruston, overseer of the poor, returned this morning from a week end visit to Winchendon.

You need the Ledger every day.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

$500.00 Prizes For Good Photographs

The offer made by The Boston Traveler and Sunday Herald to send Five Pretty Girls from New England on

Free Tours To the Expositions

in California, amounts practically to giving $500.00 apiece for good photographs. We'll do our share to win this big prize for you or your friends by making the best pictures that can be made, at special low prices from now until May.

Arrange Today for a Sitting
OFFICIAL PHOTOGRAPHER
B. H. NERSES
1507 Hancock St. Quincy
TEL. CON.

DISAPPROVE OF PICTURE "BIRTH OF A NATION"

John D. McKay Against Luring to Church With Smokers

John D. Mackay, chairman of the school committee, in discussing the purposes of men's clubs before the South Quincy Brotherhood at the First Presbyterian church Tuesday night said he believed attendance should be assured without the inducements of suppers and smoking because they tended to decrease the sacredness of an edifice.

Mr. Mackay's statement was made during his discussion of the changes in the world's social industrial and political aspects and of the greater opportunity in recent years for men in general, through clubs and other ways, to assist in the adjusting of matters.

No action was taken on the question as to whether or not the Brotherhood should protest against the continuance of the motion picture. "Birth of A Nation." Alexander Cowe who witnessed a recent presentation of the film did not attempt to discuss the historical accuracy of the picture but said he thought it might create a feeling between the two races particularly the latter part of the film which dealt with the Reconstruction period of the country's history.

Rev. Clarence E. Campbell said he was sorry some white men still retained a prejudice toward the negro and that he believed it should be eliminated and fair treatment accorded them.

An entertainment program followed the meeting, during which there were vocal solos by Adam Magee. The attendance was large.

EASTER WEDDING FINERY.

Dainty Dresses In Smart Outfits, Scallops And Points At The Foot of The Skirt, Cross Stripe And Pompadour Silks.

Easter weddings bring out all that is newest and daintiest in smart attire, and offer a comprehensive ensemble of what the smart set will wear this season. One sees every sort of model at these affairs, from the handsome tailored suit, to elaborate reception gowns, not to mention the picturesque bridesmaids' frocks and bride's dress.

WEDDING FINERY.

At a wedding in a nearby suburb, where the pretty Gothic church was decorated with early Spring flowers, and sheaves of pussy willow and Forsythia were tied at the end of each pew. The six bridesmaids were gowned alike in dresses of white net, over satin slips, the skirts finished with ruffles of lace at the foot and the net tunic skirt was banded at wide intervals with dainty craquelle lace, put on with cordings of pale blue and pink. The rather short-waisted bodice which fitted the figure closely was of pompadour satin, the elbow sleeves and fichu of net and lace. The bodice closed with a lacing of silk-covered cord.

McCall Designs

The hats of blue straw with a matching crown of chiffon embroidered in pink, were faced with shirred pink chiffon with ties that fell over the left shoulder of matching ribbon. Long Directoire canes were carried topped by nosegays of spring posies.

THE BRIDE'S DRESS.

The bride's gown of conventional white satin was completely veiled with point lace, arranged in flounces on the skirt and in fichu lines on the waist. The veil caught to the coiffure with a band of orange blossoms, in the new bandeaux fashion, and her bouquet was of white lilacs and orchids.

Most of the guests came in autos and discarded their wraps before entering the church, so that every detail of the many charming get-ups could be studied from the organ loft.

A BLACK SATIN GOWN.

A black satin gown, recognized as a Premet creation, had the straight full gathered skirt, confined into narrow lines at the foot by a double puffing of corded satin caught with a bunch of velvet primroses just above the left foot. The tight fitting bodice of black satin ended at a line with the arms and was finished at the waist and top with a band of gold embroidery. A loose blouse of gold embroidered black lace extended from neck to hip. A high collar of black tulle with a ruching of pleated white lace, framed the face becomingly. The hat of satin straw was faced with black satin, and had a spray of black paradise caught with a jet ornament.

A POMPADOUR GOWN.

A Pompadour Gown of fancy striped chiffon, that made a wide band from the knee to the foot of the skirt, was of plain black chiffon above this, and made up over yellow satin. At the bottom of the skirt the chiffon was cut into square scallops edged with two rows of velvet ribbon. The bodice was of the printed chiffon, over yellow, and had a square ruffled collar that reached to high velvet ribbon girdle. This was caught with three stiff velvet bows. The sleeve was of plain black chiffon to the elbow and below of net to match the collar. A wide sombrero of yellow Leghorn had a half facing of black next the face, and groups of gay field flowers in pomadour colors, at intervals on the brim. Yellow gloves and shoes were worn with this.

BLUE SOLDAT TAFFETA.

A ruffled frock of the new soldier blue taffeta, was smartened with white bead embroidery on the bodice, the litle vest, girdle and sleeve cuff showing this trimming. A high organdie collar set off the neck at the back and the wide blue straw hat was trimmed with white lace and yellow centred black daisies.

Fannie Field.

New York, April 14, 1915.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

TOOLATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

TO LET—Seven room flat, all modern improvements, situated at 43 Dysart street. Possession given May 1. Apply Mr. Myatt, 39 Dysart street. 21-tf

FOR SALE—7 passenger auto. Excellent for Jitney service. Can be bought very low. Write D. R. Ledger office. 21-4t

FOR SALE—House and barn to be moved within thirty days. Apply Charles D. Bailey, 588 South street. 21-3t

WANTED—Housemaid, honest, neat and willing. References required. Mrs. J. Berman, 117 Quincy street, Quincy. 21-3t

DEATHS

ALLBEE—In Atlantic, April 20th, Susan D., widow of John G. Allbee in her 75th year, of 90 Hollis avenue.

established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1495 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

BRIEFS

Adolph Duggan of Oak avenue has returned from Weston.

Mrs. J. J. Curtis returned to Hatfield Tuesday after spending the week end with her mother Mrs. James Forrest of Hancock street.

The annual dancing party of the Thistle Girls will be held in Alpha hall Thursday evening.

Quincy chapter, N. E. O. P., will hold a whist party this evening in Electa hall this evening.

The annual parish meeting of the Universalist church will be held tonight.

Saturday April 24 will be observed throughout the commonwealth as Arbor Day.

The annual banquet of Col. Abner Packard camp, S. of V., will be held on the evening of Thursday April 29.

Miss Catherine Yule of Quincy Point has returned from New York where she passed the last two weeks.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Wollaston Baptist church will hold its annual meeting this evening.

The new "Keep to the Right" signs placed at important street junctions in City square, are kept in positions during the night as well as during the day time. At night two red lanterns are hung from the signs.

The Quincy Federation of Women's Clubs meets tomorrow morning at ten o'clock in the Adams academy building to hear reports of its committees along various lines of work and the presentation of vital and timely topics by able speakers.

A colonial tea and entertainment will be given by the Y. M. C. A. Women's auxiliary in the gymnasium on Wednesday evening, April 28. Tea will be served at 7.30 and there will be an entertainment at 8 o'clock.

The Sanmtuary Girls of Quincy Point met at the home of Miss Emma Kelly Tuesday evening and partially arranged for a whist and dancing part to be held in the near future at which the members will serve as the committee in charge

The Fragment society of the First Parish church is holding an all day sewing meeting today. As the regular work of the society has been completed each member brought their own sewing. Lunch was served at noon and this afternoon the Woman's Alliance will meet, and Miss Edith Randall will give a travel talk.

Pride of Granite lodge will hold a whist party in Franklin hall, Thursday evening. Whist will be played from 8.15 to 10.15 after which a social hour will be in order. The lodge is also to hold a May dance in Franklin hall, May 27th. The committee in charge of both affairs is Mrs. Catherine Cotter, Mrs. Jennie Morrison Mrs. Lucille Caron, Mrs. Jane Lillie. Mrs. Annie Denton, Mrs. Lillian Smith and Mrs. Mary Thomas.

The One Hundred and Thirtieth Annual Meeting of the Convention of the Protestant Episcopal church in the Diocese of Massachusetts is being held today. At half past nine o'clock in St. Paul's cathedral, Boston, Bishop Lawrence delivered his twenty-second annual address to the convention. All other business will be in Huntington hall. The delegates from St. Chrysostom's are Messrs. D. J. Jewell, E. F. Parlee and F. E. Cleveland.

ACTIVITY AT DARDANELLES.

(By United Press.)

Berlin, April 21, By Way of Wireless—With a strong censorship again in effect it is believed that important operations have commenced against the Dardanelles. Special dispatches indicate activity among the British troops at Lemnos and transports with additional men and munitions are arriving daily from Alexandria.

And Now
YOUR SHINGLES
Sterling Slate Top Asphalt Shingles
A Quality Product
Give your roof an attractive appearance. Requires no painting.
FIRE PROOF WEATHER PROOF
Made in Red or Green finish. Will last indefinitely.
SEE - US - TODAY
USE CARBORUNDUM SHARPENING STONES
NATHAN AMES
5 Granite St.

MERCHANTS 1915 STAMP

YOU NEVER BOUGHT SUCH GOOD SHOES AT SUCH PRICES

FOR GIRLS

Sizes 5 to 8 Value $1. 10 Priced 89c
Sizes 8 1-2 to 11 Value $1 25 Priced 98c
Sizes 11 1-2 to 2 Value $1.50 Priced $1.19
Women's sizes 2 1-2 to 6 Value $2. Price $1.69

See these today!

GRANITE SHOE STORE
The Store of Greatest Values

Lieut. Gov. Grafton D. Cushing, the speaker at the First Parish club Tuesday evening, was the luncheon guest of Hon. and Mrs. E. C. Hultman before the parish club meeting.

Mrs. Howard Rogers of 1063 Hancock street entertained a number of her neighbors informally at whist Tuesday evening. Light refreshments were served.

GOAL ANNOUNCEMENT

April 1, 1915.

Full coal bins are a source of real satisfaction. We are filling our bins as rapidly as possible with FRESH MINED COAL. By placing your order now YOU can take advantage of the LOW PRICES announced in the schedule below. Coal will positively ADVANCE IN PRICE later. There will be no Further Reduction.

We should be glad to call and talk Coal with you if you will notify us.

PRICES FOR CASH

Franklin Egg and Stove	$8.50 per ton
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75 per ton
Shamokin Stove	7.50 per ton
White Ash Broken	6.50 per ton
White Ash Egg	7.25 per ton
White Ash Stove	7.25 per ton
White Ash Nut	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Broken	6.75 per ton
Lehigh Egg	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Stove	7.50 per ton
Pea	5.50 per ton

25 cents per ton extra where coal is carried in. Orders taken for these Prices are for delivery by July 1, 1915.

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc

How Much Better

it is to buy the best groceries from a stock that is kept fresh and right up to the minute. Our stores speak for themselves, but just look through them. We like you to come in.

Gallon tins 1915 MAPLE SYRUP	$1.40
Libby's Extra APRICOTS	2 cans 25c
Blue Label CATSUP	pints 19c bottle
Hershey's COCOA	1-2 lb. tin 16c

ADAMS MARKET
City Square
Phone 1980

FOY'S
2 STORES

WATER STREET
Cor. Quincy
Phone 917

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 94 QUINCY, MASS., THURSDAY EVENING, APRIL 22, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

OPPOSITION GROWING TO LIQUOR LICENSES

Mayor and Others Will Fight Granting of Applications

That the liquor interests were preparing to operate saloons a short distance from Neponset bridge became a certainty to the people of Quincy on Wednesday when the Ledger published copies of the official notifications from the Licensing Board of Boston.

Apparently nothing in recent years has created more real interest among the temperance advocates of the city, who base their opposition on the ground that the grant of these licenses will permit a vigorous assault on the moral welfare of Quincy.

Many arguments are advanced as to why they are opposed and several say they recall with extreme disgust how difficult it was in past years to control the gangs that made the Quincy end of the bride a hangout and that they believe the sale of liquor so close to the line may again promote that spirit.

The police department, although no official views have been given, are plainly opposed to licenses and others frankly declare the purpose of applying for licenses over the line is to prey on the people who will be obliged to wait for cars at the terminal stations of the Bay State St Railway and Boston Elevated roads.

Joseph L. Whiton, president of the council, has reiterated his intention of fathering a resolution protesting against the grants, being presented to the city council and Mayor Campbell has the matter under consideration and will write a vigorous protest to the licensing board setting forth the menace such a situation would create for Quincy.

TWO GAMES THIS WEEK

The Quincy High school base ball team is prepared for its two games this week at Merrymount Park. On Friday it clashes with Stetson High of Randolph and on Saturday it faces Dedham High. Both games will be at three o'clock and will be the first games with high schools this season.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

THE WEATHER.

Moral courage is a much rarer quality than physical courage. It takes moral courage to put on your straw lid before the date which an inane custom has established. It takes merely physical courage, and sometimes not even that if you chance to be in the White Hope class, to remove the hat from the head of the morally courageous man. Who will be the first Quincyite to don his cool Ecuador?

In the meantime you must treat your Chinese laundryman with respect because President Wilson says that the day when China will be a world power is not far distant.

Now let us note the score:

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	4.52
Sun sets	6.34
Length of day	13.42
Moon rises	1.44
High water, A. M.	5.30
High water, P. M.	6.15
Days increase 4 hrs. 36 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	60 degrees
Apr. 22, 1914,	60 degrees
Apr. 22, 1913,	53 degrees

Noon Maximum 18 years—86
Noon Minimum 18 years—30

EXTRA WORK FOR COUNCIL

The Committee on Licenses of the city council thought the six or seven hundred applications for minor licenses made every year gave them trouble enough but that is nothing compared to the trouble the committee and council have been put to by the new rules of the fire haard commissioner rezlative to keeping and storing gasoline.

Under the present rules everybody who keeps over ten gallons of gasoline on his premises, no matter whether it is kept in tanks in the garage or is buried in the ground, must have a permit. An application must be made to the city clerk for the permit which is forwarded to the city council. The council must give a public hearing on the application before it can be granted. As there are between seven and eight hundred in Quincy who keep more than ten gallons of gasoline on hand some idea of the extra work it is making for the city clerk and city council, may be had.

All applications for gasoline permits must be accompanied by fifty cents to cover the cost of advertising the hearing on the application. In most cases after the permit has gone through the hands of the city council and signed by the Mayor it must be approved by the chief engineer of the fire department.

ADDRESSES GUILD.

Mrs. G. Vietsi, who represents the Home Missionary society of Massachusetts among the Greeks addressed the members of the Women's Guild of the Park and Down church Wednesday afternoon on her work. A great part of her talk was illustrated by stories of her personal experiences among the Greek residents of Boston and Lowell. Her talk was interesting and much appreciated by the large number present. Refreshments were served at its close.

The city council committee on fire department matters meets tonight in the committee room at city hall.

NOTABLE LAND SALE

By Order of Executors
AT PUBLIC AUCTION
On the Premises
Friday April 23, 1915
at 4 o'clock p.m.

"275 feet Frontage on Water St., main thoroughfare between South and West Quincy offers extensive Mercantile Development.
"420 and 305 feet Frontage on Roberts St. extension to be soon built, should command the attention of Manufacturers and others.
Several House Lots are accessible by Private Way from Granite Street.

Investors! Do You Believe in Quincy
Positive Sale. If you miss a bargain don't growl
Executors Estate W. S. Williams

17-4t

CONCERT AND LADIES NIGHT

Bethany Brotherhood Have Weber Quartet

The annual concert and ladies' night of the Brotherhood of the Bethany church was held Wednesday evening in the chapel of the church. For the entertainment of the guests of the evening the Brotherhood had secured the well known Weber male quartet and Grace Sanborn Cole as reader.

The ushers were President Frank W. Crane, H. Everett Crane, Ernest L. Collins, Joseph P. Prout, Edwin I. Beale, Albert L. Hayden and Ernest V. Fitts.

The concert was a most excellent one and although there were only nine numbers on the program frequent encores lengthened it to nearly three times that number.

The Weber quartet is so well known that comment is hardly necessary. The opening number was "The Sea Hath its Pearls" and for an encore it rendered a sort of medley of coon songs. Other numbers on the program for the quartette were "Brook and Nightingale," "Oft in the Twilight" and "Mrs. Cozy," the latter being a descriptive humorous selection. For an encore to the second number the quartet gave "Just a Song at Twilight" and for the encore to the last number that familiar humorous selection "Lucky Jim" and "Fiddle Di Di."

In addition to the quartet numbers there was a tenor solo, a love song, and for an encore the selection "She Wore a Rose in Her Hair," also a bass solo which was exceptionally finely rendered. Two encores were demanded. The first number was a fisherman's song and for encores, "Over the Dark Blue Sea" and "Where are the Boys of the Old Brigade."

Miss Cole, who has before delighted Quincy audiences, received a most cordial reception and it is hardly necessary to say that she added new laurels to her reputation. She was down on the program for three numbers. The first was "A Tale of Friendship Village," which was given in dialect and although of unusual length held the closest attention of all. For an encore she gave a short humorous selection "Him, Her, They" in which "Him" and "Her" spent much time in preparing for the meeting which was held in the dark where neither could tell how the other was dressed.

For her second number she gave "A Case in Court" which was a descriptive story of the visit to court of the wife of a noted attorney, who had never lost a case, to hear him make his plea, which on this occasion, owing to interjections by "wifie," he lost. For encores she gave an Irish dialect story and a humorous selection "Pa is Under the Hay."

Her last number was a humorous selection "Mrs. Maguiness and the Roller Skates" and for encores she gave a negro dialect story and a short selection entitled "Courtship by Telephone."

The closing number on the program was a Lullaby by the quartet.

ANNUAL MEETING HELD BY CHURCH

The annual parish meeting of the Universalist church was held in the vestry Wednesday evening. Reports of the several officers of the parish showed it to be in a most excellent condition. The report of the treasurer was most gratifying, showing all bills paid and a balance in the treasury.

Owing to the refusal of Eben Prescott again to become a candidate for president of the parish committee this office was not filled at this meeting but will be at an adjourned meeting to be held the second Wednesday in May.

The parish officers elected were as follows:

Secretary—Miss Mary Cudworth.
Treasurer—John F. Hyland.
Parish Committee, the above with Freeman Hyland, Mrs. Thomas A. Addison, Mrs. Harriet A. Lombard, Willard Hyland and Bartlett Spooner.

You need the Ledger every day.

BRIDE ARRIVES FROM SCOTLAND

James D. Chaplin Weds Miss Harriet Sheperd of Glasgow

RECEPTION IN QUINCY

Among the passengers who arrived in Boston Wednesday on the Allan line steamship "Carthaginian" was Miss Harriet Sheperd of Glasgow Scotland, who was met on the arrival of the steamship by James D. Chaplin of 21 Lawrence street, Quincy, employed at the Fore River shipyard. Shortly after the arrival of the steamship the couple were married in the office of Commissioner Skeffington, Chaplin having armed himself with a license issued by City Clerk Crane. The ceremony which united the couple was performed by Dr. James Alexander.

Mr. and Mrs. Chaplin came to Quincy immediately following the ceremony where they were given a reception at his home.

TWO YACHTS TO ENTER RACE

The rumor that the yachts Resolute and Vanitie will race this summer has been confirmed by R. W. Emmons, 2nd, formerly of this city.

Mr. Emmons is manager of the Resolute and returned from New York Wednesday where he made arrangements to put his boat in the water early in July.

The series will take the place of an international race this summer, there being but little chance of such a contest being held. The Resolute was built by Nat Herreshoff and the Vanitie by Lawley at Neponset.

For the series of races between the two big yachts (to extend about six weeks) the Vanitie will be turned over by her owner, Alexander Smith Cochran, to the management of Cornelius Vanderbilt. The series will begin about the middle of July and the yachts probably will be raced in fortnightly periods, with intervals of five to seven days for repairs and overhauling. It is expected that the series will alternate between Newport and the head of Long Island Sound, and that the yachts will participate in the annual cruise of the New York Yacht club, beginning about August 5, probably along the southern New England coast, as usual.

CARING FOR WAR BABIES.

(By United Press)

London, April 22—Admittedly, the greatest problem of the war will be the caring for the war babies who are brought into the world without the sanction of the church, state or wedding ceremonies between fathers and mothers. Statistics completed here today show that there are 20,000 unmarried women and girls living near the great British training camp who are about to become mothers. There are surely half that number additional in various parts of the country. In addition to these there are many women whose husbands have been killed at the front.

MRS. MARY C. HOXIE.

Mrs. Mary C. Hoxie, whoe death followed a week's illness at the home of her son, Edward Hoxie, 269 Beale street, was well known to several Wollaston people. Mrs. Hoxie was in her 69th year and was the widow of Edward W. Hoxie. Her home was in Plymouth and she came here a week ago on a visit. She leaves a son and a daughter.

ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE.

Rev. and Mrs. Rufus B. Tobey of Wollaston, announce the marriage, August 18, 1914, of their daughter, Avis Caroline Tobey to Herbert Lincoln Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Johnson of Upland road.

GOOD SUPPER AND PROGRAM

Last Sociable of Season is Much Enjoyed

The last sociable of the season, held by the women in the vestry of the Wollaston Congregational church, Wednesday evening, was a most successful one, such a large crowd attended the supper that two sittings were necessary to accommodate them.

This was the last sociable to be held in the vestry for, when these affairs are resumed in the fall, the new stone parish house will be ready for occupancy.

A fine entertainment program, in charge of Miss H. S. Farwell, was enjoyed, the following artists participating: Miss Louise Thornton, reader; Miss Blanche Greenaway and Henry F. Van Buskirk, soloists; Mrs. Van Buskirk, accompanist.

The readings of Miss Thornton were very clever and her dramatic ability added much to their enjoyment. Among the selections were: "Rossie and the Lie," "What Does It Matter," "The Gossips," "Kith and Kin," "Foolish Questions," "The Spinning Song," and "Widow Comisky."

Miss Greenaway was much appreciated and included among other selections "Because You Speak to Me and "The Dainty Little Damosel." Mr. Van Buskirk contributed "Three for Jack" and "Litle House of Dreams." He needed no introduction to a Wollaston audience.

The supper was one of the best served at the church and was in charge of the following committee: Mrs. W. H. Streeter, Mrs. W. W. Nichols, Mrs. A. P. Thompson, Mrs. Charles Alden, Mrs. H. Y. Follett, Mrs. John R. Burke, Miss Elsie Patterson, Miss M. K. Morse, Mrs. George W. Stone, Mrs. Frank Dahl, Mrs. George B. Lewis, Mrs. H. L. Buckner, Mrs. H. B. Wells, Mrs. Walter Brady.

MRS. O'BRIEN TO SUE CITY

Mrs. Annie O'Brien of Gay street has entered suit against the city, through Edward J. Fegan, her attorney, to recover damages of $4000 for injuries received in a fall several months ago. Mrs. O'Brien slipped while stepping from the crosswalk on Granite stret to the sidewalk in front of the Emmanuel candy store and received injuries. City Soliciter Pinkham received notice of the filing of the suit Wednesday.

Mrs. T. J. O'Brien of Gay street has the sympathy of her friends in the recent death of her mother, Mrs. Mary Dennehy in County Cork, Ireland.

Garden Tools

All kinds of good, fresh seeds for your garden

Peas
Beans
Corn
Lettuce

Perfect satisfaction
Prices Right

W. WESTLAND
The Hardware Man
1597 Hancock St.

WEDS MAYOR GAINER OF PROVIDENCE, R. I.

Simplicity Marks Marriage of Miss McPherson

Simplicity marked the marriage of Miss Christina McPherson, a popular young woman of this city and a teacher at the Coddington grammar school and Hon. Joseph Gainer, mayor of Providence, R. I., at St. oJhn's church at nine o'clock this morning.

The ceremony was performed by Fr. Michael J. Owens, pastor, who also officiated at the low mass following the ceremony and was attended by Fr. J. P. Harrington, pastor of St. Agnes church at Providence where Mayor Gainer attends.

Miss Mary W. Dinegan, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid and James A. Gainer, brother of the groom, was best man. Among the few guests were Mrs. Margaret Gainer, mother of the groom. The only music at the nuptial mass was the vocal solo of Arthur Holmes, who sang Stearns "O Salutaris" at the offertory.

The bride was dressed in a light colored travelling suit and her large black hat was trimmed with a solitary large red rose. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses. Her bridesmaid wore a light travelling suit also and a light straw hat and carried red roses.

The entire program was of the simplest nature. Shortly before the appointed time the bridal party and guests left the home of John Dinegan on School street, opposite the church and marched across to the edifice. They marched down the main aisle of the church and the contracting parties took their places on the top step of the altar where the ceremony was performed. They then returned to the front pew where they remained during the nuptial mass.

A few friends of the bride who had gathered in the church attended the mass and tendered the happy couple a reception in the church vestibule before they returned to the home of Mr. Dinegan. Just before noon the guests left for Boston where a wedding breakfast was served at the Hotel Somerset.

The bride is the daughter of the late Andrew McPherson of Wollaston. Owing to recent deaths in her family the ceremonies were attended only by the immediate relatives and friends.

The groom is one of the most aggressive business men of the state of Rhode Island and a personal friend of Mayor Campbell of this city. His popularity was evidenced by the overwhelming majority by which he was elected to office.

Hon. and Mrs. Gainer will make their home in Providence. They are now on a short honeymoon.

Committees of John Hancock lodge and Reliance Rebekah lodge have arranged for a joint observance of the 96th anniversary of Odd Fellowship to take place in the Wollaston school hall on the evening of April 30. An extensive program has been arranged.

MODERN HOMES, WOLLASTON
$4500 to $5500
Just completed with every late convenience. Ideal location Warren and Newport avenues. Beautiful view, fine neighborhood. 6 minutes from R. R. Station. Apply
ARTHUR F. RAYMOND, Quincy
22 Thurs & Sat. tf

NEW PASTOR IN W. QUINCY

At the 119th session of the New England Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church held in People's Temple, Boston, Rev. W. H. Germany A. B., was assigned to the pastorate of the Hall place M. E. church.

Mr. Germany is a native of Brookhaven, Miss. He was graduated from Ruskin-Case University, Texas, with the degree of A. B. Previous to his coming to Massachusetts two years ago Mr. Germany preached six years in Texas. He comes to West Quincy from Rockland, where he has held the pastorate for the last year.

Mrs. Germany comes from Northeast Texas.

At the Sunday morning service Rev. Mr. Germany will preach on the "Feeding of the Five Thousand."

CHIEF LYNCH DIES.

(By United Press)

Holyoke, April 22—Chief John T. Lynch, for 30 years head of the Holyoke fire department and one of the best known fire fighters in New England, died today.

TO LET

After May 1, Store or Stores
No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.
Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop
—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall
—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water, $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for E. F. Kribbs
Greenleaf Block. 'Phone 2006 Quincy

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

PROTEST SHOULD BE MADE.

In the news columns of Wednesday's Ledger were printed copies of two applications for licenses to sell intoxicating liquor on Dorchester avenue, Neponset. William N. and Agnes Hackett applied for a second class license to sell intoxicating liquor at No. 443 Neponset avenue. David P. and Mary V. Power applied for a fourth class license to sell intoxicating liquor at 406 Neponset avenue. These locations are not far from the Neponset bridge, that is to say within five cents reach of residents of Quincy.

Some weeks ago it was reported that similar applications were to be made. Publication of this fact in the local press aroused such opposition that the applications, it was reported, had been withdrawn. It looks very much as if they had been only temporarily withdrawn. It looks very much as if the applicants felt that when the furor had died down they could try again and slide the thing through without being observed. Undoubtedly they are highly incensed at the Ledger for the publicity which we have given to the applications. We shall continue to give full publicity until the applications are withdrawn, refused or granted.

There is no need again to point out the harm to Quincy which would result from the granting of the licenses. It is too obvious for comment. But there is need to point out the need an energetic opposition. Such a protest should be made to the licensing board of Boston, by private citizens and by representatives of the city government, that it will feel impelled to refuse the licenses.

CONQUEST OF DISEASE.

The Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce of the United States, has just issued an interesting and illuminating report on mortality in this country during the year 1913. More than one half of the deaths in the registration area, which in 1913 contained about 65 per cent of the total population of the United States, were due to the following nine causes: Tuberculosis, heart disease, pneumonia, Bright's disease and nephritis, diarrhea and enteritis, cancer, apoplexy, diphtheria and croup, and typhoid fever. The first three of these maladies were responsible for more than 30 per cent of the total mortality reported for 1913.

In the list given above appendicitis is conspicuous for its absence. There was a time when this disease, under one name or another, resulted in a high rate of mortality. The achievements of medical science have taken away much of the fear of this once dreaded disease. And so it is with other maladies: medical science has conquered them one after the other. Anti-toxin has reduced the mortality of those afflicted with diphtheria, and even tuberculosis is beginning by reason of proper treatment to loose its awful grip upon the people who are discovered to be in an incipient stage of the disease. In the nine years from 1910 to 1913 the mortality rate from tuberculosis in all its forms fell from 200.7 to 147.6 per 100,000 the decline being continuous from year to year.

Gen. Villa must possess, after all, a rude, unlettered eloquence, as he "persuaded" the merchants of Monterey to subscribe 100,000 pesos to help the needy. One imagines, however, that the general gesticulates forcibly with an automatic pistol.

Italy is putting submarines into commission with a rapidity that supports the view that neutrality does not invariably imply lack of preparedness.

Regard for the sentiments of youth has not caused Secretary Daniels to withdraw his objection to that song about "Tipperary" and "the sweetest girl I know."

Further complications for the transportation problem are revealed by the discovery of that interesting phenomenon the voluntary straphanger.

The Piute Indians consented to abandon the war path and hit the sawdust trail without waiting for persuasions by Billy Sunday.

GENTLEMEN'S NIGHT HELD

Farther Lights Society Elects Officers

The Farther Lights society of the Wollaston Baptist church held its annual Gentlemen's Night in the chapel Tuesday evening.

The program of the evening consisted of piano duets by Mrs. C. M. Roach and Miss Louise Thacher, a violin solo by Miss Marion S. Hardy, accompanied by her sister, Miss Ruth L. Hardy and a one-act comedy entitled "Three Dear Friends." The cast were:

Mildred	Elsa A. Field
Peggy	Ethel F. Hatfield
Eva	Gladys L. Flieger
Maid	M. G. Rand

Before the social hour, a business meeting was held at which the following officers were elected:

President—Gladys Flieger.
Vice President—Eleanor Dunn.
Secretary—Katherine Brown.
Treasurer—Annie Flieger.
Program committee—Elsa Field, Mrs. Swain, Mrs. Weeks.
Social committee—Mrs. Melendy, chairman.

After the sketch there were two negro selections by a double quartet wearing black masks and bandannas.

Refreshments of ice cream and fancy crackers were served. About fifty were present.

ELEVEN BANKERS BID FOR LOAN

That bankers consider Quincy's finances in good condition was shown by the unusually large number of bids received Wednesday by City Treasurer Curtis for a temporary loan of $100,000 maturing April 6, 1916. Usually if the treasurer gets three bids he thinks he is doing well but today he received eleven bids. The lowest bid came from C. D. Parker & Co. at 3.52 and they were awarded the loan. The other bids were as follows:

Bond & Goodwin	3.60 plus .25
Wildley Savings Bank	3.60
F. S. Moosley & Co.	3.61 plus $1.85
R. L. Day & Co.	3.61
Easterbrook & Ca.	3.63
Loring, Tolman and Tupper	3.68
Parkinson & Burr	3.78
Blake Bros. & Co.	3.80
Curtis & Sanger	3.84
Farmers Loan Co., New York	4.25

PLAY WHIST.

Eight tables of whist were played Tuesday evening at the regular whist party of the Squantum Improvement association in Richards Memorial hall. Souvenirs were won by Mrs. William C. Spargo, John R. Nelson, Joseph Gregory and Edward Cullen. Another whist party will be held in two weeks.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

STERLING SLATE TOP SHINGLES

Gives your roof an attractive appearance
REQUIRE NO PAINTING
ARE FIRE RESISTING
DO NOT WARP OR CURL
ARE WEATHER PROOF
MADE WITH RED or GREEN
CRUSHED SLATE FINISH

Ask to see Sample

NATHAN AMES
5 Granite St.

USE CARBORUNDUM SHARPENING STONES

NOTE WRITTEN BY PRESIDENT

Response to Protest From the German Ambassador

TO BE NO EMBARGO ON ARMS

Wilson Maintains That United States Has Not Departed From Neutrality and Has Insisted Upon Rights of Neutrals at Sea—Veiled Rebuke Is Given Von Bernstorff

Washington, April 22.—The United States government replied to the recent memorandum in which Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, declared that "if the American people desire to observe true neutrality, they will find means to stop the exclusive importation of arms to one side, or at least to use this export trade as a means to uphold the legitimate trade with Germany, especially the trade in foodstuffs."

The American note, which is signed by Secretary Bryan, was drafted at the state department, but was finally penned by President Wilson himself. After pointing out that the language used by Bernstorff "is susceptible of being construed as impugning the good faith of the United States in the performans of its duties as a neutral," the note takes it for granted that "no such implication was intended," and suggests that evidently the German ambassador "is laboring under certain false impressions."

It is then declared that, while the relations of the United States with any one of the belligerents "cannot wisely be made a subject of discussion with a third government," such correspondence between the United States and the allies as has been published shows "the steadfast refusal of the American government to acknowledge the right of any belligerent to alter the accepted rules of war at sea, insofar as they affect the rights and interests of neutrals."

The attitude of the United States on the question of exportation of arms is re-stated, namely, that to place any embargo on arms during the progress of a war "would be direct violation of the neutrality of the United States."

The note refers to the spirit of friendship which the United States desires always to manifest toward Germany and its people and concludes with the declaration that the neutrality of the United States "is founded upon the firm basis of conscience and good will."

The communication was delivered by messenger to Bernstorff and, by mutual arrangement with the German embassy, the state department made it public.

A mild rap at Bernstorff for his tone toward the United States is given in the following:

"The general attitude and course of policy of this government in the maintenance of its neutrality I am particularly anxious that your excellency should see in their true light. I had hoped that this government's position in these respects had been made abundantly clear, but I am, of course, perfectly willing to state it again.

"This seems to me the more necessary and desirable because, I regret to say, the language which your excellency employs in your memorandum is susceptible of being construed as impugning the good faith of the United States in the performance of its duties as a neutral.

"I take it for granted that no such implicaton was intended, but it is so evident that your excellency is laboring under certain false impressions that I cannot be too explicit in setting forth the facts as they are, when fully reviewed and comprehended."

In his letter the president further states:

"This government attempted to secure from the German and British governments mutual concessions with regard to the measures those governments respectively adopted for the interruption of trade on the high seas. This it did, not of right, but merely as exercising the privilege of a sincere friend of both parties, and as indicating its impartial good will.

"The attempt was unsuccessful, but I regret that your excellency did not deem it worthy of mention in modification of the impresions you expressed. We had hoped that this act on our part had shown our spirit in these times of distressing war as our diplomatic correspondence had shown our steadfast refusal to acknowledge the right of any belligerent to alter the accepted rules of war at sea insofar as they affect the rights and interests of neutrals."

Four-Mile Blaze Subdued

Boston, April 22.—After a thirty-two-hour battle against the four-mile blaze which started in Lexington when a housewife attempted to burn some rubbish, the combined fire-fighting forces of five towns succeeded in checking it only to have incendiaries set fire to the icehouse of A. G. Davis, in Burlington.

Soldiers Become Actors

Amsterdam, April 22.—British soldiers interned at Groningen gave such a creditable vaudeville performance for the benefit of companions that they were asked to appear at the municipal theatre. The "debut" was a hit.

ATLANTIC MENS CLUB MEETING

Judge Murray of Boston is Speaker

At the regular monthly meeting of the Atlantic Men's club in Memorial church Wednesday evening a roast beef dinner was served at 6.30, after which Charles A. Hall presided in the absence of Harry W. Read, and introduced as the speaker of the evening, Judge Michael J. Murray of Boston. Judge Murray said in part:

"The other day in the House of Representatives a vote was taken on the sectarian appropriation bill.

"Every citizen who is worth his salt recalls, with a sacred memory, the name of Roger Williams who was put out of Massachusetts for his statesmanlike belief that the state and church should be separate. Yet all are united now in the belief that this must forever reamin the accepted policy of this country. It is better for religion and government that they remain separate.

"Religion of every denomination prospers most when it is not interfered with by the government. The action taken in the oHuse of Representatives was most unfortunate. This means that we who believe in the same God should be divided. Shall we learn even to distrust each other because of religious beliefs?

"Was this the purpose of our forefathers who built our country almost three centuries ago? They built it wisely and intelligently with honest purpose.

"Let us drift back in a reminiscent mood and recall some of these early facts concerning the people of Massachusetts. Let us remember too, that when Roger Williams was driven out of the town of Boston, these good people erred in driving him out.

"Let us remember, too, that the day a certain citizen of Boston was taken some years later, because he was a Baptist, that the good people of that day did something which was clearly a mistake and that it was suggested by some hot-head.

"When the Civil War broke out among those who answered the call for volunteers were men of the Catholic Faith.

"One of the strange facts about every generation is the ever readiness to knock out the brains of one another through religion which none of them understand any too well.

"All of my life I have been a member of the church to which I now belong. Through all the years of my life it has been a great pleasure to count among my truest friends men who belong to other churches, men whom I respect because of their clean heart, clean speech and strength of character, men who have sympathy with those who differ.

"If I want to know something about Congregationalism I would go to the best men of that denomination in order to measure and judge the denomination. I should not create myself a 'Standard for Congregationalists.'

"Did He who could have summoned legions of angels to wipe away His enemies do it? No. He had love. Even when He was dying on the cross and the penitent thief asked for forgiveness, He said, 'Thou shalt be with me in Paradise' He had no malice; He lifted his eyes heavenward and said, 'Father forgive them, for they know not what they do.'

"The flag is the property of all of us. Its trinity of colors is a language in itself, which every American mother is teaching to her children as only a mother can. Blue is like heaven with its stars. Red is for our life work, and white denotes the purity of American women and the nobility of American men.

"We all have the ten commandments and 'Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.' We hope that when Christmas morning comes we may feel the song of the angels, 'Glory to God in the Highest, and on earth, peace, good will toward men.'"

Mr. Murray then spoke of the recall of judges, stating that judges had been recalled only four times in the history of Massachusetts and not once in the last fifty years. He also spoke of the Constitution of the United States, saying that the men who were so desirous of changing it, knew comparatively little about the Constiuion or anything pertaining to the legal profession.

ITALIAN OFFICERS.

(By United Press)

Switzerland, April 22—All Italian officers now at Swiss mountain resorts has been ordered to hold themselves in readiness for sudden recall to headquarters by the Italian war office, according to a Berne report.

Sooner or Later
Glenwood
The Range that Makes Cooking Easy

A Woman Can't Help

wanting a new Plain Cabinet Glenwood; it is so smooth and easy to clean, no filigree or fussy ornamentation, just the natural black iron finish.—"The Mission Idea" applied to a range.

The improved baking damper, heat indicator, revolving grate and roller bearing ash pan make it the most wonderful Cooking Machine ever devised to make housekeeping drudgless.

This Range is also made with Elevated Gas Oven instead of End Style as shown.

If gas is not desired, it can be had with large copper reservoir on the end opposite fire box. It can be furnished with fire box at either right or left of oven, as ordered.

H. L. Kincaide & Co., Quincy

MAJOR L. S BENT DIES OF PARALYSIS

Civil War Veteran and Former Official of Pennsylvania Steel Company

Native of Quincy

Major Luther Stedman Bent, formerly president and chairman of the board of directors of the Pennsylvania Steel Company, a veteran of the Civil War and widely known in Philadelphia clubdom, died at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon at his home, 6040 Drexel road, Overbrook, a suburb of Philadelphia. He was 86 years old and had been ill only 10 days from paralysis. Twenty years ago Mr. Bent came from Harrisburg to this city.

Born in Quincy, Mass., he served throughout the Civil War as major of the 18th Massachusetts Volunteers. At the close of the war he was employed as civil engineer to supervise the construction of the Union Pacific Railway, and continued in that line's employ until 1874, when he went to the Pennsylvania Steel Company. He retired as head of the steel company about ten years ago. At the time of his death Major Bent was a director of the Northern Central Railroad and the Earn Line Steamship Company.

Major Bent was an active member of the First Unitarian Church of Philadelphia and of the Loyal Legion.

In club life his connections were with the Philadelphia, Art, Engineers, Automobile, Corinthian Yacht and Merion Cricket. In Harrisburg he was one of the most active of business men, and took a keen interest in the advancement of Steelton. He was part owner of the Harrisburg Street Railway and a director of the Steelton National Bank, Steelton Trust Company and the Harrisburg National Bank.

Up until a very short time ago he continued to keep a close watch on his interests in banks and other connections.

Major Bent was a summer resident of Annisquam, where he was an extensive property owner and interested in church and charity work of the village. He was a member of the Gloucester Yacht club and one of the founders of the Annisquam Yacht club.

His widow, who was Miss Mary Stern Felton of Philadelphia, with three sons, survive him. The sons are Felton, Stedman and Quincy Bent.

Although Major Bent had been away from Quincy many years he never lost his interest in his native town. He was a constant reader of the Quincy Patriot, it being sent to Annisquam in summer and to Philadelphia in winter.

LARGE NUMBER AT SUPPER.

Nearly one hundred men, women and children attended the supper given in Richards Memorial hall by the Ladies' Aid Society of the First church of Squantum. The affair was a great success and a good sum was netted for the Ladies' Aid society. The affair was in charge of this general committee—Mrs. Albert E. Richardson, Mrs. James H. Sumner, Mrs. John Holmes, Mrs. John Marden and Mrs. Roger J. Mason. Those who attended to the wants of the diners were—Mrs. Herman Berghaus, Mrs. Charles Watts, Mrs. John Marden, Mrs. James H. Sumner, Mrs. Peter Olson and Mrs. Joseph Gregory.

FOR MANY YEARS A FIREMAN.

William A. Coffin Dies In Taunton

William A. Coffin, for many years a call member of the fire department, died Wednesday at Taunton, his body being brought to Quincy later in the day. Mr. Coffin was the son of Gardner G. Coffin, for many years a prominent locksmith, who resided in Quincy doing business in Boston.

During the days when hand drawn apparatus was in use in Quincy, Mr. Coffin was a member of the John W. Hall Hook and Ladder truck which was then located on Canal street, now Revere road and when the fire department was re-organized some years ago he became a member of H. & L. Co. No. 1, located at the central fire station.

For many years he has been employed as a chemist by F. C. Packard. He was a member of the Washington M. French Hose association and of the Firemen's Relief association. He leaves a widow, a son and daughter. His son Gardner Coffin resides in Maine and his daughter is the wife of ex-Councilman Charles E. Barker of Wollaston.

Reliance entertainment committee will conduct a whist party after the meeting of Reliance Rebekah lodge in Odd Fellows' hall, Wollaston, tonight.

COAL
ANNOUNCEMENT

April 1, 1915.

Full coal bins are a source of real satisfaction. We are filling our bins as rapidly as possible with FRESH MINED COAL. By placing your order now YOU can take advantage of the LOW PRICES announced in the schedule below. Coal will positively ADVANCE IN PRICE later. There will be no Further Reduction.

We should be glad to call and talk Coal with you if you will notify us.

PRICES FOR CASH

Franklin Egg and Stove	$8.50 per ton
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75 per ton
Shamokin Stove	7.50 per ton
White Ash Broken	6.50 per ton
White Ash Egg	7.25 per ton
White Ash Stove	7.25 per ton
White Ash Nut	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Broken	6.75 per ton
Lehigh Egg	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Stove	7.50 per ton
Pea	5.50 per ton

25 cents per ton extra where coal is carried in. Orders taken for these Prices are for delivery by July 1, 1915.

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc

Furniture Storage Warehouse
Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.
Rates $2---$3---$4 per month
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.
Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26--tu.-th.s.-tf

THOUGHT THIEF WAS IN STORE

Auto Full of Police Rushes To Scene

Thomas L. Williams, proprietor of a jewelry store on Hancock street, innocently created considerable excitement in police circles Wednesday night when in leaving his store at 11.10 he caused the sounding of the burglar alarm.

The violent ringing of the bell attracted the attention of one of the employees at the Hall livery stable and he telephoned police headquarters. Sergt. Larkin lost no time in dispatching the auto and a squad of officers to the scene.

They arrived to find the store in darkness. An examination of the premises showed that no windows had been forced and that the entrance locks had not been tampered with. Suspicion was rife, however, because a week ago a bag containing the store key and money had been stolen from the safe, and never recovered and none of them knew that the lock had been changed.

Mr. Williams was located a short distance from the building and he explained that he and a local optometrist had filled an emergency order and in leaving the store had caused the alarm to sound.

POSSIBLE GERMAN REJOINDER.

(By United Press)

Washington, April 22—The State Department opinion was divided today on the matter of a possible German rejoinder to Sec. Bryan's notes of reply to the German memorandum on Arms, addressed to Ambassador Bernsdorff Wednesday. The State department communication was essentially in answer to a message on the German government but whether it will lead to more correspondence could not be predicted.

WHIST PARTY AND SOCIAL

A pie social brought the whist party in Electa hall Wednesday night to a close and more than a dozen pies were distributed to the winners. The affair was in aid of the degree team of Quincy chapter, N. E. O. P., and in charge of Distfict Deputy Chester D. Brown, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Thompson. District Deputy Mrs. Isabel V. Swain was present.

The souvenirs were awarded to Archie Lightbody, ham; H. Baker and H. Yeager, railroad ticket book; Mrs. G. Bolster, comporte; Mrs. Mary L. Thomas, bag of flour; Mrs. Walter F. Carmen, calabash pipe; H. Gates, smoking set.

SEA BATTLE IMMINENT.

(By United Press.)

Copenhagen. April 22—Another battle in the North Sea is imminent judging from the reports of Skandinavian vessels reaching port. They say that a heavy German squadron is apparently in waiting. The Politiken also states that positive word has been received that an Anglo-French squadron has been sighted near Jaederen Reef, Norway, headed north. It is believel, however, that it has been commissioned to prevent the Germans escaping in case of battle.

INITIATE TWO.

Two candidates were initiated in membership in Maple lodge, K. & L. of H. in Protection hall Wednesday evening and several applications were received. A social followed during which those present played whist and witnessed the presentation of the season prizes for high averages in the bowling tournament to Miss M. Lizzie Furnald and Harry Tirrell. The consolation prizes went to George Hedmen and Mrs. Rose A. Reid. A collation was served at the close of the social.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER

FI FI POSTPONED.

The Education committee of the Quincy Women's club having made definite plans for the production of "Fi-Fi of the Toy Shop" learned very recently that the dates reserved for them for Music Hall through a mistake, have been leased for moving pictures. To adjust the matter in the best possible way for all parties interested, the committee has postponed the presentation to the early fall when it hopes the cast, chaperones and all who were to have participated will be willing to co-operate in this most unique and brilliant entertainment.

However the annual May festival will be given in Music hall on the afternoon of May 3, which will include the may pole dance, may king and queen with flower girls, pages, trainbearers and attendants, moving pictures and general dancing and the usual sale of candy, ice cream and grabs. A good time is in store for all who attend.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Miss Edith Bryce of Vassal street entertained eleven of her young friends Wednesday from two until five o'clock. The affair was in honor of her fifth birthday. The children enjoyed a number of prize games including pinning on Foxy Grandpa's hat. The dining room was decorated with pink and white crepe paper. The electrolier was covered with a pink shade, at each plate was a pink may basket filled with candy and a little birthday cake frosted in pink and white with a pink candle. The large pink Jack Horner pie caused much amusement as each one pulled a pink ribbon just before leaving the table. The refreshments were ice cream, cake and cookies. The guests were: Hester MacFagne, Florence Moore, Marjorie Moles, Dorothy Moles Phyllis Bryce, Leslie Worster, Traverse Worster, Edward Moore, Edward Ransom, Everett Keeler and Coburn Clark.

The regular meeting of the Chickatawbut Social club will be held at the home of Jerome Reinhalter on Bunker Hill avenue Friday evening.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

TWO SOCIETIES ELECT OFFICERS

An all day meeting of the Fragment society of the First Parish church was held Wednesday. As the regular work of the society for the season had been completed the ladies brought their own sewing. During the morning a short business session was held at which the following officers were elected.

President, Mrs. Edward B. Marsh.
Vice President, Mrs John L Gow
Secretary, Mrs William B. Nichols.
Treasurer, Mrs. Emma Keyes.

At noon a delightful lunch was served under the direction of Miss Harriet B. Pierce, who was assisted by the following young ladies of the Sunday school: Miss Dorothy Packard, Miss Laurice Penniman, Miss Elizabeth Atwood, Miss Marjorie Brooks and Miss Marion Edwards.

The Alliance which also met with the Fragment society held its annual meeting in the afternoon and elected these officers:

President. Mrs. Henry M. Faxon.
Vice President, Mrs. Eugene R. Atwood. Miss Maria Whitney
Corresponding Secretary. Mrs. William B. Nichols.
Treasurer, Mrs. N. S. Hunting.

The speaker of the afternoon was Miss Edith Randall who gave a most interesting "Travel Talk."

GEORGE B. TORREY.

George B. Torrey, one of the best known residents of Weymouth, died suddenly at his home in South Weymouth, Wednesday, aged 61 years. Mr. Torrey was taken ill at his home and although medical assistance was immediately summoned he succumbed before the physician arrived.

As a former schoolmaster, legislator town officer and business man he was well known through the South shore. For many years he was master of the Pratt school, resigning to enter the insurance business which he conducted until his death.

He was a member of Wildey lodge, I. O. .O F., of South Weymouth and was senior deacon of the South Congregational church. He is survived by a widow and two sons.

NORTH WEYMOUTH

H. T. Dean and family of Everett, are at their Fort Point summer home for a week.

The store at Fords beach just opened by P. F. Lampher was broken into Sunday night and cigars and cigarettes valued at about $40 were stolen. Two men who have been in the store several times during the week are suspected.

Hiram Nadell has been appointed district engineer for Ward One. To take office. May 1.

Elizabeth Holbrook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Holbrook of Pratt avenue is ill with a mild attack of scarlet fever.

The winners at the Saturday night whist at Mrs. MacNeill's, Moulton avenue, were Mrs. Hatton and Mr. White first, Mr. Wrye and Mrs. Lester Culley consolation.

Donald Stitt, the nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stitt of Bridge street was operated on Saturday for appendicitis at the Massachusetts General hospital. The little fellow is reported as improving.

Miss Irene Hackett is ill at her home on Lovell street.

Miss Lucy Tanguy who recently returned from St. Elizabeth's hospital is convalescing at her home on Lovell court.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Parker of Pierce court are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son.

In response to a phone call from the Novelty Leatherette Co., at the Heights Combination One was called upon to combat one of the most serious brush fires of the season. The blaze was a fierce one and within five feet of a gasoline tank containing 800 gallons.

The Ladies Auxiliary to the King Cove Boat Club served a supper at the club house Tuesday evening. Supper was at 6.30 in charge of the president Mrs. Irving Morgan, assisted by Mrs. Charles Abbott. Mrs. Jacob Loud, Mrs. John Wolfe, Mrs. Henry Miller, Mrs. Grace Walker and Mrs. E. MacNeill. Several tables of whist were in play also a musical program and general dancing were enjoyed.

A lively blaze at the residence of Ray Moore on North street, Tuesday evening resulted in the total loss of two hen houses and a shed although only two setting hens were lost. The Heights fire company attempted to extinguish the blaze without success. No bell alarm being sounded the combination was delayed in receiving the phone call. The buildings destroyed were doomed from the start, the greatest danger being to neighboring property.

HOLD FUNERAL SERVICES.

The funeral of Miss Bridget Walsh was held this morning from the home of her brother, Michael Walsh, 1133 Sea street, Houghs Neck. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Johns Catholic church at 10 o'clock Fr. Walter A. Quinlan was celebrant, Fr. John L. Casey was deacon and Fr. Michael J. Owens, subdeacon. The Gregorian chant was sung by the regular choir under the direction of John Mahan, organist. The deceased was a former resident of Brookline and burial was in St. Joseph cemetery, West Roxbury.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader.

GOLD DUST
—its use is second nature in millions of homes

Gold Dust really works. Millions of women know how Gold Dust does the hard work of washing dishes, scrubbing floors, and washing woodwork—

But not all of these millions of women realize that Gold Dust is the only washing and cleaning powder needed in any home.

Gold Dust cleans metal work, nickel, enameled ware, aluminum vessels, etc., without scratching or marring the polished surface.

Use it for washing bathtubs and bathroom fixtures, cleaning and brightening pots, pans and cooking utensils, cleaning and freshening linoleum and oilcloth, washing glassware—in short, use it to clean and brighten everything.

"Let the GOLD DUST TWINS do your work"

5c and larger packages sold everywhere

THE N.K. FAIRBANK COMPANY
MAKERS

The PROBLEM of GOOD MILK

All persons do not understand what is meant by good, safe milk. Some believe that the milk with a deep cream line is desirable, whereas, the Doctor knows that Holstein Milk, although containing little cream is often more desirable for babies, partly for this reason, or perhaps because of the method of production.

The real criterion of a good milk is its wholesomeness. This depends upon the conditions at the dairy, and the special care given it until it reaches the consumer. Scrupulously clean and healthy cows, clean and healthy dairymen, rapid cooling, and protecting the milk, constant dairy and laboratory inspection are required. Furthermore safety is assured when the dealer pasteurizes his supply.

THE ELM FARM MILK COMPANY OF DORCHESTER offer pure Family Milk and exceptional Nursery Milk at prices often charged for ordinary milk. Speak to the salesman, or call Dor. 2100. 6-1 mo.

$266 procures you your choice of two hundred pianos at a NET SAVING of $84

Copyright, 1914, Stone & McCarrick, Inc.

This sale was inaugurated by The Bacon Piano Co., New York City. The Bacon Piano Co., and its allied industries are the largest in the world, engaged in manufacturing pianos.

They employ 3500 persons.

They planned this selling campaign to dispose of 5000 pianos and player-pianos, to keep the men in their factories employed, during this unnecessary depression brought about by the European war,

Our house has been apportioned 125 of the pianos and 75 of the player-pianos.

Fifteen other large and representative houses are assisting in disposing of the remaining 4800 instruments.

The pianos are being sold at a reduction of $84 each. The player-pianos at a reduction of $137 each.

One hundred and twenty-five homes in our section have the fortunate opportunity to procure a magnificent, brand new, 350 dollar piano for 266 dollars and 75 homes will get a 550 dollar player-piano for the astonishing low price of 413 dollars.

Coupled with the unequalled opportunity to make this enormous saving, is an additional advantage. This advantage is worth as much, in itself, as the low price. And that is— the easiest terms upon which high grade pianos have ever been sold.

Your first payment is only five dollars

Your regular payments are One Dollar a week for the whole of the first year—while your payments increase but little throughout the 3 years and 8 months time you are permitted to take, in which to make your payments without interest. The table printed below shows the schedule of terms.

On the whole, this is the most exceptional opportunity you have ever had to procure a high grade piano for your home—an opportunity which you should grasp without delaying as much as a single day.

Schedule of payments on piano

Your 1st year will be $1.00 a week for 51 weeks	$55.00
Your 2nd year will be 1.25 a week for 52 weeks	65.00
Your 3rd year will be 1.50 a week for 52 weeks	78.00
Your 4th year will be 1.75 a week for 36 weeks	63.00
	$261.00

$5 cash

You are given the privilege to select a piano or a player-piano, either of which will be delivered IMMEDIATELY upon the payment of FIVE DOLLARS.

You will be given the privilege to put the instrument you select to any test you wish, for 30 days. If you are then not satisfied, you can get your money back.

You will be given the further privilege to put the instrument you select to any test you wish, for one year, at which time we agree to exchange it, if you are not satisfied, without your incurring one penny's LOSS or EXTRA EXPENSE.

You will be given an unconditional and unrestricted guarantee, signed jointly by The Bacon Piano Co. and H. L. Kincaide & Co., guaranteeing the instrument for 5 years from date of purchase.

Your account will be canceled in event you should die before all your payments have been made and a receipt in full given to your family, provided your payments are up to date at the time of death.

¶ During this sale, the Piano Department will be open evenings by appointment, arrangements for which may be made by calling phone No. 1200, and asking for Mr. Bates.

¶ All instruments sold during this sale will be delivered at once. Arrangements may be made, however, to have an instrument set aside, after being selected, to be delivered later.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
QUINCY MASS.

POST SEASON SERIES OPENS

Six Te ms To Roll For Special Purse

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

Car Men 3—Coliseum 1.
MacGregors 3—Social Clubs 1.
Tennis Club 3—Fore River 1.

The special series between quintettes representing the various leagues of the city for a purse of 625 opened at the Coliseum alleys Wednesday evening. A good sized gallery were on hand to watch the matches. The managers of the team have voted to run the series on points. The schedule for the series, excepting the first night's rolling, follows:

April 28 MacGregors—Wollaston Tennis.
Fore River—Coliseums.
Social Clubs—Car Men.
May 5 Car Men—MacGregors.
Fore River—Social Clubs.
Coliseums—Wollaston Tennis.
May 12 Social Clubs—Coliseums
Wollaston—Car Men.
MacGregors—Fore River.
May 19 Wollaston—Social Clubs.
MacGregors—Coliseums.
Fore River—Car Men.

Several of the men passed the century mark, high single going to Dell of the MacGregors. He also took the high total with 319. The MacGregors made a total of 1431 and their team single was 510. The summaries:

FORE RIVER.

Tirrell	95	105	86	286
Mahoney	83	83	98	264
White	106	98	78	282
Westland	100	80	76	256
Smith	88	93	98	279
	472	459	436	1367

WOLLASTON TENNIS.

Litchfield	87	99	113	299
Hoxie	95	72	87	254
Baker	101	85	97	283
Monroe	93	79	81	253
Jenner	86	97	81	264
	462	432	459	1353

CAR MEN.

Ames	90	89	82	261
Smallett	83	81	75	239
Cappalina	111	93	91	295
Lavoie	92	79	87	258
Davis	94	94	90	278
	470	436	425	1331

COLISEUM.

Carra	77	98	78	253
Cockett	83	90	85	258
Hanlon	106	100	74	280
Canfield	82	99	73	254
Clappe	89	82	93	264
	437	469	403	1309

CLAN MacGREGOR.

Morton	82	105	93	280
Nicol	93	86	90	269
Drummond	92	90	111	293
McLean	81	80	109	270
Dell	89	123	107	319
	437	484	510	1431

SOCIAL CLUBS.

Djerf	92	92	90	274
McLoud	89	83	95	267
Pinel	86	89	89	264
Curtain	91	87	76	254
Lawton	89	92	116	297
	447	443	466	1356

TO HOLD ENTERTAINMENT.

Members of the Squantum Boys' club have decided to hold an entertainment in Richards Memorial hall May 30 to raise funds for base ball uniforms. The club has a good nine with Francis Callahan as captain and Ernest Pope as manager. The team hopes to raise money enough to outfit them for the summer season.

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING
WALL PAPER FOR SALE
KUSTAA RASANEN
121 Copeland St., West Quincy
Tel. Con. 19tf

Arthur B. Foster
CARPENTER and BUILDER
14 Bay View St., Quincy Point
Telephone Connection
31-1m

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter-s Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

BARRY INJURED DURING GAME

George Barry, son of Michael Barry of the Central fire station, who joined the Portland team several weeks ago, is coming home today to recover from injuries received Tuesday.

Barry made his first appearance with the team on the holiday, against Buffalo and did such fine work he was sent in again Tuesday. On a double steal, with a man on third, Barry threw to second. The ball was sent back to him and in blocking Jackson, formerly of the Boston Nationals, he suffered an injury to his right shoulder which prevents throwing and had his ankle cut to the bone in two places.

Manager Duffy immediately ordered Barry home to recover from his injuries so he will be in tip top condition when he rejoins the team.

Weather conditons have also had some effect on the localite. The park is right on the ocean and the dampness has caused a lameness which it will be hard to eliminate until warm weather sets in.

ROLLOFF GOES TO ICENHOWER

With 32 men in the weekly rolloff at the Wardwell alleys Icenhower, who has been prominent in local bowling the past month, more prominent perhaps than any other local man, was the winner with an even 300. R. Clarke was second with 296 and F. Erickson and W. B. Donanartie were tied at for third place with 292. G. Olsen won the cigars offered for high single in the rolloff with 109 and Harling got the booby with 210.

State House News

Ex-Governor Foss has them all guessing as to just how he intends to run for governor this fall.

* * *

The pensioning of Mr. Abbott, for many years parliamentarian of the senate, was well deserved. He has been the nearest approach to a bill-drafting bureau that the Legislature has had; and it is safe to say that if he had been consulted, the enemies of the Governor would have drawn the cattle reimbursement resolve so as to be effective, and thus would not have given Governor an opportunity to veto the resolve, call attention to the tactics of his opponents and then put through an effective resolve of his own.

* * *

The decision of the United States Supreme Court in the Leo Frank case was much discussed in the State House corridors, the consensus of opinion being that the Massachusetts member of the Court, Justice Holmes, had done credit to Bay State standards of justice by his strong dissent in favor of Frank.

WEEKLY WHIST.

Nine tables were in play Wednesday evening at the weekly whist tournament at the rooms of the Granite City club. Play as usual was keen during the entire twenty-five hands. The two best scores were made by Fred Drake and Amos L. Litchfield. An appetizing lunch was served at the conclusion of the tournament.

SLIGHT FIRE.

The alarm from Box 45 at 2.48 Wednesday afternoon was for a slight fire on the roof of the building of DiBona Bros. on Willard street, which had evidently been started from sparks from the chimney. The alarm was needless and what little fire there was had been extinguished before the department arrived.

PRATT'S BREAD is always in favor because delicious in flavor. Your grocer.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

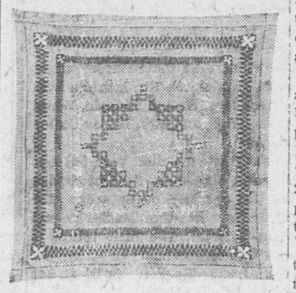

FURNITURE
and
PIANO MOVING
PACKING and STORAGE
William D. King
106 Center St., Tel. Quincy 2100-3
31tf

HOUSEHOLD LINENS.

Some Valuable Hints Given About the Way to Launder Handsome Linens.

The centerpiece shown here is one piece of a set which includes a buffet runner, twelve plate doilies and twelve tumbler doilies. Mexican drawn work is again coming into favor, which combined with hand embroidery makes very handsome and durable sets for dining room or bed chamber. But after the house is replenished with new linen next comes the problem of having that linen properly laundered.

When linen does not remain white, but gets grayish, you may know that it has not been properly rinsed. Linen should be washed with a good mild soap. A soap that is too strong is likely to affect the gum that holds the fibers of flax and so to weaken them.

LINEN CENTERPIECE.

But it is imperative that all the soap should be rinsed out of the linen. If it is not grayness is sure to result.

Linen may be ruined in the ironing process quite as quickly as in the tub. Every one likes to see napkins and cloths beautifully smooth and folded with exactness and precision, edges all in a line and folds carefully creased. But it is this same careful creasing that strains the fiber of the linen and makes it liable to give way or whenever any pull comes to it. While linen has to be carefully folded, it is not necessary that this folding or creasing should be done with great pressure, as is sometimes the case. It is the pressure that cracks the threads.

The same thing results when linen is run through a wringer that is geared too tight. Often a careless laundress will screw up the wringer too tight in order to get through her work the more quickly, but this tight gearing is fatal to linens. The woman who will remember these suggestions and have her table linens washed in conformity with them will be reasonably sure of getting the full value for any money she has invested in linens.

Centerpieces such as these shown in the illustration are much better wrapped around a roller after being ironed. Creasing with an iron detracts much from its appearance.

Toilet Hint.

Eau de cologne is splendid in remedying a defect from which many suffer—a too shiny, greasy skin. If your face gets shiny you can never look your best, and, however much you powder it, the shininess will reappear.

But if you wash your face in the mornings in cold water to which a teaspoonful of eau de cologne has been added you will find this tendency to shininess disappear. With some people the regular use of oatmeal for softening the water effects a cure, but the eau de cologne recipe is not such a bother, for you require to sew the oatmeal up in tiny muslin bags and allow it to soak in the water some little time before you use it.

Economical Lye.

Take wood ashes and pour boiling water on them. Let boil for a few minutes and settle. Strain and bottle. Good for boiling clothes.

YOUR OWN DAY.

Have a little heart to heart talk with yourself every morning and say: "It does not matter what comes or goes today, what happens or what does not happen, there is one thing of which I am sure and that is, I am going to get the most possible out of the day. I am not going to allow anything to rob me of my happiness or of my right to live this day from beginning to end and not merely to exist.

"I do not care what comes, I shall not allow any annoyance, any happening, any circumstance which may cross my path today to rob me of me peace of mind. I will not be unhappy today, no matter what occurs. I am going to enjoy the day to its full, live the day completely. This day shall be a complete day in my life. I shall not allow the enemies of my happiness to mar it. No misfortune in the past, nothing which has happened to me in days gone by, which has been disagreeable or tragic, no enemies of my happiness or efficiency, shall be a guest in my spirit's sacred inclosure today. Only happy thoughts, joy thoughts, only the friends of my peace, comfort, happiness and success shall find entertainment in my soul this day. None of my enemies shall gain admittance to scrawl their hideous autographs on the walls of my mind. There shall be 'no admittance' today except to the friends of my best moods. I will tear down the black, sable pictures and hang pictures of joy and gladness, of things which will encourage, cheer and increase my power. Everything which ever handicapped my life, which has made me uncomfortable and unhappy, shall be expelled, at least for this day. So that when night comes I can say 'I have lived today.'"

PANAMA--PACIFIC EXPOSITION

San Francisco, April 17.—The eyes of the world are today reviewing with San Francisco the nine years that have passed since this great metropolis was shaken by earthquake and ravished by fire. Nothing could better illustrate the spirit of San Francisco than the picture spread out here now: a world's exposition pronounced the greatest of all world's expositions—financed and built and successfully conducted within less than a decade of the time when the city where the exposition is held was a smoking ash heap.

Only exceeded by the epochal achievement of the rebuilding of the burned city in this wonder accomplishment, the $50,000,000 Panama-Pacific International Exposition, which, since its opening on February 20th, has continued in a career unprecedented for attendance in the history of universal celebrations.

There is one thing above others that insures the continued success of the exposition. No visitor has left disappointed. The statement was frequently made during the period before the exposition opened that such features as the color scheme of the exposition and night illuminations could not be adequately described. That sounded like a brash statement. But visitors here find that it is literally true. Distinguished guests from all parts of the world have been unanimous in declaring that the reality exceeds the most enthusiastic advance notices of the thousands who visited the exposition before it opened.

It is not only in physical characteristics and adornment that the exposition has made its high impression. Equally significant has been the praise extended to the exhibit features. Without thorough representation by the nations of the earth, of their utilities and products, their economic, social and ethical progress no universal exposition, could be held to be successful. Education is the dominant phase of any universal exposition, education in its broadest sense. Education has naturally been the theme of the exposition builders: education in the material progress of the world for the past decade. In order that an epitome of the world's progress for the past decade might be better given, the ruling was made that any article entered for award must have been produced since the St. Louis exposition ten years ago. So far as practicable, every exhibit is shown in action, where it has properties of action.

This has resulted in a vast interest in the eleven major exhibit palaces. They are the deciding factors in the unprecedented success of the exposition. The external features of beauty—architecture, color, illumination, sculpture, and landscape, to say nothing of the glorious San Francisco climate—would not of themselves, effective as they are, serve to sustain lasting interest. Men and women of the bay counties who have season tickets would not be visiting the exposition from three to five times a week merely to gaze upon the beautiful adornments. Neither does the amusement zone, complete and diversified as are the elements of amusement there, serve to sustain it. Nor would the entertainment and host features of the many pavilions of the foreign nations and the buildings of the States.

The reason for the exposition's success is the reason for the exposition: Exhibits—the presentation of the world in brief for men and women too busied with their individual affairs to keep pace with the decade's advance.

Universal expositions usually present some significant or revolutionary advance in thought or invention. At the Philadelphia Centennial in 1876 the dominating feature was the Bell telephone. With the Buffalo exposition came the steam turbine. St. Louis featured the "Old Reliable" Corliss engine as a signal advance in power generation. Likewise there are epochal advances signalized at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition: wireless telegraphy and telephony, the aeroplane and the Diesel engine in power generation. The world has moved very swiftly during the past decade. That is one of the contributing factors making the exposition a source of interest to keen men and women who desire some sort of a panoramic of progress.

To attempt to give even the most skeletonized review of the tens of thousands of exhibits would not be possible in one article. There are some that naturally, by reason of greater floor space, greater value invested, or higher interest in the article, attract more attention than others. In the Palace of Machinery, for instance, the exhibit by the United States government of naval and military armament is a fresh and steady attraction. Here also the Diesel Stationery engine, set on a hard wood floor, with rare rugs around it and engineers in white flannel, is a constant feature of interest, running as smoothly as a Swiss watch. Engines and engine rooms are ordinarily associated with oil, cotton waste and grimed engineers. This engine might be placed in one's parlor and run for a year without spotting with oil or defiling with soot. Miladi might serve afternoon tea to its humming.

An interesting feature of the Diesel engine is one that links the western air of California and the Panama-Pacific Exposition with the mighty St. Louis Exposition of ten years ago. The engine starts with an air compressor tank. On the day—February 20th—that President Wilson started the wheels at the exposition with a wireless spark from Washington, the Diesel engine began operating under the impetus of the same spark. But the air compressing starter which the current released, was filled in St. Louis and shipped to San Francisco in order that something more than sentiment should unite the American exposition of today and the exposition of a decade ago.

Machinery Hall, occupying 8.32 acres of floor space and widely advertised during the pre-exposition period as the largest frame building under one roof in the world,—which it is,—naturally is entitled to a first mention.

The Diesel engine is one of the principal attractions. On exhibition in this palace and in sharp contrast to this ultra-efficient power generator, is the famous "Babcock Centennial," the engine that in its day marked as distinct an advance in the field of power as does the Diesel engine today. This relic was purchased by the builders after it has been in service fifty years and is displayed at the exposition for its historic worth in the history of power development. Ranking in the judgment of many engineers as only second in importance to the Diesel engine in the decade's advance in power is the exhibition of methods of control and generation of high tension electricity. Of significant contemporaneous value in the world of machinery and power are the improved methods and machines for shaping metals either by hydraulic power or by forging.

In the Palace of Machinery also are shown the instruments and methods that have very recently developed for the recording of various kinds of power, steam and electricity, for example such instruments as those for regulating temperature and for keeping temperature stable after a certain point has been reached. This represents one of the most important of all of the advances made in the domain of machinery and power during the decade since the St. Louis exposition.

A most dramatic contrast in progress is afforded in the Palace of Transportation. In this latter palace there are the historic mail pouches of the pony express, an old congress coach used in the early days by the Wells Fargo Overland Mail, and, within a dozen paces, that behemoth of modern steam locomotives the "4043" Mallet of the Southern Pacific.

Transportation goes further than steam, for, near this, "4043," with a hauling capacity of 17,000 tons, is the latest Westinghouse electric engine, while aeroplanes and automobiles furnish graphic evidence of other advanced means of transportation by land and air, with maps, charts and models of great carriers displaying the development of ocean transportation. Side by side stand the great Mallet and the diminutive Collis P. Huntington, the first engine to be operated by the Southern Pacific. It has a hauling capacity of 660 tons and was just as puffy and important in its day as the Mallet is now.

In the domain of mines and metallurgy the most important advance that is featured in this palace is that of human welfare: safety precautions for the men who work beneath the earth. Of all present day industries, mining has had recorded during the past decade the most notable advances in welfare betterment. The work is shown on the Corps of Safety of the United States Bureau of Mines, a corps that constantly travels over the country installing welfare equipment and giving practical welfare instructions in the mining districts. The safety drills conducted at the mine dug beneath the floor of the Palace of Mines is a constant source of fresh interest to the thousands of visitors who throng the mines palace. In this great palace all things pertaining to mines and metallurgy are exhibited and particular attention is given to the newer treatments of metals, blooming processes and metallurgical finishings of iron and steel. Model mines are shown and ore in all its stages, from the crude product to the refined and finished article.

It is particularly appropriate that an exposition held in California should take especial pains with its horticultural and floricultural section. The state of "sunshine, fruits and flowers" in consequence has a palace of Horticulture that experts declare the superior of any similar conservatory at any previous world's exposition. In this department are many notable exhibits showing the range of contemporaneous horticultural activities. The advance made in economic horticulture during the past decade is realistically and elaborately shown in the model cannery, operated by the National Canners' Association of Washington, D. C. Practically the entire industry of sanitary fruit canning has been developed during the past decade, the processes shown in the model cannery being absolutely revolutionary compared with the methods of ten years ago. Another tremendous advance in the science of horticulture graphically featured is that of destroying parasitic insects by predaceous insects: setting one bug to kill the other. This is a field of vast importance in horticulture that has been developed during the past decade. In the work of seeking out these predaceous bugs California probably leads the world.

Horticulturists will also be interested in the newer phases of plant hybridization resulting in new families of plant life. In this section will be found Etter's strawberries, which blossom and fruit in the air, having a thick, velvety leaf which drops to the ground, keeping the soil protected and moist. Mendelin's theory of seed selection is another step toward the ideal in horticulture. This theory in practice is rather like the principle of eugenics applied to plants. Only strong, healthy seeds are used in planting. In connection with Mendelin's theory, Professor and Mrs. Cockerell of the University of Colorado show by actual demonstration how they arrive at their new red sunflower the seeds of which are of sound value as poultry food.

This is a very complete showing of all of the Burbank originations, plums in several varieties, the Shasta daisy, spineless cactus and numbers of other products, not excluding the humble "spud" to which he gave his name and which was a source of his earlier fame. Aside from these few of many other phases showing distinct advances in horticulture during the past decade there are of course complete and comprehensive exhibits and displays by the countries of the world of their flora and fruits. Orchids glow in beauty, giant tree ferns lift their fronded crests, bamboos rustle, pond lilies unfold their delicate petals and in the spacious annex the fruits of the world are on display.

But it is in the department of liberal arts where are found those advances that afford the most dramatic appeal to the popular mind. The wireless telegraph and telephone are classified among the exhibits of the Palace of Liberal Arts, the accousticon, the dictagraph and the telegraphone. In this palace, at the booth of the Bell telephone company, one may sit and listen to operators talking to New York over the newly perfected long distance telephone. The price is twenty dollars a minute as yet, so the majority of visitors prefer to listen to some one else. The accousticon makes of the smallest whisper a volume of sound to fill an auditorium. The telegraphone records telephonic conversations so that the business man picks up his receiver and, if he so desires, may listen to a phonographic record of every word that has gone over the phone in his absence.

For the first time color photography is made the subect of a display at an international exposition. After fifteen years of work and the expenditure of hundreds of thousands of dollars the Eastman laboratories have finally succeeded in photographing directly in color and in printing color negatives from color plates. Thus far the process has been applied to glass plates only, and not to films. This feature of the liberal arts exhibit is of wide appeal and is the subject of a beautiful and artistically arranged booth.

Another advance featured in this department is in the manufacture of artificial limbs, these members having been improved to the degree where the person equipped with them is able to use the fingers, toes and other joints about as readily and as usefully as though those parts were natural. The photograph for check protection has been carried to a degree of perfection which, it is declared, makes the raising and forging of checks an impossibility.

There is no department at the exposition and scarcely a state building or foreign pavilion which does not make use of the motion picture as a feature of instruction. States and nations use it to portray scenes, historical occasions, and features of industrial life. But in the Palace of Education the moving picture is utilized for the first time at any exposition,—or at least the use of it is made more definite and practical—to demonstrate the principals of education. That the motion picture is ultimately destined to revolutionize educational methods has been a frequent prediction. It is shown here in the very important place it now occupies in educational work in the stricter sense of that word. Another modern feature put into practice for the first time at this exposition is the demonstration of the principles of education in class rooms in operation. Hitherto, the work of pupils has been a basis for educational exhibits. The work of pupils has been entirely eliminated here, in this department is given a graphic and detailed review of the educational methods of all of the principal countries, the states of the United States, and of many countries and cities that have been noted for some distinct departure.

"Hand made" shoes—only they are made by machinery here—are examples of the revolutionizing effect of modern machines on a particular manufacturing industry as shown in the Palace of Liberal Arts, where the United Shoe Machinery company has a complete plant in operation. Such machinery as is shown here is ending the day of the hand made shoes. The visitor watches the leather from the time it leaves the tannery until the finished shoe is handed to him for inspection and only an expert could detect the machine made qualities. The thousand and one improvements in the application of gas and electricity for lighting, heating and household purposes is exhibited in minute details in the Palace of Manufactures, the development of the household electrical supply field being shown in an amazing detail. The textile industry is here shown, too, by numberless looms in operation producing silks, cottons, woolens, tapestries, each loom representing the last word in the spinning trade.

The development of agricultural machinery, the study of advanced methods of soil culture and enrichment processes, intensive and dry farming, and the competitive array of agricultural products combine to give the Palace of Agriculture a steady stream of visitors. Under this same department is the food products palace where are shown in practical working order the plants that daily turn out immense stores of flour, mush, bread, chocolate, tea, candies, wines, and the entire range of household commodities.

These are but a few of a multitude of other processes, principles and articles featured at this greatest of all world's expositions; only those matters being selected for mention here that represent some significant advance in their particular line.

Reduction in Prices.

Your attention is called to the reduced spring prices on Anthracite Coal as follows

Lehigh Stove and Egg	$7.50
White Ash Stove and Egg	7.25
White Ash Nut	7.50
Shamokin Stove and Egg	7.50
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75
Pea	5.50
Franklin	8.50

We recommend the placing of your order at this time to insure the low prices.

Nothing but All Rail Clean Coal handled and delivered right by careful experienced drivers.

QUINCY COAL CO.
OFFICE and YARD
Penn St., Quincy Tel. 47-M
Ap. 7 1mo.

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE

Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit

WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS
Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.
Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys
1506--1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block
Jan. 26-1y-th.-s.-tf

Quincy Pianoforte School
Mackelton, Director
Street Floor, Greenleaf Block
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
Piano Instructions Par Excellence Voice
Private or Class Lessons
Tel. 533-M 31-tf

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.
will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.
OFFICE AT
96 WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY
Tel. 618

His Love Story

By MARIE VAN VORST

Illustrations by RAY WALTERS

(Copyright by the Bobbs-Merrill Company)

(Continued from last issue.)

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Le Comte de Sabron, captain of French cavalry, takes to his quarters to raise by hand a motherless Irish terrier pup, and names it Pitchoune.

CHAPTER II—Sabron dines with the Marquise d' Esclignac and meets Miss Julia Redmond, American heiress, who sings for him an English ballad that lingers in his memory.

CHAPTER III—Sabron, trying to save Pitchoune's life, declines a second invitation to dinner because of a "very sick friend."

CHAPTER IV—No more invitations come from the Chateau d' Esclignac. Pitchoune, though lame from his accident, thrives and is devoted to Sabron.

CHAPTER V—Sabron and Pitchoune meet the Marquise and Miss Redmond and after the story of Pitchoune is told Sabron is forgiven and invited to dinner again.

CHAPTER VI—Sabron is ordered to Algiers, but is not allowed to take servants or dogs. He is invited to a musicale at the Chateau.

CHAPTER VII—At the musicale Miss Redmond, hearing that Sabron cannot take Pitchoune with him, offers to take care of the dog during his master's absence.

CHAPTER VIII—Pitchoune, homesick for his master, runs away from Miss Redmond. The Marquise plans to marry Julia to the Duc de Tremont.

CHAPTER IX—Unknown to Sabron, Pitchoune follows him to Algiers.

The old butler came in with the evening mail and the papers. The Marquise d'Esclignac, with her embroidery scissors, opened Le Temps from Paris and began to read with her usual interest. She approached the little lamp on the table near her, unfolded the paper and looked over at her niece, and after a few moments, said with a slightly softened voice:

"Julia!" Miss Redmond stopped playing. "Julia!" The girl rose from the piano stool and stood with her hand on the instrument.

"My dear Julia!" Madame d'Esclignac spread Le Temps out and put her hand on it. "As I said to you, my child, the life of a soldier is a precarious one."

"Ma tante," breathed Miss Redmond from where she stood. "Tell me what the news is from Africa. I think I know what you mean."

She could not trust herself to walk across the floor, for Julia Redmond in that moment of suspense found the room swimming.

"There has been an engagement," said the marquise gently, for in spite of her ambitions she loved her niece. "There has been an engagement, Julia, at Dirbal." She lifted the newspaper and held it before her face and read:

There has been some hard fighting in the desert, around about Dirbal. The troops commanded by Captain de Sabron were routed by the natives at noon on Thursday. They did not rally and were forced to retreat. There was a great loss of life among the natives and several of the regiment were also killed. There has been no late or authenic news from Dirbal, but the last dispatches give the department of war to understand that Sabron himself is among the missing.

The Marquise d'Esclignac slowly put down the paper, and rose quickly. She went to the young girl's side and put her arm around her. Miss Redmond covered her face with her hands:

"Ma tante, ma tante!" she murmured.

"My dear Julia," said the old lady, "there is nothing more uncertain than newspaper reports, especially those that come from the African seat of war. Sit down here, my child."

The two women sat together on the long piano stool. The marquise said: "I followed the fortunes, my dear, of my husband's cousin through the engagement in Tonkin. I know a little what it was." The girl was immovable. Her aunt felt her rigid by her side. "I told you," she murmured, "that a soldier's life was a precarious one."

Miss Redmond threw away all disguise.

"Ma tante," she said in a hard voice. "I love him! You must have known it and seen it. I love him! He is becoming my life."

As the marquise looked at the girl's face and saw her trembling lips and her wide eyes, she renounced her ambitions for Julia Redmond. She renounced them with a sigh, but she was a woman of the world, and more than that, a true woman. She remained for a moment in silence, holding Julia's hands.

She had followed the campaign of her husband's cousin, a young man with an insignificant title whom she had not married. In this moment she relived again the arrival of the evening papers; the dispatches, her husband's news of his cousin. As she kissed Julia's cheeks a moisture passed over her own eyes, which for many years had shed no tears.

"Courage, my dear," she implored. "We will telegraph at once to the minister of war for news."

The girl drew a convulsive breath and turned, and leaning both elbows on the piano keys—perhaps in the very notes whose music in the little song had charmed Sabron—she burst into tears. The marquise rose and passed out of the room to send a man with a dispatch to Tarascon.

CHAPTER XIII.

One Dog's Day.

There must be a real philosophy in all proverbs. "Every dog has his day" is a significant one. It surely was for Pitchoune. He had his day. It was a glorious one, a terrible one, a memorable one, and he played his little part in it. He awoke at the gray dawn, springing like a flash from the foot of Sabron's bed, where he lay asleep, in response to the sound of the reveille, and Sabron sprang up after him.

Pitchoune in a few moments was in the center of real disorder. All he knew was that he followed his master all day long. The dog's knowledge did not comprehend the fact that not only had the native village, of which his master spoke in his letter to Miss Redmond, been destroyed, but that Sabron's regiment itself was menaced by a concerted and concentrated attack from an entire tribe, led by a fanatic as hotminded and as fierce as the Mahdi of Sudanese history.

Pitchoune followed at the heels of his master's horse. No one paid any attention to him. Heaven knows why he was not trampled to death, but he was not. No one trod on him; no horse's hoof hit his little wiry form that managed in the midst of carnage and death to keep itself secure and his hide whole. He smelt the gunpowder, he smelt the smoke, sniffed at it, threw up his pretty head and barked, puffed and panted, yelped and tore about and followed. He was not conscious of anything but that Sabron was in motion; that Sabron, his beloved master, was in action of some kind or other and he, a soldier's dog, was in action, too. He howled at fierce dark faces, when he saw them. He snarled at the bullets that whistled around his ears and, laying his little ears back, he shook his black muzzle in the very grin of death.

Sabron's horse was shot under him, and then Pitchoune saw his master, sprang upon him, and his feelings were not hurt that no attention was paid him, that not even his name was called, and as Sabron struggled on, Pitchoune followed. It was his day; he was fighting the natives; he was part of a battle; he was a soldier's dog! Little by little the creatures and things around him grew fewer, the smoke cleared and rolled away, there were a few feet of freedom around him in which he stood and barked; then he was off again close to his master's heels and not too soon. He did not know the blow that struck Sabron, but he saw him fall, and then and there came into his canine heart some knowledge of the importance of his day. He had raced himself weary. Every bone in his little body ached with fatigue.

Sabron lay his length on the bed of a dried-up river, one of those phantom-like channels of a desert stream whose course runs watery only certain times of the year. Sabron, wounded in the abdomen, lay on his side. Pitchoune smelled him from head to foot, addressed himself to his restoration in his own way. He licked his face and hands and ears, sat sentinel at the beloved head where the forehead was covered with sweat and blood. He barked feverishly and to his attentive ears there came no answer whatsoever, either from the wounded man in the bed of the African river or from the silent plains.

Sabron was deserted. He had fallen and not been missed and his regiment, routed by the Arabs, had been driven into retreat. Finally the little dog, who knew by instinct that life remained in his master's body, sat himself at work vigorously to awaken a sign of life. He attacked Sabron's shoulder as though it were a prey; he worried him, barked in his ear, struck him lightly with his paw, and finally, awakening to dreadful pain, to fever and to isolation, awakening perhaps to the battle for life, to the attentions of his friend, the spahi opened his eyes.

Sabron's wound was serious, but his body was vigorous, strong and healthy, and his mind more so. There was a film over it just now. He raised himself with great effort, and in a moment realized where he was and that to linger there was a horrible death. On each side of the river rose an inclined bank, not very high and thickly grown with mimosa bush. This meant to him that beyond it and probably within easy reach, there would be shade from the intense and dreadful glare beating down upon him, with death in every ray. He groaned and Pitchoune's voice answered him. Sabron paid no attention to his dog, did not even call his name. His mind, accustomed to quick decisions and to a matter-of-fact consideration of life, instantly took its proper course. He must get out of the river bed or die there, rot there.

What there was before him to do was so stupendous an undertaking that it made him almost unconscious of the pain in his loins. He could not stand, could not thoroughly raise himself; but by great and painful effort, bleeding at every move, he could crawl; he did so, and the sun beat down upon him. Pitchoune walked by his side, whining, talking to him, encouraging him, and the spahi, ashen pale, his bright gray uniform ripped and stained, all alone in the desert, with death above him and death on every hand, crawled, dragged, hitched along out of the river to the bank, cheered, encouraged by his little dog.

For a drop of water he would have given—oh, what had he to give? For a little shade he would have given—about all he had to give had been given to his duty in this engagement which could never bring him glory, or distinction or any renown. The work of a spahi with a native regiment is not a very glorious affair. He was simply an officer who fell doing his daily work.

Pitchoune barked and cried out to him: "Courage!"

"I shall die here at the foot of the mimosa," Sabron thought; and his hands hardly had the courage or strength to grasp the first bushes by which he meant to pull himself up on the bank. The little dog was close to him, leaping, springing near him, and Sabron did not know how tired and thirsty and exhausted his brave little companion was, or that perhaps in that heroic little body there was as much of a soldier's soul as in his own human form.

Pitchoune Smelled Him From Head to Foot.

(To be Continued.)

A Black Hand Outrage

Erie, Pa., April 22.—Samuel Leornoff, 60, was killed, his wife fatally injured, and fifteen others seriously hurt, when the Leornoff home was destroyed by a "black hand" dynamite bomb. The house was blown almost to bits.

Ban on Higher Fares

Lansing, Mich., April 22.—The lower branch of the legislature defeated the bill proposing increased passenger fares for railroads operating in Michigan. The measure had been passed by the senate.

Either Accident or Suicide

Strickland, Me., April 22.—Wesley Hammond, 23, whose body was found stretched on the kitchen floor in his home here, was killed by the accidental discharge of his rifle or committed suicide.

New Hampshire Solons Adjourn

Concord, N. H., April 22.—The legislature was prorogued last night after a session of nearly four months.

A QUINCY REPORT

Fully Corroborated and Easily Investigated.

Do you need a good kidney medicine? Then read the reports in these very columns of Quincy persons cured or benefited with Doan's Kidney Pills. You won't have to go far to find out if they are true. This Quincy case is an example. Others will follow.

Mrs. R. A. Neil, 40 Edison Park, Quincy, says: "My hands and ankles swelled. I was worse at night after I had done a hard day's work. I used several remedies, but they did me little or no good. My husband brought home a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and I began taking them. I could see an improvement right away. Doan's Kidney Pills got my kidneys acting right and the swelling went down. I wasn't so nervous and felt better in every way. I now keep Doan's Kidney Pills in the house and consider them a fine family medicine."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Neil had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Sheriff's Sale.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss.

Quincy, March 22, A. D. 1915

Seized on execution and will be sold at public auction, on Saturday, the 1st day of May, A. D. 1915 at nine o'clock A. M. at my residence No. 163 Franklin Street, in said Quincy, all the right, title and interest that Cyrille Grenier, sometimes known as Cyrille Greanier, had (not exempt by law from attachment or levy on execution) on the said 22nd day of March, at nine o'clock A. M., the time the same was seized on execution, in and to the following described real estate, to wit:—

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in that part of Quincy known as Adams Shore and being lots Nos. 213 and 214 as shown on plan of house lots at Adams Shore, Quincy, dated December 19, 1908, Ernest W. Branch, Surveyor, recorded with Norfolk Deeds, plan book 51, plan 2430.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Deputy Sheriff.
3t April 15-22-29

EDWARD J. FEGAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
830 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M
914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10:30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK
QUINCY.

Woman's World

The Wife of a Great Writer Who Has Opinions Also.

LADY DOYLE

Lady Doyle, whose husband, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, is a literary expert on crimes and criminals, concurs with him in his idea about Sing Sing. The following is what that noted author said after a five minute voluntary incarceration in one of the cells of the prison:

"It ought to be burned down," he exclaimed indignantly. "The buildings are absolutely antiquated, and it is nothing less than a disgrace for a state so great and wealthy as New York to have a prison which is a hundred years behind the times.

"I am a medical man, and naturally I was interested in the sanitary conditions and the way the buildings were constructed, and I saw enough. No, I have never read or even heard of any of the reports on conditions in Sing Sing which may have been issued. I didn't need any reports; I saw the place.

"I don't wish to pose as an authority on English prisons," the novelist went on, "but I doubt if we have any as insanitary as Sing Sing, except perhaps in very remote districts. Certainly there are none in London or the larger cities.

"The cells ought to be knocked three or four into one. As to the types of prisoners whom I saw there, I should say that it struck me that the great mistake of the penal laws is in their failure to allow freer scope for treatment of the individual.

"But is there such a thing as an American criminal?" he asked. "There in Sing Sing I saw great numbers of men evidently of foreign birth. Your criminals are like your life—cosmopolitan.

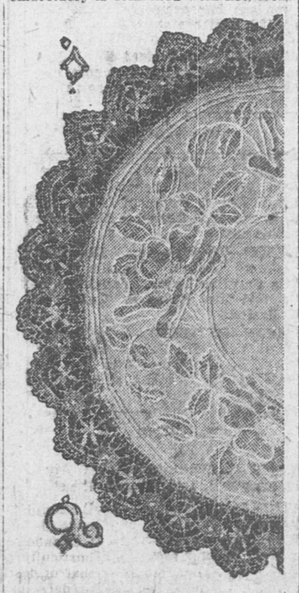

In all of these opinions Lady Doyle echoes her distinguished husband.

Sir Conan Doyle married Miss Jean Leckie Sept. 18, 1907. She is his second wife, and gives her husband much sympathy and inspiration in his profession of story writing. Dr. Doyle has given up entirely the practice of medicine.

LINEN AND LACE CENTERPIECE

Round Pieces Are Much In Vogue This Season.

Linen lace and embroidery are used in the centerpiece pictured here. The embroidery is combined with net, from under which the linen is cut away, leaving the flowers and leaves of the net held to the linen by the embroidery. Linen torchon lace is used as an edging.

FOR THE TABLE.

White and Black Stripes.

White and black stripes are used in almost every fabric, but perhaps no more attractively than in voile or chiffon mounted over a foundation of white taffeta. Often the overdress of stripes is edged with blue or black velvet ribbon, which gives it a stability and charm it would otherwise lack.

KEEP POSTED ON THE PEOPLE'S WANTS — CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING — WHY WORRY LET THESE ADS LIFT YOUR BURDEN

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Seven room flat, all modern improvements, situated at 43 Dysart street. Possession given May 1. 39 Dysart street. 21-tf

TO LET—Two large rooms for light housekeeping, with electric light set tubs and use of bath. Apply 53 Chubbuck street. 21-3t

TO LET—2 furnished rooms, modern conveniences with or without board. Could be used for professional purposes. Apply at 71 School St. 21-6t

TO LET—Upper and lower flats, 14 and 16 Wibird street. All improvements. Five rooms and bath, large attic with upper flat. Call Miss Newcomb, 49 Newcomb street. 21-6t

TO LET—6 room tenements, all improvements. Apply to C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 20-tf

TO LET—Tenement of 7 rooms, all improvements. Rent $25. Apply 233 Washington street. 20-6t

TO LET—Modern apartment, near high school; two-family house, everything separate; 7 rooms and bath; electricity and gas. Apply A. D. Cossaboom, 95 Merrymount road; Tel. 1374-M. 15-12t

TO LET—Upper apartment, 6 rooms and bath, gas and coal ranges, small family $20. F. M. Torrey, Tel. 202-1 Quincy, 25 Spear street. 15-tf

TO LET—Lower flat in two-family house. Living room, dining room, bedroom, kitchen and bathroom, pantry, good closets and cellar. Coal and gas range, furnace, electric lights. Every convenience. Rent $20. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 13-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 7-tf

TO LET—Half house of six rooms and large laundry to adult family, conveniences, large garden. Rent $20. Apply to George H. Newcomb, 21 Adams Bldg. or M. M. Newcomb, 39 Gay street or phone 1990 Quincy. 2-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house, 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2, Quincy or 110 South street, Boston, Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

TO LET

TO LET—Tenement of six rooms at 8 Mechanic street. Apply to E. D. Barrett, 27 Revere road. tf

FOR RENT—At 18 Faxon avenue, suite 6 rooms and bath, every modern improvement. Tel. 414-M, Weymouth. 20-tf

TO LET—To small family of adults, several sunny attractive half houses, all improvements, centrally located, $21, $23 and $25 per month and water rates. Tel. Quincy 174-2, Charles H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. 10-12t

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements. 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 13-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—1914 Overland Runabout, model 79, Gray & Davis starting and lighting system, 114 inch wheel base, 35 H. P. Cost $1300, fully equipped Will sell for $650. Write N. Ledger Office. 22-3t

FOR SALE—At 25 Beacon street at a bargain, 6 room house and small cottage. Handy to cars. Apply at 33 Beacon street, Quincy Point. 22-3t

FOR SALE—Milk wagon, strong, good condition, also Democrat, two seats, painted and varnished, both at a bargain. Must be sold. Ellis, 50 Squantum street, East Milton. 22-6t

FOR SALE—7 passenger auto. Excellent for Jitney service. Can be bought very low. Write D. R. Ledger office. 21-4t

FOR SALE—House and barn to be moved within thirty days. Apply Charles D. Bailey, 588 South street. 21-3t

FOR SALE—One mission set, chiffonier, and a morris chair, practically new. Apply between 3 and 6, Room 7 Durgin and Merrill block. 21-6t

FOR SALE—Buggy, sleigh, harnesses and robes. Apply Dr. T. J. Dion, 59 Cross street, West Quincy. 20-5t

FOR SALE—House, 17 Edison street 7 rooms and bath. Gas, electric lights steam heat, 11,725 feet land, 15 minutes walk to Fore River Shipyard, price $3300. Make an offer. Apply on the premises. 16-6t

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-tf. L P.

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

TO LET.

Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.

Cosy upper 4 room and bath flat, 122 Glendale Road. $19.

H. F. McIntire HOUSES Greenleaf Bldg Tel. Quincy 1665-W.

Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.

1-1 yr.

LOST

LOST—Monday between Randolph and Quincy, pocketbook, containing $10 bill, license and registration of auto. Reward if returned to William A. Shirley, 592 South street. 20-3t

WANTED

WANTED—A bright young man about twenty, to work in office of shoe mfg. Write letter to M. W. O. Ledger office. 22-2t

WANTED—Girls to work on clothing, power machines. Experienced girls preferred. Rhodes Ripley Clothing Co., Hingham. 22-6t

WANTED—Housemaid, honest, neat and willing. References required. Mrs. J. Berman, 117 Quincy street, Quincy. 21-3t

WANTED—General maids, best of wages to experienced girls with references. Second maids, also young girls. Miss Frances Wilson, Quincy Employment Bureau, 1247 Hancock street. Tel. 1757-W. 21-3t

WANTED—Errand Boy between 16 and 18 years of age. Apply at Naville Market, Braintree. 20-3t

WANTED—An experienced maid for general housework. References required. Apply at 118 Merrymount road. 16-tf

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

Prescott Apartments

For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service. Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S
Tel. 1927-W Quincy

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer

Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

CARPENTER AND BUILDER
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
All Work Given Prompt Attention
W. R. LOFGREN
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 398-3

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

BE WISE
FOOL THE FLIES
HAVE YOUR SCREENS RE-COVERED NOW
TELEPHONE OR WRITE
HOLMES & HALL
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

Exceptional Values In New Spring Suits

We have prepared for this week an exceptional early-season offering presenting the most recent development of fashion and showing advanced models for immediate wear at very reasonable prices.

Many Suits in the Newer Styles Just Opened

Smart stylish materials, gabardines, poplins, serges, novelty stripes, checks, mixtures, shepherd plaids. All the leading shades and collors, such as Belgium blue, navy, green and putty. All sizes to suit everv figure. You, who want to look neat and smart for the holiday will find a visit to us most extraordinary and profitable All our suits are specially priced

$8.98 $12.98 $14.98

YOUR SUIT
Made to Your Measure
For the benefit of those who want, made to measure suits this department is maintained, under the personal conductorship of
MR. H. N. LEVENSON
We believe in adding this new department we are filling a much desired want. Here you can be perfectly fitted in any style you desire. Will you give us a call this week, Madam?

A Large and Varied Display of New Hats

Our showing of new spring hats is large, indeed, much larger than what you would think. Here you are sure to find something that is becoming to your individual taste. Simple designs or effectively trimmed with the latest novelties. For the woman who wants distinction as well as individuality we are at our best.. Prices are extremely moderate, too

$1.25 $2.98 $4.98

A LARGE STOCK of SKIRTS

Tailored and dressy styles in the newer full skirt effects and stylish pleated models, some with pockets, others braid and button trimmed. No matter what your fancy may be your taste is sure to be exemplified here. Specially Priced

Alterations Free $1.98 $2.98

Tailors J. SZATHMARY Milliners
1447 Hancock Street

BIG PIANO SALE.

H. L. Kincaide & Company Plan Big Sale of Pianos cooperating with Big New York Factories to Dispose of 5,000 Pianos, distributed among Sixteen Cities.

Quincy, one of the sixteen cities, included in the list, through the enterprise of H. L. Kincaide & Co., who are now the recognized largest piano distributors in this vicinity giving them a ranking among the sixteen leading piano houses of the United States. selected by the factories in New York City of which the Bacon Piano Co. are one, to distribute 5000 pianos in this stupendous sale. The allotment obtainable by H. L. Kincaide & Co is 125 pianos and 75 players, at price, and rates never before offered in this city.

H. L. Kincaide & Co.. does not claim any credit for the enterprise. It was planned and put into action by the Bacon Piano Co., and its associated industries. It. however, was due to the enterprise of H. L. Kincaide & Co. that Quincy citizens have the opportunity to reap the benefits of this unprecendented piano sale.

TO KEEP UP THE OUTPUT.

As the World War progressed and the talk of hard times frightened most people into beginning a savings account, the Bacon Piano Co. and their associated industries saw that unless something extraordinary was done it would have to decrease its output, thus throwing thousands of people out of employment, a thing which it would not consider, so the the plan was formed to dispose of pianos and player-pianos at greatly reduced prices and on terms which anyone could meet. To do this the company elected the leading piano houses in the country, companies in sixteen cities being selected and H. L. Kincaide & Co. of Quincy was among the sixteen. The other cities in which the pianos will be sold on the same terms as those here, are Austin, Des Moines. Denver, Evansville, New London, Philadelphia, Providence, Rochester. Salt Lake City, San Antonio, San Francisco, St. Louis Springfield and Utica. Thus it will be seen that the local company is ranking with the leading piano companies in the leading cities of t United States.

To sell these pianos the terms have been made very low, by the factories in order to make the success of the sale of the 5000 pianos sure and incidentally enable them to retain hundreds of employees who would otherwise have been thrown out of employment. H. L. Kincaide & Co's advertising should be used each day in the Ledger for full details of the sale.

PRATT'S BREAD—baked by experts in a light, well-ventilated building. All grocers.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

SELL "OLE CLO'ES."

"Ole clo'es," hats, and even furniture was disposed of at the rummage sale in the Spooner store at the corner of Washington street and Revere road. Wednesday, held under the auspices of the Paul Revere Women's Relief Corps with Mrs. Alice Litchfield as chairman. The sale continued today and will close Friday evening.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of David B. Macomb, late of New York in the State of New York, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, and appointing Roger D. Swaim of Cambridge, his agent, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

(Address)
GOOLD H. BULL, Executor.
Care of Roger D. Swaim,
16 Central St., Boston, Mass.
April 16, 1915 3t April 22-29 May 6

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

TO LET—Suite of 3 furnished rooms all modern improvements, reasonable rent, 132 Marlboro stret. 22-3t

LOST—Between Central Fire Station and Whitney road, blue coat, containing bunch of keys. Please return to Central Fire Station. 22-1t

MARRIAGES

GAINER—McPHERSON— In Quincy April 22, by Fr. Michael J. Owens Joseph Gainer, mayor of Providence R. I., and Miss Christina McPherson of this city.

JOHNSON—TOBEY—Aug. 18, 1914, Herbert Lincoln Johnson and Avis Caroline Tobey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus B. Tobey of Wollaston.

CHAPLIN—SHEPERD — In Boston, April 21, by Dr. James Alexander, James D. Chaplin of this city and Miss Harriet Sheperd of Glasgow, Scotland.

DEATHS

TORREY—In South Weymouth, April 21, George B. Torrey, aged 61 years

HOXIE—In Wollaston, April 20th Mrs. Mary C. Hoxie of Plymouth Mass., widow of Edward W. Hoxie aged 69 years, 1 day.

COFFIN—In Quincy, April 21, William A. Coffin, in his 63rd year. Funeral services at Hall's Undertaking rooms, 1485 Hancock street, Friday April 23, at 2.30 P. M. 22-1t

DENNEHY—In County Cork, Ireland Mrs. Mary Dennehy, mother of Mrs T. J. O'Brien of Gay street, this city.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

BRIEFS

Miss Maria A. Whitney of Orchard place is the guest of friends in Milford, N. H.

Mrs. James Moorhead of Glendale road left Wednesday for Milford where she will be the guest of relatives for the next three weeks.

Miss Annie Carlson of Glendale road is confined to her home with scarlet fever.

Warren W. Adams, for several years chairman of the Board of Assessors, who has been seriously ill is to be taken to a private hospital today for a surgical operation.

The Bi-Monthly meeting of the Quincy Spiritualist society was held at 8 Mechanic street Wednesday evening. The program for the fair and entertainment to be held in Electa hall May 10th, was fully arranged.

The summer cottage of Dr. W. L. Merrill of Wollaston, situated on Peaks Island, Me., is reported to have been badly damaged by fire Wednesday. The fire started from a grass fire and worked its way to the cottage which was not occupied.

CLAIM GERMAN SUCCESS.

(By United Press.)

Berlin—The French surprise attack accompanied by artillery exchanges in the western part of the Pretre forest, continues and none of the Hartmannsuerlerkopf were repulsed. Heavy losses was announced by the war office today. Unofficial reports that they have been displaced in Termon because of Austrian guns fire was also confirmed.

The official war report also made claims of further successes by the Germans south of La Bassee, northwest of Arras in the Argonne, and between the Meuse and Mosselle.

The rench were repulsed in an attack at Daptûi and the report is that the situation is unchanged along the eastern front.

TAKE COTTAGE.

Several members of the Harmony club went to Nantasket Beach to select a cottage for the summer. They decided to take one on Hamoden Circle on the water front and are now making plans for a grand opening on the night of May 30th.

Get Abreast Of the Times!

By MOSS.

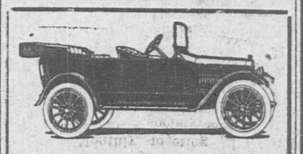

No excuse nowadays for the man who puts meal in one saddlebag and rocks in the other to balance it.

No excuse nowadays, either, for the merchant who is satisfied with 5 or 10 per cent profit from his advertising when with 1 per cent of extra effort he could obtain 20 or 30 per cent profit.

Poor advertising pays. Good advertising pays infinitely better.

Intelligent readers of this newspaper will observe that our merchants are telling their selling stories in an up to date, snappy, effective manner.

Our business men are alive. This paper is alive.

JACKSON
Model 46
THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL. SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER
"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"
Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT
$1375
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

A TAN SHOE SALE

Broken sizes and discontinued lines of Lace and Button Boots at prices below cost.

$4.00 and $4.50 Values $2.39

SPRING STYLES

Our Show Windows show the Newest in Spring Footwear.

Cool, comfortable Pumps and Oxfords at medium prices

GRANITE SHOE STORE

COATING WITH TARVIA.

A coating of what is known as Tarvia B is being put on the streets about City square today, the black tar-like dust preventative afterward being covered with a coating of sand The distributing carts seem to be working better this year for the Tarvia is being spread evenly and there is an absence of the black puddles which meant ruin to any woman's skirts which came in contact with it It will require some weeks before all of the strets in the schedule have been treated

FIRE THREATENS NEWTON.

(By United Press.)

Boston, April 22—Fire starting originally in the Garden City Ice Houses and quickly spreading to adjoining buildings seriously menaced the business section of Newton centre today. A general alarm was followed by a call for help from surrounding towns. The main house and eight smaller ones were destroyed and the roofs of three dwellings were burned. The extent of the damage is estimated at $40,000. The fire has been extinguished.

CITY HALL NOTES

Two bids were received by Commissioner Brown Wednesday for furnishing the city with one 1500 pound auto truck. The lowest bid was submitted by J. Carleton Lewis of Quincy whose figure was $2,000. The second bid came from the White Co., the price being $2,284. The bid was aawrded to J. Carleton Lewis.

ANNUAL MEETING.

Missionary Society Holds Yearly Election.

The Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Wollaston Baptist church were the guests of Mrs. Eben Hardy of Wollaston avenue, Wednesday afternoon. The hostess served refreshments at the close of the annual meeting. The following officers were chosen:

President—Mrs. Joseph Walther.
Vice President—Mrs. Edward E. Bullock.
Secretary—Mrs. A. L. Durgin.
Treasurer—Mrs. William Dimmick.

COMING
1 CENT SALE
Watch the Ledger

Chas. C. Hearn Druggist

Our Teas and Coffee

represent the very best selection that the market affords. Good tea and good coffee are delicious beverages—but inferior quality means dissatisfaction. If we can prevail on you to try our teas and coffees we feel you will be a regular patron.

Coffees; Stanzalone 20c lb
Quality 32c lb. 3 lbs, 90c
Teas; C. & S. Choicest Grades 50c lb
3 lbs. $1.35

ADAMS MARKET
City Square
Phone 1960

FOY'S
2 STORES

WATER STREET
Cor. Quincy
Phone 917

FOOTWEAR

We are showing New Spring Models

DOROTHY DODD SHOES
FOR WOMEN

RALSTON SHOES
FOR MEN

EMERSON SHOES
FOR MEN

For the Boys and Girls Our Factory Lines Same as Sold by the Best City Stores Are Much Lower Priced Here. We Invite Your Inspection and Feel Sure We Can Please You in STYLE, PRICE and QUALITY.

JONES Just around the Corner 1 Granite St., Quincy

KINCAIDE THEATRE

"THE MAN FROM MEXICO"
WITH JOHN BARRYMORE
A Wonderful Photo-Play of High Order
EXPLOITS OF ELAINE NEW EPISODE

VAUDEVILLE. Melva Comedy Four—Live Entertainers. Tascar, and Marie, Novelty Songsters, with Wit and Humor.
MANNING & MILLER, Scenic Artists and Songsters

Thursday, Friday and Saturday DAIL MATINEE at 2.30 10 & 15c. EVENINGS at 8 — 10-15-25c

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 95 QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 23, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

DECORATIONS ARE UNUSUALLY PRETTY

Thistle Club Dance Has Many Striking And Very Beautiful Features

SHADOW DANCE EFFECTIVE

The third annual grand dance of the young women of South Quincy who compose the Thistle club was held in Alpha hall, Thursday evening.

The patronesses were Mrs. Duncan Grassick, Mrs. J. Mathieson and Mrs. Alexander Cowe. There was a large attendance.

The hall decorations were the prettiest of the season. Streamers of crepe paper, of lavendar and white, the club colors were festooned about the chandelier in the centre and extended to all corners so that the interior looked like a May Pole during a dance. Palms and masses of roses on the platform flanked thistles and periwinkle and in the centre was a large illuminated transparency bearing the club name and the year's numerals.

At eight o'clock sharp the young women and their escorts commenced the waltz by Garmory's orchestra which furnished the music. One of the features was a shadow dance during which serpentine crepe was used in a unique and pretty way. In the sparkler dance all of the young women carried colored sparklers and presented a Will of the Wisp scene. The parasol dance, the next to the last dance on the program, was also a moonlight, the young women carrying vari-colored paper parasols which gaily reflected the partially hidden lights from decorated bulbs.

Little Nellie Jones and Agnes Mathieson were pages and distributed the dance orders, decorated with flags and thistles, and the favors. The floor directress was Miss Marion A. Mathieson and Miss Grace A. Lennon was assistant. The aids were Mrs. Katherine E. Williams, Mrs. Mabel Schoffield and the Misses Elizabeth S. Grassick, Florence M. Williams, Evelyn I. Cowe, Jennie G. Grassick, M. Bella Stronach, Huena McLeod, Katherine J. Yule. A buffet luncheon was served during the evening.

WILL RUN FOR HAM'S PLACE

Dr. W. O. Faxon, of Stoughton, one of the best known physicians in this part of the state and a former legislator, announced today that he was a candidate for the governor's council to succeed Hon. Guy Ham, the present incumbent from the second councillor district. Dr. Faxon will seek the Republican nomination. Two others have declared similar intentions but it is the belief among many prominent men of this city that Dr. Faxon will be nominated.

Dr. Faxon at one time practiced medicine in Braintree. He has been a resident of Stoughton for many years. Through his activity in public affairs in that section he has established a great number of supporters. He has served several terms in the House of Representatives and also represented the second Norfolk district in the senate.

He is thought by many to be the strongest Republican who has announced his intentions. He is a prominent member of the Norfolk County club and is popular in this city.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER

FRIENDS TENDER TIN SHOWER

Pleasantly Surprise Miss Stillwell

The girls of the Ledger composing room and other friends and relatives, pleasantly surprised Miss Marjorie Stillwell, copy reader of the Geo. W. Prescott Publishing Co., on Thursday evening at her home on Quincy avenue.

Miss Stillwell is to marry George Rieb of Rye Beach, N. H. On returning home Thursday evening she was showered with useful tin utensils of all descriptions.

The evening was spent in the playing of games and one of the features was the operating of a Ouija board, to the intense amusement of the girls. Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. Stillwell.

Among those present were the Misses Phillis Collins, Susan Tytler, Cynthia Curtis, Margaret Michael, Lillian Keddy, Lillian Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Stillwell, Mr. and Mrs. A. Slaven, Mr. and Mrs. F. Slaven and daughter Margaret and Mrs. J. Slaven.

EXECUTIVE BOARD HOLDS MEETING

An important and interesting meeting of the executive board of the Quincy Federation of Women's clubs was held Thursday in the Adams Academy building. The meeting was largely attended, representatives being present from all of the women's clubs of the city, as well as from the Associated Charities and the Day Nursery association. The Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. was admitted to membership and was represented at the meeting by its president, Mrs. Beale.

Interesting reports were made on various matters, especially by Miss Dickinson of the State Board of Health who has been investigating the tuberculosis conditions in Quincy. Miss Dickinson presented charts showing where cases of tuberculosis were found in Quincy, and of localities where deaths had occurred from tuberculosis. These charts covered a period of five years.

The financial aspect of the Young Women's club was considered and Mrs. Herbert W. Pinkham was appointed trustee of the Recreation Centre Fund.

Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, who was the chairman of the committee on the question of a waiting room in City Square, reported that no action had been taken as the matter of a waiting room was being considered by the Planning Board of the city.

Plans were made for the annual public meeting to be held Thursday May 20.

Mrs. Arthur Townsend was to speak on the subject of "Part Time Schools," but owing to the lateness of the hour this was postponed until the next meeting.

BILL CARRIGAN SPEAKER.

Bill Carrigan of the Red Sox and Bill Sweeney, ex-captain of the Braves, will give a base ball talk in Poland hall to the members of the North Quincy Catholic club and their friends this evening. The committee on arrangements has issued a general invitation to all the base ball fans of the North Quincy Section to hear the famous ball players tell how they made their success on the diamond.

..... OPEN FOR PLAY. .....

The courts of the Quincy Tennis club will be open for play next Saturday.

APPOINTS NEW CITY OFFICIAL

Walter G. Field to Be Meat Inspector

Mayor Campbell announced this morning that he had appointed, provisionaly Walter G. Field of South Quincy as inspector of meats and provisions to fill the vacancy caused by the death of James F. Allan.

The Mayor had a large number of applications for the position which carries a salary of $300 a year. It is a civil service position and as there are no names on the civil service list, permission was granted to make the provisional appointment.

The new appointee is a bright, aggressive young man residing at 37 Verchild street, South Quincy. He is thirty years of age and married and has been connected with the Brown & Crowell Co., provision dealers at South Quincy, for several years.

He was born in Quincy and educated in the public schools of this city and has made Quincy his home, with the exception of about two years during which time he held a responsible position at the Providence Public Market. He assumes his duties on May 1.

CASE CONTINUED.

Robert McGettigan, 296 W. Brookline street, Boston, a chauffeur, was in the district court this morning on two complaints and was granted a continuance to April 28. McGettigan is charged with operating an auto in Randolph without lights and with using a machine without the consent of the owner, John C. Walsh, proprietor of the Buffalo Lunch Co., with a head office at 1585 Washington street, Boston. McGettigan was released on sureties furnished by his brother.

TO HOLD INQUEST.

Arthur Hultman, assistant court officer is today serving subpoenas on Weymouth and Braintree people who will appear as witnesses Saturday at the inquest to be held to determine the cause of death of Patrick Butler, late chief of police of Weymouth. Special justice Louis A. Cook will conduct the inquest.

Philip J. Halvosa and Mrs. Halvosa were called to Whitman this week to attend the funeral of Mrs. Halvosa's sister Mrs. Frank Brouillard who died Sunday in Montreal. This is the fifth death in the family within a year.

THE WEATHER.

Hot tar and oil may be a good thing to apply to the streets to lay the dust, but it is not the pleasantest thing in the world when the mixture is applied to the face and on clothing Postmaster Edmund H. Bowler and ex-Postmaster Charles H. Riley of Dedham both agree in this respect but they did not agree in regard to a loan of $5 which Riley is said to have asked of Bowler. The row ended in Riley being pushed into the street which had just received a fresh coat of tar and oil. In the mix-up which followed both men absorbed much of the aforesaid tar and oil on their faces and clothing. If they had postponed their dispute until later in the season or had held it for a few months ago when the weather conditions were such that tar and oil were unnecessary the results would not have been so disagreeable.

The indications are that Saturday will be showery with moderate temperature.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	4.50
Sun sets	6.35
Length of day	13.45
Moon rises	2.10
High water, A. M.	6.20
High water, P. M.	7.00
Days increase	4 hrs. 39 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	60 degrees
Apr. 23, 1914,	58 degrees
Apr. 23, 1913,	65 degrees

Noon Maximum 18 years—86
Noon Minimum 18 years—30

CLUB HOLDS ITS LADIES NIGHT

Varied Program Delights Members and Guests

The Quincy Catholic club, composed of well known young women of St. John's parish, held its annual Ladies Night in New Colonial hall Thursday evening and entertained about 200 residents of Quincy and surrounding towns.

The program of the evening was an entertaining one and was under the direction of the dramatic committee of the club consisting of Miss Mary Lyons, Miss Emma Biganess, Miss Louise Crowley, Miss Annie Walsh and Miss Helen Galvin. Miss Corrine L. LaBreeque was pianist.

The evening opened with a sketch in which Miss Mary G. Heaney portrayed the customs and dress of 1750 and Miss Margaret Heaney the present. The presentation was enlivened by the ready slang of the 20th century girl which shocked her of the dim past. The scene opened with both standing in picture frames. The awakening and conversation followed.

Living pictures portraying emotions were well given by the Misses Catherine L. Brown, Sadie Heaney, Mary G. Heaney, Gertrude F. Hughes and Evelyn Kelley. Miss Margaret Heaney was the reader.

A pantomime entitled "Brooms," in which the characters were the Misses Helen Galvin, Corrine L. LaBreeque and Emma Biganess furnished considerable comedy.

During the evening Miss Anna J. Walsh's vocal selection, "Creole Swing Song" was encored and there was exhibition dancing by Miss T. McShane and Miss Dorothy Collins, both of Medford, the later giving a toe solo dance.

A collation was served at the close of the program.

McKEON DIES AFTER COLLAPSE

Joseph McKeon of 57 South street, who was removed to the Quincy City Hospital in the police ambulance Thursday afternoon suffering from a cerebral hemorrhage, died this morning. McKeon was stricken in the Fore River shipyard where he was employed. He collapsed and in falling struck his head against a steel plate, receiving a long gash. He was carried to the Red Cross hospital where he was treated and then removed to the hospital. He is said to have a son living at 22 Stevens street, Camden, N. J.

TAKES CHILDREN AWAY.

Judge Avery Entrusts Them to State Board.

Judge Avery in the juvenile court Thursday afternoon issued a decree giving the State Board of Charities custody of three children of Michael Canale of Gilbert street, South Quincy.

The children are Julia, aged 9 years, Laura, agd 8 years, and Mildred, aged 7 years.

The decree was made after hearing the complaint of Truant Officer Chas. H. Johnson, who alleged that the children were of school age and were growing up without education. The father, Michael Canale, entered an appeal when the decree was made but as he was unable to furnish bonds, the children were taken to the State House after the session.

Officer Johnson brought his complaint after several investigations. Since his appointment he has been devoting his entire time to duty and actively enforcing the laws. He contemplates similar action in other cases.

CHIMNEY AND MARSH FIRES.

The Wollaston apparatus was called on a still alarm at 2.38 Thursday afternoon for a chimney fire in the house of H. I. Esterbrook, corner of Fenno street and Wollaston avenue. When the apparatus arrived some assistance was needed and the Central station auto chemical was called to assist.

At 3.55 Thursday afternoon the Central station auto chemical responded on a still alarm for a marsh fire off Sea stret, near the small pox hospital

LATEST

MRS. BRIGGS LOSES VERDICT

Jury Reports in Favor of Cabot Will

(By United Press.)

Boston, April 23—The jury came in at one o'clock after being out 23 hours on the Cabot will case and reported in favor of the will and in favor of the 12 issues raised. The will now stands and the distribution of the property will follow.

THAW GETS JURY TRIAL

(By United Press.)

New York, April 23—After a nine years fight for a jury trial to determine his sanity Harry K. Thaw was overjoyed today as he listened to the opinion of Judge Hendricks in the Supreme Court which granted him a trial by a jury. In all the long entangled, legal proceedings in which Thaw has been the chief actor he has never had a jury pass on his mental status. He denied emphatically the story of another plot to escape.

ROOSEVELT IS STILL ON STAND

Bond P. Geddes
(By United Press Correspondent)

Syracuse, N. Y., April 23—More dark and secret pages from New York's political history were brought from musty files and illumined today by Col. Roosevelt. William Barnes, the plaintiff in the libel suit, brought up the dead political past but the former governor and president did the illuminating.

The letters were from Col. Roosevelt's explanation of how he worked with the Republican machine, but not as a supine creature, left in doubt, the view the jury will take of the disclosure. Today was Roosevelt's fourth day on the witness stand. The political disclosures have now widened to national import. Ivans, attorney for Barnes, planned today to lead Roosevelt through the history of the 1912 Chicago convention and aBrnes's part in Roosevelt's defeat by Taft for the Republican nomination.

PRISONERS FIGHT BIG WOOD FIRE

(By United Press)

Bridgewater, April 24—Supt. Hollis Blackstone sent 300 of his prisoners, some of them from Quincy, under a guard of 16 to the rescue of the local fire department coping with a desperate woodland fire today. All returned.

TWO DROWN.

(By United Press.)

Grimsby, Eng., April 23—The trawler St. Lawrence was torpedoed and sunk in the North Sea by a German submarine. Two of the crew were drowned. The remainder landed here today.

William Canty, archon of the Granite conclave of Heptasophs, owing to illness was unable to preside at the meeting in Protection hall Thursday ight, for the first time since h's installation. Provost Daniel Barnes presided. The committee in charge of the annual dance made a partial report.

Machinist Wanted
Apply to
Pine Point Auto Co.
Bridge St., North Weymouth
April 23-2t

WRITES PROTESTING GRANTING OF LICENSES

Mayor Campbell Communicates With Board

Mayor Campbell has taken up the matter of the granting of liquor licenses at Neponset near the street railway terminals and this morning forwarded the following letter of protest to the Licensing Board of the City of Boston.

April 23, 1915.

Mr. Charles R. Gow,
Mr. Hosiah S. Dean,
Mr. Robert A. Woods.
Licensing Board
City of Boston, Mass.
Gentlemen:—

My attention has been called to the applications of William N. Hackett & Co. at 443 Neponset Ave., William R. Brown & Co. at 1894 Dorchester Ave., and David P. Power & Co., at 406 Neponset Ave., to sell liquor at the above addresses, and your notices of said applications No. 1279, No. 1255 and No. 1280 as advertised in the Dorchester Beacon of April 17th.

While realizing that the city of Quincy is separated from this district by the Neponset River, yet we feel that as neighbors to the great city of Boston it would not be out of place to call to the attention of your honorable body the fact that the granting of the licenses for the sale of liquor at the locations stated would be very detrimental to the neighboring city of Quincy.

Our city as you know, is a very strong no-license city. It is a city of homes, and a place we are striving hard to keep as a good, healthful place to live in. We feel that our work and efforts will be badly handicapped should these licenses be granted, and if it is permissible to have a committee of citizens of this city wait on your board to protest against the granting of these petitions, I can assure you the same will be appointed and appreciated.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) Chester I. Campbell.
Mayor.

ANNUAL LEAGUE BANQUET.

The annual banquet of the Clan MacGregor bowling league will take place Saturday night at the Quincy house, Boston. The prizes for the season will be distributed. The committee has planned a series of surprises to be sprung during the banquet. Cabaret features will be introduced and there will be a varied program by local talent.

SHAMROCK CLUB WHIST.

The Shamrock club entertained about 200 friends at its first whist and dancing party in Quincy Adams hall Thursday evening. The souvenirs were awarded to Thomas Brennan, Patrick Hocko, James McArdle, Miss Maude Copeland, Miss Evelyn Moriarty and Miss Mary Tarbey. Dancing followed until midnight, music being furnished by Provost's orchestra.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is baked by experts in proved ovens. Sold by grocers.

Packard Shoes

Color, Character, Comfort

That sums up the distinctive features of the new Spring Shoe, models for men. Pleases the eye, Eases the feet. For the chap who wants all that a shoe can give and a little more, the Packard is the shoe. It would be superfluous to say more, we would like you to try them on. A large stock of Oxfords and Pumps for the warm months are here. Come in this evening.

$4.00 $4.50 $5.00

The Farnum Shoe
Style, Fit, Low Price

For the man who has an eye on his bank account and wants all the distinctiveness of a higher priced shoe we believe here is the shoe he would choose from every other shoe made

Price $3.50

Remicks Special Shoe

We cannot talk too highly of this shoe, the longer we house it, the fonder we become of it. It sells for

$3.25 Worth More

Remicks Music Hall Block

Quincy E. E. GRAY CO. Wollaston
Two Stores
Tel. 327 M Quincy Reliable Groceries Tel. 1586 M Quincy

Howard's Salad Dressing bot,	23c
Royal Salad Dressing "	23c
Royal Salad Dressing	10c
Crab Meat, Large can	38c
Crab Meat, Small can	25c
Tuna Fish, Large can	22c
Tuna Fish, Small can	15c
Shrimp (Best Baratavia)	11c
Jell-o, All flavors, pkg	8c

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

A PROPER REJOINDER.

Evidently Mr. Bryan does not approve of Admiral Peary's prediction that the United States will cover the whole of North America. At least we should judge so because he is quoted as having said: "His prediction is based upon an assumption which has been demonstrated to be false—namely that a nation must expand or go to decay. Admiral Peary does not, of course, claim to be inspired—he is simply expressing his private opinion. Such a prediction from an obscure man would be foolish; from one in his position it is little less than a crime."

It is a pleasing prediction anyway and some Americans might rejoice inwardly at the bare thought of having such a large and glorious nation, whether Mr. Bryan approves of it or not. Possibly he based his objections upon the fact that the speech was made at a Republican feast. At all events, it hardly seems that it is Mr. Bryan's place to criticise this statement. Certainly Admiral Peary does not work overtime thinking up suggestions to make to the public. And, moreover, the foolish things which he may have said can nowhere near equal in number those which have been done by the Secretary of State.—Boston Advertiser (Editorial)

Although far from being an admirer of Mr. Bryan we feel that the attitude of the Advertiser is absurd, apparently inspired by a feeling of dislike and distrust for the secretary of state and shows an inability to credit him with ever pursuing a wise course.

"At all events it hardly seems Mr. Bryan's place to criticize this statement, "declares the Advertiser. It certainly is Mr. Bryan's place. He is secretary of state and from his office come statements defining the attitude of the government toward other nations.

At this time particularly, with Mexico in disorder, South America suspicious of the United States and its intentions, and all the European nations clutching each other's throats and ready to attack anyone else who makes a false move, it is unwise for the United States to intimate that it possesses any land-grabbing, "Old Glory waving over all America" fever. We all know that the rejection of reciprocity by the Canadians was largely caused by Champ Clark's famous "spread eagle" speech. We don't want our attempt to cultivate friendly relations with South America, both financially and politically, to meet the same fate for a similar reason.

Admiral Peary is not authorized to speak for the United States government, but to other nations the words of the famous discoverer of the North Pole must carry great weight. When a man of his eminence makes a statement which the government considers will injure the country we believe it proper for the president or the member of the cabinet whose department is concerned to make a reply.

Why not a jitney service to the Quincy Hospital? There is no place off the main line of travel where a reasonable service would be more appreciated. At the present time it is walk or pay fifty cents each way.

It is not stated that the object in trying to get Harry Thaw back to Matteawan is to enable him to make a fresh start.

Recent advices from the Navy Department are to the effect that lovesickness is to be guarded against, as well as seasickness.

As another evidence of prosperity Philadelphia announces definite contracts for 9,300 new homes this spring.

Japan does not hesitate to remind the nations with whom she is politically allied that the emperor has some plans of his own for the future.

When fame does come to the average man it generally roosts on his tombstone.

The history of Austria has largely been made up of opportunities to show the world that it is a good loser.

It will not simplify matters if Russia decides to rename the town "Przemyslograd."

MAY BASKETS FOR POLICEMEN

Will Probably Get New Caps May 1

The new caps for the members of the police department, recently ordered to take the place of the helmet, are expected within a few days and it is probable that they will be distributed to the men as May baskets on the first day of that month.

The caps will be the style worn by the New York city officers and on front will bear a small replica of the seal of Quincy and the number of the officer.

More or less discussion may develop as to who is entitled to the smaller numbers, the awards probably being made on the length of time a man has been in the service. At present several officers are carrying the same number.

AT THE THEATRE

John Barrymore appears the last three days of this week at the Kincaide Theatre. Of course not in real flesh and blood but in "reel" life. Barrymore's starring vehicle is Du Souchet's comedy triumph "The Man From Mexico." And there are a big list of headliners as well.

The sixteenth episode of the New Exploits of Elaine are here and Arnold Daly as Craig Kennedy is certainly having some serious problems to face. Does he solve them? And is Elaine realy killed? "The Man From Mexico" is certainly a laugh from start to finish. All the delicious humor of Mr. Barrymore's delightful personality is at its best in his portrayal of the light hearted and light headed bibulous Fitzhew whose mythical adventures in Mexico the comedy so laughably unfolds. His wife planning to take a vacation at her mother's discovers her husband is planning a wonderful time at the Cafe Cleopatra with his boon companion Majors. A police raid is realistically given, too realistic for the wife, and for the unhappy Fitzhew, for after engaging in a fight with the cabby, he is given thirty days on the island. From now on the situations and adventures develop by leaps and bounds culminating in a melodramatic jail delivery, resulting in Fitzhew's triumphant recapture of the prisoners, and his congratulations by the prison authorities.

Pat and Mae Toney are at their best in their comedy singing and Harmony "stuff." Tascar and Marie will keep you guessing with their nifty novel singing act, and for those musically inclined, Mgr. Wardwell has prepared a treat. The Melva Comedy Four are calculated to drive away the little flock of Glooms, and brings the Joys to any patron in the theatre by their clever characterizations and clean fun. As usual a comedy reel is presented.

The Kincaide theatre orchestra under the skillful direction of Frank Leave is playing any selection which may be desired by the patrons of Kincaide Theatre at the earliest possible opportunity. If there is anything you would like to hear played, drop a line to the musical director or leave a note at the box office and it will be announced in the new Kincaide Theatre magazine just when you can hear it.

Ross Y. Woodbury of Houghs Neck captain of one of the pilot boats in Boston Harbor, who underwent a surgical operation at the City Hospital Wednesday, is reported as being as well as could be expected.

The PROBLEM of GOOD MILK

All persons do not understand what is meant by good, safe milk. Some believe that the milk with a deep cream line is desirable, whereas, the Doctor knows that Holstein Milk, although containing little cream is often more desirable for babies, partly for this reason, or perhaps because of the method of production

The real criterion of a good milk is its wholesomeness This depends upon the conditions at the dairy, and the special care given it until it reaches the consumer. Scrupulously clean and healthy cows, clean and healthy dairymen, rapid cooling, and protecting the milk, constant dairy and laboratory inspection are required. Furthermore safety is assured when the dealer pasteurizes his supply.

THE ELM FARM MILK COMPANY OF DORCHESTER offer pure Family Milk, and exceptional Nursery Milk at prices often charged for ordinary milk Speak to the salesman, or call Dor. 2100. 4-1 mo.

OBSERVE 96th ANNIVERSARY

The 96th anniversary of American Odd Fellowship was fittingly observed Thursday evening by Mt. Wollaston lodge. The celebration was held in the spacious rooms of the lodge in the Adams building and was attended by a large gathering of the brothers and their ladies. The program of the evening included a most enjoyable entertainment, the several numbers being freely applauded.

Alexander D. Marnock, was chairman of the committee in charge and presided during the exercises, the program opening with a piano solo by Irving Hayden.

John E. Green, the well known vocalist, received a warm welcome and his two numbers were freely applauded and encores asked and accorded.

Miss Dorothy Carpenter delighted the audience with several readings, her numbers being rendered in a manner which won her many warm friends

Ernest Wright accompanied by Louise E. Wright gave several impersonations which convulsed his hearers and he also was obliged to reply to several encores.

At the conclusion of the entertainment there was a social hour during which ice cream and cake was served by the committee.

LAYING OF CORNER STONE

Will Be Accompanied By Exercises

The corner stone of the new parish house of the Wollaston Congregational church will be laid next Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock with appropriate exercises. The program of the exercises will include short addresses by Rev. Dr. Sneath, pastor of the church and Mayor Chester I. Campbell. A statement of the parish house movement will be made by Charles F. West, clerk of the parish, and a statement of the contents of the copper box to be placed in the corner stone will be made by Charles F. Campbell, superintendent of the Sunday school.

This will be followed by a religious service conducted by Rev. Dr. Sneath, following which the stone will be laid by Dr. Sneath. The exercises will close with the singing of America and with a flag exercise by the Sunday school children.

MAYOR WILL PLANT TREE

First Official Recognition of Arbor Day

The first official recognition of Arbor Day since Quincy became a city will take place Saturday and the honor of planting the first official tree will fall to Mayor Chester I. Campbell.

Mayor Campbell was inivted to act in that capacity this morning by a committee of citizens who called on him and pointed out that our thriving community had in the past neglected to join in the observance of the time revered custom.

In accepting the invitation Mayor Campbell said he hoped the people of the city would observe the day in general and assist in making a real effort to redeem as far as possible former errors which resulted in the ruthless destruction of much of our natural beauty.

Mayor Campbell said he preferred to plant a maple, his favorite tree, and the committee today arranged to have one ready for the observance which will be at 9 o'clock. The site has not been decided upon, three choice ones being under consideration.

DIRECTORS TO MEET.

The directors of the Atlantic Improvement association will meet at the rooms of the Standish club, Saturday evening April 24th, to act on the resignation of Henry F. Mosses who has been president for the last year and four months.

John Gilraine of Atlantic was sent to the Quincy City Hospital this morning for treatment. Gilraine is suffering from a bronchial trouble.

BOYS TO GIVE EXHIBITION

The Fifth Annual Gymnastic Exhibition of the Boys' Department of the Y. M. C. A. will be given this evening under the direction of Louis E. LaRose. Eric Nelson will accompany on the piano.

The program follows:

8.00 Line up of boys.
8.05 Calisthenic Drill.
8.20 Maze running led by Everett Robbie.
8.25 Apparatus Work Division "A" Horse. Led by Eric Nelson. Sydney Maxwell and Stuart Dimmock.
Division "B" Parallel Bars. Led by Herbert Hendry, Everett Robbie, Theo Brown.
Division "C" Buck and Mat, led by Roger Ahlstrom, Joseph Beal and Stanley Jenkins.
Division "D" High Jump and Mat, led by William Torrey, Maurice Berry and Newton Dodge.
8.40 Window Jump Exhibition by Leaders.
8.50 Saw Buck Boxing. Herbert Hendry and Everett Robbie.
8.55 Indian Club Relay Race Cadets.
9.05 Corn Cutter. Leaders Squad.
9.15 Basketball Dartmouth, Capt. W. Tarrey against Harvard. Capt. Newton Dodge. Yale, Capt. James Meda against Carlisle, Capt. Wester.

After the games are played the members of the winning team will be presented with ribbons signifying the Championship of the Group Game Contest.

The parents and friends of the boys are cordially invited to remain after the games are finished to witness the activities in the swimming pool.

WASECAS TAKE FINAL MATCH

The tandem team of the Wasecas beat the Quincy Adams representatives in the final match in the Quincy Social club series at the Wardwell's alleys Thursday night and won the silver trophy offered by the management Bad breaks in the first five strings beat the Quincy Adams boys. Wright of the Wasecas had a high single of 119 and his total was 925. Wright and Pinel, the winners, had 1813 against 1727 for D. Condrick and D. Curtin, the losers. The strings:

J. Pinel	92	107	81	110	84
	90	85	69	88	82—888
E. Wright	86	83	91	81	119
	92	113	99	82	79—925
D. Condrick	87	84	83	97	80
	86	94	96	83	77—867
D. Curtin	93	89	71	96	95
	83	81	79	91	82—860

SPORTING COMMENT

The annual proclamation calling forth the stalwart diamond experts of the police department will be sounded next week by Jeremiah Dinneen, manager of the Quincy base ball team. Some of the boys are eagerly awaiting the call. The schedule has not been completed although several meetings of the directors have taken place. The boys promise to make a better showing than last year and hope to repeat the defeat of the Newton nine, probably the fastest in the state.

James O'Donnell, catcher of the Quincy High School has not recovered from his injury suffered in the game with the Alumni on the holiday: O'Donnell lost the nail on the index finger of his right hand and has since been under treatment.

There is some talk about the city that the employees of the Citizen's Gas Light Co., will organize a base ball team to play the companies in the metropolitan district. The suggestion has been made but has not taken definite form.

The Redmen of South Quincy, amateur champions of the city, will open their base ball season with an at home game Saturday afternoon with the strong St. Alphonus team of Roxbury. The game will be played at the Ward three playground. The localities have put in strenuous practice and all are in the pink of condition.

The dispute as to whether Ernie Knight or Ted Muir is the best pool player in the social clubs was settled a week ago at a Boston parlor, the honors going to Knight.

Friends of Herbert Burch of East Squantum street will be sorry to learn that he is at the Quincy Hospital suffering with pneumonia.

KINCAIDE THEATRE

"THE MAN FROM MEXICO"
WITH JOHN BARRYMORE
A Wonderful Photo-Play of High Order
EXPLOITS OF ELAINE NEW EPISODE

VAUDEVILLE. Melva Comedy Four—Live Entertainers. Tascar, and Marie, Novelty Songsters, with Wit and Humor.
MANNING & MILLER, Scenic Artists and Songsters

Thursday, Friday and Saturday DAIL. MATINEE at 2.30 10 & 15c. EVENINGS at 8 — 10-15-25c

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Invitations have been sent out to the Senior members asking them to join a proposed Sunset Baseball league. If enough fellows respond to the call this league will be started at once.

Only a short time left before the close of the Bowling tournament which has been running for the last few months among the senior members. From all indications C. Thomas should be the winner with A. Thomas second unless some of the members yet to bowl should prove a big surprise and beat them out.

At ten o'clock tomorrow morning following the Boys' Meeting the boys will start out to collect what they hope will be a large amount in small sums from their friends in their annual State Boys' Day. The money collected goes toward the work among boys not only here in Quincy which get 50 per cent of the total collected but throughout the state, nation and for foreign work as well. It is hoped the boys will not be disappointed in their collecting as they will have with them information regarding the local work which they will be glad to show any one seeking such information before contributing and all help given the boys will be greatly appreciated by them.

The annual gymnasium exhibition for the Junior and Cadet classes will be given in the gym this evening at eight o'clock. As an added attraction music will be played by Eric Nelson, one of the members of the Junior class, during the drills and maze run. Everett Robbie, another of the leaders in the Junior class, will be the leader of the maze run and with other features this should be one of the best exhibitions ever given here in Quincy.

Bible Study examinations were taken by about twenty five boys last Monday in the course "Life of Christ" This is given by the religious work department of the International Committee of New York and while some of the questions puzzled the boys quite a few of them were able to pass with high marks. This is a fair beginning for the boys but it is hoped that next year will see at least twice the number taking the examinations.

Patriot Day, April 19th was enjoyed by thirty-five of the younger boys in a hike to the Blue Hill Reservation where after a climb Big Blue was scaled. Lunches were taken by the boys and an all day trip was the result. Many of the boys were ready to give up before they reached home but a good swim in the pool soon made them feel all right again. Leaving the building at nine thirty in the morning and not returning until six in the evening it can be imagined how the city and many responded, who well the boys slept that night.

3200 hundred boys in attendance at the Saturday morning meetings is a record we are proud of and with the good speakers and the stereopticon pictures frequently we feel sure the boys enjoyed every meeting. These were not members of the association. We were glad to welcome them and expect to see them back next winter with us with a large number of them in the membership of the Boys' Division where they can enjoy some of the other good things which the regular meetings were opened to any boy in members enjoy.

COMING
1 CENT SALE
Watch the Ledger
Chas. C. Hearn Druggist

FOOTWEAR
We are showing New Spring Models
DOROTHY DODD SHOES
FOR WOMEN
RALSTON SHOES
FOR MEN
EMERSON SHOES
FOR MEN
For the Boys and Girls Our Factory Lines Same as Sold by the Best City Stores Are Much Lower Priced Here. We Invite Your Inspection and Feel Sure We Can Please You in STYLE, PRICE and QUALITY.
JONES Just around the Corner 1 Granite St., Quincy

STERLING SLATE TOP SHINGLES
Gives your roof an attractive appearance
REQUIRE NO PAINTING
ARE FIRE RESISTING
DO NOT WARP OR CURL
ARE WEATHER PROOF
MADE WITH RED or GREEN
CRUSHED SLATE FINISH
Ask to see Sample
NATHAN AMES
5 Granite St.
USE CARBORUNDUM SHARPENING STONES

COAL
ANNOUNCEMENT
April 1, 1915.
Full coal bins are a source of real satisfaction. We are filling our bins as rapidly as possible with FRESH MINED COAL. By placing your order now YOU can take advantage of the LOW PRICES announced in the schedule below. Coal will positively ADVANCE IN PRICE later. There will be no Further Reduction.
We should be glad to call and talk Coal with you if you will notify us.

PRICES FOR CASH

Franklin Egg and Stove	$8.50 per ton
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75 per ton
Shamokin Stove	7.50 per ton
White Ash Broken	6.50 per ton
White Ash Egg	7.25 per ton
White Ash Stove	7.25 per ton
White Ash Nut	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Broken	6.75 per ton
Lehigh Egg	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Stove	7.50 per ton
Pea	5.50 per ton

25 cents per ton extra where coal is carried in. Orders taken for these Prices are for delivery by July 1, 1915.
J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc

RECEPTION TO NEW PASTOR

Rev. and Mrs. Sundstrom Meet Parishioners

Rev. Newton Sundstrom and Mrs. Sundstrom who recently assumed the pastorate of the St. Paul's M. E. church, was tendered a reception by members of that congregation in the vestry Thursday evening. There were 200 present.

Prof. J. Hallen of Malden, a presiding elder of the Methodist conference presided. William Gelotte a prominent member of the church made the speech of welcome and at its close presented Rev. Mr. Sundstrom with a purse of money. Mrs. John Lindberg president of the Ladies' Aid society of the church, presented Mrs. Sundstrom with a magnificent bouquet of flowers.

During the evening there was an entertainment and among the numbers were quartette selections by Fred Peterson, Richard Carlmark, Herbert Carlson and Elmer Carlmark and sextette vocal selections by Mrs. Selma Johnson and the Misses Walborg N. Peterson, Hilda Ellison, Edith Olson Mary Witting, Mabel Peterson.

Rev. and Mrs. Sundstrom personally met those present at the close of the program. Refreshments were served.

BUSINESS BLOCK FOR SQUANTUM

Councilman Nelson to Erect Building

The building boom has struck Squantum. There has been considerable activity in this section of the city for some years as far as dwelling houses are concerned but it was not until today that anything in the business block line was started.

This morning Councilman John R. Nelson, one of the large land owners and progressive men of Squantum, was granted a permit by the inspector of buildings to erect a brick store building on the corner of East Squantum street and Park avenue. This is near the site where the post office is now located.

The new block will be of first class construction and will contain two stores. The size of the building is 56 feet on each of the streets mentioned with a depth of 40 feet.

The contractor is George Whitacre who will commence work on the concrete foundation immediately.

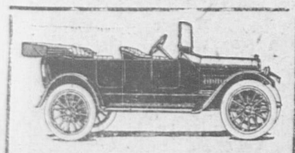

DO NOT CELEBRATE.

The Atlantic Shakespeare club which usually celebrates the birthday of this celebrated author by a musical, omitted to celebrate this year on account of the illness of Theodore C Parker, husband of the president of the club. The date of the anniversary was April 21.

REPAIRING WHARF.

The steamboat wharf at Houghs Neck which was damaged by the recent storm is being repaired and made ready for use. No announcement has as yet been made as to when the boats between Houghs Neck and Boston will go into service but it is expected that the line will be open for the season on Decoration Day, May 30.

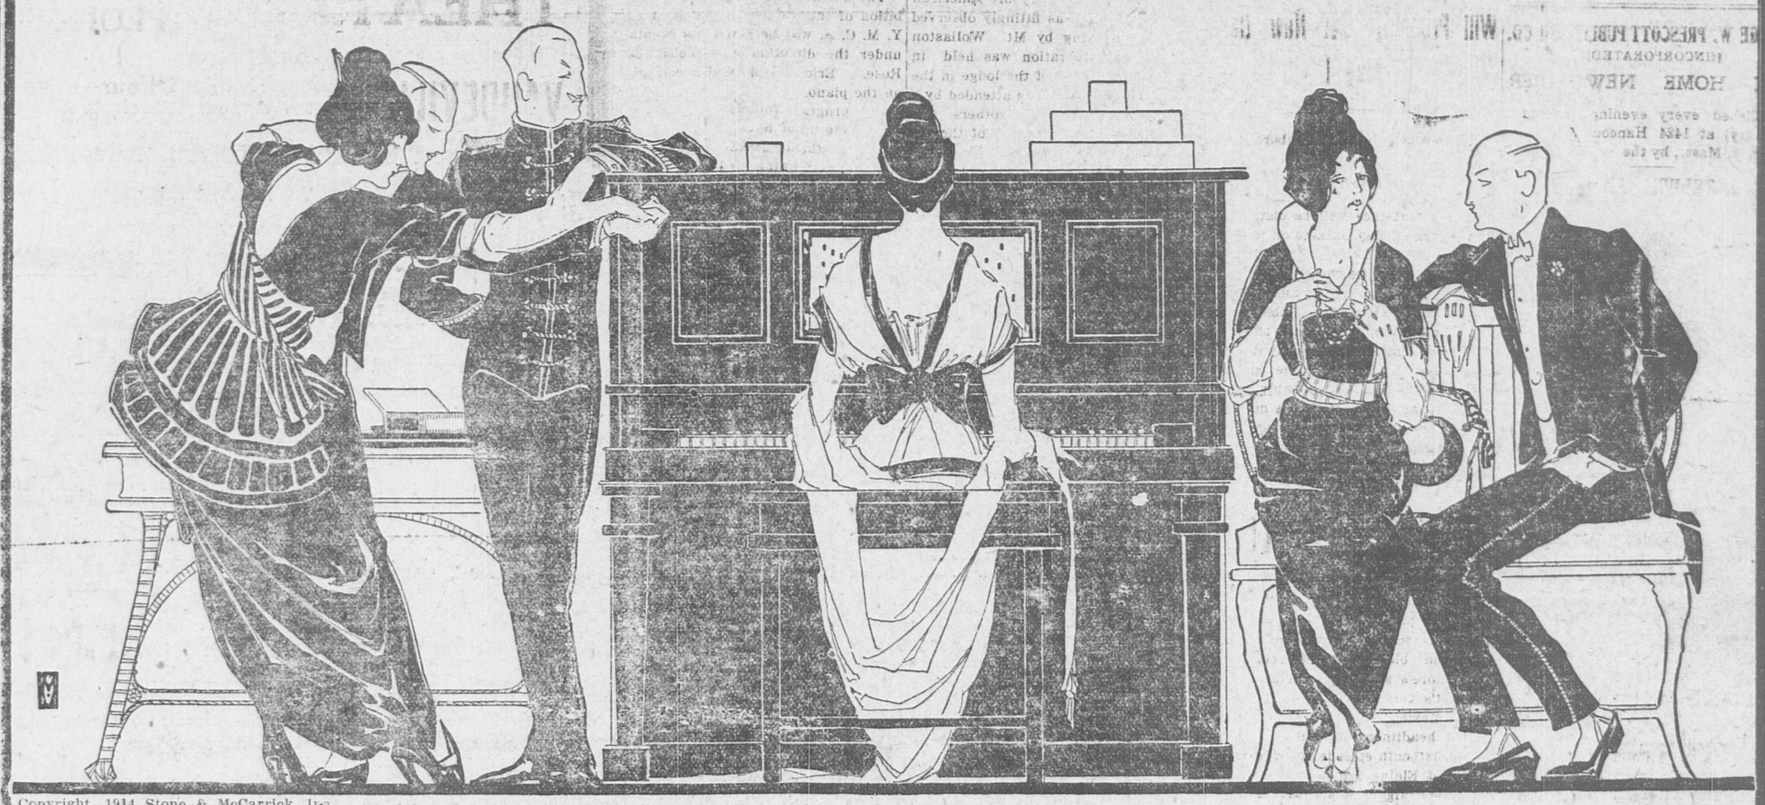

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

JACKSON
Model 46
THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL. SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER
"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"
Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT
$1375
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

The two principal features of this piano sale are: Lower prices---easier payments

Copyright, 1914, Stone & McCarrick, Inc.

Copyright, 1914 Stone & McCarrick, Inc.

WHEN INAUGURATING this sale, The Bacon Piano Co. realized that, to sell pianos while the public was absorbed in war news, prices would have to be made lower than ever before and payments would have to be made easier than ever before.

And this they did.

Today in sixteen different sections of the country; through sixteen representative houses in those sections, 5000 families have the unprecedented opportunity to procure as dependable a piano as ever was made for 266 dollars—an actual SAVING of 84 dollars each.

Those 5000 families can come into these 16 different stores, of which this is one, and for only one single five dollar bill, have the piano of their choice delivered, immediately, to their homes.

What is more, they are then given 3 years and 8 months time in which to pay the balance of 261 dollars—their first year's payments being but one dollar a week.

Your entire payments the first year, including your first or initial cash payment, amounts to but 57 dollars.

When first discussing the plan for this remarkable sale, Mr. Bacon, President of the Bacon Piano Co. said: "Let us not give any one an excuse for not buying, that they cannot afford it on account of not being able to meet the payments Let us make so many inducements and make them so big, that the people will simply be standing in their own light not to buy."

That spirit so completely dominates this big enterprise, that you will indeed be negligent in your own interests, if you do not take instant advantage of its many sided opportunities.

$5 cash
$1 a week

Below you will find a table which shows how the payments are to be made.

The piano you buy is a 350 value. It costs you but 266 dollars You save right there, 84 dollars.

You pay only five dollars when you make your purchase.

The balance, 261 dollars, may be paid in weekly payments running over a period of 3 years and 8 months, if you want that length of time, without having to pay one cent of interest or extras under any other name.

Your payments are only one dollar a week for the first year.

After that, your payments are increased to one dollar and 25 cents a week during the second year, and one dollar and 50 cents a week during the third year.

This leaves 36 weeks during the fourth year. Your payments are then only one dollar and 75 cents a week.

Do you realize how little these payment are and what they mean to you? Even during the last 36 weeks, when your payments are at their highest, they amount to but one dollar and 75 cents a week.

These payments have been purposely "strung out" this way, so that they will become an inducement for you to buy NOW, rather than put it off until later, when everybody is feeling good, and the prices on these pianos have gone back to where they were.

The man who has even only a most remote idea of giving his family a piano, is blind to his interest who does not come in immediately and select one of these splendid instruments.

Schedule of payments on pianos

Your 1st year's payments will be $1.00 a week for 55 weeks	$55.00
Your 2d year's payments will be $1.25 a week for 52 weeks	65.00
Your 3d year's payments will be $1.50 a week for 52 weeks	78.00
Your 4th year's payments will be $1.75 a week for 36 weeks	63.00
	$261.00

The real feature of this sale is the proposition on player-pianos

The player-pianos in this sale are the biggest values ever offered.

They are of a grade which sells for at least 550 dollars, everywhere. In many places, they bring as high as 600 dollars.

Two thousand of them—of which number we have 75—will be distributed into the best homes in the United States, at 413 dollars each.

The purchaser of one of these splendid instruments saves 137 dollars. The combined purchasers of these 2000 player-pianos will save the enormous total of 274 thousand dollars.

The 75 purchasers in our own community, who are fortunate enough to get these beautiful players, will save 10 thousand 250 dollars—can you grasp what these figures mean?

But this big saving is not all.

These player-pianos will be delivered into these homes, upon the payment of one single five dollar bill.

Moreover, we are instructed by The Bacon Piano Co. that, if after a 30 days' trial, these player-pianos are not satisfactory to the purchaser, to refund that five dollars, together with all other money that may have been paid during the 30 days' period

After a player-piano has been delivered, you may take 3 years and 8 months time in which to make your payments, if you want that length of time—just the same as you may take on the piano .

This brings your first year's payments down to only one dollar and 75 cents a week; the second year's payments to 2 dollars a week, and so on.

It is no wonder that Mr. Bacon of The Bacon Piano Co. said of the merchants upon their leaving his office: "They were a lot of the most optimistic business men I ever saw."

Such enormous savings; such liberality in terms and such fair and square conditions of sale, inspire optimism.

And those who have had a place picked out in their home for a beautiful player-piano, should take advantage of such an unusual opportunity, immediately

Schedule of payments on player-pianos

Your 1st year's payments will be $1.75 a week for 52 weeks	$ 91.00
Your 2d year's payments will be $2.00 a week for 55 weeks	110.00
Your 3d year's payments will be $2.25 a week for 52 weeks	117.00
Your 4th year's payments will be $2.50 a week for 36 weeks	90.00
	$408.00

¶During this sale, the Piano Department will be open evenings by appointment, arrangements for which may be made by calling phone No. 1200, and asking for Mr. Bates.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
QUINCY MASS.

¶All instruments sold during this sale will be delivered at once. Arrangements may be made, however, to have an instrument set aside, after being selected, to be delivered later.

YOUR NEW SUIT

Gentlemen, before you go to buy a Ready-Made Suit, Take the Advice of

FRITZ, THE LEADING CUSTOM TAILOR

Fritz will satisfy your appearance, and you will get longer service from one of his Suits, so that it would pay you in the long run to have Fritz make you a Suit, Dress Suit or Overcoat. Now, this is a known fact, that we are, and have been, the leading tailors for the past 18 years.

We have a large assortment of the latest style woolens, and have the ability of making good clothes

WE ALSO PAY STRICT ATTENTION TO

CLEANING. PRESSING. REPAIRING.

WE ARE OPEN EVENINGS.

Bernard Fritz & Son

7 Depot Street - - - - - Opposite City Hall

A Beauty Hint for Women

It may truly be said that a woman's personal appearance depends greatly upon herself. It is important that the digestive organs be kept efficient or the whole system becomes deranged with disastrous results.

In the first place, rich foods, over-eating and artificial living weaken the digestive organs. As soon as they are overtaxed, one of the organs becomes inactive—the food is only partly digested—it clogs the bowels—ferments—and all the poisonous wastes are thrown back on the blood.

This results in dull eyes, muddy skin, blotches, pimples and other disfiguring marks of poor health. The way to obtain quick, sure relief and to tone up the entire system is to take Beecham's Pills.

For Clear Complexion, Bright Eyes and Fresh Appearance

be sure to take Beecham's Pills upon the first sign of a disordered digestion. They act immediately on the stomach, liver and bowels; regulate them and keep them in a healthy condition. They clear all the poisons from the system and remove pressure from the organs—a great help to women at all times.

Beecham's Pills are mild, harmless and dependable. They are compounded entirely of the products of well-tried medicinal herbs. Contain no drastic drugs or anything to promote the physicing habit.

Over sixty years of experience have shown that Beecham's Pills are of wonderful benefit and never produce disagreeable after-effects.

To clear your complexion, to free yourself from aches and pains, and to put yourself in all around better condition take

Beecham's Pills

"The Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World"

Directions of special value to women with every box.

At All Druggists, 10c, 25c.

News of Interest to Granite Manufacturers and Workers

DISPUTE IN BARRE.

Quincy granite men are closely watching the outcome of the present labor trouble with the granite men at Barre, Vt. As is well known Barre, Vt., is Quincy's greatest competitor and any action that is taken at Barre will naturally be of interest to Quincy granite men. There was a strike at Barre early in March at the time the new bill of prices went into effect after a strenuous week in which the I. W. W. stole the ballot box, which was being used to take the vote on the acceptance of the manufacturers proposition to the cutters.

The present bone of contention is not with the cutters but with the tool sharpeners. In Barre many of the manufacturers recently have installed tool sharpening machinery, by which two or three men can do the work formerly requiring half a dozen men. In other words the introduction of this new machinery reduces the number of tool sharpeners required, and naturally reduces the expenses.

The tool sharpeners' union does not take kindly to the introduction of this new machinery and as yet has not signed the bill of prices. What the tool sharpeners now desire is that the wages of the tool sharpeners shall be considerably increased. The increase if granted, it is claimed by the manufacturers, would make it cheaper to sharpen tools by the old method than to use the machines.

The feeling on the part of the manufacturers, according to local granite men, is that the unions are trying to prohibit the use of the labor saving machinery. There are two labor elements in Barre, one the American Federation of Labor and the other the I. W. W. These two organizations are fighting each other and the trouble is that any settlement which might be reached with one organization might not be satisfactory to another, so that things are far from being harmonious in Barre at the present time.

As far as known none of the tool sharpening machines have as yet been introduced in Quincy but it is believed to be only a question of time when they will be, and the basis of the final settlement in Barre will naturally have considerable bearing on the settlement of the question in Quincy.

Quincy's present bill of prices expires March 1, 1916, and under the present agreement, notices of any changes desired by the cutters or manufacturers must be given by Dec. 1. of this year. That both sides will ask for changes is said to be a foregone conclusion.

YARD AGAIN CLUTTERED.

Shipping conditions were relieved at the beginning of this past week by the men working Sunday on the crane but the freight yard is again cluttered with stock to be shipped. It is to be hoped that these conditions will not prevail next spring. The railroad company does the best it can under the existing conditions and until the work is started in abolishing the grade crossing the Quincy men can hardly expect any change in the facilities at this station. It has been suggested that a temporary derrick be installed at the end of Quincy street to unload carload lots of granite coming in and to load carload lots going from Quincy.

At the West Quincy station during the past week several carloads of stock have come in from Barre, Westerly and Deer Island. The pieces in these cars were all good sizes and will be used to cut several large memorials which have been received by local men.

PAVING AND CURBING.

At several of the light Quincy Granite quarries a large amount of curbing is being cut at the present time. Also a large amount of paving is being cut from the piles of grout around the quarry. The teams are starting to haul the paving to the suburban cities and towns around Boston where work has been started on the highways. It is expected that the work on paving of Hancock street will be among the first work done on the local highways. A street built of this paving set in cement will last much longer than a macademized or tar road.

BUSY SEASON.

With hardly more than a month and a half to Memorial Day the granite men throughout the city are in the midst of their busy season and although the past winter has been a hard one for many of them they are now getting a fairly good amount of the work. From now on the work will consist of setting the work in the cemeteries as fast as it can be completed. A trip through the Boston cemeteries this week showed that there has been almost the usual amount of work set up to date this year and there are foundations being set for a large number now under construction in this city. The Quincy granite monuments always show up well in contrast to the light colored Westerly and Barre granites.

MANY CHANGES.

The many changes being introduced at the Extra Dark Quincy Granite Quarry of J. S. Swingle will make that quarry one of the best equipped in modern facilities in the city.

Meta Miller of Appleton street is confined to her home with the measles.

Robert Cunningham of Newbury avenue has the measles.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is wholesome, nutritious, crisp and delicious. Get it of your grocer.

Arthur B. Foster

CARPENTER and BUILDER

14 Bay View St., Quincy Point

Telephone Connection 31-1m

Quincy Pianoforte School

Hackelton Director

Street Floor, Greenleaf Block

1419 Hancock Street, Quincy

Piano Instructions Par Excellence Voice

Private or Class Lessons

Tel. 539-M 31-tf

"HONEY AND ITS USES IN HOME"

Government Bulletin Tells How to Substitute It For Sugar

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW

The United States Department of Agriculture has recently issued a publication entitled "Farmers' Bulletin 553, Honey and Its Uses in the Home." In this country honey has hitherto not been in so common use as in Europe, especially in cookery. It is, however, a comparatively simple matter to substitute it in many receipts for common sugar or molasses, and when this is done the resulting flavor is often found both novel and agreeable.

"One of the great advantages in the use of honey is that cakes made with it will keep much longer than those made with sugar. A honey cake made with butter, for instance, will keep its quality until the butter grows rancid, and one made without butter will keep fresh for months. For this reason honey is especially useful in recipes that call for no butter. Icing made with honey has the same advantage, and some icing made in the experimental laboratory of the Department of Agriculture was found at the end of 10 months to be as soft and in as good condition as when it was first made.

"The experiments conducted by the department indicate that many of the instructions in the old cookbooks for the preparation of honey are unnecessarily elaborate. For example, it used to be thought that honey had to be brought to the boiling point and then skimmed and cooled. Since honey is extremely likely to boil over, this process requires great care. Experiments showed, however, that it appears to be quite unnecessary, and it is probable that the notion arose at a time when ordinary commercial honey contained more impurities than at present. Similarly, the older recipes say that the dough should be kept at least one day before the soda is added. No evidence to support this theory was found by the investigators. On the other hand, however, they did discover that dough containing honey can be more easily kneaded if allowed to stand for several days. Again, the use of "potash" is recommended in most of the recipes in foreign cookbooks as a means of raising the dough. The properties of potash are quite similar to ordinary baking soda, and there seems no reason why the latter should not do just as well. Baking soda is a common kitchen commodity in America, and potassium bicarbonate, the potash of the cookery book, is almost unknown for household purposes. As a matter of fact, a little experience will enable any competent cook to substitute honey successfully for sugar in bread, cake, preserved fruits, sauces, and candies. It is safe to estimate that a cupful of honey will sweeten a dish about as much as a cupful of sugar, but since honey contains water in addition, there is less need for milk or other liquids. For practical purposes it is accurate enough to consider that for each cupful of honey a quarter of a cupful is added to the recipe. If these facts are kept in mind special recipes are unnecessary.

"Honey is marketed in two forms, known respectively as comb honey and extracted honey, the former being used much like jam or marmalade and the latter either in that way or for cooking. In the past there has been some prejudice against extracted honey—or honey removed from the comb—because it was believed that this was frequently adulterated. However prevalent this practice may have been in the past, recent legislation and the efforts of honey producers themselves have made it dangerous and unprofitable. There is now, it is believed, little adulterated extracted honey on the market. Comb honey is practically certain to be the pure product of the hive, because it can only be adulterated by processes which cost more than they save. When sold at retail there is now comparatively little difference in the cost of comb and extracted honey, but the latter can be purchased at wholesale very much cheaper. The reason for this is that the producer of comb honey makes a product which is practically ready to be delivered to the consumers. Moreover, it costs the bee keeper less to produce extracted honey, while the wholesaler who purchases extracted honey has several processes to go through with before he can sell it at retail. If the housewife is willing to do these herself, she can effect a considerable saving.

"The simplest and perhaps most popular way of using honey is to serve it like jam or sirup with bread, pancakes, etc. When used in this way an ounce of honey may be regarded as the equivalent of an ounce of jam. When intended for sirup it is sometimes diluted with hot water, not only to make it less sweet, but also easier to pour. The housewife will also find some form of tart fruit served with honey, cottage cheese, and bread and butter an attractive combination and an economical substitute for the much prized and very expensive Bar-le-Duc currants, which are themselves often cooked in honey and served with cream cheese and crackers."

In next week's Market Review we will print a number of honey receipts given in the government bulletin.

The local market is still well supplied with the more common varieties of fresh fish, and offerings of the fancy or seasonable kinds are somewhat larger than they have been. The trend of prices for fish is lower but none can really be called cheap. The supply of fresh mackeral the early part of the week from New York was light. Halibut has advanced slightly owing to small receipts but there is plenty of ground fish at reasonable prices.

Lobsters continue to be plentiful and fairly reasonable. In regard to lobsters it will be of interest perhaps to know that there is a movement on foot among the dealers looking to the amendment of the Sunday law, which would permit the handling of the lobsters which come to Boston on the Sunday steamers from Nova Scotia. The boat gets in early Sunday morning but under the present law the lobsters can not be handled until Monday morning. It is particularly desirable that the law may be amended so that they may be handled Sunday, especially in the summer season, when there is always a great demand at the beach resorts.

A cent a pound has been dropped off of butter prices in the efforts to bring the demand abreast of the supply and reduce the accumulation resulting from several dull days. The cheese market holds firm on old stock and supplies are moderate. New cheese is coming into the market but does not find much favor.

Vegetables continue to be plentiful and the prices are constantly dropping as the supply from Southern states increases. The fresh vegetables now being received are also of much better flavor than those received earlier in the season. The vegetables now in the market coming largely from the South, are tomatoes, cucumbers, spinach, lettuce, asparagus, etc. There is not a super-abundance of strawberries as yet but the demand has not yet developed its full strength so there are plenty to go round. The prices have dropped slightly.

Just at the present time the man of the house is not paying much attention to market vegetables for he is spending all of his spare time working in the little back yard garden and his mouth waters as he thinks of the fine lot of vegetables which he is to harvest later in the season. As a matter of fact if one's time is added to the cost of these home raised vegetables the price will doubtless be considerably more than the market price.

WHIST PARTY.

A whist party was held after the regular meeting of Reliance Rebekah lodge at Odd Fellows' hall, Wollaston Thursday evening. Play was keen and at its conclusion souvenirs for the best scores were presented to Mrs. Grace Newall, Miss Cherry Newall, John McLeod and Mrs. Eva Young.

At the business session of the lodge the Noble Grand, Mrs. George C. Ela appointed a committee to welcome visitors at the next meeting of the lodge. The committee appointed were Charles Houghton, Mrs. Mary Pickering and Mrs. Ruth Taylor.

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING

WALL PAPER FOR SALE

KUSTAA RASANEN

121 Copeland St., West Quincy

Tel. Con. 19-tf

CARPENTER AND BUILDER

PLANS EXECUTED

Established 1891 in Quincy

All Work Given Prompt Attention

W. R. LOFGREN

19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall

Tel. Quincy 398-3

Exceptional Values In New Spring Suits

We have prepared for this week an exceptional early-season offering presenting the most recent development of fashion and showing advanced models for immediate wear at very reasonable prices.

Many Suits in the Newer Styles Just Opened

Smart stylish materials, gabardines, poplins, serges, novelty stripes, checks, mixtures, shepherd plaids. All the leading shades and collors, such as Belgium blue, navy, green and putty. All sizes to suit every figure. You, who want to look neat and smart for the holiday will find a visit to us most extraordinary and profitable All our suits are specially priced

$8.98 $12.98 $14.98

YOUR SUIT Made to Your Measure

For the benefit of those who want, made to measure suits this department is maintained, under the personal conductorship of

MR. H. N. LEVENSON

We believe in adding this new department we are filling a much desired want. Here you can be perfectly fitted in any style you desire. Will you give us a call this week, Madam?

A Large and Varied Display of New Hats

Our showing of new spring hats is large, indeed, much larger than what you would think. Here you are sure to find something that is becoming to your individual taste. Simple designs or effectively trimmed with the latest novelties. For the woman who wants distinction as well as individuality we are at our best.. Prices are extremely moderate, too

$1.25 $2.98 $4.98

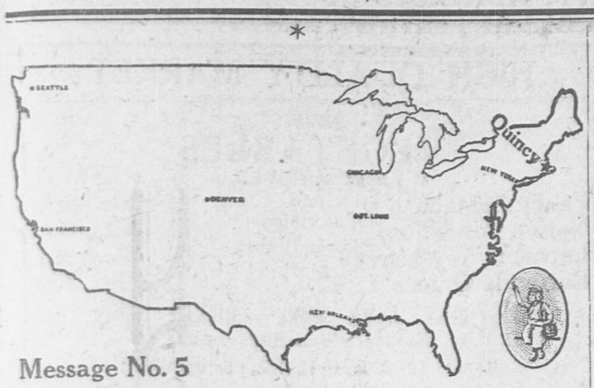

A LARGE STOCK of SKIRTS

Tailored and dressy styles in the newer full skirt effects and stylish pleated models, some with pockets, others braid and button trimmed. No matter what your fancy may be your taste is sure to be exemplified here. Specially Priced

Alterations Free. $1.98 $2.98

Tailors J. SZATHMARY Milliners

1447 Hancock Street

Message No. 5

To the Business Men of Quincy

The prosperity of a city is in direct proportion to the local pride. Where local pride runs high, prosperity has a firm foothold. Such a town is a good place to live and do business in.

Paint helps to a remarkable degree in spreading an impression of prosperity throughout a community. It gives a fresh, new, inviting look wherever it is used. Municipal buildings, stores and homes feel its good effects. Growing business is bound to be one of the direct results of a liberal use of paint, not from any magic in the paint, but because of the pride which is stimulated.

Beyer-Bauman White Lead

(Dutch Boy Painter Trade Mark)

mixed with pure linseed oil is the paint of quality and always has been. Lasting and economical. Get in touch with us today. We carry all painting requisites.

WILLIAM WESTLAND

AMUSEMENTS

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE

The fifteenth week of "Common Clay" the Harvard prize play by Cleves Kinkead, commenced Monday at the Castle Square Theatre, and the end of this remarkable run is not yet in sight. Nearly 300,000 persons have now seen the Craig players in the most talked of play that has been in Boston in many years. Notwithstanding that fact, the demand for seats continues and the play will be kept on for a month longer, it is thought.

WILBUR THEATRE.

It has been some years since such a remarkably successful farce has been seen in Boston as "A Pair of Sixes," which begins its 18th wonderful week at the Wilbur Theatre, Boston, next Monday. Quite appropriately a "poet" has paraphrased "The Midnight Ride of Paul Revere" to tell of the famous run of "A Pair of Sixes."

Listen, good people, and you shall hear
Of the Funniest Farce in many a year;
It came to town in the year 'one-five
And made us glad we were alive,
Glad of its goodly cheer.

"A Pair of Sixes," they call the show,
And it came to town five months ago,
Breaking all records for a farce's run—
Breaking all records for wholesome fun,
With never a second that's slow.

And if Paul Revere were alive today
And saw "A Pair of Sixes" play,
He'd sing its praises up and down,
Through every city, village and town:
"Don't miss this show!" he'd say.

CORT THEATRE.

It has been a long time since Boston has received a musical attraction with an equal amount of hearty appreciation as it bestowed on "A Modern Eve," which had its premier at the Cort Theatre on Monday evening of last week. "A Modern Eve" is full of new songs and concerted numbers of the singable, moving kind that are pleasing the people of musical Boston and vicinity in an unusual degree. There are fifteen musical numbers in the new operetta, and the ones that have been accepted with most favor are, "I'm Waiting for You," "When Love Flies Through the Window," "A Quiet Evening at Home," "When the Madame Goes Away," "Is the Girl You Married Still the Girl You Love," and "Good-bye Everybody." The latter is the theme song of the piece, and has made such a great impression that it is safe to say no song of a similar kind has equalled it since the "Merry Widow" waltz. The story of the comedy is full of sustained interest and is upon an up-to-date subject, although treated in an amusing, breezy manner by the authors. Then Manager Askin has brought a cast to Boston to present the comedy that is famous for the number of well-known comedians it contains, not to speak of the numerous singers, dancers and pretty girls.

It is the combination of all these prime elements, speeded up to the highest gear, that has given "A Modern Eve" such a favorable opening week at the Cort, and abundant reason for predicting a protracted stay.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

The world's most famous "Carmen" the renowned grand opera singer, Madame Emma Calve, will make her vaudeville debut at B. F. Keith's Theatre the week of April 26 for a positively limited engagement of one week only. Madame Calve is the climax of a great array of headliners booked at this famous playhouse this season. Never before has there been such a galaxy of stars, and Calve is by far the greatest and highest-salaried entertainer ever seen in vaudeville. Madame Calve will be paid the largest weekly salary ever known in vaudeville. She will offer a programme of operatic selections, including the famous "Habenera" from "Carmen." One of the most popular numbers in Madame Calve's repertoire, which she will sing at B. F. Keith's Theatre this week, is "Swanee River." Calve's engagement will be positively limited to one week only.

May 3, Nora Bayes will head the bill.

MAJESTIC THEATRE.

"The Law of the Land" has made a tremendous sensation at the Majestic Theatre, and will enter upon its second big week at this house next Monday, April 26th. Everybody seems to agree that George Broadhurst has never sent to Boston such a genuinely vital and human play as this. It is a play once seen will make you wish to see it again. It is full of thrills and tears and laughs. There are tears that end in a laugh, and laughs that end in tears. Some of the greatest dramatic successes of the past decade have come from Mr. Broadhurst, among them "Bought and Paid For," "What Happened to Jones," and "Why Smith Left Home." His latest big hit, "The Law of the Land," is a dream of the home-invoiving marital relations which we all know exist, but have never before seen utilized for dramatic treatment on the stage. It is, as well, distinctly a drama of action, with a plentiful number of unique comedy scenes interspersed.

The play is said to be a masterpiece in construction, and superbly acted. Certainly not since "The Third Degree" has a play made so profound an impression upon those who are interested in social conditions of today.

SHUBERT THEATRE.

"It's so different," is what they all say of "Tonight's the Night," the big musical comedy success as presented so successfully at the Shubert Theatre, Boston, where the fourth week of its engagement begins next Monday, April 26th. It is so entirely in contrast to the customary American brand of musical comedy that it is positively refreshing.

Local theatregoers have never before had an opportunity of seeing the London Gaiety Company in a typical London Gaiety musical comedy without going to the world metropolis for that purpose. Only the depressed theatrical conditions prevailing in London rendered possible its presentation in America by this world-famous company of entertainers. There is a bevy of the famous "girls," famous from one end of the civilized world to the other for their beauty and charm.

The daintiness, delicate charm and essential politeness which always characterize Gaiety productions and which has never been successfully reproduced in American presentations of Gaiety pieces are in evidence in this production.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE

Charles Frohman's successful search for a play worthy of the brilliant acting talent of Miss Ethel Barrymore makes it possible for that actress to appear at the Hollis Street Theatre for a second and final week beginning Monday evening. Miss Barrymore has come to Boston direct from Mr. Frohman's Empire Theatre, New York, where she has attained the greatest success of her entire career in her new play "The Shadow." Dario Niccodemi wrote "The Shadow in French, intending it for Rejane; but with the coming on of the War, those Paris theatres which were not closed became uncertain of their seasons, and Niccodemi turned to Micheal Morton, who translated the piece into English and submitted it to Charles Frohman. The latter promptly accepted it for Miss Barrymore and thus, this popular artist has actually created for the English speaking stage a character originally designed for the French theatre and certain ultimately to reach the Paris stage by way of America.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of M F Maher also known as Michael F. Maher, late of Quincy in said County deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Joseph T. Hayes of said Quincy who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Dedham in said County of Norfolk, on the fifth day of May A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper, published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fifteenth day of April in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register
3t April 16-22-30

TO LET

Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes

Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES.

It is with much regret that we realize our inability to add as many books this coming year as we have for the last few years. But, owing to increasing expenses, indispensable in a library of this size, together with the fact of a totally inadequate increase in the appropriation, we are forced to face the fact that we cannot buy all the most needed books.

We shall be still less able to supply the calls of the fiction readers during the coming year. Besides the few novels which may be added, we shall try to keep the books which we already have in good condition.

There are many libraries which do not accomodate the fiction readers as well as this one has done, some buying fiction only after it has stood the test of one year. But it has been our policy to purchase books for the general reader as well as for the reader who has cultivated his taste so that the books which he reads must be written in the best literary style. Thus our selection includes the best of the light reading, even though there may be no great literary merit. Our library is therefore well stocked with books which will please all kinds of readers. And we hope that our patrons will not become dissatisfied when we cannot now supply many of the latest novels.

There is a "List of One Hundred of the Best Novels" which may be consulted at the desk and also a longer list of popular novels which the library has prepared.

We would also call to mind that there are many of the standard novels still "on the shelves." These have been read and reread by readers in all parts of the world, and there is much added charm from knowing that others have loved them. Among these are the novels of Robert Louis Stevenson, James Fennimore Cooper, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Alexander Dumas, Victor Hugo, Charles Dickens, George Eliot, and many others equally good.

GROCERS WILL MEET.

The Eleventh Annual Convention of the Massachusetts Retail Grocers' and Provision Dealers' association will be held in Stoughton next Wednesday. The Boy Scouts of Stoughton have volunteered their services to direct all visitors to the club house and they will meet all trains and electric cars. The organization has prepared an elaborate report of 120 pages, printed by the George W. Prescott Pub. Co.

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer

is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

Prescott Apartments

For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service. Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S
Tel. 1827-W Quincy

EDWARD J. FEGAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
830 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M
914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK
QUINCY.

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.

will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.

OFFICE AT
96 WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY,
Tel. 618

FURNITURE and PIANO MOVING

PACKING and STORAGE

William D. King
106 Center St., Tel. Quincy 21003
21tf

Reduction in Prices.

Your attention is called to the reduced spring prices on Anthracite Coal as follows

Lehigh Stove and Egg	$7.50
White Ash Stove and Egg	7.25
White Ash Nut	7.50
Shamokin Stove and Egg	7.50
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75
Pea	5.50
Franklin	8.50

We recommend the placing of your order at this time to insure the low prices.

Nothing but All Rail Clean Coal handled and delivered right by careful experienced drivers.

QUINCY COAL CO.
OFFICE and YARD
Penn St., Quincy Tel. 47-M
Ap.-7 1mo.

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

KEEP POSTED ON THE PEOPLE'S WANTS — CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING — WHY WORRY LET THESE ADS LIFT YOUR BURDEN

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Two rooms, furnished for light housekeeping. Gas range, electric lights and privilege of bath and laundry. Also one single room. Desirable parties only, 34 Chestnut street, corner Foster street. 23-tf

TO LET—Seven room flat, all modern improvements, situated at 43 Dysart street. Possession given May 1. 39 Dysart street. 21-tf

TO LET—Two large rooms for light housekeeping, with electric light set tubs and use of bath. Apply 53 Chubbuck street. 21-3t

TO LET—2 furnished rooms, modern conveniences with or without board. Could be used for professional purposes. Apply at 71 School St. 21-6t

TO LET—Upper and lower flats, 14 and 16 Wibird street. All improvements. Five rooms and bath, large attic with upper flat. Call Miss Newcomb, 49 Newcomb street. 21-6t

TO LET—6 room tenements, all improvements. Apply to C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 20-tf

TO LET—Tenement of 7 rooms, all improvements. Rent $25. Apply 233 Washington street. 20-6t

TO LET—Modern apartment, near high school; two-family house, everything separate; 7 rooms and bath; electricity and gas. Apply A. D. Cossaboom, 95 Merrymount road; Tel. 1374-M. 15-12t

TO LET—Lower flat in two-family house. Living room, dining room, bedroom, kitchen and bathroom, pantry, good closets and cellar. Coal and gas range, furnace, electric lights. Every convenience. Rent $20. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 13-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 307, Quincy. 7-tf

TO LET—Half house of six rooms and large laundry to adult family, conveniences, large garden. Rent $20. Apply to George H. Newcomb, 21 Adams Bldg. or M. M. Newcomb, 39 Gay street or phone 1990 Quincy. 2-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house, 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2, Quincy or 110 South street, Boston, Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

TO LET

TO LET—Suite of 3 rooms, all modern improvements, reasonable rent, 132 Marlboro street. 22-2t

TO LET—Upper apartment 91 Revere road, 6 rooms, gas and coal range gas light. Rent reduced to $18. Small adult family. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1 Quincy. 23-tf

TO LET—Suite of 3 furnished rooms all modern improvements, reasonable rent, 132 Marlboro stret. 22-3t

TO LET—Tenement of six rooms at 8 Mechanic street. Apply to E. D. Barrett, 27 Revere road. tf

FOR RENT—At 18 Faxon avenue, suite 6 rooms and bath, every modern improvement. Tel. 414-M, Weymouth. 20-tf

TO LET—To small family of adults, several sunny attractive half houses, all improvements, centrally located, $21, $23 and $25 per month and water rates. Tel. Quincy 174-2, Charles H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. 10-12t

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements. 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 13-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Cows, one car load of extra fine new milch cows, at barns of H. G. Pope, Squantum. Come and buy now. Tel. Quincy 2267-W. 23-3t

TO LET—House of three rooms. Apply Hammond place, off Water street. 23-6t

FOR SALE—Stoddard Dayton Roadster in first class condition, top, windshield, full equipment. Will sell cheap Apply to Mrs. John F. Welch, corner Hancock and Elm streets. 23-tf

FOR SALE—1914 Overland Runabout, model 79, Gray & Davis starting and lighting system, 114 inch wheel base, 35 H. P. Cost $1300, fully equipped Will sell for $650. Write N. Ledger Office. 22-3t

FOR SALE—At 25 Beacon street at a bargain, 6 room house and small cottage. Handy to cars. Apply at 33 Beacon street, Quincy Point. 22-3t

FOR SALE—Milk wagon, strong, good condition, also Democrat, two seats, painted and varnished, both at a bargain. Must be sold. Ellis, 50 Squantum street, East Milton. 22-6t

FOR SALE—7 passenger auto. Excellent for Jitney service. Can be bought very low. Write D. R. Ledger office. 21-4t

FOR SALE—House and barn to be moved within thirty days. Apply Charles D. Bailey, 538 South street. 21-3t

FOR SALE—One mission set, chiffonier, and a morris chair, practically new. Apply between 3 and 6, Room 7 Durgin and Merrill block. 21-6t

FOR SALE—Buggy, sleigh, harnesses and robes. Apply Dr. T. J. Dion, 59 Cross street, West Quincy. 20-5t

FOR SALE—House, 17 Edison street 7 rooms and bath. Gas, electric lights steam heat, 11,725 feet land, 15 minutes walk to Fore River Shipyard, price $3300. Make an offer. Apply on the premises. 16-6t

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-tf. L P.

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

MISCELLANEOUS

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.

Cosy upper 4 room and bath flat, 122 Glendale Road, $19.

H. F. McIntire HOUSES Greenleaf Blk Tel. Quincy 1665-W.

Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.

1-1 yr.

WANTED

WANTED—Cook, 2nd, parlor, general, mother's helpers, green maids, first class position, best of wages, reliable help furnished. Oldest employment office in city. L. M. Flynn, 22 Maple street, next to Post Office. Phone 2235 W. 23-3t

WANTED—A bright young man about twenty, to work in office of shoe mfg. Write letter to M. W. O. Ledger office. 22-2t

WANTED—Girls to work on clothing, power machines. Experienced girls preferred. Rhodes Ripley Clothing Co., Hingham. 22-6t

WANTED—Housemaid, honest, neat and willing. References required. Mrs. J. Berman, 117 Quincy street, Quincy. 21-3t

WANTED—General maids, best of wages to experienced girls with references. Second maids, also young girls. Miss Frances Wilson, Quincy Employment Bureau, 1247 Hancock street. Tel. 1757-W. 21-3t

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

TO LET

After May 1, Store or Stores No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.

Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.

Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.

City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.

Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.

City Square Store House or Shop
—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

City Square Club Room or Hall
—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.

Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS

Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.

Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.

Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for L. r. Kribs.
Greenleaf Block. ('Phone 21066) Quincy

BE WISE
FOOL THE FLIES
HAVE YOUR SCREENS RE-COVERED NOW
TELEPHONE OR WRITE
HOLMES & HALL
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

LIVE NEWS

From the Wide-Awake Store

And now comes the season when we go care-free, and idle away the cool evenings at a dansant or canoeing. It is the time when all outdoors calls you cheerily.
Now you will find the great store all prepared for your needs with greater stocks than ever before.
By never promising more than we could deliver and always giving greatest possible bargains this has grown and prospered, and, today stands out as this community's biggest and most alert store

WIDE-AWAKE STORE

Kuppenheimer Clothes

These good clothes make our guarantee almost superfluous. So well are they made from choosing good fabrics to the finishing distinctive touch, that it seems almost impossible to go wrong in wearing these good clothes.

$18 $19.50 $22.50 $25 $27

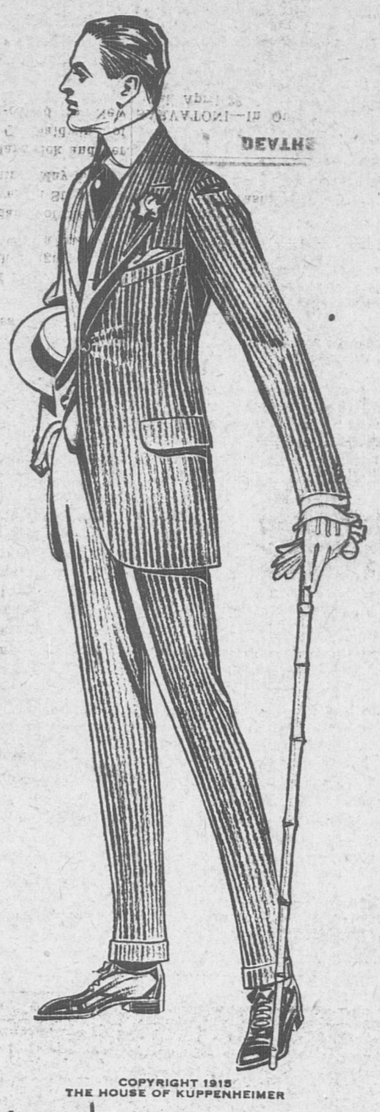

HERE'S LIVE NEWS

Believing that some people cannot afford a high priced suit, we have specially prepared a big stock of fine clothing which we believe are the greatest possible bargains known. MEN you can go to Boston and see the same suits selling for $18 and $20. You might think, how can we do it. Here's how. We are in closer touch with the community's industries, we know working conditions, we don't have to pay Washington Street rents, neither huge light and overhead expense. Now we are going to sell these good suits for

$13.50 and $16.50

You can't go wrong by choosing one of these suits. They are the biggest values ever known. We have other suits at low prices. Don't let a thin pocket-book keep you away. We doubt if there's a single suit that can be duplicated for that money.

$6.50 up to $10

COPYRIGHT 1915 THE HOUSE OF KUPPENHEIMER

NEW SPRING IDEAS IN MEN'S FURNISHINGS

Silk Hosiery
Fibre Silk Hose
25c

New Shirt Patterns
Bates Street	$1.50
Our Special	$1.15
$1 Negligee	79c

Novelties in Neckwear
35c Value	21c
50c Value	35c
75c Value	48c

Light Weight Underwear
Shirt and Drawers
25c 35c 45c
Union Suits
65c to $1.50

Legal Stamps Always

THE WIDE-AWAKE STORE REMICK'S MUSIC HALL BLOCK

HIGH QUALITY MARKET

NEW VEGETABLES
JUST ARRIVED

Fancy Spinach	20c peck
Native Dandelions	25c peck
Lettuce (very heavy)	8c head
Bermuda Onions	3 lbs. 25c

ROAST BEEF LAMB PORK CHICKEN FOWL
in abundance for Saturdays trade
QUALITY THE HIGHEST THAT CAN BE OBTAINED

Lemons 15c doz 'SUNKIST' Oranges 25c doz
Grape Fruit (very large) . . 4 for 25c
Pure Lard 12½c lb Shredded Wheat 10c pkg
A delightful rich Coffee, La Touraine 35c lb
Chase & Sanborn 30c lb A Good Coffee 20c lb

COUGHLIN and DONOVAN

REMICK'S REMICK'S REMICK'S

"You'll Like This Hat"

THE "NO NAME" HAT

The "No Name" Hat

BIG VALUES FOR TWO DAYS THIS WEEK

Regular $3 Hats less 10 per cent discount, which means

$2.70

All Shades, All Shapes.
The Latest in Headwear.

BIG VALUES IN OTHER HATS

The same inducement holds good in the entire hat department We might say these Hats cannot be duplicated anywhere for the money. Here is value.

$2.50 Hat, 10 per cent off	$2.25
$2.00 Hat, 10 per cent off	$1.80
$1.50 Hat, 10 per cent off	$1.35

LATEST EFFECTS IN MENS' CAPS

Fancy Plaids, Checks and Mixtures. Everything you want in a Cap. Extra good values, too.
25c. to 95c.

LEGAL STAMPS. LEGAL STAMPS

REMICK'S - - - MUSIC HALL BLOCK

AVIATORS OVER TRENCHES.

By Edward S. Keene,
United Press Correspondent.

London, Eng., April 23—British aviators are running wild over the German trenches in Belgium. Scores are passing and repassing over the German lines, some penetrating well into German territory. Railway signal bases have been bombarded successfully, interfering with the running of trains. In his official report from the front Gen. French mentions an attack on April 19 by aviators who dropped bombs on the great aeroplane shed designed to house two or more of the latest type of Zeppelins just outside of Ghent. He declared a great explosion took place in the shed and this is interpreted to mean that the dirigibles inside it were destroyed.

Big Day Saturday at the Quincy Public Market

1514 Hancock Street Kincaide's Block

Removal Sale

April 28th We Move

Stock consisting of GROCERIES and MEATS to be sold regardless of COST. We want to move in a wheelbarrow, everything marked down.

NOTE:—We are just renovating our store at the New Block, 1464 Hancock Street, next to Packard's estate and in a few days we will have the cleanest and most sanitary food shop in Town, where the handling of meats will be specialized and everything will be handled with the utmost care by experienced and obliging clerks.

You will get exactly what you call for at the lowest possible cost. We will also say that this Company is opening up 2 more stores, and expect to have 12 or 15 in operation by July 1st; so you can readily see how we will be able to sell goods cheaper than the LITTLE ONE STORE FELLOW, AS WE SELL STRICTLY FOR CASH, AND CASH DOES WONDERS.

MEAT DEPARTMENT		GROCERY DEPARTMENT
Lean Corned Beef	lb. 10c	Best Bread Flour	bag $1.10
Corned Shoulders (lean)	lb. 10 1-2c	Kirkman's Borax Soap	6 bars 23c
Corned Spare Ribs (lean)	lb. 11 1-2c	3 cans Evaporated Milk	23c
Fresh Eastern Pork Shoulders	lb. 12 1-2c	Large Pkg. Rolled Oats	22c
Good Roast Beef	lb. 15c	3 Cans Solid Packed Tomatoes or Corn	23c
Pot Roast (lean)	lb. 14c	Van Camp's Ketchup	25c size for 17c
Hamburger Steak (fresh ground)	2 lbs. for 25c	3 Cans Van Camp's Soups	20c
Butcher Steak (very tender)	lb. 25c	Quincy Eggs	doz. 30c
German Frankfurts	lb. 15c	Best Creamery Butter	lb. 32c

Also Fresh Spinach, Dandelions, Cucumbers, Celery, Lettuce, Oranges and Cranberries at lowest prices and a lot of other genuine bargains which you will never duplicate again.

Fresh Fish Daily

Phone 1434 J Free Delivery Legal Stamps

CITY HALL NOTES

Mayor Campbell goes to Worcester Saturday to attend a meeting of the Southern Textile Manufacturers association. It is understood that the association is planning to hold an exposition in the near future and the Mayor's expert advice on running expositions is probably desired.

The poor department is to be supplied with a stretcher. Up to the present time the department has had to depend on the Police department or one of the undertakers when the use of a stretcher was required.

The city council committee on fire department matters met Thursday evening and considered at length some of the needs of the department. During the past few weeks the committee had made several trips to near by cities looking over motorized fire apparatus, and the facts thus learned will doubtless appear in the reports which they make to the council of the fire department matters which have been referred to them.

BRIEFS

Everett A. Barber of Atlantic leaves Monday on a six months' business trip.

Albert Keating has so far recovered from his recent illness as to be able to be out.

Geo. H. Kendrick of 18 Beach street Wollaston is in North Belgrade, Me., for a week of fishing with a party.

The fourth annual dance of the Harmony club will be given in St. Mary's hall, Wednesday evening, May 5.

Mrs. C. Theodore Hardwick and her mother, Mrs. Sarah C. Baldwin, of Chestnut street, were called to New York this week.

The senior class of the Quincy High school will present "Bachelor Hall," a comedy in the assembly hall this evening.

Pride of Granite lodge, I. O. B. A. will hold a whist party in Franklin hall on the evening of Thursday, April 29.

Mrs. Agnes Brasel, wife of Max Brasel of Grove street, died at her home this morning after a long illness. She was in her 37th year and leaves a family.

STEFFANO SAVARTONI.

Steffano Savartoni, who was recently crushed under a falling building, at his home, 363 Centre street and sustered a fractured spine, succumbed to his injuries at the Quincy City Hospital Thursday afternoon.

Savartoni was moving the building Saturday when it fell over and pinned him to the earth. When a physician arrived, a short time after, partial paralysis had set in. He was taken to the hospital but the best of surgical treatment failed to prevent the paralysis becoming general. The deceased leaves a family.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs Rosechi Wardwell of Miller Stile road entertained Mrs. Henry Reynolds of Livermore Falls, Me., and Mrs. Geo. Treat of Braintree, with whom she has been spending the winter. In the evening a party of local friends met with Mrs. Wardwell and enjoyed the evening with whist and music after which a dainty lunch was served.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

FOR SALE—Handsome mare, 3 1-2 years old, with pedigree, thoroughly broken. Apply to Jennie Cross, 12 A Liberty street, South Braintree. 23-3t

FOR SALE—Building 15x20. Must be moved within 30 days. F. A. Thayer, 537 South street. 23-3t

FOR SALE or TO LET—New two-flat house on Kittredge avenue. Each flat has 5 rooms and bath, all modern improvements, coal and gas range, electric lights. Inquire at 11 Ring avenue off Washington street. 23-6t

DEATHS

SARVATONI—In Quincy City Hospital, April 22, Stephano Sarvatoni of 363 Centre street.

McKEON—In Quincy City Hospital, April 23, Joseph McKeon of 457 South street.

BRASEL—In West Quincy, April 23, Agnes, wife of Max Brasel of Grove street, aged 37 years.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

McPHERSON WINS.

Frank McPherson won the rolloff at the Coliseum alleys Thursday night, coming through a field of 35 men. His total was 311 and his best single was 121.

The strings:

McPherson	121	95	95	311
Cornell	95	106	104	305
Harley Smith	89	98	109	296

What to Have For Dinner

is easily settled if you will come to our markets Here you will find the choicest Beef, Veal, Lamb, Pork and Poultry No matter what you choose, your dinner will prove a delight. Put this to the test.

Fresh Killed Fowl	lb. 20c
Sugar Cured Smoked Shoulder	lb. 11c
Corn Spare Ribs	lb. 10c
Fresh Green Spinach	pk. 18c
Newly dug Dandelions	pk. 25c
Choice California Asparagus	double bunch 28c
Hot House Cucumbers, long green	each 12c
Round Radishes	bunch 5c
Crisp Rhubarb	lb. 8c
Fancy Large Lettuce	head 8c
New Fresh Pineapples	2 for 25c
Large Juicy Grape Fruit	3 for 25c
Sunkist Lemons	doz. 20c
Good Sweet Naval Oranges	doz. 23c
Imported Cookies, choice mixture	lb. 29c

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980 FOY'S 2 STORES WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 147

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 96 QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY EVENING, APRIL 24, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

SENIOR DRAMATICS AT QUINCY HIGH SCHOOL

"Bachelor Hall", a Comedy, Delights Large Audience

"Bachelor Hall," a comedy in three acts, was presented by members of the senior class of Quincy High school in the assembly hall of the school Friday evening.

The cast:

The Honorable Geoffrey Myrleton, Congressman from the 9th district — Earle B. Simmons

Silas Jarvis, Myrtleton's constituent from Rambleton — Lincoln Crosscup

Elisha Bassett, Myrtleton's constituent from Rambleton, — Westley Browne

Ensign Jack Meredith, Acting under sealed orders, — Willard F. Crocker

Pinkerton Case, An amateur detective, — Reginald H. Gay

Vere Lee, An amateur actor and author of "The Fatal Shot" — Sturgis H. Hunt

Jasper, The butler at "Bachelor Hall" — Clarence Carlson

O'Rourke, A policeman — James E. Smith

Betty Vance, Myrtleton's ward — Katherine Follett

Polly Reynolds, An amateur actress, — Mildred I. Burke

Mrs. Van Styne, Who has dramatic aspirations — Gladys M. DuPlesis

Claire, Her daughter who has not, — Dorothy Brown

The scene is laid in Mr. Myrtleton's home, "Bachelor Hall," Washington, D. C. The events of the play occur during an evening and the following morning.

The play was produced under the direction of Miss Elizabeth O'Neill, who acted as coach. William MacMahon was business manager, Fred Roach, stage manager; assistant managers, Misses Beatrice Rogers and Lydia Keyes; program manager, Fred Rasmussen; head usher, Donald Crocker.

Before the curtain rose on the first act and also between the acts selections were excellently rendered by the High school orchestra. Miss Amsden acted as conductor.

One of the drawbacks of attending amateur theatricals is that throughout the performance one is in mental torment for fear that someone will forget his or her lines. There have been few amateur shows where this feeling of nervousness upon the part of most of the audience has not detracted from the enjoyment of the piece.

"Bachelor Hall," as presented by the High school cast before a large audience, was the exception. It seemed as if every person in the cast had the lines of the part letter perfect. One had the feeling that here were some young people who had not the faintest touch of stage fright nor was there any chance that they would acquire any during the course of the evening. It was not merely a question of knowing every word but every member of the cast was as well trained in the proper gestures to accompany the words, which in some respects is a rarer art, certainly among amateurs.

The play, therefore, before it had gone many minutes was sailing under a distinct advantage; it had the confidence of the audience who saw that here were well trained amateurs who, they felt sure, would present something worth while. The audience were in a good natured and receptive frame of mind, an attitude which continued throughout the play, as attested by the frequent laughter and hearty applause.

This was all the more remarkable because the play was intolerably long and it was no small tribute to the intrinsic merit of the piece and the ability of the actors that very few left the hall until the curtain fell on the last act. It is an unusually strong production which can hold the undivided attention of an audience for three hours and few professional companies would attempt the task. It would have been as well if the High School players had not made the attempt. If the playing time had been reduced by one third a good play well done would have been even a greater success.

To put the matter bluntly: the play dragged at times. It was not that "Bachelor Hall" of itself is too long for production but rather that it was not played fast enough on this occassion. The polish was there but not the sparkle. It was a good comedy and it has some excellent lines. The plot is more or less preposterous but that does not of necessity detract from the fun. There are some rather clever situations. What is absolutely needed for a full measure of suc-

(Continued on Page Two.)

SONG RECITAL

—BY—

HELEN ALLEN HUNT

— Mezzo-Contralto —

— ASSISTED BY —

CARLOS PINFIELD, Violin

(Boston Symphony Orchestra)

HARRIS S. SHAW, Accompanist

ALPHA HALL, Quincy

Sunday, April 25, 3.30 P.M.

Tickets at 75 and 50 Cents

AT THE C. C. HEARN DRUG STORE CITY SQUARE 21 17-24

Machinist Wanted

Apply to

Pine Point Auto Co.

Bridge St., North Weymouth

April 23-2t

SPECIAL FOR MONDAY

Regular $3.50 Lawn Mower

$2.89

These are all High Grade Mowers, and guaranteed to give long service and satisfaction

WE HAVE OTHER HIGH GRADE MAKES AT

$5.00, $6.00, $7.75, $10.00

Nathan Ames, 5 Granite St.

MAYOR PLANTS MAPLE TREE

Observance of Arbor Day on Library Lawn

Mayor Chester I. Campbell became foster parent to a handsome maple, his favorite tree this morning when he planted a fine specimen on the lawn of the Thomas Crane Public Library at nine o'clock in the presence of more than a score of witnesses.

The ceremonies were the first official recognition of Arbor Day since Quincy became a city.

Mayor Campbell and his party arrived promptly at nine o'clock. The site for the tree was presented by Morton Smith, representing the Board of Trustees of the Library. He spoke of the pleasure it gave him to present the site and expressed the thanks of the board and of Thomas Crane, the donor of the library, for the interest taken by Mayor Campbell in the beautifying of the fine lawn.

Mayor Campbell said the appearance of fine public buildings could always be enhanced by beautiful shade trees and in giving the tree he wanted to assure the trustees that the city would assist in improving the general surroundings of the library, one of the finest pieces of architecture in the country, and all public buildings.

He said he hoped the people of the city would likewise make some observance of the day and do what they could annually to repair the great damage done by thoughtless persons. Conservation is the main point people of Quincy and New England should bear in mind.

Mayor Campbell then stepped forward and threw several heaping shovels of earth around the tree which had been set in a spacious cavity by Wm. Patterson, Wollaston florist. Mr. Smith likewise threw several shovelsful and others to join in that part of the ceremonies were Moses P. Brown, commissioner of public works, Wellington W. Mitchell of the Board of Assessors Harry Tirrell, city messenger, Charles E. Decker, deputy collector of accounts Daniel R. McKay, acting chief of the police department, John J. Keniley, Philip D. Cook, Enos W. Costa and David J. Crotty.

The tree is located on the Coddington street side of the lawn between two elms and is directly opposite the court house. The tree is 14 feet in height and is a fine specimen.

During the ceremonies the steps of the court house was lined with spectators, all of whom had gathered at the building for court purposes. Passing autos also drew up and watched Mayor Campbell as he formally did the planting.

ADDITION TO LOCAL EXCHANGE

The telephone service to Long Island hospital in Boston Harbor has been cut out of the Dorchester exchange and all future connections will be made through the Quincy exchange The old connections were cut out and the new ones made Friday.

Service to Long Island is via a submarine cable which runs through the waters of Boston Harbor. The land connection is at Dorchester bay shore.

The hospital is one of the busiest telephone centres in the Boston district and with the improvement in its service that will come as a result of the change will be the addition of another operator at the Quincy office.

WILL RELAY.

Work is to be commenced Monday morning by the street railway in relaying its tracks on Hancock street between Granite and School streets. The tracks are to be changed a little from their present location, so as to conform with the new lay out of the street, by the widening of the street between these two points. Commissioner Brown stated this morning that he would advertise next week for bids for the paving of the street.

THE WEATHER.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	4.49
Sun sets	6.37
Length of day	13.48
Moon rises	2.34
High water, A. M.	7.20
High water, P. M.	8.00
Days increase	4 hrs. 42 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	60 degrees
Apr. 24, 1914,	60 degrees
Apr. 24, 1913,	63 degrees

Noon Maximum 18 years—86

Noon Minimum 18 years—30

"TACK" TO BE MIDDIES COACH

H. R. Hardwick To Head Football at United States Naval Academy

IS VERSATILE ATHLETE

Huntington R. Hardwick of Quincy, known throughout the athletic world as "Tack", has accepted an appointment to coach the football team of the United States Naval Academy.

The appointment is a recognition of the Harvard methods and means the elimination of Yale tactics on which the team has developed the past few years.

Hardwick's appointment to coach the Middies comes at the same time as Charley Brickley's appointment to coach at John Hopkins University, Baltimore.

Hardwick through the Haughton system at Harvard has developed into the most versatile athlete the Crimson has had in years, and if he can impart the knowledge to the boys he will have established another name for himself The naval cadets look forward to a grand season under his direction.

The Middies were easily defeated last fall by West Point under the direction of Charley Daley the Harvard star of '04. If Daley returns it will be Crimson vs Crimson when the academies meet in the annual game.

CONFERENZA ITALIANA.

Free Lecture for Italians On Tuesday Evening.

On next Tuesday evening in the hall of the new Adams school, at 8 o'clock, Professor Alberto Pecorini will speak to the Italians in their own language upon the "Advantages for Italians in America."

The lecturer is paid by the Old South association, and the lecture is through the Free Library Com. of Massachusetts, under the auspices of the Thomas Crane Public Library. Miss White, the librarian, will open the meeting, and Mr. N. Di Panfilo will then take charge and introduce Professor Pecorini. At the close of the lecture there will be an opportunity to ask questions from the floor.

It is honed that the hall will be well filled to show that the Quincy Italians appreciate the educational advantages offered by their adopted city. This is one of a series of conferences being held in the cities around Boston where there are large Italian settlements.

TO LAUNCH DESTROYER.

Sec. Daniels has been asked to appoint a sponsor for the torpedo boat destroyer Tucker to be launched at the Fore River Shipyard, May 18. The ship is somewhat larger than the Cushing which will be given her trials in May.

The U. S. submarine L-1 leaves tonight for Provincetown for official trials on Tuesday. The L-2, a sister craft has practically completed her builder's trials.

A meeting of the Friday club was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John F. Welch of 1662 Hancock street, the subject of the afternoon was "Manners, Customs and Traditions of the Londoner."

COLONIAL HALL

Hancock Bldg., Quincy

7 P.M. Three Sundays 7 P.M.

APRIL 25, May 2 and 9

Science. History and Bible Harmonized

500 Beautiful Pictures

Steriloptican and Panoramas

Lectures by the Marvel Phonograph

Shown in Three Sections. each complete in itself.

Part 1.—Traces Creation from star Nebula to the Deluge and its causes, on to Moses' time.

Part 2.—Begins with Moses and goes down through Israel's experiences to Jesus' miracles.

Part 3.—Takes us from Hosanna, through the "dark ages" onward into the Millenium.

Free To The Public

ALL INVITED NO COLLECTION

BILL SWEENEY IS SPEAKER

Addresses North Quincy Catholic Club

Bill Sweeney, ex-captain of the Braves, was the centre of interest at the meeting of the North Quincy Catholic club last evening in Poland hall, Norfolk Downs. As a ball player Bill is known to every fan as the man who helped Stallings start on his pennant winning climb. As a speaker he is little known, but delighted his audience by proving to be an able one.

He started with a few jokes, thus putting his hearers in good humor and then he gave a rattling good talk. He told of each position separately starting with the catcher and going round the field. In his estimation the catcher's position is the hardest on the diamond. The catcher must do almost all the signalling, move the outfielders, watch the base runners, and best of all get the batter's "goat." Bill said that next to Johnny Kling, Roger Brenshan was the best catcher to distract the batter's attenion, that he knew.

The pitcher must have control and the infielders should follow the ball if they wish to succeed. He commented on the batter for several minutes, telling the different types, and how the pitchers fool them with their different deliveries.

He gave an amusing incident of his career. He said when asked to speak in Everett a while ago, he decided to talk on the value of education. Next day he saw in an Everett paper the following amazing headline, "Bill Sweeney Shows Need of Education." That showed him, he said, that he should never talk on any subject but baseball.

He concluded his talk by reciting Kipling's famous, "Gungha-Din" and as an elocutionist he again showed ability.

Mr. Fillman of the Horace Partridge Co. proved his talent as an imitator and also did a clever trick with a piece of string, which received hearty applause. John Holmes rendered two songs. Frank Flynn accompanied him on the piano.

President John J. Cusick introduced the different entertainers and he asked for contributions for a permanent base ball team which the club is going to form. A good team is to be put out this year he said and is to be equipped with the best paraphanalia in the market.

Little Edward Myback played two selections on the piano. Cigars were passed to the men during the evening After the meeting Sweeney denied the report that he had signed with Detroit.

Q. H. S. WIN EASY VICTORY

Quincy High school won an easy victory over Stetson High of Randolph at Merrymount Park Friday afternoon by a score of 10 to 0. The game favored Quincy and in the sixth inning when Hogan succeeded O'Brien as pitcher and eight runs were garnered through a bunching of hits

Stetson lost two fine chances to score, once in the fifth with a man on second and third and again in the sixth with a man on third and first O'Connor saved himself in the former pinch by fanning the batter and Capt. Larkin put an end to the latter by throwing the batsmen out at first.

Mulligan played the best games for the winners. He is probably the smallest catcher in school base ball and did exceptionally well throughout the game.

Quincy's team hit hard, getting 12 hits. Only two of them were made from O'Brien. Five hits and a sacrifice brought home the three runs in the seventh and two hits did the trick in the eighth. Hogan isued the only pass of the game.

It was the first school game Quincy has played this season. The pony battery, Isaacson and Baker, finished the last innings and kept their skirts clear.

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Quincy high	0	1	0	0	1	2	3	3	x	10	12	3
Stetson	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	5	1

Batteries: O'Connor, Isaacson, O'Donnell, and Baker; O'Brien, Hogan and Mulligan.

WOLLASTON ANTIS.

Wollaston anti-suffragists took the first step toward effecting a permanent orgnization Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Thomas Fenno of 538 Hancock street. The organization was not completed and another meeting will be held within two weeks at which officers will be elected.

LOST

SAVINGS BANK BOOKS

Savings Bank Books as listed below have been lost and application has been made for payment of the accounts in accordance with Section 40, Chapter 590, of the Acts of 1908. Payment has been stopped.

Book No. 29383	Book No. 43251
Book No. 30748	Book No. 43437
Book No. 38472	Book No. 43550

QUINCY SAVINGS BANK

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

April 24-3t—May 1-8

BELIEVE COFFIN WAS VICTIM OF HOMOCIDE

State Police Investigating His Death

State officers are here today conducting an investigation into the death of William A. Coffin, for over 40 years a member of the Quincy fire department, whose death at the state hospital for the insane at Taunton is said to have been due to violence.

Dr. Atwood, medical examiner injected several new turns into the case when he reported Friday to Dist. Atty. Kenny of Bristol county that death was due to "homocide, multiple injuries, shock and hemmorrhage." He declared the breastbone was fractured every rib on the right side from the fifth to the ninth inclusive were fractured, every rib on the left side from the fourth to the 12th inclusive were fractured, and that the larynx and thyrod cartilage was fractured. In addition to these he says there were many bruises and some scars on the body.

Dr. Ripley at the hospital has stated that when Coffin was brought there, while not violent he was so nervous and confused and struggled so much that an examination could not be made

Coffin was taken to Taunton by Lieut Bishop of the poice department and assistant court officer Atrhur B. Fultman. Both men say he was quiet during the journey and was quiet when they left him at the institution.

Dr Fred E. Jones medical examiner of this district and one of the physicians who committed him that morning, said he had made his usual carefull examination on Saturday at 11 o'clock with a view to committment. He is loath to communicate just what the conditions were that he found on account of the rights of the man but he nevertheless stated that so far as physical condition was concerned there was nothing at that time to show he had been the victim of any asssault or violence.

Actiug Chief McKay says Coffin fell from a bunk at the police station and struck his side on a bucket. He was put back on the bunk by two officers and remained there quietly until taken away.

How extensive the investigation will go is hard to say. The names of two nurses at the institution who will be questioned have been withheld.

Coffin's funeral was held Friday afternoon from the undertaking rooms of John Hall. Rev. Carl G. Horst of the Wollaston Unitarian church conducted the services. Members of the organizations with which the deceased was affiliated attended. Chief Billings and a detail of firemen, with whom Coffin was for many years affiliated as a call man, escorted the hearse to Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

There were several beautiful floral tributes, which included set pieces from the Fire Department and Relief Association and the Washington M. French Hose Association.

Dr. Ripley of the hopsital was in Quincy Friday making a personal investigation.

Ths case coming so soon after the case of George R. Morris, who died at the institution last August and as a result of which one doctor was reprimanded and three attendants dismissed from the hospital, has caused a tremendous stir and District-Attorney Kenney took immediate action. Supt. Goss of the hospital was out of town today and all inquiries were referred to the medical examiner.

QUINCY SAVINGS BANK

At the Annual meeting of the Quincy Savings Bank Corporation, held April 13, 1915, the following officers were elected:—

President, John Q. A. Field.

Vice President, Richard D. Chase.

Trustees, John Q. A. Field, Richard D. Chase, Rupert F. Claflin, Herbert T. Whitman, Horace F. Spear, Henry M. Faxon, Frederick H. Smith, Edward B. Marsh, George E. Adams, George A. Sidelinger, J. Henry Emery and H. Everett Crane.

All have taken the oath of office to which they have been elected.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Trustees, Messrs. Rupert F. Claflin and Herbert T. Whitman were elected members of the Board of Investment, with the President and Vice President, who are members of the Board in accordance with the By-Laws.

Members of the Corporation:—E. Granville Pratt, George A. Brackett, Rupert F. Claflin, John Q. A. Field, H. Walter Gray, John A. Gordon, Frederick H. Smith, Horace F. Spear, J. Henry Emery, Charles F. Adams, 2d, Clarence Burgin, Henry M. Faxon, Richard D. Chase, Walter E. Burke, C. Theodore Hardwick, James H. Stetson, Herbert T. Whitman, George E. Adams, Edward B. Marsh, Thomas Fenno, George H. Brown, George A. Sidelinger, James F. Young, Jona. S. Swingle, Fred B. Rice, Frank P. Waterhouse, Eben W. Sheppard, H. Everett Crane, Perry Lawton, John F. Hunt, George E. Pfaffmann and Arthur H. Alden.

George E. Adams,
Clerk of the Corporation.
24-1t

MODERN HOMES, WOLLASTON

$4500 to $5500

Just completed with every late convenience. Ideal location Warren and Newport avenues. Beautiful view, fine neighborhood. 6 minutes from R. R. Station. Apply

ARTHUR F. RAYMOND, Quincy

22 Thurs & Sat. tf

THE "NO NAME" HAT

—GET THIS

HAT

—TODAY

It's The

No Name Hat

You'll like it. You get a 10 per cent discount if you buy today which means a

$3.00 Hat, 10 per cent off $2.70

Some stores get $3.50 for this same Hat

All Shades All Shapes

BIG VALUES IN

Other Good Hats

$2.50 Hat, 10 per cent off $2.25

$2.00 Hat, 10 per cent off $1.80

$1.50 Hat, 10 per cent off $1.35

Neat Effects in

Men's Caps

Fancy Plaids, Checks and Mixtures. All that a cap should be. Extra good values too.

25c. TO 95c.

Legal Stamps Always

REMICK'S THE WIDE-AWAKE STORE

MUSIC HALL BLOCK

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

ESTABLISHED 1889

Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION

BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)

THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES

QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

REAL GROWTH.

One of the most significant indications of a city's growth is its build ing developement. This does not mean a feverish, spasmodic development, which results in the erection of more buildings than the population require but a strong, steady growth, demanded by an increasing population and commercial prosperity.

There is a city not far from Quincy which for several years has experienced a feverish building boom. More buildings in proportion to the population have been erected than in Quincy or most any other neighboring city. The boom has been principally in the line of tenements. And yet last year this city had some seven or eight hundred empty tenements. The popualtion ahve acquired the demand for the newest dwelling. No sooner are they settled in a comfortable tenement than a newer, more pretentious building is erected nearby and they hasten to move there.

This is not prosperity, except for the movers, who reap a rich harvest. One of them has a sign which reads "My motto is, Keep Moving," and it must be said that many of the people follow his advice.

Look round Quincy and you won't find many empty lwellings or busi-find many empty dwellings or businings going up every day. Quincy is growing. There can be no question of that. It enjoys material prosperity. It is beginning to enjoy better government.

But it is sadly lacking in a proper civic spirit, not even enjoying such a one as does Brockton, the city referred to above. Stop knocking and put your shoulder to the wheel.

In Europe people are expected to read only censored publications and not to believe all they see in them.

WILL TRY OUT TEAM TODAY

Candidates for the Fore River Base ball team are to have a try out this afternoon at Merrymount Park. Joe Larkin, manager of the team, plans to put the best team available in the yard on the field this season. Of the regular men who played last year there are left Gilis, Galvin and Knight The new men include some of the best men in suburban Boston. Charles Pitts of the Quincy A. A. will try to hold down the receiving end and he is wil able to take care of Charlie Knight's curves. John "Scrappy" DeCoste of the Copeland team will go out for short stop. Slattery the star first sacker of the Dorchester A. A. and Clinton of the old Granite City league will try for the out field. Several other local players will turn out this afternoon and from them a first class team is expected to be selected.

SECOND GRAND DANCE.

The Nonpareils, one of the popular social clubs of the city, held its second grand dance at Alpha hall Friday evening with amny friends as guests. During the evening there were cornet solos by Thomas Djerf. He also served as floor director. Charles Predario was assistant floor director and John Mattson was chief of aids. The aids were Ernest Knight, Edward Carson, George DiBona, Henry Mattson, Timothy Cremins, Frend M. Dolan and William Curtis.

HOLD INQUEST.

Special Justice Louis A. Cook held an inquest this morning on the death of the late Patrick Butler, chief of police of Weymouth.

DR. C. F. S. PEARCE
DENTIST
327 Newport Avenue, Wollaston
Mondays -- Wednesdays -- Fridays
8 to 12 -- 1 to 5
EVENINGS
Boston Office 194 Boylston Street
June 24-1y-w. s.

CLARA MORRISON
Pianist and Teacher
Leschetizky Method
CATHERINE MORRISON
Mandolin and Guitar
50 Hamilton Street, Wollaston
Tel. Quincy 1318-W. Sept. 30-w.s.-1y

SENIOR DRAMATICS

(Continued from Page One.)

cess in a thing of this sort is snap, sparkle, and speed. There were too many thoughtful poses, too many delays in entering and leaving the room, too much stroking of beards and pacing up and down. This was not always true. For example, when Vere Lee, an amateur actor and author of "The Fatal Shot" was on the stage that individual, capitally taken by Mr. Hunt, put life into the whole scene. Mr. Hunt, of course, was blessed with a part which called specifically for nervousness and excitability, so that his task of putting "pep" into the piece required only good acting. This he gave in full measure.

Ensign Meredith upheld the traditions of the sailor and proved an ardent lover. His love scenes with Betty Vance were convincing and delighted the audience, with whom he appeared to be a prime favorite. Mr. Crocker was easy and unembarassed and usually natural. An unfortunate tendeney to look toward the audience detracted somewhat. He deserves special credit for the vigor of his impersonation.

Miss Follet made a charming and natural Betty Vance. Her enunciation was always clear, her gestures always convincing. She had many lines and she appeared to know them well. There is no wonder that she would twist her uncle round her little finger.

Miss Burke, who took the part of Polly Reynolds, had little to do. Despite the fact that the length of the play was staggering we wish she had more. Her acting was decidedly good it showed promise of considerable ability. Mrs. Van Styne had dramatic aspirations which did not descend to her daughter Claire. Miss DuPlesis took the part in a pleasing manner. One regretted she was not longer on the stage. Miss Brown as timid Claire achieved success.

The part of Congressman Myrtleton although splendidly done for the most part, would have been improved by a little more choler. It was not an easy part and Mr. Simmons deserves great credit for his work. Some of his scenes with the two deacons, Bassett and Jarvis, were excellent. Deacon Bassett as taken by Mr. Browne, who was evidently enjoying himself thoroughly, was convincing and productive of much deserved laughter. His staid and dignified companion, Deacon Jarvis, played his part with distinction. The latter had great difficulty in restraining his deaf but more lively brother, especially when Claire danced a skirt dance.

Perhaps the most difficult part was that of Pinkerton Case, the amateur detective, whose following of a clue has such astonishing results. If this part had not been well done the play would have suffered tremendously. Mr. Gay achieved a marked success. His voice was perfect, his gestures masterly. All in all he was undoubtedly the star of the piece.

The butler, Jasper had a good deal to do and Mr. Carlson carried out the requirements of the part in a successful manner. His dialect was better than the average amateur impersonation of a "colored gentleman." The part was well done.

Mr. Smith, who took the part of O'Rourke, the policeman who arrested Pinkerton Case, appeared only in the third act. He had little to do but he acquitted himself well. His brogue was not bad at all for a man named Smith.

A word should be said for the scenery. The action took place in the study of Congressman Myrtleton in Bachelor Hall, Washington, D. C. The room was attractively furnished.

DRAMA OF CREATION.

Probably no more comprehensive production of the whole Bible regime, from cover to cover, is being shown today, than Pastor Russell's Eureka Drama of Creation, which opens in Quincy Sunday night, and continues the two following Sunday evenings.

In beautiful colored slides, aided by the Marvel Phonograph, the creation of our planet, earth, from the star nebula to a state of perfection is sohwn and explained lucidly and in an entertaining way. Science is harmonized with istory and buttresed by the Bible account in Genesis. Colonial hal has been secured for the exhibition for Sunday evenings, April 25, May 2 and May 9, starting at 7 P. M. The drama is free to the public in every way, no collections being taken.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—the staff of life for you and your wife. Get a loaf today.

SUCCESSFUL RALLY BY ANTI-SUFFRAGISTS

Mrs. A. J. George Forcibly Expounds Their Cause

The anti-suffragists had their innings Friday evening at Colonial hall, the cause being expounded in a forcible and convincing manner by Mrs. A. J. George of Brookline, field secretary of the Massachusetts Anti-Suffrage association. There was a fair sprinkling of men in the audience and it was also noticed that there were a number of well known suffragists, who came to hear what their opponents had to say.

Mrs. Edward B. Marsh presided, and on the platform with her and the speaker of the evening was Mrs. Brooks Adams and Joseph L. Whiton. Miss Mary Forbes, county organizer, Brooks Adams and oJseph L. Whiton.

Only once during the evening was there anything in the way of a ripple, that was at the close of the address when Henry R. Holden alluding to the speaker's statement about the Suffragists being allied with the Socialists asked how it was about the Anti-Suffragists being allied with the saloon element.

Mrs. George came back strong with her answer stating that while there was ample proof of the Suffragists being allied with the Socialist element, it was not true that the Anti-Suffragists were allied with the saloon element. On the contrary, the speaker said that she had in her possession a letter written by a prominent suffragist to the Brewer's association seeking support for the Suffragist movement.

In opening the meeting Mrs. Marsh briefly welcomed those present and said that the anti-suffragist movement was not a new idea in Quincy for it had been started here 17 or 18 years ago but for lack of necessity had been allowed to die. She would call upon a layman to testify and would introduce Brooks Adams.

Mr. Adams said that he was present to make a confession of faith, and that he had no material interest in the issue. "I can not contemplate the social revolution which must follow with the success of the Suffragists propaganda. Ever since the earliest ages the woman's place has been in the home, without which society must crumble. Woman sacrifices her health for the home. She can no more leave her children than can an officer leave his soldiers for the foundation of all morals is vested in her supervision of the home. Most unhappily I have observed the tenedncy on the part of women to scorn the sacrifices of maternity. Such an attitude is almost inconceivable. Women may renounce their heritage, undermine the church and break down morals but they can never do men's work."

In introducing President Whiton of the city council Mrs. Marsh said that she and Mr. Whiton agreed in everything except on the grade crossing question.

In opening his remarks Mr. Whiton said that he would also make a confession of faith. "I shall not attempt to agree with the arguments heard upon the street It is always a hopeless task to argue with a woman. God made woman for home and children.

(Continued on Page Four.)

COAL
ANNOUNCEMENT

April 1, 1915.

Full coal bins are a source of real satisfaction. We are filling our bins as rapidly as possible with FRESH MINED COAL. By placing your order now YOU can take advantage of the LOW PRICES announced in the schedule below. Coal will positively ADVANCE IN PRICE later. There will be no Further Reduction.

We should be glad to call and talk Coal with you if you will notify us.

PRICES FOR CASH

Franklin Egg and Stove	$8.50 per ton
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75 per ton
Shamokin Stove	7.50 per ton
White Ash Broken	6.50 per ton
White Ash Egg	7.25 per ton
White Ash Stove	7.25 per ton
White Ash Nut	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Broken	6.75 per ton
Lehigh Egg	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Stove	7.50 per ton
Pea	5.50 per ton

25 cents per ton extra where coal is carried in. Orders taken for these Prices are for delivery by July 1, 1915.

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc

1c ONE CENT SALE 1c

No matter what the first article costs the second costs ONE CENT.

Monday and Tuesday
April 26th and 27th

Pay one cent more than the regular price for any one of these articles and get TWO.

Drugs and Patent Medicines

25c Witch Hazel (pint)	2 for 26c
5c Epsom Salts	2 for 6c
25c Headease	2 for 26c
75c Reconstructive Tonic	2 for 76c
25c Hearn's White Pine & Tar	2 for 26c
25c Rhinitis Tablets	2 for 26c
15c Peroxide of Hydrogen	2 for 16c
25c Granular Effervescent Sodium Phosphate	2 for 26c
20c Belladonna Plasters	2 for 21c
25c Grippe Tablets	2 for 26c
15c Tasteless Castor Oil	2 for 16c
10c Bronchial Lozenges	2 for 11c
25c Lithia Tablets	2 for 26c
25c Hearn's White Liniment	2 for 26c
15c Hearn"s Little Liver Granules	2 for 16c
25c Hearn's Dyspepsia Tablets	2 for 26c
25c Hygenic Tooth Paste	2 for 26c

Give Your Pocketbook a Show

Here's the opportunity for you to get just what you want and make a big saving.

To give you the greatest value for your money, the highest quality of goods, and courteous clerks to serve you is our idea of Drug Store Service.

Come yourself and bring a friend.

CIGAR SPECIAL
A 10c Cigar for 1c
Johnson's A-1 Cigar
10c 2 for 11c

CANDY SPECIAL
2 lbs. of our 40c Chocolates 41c
40 pieces in a box, 20 different combinations.
1 lb. 40c 2 lb. 41c

Children's Special Hersheys Nut Chocolate 5c 2 for 6c

1 Nursing Bottle 5c
1 more 1c

1 Seamless Rubber Nipple 5c
1 more 1c

ONE CENT
Buys five 5 cent face cloths with a 25c bottle of Cresent Almond Cream.

WATER GLASS
1 pt. 15c
1 more for 1c

Hospital Absorbent Cotton
1 35c 1 more 1c

HOUSEHOLD NEEDS.

5c package Soda Bicarb	2 for 6c
5c package Sulphur	2 for 6c
10c package Toilet Paper	2 for 11c
5c Nail Scrub	2 for 6c
10c bottle Castor Oil	2 for 11c
25c bottle Corn Solvent	2 for 26c
5c Slippery Elm Lozenges	2 for 6c

ONE CENT
Buys a 10c Face Chamois with a 10c cake Lana Oil Soap.

Boric Acid
sifting top can
1 can 10c
1 more 1c

Toilet Articles

15c Hearn's Tooth Powder	2 for 16c
25c Crescent Almond Cream,	2 for 26c
15c Hearn's Cold Cream, this sale	2 for 16c
10c can Talcum Powder, this sale	2 for 11c
10c cake Lana Oil and Buttermilk Soap	2 for 11c
5c Wash Cloth	2 for 6c
10c Styptic Pencil	2 for 11c
25c Hygenic Tooth Paste	2 for 26c
10c bottle Glycerine	2 for 11c

STATIONERY
A 25c box of Ward's Writing Paper; 24 sheets, 24 envelopes.
1 box 25c 2 for 26c

ONE CENT SALE

Spring Pictures are Interesting
After you have snapped some good pictures with your camera bring your films to us and let us finish them for you. Our work is good and the price is right.

Chas. C. Hearn
CITY SQUARE, QUINCY
"THE QUALITY DRUG STORE"

DO NOT FORGET
That during this sale we still give our checks in all departments excepting candy and soda.
This is an additional discount of 5 per cent. for $10 worth of these checks are good for 50c in trade
SAVE them they are worth MONEY

ONE CENT SALE

In SOCIETY

Mrs. Frederic Mowry of the Atlantic Parkway has returned from the South and is to spend the summer at Atlantic.

* * *

Mrs. May Willis Hatch who has passed the winter on "The Farm," in Friendship, Maine, is coming to Quincy for a few weeks' visit with her cousins the James H. Stetsons and other friends.

* * *

Mrs. N. J. Lee of New Haven is visiting Mr. and Mrs. John La Tour of Sagamore street.

* * *

Lieutenant A. W. Marshall of Spear street who has been detached from shore duty at the Fore River shipyard goes to sea May first. As the fleet goes to Panama and Mexico into the warmer climate Mrs. Marshall and son Ware will be unable to be near Mr. Marshall. They are not fully decided on their future plans but will not leave Quincy for the present.

* * *

Miss May Buckley returned from New York Tuesday where she has enjoyed visiting many places of interest.

* * *

The engagement is announced of Miss Alice M. Parker of Duxbury to Louis K. Badger of West Quincy.

* * *

Mrs. C. H. Stenzel has returned to her home on Botolph street after a six weeks' visit with her daughter in New York.

* * *

Mrs. Joseph Small of Saugus is the guest for a few days of her daughter Mrs. Daniel N. Hardy of Standish avenue.

* * *

Mrs. Ozias D. Tillinghast of Providence and Mrs. H. H. Barber of Lakewood, R. I., have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Beeman.

* * *

The class of 1915 at the Quincy Mansion school gave its "Senior Promenade" this week. Miss Claire Collings of Hot Springs, Ark., president of the class, was in charge of the arrangements. The gymnasium and Livermore hall were decorated with spring blossoms, the class colors being everywhere in evidence. Mrs. Pitts and Mrs. Marceau were the matrons.

* * *

Mrs. G. N. Titus of R. I., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. F. Davidson of Atlantic.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Nichols of Botolph street spent the week end and holiday with relatives in Duxbury.

Helen Allen Hunt, mezzo-contralto soloist at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, is giving a song recital in Alpha hall Quincy Sunday afternoon at half after three o'clock, assisted by Carlos E. Pinfield, violinist. of the Boston Symphony Orchestra and Harris S. Shaw, accompanist. Her program is of unusual interest embracing an operatic airia from Saint-Saens, "Samson and Delilah"—a group of folk-songs from various nations and a list of modern English songs. Sunday afternoon recitals are a novelty hereabouts and this concert gives promise of a large and interested audience.

* * *

Francis M. Wood of Harrisville, R. I., was the guest of Atlantic friends over the holiday.

* * *

Mrs. Chandler W. Smith, retiring president of the Quincy Women's Club has accepted new honors being elected on Monday to the presidency of the Faunce Decendants. Mrs. Herbert W Pinkham was elected historian. The reunion, which was the tenth, was held at Kingston and largely attended by the family.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Atwood of Kemper street moved this week to Quincy being very pleasantly located on Russell park.

* * *

Mrs. George H. Nowlan of Wolfville, Nova Scotia and her daughter-in-law Mrs. Fred S. Nowlan of New York came over from New York Friday to visit Mrs. George S. Thomas of Newton street for a few weeks.

* * *

Jack Arnold who is on his way home from a six years' stay in the Philippines has enjoyed a prolonged stay in India. He expects to reach Quincy late in May.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham of Warren avenue are week end guests of Amos T. Leavitt of Lincoln avenue at his summer home at Hampton, New Hampshire.

* * *

Mrs. Perry Lawton of Presidents hill was called to Newport, R. I., Friday by the death of her father. Mr. Lawton joined her today for the funeral services to be held on Sunday.

* * *

Miss Clarice Doble of South street is giving a luncheon Wednesday for Miss Mary M. Faxon of Adams street, whose engagement has recently been announced.

* * *

The next meeting of the Saturday Auction Bridge club is to be a gentlemen's night. It will be held next Saturday evening, with Miss Madeline McCroy as hostess, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Joseph L. Evans on Edgemere road.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Sturtevant and Miss Dorothy Edwards who have been South for nearly four months returned to Quincy this morning. The party left Charleston last Thursday for Washington which they left Friday night, arriving in Quincy at 10 o'clock this morning. They have been cruising in Southern waters in Mr. Sturtevant's yacht, "The Grey Duck."

* * *

Miss Lillian Newman was a guest over the holiday at Hillholm farm in Kingston.

SLIGHT FIRE.

The alarm from Box 73 at 6.44 this morning was for a slight fire on the roof of a Syrian boarding house at 18 Sixth avenue. The fire evidently started from sparks from the chimney alighting on the roof. But a few shingles were burned and $5 should cover the entire damage.

You Save All

If fed right the first three weeks with

Pratts Baby Chick Food 25c, 50c and $1.00

there is little chance of fatal disease. It cuts down losses and gives you strong thriving, better chicks. No other preparation takes its place.

Pratts White Diarrhea Remedy 25c and 50c.

positively controls this costly and common disease. Prevents infection.

Refuse substitutes; insist on Pratts.

Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Back

Get Pratts 100 page Poultry Book

Supply & General Stores. 6639.

The PROBLEM of GOOD MILK

All persons do not understand what is meant by good, safe milk. Some believe that the milk with a deep cream line is desirable, whereas, the Doctor knows that Holstein Milk, although containing little cream is often more desirable for babies, partly for this reason, or perhaps because of the method of production

The real criterion of a good milk is its wholesomeness. This depends upon the conditions at the dairy, and the special care given it until it reaches the consumer. Scrupulously clean and healthy cows, clean and healthy dairymen, rapid cooling, and protecting the milk, constant dairy and laboratory inspection are required. Furthermore safety is assured when the dealer pasteurizes his supply.

THE ELM FARM MILK COMPANY OF DORCHESTER offer pure Family Milk, and exceptional Nursery Milk at prices often charged for ordinary milk Speak to the salesman, or call Dor. 2100. 6-1 mo.

A bread of superlative excellence, carefully baked and wrapped in waxed tissue for your protection.

ASK YOUR GROCER

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer

is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

Prescott Apartments

For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service, Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

His Love Story

By MARIE VAN VORST

Illustrations by RAY WALTERS

(Copyright by the Bobbs-Merrill Company)

(Continued from Thursday's Ledger)

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Le Comte de Sabron, captain of French cavalry, takes to his quarters to raise by hand a motherless Irish terrier pup, and names it Pitchoune.

CHAPTER II—Sabron dines with the Marquise d' Esclignac and meets Miss Julia Redmond, American heiress, who sings for him an English ballad that lingers in his memory.

CHAPTER III—Sabron, trying to save Pitchoune's life, declines a second invitation to dinner because of a "very sick friend."

CHAPTER IV—No more invitations come from the Chateau d' Esclignac. Pitchoune, though lame from his accident, thrives and is devoted to Sabron.

CHAPTER V—Sabron and Pitchoune meet the Marquise and Miss Redmond and after the story of Pitchoune is told Sabron is forgiven and invited to dinner again.

CHAPTER VI—Sabron is ordered to Algiers, but is not allowed to take servants or dogs. He is invited to a musicale at the Chateau.

CHAPTER VII—At the musicale Miss Redmond, hearing that Sabron cannot take Pitchoune with him, offers to take care of the dog during his master's absence.

CHAPTER VIII—Pitchoune, homesick for his master, runs away from Miss Redmond. The Marquise plans to marry Julia to the Duc de Tremont.

CHAPTER IX—Unknown to Sabron, Pitchoune follows him to Algiers.

The sun was so hot that it seemed to sing in the bushes. Its torrid fever struck on his brown, struck on his chest; why did it not kill him? He was not even delirious, and yet the bushes sang dry and crackling. What was their melody? He knew it. Just one melody haunted him always, and now he knew the words: they were a prayer for safety.

"But," Sabron said aloud, "it is a prayer to be said at night and not in the afternoon of an African hell."

He began to climb; he pulled himself along, leaving his track in blood

He fainted twice, and the thick growth held him like the wicker of a cradle, and before he came to his consciousness the sun was mercifully going down. He finally reached the top of the bank and lay there panting. Not far distant were the bushes of rose and mimosa flower, and still panting, weaker and ever weaker, his courage the only living thing in him, Sabron, with Pitchoune by his side, dragged himself into healing hands.

All that night Sabron was delirious; his mind traveled far into vague fantastic countries, led back again, ever gently, by a tune, to safety.

Every now and then he would realize that he was alone on the vast desert, destined to finish his existence here, to cease being a human creature and to become nothing but carrion. Moments of consciousness succeeded those of mental disorder. Every now and then he would feel Pitchoune close to his arm. The dog licked his hand and the touch was grateful to the deserted officer. Pitchoune licked his master's cheek and Sabron felt that there was another life beside his in the wilderness. Neither dog nor man could long exist, however, without food or drink and Sabron was growing momentarily weaker.

The Frenchman though a philosopher, realized how hard it was to die unsatisfied in love, unsatisfied in life, having accomplished nothing, having wished many things and realized at an early age only death! Then this point of view changed and the physical man was uppermost.

He groaned for water, he groaned for relief from pain, turned his head from side to side, and Pitchoune whined softly. Sabron was not strong enough to speak to him, and their voices, of man and beast, inarticulate, mingled—both left to die in the open.

Then Sabron violently rebelled and cried out in his soul against fate and destiny. He could have cursed the day he was born. Keenly desirous to live, to make his mark and to win everything a man values, why should he be picked and chosen for this lonely pathetic end? Moreover, he did not wish to suffer like this, to lose his grasp on life, to go on into wilder delirium and to die! He knew enough of injuries to feel sure that his wound alone would not kill him. When he had first dragged himself into the shade he had fainted, and when he came to himself he might have stanched his blood. His wound was hardly bleeding now. It had already died! Fatigue and thirst, fever would finish him, not his hurt. He was too young to die.

With great effort he raised himself on his arm and scanned the desert stretching on all sides like a rosy sea. Along the river bank the pale and delicate blossom and leaf of the mimosa lay like a bluish veil, and the smell of the evening and the smell of the mimosa flower and the perfumes of the woods came to him, agreeable and sweet. Above his head the blue sky was ablaze with stars and directly over him the evening star hung like a crystal lamp. But there was no beauty in it for the wounded officer who looked in vain to the dark shadows on the desert that might mean approaching human life. It would be better to die as he was dying, than to be found by the enemy!

The sea of waste rolled unbroken as far as his fading eyes could reach. He sank back with a sigh, not to rise again, and closed his eyes and waited. He slept a short, restless, feverish sleep, and in it dreams chased one another like those evoked by a narcotic, but out of them, over and over again came the picture of Julia Redmond, and she sang to him the song whose words were a prayer for the safety of a loved one during the night.

From that romantic melody there seemed to rise more solemn ones. He heard the rolling of the organ in the cathedral in his native town, for he came from Rouen originally, where there is one of the most beautiful cathedrals in the world. The music rolled and rolled and passed over the desert's face. It seemed to lift his spirit and to cradle it. Then he breathed his prayers—they took form, and in his sleep he repeated the Ave Maria and the Paternoster, and the words rolled and rolled over the desert's face and the supplication seemed to his feverish mind to mingle with the stars.

A sort of midnight dew fell upon him: so at least he thought, and it seemed to him a heavenly dew and to cover him like a benignant rain. He grew cooler. He prayed again, and with his words there came to the young man an ineffable sense of peace. He pillowed his fading thoughts upon it; he pillowed his aching mind upon it and his body, too, and the pain of his wound and he thought aloud, with only the night airs to hear him, in broken sentences: "If this is death it is not so bad. One should rather be afraid of life. This is not difficult, if I should ever get out of here I shall not regret this night."

Toward morning he grew calmer, he turned to speak to his little companion. In his troubled thoughts he had forgotten Pitchoune.

Sabron faintly called him. There was no response. Then the soldier listened in silence. It was absolutely unbroken. Not even the call of a night-bird—not even the cry of a hyena—nothing came to him but the inarticulate voice of the desert. Great and solemn awe crept up to him, crept up to him like a spirit and sat down by his side. He felt his hands grow cold, and his feet grow cold. Now, unable to speak aloud, there passed through his mind that this, indeed, was death, desertion absolute in the heart of the plains.

CHAPTER XIV.

An American Girl.

The Marquise d'Esclignac saw that she had to reckon with an American girl. Those who know these girls know what their temper and mettle are, and that they are capable of the finest reverberation.

Julia Redmond was very young. Otherwise she would never have let Sabron go without one sign that she was not indifferent to him, and that she was rather bored with the idea of titles and fortunes. But she adored her aunt and saw, moreover, something else than ribbons and velvets in the make-up of the aunt. She saw deeper than the polish that a long Parisian lifetime had overlaid, and she loved what she saw. She respected her aunt, and knowing the older lady's point of view, had been timid and hesitating until now.

Now the American girl woke up, or rather asserted herself.

"My dear Julia," said the Marquise d'Esclignac, "are you sure that all the tinned things, the cocoa, and so forth, are on board? I did not see that box."

"Ma tante," returned her niece from her steamer chair, "it's the only piece of luggage I am sure about."

At this response her aunt suffered a slight qualm for the fate of the rest of her luggage, and from her own chair in the shady part of the deck glanced toward her niece, whose eyes were on her book.

She Was Bored With the Idea of Titles and Fortunes.

"What a practical girl she is," thought the Marquise d'Esclignac, "She seems ten years older than I. She is cut out to be the wife of a poor man. It is a pity she should have a fortune. Julia would have been charming as love in a cottage, whereas I . . ."

She remembered her hotel on the Parc Monceau, her chateau by the Rhone, her villa at Biarritz—and sighed. She had not always been the Marquise d'Esclignac; she had been an American girl first and remembered that her maiden name had been De Puyster and that she had come from Schenectady originally. But for many years she had forgotten these things. Near to Julia Redmond these last few weeks all but courage and simplicity had seemed to have tarnish on its wings.

Sabron had not been found.

It was a curious fact, and one that transpires now and then in the history of desert wars—the man is lost. The captain of the cavalry was missing, and the only news of him was that he had fallen in an engagement and that his body had never been recovered. Several sorties had been made to find him; the war department had done all that it could; he had disappeared from the face of the desert and even his bones could not be found.

From the moment that Julia Redmond had confessed her love for the Frenchman, a courage had been born in her which never faltered, and her aunt seemed to have been infected by it. The marquise grew sentimental, found out that she was more docile and impressionable than she had believed herself to be, and the veneer and etiquette (no doubt never a very real part of her) became less important than other things. During the last few weeks she had been more a De Puyster from Schenectady than the Marquise d'Esclignac.

"Ma tante," Julia Redmond had said to her when the last telegram was brought in to the Chateau d'Esclignac, "I shall leave for Africa tomorrow."

"My dear Julia!"

"He is alive! God will not let him die. Besides, I have prayed. I believe in God, don't you?"

"Of course, my dear Julia."

ENJOY CONCERT BY GLEE CLUB

Men's Forum Hear Fine Program

A concert of merit was given by the Wollaston Glee club at the Park and Downs church, Friday evening, under the auspices of the Men's Forum. The club was assisted by a long array of artists, which included: Miss Velma Bailey Hicks, reader; E. M. Clark, tenor; James S. Whyte, basso; S. B. Bates, baritone; Miss Emily Bjorkman, pianist and William Ellis Weston, organist. With the wealth of talent and the fine chorus work it is to be regretted that a larger audience was not in attendance.

The opening number was "Awake my Love" by Gericke, sung by the club. Miss Hicks folowed with a reading from "If I were king." Taking scere three of act two she reproduced the various characters with true dramatic spirit and was vigorously applauded on her conclusion.

The Glee club sang "Spring march" by Pache and E. M. Clark contributed "My Dear" by Ball and "Perfect Day" by Bond. Mr. Clark's pleasing tenor voice is coming to be greatly appreciated by Wollaston audiences and he received a loud encore.

Hammond's "Lochinvar was the closing number of the Glee club for Part one. With the assistance of Mr. Bates as soloist, augumented by the piano and organ, the effect was most pleasing and an encore was sung.

During the intermission Thomas G Breen, president of the Forum, took the members of the organization to task, in a vigorous, straight from the shoulder speech, for not more strongly supporting the concert.

"A may night" by Abt, with Mr. Clark as soloist opened Part Two. This was easily the most successful of the evenings offerings and was heartily appreciated by the audience.

A number of dialect readings were given by Miss Hicks, which included "When a man's widowed," "Holding their own" and "A Jew duck." "Gloria," by Puccia, was finely rendered by Mr. Whyte. He responded with "When I get to Heaven."

"Palm branches" by Faure, with solo by Mr. Clark proved unusually effective in as much as the organ was available. A number of readings were given by Miss Hicks. They included "Shopping" "The church oyster" "The Who-is-it" and "Weak and strong.

"Prayer of Thanksgiving" by Baker with organ and piano accompaniment was the final offering of the club and concluded a pleasing and wel lorderea program.

Following the concert Glee club and artists and audience were invited to remain and enjoy the hospitality of the Forum in the vestry below. Here coffee and sandwiches were served by a committee consisting of Mrs. A. M Dingwll, Mrs. Alonzo V. Bissett, Miss Marion Brown. Miss Mabel Stewart. Miss Daisy Brown, Mrs. Hasbrook and Mrs. Charles Tanner.

As a delicate way of expressing their apprcciation "Soldiers farewell" and "Goodnight, Ladies" were sung by the members of the Glee club.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader.

JOYCE BROS. & CO. JOYCE BROS. & CO.

Pawtucket - Manchester - Malden - Boston - Providence - Lynn - Quincy

If You Only Knew the EXTRAORDINARY CLOTHING VALUES

that we offer, you would surely buy your clothing requirements here. Our policy is and always will be to give to our customers the most POSSIBLE VALUE FOR EVERY DOLLAR EXPENDED. At this time we have eclipsed all previous records, and now offer WELL MADE, DRESSY GARMENTS of good materials that will wear well and look well until you discard them, AT PRICES LOWER THAN THOSE QUOTED BY ANY HOUSE IN OUR LINE IN AMERICA. WE ARE SHORT ON BLUSTER BUT LONG ON VALUES.

"A CHARGE ACCOUNT"

We Open Accounts With All Trustworthy People

Simply select such clothing as you may need and arrange for weekly or monthly payments to suit your convenience. That's all.

Ladi-s' Suits

We show a great variety of stylish spring suits in serges, poplin, crepe and shepherd plaids. All the latest colors. Alterations free.

$9.90, $12.50 up to $18 50

Beautiful Suits

Stunning spring suits in poplin, gabardine, serges, crepe, plaids and chuddah cloth. Colors Belgian blue, navy, sand, putty and black. The latest accepted styles. Alterations free.

$18.98, $22 50 up to $37.50

Ladies' Suits

Beautiful, stylish dresses in serge, messaline, taffeta, crepe de chine, poplin, etc. Colors Belgian blue, sand, putty, navy, gray and black. Alterations free.

$6.98, $12.50 up to $35.00

New Spring Coats

Stylish coats for spring and summer wear in fancy plaids, coverts, chinchilla and stylish mixtures. All colors. Styles the latest. Alterations free.

$6.98, $12.50 up to $30 00

GIRLS' COATS

Ages 4 to 14. Nobby, stylish spring coats for girls, in all the new shades and latest styles. Materials, serge, crepe, poplin and fancy mixtures. All colors.

$1.98, $2.50 $4.98 up to $10

MEN'S SPRING SUITS

This department is now replete with stylish Spring Suits for men, and represents the best products of the country's best manufacturers. Our prices are the lowest obtainable for equally good merchandise.

$9.98, $12.50, $16.98 up to $30

YOUNG MEN'S SUITS

Our line of young men's Spring Suits is particularly attractive. Stylish, snappy models in new, handsome fabrics and popular colors; grays tans, browns and blues.

$7.98, 12.50, $14.98 up to $24

MEN'S OVERCOATS

Our line of Men's Spring Overcoats represents the latest models and most sylish fabrics. We show only what is correct in style and that will give perfect satisfaction.

$12.50, $16.50, $18.98 up to $30

BOYS' SUITS

Well made, dignified, handsome suits for boys are what we show in this department. Made from stylish, sturdy fabrics in Russian, Norfolk, sailor and double-breasted models.

$1.98, $3.50, $4.98 up to $10

BOYS' OVERCOATS

Stylish, nobby Spring Overcoats for the little man. We show in tan, blue, red and brown, all the latest models, combining durability, comfort and economy.

$2.98, $3.50, $5.98 up to $10

We Are Complete Outfitters for Man, Woman and Child.

Joyce Bros. Co.

HAVE YOUR PURCHASES CHARGED

13-15 Granite Street, Quincy.

JOYCE BROS. & CO. JOYCE BROS. & CO.

SOUTH BRAINTREE

Mrs. C. H. Hobart of Washington street has nearly recovered from her recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Gleason Torrey of Pond street are expected home from California next Tuesday.

John J. Davis of Boscobel street returned Thursday from a business trip to Cincinnati, Ohio.

Charles B. Cummings of Pond street has purchased an Overland automobile.

On French's common yesterday afternoon, the Cambridge High and Latin school nine defeated Braintree High school 7 to 0.

Tuesday noon the fire department was called to extinguish a woods fire on Liberty street near the residence of Frank Newhall.

Miss Josephine Burns of Victoria street was tendered a linen shower by a number of her friends Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Andrew Cooper of Providence and Mrs. Harry B. Keene of South Hanson were guests of Mrs. H. A. Simonds of Franklin street Thursday.

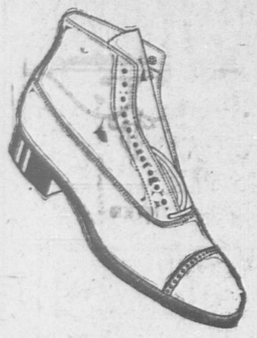

Woman's Health

and spirits depend upon her digestion and circulation. Sallow skin, pimples, facial blemishes and depression disappear after the system has been cleansed and the blood purified by

BEECHAM'S PILLS

Directions of Special Value to Women with Every Box. Sold Everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

Packard Shoes

STYLE Comfort
FIT

You can't go wrong in choosing these shoes. Pleases the eye—eases the feet. We have a large stock of Oxfords and pumps for the warm months. Come and get a perfect fitting shoe. They sell for

$4.00 $4.50 $5.00

The Farnum Shoe

has the distinctiveness of a high priced shoe, perfect fit, and the latest style.

Price $3.50

Worth $4.00 most stores

Remicks Special Shoe

Always gives a good account of itself

$3.50 value for $3.25

Remicks Music Hall Block

CITY OF QUINCY

Office of the City Clerk.

Notice is hereby given that a Public Hearing will be held at the Council Chamber, City Hall, on Monday, May 3, 1915 at 8 o'clock P. M. on the following applications to maintain a garage of the third class and store gasoline at the following locations:—

Francis Abele, Jr. at 18 Spear Street; Russell T. Anthony at 24 Elm Avenue; John H. Ash at 237 Copeland Street; Herbert E. Clark at 61 Sheldon Street; F. W. & H. E. Crane at rear 11 Avon Way; Walter G. Crowell at 180 Davis Street; Mrs. S. W. Ellsworth at 180 Monroe Road; Henry M. Faxon at 300 Adams Street; Waldo B. Fay at 347 Newport Avenue; Calvin G. Fletcher at 73 Garfield Street; Fore River Shipbuilding Corp. at Howard Avenue; J. B. Geddes at 68 Standish Avenue; James P. Hinds at 46 Hudson Street; Daniel J. Holmes at 22 Berkeley Street; N. S. Hunting at 1136 Hancock Street; Edward E. Jameson at 58 Beach Street; C. R. Knight at 71 Beach Street; Fred P. Loud at 180 Beach Street; S. N. Mayo at 46 Sachem Street; J. W. Powell at rear 79 Goffe Street; Quincy Elec. Lt. & Power Co. at Summer & Water Streets; Quincy Lumber Co. at foot Pond Street; Edward H. Sears at 60 Elm Avenue; H. G. Smith at 215 Goffe Street; G. E. Sprague at foot River Street; George W. Stone at 102 Grand View Avenue; Swift & Co. at 18 Dimmock Street; DeWitt M. Taylor at 99 So. Central Avenue; J. N. White & Sons at 226 Copeland Street; R. Y. Woodbury at 77 Sea Avenue; John R. Nelson at 4 Brunswick Street; Otis H. Bates at 24 Tyler Street; Boston Gear Works at Hayward Street; Frank Burgess at 355 Highland Avenue; Mrs. John F. Welch at 1662 Hancock Street; Fred W. Brigham at Summit Avenue.

EMERY L. CRANE, City Clerk
Quincy, April 24, 1915 24-1t

CITY OF QUINCY

Office of City Clerk

Notice is hereby given that a Public Hearing will be held at the Council Chamber, City Hall, on Monday, May 3, 1915 at 8 o'clock, P. M., on the following applications to keep and store gasoline:—

Baker Yacht Basin at off McKinley Avenue; William Corcoran & Co. at 2 Grove Street; Edison Park Machine Co. at foot Edison Park, Erik Eklolm at 24 Deldorf Street; C. A. Litchfield at 1272 Sea Street; Fred P. Loud at 624 Hancock Street; W. T. S. Tribou at 180 Arlington Street.

EMERY L. CRANE, City Clerk
Quincy, April 24, 1915 24-1t

SUCCESSFUL RALLY

(Continued from Page Two.)

There is no woman so beautiful as a womanly woman. I should hate to see my mother, wife or children mixing up in some of the political rallies such as I have been in, and I hope the time will never come when they will. There is no doubt but some women are more intelligent than men and unfortunately the husband and wife will differ, but what would happen if they differed politically. What we need in our government is honest men. I do not believe that women could do any better under our present city charter than do the men If some of the women who called upon me at city hall during the period I was mayor, are the ones who are to decide these questions, the Lord help us. I doubt very much if the better class of women would use the right to vote. Is it worth while to tear down what we have built up?"

Mrs. A. J. George was then introduced and for nearly an hour she held the closest attention of her hearers. She is a very forcible and convincing speaker and is familiar with the question, from the fact that she was formerly a Suffragist. In her talk she said in part:

"Our suffrage friends still insist that the question of woman suffrage is a question of democracy. But this argument no longer deceives any one, because the suffragists themselves have furnished the answer to it. The foundation of democratic government is the consent of the governed. That implies majority rule. And so, when the suffrage pleaders demand woman suffrage because it is essential to democratic government they are proving our case for us, since it isn't the will of the majority of women that they be given the responsibilities and duties of political life.

"Women react upon government, just in proportion as they are alert, intelligent, well-informed and public-spirited, through the creation of an enlightened public opinion. Legislation is merely crystalized public opinion, and in the forming of that public, opinion well-informed women with the best interest of the state at heart are the only women who now have any influence.

But give her the ballot and woman's hands are now tied by party considerations, her influence would be lessened by party prejudice, and the ill-formed, selfish woman, whose public ideals were not of the highest, would have exactly the same power to impress herself upon the government through the ballot-box as would any other woman.

"One of the reasons advanced for the suffrage is that is is needed in the interest of the wage-earning woman. But the men of Massachusetts have always been generous toward wage-earning women in the laws they have placed upon our statute books, and they have always given precedence to women in laws respecting property rights and obligations, and in various other ways have shown that chivalry toward and regard for women which woman's different nature demands. And as conditions reveal the necessity, these laws will be made by men still more generous to women. But they will be made for the protection of women as women, and not as wage-earners, because the average wage-earning woman remains in the wage-earning class a short time relatively before she gets out of industry into the ranks of the women we are concerned with particularly—the women who have taken upon themselves, quite enthusiastically in most cases, the obligations of wifehood and motherhood.

"There are just two ways a married woman can vote—either with her husband or against him. If she votes with her husband, she merely adds to the vote without affecting the result. This is well illustrated in Chicago, where in the recent election 60 per cent. of the women who voted for mayor voted the Republican ticket and 40 per cent. voted the Democratic ticket, just as in the case of the men. The result would have been exactly the same had the women not voted, except that the cost of the election would have been materially less.

"It is clear, therefore, that unless the wife votes differently from her husband, nothing is accomplished but an increase in election expenses. But if she votes differently, then the family ceases to come in contact with the state as a unit, and we have the individual and not the family as the unit of society, which is one of the cardinal principles of socialism and feminism. The only consistent suffragist, therefore, is the socialist and the feminist, because they believe the result of woman suffrage will be to destroy the family as the unit of society and bring the man and the woman in contact with the state solely as individuals.

"It is for this reason that every socialist and every feminist is a woman suffragist, and it is for this reason I believe no man can vote for woman suffrage without, wittingly or unwittingly, voting for something which will either have no other effect than to add to the electorate and increase taxes, or will aid directly in the achievement of the destructive and immoral ends for which socialism and feminism stand."

NORTH WEYOUTHM

Bernice, George and Florence, children of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lane of Neck street are recovering from the measles.

Little Margaret Cole Denton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Denton has an attack of measles.

Eleanor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Poulin, is ill with bronchial pneumonia.

Mrs. John Wilder of Norwell visited her daughter, Mrs. Willis Keene, this week.

Mrs. Etta Ross has been the victim of a painful attack of rheumatism.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Tape of Dorchester have opened their Back river cottage for the summer.

J. A. Cooper and family of Montello have been at their cottage on Massasoit road for a few days.

A. E. Rhodes and family of Lowell have opened their Wessagussett residence.

Donald Hunt and Harold Woodworth of Dorchester are at their cottage on Brewster road for the season.

Mrs. K. E. Bean entertained the various squads of the Pilgrim Circle at her home on Pierce court Friday evening. The guests were in fancy costume, each attired to represent a book. Many clever impersonations were seen. Refreshments were served and a musical and literary program made a most enjoyable meeting.

Mrs. A. F. Denlinger had as recent guest William C. Horne of Dorchester. Mrs. Irving Morgan of Standish road has been entertaining her father David Lincoln a resident of Maine.

Joseph Buckley of Sea street was the local delegate to the Convention of Marine Architects held in New York.

William Shipp has leased his house on Evans road to Thomas Elilot, one of the members of the Pine Point Garage Co.

Frank J. Rose of the oBston office has covered the route of letter carrier Chester Stoddard, during his illness with grip.

Mrs. Lewis D. Loring of Birch Brow avenue has been entertaining her sister Miss Ruth Powers of Arlington.

John Cossaboom of Bridge street has accepted a position with a Providence, R. I., firm, and made the trip to that city via electric cars.

The annual meeting of the Ladies Cemetery circle was held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. E. B. Pratt. The following officers were elected: President Mrs. E. B. Pratt; 1st vice president, Mrs. Alice Drew; 2nd vice president, Mrs. Lottie Sampson; 3rd vice president, Mrs. Charles Dunbar; secretary, Mrs. George Ames; assistants Misses Lillian Curtis and Suie Pratt treaurer, Mrs. John Taylor; directors Mrs. E. F. Beals, Mrs. James Jones, Mrs. John Cushing, Mrs. Henry Dyer, Mrs. Manuel Page, Mrs. J. O. Goodspeed and Mrs. James French.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Edward A. Kerrigan, late of Quincy in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Mary A. Dolan of said Quincy without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the nineteenth day of May A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-third day of April A. D. 1915.

J. R. McCOOLE,
Register.
3t April 24-May 1-8

YOUR NEW SUIT

Gentlemen, before you go to buy a Ready-Made Suit, Take the Advice of

FRITZ, THE LEADING CUSTOM TAILOR

Fritz will satisfy your appearance, and you will get longer service from one of his Suits, so that it would pay you in the long run to have Fritz make you a Suit, Dress Suit or Overcoat. Now, this is a known fact, that we are, and have been, the leading tailors for the past 18 years.

We have a large assortment of the latest style woolens, and have the ability of making good clothes.

WE ALSO PAY STRICT ATTENTION TO

CLEANING. PRESSING. REPAIRING.

WE ARE OPEN EVENINGS.

Bernard Fritz & Son

7 Depot Street - - - - - Opposite City Hall

BRIEFS

Paul Butler of Atlantic street has almost entirely recovered from his recent sickness.

Welcome G. Young of Prospect street is spending the week in New York.

Miss Ruth Packard is to be the soloist Sunday at the service at the Universalist church.

Ex-Governor Foss was among the visitors to the Atlantic boulevard last Sunday.

Merrill Ward Castle, K. O. K. A. of the Universalist church is preparing an entertainment to be given in Murray hall May 7.

The Ladiies Benevolent society of Memorial church on Wednesday evening is to give the drama "Higbee of Harvard" in Atlantic Music hall.

Maurice Burt of Billings street who has been spending the winter in Stoughton visited his home over the holiday and is expecting to get back to Atlantic soon.

The Christian Endeavor Society of Memorial Congregational church is to give a Get-to-Gether social Monday evening, for all over sixteen years of age.

Following the custom of many years the Universalist church of Plymouth is to serve a May dinner next Saturday. Every May day people in this vicinity journey to Plymouth to enjoy the dinner and the town's attractions.

St. Chrysostoms Guild is to hold an all day sewing meeting Wednesday in the parish house beginning at ten o'clock. It will be a basket lunch with hot coffee served by the hostesses of the day. The missionary meeting will be held at half past two. The Guild is planning a sale for May 20.

The Old Colony Association of Universalists meets at Braintree next Friday with sessions at 10.30 and 1.30. Among the speakers will be Rev. Frank A. Powell pastor of All Souls church, Braintree, Rev. George L. Perin of Franklin Square house Boston and Rev. Charles E. Beale.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the Wollaston W. C. T. U. will be observed Friday evening April 30th in the Wollaston Methodist church. At 7 o'clock there will be a reception to the state president Mrs. Catherine L. Stevenson and the charter members. The program will begin at 7.45 and Mrs. Stevenson, Mayor Campbell and others will speak. It is expected that school children will take part. There will also be music and refreshments and all will be cordially welcomed.

A private dance was held in Electa hall last week for the benefit of John Hancock orchestra, the glide dances being especially enjoyed. About 40 couples were present. Shortly after eight o'clock partners were taken for the grand march, led by Mr. and Mrs. D. Eugene Luke, members of the order. Mr. Geanar of Atlantic was floor director assisted by Andrew Johnston of Wollaston. Fred Bent of Wollaston took up the tickets. At ten o'clock during intermission cake and ice cream were served by George Mitchell of Wollaston. The dance was a great success and many hope it will be repeated soon. The committee consisted of Mrs. Lena M. Merrill, Mrs. D. Eugene Luke, and Mrs. George H. Stebbins.

PRATT'S BREAD—is best because more care is used in the making.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

W. H. HASLETT
31 Bridge Street, Quincy
Tel. Quincy 1092 W

Petrosilo, sanitary and fireproof flooring, guaranteed to wear longer than hardwood floor. No joints One continuous piece.

Plastering and cementing concrete houses, outside stucco work, cement walks, steps and cellar floors. Give us a call.

Feb. 25 W. S. tf

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S
Tel. 1827-W Quincy

COAL PRICES REDUCED

STOVE	$7.25
EGG	$7.25
NUT	$7.50
FURNACE	$6.50
PEA	$5.50
LEHIGH EGG	$7.50
LEHIGH STOVE	$7.50
SHAMOKIN STOVE	$7.50
FRANKLIN STOVE	$8.50

Coal carried in baskets 25 cents per ton.
Bituminous Coal for Steam Use
We recommend Nut size for stove and range
Stove size for small furnaces and heaters
Egg size for large furnaces and heaters.
We advise placing your orders now as prices usually advance about July 1st.
Coal delivered in Quincy, Wollaston, Atlantic, and Norfolk Downs.

Frost Coal Co.

488 Neponset Ave., Neponset
TEL. 1500 DORCHESTER

April 3 Wed. & Sat. until July 1

Furniture Storage Warehouse
Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.
Rates $2---$3---$4 per month
HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.
1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.
Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26--tu.-th.s.-tf

Arthur B. Foster
CARPENTER and BUILDER
14 Bay View St., Quincy Point
Telephone Connection
31-1m

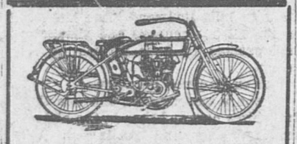

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton Directors
Street Floor, Greenleaf Block
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
Piano Instructions Voice
For Excellence
Private or Class Lessons
Tel. 539-M 31-tf

FURNITURE and PIANO MOVING
PACKING and STORAGE
William D. King
106 Center St., Tel. Quincy 21003
21tf

CHICHESTER S PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter-s Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

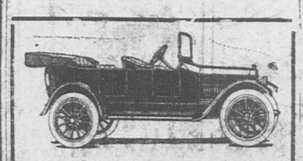

EDWARD J. FEGAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
830 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M
914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK
QUINCY.

WILLIAM R. DIMOCK
Carpenter and Builder
Plans furnished and estimates given. All work personally and promptly attended to 133 PROSPECT AVENUE
WOLLASTON
Telephone 1238 W Quincy.

1915 Harley Davidson Three-Speed
The Silent Grey-Fellow
11 h. p. motor, step-start, automatic oiler, Ful-Floating Seat and low riding position.
$200 to $275
LET US DEMONSTRATE IF TO YOU. CASH OR EASY TERMS
The Cross Company
EAST MILTON
Tels. Milton 793-M, 1358-M
MOTOR HARLEY-DAVIDSON CYCLES

CARPENTER AND BUILDER
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
All Work Given Prompt Attention
W. R. LOFGREN
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 898-3

JACKSON
Model 46
THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL, SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER
"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"
Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT
$1375
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING
WALL PAPER FOR SALE
KUSTAA RASANEN
121 Copeland St., West Quincy
Tel. Con. 19-tf

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.
will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.
OFFICE AT
96 WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY
Tel. 618

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhœa. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years

The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Reduction in Prices.

Your attention is called to the reduced spring prices on Anthracite Coal as follows

Lehigh Stove and Egg	$7.50
White Ash Stove and Egg	7.25
White Ash Nut	7.50
Shamokin Stove and Egg	7.50
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75
Pea	5.50
Franklin	8.50

We recommend the placing of your order at this time to insure the low prices.

Nothing but All Rail Clean Coal handled and delivered right by careful experienced drivers.

QUINCY COAL CO.

OFFICE and YARD

Penn St., Quincy Tel. 47-M

Ap. 7 1mo.

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE

Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit

WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS

Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.

Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys

1506-1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block

Jan. 26-tu.-th.-s.-tf

WE have the largest and most complete stock of Oriental Rugs in Boston and can always show you a greater assortment than you can find elsewhere.

JOHN H PRAY & SONS CO

646-650 Washington St., opp. Boylston St.

All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy

REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY

Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON

SUNDAY SERVICES

FIRST PARISH IN QUINCY (Unitarian)—City Square, Rev. Adelbert Lathrop Hudson, minister. Residence, Miller Stile Inn, Tel. 423M, office hours at church 9 to 12 A. M. Monday, Wednesday and Friday Tel. 1290. Morning service at 10.30. Subject of sermon by the minister "Heretics." Sunday School at 12 noon, Miss Minnie Packard, Supt. Meeting of Willing Workers at 3.30 P. M.

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Junction Hancock and Chestnut streets. Rev. Benjamin Aspinwall Lott, Pastor. Morning service at 10.30 Message by the pastor. Topic "If it had not been for Jesus." 12, Bible School. Classes for all ages 6.00 Christian Endeavor meeting. 7.30 Pleasant Sunday Evening Service, Topic: "Who Are You."

FIRST SPIRITUALIST CHURCH—Electa Hall Johnson building, Hancock street, Quincy Meeting at 7.30 P. M. Mrs. Lottie Brooks supported by local talent. Come and hear your own folks.

FIRST UNIVERSALIST CHURCH—Washington Street, Quincy. Rev. Merrill C. Ward, pastor; Residence 62 Dunster road, Jamaica Plain. Telephone Jamaica 1950. Sunday School at 2 P. M. 3 P. M. Service Sermon by the pastor. Subject: "The Blue Bird of Happiness." 4.15 P. M., Y. P. C. U. Subject, "Lives of Great Men."

CHRIST CHURCH, EPISCOPAL—Quincy corner Elm street and Quincy avenue. Rev. William Grainger, minister. 8.00 A. M. Holy Communion. 10.45 A. M. Morning prayer and sermon. 7.30 P. M. Evening prayer and sermon.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST—Quincy, Alpha Hall, cor. Hancock street and Cottage ave. Morning service and Sunday School at 10.45 Subject: "Probation After Death." Golden Text: "He knoweth the way that I take: when he hath tried me, I shall come forth as gold." Wednesday 7.45 a testimony and experience meeting. Reading room open from 3 to 5 P. M. week days, holidays excepted. Also Wednesday evening before and after services.

ASSOCIATED BIBLE STUDENTS (undenominational) Hancock Hall, Hancock Building Quincy Centre. Free Bible Lecture Sunday at 3 P. M. speaker: Homer W. Colby of Boston Topic: "The power of the New Mind." At 7 P. M. there will be shown the first part of Pastor Russell's Photo-Drama of Creation. This past traces creation from star Nebula to the Deluge and its causes on to Moses-time. The other two parts will be shown on the two Sunday evenings following. All are cordially invited. Seats free. No Collection

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH—Franklin Street Rev. C. C. Tilley, Pastor. Residence 26 Richie Road. Preaching Service at 10.30 A. M. Subject: "The Christian's Photograph." Sunday School at 11.45. Christian Endeavor meeting at 6. Subject: "The Bible, The World's Supreme Book." Leader: Miss Alice Tilley Scripture Deuteronomy 6:4-9. Evening Service at 7. Subject: "The Imperial Will." Regular prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7. 0. All cordially welcome

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Water and Quincy Streets. Rev. Clarence E. Campbell minister. Residence 95 Quincy Street. Telephone Quincy 884 W. 10.30 Morning Service with a sermon on "Christ's teachings of Non-resistance" second in the war series. 11.45 Sunday School and Men's Class. 3 P. M. Children's service. 6.00 Christian Endeavor. 7.00 At the Evening service an address on "Atonement in Modern Experience, beginning a series of modern interpretation of great church doctrines.

FIRST UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Corner of School and Pleasant streets. Rev. D. B McLeod, M. A., pastor. Residence 40 Bradford St. Preaching by the pastor at 10.30 and 7.30 Sabbath school and Bible class 11.45. Junior Endeavor at 3. Senior Christian Endeavor at 6.30. Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7.30

ST. PAUL'S SWEDISH M. E. CHURCH Corner Granite and Fort Streets Quincy, Rev. Newton F. Sundstrom, pastor. Residence 22 Ritchie Road. Morning service at 10.30. Sermon by the pastor. Subject: "The Word in Eternity, in the World, and in the Flesh." Sunday School at 12m. Mr. David Wohlander Superintendent. Epworth League meeting at 6.30 P. M. Miss Ellen Holmgren leader. Evening service at 7.30 Sermon by the pastor, Subject: "They need not depart." St. Paul's celebrated Male Quartette and the Church Choir under the able leadership of Miss Walborg Peterson will participate.

HALL PLACE M. E. CHURCH—West Quincy, Rev. P. S. Neldon, pastor, Residence, 12 Hall Place. Morning service at 10.30. Preaching by the pastor on "Feeding the Five Thousand." Sunday School at 11.45 A. M. Epworth League Devotional service 6.00 P. M. Leader: Miss Bessie Nicholls. Evening praise and preaching service at 7 P. M.

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL — Corner Lincoln and Winthrop avenues. Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, Ph. D., pastor. Res. No. 30 Marion street, Tel. Quincy 1116 M. Sunday Morning Children's Hour in the Vestry, in charge of Miss Lucile Smalley. A service for small children whose parents are attending Morning Worship. Kindergarten classes in charge of Mrs. Charles P. Hutchins. Mixed Bible class led by Dr. Sneath Morning Worship at 10.45, sermon by the pastor, Subject: "Mark, The Young Christian." 2 Tim 4-11 Sunday School at 12.15. Mr. Charles A Campbell, Supt. Kindergarten class in charge Mrs. Chas. P. Hutchins. Women's Bible class led by Mrs. A. A. Lincoln. Mixed Bible class conducted by Dr. Sneath. Leader: Olive Hillman Intermediate Endeavor society at 4.30 Topic "The Bible, the World's Supreme Book." Leader: Hildegard Ducey. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6. P. M Topic: "Korea." Leader: Miss Ruth Taylor Regular Midweek service on Thursday evening at 7.45 conducted by Dr. Sneath. Topic: "A Study of the accounts of the Lord's Supper." All seats free, and all are cordially invited to attend these services. Come and help and be helped.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST CHURCH—Cor. Prospect and Warren avenues. Rev. Joseph Walther pastor. Prayer meeting at 10.15 in Pinkham class room. Kindergarten for children whose parents are attending morning service at 10.45 in Primary Department room. Morning service at 10.45 Preaching by the pastor. Subject: "Christ's Marvellous Works Today." Sunday School 12.15 Elford L. Durgan Supt. Subject: "David and Goliath." Junior Endeavor at 3.30 Mrs. Joseph Walther Supt. Subject: "A Story about Two Debtors." Leader: Elsie Wilson. 6, Senior Endeavor meeting. Subject: "The Bible, The World's Supreme Book." Leader: Charles M. Roach. Evening service at 7.00 The pastor will preach. Subject: "Fact or Fable, which?"

WOLLASTON METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH—Rev. George Mervyn Bailey, pastor, Residence, 52 Brook Street Telephone, Quincy 1045 A. M. Divine worship. Sermon by the pastor Theme: "The Life Giving River." 12 m. Sunday School, J. A. Sedgwick, Supt. Pastor in charge of men's class. 6 P. M. Epworth League Devotional Hour in charge of Queen Esther Circle. Speaker:—Mrs. S. W. Coy, Secretary of Young People's Work for the W. H. M. S. 7 P. M. Song Service, Topic: "The Influence of Thought upon Character."

ST. CHRYSOSTOMS EPISCOPAL CHURCH—Hancock street. Wollaston—Rev. Frederick H. Steenstra, rector, residence, the rectory. 523 Hancock street. 8.00 A. M. Holy Communion. Morning prayer, and sermon at 10.30. Kindergarten at 10.30. Sunday School at 12. Evening prayer and address 7.00.

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN CHURCH—Corner Beale and Farrington streets. "An House of Prayer for all People." Rev. Carl G. Horst, minister. Residence 39 Grand View avenue. Telephone Quincy 317-1. The church auditorium is equipped with earphones. Kindergarten for children of three years and over in the vestry in charge of a trained Kindergartner 10.45. Service of worship with sermon by the minister on "The Theatre, Card Playing and Dancing—may a Christian indulge in These?" at 10.45. Sunday School at 12 M. in charge of Superintendent Mrs. H. C. Needham, classes for all. Boston Federation of Y. P. R. U's meeting in Second Church at 4 and 7. Seats are free and a cordial welcome to all.

MEMORIAL CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—Atlantic. Rev. Thomas W. Davison, pastor Morning service 10.45. Sermon by the pastor. Subject: "The Catholicity of Christianity." Sunday School at 12 M. Junior Endeavor at 3.30 P. M. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6 P. M. Evening service at 7 Address by the pastor. A cordial welcome to all.

FIRST CHURCH OF SQUANTUM—Rev. T. W. Davison, pastor. Sunday School at 3 P. M. Church service at 4 P. M. Sermon by the pastor. Theme: "The Church and Other Organizations." A cordial welcome to all.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To all persons interested in the trusts under the will of Hannah F. Ford, late of Quincy, in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by John J. O'Hara of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, praying to be appointed trustee to fill vacancy under the will of said deceased, which has been proven in said Court. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, on the twelfth day of May A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-second day of April in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t April 24-May 1-8

No. 5276.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
LAND COURT.

To Robert F. Owens and Catherine F. Donnelly of Brockton, in the County of Plymouth and said Commonwealth; to the City of Quincy, a municipal corporation located in the County of Norfolk, and said Commonwealth; Charles W. Hall of Quincy in said County of Norfolk; Patrick Murphy, Sands, Taylor and Woods Company and the Barrett Manufacturing Company of Boston in the County of Suffolk, and said Commonwealth; Judson W. Maxim of Warren, in the County of Worcester and said Commonwealth; Otto E. Freeman, residence unknown, or his heirs, devisees or legal representatives; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by John A. Hester of said Brockton, to register and confirm his title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Quincy, bounded and described as follows: Comprising the lot numbered nine (9) in section three (3) as shown on the Plan entitled "Plan of Portion of Section three of the Manet Land Associates' Lands at Hough's Neck, Quincy, Mass. July, 1890" and recorded in the book of plans in the Norfolk County Registry of Deeds. Said parcel of land is bounded, Northerly by land of parties unknown, there measuring forty-five (45) feet; Easterly by lots ten (10) and eleven (11) on said plan, there measuring one hundred (100) feet; Southerly by Bell Street, there measuring forty-five (45) feet; and Westerly by lot eight (8) on said plan, there measuring one hundred (100) feet; and containing forty-five hundred square feet of land.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition, and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

You are hereby cited to appear at the Land Court to be held at Boston, in the County of Suffolk, on the tenth day of May A. D. 1915 at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, Charles Thornton Davis, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixteenth day of April in the year nineteen hundred and fifteen.

Attest with Seal of said Court.
(Seal.)
CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder
3t April 17-24 May 1

LEWIS N. CURTIS

PAINTER and GLAZIER

LEADED STAINED GLASS

DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER

OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED

Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.

Cosy upper 4 room and bath flat, 122 Glendale Road, $19.

H. F. McIntire
Greenleaf Blk
Tel. Quincy 1665-W.

Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.

1-1 yr.

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET — Furnished flat of six rooms, modern improvements, nice locality, 12 minutes from Quincy station and 4 minutes from electric cars. Write M. G. J. Ledger Office. 24-9t

TO LET—Two rooms, furnished for light housekeeping. Gas range, electric lights and privilege of bath and laundry. Also one single room. Desirable parties only. 34 Chestnut street, corner Foster street. 23-tf

FOR SALE or TO LET—New two-flat house on Kittredge avenue. Each flat has 5 rooms and bath, all modern improvements, coal and gas range, electric lights. Inquire at 11 Ring avenue off Washington street. 23-6t

TO LET—Seven room flat, all modern improvements, situated at 43 Dysart street. Possession given May 1, 39 Dysart street. 21-tf

TO LET—2 furnished rooms, modern conveniences with or without board. Could be used for professional purposes. Apply at 71 School St. 21-6t

TO LET—Upper and lower flats, 14 and 16 Wibird street. All improvements. Five rooms and bath, large attic with upper flat. Call Miss Newcomb, 49 Newcomb street. 21-6t

TO LET—6 room tenements, all improvements. Apply to C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 20-tf

TO LET—Tenement of 7 rooms, all improvements. Rent $25. Apply 233 Washington street. 20-6t

TO LET—Modern apartment, near high school; two-family house, everything separate; 7 rooms and bath; electricity and gas. Apply A. D. Cossaboom, 95 Merrymount road; Tel. 1374-M. 15-12t

TO LET—Lower flat in two-family house. Living room, dining room, bedroom, kitchen and bathroom, pantry, good closets and cellar. Coal and gas range, furnace, electric lights. Every convenience. Rent $20. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 13-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 7-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house, 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2. Quincy or 110 South street, Boston, Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

TO LET

TO LET—Upper apartment 91 Revere road, 6 rooms, gas and coal range gas light. Rent reduced to $18. Small adult family. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1 Quincy. 23-tf

TO LET—Suite of 3 furnished rooms all modern improvements, reasonable rent, 132 Marlboro stret. 22-3t

TO LET—Tenement of six rooms at 8 Mechanic street. Apply to E. D. Barrett, 27 Revere road. tf

TO LET—To small family of adults, several sunny attractive half houses, all improvements, centrally located, $21, $23 and $25 per month and water rates. Tel. Quincy 174-2, Charles H. Hardwick, 111 Washington street. 10-12t

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements. 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 13-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Spars, sails, running gear and steering wheel for a 25 ft. sloop at a bargain, in best of condition C. W. Sears, rear of 403 Washington street, Quincy. 24-6t

FOR SALE—Handsome mare, 3 1-2 years old, with pedigree, thoroughly broken. Apply to Jennie Cross, 12 A Liberty street, South Braintree. 23-3t

FOR SALE—Building 15x20. Must be moved within 30 days. F. A. Thayer, 537 South street. 23-3t

FOR SALE—Cows, one car load of extra fine new milch cows, at barns of H. G. Pope, Squantum. Come and buy now. Tel. Quincy 2267-W. 23-3t

TO LET—House of three rooms. Apply Hammond place, off Water street. 23-6t

FOR SALE—Stoddard Dayton Roadster in first class condition, top, windshield, full equipment. Will sell cheap Apply to Mrs. John F. Welch, corner Hancock and Elm streets. 23-tf

FOR SALE—1914 Overland Runabout, model 79, Gray & Davis starting and lighting system, 114 inch wheel base, 35 H. P. Cost $1300, fully equipped Will sell for $650. Write N. Ledger Office. 22-3t

FOR SALE—At 25 Beacon street at a bargain, 6 room house and small cottage. Handy to cars. Apply at 33 Beacon street, Quincy Point. 22-3t

FOR SALE—Milk wagon, strong, good condition, also Democrat, two seats, painted and varnished, both at a bargain. Must be sold. Ellis, 50 Squantum street, East Milton. 22-6t

FOR SALE—7 passenger auto. Excellent for Jitney service. Can be bought very low. Write D. R. Ledger office. 21-4t

FOR SALE—One mission set, chiffonier, and a morris chair, practically new. Apply between 3 and 6, Room 7 Durgin and Merrill block. 21-6t

FOR SALE—Buggy, sleigh, harnesses and robes. Apply Dr. T. J. Dion, 59 Cross street, West Quincy. 20-5t

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-tf. L P.

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

MISCELLANEOUS

FREE TO ANY WOMAN—Beautiful 42-piece, Gold decorated Dinner set for distributing 3 dozen cakes Complexion Soap FREE with other products among friends: no money needed. TYRRELL WARD, 216 Institute, Chicago. 24-1t

SOMEONE—Please answer who will take a very fine new piano into their home and use carefully. Privilege of buying later on easy terms if desired. Wish to move at once. Write for full particulars, M. L. M., Ledger Office. 24-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

TO LET

Large Room 30 x 36

Second Floor

Savings Bank Building

Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes

Quincy Savings Bank

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.

Nov

WANTED

WANTED—At once boys over 18 years of age. Apply at factory of Edmund S. Hunt & Sons Co., Weymouth. 24-3t

WANTED—Man over 30 years old to travel for us this Spring and all Summer, making these towns: Braintree, Brookline, Dedham, E. Braintree, Foxboro, Franklin, Holbrook, Hyde Park, Needham, Norfolk, Norwood, Quincy, Randolph, Walpole, Sharon, Wellesley, Weymouth. GLEN BROS., Rochester, N. Y. 24-2t

WANTED—Cook, 2nd, parlor, general, mother's helpers, green maids, first class position, best of wages, reliable help furnished. Oldest employment office in city. L. M. Flynn, 22 Maple street, next to Post Office. Phone 2235 W. 23-3t

WANTED—Girls to work on clothing, power machines. Experienced girls preferred. Rhodes Ripley Clothing Co., Hingham. 22-6t

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

M. T. SULLIVAN

Real Estate Insurance

Auctioneer Care of Property

Justice of the Peace

Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

TO LET

After May 1, Store or Stores No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.

Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.

22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.

Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up

Offices and Desk Room.

City Square Office, Hancock Bld.

Small front office.

Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.

City Square Store House or Shop —ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.

City Square Club Room or Hall —28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK

CITY SQUARE

(Best location in City.)

Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.

Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.

Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS

Our new $300 Victrola with latest dance records is available.

Music Hall—Music Hall Block— capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.

Colonial Hall—Hancock Building —City Square—capacity 200—best possible location for a Hall.

Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.

Ask for Mr. Knipe.

Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21656) Quincy

BE WISE

FOOL THE FLIES

HAVE YOUR SCREENS RE-COVERED NOW

TELEPHONE OR WRITE

HOLMES & HALL

1179 HANCOCK ST.

TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

The BIGGEST VALUES IN MENS

Good Suits Ever Known

Believing that money is not very loose, and understanding this community's labor conditions, we planned to give the Quincy public a suit of clothes which would stand hard wear and give long service at a price within reach of every man.

This feat, Men, at first seemed impossible, but we had to get a lower priced suit and at the same time give high-grade clothing. We know these suits are getting big prices in Boston, and they are worth every cent of $18 and $20.

COPYRIGHT 1915 THE HOUSE OF KUPPENHEIMER

The charming styles, the splendid fabrics—the excellence of these suits at prices lower than ever placed on such fine clothes make this the greatest selling achievement in our history. Suits with the new large soft roll lapel, either patch or plain pocket styles, for snappy young dressers and men who want to dress young, as well as conservative styles. EVERY SUIT GUARANTEED.

$13.50 $16.50

FINE SPRING KUPPENHEIMER CLOTHES

The young man's idea of style is splendidly portrayed in the new spring suits. They make a splendid appeal to the young men who feel they've a right to dress in a way that characterizes youth.

$18.00 $19.50 $22.50 $25.00 $27.00

OTHER SERVICEABLE GOOD SUITS $6.50 up to $10.00

TRIPLE TOE HOSE
The sox are guaranteed to be made from best quality Pure Silk Lisle. The toes and heels are made Triple toe and will outwear any other socks made.
25c

Novelties in Neckwear

35c Value	21c
50c Value	35c
75c Value	48c

Legal Stamps Always

Light Weight Underwear
Shirt and Drawers
25c 35c 45c
Union Suits
65c to $1.50

New Shirt Patterns

Bates Street	$1.50
Our Special	$1.15
$1 Negligee	79c

THE WIDE-AWAKE STORE REMICK'S MUSIC HALL BLOCK

GROUND GRIPPER WALKING SHOE

MEDICAL CURE FOR FLAT-FOOT SOLD FROM COAST TO COAST

THREE Leaders

Ground Grippers
The Medical Cure for Flat Foot and Arch Trouble

This Shoe is worn and recommended by doctors as the Correct Shoe for foot trouble

THE FINEST MEDIUM-PRICED SHOE MADE

LA FRANCE SHOE for WOMEN

We have this Shoe in all the Spring Styles, and in widths from AA to EE.

$3.50 AND $4.00

Made in Brockton and considered the BEST MENS' SHOE made there.

The Elite

$4.00 TO $5.00

See These Good Shoes Today

GRANITE SHOE STORE

AUDITORIUM THEATRE

SPECIAL STUDEBAKER FILM
Highly Educating, Instructive and Interesting

BIG SHOW
8 REELS

of good pictures. Come and enjoy yourselves this afternoon and evening.

FREE SPECIAL FREE

With every admission ticket we will give absolutely free a 5c package of Wrigley's Spearmint Gum.

SEE THE SHOW THIS AFTERNOON AND EVENING

MRS. HARRIET A. FULLER.

George S. Bass of Edison street and Miss Elizabeth M. Brewer of Presidents Hill were called to Milford, N. H., this week to attend the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Harriet A. Fuller, widow of Andrew Fuller who died Sunday, aged 76 years. Mrs. Fuller was a sister of the late Mrs. John B. Bass and during the life of Mrs. Bass she was a frequent visitor to Quincy where she made many warm friends, who mourn her death. Mrs. Fuller was born in Miford, N. H. were she always made her home in that town.

Spooners
Auto Exchange
Agents for Studebaker
Velie
JACKSON Automobiles
Demonstrated at our Garage
64 Revere Rd
Tel. Quincy 454

USED CAR SALE
1913 FORD TOURING CAR IN PERFECT CONDITION. WHITE TOURING CAR, DETACHABLE TONNEAU. SUITABLE FOR LIGHT DELIVERY.

These cars are all in first-class condition and at very low prices
GIVE US A CALL

PRESENT WATCHES TO BROMLEY AND LAROSE

Boys Department Give Gymnastic Exhibition

Retiring Secretary A. Fitch Bromley and Retiring Physical Director L. F. LaRose of the Y. M. C. A. were presented with handsome gold watches at the fifth annual gymnastic exhibition of the Boys' Department at the gym Friday evening.

The gifts were from the board of directors and the presentations were made by Frank Burgess, president of the association. In his speeches he spoke of the good work of both officials since their appointment.

More genuine surprises haven't been sprung at any event in the city. The presentations were made shortly before the close of the program and the hearty acknowledgements of the recipients created considerable applause.

Mr. LaRose was also remebered by the boys and was given a large square box, wrapped in white paper and carefully sealed. Eric Nelson who made the presentation did not announce its contents.

The pleasure of the evening was marred by the injury of Maurice Berry during the "Corp Cutter." The event is similar to jump rope and differs only in that the rope is swung in a circle. Young Berry was one of two who had not been eliminated and his judgment was so keen it seemed as though he would win the event. The rope tipped his heel, however, and wound about his legs and he fell to the floor, dislocating his left wrist.

Berry was quickly assisted to his feet and walked off the floor unassisted. He was treated by Dr. Harold E. Diehl who was a spectator. The audience was not aware of the accident until the evening was over.

The Princeton team, winner of the fall schedule, was given its ribbons The fortunate ones were Capt. Herbert Hendry, Roger Ahlstrom, Gusta Wester, Joseph Beal, Maurice Connel, Stuart Dimmock, Elmer Johnson, Jr., Russell Arnold, William Torrey, Charles Anderson.

The winter schedule was won by the Carlisle combination;— Capt. Gusta Wester, E. Robbie, Joseph Beale, C. Nelson, A. McLennan, R. Berry, R. Arnold, E. Wetzler, Robert Guston, R. Moulton, W. Thompson. The final percentages were Carlisle 9.04, Yale 81.9, Harvard 52.7fi Dartmouth 45.9. They were given blue ribbons.

The exhibition program opened shortly after eight o'clock. There were 33 boys in the calisthenic drill which had all the elements of military precision. Maze running, led by Everett Robbie followed.

Four divisions of apparatus work brought all on the floor at once in different events. The horse work was led by Eric Nelson, Sydney Maxwell and Stuart Dimmock. The parallel bars portion was led by Herbert Hendry, Everett Robbie and Theo Brown.

The buck and mat work was led by Roger Ahlstrom, Joseph Beal, and Stanley Jenkins. William Torrey, Maurice Berry and Newton Dodge led the high jump and mat division.

In the window jump exhibition Teddie Brown and Roger Ahlstrom succeeded in getting through a frame 20 by 22 inches wide. The saw buck boxing event resulted in Everett Robbie, a clever glove man, taking the court through a sharp chin punch. Both boys were astride horses set close together and both faced opposite directions. Robbie "faked" the knockout in the third round.

The Indian club relay race for Cadets was won by a team consisting of Donald and Allen Cummings, Carl Mattson, Richard Loud and Maurice Berry.

The basket ball resulted in Dartmouth, Capt. W. Torrey, beating Harvard Capt. Newton Dodge, 11 to 2, and Carlistle, Capt Gusta Wester winning over Yale, Capt. James Meda, by a score of 10 to 5.

The affair was under the personal direction of Mr. LaRose and the fine exhibition was complimentary to what he has accomplished annually since coming here five years ago.

The swimming pool was the mecca after the exhibition and many parents saw their boys disporting.

CHANGES COURT CALENDAR

An important change has been made in the calendar of the district court by Judge Avery who anounced that Juvenile court sessions would be held on the second and fourth Fridays instead of the second and fourth Thursdays as at present. The change becomes effective immediately.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER

Garden Seeds

All kinds of good, fresh seeds for your garden

Peas
Beans
Corn
Lettuce

Perfect satisfaction
Prices Right

W. WESTLAND
The Hardware Man
1597 Hancock St.

BRIEFS

Hilda Sandberg of Bellevue Park is ill with diphtheria.

William Chapman of South Central avenue, has gone to Norfolk, Va., for a few days outing.

The vested choir of Bethany church have presented Rev. B. A. Willmott with a group picture of themselves. Miss Marion Mitchell, vice president made the presentation.

Miss Margaret Schatzel, a popular pupil in the freshman class at the High school is confined to her home by a severe attack of the grip.

The regular meeting of the Chickatambut Social club was held last evening and it was voted to start at once to secure games with the other local base ball teams for the coming season.

The Woman's auxiliary of the Montclair Improvement association gave an afternoon tea in association hall Thursday afternoon. The hostesses were Mrs. Arthur. Mrs. rFed Drown and Mrs. Frank Burn. Each woman present was supposed to do a "stunt" for the entertainment of the others.

The S. M. T. A. Girls held a meeting Friday evening in St. Mary's hall to further plans for their first grand may party which will be held Friday evening, May 14th. After the meeting a social hour was enjoyed. Miss Mary Badot presided at the piano and the balance of the evening was enjoyed by dancing.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

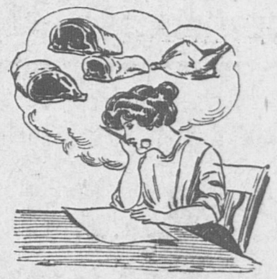

TO LET—Quincy centre, 18 Faxon avenue, modern suite, 6 rooms and bath. Every improvement. Three minutes from R. R. station. Telephone 414-M. Weymouth 24-tf

WANTED—4 or 5 room flat between depot and Fore River Shipyard. Rent reasonable. Write A. R. Ledger Office 24-3t

WANTED—Girl 17 years would like position taking care of child. Write C D. Ledger Office. 24-3t

WANTED—A licensed man to fire vertical boiler and take care of steam pump. Write at once "A" Ledger Office. 24-3t

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1483 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

What to Have For Dinner

is easily settled if you will come to our markets. Here you will find the choicest Beef, Veal, Lamb, Pork and Poultry. No matter what you choose, your dinner will prove a delight. Put this to the test.

Fresh Killed Fowl	lb. 20c
Sugar Cured Smoked Shoulder	lb. 11c
Corn Spare Ribs	lb. 10c
Fresh Green Spinach	pk. 18c
Newly dug Dandelions	pk. 25c
Choice California Asparagus	double bunch 28c
Hot House Cucumbers, long green	each 12c
Round Radishes	bunch 5c
Crisp Rhubarb	lb. 8c
Fancy Large Lettuce	head 8c
New Fresh Pineapples	2 for 25c
Large Juicy Grape Fruit	3 for 25c
Sunkist Lemons	doz. 20c
Good Sweet Naval Oranges	doz.23c
Imported Cookies, choice mixture	lb. 29c

ADAMS MARKET
City Square
Phone 1980

FOY'S
2 STORES

WATER STREET
Cor. Quincy
Phone 147

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 97 QUINCY, MASS., MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 26, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

SAYS SOME STREETS IN WOLLASTON TOO GOOD

Rev. Ayres Points to Macadamized Roads Almost Unused

In the course of his Sunday morning sermon on "The Value of Life," Rev. Wm. B. Ayres, pastor of the Park and Downs Congregational church, made reference to the fine streets which are being laid out in many parts of Wollaston. He said there were fine macadamized roads being built where there was not traffic enough to justify the expenditure and over which few wheels ever turned; but because men had gone in groups to city hall and brought pressure to have such roads built.

"Down in West Quincy," he said, the streets are neglected and many of them do not possess the semblance of a sidewalk. This is class selfishness. The man in Wollaton should be interested in giving a decent street to the man in West Quincy and the money of the city should not be spent on my street just because I live on it. Every man ought, if he has any sense of brotherhood or fair play at all, to see that the other fellow gets a fair share of the improvements. Another man's life is just as valuable perhaps as yours and should be beautiful and blest."

The speaker said that the tendency of industry and commerce today was to degrade rather than to exalt life.

"The cheapest thing in the world today is the human life. It is cheaper than steel or iron or live stock. Daily human lives are being sacrificed to these things. Employers find it easier to replace injured or slaughtered help than to buy mechanical safe guards to human life. Science degrades life by reducing it to atoms and cells. But the Bible seeks to lift man up. In our text it says that man was created but little lower than the God who made him.

"That at least gives a man a good starting place.

"The trouble with most of us is that we degrade ourselves far below what we were naturally meant to be. Very few of us are living up to our own powers. God means great things for us but we do not give the divine forces within us a chance to expand. He sent Jesus to show us what he would have us become and the heights to which we are called."

THE WEATHER

There is no telling what the spring fever may accomplish. Here's the Honorable Eugene Noble Foss doing the self abnegation act. To Charles Sumner Bird, leader of Massachusetts Progressives, he says: "Charlie if you will run for the Republican nomination and will make Prohibition an issue, I, Eugene Noble, will be noble, renounce my own political aspirations and do all I can to help you." Is this self abnegation or is it a shrewd political move? The weather man does not know even though he can tell which way the wind is blowing.

Although the early morning did not give promise of being a very pleasant day the W. M. promises that today and Tuesday will be pleasant and that the temerature will rise slowly, although moderate variable winds will prevail.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	4.46
Sun sets	6.39
Length of day	12.53
Moon rises	3.19
High water, A. M.	9.15
High water, P. M.	9.30
Days increase 4 hrs. 47minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	68 degrees
Apr. 26, 1914,	42 degrees
Apr. 26, 1913,	74 degrees

Noon Maximum 18 years—86
Noon Minimum 18 years—30

CONDUCT TWO WEEKS MISSION

Redemptorists Mission Fathers, conducting a two weeks' mission for the members of St. John's parish, strongly declared agianst war inall its phases at the Sunday services.

Prayers were offered for the peace of Europe and that the United States might be enabled to keep out of the turmoil and strife. They declared war to be too terrible to imagine and termed it an agent of destruction. Thousands they said, are meeting their God, horribly mangled, and many are in the prime of life,and the terrible sacrifice is being made in oredr that wordly supremacy might be secured.

In opening the mission the visiting fathers announced this week would be for the women and next week for the men. In speaking of the purpose of the mission they said all were expected to attend and that social engagements must not be given the preference over matters of faith. There is no aristocracy in the Catholic church, tehy declared, for add, rich and poor are sinners who should make an effort to save their souls.

The Redemptorists conducting the mission are Fr. John O'Leary and Father Kenzel. The altter is ewll konwn throughout the archdiocese of Boston and is the author of the religious play, "Pilate's Daughter, given annually at Roxbury. Sermons and instructions on devotion were given at all masses and at the evening services which closed with Benediction by Fr. M. J. Iwens, pastor. The mission masses are at five and eight o'clock and the evening services at 7.745. Hundreds are attending.

BALL PLAYER GETS SENTENCE

Judge Avery Puts Case on Probation, However

Willam F. Rudderham of Randolph a well known base ball payer today was sentencel to a year i nthe house of correction by Judge Avery on a statutory charge. Sentence was suspended for a year with the understanding he would pay $$2 per week to Probation Officer Fahy, the same to be turned over to the Boston Childrens Aid society.

AUTO STRIKES LITTLE GIRL

The second auto accident on Washington street within two weeks took place Saturday afternoon when Ruth Myatt, 11 years, daughter of the late Joseph Myatt of 27 Beacon street was struck by a machine operated by a man who said he was J. A. McAuley o f 440 Newbury street, Boston.

He brought the little girl to the office of Dr. Sidney C. Hardwick, who found no fractures, only a cut on the forehead and a few bruises. She was taken home.

Mr. McAuley said he was running carefully and coul d not avoid striking the child who got in his path.

MUNICIPAL CAT PROUD MOTHER

There are some new occupants in one of the rooms in the basement of city hall, the municipal cat having given birth to twins. They are finding a home at present in a closet in the office of the sealer of weights and measures office.

SAVARTONI FUNERAL.

The funeral of Stephano Savartoni who died at the hospital Friday from paralysis, the result of a fractured spine, took place at St. John's church Sunday afternoon. Services were conducted by Fr. Walter A. Quinlan and were largely attended. Burial was in Mt. Wollaston cemetery.

LAWRENCE H. JELLOW.

Lawrence H . Jellow, the six year old son of Benjamin and Christina Jellow died Friday from meningitis, superinduced by an abscess of the ear The funeral took place from the home of the parents at 324 Adams street Sunday afternoon with a good attendance. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

SPRING FAIR

The annual spring fair and supper of the Park and Downs Congregational church will be held Wednesday afternoon and evening under the auspices of the Women's Guild. Supper will be served at 6 P. M.

BLACKS CREEK IS NAVIGABLE

Parkway Contractor Tows Lighter to Wharf

The cotnracting firm of John Cashman & Sons Co., demonstrated this morning that Black's creek was a navigable waterway and can be developed for such purposes when with the aid of a 20 horse. power motor boat their No. 1, lighter, one of the Atlantic coast, was towed up the winding stream and tied up to the old wharf which has been used for nothing but fishing berths for smelters the past 20 years.

The lighter is 100 feet long, 40 feet wide and draws six feet. Its load consisted of two locomotives of the yard type. a heavy hoisting engine, a tractor engine, hundreds of sleepers, several hundred feet of light rail, guy ropes of steel and several thousand feet of rope. All are now unloaded.

The lighter was towed from the Boston yard of the company to the deep water limits by an ocean going tug and the light launch picked her up within sight of shore. This morning was chosen because of the flood tide at eight o'clock and in addition to the extra swell the company had the advantage of several inches of water blown inshore by the easterly winds the past few days.

The attempt was a successful experiment because the winding channel of the creek at points becomes almost right angles the danger point which might have blocked the passage was the land jutting into the waters a short distance below the wharf where there is a sharp letter "S". The channel there at low tide is very narrow and the banks are four feet high and very steep. The wash covered them by just enough to allow the lighter to float over without even scraping.

The lighter was the third taken up the stream since the company started preparations to complete the missing link of the Furnace Brook Parkway. The first two were smaller and were loaded with light rails and dump cars, sleepers and light lumber.

The No. 1 lighter is the one which has been used in the building of the biggest breakwaters in Massachusetts Bay. Its tall derrick looms over the hills banking the creek and can be seen at some distance.

The arrival of the lighter created more activity than has been seen in that section in a decade and 50 of the unemployed were on hand. ready to go to work at a moment's notice. Active operations have not yet commenced, however.

Nearly half a mile of track has been laid along the proposed route, starting at the stone bridge at Merrymount park and extending to the Adams farm. Steam shovels will be lelivered within a few days and the work will then be underway.

The first section to be completed will be the end which finishes at the Dorothy Q House on Hancock street. The first operations will be on the Adams farm where an immense hill will be shoveled away and the dirt pushed into a deep declivity a short distance away.

It is estimated that about five months will have passed before the contract is completed. Millions of feet of dirt will be dislodged. The contract was awarded to the Quincy and Boston firm because its bid of $63,000 was the lowest. The specifications call for only subgrading of the tip top variety so that the extensions can be used for pleasure vehicles until the final top is put on.

Bids this week will be asked for the bridge which will cross the creek. The plans have been aproved by the Port Directors and are understood to have been passed by the war department. The local firm is preparing to submit estimates on the bridge.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stearns have announced their engagement of their daughter Mary to William J. Parker of Quincy, a well known newspaper man.

Mr. Parke ris the Boston representative of the Music rTades Journal. He resigned a position with the Associated Press and the Monumental News to accept.

The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader.

CHILDREN ENJOY ANNUAL PARTY

Wollaston Woman's Club Hosts to 200

The annual children's party of the Wollaston Woman's club was held Saturday afternoon in the parish house of the Wollaston Unitarian church from 2 to 5 o'clock. The afternoon was in charge of the program committee with Mrs. Charles R. Safford as chairman and was attended by nearly 200 children.

During the first part of the afternoon there was a travel talk by Miss Edith Randall which was illustrated by many radioptican views, the radioptican being in charge of Mrs. William M. Chase.

While this was in progress the kindergarten children were being entertained with kindergarten games in charge of Miss Marion Thomas and Miss Catherine Reed.

At the conclusion of the entertainment program ice cream and cake were served after which the party marched to the upper hall where there was dancing until 5 o'clock. The matrons at the dancing party were Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes, Mrs. W. E. Rowe and Mrs. Nathan G. Nickerson. The ushers were Horace Ripley, Joseph Ripley, Bradford Ropes, Wilbur Weeks, Wendell Boyden, George McDonald, Alden Pinkham, William Dodge, Malcolm Kennedy, Arthur Brooks, Frederick Cheever, Robert Biber, Malcolm Seevey, Arthur Eastman and Leonard Wade.

The dancing was under the direction of Miss Corlew and Miss Juliet Corlew with Miss Haynes at the piano.

DEDICATION TONIGHT

The dedication of the Wollaston Unitarian parish house will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the parish hall.

The tax collector held another sale of the City of Boston Squantum property this morning at which time the sale was adjourned for another six days. Now that the bill allowing the Mayors of the City of Boston and the City of Quincy to settle the controversy about this property there will probably be no more tax sales.

WILL GIVE HEARING ON LIQUOR LICENSES

Mayor Hears From Board on Neponset Applications

Liquor licenses will not be granted by the Licensing Board of Boston near the Neponset bridge until after the citizens have been heard in protest. Some days ago the Mayor sent a letter of protest to the Licensing Board and this morning he received a letter from the Board promising that the citizens of Qiuncy should have an opportunity to be heard before the license is issued. he morning correspondence follows:

Licensing Board
City of Boston
April 24, 1915.

Hon. Chester I. Campbell,
Mayor, City of Quincy,
Quincy, Massaehusetts.

Dear Sir:—

I am directed by the Board to acknowledge the erceipt of your communication of the 23rd inst., in relation to the application for licenses in the neighborhood of Neponset. The Board will be pleased to entertain you and a committee of your citizens sometime after May 1st in reaition to these applications. You will be notified later of the time when the Board can see you. At the present time, the Board is so occupied with the renewal of licenses, hearings etc., hat it cannot possibly take this matter up until after May 1st.

Yours respectfully,
For the Board.
(signed) Louis Epple
secretary.

Executive Office
City of Quincy.
April 26, 1915.

Louis Epple, Esq., Secretary
Licensing Board for the City of Boston
1 Beacon St., Boston, Mass.,

Dear Sir:—

I thank you for your letter of the 24th wherein you state that you will pleased to hear a committee from this city in reference to the applications for liquor in the vicinity of Neponset Bridge, after May 1st.

If you wil lkindly inform us a few days in advance when your oBard is willing to hear us, we will be pleased to have a committee wait on you.

Thanking you for your consideration of our letter of the 23rd, I beg to remain

yours very truly,
(Signed) Chester I. Campbell
Mayor.

BOSTON WILL ADJUST TAXES

Legislature Passes Special Provision

An act relative to the adjustment of taxes assessed on property of the city of Boston lying within the city of Quincy which was pased by the legislature this year and signed by Governor David I. Walsh last week has gone into effect. The new law reads as follows:

Section 1—The cities of Boston and Quincy are authorized to adjust a claim for taxes on land owned by the city of Boston in the city of Quincy by agreement made between the mayors of said cities. Said agreement may be for an amount less than the taxes assessed on said land, with interest and the amount agreed upon shall be paid by the city of Boston to the city of Quincy within thirty days after the signing of said agreement. Upon said payment all taxes assessed on said land, with interest, in excess of the amount so paid shall be abated by the city of Quincy.

Section 2—After said payment has been made the city of Boston may

(Continued on Page Six.)

KINCAIDE THEATRE

"THE WARRENS OF VIRGINIA"

By the Famous Players

The great drama "Warrens of Virginia" ran for more than a year at the Belasco Theatre, New York—The Photo Play is without question one of the greatest civil war plays ever produced—Great Battle Spectacle—The inner workings of the Union and Confederate Armies—War sufferings—Surrender of Lee at Appomatox—The thrills of the daughter of General Warren of Virginia and her lover Ned Burton of New York who enlisted in the Union Army.

VAUDEVILLE. RUTH ST. OUGE — Wollaston's Popular and Attractive Songster
Mazie Rowland, Pianist and Clever Talker
DeBall and Mulcahey, Comedians and live entertainers

Mon.--Tues.--Wed. — Daily at 2.30 P. M. 10 and 15c. Evenings at 8 — 10, 15, 25c

Coming Thursday — H. B. Warner in "The Lost Paradise"— Another Great Film Production---A pictorial argument in behalf of the oppressed laborers whose lives build the wealth of Nations, whose tears are crystallized in the jewels of the rich.

A Satisfactory Sale

To the Purchasing Public of Quincy and Vicinity:-

Now that our big fire sale is over we take this opportunity to express our gratitude for the very cordial response by the people of this city. In every way it was eminently satisfactory.

We realized that we were offering unprecedented bargains, but the sales far exceeded our fondest expectations. It was, unquestionably the greatest bargain sale ever held in Quincy. That the people of this city appreciated this great gift giving opportunity was evidenced in the crowds which daily thronged our store. Everywhere you went were to be seen the Green Bundles of Orent-Payson Co., each holder radiant in posession of a genuine bargain.

BUT THE END IS NOT YET!

In a few weeks we will open a newly remoddled store with an array of new merchandise that will fairly glitter in selection as well as in price. We are in touch with many propositions which makes this alluring position possible, and we propose to make this the "House of Bargains," in reality as well as in name.

It will pay you to wait for our Grand Opening, sometime within a few weeks. Just as soon as carpenters can put our new store in commission, we will present all that is new and up-to-date in men's and women's apparel at prices that will fairly stagger you. We propose to be the leaders of Low Prices in this city.

Thanking you for your generous patronage, we remain

Yours truly,
ORENT-PAYSON CO.

1387 Hancock Street, Quincy.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

GEORGE V. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening, (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

A TRAVESTY ON JUSTICE.

Supreme Court Justice Hendrick of New York has granted the request for a jury trial made by the attorneys of Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White. At the same time the judge makes it clear that the jury was called in "to aid the court by their advice." He further stated that the finding of the jury would not be binding if the court was satisfied that it was not in accord with the evidence and with justice. The court could set aside the verdict of the jury and render his own decision.

This looks very much like a dodging of responsibility upon the part of Judge Hendrick. Most people, however, do not care what method is taken to dispose of the Thaw case so long as it is disposed of. The delay in bringing the famous case to a conclusion has brought the law into disrepute and has become a national disgrace. It is perfectly right that every person charged with crime should be afforded every protection by the law. Democracy would crumble if it were otherwise. This does not mean, however, that the law shall be manipulated so that the length of time a case is before the courts shall exceed all reason nor does it mean that a defendant with unlimited resources shall have an opportunity to unwind unlimited red tape. Let us hope that this travesty on justice and sane administration of the laws will be finally settled one way or another and the name of Harry K. Thaw be forever removed from newspaper headlines.

A WISE DECISION.

The Lynn English High school has joined the steadily increasing ranks of the schools whose graduating girls are to be simply gowned during graduating exercises.

They, the student body who unanimously voted to do away with "showy graduations" are to be sincerely congratulated.

The girl who can't afford an expensive white gown is sure to feel ill-at-ease, unhappy and perhaps even envious on that day when every graduating girl and boy should feel proud and happy, and should be able all their lives to look back upon that day with great satisfaction.

The parents of the girl who cannot afford the elaborate gown are made wretched by her uneasiness. They have probably had a struggle to keep her for four years in high school and should have every reason to feel proud. Some may even buy a dress they can ill afford.

The girl in the expenisve gown herself is not wholly happy if she knows some chum of hers is uncomfortable by comparison.

This state of affairs is surely all wrong. And after all, what is prettier, daintier, or more girlish than a simple, inexpensive white dress?

Now is the time for Quincy students to decide the policy for this year's graduation. And this is by no means applicable only to the high schools The grammar schools, too, should decide this question.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.

We trust that the example set by Mayor Campbell, who observed Arbor Day Saturday by planting a tree on the lawn of the Thomas Crane Public Library, may be generally followed by citizens throughout the city. There are many places in Quincy which would be greatly improved by a few trees. The newer portion of the Mt. Wollaston cemetery, devoid of trees and the comfort which they bring, is a case in point. There are many private lawns which would be improved by a few shade trees. Trees are not expensive nor are they difficult to set up. The gain in the appearance of a yard should well repay anyone for the slight expenditure. And well kept lawns, dotted with attractive trees, are a distinct asset to any city.

Prescott Apartments

For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

MUSIC LOVERS ENJOY CONCERT

Mrs. Hunt Gives Song Recital

Those who attended the Song Recital, arranged by Wendell Luce, at Alpha hall, Sunday afternoon, heard one of the most delightful concerts which has ever been given in Quincy.

Mrs. Helen Allen Hunt, mezzo-contralto, assisted by Carlos E. Pinfield, violin, of the Boston Symphony orchestra and Harris S. Shaw, accompanist, gave a program of much interest including both the grave and the gay, so that the preference of everyone present must have been satisfied.

Mrs. Hunt's voice is cultivated and appealing and her manner altogether charming. Mr. Pinfield's finished playing gave much pleasure. The tone of his violin was mellow, his execution excellent and his choice of numbers exceedingly happy. A word should be said for Mr. Shaw; an accompanist is "born and not made," everyone who plays well does not necessarily, accompany well, but Mr. Shaw is a sympathetic intelligent accompanist, and added much to the enjoyment of the program.

Mrs. Hunt sang first, the beautiful number from Saint Saen's "Samson and Delilah," "My Heart at thy Sweet Voice," in a manner which left no doubt in the mind of her audience as to her ability and power of giving pleasure.

This was followed by two selections on the violin:

Liebeslied	Kreisler
Slavonic Danse	Drovak-Kreisler

These are of especial interest now as Kreisler, who composed the first and arranged the second, has just returned from the field of battle having at one time been reported missing. Then came a fascinating group of Folk Songs.

Maria, Mari	Italian
La Belle Menotte Old Colonial	French
Mei Schatzerl	German
Laula, Laula	Finnish
Where is Johnny Gone	Bohemian
Annie Laurie	Scotch

Once more Mr. Pinfield played two selections:

Pierrot Serenade	Randegger
Gypsy Danse	Nachez

He responded to an encore with a Serenade by Pierrenet, which is always a delight. The Ave Maria, with violin obligato, by Schubert, which followed was especially well fitted to Mrs. Hunt's voice and was thoroughly appreciated by everyone. The program ended with a group of four songs, varied in character, but each interesting:

Serenity	Salter
Indian Lullaby	Lieurance
The Bluebell	MacDowell
Hay fields and Butterflies	del Riego

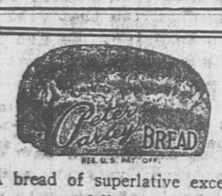

The audience was enthusiastic in its applause and Mrs. Hunt and Mr. Pinfield most generous in their response to encores.

Mr. Luce should be congratulated upon arranging so fine an afternoon of music and urged to plan others for the coming season when all music lovers in Quincy should support him in his effort to present talent which is worth while in Quincy and to inaugurate Sunday afternoon concerts.

"JIM" MURRAY INJURED.

Patrolman James Murray slipped while boarding a Houghs Neck car Sunday evening and suffered several injuries to his right foot. He was taken to his home in an auto and is now under the care of a physician. Patrolman Murray had several bundles in his hands when he started to board the car. Reserve Officer O'Neil is covering City Square in his absence.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

A bread of superlative excellence, carefully baked and wrapped in waxed tissue for your protection.
ASK YOUR GROCER

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
s the one who will give you the full atisfaction in work and prices of re-airing furniture, mattresses and ushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the uincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

GRAMMAR SCHOOLS LEAGUE REGULATIONS

Schedules and Rules of Americans and Nationals

The Quincy grammar schools base ball league begins Tuesday, May 11, with games in all parts of the city. The one real change from last year's lineup will be the appearance of the two sub-leagues, the American and instead of the National league. All games will start at 4.15 o'clock.

The rules to regulate the playing and the few exceptions, made because of the youth of the players, follows:

1. The league shall be divided into two sub-leagues, the American and the National, each sub-league playing to a subleague championship and these champions playing against each other in a worlds series of best two out of three for the grammar school championship of the city.

2. The schedule of the games, fields and umpires shall be sent to each master two weeks previous to the opening of the league games.

3. All complaints shall be referred to a committee on ground rules.

(b) In case the rules have been infringed upon so as to make (in the minds of the committee) a difference in the result of the game, the committee may order the game played over.

4. All games shall begin at or as near four P. M. as possible and none begin after four thirty P. M.

5. This season the teams will play according to official 1915 rules of the American league with the following exceptions.

(a) Base lines 80 feet long—From homeplate to second base 113 feet; from home plate to pitchers plate 55 feet.

(b) Ball to be 25 cent American Junior league.

(c) No boy allowed to catch without a mask or to use spikes.

(d) Ground rules.

(1) Special ground rules for Field one at Merrymount.

On a wild throw over first or third, that settles in a marsh, rushes or crowd so as to hinder the recovery of the ball the umpire shall call time

(2) Special ground rules for Field Two at Merrymount.

(a) On a wild throw over first base, that settles in a crowd or over third that settles in the marsh, crowd or rushes so as to hinder the recovery of the ball, the umpire shall call time.

(b) On a thrown or pitched ball that passes the catcher, the runners with probability of being put out, may advance one base other than the one they are stealing.

(c) On a ball batted to right field, all base runners may advance two bases with the liability of being put out.

(3) Special rules for Ward 3 grounds. On a wild throw over first or third base that settles in a crowd so as to hinder the recovery of the ball the umpire shall call time.

(a) No boy who will be sixteen years old on or before July first of the current year will be allowed to play in the league.

(b) Just before the game each team shall give the umpire a new ball and the winning team shall take both.

(c) (1) Six innings shall constitute a game.

(2) In case of rain the umpire may call the game but said game shall not count as a regular league game unless five innings have been played.

(d) It shall be the duty of the umpire (1) to order off the team any boy who uses profane langauge and who in any way may question the decision of the umpire.

(2) To get the bases and return them at the close of the game.

Up to this year there have been seven teams in the National league playing twenty one games and six teams in the American league playing fifteen games. These conditions are reversed this year by transferring the Quincy team to the American league.

The numeral following the scheduled game refers to the diamond on which the game is to be played. There are four diamonds, viz., Merrymount Park, lower field, diamonds one and two; ward three playground, diamond 3, and Old Colony, diamond 4.

The letter after the scheduled game refers to the umpire in charge.

The umpires are Charles B. Thomson, Frank Hoyt, and Alex Robertson.

THE SCHEDULE

American League

May	12	Adams vs Mass. Fields 3H Gridley Bryant vs Coddington 4 R Quincy vs Willard 1T
	14	Lincoln vs Mass. Fields 4R Gridley Bryant vs Adams 3H Quincy vs Coddington 1 P
	17	Coddington vs Willard 3 R
	18	Gridley Bryant vs Mass. Fields 3 R Quincy vs Lincoln 1 H.
	19	Adams vs Willard 3 R.
	20	Coddington vs Lincoln 3 R Quincy vs Gridley Bryant 1 H
	21	Willard vs Mass. Fields 3 R.
	24	Adams vs Lincoln 3 R. Quincy vs Mass. Fields 1 H
	25	Gridley Bryant vs Willard 3 R.
	26	Codidngton vs Mass. Fields 3R Quincy vs Adams 1 H.
	27	Lincoln vs Willard 3 R.
June	1	Coddington vs Adams 4 R Lincoln vs Gridley Bryant 3 H.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

May	11	Cranch vs Wollaston 1 H Montclair vs Atherton Hough 2 R.
	13	Hancock vs Wollaston 2 R. Montclair vs Cranch 1 H.
	17	Washington vs Hancock 1H Wollaston vs Montclair 2 T
	19	Washington vs Atherton Hough 1 H. Hancock vs Montclair 2 T.
	21	Washington vs Cranch 2 H. Atherton Hough vs Hancock 1 T.
	25	Cranch vs Atherton Hough 2 T Washington vs Wollaston 1 H
	27	Washington vs Montclair 1 T Atherton Hough vs Wollaston 2 H.
	28	Cranch vs Hancock 1 H

Financial Review

New York, April 24, 1915.

Reconstructive forces are steadily at work. This is noticeable in many directions; and Wall Street's leaders with sure instinct and even surer knowledge have been discounting industrial recovery. For the very decided change from despair to courage which has taken place since January, many reasons have been advanced; chief of these being, as repeatedly stated in these advices, lessened hostility to big business, the successful establishment of the Federal reserve system, the adjustment of our finances to a war basis and a growing belief that the end of the war is not far distant.

General business already shows positive improvement; slight it may be, but real nevertheless; and there are excellent reasons for anticipating its continuance. The country has been through a prolonged period of severe economy. This economy was greatly intensified by fear of serious consequences following the war. Every business man upon whom initiative depends knows to his sorrow what a deterrent factor apprehension has been in the last few months. Many people, particularly the well-to-do, have economized more than was necessary; the result being increased savings which must now come out either in the investments or larger purchases of some sort. When the purse strings are loosened and the number of unemployed is decreased, all kinds of merchandise must pass more freely into consumption; hence one must look for a better distribution in the retail trade.

Moreover, a heavy increase in summer travel is to be anticipated this year, owing to the stoppage of European tourist travel by the war. It is too early to form any opinion of agricultural prospects, but the situation is such as to stimulate farmers into the largest product possible; the liberal demand and good prices for all food products leaving the American farmer in a decidedly enviable position. For another season he is reasonably certain of good home and foreign demands at satisfactory prices.

The war continues to be a vital factor in our foreign trade. It caused heavy losses during the first eight months, such as $245,000,000 in cotton, $50,000,000 in iron and steel, $38,000,000 in copper, $36,000,000 in lumber products, $16,000,000 in agricultural implements, etc. These losses were partially offset by gains of $246,000,000 in breadstuffs, $30,000,000 in horses and mules, $18,000,000 in sugar, $16,000,000 in leather, etc. We have now reached a season when shipments in grain and cotton are naturally light; but shipments of war materials on orders placed months ago are now coming forward more freely, and for the next few months will prove a highly important factor in our international trade balance.

War has also been responsible for the violent advances in a certain group of stocks. War contracts are proverbially profitable and it is known that some of the concerns have secured highly advantageous orders. The result has been a violent speculation in certain issues. There is no doubt that the speculative spirit has broken out with extraordinary energy, after a long period of repression. Thus far the rise has been confined very largely to the highly speculative issues. The better class of industrials and railroads, which have been comparatively neglected, have unless spectacular but more enduring prosperity in advance of them, and intending buyers of securities wil do well to discriminate carefully.

Henry Clews, Banker.

QUINCY RELIEF ASSOCIATION.

The annual election of the officers of the Quincy Police Mutual Relief association will take place at headquarters Tuesday evening. President Patrick Milford posted the call Sunday.

The Charitable Tens circle of King's Daughters met this afternoon with Mrs. Charles Wilson and Mrs. Francis Brewer at 39 Bigelow street.

GOAL

ANNOUNCEMENT

April 1, 1915.

Full coal bins are a source of real satisfaction. We are filling our bins as rapidly as possible with FRESH MINED COAL. By placing your order now YOU can take advantage of the LOW PRICES announced in the schedule below. Coal will positively ADVANCE IN PRICE later. There will be no Further Reduction.

We should be glad to call and talk Coal with you if you will notify us.

PRICES FOR CASH

Franklin Egg and Stove	$8.50 per ton
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75 per ton
Shamokin Stove	7.50 per ton
White Ash Broken	6.50 per ton
White Ash Egg	7.25 per ton
White Ash Stove	7.25 per ton
White Ash Nut	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Broken	6.75 per ton
Lehigh Egg	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Stove	7.50 per ton
Pea	5.50 per ton

25 cents per ton extra where coal is carried in. Orders taken for these Prices are for delivery by July 1, 1915.

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc

MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN.

One hundred names were added to the Quincy High school Alumni association by the membership campaign held last week. The campaign will be continued this week and it is expected that another hundred will be enrolled. Frederick M. Atwood is chairman of the membership committee in charge of the campaign. Seven hundred letters have been sent out. Graduates of the school or those who attended two years or more are eligible to membership. The captains of the teams engaged in the contest are: Richard Larkin, Miss Marie Bass, Miss Dorothy Packard, Miss Margaret Lennon, Carl Prescott and Leslie Arthur.

WIN VERDICTS.

Minnie A. Pierce of Framingham, who until recently lived in Wollaston was given a $2000 verdict by a Suffolk county jury in her suit against the Washington Theatre, Inc., for personal injuries, and her husband, Frank H. Pierce, was given a verdict of $250 in his suit against the theatre for consequential damages.

Mrs. Pierce alleged that on Jan. 10 1914, she was badly hurt from a person being pushed against her when a special officer of the theatre was attempting to eject another person from the playhouse. Charles J. McGilvray of Quincy, a well known attorney, represented Mr. and Mrs. Pierce.

SPIRITUALIST SOCIETY.

Mrs. S. V. Odiorne, presiding. Meeting opened with song service, bible reading and prayer. Mrs. Lottie Brooks, speaker, gave a talk on doing good to all as we have opportunity and impressing the fact that if we lived up to the true teachings of Spiritualism we would make life happier for every one while on this Earth plane. Mrs. Butterworth and Mrs. S. V. Odiorne gave many messages from the loved ones. Entertainment and fair, May 10th. Circle Meeting Tuesday 3.00 and 8.00 P. M., 8 Mechanic street.

The Hospital aid Association will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George H. Wilson, 47 Revere road.

BUILDING PERMITS.

The past week has been another busy one with the inspector of building's department and a large number of permits have been issued. With the large number already issued this year, together with those that are sure to be issued before summer, it is certain that there will be plenty doing in the building line this year. The permits issued this week were as follows:

John Nelson, dwelling, Garfield street.

Allan D. MacKay, hen house, Garfield street.

Joseph C. Morse, garage, Fairmount way.

Jerry Coffman, repairs, E. Howard street.

William A. Pike, dwelling, Shoreside road.

Mary C. Holloran, garage, East Squantum street.

John McKay, dwelling and store, Independence avenue.

Herbert W. Thomas, dwelling, Billings street.

Mary Murphy, dwelling, South street

Mr. Emslie, dwelling, Garfield street.

W. L. Buckley, dwelling, Bayfield road.

Charles O. Kelty, addition Sea street.

D. F. Fitzgerald, polishing mill, Miller street.

Harry R. Graham, garage, Ferndale road.

Carl R. Alison, garage, Franklin street.

O. H. Olstead, dwelling, Alton road.

Mrs. Mary E. Paul, dwelling, Billings road.

John R. Nelson, stores, East Squantum street.

William J. Quirk, shop and garage, Centre road.

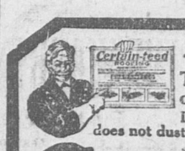

Mrs. Charles V. Friberg, dwelling, Pleasant street.

Malcolm D. Miller, garage, Everett street.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

Quincy Branch Adv. Letters April 24. 1915:

Delphia Lodge, W. F. Atwood, DeCarlo DiSantis, Eureka Granite Quarries, Harry Holton, Howard & Co. Mrs. Maurice Jenness, Mrs. McGrath, Charles Morton, Rev. Edward Northrop, Miss Laura P. Spofford, Miss Julia Sullivan, Eddie Wax, A. H. Wheeler (4).

Are you going to build?
The use of Wall Board as an improvement over lath and plaster is becoming universal.
It is cleaner, more durable and more sanitary and does not dust, crack nor crumble. When you build be sure to buy

Certain-teed
Wall Board

As the name Certain-teed indicates, this Wall Board is designed to give the maximum service and it is sold at the most reasonable price. It is used extensively in houses, bungalows, temporary and permanent booths, factories, offices, etc.
For sale by dealers everywhere

General Roofing Mfg. Company
World's largest manufacturers of Roofing and Building Papers
New York City Boston Chicago Pittsburgh
Philadelphia Atlanta Cleveland Detroit St. Louis
Cincinnati Kansas City Minneapolis Seattle
San Francisco London Hamburg Sydney

At each of our big mills we make the following products:
Asphalt Roofings (all grades and prices)
Slate Surfaced Shingles
Asphalt Felts
Deadening Felts
Tarred Felts
Building Papers
Insulating Papers
Wall Boards
Plastic Roofing Cement
Asphalt Cement
Roof Coating
Metal Paints
Outdoor Paints
Shingle Stains
Refined Coal Tar
Tar Coating
Pitch

BETHANY CONGREGATIONAL

Mr. Willmott's morning sermon was on the theme: "If it had not been for Jesus."

The years have not dethroned Christ. He rules today as no prince or potentate. His rule grows with the centuries. While earthly kings grow less in power, His power increases. More sacrifices have been made for Him than for any other person or any other cause.

The world recognizes that without Him our highest hopes would have to go, that all would be lost which gives significance and worth to life. The world is coming back to Christ. If the church has lost its power it is because it has lost Christ.

There have been in the past many heresy trials about Jesus. Today no one cares much about heresy. The only heresy of importance now is the heresy of life, the failure to live the life God would have us.

It is true our beliefs have an immeasurable influence on our conduct. A man must think about Jesus before he can incorporate his teachings into his conduct.

Jesus to me is not a dogma of theology but an experience. Without Jesus I would not be living in a world in which the one supreme word is Father. We cannot think of the infinite except in terms of the finite so God reveals Himself as the finite, as our Father.

Our bitterest enemy is sin no matter by what name we call it. Saying it does not exist does not solve the difficulty.

Without Jesus we would not have known that God, an infinite Father loves us with a superhuman love. Without the revelation of God's love through Jesus the love of God would appear as less than that of many a poor outcast whom I have known. God is the Eternal Goodness and Love.

Miss Gertrude Shaw was the leader of the C. E. meeting at 6 P. M., the topic being, "The Bible, the World's Supreme Book."

At the Pleasant Sunday evening service the pastor spoke on "Who Are You?"

A meeting of the Church Council will be held in the ladies' parlor Friday evening.

The adjourned church meeting will be held on May 6.

The Junior King's Daughters will hold a May basket sale on Thursday afternon.

Tuesday evening at 7.45 there will be a Bethany social, the last which Rev. and Mrs. Willmott will attend.

The Knights of King Arthur, Bethany Castle will meet at 6.30 Friday evening.

HALL PLACE M. E.

Rev. W. H. Germany, newly appointed pastor of the Hall Place M. E. church preached at the Sunday morning service on the feeding of the five thousand, the lesson being taken from the fourteenth chapter of St. Matthew.

Mr. Germany said in part: "This is another one of those miraclous lessons that come to us from the hand of God. Of course if we find people who object to miracles and who have no sense of wonder in their minds, they may not be able to appreciate this lesson. If we look at it simply from the point of view of a miraculous feat we cannot fully appreciate it but when we look at it as one of those that come into the lives of nearly all of us, that has been brought about by faith and confidence, then we have no difficulty in accepting this lesson of the hour.

"There was the Master in that matchless course of His, going hither and thither, and as always, the multitudes came forth to hear Him. It is the opinion of a great number that as we become more like Christ as a Church and body that we shall attract the people."

The text for the evening service was taken from Zech. 4—6 "Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of hosts."

The Sunday school showed an increase in attendance. Miss Bessie Nicholls led the Epworth League devotional service on "What the League is doing in India."

A meeting of the Brotherhood is called for this evening.

On Wednesday evening the Kappa Sigma Pi will meet in the church.

Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7.30.

Friday evening the Epworth league will give an entertainment in the vestry at which time they will present "Sally Lunn."

CHRIST CHURCH NOTES.

The Gallahad club will meet this evening. The Junior Auxiliary will meet Tuesday afternoon and St. Margaret's Guild Tuesday evening. There will be a confirmation class Wednesday evening. Friday evening there will be a service and address. Saturday, May 1, will be observed as St. Phillip and St. James' Day with Holy Communion at 10 A. M.

WOLLASTON BAPTIST

There was a good attendance at the morning service. The pastor, Rev Joseph Walther, preached an uplifting sermon from the subject: "Christ's Marvelous Work Today."

There are three ways of interpreting the words of the text, first as relating to the immediate future of the children of Israel, second as relating to the Lord's coming. But there is another interpretation which has been suggested and that is the words in the text which truly describe Christ's work, not only when he was upon the earth but now as He works among the children of men.

Some of the passages describe Christ's work of marvel in these days in which we are living. "He opens blind eyes."

Just as in olden times He opened blind eyes so He does today. There are many who are blind as to their conditon and to the requirements of God, also the glories of Christ and His word.

Another thing which Christ does today is to unstop ears. There are a good many ears that are stopped up. They do not hear, they are deaf to every appeal of minister and teacher and also to the appeal of conscience. But when Christ comes and works a work of grace within us, like Habakkuk we stand upon our watch and seat ourselves upon our tower, to see what the Lord will speak to us."

Christ enables the lame man to leap as the hart. There are a great many lame men today, lame in their morals and in their conduct. They go through life limping or halting or become paralized from weakness and sin. But Jesus will do for us as he did for the lame man in the New Testament times if we permit him. What a series of blessings Christ has for us if we only give him permission. May God help us to come to him in order that we may be of larger blessing in the world.

The Sunday School followed the morning service.

The Junior Endeavor meeting at 3.30 was led by Elsie Wilson. Subject: "A Story About Two Debtors." Luke 7:40-43.

Charles Roach had charge of the Y. P. S. C. E. meeting at 6.00. Subject: "The Bible, the World's Supreme Book."

At the evening service at 7.00 the pastor spoke on "Fact and Fable—Which?" 2 Peter 1-16.

The choir sang morning and evening.

Tuesday evening at 7.45 the last cot-

(Continued on Page Six.)

The PROBLEM of GOOD MILK

All persons do not understand what is meant by good, safe milk. Some believe that the milk with a deep cream line is desirable, whereas, the Doctor knows that Holstein Milk, although containing little cream is often more desirable for babies, partly for this reason, or perhaps because of the method of production.

The real criterion of a good milk is its wholesomeness. This depends upon the conditions at the dairy, and the special care given it until it reaches the consumer. Scrupulously clean and healthy cows, clean and healthy dairymen, rapid cooling, and protecting the milk, constant dairy and laboratory inspection are required. Furthermore safety is assured when the dealer pasteurizes his supply.

THE ELM FARM MILK COMPANY OF DORCHESTER offer pure Family Milk, and exceptional Nursery Milk at prices often charged for ordinary milk. Speak to the salesman, or call Dor. 2100. 6-1 mo.

Copyright, 1914, Stone & McCarrick, Inc.

The integrity of this piano sale is shown by "your money back"

Copyright, 1914 Stone & McCarrick, Inc.

This whole enterprise was born of bigness; of doing a big thing in a big way.

It took a big man to conceive it. And once conceived, it took a big man to carry it through.

And W. P. H. Bacon, President of The Bacon Piano Co. of New York is a big man.

He wanted to keep their many factories running. Thirty-five hundred men had to be kept employed.

Mr. Bacon knew that two conditions were staring him in the face.

First, that there were a lot of unneccessary war bugaboos flying about, which would naturally frighten the timid, and second, that the tendency would be for people to put off buying pianos, because a piano was something they might be able to get along without, for awhile longer.

But he conceived this big idea to sell pianos NOW.

He reasoned that, if people could get the opportunity NOW to buy for less than they could ever buy before; if people were given the opportunity to buy on easier payments NOW than they were ever given before; if people were given a more liberal proposition NOW than they were ever given before, they would buy pianos, war scares or no war scares.

And this advantageous sale is the result of that sound reasoning.

It is a sale of the highest integrity and in no way is this integrity better shown than through making it a part of the plan to refund all money to dissatisfied purchasers.

In this sale pianos are quoted for less than ever before.
In this sale, your savings are larger than ever before.
In this sale your payments are smaller than ever before.

And the proof is that you can get your money back, after giving the instruments any test you wish for 30 days—and we are pledged to carry out this provision.

$5 cash and $1 a week does MORE during this sale than $25 cash and $10 a month does USUALLY

In the first place you get a thoroughly dependable piano for 84 dollars less than it customarily brings.

You can get a 350 dollar piano, for 266 dollars.

And it is a dependable piano, too. In the matter of giving general, down-right satisfaction, you will get as dependable a piano as any piano made.

In the second place, five dollars cash, does the work that 25 dollars cash usually does.

Five dollars—one single five dollar bill, pays your initial or first payment, the same as 25 dollars usually does.

These beautiful instruments are delivered during this sale to your home upon the payment of five dollars, just as readily as they are usually delivered upon the payment of 25 dollars.

Your regular payments are then one dollar a week for the first 55 weeks.

After the first year, your payments increase to one dollar and 25 cents a week for the second year and one dollar and fifty cents for the third year, etc. without interest.

But, what we want to emphasize in this paragraph is, that for one whole year, the first year you are starting to acquire a piano, one single dollar a week does as much as two dollars and fifty cents a week usually does.

Here are three tremendous advantages you positively cannot afford to overlook. Such an opportunity does not come more than once in a lifetime, and you owe it to yourself to at least investigate it at once.

Copyright, 1914 Stone & McCarrick, Inc.

The most astounding feature of this sale is that relating to the player-piano.

We were apportioned 75 player-pianos as well as the 125 pianos.

They are 550 dollar player-pianos. In plain truth, there have been as many sold at 600 dollars as there have been at 550 dollars.

A less complicated player-piano has never been made. A player-piano requiring less attention and less repairs, has never been made.

We have sold scores and scores of these identical players upon which there has not been a 5 cent piece spent, for repairs, during the past 5 years.

The price for these 75 instruments was placed at an almost absurdly low figure—413 dollars each.

Your payments are Five Dollars, cash the same as on the piano, and one dollar and 75 cents a week for the first year, 2 dollars a week for the second year, etc., etc. without interest—making this a player-piano opportunity without precedent or parallel.

During this sale, the Piano Department will be open evenings by appointment, arrangements for which may be made by calling phone No. 1200, and asking for Mr. Bates.

HENRY L. KINCAIDE
QUINCY, MASS

All instruments sold during this sale will be delivered at once. Arrangements may be made, however, to have an instrument set aside, after being selected to be delivered later.

Sending Money by Western Union is next Quickest, Surest and Safest to personally passing it from hand to hand.

Full information at any Western Union Office.

THE WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH CO.

LOCALITES WIN ANOTHER GAME

Q. H. S. Boys Trounce Dedham High 2 to 0

The battery of Quincy High school, ably suported by the members of the team brought about a 2 to 0 victory over Dedham high Saturday afternoon at Merrymount Park. The game was one of the most interesing ever played in the city and was the second successive win for Quincy, the Stetson High of Randolph being vanquished on Friday.

The regular battery, which is expected to bear the brunt of the South Shore Interscholastic league with which Qiuncy is affiliated, reflected credit on itself. It was their first real work out in a complete game and the debut for "Smiler" Hoffses.

A dozen batsmen went out by the air route and only two secured hits. Both were well placed bingles however, Hoffses worked well all through the game and at no time lost confidence. Three drives to the outfield were pulled down by Di Senso and Hamlin, the latter profiting by his experience of Friday when he dropped an easy one.

Bryan, at third, ably balanced his West Quincy associate "Blinker" Desmond of first base, and pulled down a sky drive, got an assist and two hits. Desmond got nine putouts and an assist. He made an error through tagging a runner and losing the ball.

Di Senso, Hamlin and Dorley got a hit apiece, bringing the total made off Lovely up to five. Larkin secured two assists on difficult stops and pretty throws.

O'Donnell's classy stickwork sent over Quincy's two runs. His part in a squeeze play scored. Hamlin and his double brought Dorley in from third, after the latter had stolen his way from first.

Lovely pitched a fine game and ably avoided dangerous situations. Eight localities walked back to the bench and he also secured a putout. Incidently he issued the only pass.

The game lasted but an hour and 50 minutes and pleased the 400 fans. The summary:

QUINCY.

	AB	BH	PO	A	E
Bryan 3b	3	2	1	1	0
DiSenso rf	4	1	1	0	0
Larkin ss	4	0	0	2	0
Desmond 1b	4	0	9	1	1
Reardon cf	4	0	0	0	0
Hamlin lf	4	1	2	0	0
Dorley 2b	1	1	0	1	1
O'Donnell c	2	0	14	0	0
Hoffses p	3	0	0	2	0
	29	5	27	7	2

DEDHAM

	AB	BH	PO	A	E
McLeod cf	4	0	1	0	0
McCarthy 1b	4	0	0	2	0
Whitcher ss	4	0	1	2	1
Smith rf	3	0	1	0	0
Flynn rf	1	0	0	0	0
Vogel rf	2	0	0	0	0
Craigne 1b	3	0	12	0	0
Armstrong c	2	0	8	0	0
Lovely p	3	0	1	0	0
Wischrot 3b	3	1	0	0	0
	29	2	24	4	1

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9—Tot.
Quincy	0	0	0	1	0	1	0	0	X—2

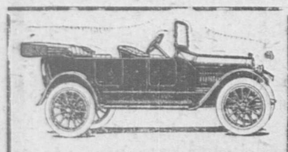

Runs made by—Hamlin, Dorley. Two base hits—O'Donnell. Stolen bases—(Name and Number)—Weschrob 2, Bryan 2, Hamlin 2, Dorley. Base on balls by—Lovely 2. Struck out by—Hoffses 12, by Lovely 8. Sacrifice hits—O'Donnell, Armstrong Hit by pitched ball—Weschrob, Bryan. Umpire—Robertson. Time—1 hr. 50 min.

FRACTURES LEG.

Mrs. Margaret Caine, 55 years of Dodge street, Roxbury, fell from the steps of the cottage at 61 Parkhurst street, Houghs Neck Sunday evening and suffered a compound fracture of the right leg, below the knee.

Mrs. Caine tripped on the top step at the piazza and pitched headlong to the ground, a short distance below. She was treated by Dr. D. B. Reardon and taken to the Quincy City Hospital in the police ambulance.

☞PRATT'S BREAD costs a little more—is worth a good deal more. Ask your grocer.

JACKSON Model 46

THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL, SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER "NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"

Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT

$1375

JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.

EVERETT F. PRIOR

TRIBOU'S GARAGE

TEL. QUINCY 141

HOLD SPECIAL TANDEM MATCH

. James Olindy the local bowler and John Greenaway, who is a regular at the Arch street alleys, Boston, and one of the fast men of that city, are to roll a special 4u string series for a purse of $100. The money has been posted.

The first 20 strings will be rolled Thursday night at the Wardwell alleys, Quincy and the last half at the Arch street alleys Friday night. Both men are in the pink of condition

The match is the result of several clashes between the men in five and ten string lots. It is said that the Boston boys who have been rolling here the past winter consider Greenaway their victor and decline to roll him. It is also said they are backing Olindy for substantial amounts The event is sure to draw an unusually large gallery

LOCAL AERIE ATTENDS.

Past Grand Worthy President of the grand lodge of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Frank E. Herring of South Bend, Indiana. was the guest of honor Sunday of the Brockton aerie at Brockton and Postmaster William Murray of Boston was the special guest.

Fifty members of John Adams aerie of this city, headed by President John Faircloth, were among those present and witnessed the initiation of 61 members. The local boys reported they had been royally entertained and were much impressed by the addresses of Messrs Herring and Murray.

LODGE AT FUNERAL.

Services For Alfred Talbot Sunday.

Members of John Hancock lodge. I. O. O. F., attended the funeral of Alfred Talbot, a popular member, which took place at his home at 43 Glover avenue. Atlantic. Sunday afternoon. Services were conducted by Rev. T. W. Davison of the Atlantic Memorial church. The body was taken to Winchester for burial.

Mr. Talbot was a machinist at the factory of the Tubular Rivet and Stud Co. at Wollaston. His death on Saturday followed a short illness. He is survived by his wife and several children.

THAYER WINS.

Blackmur and Bates Play Prominent Part.

Richard Blackmur and Earl Bates both of Quincy, figured in the 6 to 3 victory of Thayer Academy over Newton High at Braintree Saturday. Bates at second, got a putout, an assist and two hits, and scored a run, Blackmur at third got an assist, a hit and two runs. Hanson, the Thayer pitcher fanned 14 men and passed but three. He allowed five hits.

Todays Special

$3.50 LAWN MOWER

$2.89

Guaranteed long service and satisfaction

NATHAN AMES

5 Granite St.

USE CARBORUNDUM SHARPENING STONES

Quincy E. E. GRAY CO. Wollaston

Two Stores

Tel. 327 M Quincy Reliable Groceries Tel. 1586 M Quincy

Butter, Best Creamery	31c	Quaker Corn Flakes, pkg	6c
Corn, Standard	8c	Pears, Fancy Jersey	11c
Tomatoes, Fancy	9c	Blueberries, Fancy Maine	13c
Peas' Early June	9c	Catsup, 10c bot for	8c
Beans, California	12c	Sardines, Nor. Smoked	9c
Rice (1lb pkg)	8c	Pickles, small bot 8c large	17c
Olive Oil, Plagnoil, bot.	23c	Macaroni or Spaghetti, pkg	7c
Coffee, M and J	20c	Tea, any flavor, Best	40c

FRED KINGSBURY WINNER OF CUP

Keen Competition in Y. M. C. A. Contest

Although the entry list for the 4th Annual Senior Trophy Contest was not as large as in past years, the competition between the athletes was just as keen Fred Kingsbury and Fred Oleson had a great contest up until the last event on the program, the 1,000 yard run. Oleson was leading Kingsbury by 13 1-2 points when this event was called but Kingsbury had trained harder for this one event than any other and was successful in beating Oleson by 12 seconds. This victory scored 72 points for the winner while Oleson scored but 49. The final score for Kingsbury was 332 1-2 points Oleson. Ralph Prout was 3rd with 222 points; Robert Davis was 4th with 216 and John McNeil was 5th with 208 points to his credit.

The summary of events is as follows:

8 Potato Race—1st J McNeil, 2nd, F Oleson, Winners time 38 1-5 seconds.

3 Standing Broad Jumps—1st F. Oleson; 2nd R. Davis; 3rd R. Prout; Winners distance 27 ft. 4 in.

150 yard dash—1st tie between F. Kingsbury and R. Prout, 3rd, J. McNeil. Time 19 2-5 sec.

Running High Jump—1st, F. Oleson 2nd R. Davis; 3rd, F. Kingsbury; Winner's height 5 ft. 4 in.

300 yard dash—1st F. Kingsbury; 2nd, R. Prout; 3rd, R. Davis; Winner's time 42 3-5 sec.

12 lb. Shot put—1st, F. Oleson; 2nd, F. Kingsbury; 3rd, R. Davis; Winner's distance, 30.11 in.

1000 yard run. 1st, F. Kingsbury; 2nd, Fred Oleson; 3rd, J. McNeil; Winner's Time 2 minutes 51 1-5 sec.

The cup was won the 1st year by John McArdle, the 2nd year by Harry Glover, and last year by Thomas Djer. The record for points scored is held by Harry Glover who scored 488 points.

RED MEN TAKE FIRST GAME

The Redmen A. C. base ball team opened its season Saturday by defeating the St. Alphonsus A. C. team of Roxbury to the tune of 9-4 at the Ward Three playgrounds.

Bradley and Carlson of the Redmen starred in all round work. The former secured two bases on balls, a hit and stole 4 bases and the latter fielded his position perfectly, secured one hit and scored two of the runs. Woods and Sullivan excelled for the visitors.

Bob Summers, the heavy hitting left fielder of the Red Men was injured while trying to smother a hit and may not be able to play again for a month.

The score:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	RHE
Redmen	0	1	0	5	0	1	0	2	X	9 7 4
St. Al. A. A.	0	1	0	1	0	2	0	0	0	4 3 6

Batteries: Johnson and Moorhouse McDonald and Fallon.

GOES TO FAR OFF SIBERIA

R. R. Freeman, Jr., Sails on Saturday

Richard R. Freeman. Jr., son of Richard R. Freeman of Grand View avenue, Wollaston, will sail Saturday from New York to enter the employ of the Russo-Adriatic Mining Co. The contract will be signed in London, probably for at least a year although this has not yet been definitely determined. He will be located near Usk-Kanenogorsk, province of Tonsk, South Central Siberia. The company is engaged in exploration work.

Mr. Freeman graduated from the Harvard Mining school in 1912 and until recently has been in the employ of the Cleveland-Cliss Iron Co, Ishpening, Michigan.

City hall is in the hands of workmen who are busy making needed repairs. The flag pole has been taken down and repainted and the ball reguilded, and men are at work today reputtying the glass and painting the sashes of the windows of the council chamber.

SPORTING COMMENT

At least two Quincy combinations of bowlers will appear at the Atlantic Coast Bowling association tournament scheduled to take place in Mechanics building from April 29 to May 15. The entry was made with Paul Poehler, one of the committee, on Saturday.

One team will represent the Wardwell alleys and will include Louis Ross, James Olindy, Herbert Smith, James Dell, William McLean, William Burrill, Peter Morton and Edward Gallagher. But five men can roll, the seven being chosen to allow for vacancies.

The tournament will determine the world's championships and the locals are entered in the candle pin division How brilliant a showing they will make is hard to predict. The men are probably the best in the city and averaged 100 or more the past winter.

It is understood that Dell has been entered in the individual contests. Whether or not he will allow the entry to stand is not known.

The negotiations betwen the committee and the Quincy lodge of Elks materialized and a team has been entered, headed by Paul Poehler, a member of the lodge. The team includes B. A. Browne, John R. S. Ross Charles Hanson, Edward Larkin, John J. Joyce, Dr. J. P. Maloney and Thomas V. Keating. A special trophy has been offered the winners of the Elks matches.

BOYS NEARLY CAUSE ACCIDENT

Locomotive Engineer Sees Hand Car in Time

What might have resulted in a serious accident was narrowly averted Saturday night when the locomotive headlight of the inward train leaving Quincy at 9.10 disclosed to the engineer a hand car on the inward track just south of President's bridge. Fortunately the train had not gained full headway and the engineer was able to bring the train to a stop before his locomotive struck the obstruction. The engineer and firemen jumped off and threw the hand car to one side and it was later taken care of by track men who had been sent out to search for it.

The hand car is believed to have been stolen from a shanty in Neponset by some boys, for about 9 o'clock the station agent at Atlantic saw the car pass going toward Quincy. and in the dark he could distinguish boyish forms on the car. He telephoned to the Quincy station but the train had left before his message was received.

tI is thought that the boys were speeding along when they saw the headlight of the inward train and, stopping the car, jumped off and made their escape.

Had the locomotive gained full headway and struck the hand car it might have resulted in a very serious accident. It will be remembered that it was near this spot that a track jack threw an express train from the rails in 1892, resulting in many deaths. The local and railroad police are making an investigation in an effort to apprehend the boys.

ST. MARY'S GUILD.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mary's guild was held Frilay evening at the home of Mrs. William Callahan, Copeland street.

After the business meeting an enjoyable evening was pent playing whist. Prizes were awarded Miss Helen F. Burke, Mrs. Stephen B. Little. Mrs. Mary Burns and Miss Elizabeth Farrell.

Piano solos were rendered by Miss Celina Beliveau and Miss Gertrude Callahan. Refrshments were served by the hostess.

Albert C. Bruff, a prominent business man of this city left today for an extended trip through the Lehigh Valley and other points.

ELECTRIC FREIGHT

BAY STATE STREET RAILWAY CO.

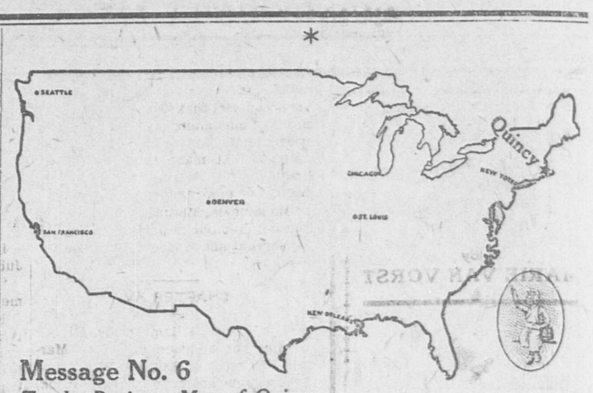

Boston, Mass., April 15, 1915.

Notice is hereby given that property now remaining unclaimed for a period of one year or over, as per list posted in the several offices of the Freight Department of the Bay State Street Railway Company in the State of Massachusetts, will unless called for, and all charges paid thereon, be sold to the highest bidder, at the Public Auction Rooms of G. Beck & Son, 11-13 Eliot Street, Boston, Mass., on the 15th day of May, 1915 at 10 A. M.

GEO. DUNFORD,
General Freight Agent

J. S. Chandler, Claim Adjustor

5t April 26-30 May 6-10-14

Message No. 6

To the Business Men of Quincy

When a run-down salesman calls on you, do you buy his goods? Aren't you afraid of his line because he looks as if no one ever gave him an order?

Same thing is true of a seedy town. To be prosperous we must look prosperous and show local pride.

Clean streets, nice stores and well-painted buildings pay because they bring business. Paint-hungry buildings are least excusable, for paint made of

Beyer-Bauman White Lead

(Dutch Boy Painter Trade Mark)

and pure linseed oil pays its way by protecting buildings against rot and decay.

Let us estimate on your painting job. We have all good painting requisites. Call us up today.

WILLIAM WESTLAND

Reduction in Prices.

Your attention is called to the reduced spring prices on Anthracite Coal as follows

Lehigh Stove and Egg	$7.50
White Ash Stove and Egg	7.25
White Ash Nut	7.50
Shamokin Stove and Egg	7.50
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75
Pea	5.50
Franklin	8.50

We recommend the placing of your order at this time to insure the low prices.

Nothing but All Rail Clean Coal handled and delivered right by careful experienced drivers.

QUINCY COAL CO.

OFFICE and YARD

Penn St., Quincy Tel. 47-M

Ap. 7 1mo.

PRISONER PROVES HIMSELF ACTOR

John Quinn, a comedian of note in big time circles was one of the dozen detained by the police Saturday night on drunken charges. Quinn is well known in Quincy. At headquarters his claim to being an actor was disputed and without any makeup, other than a comic look, he quickly laid their claim on the shelf. All sorts of imitations were given and Harry Lauder was given a fineboost through a tip top specialty number. Quinn faced Judge Avery this morning and was fined $10. His sentence was suspended until Sept. 5.

Joseph McCrail, Atlantic was fined $15 on a similar charge and $5 on an old one.

Peter J. Farrell, est Quincy. sentenced to the tSate Farm on a similar charge. An appeal was taken and bail set at $200.

William Regan of Brockton fined $5 for drunkenness.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—always crisp, clean, pure and wholesome. Try it. Grocers.

CHICHESTER S PILLS

THE DIAMOND BRAND. Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER'S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

EDWARD J. FEGAN

COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW

830 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M

914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.

10.30 A. M. t. 5 P. M.

Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK QUINCY.

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,

Treasurer.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN

78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point

PIANO TUNER

Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S

Tel. 1827-W Quincy

CARPENTER AND BUILDER

PLANS EXECUTED

Established 1891 in Quincy

All Work Given Prompt Attention

W. R. LOFGREN

19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall

Tel. Quincy 398-3

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING

WALL PAPER FOR SALE

KUSTAA RASANEN

121 Copeland St., West Quincy

Tel. Con. 19-tf

JOHNSON AND CO.'S PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT

Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.

IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.

Be Sure My Name is on The Band

Yours, JOHNSON

Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

His Love Story

By MARIE VAN VORST

Illustrations by RAY WALTERS

(Copyright by the Bobbs-Merrill Company)

(Continued from last issue)

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Le Comte de Sabron, captain of French cavalry, takes to his quarters to raise by hand a motherless Irish terrier pup, and names it Pitchoune.

CHAPTER II—Sabron dines with the Marquise d' Esclignac and meets Miss Julia Redmond, American heiress, who sings for him an English ballad that lingers in his memory.

CHAPTER III—Sabron, trying to save Pitchoune's life, declines a second invitation to dinner because of a "very sick friend."

CHAPTER IV—No more invitations come from the Chateau d' Esclignac. Pitchoune, though lame from his accident, thrives and is devoted to Sabron.

CHAPTER V—Sabron and Pitchoune meet the Marquise and Miss Redmond and after the story of Pitchoune is told Sabron is forgiven and invited to dinner again.

CHAPTER VI—Sabron is ordered to Algiers, but is not allowed to take servants or dogs. He is invited to a musicale at the Chateau.

CHAPTER VII—At the musicale Miss Redmond, hearing that Sabron cannot take Pitchoune with him, offers to take care of the dog during his master's absence.

CHAPTER VIII—Pitchoune, homesick for his master, runs away from Miss Redmond. The Marquise plans to marry Julia to the Duc de Tremont.

CHAPTER IX—Unknown to Sabron, Pitchoune follows him to Algiers.

"Well," said the girl, whose pale cheeks and trembling hands that held the telegram made a sincere impression on her aunt, "well, then, if you believe, why do you doubt that he is alive? Someone must find him. Will you tell Eugene to have the motor here in an hour? The boat sails tomorrow, ma tante."

The marquise rolled her embroidery and put it aside for twelve months. Her fine hands looked capable as she did so.

"My dear Julia, a young and handsome woman cannot follow like a daughter of the regiment, after the fortunes of a soldier."

"But a Red Cross nurse can, ma tante, and I have my diploma."

"The boat leaving tomorrow, my dear Julia, doesn't take passengers."

"Oh, ma tante! There will be no other boat for Algiers," she opened the newspaper, "until . . . oh, heavens!"

"But Robert de Tremont's yacht is in the harbor."

Miss Redmond looked at her aunt speechlessly.

"I shall telegraph Madame d' Haussonville and ask permission for you to go in that as an auxiliary of the Red Cross to Algiers, or rather, Robert is at Nice. I shall telegraph him."

"Oh, ma tante!"

"He asked me to make up my own party for a cruise on the Mediterranean," said the Marquise d'Esclignac thoughtfully.

Miss Redmond fetched the telegraph blank and the pad from the table. The color began to return to her cheeks. She put from her mind the idea that her aunt had plans for her. All ways were fair in the present situation.

The Marquise d'Esclignac wrote her dispatch, a very long one, slowly. She said to her servant:

"Call up the Villa des Perroquets at Nice. I wish to speak with the Duc de Tremont." She then drew her niece very gently to her side, looking up at her as a mother might have looked. "Darling Julia, Monsieur de Sabron has never told you that he loved you?"

Julia shook her head.

"Not in words, ma tante."

There was a silence, and then Julia Redmond said:

"I only want to assure myself that he is safe, that he lives. I only wish to know his fate."

"But if you go to him like this, ma chere, he will think you love him. He must marry you! Are you making a serious declaration."

"Ah," breathed the girl from between trembling lips, "don't go on. I shall be shown the way."

The Marquise d'Esclignac then said, musing:

"I shall telegraph to England for provisions. Food is vile in Algiers. Also, Melanie must get out our summer clothes."

"Ma tante!" said Julia Redmond, "our summer clothes?"

"Did you think you were going alone, my dear Julia!"

She had been so thoroughly the American girl that she had thought of nothing but going. She threw her arms around her aunt's neck with an abandon that made the latter young again. The Marquise d'Esclignac kissed her niece tenderly.

"Madame la Marquise, Monsieur le Duc de Tremont is at the telephone," the servant announced to her from the doorway.

CHAPTER XV.

Julia's Romance.

From her steamer chair the Marquise d'Esclignac asked:

"Are you absorbed in your book, Julia?"

Miss Redmond faintly smiled as she laid it down. She was absorbed in but one thing, morning, noon and night, waking or sleeping: when and where she should find him; how he was being treated. Had he been taken captive? He was not dead, of that she was sure.

"What is the book, Julia?"

"Le Conte d'un Spahi."

"Put it down and let me speak to you of Robert de Tremont."

Miss Redmond, being his guest and indebted to him for her luxurious transportation, could not in decency refuse the request.

"He knows nothing whatever of our errand, Julia."

"Ah, then, what does he think?"

Miss Redmond on the arm of her blue serge coat wore a band of white, in the center of which gleamed the Red Cross. The marquise, wrapped in a sable rug, held a small Pekinese lapdog cuddled under her arm, and had only the appearance of a lady of leisure bent on a pleasure excursion. She did not suggest a rescuing party in the least. Her jaunty hat was enveloped by a delicate veil; her hands were incased in long white gloves. Now that she had encouraged her energetic niece and taken this decisive step, she relaxed and found what pleasure she might in the voyage.

"When we came on board last night, my dear, you remember that I sat with Robert in the salon until . . . well, latish."

"After midnight?"

"Possibly; but I am fifty and he is thirty. Moreover, I am his godmother. He is enchanting, Julia, spiritual and sympathetic. I confess, my dear, that I find myself rather at a loss as to what to tell him."

Miss Redmond listened politely. She was supremely indifferent as to what had been told to her host. This was Tuesday; they should reach Algiers on Saturday at the latest. What news would meet them there? She held in her book the last dispatch from the ministry of war. Supposing the Captain de Sabron had been taken captive by some marauding tribe and was being held for a ransom! This was the Romance of a Spahi, in which she was absorbed. Taken captive! She could not let herself think what that might mean.

"Robert's mother, you know, is my closest friend. His father was one of the witnesses of my marriage. I feel that I have brought up Robert . . . it would have been so perfect." She sighed.

"Ma tante!" warned Miss Redmond, with a note of pain in her voice.

"Yes, yes," accepted the marquise. "I know, my dear, I know. But you cannot escape from the yacht except in a lifeboat, and if you did it would be one of Robert's lifeboats! You must not be too formal with him." She tapped the nose of her Pekinese dog. "Be still, Mimi, that man is only a sailor! and if he were not here and at his duty you would be drowned, you little goose!"

The Pekinese dog was a new addition. Julia tried not to dislike her; for Julia, only Pitchoune existed. She could not touch Mimi without a sense of disloyalty.

The boat cut the azure water with its delicate white body, the decks glistened like glass. The sailor at whom Mimi had barked passed out of sight, and far up in the bow Tremont, in white flannels, stood smoking.

"I had to be very circumspect, my dear Julia, when I talked with Robert. You see you are not engaged to Monsieur de Sabron." The girl colored. "The sentimental woman in me," her aunt went on, "has responded to all your fantasies, but the practical woman in me calls me a romantic goose."

"Ah," breathed Miss Redmond, opening her book, "ma tante, let me read."

"Nonsense," said the marquise affectionately. "The most important part of the whole affair is that we are here—that we are en route to Algiers, is it not?"

The girl extended her hand gratefully.

"And thank you! Tell me, what did you say to him?"

The marquise hummed a little tune, and softly pulled Mimi's ears.

"Remember, my child, that if we find Monsieur de Sabron, the circumspection will have to be even greater still."

"Leave that to me, ma tante."

"You don't know," said the determined lady quite sweetly, "that he has the slightest desire to marry you, Julia."

Miss Redmond sat up in her chair, and flamed.

"Do you want to make me miserable?"

"I intend to let my worldly wisdom equal this emergency, Julia. I want Robert to have no suspicion of the facts."

"How can we prevent it, ma tante?"

"We can do so if you will obey me."

The girl started, and her aunt, looking up at the Duc de Tremont where he stood in the bow, saw that he showed signs of finishing his smoke and of joining them.

"Ma tante," said the girl quickly, "have you brought me here under false colors? Have you let him think . . ."

"Hush, Julia, you are indebted to him for accomplishing your own desire."

"But I would never, never . . ."

"Petite sotte," cried the marquise, "then you would never have been on this yacht."

Intensely troubled and annoyed, Julia asked in a low tone:

"For heaven's sake, ma tante, tell me what the Duc de Tremont thinks!"

Her aunt laughed softly. "The intrigue and romance of it all entertained her. She had the sense of having made a very pretty concession to her niece, of having accomplished a very agreeable pleasure trip for herself. As for young Sabron, he would be sure to be discovered at the right moment, to be lionized, decorated and advanced. The reason that she had no wrinkles on her handsome cheek was because she went lightly through life.

"He thinks, my dearest girl, that you are like all your countrywomen: a little eccentric and that you have a strong mind. He thinks you one of the most tender-hearted and benevolent of girls."

"You Must Not Be Too Formal With Him."

"Ma tante, ma tante!"

"He thinks you are making a little mission into Algiers among the sick and the wounded. He thinks you are going to sing in the hospitals."

"But," exclaimed the girl, "he must think me mad."

(To be Continued.)

Question Cleared Up

Quincy Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence.

Again and again we have read of strangers in distant towns who have been cured by this or that medicine. But Quincy's pertinent question has always been "Has anyone here in Quincy been cured?" The word of a stranger living a hundred miles away may be true, but it cannot have the same weight with us as the word of our own citizens, whom we know and respect, and whose evidence we can so easily prove.

Mrs. George Atkinson, 80 Main street, Quincy, says: "One of my family had trouble from weak kidneys caused by his work. He also suffered from backache. He used six boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured him. He don't complain at all now. We give all the credit for this cure to Doan's Kidney Pills. We keep a supply in the house all the time."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Atkinson recommends. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.

will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.

OFFICE AT
96 WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY
Tel. 618

Arthur B. Foster
CARPENTER and BUILDER
14 Bay View St., Quincy Point
Telephone Connection
31-1m

FURNITURE and PIANO MOVING

PACKING and STORAGE

William D. King
106 Center St., Tel. Quincy 21003
21tf

ARRESTED IN RAID.

Pasquale Colsanto was arrested by the police Sunday afternoon during a raid at his home at 152 Main street. He was charged with keeping and exposing liquor for sale.

The raid was made by Acting Chief McKay, Inspector Goodhue, and a squad of officers. A small quantity of beer was seized. In court this morning the case was continued to April 29.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Laura Bryant, late of Quincy, in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petiton has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Linda A. Lincoln of said Quincy without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline in said County of Norfolk, on the twenty-eighth day of April, A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger a newspaper published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixteenth day of April A. D. 1915.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t April 17-20-26

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Joseph Banigan, late of Providence, in the County of Providence and State of Rhode Island, deceased:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by William Garneau, of Woonsocket in the State of Rhode Island, with certain papers purporting to be copies of the last will and testament of said deceased, and of the probate thereof in said State of Rhode Island duly authenticated, representing that at the time of his death, said deceased had estate in said County of Norfolk, on which said will may operate, and praying that the copy of said will may be filed and recorded in the Registry of Probate of said County of Norfolk, and letters of administration with the will annexed thereon granted to him.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the nineteenth day of May A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, Mass., the first publication to be thirty days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twelfth day of April in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register
3t April 13-20-26

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Lavina H. Hayden, late of Quincy in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by William A. Hayden of Braintree in said County who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving surety on his official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the twelfth day of May A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing postpaid or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-second day of April in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register
3t April 26 May 3-10

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.

Cosy upper 4 room and bath flat, 122 Glendale Road. $19.

H. F. McIntire
Greenleaf Blk
Tel. Quincy 1665-W.

Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.

1-1 yr.

Quincy Pianoforte School
Mackellon Directors
Street Floor, Greenleaf Block
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
Piano Instructions Par Excellence Voice
Private or Class Lessons
Tel. 539-M 31-tf

KEEP POSTED ON THE PEOPLE'S WANTS

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

WHY WORRY LET THESE ADS LIFT YOUR BURDEN

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Half house, all improvements, electric lights, gas, fitted screens; four minutes to trains, one minute to electrics. Off Independence Avenue. Tel. Quincy 789 R. W. J. Talbot, 3 Lawry street. 26-6t

TO LET — Furnished flat of six rooms, modern improvements, nice locality, 12 minutes from Quincy station and 4 minutes from electric cars. Write M. G. J. Ledger Office. 24-9t

TO LET—Two rooms, furnished for light housekeeping. Gas range, electric lights and privilege of bath and laundry. Also one single room. Desirable parties only. 34 Chestnut street, corner Foster street. 23-tf

TO LET—Seven room flat, all modern improvements, situated at 43 Dysart street. Possession given May 1. 39 Dysart street. 21-tf

TO LET—2 furnished rooms, modern conveniences with or without board. Could be used for professional purposes. Apply at 71 School St. 21-6t

TO LET—Upper and lower flats, 14 and 16 Wibird street. All improvements. Five rooms and bath, large attic with upper flat. Call Miss Newcomb, 49 Newcomb street. 21-6t

TO LET—6 room tenements, all improvements. Apply to C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 20-tf

TO LET—Tenement of 7 rooms, all improvements. Rent $25. Apply 233 Washington street. 20-9t

TO LET—Modern apartment, near high school; two-family house, everything separate; 7 rooms and bath; electricity and gas. Apply A. D. Cossaboom, 95 Merrymount road; Tel. 1374-M. 15-12t

TO LET—Lower flat in two-family house. Living room, dining room, bedroom, kitchen and bathroom, pantry, good closets and cellar. Coal and gas range, furnace, electric lights. Every convenience. Rent $20. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 13-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 7-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house, 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2, Quincy or 110 South street, Boston, Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

TO LET

TO LET—Large sunny front room suitable for married couple. Also garage to let. Write B. G. Ledger Office. 26 3t.

TO LET—Board and rooms, also light housekeeping rooms. Apply 26 Elm St. off Hancock st. 26-3t

TO LET—House of three rooms. Apply Hammond place, off Water street. 23-6t

TO LET—Upper apartment 91 Revere road, 6 rooms, gas and coal range gas light. Rent reduced to $18. Small adult family. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1 Quincy. 23-tf

TO LET—Tenement of six rooms at 8 Mechanic street. Apply to E. D. Barrett, 27 Revere road. tf

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements. 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 13-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Four room summer cottage, furnished; Houghs Neck, easy terms, $200 down. Write C. L. Ledger Office. 26-3t

FOR SALE—In South Braintree, 8 room house and barn, about 35,000 ft. of land, corner lot on Hancock and Washington streets, electric cars pass the door, call at 1397 Washington St., at home 4.30 P. M.
Alexander Downey.
April 26 6t.

FOR SALE—Spars, sails, running gear and steering wheel for a 25 ft. sloop at a bargain, in best of condition C. W. Sears, rear of 403 Washington street, Quincy. 24-6t

FOR SALE or TO LET—New two-flat house on Kittredge avenue. Each flat has 5 rooms and bath, all modern improvements, coal and gas range, electric lights. Inquire at 11 Ring avenue off Washington street. 23-6t

FOR SALE—Handsome mare, 3 1-2 years old, with pedigree, thoroughly broken. Apply to Jennie Cross, 12 A Liberty street, South Braintree. 23-3t

FOR SALE—Building 15x20. Must be moved within 30 days. F. A. Thayer, 537 South street. 23-3t

FOR SALE—Cows, one car load of extra fine new milch cows, at barns of H. G. Pope, Squantum. Come and buy now. Tel. Quincy 2267-W. 23-3t

FOR SALE—Stoddard Dayton Roadster in first class condition, top, windshield, full equipment. Will sell cheap Apply to Mrs. John F. Welch, corner Hancock and Elm streets. 23-tf

FOR SALE—Milk wagon, strong, good condition, also Democrat, two seats, painted and varnished, both at a bargain. Must be sold. Ellis, 50 Squantum street, East Milton. 22-6t

FOR SALE—One mission set, chiffonier, and a morris chair, practically new. Apply between 5 and 6, Room 7 Durgin and Merrill block. 21-6t

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-tf. L P.

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

MISCELLANEOUS

SOMEONE—Please answer who will take a very fine new piano into their home and use carefully. Privilege of buying later on easy terms if desired. Wish to move at once. Write for full particulars, M. L. M., Ledger Office. 24-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage. Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1207-M., Quincy. Res. 22-tf

TO LET
Large Room 30x36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

WANTED

WANTED—Girl for light office work, one with some experience preferred. Wages $5.00 to start. Write V. F., Ledger Office. 26-3t

WANTED—An experienced maid for general housework. References required. Apply at 118 Merrymount road. 26-tf

WANTED—4 or 5 room flat between Depot and Fore River Shipyard. Rent reasonable. Write A. R. Ledger Office. 24-3t

WANTED—Girl 17 years would like position taking care of child. Write C. D. Ledger Office. 24-3t

WANTED—A licensed man to fire vertical boiler and take care of steam pump. Write at once "A" Ledger Office. 24-3t

WANTED—At once boys over 18 years of age. Apply at factory of Edmund S. Hunt & Sons Co., Weymouth. 24-3t

WANTED—Man over 30 years old to travel for us this Spring and all Summer, making these towns: Braintree, Brookline, Dedham, E. Braintree, Foxboro, Franklin, Holbrook, Hyde Park, Needham, Norfolk, Norwood, Quincy, Randolph, Walpole, Sharon, Wellesley, Weymouth. GLEN BROS., Rochester, N. Y. 24-2t

WANTED—Cook, 2nd. parlor, general, mother's helpers, green maids, first class position, best of wages, reliable help furnished. Oldest employment office in city. L. M. Flynn, 22 Maple street, next to Post Office. Phone 2235 W. 23-3t

WANTED—Girls to work on clothing, power machines. Experienced girls preferred. Rhodes Ripley Clothing Co., Hingham. 22-6t

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify, fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

TO LET
After May 1, Store or Stores
No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.
Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for Mr. Kuhs.
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

BE WISE
FOOL THE FLIES
HAVE YOUR SCREENS
RE-COVERED NOW
TELEPHONE OR WRITE
HOLMES & HALL
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

Read Ledger Advs.

1c ONE CENT SALE 1c

No matter what the first article costs the second costs ONE CENT.

Monday and Tuesday April 26th and 27th

Pay one cent more than the regular price for any one of these articles and get TWO.

Drugs and Patent Medicines

25c Witch Hazel (pint)	2 for 26c
5c Epsom Salts	2 for 6c
25c Headease	2 for 26c
75c Reconstructive Tonic	2 for 76c
25c Hearn's White Pine & Tar	2 for 26c
25c Rhinitis Tablets	2 for 26c
15c Peroxide of Hydrogen	2 for 16c
25c Granular Effervescent Sodium Phosphate	2 for 26c
20c Belladonna Plasters	2 for 21c
25c Grippe Tablets	2 for 26c
15c Tasteless Castor Oil	2 for 16c
10c Bronchial Lozenges	2 for 11c
25c Lithia Tablets	2 for 26c
25c Hearn's White Liniment	2 for 26c
15c Hearn"s Little Liver Granules	2 for 16c
25c Hearn's Dyspepsia Tablets	2 for 26c
25c Hygenic Tooth Paste	2 for 26c

Give Your Pocketbook a Show

Here's the opportunity for you to get just what you want and make a big saving.

To give you the greatest value for your money, the highest quality of goods, and courteous clerks to serve you is our idea of Drug Store Service.

Come yourself and bring a friend.

CIGAR SPECIAL
A 10c Cigar for 1c
Johnson's A-1 Cigar
10c 2 for 11c

CANDY SPECIAL
2 lbs. of our 40c Chocolates 41c
40 pieces in a box, 20 different combinations.
1 lb. 40c 2 lb. 41c

Children's Special Hersheys Nut Chocolate 5c 2 for 6c

1 Nursing Bottle 5c
1 more 1c

1 Seamless Rubber Nipple 5c
1 more 1c

ONE CENT
Buys five 5 cent face cloths with a 25c bottle of Cresent Almond Cream.

WATER GLASS
1 pt. 15c
1 more for 1c

Hospital Absorbent Cotton
1 35c 1 more 1c

HOUSEHOLD NEEDS.

5c package Soda Bicarb	2 for 6c
5c package Sulphur	2 for 6c
10c package Toilet Paper	2 for 11c
5c Nail Scrub	2 for 6c
10c bottle Castor Oil	2 for 11c
25c bottle Corn Solvent	2 for 26c
5c Slippery Elm Lozenges	2 for 6c

ONE CENT
Buys a 10c Face Chamois with a 10c cake Lana Oil Soap.

Boric Acid
sifting top can 1 can 10c
1 more 1c

Toilet Articles

15c Hearn's Tooth Powder	2 for 16c
25c Crescent Almond Cream,	2 for 26c
15c Hearn's Cold Cream, this sale	2 for 16c
10c can Talcum Powder, this sale	2 for 11c
10c cake Lana Oil and Buttermilk Soap	2 for 11c
5c Wash Cloth	2 for 6c
10c Styptic Pencil	2 for 11c
25c Hygenic Tooth Paste	2 for 26c
10c bottle Glycerine	2 for 11c

STATIONERY
A 25c box of Ward's Writing Paper; 24 sheets, 24 envelopes.
1 box 25c 2 for 26c

ONE CENT SALE

Spring Pictures are Interesting
After you have snapped some good pictures with your camera bring your films to us and let us finish them for you. Our work is good and the price is right.

Chas. C. Hearn
CITY SQUARE, QUINCY
"THE QUALITY DRUG STORE"

DO NOT FORGET
That during this sale we still give our checks in all departments excepting candy and soda.
This is an additional discount of 5 per cent. for $10 worth of these checks are good for 50c in trade
SAVE them they are worth MONEY

ONE CENT SALE

DISTRICT COURT.

John Bestgen of Atlantic, charged with assault and battery on Mrs. Elizabeth Wesson of Middleboro, was discharged. Bestgen testified that when he found it impossible to remove the complainant from the path of his auto he went to his office and got under the floor through a trap door and reamined in hiding until she left, several hours later.

James F. Savage, 41 years, was fined $10 for drunkenness at Quincy. James C. Dunn, 41 years, was sentenced to a month in the House of Correction on a similar charge and was given probation to Sept. 15. offense against William Rudderham of Randolph, the well known base ball, was discharged.

POEHLER HEADS LEAGUE.

Paul Poehler heads the bowlers of the Suburban league with an average of 110. Walsh comes next with 109.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER

To Aim At The Mark
is not always to hit it, but we are continually scoring bulls eyes in the way of low prices, high quality goods and quick service. We have a good many customers but we are always looking for more, and if you have never bought your groceries of us we extend to you an invitation to be in today.

Three Millers Marshmallow Creme small 15c can large 23c can
Ripe Olives 25c jar
Waneta Cocoa, in Jars 25c lb

ADAMS MARKET
City Square
Phone 1060

FOY'S
2 STORES

WATER STREET
Cor. Quincy
Phone 117

THE CHURCHES

(Continued from Page Three.)

tage prayer meeting of the season will be held at the home of William Arthur 137 Hollis avenue.

The monthly covenant meeting of the church will be held in the chapel. The subject will be "Unselfishness."

WOLLASTON CONGREGATIONAL.

At the morning service yesterday a good sized congregation listened to Dr. Sneath upon the topic "Mark. the Young Christian." This was St. Mark's Day in the calendar of the church and he drew three lessons from the meagre account we have of Mark's life. He spoke upon the incalcuable value of a Christian environment in the home and community for young men of the Christian encouragement which older men should give to young men giving the impression that a religious life is worth while and also of the value of a Christian life useful for service. He made an appeal to young men to go forth in the spirit of adventure with heroic souls but with definite purposes to make their lives tell for rightcousness.

Miss Hayward sang in an effective manner "Invocation" by Jordan.

Miss Olive Hillman was the leader at the Junior society meeting, Miss Hildegarde Ducey at the Intermediate society meeting and Miss Ruth Taylor spoke upon Korea at the Senior society meeting.

NOTICES FOR THE WEEK.

This evening the Wollaston Glee club will hold its ladies night in the church vestry.

On Tuesday evening the Men's Congregational club will hold its annual ladies night at 7.30 o'clock. Under the direction of its president, Mayor Campbell, a most interesting time is being provided.

The Ladies Benevolent society will hold an all-day meeting on Wednesday and will pack several barrels of clothing to send to the South.

At 4 P. M. Wednesday the cornerstone laying of the new parish house will occur. The program is as follows:

Corner-Stone hymn. Scripture selections, Prayer, remarks by Dr. Sneath, Remarks by Mayor Campbell. Historical statement by Chas. F. West, List of contents of box with remarks read by Chas. S. Campbell, superintendent of the Sunday school, Flag exercise with "America" by the children and audience.

This exercise will be in charge of David H. Goodspeed, master of schools. Chas. H. Everett will lead the singing. Chas. P. Hutchins, moderator of the church will preside.

On Thursday evening will be the preparatory service at which time Dr. Sneath will present the Lord's supper as told in the New Testament accounts.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S CHURCH

The Junior auxiliary will meet Tuesday afternoon and the Girls Friendly society Tuesday evening. On Wednesday there will be a sewing meeting of the Woman's guild in the afternoon and in the evening the guild will hold a missionary meeting. Saturday will be observed as St. Philip and St. James' Day with Holy communion at 10. A. M.

FIRST PARISH CHURCH.

Preaching Sunday morning upon "Heretics" the Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson remarked: "The only hersey in the Universe today which is really damnable is the ignoble surrender of one's convictions. Next to this is the imbecility of having no moral convictions wort fighting for. And this appears to be the form of hersey most prevalent in our time. Formerly society used to burn people for their convictions, when thy differed from established creeds. But nowadays society has burned its convictions and lest the people drift."

Mr. Hudson confessed that, when he entered the ministry, it seemed to him that the chief foe to moral progress was theological bigotry; and consequently he enlisted to fight bigots. "In 20 years," he added," I have seen the whole battle ground shift. Bigots and heretics alike have disappeared.

"From high places in the Orthodoxy come statements and admissions which could have been the signal for a battle royal 25 or 30 years ago And now no one pays any attention to them. Discussions of Orthodoxy and Hetrodoxy have become altogether uninteresting and out of date. In their place a deadly, asphyxiating indifference has settled down over the minds of the people. In the field of abstract thinking this has taken the form of a flippant philosophy that there is no such thing as absolute Truth. Which is Mr. Chesterton remarks is not thought, but the suicide of thought. In the field of concrete living it is rapidly taking the form of a gross materialism, which assumes without argument that the only things in this world, worth working for are material comfort, prosperity and pleasure.

"To those who have given the slightest attention to the study of social progress and decay, it is needless to remark that such a condition is a clear indication of impending chaos.—first moral, then social, political and financial. It is a time which demands, above all things, the restoring of definite moral standards and convictions.

And the center for such activity is in our churches. It is a call for renewed earnestness and zeal in all our churches; but especially in this church with its noble traditions and its intimate connection with the life and growth of the community. It demands that the high moral standards and ideals of the past, together with the spirit of helpful and devoted service, shall not be permitted to suffer loss in the hands of the present generation."

BOSTON WILL

(Continued from Page One.)

sell any portion of said land not necessary for public use, at public auction or private sale, upon terms and conditions approved by the mayor of the city of Boston, and the proceeds of such sales shall be paid over to the treasurer of the city of Boston and held for the purpose of purchasing any of the outstanding bonds of said city or, in the discretion of said treasurer, for the purpose of meeting the interest and sinking fund requirements of any bonds issued by the city.

BRIEFS

Carlton D. White and family of Holbrook are moving to Wollaston.

Tuesday evening the Y. P. R. U. of the First church gives a dance at Alpha hall for the benefit of the Boston Federation of the Y. P. R. U.

The boys of the Montclair school held a candy and ice cream sale in the corridor of the school on Friday afternoon. The proceeds of the sale are to go towards buying jerseys, bats and balls for the base ball team.

George H. Kendrick of Wollaston returned home Friday from Millard Gleason's Camp at Belgrade lakes, Me., with six beautiful trout. All members of the party had splendid luck.

BRIEFS

A meeting of the School Committee will be held Tuesday evening.

John Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Griffin of Hancock street, is at his home suffering from a compound fracture of the right wrist, suffered in a fall from a fence. He is being treated by Dr. D. B. Reardon.

Mrs. Thomas P. DeWolfe of Yarmouth, N. S., formerly of Atlantic, has spent the past week a guest of Mrs. C. F. Guilhop of Wilson avenue, Wollaston.

Prof. Munson of the Farm Buerau association will speak on "Children"s Gardens" at the meeting of the Parents' and Teachers association of the Cranch school on Tuesday evening in the scrol hall. here will be music and refreshments.

At a special meeting of the board of directors of the Quincy Co-operative Bank held Saturday evening, $500 was carried to the Guaranty fund and a dividend of 5 and one half per cent declared payable on the first Wednesday in May.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Restelli, who were married on Patriot's day, have returned from their honeymoon and are at their new home at 124 Independence avenue. Mrs. Restelli before marriage was Miss Eva Rice of Wollaston.

Frihet lodge. Independent Order of Good Templars, held a dancing party in Electa hall with a good attendance. The committee was Fred Mattson, T. Carlson, Fred Gustafson, Miss Jeannette Anderson and Miss T. Lundin. Music was by Johnsen's orchestra.

The directors of the Y. M. C. A. have not chosen a successor to Louis F. La Rose, physical director, nor will they select one until after Mr. La Rose severs his connection with the association on May 1.

HAD $126 IN CASH AND LOADED PISTOL

Girl Who Disappeared From Peabody Placed Under Arrest

Peabody, Mass., April 26.—Esther Burbeck, the 17-year-old Peabody girl for whom search has been made through all New England since the finding of a note addressed to her parents in which she said that she intended to drown herself in Floating Bridge pond, Lynn, was located at the railroad station in Manchester, N. H., last night.

The girl was buying a ticket for San Francisco at the time the police found her. She had with her $126 in cash. In her grip the police found a 38-calibre revolver, fully loaded.

ALLEGED MISUSE OF FUNDS

Police Descend Upon Berlin's Famous Bank For Women

Berlin, April 26.—The police seized the books of the "Women's bank" which was widely heralded upon its organization two years ago as the only financial institution in the world organized, capitalized and managed exclusively by women for women.

This step was ordered in connection with proceedings instituted against the bank by the crown prosecutor for alleged fraud and misuse of deposits.

The bank started out well, and attracted considerable deposits from women, but later was chiefly conspicuous owing to its difficulties.

The managers were forced to seek male assistance, and it is stated that at the beginning of the war they avoided bankruptcy only by establishing connections with one of the regular Berlin banks.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

WANTED—Seamstress would like position with dressmaker. Apply Florence C. Rowder, 10 Berry Street, Neponset. 26-1t

FOR RENT—In Quincy Centre, opposite Adams Academy, house 7 rooms, and bath 18 Faxon avenue, suite 6 rooms and bath, every modern improvement Tel. 414-M Weymouth. 26-tf

BIRTHS

NEWTON—In Quincy, April 25th. a son to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Newton of 169 Kendrick avenue.

DEATHS

TALBOT—In Atlantic, Alfred Talbot of 43 Glover avenue, in his 43d year.

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 98 QUINCY, MASS., TUESDAY EVENING, APRIL 27, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

DEDICATE NEW PARISH HOUSE IN WOLLASTON

Eloquent Speakers at Impressive Ceremony

Friends and parishioners of the Wollaston Unitarian church gathered in the new parish house, Monday evening. to observe the services of dedication which formally opened the building for use and at which many prominent speakers appeared. Hon. Eugene H. Sprague. president of the parish presided and selections by a large chorus choir of young ladies were enjoyed. Preceding the exercises there was music by an orchestra in charge of Mrs. William M. Burrell.

Mrs. Sprague. in opening the meeting. extended a hearty and cordial welcome, expressing the hope that with the new building there might be many social gatherings and that tonight they would become better acquainted.

On account of several other important engagements, Mayor Chester I. Campbell was the first speaker introduced and he received a hearty hand of applause. He bespoke his pleasure at being present, both as a representative of the city and as a neighbor.

He recalled the attempt to build a "Community House" in Wollaston several years ago and gave the credit for the completion of this parish house, and the erection of the several other public buildings in process. to some of the hard working fellows who first started the building agitation by working for the "Community House."

"I am interested as mayor." he said, "in making Quincy a good place to live in. If we do this industrial life will develop as fast as is consistent with good business. We should make every section of this historic city of ours a good place to live in and none can help more than organizations of this nature. I count on your help in bringing to Quincy the right sort of people.

Your new building is an ornament to Ward Five, an ornament to the city. It is a building that every citizen of Ward Five feels proud of."

Rev. Carl G. Horst, pastor of the church, declared this occasion to be one of the happiest of his life when he saw his vision realized and his dreams fulfilled. He expressed his deep gratitude for the earnest help, devotion and sacrifice that had made this building possible. He reminded those present that while the parish house was a building by itself it was an auxiliary of the church, which is a power house of the spirit.

Charles T. Baker., chairman of the building committee told of the experiences met with since the parish house was just proposed in 1906. They had been fortunate in the selection of contractors. The work had been well done. "Here it is." he said. "does it meet with your approval?" The hearty applause testified that it did.

On behalf of the building committee, Mr. Baker handed over the keys and custody of the parish house. They were accepted by Mr. Sprague for the parish committee. In accepting he extended sincere thanks to the building committee.

"Thou shalt love the Lord" by the chorus choir. with solo by Miss Ernestine Litchfield, was sung. The next speaker, was Rev. Edward A. Horton, one of the prominent Unitarians of the present day and chaplain of the Massachusetts senate.

He carried out previous introductions as a "verbal volcano" and "eruptive dictionary" and struck as his keynote "The place and power of the church in modern life as it can and ought to be made."

In the altar fires, the worship songs and the consecrating influence of the church lies the core of the prosperity of our nation.

Rev. Adelbert L. Hudson of the First Parish church spoke for a co-related moral consciousness He did not admit that Ward Five was chiefly responsible in securing the present executive for a business administration.

What was needed in the present day was a revival of that strong moral conviction of our forebears. Only by return to this will we be clear of impending disaster which will affect. us morally, socially, politically and financially.

William H. Sayward of Dorchester, president of Norfolk Unitarian Conference, was introduced as a good sample of the Unitarian layman. He spoke strongly for the need of warmer feeling and more social life in our congregations.

"The sweet forget-men-not" was rendered by the chorus choir.

Rev. Samuel A. Eliot, D. D., president of the American Unitarian association, was the last speaker of the evening and gave an uplifting and pregnant address on the symbolic value of the enterprise achieved.

All present were invited to adjourn to the new supper rooms where refreshments were served by a large corps of young women. In the meantime the chairs in the assembly hall had been cleared away and social dancing was enjoyed for the remainder of the evening.

The Selectmen of Weymouth have appointed Arthur H. Pratt as chief of Police, to fill the vacancy caused by thedeath of Chief of Police Patrick Butler.

THE WEATHER

Felicitations to the Municipal Cat who on Monday became the proud parent of two likely youngsters. Only two. Surely the M. C. was imbued with the righteousness of his honor's declaration of the need to practice economy. It is to be hoped that the Mayor will show his appreciation by permitting the new arrivals to remain upon the city payroll.

Monday did its worst about three o'clock when the mercury touched 81 degrees, the average temperature of the day being 63 2-3 against 47 1-4 a year ago.

Now hear the worst: Generally fair weather and not much change in temperature for today and Wednesday.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	4.44
Sun sets	6.40
Length of day	13.56
Moon rises	3.44
High water, A. M.	10.00
High water, P. M.	10.30
Days increase 4 hrs. 50 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	68 degrees
Apr. 27, 1914,	43 degrees
Apr. 27, 1913,	55 degrees
Noon Maximum 18 years—86
Noon Minimum 18 years—30

CHILD FALLS FROM WINDOW

Clarence Larson, 6, while trying to climb from one window to another at his home at 171 Whitwell street Monday afternoon fell a distance of 20 feet and is now at the Quincy City Hospital under the observation of house physicians.

The boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Larson. He attempted the climb after the door of his room on the second story accidently locked. He was treated by Dr. Fred E. Jones.

NORTH WEYMOUTH

At the meeting of the Board of Selectmen, Patrolman A. H. Pratt was appointed Chief of Police to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Patrick Butler.

At the regular meeting of the Universalist Men's club 50 members enjoyed a delightful banquet and were afterward entertained by an interesting discourse by R. N. Burns of Cambridge on "A Hunting Trip to Greenland." The supper committee was Mrs. D. A. Jones. Mrs. E H Kavanagh, Mrs. H. D. Farrar, Mrs. C. C. Howland, and the waitresses Mrs. George Ames, Miss Minnie Thayer and Miss Venus Thayer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Herbeck spent a few days recently at their King Cove cottage.

Troop 4, Boy Scouts were instrumental Monday in extinguishing a brush fire in the rear of the Village cemetery.

Percy Vogel who has been critically ill has passed the crisis and is on the road to recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Leighton Thomas were guests Monday of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Keene

A. J. Smith and son Clifford were guests on Sunday of friends in Norwell and Greenbush.

Preceding the meeting of the S. of V Auxiliary Monday, a social whist and supper were enjoyed. Mrs. Ida Joyes and Mrs. Emma MacClearn were the prize winners

At the K. C. B. C whist held Saturday evening at the clubhouse five ables were in play First prizes went to Mrs. C. C. Howland and Mr. White and consolations to Mrs. Saville and Mrs. John Wolfe. At the close of the whist a social was enjoyed with quartet selections by Franklin Austin Prof. Everett. Miss Marion Bowker and Mrs. Josie Culley. There were also several piano solos by Prof. Everett which elicited much applause. Mrs. Charles Abbott was chairman of committee.

The newly organized Troop 5 of Boy Scouts connected with Pilgrim church and under the leadership of Rev. Charles Clark gave an entertainment in the vestry Monday evening. the proceeds of which will be devoted to purchasing equipment for the boys. Quincy Point Troop 1 under Assistant Scout Master Melville. gave exhibitions of various phases of the work E. C. Conlin, scout commissioner for the Y. M. C. A. gave an interesting talk on lines of interest Mrs. Andrew Culley who is well known in patriotic circles and wife of Commander Culley of Post 58 G. A. R. presented the troop with a beautiful American flag completed with staff, belt. etc. The Brotherhood of the church presented a troop flag.

HOLD ANNUAL LADIES NIGHT

Wollaston Glee Club Entertain Wives

The members of the Wollaston Glee club entertained their wives at their annual ladies' night held at the Wollaston Congregational church Monday evening. The yearly wind-up of the club proved a delightful affair, eclipsing all previous efforts. Appropriate to the character of the organization a large part of the entertainment consisted of singing by the club and by individual members. Dr. and Mrs. Sneath were guests of honor.

The company sat down to a banquet, in charge of Mrs. Raymond, and served by the young men who have officiated in that capacity at the monthly suppers of the Congregational Men's club. The menu included: grape fruit and marachino cherry, roast lamb, mashed potatoes, peas, gravy, escalloped oysters, ice cream and cake, coffee and rolls.

President Gurney acted as toastmaster at the post-prandial exercises. Several members of the club were called on for brief speeches. The Glee club then sang "Monk of the Mountain."

The musical program included a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Bates. Another feature was the singing of the handicap quartet, composed of three members of the regular club quartet, the fourth member being chosen at random from the audience. This feature provided much amusement and was repeated several times.

The club sang, "More and More" and "The Soldier's Farewell." They closed with "Tipperary," led by Mr. Bates, the club and guests joining in the chorus.

The tables were attractively decorated with potted plants, donated by Mr. Luard, the florist which were presented to the guests on their departure. A vote of thanks was given to Mr. Luard and to the young men who served as waiters.

COCHATO CLUB LADIES TOURNEY

Team 1, 0 points
Team 2, 7 points.
Team 3, 5 points.
High single, Mrs. Andrews. 97
High total, Mrs Andrews ,261.

Mrs. Andrews was high scorer in the candle pin tournament for ladies at the Cochato club. Braintree, Monday evening. Team one failed to score a point. The summaries:

TEAM 1.

Mrs. Wilder	72	80	89	241
Mrs. Hall	75	70	74	219
Miss S. Perry	85	65	60	210
Mrs. Perry	78	81	74	233
Miss Hatchard	64	64	64	192
Mrs Wiggin	50	52	65	167
Mrs. Hollis	52	52	52	156
	476	464	478	1418

TEAM 11.

Mrs. Connell	78	78	78	234
Mrs Macomber	72	77	87	236
Mrs. Wetherbee	73	67	65	205
Mrs Woodsum	67	67	67	201
Mrs. Lawley	85	69	87	241
Mrs Jenkins	66	58	73	197
Mrs. Arnold	64	70	71	205
	505	486	528	1519

TEAM 111.

Mrs. Keating	72	83	90	245
Mrs. Andrews	89	75	97	261
Miss Abercrombie	74	70	76	220
Miss Crocker	66	66	66	198
Miss E. Kneeland	72	72	80	224
Miss M. Kneeland	50	42	67	159
Mrs Nickerson	65	72	71	208
	488	480	547	1515

WEEKLY WHIST.

There were 52 present at the weekly whist party of the Mt. Wollaston Associates in Odd Fellows hall, Monday evening. The high scorers were Miss M. Lizzie Furald, Mrs. J. Walsh, William Diamond. John Jepson, Mrs. Moffit, Mrs. G. Bolster, and Mrs. William Westland.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader.

GIVE PRIVATE DANCING PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Powell Are Hosts

President Joseph W. Powell of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation and Mrs. Powell gave a dancing party in Alpha hall Monday evening which was attended by 60 of the best known society people of the city.

The party was given for Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Wakeman who came to Quincy a short time ago when Mr. Wakeman was appointed general superintendent at the shipyard.

The decorations were simple and consisted of potted plants and palms and delightful music was furnished throughout the evening by Hanley's orchestra of Boston. A supper was served at 11.30.

NINE BOYS GET DEGREE

Nine South Quincy boys were given the tenderfoot degree Monday night and became members of Highland Troop. Boys Scouts of America. The degree was exemplified by Benjamin Hodgkinson. one of the best known scout masters south of Boston. They immediately reported to Scout Master D MacKellar of the troop for duty.

The boys were Harry Harding, 34 Payne street; Chester Young, 273 Franklin street; Albert Watson, 155 Quincy street; David Muckle, 40 Payne street; James Richards, 23 Kidder street; William Nightingale, 233 Water street; Russell O'Brien, 83 Garfield street; William Simonion, 278 Granite street.

LOOKED LIKE INCENDIARY FIRE

The Central Station Auto responded on a still alarm at 11.15 Monday night for a fire in a new building that had been erected by John Cashman in connection with the building of the boulevard. The building is located just back of the residence of H. H. Kitson, the fire being discovered by Mrs. Kitson who telephoned the fire station. The interior of the building was badly gutted before the firemen had it under control. The firemen found no one about the building or premises and the fire had the looks of an incendiary. The loss will not exceed $150.

STUDY BRAZIL.

Mrs. L. H. Sturtevant was hostess to the Junior Friday club at her home on Adams street, Monday afternoon. There were 15 present. The discussion of Brazil was continud and papers were read by Miss Abigail B. Wood, Mrs. Arthur Hall, Mrs. Walter Burke and Mrs. Perry Lawton. The program was in charge of Mrs. Jessie I. Litchfield. A dainty luncheon was served.

GRANT SIXTEEN PONY EXPRESS LICENSES

City Council Flatly Refuse Two And Lay Others on Table

The city council expended a lot of energy Monday night over the granting of permits to transport liquor into or in the City of Quincy during the coming year from May 1, and after it was all over and things had quieted down the council had acted favorably on the applications of sixteen expressmen, two others had been flatly refused by a yes and no vote, while several other applications were left high and dry on the table where they will automatically die, for under the so-called Pony express law, permits to transport liquor must be granted during the month of April.

Councilman McGrath offered a resolution protesting against the granting of liquor licenses near the Neponset bridge and also a resolution calling for the appointment of a committee of three, including the president, to act with the Mayor in attending the hearing to be given by the Licensing Board of Boston. The committee includes President Whiton, Councilman McGrath and Smith.

The license committee reported granting permits to the following expressmen: Harry W. Love, W. F. Loud & Co., Bruce & Warner, J. G. Miller, Thomas H. Farrell, Carl Lilja, Adams Express Co., N. DiPanfilio, M. J. Connelly, G. Saltalamachie, Andrew Express, N. T. Murphy, F. Giglio & Son, Frank J. Gethro and Peter Gacicia.

On motion of Councilman Smith the application of Frank J. Gethro of the Houghs Neck Steamboat Co. was laid on the table.

The permit of Harry W. Love went through on a voice vote but a roll call was held on the others. Two of these received 22 affirmative votes, J. G. Miller and the Adams Express, Gacicia received 18 affirmative and 4 negative votes and the others went through with 21 yes and one no vote.

The committee reported leave to withdraw on the applications of C. W. Fosdick, Neclario Bros. C. Calabro, J. L. Wentworth. R. S. Gardner, Antonio Petta, J. M. Fallon, J. J. Maloney. These were all laid on the table.

Later the application of Antonio Petta was taken from the table and after some debate was granted on roll call by a vote of 12 yes and 11 no, President Whiton breaking the tie by voting yes.

An order granting a permit to J. J. Maloney was killed by a vote of 20 no and 2 yes. The applicatio of Charles W. Fosdick met the same fate being killed by a vote of 17 no and 5 yes. Richard S. Gardner of Atlantic was granted a permit the vote being 12 yes and no, 9 President Whiton voting yes in this case to furnish the required vote.

No action was taken on the other applications on the table and as noted they will die automatically.

The license committee also reported a large number of orders granting common victualler, Sunday fruit, pool table, and junk wagon licenses all of which were adopted with no opposition.

They gave some "junkies" leave to withdraw but two of these applications were laid on the table, Samuel Kertzman and Max Bergstein, who were later granted licenses.

The only other debatable matter before the council was the order for $20,000 for sewer extensions. Councilman McGrath opposed this order and desired it held up until some future time. He believed that it was unnecessary to appropriate more than $10,000 claiming that what other money was needed could be taken from the free cash in the treasury. He also believed that there were certain thing charged to the amount appropriated last year which were strictly a current expense, and which had been charged to the appropriation. Among these were $ for horse shoeing rubber boots, etc. He claimed it wrong to bond the city for these articles.

President Whiton called Councilman Ross to the chair and spoke at length in favor of the order. Councilman Smith, Craig, Richards, McDonald and Beeman also spoke in favor of the order and it was passed to be ordained by a vote of 20 yes and 2 no, Councilmen McGrath and Slade voting no.

It was anticipated that there would be some discussion on the gun squad appropriation but the two orders relative to the squad went through almost without a murmur of disapproval One of these orders was the report of the finance committee approving the establishing of a gun squad in Quincy, and the other was reference to the Mayor of the order calling for an appropriation of $2,000 for the establishment of the squad.

The Mayor, city clerk and Councilman Ferguson drew the following jurors; Edward G. Clifford, Edward F. Parlee, Patrick Ferguson, Tupper G. Miller, Thomas E. Dunn, Albion A. Hart, James H. Elcock, Elisha Hobart.

The Mayor forwarded a communication from the Planning Board recommending that the proposed contagious hospital be located near the present City Hospital. Referred to Finance Committee. A letter from Miss Jennie M. Purchase, secretary of the Associated Charities regarding a dispensary was referred to the same committee.

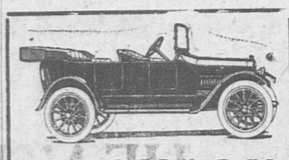

The appointment of George B. Toomy as a constable was confirmed.

The Daughters of John Adams, L. L. O. L., were granted permission to have children appear on the stage May 19.

The Citizens' Gas Light Co. petitioned for a location for mains, and a public hearing was ordered on the same date on petition of the Street Railway and Electric Light Companies for locations for poles.

Petitions for a granolithic sidewalk on Fayette street, the resurfac-

(Continued on Page Six.)

JACKSON
Model 46
THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL. SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER
"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"
Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT
$1375
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

KINCAIDE THEATRE
"THE LOST PARADISE"
With H. B. WARNER
Another Great Film Production—A pictorial argument in behalf of the oppressed laborers whose lives build the wealth of Nations, whose tears are crystallized in the jewels of the rich.
VAUDEVILLE. RUTH ST. ONGE — Wollaston's Popular and Attractive Songster
Mazie Rowland, Pianist and Clever Talker
DeBall and Mulcahey, Comedians and live entertainers
Mon.--Tues.--Wed. — Daily at 2.30 P. M. 10 and 15c. Evenings at 8 — 10, 15, 25c
Coming Thursday — "THE WARRENS OF VIRGINIA"
By the Famous Players.
The great drama "Warrens of Virginia" ran for more than a year at the Belasco Theatre, New York—The Photo Play is without question one of the greatest civil war plays ever produced—Great Battle Spectacle—The inner workings of the Union and Confederate Armies—War sufferings—Surrender of Lee at Appomatox—The thrills of the daughter of General Warren of Virginia and her lover Ned Burton of New York who enlisted in the Union Army.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the
TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

AN IMPORTANT COMMUNICATION.

In another column of today's issue we print a study of the city government together with suggestions as to the character which a new charter should assume. The article was written by Frederick M. Atwood of this city and a freshman in Harvard College. It was written not with any idea of publication but as a thesis for one of Mr. Atwood's regular courses. We feel, however, that it is worth printing, because although it says nothing startlingly new, it does express simply, concisely, and logically, some fundamentals of municipal government and of municipal reform, which can never be told too often. This does not mean that we agree with Mr. Atwood's argument in toto, nor do we expect all of our readers to agree with it. We hope it may stimulate discussion and we cordially invite our readers to contribute their thoughts on the question to our letter-box

In brief Mr Atwood finds the following immediate reasons for changing our city charter: (1) Dissatisfaction with the results of the management of our city, (2) A lack of efficient executives and legislators. (3) A lack of civic pride among the men of larger affairs

His solution, which he contends goes to the root of trouble, marks three important charter changes: (1) The abolition of party designations, (2) A term of three years with a salary of $5000 for the mayor, (3) A council of nine, all elected at large, three to be elected each year

From time to time during the next few weeks we intend to discuss Mr. Atwood's suggestions in a series of editorials on Quincy's city government, striving to recite what we conceive to be the trouble with Quincy and what we conceive to be the solution. The question is an important one and we earnestly trust that our fellow citizens will not hesitate to express their views, whether or not they chance to agree with Mr. Atwood or with this paper.

MAKING THE LAW ABSURD.

City Clerk Crane and Chief Engineer Billings are to attend a conference of city clerks with Fire Hazard Commissioner O'Keefe Wednesday relative to the working of the new gasoline rules. Under the present rulings an owner of an automobile to keep gasoline must petition the city council and a hearing must be held. This is a useless waste of time for no one ever appears either in favor or against the granting of such permits. It is understood that the city clerks at this conference will make an effort to have the public hearing rule so far as private garages are concerned, eliminated and have the permits issued direct by the city clerk or chief engineer. As far as licenses to keep and sell gasoline are concerned a hearing is necessary under the law.

Gasoline is, of course, a highly dangerous substance and its use unquestionably should be surrounded by every safeguard. But it seems to us as if the state fire commissioner has sometimes run wild on the matter and has promulgated rules which are unnecessary and absurd. The rule requiring that a public hearing shall be held to keep gasoline in private garages appears to be one of these. Some of the rules which the state fire commissioner has adopted mark a great advance in fire prevention, but some of them, like the instance under discussion, are so absurd that they defeat their own purpose and cast ridicule upon a worthy cause.

MAKER OF MIRTH.

Although to many motion picture devotees the star of John Bunny has long since been eclipsed by newer constellations the first great comedian of the whirring film never really had an equal. He was a genuine comedian, was John Bunny, and his death on Monday should not pass unnoticed. There have been greater men, wiser men, and, doubtless, better men, but no man in this generatoin or any other has brought laughter to so many. And a man might do many worse things than make millions forget their cares, sorrows, bitterness and envies, in unrestrained mirth.

VICE PRESIDENT AGAINST WISHES

Not Action Enough In the Office to Please Roosevelt

LIKED GOVERNORSHIP BETTER

Letters From Former President to Platt Show That He Often Consulted "Easy Boss," at Whose Request He Appointed Democratic Tax Collector to Please Tammany Leaders

Syracuse, N. Y., April 27.—Theodore Roosevelt's nomination for the vice presidency in 1900 was not in accordance with his wishes, according to a letter written by him to Senator Platt, which was introduced in connection with the $50,000 suit for alleged libel brought against Roosevelt by William Barnes.

His objection to the office was that it was not one in which he could do anything. He said he was not a money-maker, and that he considered himself in honor bound to leave his children an equivalent, in the way of substantial achievement in letters or politics, for a substantial sum of money.

"In spite of all the work and worry and very largely because of your constancy and consideration, my dear senator, I have thoroughly enjoyed being governor," the letter read. Roosevelt said he should like to be governor for another term.

The letter in which Roosevelt thus made his ambitions known was the last read of a long series that figured in correspondence between Roosevelt and Platt covering several years.

In his testimony Roosevelt said he often took the advice of the "easy boss," and cited as an instance his appointment of a Democrat to the office of tax collector. This was done at Platt's request to "please Grady, a lieutenant boss of Richard Croker, then leader of Tammany Hall."

In the letter the senator said he considered it inadvisable to give Tammany from $3,000,000 to $12,000,000 for water-front expenditures, because "it would simply be putting an unnecessary club in the hands of these people with which to knock our brains out."

Roosevelt admitted he had freely consulted Platt on many matters and the letters introduced, which discussed all manner of legislative and political affairs, bore out his contention. In one of the letters he asked Platt's advice about making speeches.

Roosevelt did not have much to say, for most of the time was occupied in reading the many letters introduced. He listened attentively to the reading of the correspondence, which is said to have been provided by a son of the late senator. Roosevelt identified letters and answered questions regarding them.

BRIDGE IS SET FREE

Had Been In Jail Since December In Mildred Sullivan Case

Houlton, Me., April 27.—The last chapter in the death of 17-year-old Mildred Sullivan was written when County Attorney Archibald nol prossed the indictment against her sweetheart, Ambrose Bridge, charging him with being an accessory before the fact to an illegal operation.

Bridge has been in jail since December. He was brought before the supreme court and discharged after the county attorney nol prossed the indictment.

According to the police, Bridge was responsible for the conditon which caused Miss Sullivan to seek medical relief. He testified for the state during the trial of Dr. Lionel E. Dudley, who performed the operation and is now serving ten to twenty years in state prison. Miss Alice Pelletier is serving one and one-half to three years in jail for the assistance she gave the doctor.

FITZGERALD TO CURLEY

Hub Mayor Is Asked to "Give Up Secret Business Partnerships"

Boston, April 27.—"Give up those secret business partnerships which involve the honor of the mayor's office and if you do I will be your strongest supporter."

This is the climax of a statement issued by former Mayor Fitzgerald in reply to a broadside of Mayor Curley, who declared that "Fitz" is plotting to recall him and is grooming Postmaster Murray for the position. Fitzgerald denies the allegations made by Curley.

Tennis Crack Killed In Battle

London, April 27.—Kenneth Powell, late captain of the Cambridge university lawn tennis team and who represented England at the Olympic games in Stockholm in 1912, was killed in action at Ypres.

Death of Boy Golf Champion

Atlantic City, N. J., April 27.—John Shackleford, 16, New Jersey's boy golf champion, died here following an operation on his spine. He was injured in a dive when participating in a swimming race.

Big Methodist Pension Fund

San Francisco, April 27.—The sum of $300,000 has been set aside as a pension fund for aged Methodist ministers, by the Methodist Episcopal Book concern, in conference here.

ON THE DIAMOND

National League

At Philadelphia:	R	H	E
Philadelphia	7	10	2
Boston	4	8	2

Batteries—Alexander and Killifer; Strand, Gowdy and Whaling.

At Cincinnati:	R	H	E
Cincinnati	13	14	2
Chicago	12	10	0

Batteries—Brown, Schneider, Dale, Benton and Clarke; Vaughn, Adams, Seborr and Bresnahan.

At Brooklyn:	R	H	E
New York	3	6	2
Brooklyn	0	2	3

Batteries—Tesreau and Meyers; Dell and Miller.

At St. Louis:	R	H	E
St. Louis	3	8	1
Pittsburg	0	8	1

Batteries—Perdue and Snyder; Adams, Cooper, Gibson and Schang.

American League

At Boston:	R	H	E
Boston	9	7	1
Philadelphia	2	4	4

Batteries—Ruth and Carrigan; Davis, Harper, Bressler and McAvoy.

At New York:	R	H	E
New York	9	12	0
Washington	2	6	5

Batteries—Fisher and Nunamaker; Boehling and Williams.

At Chicago:	R	H	E
Chicago	12	11	0
Cleveland	1	6	1

Batteries—Faber, Schalk and Daly; Mitchell, Jones, Walker, O'Neill and Billinge.

At Detroit:	R	H	E
St. Louis	3	10	1
Detroit	1	5	1

Batteries—Wellman and Leary; Dubuc, Baker and Stanage.

Federal League

At Brooklyn:	R	H	E
Brooklyn	8	11	1
Baltimore	4	12	1

Batteries — Bailey, Conley and Owens; Lafitte and Land.

At Chicago:	R	H	E
Chicago	7	12	1
Kansas City	0	5	1

Batteries—Packard, Henning and Brown; McConnell and Wilson.

At Newark:	R	H	E
Newark	5	6	0
Buffalo	2	8	3

Batteries—Mullen and Rariden; Woodman, Krapp and Blair.

JAPAN EXTENDS HER DEMANDS ON CHINA

Railway Concessions Conflicting With British Are Asked

Pekin, April 27.—The conferences between the Japanese minister to China, Eki Hicki, and the Chinese foreign minister, Lucheng-Hsiang, have been resumed. The Japanese minister presented an extended list of twenty-four demands. This list is virtually an amplification of the original twenty-one demands, and includes even the demands for railroad concessions, it is understood, in territory where the lines would compete with British interests.

The Japanese insist that the Chinese government accept the new list of demands in its entirety, but no time limit has been set.

China is making certain military preparations which have been described as "feeble." Great secrecy is maintained as to the details. In Pekin the impression obtains among foreign observers that Japan will use force unless China yields.

SENTENCED TO DEATH

Fate of American Newspaper Man Who Offended Mexicans

El Paso, Tex., April 27.—Phil McCleary, an American newspaper man who has been in Mexico representing several newspaper agencies, has been arrested by order of General Carranza for sending out uncensored dispatches from Vera Cruz, and sentenced to be shot.

This is the report received by F. E. McCleary, his father, who lives in this city. His son is said to have been lodged in the San Juan de Ulua dungeons.

Boy Killed In Storm

Boston, April 27.—Clinton Syzertson, aged 13, was killed at Taunton by lightning, telephone wires were disabled, trees were uprooted and a barn was struck during an electric storm which raged south and west of Boston, featuring the hottest April 26 for Massachusetts in forty years.

Bargain Sale of Famous Yacht

Washington, April 27.—Commerce Secretary Redfield secured the famous twin screw yacht Isis for less than $60,000, though it cost more than $200,000 to build, for the coast and geodetic survey, replacing the 59-year-old Endeavor.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

Harry Huckins, 35, of New Hampton, N. H., committed suicide by shooting.

One man was injured and several other persons were thrown into a panic in a rear-end collision between a passenger and a freight train near Chester, Mass.

By sawing the bars in the window of his cell, Arthur Burroughs escaped from the Addison county jail at Middlebury, Vt.

James Maher, 55, national supreme director of the Knights of Columbus, died at his home at Chicago.

CHURCH AND CHOIR

WOLLASTON UNITARIAN.

Rev. Carl G. Horst Sunday morning preached a helpful sermon from the text "Use the world as not abusing it" I Cor. 7. 31. He said: "The province of religion is to purify, exalt and enoble daily life and conduct. To think of religion apart from life is to mistake the true nature of religion. Religion is for the world, not for the church; for every day in the week, not merely for Sunday.

"Jesus lived in the world as a man among men. He began his ministry by attending a wedding in Canada. He never hesitated to join in the social pleasures of the people. He gladly partook of the pleasures of life and enjoyed them. He knew the best way to help people was not by precept but by example. His injunction to his followers was 'be ye in the world, but not of it.' The true Christian does not withdraw from the world and its pleasures, but seeks to infuse all life, secular, business, social, educational and pleasurable with the spirit of religion. 'All things are yours and ye are Christ's and Christ is God's' says the great apostle.

"And yet we find some people drawing an artificial line between what a Christian may do and what he must not do, saying that a Christian may play dominoes, but must not play cards, may play croquet, but must not play billiards, may go to the circus, (especially for the sake of the children) but must not go to the theatre; may march and keep step to music, but must not dance. A system of prohibitions, however can never develop a Christian after the pattern of Jesus of Nazareth.

"The Christian is to be distinguished by the things he does do, rather than by the things he does not do. Christianity to have force and power in the world must be positive, not negative. The Christian is to appropriate the world, not renounce it. Instead of shunning social, financial and political life, the Christian is to throw himself into these with all heartiness and show what a Christian neighbor, a Christian business man, a Christian citizen is. The Christian is not to withdraw from the world, but to be in the world, a power for truth and justice and righteousness and peace.

"This is not making religion worldly but the world religious. All work is religious work, if done in a religious spirit. If man in the past have separated religion and life, it is all the more our duty to join them together. We must by our works show our faith. Faith apart from works is barren. Was not Abraham our father justified by works, in that his faith wrought with his works and by works was faith made perfect? And for this reason he was called the friend of God. As the body apart from the spirit is dead, even so faith apart from works is dead.

Ex-President Taft has been elected president of the General Conference of Unitarian churches, which holds its next biennial session in San Francisco August 24 to 27.

The Unitarian clergy will observe its annual Quiet Day Tuesday, April 27, at the Second church in Boston. The order of the day includes a communion service at 10.15, conducted by Rev. Samuel R. Maxwell, at 11.15 service with sermon by Rev. William C. Gannett D. D. of Rochester, N Y., at 12.45 luncheon, 2.30 3 selections of organ music; 3 closing service of prayer

Quite a number of the members of the Y. P. R. U. attended the Boston Federation of Y. P. R. U's which held afternoon and evening sessions at the Second church in Boston Sunday.

The May Pageant to be given by the members of the Sunday school will be held in the parish hall during the first week in May.

The annual Unitarian May Meetings will be held in Boston during the week beginning May 23.

Rev. Carl G. Horst attended Monday the monthly session of the Ministerial union in Boston.

NOTICE

April 26, 1915

Notice is hereby given that from May 1st to May 29th inclusive, the Board of Health will remove all rubbish that may be placed on the sidewalks in barrels on the regular ash collection days. During the summer months the weekly collection of ashse will be discontinued. Ashes will be collected on the following weeks.

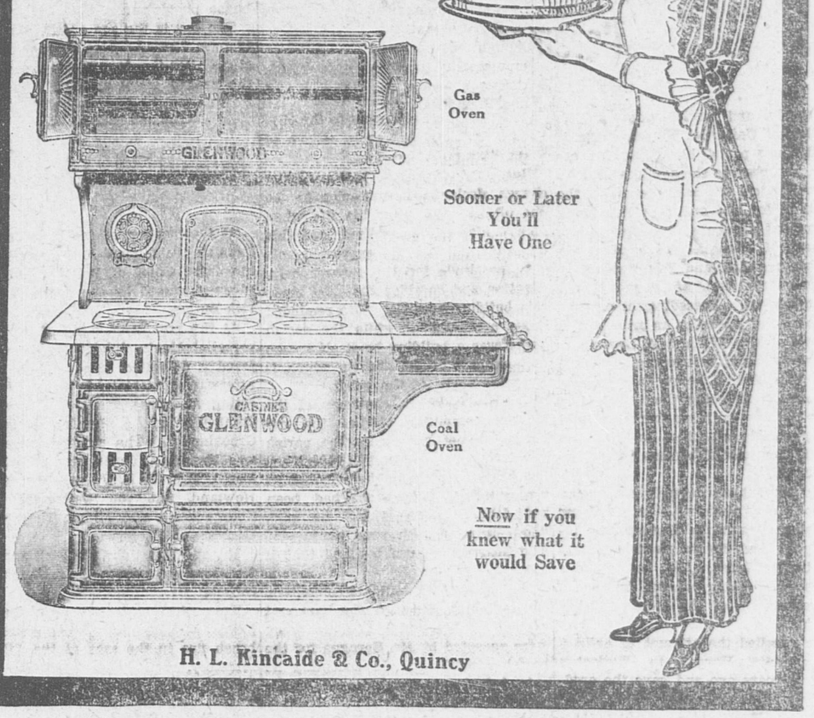

June 21st to 26th inclusive.
July 26th to 31st inclusive.
August 23rd to 28th inclusive.

The regular weekly collection of ashes will be resumed on Oct. 4th, 1915.

Per Order,
Board of Health,
Walter H. Buchan, Chairman
27-5t

Glenwood

The Range that "Makes Cooking Easy"

H. L. Kincaide & Co., Quincy

INSTALL 30 NEW LIGHTS

Mayor Selects Sites After Investigation

During the early part of the year a large number of orders and petitions for street lights were referred to the Executive department by the city council. These orders and petitions have received the Mayor's careful consideration and during the past few days he has personally inspected all of the sites at which new street lights were desired as well as those where changes in the location of existing lights were desired. As a result of his inspection the Mayor has ordered the following lights installed The list of new lights is given by wards and it will be noticed that about thirty new lights will be installed.

Ward 1—Northfield avenue & Brockton avenue.
—Cor. Winthrop avenue & Norton street. Gas light.
—Rear of High school.
—Edgemere road: On pole between Greenleaf street & Porter's house.

Ward 2—Washington street—Change position and raise.
—Grafton street.
—Atherton street—4th pole from South Walnut street.
—Watson terrace—Last pole.
—Cleverly court—1st pole in from Washington street.
—Edinboro & Baxter streets—on new pole.

Ward 3—Pleasant street—In front of Mr. Bergfors' house.
—Gilbert street at entrance of playground.
—Federal avenue extension—Corner of Verchild street.

Ward 4—Corner Quarry & Dayton streets.

Ward 5—Everett street. Between Beale & Hillside avenue.
—Kemper street, change from southwest corner to northeast corner.
—Fenno street, near Kennard's driveway.
—Lunts street—Relocate the one between Billings road and end of street and add one light between this section.
—Ellington road & Hancock street.
Ellington road & Oxenbridge road.
—Grove street—4th pole south from Beale street.
—Oakland off Newport avenue in front of last house.

Ward 6—Corner Arnold & Gilbert roads.
Corner Warwick & Marshall streets.
—Ocean street.
—Corner E. Squantum street & Dundee road.

☞PRATT'S BREAD—not made by guess-work, but by a scientific formula. Leading grocers sell it.

Chairman Charles Bostwick of the Squantum Improvement association minstrel show has appointed the following sub-committees; advertising John Nelson, John Holmes; tickets, William J. Whitley, Frank Anderson, Roger Mason, Charles Singleton; costumes, William C. Spargo, Chas. Bostwick; printing, Charles Bostwick, Herbert Smith; program, Herbert A. Smith, Charles Bostwick. The show will be given in Richards Memorial hall in June.

HOSE! HOSE! HOSE!

Do not be deceived by the price. A Hose cheap in price is sure to be cheap in quality.
ALL MY HOSE IS FULLY GUARANTEED

WILLIAM WESTLAND
The Hardware Man
1597 Hancock St., - - Quincy, Mass.

COAL
ANNOUNCEMENT

April 1, 1915.

Full coal bins are a source of real satisfaction. We are filling our bins as rapidly as possible with FRESH MINED COAL. By placing your order now YOU can take advantage of the LOW PRICES announced in the schedule below. Coal will positively ADVANCE IN PRICE later. There will be no Further Reduction.

We should be glad to call and talk Coal with you if you will notify us.

PRICES FOR CASH

Franklin Egg and Stove	$8.50 per ton
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75 per ton
Shamokin Stove	7.50 per ton
White Ash Broken	6.50 per ton
White Ash Egg	7.25 per ton
White Ash Stove	7.25 per ton
White Ash Nut	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Broken	6.75 per ton
Lehigh Egg	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Stove	7.50 per ton
Pea	5.50 per ton

25 cents per ton extra where coal is carried in. Orders taken for these Prices are for delivery by July 1, 1915.

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc

WHAT IS THE MATTER WITH QUINCY?

A Discussion of Hindrances to Good Government And Their Remedies

During the last seven or eight years there has been more or less discussion about a new system of government in our city. No resultant action has come from this discussion because the agitation has been only periodic and the cause lacks leadership. Before going further let us look at the reasons for a change.

Among the immediate causes are the following: (1) Dissatisfaction with the results of the management of our city. (2) A lack of efficient executives and legislators. (3) A lack of civic pride among the men of larger affairs. There is no reason why Quincy with its wonderful history, its enviable traditions, its physical blessings, its large industries and its close proximity to the largest city in New England should not be a model municipality.

Although we have had some able executives, we have had many of mediocre ability. It must be admitted that there are more efficient men in our city who would, under different conditions, accept the responsibilities of the Mayor's chair. The lack of efficiency on the part of the City Council is proved very conclusively by one's attendance at a meeting of that body. "How did—— ever get into the Council?" is the question many ask after passing a evening at a Council meeting. Further its inefficiency has been acknowledged by men of recognized ability who have held seats in the Council.

The third cause for this discussion is the one to be most lamented of the three, for if the business men had held a proper interest in the affairs and general welfare of our city there would be today no cause for this discussion. Of course, one good reason for this lack of interest is that a large portion of Quincy is purely residential, being the home of men engaged in business in Boston.

Although the leading men in the city have not acted as they should the activities of Quincy, nevertheless today many thoughtful people have decided that the trouble with Quincy government is that its charter is wrong. Now this new charter movement is not simply a question of being up with the times and other progressive cities of the Commonwealth; it is a question of much import and is to be hoped that a conflagration or some other calamity will not have to be the means to bring about action.

There are numerous progressive charters we might adopt, some of them too much like our present one and others altogether too radical. It is necessary in politics to compromise between ideals and the existing conditions and, therefore, in the parts of a charter proposed for consideration such compromises have been made as seem essential for the success of the cause. However, it is of no avail to take any action which does not go right to the root of the difficulty. Therefore, it is proposed that the City of Quincy adopt a charter embodying these three principles: (1) The abolition of party designation. (2) A term of three years with salary of $5000.00 per year for the mayor. (3) A council of nine, all elected at large, three to be elected each year. These three propositions, deemed the most prominent, are the only ones to be discussed on account of limited space both the school problem and the all important details are worthy of whole arguments of this size.

Let us look at the reasons why many cities have abolished, and why Quincy should abolish, party designation. In the first place, are political parties divided on local, state or national issues? A moment's reflection will convince you that the sole division of political parties is on national and state issues, not on local issues. Men belong to the party that comes nearest their ideas on tariff, currency, armament, and the like, and such issues have nothing to do with the conduct of municipal affairs. In other words, citizens quite properly place the nation above the city. Although there is no policy in any municipality that can possibly arise that would naturally align Democrats and Republicans as such, as a matter of fact they are so aligned. The man who in municipal elections votes for the candidate he considers the best fitted, regardless of party affiliations, is the man whose example should be followed.

One of the greatest evils of party designation in municipal affairs is that there are too many men elected to office simply because of the party they belong to, rather than on account of any individual merit they may possess. The number of men that vote by habit for just those candidates that have either "Republican" or "Democratic," as the case may be, after their names is astounding, to say the least. It is pretty common knowledge that the recent vote of the City Council on this question of abolition of party designation did not represent even the sentiment of the Council. The vote shows the number of councilmen that are afraid to seek re-election without a party designation after their names on the ballot. And well founded are their fears! Instead of placing conviction in the front, some of the councilmen put expediency ahead of convictions. May the electorate wake up and judge more closely the calibre of some of their representatives next year.

Another weakness in our present system is that the two strongest men are not necessarily in the fight on election day. For instance, in years past many have believed that the two strongest primary candidates for mayor have both been Republicans, thus necessitating the exclusion from the election of one of the two strongest primary candidates, for no true Republican will run independently after having been defeated in the primaries. If we abolish party designation, the two candidates recognized by the voters as the strongest men in the primaries are opponents at the election. This is surely better for the city as a whole than our present scheme.

Abolition of party designation, besides putting the two best candidates forth at election, necessitates either a preferential or a "ballotage" system of voting. The "ballotage" system confines the voting at the election to the two names highest on the poll at the primary. From one point of view the preferential system is better and from another point of view the "ballotage" system is superior. The preferential system is perhaps too advanced for Quincy, so let us compromise on the "ballotage" system and see wherein it excels our present method of election.

The chief advantage the "ballotage" system has over our present one is that it makes for the shortest possible ballot. Under this system there is nothing for a defeated primary candidate to do, but wait till another year rolls around, for there is no place for an "Independent"—all candidates are "Independents," and all must enter the primary. Further, by the definition of the "ballotage" system the candidates at election are limited to twice the number of offices to be filled. A majority election is the result. "Every candid reader will make the proper reflections on this important fact." Such a mayoralty contest as we had last fall is surely not worth repeating, but yet we are liable to have worse spectacles, if such a thing is possible, as long as our present system continues.

A few words might be said about the benefits of a short ballot as against the defects in the long ballot we have in Quincy. With a short ballot the voter has a choice only between two and so stands more chance of knowing the two, thus being able to cast his vote more intelligently. Concentration is the result of a short ballot. The number of unknown men elected to our City Council every year is surprising. A voter goes on the maxim that "no news is good news," and so the unknown candidate wins out to the amazement of all. Often times creditable men lose just on account of the long, mysterious ballot.

It has been pointed out that political parties have no proper place in municipal affairs, that two weaknesses in the present system would be obviated by the abolition of party designation, and that one result of such abolition would be a new method of election, far superior to the present method. Since the City Council did not give the question proper attention it now becomes the duty of each voter to weigh these arguments carefully, and if his views coincide with them he should reflect his opinion in his vote next fall.

A salary of $5000.00 for the mayor has simply been taken as an arbitrary amount. The idea of increasing the salary is to give a reasonable compensation for the work, not to make the salary simply an inducement. Every city should be run as a business proposition and our City Fathers claim Quincy is run on that basis. If so, it is different from any other business of its size, for no other business corporation of over a million and a half dollars and having to disburse an annual income of eight hundred thousand dollars has such a poorly paid head. Is not the position of mayor worth $5000.00? Surely it is worth over $2500.00. If a mayor devotes his whole time to the job, and it is necessary to do this to get results, he should receive some recompense for the suffering of his business while he holds such office. The social demands of a mayor eat up a good sum also. Only mayors, themselves, appreciate this fact at its full value.

Finally, with such a salary big men, interested in the city's welfare, can be induced to seek the office. In these times, you will agree, a position of mayor with a salary of $2500.00 is no inducement to the business man. The one thing desired in this salary question is that it will not be so low as to require a sacrifice on the part of the candidate and it appears that $5000.00 is a proper compensation when all thing are taken into account.

It can truly be figured that a reasonable salary, say $5000.00, and a three year term for the mayor would result in more efficient business men seeking the office. However, do not take it for granted that every successful business man would make a good mayor, for it has been proven otherwise. Let us look first at the defects of a one year term and then at the benefits of a three year term.

Our administrative system needs and needs badly reorganization and adjustment. In one year a mayor cannot reorganize and adjust our disorganized system, although to hear some mayoralty candidates talk before election you would be led to believe that a model city could be established in about twenty-four hours after that candidate's inauguration. Big changes cannot be made in a moment; they must be made slowly and only after mature consideration. In one year a mayor no more than gets started when he has to stop. There have been few mayors that have been able to resist political influences. After a few months in office they begin to lay plans for a second term.

Now give a mayor a three year term and see what is gained. The first year can be devoted to reorganizing and putting on a business scale the administration of affairs, the rest of the term to smoothing over all rough edges and getting the new system running perfectly. Three years will be found to be a suitable time for the accomplishment of progressive and constructive legislation and for comprehensive planning for the future.

Two important measures, upon which some definite action is about to be taken, we hope, illustrate this point exactly. A new Neponset Bridge and the extension of the Metropolitan Park System are the two referred to. Both have been in the air for three or four years, or, in other words, during three mayors' administrations. In the conferences held on these questions a different mayor has represented Quincy each year. The new executive has never attended a conference before and knows nothing of past proceedings. His interest is in

(Continued on Page Six.)

The PROBLEM of GOOD MILK

All persons do not understand what is meant by good, safe milk. Some believe that the milk with a deep cream line is desirable, whereas, the Doctor knows that Holstein Milk, although containing little cream is often more desirable for babies, partly for this reason, or perhaps because of the method of production

The real criterion of a good milk is its wholesomeness This depends upon the conditions at the dairy, and the special care given it until it reaches the consumer. Scrupulously clean and healthy cows, clean and healthy dairymen, rapid cooling, and protecting the milk, constant dairy and laboratory inspection are required. Furthermore safety is assured when the dealer pasteurizes his supply.

THE ELM FARM MILK COMPANY OF DORCHESTER offer pure Family Milk, and exceptional Nursery Milk at prices often charged for ordinary milk Speak to the salesman, or call Dor. 2100. 6-1 mo.

Prescott Apartments

For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer

Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

The fact that you can get your money back after a 30 days' trial and are permitted to exchange at any time within one year, is PROOF CONCLUSIVE of the high character of these pianos.

Copyright, 1914, Stone & McCarrick, Inc.

There are three reasons WHY you should purchase one of these pianos. Because you save 84 dollars. Because your initial payment is five dollars. Because your first year's payments are one dollar a week.

Here is the CONVINCING proof that these pianos at $266 are everything you would have in a piano

Copyright, 1914 Stone & McCarrick, Inc.

You know what "convincing" proof is?
"Convincing" proof is that proof which satisfies you by evidence.
"Convincing" proof is that proof which causes you to believe.
The proof that The Bacon Piano Co. gives on these pianos, is "convincing" proof.
Pay attention to this.

The Bacon Piano Co have instructed us to furnish each and every purchaser of one of these pianos or player-pianos during this sale, with a written agreement, agreeing to exchange the instrument they select at any time during the first year, from date of purchase, for any cause whatsover, without cost or expense to the purchaser.

We will carry this out to the letter.

This is what we call substantial "convincing" proof.

A year's use of one of these pianos or player-pianos in your home, is either convincing or it is not convincing as to its real, intrinsic value. You are either better convinced as to its value or lack of value with a year's use, than anything The Bacon Piano Co. could say or anything we could say.

If you are oonvinced that the instrument is everything we say it is, you naturally will keep it.

If you are not convinced, you may exchange it.

Strong evidence, isn't it?

Other features

You secure a 350 dollar piano for 266 dollars.

Or, you can select a 550 dollar player-piano for 413 dollars.

You are given the privilege to select the piano or the player-piano, either of which will be delivered IMMEDIATELY upon the payment of FIVE DOLLARS.

You will be given the privilege to put the instrument you select to any test you wish for 30 days. If you are then not satisfied you can get your money back.

You will be given an unconditional and unrestricted guarantee, signed jointly by The Bacon Piano Co. and Henry L. Kincaide & Co., guaranteeing the instrument for 5 years from the date of purchase.

Your account will be canceled in event you should die before all your payments have been made and a receipt in full given to your family, provided your payments are up to date at the time of death.

¶ During this sale, the Piano Department will be open evenings by appointment, arrangements for which may be made by calling phone No. 1200, and asking for Mr. Bates.

Henry L. Kincaide & Co.
QUINCY, MASS

¶ All instruments sold during this sale will be delivered at once. Arrangements may be made, however, to have an instrument set aside, after being selected to be delivered later.

CARPENTER AND BUILDER
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
All Work Given Prompt Attention
W. R. LOFGREN
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 393-3

Furniture Storage Warehouse

Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.

Rates $2---$3---$4 per month

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.

1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.

Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26--tu.-th.s.-tf

BRIEFS

Mrs. Herbert Smith is entertaining her mother Mrs. Lucia Shumway.

Mrs. Elizabeth Phillipson leaves this week for New Hampshire where she expects to be all summer.

Div. 5., A. O. H., held its regular semi-monthly meeting Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Joseph Landry of Bates avenue is confined to her home by a severe attack of the grip.

John and Malcolm Holmes, sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Holmes, Bellevue road are confined with measles.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. James Loughan, Francis and Anne Allen are occupying their summer home on Bay street.

Mrs. Nicholas Timmerman and family of Jamaica Plain have been the guests of Mrs. Carolina Schatzel of Willard street.

Peter LaPage who underwent a serious operation at the Boston City hospital has returned home and is convalescent at his home on Bates avenue.

A Popularity Party will be held in Franklin hall Friday evening, May 14th. Prizes will be awarded. The committee in charge are Walter Curry and John McLean.

Mrs. Charles M. Bryant of Wollaston Park entertained her Bridge Club at luncheon on Monday in her usual charming hospitable manner, the occasion being one of much enjoyment to the participants.

Adams Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution will hold its monthly meeting next Monday at the old Adams house at 2.30. The hostesses of the afternoon will be Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Brewer.

Chauncey Paul, Squantum's letter carrier, has started the cellar to a two apartment house that he expects to occupy this summer. Mr. Paul has a very sightly location for his new home on Bellevue road. Thomas Currie will be the builder.

The military whist given by the Squantum Women's club at the home of Mrs. C. S. Purcell, Saturday evening was well attended, nine forts being played. The winners were awarded attractive souvenirs. Mrs. Purcell was assisted by Mrs. Hiram Morse, president of the club.

Rev. Herbert S. Johnson, D. D., of Boston will be the speaker at an entertainment to be given by the Swedish Baptist Christian Endeavor society in the church on Wednesday evening, May 5th. A very fine entertainment has been arranged by the committee in charge.

☞PRATT'S BREAD is good for growing children—nourishing and satisfying. Grocers sell it.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

Quincy Pianoforte School

Mackelton Director

Street Floor, Greenleaf Block

1419 Hancock Street, Quincy

Instructions Par Excellence Voice

Private or Class Lessons

Tel. 539-M 31-tf

LEWIS N. CURTIS

PAINTER and GLAZIER

LEADED STAINED GLASS

DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER

OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED

Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE

Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit

WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS

Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.

Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys

1506--1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block

Jan. 26-tu.-th.-s.-tf

BOWLING MATCH.

The Quincy and South Boston Heptasophs are due for a bowling match in Quincy within a few weeks and considerable interest has been stimulated through the high scores made Wednesday night in the first of the series of contests and which returned the local boys as winners. The score in that match was:

QUINCY CONCLAVE.

Lemieux	104	111	115	330
Dackers	89	82	110	281
Stevens	80	105	73	258
Dunn	94	112	87	293
Gill	87	99	84	270
	454	509	469	1432

SOUTH BOSTON CONCLAVE.

Goss	81	99	92	272
Bagley	82	89	95	266
Lane	107	99	113	319
Lambert	95	96	102	293
McNiff	78	101	89	268
	443	484	491	1418

"PIANOS AINT PRACTICAL."

How a Dollars-and-Cents Father Tried To Stifle His Daughter's Love For Music.

"But, father, pleaded the child, "Mr. Curtis said he'd sell his old grand terribly cheap. You know he's going to get one of those new uprights."

"Now, Emmer," sternly commanded her father, "I don't want you to say the word pianner to me again. Lord, ain't your mother's organ good enough for you? Why, the way children take on now-a-days you'd think you could pick money like you do corn." Then as an afterthought, "Besides, you ain't hardly got time for your housework now, what with all the new-fangled things they're teaching you at that there school. I stand up fir the three R's. They're the things as are practical and I'm a practical man, I am. The idea of putting good money into a pianner when you need corn to fatten cattle."

Emma listlessly stacked the breakfast dishes and hastily prepared for school. She knew it was useless to argue about pianos with her father. They had discussed the subject hundreds of times before. But she had hoped that the story of Mr. Curtis' old grand might influence him. As she left for school it seemed to her that all outdoors was as fresh and crisp as her stiffly starched gingham. Her eyes grew bright and sparkling and her cheeks flushed. She would soon be at school and the day would pass quickly and then would come the "great adventure."

"The great adventure" was no less a thing than two precious hours of practice on Col. Green's piano. And during those hours, of practice she forgot her rough shoes and rougher hands and lived in a world of sunshine and romance and beauty. And during those hours, she forgot even her father's practical ideas. He never had and never would understand her desire for the esthetic.

By getting up at dawn and doing part of her work then, she managed so well that her father never suspected how she spent her afternoons. Those years greatly influenced her whole life for they gave her habits of single purposeness, of hard work and of sacrifice for the beautiful. She turned to music as a plant turns to the sun—because love of it was part of her nature.

When she was fourteen a noted pianist, who was being entertained at the Green home, was so pleased with her playing that he made arrangements with the local music teacher for her lessons. And when she was sixteen the discovery was made of her wonderful voice, which was destined to charm both America and Europe. For little "Emmer" was none less than one of our most famous American singers.

There should be music in every home—and a piano is the chosen instrument. A home without one is a home handicapped.

PARISIAN CREATION.

Handsome Evening Frock Built of Ivory Liberty and Net.

SIMULATING THE GRECIAN.

The gown shown here is Grecian in its simplicity of lines, but wholly twentieth century in the sumptuousness of its fabric. Ivory liberty is draped to form girdle and tunic, while the bodice and overdrapery are of wonderfully colored sequins. A lace underskirt shows where the gown is draped up in the front.

QUAINT PARASOLS.

Ancient Fashions Are Revived In the New Sunshades.

The quaint styles of parasols used from 1820 to 1830 have again appeared. Shirrings, puffings, pipings, cordings and knife plaitings are used in a variety of ways, to emphasize ribs, to outline gores and to form borders. Many odd shapes and rich color combinations are seen. Plain, severe styles, the most prominent being the sand tones, are seen only with tailored dresses. There is a tendency to combine materials. In dressy, fancy models the sand tones are combined with bright colors. For instance, in one model of brilliant red there is a border and a piping between the shirred gores in a rich sand color verging on gold.

A smart parasol developed in contrasting colors has a row of shirring between the gores, producing a leaflike effect. A very pretty parasol has a border of sheer crape in a contrasting color, looped in each section and caught with a flat button effect. Battleship gray is a favorite color, being used alone in tailored designs and in combination with the new reds and blues in elaborate designs.

Many striking shapes are seen. Among these is one with wide gores of richly colored material and narrow portions in stripes or checks. A cluster of shirring appears at the edge. Of special interest is the return of flat Japanese and Chinese effects, both plain and richly embroidered. Japanese prints are in both silk and cotton. Many Japanese designs have dark borders, with here and there a delicate bit of hand embroidery in gold. Sometimes odd looking velvet birds in orange and blue tones are appliqued over the inside surface of the parasol.

POCKETS ARE "IN."

As for pockets, they are "in." Here is a point for all women to consider in connection with the pocket question: Do not be persuaded into permitting them to be placed where they cannot be easily reached.

At present they are boldly placed where every one may see them and are more decorative than practical, but as soon as the polonaise modes really make their presence felt you will miss seeing the pockets. It does not follow they won't be present, for they will be hid, as they were when they were modish before, underneath the polonaise draperies or within the folds of numberless puffs.

For the tailleur of dressy proclivities the pocketed skirt eliminates the possibility of a pocketed coat. And with the plaited skirt, of course, the pockets appear on the coat only.

New vogues for these also introduce braided effects which simulate pockets and this, too, for skirts or suits made of novelty materials.

Points for Mothers

Adornment and Care of Nursery.

Children delight in change, and this applies to pictures as well as to other things. If an expensive picture is in the room and a contagious disease affects the child it is impractical to destroy the picture, and yet that may be desirable. As the child grows in knowledge the pictures, if not expensive, may be changed to suit the child's need.

Boys like good pictures. When a little fellow fills his room with undesirable pictures it is nearly always because others have not been obtainable. They like pictures with life in them, such as the Remington type, and their choice should be followed in this.

Until the child is of such age that it can be trusted alone portieres or heavy curtains should be dispensed with. At best they are industrious dust collectors and are more of a menace than a necessity. If they are used they should be of rather light material and so placed that there is no possible danger from fire. Hung near to a gas jet, they are a constant source of danger.

The rooms should be frequently and thoroughly cleaned, and in this procedure the child should be early taught to co-operate. All dusting must be done with a slightly dampened cloth or with a lamb's wool duster, both of which will collect the dust and will not simply scatter it.

Slightly wet salt or sawdust scattered upon the floor before sweeping will prevent to a great extent the raising of dust. One of the various preparations which are made for this purpose and which are very inexpensive will prove effective, and in addition they bring out the colors of the carpet if the floor has such a covering.

Why Children Tell Untruths.

Because a child tells an untruth he is not of necessity a liar. An apparent untruth may be told because the child is timid under examination and, losing control of himself, says what he does not mean. Adults commonly do this in courts. To the child questioning is often as much dreaded as the witness chair is to an adult. Other children tell untruths because they are absent minded. It is common for them to do so, because they do not fully understand the question put to them. These facts seem simple enough, and yet if they are not recognized the child may be falsely accused of lying, and his nervous system will suffer thereby.

Romance weaving is not uncommon among children who are blest with vivid imaginations. The difficulty is that the child has not been taught to make distinctions between the truths of allegory and those of fact. The imagination is valuable, but needs early guidance, so that it will not be the master, but the servant of the child.

The desire to appear prominently before others (a dramatic instinct) is often the cause of romance weaving. The best way to treat this latter is to receive the statements of the child without comment and without apparent interest. When he finds that he has not an appreciative audience he will be cured of this habit. In a few instances the fault indicates some impending illness, or it may be due to lack of control, which is marked in nervous children after an acute illness. Parents should show considerable patience toward children who are apparent liars, and every effort should be made to determine whether there is a physical basis for the moral fault.

When Traveling.

When starting on a trip, no matter how short, the farseeing mother or nurse should remember to take along some of the Japanese flower seeds which, when put into water, spring into blossom. A pair of blunt scissors, an assortment of pictures, a blank book and a tube of glue is another suggestion for an inexpensive remembrance. It is most often not the costly toy or trinket that gives the most enjoyment.

Any child starting off on a trip would appreciate a small leather portfolio to fit into the traveling case and would like to find a fountain pen, a book of postage stamps and several postal cards done up in an attractive package, with a box of bonbons. No matter how inexpensive the gift, one must remember that pretty ribbons, paper and general wrappings will play a large part in the pleasure the gift brings to the little traveler.

No Work Before Breakfast.

No work which is at all exacting or difficult should be undertaken by the child before breakfast, and this rule applies to mental effort as surely as to physical. If the curriculum of the child's school demands study in the early morning it should be prepared for such mental effort by a suitable meal. There can be no objection to a short walk or to some form of light exercise at this time, but the more serious duties of the day must be delayed until after the morning meal.

Bathtub Toys.

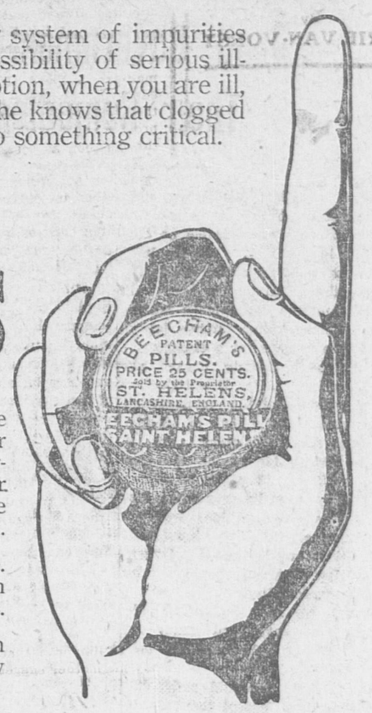

If baby is afraid of the water when having his bath buy several prettily colored cork bobbers, such as fishermen use, and throw these in the bathtub. He will be so busy trying to catch them that he will forget to be afraid and, instead, will be highly entertained.

When You First Feel Out of Sorts take Beecham's Pills to clear your system of impurities immediately—it will prevent the possibility of serious illness. Your physician's first prescription, when you are ill, usually aims at the same result; for he knows that clogged bowels or a torpid liver may lead to something critical.

TAKE

BEECHAM'S PILLS

as a first aid to Nature. They regulate the bowels, stimulate the liver, and enable your body to more easily throw off the dangerous poisons. Beecham's Pills, by their action, purify the blood and drive away the headache and dullness that depress you.

They are gentle in their action and sure. Being a vegetable compound, they contain no mineral substance—therefore harmless.

Families all over the world keep them constantly on hand. They take them freely as soon as they feel indisposed

And Prevent Much Serious Illness

"The Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World" At All Druggists, 10c., 25c.

Directions of special value to women with every box

WILSTACH FOUND DEAD

Widely Known Theatrical Publicity Man Succumbs to Heart Attack

Boston, April 27.—Claxton Wilstach, one of the best-known theatrical publicity men in the United States, was found dead in his room at the Hotel Georgian. It was thought by the medical examiner that he had a heart attack.

Wilstach was 40 years old. He came to Boston as publicity man for the "Birth of a Nation" film at the Tremont theatre.

By CHARLES N. GOODRICH, Auctioneer.
512 Old South Building, Boston.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Vinnie M. Cobb to the Boston Co-operative Bank dated May 4th, 1914, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the County of Norfolk Book 1280 Page 461, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same on Thursday the 13th day of May, 1915, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, and therein described substantially as follows: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in that part of Quincy in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts called Wollaston, comprising Lot Thirty-seven on a plan made by Ernest W. Branch, dated March 1912, recorded with Norfolk Deeds, Books of Plans 63, Plan 2015, and bounded and described as follows:—Southwesterly by Kemper street, fifty feet; Northwesterly by land now or formerly of Wood et al., Trustees, and land of owners unknown, eighty and 16-100 feet; Northeasterly by Lot Sixty-one on said plan, forty-four and 86-100 feet; and Southeasterly by Lot Thirty-eight on said plan, eighty feet. Containing 3794 square feet of land.

Said premises will be sold subject to the restrictions referred to in deed from Mary P. Johnson to said Vinnie M. Cobb, duly recorded with Norfolk Deeds, and to any and all unpaid taxes and assessments.

For further particulars inquire of Frank M. Perry, 554 Old South Building, Boston. $200 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Balance in ten days from day of sale at 12 o'clock noon, at the said office of Frank M. Perry.

BOSTON CO-OPERATIVE BANK,
by George T. Bosson, Treasurer,
Present holder of said Mortgage.
Boston, April 17th, 1915.
3t April 20-27 May 4

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.

Cosy upper 4 room and bath flat, 122 Glendale Road. $19.

H. F. McIntire HOUSES Greenleaf Blk Tel. Quincy 1665-W.

Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.

1-1 yr.

QUINCY REAL ESTATE SALES.

Thomas Bishop to Helena M. Bishop, Independence avenue.

John A. Clark et al to Caro Malnati, Hughes street.

Thomas M. Cunniff to Angelo Fontana et ux, Liberty street.

Helen A. Curran to Francis J. Coughlin, Littlefield street.

Mary A. Deady to Domenico Coletti, Hayden street, Loring street.

Wilton A. Dunham to Guiseppina Emanuele, Houghs Neck.

Gertrude Ellsworth to Oscar A. Minot, Ridgeway street.

Sven M. Erickson to Gustave E. Carlson, Hilda street, Dockray st.

Atwood A. Farrar, Jr., to Ella L. Farrar, Centre street.

Josiah A. Fenno to Thomas Fenno, Cheriton road.

Thomas Fenno et al trs to Josiah A. Fenno, Cheriton road.

John Q. A. Field to Lucretia M. Field, Independence avenue.

Martin Gerrity to Persis C. Harding, Dunbarton road.

William Gordon et ux to Carleton E. Cook, Landers road, Sachem street

Cordelia W. Harmon to Kate M. Eaves, Edison park.

George H. Hatchard to John A. Clark, et al, Hughes street.

Sarah E. Jaques to Ruth E. McQuinn, Main street.

Essie B. Mitchell to Felix Favorite, Belmont street.

Sarah S. Molarsky to Elizabeth P. Kearney, Fredman street.

James R. Murphy et al trs to William H. Knapp, Shelton road.

Charles S. Nash to Mary E. Granahan, Flynt street.

Edith M. Newton to Nicola Antonio, Baxter avenue.

John A. Olsson to Karin Olsson, Webster street, Squantum street.

Elizabeth S. Porter to Eugene B. Hamilton, Beale street.

Percy H. Prior to Georgiana Tinkham, Bicknell street.

Charles H. Raffuse to Edith I. Keith.

William Stephen et ux to John F. Malone, Putnam street.

Mary E. Stoddard to Thomas A. McCarthy, Billings street.

Walter H. Sturgis to Charlotte M. Winnett, Houghs Neck.

William J. Williams to Frederick D. Williams, Granite street.

Fred W. Wood et al trs to Josephine A. Eastman, Vassall street.

Fred W. Wood et al trs to Daniel Derley, Remper street.

Fred W. Wood et al to Sadie R. Kimball, Flagg street.

Thomas W Curtis et al to John Curtis, Franklin street, High street.

BRAINTREE REAL ESTATE SALES

George H. Hatchard to George P. Hatchard, Washington street, Holmes street.

Maude Macomber to Edgar C. Powers.

William H. Stevens to Louis J. D'Arigo, Taylor street.

James Waters to Ray A. White, Washington street.

Ray A. White to Ellis Hollingsworth, Washington street.

TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS.

Following are telephones connected with the Quincy Exchange for the week ending April 21:

668 W—George F. S. Pearce, 327 Newport avenue.
1994 R—F. B. Binard, 187 Fayette street.
1905 W—Mrs. J. H. Sullivan, 47 Sea avenue.
1089 M—C. F. Shaughnessy, 100 Revere road.
1119 M—Robert Muir, 38 Curtis ave.
1627 J—Katherine L. Davis, 252 South Central avenue.
1663 M—E. W. Boulter, 93 Malvern st.
478 R—Dr. James O. Lacaillade, 231 Palmer street.
883 W—W. F. Young, 50 Chickatawbut road.
1027 W—Clarence A. Fisher, 633 Sea street.
1298 W—Charles N. Wood, Ocean st.
1781 W—Herbert S. Mode, 109 Albatross street.
1921 W—L. M. Hill, Sagamore street.
2090—John A. Jerrell, 290 Atlantic street.
2261 M—Ralil Saleem, 142 E. Howard street.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

EDWARD J. FEGAN

COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW

830 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M.

914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.

10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.

Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK

QUINCY.

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,

Treasurer.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN

78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point

PIANO TUNER

Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S

Tel. 1827-W Quincy

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING

WALL PAPER FOR SALE

KUSTAA RASANEN

121 Copeland St., West Quincy

Tel. Con. 19-tf

His Love Story

By MARIE VAN VORST

Illustrations by RAY WALTERS

(Copyright by the Bobbs-Merrill Company)

(Continued from last issue)

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Le Comte de Sabron, captain of French cavalry, takes to his quarters to raise by hand a motherless Irish terrier pup, and names it Pitchoune.

CHAPTER II—Sabron dines with the Marquise d' Esclignac and meets Miss Julia Redmond, American heiress, who sings for him an English ballad that lingers in his memory.

CHAPTER III—Sabron, trying to save Pitchoune's life, declines a second invitation to dinner because of a "very sick friend."

CHAPTER IV—No more invitations come from the Chateau d' Esclignac. Pitchoune, though lame from his accident, thrives and is devoted to Sabron.

CHAPTER V—Sabron and Pitchoune meet the Marquise and Miss Redmond and after the story of Pitchoune is told Sabron is forgiven and invited to dinner again.

CHAPTER VI—Sabron is ordered to Algiers, but is not allowed to take servants or dogs. He is invited to a musicale at the Chateau.

CHAPTER VII—At the musicale Miss Redmond, hearing that Sabron cannot take Pitchoune with him, offers to take care of the dog during his master's absence.

CHAPTER VIII—Pitchoune, homesick for his master, runs away from Miss Redmond. The Marquise plans to marry Julia to the Duc de Tremont.

CHAPTER IX—Unknown to Sabron, Pitchoune follows him to Algiers.

CHAPTER X—Dog and master meet and Sabron gets permission from the war minister to keep his dog with him.

CHAPTER XI—In his desert camp Sabron receives a letter from Julia telling him that Pitchoune has run away from her.

CHAPTER XII—Sabron writes Julia of Pitchoune. The Duc de Tremont finds the American heiress capricious. A newspaper report that Sabron is among the missing after an engagement with the natives causes Julia to confess to her aunt that she loves him.

CHAPTER XIII—Sabron, wounded in an engagement, falls into the dry bed of a river, and is watched over by Pitchoune. After a horrible night and day Pitchoune leaves him.

CHAPTER XIV—Julia goes in search of Sabron, reported missing.

CHAPTER XV—Tremont takes Julia and the Marquise to Algiers in his yacht, not knowing their errand.

"Young men don't care how mildly mad a beautiful young woman is, my dear Julia."

"But, he will find out . . . he will know."

"No," said the marquise, "that he will know."

"No," said the marquise, "that he will not. I have attended to that. He will not leave his boat during the excursion, Julia. He remains, and we go on shore with our people."

"How splendid!" sighed Julia Redmond, relieved.

"I'm glad you think so," said her aunt rather shortly. "Now I have a favor to ask of you, my child."

Julia trembled.

"Ma tante!"

"While we are on board the yacht you will treat Robert charmingly."

"I am always polite to him, am I not?"

"You are like an irritated sphinx to him, my dear. You must be different."

"I thought," said the girl in a subdued voice, "that it would be like this. Oh, I wish I had sailed on any vesel, even a cargo vessel."

Looking at her gently, her aunt said: "Don't be ridiculous. I only wish to protect you, my child. I think I have proved my friendship. Remember, before the world you are nothing to Charles de Sabron. A woman's heart, my dear, has delusions as well as passions."

The girl crimsoned and bowed her charming head. "You are not called upon to tell Robert de Tremont that you are in love with a man, who has not asked you to marry him, but you are his guest, and all I ask of you is that you make the voyage as agreeable to him as you can, my dear."

Tremont was coming toward them. Julia raised her head and murmured: "I think you for everything. I shall do what I can." And to herself she said: "That is, as far as my honor will let me."

CHAPTER XVI.

The Duke in Doubt.

The short journey to Africa—over a calm and perfect sea, whose waters were voices at her port to solace her, and where the stars alone glowed down like friends upon her and seemed to understand—was a torture to Julia Redmond. To herself she called her aunt cruel, over and over again, and felt a prisoner, a caged creature.

Tremont found her charming, though in this role of Florence Nightingale, she puzzled and perplexed him. She was nevertheless adorable. The young man had the good sense to make a discreet courtship and understood she would not be easily won. Until they reached Algiers, indeed, until the night before they disembarked, he had not said one word to her which might not have been shared by her aunt. In accordance with the French custom, they never were alone. The marquise shut her eyes and napped considerably and gave them every opportunity she could, but she was always present.

The Due de Tremont had been often in love during his short life. He was a Latin and thought that women are made to be loved. It was part of his education to think this and to tell them this, and he also believed it a proof of his good taste to tell them this as soon as possible.

He was a thoroughly fine fellow. Some of his forefathers had fought and fallen in Agincourt. They had been dukes ever since. There was something distinctly noble in the blond young man, and Julia discovered it. Possibly she had felt it from the first.

From the moment that the old duchess had said to Robert de Tremont:

"Julia Redmond is a great catch, my dear boy. I should like to have you marry her," her son answered:

"Bien, ma mere," with cheerful acquiescence, and immediately considered it and went to Tarascon, to the Chateau d'Esclignac. When his mother had suggested the visit he told her that he intended making up a party for the Mediterranean.

"Why don't you take your godmother and the American girl? Miss Redmond has an income of nearly a million francs and they say she is well-bred."

"Very good, ma mere."

When he saw Miss Redmond he found her lovely; not so lovely as the Comtesse de la Maine, whose invitation to dinner he had refused on the day his mother suggested the Chateau d'Esclignac. The comtesse was a widow. It is not very, very comme il faut to marry a widow, in the Faubourg St.-Germain. Miss Redmond's beauty was different. She was self-absorbed and cold. He did not understand her at all, but that was the American of her.

One of his friends had married an American girl and found out afterward that she chewed gum before breakfast. Pauvre Raymond! Miss Redmond did not suggest such possibilities. Still she was very different from a French jeune fille.

With his godmother he was entirely at ease. Ever since she had paid his trifling debts when he was a young man, he had adored her. Tremont, always discreet and almost in love with his godmother, kept her in a state of great good humor always, and when she had suggested to him this little party he had been delighted. In speaking over the telephone the Marquise d'Esclignac had said very firmly:

"My dear Robert, you understand that this excursion engages you to nothing."

"Oh, of course, marraine."

"We both need a change, and between ourselves, Julia has a little mission on foot."

Tremont would be delighted to help Miss Redmond carry it out. Whom else should he ask?

"By all means, any one you like," said his godmother diplomatically. "We want to sail the day after tomorrow." She felt safe, knowing that no worldly people would accept an invitation on twenty-four hours' notice.

"So," the Duc de Tremont reflected, as he hung up the receiver, "Miss Redmond has a scheme, a mission! Young girls do not have schemes and missions in good French society."

"Mademoiselle," he said to her, as they walked up and down on the deck in the pale sunset, in front of the chair of the Marquise d'Esclignac, "I never saw an ornament more becoming to a woman than the one you wear."

"The ornament, Monsieur?"

(To be Continued.)

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.

will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.

OFFICE AT
96 WASHINGTON ST.
QUINCY
Tel. 618

Arthur B. Foster
CARPENTER and BUILDER
14 Bay View St., Quincy Point
Telephone Connection 31-tm

FURNITURE and PIANO MOVING
PACKING and STORAGE
William D. King
106 Center St., Tel. Quincy 21003 21tf

KURDS BUTCHER AND TORTURE

Reported to Have Massacred Seven Thousand Christians

THOUSANDS OF OTHERS HURT

Mothers Crucified Befoe Eyes of Little Ones For Whose Lives They Begged—Turkish Officials and Troops Said to Have Watched Destruction of Lives and Property

Petrograd, April 27.—Seven thousand Christian Armenians killed, 3000 wounded, more than 15,000 fugitives or prisoners, twelve towns destroyed, more than 5000 square miles of territory laid wasted.

This briefly summarizes another bloody page of Turkish history as revealed in reports transmitted to Petrograd from Tiflis, Tabriz and Teheran.

The reports as received in Petrograd were necessarily fragmentary in character, but they have been checked over carefully. As furnished by an official of the government they cover a period from early in January to late in March and atrocities committed in Turkish, Russian and Persian territory.

Kurd tribesmen now fighting with the Turkish army were responsible for the massacres in large part, but the Turkish regulars permitted the slaughter of men, women and children and in some instances took an active part in the butchery.

Horrible tortures were inflicted upon thousands of the Kurds' victims. Mothers begging for the lives of their children were crucified before the eyes of the little ones. Oil was poured over men and women and then set afire. Some of the methods used by the Kurds cannot be described.

Turkish troops and Turkish officials are declared to have looked on while the Kurds worked their will, sometimes crying applause or telling where more fugitives might be found.

BAY STATE FIRE WARNING

Public Cautioned to Exercise Greater Precautions Than Usual

Boston, April 27.—Owing to the numerous outbreaks of forest fires last week, with some serious results, State Forester Kane issued a warning to the public in which he says:

"This continued dry season has rendered conditions almost unparalleled in the history of the state, and every citizen should desist from setting fires of any kind out-of-doors until we have had at least a good half-day's rain.

"The number of fires reported during the last week from the state observation towers was approximately 1000. Most of these were extinguished before they had burned over more than an acre, but a few were serious enough to do severe damage, burning, in the case of the Walpole fire, about 2000 acres.

"Most of our destructive fires of the past week have come from burning under conditions which would seem to be perfectly safe under ordinary conditions, but a small whirlwind of sparks has extended these small fires until thousands of acres of woodland and even valuable buildings have been destroyed."

KLEIST SUIT DISMISSED

Ex-Coachman Had Sued Wife's Parents For $250,000 Damages

New York, April 27.—The $250,000 damage suit broght against Edward N. Breitung and his wife by Max F. Kleist, their son-in-law, was dismissed by federal Judge Hough, after the evidence was all in. Kleist charged his parents-in-law with alienating his wife's affections.

Hough said the parents were in no way obliged to accept the conduct of a son-in-law. The court ruled that Kleist had failed to prove any improper act on the part of the defendants in their treatment of their child.

Kleist and Miss Breitung were married in November, 1913. Prior to that Kleist had been a coachman employed by a neighbor of Breitung.

BLACKJACKED ON STREET

Woman Cashier Robbed While on Her Way to a New York Bank

New York, April 27.—Another bold daylight attack and robbery of a bank messenger occurred when Rose Wishnick, cashier for a Harlem grocery concern, was blackjacked on the street while she was on her way to the bank with the firm's funds.

The thieves secured $211 in cash and $100 in checks, and escaped, although scores of persons saw her struck down. Miss Wishnick was stunned, but recovered in a short time.

Strike Closes Paper Mill

Fairfield, Me., April 27.—The local mill of the United Paper Board company, where there is a wage strike of 150 operatives, will not be reopened until the difficulty has been adjusted.

Pickles as Spring Fever Cure

New York, April 27.—Dill pickles are better for spring fever than the old fashioned sulphur and molasses, according to Dr. Weismiller, Y. M. C. A. physical director.

JOHN BUNNY

Funny Man of the Movies Had Made Millions Laugh

© by Vitagraph Co.

DEATH OF JOHN BUNNY

Overwork Causes Final Breakdown of Famous Comedian

New York, April 27.—John Bunny, whose antics as a moving picture comedian have made millions laugh, died at his home in Brooklyn. He had been ill for about three weeks.

Members of his family were with him when he died. A month of strenuous work, it is believed, caused the breakdown.

Bunny was 52 years old. For twenty-nine years he had been before the footlights before he entered the moving picture field four years ago. During his career as an actor he had leading roles with many old-time stars.

Bunny was born in New York, was educated in the Brooklyn public schools and went on the stage at the age of 19. He was said to have received more than the President of the United States in salary and royalties.

HABITUAL USERS OF DRUGS IN DISTRESS

Driven Frantic by Inability to Obtain Usual Stimulant

Boston, April 27.—Inquiry at several local hospitals has brought to light the fact that there is practically no place around Boston where penniless drug users can obtain treatment with the ultimate hope of cure, and a serious situation is developing.

Cut off from their supply by the recent federal law against the sale of narcotics and the crusade against street peddlers in Boston, drug users are being driven frantic by their craving for the stimulant.

They can obtain only partial relief by applying for sedatives at the out-patient departments of some hospitals. The strain in many cases is proving too great for brains weakened by habitual drugs and the result is an increase in insanity.

ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE

Ends With Shooting of Young Wife and Suicide of Her Suitor

Chicago, April 27.—Mrs. Gabriel Loeffler is fighting for her life in a hospital because she was true to a young husband who went away three years ago to dig in Alaska for gold.

"If you don't hear from me within two years consider yaurself a free agent, for I shall be dead," he had said when he went away, three years ago. So she waited.

The two years passed and there came to live at the house where she boarded Leopold Kellner. They met and he wooed her. Their engagement was about to be announced when a battered letter struggled in from Alaska. Gabriel had struck it rich and was coming back to get her. She showed the letter to Leopold.

He read it and then pulled a revolver and fired. She dropped. "He'll have to come farther than Chicago to get you, dear," he murmured as he sent a bullet crashing through his own brain and fell dead.

70,000 IN CHICAGO PARADE

Windy City Officially Extends a Welcome to Miss Prosperity

Chicago, April 27.—Chicago stopped work for her Prosperity day pageant.

Seventy thousand persons in automobiles and on foot, on horseback and in horse drawn vehicles, were in the line of march to put the O. K. of Chicago business men, bankers, merchants, manufacturers and workmen on the card of welcome to Miss Prosperity, who, the paraders and the officials of the pageant claim, has returned to Chicago for a long stay.

Incidentally the parade ushered William H. Thompson into office as mayor of the city.

Great Lakes Open

Ogdensburg, N. Y., April 27.—The navigation season between Ogdensburg and the Great Lakes was opened when the steamer Arlington arrived here from Chicago.

KEEP POSTED ON THE PEOPLE'S WANTS — CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING — WHY WORRY LET THESE ADS LIFT YOUR BURDEN

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Half house, all improvements, electric lights, gas, fitted screens; four minutes to trains, one minute to electrics. Off Independence Avenue. Tel. Quincy 789 R. W. J. Talbot, 3 Lawry street. 26-6t

TO LET—Furnished flat of six rooms, modern improvements, nice locality, 12 minutes from Quincy station and 4 minutes from electric cars. Write M. G. J. Ledger Office. 24-9t

TO LET—Two rooms, furnished for light housekeeping. Gas range, electric lights and privilege of bath and laundry. Also one single room. Desirable parties only, 34 Chestnut street, corner Foster street. 23-tf

TO LET—Seven room flat, all modern improvements, situated at 43 Dysart street. Possession given May 1. 39 Dysart street. 21-tf

TO LET—2 furnished rooms, modern conveniences with or without board. Could be used for professional purposes. Apply at 71 School St. 21-6t

TO LET—Upper and lower flats, 14 and 16 Wibird street. All improvements. Five rooms and bath, large attic with upper flat. Call Miss Newcomb, 49 Newcomb street. 21-6t

TO LET—6 room tenements, all improvements. Apply to C. W. Gay, 42 Butler road. 20-tf

TO LET—Tenement of 7 rooms, all improvements. Rent $25. Apply 233 Washington street. 20-9t

TO LET—Modern apartment, near high school; two-family house, everything separate; 7 rooms and bath; electricity and gas. Apply A. D. Cossaboom, 95 Merrymount road; Tel. 1374-M. 15-12t

TO LET—Lower flat in two-family house. Living room, dining room, bedroom, kitchen and bathroom, pantry, good closets and cellar. Coal and gas range, furnace, electric lights. Every convenience. Rent $20. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 13-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 7-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house, 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2. Quincy or 110 South street, Boston, Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Crafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street 27-tf

TO LET

TO LET—Large front furnished room, private family, Mrs. C. F. Foster, 721 Washington street, Quincy Point. 27-6t

FOR RENT—In Quincy Centre, opposite Adams Academy, house 7 rooms, and bath 18 Faxon avenue, suite 6 rooms and bath, every modern improvement Tel. 414-M Weymouth. 26-tf

TO LET—Large sunny front room suitable for married couple. Also garage to let. Write L. G. Ledger Office. 26 3t.

TO LET—Board and rooms, also light housekeeping rooms. Apply 26 Elm St. off Hancock st. 26-3t

TO LET—House of three rooms. Apply Hammond place, off Water street. 23-6t

TO LET—Upper apartment 91 Revere road, 6 rooms, gas and coal range gas light. Rent reduced to $18. Small adult family. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1 Quincy. 23-tf

TO LET—Tenement of six rooms at 8 Mechanic street. Apply to E. D. Barrett, 27 Revere road. tf

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements. 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 13-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Four room summer cottage, furnished; Houghs Neck, easy terms, $200 down. Write L. Ledger Office. 26-6t

FOR SALE—In South Braintree, 8 room house and barn, about 35,000 ft. of land, corner lot on Hancock and Washington streets, electric cars pass the door, call at 1397 Washington ? adaaM erred.g Wri:Y ton St., at home 4.30 P. M. Alexander Downey. April 26 6t.

FOR SALE—Spars, sails, running gear and steering wheel for a 25 ft. sloop at a bargain, in best of condition C. W. Sears, rear of 403 Washington street, Quincy. 24-6t

FOR SALE or TO LET—New two-flat house on Kittredge avenue. Each flat has 5 rooms and bath, all modern improvements, coal and gas range, electric lights. Inquire at 11 Ring avenue off Washington street. 22-6t

FOR SALE—Stoddard Dayton Roadster in first class condition, top, windshield, full equipment. Will sell cheap Apply to Mrs. John F. Welch, corner Hancock and Elm streets. 23-tf

FOR SALE—Milk wagon, strong, good condition, also Democrat, two seats, painted and varnished, both at a bargain. Must be sold. Ellis, 50 Squantum street, East Milton. 22-6t

FOR SALE—One mission set, chiffonier, and a morris chair, practically new. Apply between 3 and 6, Room 7 Durgin and Merrill block. 21-6t

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-tf L P.

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

MISCELLANEOUS

SOMEONE—Please answer who will take a very fine new piano into their home and use carefully. Privilege of buying later on easy terms if desired. Wish to move at once. Write for full particulars, M. L. M., Ledger Office. 24-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage. Myatt, 40 Baxter street Tel. 1307-M., Quincy. Res. 22-tf

TO LET
Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

LOST

LOST—Waltham watch, gold case, between Quincy and Quincy Adams depot. Finder please notify J. O. Basso, general delivery Quincy. Reward offered. 27-3t

LOST—About six o'clock on Saturday evening, either between Cottage avenue and the Quincy railroad station, or on the 6.12 train to Boston, about $87 in a roll of bills. The loss means much to the loser. If the one who finds it will communicate with D. at the Ledger Office he will receive a reward. 27-3t

WANTED

WANTED—Man to sell accident and sick insurance by old line stock company policies, sold on monthly plan, best commission pair. Frank Connor, 176 Federal street, Room 409, Boston. 27-3t

WANTED—Girl for light office work, one with some experience preferred. Wages $5.00 to start. Write V. F., Ledger Office. 26-3t

WANTED—An experienced maid for general housework. References required. Apply at 118 Merrymount road. 26-tf

WANTED—4 or 5 room flat between depot and Fore River Shipyard. Rent reasonable. Write A. R. Ledger Office. 24-3t

WANTED—Girl 17 years would like position taking care of child. Write C. D. Ledger Office. 24-3t

WANTED—A licensed man to fire vertical boiler and take care of steam pump. Write at once "A" Ledger Office. 24-3t

WANTED—At once boys over 18 years of age. Apply at factory of Edmund S. Hunt & Sons Co., Weymouth. 24-3t

WANTED—Girls to work on clothing, power machines. Experienced girls preferred. Rhodes Ripley Clothing Co., Hingham. 22-6t

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf

TO LET
After May 1, Store or Stores
No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.
Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x85 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop
—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall
—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for Mr. Kribs.
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

BE WISE
FOOL THE FLIES
HAVE YOUR SCREENS RE-COVERED NOW
TELEPHONE OR WRITE
HOLMES & HALL
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

GRANITE SHOE STORE

·LA·FRANCE·SHOP·

For the street, for the dance, for the beach. At a price that is well within reach.

LA FRANCE comes in a full range of designs that are not only in the mode, but are full of La France special touches.

856 is a Sterling Patent Kid Colonial, welt, Louis Cuban Heel.

·LA·FRANCE·

NEW BUSINESS BLOCK TO HAVE FIVE STORES

Will Be Erected on Old Webb Estate on School Street

Ground was broken Monday for the new business block to be erected on the Webb estate on School street corner of Hancock street, by Dennis Crowley the contractor.

The building will be built for the Webb Realty Co. of Quincy and will be a one story affair for five stores. The building will have a frontage of 200 feet. and it is expected it will be ready for occupancy by July 1. It will extend from the Walsh pharmacy on the driveway on School street.

The plans of the company call for a number of changes on the estate to be made in the future. The dwelling house formerly occupied by former Representative Michael T. Sullivan and now by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tirrell will be moved to front on Hancock court. The wooden block at Hancock street and Hancock court will be remodeled and the spacious barn will be turned into a dwelling house.

IF YOU WOULD HAVE YOUR SCREENS LAST.

Black With

S. & W. Screen Enamel or Screen and Black

PORCH and LAWN FURNITURE ENAMEL

In all popular colors

FISHING TACKLE

Trout and Flounder Lines

USE CARBORUNDUM SHARPENING STONES

NATHAN AMES

5 Granite St.

POLICE PROBE INFANT'S DEATH

The police today are making investigation of the death of an infant in Wollaston Park Monday evening. The investigation is understood to be the result of information communicated by a physician. The name of the parties involved have been withheld by the police.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

Whereas, Henry Tatten of Medway, in said County, has presented to said Court, a petition praying that his name may be changed to that of Henry Tatten O'Leary for the reason therein set forth:

All persons are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the twelfth day of May A. D. 1915 at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any they have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, Mass., the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-sixth day of April in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register
3t April 27 May 3-10

MAY BASKETS

A Large and Splendid Assortment of New and Original May Baskets.

GET ONE TODAY

10c to 25c

CHAS. C. HEARN, Druggist

AT THE THEATRE

An exceptional bill is offered the patrons of Kincaide Theatre for the first half of this week. H. B. Warner the eminent dramatic favorite, makes his debut in the Paramount Features to the motion picture public in "The Lost Paradise." This drama is claimed to be one of the greatest dramas of capital and labor ever written. It is a powerful pictorial argument in behalf of the laborers whose lives build the wealth of nations, whose tears too often are crystalized in the jewels of the rich.

In the story the superintendent of the Knowlton Iron Works is in love with his employer's daughter who has been reared in luxury and is the idol of her father. To save her from learning that her father is a thief the loyal superintendent takes the guilt upon his own shoulders. After all the trials which the story unfolds his sacrifice is learned and rewarded by the woman he loves, who decides to stand with him on the side of the oppressed workman to whose cause he has devoted his life. Mr. Warner. portrays the role of the man who strives to reconcile the contending elements and who is willing to sacrifice name and fame for the woman he loves.

Debal and Mulcahy are certainly clever in their singing, talking and comedy stunt. Ruth St. Onge. the Wollaston girl, is a vocalist of no mean ability. She appears in a pleasing repertoire of popular and classic selections. For a winsome miss bubbling with suppressed mirth Mazie Rowlands certainly has you guessing.

CITY COUNCIL

(Continued from Page One.)

ing of Edison street and the acceptance of Belmont street were referred to the committee on streets.

A petition and order for a light on Station street was referred to the executive.

A petition favoring granting Tony Petta a liquor permit was placed on file.

A petition for a granolithic sidewalk on Upland road was referred to the committee on streets.

Public hearings were held on a large number of applications for gasoline permits. There was no opposition to any of them and they were granted.

Applications to the number of 125, were received for minor licenses and thirty for gasoline permits. A public hearing was ordered on the gasoline permits for next Monday.

Auctioneers licenses were granted to N. D. Atwood and Charles A. Bailey.

The committee on fire department matters reported an order for $11,000 for the purchase of an auto hook and ladder truck and an auto combination wagon. Referred to finance committee.

The water committee reported an order appropriating $10,000 for water extensions. Referred to finance committee.

Councilman Ross offered a resolution requesting the Mayor to confer with the railroad officials relative to a path across the railroad tracks between the Quincy Adams station and Lawry street.

Councilman Smith offered an order for a sidewalk on Cross street. To street committee.

Other new orders offered were as follows:

Beeman, to extend Linden street.

Beeman, $2,500 for draining Sagamore street.

Barnicoat, light on School street.

Richards, $6,000 for resurfacing Beale street from Newport avenue to Adams street.

Yule, $3,000 to rebuild Broadway.

Griffin, to extend Newcomb place to Spring street.

Griffin, to widen East Howard street from Howard avenue 740 feet northerly.

Griffin, changing the northerly line of Howard avenue.

Griffin, $6,000 for surface drainage of Sixth avenue.

Yule, gravel sidewalk on Washington street, southerly side near Chubbuck street.

Yule, $75 for a crosswalk at Washington street and Edison park.

O'Dowd, appropriating the sum of $5,000 to be appropriated in a supplementary budget for additional street oiling.

Williams, granolithic sidewalk, East Howard street from Howard avenue, 740 feet northerly.

Yule, an ordinance establishing traffic rules in city square and making Saville and Depot streets one way streets. Referred to joint committee of ordinances and streets.

Adjourned at 10.57.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

WANT FIFTY CENT INCREASE

Fore River Coppersmiths Stop Work

Nearly 100 coppersmiths of hte Fore River shipyar dhave suspended work pending the settlement of a demand for an increase in wages. The men are receiving $3.50 a day and have asked for $4. Committees are today holding a conference on the matter.

WILLIAMS STOPS RUNAWAY HORSE

The wild flight of a runaway horse was suddenly checked at 11 o'clock this morning by Fred D. Wiliams of the E. J. Murphy pharmacy. Williams was on Hancock street, near High school when he saw the horse turn the corner at Butler road and head toward Quincy centre. He ran to the street and as the horse passed he jumped and seized the bridle. He was carried 20 feet before the flight of the animal was stayed. The horse was owned by a local groceryman and was hitched to a light delivery wagon. The driver was in a house on Putman street when the horse bolted. There was no damage.

BRIEFS

Daughters of John Adams. L. O. L., at its next meeting will pass on 14 applications for membership and make arrangements for an entertainment and dance to be given in Colonial hall on the evening of May 19.

A White Auto Combination was brought to Quincy this morning for exhibition. When the car arrived in front of city hall it was inspected by Mayor Campball, who accepted an invitation to drive it about city square.

Lodge Quincy, Figli d'Italia. added 14 members at a meeting in Protection hall Monday night and completed plans for its first annual dancing party to be held in Alpha hall next Friday evening. The meeting was well atended.

The directors for the Employees Benefit association of the Fore River shipyard include three members of the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation and 12 members of the working force. The latter are John Russell, R. dept., John W. Grady, J. Dept. Herbert Smith, A. dept., Allen McGeachie, M. dept., William Beach, Q. dept. James Mills, Y dept., James Mitchell, S. dept., Harry Marr, H dept., Daniel McCarthy, E dept.

MRS. JOSEPHINE ST. ONGE.

Josephine St. Onge, wife of Amasa J. St. Onge and mother of Ruth St. Onge, the well known vocalist, died today at her home at 212 Highland avenue after a long illness. in her 50th year. She is survived by her husband and daughter. Miss St. Onge is at present appearing at the Kincaide Theatre.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

WANTED—House painter. Apply immediately to Mrs. L. B. Titus, Huckins avenue, Squantum. 27-1t

FOR SALE—1915 Reo 5 passenger car run less than 1000 miles. Owner has placed order for 6 cylinder Reo Can be seen and demonstrated at Central Garage, Quincy. Tel. 1035 W. 27-tf

MARRIAGES

KAHAGE—HOKAKA—In Boston, April 24th by Rev. Nicolas Ganman, Abe Lahage of Quincy Point and Fareday Hobaka of Boston.

FOYE—COLLAGAN—In Quincy, April 24, by Fr. M. J. Owens, John Lawrence Foye and Annie Gertrude Collagan, both of Quincy.

BATTISTA—CACICIA—In Boston, April 25, by Rev. Ilario Marcucci, Ernest Battista and Gaetano Cacicia, both of South Quincy.

DEATHS

JELLOW—In Quincy, April 23, Laurence H., son of Benjamin and Christina Jellow of 324 Adams street, aged 6 years.

St. ONGE—In Wollaston, April 28, Josephine, wife of Amasa J. St. Onge of 212 Highland avenue, in her 50th year.

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL

FUNERAL DIRECTOR

Carriage and Ambulance Service

1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

WHAT IS THE MATTER

(Continued from Page Three.)

the present year only and the result is that Quincy suffers by the lack of action on these important measures.

With a three year term. a mayor wanting to see something worth while accomplished would quickly grasp the situation—see how matters stood, what the chance of action was, and where the difficulty lay—and do something. Compromise if necessary but get something passed that would be executed while he was in office to see the terms of the agreement lived up to. He would stick with the measure to its completion. Would not this be far better than our present way? It might even be remarked in passing that there have been many important hearings and conferences at the State House and before public commissions, of one nature and another, at which Quincy has not even been represented by its mayor.

The fourth issue may for the sake of expediency be divided thus:

1. The City Council should be composed of nine men.

2. These councilmen should be elected each year to serve three years.

3. The three councilmen should be elected at large. It will be necessary in discussing each one of these separately to bear in mind that it is one part of the whole which includes two other features. Let us take them up in the order named.

The only large city that has not recently cut down the size of its legislative body is Philadelphia and that city is notorious for its poor management. The cut from twenty-three to nine is a very conservative one compared with what most cities have made and it is taken here only as a compromise. Nine men such as would be elected under this plan would represent public opinion just as much as the twenty-three do today, only they would reflect public opinion of the whole city. whereas some of the twenty-three we have today represent a ward opinion rather than the entire public opinion. The present body is too large for effective discussion and effective action. Nine men can accomplish more and accomplish it more efficiently than twenty-three for two obvious reasons. (1) Nine men can discuss matters informally sitting around a table before taking formal action. (2) Nine men can compromise much more easily and satisfactorily than twenty-three.

Much unintelligent legislation has passed by our City Councils and it has been difficult to place the responsibility for it. In a council of nine the responsibility for legislation can be more directly placed because five will be responsible for it then, whereas now twelve is a majority. Another phase of the responsibility question is that in a council of nine elected at large nine men will feel responsible to the whole city whereas now only five out of the twenty-three do. These five are those elected at large.

The principal argument for electing three councilmen every year to serve three years is on the same plan as our United States Senate. The chief reason why the United States Senate is the bulwark of our national legislative system is its method of election. There are no radical changes in its membership every three years and, as a result, we have a valuable continuity of action. This is what Quincy needs. If we had nine elected every year it might happen that the nine new men would just fail of getting the gist of the previous nine on some important legislation and so retard progress. But have six men hold over each year and the new three will discover what the point of view of the previous council was. It must be admitted that practically all legislation under the present system is done by committees. With nine men the committee system would be done away with and all legislation would be done by the whole council.

The election of three each year also greatly shorten the present long and mysterious ballot. Now a voter has to vote for eight out of about sixteen and under the proposed scheme he would have to vote only for three out of six.

There is much to be said against ward representation. Many cities have seen its evils and have done away with it, but Quincy still maintains the old system. Wards were not made for the purpose of dividing the city into sections that should each send three members to the City Council. although some seem to think so. The primary and proper use of wards was and is purely a means of voting. A ward is purely a geographical arrangement for the convenience of voting. The field of a city's endeavor is broader today in its scope than heretofore and is becoming broader every day. A merchant with his residence in one ward, his factory in another, and his garage in a third, has an interest in the whole city.

The interests of the whole city are decidedly superior to those of any of the several communities into which Quincy is so peculiarly divided. A large share of the taxes goes into the schools and public safety departments. Now the schools in one ward cannot be inferior to those of another ward, the police cannot let a riot go on in one ward, nor the fire department allow a fire to get going in one ward. because by any of these acts the interests of the whole city are impaired. Discrimination is not at al feasible in such matters as affect the whole city.

Certainly the ward is over-emphasized by our present method which does those two things. (1) Limit the office of councilman to residents of the ward no matter if more capable candidates live outside the ward. (2) Renders it unnecessary for a candidate to be known to the whole city.

The recognized evil, always present in all our national, state. and local legislative assemblies, is log-rolling. "You vote with me on this bill. I'll vote with you on that bill." What James Madison, the Father of our Constitution, said in 1788 will prove that it existed before our Constitution was accepted. "Every one knows that a great proportion of the errors committed by the state legislatures proceeds from the disposition of members to sacrifice the comphehensive and permanent interests of the state to the particular and separate views of the counties or districts in which they reside."

And this evil has been growing ever since! It is not claimed that by election at large log-rolling will be entirely done away with, but it is claimed that councilmen elected at large would not have to stoop to ward deals, such as we have had in the past The reasons for this are two. (1) Councilmen elected at large would be freed from a sense of responsibility to any particular ward. (2) They would realize that the entire electorate was to judge their acts at the polls.

Some people say that certain ward councilmen could not represent the entire city. The answer to that is that any man in the council, unable to represent the whole city, is unfit to be in the council. If the nine best men for the council live in Ward Five then let them be the council. The opponents of this measure call this a "danger." The "danger" that all might be elected from the same ward has not materialized in actual experience. DesMoines, divided by the DesMoines River into East and West sides, elected for its first commission two from one side and three from the other and there has been no attempt on the part of the majority unduly to favor their side.

It has been proved that party designation is a hindrance to better government in our city and that a longer term and proper compensation for the mayor is bound to improve the management of the city. There is no question but what nine men would of necessity give more intelligent consideration to all matters of legislation and would feel a greater sense of responsibility by virtue of the small body. A holding over of members in the council from year to year aims towards more constructive legislation and continuity of action. the lack of which has been a burden of tremendous expense. Ward representation is one of the worst evils in our present system and it has been demonstrated time and time again that the abolition of it has resulted in marked improvement in the character of the government.

REDUCTION IN PRICES IN GOAL.

Your attention is called to the reduced spring prices on Anthracite Coal as follows

Lehigh Stove and Egg	$7.50
White Ash Stove and Egg	7.25
White Ash Nut	7.50
Shamokin Stove and Egg	7.50
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75
Pea	5.50
Franklin	8.50

We recommend the placing of your order at this time to insure the low prices.

Nothing but All Rail Clean Coal handled and delivered right by careful experienced drivers.

QUINCY COAL CO.

OFFICE and YARD

Penn St., Quincy Tel. 47-M

Ap. 7 1mo.

DRUG CLERK IS INJURED

John Donahue, one of the clerks in Kenyon's drug store on Washington street, Quicy Point, had a narrow escape from serious injury this morning when the top of a soda tank blew out striking him in the face and cutting a deep gash in his forehead. The wound bled profusely, and gave hte appearance of being more serious than it was. Donahue was in the act of removing the connectig pipe from an empy soda tank whe nit bley out. Dr. E. H. Bushnell was called and dressed the wound. The physician says that the injury is not a esrious one andthat Donahue will be able to return to work tomorrow.

The Olinate club met at the home of Miss Eleanor Whittemore on Bigelow street Monday evening. The evening was passed playing whist and other games. Refreshments were served.

To Aim At The Mark

is not always to hit it, but we are continually scoring bulls-eyes in the way of low prices, high quality goods and quick service. We have a good many customers but we are always looking for more, and if you have never bought your groceries of us we extend to you an invitation to be in today.

Ripe Olives 25c jar

Waneta Cocoa, in Jars 25c lb

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980

FOY'S 2 STORES

WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 99 QUINCY, MASS., WEDNESDAY EVENING, APRIL 28, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

HAMLIN STRIKES OUT 15 REVERE BATSMEN

High School Boys Win Fast, Well Played Game

HIGH SCHOOL RESULTS.
Quincy 13, Alumni 16.
Quincy 10, Stetson H. S. 6.
Quincy 2, Dedham H. S. 0.
Quincy 3, Revere H. S. 2.

GAME ON FRIDAY.
Cambridge at Cambridge.

Quincy High school beat Revere High at Merrymount Park Tuesday afternoon, 3 to 2, and won its third successive victory.

Hamlin, one of the best of the all round athletes at the school played no small part in the winning of the game. He held down the pitcher's position and in fanning 15 men established a record for the local season which may not be surpassed under the same conditions, as both teams were practically on even terms as far as individuals are concerned, although Quincy hit the ball a bit harder.

A sharp inshore breeze carrying considerable fog swept across the field making it necessary for the men to keep moving to prevent chills. Several hundred of the student body and other fans gathered on the sidelines and shivered but all remained for the finish.

The game took an interesting turn in the first inning when both teams scored two runs apiece. It then settled down to brainy base ball, with each combination trying to outplay the other. Every hit ball throughout the game meant something to each player and there was no semblance of lagging. The work of both outfields was of sterling quality. The men took everything within reason. McCabe, sent in in the sixth, made a long and spectacular running catch and John Reardon in the seventh pulled a shoestring scoop which looked as though it was against him.

For six innings, none of them drawn out, the teams trotted on and off the field. Hamlin extricated himself from tight corners twice, in all cases retiring the third man.

A fine demonstration of quick thinking cropped out in the fifth when a visitor sprinted for second as Hamlin faced the batter. Hamlin turned and threw to Dorley who was off the

(Continued on Page Six.)

THE WEATHER

How would you like to be the President? The mercury in the Weather Bureau at Washington, D. C. registered 93 degrees yesterday. And an upstart kiosk down on Pennsylvania ave. flirte d around the 103 mark. As for Quincy—the ice man is'nt getting much of a grip just now. Cambridge is said to be rather warm because of the burning words of Prof. Kuno Meyer of the University of Berlin who took umbrage at the Harvard Prize Poem "Gott Mit Uns" and energetically cancelled his engagement as exchange professor at Harvard.

The W. M. says:

Forecast for Quincy and vicinity.
Unsettled and cloudy weather with showers indicated for Thursday.

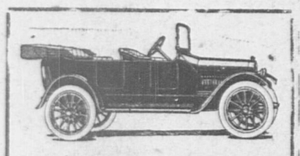

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	4.34
Sun sets	6.40
Length of day	13.58
Moon rises	4.50
High water, A. M.	11.15
High water, P. M.	11.30
Days increase 4 hrs. 52 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	68 degrees
Apr 28, 1914,	57 degrees
Apr. 28, 1913,	53 degrees

Noon Maximum 18 years—86
Noon Minimum 18 years—30

JACKSON
Model 46
THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER
"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"
Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT
$1375
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

PRESSERS
Experienced Ironers on Ladies Waists. Steady Work.
APPLY TO
SOVEREIGN WAIST CO.
192 GRANITE ST.

"The Daily Ledger" is newsy every day. Are you a regular reader.

QUINCY C'-OPERATIVE BANK

The annual meeting of the shareholders, for the election of officers and the transaction of any other business that may legally come before it, will be held at the office of the Bank, Room 13, Adams Bldg., Wednesday, May 5, 1915 at 8 o'clock P. M.
FRANK A. REED, Clerk.
28-7t

MR. WILLMOTT BIDS FAREWELL

Many At Last Social He Will Attend

The last social of the Bethany Congregational church at which Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin A. Willmott will be present was held Tuesday evening in the vestry of the church and was largely attended. The social was entirely informal, in accordance with the wish of Rev. Mr. Willmott.

The evening's entertainment was in charge of the social committee of the Christian ndeavor society with Miss Agnes Fisher as chairman. During the first part of the evening there was a progressive reception during which those present met the pastor and Mrs. Willmott informally. Then followed a postal card game and a guessing game, which consisted of writing a list of towns and cities whose letters had been changed about, and a passing game.

Refreshments were served by the Philathea class during which music was furnished by an orchestra, and there were vocal selections by the Cecilian quartette.

The prize in the guessing contest was awarded to the side captained by William Ross. The prize consisted of a box of group photographs of Rev. and Mrs. Willmott and Master John Willmott, taken on the piazza of the church parsonage. There were a large number of these photographs and the winning team generously presented a copy to each of those present, which will be cherished as souvenirs of Rev. Mr. Willmott's pastorate in Quincy.

As it was probably the last opportunity which the members of the congregation would have to meet their pastor socially Rev. Mr. Willmott had a few words to say in parting. He said that he was sorry to go from Quincy and that he would miss all of them. He had grateful words to say for all for they had been more than kind to him and he should ever remember the pleasant years during which he had been pastor of Bethany church. It had been one of his fondest hopes when he came to Bethany church to see all of the societies of the church come together and he was more than pleased that this desire had been realized.

ELECTS WOMAN AS PRESIDENT

A new departure was taken by the Cranch school Parents-Teachers Association at its annual meeting Tuesday evening, when for the first time in its history it elected a woman as president for the coming year. Aside from the election of officers there was a most interesting talk on Children's gardening by Prof. Munson, and during the evening Mrs. George H. Norris sang two solos, "The Rosary" and "May Morning." Light refreshments were served by the teachers of the school. The officers elected were:

President, Mrs. Richard Nelson.
Vice President, A. F. Abbott.
Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. William W. Jenness.
Executive Committee, Mrs. Richard Nelson, A. F. Abbott, Mrs. William W. Jenness, Mrs. Alexander Robertson, Mrs. George H. Norris and Redfield Allen.

RUNNING BUREAU IS NO SINECURE

Miss Huston, who has charge of the employment bureau at city hall does not find the work the pleasantest in the world. She says that at present there are no applicants for employment from what one would called skilled men. She had however a number of names of foreigners who desired work but as they could not speak the English language very well it was difficult to place them. What made it even more difficult was the fact that when a firm called asking for help and she had sent a man to the position the man sometimes failed to go as directed. This had happened in several cases and the employers had become very indignant. She said that she had several applications for maids which she was unable to fill.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gregory of Quincy announce the engagement of their daughter Jessie Louise Gregory to Elton B. Berry of Wollaston.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

NOTICE

April 26, 1915

Notice is hereby given that from May 1st to May 29th inclusive, the Board of Health will remove all rubbish that may be placed on the sidewalks in barrels on the regular ash collection days. During the summer months the weekly collection of ashse will be discontinued. Ashes will be collected on the following weeks.

June 21st to 26th inclusive.
July 26th to 31st inclusive.
August 23rd to 28th inclusive.

The regular weekly collection of ashes will be resumed on Oct. 4th, 1915.

Per Order,
Board of Health,
Walter H. Buchan, Chairman
27-5t

CLUB HOLDS ITS LADIES NIGHT

Elect Mayor President for Third Term

At the annual meeting and ladies night of the Wollaston Congregational club, Tuesday evening, Mayor Chester I. Campbell received an ovation and was elected its president for a third term.

The following officers were elected:
President—Chester I. Campbell.
Vice President—B. H. Bain.
Secretary—Arthur L. Whittemore, Jr.
Treasurer—Walter F. Lawton.
Social Committee—Roscoe D. V. Edwards.
Benevolent Committee—David H. Goodspeed.

In addition to several professional acts and musical numbers the program contained a number of surprises One of these was an orchestral number lead by Mayor Campbell in true bandmaster style. This act brought down the house and if the mayor had not been red in the face from his exertions it might have been repeated.

Reports by the secretary, selections by the club quartet and the singing of popular songs by the audience all formed a part of the program upstairs, after which those present were asked to repair to the vestry.

When all were seated "Billy" Mann, who had been officially elected club chef, appeared in costume to protest. He was followed by a motley crew of a half dozen blackfaced comedians in waiters togs and the audience was soon laughing heartily. The disturbance was finally quelled when Mayor Campbell sent in a riot call and "Officer" B. H. Bain, in a resplendant blue uniform, put in an appearence.

More songs by the quartet and audience and the introduction of a number of tricks performed by the aid of electricity closed the program.

A social hour followed, during which refreshments were served by "Chef" Mann and his colored brethren.

To promote sociability a harness of cards and ribbon was hung on each member of the audence. The back card read "Who am I?" and the front card "My name is ——. What is yours."

MRS GARTY TO BE SPONSOR

Mrs. William Garty of 1768 Beacon street, Brookline, has been selected by Sec. Daniels to be the sponsor of the torpedo boat destroyer Tucker to be launched at the Fore River shipyard on May 4 at 2.30 o'clock. Mrs. Garty is a direct descendant of Commodore Tucker, and is of the fourth generation.

Commodore Tucker was one of the most heroic of the Revolutionary war patriots. He commanded ships that cruised and menaced British commerce, captured prizes and cargoes which saved one of the Colonial armies from starvation, was a member of the convention which adopted the constitution of the state of Maine, and served as a legislator and a presidential elector.

At the time of his death he was the highest ranking officer of the war excepting Lafayette. His last days were brightened with a pension of $600 annually, after he had been defrauded of his share in prize money and held up on his pay for many years.

Commodore Tucker during his career commanded the frigate "Boston" and had the honor of taking John Adams, Minister to France, to the French port in 1778.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

WANTED
A Capable and Experienced Chauffeur.
Must be Sober and of Good Character.
ADDRESS
B, LEDGER OFFICE

JUDGES REMAIN SAFELY NEUTRAL

Two Men's Clubs Debate Equal Suffrage

Some good arguments were made both for and against equal suffrage for women, at the joint debate held Monday evening at the Swedish Baptist church between the men's club of that church and the men's club of the Swedish Congregational church. In order that the gentler sex might hear what the men had to say about the subject, the women of the church societies were invited to be present and a large number accepted the invitation.

The debate was a spirited one, good arguments being made by both sides. The judges of the debate were Rev. Mr. Lindstrom, Albert Nelson, R. E. Bloomquist, Gus Bergfors, Jr., and Charles Leander. At the conclusion of the debate the judges retired and deliberated at length on the merits of the two sides but were unable to agree as to which side had the best of the argument so they reported the result was a tie.

At the conclusion of the debate there was a social hour during which refreshments were served.

CHIEF PRATT WIELDS GAVEL

Several Auto Cases In Court Today

Herbert Pratt, the new chief of police of Weymouth, was burdened with new duties for a time this morning when he acted as a court officer during the short absence of Court Officers Marden and Hultman from the regular session. Chief Pratt, who is one of the best known men in police circles in the state, was not obliged to exercise any authority because none of the spectators created any disturbance.

The trial list included many auto cases from Milton in which Metropolitan Officer U. G. Davis was the complainant.

West P. Woodbridge, 22 years, Moose Hill, Sharon, pleaded nolo to auto violations and the case was filed on payment of $10 costs.

William H. Coburn, 25 years, of 55 Jackson street, Lawrence, did not appear to answer a similar charge.

Raymond Blanchard, 19 years, of Wellesley and Walter F. Clarke, Wellington street, Boston, pleaded nolo and their cases were lied on payment of $10 costs.

The case of Albert Ray, 68 Reed street, Rockland, was filed, and Ralph L. Ledischi was fined $10.

Robert J. McGettigan was charged with operating without lights in Randolph, Chief McGerigle of that town, being the complainant. He was assessed costs, $6.45. He was fined $15 for using the machine of his employer without authority and sentence was suspended to June 29, 1915.

Walter Dunne, 35 years, Quincy, pleaded not guilty to a charge of drunkenness and was sentenced to one month in the house of correction. Sentence was suspended to July 10, 1915.

Joseph Brady, 21 years Randolph, was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery. Case was continued to May 8 and bonds were set at $500.

MILLER CASE ON MAY 5

The hearing on the charges preferred against Joseph E. Miller, held by the police of Weymouth in connection with the killing of Patrick Butler, late chief of police of that town, will be held before Judge Avery on May 5. Second Dist. Atty. George E. Adams of Quincy will represent the government and M. J. Shugrue, former district attorney of Suffolk County the defendant. Miller is out on a bail of $1500.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

DRUGGIST EXONERATED BY INQUEST FINDING

McGilvary Not Guilty of Criminal Negligence

Judge Avery, who conducted the inquest on the death of Elmer Marble, a five year old South Weymouth boy, has filed his official finding with the office of Dist, Atty. Barker of Norfolk county.

In his finding he states there was lack of criminal negligence on the part of Arthur McGilvray who was operating the auto which struck the child. The finding in substance is to the effect that the child ran in front of the machine and that McGilvray could not prevent the accident.

SCHOOL BOARD HAS MEETING

His But Little Business to Consider

A regular meeting of the School Committee was held Tuesday evening, all members being present. There was but little to demand the attention of the Board and the meeting was a brief one.

The resignations of Miss Edith L. Abbott and Miss Marion H. Allen of the High school were received and accepted.

The North American Civic League of Immigration was granted the use of the hall in the Adams school building one evening a week for the balance of the season for lectures to foreigners.

The expenditures of the department to date were reported as follows:

	Appropriation	Expended	Balance
Administration	$6,500.00	$2,235.95	$4,244.05
Instruction	156,285.00	60,679.70	95,705.30
Text Books	4,750.00	757.72	3,922.28
Stationery and Supplies	6,500.00	2,944.70	3,555.30
Operation of Plant	23,125.00	8,868.58	14,256.42
Maintenance	250.00	46.00	204.00
Miscellaneous	3,200.00	836.96	2,363.04
Evening Schools	2,650.00	936.86	1,713.14
Total	$203,360.00	$77,326.47	$126,033.53
Independent Industrial School	10,625.00	4,623.42	6,001.58
Industrial Evening School	1,550.00	999.29	550.71
Grand Total	$215,535.00	$82,949.18	$132,585.82

POLICE WATCH YOUNG GIRL

Body of Child Found In Her Room

Ida Lankonen, the 18 year old Finnish girl who had no medical attendance until she was taken to the Quincy City Hospital, is under police surveillance and police are investigating the finding of the dead body of a female child in a suit case in her room. The child was born alive and strangled according to Medical Examiner Jones.

CARMEN LOSE.

The carmen of Quincy were defeated at Brockton Tuesday by the Torrey street carmen's team, champions of the Trolley league last season, by a score of 12 to 8. The score:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Torrey St.	3	1	0	1	3	0	1	3	x	12	15	4
Quincy	0	1	2	0	5	0	0	0	8	9	5

Batteries Ackerman, Jackson and C. J. Irving; Keegan and Cowe.

FOUND DEAD IN GARAGE

Hingham Man is Shot in Mouth

Herbert Beale, 55 years, of Hingham one of the best known fish dealers on the South Shore, was found dead in his garage this morning.

His wife and family heard a shot at six o'clock and found Beale shot through the mouth a short time later. The body was viewed by Dr. Charles W. Bartlett of Abington, associate medical examiner to Dr. John Peterson of Hingham. Death is believed to have resulted from a self inflicted wound.

The mission services at St. John's church Tuesday evening were divided, the single women being in the upper auditorium and the married women in the basement. Rev. John O'Leary C. SS. R. and Rev. J. Kenzel, C. SS. R., gave the sermons and instructions.

ANNOUNCEMENT!
We beg to announce to the public that we have taken the exclusive agency for
MAXWELL MOTOR CARS
For Quincy, Braintree and Weymouth and cordially invite your inspection of same.
CENTRAL GARAGE
Corner Washington and Pond Streets
C. W. HODGKINSON, Prop.
GARAGE PHONE, QUINCY 1035 W
RESIDENCE PHONE, QUINCY 1035 R

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
INCORPORATED
THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

CHRISTIANITY AND ROADS.

The comments about Quincy's streets by Rev. William B. Ayres, reported in Monday's Ledger, are decidedly refreshing. Some of Wollaston's streets are too good for the amount of travel they receive, he declares. This is unusual: most people in Quincy protest because the streets in their section are poor and they point out that some other section is being favored more than their section is.

Not so Mr. Ayres. He says: "Down in West Quincy the streets are neglected, and many of them do not possess the semblance of a sidewalk. This is class selfishness. The man in Wollaston should be interested in giving a decent street to the man in West Quincy and the money of the city should not be spent on my street just because I live on it. Every man ought, if he has any sense of brotherhood or fair play at all, to see that the other fellow gets a fair show of the improvements. Another man's life is just as valuable perhaps as yours and should be beautiful and blest."

This is the true civic spirit. This is applied Christianity. If it were implanted in the breasts of the majority of Quincy's citizens we should not have to worry about ways and means to make a model city.

LESSON OF THE DARDANELLES.

Reports indicate that a general attack by land and sea is being made on the Dardanelles. The last concerted effort by the Allies against the Sultan's fortifications on the Dardanelle straits was made some five weeks ago. It was essentially a failure.

And yet if we remember aright the "military experts (?)" whose writings adorn the pages of most of the metropolitan papers predicted that the Dardanelles would soon be passed, that the capture of the fortifications was only a question of a few days. The task of driving the "Unspeakable Turk" from Europe has not proved so easy. All those who follow the operations of the various belligerents in this great struggle are having it impressed upon them more and more that warfare today is not successfully waged by brilliant and "glorious" dashes but by slow, business-like advances with victory usually going to the combatant with the greatest endurance.

SCHOLARSHIP HAS NO BOUNDS.

The decision of the trustees of the Rhodes scholarships that they will not deprive Germany of the scholarships provided for that country in Cecil Rhodes' will is another instance of the universality and impartiality of education. The great empire builder left a legacy to the world. It is encouraging to note that the trustees of his will have so interpreted it and, although they are British, have not permitted the quarrel of their own nation and other nations, even though that quarrel has assumed the proportions of the greatest war in history, to interfere. The scholar is not confined by geography or politics.

The Chicago Herald gets it about right and Mrs. Young of the Boston Federation who spoke in Wollaston last week would heartily concur, when that paper says:

"One beauty about planting peas and beans and things in a small garden is that one 'plants' at the same time sundry indispositions of mind and body."

It is surely a problem which the Manchester Union suggests: "How is American neutrality to be maintained when the time comes for baseball fans to root for Hans Wagner and Napoleon Lajoie?"

Says the Schenectady Union Star: "Some of the good people who object to a big navy and an efficient army act as though they expect the defense of the nation to be entrusted to the Boy Scouts." Do they expect the Camp Fire Girls to act as the nurses?

When a baseball team puts up a game like that between Q. H. S. and Revere High Tuesday it is entitled to loyal support by High School students and its citizens generally.

150,000 ALLIED TROOPS LAND

Are Advancing Along Both Sides of the Dardanelles

COVERED BY GUNS OF FLEET

London Hears They Are Making Good Their Footing and Have Taker Many Prisoners—Turks Claim Invaders Were Repulsed at One Point—Blame For Failure of Beginning of Straits Campaign Placed by London Newspaper Upon Churchill—Battle Still Raging Furiously at Ypres, Where Allies Claim Gains

London, April 28.—With the hardest kind of fighting in a country riddled with natural and artificial entanglements, the British and French land forces are pushing their way up both sides of the Dardanelles, their advance being covered by the guns of the great fleet.

Masses of troops, according to official reports, have been made at five points, these being on the west coast of Gallipoli, at the mouth of Sighinders, on the coast in the district of Aviburn, to the west of Kabatepeh, on the coast at Tekeburun, and in the neighborhood of Kumkaleh on the Asiatic side.

The number of allied troops landed thus far is estimated in London as in the neighborhood of 150,000, although no official figures have yet been given out. Among them are many of the Australian contingent which has been undergoing hard training in Egypt, and detachments from the French Algerian corps.

Anxious London got its first cheering news of the operations in the following statement issued jointly by the war office and the admiralty:

The Official Statement

"After days of hard fighting in a difficult country, the troops landed on Gallipoli peninsula are thoroughly making good their footing with the effective help of the navy. The French have taken 500 prisoners."

The statement appends the following, which, it says, is officially published at Cairo:

"The allied forces under General Sir Ian Hamilton have effected a landing on both sides of the Dardanelles under excellent conditions. Many prisoners have been taken and our forces are continuing their advances."

The operations of the French on the Asiatic side of the straits are thus told in a Paris bulletin:

"During the disembarkation Sunday of the allied forces at the Dardanelles, French troops, comprising infantry and artillery, had been designated particulary for operations at Kumkaleh, on the Asiatic side. This mission was completely and successfully fulfilled.

"Aided by the cannon of the French fleet and under the fire of the enemy, our troops succeeded in occupyng the village and have continued its occupation, despite seven counter-attacks at night, supported by heavy artillery.

"We took 500 prisoners and the losses to the enemy appear to have been considerable. The general disembarkation of the allied forces continues under good conditions."

Claim of Turks

Some idea of the stiff opposition which the Turks are offering to the advance of the allies is given in an official statement issued from Constantinople which, allowing even for the usual Ottoman exaggeration, shows that some obstinate fighting is in progress.

The Turks claim that at one of the four points on the western Gallipoli coast at which the allied troops landed they were partially repulsed at Tekeburn, where they were forced back at the point of the bayonet and obliged to return to their ships. On the Asiatic side, at Kumkaleh, it is also claimed the allied forces had to retire under heavy fire from the Turkish forts.

As Kumkaleh is at the very entrance of the straits, which has been under the complete control of the allied forces since the first bombardment in Febrduary, this statement is hardly credible.

The Constantinople statement adds that some Moslem soldiers who landed with the French deserted to the Turks.

Churchill Criticised

"So obvious was it that any attempt to force the Dardanelles without the co-operation of the land forces stood absolutely no chance of succeeding, that many have wondered what the motive could have been.

If the London Morning Post is right, the early operation was one of Winston Churchill's dig-the-rats-out propositions. That he could override the sober judgment of the British cabinet and start such a costly movement so surely doomed to failure is amazing. Had the first attack been accompanied by a land army the Gallipoli peninsula would now have been held by the allies and the fleet might very possibly be before Constantinople.

The time elapsing between the first assault and serious damage to the defenses up to the Narrows has allowed the Turks to make every preparation to make the way of both army and fleet difficult.

For some time the Turks have been bringing up artillery to the shores of the straits, which are so narrow that field guns can effectually command them. They also have been replenishing their stores of floating mines and torpedoes; they have been placing the northern shore of the Gallipoli peninsula in a state of defense, and are impressing the Greek inhabitants into the Turkish army.

The attack by the allied squadrons began on Feb. 19 last. A month later the great attack was delivered upon the Narrows, when three battleships were lost. Since then little has been done by the allied squadrons. It is thus nearly two months since the operations began, during which time the distance gained has been about twelve miles out of forty miles. During the whole seven weeks the Turks have been able to bring up reinforcements and artillery for the renewal and strengthening of the shores of the straits.

The Ypres Conflict

The great battle at Ypres, which divides interest with the revival of activity at the Dardanelles, is still raging furiously, but not even the Berlin official report can see any hope for the Germans in the situaton.

Belgians and French have driven the Germans out of Lizerne and Het Sas, two of the towns they took in the "poison bomb" raid of last Friday. Further east, in the vicinity of St. Julien, where the Canadians covered themselves with glory, the British have resumed the offensive and although the Germans continue to hold the town they are hard pressed.

That the defeated German line has had to flatten itself out considerably is shown by the fact that the extreme right has reached as far north as below Dixmude, where the Belgians have hurled back three successive attacks.

A curious feature of the German official report is the claim that they are bombarding Poperinghe, an important military post and railroad centre which is about eight miles west of Ypres. How the German guns can reach this far it is, as yet, impossible to determine.

PRINCE RUPPRECHT.

Bavarian Heir Directs Onslaughts on British Lines on Ypres Front.

Photo by American Press Association.

NOT BORN IN AMERICA

Further Evidence That Swoboda, Alleged Spy, Is a German Citizen

French authorities have been notified by the San Francisco police that they have been unable to secure any evidence that Raymond Swoboda was born there, the Paris Matin states.

The effort to secure basis for the prosecution of Swoboda as a German spy has extended even to the trenches in northern France. According to The Matin, officers sent to the front took a deposition from a French merchant stating that he employed Swoboda in Shanghai as a clerk, that Swoboda was arrested there and that he was tried and sentenced by the German consular court, being a German citizen.

ENVOYS CALLED HOME

Italy Summons Them to Conference With Foreign Minister at Rome

Italy has ordered home her ambassadors from Berlin, Vienna, Paris and London for a conference at Rome with Foreign Minister Sonnino, an act which gives rise to speculations as to whether it means that she is about to climb down from the fence from which she has been "looking through the window" and pay the price for the benefits she hopes to reap.

Up to yesterday the conversations were still proceeding between the Germanic allies and Italy and it was reported that an agreement had been reached between Rome and the triple entente.

Germany Hard Pressed For Copper

Paris, April 28.—German agents are reported to be collecting all the copper coins available throughout the Balkan states and forwarding them to Germany.

SEEK TO PUT OFF EVIL DAY

Rep. Sandberg and Ericson Speak on Contagious Hospital

Representatives Sandberg and Ericson appeared before the rules committee of the legislature Monday and spoke in favor of the admittance of a petition to amend the law relative to the erection of contagious hospitals by cities and towns of over 10,000 population. The present law makes it compulsory upon such cities or towns to erect a hospital this year or be penalized. The petition seeks to have the time limit put off for two years, which would relieve such cities as Quincy from making an appropriation for a building this year.

Representative Sandberg in conversation with a representative of the Ledger said: "No one wants a tuberculosis hospital located near their home and they can not be blamed. I believe that the proper way is for Quincy, Milton, Weymouth, Braintree and possibly some other neighboring towns to combine and build a large hospital in some one of these towns where there would be no objection to its location the first cost of the building to be bourne jointly, and the cost of maintenance afterward to be paid for proportionately according to the number of patients sent to the hospital."

Quincy expects to have to expend at least $35,000 this year to erect a hospital under the present law, but if the operation of the law is set ahead for two years, some such arrangement as suggested by Representative Sandberg, might be entered into.

Y. P. R. U. HOLD DANCING PARTY

The Young People's Religious Union of the First Parish church held a special dancing party in Alpha hall Tuesday evening in aid of the Boston Federation. The affair was a big social success and those present were among the best known of the younger set of the city.

The matrons were Mrs. Henry M. Faxon and Mrs. George Pfaffmann. The ushers were Frederick M. Atwood, Robert Davis, William C. Edwards, Allen P. Miller, E. Horton Page, William E. Emerson, Morton Smith, George H. Newcomb, Delcevare A. King, Karl Pfaffmann.

ELECT JOHN AND JERRY

The Quincy Police Relief association at its annual election at headquarters Tuesday evening, unanimously elected John P. Duffy president. Jeremiah Dinneen was made vice president, Jeremiah Hinchon treasurer, Henry F. Corbet, secretary and James Whelan, a member of the board of trustees for three years. The association was organized in 1907 for the benefit of the members.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT.

H. Specter has secured a warrant charging Joseph DiSenso, a contractor, with assault. The complainant alleged that he was struck over the head with a hammer. DiSenso, learning the warrant had been issued, appeared in court this morning.

Specter, not knowing DiSenso intended to do so was not present. There will be a hearing on the complaint Saturday.

ARRESTED IN BOSTON.

Albert McAdams was arrested in Boston and Tuesday was arraigned before Judge Avery on a non-support charge. He pleaded not guilty and the case was continued to May 1, with bonds set at $200. The police say they have asked for a warrant on another charge.

CARPENTER AND BUILDER
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1881 in Quincy
All Work Given Prompt Attention
W. R. LOFGREN
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 398-3

OBJECT TO FENCE AROUND QUARRY

It is understood that the people living in the vicinity of the old slate quarry hole on Apthorp street are so well pleased with the job which the Board of Health has done in cleaning up the premises about the quarry that they now object to the plan of the Board in building a fence about the quarry to safe-guard it. The question of making this place safe has been before the city council a number of years, coming before that body last year in the form of an order appropriating $10,000 to fill the quarry holes. The order however failed to pass.

This spring the matter was taken up with the Board of Health, whose teams visited the premises and dumped into the quarry hole all of the ashes and rubbish that had accumulated in the vicinity. The Board of Health later advertised for bids for building a fence about the quarry hole but this has met with objection. The main objection is that the residents in that vicinity are afraid that the Board of Health contemplate erecting an unsightly wooden fence about the premises although they would not object if a ornamental iron fence was built, but on account of the cost this will probably not be done. Chairman Buchan of the Board of Health states that a wooden fence could be built about the quarry hole which would not be an eye-sore and to which the residents could find no objection.

This spot has long been considered one of the most dangerous places in the city and there have been numerous drownings there. The depth of the quarry is unknown.

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

Kenneth D. Johnson, Frank Reiser and Hugh Robertson attended the fourteenth annual Brown University sub-Freshman banquet held Saturday evening at Providence, R. I. They also attended the Yale-Brown game preceding.

Miss Barbara Knox of Brackett street entertained a party of friends Monday afternoon at her home.

The High School baseball team will play the Braintree High team Thursday afternoon at Cunningham Park.

Miss Marguerite Brennan, instructor in tpyewriting and shorthand at the High school, is confined to her home by illness.

Miss Helen Melley, a popular member of the senior class at High School, is sick at her home on High street.

Class day at the High school will be held differently this year. Instead of allowing everyone in the town to come, each member of the Senior class is to be furnished with four tickets for immediate relatives and friends. One of these four people will be entitled to remain to the supper and dancing after the class day exercises.

Miss Harriett Whittier, instructor in music of the public schools, is receiving many congratulations for the excellent concert given last Friday evening in the town hall by High school chorus and glee club.

POPULARITY PARTY.

The first Popularity party held in Quincy for some years, to determine the most popular young woman of the city, will be held in Quincy Adams hall on the evening of May 14 under the direction of Walter J. Curry and John McLean, and will be an invitation affair. A valuable trophy will be awarded to the girl who receives the most votes from those who attend. The event has already created unusual interest among the young people of the city.

The members of St. Margaret's Guild were the guests Tuesday evening of Mrs. William Grainger at the Christ church rectory. The evening was passed in a social manner with games and music. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

W. H. HASLETT
31 Bridge Street, Quincy
Tel. Quincy 1092 W

Petrosilo, sanitary and fireproof flooring, guaranteed to wear longer than hardwood floor. No joints One continuous piece.

Plastering and cementing concrete houses, outside stucco work, cement walks, steps and cellar floors. Give us a call.

Feb. 25 W. S. tf

GOAL
ANNOUNCEMENT

April 1, 1915.

Full coal bins are a source of real satisfaction. We are filling our bins as rapidly as possible with FRESH MINED COAL. By placing your order now YOU can take advantage of the LOW PRICES announced in the schedule below. Coal will positively ADVANCE IN PRICE later. There will be no Further Reduction.

We should be glad to call and talk Coal with you if you will notify us.

PRICES FOR CASH

Franklin Egg and Stove	$8.50 per ton
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75 per ton
Shamokin Stove	7.50 per ton
White Ash Broken	6.50 per ton
White Ash Egg	7.25 per ton
White Ash Stove	7.25 per ton
White Ash Nut	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Broken	6.75 per ton
Lehigh Egg	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Stove	7.50 per ton
Pea	5.50 per ton

25 cents per ton extra where coal is carried in. Orders taken for these Prices are for delivery by July 1, 1915.

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc

SCHEDULE OF ASH TEAMS

The Board of Health gives notice today that from May 3 to May 29, the ash teams of the city will remove all rubbish placed on the sidewalks during the regular ash collection days. The collection of ashes will be discontinued during the summer months but the teams will collect ashes on regular days one week in each month as follows: June 21 to June 26; July 23 to July 28; August 23 to August 28.

Collection of rubbish will be made at Houghs Neck on May 19, June 16, July 21, Aug 18 and Sept. 21. At Squantum the clean-up days are May 18, June 15, July 20, Aug. 17 and Sept. 2.

THE DOOR TO DOOR CALLER.

This is the season when the itinerant caller comes to our door. Perhaps he is legitimately trying to sell his wares, perhaps he is honestly looking for work, perhaps the call is an excuse to beg, either for himself or for some cause which he presents. Who really knows?

The easiest way, is to give what he asks and so salve our conscience. We do not always realize that we are only temporarily mitigating a situation which deserves careful work, going down to fundamentals.

If he is honest we are only leaving it necessary and easier for him to ask again. If he is a fraud we are proving to him that there is one more gullible victim.

We would like to look into the matter, but we have not the time, or we do not know how.

Why not, each time, take the name and address and refer it to the Associated Charities of Quincy which is equipped with a trained worker to serve this very need, and report to you the outcome?

TWO MARRIAGES.

John Lawrence Foye of 196 Washington street and Annie Gertrude Collagan of 39 Gilmore street were married by Fr. M. J. Owens Saturday, according to a return filed with City Clerk Crane today. The groom is a pedler of the city and the bride is a resident of the Merrymount section.

Ernest Battista and Gaetano Cacicia were married Sunday in Boston by Rev. Hario Marcucci. Both live at 85 Taber street and their friends learned of the ceremony when the return was received at City Hall today.

PRATT'S BREAD never varies. It is made and baked by a fixed rule. Ask your grocer.

COMPLETE PLANS.

The Hibernians of the city have completed plans for the reception to be tendered National President James McLaughlin at the Hibernian building Franklin street, on Sunday afternoon May 2.

Accompanying the senior officer will be National Vice President Patrick Cannon of Clinton and other national officers who will be able to attend.

President McLaughlin comes to Quincy on the invitation of the officers of the Norfolk County association of Hibernians. An entertainment will be given in addition to speeches by the guests.

All of the members of the local divisions and auxiliaries have been invited to attend.

PLAN FOR OUTING.

At the regular conclave of Quincy commandery, Knights Templars, a committee was appointed to make arrangements for the St. John's day outing on June 24. The plan as outlined at the conclave contemplate a trip to a Motor Inn near Middleboro, which is located on the shore of a lake. Dinner will be served at the inn after which there will be dancing and probably sports. The committee in charge of the outing are Commander John Morgan, Generalissimo Otis B. Oakman and Captain-General Edward H. Bushnell.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Be Good To Yourself

by keeping in good physical trim and you will be the best friend to yourself and a pleasure to others. Most sicknesses begin in the ordinary and minor ailments of the digestive organs, and for these ailments

Beecham's Pills

have become the most popular remedy, because they are so safe, so certain, and prompt in their beneficial action. They tone the stomach, stimulate the liver, regulate the bowels. By cleansing the system and purifying the blood they prove that they

Are the Best Of Good Friends

Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World. Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

What Local Clubs are Doing

News of Women's Clubs is a feature of the Daily Ledger every Wednesday. Secretaries of organizations should send notices of club activities, to reach the Club Editor not later than Tuesday night to insure insertion the next day.

The Hospital Aid Association meets tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. George H. Wilson of Revere road, who hopes all members and friends will be present.

* * *

Junior Friday club met Monday afternoon with Mrs. Laurance H. Sturtevant of Adams street and continued the study of Brazil under the leadership of Mrs. Jesse I. Litchfield. The next meeting on May 10 will be with Mrs. Litchfield with Mrs. James H. Slade as the committee.

* * *

Mrs. Oxford of 14 River street is the hostess this afternoon for the regular business meeting of the Riverside club.

* * *

Friday club concludes its season this week holding the annual business meeting with Mrs. Frank A. Page of Grand View avenue, Wollaston.

* * *

Mrs. Francis F. Brewer and Mrs. Charles Wilson are to be the hostesses Monday afternoon at the birthplace of President John Adams for the May meeting of Adams Chapter Daughters of the Revolution.

* * *

The May meeting of the Quincy Day Nursery Association will be held Tuesday afternoon at the women's clubhouse, Goffe street.

* * *

Members of the Katharyn Crane Memorial club are looking forward to their next meeting to be held on Tuesday with Mrs. Henry M. Faxon, one of the directors of the club.

* * *

Bethany Women's Union holds its annual meeting and luncheon next Wednesday in Bethany chapel. Mrs. Amy Ford Evesall will be the speaker and Mrs. Edith Cary Page will sing.

* * *

Wollaston Auxiliary Woman's Board of Missions closes its season May 5 with the annual meeting, a speaker and a tea.

* * *

Atlantic Shakespeare society is about closing its season as the annual meeting is scheduled for Thursday afternoon May 6. It has been an unusually profitable and pleasant season, three plays having been taken up, Pericles, King Henry the Fourth and Midsummer Night's Dream.

* * *

Miss Mary E. Woolley, Wheaton '84 and president of Mt. Holyoke college is to be the guest of honor and principal speaker at the annual May breakfast of the New England Wheaton club on Saturday, May 8, at Hotel Vendome, Boston.

* * *

Flower Ten of Kings Daughters is to present the "Return of Deborah" under the direction of Erastus Osgood in Bethany chapel next Wednesday evening.

* * *

STATE FEDERATION.

April 30, at 3 P. M.—Fourth in a series of "Talks to Homemakers" at Perkins hall, 264 Boylston street, Boston. Preceding the conference Mrs. Irving O. Palmer will give a brief talk her subject being "A Salad Made From Biennial Bits."

May 6, Thursday, 10.15 A. M.—Conservation class, 3 Joy street, Boston. Speaker, Arthur Shurtieff, landscape artist, of Boston. His talk will be illustrated by lantern slides.

WOLLASTON WOMAN'S CLUB.

Many members of the Wollaston Woman's club have secured tickets for the club luncheon at Hotel Vendome, Boston, on May day. Members have the privilege of taking a guest also members of the waiting list may attend. It promises to be a happy affair.

The annual meeting of the club is to be held on Tuesday, which brings the club season to a close although many activities will be continued by officers and committees through the summer.

Guests are not permitted to attend the annual meeting.

The last and annual meeting of the club will be held on Tuesday at 2.30 P. M. at the Unitarian parish house. The polls will be open from 2 to 3. Following the election of officers the annual reports will be read by the chairman of the various committees.

The club luncheon will be given at Hotel Vendome, Boston, Saturday at 1 P. M. Tickets may be obtained of the program committee. A large number have already made reservations and a very enjoyable afternoon is anticipated. The after-dinner speakers include Mrs. J. Malcolm Forbes of Milton and Mrs. George F. Young of the Boston City Federation.

The children's party last Saturday was a great success and much credit is due Mrs. Safford and her committee for the delightful afternoon.

* * *

QUINCY WOMEN'S CLUB.

There was a good attendance Tuesday afternoon at the meeting of the Quincy Women's club at the clubhouse. The president Mrs. Chandler W. Smith called the meeting to order and after the reading of the clerk's report made a few announcements. She called attention to an exhibition of sewing in the reception room by High school girls in charge of Miss Whitaker, also asked for contribution of cut out puzzles for the children's room at the Public library, thinking that many members may have puzzles which they have no further use for, which would be appreciated by the children.

Attention was called to the payment of the annual dues none to retain membership in the club, as members whose dues are not paid by May 1 are dropped. In paying by mail to the treasurer Mrs. Herbert W. Pinkham an addressed stamped envelope should be enclosed for return of membership ticket.

A few copies of the anniversary poem written by Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney remain in the hands of Mrs. E. S. Tenney from whom members may get one if they so desire.

Mrs. Mellen, chairman of the Education committee announced that over $50 had been cleared for the School Nurse fund by Miss Randall's lecture in Coddington school hall. She said her committee had been disappointed in the presentation of "Fi-Fi," for Music hall which was engaged a year ago had been rented for moving pictures. "Fi-Fi" would however be given in the early fall and in the meantime the usual May festival for children would be given Monday afternoon, May 3. There would be an entertainment, grabs, candy, ice cream etc. Club members were asked to contribute candy.

Miss Whitaker in charge of the sewing exhibition, told of the high school girls dressing dolls last Christmas to send to children in Belgium, which were the best sent in by any high school contributing, the committee receiving them deeming them so good that they were photographed being the only ones thus honored. She asked a careful inspection of the exhibition and if any club members desired sewing of any kind during the summer to consult her as to prices, work, etc. It would be a great encouragement to the girls as they did good work.

Mrs. Wilson Marsh president of the Quincy Federation of Women's clubs spoke of a recent meeting which was well attended and interesting. The Y. M. C. A. Auxiliary had joined the Federation. The annual meeting would be held Wednesday May 19 and club members were invited to attend.

Mrs. George E. Pfaffmann gave a brief account of expenditures in preparing the Adams academy building for use as recreation rooms for the Young Women's club. She also told of the large attendance of girls at the meetings and increase of interest. She hoped there would eventually be funds enough to have recreation rooms open every evening for the various classes.

The president invited club members to be her guests at the clubhouse Friday afternoon May 7 at an opera talk to be given by Harold W. Hubbard assisted by William Weston at the piano. La Boheme would be the opera presented.

The musical program which preceded the speaker of the afternoon consisted of piano solos by Miss Mary Dyer of Braintree, her selections and rendering giving much pleasure and eliciting appreciative encores.

Mrs. Zenas S. Arnold chairman of the Literature committee introduced Miss Caroline Tichnor of Jamaica Plain who took as her subject "Hawthorne and his Publisher" instead of the one announced in the year book. Hawthorne's publisher was William Tichnor, grandfather of the speaker; Miss Tichnor read from her book telling of the early acquaintance of Hawthorne and Tichnor, with anecdotes of the old corner book-store where well known literary people liked to gather. She read many personal letters received by her grandfather from Hawthorne when stationed in Liverpool, England, having been appointed to the consulate by President Pierce, a college mate and intimate friend. These letters were humorous and their personal flavor gave them an interest that could obtain in no other way. Hawthorne's life was closely interwoven with that of his publisher for Mr. Tichnor was more than a publisher, he was a friend and advisor; a constant companion.

Miss Tichnor presented her story entertainingly and was heartily encored at the conclusion leaving with her listeners a refreshed memory of Hawthorne, and his writings.

Mrs. E. Granville Pratt was hostess for the Hospitality committee. Mrs. Walter S. Pinkham and Mrs. Arthur D. Ropes served frappe and cake assisted by Mrs. Clarence Burgin, Mrs. Frederick H. Breslyn, Mrs. Frank J. Emery, Mrs. Frank F. Brewer. Mrs. Charles Wilson and Mrs. George Ryder.

* * *

DELIGHTFUL AFTERNOON.

The announcement that Mrs. Theophilus King was to open her house for a benefit entertainment for Unity Circle of King's Daughters and that it was to be a Margaret Deland afternoon with readings and music attracted a large gathering Saturday afternoon to the King home on Adams street. For those who could not walk so far, autos were in waiting in Quincy square and found very convenient.

Mrs. Deland's favorite flower, the bright yellow daffodil, was used profusely about the rooms.

Mrs. Deland read from her own writings, The Encore from Old Chester Tales, being especially suited to the occasion in its humorous narrative. Appreciation and enjoyment was expressed by frequent applause.

There was also a delightful musical program by the Mary Dyer orchestra composed of three young ladies from Braintree, and singing by the Cecilia quartet.

The announcement of the receipt of a check for $100 from a shut-in friend of Mrs. King's for Pond Home, to be presented through Unity Circle was received with much enthusiasm.

The afternoon was one of rare pleasure.

The PROBLEM of GOOD MILK

All persons do not understand what is meant by good, safe milk. Some believe that the milk with a deep cream line is desirable, whereas, the Doctor knows that Holstein Milk, although containing little cream is often more desirable for babies, partly for this reason, or perhaps because of the method of production.

The real criterion of a good milk is its wholesomeness. This depends upon the conditions at the dairy, and the special care given it until it reaches the consumer. Scrupulously clean and healthy cows, clean and healthy dairymen, rapid cooling, and protecting the milk, constant dairy and laboratory inspection are required. Furthermore safety is assured when the dealer pasteurizes his supply.

"FAIR FARM MILK COMPANY OF DORCHESTER offer pure Family Milk, and exceptional Nursery Milk at prices often charged for ordinary milk Speak to the salesman, or call Dor. 2100. 6-1 mo.

DR. C. F. S. PEARCE
DENTIST
327 Newport Avenue, Wollaston
Mondays -- Wednesdays -- Fridays
8 to 12 -- 1 to 5
EVENINGS
Boston Office 194 Boylston Street
June 24-1y-w. s.

CLARA MORRISON
Pianist and Teacher
Leschetizky Method
CATHERINE MORRISON
Mandolin and Guitar
50 Hamilton Street, Wollaston
Tel. Quincy 1218-W. Sept 30-w.s.-1y

WANTS POLITICAL SUPPORT

Aid of All the Parties Sought by National Security League

New York, April 28.—Support of the members of the national committee of the various political parties in its campaign for greater preparedness for national defense will be asked by the National Security league.

"This plan," says a statement of the league, "is in direct accord with the program of the league to institute a national campaign on absolutely non-partisan lines upon the issue of adequate preparedness."

SPOTS ON THE SUN

Declared by College Observers to Cover Area of 300,000 Square Miles

St. Louis, April 28.—Twenty-five sun spots covering a solar area estimated at 300,000 square miles are reported by observers at Christian Brothers' college here. The largest spot, it is said, is 20,000 miles in diameter.

Wireless stations here are said to have observed atmospheric phenomena, due, it is believed, to the sun spots.

CLIMBING ROSES

Let Them Serve as Screen For Your Piazza.

USE IT AS BREAKFAST PLACE.

Open Air Breakfasts May Solve Problems of Day and Much Unutilized Veranda Space Turned to Good Account Very Easily.

Many psychologists hold that the success or failure of a day depends upon the way in which it is begun. The phrase "Be cheerful until 10 o'clock and the rest of the day will take care of itself" has become so well known that it is now generally accepted, and much of the success of the day's early hours depends upon the breakfast which marks the beginning of its activities.

In many homes where sufficient space renders it possible breakfast is served in a place wholly apart from the family dining room.

Breakfast in many American households is becoming more and more a "movable feast," for the habits and customs of many of the members of a large family render impracticable the old fashioned family breakfast, where the entire household assembled about the table. In some homes there is no longer even a formal breakfast hour, for the smooth running of the domestic machinery is greatly facilitated by serving upon individual trays the breakfasts of the various members of the family. Such an arrangement allows the work of the maids to continue without interruption.

If the family dining room be large enough to be appropriate for the serving of large dinners it is likely to be too formal and a bit lonely for breakfast for one or two persons.

If the morning repast be served in a small, somewhat intimate and exceedingly cheerful little room it will often cause a certain brightness of outlook and a cheery frame of mind, which will certainly have its effect upon the entire day.

Even in very large homes the breakfast room is likely to be planned or arranged with carefully studied simplicity to make it as different as possible from the dining room. It must, of course, be convenient to the pantry and not too far from the kitchen, but wherever possible it should receive the full radiance of the morning sun, and probably with this in mind many a home maker has arranged a breakfast room which is merely an inclosed loggia, whose walls are chiefly of glass and where blooming plants may flourish in the warmth and sunshine. A climbing rose vine such as is shown in the illustration would make a charming screen for such a morning room made by screening in a piazza.

SCREEN FOR PORCH.

The extreme simplicity appropriate for such surroundings frequently suggests the use of gray or cream as a color for the furniture and the woodwork and the use upon the walls of very simple and tasteful wall paper or fabric. The quietest of rugs should appear upon the floor and the same severe simplicity extend even to the table service. Linen, silver, glass and china of the simplest kinds are used; hardly anything more ornate than the blue and white Canton ware is popular.

The domestic and intimate atmosphere of a bright little breakfast room sometimes suggests its use for luncheon or dinner when but a few members of a household are to be present, but its chief usefulness is in the morning, when its freshness and unaffected brightness are most welcome.

To Wash Feather Pillows.

Choose a bright, windy day. Fill the washtub with hot suds and plunge the pillows (with feathers) in them. Put them through several waters, shaking them about briskly, then hang on the line in the open air. When perfectly dry shake well. They will be light and fresh and sweet. After they have been washed in this way they ought to be hung out in the warm, fresh air for a week, but they must never be put directly in the hot sun, as the heat draws the oil out of the feathers and gives them an unpleasant odor.

EVENING GOWN.

This Creation Shows Draped Tunic and Surplice Waist.

SMART FROCK.

That the tunic has not been entirely replaced by the wide skirt is shown quite plainly in many beautiful creations this season. The gown pictured here is of apricot colored pussy willow taffeta, wonderfully draped over an accordion plaited skirt of chiffon to tone. The bodice is simplicity itself, it being a draped affair which ends at the right side under a corsage bouquet of morning glories and foliage.

COTTONS ARE POPULAR.

And Can Be Found In Prices to Suit All Incomes.

Never have there been prettier small patterns in cotton than are found this year, nor are they expensive, since they are found in every material from 25 cent dimities to $2 and $3 embroidered chiffons.

Canton crapes in tiny flower designs, voiles of various prices and even our old favorite, dotted swiss and polka-dotted mousselines, may all be used for dainty little frocks, of which every one needs two or three, whether one remains at home or goes away for the hot season. The sensible woman who must consider the laundry selects one that will not soil easily, a well covered design or else plain white. She relies on what will always give her a fresh looking frock, not too elaborate, one that does not need to be laundered more than once.

Some women always send their wash dresses to a cleaner for the first laundering in order to set the colors and keep the shape of the skirt, but any of the materials should stand the home tubbing if the dress is first dipped in salted water and not hung in the sun to dry or sprinkled and folded up until ready to iron.

These sheer cottons and light silks stand much more fullness and flouncing than is possible in heavier fabrics, and milady can revel in billowy ruffles and gathers and puffings to her heart's content when hot days come.

Military Boot.

The severe shoe is the exception except for outing wear, and the military finish has the feminine cast that reminds one of the "fille du regiment" or some other light opera heroine, with its dainty patent leather finishing and high heel and tassel which are found even on the ties of the tennis shoe.

STYLE SPARKS.

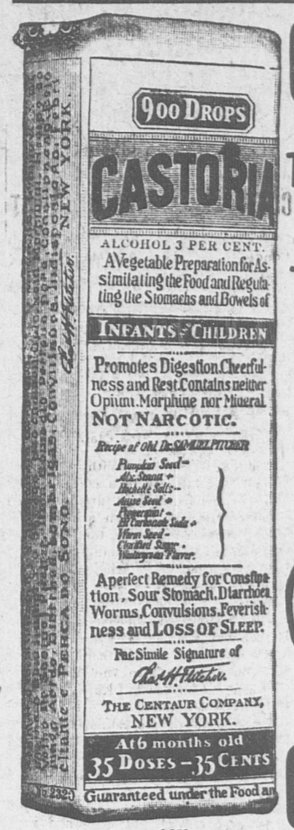

Three piece costumes were displayed at many of the spring openings. These included usually coat suits of serge and taffetas, gabardines and taffetas and voile and taffetas combined in self colors only.

The frock in one piece was the usual arrangement, with a smartly cut dressy coat to match for wear with the gown.

Sports suits are being made of tweeds, serges and corduroys.

Favored styles are the gored circular skirts of fairly heavy weight materials with a coat designed along English shooting coat lines. This offers an inverted plait at the back and one each side of the front portions. These plaits extend to the waist line only, where the coat finishes with a smoothly fitted circular cut peplum.

Patch pockets of large dimensions are fashion features which distinguish the styles of many of the latest suits. As many as four appear on a coat, with skirts favored in like generosity by the addition of two more.

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Quincy E. E. GRAY CO. Wollaston
Two Stores
Tel. 327 M Quincy Reliable Groceries Tel. 1586 M Quincy

Pure Leaf Lard	2 lbs. for 25c
Quincy Fresh Eggs	doz. 30c
Sunkist Navel Oranges	doz. 25c
Large Heavy Grape Fruit	each 5c

Small Biscuits for May Baskets.

TREE PESTS.

There are three insect pests that seriously threaten shade trees and fruit trees, the elm beetle, the leopard moth and the tent caterpillar. The natural enemies of these pests have nearly been exterminated. In Europe very little trouble is experienced from these pests because there are from thirty to one hundred times as many birds to the acre.

The cherry bird is the particular enemy of the elm beetle. Before the farmers exterminated the cherry birds, such a thing as an elm beetle was rarely seen in New England but now the state has to spend many thousand dollars every year and thousands of trees are ruined.

Woodpeckers are a rarity except in the most isolated districts because their nesting places, the dead trees, have all been removed. The woodpecker is the only effective destroyer of the leopard moth. The leopard moth deposits eggs on the branches of the trees, little grubs hatch from the eggs and bore through the bark. Once under the bark, they begin to circle around the branch and in time kill the branch and often the whole tree. This pest cannot be reached by a spray but the woodpecker finds them by tapping on the bark. The capacity of one woodpecker has not been accurately determined but their appetite for these grubs is marvelous.

The pewee and the cuckoo destroy the dreaded tent caterpillar and infests groves much more enectively than a spray but these birds have been driven out of the state and will soon be extinct unless something is done to protect them.

LAHAGE—HOBAKA.

Abe Lahage, 27 years, of 74 Germaine avenue, one of the best known Syrian residents of Quincy Point, observed Arbor day by taking as his bride, Fareday Hobaka, 28, a Syrian girl of Boston. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Nicolas Ganman of Boston and became publicly known when a return was filed at the office of City Clerk Crane.

TRY THIS LOAF

A new Bread wrapped in wax paper, clean from bakery to table.
Always good and wholesome.
SOLD BY BEST GROCERS
PRATT BREAD CO., 3190 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON

ORIENTAL RUGS

WE have the largest and most complete stock of Oriental Rugs in Boston and can always show you a greater assortment than you can find elsewhere.

JOHN H PRAY & SONS CO
646-650 Washington St., opp. Boylston St.

All Goods will be Delivered Free at Residences in Quincy
REPRESENTED IN QUINCY BY
Messrs. OTHO A. HAYWARD and WALTER J. WELLINGTON.

K. OF C. LEAGUE HOLD BANQUET

Present Trophies And Elect Officers

The bowling league of the Quincy council, Knights of Columbus, banquetted at the Quincy house, Boston, Tuesday evening and held its annual election of officers. There were 28 present.

Timothy F. Ford, was toastmaster and seated at the head table were the members of the winning team—Peter M. Sullivan, grand knight of the council and average high man of the combination, Ray Coyle, captain of the winning team, James J. Powers, W. Russell Sullivan and Alexander D. Thompson.

The speakers were winners of trophies and of the winning team, the captains of the past season and the captains of the preceeding year.

The entertainment features were introduced by Harry McGowan, Walter Donovan, James Clarke and John Mahan. A challenge issued to the world by the Lilliputian team created considerable excitement. The team includes James Powers, George Gavin, Ray Coyle, Harry McGrath and Byron Brown.

The prizes for the year were awarded. The champion team of Captain Coyle were given a cup, and fobs were presented to William Mahan, holder of the record total of 336 and W. Russell Sullivan, high average man with 97 11-12, a fraction ahead of Paul Avery.

Peter M. Sullivan was re-elected president of the league, Raymond Coyle, secretary and James J. Powers, treasurer. The resignation of Alex Thompson, secretary the past two years, was received with regret. Those present were: Andrew M. and Frank Driscoll, Benson Myatt, Daniel Mahan, Paul Avery, Michael T. Walsh Harry Lavelle, Byron Brown, Henry T. McGee, William J. Hogan, Harry McGrath, James F. Cantfill, Charles J. Haggerty, John J. Gallagher, John Mahan, Thomas J. Flaherty, John T. Caine, Martin Heaney, Thomas J. Fallon, Thomas H. Fallon, Jr., Patrick McDermott.

WANT TO GET SATURDAY GAMES

A movement has been started by members of the Alumni association of the Quincy High school to bring about a change in the basket ball football policy of the school so that most of the home games or as many as can be arranged, will be played Saturday afternoons.

The movement is the result of an agitation which started two years ago, before the association organized, after several semi-professional organizations played Saturday ball and drew a large gallery.

Some of the directors of athletics at High school who have been approached on the proposition have stated that it would be impossible to change the policy because of objections on the part of the school committee.

The school committee members have been interviewed on the subject and several of them declare that the matter is not one to be considered by the board or one that properly comes within their province.

The members, feeling that such an opinion is more or less of an endorsement of their proposition, may introduce a resolution at the next meeting to place the organization on record as favoring Saturday games.

Quincy High is this year affiliated with the South Shore Interscholastic league and its base ball schedule has been made up. Its game with Dedham High last Saturday, not a league game, was attended by nearly 500. It is understood that the league will extend to basket and football.

George Patriarch is confined to his home on Larry street by a severe attack of the grip.

FURNITURE and PIANO MOVING

PACKING and STORAGE

William D. King

106 Center St., Tel. Quincy 21003

2tf

NOT GREATEST GUN IN SERVICE

Daniels Mistaken Concerning Fourteen-Inch Weapon

EXCEEDED ON FOREIGN SHIPS

Ordnance Experts Say Many British and German Warships Possess Fifteen-Inch Guns Which Are Superior to Those Which Naval Secretary Said Were Best In the World

Washington, April 28.—Ordnance experts are particularly interested in that portion of Secretary Daniels' letter to President Garfield of Williams college in which the secretary of the navy says:

"The bureau of ordnance has developed a 14-inch gun that will shoot farther, shoot straighter and hit harder than any gun now in use or known to be designed by a foreign country. Based upon former and current prices in contracts for guns and gun forgings we have saved $280,425.33."

This statement, it is said, apparently ignores the 15-inch guns which have recently been mounted on the Queen Elizabeth and the five ships of the royal sovereign class, namely, the Royal Oak, the Resolution, the Ramilies, the Revenge and the Prototype, and the 15-inch Krupp guns for the Ersatz Worth, the three battleships of the T class and the Ersatz Kaiser Friedrich III., all of the German high seas fleet.

Among professional ordnance men it is well known that artillery development follows such well-established lines as to preclude little advantage nowadays as between calibre designs; that is to say, 12-inch guns, whether English, German or American, differ but little in exterior ballistic properties as to range, penetration and striking energy when compared on like calibre lengths, and by calibre length is meant the length of bore. These facts have been so well established that any increase in artillery power as to range, penetration and energy of impact can only be sought for in increased calibre of bore.

Ordnance men do not believe that Daniels really wishes to be understood as declaring that a 14-inch American naval gun of any calibre length designed for service is the equal of a 50-calibre 15-inch Krupp gun having a striking energy of 34,230 metric tons. The reports of the British ordnance men with reference to the 15-inch guns of the Queen Elizabeth declare that in this weapon the British navy possesses the most accurate naval gun ever installed on British warships.

Ordnance development is very much akin to engine horsepower and speed. The naval designer knows by recourse to the model tank just how much horsepower is required to serve for a certain model of required speed. There is no guesswork about such matters. The same is true as to ordnance designing and it is also true that any increase in calibre is attended with a tremendous increase in cost.

The British did not pass from 12-inch guns to 13.5-nch weapons and then to 15-inch guns except for imperative reasons, namely, to keep ahead, and in passing from 13.5-inch calibre to 15-inch guns the British passed the 14-inch guns of the United States by one calibre unit.

As if to emphasize the danger to the American designs in relying wholly on 14-inch guns it is understood that tentative plans have already been drawn up looking to the placing of 16-inch guns on future American battleships.

An advance from 14-inch to 16-inch guns would hardly, it is declared, be warranted but for the existence of some powerful incentive, which, in this instance, might properly be regarded as the British and German 15-inch naval gun.

The British 15-inch gun throws a projectile weighing about 1950 pounds. The United States 14-inch gun of .45 calibre length throws a projectile weighing 1490 pounds.

DEATH OF GYPSY QUEEN

Body of Tryphena McNeill Lying In State In Connecticut Camp

Waterbury, Conn., April 28.—Mrs. Tryphena McNeill, queen of the McNeill tribe of gypsies, numbering throughout the country 20,000, it is said, is dead at the gypsy camp at Simonsville, after a surgical operation.

The body will lie in state until the arrival of the members of the clan to pay her final honors.

Cancer War In Vermont

Rutland, Vt., April 28.—The officials of the Vermont Medical association announced that because of the high death rate from cancer in Vermont a state-wide educational campaign with speakers of national repute will be instituted.

Explosion Kills Seven Men

White Plains, N. Y., April 28.—The premature explosion of dynamite in a trench 100 feet below the surface of the earth at Valhalla killed seven workmen and injured twenty others.

ON THE DIAMOND

National League

At New York:	R	H	E
Boston	12	13	2
New York	5	9	4

Batteries—Rudolph and Gowdy; Perritt, Ritter, Schupp, Meyers and Smith.

At St. Louis:	R	H	E
St. Louis	3	6	0
Pittsburg	0	5	1

Batteries—Griner and Snyder; Mamaux, McQuillan, Kells, Gibson and Schang.

At Cincinnati:	R	H	E
Chicago	6	13	1
Cincinnati	0	4	2

Batteries—Zabel and Bresnahan; Ames, Dale and Wingo.

At Philadelphia:	R	H	E
Philadelphia	5	11	3
Brooklyn	2	12	1

Batteries—Chalmers and Killifer; Rucker, Appleton and Miller.

American League

At Boston:	R	H	E
New York	2	6	0
Boston	0	2	2

Batteries—Keating and Sweeney; Foster, Collins and Thomas.

At Washington:	R	H	E
Washington	2	3	0
Philadelphia	1	6	0

Batteries—Shaw, Gallis and Henry; Shawkey and McAvoy.

At Chicago:	R	H	E
Chicago	7	9	0
Cleveland	4	8	5

Batteries—Wolfgang, Benz, Russell and Schalk; Hagerman, Jones, Coumbe and O'Neill.

At Detroit:	R	H	E
Detroit	3	5	1
St. Louis	2	7	4

Batteries—Coveleske and McKee; Loudermilk, Leary and Agnew.

Federal League

At Chicago:	R	H	E
Kansas City	7	14	0
Chicago	6	5	2

Batteries—Blackburn, Adams, Cullop, Main, Brown and Easterly; Prendergast, Johnson, Fischer and Wilson.

At Brooklyn:	R	H	E
Baltimore	7	10	0
Brooklyn	6	14	4

Batteries — Smith, Suggs and Owens; Upham, Marion and Watson.

At Pittsburg:	R	H	E
St. Louis	5	9	0
Pittsburg	2	8	0

Batteries—Plank and Chapman; Camnitz, Barger and Berry.

At Newark:	R	H	E
Buffalo	14	15	1
Newark	8	13	3

Batteries—Bedient and Blair; Reulbach, Trautman and Rariden.

KILLS A STRANGER WHO ATTACKED HIM

Aged Man Successfully Uses a Knife on a Burglar

Danbury, Conn., April 28.—Lured to a hotel by two strangers, Joseph B. Hill, 78 years old and one of the wealthiest residents of Redding, killed an intruder in his room.

Hill was suspicious of the place and went to bed with an open knife under his pillow. He secured this when a burglar entered his room and during the battle that followed cut his antagonist's throat. The dead man was one of the two who had taken him to the hotel.

Hill had collected a large sum of money. He hid hs money when he retired, but was fearful of a trap and lay awake until one of the men entered the room. The fatal fight then started. The other man escaped.

WEAR LEAGUE UNIFORMS

Sing Sing Baseball Players Get Suits Worn by Professionals

New York, April 28.—Members of the newly organized baseball clubs in Sing Sing prison have fallen heir to a lot of the old uniforms of the New York American league club. Baseball is one of the means adopted by Warden Osborne of Sing Sing to improve the physical condition of the prisoners.

One of the prison players wrote to the owners of the Yankees asking for the old uniforms, with the result that enough were given to equip twenty-eight players with everything from caps to shoes.

Vermont Firms Get War Orders

Burlington, Vt., April 28.—The Horatio Hickok Lumber company has received an order from the Canadian government for $175,000 worth of ammunition boxes. The Vermont Farm Machinery company of Brattleboro also received a large war order for metal work.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

Tennis by electric light is the latest innovation in Washington outdoor sports.

The superdreadnought Arizona, which will be launched on June 19, will be christened with water instead of wine.

Despondent because of failing health health and domestic affairs, Alexander White of Boston, 40, committed suicide by hanging.

For the second time in the history of the New York department of health a week has passed without a death from typhoid in the city.

Theodore S. Garnett, a distinguished lawyer and former confederate officer, died at Norfolk.

IRELAND DURING TIME OF WAR

Dennis Falvey Receives Interesting Letter From Brother There

SAYS PRICES ARE HIGH

Dennis Falvey of Kent street recently received a letter from his brother, Patrick Falvey, who is a government school teacher in Annascaul, County Kerry, Ireland, in which the latter speaks of the high prices of the necessities of life. He declares that practically no one in Ireland wishes the Kaiser to win. He says that he fears that America will enter the war on the side of Germany, evidently being a victim of some German press agent work.

The letter in part follows:

"Well, this war is dreadful. Prices have gone up so much that it is nearly impossible to buy the bare necessities of life. The Germans have very few sympathizers in this country except the extremists, who do not amount to much. The Allies must win in the end. I see where the Irishmen in America are divided, some pro-German, the rest contra-German. Nobody in Ireland wants to get under the Kaiser.

"Two boys, ex pupils of mine, went down with the 'Monmouth' off the Chilean coast. One of them, O'Brien was an officer and a very respectable boy. A good many boys from Annascaul are in the navy. It looks as if the Americans are to get into this war on the side of Germany. I hope not. There are many Belgian refugees in Glenbagh and many more scattered over Ireland. These poor people are at present without home or country.

"I wish the war were over but I would like to see that Kaiser get a good beating before it is finally finished. I saw where the 'Dacia' the German-American ship, was arrested by a French cruiser and taken to France. I wonder what action the Americans are to take over that seizure. We have just heard that the allied fleets are before Constantinople. If so, Turkey is doomed, and justly so.

"Cattle, pigs, etc. are bringing good prices but the profit is more than conterbalanced by the increase in the necessities of life. In Annascaul the prices before the war were: Flour, per sack, 30 shillings; meal, per sack, 17 shillings. Present prices are: flour, per sack, 54 shillings; meal, per sack, 27 shillings, six pence. Coal was 25 shillings per ton, it is now 45 shillings per ton. Oils, candles, matches, tea, sugar, etc are now double what they were. Some poor people are badly hit. We are just over the worst winter that the oldest man living remembers. Every day was both wild and wet and plenty of snow."

OLINDY & SMITH WINNING COMBO

Olindy and Herb Smith beat Ducky Holmes of Boston and Louis Ross at the Wardwell alleys Tuesday evening in a ten string tandem match. The score was 1932 to 1874.

It was the first time Ross had the experience of rolling with a losing tandem team. He passed the century mark but once while his teammate did so three times. Smith had best single of the evening, 125 but Olindy had high total, 985. The score:

J. Olindy	77	96	97	120	96
	92	118	105	99	91	—985
H. Smith	75	85	97	125	88
	80	115	100	96	86	—947
L. Ross	85	98	94	90	98
	90	88	106	97	85	—932
D. Holmes	86	81	94	96	83
	100	92	113	92	106	—940

CAPTURE MATCH.

Dowd and DiNeil Beat White and Gillis.

Dowd and DiNeil beat White and Gillis in a special ten string match at the Wardwell alleys by a score of 1881 to 1755. Dowd got high single of 121 and DiNeil finished with high total of 952. The strings:

Dowd	108	84	82	89	91	—
	121	93	75	96	96	—929
DiNeil	95	91	95	101	103	—
	92	77	104	83	111	—952
White	82	95	89	87	101	—
	80	85	80	74	92	—865
Gillis	81	97	67	102	80	—
	88	111	90	95	79	—890

State House News

The street railway companies are being partially successful in their fight to suppress their new competitor, the jitney bus. The committee on mercantile affairs has reported a bill providing that each company shall file a bond for $2,000 for each bus operated.

The closing of the New Hampshire Legislature without passing any legislation for the reorganization of the Boston & Maine is expected to have a decided adverse effect on the likelihood of any legislation being passed in Massachusetts.

The alternative is a receivership this fall, when the note issue comes due. The question has developed so many divergent points of view on Beacon Hill that perhaps a receivership would be the simplest way out of the difficulty after all.

The Senate slapped the face of Attorney General Attwill the other day by requesting his opinion on the bill to suppress jitney busses and then passing the bill without waiting for the opinion.

The Legislature is considering two plans for the purchase of land for the new west wing of the State House. One calls for an expenditure of $3,000,000 for the purchase and removal of all the buildings clear to Joy street; the other calls for only $600,000, and will leave the wing obscured by a whole block of buildings. George Adams Woods, the well known real estate expert has now suggested a compromise plan which calls for the removal of this block at a cost of only $850,000.

Louis D. Brandeis has won a great personal victory in the passage of his bill for the extension of Savings Bank Life Insurance. Mr. Brandeis himself invented this system of life insurance, conducted by savings banks without the great expense of agents as in the case of ordinary companies

The ruling of Attorney General Attwill is causing trouble and inconvenience to the suffragists, but is likely to furnish them with some good campaign material. He ruled that under the present election law, all campaign committees, including even those of the suffragists, must consist of men. A bill has been introduced to remedy this.

Speaking of suffrage, where does Gov. Walsh stand? For several months he has kept a small suffrage card in a conspicuous place on his desk. A large number of his friends report that he has told them that he is heartily in favor of it. Yet his private secretary has told Mrs. White the leader of the Antis, that the Governor is not yet ready to make a public statement.

The bill of the Port Directors to validate their lilegal contracts for the construction of a dry dock, has struck a snag in the discovery by Judge Dewey, the people's "lobbyist" that the cost of building materials has declined to such an extent that if a totally new contract were made it would save the Commonwealth some $180,000.00.

KILEY IS IN CHECKER FINALS

Michael Kiley, the West Quincy checker player, has qualified for the finals for the special prize of the Boston Checker Club and will meet Samuel Levine in the last matches scheduled to take place within two weeks at the New American house.

Kiley has netted 18 points, the result of seven wins, one loss and 22 draws. In qualifying he came next to Herbert Morale, the great English checker champion, who got 21 points.

The finals will be a six game series. It is not expected that Kiley will win because his opponent, Levine, is one of the fastest in the world.

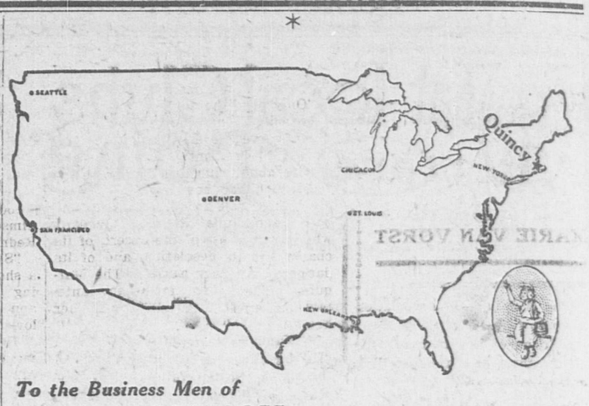

Ludger C. Dube, a druggist from Boston, has accepted a position in Clyde T. Cox's drug store.

ELECTRIC EXPRESS CO.

will continue the express service of the Bay State Street Railroad Co. Local expressing promptly attended to.

OFFICE AT 96 WASHINGTON ST. QUINCY.

Tel. 618

To the Business Men of

QUINCY

When a good salesman goes out after business, he first puts on a clean collar and gets his shoes shined. Then he looks like more business—and he's made a flying start toward getting it.

Likewise, a community can go after more business—and get it. The "clean collar and shiny shoes" of this town are the well-painted stores, the bright, cheery homes, the fresh, clean-looking buildings. The part paint plays in building up local pride cannot be put in figures—but its good effects are recorded on the local merchants' sales sheets. Buy good paint. We recommend and sell

Beyer-Bauman White Lead

(Dutch Boy Painter Trade Mark)

and pure linseed oil. We know of nothing else so satisfactory, so lasting and cheap in the long run. We sell all other paint necessaries as well. Get in touch with us today.

WILLIAM WESTLAND

REDUCTION IN PRICES IN COAL.

Your attention is called to the reduced spring prices on Anthracite Coal as follows

Lehigh Stove and Egg	$7.50
White Ash Stove and Egg	7.25
White Ash Nut	7.50
Shamokin Stove and Egg	7.50
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75
Pea	5.50
Franklin	8.50

We recommend the placing of your order at this time to insure the low prices.

Nothing but All Rail Clean Coal handled and delivered right by careful experienced drivers.

QUINCY COAL CO.

OFFICE and YARD

Penn St., Quincy Tel. 47-M

Ap. 7 1mo

GET-TOGETHER SOCIAL.

A largely attended get-together social was held at the Memorial church at Atlantic Monday evening. The social was in charge of the Sunday school class of Miss Alice Waterhouse who presented a one act farce entitled "The Bad Heap." Following the presentation of the farce which convulsed the audience with laughter light refreshments were served and the evening closed with games.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of George C. Torrey, late of Weymouth in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Mary Louisa Torrey of said Weymouth who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving surety on her official bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the twelfth day of May A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in Quincy, Mass., the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing postpaid or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-sixth day of April in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.

J. R. McCOOLE, Register.

3t April 28 May 3-10

EXECUTRIX NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executrix of the will of Abner Lincoln Baker, late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and has taken upon herself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased, are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

(Address)

ABBIE F. BAKER, Executrix.

April 7, 1915 3t April 14-21-28

Quincy Pianoforte School

Hackelton Director

Street Floor, Greenleaf Block

1419 Hancock Street, Quincy

Pano Instructions Par Excellence Voice

Private or Class Lessons

Tel. 539-M 31-tf

Arthur B. Foster

CARPENTER and BUILDER

14 Bay View St., Quincy Point

Telephone Connection 21-1m

EDWARD J. FEGAN

COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW

830 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M

914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.

10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.

Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK

QUINCY.

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN,

Treasurer.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN

78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point

PIANO TUNER

Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S

Tel. 1827-W Quincy

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING

WALL PAPER FOR SALE

KUSTAA RASANEN

121 Copeland St., West Quincy

Tel. Con. 19-tf

His Love Story

By MARIE VAN VORST

Illustrations by RAY WALTERS

(Copyright by the Bobbs-Merrill Company)

(Continued from last issue)

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Le Comte de Sabron, captain of French cavalry, takes to his quarters to raise by hand a motherless Irish terrier pup, and names it Pitchoune.

CHAPTER II—Sabron dines with the Marquise d' Esclignac and meets Miss Julia Redmond, American heiress, who sings for him an English ballad that lingers in his memory.

CHAPTER III—Sabron, trying to save Pitchoune's life, declines a second invitation to dinner because of a "very sick friend."

CHAPTER IV—No more invitations come from the Chateau d' Esclignac. Pitchoune, though lame from his accident, thrives and is devoted to Sabron.

CHAPTER V—Sabron and Pitchoune meet the Marquise and Miss Redmond and after the story of Pitchoune is told Sabron is forgiven and invited to dinner again.

CHAPTER VI—Sabron is ordered to Algiers, but is not allowed to take servants or dogs. He is invited to a musicale at the Chateau.

CHAPTER VII—At the musicale Miss Redmond, hearing that Sabron cannot take Pitchoune with him, offers to take care of the dog during his master's absence.

CHAPTER VIII—Pitchoune, homesick for his master, runs away from Miss Redmond. The Marquise plans to marry Julia to the Duc de Tremont.

CHAPTER IX—Unknown to Sabron, Pitchoune follows him to Algiers.

CHAPTER X—Dog and master meet and Sabron gets permission from the war minister to keep his dog with him.

CHAPTER XI—In his desert camp Sabron receives a letter from Julia telling him that Pitchoune has run away from her.

CHAPTER XII—Sabron writes Julia of Pitchoune. The Duc de Tremont finds the American heiress capricious. A newspaper report that Sabron is among the missing after an engagement with the natives causes Julia to confess to her aunt that she loves him.

CHAPTER XIII—Sabron, wounded in an engagement, falls into the dry bed of a river, and is watched over by Pitchoune. After a horrible night and day Pitchoune leaves him.

CHAPTER XIV—Julia goes in search of Sabron, reported missing.

CHAPTER XV—Tremont takes Julia and the Marquise to Algiers in his yacht, not knowing their errand.

"On your sleeve it is so beautiful. A string of pearls would not be more beautiful, although your pearls are lovely, too. Are all American girls Red Cross members?"

"But of course not, Monsieur. Are all girls anywhere one thing?"

"Yes," said the Duc de Tremont, "they are all charming, but there are gradations."

"Do you think that we shall reach Algiers tomorrow, Monsieur?"

"I hope not, Mademoiselle."

Miss Redmond turned her fine eyes on him.

"You hope not?"

"I should like this voyage to last forever, Mademoiselle."

"How ridiculous!"

Her look was so frank that he laughed in spite of himself, and instead of following up the politeness, he asked:

"Why do you think of Algiers as a field for nursing the sick, Mademoiselle?"

"There has been quite a deputation of the Red Cross women lately going from Paris to the East."

"But," said the young man, "there are poor in Tarascon, and sick, too.

"The Ornament, Monsieur?"

There is a great deal of poverty in Nice, and Paris is the nearest of all."

"The American girls are very imaginative," said Julia Redmond. "We must have some romance in all we do."

"I find the American girls very charming," said Tremont.

"Do you know many, Monsieur?"

"Only one," he said serenely.

Miss Redmond changed the subject quickly and cleverly, and before he knew it, Tremont was telling her stories about his own military service, which had been made in Africa. He talked well and entertained them both, and Julia Redmond listened when he told her of the desert, of its charm and its desolation, and of its dangers. An hour passed. The Marquise d'Esclignac took an ante-prandial stroll, Mimi mincing at her heels.

"Ce pauvre Sabron!" said Tremont. "He has disappeared off the face of the earth. What a horrible thing it was, Mademoiselle! I knew him in Paris; I remember meeting him again the night before he left the Midi. He was a fine fellow with a career before him, his friends say."

"What do you think has become of Monsieur de Sabron?"

Miss Redmond, so far, had only been able to ask this question of her aunt and of the stars. None of them had been able to tell her. Tremont shrugged his shoulders thoughtfully.

"He may have dragged himself away to die in some ambush that they have not discovered, or likely he has been take captive, le pauvre diable!"

"France will do all it can, Monsieur . . ."

"They will do all they can, which is to wait. An extraordinary measure, if taken just now, would probably result in Sabron being put to death by his captors. He may be found tomorrow—he may never be found."

A slight murmur from the young girl beside him made Tremont look at her. He saw that her hands were clasped and that her face was quite white, her eyes staring fixedly before her, out toward Africa. Tremont said:

"You are compassion itself, Mademoiselle; you have a tender heart. No wonder you wear the Red Cross. I am a soldier, Mademoiselle. I thank you for all soldiers. I thank you for Sabron . . . but, we must not talk of such things."

He thought her very charming, both romantic and idealistic. She would make a delightful friend. Would she not be too intense for a wife? However, many women of fashion joined the Red Cross. Tremont was a commonplace man, conventional in his heart and in his tastes.

"My children," said the marquise, coming up to them with Mimi in her arms, "you are as serious as though we were on a boat bound for the North Pole and expected to live on tinned things and salt fish. Aren't you hungry, Julia? Robert, take Mimi to my maid, will you? Julia," said her aunt as Tremont went away with the little dog, "you look dramatic, my dear; you're pale as death in spite of this divine air and this enchanting sea." She linked her arm through her niece's. "Take a brisk walk with me for five minutes and whip up your blood. I believe you were on the point of making Tremont some unwise confession."

"I assure you no, ma tante."

"Isn't Bob a darling, Julia?"

"Awfully," returned her niece absent-mindedly.

"He's the most eligible young man in Paris, Julia, and the most difficult to please."

"Ma tante," said the girl in a low tone, "he tells me that France at present can do practically nothing about finding Monsieur de Sabron. Fancy a great army and a great nation helpless for the rescue of a single soldier, and his life at stake!"

"Julia," said the marquise, taking the trembling hand in her own, "you will make yourself ill, my darling, and you will be no use to anyone, you know."

"You're right," returned the girl, "I will be silent and I will only pray."

She turned from her aunt to stand for a few moments quiet, looking out at the sea, at the blue water through which the boat cut and flew. Along the horizon was a mist, rosy and translucent, and out of it white Algiers would shine before many hours.

When Tremont, at luncheon a little later, looked at his guests, he saw a new Julia. She had left her coat with the Red Cross in her cabin with her hat. In her pretty blouse, her pearls around her neck, the soft flush on her cheeks, she was apparently only a light-hearted woman of the world. She teased her aunt gently, she laughed very deliciously and lightly flirted with the Duc de Tremont, who opened a bottle of champagne. The Marquise d'Esclignac beamed upon her niece. Tremont found her more puzzling than ever. "She suggests the chameleon," he thought, "she has moods. Before, she was a tragic muse; at luncheon she is an adorable sybarite."

CHAPTER XVII.

Out of the Desert.

From a dreamy little villa, whose walls were streaming with bougainvillea, Miss Redmond looked over Algiers, over the tumult and hum of it, to the sea. Tremont, by her side, looked at her. From head to foot the girl was in white. On one side the bougainvillea laid its scarlet flowers against the stainless linen of her dress, and on her other arm was the Red Cross.

The American girl and the Frenchman had become the best of friends. She considered him a sincere companion and an unconscious confederate. He had not yet decided what he thought of her, or how. His promise to remain on the yacht had been broken and he paid his godmother and Miss Redmond constant visits at their villa, which the marquise rented for the season.

There were times when Tremont thought Miss Redmond's exile a fanatical one, but he always found her fascinating and a lovely woman, and he wondered what it was that kept him from laying his title and his fortune at her feet. It had been understood between the godmother and himself that he was to court Miss Redmond a' l'americaine.

"She has been brought up in such a shocking fashion, Robert, that nothing but American love-making will appeal to her. You will have to make love to her, Robert. Can you do it?"

"But, marraine, I might as well make love to a sister of charity."

"There was la Belle Heloise, and no woman is immune."

"I think she is engaged to some American cowboy who will come and claim her, marraine."

His godmother was offended.

"Rubbish!" she said. "She is engaged to no one, Bob. She is an Sang for the Sick.

idealist, a Rosalind; but that will not prevent her from making an excellent wife."

"She is certainly very beautiful," said the Duc de Tremont, and he told Julia so.

"You are very beautiful," said the Duc de Tremont to Miss Redmond, as she leaned on the balcony of the villa. The bougainvillea leaned against her breast. "When you stood in the hospital under the window and sang to the poor devils, you looked like an angel."

"Poor things!" said Julia Redmond. "Do you think that they liked it?"

"Liked it!" exclaimed the young man enthusiastically, "couldn't you see by their faces? One poor devil said to me: 'One can die better now Monsieur. There was no hope for him, it seems.'"

(To be Continued.)

PRATT'S BREAD is baked for those who want good bread. Grocers sell it.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Almira E. Simmons, late of Quincy, in said County, deceased:
Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Walter E. Simmons of said Quincy, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving surety on his official bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Quincy in said County of Norfolk, on the twelfth day of May A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.
Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court this twenty-sixth day of April in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.
J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t April 28 May 5-10

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Lillian D. Vogler, late of Quincy, in said County, deceased, intestate:
Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased, to Marion D. Vogler of said Quincy without giving a surety on her bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, on the twelfth day of May A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.
Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-sixth day of April, A. D. 1915.
J. R. McCOOLE, Register
3t April 28 May 3-10

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE

Of Real Estate at Public Auction

Pursuant to a license granted to the undersigned, Administrator of the Estate of CHARLES WILSON, late of Quincy, Mass., deceased, by the PROBATE COURT for the County of Norfolk on the seventh day of April, A. D. 1915, and for the purpose of distribution, will be sold at PUBLIC AUCTION on Saturday, the eighth day of May, A. D. 1915, the following described real estate of said deceased, namely:—1. A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in said Quincy, bounded and described as follows:—beginning at a point in the southeasterly line of a private way thirty (30) feet wide leading southwesterly from Quincy Street Extended, and at a distance of one hundred and fifteen (115) feet from said Quincy Street Extended, and running southeasterly on land now or late of Long & Saunders, ninety (90) feet; thence running southwesterly on land now or late of the Old Colony Railroad Company, two hundred and five (205) feet; thence running northwesterly on land now or late of the Empire Polishing Company, formerly of the Adams Real Estate Trust, ninety (90) feet; and thence running northeasterly on said private way, two hundred and five (205) feet to the point of beginning; containing 18,450 square feet of land:—including also all rights in said private way.

Being the greater portion of the same premises conveyed to said Charles Wilson by deed of Peter McConarty dated November 1, 1894, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, book 724, page 134.

2. Also a certain parcel of land with all the buildings thereon situated in said Quincy, being lot numbered 53 and the northeasterly part of lot numbered 54 on a plan by Whitman & Breck, recorded with Norfolk Deeds in plan book 9, plan No. 387, and bounded and described as follows:—Northwesterly on Penn Street, ninety (90) feet; Northeasterly on lot No. 52 on said plan, one hundred (100) feet; Southeasterly on a private way leading southwesterly from Quincy Street Extension, being land formerly of the Adams Real Estate Trust, ninety (90) feet; and Southwesterly on the remaining portion of said lot No. 54, one hundred (100) feet:—containing 9000 square feet of land. Being all and the same premises conveyed to said Charles Wilson by deed of Edwin W. Marsh dated August 18, 1899, and recorded with said Norfolk Deeds, book 850, page 533.

3. Also a certain parcel of land situated in said Quincy, bounded and described as follows:—Northeasterly by Centre Street, four hundred and seventy-five (475) feet; Southeasterly by land now or late of Marion F. Brewer, formerly of John Wilson, two hundred (200) feet; Northerly and Northwesterly by said last named land, about two hundred and thirty (230) feet; Easterly and Northeasterly by said Centre Street and by a private way called Jackson's Lane, about four hundred and eighty-nine (489) feet; Southerly by said Jackson's Lane, by an irregular line, twelve hundred and ninety five (1295) feet; Southeasterly by land now or late of John Owens, formerly of Adams, seventy-six (76) feet; Southwesterly by land now or late of the Old Colony Railroad Company, eighty four (84) feet; Northwesterly by land now or late of Fanny C. Adams, by an irregular line, thirteen hundred and twenty-nine (1329) feet. Containing 15. 013-1000 acres, be any or all said measurements and area more or less. All of said boundaries being located approximately as shown on a plan by H. T. Whitman, Surveyor, dated Oct. 1900, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds in plan book 31, plan No. 1428. Including also all rights in said private way, and said premises are subject to rights of way in said Jackson's Lane and in the "cartway" shown on said plan.

4. Also a certain parcel of land situated in said Quincy, and being lot marked "A" on a plan of house lots at West Quincy made by Whitman and Breck, Surveyors, dated June, 1882, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, book 539, page 2, and bounded and described as follows:—Northeasterly on land now or late of Herbert T. Whitman, being lots numbered 33, 34, 35 and 36 and the end of a passageway running from Centre Street between said lots 33 and 34, one hundred eighty-nine and 5-10, (189.5) feet; Southeasterly on other land of said Wilson, three hundred seventy-six (376) feet; Southwesterly on land now or late of said Whitman, at the base of a ledge, one hundred fifty-seven (157) feet; and Northwesterly on land now or late of said Whitman and the end of a street now called Hill Street, leading from McDonald Street to said premises, four hundred two and 80-100 (402.80) feet; containing about 66,900 square feet of land:—including a right of way over said Hill Street and McDonald Street to Centre Street, and also over the above named passageway that is 15 feet wide, between said lots 33 and 34, to Centre Street.

The parcel first described will be sold on said premises on Saturday, May 8, 1915, at half past two o'clock in the afternoon.

The second described parcel will be sold on said premises on Saturday, May 8, 1915, at half past three o'clock in the afternoon.

The third and fourth parcels, which adjoin, will be sold together as one parcel, on said premises at the corner of Centre Street and Jackson's Lane on Saturday, May 8, 1915, at half past four o'clock in the afternoon.

Each of said parcels will be sold subject to the taxes assessed April 1, 1915. $500. in cash will be required to be paid by the purchaser at the time and place of each of said sales, the balance to be paid in cash on delivery of the deed within ten days thereafter. Other terms will be announced at the sales.

CHARLES H. WILSON,
Administrator of the Estate of
Charles Wilson.
Savings Bank Bldg.
Quincy, Mass.
April 8, 1915 3t April 13-21-28

KEEP POSTED ON THE PEOPLE'S WANTS — CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING — WHY WORRY LET THESE ADS LIFT YOUR BURDEN

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Large front furnished room, private family, Mrs. C. F. Foster, 721 Washington street, Quincy Point. 27-6t

TO LET—3 or 4 room suite modern improvements. Reasonable rent, furnished if desired. 132 Marlboro street Wollaston Park. 28-tf

TO LET—Half house, all improvements, electric lights, gas, fitted screens; four minutes to trains, one minute to electrics. Off Independence Avenue, Tel. Quincy 789 R. W. J. Talbot, 3 Lawry street. 26-6t

TO LET—Board and rooms, also light housekeeping rooms. Apply 26 Elm St. off Hancock st. 26-3t

TO LET—Upper apartment 91 Revere road, 6 rooms, gas and coal range gas light. Rent reduced to $18. Small adult family. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1 Quincy. 23-tf

TO LET — Furnished flat of six rooms, modern improvements, nice locality, 12 minutes from Quincy station and 4 minutes from electric cars. Write M. G. J. Ledger Office. 24-9t

TO LET—Seven room flat, all modern improvements, situated at 43 Dysart street. Possession given May 1. 39 Dysart street. 21-tf

TO LET—6 room tenements, all improvements. Apply to C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 20-tf

TO LET—Tenement of 7 rooms, all improvements. Rent $25. Apply 233 Washington street. 20-9t

TO LET—Modern apartment, near high school; two-family house, everything separate; 7 rooms and bath; electricity and gas. Apply A. D. Cossaboom, 95 Merrymount road; Tel. 1374-M. 15-12t

TO LET—Lower flat in two-family house. Living room, dining room, bedroom, kitchen and bathroom, pantry, good closets and cellar. Coal and gas range, furnace, electric lights. Every convenience. Rent $20. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 13-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 7-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house, 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2. Quincy or 110 South street, Boston, Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

TO LET

FOR RENT—In Quincy Centre, opposite Adams Academy, house 7 rooms, and bath 18 Faxon avenue, suite 6 rooms and bath, every modern improvement. Tel. 414-M Weymouth. 26-tf

TO LET—Large sunny front room suitable for married couple. Also garage to let. Write L. G. Ledger Office. 26 3t.

TO LET—House of three rooms. Apply Hammond place, off Water street. 23-6t

TO LET—Tenement of six rooms at 8 Mechanic street. Apply to E. D. Barrett, 27 Revere road. tf

TO LET—House of 7 rooms, bath, all improvements. 66 Merrymount road. Apply Warren W. Adams, 12 Greenleaf street. 13-tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—1910 Marmon, 5 passenger auto, condition excellent. Most as good as new. Price about one quarter of original cost. Address Frank P. Waterhouse, 98 Lincoln avenue, Wollaston. Tel. Quincy 654-2. 28-tf

FOR SALE—1915 Reo 5 passenger car run less than 1000 miles. Owner has placed order for 6 cylinder Reo Can be seen and demonstrated at Central Garage, Quincy. Tel. 1035 W. 27-tf

FOR SALE—Four room summer cottage, furnished; Houghs Neck, easy terms, $200 down. Write C. L. Ledger Office. 26-6t

FOR SALE—In South Braintree, 8 room house and barn, about 35,000 ft. of land, corner lot on Hancock and Washington streets, electric cars pass the door, call at 1397 Washington ? adaaM erred.g Wit Y ton St., at home 4:30 P. M.
Alexander Downey.
April 26 6t.

FOR SALE—Spars, sails, running gear and steering wheel for a 25 ft. sloop at a bargain, in best of condition C. W. Sears, rear of 403 Washington street, Quincy. 24-6t

FOR SALE or TO LET—New two-flat house on Kittredge avenue. Each flat has 5 rooms and bath, all modern improvements, coal and gas range, electric lights. Inquire at 11 Ring avenue off Washington street. 23-6t

FOR SALE—Stoddard Dayton Roadster in first class condition, top, windshield, full equipment. Will sell cheap Apply to Mrs. John F. Welch, corner Hancock and Elm streets. 25-tf

FOR SALE—Milk wagon, strong, good condition, also Democrat, two seats, painted and varnished, both at a bargain. Must be sold. Ellis, 50 Squantum street, East Milton. 22-6t

FOR SALE—One mission set, chiffonier, and a morris chair, practically new. Apply between 3 and 6, Room 7 Durgin and Merrill block. 21-6t

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-tf L P.

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

MISCELLANEOUS

SOMEONE—Please answer who will take a very fine new piano into their home and use carefully. Privilege of buying later on easy terms if desired. Wish to move at once. Write for full particulars, M. L. M., Ledger Office. 24-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street. Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

TO LET
Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED CLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

LOST

LOST—Waltham watch, gold case, between Quincy and Quincy Adams depot. Finder please notify J. O. Basso, general delivery Quincy. Reward offered. 27-3t

LOST—About six o'clock on Saturday evening, either between Cottage avenue and the Quincy railroad station, or on the 6.12 train to Boston, about $87 in a roll of bills. The loss means much to the loser. If the one who finds it will communicate with D. at the Ledger Office he will receive a reward. 27-3t

WANTED

WANTED— Young man, High school graduate preferred, to learn varnish business. Norfolk Varnish Co., Norfolk Downs. 28-1t

WANTED—Man to sell accident and sick insurance by old line stock company policies, sold on monthly plan, best commission pair. Frank Connor, 176 Federal street, Room 709, Boston. 27-3t

WANTED—Girl for light office work, one with some experience preferred. Wages $5.00 to start. Write V. F., Ledger Office. 26-3t

WANTED—An experienced maid for general housework. References required. Apply at 118 Merrymount road. 26-tf

WANTED—Girls to work on clothing, power machines. Experienced girls preferred. Rhodes Ripley Clothing Co., Hingham. 22-6t

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

TO LET
After May 1, Store or Stores No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.
Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop
—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall
—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.
GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water: $2.00 to $5.50 per week.
HALLS
Our new $200. Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 156.
Quincy Real Estate Trust,
Ask for E. R. Kribs.
Greenleaf Block. ('Phone 21066) Quincy

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block,
QUINCY

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.
Cosy upper 4 room and bath flat, 122 Glendale Road, $19.
H. E. McIntire HOUSES
Greenleaf Bl'k
Tel. Quincy 1665-W.
Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.
1-1 yr.

GRANITE SHOE STORE

·LA·FRANCE·SHOP·

American Women have always been the best shod.

LA FRANCE has helped greatly in bringing about this pleasing situation.

The Spring line tells you why.

S817 is the new Savoy pump in Sterling Patent Kid, with light sand or putty kid trim.

·LA·FRANCE·

BASE BALL GOODS

The most Complete line in the city can be found here.

THE

DAND M GOODS

Appeal to every amateur or professional player.

These are good goods at reasonable prices.

Sold exclusively in this city by

NATHAN AMES, 5 GRANITE ST.

"TOOLS FOR EVERY TRADE"

STRIKES OUT 15 BATSMEN

(Continued from Page One.)

plate and Larkin covered the sack and took the throw from him, getting the putout.

Quincy was doubled twice, once the result of O'Donnell's attempt to bunt. Instead of dumping the ball he was unfortunate enough to slice it over to third where Murphy took it and relayed it to first.

Desmond at first saved Larkin from an error by reaching high in the air and pulling down what might have been a wild throw.

All these runs for Quincy started with errors at short. In the first inning Larkin reached in first on a poor throw and stole second. Dorley doubled and scored him and was sent home in similar fashion by Reardon. In the eighth inning Brodbine fozzled O'Donnell's grounder. Larkin drove one between left and centre and O'Donnell romped home with the telling tally. The summary:

QUINCY.

	AB	B	PO	A	E
Bryan, 2b	4	0	1	0	0
Di Senso, rf	4	0	0	0	0
Larkin, ss	4	2	1	2	0
Dorley, 2b	3	1	1	2	0
Reardon, cf	4	1	1	0	0
Hamlin, p	4	1	2	4	0
Simmons, lf	4	1	1	0	0
O'Donnell, c	2	1	14	2	0
Desmond, 1b	4	0	6	0	0
Totals	33	7	27	10	0

REVERE.

	AB	B	PO	A	E
Murphy 3b	4	0	2	1	2
Rich, c	4	1	5	1	0
T. Cox, 2b	4	1	5	1	0
Brodbine, ss	3	2	0	4	2
Sabetta, rf	4	1	1	0	0
W. Cox, 1b	4	1	8	0	0
Kidshstein cf and 3b	3	0	1	0	0
Latter, lf	1	0	1	1	0
McCabe, lf	2	0	1	0	0
Hartnett, p	3	0	0	0	1
Totals	32	6	24	8	5

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Quincy	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	x	3
Revere	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	2

Runs made Larkin, Dorley, O'Donnell, Cox, Broadbine. Two base hits Dorley, Reardon, W. Cox. Three Base hits T. Cox. Stolen Bases Larkin, Dorley. First base on balls by Hamlin 2, by Hartnett 3. Struck out by Hamlin 15 by Hartnett 5. Double plays Kershstein to T. Cox, McCabe to T. Cox. Passed balls O'Donnell. Time 1 hr. 50 minutes. Umpire Robertson.

SERVICES FOR MRS. ST. ONGE.

The funeral of Mrs. Josephine St. Onge, wife of Amasa St. Onge, will take place Friday morning from the home, 212 Highland avenue. A high mass of requiem will be celebrated at the Church of the Sacred Heart at nine o'clock.

John L. Kelly of Houghs Neck has purchased a two ton Reo truck from C. W. Hodgkinson proprietor of the Central Garage. Mr. Hodgkinson has also sold a Maxwell runabout to Edgar Wilde of South Braintree.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Prescott Apartments

For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service, Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer

Is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

BE WISE
FOOL THE FLIES
HAVE YOUR SCREENS
RE-COVERED NOW
TELEPHONE OR WRITE
HOLMES & HALL
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1696 W

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

FOR SALE CHEAP—A mission roll top office desk. L. R. Heilman, 54 Euclid avenue. April 28-1t

Established 1870 Telephone

JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
435 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

BOWLERS GET GOOD SCORES

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.
Team 1, 0 points
Team 7, 7 points
Team 6, 5 points
High single, Macomber, 118.
High total, Macomber 292.

The men of the Cochato club of Braintree hit the maples Tuesday evening for some good scores in the candle pin tourney. Macomber headed the 15 men who competed. The scores:

TEAM FIVE.

Macomber	113	92	87	292
Pratt	88	85	94	267
Stevens	57	78	81	216
Prescott	86	73	98	257
Sampson	91	96	88	275
	435	424	448	1307

TEAM SIX.

Olin	96	83	90	269
South	78	90	88	256
Davy	84	84	84	252
Craig	80	90	77	247
Holt	81	79	77	237
	419	426	416	1261

TEA M ONE

Woodsum	93	93	93	279
G. A. Arnold	81	81	81	243
Ferguson	80	80	80	240
Avery	77	73	74	224
Hobart	65	65	65	195
	396	392	393	1181

ANNUAL BANQUET AND INSTALLATION

At the Water Street Presbyterian church Tuesday evening occurred the annual banquet and installation of officers for the coming year of the Christian Endeavor society, and a very pretty function it was. The dining room was prettily decorated and plates were set for 70. At 7.30 the banquet began and after a feast of cold ham, mashed potatoes, green peas, pickles, rolls, coffee, ice cream and cake an interesting program was attentively listened to.

George McDonald the retiring president was toast master and he presided with rare genius and kept the diners in the best of humor. After short talks by the guests of the evening, Rev. Campbell and Alfred Bishop, Glenn Jenkins gave a delightful solo and was called back for the second encore. Miss Margaret McLeod gave a very interesting reading which brought the house to applause. Everett Clark was heard in the song "I Hear You Calling Me" and delighted every one as Everett always does.

Rev. Mr. Campbell then installed the officers for the coming year, the list being as follows:

President—George McDonald.
Vice President—Louis Marini.
Recording Secretary—Margaret McLeod.
Corresponding Secretary—Flora Thompson.
Treasurer—Wallace Kemp.
Pianist—Miriam Kemp.
Chairman of permanent committees:
Lookout—Wendell Clark.
Prayer Meeting—John McLay.
Social—John Copeland.
Music—Louis Marini.
Missionary—Annie Cumming.
Flower—Elsie McLennon.
Temperance and Good Literature—Jean Crammond.

Reports from the retiring officers showed the society was in a flourishing condition and the members are looking forward to the coming year with great enthusiasm.

BRIEFS

The Ave Maria Minstrel show will be held this evening in Quincy Music hall.

Music hall was the scene of a dress rehearsal Tuesday evening by the boys and girls who will tonight present a minstrel show under the auspices of Ave Maria council, K. of C.

Miss Hazel Estey of Washington street is planning to leave within two weeks for the Panama Exposition and her mother, Mrs. Hazel Estey, leaves on the same day for a visit with relatives at Burlington, N. H.

Suicide in Police Station

Brockton, Mass., April 28.—Preferring death to facing trial for non-support of his wife, George C. Charleton, 31, hanged himself in his cell at the police station here.

Electricity to Propel New Warship

Washington, April 28.—The chief engineer on the battleship California will be superseded by a "chief motorman," the navy having decided to operate the vessel by electricity.

PREPARE NEW BUILDING PLANS

Architects To Submit Theme Before May 15

The Mayor announces that plans for the proposed new school house in Ward Two and also the one in Ward Six and the contagious hospital are under way and will be submitted by the architects on or before Saturday, May 15th, at which time they will be placed before the Planning Board and the Committee on Public Buildings and submitted to the School Board and the Council for consideration.

It is proposed to have school houses of the most up-to-date type of construction to consist of 16 rooms with all modern improvements. The buildings will be of such design that they may be added to as the community requires, thus saving the continual expense which the city is obliged to undergo in the matter of school houses.

It has been decided that designs will be considered by several architects and with this in mind the Mayor states that he has selected a list of architects who have had wide experience in such work. A. H. Wright has already designed several of the school houses in Quincy and has a splendid reputation in that connection. James E. McLaughlin of Boston is an architect of wide experience in school work and his designs have been acceped for many of the most up-to-date Boston school buildings. The firm of Cleveland & Godfrey have had contracts in this line of work in all parts of the country, and have had experience of such nature as to be valuable. Messrs Harry E. Warren and E. W. Campbell, associate architects, have had the advantage of both the eastern and western ideas of school construction. Mr. Warren now has charge of the construction of the Agassiz school of Boston. Walter G. Thomas is professor of architecture of Harvard and has made a specialty of school construction. Brainerd & Leeds have covered a wide field of buildings of this character. With the above named architects it seems that Quincy should secure plans that would cover this work for some time to come.

BOYS TO FORM B. B. LEAGUE

The newsboys of the city have appointed a committee to organize a base ball league and compete for the silver cup offered the winning team by Mayor Campbell. The boys expect to put four teams into the field and play all of their games on the upper Merrymount Park playground. Plans were completed at a meeting of the Newsboys organization at the Y. M. C. A. hall Tuesday evening.

QUINCY GRANITE TO BE MATERIAL

The granite town to be built around the new water tank on Bellevue Hill, Roxbury, will be constructed of Quincy granite and hundreds of feet of good stock will be used.

The tower is 120 feet in height and 100 feet in diameter. The contract has been awarded to the contracting firm of John Cashman & Sons Co. of Quincy and Boston by the Metropolitan Water Board.

LIGHTER GOES TO SEA.

The No. 1 lighter of the contracting firm of John Cashman & Sons Co. of Quincy and Boston brought up winding Blacks creek Monday heavily loaded with paraphernalia to be used in the building of the boulevard extension caught in the narrows Tuesday, while being taken to sea and was released by the next tide.

The lighter, 100 by 40, draws six feet of water when loaded. The passage to the wharf was with the assistance of a 20 horse power motor boat and a ood tide and several inches of water blown in by the heavy winds. An error in seamanship floated the lighter over a mud flat on a low tide and caused the delay.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS?
ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.
SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER

BRIEFS

The annual Musicale of the Atlantic Shakespeare society will be held Thursday.

The annual ladies night of the Wollaston Improvement association will be held Friday evening, May 28.

John R. Graham of Bangor, Me., is in Quincy, the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Fred E. Jones of Hancock street.

The two choirs of the Bethany church will be given a banquet tonight by the music committee of the church.

Mrs. Marcus A. Hatch of East Friendship, Me., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Stetson of School street.

The Ladies Benevolent society of the Atlantic Memorial church will present "Higbee of Harvard" in Atlantic Music hall this evening.

A social afternoon was held Tuesday afternoon by the Junior auxiliary of St. Chrysostom's church in the parish house.

The annual kindergarten party of the Bethany church is being held at the church this afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Miss E. Hichens, sister of Mrs. Thomas Newcomb of Water street is spending a few weeks with friends in Brooklyn, N. Y.

The M-G Co., 6th Regt. M. V. M., held its weekly drill at Union hall armory Tuesday evening with a full complement of men enlisted to date, present.

The third degree team of Mt. Wollaston lodge I. O. O. F. will visit John Hancock lodge of Wollaston tonight and exemplify the degree upon eleven candidates.

Reports from the Deaconess Hospital, Brookline, where ex-Assessor Warren W. Adams, underwent a surgical operation, Monday, are that he is doing as well as could be expected.

Rev. Newton F. Sundstrom, the new pastor of the Swedish M. E. church, will speak on "Jesus on the Sea of Life" at the regular Thursday evening service.

On Friday evening the first quarterly conference will be held in the St. Paul's M. E. church. Rev. Albert Hallen, Ph. D., of Malden will preside.

The Hospital Aid association met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. George H. Wilson at 47 Revere road. There was a good attendance and the afternoon was spent in sewing garments for the hospital.

A meeting of the Junior auxiliary of Christ church met Tuesday afternoon at the parish house. The afternoon was given up to the rehearsal of a religious play to be given later in the season.

The George H. Browns moved Tuesday to their new home in Newton.

Tom Smith of the W. F. Loud express is confined to his home by illness.

The choir of St. Paul's Swedish M. E. church were the guests of Mrs. Selma Johnson of 30 Deldorf street. Tuesday evening. In addition to having a successful rehearsal, a royal, good time was enjoyed. Refreshments were served.

A regular meeting of the Girls Friendly society of St. Chrysostom's church was held Tuesday in the parish house. The work of the winter season is now completed and the meeting took the form of a social gathering.

George H. Brown, who recently removed to the estate purchased by him at Chestnut Hill, Newton, will not discontinue his Quincy office. Mr. Brown in addition to his law practice manages several trust estates which will require his personal attention.

An exemplification of the work by the Masonic lodges of the Twenty-Sixth Masonic District will be held in the Masonic Apartments in Quincy on Friday May 21, beginning at 2 o'clock. At 6 o'clock a short recess will be taken at which time dinner will be served. The assignment of the work will be announced later.

C. C. Hearn had busy days Monday and Tuesday trying to keep up with their one-cent sale, as advertised in the Ledger. All the clerks were so busy there was hardly time to attend to the prescription department. There was an especial run on candy and there are many in the city today enjoying a feast of sweets.

The Ladies Aid society of St. Paul's M. E. church will hold its annual festival and concert in the church Thursday evening, May 27. The committee in charge of the concert met today at the home of Mrs. Wm. Gellote, 88 Goddard street. The committee is composed of Mrs. Andrew Lindberg, president of the Ladies Aid society, chairman; Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. S. Ellison, Mrs. Wm. Gelotte, Mrs. David Wohlander, Mrs. Newton F. Sundstrom.

COAL PRICES REDUCED

STOVE	$7.25
EGG	$7.25
NUT	$7.50
FURNACE	$6.50
PEA	$5.50
LEHIGH EGG	$7.50
LEHIGH STOVE	$7.50
SHAMOKIN STOVE	$7.50
FRANKLIN STOVE	$8.50

Coal carried in baskets 25 cents per ton.
Bituminous Coal for Steam Use
We recommend Nut size for stove and range
Stove size for small furnaces and heaters
Egg size for large furnaces and heaters.
We advise placing your orders now as prices usually advance about July 1st.
Coal delivered in Quincy, Wollaston, Atlantic, and Norfolk Downs.

Frost Coal Co.
488 Neponset Ave., Neponset
TEL. 1500 DORCHESTER
April 3 Wed. & Sat. until July 1

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the public for the generous patronage during the past two days on the occasion of our

ONE CENT SALE

A novelty in this City. I think you will agree with me that you have received excellent values and genuine bargains, there's no doubt that other merchants will fall in line with the purpose of keeping your trade in Quincy by offering you service and prices that will attract you.

Trade in Quincy Get Your Money's Worth

CHAS. C. HEARN, DRUGGIST 1295 Hancock St.

CHARGE HENRY WITH LARCENY

Joseph M. Henry of Boston, formerly of Quincy, pleaded not guilty this morning to a charge of breaking and entering and was held in $1000 bonds for a hearing on May 1st. Henry was arrested in Boston.

The police have charged him with breaking and entering the granite sheds of Berrini and Bielli on Quarry street. Two pneumatic tools, valued at $20, were stolen at the time, one of which has been recovered by Inspector Goodhue.

The police say the arrest of Henry may put a stop to the looting of granite sheds throughout the city. They say Henry admitted having one of the stolen tools in his possession at one time but claims it was given to him by a Boston friend.

Inspector Goodhue asked Judge Avery to make the bail substantial since Henry is on probation in Norfolk and Suffolk counties.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

CITY HALL NOTES

The Board of Assessors are now at work in Ward Five, the Wollaston ward.

The finance committee of the city council meet Friday evening, the street committee Friday evening, and the License committee next Monday evening before the council meeting.

Mrs. Lela O. Peirce, clerk in the office of the commissioner of public works, has been called to Jacksonville, Fla., by the serious illness of her father, ex-Councilman Stephen O. Moxen.

Commissioner Brown went to Springfield Tuesday to attend a meeting of the Highway association.

A meeting of the Planning Board was held at city hall Tuesday evening. The meeting was devoted to the general discussion of various matters, no action being taken however on any of the subjects. It is expected that the Planning Board will make a report in the very near future on the matter of a public comfort station in City square, which the Board and a special committee of the city council have had under consideration.

IF YOU WISH TO SAVE MONEY

And at the same time maintain the high standard of your table, our daily offerings in high-class groceries and provisions offer the correct solution to your problem.

A few examples:—

Fancy Indian River Grape Fruit .07 each 4 for .25
3 Cans Corn for .25
3 " Tomatoes for .25
3 " Peas for .25
Mayflower Hand Evaporated Apples 2 pkg. .25

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980
FOY'S 2 STORES
WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 100 QUINCY, MASS., THURSDAY EVENING, APRIL 29, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

CAPACITY HOUSE SEES BIG MINSTREL SHOW

Nearly 900 Enjoy "A Night In The Berkshires"

The minstrel frolic and dance,"A Night In the Berkshires", given in Music hall Wednesday evening under the auspices of Ave Maria council, Knights of Columbus delighted an audience of nearly 900. The cast:

Hotel Proprietor	Henry Donaher
Miss Walton	Nora Reardon
Polly	Annie Sullivan
Rob Nichols	William Teasdale
Sam, The Porter	Charles Brown
Abie Cohen	Brian Donaher
Morris Levi	Thomas Buckley
Guest of Evening	James E. Geary
Door Men	Fred McDonald, Wm. McDonald and James Donovan
Butlers	Joseph Daley, Edward Desmond, Henry Desmond

Guests, Hotel Help, French Maids and Natives:

GIRLS

Ita Sullivan, Josephine Realine, Marguerite Reinhalter, Delia Ferriter, Mary O'Neill, Gertrude Shevlin, Laura Livrago, Marion Duffy, Annie Sullivan, Livia Bizzozero, Florence Connelly, Grace Reinhalter, Eugenie LeClair, Helen Elcock, Mary Doyle, Lillian Donovan, Anna Cronin, Mary O'Connell, Marion Frazier, Josephine O'Heron, Frances Daly, Ella McDonald.

BOYS

Oswald D. Shea, Joseph Reardon, Edward Minihan, John Owens, M. Martin, Daniel Riley, Walter Mulhall, Michael Saville, Charles Sullivan, Clement Patriacic, John Curry, Joseph Caravaglio, Nicholas Reinhalter, Jas. Cahill, Charles McKenna.

MUSICAL PROGRAM

Arranged by Ralph W. Crossen

Miss Rose Du Temple, Pianist

Song at Twilight—Medley	Hotel Guests
On the Boulevard	Miss Welton and Ballet
	Josephine Realine, Delia Ferriter, Gertrude Shevlin, Marion Duffy, Annie Sullivan, Livia Bizzozero, Florence Connelly, Eugenie LeClair
Song by	Sam
Good-bye Becky Cohen	Abie and Morris
End Men's Entrance
Opening Chorus	Entire Assembly
Tambo Overture
End Song—Dixie Band	Henry Desmond
Perhaps	Joseph Caravaglio
End Song, Why Don't They do it Now	William McDonald
Let's all go up to Mollie's	William Teasdale & French Maids
Roses Remind Me of Someone	Annie Sullivan
Bum Diddle De Um Bum	Edward Desmond assisted by Russell Sullivan
The Spaniard that Blighted My Life	Charles Brown
The Spaniard	Fred McDonald
End Song—When It's Nighttime Down in Dixie Land	James Donovan
Ballad—Selected	Catherine Brennan
End Song—Glad My Wife's in Europe	Joseph Daley
My Dreams	Joseph Morrisette
End Song—The Whole Damn Family Stuck Around	Fred McDonald
Finale—U. S. A.	Catherine Brennan and entire Chorus

PART II.

Scots Wha Hae Song And Dance	Ver Weel
Introducing Larry McCabe and Josephine Cody

Assisted by the Lassies

Grace Reinhalter, Mary O'Neill, Margaret Reinhalter, Mary O'Connell, Florence Connelly, Josephine Ahern, Eugenie LeClair, Alice Saville, Ella McDonald, Anna Cronin.

Back To The Ould Sod with Finegan And His Colleens—Josephine Raeline, Frances Daley, Mary Doyle, Lillian Donovan, Ita Sullivan, Laura Livrago, Marion Frazier, Nora Reardon.

Gossuns—Walter Mulhall, Michael Saville, John Curry, Clement Patriacic, Joseph Caravagio, Nicholas Reinhalter, James Cahill, Charles McKenna, Finegan; James Donovan; Eileen: Livia Bizzozero

Finale In the Town where I was born by Joseph Daley and entire assembly

Costumes by M. Sullivan & Co.

The show again demonstrated that the stage of Music hall is not large enough for a big presentation and was somewhat of a handicap to the pony ballet of popular young women of the city.

Although the end men were experienced they did not liven up the performance with quite enough up to the minute jokes on localities,only a few being chosen for the "knocks". Their songs were good and the chorus work was exceptionally good.

Two songs, "Perhaps," and "Roses" were the hits of the evening. The former was sung from the manuscript of the composer, Louis Fay, brother of George Fay, a local conductor, by Joseph Caravaglio. The latter, sung by Miss Annie Sullivan was repeatedly encored.

The arrival of the audience caused a delay of twenty minutes in the starting of the show. Four carloads of West Quincy residents arrived about eight o'clock and jammed the entrance, while others arrived in autos. At eight o'clock there were nearly 500 waiting to pass the ticket taker.

The audience included President Joseph Whiton of the city council, and Mrs. Whiton, Grand Knight Joseph Cuff of Braintree council, Peter Sullivan, grand knight of Quincy council, and Miss Mary Forbes and Miss Dorothy Forbes of Milton.

The setting for the show was a summer hotel in the Berkshires in which Henry Donaher, a genial New Englander who is delighted with Miss Walton (Nora Reardon), a true American girl with lots of love for the U. S., even though she tells everybody about Paris, and makes Polly, (Annie Sullivan), wonder at her remarkble stories, just as Rob Nichols, (William Teasdale), her Boston cousin appears and is told a few things, and Sam the porter, (Charles Brown), who shows signs of life just as Abie Cohen, (Brian Donaher), and

(Continued on page Three.)

QUINCY CO-OPERATIVE BANK

The annual meeting of the shareholders, for the election of officers and the transaction of any other business that may legally come before it, will be held at the office of the Bank, Room 13, Adams Bldg., Wednesday, May 5, 1915 at 8 o'clock P. M.

FRANK A. REED, Clerk.

28-7t

ANNOUNCEMENT!

We beg to announce to the public that we have taken the exclusive agency for

MAXWELL MOTOR CARS

For Quincy, Braintree and Weymouth and cordially invite your inspection of same.

CENTRAL GARAGE

Corner Washington and Pond Streets

C. W. HODGKINSON, Prop.

GARAGE PHONE, QUINCY 1035 W

RESIDENCE PHONE, QUINCY 1035 R

BETHANY CHOIRS ENJOY SUPPER

Rev. and Mrs. Willmott Guests of Honor

A wave of sadness that this was the last social event which their pastor would attend overflowed the otherwise happy gathering which enjoyed an excellent supper in the banquet rooms of Bethany church Wednesday evening. The gathering consisted of members of the two choirs who were the guests for the evening of the music committee of the church, and also Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin A. Willmott and Mr. and Mrs. H. Everett Crane, the guests of honor. About seventy-five persons sat down to the supper which was prepared and served by the members of the music committee.

The tables were prettily decorated with pink and green candlesticks and large bunches of pink roses, pink and white carnations, and maiden hair fern. Other tables, artistically ornamented with potted plants, were set about the room. There was a chafing dish at each of the eight tables which played an important part in the prandial exercises.

The supper opened with a grapefruit with cherry followed by cream tuna fish, chicken salad, coffee and rolls, ice cream and cake. The diners acquired appetites which speedily disposed of about everything in sight the most eloquent tribute possible to the culinary art of the music committee members.

After the supper there were a few brief speeches by Rev. and Mrs. Willmott, Mr. and Mrs. H. Everett Crane, Mrs. Frank J. Moore, Albert L. Hayden and Mrs. Edgar E. Miller, chairman of the music committee. Mr. Willmott thanked the members of the committee for the excellent supper and also thanked the members of the girls' vested choir for the group picture which they had previously given him and which he said he should always treasure. He spoke in appreciation of Mrs. Moore, who is soon to give up her work as a member and leader of the church choir. He expressed his regret at leaving and spoke of the many happy memories he should bear with him of the days when he was pastor of Bethany church. Mrs. Moore thanked the choirs for the work they had done and the loyal response they had given to her leadership. After the speaking a social hour was enjoyed.

The music committeee consists of: Mrs. Edgar E. Miller, chairman, Mrs. E. L. Collins, Mrs. George L. Badger, Mrs. John Keast, Mrs. John Pierce and Mrs. J. F. Welch.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

THE WEATHER.

April, known as the month of showers, necessary to bring forth spring flowers, has not been attending very closely to its job thus far, and it has but one day more in which to make good. At numerous times during the month, the man who is supposed to hand out the weather, has promised local rains, but in the greater number of instances he has shot wide of the mark. Showers have been promised a number of days and while possibly some cities and towns in New England may have received a wetting, Quincy has escaped. A good day's hard rain would do a great deal of good, and would be much appreciated by the farmers.

No hope of rain is held out for Friday but the weather man says that it will be warmer with moderate east to southerly winds.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	4.42
Sun sets	6.42
Length of day	14.00
Moon rises	8.45
High water, A. M.	11.45
High water, P. M.	12.00
Days increase	4 hrs. 54 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	68 degrees
Apr. 29, 1914,	49 degrees
Apr. 29, 1913,	58 degrees

Noon Maximum 18 years—86

Noon Minimum 18 years—30

STATEMENT NOT MADE BY HIM

Medical Examiner Jones Enters Denial

Medical Examiner Fred E. Jones denies ever making the statement, attributed to him, that the child, whose dead body was found in a suitcase in the room of an eighteen year old Finnish girl, had been born alive and strangled. He feels that the report is an injustice both to the mother and to himself.

TALKS ABOUT OLD VOLUMES

Wollaston M. E. Men's Club Meets

Members of the Men's club of the Wollaston Methodist church had a most interesting meeting, Wednesday evening when Charles E. Goodspeed of Wollaston, proprietor of Goodspeed's Book Shop, gave an interesting talk on the collection and preservation of old books, autographs and other antiques.

The speaker had with him many specimens which gave an added interest. Among them was a complete manuscript bible of the 12th century which took about 15 years to finish.

Other curios were a "New England Primer" of 1717, the second edition of "The Vicar of Wakefield" of 1766, "The Embargo" published by William Cullen Bryant in 1809 at the age of 13.

Another interesting relic was a larger book published in 1874 by Peter Schoeffer, one of the earliest printers and a co-worker with Gettenberg.

Among interesting autographs shown were a letter written by George Washington at Mt. Vernon, May 29, 1788 and a legal document concerning a blander suit in the handwriting of Abraham Lincoln.

Among other interesting relics, was what was said to be the cover of one of the tea chests emptied at the Boston Tea Party and a book filled with autographs and descripions of people connected with this event.

The process of extra illustrating and improving old volumes was described and the speaker displayed some fine examples of English binding. He exhibited a copy of "The Poet Gray as a Naturalist," published jointly by himself and Professor Norton.

Refreshments followed. During the meeting an interesting edition of the Wollaston Herald was read by W. E. Keyes and Messrs. Fownes, Taylor, and Roberts were appointed a nominating committee.

The May party which is to be held on May fourth in the Wollaston Methodist church is to take the form of a basket party. The admission for the women will be a basket with a luncheon for two people. The men will be expected to purchase a basket. There will be a pleasing entertainment during the evening.

Prof. DeFOREST

World's Greatest Clairvoyant and Psychic Palmist

Calls you by name and tells the object of your visit without asking a single question. Names enemies and friends. Tells whom and when you will marry; if the one you love loves you; whether wife or sweetheart is true or false; how to influence anyone you desire, even though a thousand miles away. Develops personal magnetism; removes evil influences; reunites the separated, and causes speedy and happy mariage with the one of your choice. Gives advice on all matters of business. Don't buy or sell property without asking his valuable advice.

Readings .50 and 1.00

Permanently located, No. 92 Revere road. Hours from 10. A. M. to 8 P. M. Sunday.

29-1 mo.

YOUNG COUPLE ARE MARRIED

Mr. Maver Weds Miss Lillie Collins

A pretty home wedding, followed by a reception, was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Collins, 95 Quincy street, Wednesday evening, when their daughter, Lillie Mothrowe Collins, became the bride of Albert Edward Maver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maver of 23 Bennington street. The ceremony took place at 9 o'clock, Rev. Clarence E. Campbell of the First Presbyterian church officiating, the double ring ceremony being used and the bride being given in marriage by her father.

The home was prettily decorated with jonquils and potted ferns, the latter being lighted with colored lights making a very pretty effect. As the bridal party entered the room where the ceremony took place Miss Jennie Boutilier, who presided at the piano, played Wagner's wedding march from Lohengrin.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Flora Collins as maid of honor, and the best man was Robert Edward King. Miss Myrtle Collins a younger sister was the ring bearer. The ushers were James Maver of Quincy and John Maver of Somerville. The bride wore a white crepe de chene trimmed with pearls and silk lace, with a bridal veil caught up with lilies of the valley and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore a pink crepe de chene trimmed with ecrue embroidered net, and carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas. The ring bearer was in white and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

The bride's gift to the maid of honor was a brooch with pearls and the groom's gift to the best man was a pair of gold cuff links.

Mr. and Mrs. Maver received many handsome and valuable gifts which were shown in one of the side rooms.

They left later in the evening for a wedding trip, after which they will make their home at 8 Standard street, Mattapan where they will be at home after June. 1.

HYDROPLANE STICKS IN MUD

Two Occupants Uninjured However

Late Thursday afternoon a hydroplane carrying two mechanicians, which started from the boat building plant of George Lawley & Sons ran out of gasoline while flying over the Neponset river, obliging the mechanicians to volplane to the mud flats near the channel, nearly opposite the yard where it has been under construction. A boat was sent out from Lawley's yard and rescued the two men, whose names were refused at the yard.

The hydroplane had been in the air about three-quarters of an hour when the gasoline gave out. The aviators hoped to make a landing on the old aviation field at Squantum but they misjudged the distance and the machine settled down in the mud not far from the spot where Miss Harriet Quimby and her manager Willard were killed in July 1912. The hydroplane rested right side up and with the incoming tide was easily rescued.

Many people saw the hydroplane fall and there was a rush to the water's edge to render assistance, if necessary. Rumors were plenty, one being that the machine was that of Vincent Astor, it being reported that he had flown from Marblehead with Frank Coffin. Another rumor was that one of the men was Glenn Curtis, builder of the Curtis biplane as Mr. Curtis had been at the aviation field a good part of the day and a biplane had been seen flying over the field in the afternoon.

Miss Marguerite Louise Holbrook entertained her Boston music class at her home on Holbrook road, Bellevue park Wednesday evening. Games were played after which refreshments consisting of sandwiches, ice cream cake and coffee were served.

FORE RIVER SHOULDERS HUGE EXTRA EXPENSE

Will Equip "Nevada" With Stronger Engines

The Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation has shouldered an added expense of a quarter of a million dollars, putting stronger turbines in the battleship "Nevada" than were at first installed. The company is doit at its own request, so it might not have the unpleasant experience with the new dreadnought that it had with turbines in the Argentine ship, Rivadavia. An extension of time for this work has been granted to the company by the Navy department and about six weeks will be necessary for the shop work.

The Rivadavia turbines, like those installed in the Nevada, had two shortcomings.

The buckets were not strong enough and the metal was seriously weakened by the super-heated steam. Previously the mistake had been made by all builders, both in this country and in Great Britain, it is said, of making the parts as light as possible, and experience in practical working has shown that this was carried so far that it weakened the turbines. Brass, which is used for making these buckets, has a low melting point, about 1800 degrees, and it was found that the steam at, say 900 degrees, so affected the brass buckets that they broke easily. As a result of this experience, it was decided to make the parts stronger, enough so that they surely would be able to stand the strain and heat, and a change was made in the composition used as well as an increase in the quantity.

In connection with the Nevada it is of interest to say that should the ship be wanted by the government because of an emergency she could not be floated out of the Fore River. The only tide high enough to do it will not be until July, and then at midnight. An equally high tide occurs in August.

The Nevada has a draft of twenty-eight feet six inches, compared with twenty seven feet two inches for the Rivadavia, and the latter was forced to wait once for eighteen days and once for twenty-three days in order to have water enough to get back to the shipyard after she had left.

There is a varying depth in the channel, from eighteen to thirty-three feet at low tide, and the rise of eleven feet would make only twenty-nine feet at the most shallow point. It would make the risk of trying to navigate a ship of 27,500 tons displacement too great with only six inches of water under her keel. This is brought home with all the more emphasis when one recalls that the bottom of the channel at this point is of rock, where a bump would mean trouble.

Steps have been taken, fortunately, by Quincy, the state and national government to dredge the river. Army engineers a few months ago recommended that the river be dredged to twenty-four feet at mean low tide, and estimated the cost at $300,000, of which $100,000 would be for removing the channel rock. The army officers favored this work being entered into to the extent of $200,000 by the Federal Government provided that local interests made up the balance. The State appropriated $75,000 by the bill signed by Governor Walsh yesterday, which has a provision that to make it effective Quincy must appropriate $15,000 and the Fore River Corporation $10,000. The city has secured an enabling act and is expected to make the necessary allowance, and the shipyard has appropriated its share of the expense. Under these conditions the next Congress is expected to allow $200,000 for the work, but the session just ended did nothing except to set aside money for works already under way.

If this dredging is carried out according to the army engineers' plan the Quincy yard will be able to build as large a warship or merchant craft as ever was laid down and get it to deep water without bother of the kind which has handicapped it for several years.

NOTICE

April 26, 1915

Notice is hereby given that from May 1st to May 29th inclusive, the Board of Health will remove all rubbish that may be placed on the sidewalks in barrels on the regular ash collection days. During the summer months the weekly collection of ashse will be discontinued. Ashes will be collected on the following weeks.

June 21st to 26th inclusive.

July 26th to 31st inclusive.

August 23rd to 28th inclusive.

The regular weekly collection of ashes will be resumed on Oct. 4th, 1915.

Per Order,
Board of Health,
Walter H. Buchan, Chairman
27-5t

GYPSIES PASS THROUGH CITY

Seventy Five Wanderers Draw Much Attention

A band of Gypsies on their way to Manchester, N. H., camped Tuesday evening in an open space in a thick woodlot on Willard street near the Braintree line. The party had about twenty-five dilapidated teams and about fifty horses. The party was made up of about seventy-five people mostly women and children. When the news was spread that there was a band of Gypsies in the city a large crowd gathered and the way the crowd went to see them reminded one of the crowd that usually follows a circus.

The children of the section at the close of school Wednesday went to the camp and were surprised to see the way in which the gypsies cooked their food and to see the women at the camps enjoying their pipes and cigarettes as well as the men. The party left this morning and attracted considerable attention on the way through the city.

The party was not at all destitute as when the gran man left the grain the leader of the camp presented him with a one hundred dollar bill taken from a large roll of the same denomination. The leader said he was on the way to Manchester where he would sell the horses he had and buy some others, then return and stay at the beaches for the summer.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

PRESSERS

Experienced Ironers on Ladies Waists. Steady Work.

APPLY TO

SOVEREIGN WAIST CO.

192 GRANITE ST.

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER

Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

FAKE "CURES."

Despite numerous "exposures" there still are, apparently, thousands of persons afflicted with tuberculosis in various forms who put faith in some of the "infallible cures" of the fake medicine companies and huge sums still pour annually into the coffers of these fiends. The Weekly News Letter of the United States De partment of Agriculture, dated April 28, contains an illuminating article on "Worthless Cures" which deserves to be given in full. The article follows:

After investigating under the food and drugs act a large number of preparations advertised as consumption cures, the department has not been able to discover any that can in any sense be regarded as "cures" for tuberculosis. Some contain drugs that may at times afford some temporary relief from the distrissing symptoms of the disease, but this is all. Since the passage of Fed eral legislation prohibiting the shipment in interstate commerce of medicinal preparations for which false and fraudulent claims are made there has been a marked tendency to label these preparations "remedies" instead of "cures" or "infallible cures" as they used to be called. In many cases however, they can not even be regarded as remedies.

A "cherry balsam, for example, for the "cure" of "consumption" and "hemorrhage of the lungs," which it was represented would strike at the very root of the disease," was found on analysis to be nothing but a solution in water and alchohol of opium, sugar, benzaldehyde, inorganic salts, and coloring matter. It contained no cherry bark extract or balsam.

A more elaborate "cure" consisted of five different preparations which the credulous patient was to take separately. These were first, the medicine proper,, the essential ingredients of which were found to be morphine, cinnamic, acid, and arsenic—not a very safe mixture to take habitually; second, a tonic which was supposed to contain iron but did not; third, a "cough mixture" made up of alcohol, chloroform, and codine, which is a derivative of opium or morphine; fourth, a mixture which contained some quinine, and a solution of water and alcohol; and fifth, codine tablets. Even the strongest constitution could hardly stand a prolonged course of such a treatment

In the marketing of such preparations considerable ingenuity is frequently shown. One of the main objects is to persuade the patient that he is receiving, at a comparatively low price, the individual attention of a trained specialist. For this purpose, symptom blanks are employed. These contain a number of questions about the patient's symptoms, the number varying from a dozen or so to as many as 70 or 80. The patient is led to believe that the information which he furnishes in reply to these questions will be carefully considered before any medicine is prescribed for him, though every physician knows that an accurate diagnosis can not possibly be made in this way. As a matter of fact none is attempted and the degree of attention which these individual reports receive can be measured by the fact that cases have come under the observation of the department in which mail-order concerns doing a business of this kind have received as many as 4,000 letters a day.

After the patient has submitted his "diagnosis report" he is urged to purchase a supply of the medicine. If he does so, he is then urged to purchase more. If he states that he has experienced no beneficial effects, he is told that he has not taken enough, and this process is likely to continue until the limits of his credulity have been reached. If, on the other hand, he decides at the beginning not to purchase the medicine, it is likely to be offered to him at successively lower prices until he is at last induced to believe that he can not afford to ignore such a bargain. This is carried to such an extent that a "treatment," the original price of which is $25, may be offered at the end of six months for $2.50.

As a matter of fact the sucessful treatment of tuberculosis requires much more than the mere giving of medicine and, moreover, what will help one case will not necessarily help another. Claims that are absolutely unwarranted are no longer permitted on the labels of medicines shipped in interstate commerce, but the wording may be such as to convey a misleading impression without the use of absolute statements. Thus these preparations continue to find a sale despite the fact that a little trouble on the part of the prospective purchaser will reveal their worthlessness.

CHILDREN ENJOY ANNUAL PARTY

A huge bunch of pinks was presented to Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott Wednesday afternoon by four year old Ethel Fitzpatrick representing the children of the Primary department of Bethany church. The pastor, who is to close his labors in Quincy next Sunday and who has been visited with many expressions of appreciation by his church people and by outsiders, was apparently more deeply touched by this tribute than by any other. He was taken completely by surprise and as he looked down into the shining faces of the seventy-five children, who had saved their pennies for the gift, for a few moments he was unable to speak. Then he said a few words which expressed how dear to his heart were these, the youngest of his parishioners.

Mr. Willmott had dropped in to see the children enjoy the annual kindergarten party given them by the teachers of the Primary department. He was about to leave when he was induced to remain a few minutes longer by Miss Addie J. Park, superintendent of the department. Then little Ethel Fitzpatrick stepped forward and in a clear voice gave her brief speech.

The party was attended by some 75 children, together with about thirty mothers, who were invited guests. Ice cream and cake were served the tots as they sat in their little chairs about the tiny tables. They were then presented with pinks as souvenirs of the occasion.

Following the refreshments the children had the run of the chapel and devised games with the usual fertile ingenuity of childhood, aided and abetted by Miss Park and her assistants The hosts of the party were: Miss Addie J. Park, Mrs. E. L. Collins, Miss Emma Spaulding, Miss Helen Ball, Miss Edna Mills, Miss Mila Bates and Miss Helen Miller.

CONFERENZA ITALIANA.

One Hundred Italians Attend Lecture.

Nearly 100 Italians gathered at the new Adams school hall to listen to the lecture in their own language by Prof. Alberto Percorini, whom they followed with the closest interest as he told them of the educational advantages this country offered them.

The meeting was opened by a few appropriate words from Chas. F. Safford, Chairman of the Trustees of the Public Library, who then put the meeting in charge of the Italian Chairman, Mr. N. Di Panfilo, who introduced the lecturer. At the close, some important questions were answered in a satisfactory manner, judging by the applause which greeted the speaker. The librarian invited the little audience to come to the library and make use of the few Italian books owned by the library and those kindly loaned and exchanged by the Mass. Free Library commission.

Four of the Italian stringed orchestra furnished music, and some of the library assistants showed their interest by their presence. Our own Stars and Stripes spoke its message from the platform and the Italian colors were in evidence in the flowers there and in the rosettes worn by the ushers and some of the leaders.

In the audience was Miss Campbell, the director of the work with foreigners for the commission, to whom is owed the opportunity of the lecture in Quincy from which it is hoped that some seeds may bear fruit.

LAST WHIST OF SEASON.

The last of the season's weekly whist tournaments of the Granite City club was held Wednesday evening with ten tables in play. The two best scores of the evening were made by W. O. Wellington and Nathan Ellis. Ice cream and cake were served after the tournament.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

Prescott Apartments

For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service. Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

SIX MONTHS FOR LARCENY

Prisoner Had Just Served One Term

Almon E. Reed of no home, was arrested Thursday in Boston as he was leaving the steamer "Monitor" from Deer Island. Reed was charged with larceny of money in Quincy and in district court this morning pleaded guilty and was sentenced to six months in the house of correction.

Reed, on July 13, 1913 was employed by John Moses at the Pandora Hotel, Houghs Neck. On the afternoon of that day Mrs. Moses returned after a short absence, found the lock on her trunk picked and $74 taken. Later she found a child's bank containing several dollars had been rifled.

A warrent was secured, charging Reed with the larceny. Inspector Goodhue instituted a search and after several months located Reed, who was a prisoner at Deer Island, serving a sentence, the police say, for larceny at Boston.

When brought here Wednesday he was taken to the office of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation at Police headquarters. He proved to have some knowledge of finger printing and willingly gave the police his impressions without being coached, they say.

FRIENDS TENDER SURPRISE PARTY

Harry MacDonald of 25 Pearl street South Quincy found his home in the possession of his friends Wednesday evening and while he was trying to figure it out Miss Isabel Wragg stepped from the centre of the group and presented him with a signet ring. The surprise was complete.

Miss Wragg in making the presentation told the purpose of the gathering as follows: ""How dry I am. If I wasn't so dry I'd make a speech in such fine English that you'd run a mile. The rose is red and the violet blue and pickles are sour and so, sometimes, are you. So, in order to sweeten you we have gathered to tender a little party to you. You have been already surpirsed and it is my pleasure on behelf of those gathered here to present you with a small token of friendship in commemmoration of the evening. We sincerely hope that you will receive it with the greatest of pleasure and that you will enjoy yourself so much that if you ever sour, the memory of this evening will cause you to immediately become sweetened."

Several piano selections were given by Miss M. E. Savage and there were vocal solos by James Mayal. The committee included Robert Elder, John Conroy. Refreshments were served during the evening. The party broke up at a late hour. Among those present were:

The Misses Esther Miller, Isabel Wragg, Marion Wilkins, M. E. Savage, Celia Beaton, Julia Callahan, Jessie Johnston, Miriam Hutt, Esther Gordon, John Conroy, John Vergobbi, Cecil Kain, Clarence MacDonald, Donald MacKenzie, Charles Crooker, Harold MacDonald, John Moore, Thomas Thompson, James Mayal Charles Cavicchi and Robert Elder.

TO DETERMINE CAUSE OF DEATH

Hold Autopsy on Death of Jos. McKeon

An autopsy will be held today to determine the sause of the death of Joseph McKeon of 497 South street. McKeon collapsed at the Fore River shipyard Thursday. In falling he struck a steel plate. His death was caused by a cerebral hemmorhage. The autopsy will show whether the hemmohhage preceded the fall or resulted from striking against the plate during the fall. The autopsy wil be for the benefit of the State Industrial Accident board.

JJohn Cashman, who has the contract for building the new extension of the Quincy Shore boulevard, has purchased the gravel hill near the Kitson estate which he will use for surfacing the boulevard.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

Editor of the Ledger:—

Surely the Quincy women under whose auspices the recent Anti-Suffrage Meeting was held cannot approve nor endorse the unjust and scurrilous attack made by their speaker, Mrs. A. J. George, at that meeting. Suffragists present who had never heard Mrs. George speak expected to hear a reasonable and just argument advanced; instead they heard a torrent of abuse and distortion of facts which cannot be allowed to pass unchallenged. Many of Mrs. George's statements were half-truth told in such a way as to misrepresent and discredit the suffrage cause and the character of its adherents. Her statements in regard to suffragists being allied with Socialists, Feminists, and other extremists were of this class. There is no more reason to say suffrage stands for Socialism, Feminism, or any other "ism" than to say that because a man believes in eating meat that he believes in cannibalism. The anti -socialist- anti-feminist bugaboo is no other than a sensational bid for class prejudice of the narrowest kind, and a good Socialist has the same right to his opinion on government, as a good Democrat or a good Republican.

If "non-partisan influence" is as effective as the speaker in question assumes, the great army of working men in this country would long since have voted to disenfranchise themselves in order that "their hands might not be tied by party considerations" when asked for legislation in their own behalf! It is likewise ridiculous and childish to say that a difference of political opinion between a man and his wife would injure and disrupt the home, as the same might be said of any other difference of opinion in the family, such as the color of the new wall paper, or whether the family should have a cold or hot Sunday dinner.

The proof of the pudding is in the eating, and in the Western states where women are voting welfare legislation for all classes of society, and especially for women workers and children, has increased more rapidly than in man suffrage states, and infant mortality and divorce have decreased in the same ratio. Thus it is not proven that a doubled electorate have been unbeneficial to the state and harmful to the family.

Women of one city or state will in the general average represent the women of another city or state, and among the women in Quincy who are suffragists we find women in all ranks of life. Four ex-presidents and also the present president of the Quincy Women's club, together with many other officers and members of the club are suffragists. In fact, it is a matter of record that this club has regisered its vote in favor of the enfranchisement of women.

Well-known Quincy suffragists unfold and teach the wonders and beauty of art, literature, music, travel and bird-life in our clubs, and to our young people throughout the year. This being so, how can consistent anti-suffragists permit themselves. and trust their children to be instructed by women having a latent tendency to such immoral and intellectual perverseness as their representative assured them would prevail if women were allowed a voice in the affairs of the city and state? Because, they known that such conditions will not prevail. The average woman, never has, does not, and never will stand for any issue that is unwomanly, perverted, or disastrous to the life of the family and the general good. What is true of Quincy, is true of any other city. The average suffragist is the same type of woman as the average Quincy woman, and is just exactly as upright and trustworthy as the women of Quincy. During many years of association with suffragists of all kinds, I have never met one suffragist who believed in the abolition of the family or any other upheaval of society, and not one that did not enshrine her family life above all else in the world.

Let us be fair and high-minded, and in the words of Dr. Charles Fleisher recently spoken in Braintree say: Come up and discuss the matter on the high plane of the humaneness of all women and true democracy.

(Mrs.) Alice E. Comins.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Furniture Storage Warehouse

Separate Rooms under Yale Lock in our Steel Covered Furniture Storage Warehouse.

Rates $2---$3---$4 per month

HENRY L. KINCAIDE & CO.

1495 Hancock St. Quincy, Mass.

Telephone Quincy 1200. Jan. 26--tu.-th.s.-tf

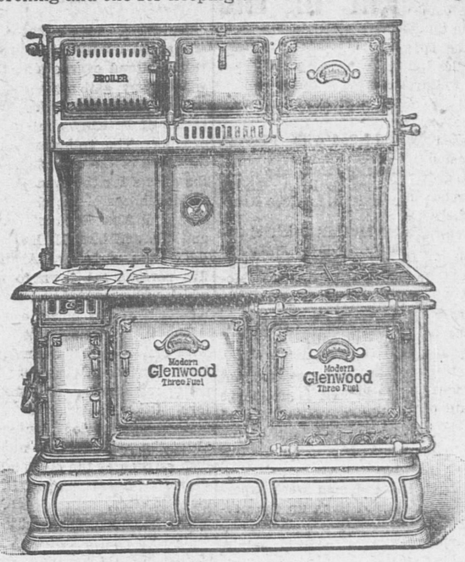

For Coal, Wood or Gas

Glenwood

A Brand-New Cooking Machine

Just the range for your new home. Handsome—Convenient—Mechanically Right. Smooth Cast. Colonial Design. Plain Mission Finish. A Room Saver—Like The Upright Piano. Every essential refined and improved upon.

Two main ovens below—one heated by coal and the other by gas, both on the same level. Three auxiliary ovens above—two gas heated, one for pastry baking, one for broiling and one for keeping the food hot and warming plates.

Five cooking burners in gas range top, three ordinary, one giant and one simmering burner.

Very compact—length over all, 4 feet 5 inches. Just right in size for the average family.

The fire box, is arranged for burning either coal or wood and is provided with a powerful water front for heating the kitchen boiler.

If a large amount of baking is required, both coal and gas ovens can be operated at the same time.

It is the most wonderful, cooking and baking machine ever devised to make housekeeping drudgeless.

"Makes Cooking Easy"

H. L. Kincaide & Co., Quincy

ANNUAL CONVENTION

The eleventh annual convention of the Mass. Retail Grocers and Provision Dealers' association was held in Stoughton Wednesday. The business session was followed by a banquet and entertainment in the evening at the Town hall. In the afternoon the women of the party were taken in automobiles to nearby points of interest and on their return there was a special program for their entertainment at the Chick atawbut club.

An attractive book for which the George W. Prescott Publishing Company of Quincy was awarded the contract for printing 1400 copies contains the program of the day and all necessary information concerning the convention. Besides portraits of officials and much instructive reading matter it contains 137 advertisements all solicited and placed by Henry W. Mansfield, who is the secretary and treasurer of the association and also the legislative agent for it and its affiliated organizations. Mr. Mansfield is a hard and efficient worker along these lines. His work as legislative agent brings him into close touch with public men at the State House and he also speaks before many groccrs' associations. Only recently he addressed the Fall River Retail grocers' and marketmen's association.

PICTURE FILMS

The moving pictures are so important a feature of modern amusements that it will pay the people who make the films to show due caution as to their output. Much objection is being raised in New York to a big picture because it is considered by many white people as well as by negroes to be a libel on the colored race. In Boston Mayor Curley has seen a picture which ran for a time in New York, but which the mayor does not care for in Boston, as the central figure is a women in her birthday garb and nothing else. The big managers have made abundant money with pictures that have been, in the main, reasonably clean. They should stick to that sort of things. A large part of the picture support is furnished by women and children. It is not only wrong to ask them to see pictures which are indecent or which are libelous, but it is poor business policy; and it is not good business to alienate a considerable number of people of any race or color. The big fellows have not only the public welfare but their own and that of lesser managers to protect. They should guard them jealously and sensibly, and avoid rocks and shoals.

Brockton Enterprise

EXEMPLIFY DEGREE.

The third degree staff of Mt. Wollaston lodge, I. O. O. F., paid a visit to John Hancock lodge at Wollaston Wednesday evening and exemplified the degree upon eleven candidates from John Hancock, Mt. Wollaston and Neponset lodges. There were a large number of brothers present from the different lodges who were high in their praise for the most excellent and impressive work of the degree staff. Ice cream and cake were served after the business session.

IN NEW QUARTERS.

Quincy Public Market has moved from Kincaide's block into the new block on the Packard estate where they will continue their policy of selling goods at the lowest possible price consistent with quality. A new and up-to-date system will be in force under the same able manager, Mr. Burg, who gives his personal attention to every detail of the business.

With 20 years experience in the grocery and provision business and a long list of customers, this firm in its new and convenient quarters should greatly increase its volume of business. The store is attractive, the service good and every thing carried of the best all of which should appeal to the buyer.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

MAY BASKETS

A Large and Splendid Assortment of New and Original May Baskets.

GET ONE TODAY

10c to 25c

CHAS. C. HEARN, Druggist

REDUCTION IN PRICES IN COAL.

Your attention is called to the reduced spring prices on Anthracite Coal as follows

Lehigh Stove and Egg	$7.50
White Ash Stove and Egg	7.25
White Ash Nut	7.50
Shamokin Stove and Egg	7.50
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75
Pea	5.50
Franklin	8.50

We recommend the placing of your order at this time to insure the low prices.

Nothing but All Rail Clean Coal handled and delivered right by careful experienced drivers.

QUINCY COAL CO.

OFFICE and YARD

Penn St., Quincy Tel. 47-M

Ap.7 1mo

CORNER STONE LAYING IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

Members of Wollaston Congregational Church Attend

One of the prettiest and most novel sights ever witnessed in Wollaston took place at the conclusion of the corner stone laying of the Wollaston Congregational parish house when scores of toy balloons were released and went floating skywards.

As the tune "America" pealed out the children of the Sunday school let go these vari-colored spheres and myriads of them went bobbing up even higher and higher.

A light east wind carried them toward the setting sun and made a picture long to be remembered. For many minutes the balloons could be seen in silhouette, ever growing smaller and finally disappearing in space.

The event came as a fitting climax of the simple exercises which marked the laying of the corner stone Wednesday afternoon. The affair was witnessed by several hundred parishioners and residents and was in charge of Charles A. Campbell superintendent of the Sunday school. The building which is now well above the ground is being steadily constructed and the contractors guarantee its completion by September 15.

The exercises opened with the corner stone hymn "O Lord of Hosts, Whose Glory fills" led by Charles Everett, with Miss Dorothy Taylor at the piano. Scripture selections and prayer were offered by Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath, Ph. D., pastor of the church.

In opening the speaking Dr. Sneath spoke briefly of the special purposes of the parish house. Its primary purpose was for Sunday school work. Next came benevolent work. Finally came the social work and the welfare of the boys, and anything legitimate for the welfare of the community and the welfare of men and the glory of God.

Mayor Campbell was particularly pleased to represent the city on this occasion. "For the city to grow and grow right we must have good citizens and the church must assist in the work.

"The parish house will be a workshop for this church and community and it is just such buildings as this that will help along the work the city is trying to do."

Charles F. West, church clerk, read a brief historical sketch which told of developments from the inception of the idea in the first year of the pastorate of Dr. Sneath to the persent.

Superintendent Campbell said a few words of felicitation and read the following list of contents of the corner stone box:

Brief historical statement of the parish house movement.

Names of various committees and of members of the same.

Names of architects, contractors and superintendent.

Church manual.

Church calendars for month of April 1915.

Historical data concerning the Wollaston Congregational church.

Copies of the pastor's printed sermon, of Home Department letters.

Year Book of the Men's Congregational club. Programs of the Ladies auxiliary to the W. B. M., and the Ladies Benevolent society.

Brief accounts of the Y. P. S. C. E and members' names, of the Intermediate society and names of members, and of the Junior society and members' names. Also of the Sunday school and names of members.

The statistical report of the churches of the Suffolk South association, issued April 21, 1915.

A Buffalo nickel and a Lincoln cent, date of 1914.

A souvenir lead pencil for the parish house fund.

Postal card pictures and photographs of the church, parsonage, and public buildings of Wollaston.

Copies of The Congregationalist and denominational magazines.

A copy of each local paper.

Mayor Campbell's Inaugural address.

Photograph of the Push and Pull class, which made the first gift to the Parish House Fund.

Printed program of the corner-stone laying services.

A copy of the New Testament and psalms.

Various articles of printed matter issued by the church and its various organizations at different times.

The flag of the United States.

A base ball. Year Book, Wollaston Woman's Club.

List of church members of the Wollaston Congregational church.

The laying of the corner stone and the benediction was followed by the waving of flags and releasing of balloons by the children and the singing of "America."

The PROBLEM of GOOD MILK

All persons do not understand what is meant by good, safe milk. Some believe that the milk with a deep cream line is desirable, whereas, the Doctor knows that Holstein Milk, although containing little cream is often more desirable for babies, partly for this reason, or perhaps because of the method of production.

The real criterion of a good milk is its wholesome use. This depends upon the conditions at the dairy, and the special care given it until it reaches the consumer. Scrupulously clean and healthy cows, clean and healthy dairymen, rapid cooling, and protecting the milk, constant dairy and laboratory inspection are required. Furthermore safety is assured when the dealer pasteurizes his supply.

THE ELM FARM MILK COMPANY OF DORCHESTER offer pure Family Milk, and exceptional Nursery Milk at prices often charged for ordinary milk. Speak to the salesman, or call Dor. 2100. 6-1 mo.

CASE AGAINST MILK DEALER

As a result of the recent epidemic of septic sore throat in Milton and Dorchester, Edward E. Ford, a Milton milk dealer, was in the district court this morning, charged with violation of the milk law.

Draper was charged with selling milk which contained more than 500,000 cells of staphlococci to a cubic centimetre, something which could be determined only by chemical analysis.

Judge Avery said there was a good deal of uncertainty as to whether or not notice had been given the man as to the result of the chemical analysis and for that reason placed the case on file on payment of costs.

Witnesses heard for the Milton Board of eHalth were Dr. Abijah W. Drapjer and Dr. C. Rowe, members of the board. Charles E. Pierce, town counsel, conducted the case for the town, J. J. McAnarney appeared for the defendant.

CHARTER TO BE OPEN.

The charter of John Adams aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, it was announced Wednesday night at the regular meeting, will be open in May, June and July and a class initiation will be held for the large number of candidates who have already filed applications. Resolutions were passed on the death of Stanley Johnson, an active member who passed away last week in Providence, R. I.

PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES.

An interesting set of photographs is now on exhibition in the art gallery of the Public Library, the work of Mr. Willis Garey, a talented young photographer of this city. The pictures represent both exterior and interior views of some neighboring libraries in the group of which our own Public Library is the centre, in the work of cooperation with the Massachusetts Library Commission.

Of this group of libraries there are four pictures of the Thayer Library, Braintree, three of the Turner Free library of Randolph, and one of the Holbrook Public Library. An exterior view of the Milton Public Library and both exterior and interior views of the Fogg Library of South Weymouth and of the Tufts Library, Weymouth, are included in the collection.

To those who have, and to those who have not, noticed the detailed interior of our own beautiful building, a panoramic view of the reading room, the charging desk, one of the La Farge windows and the carved fireplace, will prove most interesting. Included with these pictures of Crane Memorial Hall are those of the Children's room and the Reading rooms at West Quincy and Atlantic. A new exterior view of the Central Library, which shows the front from the side of the tower and the west side of both the older building and the addition containing stack and Children's room is a distinguishing feature of the exhibition.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL NOTES.

A large blue print frame and track for same has recently been installed in the Industrial school. The frame and track were presented to the school by the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation.

The boys of the full time department in the Industrial school have organized a base ball team with Ernest Wallace as captain and Alfred Locarni as manager.

You need the Ledger every day. SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

CAPACITY HOUSE

(Continued from Page One.)

Morris Levi, (Thomas Buckley) appear in the rear of the hall and sell shoe strings and collar buttons to the audience until both are engaged.

Grand Knight James H. Gentleman arrives in time to have the post of interlocutor wished on him and the ends as door men and butlers troop on and carry out the regular program.

One feature of the evening was the tambo work by the ballet and ends. Another was the country dance by a group of girls and boys in Irish costumes, with Miss Livia Bizzozero making the hit as the dancer of the evening. Another pretty novelty was the Scotch dancing specialty in which a score of boys and girls danced a part of the Highland Fling.

Miss Catherine Brennan, who scored in a ballad, brought the finale to a close with a patriotic song. She was assisted by a chorus of girls in military costume and the end men all of whom joined in a military drill.

Miss Rose Du Temple was pianist of the evening and greatly assisted Ralph W. Crossen, under whose direction the show was presented. Hamilton's orchestra furnished a concert between parts and the music for dancing after the show.

REPAIR SIDEWALKS.

The bad spots in the granolithic sidewalks along Hancock street and on Granite street under the railroad bridge are being repaired. Along Hancock street in many places the roots of the trees had caused the sidewalk to bulge upwards. It would be better to remove some of the trees which have outlived their usefulness.

CHICHESTER S PILLS

THE DIAMOND BRAND. Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter s Diamond Brand Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist. Ask for CHI-CHES-TER S DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years known as Best, Safest, Always Reliable

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE

GOLD DUST

and how it actually works for you

The active principle of Gold Dust is a valuable antiseptic cleansing agent.

It actually works. It gets into the little corners and crevices where fingers and washcloths can't reach.

It permeates and dissolves dirt, grease and grime everywhere and it cleans and brightens everything.

Use Gold Dust not only for washing dishes, but for washing bathtubs and bathroom fixtures, scrubbing floors, washing woodwork, cleaning and freshening linoleum and oilcloth, cleaning and brightening pots, pans and cooking utensils, giving luster to glassware—in short, for any and every cleaning and brightening purpose.

"Let the GOLD DUST TWINS do your work"

5c and larger packages sold everywhere

THE N.K. FAIRBANK COMPANY MAKERS

SOUTH SHORE BRANCH

The annual meeting of the South Shore Branch of the Sunday School union will be held at St. Chrysostom's church, Wollaston, next Monday, opening at 4.15 with a business session and addresses on "How Shall We Teach Patriotism in the Sunday School." "Patriotism from the Viewpoint of a Clergyman," by Rev. H. Boyd Edwards of Milton, a merchant by Vernon A. Field of Wollaston and a teacher by Mrs. Whitman of Hingham.

At 6 o'clock supper will be served to be followed by a social hour.

The evening session opens at 7 o'clock and will be a conference, on "What Have Been Our Failures; What Our Successes?" in the Sunday School roll-call and five minute papers, the latter to be given by delegates from the different Sunday Schools in the district.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

ST. CHRYSOSTOM'S GUILD.

The Woman's Guild met with a good attendance at 10 o'clock Wednesday in the Guild room of St. Chrysostom's parish house for a sewing meeting.

A delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. Herbert F. Price, Mrs. George J. Pock and Mrs. Eleazer F. Drew.

At 2.30 the regular missionary meeting of the Guild was called to order by the president, Mrs. Daniel C. Miller. The secretary and treasurer Miss Annie Clean read the usual reports.

It was voted to hold a sale and supper May 20. It was announced the Christmas barrel this year for the negroes would be sent to Forksville, Virginia. A gift of a runner for the table in the Guild room was received from Mrs. Howard D. Fowler.

Mrs. David L. Jewell gave an excellent report of the Auxiliary meeting held April 21 in the Cathedral rooms, Boston.

GRANITE SHOE STORE

·LA·FRANCE·SHOP·

Fashion authorities say, "Women want short skirts because shoemakers make shoes so handsome."

Shoemakers say, "You dressmakers shortened the skirt so we had to make the shoes extra attractive."

You win if you wear LA FRANCE.

S 807 is the new Tedesco pump, in Sterling Patent Kid, cloth trimmed, in either putty or sand shade. Comes also in Gun Metal.

·LA·FRANCE·

The only obstacle which might keep you from procuring one of these pianos, was removed

Copyright, 1914, Stone & McCarrick, Inc.

Copyright, 1914, Stone & McCarrick, Inc.

There is only one thing which could possibly keep you from taking advantage of this most unusual opportunity. And that is, a wavering fear that something unlooked for might happen which would make it difficult for you to meet your payments. You might die, for instance, which would work a hardship upon your family to continue with the payments.

You feel that while things remain as they are, the extraordinary little payments would not only be very easy to meet but that it would be a pleasure to put a little bit of money to such a good use. The stumbling block is: "What if I should die suddenly before the piano is fully paid for." "Who would complete the payments?"

Let us tell you.

All this was thought of and discussed by those who proposed this unusual sale. And it was decided to surmount that obstacle right then and there. Right then and there it became a part of this plan to remove that fear from the mind of the customer: To take that risk off his shoulders.

And, accordingly we are going to make it a practise with the purchasers of instruments during this sale, where their accounts are up to date, to cancel all remaining payments in event of death. This not only applies to one payment or a few payments, but to all payments. If you were to die between the time you make your initial payment and the time your first payment is due, the whole 196 weekly payments would be cancelled immediately and a receipt in full turned over to your family.

This understanding is put in writing and handed to you when you make your purchase.

It is a big, broad, liberal policy, which completely removes every obstacle that you can possibly raise against taking advantage of this sale.

We have all along been telling you that this is the most advantageous sale of pianos ever held—and we repeat it.

$1 a week for the first year

The phrase, "one dollar a week for the first year" rolls off one's tongue so easily, we doubt very much if you realize how small these payments are.

This means that your entire payments for the whole of the first year are but 14 cents a day.

Your entire payments for the whole of the second year are less than 18 cents a day—or one dollar and twenty-five cents a week.

You are not restricted in making these small payments.

These small payments are your privilege.

If you wish to finish paying quicker there is nothing to hinder you from making 2 or more payments at a time.

We are merely pointing out how very small and convenient the payments are and that they are your privilege without having to pay interest on account of them.

The big opportunity $1.75 a week gives you to own a magnificent player-piano

The time has been, and not so very long ago, at that, when you could not procure a player-piano for less than 15 dollars a month. And IT, a second hand or any inferior instrument.

During this sale, you have an opportunity to procure as satisfactory a player-piano as there is made on the American Continent—and during the whole of the first year, you need pay but one dollar and 75 cents a week.

During the whole of the second year, you need pay but 2 dollars a week.

The thing that makes a player-piano a real delight and pleasure or else a source of a whole lot of dissatisfaction, is the player-action which is built within it.

And in this respect we can add a lot of personal testimony and experience, which is this:

We have, during the past 5 years, sold scores and scores of these players to the best families throughout this section, upon which there has not been as much as 5 cents spent for repairs during the entire time they have been in use.

Here is an opportunity you will never get again, and we advise you to take advantage of it without a day's delay.

¶ During this sale, the Piano Department will be open evenings by appointment, arrangements for which may be made by calling phone No. 1200, and asking for Mr. Bates.

Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

QUINCY, MASS

¶ All instruments sold during this sale will be delivered at once. Arrangements may be made, however, to have an instrument set aside, after being selected to be delivered later.

COLONIAL TEA IS DECIDED SUCCESS

Y. M. C. A. Gym Looks Very Attractive Wednesday Night

VARIED ENTERTAINMENT

The gymnasium of the Quincy Y. M. C. A. never looked more attractive than it did Wednesday evening on the occasion of a Colonial Tea given under the auspices of the Women's auxiliary. For this evening the use of the gymnasium was given over to the use of the women and the committee on decorations headed by Mrs. Joseph A. Sedgwick had transformed it into a bower of beauty. Around the sides and ends were draped, the flags used in the international signal code, the American flag of course occupying a prominent place, the whole making a very pretty effect.

On the gymnasium floor seats were arranged in a semi-circle leaving one end and the centre of the floor, which was used as a platform. At the other end were two prettily decorated booths At one of these, presided over by Mrs. A. H. Gilson assisted by Mrs. Robert Cranshaw, Colonial tea was served. At the other booth confectionery was on sale, and this was presided over by Mrs. Alfred Bean and Mrs. Eugene R. Stone.

The evening's entertainment was in charge of Mrs. William F. Hodgkinson who provided a program that was greatly enjoyed. It opened with a piano duet by Miss Mildred Crowley and Miss Clara Coe and was followed by a vocal solo, "Go Not Happy Day" by Miss Carolyn Lewis, with Miss Helen Seavey as accompanist. In response to an encore Miss Lewis sang "Roses in June."

The young women from the Woodward Institute, whose dancing at the Founder's day observance was so much enjoyed, gave the minuet, with Miss Amy Fallon as accompanist.

The next number on the program was a short one-act farce entitled "The Governess and Her Pupil." Mrs. A. B. Foster made an ideal governess, while the part of the pupil was correctly portrayed by Miss Marion Peterson. Other numbers were a solo by Mrs. Herbert Hennessey, "Blossoms Loud" with Miss Angelina C. McCarthy as accompanist.

Mrs. Herbert Hennessey and Mrs. W. F. Hodgkinson sang a vocal duet, "Come With Me" followed by a selection by the Kitchen orchestra, which created no end of amusement, the instruments used by the orchestra being kitchen tinware familiar to all housekeepers. The next number was a duet by Mrs. Frank C. Gilbert and Mrs. William F. Hodgkinson, who sang "Life's Dream is O'er" and for an encore "When We're Together."

Following this came a short, laughable play entitled "Mrs. Pipp's Waterloo" which was given by four Wollaston women tow of whom took men's parts. In this play the cast was:

Mrs. Pipps, Mrs. Richard F. Trumpper.

Mr. Pipps, Mrs. Walter F. Weld.

Mr. Murphy, a politician, Mrs. Chas. E. Hathaway.

Ellen, the maid, Mrs. Charles E. Sweet.

The next number on the program was a solo by Miss Minerva Biester, who sang "Carrissma" and for an encore "It Was Not So To Be." The evening's program, which had been one of unusual enjoyment, closed with a piano duet by Miss Ruth Hanson and Miss Ethel Beal.

SPORTING COMMENT

Most of the bowling leagues have closed their seasons with the time honored banquet and at all of them plans were immediately set underway to roll next fall.

our good totals made in Boston Wednesday night were Boylston 1567, Adams 1590 and Carruth 1585.

Thorndike, Tufts '15, broke the college record Wednesday by putting the shot 41 ft. 9 in..

BRIEFS

George A. Thompson of Glencoe place has practically recovered from an attack of tonsilitis.

The sixth annual dance of the Houghs Neck Lady Asociates is to be held in the Bungalow on Saturday evening, May 22.

DiNEIL WINS WEEKLY PRIZE

B. DiNeil secured the weekly prize at the Wardwell alleys Wednesday night in the rolloffs. There were 30 competitors. Di'Neil lives in Weymouth and with E. Dowd, a neighbor, will roll F. Tully and F. Rourke, also of that town, at Wardwells Monday night in a special ten string match.

DiNeil got 307 and topped Frank McPherson of West Quincy by four pins. Olindy followed in third place with 302. Dowd was fourth with 298 and B. Byrne fifth with 234. The cigars for high single went to A. Dalzellagors who had 110.

ELECT NEW PRESIDENT

The directors of the Atlantic Improvement association have elected Welcome G. Young as president to fill the unexpired term of Henry F. Mosses who resigned. Mr. Young is planning to get the association together Friday May 7th and reorganize for summer work. He expects to cut off most of the dead wood and get men in to the association for active service.

"Higbee of Harvard" a lively and most interesting comedy in three acts was presented by several of the young people of Atlantic before a large audience in the Atlantic Music hall on Wednesday evening.

The cast included: Watson W. Higbee from Montana,a good fellow with millions, who knows neither fear nor grammar, Frank Spicer; Hon. V. D. Withrow, a blue-blooded ex-senator with a tall family tree and a short bank account, Percival Hall; Loring Higbee, son of Watson, champion athlete of Harvard, in love with Madge, David Moffat; Theodore Dalrymple, called "Ted" worked his way through Harvard, in love with Nancy, Arthur Hall; Higgins, the butler, John Burke; Nancy Withrow, the senator's daughter an up-to-date, level-headed girl, Miss Eleanor Nelson; Madge Cummings, from Montana, a quiet sort with temper when needed, Miss Jean Arthur; Mrs. Ballou, the senator's sister from New York, who meets her second affinity at the eleventh hour, Mrs. Frank Spicer, Mrs. Malvina Meddigrew, originally from Missouri, must always be shown, Mrs. Albert Hall. Time the present.

The first act takes place on a lawn at Withrow's home in Brookline, Mass. the second in a drawing room at Withrow's and the third scene is laid several months later in a mining camp in Montana.

Before the curtain went up on the first act Miss Eva M. Robinson sang "Little Gray Home in the West" and "Mighty Lak a Rose."

Frank Spicer as the man from the West delighted the audience with his Western slang and Percival Hall as the blue-blooded ex-senator was as popular as ever.

David Moffat made a very ardent young lover and acted naturally and easily.

Arthur Hall as an energetic young college graduate, as a miner, or as a lover played his part in a very clever manner.

John Burke as the butler delighted the audience as usual and received as generous applause as ever before.

Miss Eleanor Nelson, the senator's daughter and Miss Jean Arthur as the girl from Montana were favorites of the evening. They are both popular to Atlantic audiences and Miss Arthur will be remembered as playing a leading part in the Senior Dramatics of Quincy High school in 1911. She will also play a leading part in the Alumni Dramatics to take place in the High school on May 7.

Mrs. Frank Spicer made a very charming hostess and seemed to be a great favorite of the audience.

Mrs. Albert Hall who was dressed in a rather odd style delighted the audience with every word.

Between the acts Miss Ethel M. Robinson gave a series of readings and Miss Doris C. Storck gave an exhibition of fancy dancing.

The play as a whole was the best that Atlantic audiences have enjoyed for some time. It will probably be repeated in Squantum in the near future.

PRATT'S BREAD,—try it with a bowl of milk and blueberries. All grocers.

FURNITURE and PIANO MOVING

PACKING and STORAGE

William D. King

106 Center St., Tel. Quincy 21003 21tf

FOR YOUNG FOLKS

Story of a Smart Boy Who Raised a Flock of Chickens.

MANY OF THEM LAID EGGS.

Profitable Way For Children to Spend Their Spare Time—Interesting Bits of Information—Puzzles and Games For the Small Fry.

Young people who live on farms or any place where they have a few rods of ground at their disposal might follow the example of a Pennsylvania boy with pleasure and profit. This boy, who is only nine years old, was given a hen and setting of eggs on his birthday. The hen hatched out eleven chicks, and nine of them were pullets. One of the males he sold for 75 cents when it was ten weeks old, and the other one he raised. That is the one he is shown holding in his arms. It is of the Langshan breed and grew to be very large. It was about a year old when the photograph was taken. Last winter his pullets laid many eggs. He took entire care of his flock and fed and watered them regularly. He lived in a small town and kept his flock in a yard back of his house. His father furnished the henhouse, but the flock earned much more than their feed cost. This season he is planning to raise several broods of chicks.

SMALL LAD AND HIS PET ROOSTER.

Pussy Raised the Rumpus.

A Chicago lady became so afraid of burglars that her husband had the house fitted with burglar alarms. Then the lady slept serenely for seven nights. On the eighth night, after all had retired, the family was aroused by a violent buzzing and the furious jangling of bells. A terrified group soon gathered in the upper hall, and the head of the family turned on the electric lights from garret to cellar. Armed with revolvers, the men cautiously descended to the parlors, found them silent, and then entered the dining room. Hah, a noise in the kitchen! Door carefully opened, and behold—the family cat! She had been fumbling at the doorknob and raised all the tumult and terror.

Double Acrostic.

All the words described consist of five letters. When rightly guessed and placed in proper order, one under the other, the primals will spell the name of a famous city and the finals the country in which it is found.

1. Expiring. 2. To lift. 3. Anaesthetic. 4. Vapor. 5. A play. 6. Relating to a kind of fairy. 7. Recently.

Answers—Dresden, Germany. Crosswords: 1. Dying. 2. Raise. 3. Ether. 4. Steam. 5. Drama. 6. Elfin. 7. Newly.—St. Nicholas.

Progressive Enigmas.

1. I watched him while we were at the 1 2 3. He 4 5 6 well and thanked us with 1 2 3 4 5 6 politeness.

2. The little 1 2 3 set off a bunch of firecrackers in the room. After it was 4 5 6 7 8 we found it much 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 by the catastrophe.

3. The 4 5 6 was made of 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 grass, and the 1 2 3 4 5 filled the room.

Answers: 1. Inn, ate—innate. 2. Imp, aired—impaired. 3. Mat, aromatic, aroma.

What Is Your Occupation?

The game may be played by three or more children. One player becomes the "guesser," and the others each agree upon an occupation which he is supposed to follow. The guesser then asks, "What is your occupation?" and all the other players must go through the operation of performing the labor agreed upon. If from any one the guesser can get an idea as to what the labor is then the laborer must take his place. He can have but one guess.

Charade.

My first the student loves to do.
And does when he his works review.
Abode my second proves to be,
A shelter of expediency.
Intended is my meaning third,
Firm purpose makes it ever heard.
My whole the envy of a king,
For happiness 'twill always bring.
Answer—Con, tent, meant—contentment.

ON THE DIAMOND

National League

At Philadelphia:	R	H	E
Philadelphia	3	6	1
Brooklyn	0	8	0

Batteries—Mayer and Killifer; Appleton, Ragan and McCarty.

At St. Louis:	R	H	E
Pittsburg	7	10	0
St. Louis	6	10	1

Batteries—Harmon, Cooper and Gibson; Sallee, Niehaus and Snyder.

At Cincinnati:	R	H	E
Chicago	9	16	3
Cincinnati	8	16	1

Batteries—Cheney, Adams, Standridge, Vaughn and Bresnahan; Lear, Benton, Schneider, Wingo and Dooin.

American League

At Chicago:	R	H	E
Chicago	7	9	1
Cleveland	3	8	2

Batteries — Benz and Schalk; Steen, Mitchell, Harstad, Coumbe and O'Neill.

At Detroit:	R	H	E
Detroit	12	13	2
St. Louis	3	4	2

Batteries — Dauss and McKee; James, Baumgardner and Agnew.

At Washington:	R	H	E
Washington	1	4	0
Philadelphia	0	7	2

Batteries—Johnson and Ainsmith; Wyckoff, McAvoy and Lapp.

Federal League

At Chicago:	R	H	E
Chicago	13	17	1
Kansas City	1	8	4

Batteries—Enzenroth, Brown and Fischer; Johnson, Adams and Easterly.

MIND UNBALANCED BY LOSS OF REST

Claim of Slayer Who Shot Man When He Was Awakened

Fitchburg, Mass., April 29.—The defense that he had just been awakened from his first sleep in nearly forty hours, and was mentally irresponsible for the deed, will be offered by Randolph Henderson for the killing of George Sweeney, whom he shot from his chamber window.

Henderson was arraigned in police court, pleaded not guilty and was held without bail on a murder charge.

Henderson lodged at the home of Mrs. Mary A. Perry on North street. He was awakened by Sweeney and two other men in the street below his window. He fired a revolver shot into the group. Sweeney was struck near the heart, dying almost instantly.

COWL KILLED HIMSELF

Probably Possessed With Morbid Craving to Frighten His Fiancee

Bridgeport, Conn., April 29.—Emily D. Wheeler, fiancee of Arthur H. Cowl, who committed suicide at her home, did not fire the shot which killed him when she pulled, at his bidding, the ribbon which he had attached to the trigger of his revolver.

Following his investigation, Coroner Phelan not only exonerated the girl from all blame, but insisted that it would have been impossible for her to pull the ribbon hard enough to discharge the weapon. He said Cowl must have had his finger on the trigger when the pistol went off.

One shell only was found in the revolver, and it was the bullet from this which entered Cowl's brain. This fact has given rise to the theory that Cowl had not intended to shoot himself, but was possessed with a morbid craving to frighten his fiancee. His mental condition for the past six months substantiates this theory.

HE LOOKED LIKE BOOTH

Death of Man Who Was Double of Assassin of Lincoln

Pottstown, Pa., April 29.—Thomas E. Humphreys, whose close resemblance to John Wilkes Booth led to his arrest shortly after President Lincoln was assassinated, died here at the age of 73.

Humphreys was a resident of Washington during the Civil war, and he was often the subject of comment among his friends because of his likeness to Actor Booth. When Lincoln was shot and the police had spread the net for his slayer, Humphreys was taken to jail. He was released later.

Fortune In Gems In Charity Play

Washington, April 29.—Detectives in the wings guarded $4,000,000 worth of gems worn by society performers in the charity play staged here by Mrs. Christian Hemmick.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

Charles P. Brightman, city treasurer of Fall River, Mass., since 1886, died from an apopletic stroke.

Alexander N. Scriabin, Russian pianist and composer, died at Moscow of blood poisoning, a slight wound on his face having become infected.

Two hundred German laborers who struck at Hamburg for higher wages won their demands three hours after they walked out.

Vassar college girls have petitioned for abolition of chaperones, the honor system and permission for male guests to visit them on Sunday.

New York lobster palaces must prune their cabaret programs or get theatre licenses, city officials announced.

NORTH WEYMOUTH

Letter Carrier Charles Tobin took a day of rest Wednesday and his route was covered by substitute R. B. Johnson of Boston.

By vote of the Board of Selectmen, the week of May 1-8 will be observed as clean-up week.

The following are the newly elected officers of the Village Study club: Prince H. Tirrell, president; Miss Helen E. Courtney, secretary; Mrs. Prince H. Tirrell, Mrs. Joseph Grant, Mrs. Freeman Putney, Jr., Harrison L. Cole and Sidney R. Cook, program committee.

Under the auspices of the Y. P. C. U. connected with the Universalist church the Weyquire Dramatic club gave a three-act drama, "The Private Tutor" Tuesday evening. The various parts were well sustained by Misses Lillian Fisher, Olive Blake, Minnie Thayer, Alfred Gardner, Geo. Webber, Frank Rand, Elbridge Bartlett and Arthur Sampson. There was a sale of ice cream and candy in charge of Miss Louisa Kittredge, Miss Ruth Thayer and Russell Stiles.

E. A. Stone, chauffeur of Combination One has resigned, to take effect May 1. Mr. Stone with the drivers of the two other combinations, petitioned the Board of Engineers for an increase of $100 in salary, the present salary being $900. While the Board was in sympathy with the request, it did not see its way clear to granting it. Driver Stone has fulfilled his duties in a painstaking efficient manner and his resignation is regretted. He will resume his former position at the Bay View garage owned by him and his brother Charles Stone. It is rumored that Charles Marr of the Landing will fill the vacancy.

The board of engineers of the fire department met Tuesday and organized for the coming year. Walter Pratt of Lovells corner was elected chief and John Q. Hunt clerk. There are two new members Wallace Bicknell, Ward Three engineer, vice Russell B. Worster resigned, and Hiram Nadell who succeeds P. W. Wolfe in Ward One; the appointments to take effect May 1.

MONDAY CLUB.

At the annual meeting of the Monday club Mrs. Edwin R. Sampson of Lincoln street was elected president for a second term. Other officers are Mrs. J. Herbert Walsh and Mrs. Frederick U. Hilton, vice presidents; Mrs. Gardner Alden, recording secretary; Mrs. William Wilde, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Chester Halnan, treasurer; Mrs. James B. Jones, Mrs. Harriet Voorhees, Mrs. Frank F. Crane, Miss Lillian Curtis and Mrs. Arthur Burr, executive committee; Mrs. William E. Ames, Mrs. Lawrence A. Drew and Mrs. Harold W. Joy, auditors and Mrs. Robert C. Steele, custodian.

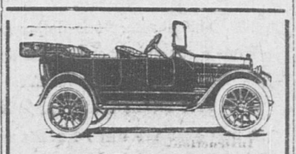

There was a substantial sum on hand in the treasury. Liberal donations were voted to the District Nurse fund, the High school scholarship fund and public playground.

Mrs. James Ford, Mrs. William H. Wilde and Mrs. Edwin R. Sampson were elected delegates to the meeting of the State Federation of Women's clubs at Marion in June.

AUXILIARY WHIST PARTY.

A whist party was held Monday evening in A. O. H. hall under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the local A. O. H. It was well attended twelve tables being in play. Miss Kathryn Mack the president was chairman assisted by Miss Kitty Egan.

The prizes were: first ladies' a 12-ride ticket from Quincy to Boston, awarded to Mrs. William Crehan; first men's, also a ticket book to Mr. Dwyer; second lady's hand bag to Miss Anna Egan; second men's, gilt edge cards in leather case to Alfred Cadman and consolations to Mrs. Henry Hurley and Martin Cody. Ice cream and cake were served.

JACKSON Model 46

THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL, SILENT AND SPEEDY, NO WONDER!

"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"

Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT

$1375

JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL. QUINCY 141

GOAL

ANNOUNCEMENT

April 1, 1915.

Full coal bins are a source of real satisfaction. We are filling our bins as rapidly as possible with FRESH MINED COAL. By placing your order now YOU can take advantage of the LOW PRICES announced in the schedule below. Coal will positively ADVANCE IN PRICE later. There will be no Further Reduction.

We should be glad to call and talk Coal with you if you will notify us.

PRICES FOR CASH

Franklin Egg and Stove	$8.50 per ton
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75 per ton
Shamokin Stove	7.50 per ton
White Ash Broken	6.50 per ton
White Ash Egg	7.25 per ton
White Ash Stove	7.25 per ton
White Ash Nut	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Broken	6.75 per ton
Lehigh Egg	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Stove	7.50 per ton
Pea	5.50 per ton

25 cents per ton extra where coal is carried in. Orders taken for these Prices are for delivery by July 1, 1915.

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc

BOWLING FOR DAILY EXERCISE

Keep your body in fit condition. Bowling is growing more popular. If you can't play golf—learn to bowl. Bowl a few strings a day and keep your body in good physical condition. For Fun, Exercise and Health, visit

WARDWELL'S BOWLING ALLEYS

Clean and well ventilated. Courteous Attendants.

Bowling 10c a string — The new alleys
1506--1508 Hancock St. Kincaide Block

Jan. 26-tu.-th.-s.-tf

JOHNSON AND CO.'S PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT

Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.

IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.

Be Sure My Name is on The Band

Yours, JOHNSON

Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

SCHOOL BAZAAR.

A bazaar was held at the High school Tuesday by the schools of the town for the benefit of the sewing and sloyd departments. Miss Helen Cowan and Miss A. L. Tucker had general charge. The Athens school table was presided over by Miss May Ford and Miss Florence Barter. Other schools also had tables. There was a musical entertainment given by the High school orchestra and talent selected from the pupils. In the biscuit making contest 16 girls entered, the prize a copper chafing dish, being awarded to Miss Dorothy MacCarthy of the High school. The judges were Mrs. E. R. Sampson, president of the Monday club and Mrs. William Wagner, president of the Old Colony club.

Andrew I. Johnston of Wollaston, district deputy grand master of Crescent lodge of East Weymouth, will be an invited guest at its observance of the 96th anniversary of Odd Fellowship tonight. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Johnston.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
830 A.M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M
914-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10.30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Room 8 DURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK
QUINCY.

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer

is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

BE WISE
FOOL THE FLIES
HAVE YOUR SCREENS
RE-COVERED NOW
TELEPHONE OR WRITE
HOLMES & HALL
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1698 W

OFFICIALS STILL MUCH IN DARK

City Clerk Crane and Chief Engineer Billings attended the conference with Fire Hazard Commissioner O'Keefe of the Metropolitan district Wednesday of the fire chiefs and city clerks, relative to the gasoline rules. According to the report which these two officials make they are fully as much in the dark as to the gasoline rules as they were before the conference. The gasoline rules have been changed so often this year that it is a continual puzzle to understand them.

Children Cry
FOR FLETCHER'S
CASTORIA

Quincy Savings Bank

BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.

SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.

CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S
Tel. 1837-W Quincy

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING
WALL PAPER FOR SALE
KUSTAA RASANEN
121 Copeland St., West Quincy
Tel. Con. 13-tf

His Love Story

By MARIE VAN VORST

Illustrations by RAY WALTERS

(Copyright by the Bobbs-Merrill Company)

(Continued from last issue)

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Le Comte de Sabron, captain of French cavalry, takes to his quarters to raise by hand a motherless Irish terrier pup, and names it Pitchoune.

CHAPTER II—Sabron dines with the Marquise d' Esclignac and meets Miss Julia Redmond, American heiress, who sings for him an English ballad that lingers in his memory.

CHAPTER III—Sabron, trying to save Pitchoune's life, declines a second invitation to dinner because of a "very sick friend."

CHAPTER IV—No more invitations come from the Chateau d' Esclignac. Pitchoune, though lame from his accident, thrives and is devoted to Sabron.

CHAPTER V—Sabron and Pitchoune meet the Marquise and Miss Redmond and after the story of Pitchoune is told Sabron is forgiven and invited to dinner again.

CHAPTER VI—Sabron is ordered to Algiers, but is not allowed to take servants or dogs. He is invited to a musicale at the Chateau.

CHAPTER VII—At the musicale Miss Redmond, hearing that Sabron cannot take Pitchoune with him, offers to take care of the dog during his master's absence.

CHAPTER VIII—Pitchoune, homesick for his master, runs away from Miss Redmond. The Marquise plans to marry Julia to the Duc de Tremont.

CHAPTER IX—Unknown to Sabron, Pitchoune follows him to Algiers.

CHAPTER X—Dog and master meet and Sabron gets permission from the war minister to keep his dog with him.

CHAPTER XI—In his desert camp Sabron receives a letter from Julia telling him that Pitchoune has run away from her.

CHAPTER XII—Sabron writes Julia of Pitchoune. The Duc de Tremont finds the American heiress capricious. A newspaper report that Sabron is among the missing after an engagement with the natives causes Julia to confess to her aunt that she loves him.

CHAPTER XIII—Sabron, wounded in an engagement, falls into the dry bed of a river, and is watched over by Pitchoune. After a horrible night and day Pitchoune leaves him.

CHAPTER XIV—Julia goes in search of Sabron, reported missing.

CHAPTER XV—Tremont takes Julia and the Marquise to Algiers in his yacht, not knowing their errand.

Tremont and Marquise d'Esclignac had docilely gone with Julia Redmond every day at a certain hour to the different hospitals, where Julia, after rendering some slight services to the nurses—for she was not needed—sang for the sick, standing in the outer hallway of the building open on every side. She knew that Sabron was not among these sick. Where he was or what sounds his ears might hear, she could not know; but she sang for him, and the fact put a sweetness in her voice that touched the ears of the suffering and uplifted those who were not too far down to be uplifted, and as for the dying, it helped them, as the soldier said, to die.

She had done this for several days, but now she was restless. Sabron was not in Algiers. No news had been brought of him. His regiment had been ordered out farther into the desert that seemed to stretch away into infinity, and the vast cruel sands knew, and the stars knew where Sabron had fallen and what was his history, and they kept the secret.

The marquise made herself as much at home as possible in Algiers, put up with the inefficiency of native servants, and her duty was done. Her first romantic elan was over. Sabron had recalled to her the idyl of a love-affair of a quarter of a century before, but she had been for too long Marquise d'Esclignac to go back to an ideal. She pined to have her niece a duchess, and never spoke the unfortunate Sabron's name.

They were surrounded by fashionable life. As soon as their arrival had been made known there had been a flutter of cards and a passing of carriages and automobiles, and this worldly life added to the unhappiness and restlessness of Julia. Among the guests had been one woman whom she found sympathetic; the woman's eyes had drawn Julia to her. It was Comtesse de la Maine, a widow, young as herself and, as Julia said, vastly better-looking. Turning to Tremont on the balcony, when he told her she was beautiful, she said:

"Madame de la Maine is my ideal of loveliness."

The young man wrinkled his fair brow.

"Do you think so, Mademoiselle? Why?"

"She has character as well as perfect lines. Her eyes look as though they could weep and laugh. Her mouth looks as though it could say adorable things."

Tremont laughed softly and said:

"Go on, you amuse me."

"And her hands look as though they could caress and comfort. I like her awfully. I wish she were my friend."

Tremont said nothing, and she glanced at him suddenly.

"She says such lovely things about you, Monsieur."

"Really! She is too indulgent."

"Don't be worldly," said Miss Redmond gravely, "be human. I like you best so. Don't you agree with me?"

"Madame de la Maine is a very charming woman," said the young man, and the girl saw a change come over his features.

At this moment, as they stood so together, Tremont pulling his mustache and looking out through the bougainvillea vines, a dark figure made its way through the garden to the villa, came and took its position under the balcony where the duke and Miss Redmond leaned. It was a native, a man in filthy rags. He turned his face to Tremont and bowed low to the lady.

"Excellency," he said in broken French, "my name is Hammet Abou. I was the ordonnance of Monsieur le Capitaine de Sabron."

"What!" exclaimed Tremont, "what did you say?"

"Ask him to come up here," said Julia Redmond, "or, no—let us go down to the garden."

"It is damp," said Tremont, "let me get you a shawl."

"No, no, I need nothing."

She had hurried before him down the little stairs leading into the garden from the balcony, and she had begun to speak to the native before Tremont appeared. In this recital he addressed his words to Julia alone.

"I am a very poor man, Excellency," he said in a mellifluous tone, "and very sick."

"Have you any money, Monsieur?"

"Pray do not suggest it," said the duke sharply. "Let him tell what he will; we will pay him later."

"I have been very sick," said the man, "I have left the army. I do not like the French army," said the native simply.

"You are very frank," said Tremont brutally. "Why do you come here at any rate?"

"Hush," said Julia Redmond imploringly. "Do not anger him, Monsieur, he may have news." She asked: "Have you news?" and there was a note in her voice that made Tremont glance at her.

"I have seen the excellency and her grandmother," said the native, "many times going into the garrison."

"What news have you of Captain de Sabron?" asked the girl directly. Without replying, the man said in a melancholy voice:

"I was his ordonnance, I saw him fall in the battle of Dirbal. I saw him shot in the side. I was shot, too. See?"

He started to pull away his rags. Tremont clutched him.

"You beast," he muttered, and pushed him back. "If you have anything to say, say it."

Looking at Julia Redmond's colorless face, the native asked meaningly:

"Does the excellency wish any news?"

"Yes," said Tremont, shaking him. "And if you do not give it, it will be the worse for you."

"Monsieur le Capitaine fell, and I fell, too; I saw no more."

Tremont said:

"You see the fellow is half lunatic and probably knows nothing about Sabron. I shall put him out of the garden."

But Miss Redmond paid no attention to her companion. She controlled her voice and asked the man:

"Was the Capitaine de Sabron alone?"

"Except," said the native steadily, with a glance of disgust at the duke, "except for his little dog."

"Ah!" exclaimed Julia Redmond, with a catch in her voice, "do you hear that? He must have been his servant. What was the dog's name?"

"My name," said the native, "is Hammet Abou."

To her at this moment Hammet Abou was the most important person in North Africa.

"What was the little dog's name, Hammet Abou?"

The man raised his eyes and looked at the white woman with admiration.

"Pitchoune," he said, and saw the effect.

Tremont saw the effect upon her, too.

"I have a wife and ten children," said the man, "and I live far away."

"Heavens! I haven't my purse," said Julia Redmond. "Will you not give him something, Monsieur?"

"Wait," said Tremont, "wait. What else do you know? If your information is worth anything to us we will pay you, don't be afraid."

"Perhaps the excellency's grandmother would like to hear, too," said the man naively.

Julia Redmond smiled: the youthful Marquise d'Esclignac!

Once more Tremont seized the man by the arm and shook him a little.

"If you don't tell what you have to say and be quick about it, my dear fellow, I shall hand you over to the police."

"What for?" said the man, "what have I done?"

"Well, what have you got to tell, and how much do you want for it?"

"I want one hundred francs for this," and he pulled out from his dirty rags a little packet and held it up cautiously.

It looked like a package of letters and a man's pocketbook.

"You take it," said the Duc de Tremont to Julia Redmond, "you take it, Mademoiselle." She did so without hesitation; it was evidently Sabron's pocketbook, a leather one with his initials upon it, together with a little package of letters. On the top she saw her letter to him. Her hand trembled so that she could scarcely hold the package. It seemed to be all that was left to her. She heard Tremont ask:

"Now Speak Without Reserve."

"Where did you get this, you miserable dog?"

"After the battle," said the man coolly, with evident truthfulness, "I was very sick. We were in camp several days at ——. Then I got better and went along the dried river bank to look for Monsieur le Capitaine, and I found this in the sands."

"Do you believe him?" asked Julia Redmond.

"Hum," said Tremont. He did not wish to tell her he thought the man capable of robbing the dead body of his master. He asked the native: "Have you no other news?"

The man was silent. He clutched the rags at his breast and looked at Julia Redmond.

"Please give him some money, Monsieur."

"The dog!" Tremont shook him again. "Not yet." And he said to the man: "If this is all you have to tell we will give you one hundred francs for this parcel. You can go and don't return here again."

"But it is not all," said the native quietly, looking at Julia.

Her heart began to beat like mad and she looked at the man. His keen dark eyes seemed to pierce her.

"Monsieur," said the American girl boldly, "would you leave me a moment with him? I think he wants to speak with me alone."

But the Duc de Tremont exclaimed in surprise:

"To speak with you alone, Mademoiselle! Why should he? Such a thing is not possible!"

"Don't go far," she begged, "but leave us a moment, I pray."

(To be Continued.)

HELPFUL WORDS

FROM A QUINCY CITIZEN

Is your back lame and painful?
Does it ache especially after exertion?
Is there a soreness in the kidney region?
These symptoms suggest weak kidneys.
If so there is danger in delay.
Weak kidney get fast weaker.
Give your trouble prompt attention.
Doan's Kidney Pils are for weak kidneys.
Your neighbors use and recommend them.
Read this Quincy testimony.

G. E. Mitchell, prop. restaurant, 26 and 27 Temple street, Quincy, says: "A severe cold, settled in my kidneys and disordered them. I didn't seem able to overcome the trouble until I used one box of Doan's Kidney Pills. I improved at once and since then haven't needed a kidney medicine. I know that Doan's Kidney Pills are a reliable remedy for the back and kidneys."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Mitchell had. Foster-Milburn Co., Prop., Buffalo, N. Y.

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton Director
Street Floor, Greenleaf Block
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
Pano Instructions Par Excellence Voice
Private or Class Lessons
Tel. 539-M 31-tf

Arthur B. Foster
CARPENTER and BUILDER
14 Bay View St., Quincy Point
Telephone Connection
31-1m

CARPENTER AND BUILDER
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1891 in Quincy
All Work Given Prompt Attention
W. R. LOFGREN
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 368-3

PLANNING TO ANNUL KLEIST MARRIAGE

Millionaire Breitung to Bring Action In Behalf of Daughter

New York, April 29.—Suit to annul the marriage of Juliet Brietung, millionaire heiress, to Max Kleist, whose $250,000 alienation suit against his wife's parents was thrown out of court, will be brought within a few weeks.

Edward N. Brietung, millionaire father of the bride, will bring action in her behalf, it is reported. He will allege that the girl was misled.

Mrs. Breitung-Kleist declared that her parents were in no way responsible for her break with her husband. Kleist, himself, killed her love for him a short time after the secret marriage, she said, and she realized quickly he was not the ideal husband she had pictured.

THE THAW TANGLE

Prosecution Makes Move to Block Jury Test of Prisoner's Sanity

New York, April 29.—The appellate division of the supreme court granted an application of the state attorney general for an alternative writ restraining Supreme Court Justice Hendrick from empanelling a jury to test the sanity of Harry K. Thaw. Argument on the question as to whether the writ should be made permanent will be heard on May 7.

Hendrick, in a recent opinion, decided he had power to call in a jury to aid him in determining Thaw's sanity, and announced that he would do so. The state authorities contend the justice had no such power.

The step now taken is the first in the announced intention of the attorney general to take the question up to the highest court in the state for final adjudication.

POLICE CHIEF KILLS SELF

Boys Had Cut Off His Whiskers and Stolen Official Insignia

Metuchen, N. J., April 29.—Fear that he was about to be publicly disgraced and deprived of the "chief of police" badge he had worn proudly for fifteen years caused Cassimere Ofenberger, 79, to end his life with carbolic acid, his relatives said.

A crowd of boys found the veteran police chief asleep in the city hall one night. They cut off his whiskers and stole his badge and club. Charges were preferred against him and he was to appear at a hearing May 3.

Tennessee Lynching Bee

Somerville, Tenn., April 29.—A masked mob stormed the Fayette county jail, seized Tom Brooks, a negro, charged with killing two farmers, and hanged him.

Sheriff's Sale.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss.

Quincy, March 22, A. D. 1915

Seized on execution and will be sold at public auction, on Saturday the 1st day of May, A. D. 1915 at nine o'clock A. M., at my residence No. 163 Franklin Street, in said Quincy, all the right, title and interest that Cyrille Grenier, sometimes known as Cyrille Greanier, had (not exempt by law from attachment or levy on execution) on the said 22nd day of March, at nine o'clock A. M., the time the same was seized on execution, in and to the following described real estate, to wit;—

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in that part of Quincy known as Adams Shore and being lots Nos. 213 and 214 as shown on plan of house lots at Adams Shore, Quincy, dated December 13, 1908, Ernest W. Branch, Surveyor, recorded with Norfolk Deeds, plan book 51, plan 2430.

GEORGE H. FIELD, Deputy Sheriff
3t April 15-22-29

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of David B. Macomb, late of New York in the State of New York, deceased, testate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, and appointing Roger D. Swaim of Cambridge, his agent, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the subscriber.

(Address)
GOOLD H. BULL, Executor.
Care of Roger D. Swaim.
16 Central St., Boston, Mass.
April 16, 1915 3t April 22-29 May 6

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

MODERN HOMES, WOLLASTON
$4500 to $5500
Just completed with every late convenience. Ideal location Warren and Newport avenues. Beautiful view, fine neighborhood. 6 minutes from R. R. Station. Apply
ARTHUR F. RAYMOND, Quincy
22 Thurs & Sat. tf

KEEP POSTED ON THE PEOPLE'S WANTS — CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING — WHY WORRY LET THESE ADS LIFT YOUR BURDEN

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Large front furnished room, private family. Mrs. C. F. Foster, 721 Washington street, Quincy Point. 27-6t

TO LET—3 or 4 room suite, modern improvements. Reasonable rent, furnished if desired, 132 Marlboro street Wollaston Park. 28-tf

TO LET—Half house, all improvements, electric lights, gas, fitted screens; four minutes to trains, one minute to electrics. Off Independence Avenue. Tel. Quincy 789 R. W. J. Talbot, 3 Lawry street. 26-6t

TO LET—Upper apartment 91 Revere road, 6 rooms, gas and coal range gas light. Rent reduced to $18. Small adult family. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1 Quincy. 23-tf

TO LET — Furnished flat of six rooms, modern improvements, nice locality, 12 minutes from Quincy station and 4 minutes from electric cars. Write M. G. J. Ledger Office. 24-9t

TO LET—Seven room flat, all modern improvements, situated at 43 Dysart street. Possession given May 1. 39 Dysart street. 21-tf

TO LET—6 room tenements, all improvements. Apply to C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 20-tf

TO LET—Tenement of 7 rooms, all improvements. Rent $25. Apply 233 Washington street. 20-12t

TO LET—Modern apartment, near high school; two-family house, everything separate; 7 rooms and bath; electricity and gas. Apply A. D. Cossaboom, 95 Merrymount road; Tel. 1374-M. 15-12t

TO LET—Lower flat in two-family house. Living room, dining room, bedroom, kitchen and bathroom, pantry, good closets and cellar. Coal and gas range, furnace, electric lights. Every convenience. Rent $20. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 13-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 7-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house, 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2, Quincy or 110 South street, Boston, Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

TO LET

FOR RENT—In Quincy Centre, opposite Adams Academy, house 7 rooms, and bath 18 Faxon avenue, suite 6 rooms and bath, every modern improvement Tel. 414-M Weymouth. 26-tf

TO LET—House of three rooms. Apply Hammond place, off Water street. 23-6t

TO LET—Tenement of six rooms at 8 Mechanic street. Apply to E. D. Barrett, 27 Revere road. tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Float stage, 32x10, well built, galvanized fastened. Russell G. Hunt, 125 Broad street, Weymouth. Telephone 157. 29-2t

FOR SALE—One mission set, chiffonier, and a morris chair, practically new. Apply between 3 and 6, Room 7 Durgin and Merrill block. 29-6t

FOR SALE—1910 Marmon, 5 passenger auto, condition excellent. Most as good as new. Price about one quarter of original cost. Address Frank P. Waterhouse, 98 Lincoln avenue, Wollaston. Tel. Quincy 654-2. 28-tf

FOR SALE—1915 Reo 5 passenger car run less than 1000 miles. Owner has placed order for 6 cylinder Reo Can be seen and demonstrated at Central Garage, Quincy. Tel. 1035 W. 27-tf

FOR SALE—Four room summer cottage, furnished; Houghs Neck, easy terms, $200 down. Write C. L. Ledger Office. 26-6t

FOR SALE—In South Braintree, 8 room house and barn, about 35,000 ft. of land, corner lot on Hancock and Washington streets, electric cars pass the door, call at 1397 Washington St., at home 4.30 P. M.
Alexander Downey.
April 26 6t.

FOR SALE—Spars, sails, running gear and steering wheel for a 25 ft. sloop at a bargain, in best of condition C. W. Sears, rear of 403 Washington street, Quincy. 24-6t

FOR SALE or TO LET—New two-flat house on Kittredge avenue. Each flat has 5 rooms and bath, all modern improvements, coal and gas range, electric lights. Inquire at 11 Ring avenue off Washington street. 23-6t

FOR SALE—Stoddard Dayton Roadster in first class condition, top, windshield, full equipment. Will sell cheap Apply to Mrs. John F. Welch, corner Hancock and Elm streets. 23-tf

FOR SALE—Milk wagon, strong, good condition, also Democrat, two seats, painted and varnished, both at a bargain. Must be sold. Ellis, 50 Squantum street, East Milton. 22-6t

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-tf. L P.

FOR SALE—Lawn dressing, stone dust and gravel, also rubbish carted away. Peter McConarty, 5 Pearl street. Tel. Quincy 1016 M. 30-1m

MISCELLANEOUS

SOMEONE—Please answer who will take a very fine new piano into their home and use carefully. Privilege of buying later on easy terms if desired. Wish to move at once. Write for full particulars, M. L. M., Ledger Office. 24-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street Tel. 1307-M. Quincy. Res. 22-tf

TO LET
Large Room 30x36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
Old Furniture Refinished
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

LOST

LOST—Gold watch and fob Wednesday, between Quincy Adams station and High street or on 2.14 train from Boston. Finder rewarded by returning to T. Ledger Office. 29-3t

LOST—April 27, between Arlington street and Poland's hall, plain gold band bracelet. Finder please return to Miss C. H. Livingston, 143 Arlington street, Wollaston. 29-3t

LOST—Waltham watch, gold case, between Quincy and Quincy Adams depot. Finder please notify J. O. Basso, general delivery Quincy. Reward offered. 27-3t

LOST—About six o'clock on Saturday evening, either between Cottage avenue and the Quincy railroad station, or on the 6.12 train to Boston, about $87 in a roll of bills. The loss means much to the loser. If the one who finds it will communicate with D. at the Ledger Office he will receive a reward. 27-3t

WANTED

WANTED—At once, lady of refinement, to represent large, old established New York House. Permanent position with good income. Experience unnecessary. Pleasant outside work, all or spare time. Write A. K. Ledger Office. 29-3t

WANTED—Man to sell accident and sick insurance by old line stock company policies, sold on monthly plan, best commission pair. Frank Connor, 176 Federal street, Room 409, Boston. 27-3t

WANTED—An experienced maid for general housework. References required. Apply at 118 Merrymount road. 26-tf

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

TO LET
After May 1, Store or Stores
No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.
Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop
—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall
—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for E. R. Kribs.
Greenleaf Block. ('Phone 21066) Quincy

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.
Cosy upper 4 room and bath flat, 122 Glendale Road, $19.
H. F. McIntire HOUSES Greenleaf Bl'k Tel. Quincy 1665-W.
Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.
1-1 yr.

Read Ledger Advs.

KINCAIDE THEATRE

"THE WARRENS OF VIRGINIA"

By the Famous Players.

The great drama "Warrens of Virginia" ran for more than a year at the Belasco Theatre, New York. The Photo Play is without question one of the greatest civil war plays ever produced—Great Battle Spectacle—The inner workings of the Union and Confederate Armies—War sufferings—Surrender of Lee at Appomatox—The thrills of the daughter of General Warren of Virginia and her lover Ned Burton of New York who enlisted in the Union Army.

VAUDEVILLE --- Annetta Phillips Co., Dramatic Sketch "THE SACRIFICE". The Phillips Co. formerly acted for the Lubin Film Co. This sketch is some sensation. "La Reane Trio"-- Acrobatic Comedians and songsters. "Dougald" Scotch Songster and wit.

Thurs. -- Fri. -- Sat. — Daily at 2.30 P. M. 10 and 15c. Evenings at 8 — 10, 15, 25c

Coming Monday--- "Cameo Kirby" Romantic Photo-Play of South before the War. New Episode "Exploits of Elaine." Comedy Film "Gussie Rivals Jonah."

FROM OUR READERS.

April 28

Editor of the Ledger:—

Will you kindly correct a statement appearing in Wednesday's issue to the effect that among other architects I am preparing plans in competition for New School houses and a contagious hospital.

I received in Wednesday morning's mail an invitation from the Mayor to submit such plans but for ethical reasons I feel obliged to decline the invitation.

curs very truly,
A. H. Wright

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

FINED $50.

Pasquale Colasante, whose home at 152 Main street was recently raided by the police, pleaded guilty to keeping and exposing liquor for sale when arraigned before Judge Avery this morning. He was fined $50.

You need the Ledger every day.

Grand Opening!

THE QUINCY PUBLIC MARKET

Will open its doors at their NEW market at

1464 Hancock Street — New Block Next to Packard's Estate — Quincy

Friday, April 30th, at 2 p. m.

With a Complete Stock of new Meats of all kinds, and a Good Variety of Fresh Fish

GROCERIES, TEAS AND COFFEES a specialty

Without further invitation, we invite all of our friends and acquaintances and the public in general to call on us. We will have some special surprises for you in the way of prices. Neither money, trouble nor time has been spared to make this the Neatest, Most Sanitary Food Shop in this town, and we are here to give you the very best, in QUALITY PRICE and SERVICE.

OUR POLICIES

1st TO TELL you the exact truth about the goods WE sell.
2nd TO SELL such at prices lower than, or as low as any other like store in the state.
3rd TO GIVE you the most efficient service that is humanely possible.
4th TO SELL goods of dependable quality.
5th WE WILL Back Up these Policies by refunding the full amount of any purchase with which you are not fully satisfied, and do so without question.

PRICES TALK and QUALITY WINS

MEAT DEPT.		FISH DEPT.		GROCERY DEPT.
Face Rump Roast (best)	22c lb	Shore Haddock	per lb 5c	Coffee as good as you pay 35c a lb for	Sale price lb 19c
Tender Rib Roast	15c lb	Eastern Halibut	per lb 18c	High Grade Ceylon Tea	lb 35c
Pot Roast (lean)	14c lb	Fresh Ellwives	3 for 10c	1 lb can Royal Cocoa Reg. 25c Now	23c
Top Round Steak (best)	28c lb	Fresh Flounders	per lb 6c	Evaporated Milk	3 cans 25c
Sirloin Steak (best cuts)	28c lb	Fresh Mackerel	2 for 25c	Peas, Corn, Tomatoes	3 cans 25c
Fancy Corned Brisket	15c lb	Salt Labrador Herring	3 for 10c	Van Camps Ketchup Reg. 25c Now	17c
Fat Salt Pork	11 1/2c lb	Fresh Opened Oysters	qt 40c	Best Bread Flour	bag $1.05
Butcher's Steak That's Real TENDER	25c lb	Large can Tuna Fish	23c	Quincy Eggs	per doz 30c
Leg Spring Lamb	21c lb	Fresh Boiled Lobsters	23c

SOUVENIRS WILL BE GIVEN FREE

If on the day you make your purchase, any store in this state sells the same quality article for less money, on proof we will return the difference to you.

OUR CLAIM IS THIS: We are prepared to do business on a percentage basis, cheaper than any market in town.

The reason is this: Store and appurtenances the latest, our own knowledge and experience in handling Meats, our resources in cash buying, etc., all go to make a hard combination to beat.

Thanking you and again extending to all a cordial invitation to call and inspect our store, we are yours for MEATS and FISH.

QUINCY PUBLIC MARKET

1464 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY

NEW BLOCK OPPOSITE KINCAIDE'S ANNEX

FREE DELIVERY LEGAL STAMPS TEL. CON.

DID NOT FEAR PLATT THREAT

Roosevelt Bound to Receive Nomination For Governor

CONFERENCES WITH "BOSS"

Both Houses of Legislature Were Controlled by "Organization" and Governor Had to Go Where Power Was to Secure Affirmative Action—Admits Charges Against Barnes

Syracuse, N. Y., April 29.—Threats exchanged by Theodore Roosevelt and "Easy Boss" Platt, when the latter insisted upon making Roosevelt a candidate for the vice presidency, figured strongly in the testimony given by Roosevelt in the $50,000 suit for alleged libel, brought against him by William Barnes.

Roosevelt told how he served notice upon Platt that he would "fight" for the nomination for governor if Platt made good his threat to keep him out of the race for not accepting the vice presidential nomination.

Asked particularly about his conferences with Platt the witness said: "I sought the advice of Platt because I knew it to be of value. His wide experience and his thorough knowledge of the state made his advice of real value.

"I know, in my own mind, after investigation, that both houses of the legislature when I was governor were controlled by the organization. I know that if I wanted real affirmative good action I would have to go where the power was, to Platt. I was not content to have merely a negatively good administration."

His continued conferences with Platt after he became president were to avail himself of Platt's experience, he said. Roosevelt said that he chose Bliss and Cortelyou to handle his campaign because he knew them to be absolutely upright and honest, and because they would make no promises.

Counsel Ivins read a speech by Roosevelt in 1913, in which he was reported as saying that Barnes is a "menace to the state of New York." Ivins said he wanted to show Roosevelt's state of mind.

Roosevelt said of another speech, in which he was reported to say that "Mr. B. and Mr. M. should be in the same party," that he was incorrectly quoted. "I said Mr. Barnes and Mr. Murphy," he said.

Roosevelt was quoted as saying that "Whitman was one of the most efficient instruments of Tammany." An objection on the reading of this speech was sustained. In another speech Roosevelt was quoted as saying that he wouldn't say that Barnes' and Murphy's principles were the same, because he wasn't sure they had any principles.

Counsel for Roosevelt endeavored to show that certain figures regarding campaign funds, read by Ivins from what purported to be an official report, were incorrect because the books were lost and the figures given were only approximations.

Roosevelt displayed so much energy in answering questions put to him in direct examination that counsel for Barnes asked the court to have his "gesticulations" stopped. The court ruled that they could not be controlled.

You need the Ledger every day. SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Is Your Boat Ready For the Summer

You can find a full line of Boat Hardware and Marine Paints here for your inspection.

A Paint or Varnish for Every Surface

Agents for the SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINTS

USE CARBORUNDUM SHARPENING STONES

NATHAN AMES
5 Granite St.

MacGREGORS ARE LEADING

Fore Rivers Second In Post Season Series

POST SERIES STANDING.

Clan MacGregor	7	1
Fore River	5	3
Social Clubs	4	4
Car Men	4	4
Coliseum	1	7

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.

MacGregors 4, Tennis Club 0.
Fore River 4, Coliseum 0.
Social Clubs 3, Car Men 1.

The MacGregors jumped into the lead in the post season series at the Coliseum alleys Wednesday night and the Fore Rivers landed in second place. The competing teams represent the various leagues of the city and are rolling for a special prize.

Lawson was high man of the evening, his high single being 122 and his grand total 312. The summaries:

FORE RIVER
Tirrell	86	93	94	213
Mahoney	84	97	95	276
White	98	86	95	279
Westland	89	96	95	280
Smith	92	93	103	288
	499	465	482	1396
COLISEUM.
Clapp	101	90	94	285
Carra	83	100	101	284
Cockett	96	87	77	269
Canfield	89	77	91	257
Hanlon	75	85	82	242
	444	439	445	1328
CLAN MACGREGORS.
Morton	95	89	95	279
Nicoll	99	94	105	298
Drummond	100	88	108	296
McLean	104	89	92	285
Dell	87	110	93	290
	485	470	493	1448
WOLLASTON TENNIS.
Hoxie	78	84	77	239
Monroe	89	94	86	269
Litchfield	82	99	92	273
Baker	95	89	88	272
Jenner	95	92	96	283
	439	458	439	1336
QUINCY SOCIAL CLUBS.
Djerf	83	88	96	267
McLeod	87	87	89	263
Pinel	79	78	81	238
Curtin	76	78	109	263
Lawson	89	101	122	312
	414	432	497	1343
CAR MEN.
Ames	88	83	92	263
Smollet	73	104	89	266
Canfield	72	85	104	261
Capalana	86	113	89	288
Lavoie	77	86	90	253
	396	471	464	1331

BRIEFS

Hilda Sandberg of Bellevue park who is ill with diphtheria is reported as being out of danger.

Miss Fanny Keith of Wollaston park, is confined to her home by sickness.

The cast of the play "Bachelor Hall" is being entertained at Tuft's college by Prof. J. Lewis Keegan of that institution.

S. of V. Aux. 3 will hold a supper and entertainment in G. A. R. hall Friday evening. Supper from 6 to 7. Entertainment at 8.

The Epworth League of the Wollaston Methodist Episcopal church held a business meeting in the vestry of the church Tuesday evening. The principle business was the appointment of a nominating committee This committee was Ray Cassidy, Miss Marguerite L. Holbrook and Rev. Geo. M. Bailey. After the business meeting there was a social hour spent in playing games under the direction of Mrs. T. Newell Lane. Candy was passed during the evening.

The Daily Ledger is news every day. Give you as regular reader.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

WANTED—Carpenters on new work Apply to J. W. Pratt, 5 Summer street. or new house, Independence avenue. April 29-3t

Established 1870 Telephone
JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1485 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

Exclusive Agency

Dorothy Dodd

SMART SHOES FOR WOMEN

Famous for Style and Comfort

The best fitting, best wearing, most popular shoes today

You are cordially invited to call and inspect the new Models.

$3.50 $3.75 $4.00 $4.25

JONES Just around the Corner 1 Granite St., Quincy

HOSE! HOSE! HOSE!

Do not be deceived by the price. A Hose cheap in price is sure to be cheap in quality.

All my Hose is Fully Guaranteed

WILLIAM WESTLAND
The Hardware Man
1597 Hancock St., -- Quincy, Mass.

COPYING THE WRONG LESSON

A generation ago Japan was only beginning to understand commerce. In competition with all the rest of the world she has already gained one fifth of the trade of China, and her share of its rising, while that of her rivals tends to fall. That has proceeded from natural causes, without secret or special advantages, without coercion, and in fact against odds of a very material sort, inherent in Japanese,, who lacked experience who had to learn everything,and who were for many years handicapped by conditions imposed upon them from without, not fundamentally dissimilar from some of those they would now impose upon China. Japan has yet to learn what the western world itself begins tardily to see, which is that trade may be a free and natural growth—the freer the better. It is not a thing one people has to put up on another, unless the other wants it, and in that case no violence or intimidation will be required. True, western world trade was thrust upon Japan by force when necessary, but it had much better have been developed on a basis of mutual advantage as everyone now can see. And if that is what Japan is proposing to do with China, that is, to fasten commerce upon a neighbor by force, then she is copying out of the western book of trade the wrong lesson. the one England was the first to cast aside when she chose deliberately to make all ports of the British Empire free. New York Times.

ALL DAY SESSION.

The Ladies Benevolent society of the Wollaston Congregational church held an all day session in the vestry of the church Wednesday. Mrs. Richard F. Trumper presided at the short business meeting. Luncheon was served by Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. George Murray and Mrs. William Patterson. The members adjourned to attend the exercises of laying the corner stone of the new parish house.

PRATT'S BREAD is liked by the most discriminating people. Grocers sell it.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Here's A Proposition

LOOK Over the Many Good things we have to offer and listen to the prices when you say "How Much?"

Hersey's Cocoa ..... 1-2 lb can .16
Campbell's Soups ..... 3 cans .25
Blue Label Catsup, pints, ... .19
Air Line Comb Honey ..... .25
Van Camps Baked Beans, large can, ... .17

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980

FOY'S 2 STORES

WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

THE QUINCY DAILY LEDGER

Average Sworn Circulation, 3,607 Copies Daily — Over 15,000 Readers

Vol. 30. No. 101 QUINCY, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 30, 1915 PRICE 2 CENTS

BILL FOR WIDENING FORE RIVER NOW LAW

Much Credit Goes to Sen. Langelier For Passage

The bill appropriating $75,000 for the widening and deepening of the channel of the Weymouth Fore River has been passed by the legislature, signed by the Governor and has now become a law. The bill authorizing the City of Quincy to appropriate a sum of $10,000 for the same purpose has also been signed by the Governor.

Both of these appropriations are contingent upon the appropriation of $15,000 by the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation and the appropriation of $200,000 by the national government. The government appropriation will be asked for in the Rivers and Harbors bill which will be introduced in Congress in the fall.

Much of the credit for the successful passage of the bill by the legislature for $75,000 is due to the good work of Senator Louis F. R. Langelier who was ably assisted by Representatives Sandberg and Ericson. Early in the season it was announced that bills of this nature would stand but little show of getting by the legislature this year but, nothing daunted, Senator Langelier put his shoulder to the wheel and kept it there until he saw his efforts crowned with success.

MISSION DRAWS TO CLOSE.

The mission for the women of St. John's parish comes to a close Sunday with impressive services. Fr. O'Leary and Fr. Kenzel have been joined by two other priests of the Redemptorists and all four are hearing confessions. A large number of women attended the services Thursday evening. The sermon was by Fr. O'Leary who spoke on "Hell."

CITY HAS NEW ICE COMPANY

Meadow Brook and Eaton Are Merged

The Meadow Brook Ice Co. and the Eaton Ice Co. have been merged into a new corporation, the Granite City Ice Company, Inc. M. L. Abbott, for many years manager of the Eaton Ice Co., becomes president and manager of the new concern. Frank S. Patch, proprietor of the Meadow Brook Ice Co., will be vice president of the new corporation. Mr. Abbott will take over the active management of the new concern.

SELL MAY BASKETS.

A large quantity of May baskets, placed on sale by the Junior Kings Daughters of the Bethany Congregational church in the vestry Thursday evening rapidly disappeared as a large number of people crowded about the tables and made their selections. The sale was one of the most successful of its kind in years. The proceeds will be devoted to charity.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baker of Tacoma, Washington, are the guests of Mrs Charles Price of this city. Mr. Baker was formerly publisher of the Boston Traveler and is now publishing a newspaper on the Pacific coast.

CITY TO HAVE NEW THEATRE

Reports Say Structure To Cost $40,000

Plans for a $40,000 theatre to be erected in Quincy are reported to be in course of preparation by A. H. Wright the local architect.

It is not known who the plans are for but it is thought they have been ordered by three Brockton men who are said to be contemplating the erection of a theatre on land near the Greenleaf block.

LAWRENCE BUTLER.

Lawrence Butler, aged 49years, died Thursday afternoon at his home, 7 Bedford street. Mr. Butler was well known among the granite trade, being a member of the well known firm of W. J. McLeod & Co. of Vernon street. He is survived by a wife, two sons, Lawrence and Irving, and a daughter, Mrs. Charles Oswald all of Quincy. Mr. Butler was a member of Rural Lodge A. F. & A. M. He was also a member of the Moose and Royal Arcanum.

AT RECREATION HOUSE.

More than a score of members assembled at the Recreation House of the Quincy Young Women's club in Adams Academy Thursday evening to take modern dancing lessons from Miss Clara Goodwin, a well known teacher. In the assembly hall those who will take part in the amateur dramatics to be given in Alpha hall, May 11, held a rehearsal.

CITY HALL NOTES.

Mrs. Clara A. Penley of the sewer department office is having a few days vacation.

The city council committee on finance met Thursday evening to take action on a number of matters which had been referred to them. The committee on streets will meet tonight.

☞The Daily Ledger is newsy very day. Are you a regular reader

THE WEATHER

President Gaffney of the Braves and President McGraw of the Giants got into a lively tangle in New York Thursday over Benny Kauff of the Brooklyn Federal League, whom McGraw tried to play at centerfield, and a red hot scrap it was. However that has nothing to do with the weather, although unless the weather man hits the mark nearer during the haying season than he appears to be doing at the present time there is likely to be a scrap between the farmers and the aforesaid weather man that will make the base ball scrap of Thursday sink into insignificance. The W. M. says that Saturday and Sunday will be fair with slowly rising temperature.

TOMORROW'S ALMANAC.

Sun rises	4.40
Sun sets	6.43
Length of day	14.03
Moon rises	10.03
High water, A. M.	12.00
High water, P. M.	12.45
Days increase	4 hrs. 57 minutes
First Quarter, April 22	10.39 A. M.
Full Moon, April 29	9.19 A. M.
Last Quarter, April 6	3.12 P. M.
New Moon, April 14	6.36 A. M.

QUINCY NOON TEMPERATURE.

At 12M. today	48 degrees
Apr. 30, 1914,	45 degrees
Apr. 30, 1913,	56 degrees

Noon Maximum 18 years—86
Noon Minimum 18 years—30

Quincy Lodge 413
Loyal Order of Moose

The funeral of our late Brother Lawrence Butler will be held at his late residence, 7 Bedford street, Quincy, tomorrow, Saturday, May 1st, 1915, at 2.30 P. M. Every member of our lodge is requested to attend these services.

WILLIAM B. NORRIE, Dictator,
EDWARD J. FEGAN, Secretary.
30-1t

QUINCY CO-OPERATIVE BANK

The annual meeting of the shareholders, for the election of officers and the transaction of any other business that may legally come before it, will be held at the office of the Bank, Room 13, Adams Bldg., Wednesday, May 5, 1915 at 8 o'clock P. M.

FRANK A. REED, Clerk.
28-7t

THREE DAY FAIR OPENS THURSDAY

Circle Daughters Viking Entertain Friends

Circle Daughters Viking, C. F. of A., opened its three day fair in Electa and Protection halls Thursday evening with a large attendance of members and friends. The former hall was prettily decorated with streamers of yellow and blue, the national colors of Sweden, and American flags. Useful and fancy articles were sold from booths. Dancing was carried on in Protection hall.

The fair is the first of its kind to be held by the local organization and is in charge of a large committee. One of the features is the coffee room, arranged like the interior of a Swedish coffee room and in charge of Mrs. Ida Peterson and Mrs. Anna Anderson.

During the evening there were vocal seelctions by Miss Sigreid Lundquist and instrumental selections by Miss Dagma Nelson and Carl Bonnivier.

The fair was opened with a speech of welcome by Chief Companion Mrs. Ida Erickson. Two popularity prizes were awarded during the evening, the lucky ones being Rep. Charles Ericson and Charles Asklund.

Tonight there will be a whist and dancing party. The committees and those in charge of the tables:

General—Mrs. Nils Loddengaard, Mrs. Ida Nelson, Mrs. Charles Ericson, Mrs. Sophie Hoibe, Mrs. Carl Bonnivier, Mrs. Agnes Olson, Mrs. Sophie Asklund, Mrs. E. J. Sandberg, Mrs. Andrew Johnson, Mrs. Selma Lindholm, Mrs. Hilma Johnson.

Candy—Miss Helen Peterson, Miss Alice Lindholm.

May baskets—Miss Alice Hallquist.

Flowers—Mrs. Charles Erickson Mrs. Selma Hermanson.

Fancy—Mrs. Andrew Johnson, Mrs. Selma Lindholm.

Fortune Teller—Mrs. Augusta Gullickson.

Wheel of Fortune—Mrs. Ida Erickson, Mrs. Hilma O'Brien.

Coffee room—Mrs. Ida Peterson, Mrs. Anna Anderson.

Checks—Mrs. Hilma Johnson, Mrs. Lea Moir.

Kitchen—Mrs. Sophie Asklund, Mrs. Hilda Pierson, Mrs. Annie Eckblom, Miss Gunhild Loddengaard, Miss Ebba Loddengaard.

Tickets—Mrs. Carl Bonnivier, Mrs. Agnes Olson.

TO HOLD BAZAAR.

Quincy Herd No. 1, B. O. B., and its Auxiliary, Dorothy Quincy Band No. 1, Companions of the Prairie, are to hold a joint bazaar in Quincy Adams hall, South Quincy in June 17, 18 and 19. Several committee meetings have been held and present indications point to a successful affair. The ladies' committee will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. George Davey 50 Gay street.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER

ELECTRIC FREIGHT
BAY STATE STREET RAILWAY CO.

Boston, Mass., April 15, 1915.

Notice is hereby given that property now remaining unclaimed for a period of one year or over, as per list posted in the several offices of the Freight Department of the Bay State Street Railway Company in the State of Massachusetts, will unless called for, and all charges paid thereon, be sold to the highest bidder, at the Public Auction Rooms of G. Beck & Son, 41-43 Eliot Street, Boston, Mass., on the 15th day of May, 1915 at 10 A. M.

GEO. DUNFORD,
General Freight Agent
J. S. Chandler, Claim Adjustor
5t April 26-30 May 6-10-14

NOTICE

April 26, 1915

Notice is hereby given that from May 1st to May 29th inclusive, the Board of Health will remove all rubbish that may be placed on the sidewalks in barrels on the regular ash collection days. During the summer months the weekly collection of ashse will be discontinued. Ashes will be collected on the following weeks.

June 21st to 26th inclusive.
July 26th to 31st inclusive.
August 23rd to 28th inclusive.

The regular weekly collection of ashes will be resumed on Oct. 4th, 1915.

Per Order,
Board of Health,
Walter H. Buchan, Chairman
27-5t

TALK OF RESIGNATIONS ON CEMETERY BOARD

Board of Managers Receive Letter From Mayor

The Board of Managers of Public Burial Places from a state of suspended animation blossomed into real life Thursday night for the second time within a month and the discussion waxed warm and threatened to leave the board but a ghost of its former self. Rumors of resignations were rife because of the personal turn the debate took during the session.

The meeting was for the purpose of receiving communications from Mayor Campbell giving his views on matters referred to him, and the letter which was the starting gun follows:

"I have noticed from time to time articles in the local press in reference to matters concerning the Burial Board. Many of them have interested me very much, but I find that the matters have not been officially taken up or acted upon by the board in many cases. May I therefore suggest that before the Board gives out news for general publication, that all the members of the Board consider the item."

The last sentence of the communication is the one which is said to have started the fun. Chairman Thomas Bishop and Sec. J. Cudworth it is said threatened to resign from the board if the publicity on various projects proposed by inviduals continued. John Evans and John Vogel, other members, it is understood took a more conservative stand and contented themselves with expressing their dissatisfaction with the publicity.

Arthur Hultman, appointed to the board by Mayor Campbell, father of the proposed Memorial chapel at Mt. Wollaston cemetery and the move to have a permanent clerk for the board, it is understood was charged with being actuated by personal motives and that his activity was for political effect.

It is understood that he was pointedly asked if he would "keep quiet" but it is further understood that he reserved his rights as a member and as a citizen on the grounds that he was interested in putting the board on an efficient basis, thereby placing himself on record as favoring a pitiless, persistent, publicity.

The other communications from the mayor expressed his opinion on the various matters referred to him.

He favored the appointment of a permanent clerk to do the work of the fire and police department and of the burial board, instead of a clerk for the latter board.

He took exception to the board's recommending an appropriation of $2000 for a fence on the Valley street side of the cemetery and favored a wire fence which could be built for less. He also recommended the repairing of the fence on the Old Hancock cemetery in City Square.

Definite steps have not as yet been taken to secure a plan of Mt. Wollaston cemetery, as proposed by Mr. Hultman, to eliminate the necessity of the city being obliged to resort to private plans when a question of location of a lot arises.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

NOW OPEN

THE QUINCY PUBLIC MARKET

With a Complete Stock of new Meats of all kinds, and a Good Variety of Fresh Fish

GROCERIES, TEAS AND COFFEES a specialty

Without further invitation, we invite all of our friends and acquaintances and the public in general to call on us. We will have some special surprises for you in the way of prices. Neither money, trouble nor time has been spared to make this the Neatest, Most Sanitary Food Shop in this town, and we are here to give you the very best, in QUALITY PRICE and SERVICE.

OUR POLICIES

1st TO TELL you the exact truth about the goods WE sell.
2nd TO SELL such at prices lower than, or as low as any other like store in the state.
3rd TO GIVE you the most efficient service that is humanely possible.
4th TO SELL goods of dependable quality.
5th WE WILL Back Up these Policies by refunding the full amount of any purchase with which you are not fully satisfied, and do so without question.

PRICES TALK and QUALITY WINS

MEAT DEPT.		FISH DEPT.		GROCERY DEPT.
Face Rump Roast (best)	22c lb	Shore Haddock	per lb 5c	Coffee as good as you pay 35c a lb for	Sale price lb 19c
Tender Rib Roast	15c lb	Eastern Halibut	per lb 18c	High Grade Ceylon Tea	lb 35c
Pot Roast (lean)	14c lb	Fresh Ellwives	3 for 10c	1 lb can Royal Cocoa (Reg. 25c Now)	23c
Top Round Steak (best)	28c lb	Fresh Flounders	per lb 6c	Evaporated Milk	3 cans 25c
Sirloin Steak (best cuts)	28c lb	Fresh Mackerel	2 for 25c	Peas, Corn, Tomatoes	3 cans 25c
Fancy Corned Brisket	15c lb	Salt Labrador Herring	3 for 10c	Van Camps Ketchup (Reg. 25c Now)	17c
Fat Salt Pork	11 1/2c lb	Fresh Opened Oysters	qt 40c	Best Bread Flour	bag $1.05
Butcher's Steak (This Real TENDER)	25c lb	Large can Tuna Fish	23c	Quincy Eggs	per doz 30c
Leg Spring Lamb	21c lb	Fresh Boiled Lobsters	23c

SOUVENIRS WILL BE GIVEN FREE

If on the day you make your purchase, any store in this state sells the same quality article for less money, on proof we will return the difference to you.

OUR CLAIM IS THIS: We are prepared to do business on a percentage basis cheaper than any market in town.

The reason is this: Store and appurtenances the latest, our own knowledge and experience in handling Meats, our resources in cash buying, etc., all go to make a hard combination to beat.

Thanking you and again extending to all a cordial invitation to call and inspect our store, we are yours for MEATS and FISH.

QUINCY PUBLIC MARKET
1464 HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY
NEW BLOCK OPPOSITE KINCAIDE'S ANNEX
FREE DELIVERY LEGAL STAMPS TEL. CON.

ANNOUNCEMENT

In order to better serve the citizens of Quincy and vicinity it has been deemed advisable to carry on the business of the Eaton Ice Company and the Meadow Brook Ice Company under a new Corporation to be known as the Granite City Ice Company, Inc., under the management of M. L. Abbott, for many years manager of the Eaton Ice Co.

All patrons of either company will be served by the new company and every effort will be made to continue the business with the highest degree of efficiency.

All communicaions should be addressed to
GRANITE CITY ICE COMPANY, Inc.
M. L. Abbott, Manager.
50 Adams Street.
Telephone Quincy 49-W

PRICE LIST FOR 1915.
Retail

Family Trade 50 to 200 lbs., ... 35c per cwt.
less than 50 lbs., ... 40c per cwt.
Wholesale 500 lbs., or over, one delivery 20c per cwt.
200 to 500 lbs., ... 25c per cwt.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

We beg to announce to the public that we have taken the exclusive agency for

MAXWELL MOTOR CARS

For Quincy, Braintree and Weymouth and cordially invite your inspection of same.

CENTRAL GARAGE
Corner Washington and Pond Streets
C. W. HODGKINSON, Prop.
GARAGE PHONE, QUINCY 1035 W
RESIDENCE PHONE, QUINCY 1035 R

QUINCY DAILY LEDGER
ESTABLISHED 1889
Entered at Post Office, Boston, Mass as second-Class matter.

SUBSCRIPTION
BY THE YEAR - - - - $6.00
BY THE MONTH - - - - .50

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT PUBLISHING CO.
(INCORPORATED)
THE HOME NEWSPAPER
Published every evening (except Sunday) at 1424 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass., by the

TELEPHONES
QUINCY 425 QUINCY 1910

A NEEDED ADDITION.

The publishers of the city directory are gathering material for the 1915 edition, which will probably be printed in a month or two.

Although the city directory is a private enterprise conducted by a publishing firm for profit it is such a necessary article that it can be considered almost as a public undertaking. Therefore, it seems not out of place to point out that previous issues have not been perfect. In a work of such great magnitude perfection could hardly be expected but it seems as if the last few issues were a little below the mark. We trust that the publishers will make a special effort to get out a real, serviceable directory this year.

Among the striking deficiencies in previous issues is an adequate street directory. There is a list of streets but the addresses of residents of the city should be arranged by streets as well as in the usual way. This is a great convenience on many occasions and is a part of the directories in most cities of any size.

Charles Sumner Bird at the dinner of the Republican and Progressive ward committees of Ward 24 of Boston Thursday night made no reference in his speech to the promise of support by ex-Governor Foss if he should run for the Republican gubernatorial nomination with a prohibition plank in his platform. Perhaps the occasion was not important enough, or, can it be that Mr. Bird is going to dodge the invitation of the shrewd Eugene?

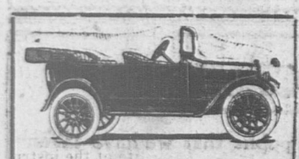

Full credit should be accorded Senator Langelier, Reps. Sandberg and Ericson, for the large part which they took in the passage of the bill, now become a law, which appropriates $75,000 for the widening of the Fore River channel. There is little doubt that the city and national government will pass the appropriations required before the state law can become operative.

It begins to look as if the long delayed passage of the Allies through the Dardanelles was about to become a fact.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE.

Schools	Average Daily Attendance.	Average Daily Attendance 1914	Per. Cent. of Daily Attendance.	Tardiness	Dismissal
High	911	861.3	776.3	94.1	51	88
Adams	398	360.8	317.8	90.8	6	25
Atherton Hough	195	167.2	158.6	81.6	7	5
Coddington	595	534.9	474.6	89.7	31	45
Cranch	348	3096	302.8	91.2	5	10
Gridley Bryant	232	209.7	207.0	91.5	105	1
ohn Hancock	356	319.2	343.6	90.8	6	16
Lincoln	456	432.6	452.8	93.2	9	5
Mass. Fields	434	406.7	362.6	98.9	27	15
Montclair	277	263.5	363.0	94.1	6	10
Quincy	536	476.3	452.4	91.0	60	22
Washington	543	484.6	455.0	89.6	23	41
Willard	828	791.3	735.7	94.3	215	21
Wollaston	469	406.3	414.4	87.8	27	16
	6578	6024.0	5716.6	91.6	578	330

Ralph Marden, who covers the Attleboro district for the Pawtucket Times, is in Quincy today, accompanied by Mrs. Marden.

JACKSON
Model 46
THE MOTOR IS STRONG AND POWERFUL. SILENT AND SPEEDY. NO WONDER
"NO HILL TOO STEEP— NO SAND TOO DEEP"
Five Passenger Richly, Upholstered. FULL ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT
$1375
JACKSON MOTOR CAR CO.
EVERETT F. PRIOR
TRIBOU'S GARAGE
TEL., QUINCY 144

S. OF V. OBSERVE 61h ANNIVERSARY

Col. Abner B. Packard Camp, Sons of Veterans, of Quincy, observed its sixth anniversary at the Quincy House, Boston, Thursday night. The celebration took the form of a banquet at which 30 were present.

The guests of the evening were Division Commander Guy Richardson of Ruxbury and Rev. Merrill C. Ward, pastor of the Universalist church of Quincy.

Commander William R. French of the camp was toastmaster, "The Duty to Our Fathers" was the subject of the speech of Division Commander Richardson, and Rev. Mr. Merrill spoke on "Patriotism." Former Mayor Stone of Quincy, a member of the camp, and L. D. Gurney, patriotic instructor, also made brief speeches.

SPORTING COMMENT

Quincy may have a team in the Suburban league of Boston next winter if the plans of Louis Ross, manager of the Whirdwell alleys, materializes.

The first out of town appearance of his possible combination will be at Mechanics building, Boston tonight, when they will roll in the tournament of the Atlantic Coast Bowling association. They have been assigned to alley seven.

The boys entered as members are Ross, William McLean, Peter Morton, James Dell, Frank McPherson, B. Burrell and Herb Smith. Five of these will bowl.

Olindy will not appear at the tournament, but will be at the Arch street alleys, Boston, instead, where he will roll the last 20 of a special 40 string match with Greenaway.

Frank McPherson of West Quincy took the rolloff at the Coliseum alleys Thursday night, beating Duran by three pins. His single of 124 brought him the bacon. The strings of the winners:

McPherson	88	124	93	305
Duran	94	90	118	302
Keirse	103	106	91	300
Gallagher	82	93	117	292

Boston school base ball fans picked Cambridge to beat Quincy High today.

The next home game will be between Quincy High and South Boston at Merrymount Park on May 7th.

The Makaria base ball team expects to make a fine showing on the diamond this season. The tryouts for the team will be held at Merrymount Park Saturday afternoon. Practically all of the last year's team is available and there are a number of candidates for the infield positions.

Peter M. Dackers is holding the cup of the Scottish Clans Greater Boston league, won this season by Clan MacGregor of Quincy. He captained the team which captured the first leg and expects to lead it through two more schedules so the trophy will become a permanent prize. Dackers at a recent meeting presented it to the clan which accepted it and appointed him custodian and it is now at his home.

BOWLING TOURNEY OPENS.

Thousands of spectators watched the bowlers in the opening matches of the Atlantic Coast Bowling Association tournament at the Mechanics building Thursday night. The first ball, rolled by Gov. Walsh, went onto the gutter. His second attempt was successful. Many from Quincy attended.

SEVERAL MARRIAGES.

Returns made to City Clerk Crane this morning revealed the marriages of two couples at the St. Johns parish house within the past week. On April 28 Fr. Walter A. Quinlan performed the marriage ceremony for James P. McCormick of 40 Gilmore street and Loretta Callahan of 132 North street, and on April 29, Fr. M. J. Owens performed the marriage ceremony for Caulde H. Sproule of Baxter street and Bertha Agnes Moran of Union stret.

MRS. CAROLINE A. SMITH.

Mrs. Caroline A. Smith, widow of James H. Smith, formerly of Newton, Mass., died this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Horace G. Crocker, 17 Park lane. Her funeral will take place there on Sunday afternoon at 1.30.

NO GAME TODAY.

The base ball teams of Quincy High school will not play today because of the poor weather conditions. The first team was billed at Cambridge and the second team at Cohasset.

REBEKAH LODGE ENTERTAINMENT

Observe 96th Anniversary of Odd Fellowship

The 96th anniversary of American Odd Fellowship was observed by George L. Gill, Rebekah lodge at Odd Fellows hall Thursday evening, the occasion being one of a large gathering of the members of the lodge, their families and a number of visitors from lodges in the immediate neighborhood.

Noble Grand Mrs. Sadie Walker presided and in opening the exercises spoke briefly on the event which was being celebrated, and extended a cordial welcome to the brothers and sisters and friends. A short but pleasing entertainment was then given, the program opening with a piano solo by William Provost. This was followed by a reading by Miss Avery after which Scott & Bayard the two men minstrels appeared and kept the audience in a roar of laughter. They cracked many jokes, well known members of the lodge being the marks at whom their shafts were directed. They also sang a tropical song which was brim full of local hits.

Another piano solo by Mr. Provost, a reading by Miss Avery followed, after which refreshments were served. The evening closed with dancing.

FRANCIS J. FAHY IS A SPEAKER

The Massachusetts Probation Officer's Conference at the New American House Thursday afternoo n and evening was the largest in the history of probation in the state.

Francis J. Fahy, probation officer at the District court, opened the afternoon discussion on" The Uneven Application of Probation and How Far It Can be Remedied by Officers."

Mr. Fahy said the application of probation depends upon the attitude of the judge towards probation, upon the thoroughness of the investigation of cases by the probation officer and the completeness of his reasons for recommending probation.

He said there can be but little doubt that most judges will act favorably on the recommendation of the officer if his reasons are sound and if the investigation is a careful diagnosis, with a view of determining the cause of the commission of the offense. It is certain that in the majority of cases, the application of probation is the best treatment.

"We know," said Mr. Fahy, "the cases of drunkenness are the most numerous, and even in these cases, the inquiry should be as careful and as complete as time will permit. We may go to the detention room any morning and there find perhaps five men charged with drunkenness and each of a different type. Inquiry probably shows or leads one to believe that number one is that type of man who labors industriously during the week and who on Saturday night is determined to drink intoxicating liquors until he gets drunk.

"In number two, we find we have the man who gets drunk periodically, who may abstain from liquor for several weeks or several months and then continues in a drunken stupor for several days at a time.

"In number three, possibly, we have the man who becomes discouraged and drinks to excess because of domestic troubles, possibly disease, lack of employment or financial difficulty.

"In number four, maybe we have the man who will drink and keep drunk just as long as he can provide himself with the liquor. This man is of the loafer type.

"The fifth, or the last man, we find to be the man who through excessive drinking neglects and abuses his family.

"The foregoing illustrations are simply what every probation officer meets in the regular course of his labors and I maintain that it is the investigation, the inquiry of diagnosis—call it what you may—that is the key note that will lead or force the probation officer to make his recommendation fit each individual case and aid the court in extending probation in worthy cases.

"If we go deep enough, we will find that in the large percentage of cases, probation will apply effectively, and it is for the probation officer to convince the court that the individual is worthy of consideration, thereby, offsetting to a great extent, the uneven application of probation as it exists in some sections."

SORE THROAT EPIDEMIC.

The epidemic of septic sore throat which has been prevalent in Milton and Dorchester the past two weeks is thought to have extended to Quincy, several cases having been discovered by local physicians.

The disease is communicable and is oftentimes followed by complications.

AT THE THEATRE

What would you do if you were compelled by your superior officers in time of war to use your intimacy with an aristocatic Southern family to bring about the downfall of the cause they were desperately protecting, especially when one of its members was "the dearest little girl in the world" to you? Would you decide in favor of the girl you loved, or would intense patriotism stifle your conscience, make right wrong and wrong right? This is the situation which Lieutenant Ned Burton U. S. A. faces when he is ordered during the closing days of the Civil War to use friendship as a cloak, succeeding by a ruse which leads to the defeat of the supply trains coming to the relief of the Confederate army. When he is captured the girl, Agatha Warren, daughter of General Warren commanding a large number of Southern troops, still loving in spite of herself, and her duty to the cause, offers him the means of escape which he is too proud to accept. The timely surrender of Lee at Appomatox is all that saves him from being shot. The film is replete with some of the most thrilling and superb battle scenes ever fought in motion picture history, and are historic reproductions of the battles which took place during the closing days of the rebellion. The sequal of this stirring events of course is the ultimate reunion of the lovers. The Warrens of Virginia" ran for more than a year at the Belasco Theatre in New York.

One of the strongest acts on the vaudeville bill is headed by Annette Phillips and her husband. "The Sacrifice" is a startling play, crammed with dramatic moments.

The LaReane Trio which has won many friends in Quincy by their previous performances were also seen in a little line of talk, a little line of sing, intermixed with clean comedy, and clever acrobatic exhibitions. McDougald, the Scottish comedian, appears in a singing act. Last but not least are two more reels of the last word in moving picture serials, "The Exploits of Elaine."

MRS. JOSEPHINE ST. ONGE.

The funeral of Josephine, wife of Amasa St. Onge, took place from her home at 212 Highland avenue, Thursday morning. A high mass of requiem was celebrated at the Church of the Sacred Heart, Atlantic, by Fr. J. P. McNiff, curate. The musical portion of the mass was rendered by the regular choir. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery. The deceased was the mother of Miss Ruth St. Onge the well known vocalist.

MILTON MAN PASSES AWAY

Washington Irving Tuckerman, for fifteen years a resident of East Milton, passed away at noon, Thursday, at his late home, 24 Brackett street. Mr. Tuckerman had been in ill health the past three years and his death has been expected at any moment since last Monday evening, when he received his final shock.

He was born in Ashburnham, Mass. on Jan. 25, 1840, son of George W. and Margerite Tuckerman. At the death of his mother he came to Quincy and received his education in the public schools there. In 1861 he married Miss Sarah Hilton Barry of Dorchester, and they resided at first in Dorchester. In 1885 they moved to Wollaston and lived at the corner of Grand View and Warren avenues, for fifteen years until he moved to East Milton.

Mr. Tuckerman established his horse shoeing business on Dorchester avenue, South Boston, 53 years ago and at the time of his death was the oldest horse shoer in Boston. For 33 years he had been a member of the Men's Baptist Social Union and for 35 years an active member of the Stoughton street Baptist church, which he attended since he was twelve years old. A year and a half ago Mr. Tuckerman retired from active business.

He is survived by his widow two sons, George W. of Hingham and Stillman B. of Dorchester, Susie Pierce of East Milton and Mrs. Charles L. Harlow of Wakefield, two grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 1 P. M., from his late home. Rev. J. Hamilton Woodsum of the First Baptist church will officiate.

The PROBLEM of GOOD MILK

All persons do not understand what is meant by good, safe milk. Some believe that the milk with a deep cream line is desirable, whereas, the Doctor knows that Holstein Milk, although containing little cream is often more desirable for babies, partly for this reason, or perhaps because of the method of production.

The real criterion of a good milk is its wholesomeness. This depends upon the conditions at the dairy, and the special care given it until it reaches the consumer. Scrupulously clean and healthy cows, clean and healthy dairymen, rapid cooling, and protecting the milk, constant dairy and laboratory inspection are required. Furthermore safety is assured when the dealer pasteurizes his supply.

THE ELM FARM MILK COMPANY OF DORCHESTER offer pure Family Milk, and exceptional Nursery Milk at prices often charged for ordinary milk. Speak to the salesman, or call Dor. 2100. 6-1 mo.

CONSULT ME

I can tell you just what to do to get the results you want in Business, or Friendship. I am a truthful Trance Medium, advice given, lost articles recovered. Private Readings daily, $1.00. Circle Readings, Tuesday at 3.00 and 8.00 P. M. Price 25c. Questions answered.

Mrs. S. V. Odiorne
8 Mechanic St. off Revere Road
or Tel. 327 M Quincy a30

JOYCE BROS. & CO. JOYCE BROS. & CO. JOYCE BROS. & CO.
Boston. — Providence — Quincy — Manchester — Lynn — Pawtucket — Malden

Save Money on Your Spring Clothes

By Availing Yourself of the Great Advantages Offered at This Store

WE DON'T INSULT the intelligence of the people by saying that we or anyone will sell a GARMENT WORTH $10.00 FOR $2.98, as such statements are untrue. THERE'S NO DECEPTION or SHARP PRACTICE in our dealings with the people. OUR GOODS ARE ALL MARKED IN PLAIN FIGURES, which is YOUR SAFEGUARD, and marks the difference between the ancient and progressive ways of doing business.

OUR PRICES DEFY COMPETITION—OUR SERVICE IS EFFICIENT—OUR BUSINESS METHODS ARE STRAIGHTFORWARD—ABOVE BOARD—EASILY UNDERSTOOD—and so entirely unlike the various schemes and doubtful inducements of other concerns that our business ethics stand out boldly and alone.

In this day of FRENZIED MERCHANDISING many are clamoring for your trade. We simply come to you with this SPECIFIC, DOWN-TO-EARTH GUARANTEE OF THE SAME GOODS FOR LESS MONEY OR BETTER GOODS FOR THE SAME MONEY, and perfect satisfaction with every purchase or your money back. THAT THE PEOPLE APPRECIATE OUR MONEY-SAVING POLICY IS UNMISTAKABLY DEMONSTRATED BY THE TREMENDOUS INCREASE IN OUR BUSINESS FROM YEAR TO YEAR.

You Don't Need to Pay Cash for Your Spring Clothing!
We will gladly charge your purchases, and you may pay for them in easy partial payments as you earn the money

Ladies' Stylish Suits
In fine serge, gabardine, crepe, poplin, fancy checks and Berford cord. Made by skilled tailors in the latest accepted styles and colors. Why not save $3.00 to $8.00 on your spring suit? Alterations free.
$9.98, $12.50, $16.98, $18.50 up to $35

Ladies' Dresses
New stylish Spring Dresses in messaline, charmeuse, crepe de chine, serge, poplin and crepe meteor. Colors Belgian Blue, Sand, Navy, Putty, Gray and Black. Alterations free.
$6.98, $12.50, $16.98 up to $30

New Spring Coats
Stylish coats for Spring and Summer wear in fancy plaids, coverts, chinchilla and stylish mixtures. All colors. Styles the latest. Alterations free. Sale prices:
$6.98, $12.50, $16.50, up to $30

Millinery
We show the dictates of fashion and taste in Ladies', Misses' and Girls' Trimmed and Ready-to Wear Hats. Our assortment meets every requirement and fancy.
$1.98, $3.50, $4.98, up to $15

Girls' Coats
Ages 4 to 14. Nobby, stylish Spring coats for girls in all the new shades and latest styles. Materials serge, crepe, poplin and fancy mixtures. All colors.
$1.98, $2.50, $4.98, up to $10

Men's Suits
In beautiful cassimeres, worsteds and fancy suitings. All of the new fabrics and colorings, combining style supremacy and splendid tailoring. If you pay more than we ask for your Spring suit you pay too much.
$9.90, $12.50, $16.50, up to $25

Blue Serge Suits
We show a splendid line of Blue Serge Suits for men and young men. Nothing is more dressy or durable for warm weather wear. Our Blue Serges are all wool, fast color, and our prices will save you from $3.00 to $5.00 on your suit.
$12.50, $16.98, $22.50

Men's Overcoats
We show a splendid assortment of stylish Spring Overcoats, in worsteds, vienna, cheviots and gray and brown mixtures. Fit, tailoring and price right.
$9.98, $12.50, $16.50, up to $24

Boys' Overcoats
Stylish, nobby Spring Overcoats for the little man. We show in tan, blue, red and brown, all the latest models, combining durability, comfort and economy.
$2.98, $3.50, $4.98, up to $10

Boys' Suits
We submit a splendid line of Boys' Suits made from sturdy fabrics and serges. Double breasted and Norfolk models, suitable for graduation or confirmation.
$1.98, $3.50, $5.98, up to $8.50

Store open Monday, Friday, and Saturday Nights.

Joyce Bros. & Co.
HAVE YOUR PURCHASES CHARGED
13-15 Granite Street, Quincy.

JOYCE BROS. & CO. JOYCE BROS. & CO. JOYCE BROS. & CO.

YOU NEED

For Happiness and Health

The same help which, for over half a century, has been making other women look better, feel better and stronger—Beecham's Pills. No woman whose health and natural vigor has been undermined by INDIGESTION, can expect to be of much use to herself, her friends or family; to be cheerful, free from sallow skin, eruptions or other disfiguring facial blemishes; but this famous family remedy will quickly right these conditions and make the desired difference.

Let this reliable remedy help you whenever there is need. Let it tone your stomach, stimulate your liver, regulate your kidneys and bowels—remove impurities, purify your blood—then headaches, backaches, extreme nervousness, low spirits or unnatural suffering will no longer afflict you, at times. Just a few doses will prove to your own satisfaction that you can have no better help than to take

BEECHAM'S PILLS

"The Largest Sale of Any Medicine in the World" At All Druggists, 10c., 25c.

Directions of special value to women with every box

HOSPITAL AID MEETS.

A regular meeting of the Hospital Aid association was held Thursday afternoon with Mrs. George H Wilson, 47 Revere road The members of the association spent the afternoon in sewing flat roller towels and pillow slips for babies' cribs The association voted to join the Quincy Federation of Women's clubs as an associate member. During the afternoon the members were entertained with vocal solos by Miss Carrie Follett Spear and Mrs. Laurance H. Sturtevant. The hostess assisted by her sister, Miss Smith and Mrs. Theophilus King, served frappe, sandwiches, cake and coffee. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. J. Henry Emery Adams street, May 27.

JULY FOURTH CELEBRATION

At a preliminary meeting of the Fourth of July Celebration Committee for Ward Two in the Town River Yacht clubhouse it was decided to invite all residents of Ward Two to attend the next meeting, which will be held on May 5th at 8 o'clock. Committees will be appointed at this meeting to handle water sports, baseball, boat racing, illumination and fireworks on the Fourth and it is hoped all the citizens of Ward two will give this celebration which comes only once in a year their substantial support and united effort.

You need the Ledger every day. SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS

Following are subscribers connected with the Quincy Exchange for the week ending Apr. 28.

1256 W—McGovern, J. P., 10 Taft St.
1465M—Bagg, Elisha A., 2 Cushing St.
1909W—Smith, Frank B. 80 Turner St
1902M—Simpson, W. B., 222 Norfolk St.
503M—Le Lacheur, A. V., 68 Freeman St.
1684M—Mitchell, W. D. B., 70 Faxon Road.
1905M—Walther, Chas. A., 33 Sea ave.
1427W—Sunbeam Creamery, Rawson Road.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

GRANITE NEWS

But four weeks now remain before Memorial day and each day sees truck after truck leave for the cemeteries with one or two memorials to set. The dealers who have show yards at the cemeteries are making a harvest at this time and are disposing of many of their stock jobs owing to the fact that it will not be possible to order a ready cut job with any amount of certainty of it being erected before Memorial Day. Every manufacturer in the city has some work to be set before the holiday and every truck owner has his work lined out for weeks ahead. It looks as though some of them will have to fall back to the horse and team owing to the inability to secure a truck.

AUTO BECOMING NECESSARY.

The automobile is fast becoming almost a necessity to the enterprising manufacturer. In past years the retailer had salesmen on the road with large cases of designs and they went to the prospective customer and by showing their designs tried to secure a sale. Today the enterprising retailer hears of a prospective customer in some part of the state and starts out with his car, calls on the customer and takes him to the lot in the cemetery. He sees what size lot the customer has and then shows him what style of memorial is best adapted to the lot. When the memorial is cut the dealer sets it up in the cemetery and again calls for the customer and brings him to the cemetery to see the finished memorial. This manner of selling work is fast becoming popular with the retailers as has been evidenced by the large number of machines purchased during the spring months by the local manufacturers.

MAKING CHANGES.

Several changes are being made in the Granite Railway Company's yard on Bates avenue. An addition is to be made to the present large engine room and men are now at work removing a large pile of grout with the aid of a derrick and a score of teams. When this addition is completed this engine room will be one of the best in the city.

At this plant is the largest compressor in the city which was installed two years ago. It furnishes air to run twenty derricks. The company is also installing a new hoisting engine in the yard to take care of the loading of the stone on the teams when it comes down from the quarry. Business at the quarry is at its best and every day no less than four carloads are sent down to the yard to be delivered.

FILL IN ROBERTS STREET.

It is to be hoped that the manufacturers in South Quincy will live up to their agreement made when Roberts street was accepted and at the close of the present busy season start filling in the continuation of Roberts street to Water street. This street will be a great aid to the teams coming from the West Quincy quarries with stock for the yards in this section. At present they have either to go around by Brook road or make their horses climb the hill at Center street where very often they are held up for hours waiting for help in getting over the hill.

RECORD YEAR.

From present indication this year's shipments at South Quincy will surpass those of any previous year. This does not look as though the Granite industry in this city is falling behind. Along with this a larger amount of work has left the city to be set in the cemeteries than any previous year. It is to be hoped that in the near future there will be better facilities for handling the freight at South Quincy. At the West Quincy station also this year has been a very good one and heavy shipments are leaving every day.

SITUATION AT BARRE.

The situation in Barre remains the same as last week. All differences between the cutters and the manufacturers have been settled and the only trouble now left to settle is between tool sharpeners and the manufacturers. The sharpeners are holding out for a limit to the number of men for whom a machine can sharpen and the manufacturers will not stand for any such limitations. A meeting will possibly be held today and the question will possibly be settled this week.

DO YOU WANT BUSINESS? ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Dorothy Dodd SHOES

April showers have no terrors for the woman who wears Dorothys. She can enjoy her daily outing in safety and comfort.

Early Spring Shoes and Low Cuts

$3.50 to $5.00

Dainty, delightful, different Dorothy Dodds bring real pleasure. Stylish and durable. Every woman who wears them knows their worth.

Let us fit you as you should be fitted.

JONES 1 GRANITE STREET Just Around the Corner

The George L. Gill Associates held its weekly matinee whist in Odd Fellows hall Thursday afternoon and the winners of souvenirs were Mrs. Walter Carman, Mrs. J. Davidson, Mrs. Mary Thomas, Mrs. Martha Jones, Mrs. A. T. Morrison, Mrs. Annie J. Smith.

Quincy E. E. GRAY CO. Wollaston

1512 Hancock St. 298 Newport Ave.

Tel. 327 M Quincy Reliable Groceries Tel. 1586 M Quincy

Remember we are still in the Kincaide Block 1512 Hancock street opposite Music Hall entrance. This is the only E. E. Gray Store in Quincy. Quality with reasonable prices tell the whole story.

Best Green Mountain Potatoes 2 bushel bag $1.25

Goods Delivered. (Telephone your order.)

Copyright, 1914. Stone & McCarrick, Inc.

Invest $5 here tomorrow

Copyright, 1914. Stone & McCarrick, Inc.

It may be putting it rather strong to command you to invest your money here.

Let us put it this way.

If we had the power, we would insist upon every person in this city, who is thinking about getting a piano, to investigate this sale.

Because, this is a sale of merit.

It is a sale of more advantages to buyers of pianos than any other piano sale ever held.

It is a sale in which small payments are a big factor.

A single five dollar bill starts you in the ownership of a piano which will be a credit in your home during half your natural lifetime.

A single dollar a week will meet your payments for the first entire year. Your second year's payments are only one dollar and 25 cents a week.

Every single dollar spent in this sale is an investment.

It is an investment which immediately pays a cash dividend, for you buy 350 dollars worth of as satisfactory piano as you can possibly put in your home for 266 dollars, to say nothing of the dividends in refined entertainment and instruction.

Come in tomorrow and look at these pianos. You will not be urged to purchase. We will be perfectly content to let your own good sense be the judge of whether or not you should seize this opportunity.

Henry L. Kincaide & Co.

QUINCY, MASS

It is worth so much to intending piano buyers, that they should know of the many advantages of this sale, we are summing up the whole proposition again

This is a sale which was inaugurated by The Bacon Piano Company, New York City.

We are participating in it at their invitation, along with 15 other houses throughout the United States.

Out of 5000 instruments they intend to dispose of through this plan, we were allotted 125 pianos and 75 player-pianos for this section.

When we have dispose of this allotment, we can get no more to sell upon the same terms and conditions.

The pianos sell regularly at 350 dollars each. This sale's price is 266 dollars each

The player-pianos sell regularly at 550 dollars each. This sale's price is 413 dollars each

Five dollars is your initial payment. Either upon the piano or the player-piano

The instrument you select is delivered at once

The balance is spread out over a period of 3 years and 8 months time without your having to pay additional interest for the accomodation.

This is so arranged that your easiest payments come during the first year of your agreement, your next easiest payments, during the second year etc., etc.

Your first year's payments, if you select a piano, are only one dollar a week. Your second year's, but one dollar and 25 cents a week, etc.

If you select a player-piano, your first year's payments are one dollar and 75 cents a week.

The second year's payments, 2 dollars a week, etc., etc.

You have been given every protection that we, who are conducting this sale, could think of, which would be of benefit or assurance to you, in making your purchase.

You can get your money back after a thirty days' trial of the piano or player-piano You may exchange at any time, up to within one year from the date of your purchase, without incurring any loss or expense.

You are given an unconditional guarantee covering the first five years' life of the instrument.

And, as a crowning feature, we are going to make it a practise during this sale, to cancel the account of any purchaser who dies before all his payments have been made, provided only that his account is up to date at the time of death.

We ask you plainly, in your own interest, can you afford to ignore a sale which carries with it so many advantages ?

All instruments sold during this sale will be delivered at once. Arrangements may be made, however, to have an instrument set aside, after being selected to be delivered later.

During this sale, the Piano Department will be open evenings by appointment, arrangements for which may be made by calling phone No. 1200, and asking for Mr. Bates.

OLINDY WINS FIRST TWENTY

RESULTS LAST NIGHT.
Olindy 2041. Greenaway 1925.

The first 20 strings of the special 40 string match between James Olindy the local bowler and Greenaway of the Arch street alleys of Boston for a purse of $100. were rolled at the Wardwell alleys Thursday night in the presence of a gallery that packed every available inch of floor space.

Olindy won by 116 pins over the Boston bowler and also secured high single for the evening, 125. The second lap will be run off at the Arch street alleys tonight, starting at eight o'clock. The strings:

Olindy	95	95	106	86	125
	104	99	122	99	109
	111	93	113	103	92
	105	84	102	96	102	—2041
Greenaway	114	90	120	85	89
	84	114	109	105	98
	78	92	85	109	91
	99	90	85	95	93	—1925

RIVERSIDE CLUB.

The regular business meeting of the Riverside club was held with Mrs. Samuel Oxford. The members of the club are very enthusiastic over the club house which they propose to build in the very near future and they are now using every endeavor to raise sufficient funds to pay for the land selected for a site, a deposit for which has already been made. Plans for raising funds were discussed and as one of the means toward that end, a whist party will be held next Wednesday evening with Mrs. Mattherson.

Mrs. T. M. Bates of Waltham who is a guest of Mrs. Oxford spoke entertainingly of the work of the Waltham Womens club with which she is affiliated.

The site which the club has selected upon which to build its home is situated on the northerly side of Washington street between Pond and Mill streets nearly opposite what is known as the Graham turnout.

Quality First Always

LAWN MOWERS

IF YOU ARE TO BUY A LAWN MOWER THIS SEASON IT WILL PAY YOU TO LOOK OVER OUR LINE

WE HAVE THE MOWERS OF QUALITY AND THE PRICES ARE RIGHT DIFFERENT SIZES AND MAKES TO CHOOSE FROM

PRICES

$3.50 to $10.00

USE CARBORUNDUM SHARPENING STONES

NATHAN AMES

5 Granite St.

Quality First A'ways

AMUSEMENTS

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

"Common Clay" began the last two weeks of its run this week at the Castle Square Theatre, before an audience so large that it suggested that a lot of people had been procrastinating. It seems impossible that fifteen weeks, with an attendance totalling more than 250,000 people, should not have included in the audiences everyone who cared to see this play. But last week's rush for seats is a denial of such an assumption. Cleves Kinkead's successful drama has taken a strong hold on the community. His characters of the play as portrayed by Mary Young, John Craig and their colleagues have come to be living personalities, whose stories are of as much public interest as any of the important persons in the daily news.

B. F. KEITH'S.

Madame Emma Calve, the world's most famous "Carmen," whose incomparable rendition of this role has been the standard of the operatic world for a decade, will make her first vaudeville appearance at B. F. Keith's Theatre the week of May 3rd. Seats for her engagement are now on sale. Madame Calve retains her marvelous luscious and timbrant soprano voice, which thrilled the world at the Metropolitan and Paris Opera Houses twenty years ago, and she has proved the greatest attraction ever offered in vaudeville at popular prices. She will present a repertoire of popular selections, including the "Habanera" from "Carmen" and other operatic selections, and such melodious American masterpieces as "The Suwanee River." Madame Calve's engagement is positively limited to one week only. Surrounding this brilliant star will be an exceptionally strong bill of stellar vaudeville features and other big features yet to be announced.

WILBUR THEATRE.

"A Pair of Sixes" enters on its 18th week of wonderful success at the Wilbur Theatre, and it is creating just as much hearty and unbounded enthusiasm as it did the first week of the Boston engagement. Every other man, woman or child in Boston has already seen this remarkable farce at the Wilbur, and the others are doubtless preparing to see it before it leaves the city. For only once in years are the theatre-goers given such an opportunity for rich and wholesome laughter as is to be found in the performance of "A Pair of Sixes." Already it has broken all records for farce runs in Boston, and there is not the slightest decrease in the interest displayed in the piece.

"A Pair of Sixes" must soon leave to fill other engagements before the theafrical season closes, and those who have not yet enjoyed this "cure for the blues," should do so.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE

One of the notable theatrical events of the spring season in Boston will be the presentation at the Hollis Street Theatre for a limited engagement beginning Monday, of a new war-time play entitled "The Hyphen." Regarded as an extraordinary case of dramatic writing when first produced at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York, "The Hyphen" is being sent on a quick tour of the principal Eastern cities by Mr. Frohman, before the timeliness of its subject is exhausted. As no play on the subject of the present war has yet been given this season in any other city than New York, this determination of Mr. Frohman's should prove a most popular one. Mr. Frohman, the author, is a well-known novelist and playwright and in "The Hyphen" he is reported to have evolved a daring and vivid document which has to do with so-called hyphenated Americans of German birth who are secretly working in this country in the Kaiser's interest.

"The Hyphen" is in three acts and its scene is laid in the home of a retired and elderly German inventor, in Pennsylvania. This man, Heinrich Brandt, and his family become tragically involved in the politics of the present European struggle and eventually escape only by adhering to the belief that it is the duty of every American citizen, whether he be a hyphenated American or not, to maintain an attitude of the strictest neutrality.

CORT THEATRE.

One of the big theatrical successes of the season "A Modern Eve," opens its last week at the Cort next Monday. It is not hard to understand the popularity of this musical comedy, whose producers have taken all the qualities that please audiences, and gone just one step further than anybody else in putting them before the public. To begin with they were lucky in getting a play with a consistent story in it, a story on an up-to-date topic, clean and wittily handled. The "Modern Eve" is a woman lawyer, a brusque, businesslike person who keeps her husband washing dishes and running the house and who brings up her daughters to be painters and physicians. To her comes her old lover of twenty years ago, and the feminist disappears in the woman. Interwoven with this comedy of love are the stories of the two daughters, real love stories. And in a whimsical melange, involving the trial for divorce of one of the daughters, a merry plot is carried consistently through the evening.

With this up-to-date, clear-cut story, runs along a symbolism of the contest between honest love and siren love as dainty and pretty as anything of Maeterlinck's.

Supporting the cast is one of the best choruses that has come to Boston this year. It is composed of girls who are not only good singers and dancers but who are also strikingly pretty. An unusual feature of the production is that the chorus instead of being gowned in dresses all alike, wear individual costumes, each striking a model of up-to-date gowning, every one different from all the others and every one beautiful. The blending of tints has been caerfully done, and the chorus is at all times a delightful color picture when on the stage.

GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

BIG SALE ON SHOES

Must sell every pair. Now is the time to secure your High or Low Shoes for Spring

ALL SHOES SOLD STRICTLY AT COST

LELYVELD'S

3 Maple Street, Quincy Only Around the Corner

SALE STARTS APRIL 30th

MAYOR CONSIDERS STACK OF ORDERS

After receiving a few callers this morning the Mayor went into executive session with himself in his office at city hall. A glance at his desk just before the door was closed to all callers showed a stack of orders a foot high, passed by the city council last Monday night that were awaiting his approval or disapproval.

A large part of these orders were those granting licenses, among them being sixteen pony express permits and twenty-five or more licenses to drive wagons for the collection of junk. All existing licenses expire tonight at midnight and parties who have not been granted new licenses by the city council will be unable legally to do business tomorrow.

DID THEY FIND KIDD'S GOLD?

The unearthing of an old box on the shores of Black's creek this morning by workmen employed in extending the missing link of the boulevard was the foundation of a story that part or the buried treasure of Capt Kidd had been found and drew a dozen of the curious to the scene. They are still searching for the spot.

Black's creek has always been considered one of the many places where the pirate of the seas buried his loot and years ago an organized search of the banks of the creek was made, without results.

GIVE BIBLE TO MRS. WILLMOTT

A bible and a handsome bouquet of pinks were presented to Mrs. Benjamin A. Willmott just before the adjournment of the meeting of the Junior Christian Endeavor society of the Bethany Congregational church Thursday afternoon. There were 91 present.

The presentation was made by Miss Catherine Wilkinson of the organization. In her speech she echoed the regrets of the members because it would be the last meeting Mrs. Willmott would attend.

Mrs. Willmott made a touching response in accepting the gifts and spoke of the pleasure she had experienced in associating with the members since coming to Quincy.

The members personally extended their farewells to Mrs. Wilmott at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. Willmott is the wife of Rev. Benjamin A. Willmott who recently resigned to assume the pastorate of a Roxbury church.

PRATT'S BREAD made of the best flour by the best bakers. Your grocer.

POLICE LEAGUE B. B. SCHEDULE

The schedule of the Massachusetts Police Base ball league has been completed and Quincy has its share of dates. The team has not commenced its spring practice but the call will be issued within a few days by Manager Jeremiah Dineen. The seven home games wil be at the Ward three playground. The schedule:

May 18—Newton at Quincy.
June 1—Quincy at Lawrence.
June 8—Cambridge at Quincy.
June 15—Quincy at Chelsea.
June 22—Somerville at Quincy.
June 29—Lynn at Quincy.
July 6—Quincy at Lowell.
July 13—Quincy at Boston.
July 20—Quincy at Newton.
Aug. 3—Lawrence at Quincy.
August 10—Quincy at Cambridge.
Aug. 17—Chelsea at Quincy.
Aug. 24—Quincy at Somerville.
Aug. 31—Quincy at Lynn.
Sept. 14—Boston at Quincy.

Quincy Pianoforte School
Hackelton, Director
Street Floor, Greenleaf Block
1419 Hancock Street, Quincy
Pano Instructions Par Excellence Voice
Private or Class Lessons
Tel. 539-M 31-tf

CARPENTER AND BUILDER
PLANS EXECUTED
Established 1831 in Quincy
All Work Given Prompt Attention
W. R. LOFGREN
19 Cottage St., near Alpha Hall
Tel. Quincy 398-3

BE WISE
FOOL THE FLIES
HAVE YOUR SCREENS RE-COVERED NOW
TELEPHONE OR WRITE
HOLMES & HALL
1179 HANCOCK ST.
TEL. QUINCY 1698 W

MAY BASKETS
A Large and Splendid Assortment of New and Original May Baskets.
GET ONE TODAY
10c to 25c
CHAS. C. HEARN, Druggist

M. MIRKIN
Upholsterer
is the one who will give you the full satisfaction in work and prices of repairing furniture, mattresses and cushions. 1060 Hancock St., near the Quincy High School tel. Quincy 501-W.

EDWARD J. FEGAN
COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW
830 A. M. to 5 P. M.—7 P. M. to 9 P. M
911-916 TREMONT BLDG., BOSTON.
10:30 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Room 8 BURGIN & MERRILL BLOCK QUINCY.

REDUCTION IN PRICES IN COAL.
Your attention is called to the reduced spring prices on Anthracite Coal as follows

Lehigh Stove and Egg	$7.50
White Ash Stove and Egg	7.25
White Ash Nut	7.50
Shamokin Stove and Egg	7.50
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75
Pea	5.50
Franklin	8.50

We recommend the placing of your order at this time to insure the low prices.
Nothing but All Rail Clean Coal handled and delivered right by careful experienced drivers.
QUINCY COAL CO.
OFFICE and YARD
Penn St., Quincy Tel. 47-M
Ap. 7 1mo

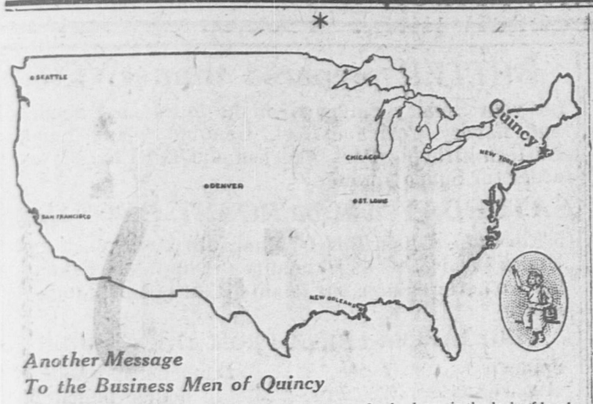

Quincy Savings Bank
BANK HOURS: Every Business Day except Saturday, 8.30 A. M. to 3 P. M.
SATURDAY—8.30 A. M. to 12 M.
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treasurer.

HERBERT A. HAYDEN
78 Cleverly Court, Quincy Point
PIANO TUNER
Office at C. F. PETTENGILL'S
Tel. 1827-W Quincy

PAINTER, DECORATOR AND PAPER HANGING
WALL PAPER FOR SALE
KUSTAA RASANEN
121 Copeland St., West Quincy
Tel. Con. 19-11

KINCAIDE THEATRE
"THE WARRENS OF VIRGINIA"
By the Famous Players.
The great drama "Warrens of Virginia" ran for more than a year at the Belasco Theatre, New York. The Photo Play is without question one of the greatest civil war plays ever produced—Great Battle Spectacle—The inner workings of the Union and Confederate Armies—War sufferings—Surrender of Lee at Appomatox—The thrills of the daughter of General Warren of Virginia and her lover Ned Burton of New York who enlisted in the Union Army.
New Episode "Exploits of Elaine." Comedy Film "Gussie Rivals Jonah."
VAUDEVILLE --- Annetta Phillips Co, Dramatic Sketch "THE SACRIFICE". The Phillips Co. formerly acted for the Lubin Film Co. This sketch is some sensation. "La Reane Trio"—Acrobatic Comedians and songsters. "Dougald" Scotch Songster and wit.
Thurs. — Fri. — Sat. — Daily at 2.30 P. M. 10 and 15c. Evenings at 8 — 10, 15, 25c
Coming Monday --- "Cameo Kirby" Romantic Photo-Play of South before the War.

FURNITURE and PIANO MOVING
PACKING and STORAGE
William D. King
106 Center St., Tel. Quincy 2100
2tif

Another Message
To the Business Men of Quincy

Business fights shy of dead towns. A sure sign of a dead one is the lack of local pride. People who live in a live, prosperous town show it. Their stores are attractive, their streets clean, their homes are well painted.

Nothing shows a lack of pride, a lack of prosperity, like paint-hungry buildings. Let's paint up. As the most durable and economical paint, we recommend

Beyer-Bauman White Lead
(Dutch Boy Painter Trade Mark)

and pure linseed oil, mixed right on the job, to suit the job. Have your painter tint it any color you wish.

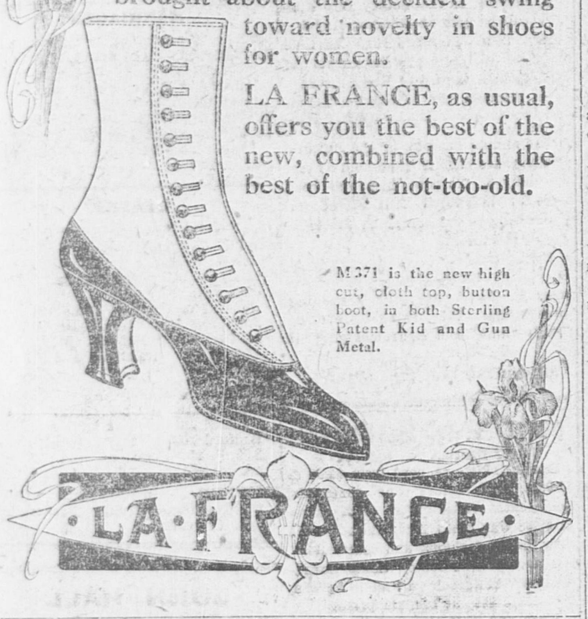

We carry all other paint necessaries also. Consult us on that job of painting you have in mind. Today's the day.

WILLIAM WESTLAND

GRANITE SHOE STORE
LA FRANCE SHOP

Partly War but Mostly Style has brought about the decided swing toward novelty in shoes for women.

LA FRANCE, as usual, offers you the best of the new, combined with the best of the not-too-old.

M371 is the new high cut, cloth top, button boot, in both Sterling Patent Kid and Gun Metal.

LA FRANCE

COAL

ANNOUNCEMENT

April 1, 1915.

Full coal bins are a source of real satisfaction. We are filling our bins as rapidly as possible with FRESH MINED COAL. By placing your order now YOU can take advantage of the LOW PRICES announced in the schedule below. Coal will positively ADVANCE IN PRICE later. There will be no Further Reduction.

We should be glad to call and talk Coal with you if you will notify us.

PRICES FOR CASH

Franklin Egg and Stove	$8.50 per ton
Red Ash Stove and Nut	7.75 per ton
Shamokin Stove	7.50 per ton
White Ash Broken	6.50 per ton
White Ash Egg	7.25 per ton
White Ash Stove	7.25 per ton
White Ash Nut	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Broken	6.75 per ton
Lehigh Egg	7.50 per ton
Lehigh Stove	7.50 per ton
Pea	5.50 per ton

25 cents per ton extra where coal is carried in. Orders taken for these Prices are for delivery by July 1, 1915.

J. F. SHEPPARD & SONS, Inc

JOHNSON AND CO.'S
PRIVATE STOCK CIGAR
AT FIVE CENTS STRAIGHT
Smoked by Hundreds who can't enjoy the ordinary Nickel Smoke.
IF YOUR DEALER WON'T SUPPLY YOU, I WILL.
Be Sure My Name is on The Band
Yours, JOHNSON
Tel. Quincy 1080 or Main 414

Q. H. S. STUDENTS ENJOY CONCERT

The second musical treat given the pupils of the Quincy High school took place Thursday when they assembled in the assembly hall to a concert of Ethelbert Nevins composition and the Barbara Frietchie of Jules Jordan.

The program opened with an orchestra selection, entitled "Country Dance." The Girls chorus then sang two songs, "One Spring Morning" and "Mighty Like a Rose." Both were exceptionally well given.

Miss Ruth Hardy, the popular Wollaston soloist and a graduate of the school, sang "Autumn Sadness." In response to insistent applause she sang "Oh That We Two Were Maying."

Under the direction of Miss Maude Amsden the orchestra rendered five selections which were roundly applauded. They were "A Day In Venice," "Dawn," "The Gondoliers," "Venetian Love Song," "Good Night." "The Rosary" was rendered by the Glee club.

Part two of the program consisted of the singing of "Barbara Frietchie" by the High school chorus. Miss Hardy sang the solo parts of the piece. The chorus effect was pleasing.

A rising vote of thinks was given Miss Amsden for her successful efforts in promoting the musical spirit of the student body the past year.

AFRICAN DODGER WANTS LICENSE

Mayor Campbell has before him an application for a license for an African Dodger who desires to open an amusement place in a local business block. It is understood that there is some opposition to the granting of this class of an amusement license. When seen this morning the Mayor was non-committal as to whether or not the license would be granted. He said that he had not fully made up his mind as yet as to what disposition he would make. The matter will probably be settled in a few days.

SURPRISE PARTY.

A surprise party was tendered Miss Alice Billings, a popular young nurse at the Quincy Hospital, at her home 24 Edwards street. Friendsc from Weymouth, Quincy and Quincy Point were present. Speaking for those present, Harold Cain presented Miss Billings with a travelling bag. Miss Billings, although greatly surprised, thanked her friends most graciously.

Refreshments were served by the Misses Mae and Margaret Keeley, Louise Billings and Beatrice Fenby. Vocal solos were rendered by Miss Helen Donavan and George Loftus. A few of the latest dancing steps were illustrated by Miss Avalina Read and Frederick Sherrick. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing games. The guests departed at a late hour after a very enjoyable evening.

PAINFULLY INJURED.

Mrs. S. T. Wade of 62 Cleverly court is confined to her home with painful injuries to her arms and sides. The injuries were received as the result of a fall Thursday evening as she was leaving St. John's church, where she had been attending a Mission.

PRATT'S BREAD sales have increased because it satisfies. Your grocer.

ADVERTISE IN THE LEDGER.

Prof. DeFOREST
World's Greatest Clairvoyant and Psychic Palmist

Calls you by name and tells the object of your visit without asking a single question. Names enemies and friends. Tells whom and when you will marry; if the one you love loves you; whether wife or sweetheart is true or false; how to influence anyone you desire, even though a thousand miles away. Develops personal magnetism; removes evil influences; reunites the separated, and causes speedy and happy marriage with the one of your choice. Gives advice on all matters of business. Don't buy or sell property without asking his valuable advice.

Readings .50 and 1.00

Permanently located, No. 92 Revere road. Hours from 10. A. M. to 8 P. M. Sunday.

29-1 mo.

NEWS ITEMS FROM MILTON

The Milton Education society met Wednesday evening in the High school hall and elected the following officers for the coming year:

President—Dr. Harris Kennedy.

Vice president—Prof. Alexander G. McAdie.

Vice president—Miss Julia Gordon.

Treasurer—Mrs. Lincoln Bryant.

Secretary—Miss Katharine W. Williams.

Directors—Mrs. Robert L. Shewell, Mrs. Louis Harlow, Rev. H. Boyd Edwards, Homer W. LeSourd, Mrs. Roger Pierce, Mrs. George H. Hendry, Maurice A. Duffy and James Lawrence.

The Milton High school baseball nine easily blanked the Braintree High team Thursday afternoon on Cunningham field by the score of 9-0. For the first two innings the game looked like a close one but when Jemmie Parks, Milton's lively catcher banged a safe two bagger in the third and brought in two runs the game commenced to be entirely in Milton's favor. In the seventh, the Milton boys ran away with the game and scored five runs. Capt. Reiser continued his reputation in striking out thirteen of Braintree's batters and allowing only one pass.

The score was:

MILTON H. S.		BRAINTREE H. S.
Corbett lf		lf Levangie
Shand 1b		2b Burrill
Park c		1b Whitmarsh
		p Reardon
Reiser p		ss Hennessey
Mitchell 2b		3b Thayer
Luce ss		c Van Volten
Driscoll 3b		cf Canatchell
Palouci rf		rf Smith
Robertson cf		cf Reardon
Parsons lf		p Canatchell
Pond rf		cf Mellon
Crowell 1b

Milton H. S. 0 0 3 0 0 1 5 0 X—9
Braintree H. S. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0
Runs— Park, Shand, Mitchell 2, Luce Robertson, Corbett. Two base hits—Park, Luce, Robertson, Burrill. Struck Base on Balls—Reardon 2, Canatchell 2. Losers, 1. Strike outs—Reberts Reardon 2, Canatchell 6. Umpire, Erierly. Attendance 500.

DISTRICT COURT.

But little business came before the district court this morning. Peter J. Farrell withdrew an appeal and accepted a term at the state farm for drunkenness at Quincy and Peter Fitzgerald was sentenced to the state farm for drunkenness at Holbrook.

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Prudence H. Stokes, late of Quincy, in said County, deceased:
Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, has been presented to said Court for Probate by Gardner W. Schwartz of Boston in the County of Suffolk, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving surety on his official bond. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Quincy, in said County of Norfolk, on the twelfth day of May A. D. 1915, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper published in said Quincy the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing postpaid or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.
Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court this twenty-sixth day of April in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.
J. R. McCOOLE, Register.
3t April 30 May 3-10

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
Norfolk, ss. Probate Court.
To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of M F Maher also known as Michael F. Maher, late of Quincy in said County deceased.
Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, by Joseph T. Hayes of said Quincy who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Dedham in said County of Norfolk, on the fifth day of May A. D. 1915, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause if any you have, why the same should not be granted. And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Quincy Daily Ledger, a newspaper, published in said Quincy, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.
Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this fifteenth day of April in the year one thousand nine hundred and fifteen.
J. R. McCOOLE, Register
3t April 16-23-30

KEEP POSTED ON THE PEOPLE'S WANTS

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

WHY WORRY LET THESE ADS LIFT YOUR BURDEN

Advertisements under this head 25 words or less one time 25 cents. Three consecutive insertions 50 cents. 6 consecutive insertions 75 cents.

No advertisements taken over the telephone, received by mail or at the office unless accompanied by cash.

In answering advertisements in this column please read carefully and follow instructions. We know nothing of the advertiser except as stated in the advertisement.

TO LET

TO LET—Barber shop, two chairs, rent $2.50 per week. Apply to P. A. Nelson, 165 Granite street. Tel. 921-W. 30-3t

TO LET—Large front furnished room, private family, Mrs. C. F. Foster, 721 Washington street, Quincy Point. 27-6t

TO LET—3 or 4 room suite, modern improvements. Reasonable rent, furnished if desired, 132 Marlboro street Wollaston Park. 28-tf

TO LET—Half house, all improvements, electric lights, gas, fitted screens; four minutes to trains, one minute to electrics. Off Independence Avenue. Tel. Quincy 789 R. W. J. Talbot, 3 Lawry street. 26-6t

TO LET—Upper apartment 91 Revere road, 6 rooms, gas and coal range gas light. Rent reduced to $13. Small adult family. F. M. Torrey, 25 Spear street. Tel. 202-1 Quincy. 23-tf

TO LET — Furnished flat of six rooms, modern improvements, nice locality, 12 minutes from Quincy station and 4 minutes from electric cars. Write M. G. J. Ledger Office. 24-9t

TO LET—Seven room flat, all modern improvements, situated at 42 Dysart street. Possession given May 1. 39 Dysart street. 21-tf

TO LET—6 room tenements, all improvements. Apply to C. W. Guy, 42 Butler road. 20-tf

TO LET—Tenement of 7 rooms, all improvements. Rent $25. Apply 233 Washington street. 20-12t

TO LET—Lower flat in two-family house. Living room, dining room, bedroom, kitchen and bathroom, pantry, good closets and cellar. Coal and gas range, furnace, electric lights. Every convenience. Rent $20. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 13-tf

FOR RENT—For light housekeeping a furnished apartment of two rooms with private bath and kitchenette, open grates and hot water heat. Sunny, central. Address P. O. Box 367, Quincy. 7-tf

TO LET—Tenement all improvements, reasonable rent. Inquire at 70 Glencoe Place. 2-tf

TO LET—First floor suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear street. Living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchen and bath. Very complete and attractive. Steam heat. Janitor service. Vacant May 1. Address "Prescott," Care Ledger Office. 31-tf

TO LET—On Irving place, a retired street, one minute from Quincy station, a single house, 6 rooms and bath, all modern conveniences. Apply to Edward B. Marsh, 41 Irving place. Tel. 144-2, Quincy or 110 South street, Boston. Tel. 1269-Ox. 29-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment of eight rooms and bath in an exceptionally well arranged two family house. Gas and electricity and all modern improvements. Fine location. Rent $36.00. Apply at 49 Bigelow street. 26-tf

TO LET—Lower apartment, 5 rooms, all improvements, 903 Hancock street, apply at upper suite, or to W. T. Donovan, Room 4, Adams Bldg. 6-tf

TO LET—Flat of four rooms and bath, all modern improvements at 166 Franklin street. Apply at 160 Franklin street. 24-tf

TO LET—Flats. Five rooms and bath, set range and gas attachments. All latest improvements, on Grafton street. About 8 minutes to Quincy depot. Rent $18. Apply to Berman Furniture Co., 1601 Hancock street. 27-tf

TO LET

FOR RENT—In Quincy Centre, opposite Adams Academy, house 7 rooms, and bath 18 Faxon avenue, suite 6 rooms and bath, every modern improvement Tel. 414-M Weymouth. 26-tf

TO LET—Tenement of six rooms at 8 Mechanic street. Apply to E. D. Barrett, 27 Revere road. tf

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Float stage, 32x10, well built, galvanized fastened. Russell G. Hunt, 125 Broad street, Weymouth. Telephone 157. 29-2t

FOR SALE—One mission set, chiffonier, and a morris chair, practically new. Apply between 3 and 6, Room 7 Durgin and Merrill block. 29-6t

FOR SALE—1910 Marmon, 5 passenger auto, condition excellent. Most as good as new. Price about one quarter of original cost. Address Frank P. Waterhouse, 98 Lincoln avenue, Wollaston. Tel. Quincy 654-2. 28-tf

FOR SALE—1915 Reo 5 passenger car run less than 1000 miles. Owner has placed order for 6 cylinder Reo Can be seen and demonstrated at Central Garage, Quincy. Tel. 1035 W. 27-tf

FOR SALE—Four room summer cottage, furnished; Houghs Neck, easy terms, $200 down. Write C. L. Ledger Office. 26-6t

FOR SALE—In South Braintree, 8 room house and barn, about 35,000 ft. of land, corner lot on Hancock and Washington streets, electric cars pass the door, call at 1397 Washington St., at home 4.30 P. M. Alexander Downey. 26-6t

FOR SALE—Spars, sails, running gear and steering wheel for a 25 ft. sloop at a bargain, in best of condition C. W. Sears, rear of 403 Washington street, Quincy. 24-6t

FOR SALE—Stoddard Dayton Roadster in first class condition, top, windshield, full equipment. Will sell cheap Apply to Mrs. John F. Welch, corner Hancock and Elm streets. 23-tf

FOR SALE—Prettiest Lot on Billings road near Vassall street. Size 50x100 feet. Buy of owner. No agents. Price low. Terms to suit. E R. Parmelee, 155 Main street, Reading, Mass. 16-tf L P.

MISCELLANEOUS

SOMEONE—Please answer who will take a very fine new piano into their home and use carefully. Privilege of buying later on easy terms if desired. Wish to move at once. Write for full particulars, M. L. M., Ledger Office. 24-6t

FURNITURE and Piano moving, boat hauling and jobbing, packing and storage, Myatt, 40 Baxter street Tel. 1307-M., Quincy, Res. 22-tf

TO LET
Large Room 30 x 36
Second Floor
Savings Bank Building
Suitable for Commercial or Professional Purposes
Quincy Savings Bank
CLARENCE BURGIN, Treas.
Nov

LEWIS N. CURTIS
PAINTER and GLAZIER
LEADED STAINED GLASS
DECORATOR and PAPER HANGER
OLD FURNITURE REFINISHED
Orchard Place, off Spear Street Quincy

Arthur B. Foster
CARPENTER and BUILDER
14 Bay View St, Quincy Point
Telephone Connection
31-1m

Prescott Apartments

For rent lower suite in the Prescott Apartments on Spear Street. Has living room, dining room, 2 bedrooms, kitchenette, large bathroom, and storage room in basement. Every convenience, steam heat, janitor service. Vacant May 1. Apply to Miss Prescott at the Ledger Office. 24-tf

LOST

LOST—Gold watch and fob Wednesday, between Quincy Adams station and High street or on 2.14 train from Boston. Finder rewarded by returning to T. Ledger Office. 29-3t

LOST—April 27, between Arlington street and Poland's hall, plain gold band bracelet. Finder please return to Miss C. H. Livingston, 143 Arlington street, Wollaston. 29-3t

WANTED

WANTED—Light touring car, 1913 or 1914 Model. Must be in first class condition and cheap for cash. Apply to P. A. Nelson, 165 Granite street. Tel. 921-W. 30-3t

WANTED—Experienced stitchers on ladies' waists. Steady work. Apply to Sovereign Waist Co., 192 Granite street, Quincy. 30-tf

WANTED—Carpenters on new work Apply to J. W. Pratt, 5 Summer street. or new house, Independence avenue. April 29-3t

WANTED—At once, lady of refinement, to represent large, old established New York House. Permanent position with good income. Experience unnecessary. Pleasant outside work, all or spare time. Write A. K. Ledger Office. 29-3t

WANTED—An experienced maid for general housework. References required. Apply at 118 Merrymount road. 26-tf

WANTED TO RENT—8 or 9 room modern house near Wollaston Station. Specify fittings, location, price and when available. Write B. G. Ledger. 10-tf.

TO LET
After May 1, Store or Stores
No. 16-18 Granite St., Quincy, just off City Square.
Shop or Factory—24 Granite St.
22x55 feet, fine location, excellent light, 1 or 2 floors.
Durgin-Merrill Block, 1 flight up
Offices and Desk Room.
City Square Office, Hancock Bld.
Small front office.
Offices, Hancock Chambers—1 flight up—very low rent.
City Square Store House or Shop
—ground floor—rear Greenleaf Block.
City Square Club Room or Hall
—28x45—20 feet high—2 flights up—Hancock Chambers.

GREENLEAF BLOCK
CITY SQUARE
(Best location in City.)
Offices—1 flight up—front or back—large or small.
Transient Rooms—Comfortably furnished and with care—$1 a day.
Furnished Rooms—With care, steam heat and detached bath with hot and cold water. $2.00 to $5.50 per week.

HALLS
Our new $200 Victrola with latest dance records is available.
Music Hall—Music Hall Block—capacity 912—highest possible rating by the State, "Excellent" in every particular.
Colonial Hall—Hancock Building—City Square—capacity 240—best possible location for a Hall.
Hancock Hall—Hancock Building, City Square—capacity 150.

Quincy Real Estate Trust.
Ask for K.r. Kribs.)
Greenleaf Block, ('Phone 21066) Quincy

Business man's handsome residence on Presidents Hill. For sale or lease.

Cosy upper 4 room and bath flat, 122 Glendale Road. $19.

H. F. McIntire HOUSES Greenleaf Blk Tel. Quincy 1665-W.

Reasonable rents near shipyard. Cosy tenements to small families of nice people at Fairview, close to brick school in East Braintree. Lots for sale.

1-1 yr.

M. T. SULLIVAN
Real Estate Insurance
Auctioneer Care of Property
Justice of the Peace
Room 8, Durgin & Merrill Block, QUINCY

Suit Values That Win

COPYRIGHT 1915
THE HOUSE OF KUPPENHEIMER

$18.00 Values MENS and YOUNG MENS $13.50

We have specially prepared a big stock of Fine Clothing which we believe the greatest possible values known. NOW FELLOWS you can take a trip to Boston, look around the high-rent places and you will see the same suits selling for $18. Our comparative lower expense enables us to offer you these good suits at a big saving. The styles are right, up to the minute in detail, and the variety in fabrics, patterns and colors is almost unlimited. We will fit you to one of these good suits for

$13.50 A positive saving of $3.50

$20.00 Values MENS and YOUNG MENS $16.50

Our immense buying power, coupled with low-overhead expense favors us in giving you these choice lot of good suits at such a low price. The models are the smartest and newest of the season. The material includes blue serges, homespuns, fancy worsteds, pencil and hair-line stripes, overplaids and checks. Suits made in the English soft wool effect or the conservative model for men and young men. Fellows! in Boston they're selling these same suits for $20. We are going to sell them to you for the extreme low price of $16.50 An actual saving of $3.50

We have just received a new lot of the latest Spring Suits from America's greatest tailoring shops.

The House of Kuppenheimer

They are sure to make a direct appeal to the young men who feel they've a right to dress in a way that bespeaks youthfulness.

$18.00 $19.50 $22.50 $25.00 $27.00

Good Serviceable Suits

We have a limited number of strong, well made Suits which will stand hard wear and service. We consider this a real value dollar for dollar exchange

MONEY BACK GUARANTEE

$6.50 to $10.00

Big Values in Neckwear

Without doubt our line of Neckwear is the finest this community ever had. Large open ends, rich Chency Ties, colors of every description. Will be bound to please the most critical.

75c TIES for 48c
50c TIES for 35c
35c TIES for 21c

See Us To-day

The PACKARD Shoe ---- Style -- Comfort -- Long Wear

You simply can't lose if you choose the PACKARD. Our Shoe department is stocked with every size, and every style. The name PACKARD on this shoe, implies the same token as the word PACKARD on the automobile.

$4.00 $4.50 $5.00

The Farnum Shoe

Here is a Shoe that will stand hard wear and yet keep its shape. It has the distinctiveness of a high priced shoe. It is worth every penny of your dollars. Our price is ~~$3.50~~ for $3.25

Remicks Special Shoe

This Shoe speaks for itself. Only till you wear this Shoe does it really reflect its good value. $3.50 value has won us over. We will stand by it forever. This means a whole lot when we come to consider the policy of this Wide-Awake Store.

This Hat, Men

We are proud of the

NO NAME HAT

because it represents style, long service, and big value. Some stores sell this hat under another brand for $3.50 and $4.00. You can get it here for $3.00

THE "NO NAME" HAT

Other hats guaranteed by us to be perfect in every way

$2.50 $2.00 $1.50 95c

Men's Caps 45c 65c 95c

Triple-Toe Hosiery

You could not want a better pair of Sox than these. Below is the maker's guarantee.

We guarantee these Sox to be made of the best quality Prime Silk Lisle. The toes and heel are made "TRIPLETOE" from a specially treated yarn which will outwear any other Sox.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED. Price 25c pair

The Newest in Shirts

We carry the well-known Bates Street Shirts. Made of the best materials and standard patterns. Every size and every color is here. Note our prices

BATES STREET SHIRTS $1.50
OUR SPECIAL SHIRT, $1.50 value $1.15
NEGLIGEE SHIRT, $1.00 value 79c

LEGAL STAMPS ALWAYS

REMICK'S

MUSIC HALL BLOCK

The WIDE-AWAKE STORE

BETTER prepared than EVER

for your Sunday dinner with the finest most tender and flavory Corn fed Beef, Genuine Spring Lamb, Eastern little pig Pork, Chicken and Fowl to fill your order for Sunday dinner.

SATURDAY will be ROAST BEEF Day

5 Rib Cuts, Sirloin Roasts, Rump Roasts, French and Under Cut Roasts usual quality the highest. Remember we never change our quality, that is our Standard Motto

VEGETABLES FRESH FROM THE GARDEN

Spinach ... peck 20c — Dandelions, Rhubarb
Asparagus ..... double bunch 25c
Lettuce ..... head 5c and 8c
Cucumbers extra large 10c
Sunkist Navel Oranges ..... 25c to 33c doz.
Sunkist Lemons ..... 17c doz.
Extra Large Grape Fruit ..... 4 for 25c

COUGHLIN & DONOVAN

Free Delivery — Telephone 696-W

BRIEFS

Among the early June church weddings is that of Miss Edna Lewis Smith formerly of Quincy, a teacher of physical culture at the Engleside school, New Milford, Conn. and George Gray of Norwood. The ceremony is to take place at the First Parish church, Quincy.

The annual May day party of the Universalists at Plymouth, will be held tomorrow. Those from Quincy participating will leave for Plymouth on the early morning train.

A meeting of the Quincy Day Nursery will be held on Monday, May 3.

Mrs. T. M. Bates and Miss Charlotte Bates of Waltham are the guests of Mrs. Samuel Oxford of River street.

Dr. Herman L. Keene is on a fishing trip to Lake Annabescook, Winthrop, Me.

The annual meeting of the Atlantic Shakespeare club is to be held Thursday, May 6. No date has yet been fixed for the annual musicale of the club owing to the continued illness of Theodore Parker.

Epworth League of Hall Place M. E. church is to give an entertainment in the vestry this evening, presenting the two-act comedy "Sally Lunn" and a musical program

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE LEDGER.

MADAME SARKIN
1463 Hancock St., Quincy,

Special skirts reduced from $2.98 to $1.98. All colors and materials. Some extra value covert cloth skirts at $2.98 Our ready made suits are the very latest fashions and materials.

A good line of Coats, Waists, housedresses, childrens dresses, aprons, petticoats etc., at bargain prices.

Keep our Tailoring and Dressmaking department in mind also Cleansing, Pressing, etc.

Telephone 1727-M 30-2t

OMITTED TODAY.

Owing to an unexpected circumstance the local Market Review and a portion of the Granite News is omitted today. It will be printed Saturday.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

TO LET—Very desirable tenement, 6 rooms, all improvements, near High school. Rent only $20 per month. C. W. Guy. 42 Butler road, Quincy. 30-tf

MARRIAGES

McCORMICK—CALLAHAN—In Quincy, April 28, by Fr. Walter A. Quinlan, James P. McCormick and Loretta Callahan, both of Quincy.

SPROULE—MORAN—In Quincy, April 29, by Fr. M. J. Owens, Claude H. Sproule and Bertha A. Moran, both of Quincy.

DEATHS

SMITH—In Quincy, April 30, Caroline A., widow of James H. Smith formerly of Newton, Mass., in her 64th year.
Funeral services at home of her daughter, Mrs. Horace G. Crocker, 17 Park Lane, Sunday, May 2, at 1.30 P. M. Relatives and friends invited. 30-2t

BUTLER—In Quincy, April 29, Lawrence Butler in his 49th year.
Funeral services at late home, 7 Bedford street, Saturday, May 1 at 2.30 P. M. Relatives and friends are invited.

TUCKERMAN—In East Milton, April 29, Washington Irving Tuckerman, aged 65 years.

Established 1879 Telephone

JOHN HALL
FUNERAL DIRECTOR
Carriage and Ambulance Service
1487 Hancock Street Quincy, Mass

We Advertised Goods Guaranteed by Good Housekeeping MAGAZINE On Sale Here

Handle the Best
by every test.

Come and see for yourself. The prime products of the market. The highest grade from the farm.

PROMPT DELIVERIES

Wheat Bran ..... pk. 10c
Little Pig Hams (Star Brand) 8 to 10 lbs. each lb. 15c
Fresh Dug Native Dandelions ..... pk. 15c
New Cut Rhubarb ..... lb. 4c
Pompeian Olive Oil ..... pint can 40c
I X L Peanut Butter ..... 2 lbs. 25c
Blue Label Catsup ..... pt. bottle 19c
Hatchet Peaches (extra large) ..... can 23c
Carnation Milk ..... 3 cans 25c—95c doz.
Wool Soap ..... 6 bars 25c
Rae's Olive Oil ..... bottle 23c
Hershey's Cocoa ..... 1-2 lb. can 16c
Educator Wheat Bran ..... pkg. 10c
Purity Oats, (large round) ..... pkg. 25c
N. B. C. Royal Toast ..... lb. 10c
Baker's Cocoa-nut ..... pkg. 7 1-2c
Priscilla Cake Flour, add nothing but water 21c.
Jell-o / Lipton's Tablet — 3 pkgs. 25c. — Kennedy's Graham / Kennedy's Saltines

WATER STREET Cor. Quincy Phone 117

FOY'S
2 STORES

ADAMS MARKET City Square Phone 1980